I listened in the morning to an excellent discourse by the Rev. J. J. Marks, who has been much in the army as chaplain, I believe, and published an account of the Peninsular campaign in 1862. First dwelling upon those sins which have peculiarly distinguished us as a people—pride, extravagance, oppression and unmindfulness of God as the giver of that overflowing abundance and prosperity which we have enjoyed—and next upon the means which we can yet employ to atone for our past transgressions and avert the judgments which they have brought so heavily upon us, the discourse could not fail to impress upon every one who heard it a mood of thought and feeling becoming the day. I sincerely believe that if all the loyal States had observed this National Fast in the spirit appropriate to the occasion, the reflex influence upon themselves, even leaving out of the question all interposition of Providence in our behalf, would be such as to awaken a more fervent patriotism, a more abiding confidence in our cause, and to strengthen them for still greater efforts to secure the end for which such sacrifices have been made and render them not all in vain.

The first Fast Day observed in this country was that appointed in the Plymouth Colony in 1623, when they began to experience the disdressess of famine in addition to all the trials they had past through. To quote from a historian of that period:

"The most gloomy anticipations were indulged, but, by a remarkable and well attested interference of Divine Providence they were delivered. From the third week of May to the middle of July there was no rain. Their corn, for which they had made their utmost exertions, withered under the heat of a scorching sun and the greater part of it appeared irrevocably lost. The Indians, seeing their prospects, observed that they would soon be subdued by famine when they should find them an easy prey. A public fast was appointed and observed with great solemnity.

"The morning and most of the day was clear and hot, but towards evening the clouds collected, and, like the gracious influence of God, the rain descended in moderate yet copious showers. This revived their expiring crops and produced a plentiful harvest."

Is there not enough in the present crisis of our affairs, when the wisest cannot tell whether it is the breaking of dawn or the twilight of evening foreboding the darkness which streaks our political and military horizon, to stir in us whatever of faith and piety we have inherited from our Pilgrim ancestors? Are not the 200,000 graves of our brave soldiers already fallen, the 100,000 widows and the million of orphan children, the 600,000 men now breasting and rolling back the tide of the rebellion with their stout hearts and with their lives in their hands,—will not these things, the result of the war thus far, and all the mourning and sorrow which they have caused throughout the land suffice to cause our people, on a day solemnly set apart for that purpose, to abstain from their eager pursuit of business and pleasure, and humble themselves before Him, who holds the nations as in "the hollow of his hand?" If not, then are we become the most callous and frivolous people on the face of the earth. But while it behooves us to recognize the straits which we are in as did the fathers of the Republic in the dark winter of Valley Forge, yet we should also learn from them not to despair but to possess ourselves of that patience which, "with a blessed alchemy, distils a balm from the most bitter wormwood of tribulation" and to persevere until we have worked out the nation's final deliverence. Was not this the spirit of those who struggled to found the Republic in those former days "which tried men's souls?" Were they as thoughtless, as intent upon gain and all the extravagances of pleasure as we have seemingly become? Yet our struggle, like theirs, is for the existence of the nation and fraught with no less momentous consequences to ourselves and the generations which shall come after us. I hope that in good old New England Fast Day was observed in a more becoming manner than it was here, for there we must look for that spirit of faith, sobriety and religion which shall in the future, as it has in the past, infuse the whole nation with somewhat of the character of its Puritan ancestors.

Yours, etc., DELTA.

Good.—A young lady advertises in the Port Jervis Union for one hundred young men, of all shapes and sizes, to form a "gaping corps," to be in attendance at the several church doors, and on the principal streets in that village, to stare at females as they pass, and make "delicate" remarks on their dress and person. She concludes by saying that "in order to prevent a general rush, it will be well to state that none will be enlisted who possess intellectual capacity above that of a well-bred donkey."—Rather rough on the boys. Still, it may interest some young men in this vicinity, who, by way of much experience, might meet with favor as applicants. No charge for this suggestion.—Exchange.

Roll of Co. C, 5th Reg. Mass. V. M.

100 DAYS' MEN.

Capt.	George F. Barnes—agent,	South Danvers
1st Lt.	Wm. L. Thompson—student,	Lawrence
2d Lt.	B. F. Southwick—morocco dresser,	S. Danvers
1st St.	Lewis A. Manning—butcher,	S. Danvers
Serg't	George H. Little—tanner,	S. Danvers
Serg't	Jos. N. Burbeck—tallow chandler,	S. Danvers
Serg't	Wm. H. Hildreth—currier,	S. Danvers
Serg't	Henry H. Waugh—boot maker,	Stoughton
Corp'l	Frank D. Tripp—machinist,	New Bedford
Corp'l	James L. Waterman—currier,	S. Danvers
Corp'l	Edwin Durfee—clerk,	Fall River
Corp'l	Frank P. Reed—currier,	S. Danvers
Corp'l	Thomas L. Putnam—clerk,	S. Danvers
Corp'l	Benjamin N. Moore—clerk,	S. Danvers
Corp'l	Joseph H. Swett—farmer,	S. Danvers
Corp'l	Isaac D. Paull—britannia worker,	Taunton
	Arthur G. Leonard (musician).	Boston
	Charles L. Mason (musician).
	PRIVATES.
	Abbott Alson B, student,	Greenfield
	Bosworth Franklin, student,	Taunton
	Brown Andrew K., shoemaker,	S. Danvers
	Beckett William C, currier,	"
	Buxton Simon P, farmer,	"
	Bodge William H, currier,	"
	Carr Charles E, morocco dresser,	"
	Durant Leander S, mechanic,	No. Bridgewater
	Estes Robert G, farmer,	S. Danvers
	Eldridge Lewis Y., farmer,	"
	Finley John W., farmer,	"
	Farnum George A., teamster,	"
	Galencia Samson B., colorer,	"
	Graham George S., cooper,	Townsend
	Glynn Charles F., tinsmith,	Berkeley
	Gage George L., farmer,	Methuen
	Hamilton Chas. L. mechanic,	No. Bridgewater
	Hildreth Stephen G., shoemaker,	Manchester
	Howes Micajah C, clerk,	Portsmouth, N. H.
	Hall William H, clerk,	Salem
	Harrington George E, butcher,	Weston
	Holland Henry Jr., machinist,	New Bedford
	Hill John Q., farmer,	Methuen
	Haven Lewis E.
	Jacobs Andrew N, currier,	S. Danvers
	Johnson Frank E, morocco dresser,	Salem
	Leonard Manlius B, engraver,	Taunton
	Lonsdale James, clerk,	Boston
	Merrill Hayden A, currier,	S. Danvers
	Morse Charles L., farmer,	Ellington, Ct.
	Marsh George A, farmer,	W. Danvers
	Motley Patrick, farmer,	S. Danvers
	Meek Henry M., machinist,	Salem
	Metzger William, shoemaker,	Roxbury
	Munroe Benjamin F, machinist,	Taunton
	Nourse Samuel W., clerk,	Danvers
	Nichols Enoch, jeweller,	Sutton, N. H.
	Osgood Geo. H, news vender,	S. Danvers
	Pearson Amos, farmer,	Danvers
	Proctor Edw. W., morocco dresser,	S. Danvers
	Poor Frank W., currier,	"
	Perry William A, clerk,	Salem
	Place Charles W., shoemaker,	Stoughton
	Parkinson Jacob, tin worker,	New Bedford
	Paine William H.
	Rounds Herbert F, shoemaker,	Randolph
	Rudderhan Charles, currier,	S. Danvers
	Raddin Albert, shoemaker,	S. Danvers
	Rowell Gideon, currier,	Danvers
	Rochester Dixon M, needle maker,	Baltimore, M
	Rounds Ira F, farmer,	Rahoboth
	Russell John H, farmer,	Methuen
	Shove Edward, nailer,	Arsonett
	Stiles Augustus, farmer,	S. Danvers
	Stiles Charles, farmer,	"
	Smith Richard E,	"
	Symonds Charles A., farmer,	"
	Stackpole William A., weaver,	Lynn
	Shannon John F., farmer,	W. Danvers
	Stanley Gustavus, shoemaker,	Manchester
	Studley Timothy R., carpenter,	Abington
	Safford Asa, teamster,	Taunton
	Sweet Horace W., butcher,	Marblehead
	Teel George C., currier,	S. Danvers
	Trask Samuel P., clerk,	Danvers
	Turner Erdix T., clerk,	"
	Thacher Thomas N., tinsmith,	Fairhaven
	Tilton Sheridan S., farmer,	Methuen
	Tuckerman Albert, Manufacturer,	Abington
	Welch William P., tanner,	S. Danvers
	Wardwell Henry, student,	"
	Wiley Zachary T., shoemaker,	Lynnfield
	Wardwell Uriah, machinist,	Little Compton, R I
	Wardwell Weston, tinsmith, "	"
	Whittemore Henry, student,	Hopkinton
	White Edson.

Lieut. Col. Hodges.—We regret to see it stated that Lieut. Col. JOHN HODGES, Jr., of Salem, Massachusetts, 59th Regiment, was among the killed in the recent assault in front of Petersburg. He was a brave officer, and has been highly commended for his gallantry on many occasions. During most of the present campaign he has led the regiment, Colonel Gould being in command of the Brigade. Col. Hodges was only about 23 years of age. He was in Harvard College when the war broke out, and received his degree with his class in 1862; served as a private in the Salem Light Infantry during the three months campaign; was commissioned 1st Lieutenant in the 19th regiment, Aug. 22, 1861, and resigned on account of ill health June 19, 1862; was Major of the 50th regiment during the nine months campaign and at the siege of Port Hudson, and became Lieut. Colonel of the 59th upon its organization.—Register.

Butler.—There is some talk among the radical Republicans of superseding Fremont by Butler, as a Presidential candidate. After Lincoln and Fremont were both in the field, they predicted that the man to be elected would be brought forward in September. Fremont was "good enough Morgan to play off for a time," but as he and Parson Cheever, with a few mad Germans, are all that now survive on the Cleveland raft, it is proposed to begin anew. Of all the political Generals, Butler is the only one who has been able to head West Point. He has fairly driven Baldy Smith and Gilmore from the Army of the Potomac. Ben is a brick, any way.—Newburyport Herald.

Drowned.—Philip R. Southwick, Jr., son of P. R. Southwick, Esq., was drowned while bathing at Chebacco Pond, Essex, Mass., Monday evening, 1st instant. Having gone out alone on the pond about 7 P. M., and not returning, fears were at once aroused, and search being made, his boat was soon found containing his clothes, but no clue could be had to the body. Exertions were thoroughly made, and the body was recovered on Wednesday evening. He was a young man 18 years of age, possessed of sterling qualities which endeared him to all who knew him.—Cape Ann Advertiser.

The Currency Problem.—"If a gold dollar sell for $1.40 in paper currency, is not $1.00 in paper worth just 60 cents in gold?"

I answer, NO, SIR! My "schooling" tells me that 100 is 5-7 of 140; consequently, if 100 gold cents are equal to 140 paper cents, then 5-7 of 140 will be equal to 5-7 of 100; which is 71 3-7, instead of 60. Or, the answer may be stated thus:

1.00 gold = 1.40 paper; then 1.40 paper: 1.00 gold:: 1.00 paper: .71 3-7 gold.

Very truly, yours,

RULE OF THREE.

Encouraging.—The N. Y. Herald in reviewing the military situation of the country comes to the conclusion that it has never been more encouraging; that the end of the rebellion is near at hand, and that we shall not fall short in the men or money required to secure the complete triumph of the Union.

THE DROUGHT.

It is stated by close observers, says the Portland Courier, that droughts are now more frequent and more prolonged than they were years ago. The cause is attributed by scientific men to the fact of the destruction of our forests, and it is very probable that this may have more to do with the weather than most people imagine. We know that there is more rain, more wet weather in new countries than in older settled regions where the forests have been cut off, at least this is the case so far as our experience reaches. We have known the fine farming regions in Kennebec to be suffering for rain, when in Aroostook, timely rains cheered the hearts of the people. In Europe forests are planted to replace those cut off, and in this country the Government should adopt some measures to provide against this evil which every year is becoming more serious.

There may be another cause, not considered yet by scientific men, but which perhaps is worthy of consideration. We know that in the history of the world, famine and pestilence have frequently followed the bloody footsteps of war, so much so that War, Pestilence and Famine are always associated together. Why it has been so, is a problem not yet solved. Some would say that a state of war operates to prevent production by taking the producers for soldiers. This to a certain extent may be true, but the power of the human mind as a whole, to affect the atmosphere or to produce atmospheric changes is not yet calculated, perhaps not yet brought to the attention of science. How much an intensely excitable state of the human world may operate upon the material, or how far it may go towards producing changes and new elementary combinations, is a problem yet unsolved. That effects are produced in this way many have no doubt, and it may be that the excitement necessarily attendant upon war has something to do with the different atmospheric conditions then existing.

The Chattahoochie is a small shallow stream, fordable at ordinary stage at almost any point. The banks are lined with beautiful fringes of willow; and wherever the primitive forests still remain on the bank, the luxuriance of Southern foliage is seen in its first beginnings. Oaks, poplar and beeches attain a gigantic size, and the leaves of the wild cucumber tree bush themselves out to the length of a yard. The soil of the narrow beaches along the side of it is very sandy.

Wenham Pond.—The Salem Gazette says that Wenham Pond covers some 320 acres in surface, about one-third of which lie in Beverly. It has generally a smooth sandy margin, and its waters are remarkably pure. Dr. Allen, in his History of Wenham, says, "So transparent is the ice here formed, that it is said that a newspaper has been read through a thickness of two feet of it."

Fleet of Foot.—The Richmond Examiner, speaking of the recent battle on the north side of the James river, acknowledges the loss of four guns captured by our troops, but adds: "We did not hear of their taking any prisoners, and consider it hardly possible that they could have done so if the accounts that reach us of the rapidity with which our men ran be true."

McPherson and Hood. — General McPherson, who was killed at Atlanta, was a class-mate and a "chum" at West Point, with Hood, who commanded the men who shot him. They entertained great affection for each other. Thus civil war puts against each other men who are closer and dearer than brothers.

Expressing.—Mr. E. Littlefield has purchased the Express business formerly carried on by Mr. P. Webber, between Salem and South Danvers, and will promptly and faithfully attend to all business left in his charge. The advertisement will be found in our columns of to-day.

Newspapers.—We understand, says the Newburyport Herald, that the editors and publishers of the Essex county papers are to have a meeting somewhere, to consider the interests of the newspaper business. They could not do better.

The Expression of Dress.—Women are more like flowers than we think. In their dress and adornment they express their nature as the flowers do in their petals and colors.—Some women are like the modest daisies and violets—they never look or feel better than when dressed in a morning wrapper. Others are not themselves unless they can flame out in gorgeous dyes, like the tulip or blush rose.—Who has not seen women just like white lilies? We know several double marigolds and poppies. There are women fit only for velvets, like the dahlias; others are graceful and airy, like the azaleas. Now and then you see hollyhocks and sunflowers. When women are free to dress as they like, uncontrolled by others, and not limited by their circumstances, they do not fail to express their true characters, and dress becomes a form of expression very genuine and useful.—Meredith.

☞ Ben. Butler has been dubbed Doctor of Laws by Williams College.

A Curious Relic.—Among the late Col. Perley Putnam, is a c which bears the imprint "Danvers
E. Russell, at his printing office
Tavern. Price, 4s. by Hundred o Single." This sheet, printed in form for posting, contains a "L
FOR THE TOWN OF SALEM," adopt habitants, "in town meeting asse approved of the Proceedings of t vention held at Concord, and the vention held at Ipswich, and havi quence of such approbation, app mittee of nineteen to fix and regu of Provisions, Labor, and every that properly comes under their

The list adopted was recomm committee of nineteen above ref alluding to some of the difficult of arriving at "utmost precision proportion," "hereby publish the Resolution to enfore every Act a that may answer the required mode in their Power, whether t derived from the Law or the P kind of tampering with the "n trade," must have seemed particul manlike to the "copperheads" lutionary times.

The list is very long, and mi and includes almost every variet
Coffee is 15s. per lb. perbag; Flo
Molasses, 31. 12s. per gall. by th
48s. per bushel; Sugar, 50 to 6 dred, or '11 to 14s per lb, retail;
per lb. by the chest.

Labor was well up, also. S and "Corkers," 18 dollars pe
Carpenters 15 dollars per day.;
11 dollars per day.—Salem Gaze

Mobile Attacked.—D. H. M
federate Major General, has tele
Richmond Sentinel of August 8 morning of August 5th, sevente my's ships passed Fort Morgan, tor (Tecumseh) in the attempt.
a formidable rebel iron clad—sur
a desperate fight, and her comma
Buchanan, lost a leg and was ta
The Federal fleet also captured beached the Gaines; and the de saying that "the enemy's fleet h the city." Coming as this n rebel source there need be n success of the gallant Farragut and we anticipate that our own they reach us, will make the vi most brilliant in the annals of Admiral Farragut's fleet num carrying 231 guns in all, while and flotilla mounted 267 guns of the capture of Mobile the military situation in the Gul immense. Georgia and Alaba off from the Gulf, and such a fi
Atlanta will be produced by o cending the Mobile and Ala the rebel General Hood will be escapes capture with his whole

Sudden Death.—We regre to chronicle the death of A Esq., of Ipswich, the Assistant office of the Clerk of the Co County. He was taken sudden morbus, at his home in Ipsw hour on Thursday morning, a evening, at the age of 47, lea six children. He was a most f systematic and accomplished services in his especial departm uable. Modest, and courteous and retained many friends, and tions of life he was highly seventeen years he has been To wich, and was the Representa trict in the Legislature of 1 position noted for remarkable i ity and genuine worth. His fu on Saturday afternoon at the S Ipswich, and was attended by of the Essex Bar and by a lar his friends and townsmen.—Re

A Singular Relic. — At France, a laborer in digging l light a stone coffin, in the fo containing the remains of a reduced to dust. Several ar were likewise found in the co bronze bowl, beautifully sculp fragments of a silver basin, c ized; a large chased gold ri the stone which had been set the work of the Lower Empi horn comb, richly ornamente lace; some broken glass vess
the realm of the Emperor Gr fin, discovered not far from a v appears not to have been alo ryer, the owner of the prope ders to dig the ground all r whether it was not a burial period of Roman domination i

Salem and South Danve
The following statistics will of the business of the Horse R pared with last year. For t
July 14, 1864, the receipts we responding week last year $27 increase of $575.24; for week 1864, $817.52—corresponding $307.80, showing an increas week ending July 28, 1864, ponding week last year $363.7
$451.52; for week ending $831.79—corresponding week an increase of $442.06.

The Salem Cadets, on T had a social gathering at Salem Neck. Many of the o from service at the front, wer the occasion, to which fish usual accompaniments contrib tions. There was some ta which the returned veterans skill. No member of the acti a better shot than that whic last time; and so it will not
The best shot was made by Blaney of South Danvers.—G

"Home on a Furlough."— tunity for those wishing to pu tiful engraving by leaving the during the week, at the stor
It ought to be hung up in ev which son, brother, or father battle for our country. It is ness of the generous love wh dier to his family, and of th which can make such costly cause of freedom and right.

e your Feather Beds.—Mr. C. O. ances to our citizens (see advertise-he will renovate and dress old ls, so that they will be as good as ew patent machine, which, judging e have already seen of its works, ne of the most useful and thorough yet designed for this purpose,—the being done by steam and not by hot
. He has cleansed several thousand is State within the last few months, instance that he has heard of has considered their money poorly laid place of business is on Central street, e lately occupied by Mr. Southwick.
a call, and see for yourself. Town,
d State rights for sale.

ort of Danvers.

sch Otis, Carr, Rondout.

Marriages.

vers, August 3, by Rev J W Putnam, r M, son of Hon. J D Black, to Miss arrows, adopted daughter of J. Q. A. er, Esq.
em, August 3d, Rev. Wayland Hoyt, Ninth-street Baptist Church, Cincinio, to Miss Matilda F, daughter of
I. Mansfield Esq, of Salem; 7th, Mr.
P. Foye to Miss Abby Jane Leach;
Abraham James to Miss Ellen Swee-
Mr Philip McDonald, Co C, 2d Mass.
Miss Ellen Lomasney.
erly, Aug. 4th, Mr. Benj. Preston Jr., Hitty Augusta Elliott.
rblehead, August 2, Mr. Thos Grieve, e Invalid Corps, formerly of the 20th egt., to Miss Mary A. Morrill of South ssex, Mr. Elias Andrews to Miss Elizardy, daughter of Hon. John Prince.

Deaths.

is town, July 30th, of diptheria, Lizzie 5 yrs 11 months; August 1st, Arthur,
10 months; 4th, Abigail Reith, 15 yrs
ns, children of the late Benjamin Moore. nna B, daughter of Otis F. and Susan ms, aged 2 years 7 months 13 days.

ar little Anna, thou hast left,
This world, so full of pain and woe;
ou't sleeping in thy Saviour's arms,
Free from all trials here below.
eet child, how can we part with thee?
Thou surely wert a treasure given o us, but for a little while,
To be re-placed again in Heaven.
ow every little toy of thine
A sense of loneliness imparts!
, how can resignation be Enthroned within our bleeding hearts?
ut still we cannot wish thee back,
We'll try to this affliction bow;
hy Heavenly Father called thee home,
Dear Anna is an angel now.
When each returning day brings back,
Past memories to us so dear,
e'll list to catch those accents sweet,
That used to fall upon our ear.
ut list in vain; for ne'er wilt thou Return to join thy loved ones here;
h no! for there in Heaven thou'lt meet,
With him, who wipes the falling tear.
Thy tiny hands are folded now
Upon thy calm and placid breast;
We'll not lament, but trusting, say,
God is our hope, rest, dear one, rest.

, Albert Willis, youngest child of M. H.
. E. Mason, 19 days.
, Mrs. Maria Addie, wife of Mr. Daniel osvenor, Jr., and daughter of James and Perry, 24 years 3 months.
, Thomas, son of John and Ellen Kiernan, onths.
, Arthur B., son of Eben S. and Ann M. ard, 6 years 6 months 2 days. Funeral sday (to-morrow) forenoon at 11 o'clock.
Salem, August 1st, Mr. Thomas Farrell, rs 8 mos 11 days; Charles Torrey, son of
A. and Eliza P. Innis, 17 yrs 5 months 8
; 4th, Mr Edward P. Emmerton, 26 yrs., of Ephraim Emmerton Esq; Marian Cloutyoungest child of Charles A and Lucinda Ropes; 6th, Mrs. Elizabeth Curtis, widow
e late Captain William Osgood, 72 yrs 2
; Mrs Caroline E, wife of Capt. E A Emon, 86 yrs; Mr. Daniel M'Carty, 60 yrs; ie Augusta, daughter of Henry J and Eli-
th Eaton, 4 months; 7th, Susie Emily, ghter of the late Moses and Susen E. East-of Melrose, 6 years 5 mos 28 days; Mrs. abeth, wife of Mr. Maurice Coughlin, 52
s.

OCKSIEPER GAS REGULATOR!

30 PER CENT. SAVED.

onomy in the use of Gas, with the advantage of ng a more brilliant light than heretofore, is a point nce desirable. Inventors have for many years ght to obtain this end by packing or checking in in erable ways the flow of gas through the burner.
one of these have attained the result wished for,
—a pure transparent flame without waste at any all pressures obtained at any hour and in all locali-These of our citizens who have taken the pains xamine Brocksieper's Patent Regulator, and have the gas ACTUALLY MEASURED THROUGH IT, are nimous in its praise. We give below the names of w of the merchants and others of Salem now using Regulator:

Salem Register Office;
Salem Gazette Office;
Salem Statesman Office;
Salem Post Office;
Merchants Reading Room;
George Creamer, Bookseller;
Browning & Long, Dry Goods;
S. F. Rogers, Confectioner;
J. P. Peabody, Dry Goods;
Theron Palmer, Shoe Dealer;
Adams, Richardson & Co., Hardware;
Doctor Johnson;
Essex House;
Wm. Webb, Jr., Druggist;
Edward Brown, Sup't and Treas. Gas Co.

SEND FOR A CIRCULAR.

25,000 of these Regulators have been manufactured
d sold in the Eastern States since February last. 150 e now in use in Salem. PRICE 80 CTS. EACH—6 AND ER, 65 cents each. The article is warranted in eve-respect. Call and examine for yourselves. Our fa-lities for testing the genuineness of this improveent will at once convince the most skeptical.

JOSEPH CLOUTMAN,
Sole Agent for the Regulator in Salem and vicinity,
F WHOM ONLY the article can be had.
OFFICE—Bowker Block, Essex st., up-stairs.

NOTICE.—We have this day appointed Mr. JOSEPH CLOUTMAN, of Salem, our sole agent for the sale of Brocksieper's Gas Regulator for the following places:
Salem, South Danvers, Beverly, Marblehead and Gloucester, Mass. All orders for the article, at wholesale r retail, to receive attention, must come through him, nd he will establish sub-agencies in the above-named places.

HULL & GOODELL,
Sole Proprietors in the U. S.
446 Broadway, N. Y., and 221 Washington st., Boston.
august 10—tf

For Garrison Duty!

CAPT. JOHN F. DEVEREUX, of Salem, having been authorized by His Excellency, Governor JOHN A. ANDREW, to raise a company for

Coast Defence in Massachusetts,

will receive recruits for said purpose at rooms

NO. 226½ ESSEX STREET.

Captain D. is authorized to state that all recruits shall be exempt from draft whilst in service.

All particulars given on application at the rooms, 226½ Essex Street.

☞ Only those who apply previous to August 11, will be received.

Job Press for Sale.

RUGGLES' JOB ENGINE PRESS. Prints a bill 13 by 19 inches. Can be run by one man at the rate of 800 per hour. Is in good condition. It will sold at a very low price, as the owner has no use for it. It is a big bargain. Apply at this office. jy 20 tf

---

AT PEABODY'S,
—TO REDUCE STOCK.—

Sun Umbrellas at very low prices;
Parasols and Shades at very low prices;
Summer Kid Gloves—best—only $1 75;
Best Kid Finished Silk Gloves—to close;
Cotton, Lisle Thread, & Silk Hosiery—to close;

All at very low prices,
in order to Reduce Stock,
At Peabody's, 220 Essex
St., Salem, Mass.

DERBY & CHILDS,

Fire, Marine and Life Insurance Agents.

Orders left at No. 24 Washington st., Salem, or received by mail, promptly attended to.

Losses equitably adjusted and promptly paid, and Insurance effected at reasonable rates.

Salem, August 10,—3m*

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

BY HIS EXCELLENCY THE GOVERNOR,

A Proclamation Concerning the Payment of Bounties to Volunteers.

With the advice and consent of the Council, by virtue of the provisions of the one hundred and thirtieth chapter of the Acts of eighteen hundred and sixty-four, and in the exercise of the power of suspension therein granted, and also by virtue of the power granted to the Governor by the two hundred and ninety-second chapter of the Acts of eighteen hundred and sixty-four, I, JOHN A. ANDREW, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, do hereby make proclamation as follows, viz.:

FIRST. Each volunteer who shall enlist in the military service of the United States, as a part of the quoto of this Commonwealth, for the term of three years or the war, shall be entitled to receive from the Treasury of the Commonwealth, at his election, a bounty of three hundred and twenty-five dollars; or, instead thereof, if he shall so elect, a bounty of fifty dollars, and twenty dollars monthly so long as he shall remain in said service. If honorably discharged for disability, after six months' actual service, then said sum of twenty dollars monthly shall be paid to him for six months thereafter; and if such volunteer shall die in the service said sum shall be paid to his widow; or if he shall leave no widow, to his lawful heirs for six months after his decease; —said monthly payment to such volunteer, his widow and heirs, not to exceed the term of three years in the whole, and to be payable at the office of the Treasurer of the Commonwealth

SECOND. Each volunteer who shall enlist for the term of two years only or the war, shall be entitled to receive a bounty of $200, or to receive the aforesaid bounty of fifty dollars and the monthly payment of twenty dollars, at his own election. If honorably discharged for disability, after six months actual service, then said sum of twenty dollars monthly shall be paid to him for six months thereafter; and if such volunteer shall die in the service, said sum shall be paid to his widow; or, if he shall leave no widow, to his lawful heirs, for six months after his decease; said monthly payment to such volunteer, his widow and heirs, not to exceed the term of two years in the whole, and to be payable at the office of the Treasurer of the Commonwealth.

THIRD. Each volunteer who shall enlist, for the term of one year only or the war, shall be entitled to receive a bounty of $100, or else the like twenty dollars monthly payment (but no other bounty) from the Treasury of the Commonwealth, at his own election. If honorably discharged for disability, after six months actual sevice, then said sum of twenty dollars monthly shall be paid to him for six months thereafter; and if such volunteer shall die in service, said sum shall be paid to his widow; or, if he shall leave no widow, to his lawful heirs, for six months after his decease; said monthly payment to such volunteer, his widow and heirs, not to exceed the term of one year in the whole, and to be payable at the office of the Treasurer of the Commonwealth.

All of the foregoing provisions are in addition to the several acts giving State aid to the families of volunteers, to the benefits of which all volunteers, whether for one, two or three years, are also entitled.

FOURTH. Every private and non-commissioned officer who shall be mustered into the service of the United States as a part of the Massachusetts Militia shall receive the sum of twenty dollars monthly so long as he shall remain in said service, which shall be in full discharge of all claim upon the Commonwealth for pay, bounty and State aid.

Given at the Council Chamber this twenty-third day of July, in the year of our Lord eighteen hundred and sixty-four, and of the Independence of the United States of America the eighty-ninth.

JOHN A. ANDREW.

By his Excellency the Governor.
OLIVER WARNER,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
aug 3—3t

Salem and South Danvers Railroad Company.

NOTICE.

As the legal use of the Railway Tracks of this Corporation has been frequently prevented by the stoppage of vehicles across the same, and as the business of the Road cannot be conducted with proper regard to the convenience of the passengers and the public, unless such obstructions cease, the Corporation invite especial attention to the Statute upon that subject, the correct principle of which is set forth in the opinion of Chief Justice SHAW in the case of Commonwealth v Temple, 13 Gray's Rep. 69, and give notice that they will consider it their duty to prosecute all cases hereafter occurring to the full extent of the law.

MOSES H. HALE, Sup't.

Extract from the Statutes of 1864, chap. 229, Sec. 22.

"Whoever wilfully and maliciously obstructs any such Corporation, its lessees or assigns, in the legal use of any Railway tracks, or delays the passing of the Cars or Railway Carriages of such Corporation, or of its lessees or assigns thereon, such person, and all who shall be aiding or abetting therein, shall be punished by a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars, or may be imprisoned in the common jail for a period not exceeding three months."

THE GREAT ENGLISH REMEDY.

SIR JAMES CLARKE'S CELEBRATED FEMALE PILLS!

Prepared from a prescription of Sir J. Clarke, M. D., Physician Extraordinary to the Queen.

This well known medicine is no imposition, but a sure cure and safe remedy for Female Difficulties and Obstructions, from any cause whatever; and, although a powerful remedy, they contain nothing hurtful to the constitution.

In all cases of Nervous and Spinal Affections, pain in the Back and Limbs, Fatigue on slight exertion Palpitation of the Heart, Hysterics, and Whites, these pills will effect a cure, when all other means have failed: and, although a powerful remedy, do not contain iron, calomel, antimony, or anything hurtful to the constitution.

Full directions in the pamphlet around each package, which should be carefully preserved.

For full particulars, obtain, free, of the agent, a pamphlet. Sold by all Druggists.

Sole United States Agent,
JOB MOSES, 27 Cortlandt St., New York.

N. B.—$1 and 6 postage stamps enclosed to any authorized agent, will insure a bottle, containing over 50 pills, by return mail. March 9, 1864.—1 yr.

☞ Goods received for LEWANDO'S FRENCH DYE HOUSE. M. E. CRANE.
Jan 20 tf

☞ Visit OSBORNE'S Store, and look at the unusual variety of new styles in HATS and CAPS—191 Essex street.

HAGAN'S MAGNOLIA BALM.

This is the most delightful and extraordinary article ever discovered. It changes the sun burnt face and hands to a pearly satin texture of ravishing beauty, imparting the marble purity of youth, and the distingue appearance so inviting in the city belle of fashion. It removes tan, freckles, pimples and roughness from the skin, leaving the complexion fresh, transparent and smooth. It contains no material injurious to the skin. Patronized by Actresses and Opera Singers. It is what every lady should have. Sold everywhere.

Prepared by W. E. HAGAN, Troy N. Y.
Address all orders to
DEMAS S. BARNES, & CO., New-York.

HEIMSTREET'S INIMITABLE HAIR RESTORATIVE.

NOT A DYE,

But restores gray hair to its original color, by supplying the capillary tubes with natural sustenance, impaired by age or disease. All instantaneous dyes are composed of lunar caustic, destroying the vitality and beauty of the hair, and afford of themselves no dressing. Heimstreet's Inimitable Coloring not only restores hair to its natural color by an easy process,

Luxuriant Beauty,

promotes its growth, prevents its falling off, eradicates dandruff, and imparts health and pleasantness to the head. It has stood the test of time, being the original Hair Coloring, and is constantly increasing in favor. Used by both gentlemen and ladies. It is sold by all respectable dealers, or can be procured by them of the commercial agents, D. S. BARNES & CO., 202 Broadway, New York. Two sizes, 50 cents and $1.

MEXICAN MUSTANG LINIMENT.

The parties in St. Louis and Cincinnati, who have been Counterfeiting the Mustang Liniment under pretense of proprietorship. have been thoroughly estoped by the Courts. To guard against further imposition, I have procured from the U. States Treasury, a private steel plate revenue stamp, which is placed over the top of each bottle. Each stamp bears the fac simile of my Signature, and without which the article is a Counterfeit, dangerous and worthless imitation. Examine every bottle. This Liniment has been in use and growing in favor for many years. There hardly exists a hamlet on the habitable Globe that does not contain evidence of its wonderful effects. It is the best emolient in the world. With its present improved ingredients, its effects upon man and beast are perfectly remarkable. Sores are healed, pains relieved, lives saved, valuable animals made useful, and untold ills assuaged. For cuts, bruises, sprains, rheumatism, swellings, bites, cuts, caked breasts, strained horses, &c., it is a Sovereign Remedy that should never be dispensed with. It should be in every family. Sold by all Druggists.

D. S. BARNES, New-York.
March 9th, 1864.—1 yr.

LYON'S KATHAIRON.

Kathairon is from the Greek word "Kathro," or "Kathairo," signifying to cleanse, rejuvenate and restore. This article is what its name signifies For preserving, restoring and beautifying the human hair it is the most remarkable preparation in the world. It is again owned and put up by the original proprietor, and is now made with the same care, skill and attention which gave it a sale of over one million bottles per annum.

It is a most delightful Hair Dressing.
It eradicates scurf and dandruff.
It keeps the head cool and clean.
It makes the hair rich, soft and glossy.
It prevents the hair from falling off and turning [gray.
It restores hair upon bald heads.

Any lady or gentleman who values a beautiful head of hair should use Lyon's Kathairon. It is known and used throughout the civilized world. Sold by all respectable dealers.

DEMAS S. BARNES & CO., New-York.

Advertisements.

South Danvers & Salem Mail Express.

E LITTLEFIELD, successor to P. Webber, will run an Express regularly between So. Danvers and Salem for the delivery of packages and bundles, and all goods usually delivered by Express.

Leave South Danvers at 7½ and 11 AM, and 1½ and 5 P M.

Leaves Salem at 8.45 A M., 12 M., 2½ and 6 P M.

This Express connects with the first train from Salem going East.

SLATES—In Salem, 13 Central st., and at the Messrs. Roberts' store, corner of Front and Washington sts. South Danvers—At the Post Office; at Blake & Holman's store; also at R. O. Spiller's store. aug 10

6000 BUSHELS PRIME OATS, received this day, and for sale by GAYLE & CO., Phillips' Wharf.
aug 10

SELF-SEALING AIR-TIGHT CASKET.

MR. CHARLES S. BUFFUM, Furnishing Undertaker of South Danvers, takes this method to annouce that he has a new burial case, which combines all the advantages of a wooden receptacle with those of a metal one, and yet avoids the disadvantages of both. They have been used with great success, and bodies placed in them have been delivered in perfect preservation after having been transported over a thousand miles. To persons having deceased friends at the seat of war they are invaluable. They come at reasonable prices, are light and durable, and are perfectly air-tight. august 10

FEATHER BEDS RENOVATED

BY A NEW PROCESS.

THE subscriber having located himself for a few weeks in the store on Central Street, formerly occupied as a restaurant by Mr. Wm. Southwick, would announce to the citizens of this town and vicinity that he will renovate and dress OLD and NEW Feather Beds with Col. Bailey's Patent Machine, one of the most useful and thorough inventions of the day for this purpose.

By this machine no injury is done the feathers by the renovating process, which is done entirely by steam, and not by hot air or fire. In fact the subscriber warrants to dress all feathers without injury to them or the ticks in which they are contained.

PRICE—ONE DOLLAR AND FIFTY CENTS per Bed, including pillows and bolsters, provided the feathers are suitable to run with the bed, and the combined weight does not exceed 30 pounds; over that amount five cents per pound will be added.

C. O. HALL.
South Danvers, July 20—tf

Vitrified Stone Drain Pipe.

JUST received and for sale by the subscribers, 5000 feet of the above Pipe, the usual sizes suitable for drainage; the best in the market.

Apply to
B. R. WHITE, Mason,
St Peter Court,
or F. P. GOSS, Plummer,
No. 7 St. Peter st.
Salem, Aug. 3, 1864.—3m

NEW BOOKS,

At G. M. WHIPPLE & A. A. SMITH'S.

ENOCH Arden, by Tennyson;
Talks on Women's Topics, by Jennie June;
Capt. Brand, by Harry Wise;
The Monomaniac;
Imogene—a new Novel;
London Nautical Magazine, July;
Geneological Register, July. 190 Essex st.

List of Letters

REMAINING in the Post Office at South Danvers, August 9, 1864. [Persons calling for these letters will please say they are advertised.]

Mary E Dodge — Sam'l G. Roberts
Abigail W. Graves — W. & J. Roberts
T. Q. George — Mary Reily
Narcisse Leduoque — Henry Symonds
Geo. A. Needham — Sylvia L Upton
Levi Randlett — E. H. Webster
M. C. Sweetser — Sarah J Wilson
Jenny Stewart — Jacob H Very
Robert Smith

N. B. These letters are subject to an additional postage of one cent.
DANIEL WOODBURY, P. M.

Browning & Long.

THE LARGEST
LADIES' FURNISHING STORE
IN SALEM.
THE GREATEST VARIETY
DISPLAYED IN THIS VICINITY.
THE RICHEST GOODS,
THE LOWEST PRICES,
—AT—
BROWNING & LONG'S
177 Essex Street, 177
SALEM.
Salem, Aug. 3, 1864.

WHITE BAREGE!

WHITE CREPE MARETZ,
WHITE ALPACCA,
SHIRRED MUSLINS,
TUCKED MUSLINS,
WHITE GOODS of every description.

—For sale by—
THOMAS W. DOWNING & CO.
jy13 179 Essex Street.

COUNTRY AND SEA SHORE!

Wide Brimmed Hats,

For the Country and Sea Shore.

—ALSO—

All the FANCY STYLES OF HATS, for Ladies and Children, at

REITH & CO'S,
No. 2 West Block, Essex Street,
(One door west of J. F. Almy & Co.,)
July 6 SALEM, MASS.

HOUSEKEEPERS, ATTENTION!

JACKSON'S KITCHEN FURNISHING ROOMS,

Under MECHANIC HALL, Salem.

Parties about commencing House-Keeping will find this the ONLY place in Salem where a COMPLETE ASSORTMENT of House-Keeping articles can be found.
dec 9, 1863.

LIFE INSURANCE.

THE MUTUAL

LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY,

Of New York, with a Capital of $11,000,000,

And an Annual Income of over

$2,000,000,

AND declaring a LARGER DIVIDEND than any other Company in the United States, is the one in which every man should secure a policy on his life.

The importance of LIFE INSURANCE cannot be too highly estimated. It is the safest and most practicable method of securing to your family, in case of your death, the means of a comfortable and independent support. Thousands of instances might be cited where families have thus been provided with a competency, who would otherwise have been left in penury and want. Husbands and fathers! treat not with indifference a subject of such vital importance, but see to it at once that your families are provided with the inestimable advantages which this great and benevolent institution affords.

Because a man has wealth, it is no reason why he should not insure, for he knows not how soon his riches may "take to themselves wings and fly away." And let those who complain of the want of means, remember that

Forty-Five Cents a Week,

Will insure $1,000 on the life of a man of THIRTY.

AN ENDOWMENT POLICY,

Secures to the assured party, on attaining to a certain age, say 50, 55 or 60 years, an amount sufficient for his support in advanced age.

Another feature of this subject, deserving of especial attention, is

SURVIVORSHIP ANNUITIES!

By means of which one party may secure to another, an annuity sufficient to maintain them in comfort and independence through life. A husband may thus make provision for his wife; a father for his child; or a brother for his sister.

Endowment Policies for Children.

By this means a parent may provide, by the payment of a small annual premium, a sum of money sufficient to enable a son to enter into business, at a proper age, or for any other provision, either for a son or daughter.

Many Gentlemen of So. Danvers and Vicinity!

Have already availed themselves of this opportunity now offered of ensuring their lives, and thus securing an inestimable blessing to themselves and their families Let others be equally wise, and immediately follow their example.

JOHN H. DERBY,
Agent for South Danvers and Vicinity.
Post Office address, Salem, Mass.
August 3, 1864.—1 mo.*

REAL ESTATE.

The subscriber offers for sale the following Lots of Land, with the buildings thereon, at Private Sale, until October next, when, if not previously sold, they will be put up at auction.

On Lowell street, a two story DWELLING HOUSE, fitted for two families. This is the Estate formerly known as the Southwick Tavern.

On Lowe street, leading from Foster St. to Washington St., a two story TENEMENT for two families with a garden attached to it.

On Washington street, near the residence of Capt. Lowe, a very eligible BUILDING LOT, on the North side of the street.

On Tremont street, a small COTTAGE HOUSE for one or two families.

On Walnut street, a pleasant, elevated Lot of Land, with a large Barn, situated opposite Mr. Caller's Currying Shop.

In the rear of the above TWO TENEMENT HOUSES.

For particulars apply to
WILLIAM SUTTON.
jy 27

EXCURSION.

The six horse car "Excursionist" will make regular excursion trips hereafter on SATURDAY AFTERNOONS, commencing July 16th, as follows:—

Leave the Depot on Webb street, at 1,45 P. M.

Leave South Danvers for Beverly at 2.25, remaining at Beverly one hour.

Leave Beverly for South Danvers at 4.25.

Leave South Danvers for Webb street at 5.25.

Fare between South Danvers and Beverly, each way, 10 cents; between Salem and South Danvers, or Salem and Beverly, each way, 5 cents. Children 3-5ths these rates.

The Car will only stop at the Cemetery, Buffum's Corner, Washington street, Webb Street Depot, Car Factory, East end of Beverly Bridge, and at the Post Office in Beverly.

July 20. M. H. HALE, Sup't.

Horse Railroad Notice.

SOUTH SALEM BRANCH.

IN compliance with the wishes of the citizens of South Salem, on and after Monday, July 26, the cars on the South Salem Branch of the Salem & South Danvers Railroad will Leave Washington street at 6.25, 7.25, 8.25, 9.25, 10.25 A. M., 12 M., 1.15, 3.15, 4.15, 5.15, 6.15, 7.15, 9.15, 10 P. M.

Leave Derby Farm at 6.40, 7.40, 8.40, 9.40, 10.40 A. M., 12.45, 1.45, 3.45, 4.45, 5.45, 6.45, 7.45, 9.45, 10.45 P. M.

SUNDAY ARRANGEMENT.

Leave Washington street at 9.30, 10.30, 11.45 A. M., 12.30, 1.30, 2.30, 3.30, 4.45, 5.30, 6.30, 7.30, 8.30 P. M.

Leave Derby Farm at 10, 11 A. M., 12 M., 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9 P. M.

M. H. HALE,
Superintendent.
Salem, July 25, 1864.

ICE PICKS

AND Ice Mallets with Awls, at
jy13 S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS, 32 Front st.

A. J. Archer & Co

White Shirred Muslins

JUST received and for sale by
je22 A. J. ARCHER & CO.

MOURNING GOODS.

AUGUSTUS J. ARCHER & CO.,

HAVE just received a fine assortment

—OF—

MOURNING DRESS GOODS,

for summer wear.

—ALSO—

On hand, a fine stock of

BLACK SILKS,

which our customers will find are at less than Boston prices.

May 25, 1864.

FANCY CLOAKINGS!

—FOR—

Spring Garments,

IN GREAT VARIETY OF STYLES,

which we are prepared to make into GARMENTS to order, in the very best manner, and at

LOWEST CASH PRICES.

A. J. ARCHER & CO.,
March 16—tf. 181 Essex Street.

HOUSE OF EQUITY,

—BY—

Arnold & Hutchinson,

(Successors to C. T. Southwick.)

FIRST QUALITY
FAMILY GROCERIES,
Sold at the Lowest Prices.

A large and complete assortment of

CROCKERY AND GLASS WARE,

Constantly on hand.

Also FLOUR and GRAIN.

ASHLAND HALL BUILDING,
NO. 1 LOWELL STREET,
F. T. ARNOLD, B. F. HUTCHINSON.
South Danvers, Feb 3, 1864.

M. A. PORTER,

236 Essex Street, - - - Salem, Mass.,
(Opposite Horse Railroad Office,)
MAKES TO ORDER BEST QUALITIES OF

WATCH SPRING SKIRTS.

A Good Assortment of Dress and Clock Button, Braids, Spool Cotton, Small Wares, and Thread Store articles generally.

236 Essex Street, - - - Salem, Mass.,
M. A. PORTER.

SPRING AND SUMMER GOODS.

168 ESSEX STREET.

WE invite the attention of the Ladies of Salem and vicinity, to our

New Millinery Goods.

Ladies' and Children's
BONNETS AND HATS,
in all desirable styles.

Crapes, Silks, Ribbons, Feathers, French Flowers, and Laces.

A full assortment of Straw Goods, Mourning Bonnets, Veils, Collars, &c., constantly on hand at the lowest cash prices.

M. E. CRANE,
Successor to M M FLETCHER.
Salem, April 6, 1864.

JUST ARRIVED,

AT DANVERS MILLS,

500 Bushels Corn, in the minnie cob, and will be sold in South Danvers. Constantly on hand a large stock of meal, which will be sold at the lowest Salem prices.

—ALSO ON HAND—

500 Bushels Feed;
200 Bushels prime Northern Oats;
100 Barrels choicest Family Flour.
A good stock of LIME constantly on hand.

JOHN C. MOULTON,
Central St., South Danvers, Mass.
May 25—tf.

DRY GOODS

—AT—

Ann R. Bray's, 76 Federal Street.

A LARGE Stock of Bleached and Brown COTTONS, which we offer at the very lowest prices:

Heavy 4 4 Waltham; Fine 9 8 Boot Mills;
Hill Cotton, Brown and Bleached;
Newmarket, A Cotton; Bennington Cotton;
Monticello Cotton; Cambrics; White Sarsnett;
Bleached Cotton, every width and quality;
American, English and French Prints;
Red, White and Gray Flannels;
Doronts 4-4 and 3-4 widths;
Brown and other Colored Drillings;
Crashes—Bleached, Brown and other colors;

☞ Our stock of Domestic Goods is full, and we shall sell as low as at ANY OTHER STORE in the city.

According to our usual practice, we shall sell out all our DRESS GOODS at a discount.

Salem, July 20—tsio

GAYLE & CO.,

COMMISSION MERCHANTS,
AND DEALERS IN
Flour, Grain and Produce,
PHILLIPS WHARF, Salem.

DR. J. H. BATCHELDER,

DENTAL SURGEON,

No. 20 Washington St., (near Eastern Railroad Depot)
SALEM, MASS.

Is Licensed to make the New Patent Teeth on HARD RUBBER or VULCANITE.

July 1, 1864.

THE HEAVENS.

A movable Planisphere of the Heavens at every minute, being a Directory of the Starry Heavens. To Astronomy what a Map is to Geography. The key that unlocks the mysteries in the changing Firmament. Two kinds, one having the constellations beautifully painted, the other as much like the sky as possible. Interesting to every student of Astronomy, Teacher or practical Navigator.

jy27 G. M. WHIPPLE & A. A. SMITH, Agents.

George S. Walker.

Closing off Summer Stock,

NO RISE IN PRICES.

GEORGE S. WALKER will sell his Summer Stock during the month of August, preparatory to the Fall trade, at the same low prices he has been selling during the Spring and Summer, without regard to the late PANIC IN PRICES, or the increased premium on gold. Now is the time for those in want, before the stock is broken up, to purchase.

Under-Shirts, Gloves,
Drawers, Scarfs,
Hosiery, Ties, etc.

and every article belonging to a complete Gentlemen's Furnishing Store. GEORGE S. WALKER,
No. 228 Essex St., opp. Eastern Railroad Station.
Salem, Aug. 3, 1864.

Potter, Bachelder & Co.,

DANVERS-PORT and SOUTH DANVERS,
DEALERS IN

WOOD AND COAL.

Constantly on hand

Franklin, Burnside, Dimond, } RED ASH.
Old Company & Packer's Lehigh, Pliny Fisk, Webster and Locust Mountain, } WHITE ASH.

Also Cumberland, Pictou and Campbell for Steam and Smith's use.

OFFICE—No. 6 Allen's Building.

G. W. POTTER,
J. Q. A. BACHELDER,
C. T. BATCHELDER. mch 30

M. FENOLLOSA,

TEACHER OF MUSIC,

LETS..............PIANO FORTES,
at the lowest rates;
SELLS..............PIANO FORTES,
at the Manufacturers Prices;
EXCHANGES....PIANO FORTES,
on the easiest terms;

At Rooms No. 7 Central street,
feb 11 SALEM, MASS.

AARON T. LOWE,

DEALER IN

BOOTS, SHOES AND RUBBERS,

76 BOSTON STREET, 76.
aug 6 SALEM. tf

T. HARDY, JR.,

—Dealer in—

DOORS, SASHES, BLINDS,

Glazed Sash, Painted Blinds,
FENCE PALES, STAIR BALUSTERS, FRAMING PINS, &c.,
No. 26 FRONT STREET,
Salem, January 14, 1863—tf.

MISS. S. E. MACKINTIRE.

TEACHER ON

PIANO FORTE

RESIDENCE,—22 Holton Street, jan13 South Danvers.

THOMAS PINNOCK,

SLATER,

SALEM, MASS.

Orders may be left at his Yard, No. 25 Peabody St., or at his house No. 6 Hancock street, South Salem.

Roofs covered with any kind of Slates, according to order. All work warranted.

Salem, May 7, 1862. tf

PIN WORMS. MRS. OSBORN'S Universal Worm Powders are the only sure cure ever offered to the public. They are warranted in every case; relief within 24 hrs. 25 cts. per box. Sold by all druggists.

For sale by D. P. GROSVENOR, Jr., 33 Main St., South Danvers. jan 27

SPECTACLES!

H. F. SKERRY wishes to call special attention to his stock of

Spectacles and Eye Glasses,

in Gold—Silver—Rubber—Steel and Horn frames, of which he keeps constantly on hand a very large assortment, embracing every style and quality.

—ALSO—

Opera Glasaes, Microscopes, &c.

Glasses re-set, and Spectacles repaired.

In Store, our usual assortment of Silver and Plated Ware, and Jewelry.

No. 180 Essex Street, Salem.
H. F. SKERRY.
Feb. 24—tf.

WIRE COVERS.

WIRE Dish Covers, in sets of five, at
S C & E A SIMONDS',
June 29 32 Front Street.

Posting Books, Making Bills and Copying.

THE above business will be promptly and accurately performed by the subscriber, who may be found at Messers. CLARK & GIDDINGS' Counting Room on Wallis Street, near the Essex Depot, or by enquiring at this office. jy13 tf JOHN D. HOWARD.

FURNITURE.

HAVING taken the Store No. 10 FRONT STREET, (formerly occupied by BENJAMIN COLMAN,) I shall keep constantly on hand a large stock of

NEW AND SECOND-HAND FURNITURE,

BEDDING, COUNTING-ROOM DESKS, &c., &c.,

which I will sell cheap for CASH.

ALL KINDS OF FURNITURE NEATLY REPAIRED.

☞ All kinds of FURNITURE and BEDDING wanted—for which the highest Cash price will be paid.

P. J. HYNES, 10 FRONT-ST.
Salem, April 6, 1864—1y

WATER KEGS.

ANOTHER lot of Stone Water Kegs, at
jy13 S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS' 32 Front st.

LEMON SQUEEZERS,

AT S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS', 32 Front st.

Flour.

100 Bbls "Arcade Mills;" 100 do "Crooked Creek;" 100 do "May Flower." For sale by july 20 GAYLE & CO., Phillips' Wharf.

TIMBEY'S BAROMETER.

A SINGLE admonition from one of these useful and desirable instruments, to a farmer, more than pays the cost, and it will last for ages.

It is useful every day and a beautiful piece of furniture.

The new patent is constructed with a flexible section so arranged as to compensate for changes in the temperature. To each barometer a fine thermometer is attached.

Call upon the Agents and see them, and read the testimonials from the highest authorities.

jy 27 G. M. WHIPPLE & A. A. SMITH.

MORRIS' RESTAURANT,

18 and 20 Derby Square, Salem.

Oysters, Clams, Steak, Poultry, Game, Fish, &c., &c., COOKED TO ORDER.
Pickled Oysters, Lobsters and Clams.
Salem, July 22, 1863. tf

Auction Sales.

WILLIAM ARCHER, Jr.,

Auctioneer, Real Estate and Stock Broker,
34 Front Street.

Real Estate, Bank, Railroad & Manufacturing Stock bought and sold on Commission.

VALUABLE REAL ESTATE.

THE Subscriber offers for sale the following Lots of Land, with the Buildings thereon, at private sale, until September next, when such as then remain unsold, will be offered at Public Auction:

A new and well built two-story DWELLING HOUSE, situated on English Street. This house is well supplied with the modern conveniences, is pleasantly situated on rising ground, and is a very desirable residence.

The MOROCCO FACTORY near the Southwick Tannery. The building is about 156 feet long by 40 wide, is well supplied with pure water and is an excellent place for the Morocco business or Currying.

Near the Morocco Factory are two TWO-STORY BUILDINGS, which may be sold with the Factory, or separately. Together they are about 80 feet long by 20 wide.

On Walnut Street is the large BOARDING HOUSE, with the land adjoining, which is excellently well situated for what it is designed.

Several front LOTS for building purposes on Walnut Street, will be sold at moderate prices, and fair terms.

A STORE HOUSE 70 by 25 feet on Walnut Street, with the land under and the rear of it. It can be easily adapted for a Curriers' Shop, or for other kinds of business.

On Wallis Street, near the mill pond, a well built and painted MOROCCO FACTORY, all ready for occupancy. It is about 80 feet long by 25 wide, and in excellent repair.

Next to the Morocco Factory on the same street, a STORE BUILDING, strongly built, and framed for a DWELLING HOUSE, for which it could be easily adapted. Or it would make an excellent Shop for any kind of business.

Near ELM STREET, on a Court south of said street, are two DWELLING HOUSES, planned for two families each. One is two stories high, the other one and a half. Both houses have good tenants and yield a good income; offering a good chance for investment.

Between Harris and English Streets, one One Story DWELLING House, and a One Story and a Half House.

The above is a most excellent opportunity for enterprising young men to secure places for business and dwelling houses, on reasonable terms. Such a chance may not soon again occur.

Persons desiring to purchase any of the above lots may learn the prices and terms on application to ANDREW S. PORTER, Elm Street.

SAMUEL D. PENDAR.
South Danvers, May 11, 1864. tf

MANUAL FENOLLOSA

TEACHER
OF THE
Violin, Piano and Singing,
MUSIC ROOMS, No. 7 Central Street,
SALEM, MASS.

NEW STORE!

Flour! Flour!

JUST RECEIVED, a fresh supply of CHOICE BRANDS, direct from the Mills, for sale, wholesale and retail, at LOWEST PRICES, by

E. F. OSBORN.
Sutton's Building, Main St.
South Danvers, Nov 18, 1863.

R. C. MANNING & CO.

Successors to JOHN DIKE & CO.,
DEALERS IN

COAL, WOOD, BARK, HAY, &c,

183 DERBY STREET,
SALEM, MASS.
N. C. ROBBINS, R. C. MANNING.
oct17

GEO. E. MEACOM,

Dealer in

DRUGS & MEDICINES,

Fancy & Toilet Articles, &c.,
126 MAIN ST. 126
Nearly opposite Danvers Bank, So. Danvers.

T. A. SWEETSER,

Druggist & Apothecary

37 Main St., So. Danvers,

DEALER IN

Drugs, Medicines, Chemicals, Foreign Leeches, Shakers' Herbs, Dye Stuffs, Gums, Acids, Sponges, Shoulder Braces, Trusses, and Genuine Patent Medicines.

Also, Imported Cigars of choice brands, Perfumery, Toilet Articles and Stationery.

Physicians' Prescriptions carefully prepared by experienced persons.

37 MAIN STREET.

D. P. GROSVENOR, Jr.,

Druggist and Apothecary,

33 MAIN STREET.

Dealer in Drugs, Medicines, Chemicals, Dye Stuffs, and Popular Proprietary Medicines.

Personal attention to Physicians' Prescriptions.

South Danvers, May 29, 1861. 1y

Flour and Grain.

1500 BUSHELS Canada Oats, 100 barrels Superior Family XXX Flour; just landed and for sale by GAYLE & CO., Phillips Wharf.

DR. E. F. KITTREDGE,

From Lowell, formerly of New Ipswich, N. H., Has removed his office and residence to

NO. 42 MAIN STREET,
SOUTH DANVERS, MASS.

Dr. K., from an extensive and successful professional experience of upwards of twenty years, feels justified in saying that he can treat diseases to the satisfaction of his patients, and to the credit of himself.

Office hours from 7 to 9 A. M., and from 6 to 9 P. M.

South Danvers, Nov 13, 1863.

EBEN UPTON,

Piano Fortes Tuned and Regulated,

MELODEONS AND PIANOS
BOUGHT, AND EXCHANGED

For New Piano Fortes, at Wholesale Prices.

Orders left at G. CREAMER'S Bookstore, Salem.
July 27, 1864.—6m

Special Notices.

EDITOR OF WIZARD:—Dear Sir,—With your permission I wish to say to the readers of your paper that I will send, by return mail, to all who wish it (free), a Recipe, with full directions for making and using a simple Vegetable Balm, that will effectually remove, in ten days, Pimples, Blotches, Tan, Freckles, and all Impurities of the Skin, leaving the same soft, clear, smooth and beautiful.

I will also mail free to those having Bald Heads, or Bare Faces, simple directions and information that will enable them to start a full growth of Luxuriant Hair, Whiskers, or Moustache, in less than thirty days.

All applications answered by return mail without charge. Respectfully yours,

THOS. F. CHAPMAN, Chemist,
jy 13-3m 831 Broadway, New York.

A GENTLEMAN, cured of Nervous Debility, Incompetency, Premature Decay and Youthful Error, actuated by a desire to benefit others, will be happy to furnish to all who need it, (free of charge,) the recipe and directions for making the simple remedy used in his case. Those wishing to profit by his experience, and possess a Valuable Remedy, will receive the same, by return mail, (carefully sealed,) by addressing

JOHN B. OGDEN,
No 60 Nassau street, New York.
may 25-3m.

BELL'S SPECIFIC PILLS.—WARRANTED IN ALL CASES.—Can be relied on! Never fail to cure! Do not nauseate! Are speedy in action! No change of diet required! Do not interfere with business pursuits! Can be used without detection! Upward of 200 cures the past month—some of them very severe cases. Over one hundred physicians have used them in their practice, and all speak well of their efficacy, and approve of their composition, which is entirely vegetable and harmless on the system. Hundreds of certificates can be shown.

BELL'S SPECIFIC PILLS are the original and only genuine Specific Pill. They are adapted for male and female, old or young, and the only reliable remedy for effecting a permanent and speedy cure in all cases of Spermatorrhea, or Seminal Weakness, with all its train of evils, such as Urethral and Vaginal Discharges, Gleet, the Whites, Nightly or Involuntary Emissions, Incontinence, Genital Debility and Irritability, Impotence, Weakness, or Loss of Power, Nervous Debility, &c., &c., all of which arise principally from Sexual Excesses or Self-Abuse, or some constitutional derangement, and incapacitates the sufferer from fulfilling the duties of married life. In all sexual diseases, as Gonorrhea, Gleet, and Strictures, and in Diseases of the Bladder and Kidneys, they act as a charm! Relief is experienced by taking a single box. Sold by all the principal druggists. Price $1.

They will be sent by mail, securely sealed, and confidentially, on receipt of the money, by

J. BRYAN, M. D.,
No. 76 Cedar street, New York,

Consulting Physician for the treatment of Seminal, Urinary, Sexual, and Nervous Diseases, who will send, free, to all, the following valuable work, in sealed envelope:—

THE FIFTIETH THOUSAND.—DR. BELL'S TREATISE on Self-Abuse, Premature Decay, Impotence and Loss of Power, Sexual Diseases, Seminal Weakness, Nightly Emissions, Genital Debility, &c., &c., a pamphlet of 64 pages, containing important advice to the afflicted, and which should be read by every sufferer, as the means of cure in the severest stages is plainly set forth. Two stamps required to pay postage.

December 9, 1863—1 yr.

IMPORTANT TO LADIES.—DR. HARVEY'S FEMALE PILLS have never yet failed in removing difficulties arising from obstruction, or stoppage of nature, or in restoring the system to perfect health when suffering from Spinal Affections, Prolapsus Uteri, the Whites, or other weakness of the Uterine Organs. The Pills are perfectly harmless on the constitution, and may be taken by the most delicate female without causing distress—the same time they act like a charm by strengthening, invigorating and restoring the system to a healthy condition, and by bringing on the monthly period with regularity, no matter from what causes the obstruction may arise. They should, however, NOT be taken during the first three or four months of pregnancy, though safe at any other time, as miscarriage would be the result.

Each box contains 60 Pills. Price $1.

DR. HARVEY'S TREATISE on Diseases of Females, Pregnancy Miscarriage, Barrenness, Sterility, Reproduction, and Abuses of Nature, and emphatically the Ladies' Private Medical Adviser, a pamphlet of 64 pages, sent free to any address. Six cents required to pay postage.

The Pills and book will be sent by mail when desired, securely sealed, and prepaid, by

J. BRYAN, M. D., General Agent,
No. 76 Cedar street, New York.

☞ Sold by all the principal druggists.
December 9, 1863—1yr.

Do You Wish to be Cured.

DR. BUCHAN'S ENGLISH SPECIFIC PILLS cure in less than 30 days, the worst cases of NERVOUSNESS, Impotency, Premature Decay, Seminal Weakness, Insanity, and all Urinary, Sexual and Nervous Affections, no matter from what cause produced. Price, One Dollar per box. Sent, post-paid, by mail, on receipt of order. One Box will perfect the cure in most cases. Address JAMES S. BUTLER, jy 13-3m General Agent, 427 Broadway, New York.

Putnam Clothes Wringer.

IT IS THE ONLY RELIABLE

SELF-ADJUSTING WRINGER

NO WOOD TO SWELL OR SPLIT.

NO THUMB SCREWS TO GET OUT OF ORDER.

Warranted with or without Cog-Wheels.

IT took the FIRST PREMIUM at fifty-seven State and County Fairs in 1863, and is, without an exception, the best Wringer ever made.

Patented in the United States, England, Canada and Australia. Agents wanted in every town, and in all parts of the world.

Sample Wringer sent, express paid, on receipt of price.

Energetic agents can make from 3 to 10 dollars per day.

No. 2, $6.50; No. 1, $7.50; No. F, $8.50; No. A, $9.50.

Manufactured and sold, wholesale and retail, by THE PUTNAM MANUFACTURING CO., No. 13 Platt Street, New York, and Cleveland, Ohio.

S. C. NORTHROP, Agent.

WHAT EVERYBODY KNOWS, VIZ:

That Iron well galvanized will not rust;

That a simple machine is better than a complicated one;

That a Wringer should be self-adjusting, durable, and efficient;

That Thumb-Screws and Fastenings cause delay and trouble to regulate and keep in order;

That wood soaked in hot water will swell, shrink and split;

That wood bearings for the shaft to run in will wear out;

That the Putnam Wringer, with or without cog-wheels, will not tear the clothes;

That cog-wheel regulators are not essential;

That the Putnam Wringer has all the advantages, and not one of the disadvantages above named;

That all who have tested it, pronounce it the best Wringer ever made;

That it will wring a Thread or a Bed-Quilt WITHOUT ALTERATION.

We might fill the paper with testimonials, but insert only a few to convince the skeptical, if such there be; and we say to all, test Putnam's Wringer. Test it THOROUGHLY with ANY and ALL others, and if not entirely satisfactory, return it.

Putnam Manufacturing Co:—GENTLEMEN: I know from practical experience that iron well galvanized with zinc will not oxidize or rust one particle. The Putnam Wringer is as near perfect as possible, and I can cheerfully recommend it to be the best in use. Respectfully yours,

JNO. W. WHEELER, Cleveland, Ohio.

Many years' experience in the galvanizing business enable me to indorse the above statement in all particulars.

JNO. C. LEFFERTS, No. 100 Beckman St.
New York, January, 1864.

We have tested Putnam's Clothes Wringer by practical working, and know that it will do. It is cheap; it is simple; it requires no room, whether at work or at rest; a child can operate it; it does its duty thoroughly; it saves time and it saves wear and tear. We earnestly advise all who have much washing to do, with all intelligent persons who have any, to buy this Wringer. It will pay for itself in a year at most.

HON. HORACE GREELEY.

July 27, 1864.—3m.

HEYLINGBERG'S

Hair Dressing Saloon,

24 MAIN ST., SOUTH DANVERS.

J. J. HEYLINGBERG would announce to his patrons and the public generally, that on and after JUNE, 1st, 1864, he will abide by the following

TARIFF OF PRICES:

Shaving,	10 cts.
Hair Cutting,	15 cts.
Champeoing,	15 cts.

Particular attention paid to dying hair and whiskers, in one preparation, without washing or scrubbing.

South Danvers, May 11, 1864.

THE TRAVELERS INS. CO.,

OF HARTFORD, CONN.

Capital - - - - - $250,000.

Is now prepared to Insure persons against

ACCIDENTS

OF EVERY DESCRIPTION.

Yearly policies will be issued for a premium of

FIVE DOLLARS,

granting insurance to the amount of

FIVE THOUSAND DOLLARS,

against accidental loss of life while travelling by any public conveyance.

TEN DOLLARS PREMIUM

secures a policy for Five Thousand Dollars, and also twenty-five dollars per week compensation for personal injury incapacitating the assured from his ordinary business.

TWENTY-FIVE DOLLARS PREMIUM

secures a full policy for $5000 and $25 per week compensation for all and EVERY DESCRIPTION OF ACCIDENT, TRAVELLING OR OTHERWISE.

Policies for $5000 with $3 per week compensation, can be had for $3 per annum; or any other sum between $500 and $5000 at proportionate rates.

DIRECTORS:

Gustavus F. Davis,	W. H. D. Callender,
James L. Howard,	George W. Moore,
Marshal Jewell,	Ebenezer Roberts,
Thomas Belknap, Jr.,	Charles White,
Cornelius B. Irwin,	Hugh Harrison,
George S. Gilman,	Jonathan B. Bunce.

JAMES G. PATTERSON, President.
RODNEY DENNIS, Secretary.
HENRY A. DYER, General Agent.

PLUMBER & MERCER, Agents,
40 State Street, Boston.

Offices in Salem—JOHN H. DERBY, No. 24 Washington street; SAMUEL MACKINTIRE, No. 218 Essex street.
Aug. 3, 1864—1yr.

R. W. WILKINSON,

DEALER IN

Newspapers, Periodicals, and Stationery of every Description.

FOREIGN and DOMESTIC FRUITS, consisting of Oranges, Lemons, Dates, Figs, Prunes, &c., &c.

Sauces, Pickles and Preserves; Castana, Naples and English Walnuts; Hard, Soft and Paper-shelled Almonds; choice brands of Tobacco and Cigars; also a general assortment of Confectionery of every description.

Also a large and well selected stock of Toys, suitable for children and the Holiday Gifts.

Ice Cream furnished to parties at short notice and in quantities to suit. Wedding Cake and every variety of nice cake furnished to parties or families.

STORE—WARREN BANK BUILDING.
South Danvers, Nov'r 11, 1863.

DR. S. O. RICHARDSON'S

Blood-Root Elixir

Has been thoroughly tested and proved in his medical practice, for a period of THIRTY YEARS, and is now presented to the public as an effectual cure for

COSTIVENESS,

AND THE BEST REMEDY EVER PREPARED FOR

DISEASES OF THE LIVER,

SCROFULA,

All Humors and Impurities of the Blood and Diseases of the Skin.

The preparing and combining the BLOOD-ROOT ELIXIR is attended with results to medical science next in importance to inhalation of ether in surgery. Roots and plants, in themselves pungent and disagreeable, are, by a new and scientific process of extracting (in vacuo) rendered MORE EFFECTIVE IN THEIR OPERATION, entirely divested of the griping and distressing pain which attends the action of all other purgative medicine. They are also made to become highly

PLEASANT AND AGREEABLE TO THE TASTE,

and by their peculiar combination work so perfectly in HARMONY WITH NATURE that no unpleasant reaction will follow its operation. It also possesses which can only be attained by medicine in a fluid state. These are new elements in purgative medicines.

A DIFFUSIVE AND ALTERATIVE EFFECT,

The hard and compact manner in which Pills are prepared, renders them indigestible—and, when taken, are forced through the Stomach and Bowels, half dissolved, causing only PARTIAL ACTION, thereby creating irritation and pain to the parts connected with their passage.

One Pill dissolved secundum artem, will produce more medicinal and physical effect than five in a crude state.

The BLOOD-ROOT ELIXIR has no partial action upon the bowels, but is equally diffused there, and throughout the whole circulation of the Blood, imparting a healthy and invigorating action to the STOMACH AND BOWELS, LIVER, LUNGS, KIDNEYS, and gently stimulating dermant and morbid secretions throughout the whole system.

A single dose will produce a cheerful and exhilarating COMMOTION, which will inspire the patient with confidence, and assurance of IMMEDIATE RELIEF. A continuance for a short period will DRIVE the obscure and hidden humors to the surface of the skin, and relieve or check SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS—and by thus purifying and strengthening the Blood, will remove the most fruitful

CAUSE OF CONSUMPTION.

It incites the various organs of the system to act their alloted part, removing the causes which induce RHEUMATISM and NEURALGIA, HEADACHE, LOSS OF APPETITE, DYSPEPSIA, COSTIVENESS, and the various diseases which arise from a derangement of the Stomach and Bowels, and restricted circulation of the Blood.

COUGHS AND COLDS, in their early stages, will immediately yield to the effect of the Elixir.

THE BLOOD-ROOT ELIXIR contains no mineral, no pernicious botanical element, no excitant, but stimulates the secretions by its mild and diffusive action. It is an effective and painless aperient—has a decided salutary action upon the Liver, and there has been no medicine prepared for common family use which possesses equal merit.

Travellers both by sea and land, will find the Elixir a complete antidote for the evils which they are obliged to endure, from a change of climate or water of diet.

See the pamphlet around each bottle for a history of the Elixir.

The proprietor of the BLOOD-ROOT ELIXIR, (Dr. S. O. Richardson,) has been long and favorably known to the public by his celebrated SHERRY-WINE BITTERS, the best tonic medicine ever discovered, and which has been in use over thirty years. He is a graduate of the New Hampshire Medical College, and many years associate member of the Massachusetts Medical Society,—and has made the study of medicine his profession since 1820.

And so fully convinced is the Doctor of the wonderful curative effects of his BLOOD-ROOT ELIXIR, that he hereby offers to each and every person who will use ONE-HALF OF A BOTTLE of his ELIXIR, and not be CONSCIOUS of a good effect therefrom, to REFUND to said person the FULL amount which he paid for the same, by returning the ullage bottle to his office.

Price $1.50 Per Bottle!

Sold by Apothecaries and Dealers in Medicines, and at the Doctor's Office, 51 & 53 HANOVER ST., BOSTON.

May 11—3ms.*

Cards.

M. B. MANSFIELD,

Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
214 ESSEX STREET, SALEM, MASS.

 Particular attention paid to procuring Pensions, Bounties, Back Pay, Prize Money, and Army and Navy Claims of all descriptions. March 2.

H. L. HADLEY,

Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
CORNER MAPLE AND ELM ST.,
Danvers.

Claims against the Government for Bounty, Back Pay, and Pensions, promptly attended to.

THOMAS M. STIMPSON,

Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
194 ESSEX STREET, SALEM.
Residence Lowell street, South Danvers.

B. C. PERKINS,

Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
South Danvers—Office in Allen's Building.

ALFRED A. ABBOTT,

Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
Office, No. 24 Washington Street, Salem.
House, Main St., So. Danvers.

SIDNEY C. BANCROFT,

Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
27 Washington Street, Salem.

H. O. WILEY,

Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
Office, Allen's Building, South Danvers.

Claims against the Government for Bounty, Back Pay, and Pensions, promptly attended to.

A. S. CRAWFORD

Dentist,
No. 4 MAIN STREET, SO. DANVERS SQUARE
Mechanical Dentistry Neatly Executed.

W. L. BOWDOIN,

SURGEON DENTIST,
No. 208 Essex Street, Salem, (Opposite the Market
Residence—No. 57 Washington street.
jan 11—1y

NEWMAN & SYMONDS,

DEALERS IN

Family Groceries, Flour & Grain,

HARD WARE AND CROCKERY,
Ready Made Clothing, Gents' Furnishing Goods,
Hats, Caps, Boots, Shoes, &c.,
South Danvers Square, opp. Congregational Church
SAM'L NEWMAN. NATH'L SYMONDS.

S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS,

DEALERS IN
Crockery, China and Hardware; Paper Hangings; Solar and Entry Lamps · Paints, Oil and Window Glass.
No. 32 Front street, Lawrence Place,
feb13 SALEM, MASS.

HENRY L. WHIDDEN,

HOUSE AND SIGN PAINTER,
Glazier and Paperer,
Central Street, South Danvers.
All orders promptly and faithfully executed.
jan2-1y

E. S. FLINT,

DEALER IN

West India Goods, Country Poduce,

No. 2 Main Street, South Danvers.

JESSE SMITH

No. 262 Essex Street, Salem,
Importer and Dealer in

Gold and Silver Watches,

MARINE CHRONOMETERS,
Aueroid Barometers, Spy Glasses, &c.

WILLIAM BLANEY,

HOUSE & SIGN PAINTER
Grainer, Glazier and Paper Hanger.
164 MAIN STREET, Corner of Grove.
WINDOWS and BLINDS cheap for cash.
mch8 tf

F. POOLE

INSURANCE AGENT,
Allen's Building (up stairs),
Deeds drawn, and other common forms.

Horse Railroad Notice.

On and after MONDAY, May 9, the cars of the Salem and South Danvers Railroad Co. will leave

South Danvers for Salem and Beverly at 6.35, 6.55, 7.15, and 7.35, A. M., and every 20 minutes till 12.55 P. M., and at 1.10, 1.25, 1.40, 1.55 P. M., and every 15 minutes till 10.25 P. M. The 9.55, 10.10, and 10.25 P. M., cars will go only to Salem.

Cars will leave Beverly for Salem and South Danvers at 6.35, 6.55, 7.15, and 7.35, A. M., and every 20 minutes till 12.55 P. M., and at 1.10, 1.25, 1.40 and 1.55 P.M., and every 15 minutes till 10.40 P. M. The 9.40, 9.55, 10.10, 10.25, and 10.40 P. M., cars go only to Salem.

Cars leave Washington Street Station for So. Danvers at 6.12, 6.32 and 6.52 A. M. and every 20 minutes till 12.32 P.M, and leave Washington St. Station for Beverly at 6.17, 6.37, 6.57, A.M., and every 20 minutes till 12 37 P. M., and cars will leave Washington St. Station for South Danvers and Beverly at 12.45, 1, 1.15, and 1.30 P. M., and every 15 minutes till 10.00 P. M.

M. H. HALE,
may 11 Sup't. S. & S.D. R. R. Co.

FOR NEW YORK via FALL RIVER AND NEWPORT.

Cabin passage $5,00; Deck, $4,00. Cars leave the Depot of the Old Colony and Newport Railway, corner of South and Kneeland streets, at 5.30 P. M., daily.

For steamer METROPOLIS, Capt. W. Brown, on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

For steamer EMPIRE STATE, Capt. P. Brayton, on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays.

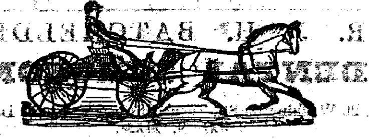
Passengers by this route can take the 4.40 P. M. Express Train, and arrive in Fall River one hour before the Steamboat Train, having time to secure State Rooms and make their preparations for the passage.

Passengers by this line going to Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, &c., can connect with the New Jersey or Camden and Amboy Railroad. Baggage Checked through.

☞ A baggage master accompanies the passengers through to New York. Tickets, Berths and Staterooms secured at this office, and at O. C. & Newport R. R. Station.

GEORGE SHIVERICK, Agent.
NO. 82 Washington Street.
BOSTON, November 16, 1863.

MOULTON'S NEW LIVERY STABLE,



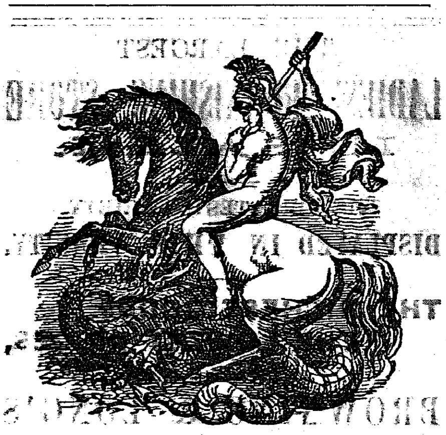
Is removed to stable formerly occupied by
SAMUEL HAM,
On MAIN STREET, opposite the Institute.

Good Horses and Carriages will be always in readiness at short notice.
South Danvers, May 25, 1864.

PRESERVE YOUR FRUIT.

GLASS Jars and Glass Covers, for preserving Fruits, Vegetables, &c., in a perfectly fresh state, for sale by S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS', 32 Front st.

Advertisements.



HOSTETTER'S

CELEBRATED

STOMACH BITTERS.

A pure and powerful Tonic, corrective and alterative of wonderful efficacy in disease of the

Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

Cures Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Headache, Debility, Nervousness, Depression of Spirits, Constipation, Colic, Intermittent Fevers, Cramps and Spasms, and all Complaints of either Sex, arising from Bodily Weakness whether inherent in the system or produced by special causes.

Nothing that is not wholesome, genial and restorative in its nature enters into the composition of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. This popular preparation contains no mineral of any kind, no deadly botanical element; no fiery excitant: but it is a combination of the extracts of rare balsamic herbs and plants with the purest and mildest of all diffusive stimulants.

It is well to be forearmed against disease, and, so far as the human system can be protected by human means against maladies engendered by an unwholesome atmosphere, impure water and other external causes, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS may be relied on as a safeguard.

In districts infested with Fever and Ague, it has been found infallible as a preventive and irresistible as a remedy and thousands who resort to it under apprehension of an attack, escape the scourage; and thousands who neglect to avail themselves of its protective qualities in advance, are cured by a very brief course of this marvelous medicine. Fever and Ague patients, after being plied with quinine for months in vain, until fairly saturated with that dangerous alkaloid, are not unfrequently restored to health within a few days by the use of HOSTETTER'S BITTERS.

The weak stomach is rapidly invigorated and the appetite restored by this agreeable Tonic, and hence it works wonders in cases of DYSPEPSIA and in less confirmed forms of INDIGESTION. Acting as a gentle and painless apperient, as well as upon the liver, it also invariably relieves the CONSTIPATION superinduced by irregular action of the digestive and secretive organs.

Persons of feeble habit, liable to Nervous Attacks, Lowness of Spirits and Fits of Languor, find prompt and permanent relief from the Bitters. The testimony on this point is most conclusive, and from both sexes.

The agony of BILIOUS COLIC is immediately assuaged by a single dose of the stimulant, and by occasionally resorting to it, the return of the complaint may be prevented.

As a General Tonic, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS produce effects which must be experienced or witnessed before they can be fully appreciated. In cases of Constitutional Weakness, Premature Decay and Debility and Decrepitude arising from OLD AGE, it exercises the electric influence. In the convalescent stages of all diseases it operates as a delightful invigorant. When the powers of nature are relaxed, it operates to re-enforce and re-establish them.

Last, but not least, it is The Only Safe Stimulant, being manufactured from sound and innocuous materials, and entirely free from the acid elements present more or less in all the ordinary tonics and stomachics of the day.

No family medicine has been so universally, and, it may be truly added, deservedly popular with the intelligent portion of the community, as HOSTETTER'S BITTERS.

Prepared by HOSTETTER & SMITH, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Sold by all Druggists, Grocers and Storekeepers everywhere.

HELMBOLD'S

GENUINE PREPARATIONS.

COMPOUND FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU, a Positive and Specific Remedy for diseases of the Bladder, Kidneys, Gravel, and Dropsical Swellings.

This Medicine increases the power of Digestion, and excites the Absorbents into healthy action, by which the Wtaery or Calcareous depositions, and all Unnatural Enlargements are reduced, as well as Pain and Inflammation.

—:0:—

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU.

For Weaknesses arising from Excesses, Habits of Dissipation, Early Indiscretion of Abuse, attended with the following symptoms:—

Indisposition to Exertion,	Loss of Power,
Loss of Memory,	Difficulty of Breathing,
Weak Nerves,	Trembling,
Horror of Disease,	Wakefulness,
Dimness of Vision,	Pain in the Back,
Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System,
Hot Hands,	Flushing of the Body,
Dryness of the Skin,	Eruptions on the Face,
Pallid Countenance.

These symptoms, if allowed to go on, which this medicine invariably removes, soon follows

Impotency, Fatuity, Epileptic Fits,

In one of which the patient may expire.

Who can say that they are not frequently followed by those "Direful Diseases,"

"INSANITY AND CONSUMPTION."

Many are aware of the cause of their suffering, BUT NONE WILL CONFESS THE RECORDS OF THE INSANE ASYLUMS.

And Melancholy Deaths by Consumption bear ample witness to the Truth of the assertion.

The Constitution once effected with Organic Weakness requires the aid of Medicine to Strengthen and Invigorate the system,

Which HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU invariably does. A Trial will convince the most skeptical.

—:0:—

FEMALES—FEMALES—FEMALES.

In many Affections peculiar to Females the EXTRACT BUCHU is unequalled by any other remedy, as in Chlorosis or Retention, Irregularity, Painfulness, or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated Scirrhous state of the Uterus, Leuchorrhoea or Whites, Sterility, and for all complaints incident to the sex, whether arising from indiscretion or Habits of Dissipation, or in the

DECLINE OR CHANGE OF LIFE.

—:0:—

Take no more Balsam, Mercury, or unpleasant Medicines for unpleasant and dangerous diseases.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU AND IMPROVED ROSE WASH CURES

SECRET DISEASES

In all their Stages,	At little Expense.
Little or no change in Diet.	No inconvenience.
And no Exposure.

It causes a frequent desire and gives strength to Urinate, thereby Removing Obstructions, Preventing and Curing Strictures of the Urethra, Allaying Pain and Inflammation, so frequent in this class of diseases, and expelling all Poisonous, Diseased and wornout Matter.

Thousands upon Thousands who have been the Victims of Quacks, and who have paid heavy fees to be cured in a short time, have found they were deceived, and that the "POISON" has, by the use of "Powerful Astringents," been dried up in the system, to break out in an aggravated form, and perhaps after Marriage.

Use HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU for all affections and diseases of the URINARY ORGANS, whether existing in MALE or FEMALE, from whatever cause originating and no matter of HOW LONG STANDING.

Diseases of these Organs requires the aid of a DIURETIC. HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU IS THE GREAT DIURETIC, and is certain to have the desired effect in all Diseases for which it is Recommended.

Evidence of the most reliable and responsible character will accompany the medicine.

Price $1.00 per bottle, or six for $5.00.

Delivered to any Address, securely packed from observation.

Describe Symptoms in all Communications.

Cures Guaranteed! Advice Gratis!!

Address letters for information to

H. B. HELMBOLD, Chemist,
104 South Tenth-st., bel. Chestnut, Phila.

HELMBOLD'S Medical Depot.
HELMBOLD'S Drug & Chemical Warehouse.
594 Broadway, New York.

BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS AND UNPRINCIPLED DEALERS who endeavor to dispose of their own" and "other" articles on the reputation attained by

Helmbold's Genuine Preparations.
" " Extract Buchu.
" " " Sarsaparilla.
" " Improved Rose Wash.

SOLD BY
ALL DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE.
ASK FOR HELMBOLD'S. TAKE NO OTHER.
Cut out the Advertisement and send for it.
AND AVOID IMPOSITION AND EXPOSURE.
December 16, 1863.—1 yr.

WM. C. HENDERSON,

MANUFACTURER OF
PLAIN AND FANCY

PAPER BOXES,

No. 235 ESSEX STREET,
Sign of "Nest of Boxes,"
july 23 SALEM. tf

DYSPEPSIA AND FITS.

A SURE CURE FOR

THESE distressing complaints is now made known in a Treatise on Foreign and Native Herbal Preparations, published by DR. O PHELPS BROWN. The prescription was furnished him in such a providential manner, that he cannot conscientiously refuse to make it known, as it has cured everybody who has used it, never having failed in a single case. It is equally sure in cases of Fits as of Dyspepsia; and the ingredients may be found in any drug store. Sent free to all on the receipt of five cents to pre pay postage. This work, of 48 octavo pages, beautifully illustrated, also treats on

Consumption,

Bronchitis, Asthma, General Debility, and gives the best known Herbal Remedies for their positive and permanent cure. Address DR O. PHELPS BROWN, No. 19 Grand Street, Jersey City, New Jersey.

may 25—3m

MANHOOD:

HOW LOST, HOW RESTORED.

Just published, a new edition of Dr. Culverwell's Celebrated Essay on the radical cure (without medicine) of SPERMATORRHŒA, or Seminal Weakness, Involuntary Seminal Losses, IMPOTENCY, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage, etc.; also, Consumption, Epilepsy and Fits, induced by self-indulgence or sexual extravagance.

☞ Price, in a sealed envelope, only 6 cents.

The celebrated author in this admirable essay clearly demonstrates from a thirty years successful practice, that the alarming consequences of self-abuse may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicine or the application of the knife—pointing out a mode of cure, at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

☞ This Lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the land.

Sent under seal, in a plain envelope, to any address, POST-PAID, on receipt of six cents, or two post stamps. Address the publishers,

CHAS. J. C. KLINE & CO.,
127 Bowery, New York, Post Office Box, 4586.
June 29—10w.

SPEED, COMFORT AND SAFETY!

FOR NEW YORK.

Norwich Steamboat Train.

The only Boats Landing at Jersey City.

CABIN Passage, $5.00; Deck Passage, $4.00. The new and elegant sixteen wheel cars of the steamboat express train leave the Boston & Worcester Railroad Station, Albany Street.. at 5½ P. M., daily, connecting with the new steamers, (built expressly for this line,) CITY OF BOSTON, Capt. WILCOX, Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays; CITY OF NEW YORK, Capt. JEWETT, Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays, which (before proceeding to their Pier, No. 39 North River,) will touch at the wharf of the New Jersey Railroad at Jersey City, (Sundays excepted) thus enabling Southern Passengers to make sure connections with the First Southern Train, and at the same time avoid the great annoyance of the Ferry and Hack transportation in the crowded streets of New York. This insures ample time for Breakfast before the trains leave. Conductors E. MORRILL and T. N. TURNER accompany the passengers through to New York.

Tickets, Berths and Staterooms secured at the Railroad Station, and at the Office of the line, 79 Washington Street, Boston.

Through tickets to Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington can be had at 79 Washington Street, Boston. WM. DICKEY, JR., Agent.

Boston, January 7, 1864.

CURRIER & MILLETT,
Dealers in
Furniture, Chairs,
MATTRESSES, FEATHERS, &
259 & 261 ESSEX ST.
Salem, dec 14—1y

H. & H. G. HUBON,

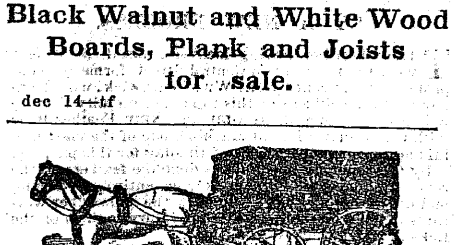
WASHINGTON STREET, SALEM
Manufacturers of
Rose Wood, Mahogany, Black Walnut and Stained Wood

COFFINS and CASKETS.

MAKING this our exclusive business, we are ready at all times and at the shortest notice to furnish Grave Clothes of various styles, as well as Coffins and Caskets of the finest finish. Personal attention given and delivered without extra charge to any of the neighboring towns. All orders by express or otherwise will receive prompt attention.

Black Walnut and White Wood Boards, Plank and Joists for sale.

dec 14—tf



CHARLES S. BUFFUM,

BEING an authorized UNDERTAKER of South Danvers, will attend Funerals in said place with his Hearse the same as the Town Undertaker. Will also attend Funerals, when desired, in any of the neighboring towns, with one or a pair of horses.

He also furnishes Coffin Caskets, Robes, &c., lower than city prices.

All branches of the business attended to, such as furnishing Coaches, Flowers, Laying Out, &c. Ice Preservers furnished.

All orders promptly attended to, and personal attention given to them. Articles delivered to any of the neighboring towns free of charge. Orders by express or otherwise will receive prompt attention.

Central Street, South Danvers,
RESIDENCE 25 ELM STREET.
South Danvers, Feb 17, 1864.

Undertaker's Notice!

THE subscriber being regularly appointed as Undertaker of South Danvers, would respectfully notify the public that he has removed from Central Street, to No. 80 Lowell Street, where he may be found in readiness to attend funerals, and to furnish, when desired.

HENRY SPENCER.
February 10, 1864.

Eastern Railroad.

ON and after MONDAY, April 4, 1864, Trains will leave the Eastern Railroad Station, Washington street, Salem, daily. (Sundays excepted):

For Lynn and Boston, *5.50, 7, 8½, 9, 10, 11 a m., 12 55, 2½, 5¼, 7, 7¼, p. m.
Beverly, 8 8 15, 11¼. am., 1, 3¼, 2¾, 5¾, 6.55, 7¾ p m.
W. Beach, Man'r, Gloucester, and Rockport, 8, 11¼, a. m., 3¼, 6¼ p m.
Ipswich and Newburyport, 8 05 am., 1, 3¾, 5¾, 6.55 pm.
Amesbury, 8 05 a m., 1, 3¾, 5¾ p m.
Portsmouth, 8 05 a m., 3¾, p. m.
Portland, 8 05 a m., 3¾ p m.

AND FOR SALEM, FROM

Portland, 8½ a m., 3 p m.
Portsmouth, 6 20. 9 10, *11¼ a m., *5¼ p m.
Amesbury, 7.35, 9.40 a m., 5.55 p m.
Newburyport, 7, 7 55, 10, 11.50 a m., 6¼ p m.
Ipswich, 7.20, 8.15, 10.20 a m., 12.15, 6.35 p m.
Gloucester, 7, 10, 10 10 a m., 1.40, 4.40 pm.
Manchester, 7.25, 10,25 a m., 1.55, 4.55 p m.
Beverly, 6.50, 7.50, 8.20, 8.50, 10.50 am., 12.45, 2.20, 5.20, 6.45, 7.05 pm.
Lynn, 7.45, 7.50, 9, 11, a m., 12.45, 3, 3.30, 4.30, 5 30, 6, 6.40, 7.30, 10 p m.
Boston, 7¼, 7½, 8¾, 10¼ am., 12¼, 2½, 3, 4, 5, 5.30, 6.10, 7, ‡9.30 p m.

*Or on arrival from the East.
‡On Wednesdays this train leaves Boston at 11½ p m. and on Saturdays at 10½ p. m.

MARBLEHEAD BRANCH.

Marblehead for Salem, 6¾, 7¾, 8¾, 9¾ a m., 12¾, 1¾, 5¾, 6¾, 7¾ p m.
Salem for Marblehead, 7¼, 8¼, 9.25, 11¼ a m., 1, 3¾, 5¾, 7, 7.50 p m.

SOUTH READING BRANCH.

Trains leave the South Reading Depot in Salem for Boston at 6.35, 9.50 a m., 2.25, 4.55 p m.
Boston for Salem, 7 a m., 12 m., 2 30, 5¾ p m.

ESSEX RAILROAD.

Leave Salem for Lawrence and way stations, 7, 11¼ a m., 4.45 p m.
Lawrence for Salem, 8 a m., 12.40, 5.50 p m.
Danvers for Salem, 8.40 a m., 1.20, 6.30 p m.
South Danvers for Salem, 8¾ a m., 1.25, 6.35 p m.

J. PRESCOTT, Superintendent.
Boston, April 5, 1864.

Salem and Lowell Railroad.

ON and after MONDAY, April 4, 1864, Trains will run as follows:

Leave Lowell for Salem, 7.25 a m., and *2.45 p m.
Leave Salem for Lowell, *9 40 a m. and 6 00 p m.

Passengers are not allowed to carry baggage above $50 in value, and that personal, unless notice is given and an extra amount paid. Season tickets do not entitle the holder to take baggage.

*Freight Train with passenger car attached.

F. H. NOURSE, Local Superintendent.
April 4, 1864.

Abbott's South Danvers & Salem EXPRESS.

Leave South Danvers, - - - - -	7½ a m, 1 p m
Leave Salem, - - - - - - -	10 a m, 4 p m

Orders left at Teel & Moulton's, and principal stores on Main street, South Danvers; and at 7 Washington street, and at Reed's in the Market, Salem.

Are you Insured?

THE subscriber would respectfully call your attention to the fact that he is fully prepared to effect INSURANCE AGAINST FIRE, to any amount, at current rates, on

Dwelling Houses, Barns and their contents, Stores, Stocks of Goods, Furniture, &c. &c., and on buildings in process of erection,

And that he is the authorized Agent for the following responsible Stock and Mutual Companies, viz:

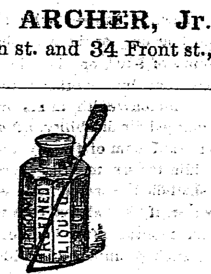
Thames Insurance Co., (Stock,) Norwich, Conn.
Capital—$500,000.
Amos W. Prentice, Pres. Oliver F. Rice, Sec'y.
Conway Insurance Company, (Stock) Boston.
Capital and Surplus—$260,000.
James F. Whitney, Pres. David C. Rogers, Sec'y.
City Insurance Company, (Stock) Boston.
Capital—$150,000.
Samuel P. Hayward, Pres. Austin W. Benton, Sec'y.

Also, will effect Insurance on the LIVES OF INDIVIDUALS, for one year, seven years, or for the whole term of life, in the

Massachusetts Mutual Life Ins. Co., Springfield, Mass.
Capital and Assetts—$375,000.
Caleb Rice, Pres. D. B. Bacon, Sec'y.
William Mack, M. D., Medical Examiner.

WM. ARCHER, Jr.,

18 Washington st. and 34 Front st., Salem.
feb20-1



ALWAYS SUCCESSFUL!

TO ALL THOSE WHO SUFFER FROM

DEBILITY AND SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

DRS. CARSWELL & HUNTER, regularly educated, highly eminent and successful practitioners, after a very extensive practice in Boston, for over twenty years, need hardly speak of their medical qualifications, or remind strangers not to class them with a set of uneducated men, who fill the papers with their boasting advertisements. Drs. C. & H. caution the public against quackery in all its forms, pretending, as some self-styled doctors, to cure all the most difficult and chronic diseases, without knowledge of the human system, or of the modus operandi of the most simple drugs.

Drs. C. & H., since 1840, having confined their whole attention to an office practice for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, they acknowledge no superiors.

CONSTITUTIONAL DEBILITY OR SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Drs. C. & H. are pre-eminently successful in the treatment of the above most difficult and perplexing of all diseases, this complaint being the result of a secret habit in youth; if neglected or improperly treated, it proves one of the greatest evils that can befall a human being. Dr. H. has given particular attention to the above disease for years, and so thoroughly has he become acquainted with the pathology and treatment, that he will warrant a perfect cure under forfeiture of $500; in fact, he will, in the cure of this complaint, acknowledge no superior in this country, or even in the world. Come, then, all you who are afflicted, come to the Old Stand, where you will in a short time be made to rejoice in perfect health.

SYPHILITIC AND SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS,—such as Ulcers and Caries of the throat and nose, Running Sores on the legs and arms, Hard Scabs and Scaly Eruptions on the head, back, &c., pains in the bones and joints, and all other forms of venereal diseases—are made to yield and entirely disappear under Drs. C. & H.'s improved and thoroughly eradicating course of treatment.

The primary or first symptoms of disease, whether a simple running, or small pistules, cancers, or ulcers, are cured in a very few days, if immediate application is made to Drs. C. & H.

13 ENDICOTT STREET, BOSTON. 13

Strangers should be particular in the selection of a physician, lest they be deceived by false advertisements.

Ladies troubled with irregularity, weakness, whites, and other complaints peculiar to the female system, will find a speedy cure by calling as above. No mercury used, and no charge for advice. The afflicted are invited to give us a call.

Boston, April 20, 1864.—1 yr.

25 YEARS' EXPERIENCE enables DRS. CARSWELL & HUNTER to cure any diseases of a private nature in a shorter space of time and for a smaller amount of money than any other doctors in this country, and they also treat all female complaints with perfect success, and on the most satisfactory terms. Patients furnished with board if desired. Please give us a call at our office, No. 13 Endicott St., Boston, Mass.

Boston, April 20, 1864.—1 yr.

A Card to the Suffering.

SWALLOW two or three hogsheads of "Buchu," "Tonic Bitters," "Sarsaparilla," "Nervous Antidotes," &c., &c., &c., and after you are satisfied with the result, then try one box of OLD DOCTOR BUCHAN'S ENGLISH SPECIFIC PILLS—and be restored to health and vigor in less than thirty days. They are purely vegetable, pleasant to take, prompt and salutary in their effects on the broken-down and shattered constitution. Old and young can take them with advantage. Imported and sold in the United States only by JAS. S. BUTLER, No. 427 Broadway, New York.
☞ Agent for the United States.

P. S. A Box of the Pills, securely packed, will be mailed to any address on receipt of price, which is ONE DOLLAR, post-paid,—money refunded by the Agent if entire satisfaction is not given. jy 13-3m

Chickering & Sons' Piano-Fortes.

Hallett & Cumston's Piano-Fortes.

Hallett & Davis's Piano-Fortes.

We select our Piano-Fortes from the above firms and warrant them to give perfect satisfaction. Our terms are reasonable, and all persons in the city and neighboring towns can be accommodated by calling at 76 Federal street.

FOR SALE—Second-hand Piano-Fortes,—Chickering's and others.
ap 29 ANN B. BRAY.

NEW WHITE WARE.

WHITE Tea Ware and White Dinner Ware, of the new patterns, at
jy 20 S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS', 32 Front st.

SUMMER ARRAN
TO LYNN & BOS
BY OMNIBUS & HOR

W. F. BURNH

Line of Omnibuses will leave the Omnibus Office, No. 6 Allen's Bui vers, passing down Main Street, thr
Street, to Lynn, daily—Sundays inc
Leave South Danvers at 7 50 o'c
and 4 50 P. M.
Leave Lynn (Horse Car Depot, W
A. M., 2 40 and 6 40 P. M.
Horse Cars leaving the office at at 8 15 A. M., 1 15 and 5 15 P. M., wi buses at Lynn, at the above name
passengers to South Danvers.
Tickets to Lynn, -
Through to Boston,

Gravesend, Woodend, a
Depot Route

ON and after Monday, Nov 2, in a route, an Omnibus will leave S
Lynn, to connect with the steam
times daily,—Sundays excepted,—
Gravesend and Woodend, to the Ce
and Horse Railroad Station, corne
Broad Streets; leaving South Danve
necting with the 7.25 steam cars for (connecting with the 11.10 train), and ing with the 4.50 train); and return from the Spring Street Station and
pot, at 8 A M, and 1 and 6 P M.
Fare from S. Danvers to Boston b
Through Tickets to and from Bost
the Drivers and Conductors.

South Danvers, Salem
Route.

THE subscriber having purchase
ley the Omnibus line running
Lynn, would announce that it wi
Stage Office, No. 6 Allen's Building
for Salem, at 7 30 A M, and 2 30 P M
Stage Office in Central St; Salem,
3.30 P M for Lynn. Returning will
A M and 5 P M; and Salem for Sout
A M, and 6.15 P M.
Passengers between South Danvar
be called for by leaving orders at th
Passengers called for at reasonable
s given at the office.

EXPRESS BUSIN

Between South Danvers and Lynn
ed to, on reasonable terms.
Extra Coaches furnished at short n
W. F. B
South Danvers, April 20, 1864.

CROUT & MUN
SOUTH DANVERS &
RAILROAD EXP

Express leaves South Danvers at Freight " "
Express leaves Boston at
Freight " " at
OFFICE at FREIGHT DE
Danvers Square.
Express Office in Boston, 3 Was
Freight Office, 48 Kilb
Particular attention paid to niture, collecting Bills, Notes,
Smallest favors thankfully received.
South Danvers, august 26—tf

MARSHALL
DANVERS, SO. DANVERS
EXPRESS
Leave DANVERS (daily) at 9 A. M.
" SALEM at 1½ P. M.
OFFICES:
In Danvers—At E B Waitt's and the
Danversport—Richards' and A W Wa
In So. Danvers—Francis Dane & Co's street.
In Salem—No 7 Washington street,
17 Derby Square.
All business promptly and faithfull
—— Our patrons are particular
write their orders.
—— Packages left at the office, sho
"Marshall's Express."
—— Being connected with the
are enabled to forward Notes, Dra collection, and small packages, to point in the United States, at the
P. G.
dec18-tf

Important to the A

DR. DOW continues to be consult Nos. 7 and 9 Endicott street, Bos
eases of a
PRIVATE OR DELICATE N
By a long course of study and pract of unlimited extent. Dr. D. has now t of presenting the unfortunate with have never, since he first introduced cure the most alarming cases of
GONORRHŒA AND SYPH
Beneath his treatment, all the horr and impure blood, Impetency, Scroful Ulcers, pain and distress in the regi tion, Inflammation of the Bladder and drocele, Abcesses, Humors, frightful the long train of horrible symptoms class of disease are made to become
the simplest ailings of a child.
SEMINAL WEAKNESS
Dr. D. devotes a great part of his t ment of those cases caused by a secr habit, which ruins the body and min unfortunate individual for business or of the sad and melancholy effects pro habits of youth, are Weakness of limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimness pitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Ne rangement of the digestive functions Consumption, &c. The fearful effect are much to be dreaded; loss of mem of ideas, depression of spirits, ev aversion of society, self-distrust, tim among the evils produced. Such perso fore contemplating matrimony, consul experience, and be at once restored
happiness.
Patients who wish to remain under ment a few days or weeks, will be pleasant rooms, and charges for board Medicines sent to all parts of the co directions for use, on receiving desc cases. Dr. Dow has also for sale the warranted the best preventive. Or or $1 and a red stamp.

CAUTION
TO FEMALES IN DELICATE
DR. DOW, Physician and Surgeon, street, Boston, is consulted daily for a dent to the female system. Prolapsus ing of the Womb, Fluor Albus, Suppre er menstrual derangements, are all tre pathological principles, and speedy re in a very few days. So invariably cer mode of treatment, that most obstin yield under it, and the afflicted person
in perfect health.
Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater ex cure of diseases of women and child
other physician in Boston.
Boarding accommodations for patie wish to stay in Boston a few days un
ment.
Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined tention to an office practice, for the c Diseases and Female Complaints, ack superior in the United States.
N. B.—All letters must contain four r
they will not be answered.
Office Hours from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M.

CERTAIN CURE
IN ALL CASES, OR NO CHARG
Dr. Dow is consulted daily, from 8
as above, upon all difficult and chro
every name and nature, having by his tention and extraordinary success gaine which calls patients from all parts of obtain advice.
Among the physicians in Boston, non in the profession than the celebrated D 7 Endicott street, Boston. Those who vices of an experienced physician and s give him a call. P. S.—Dr. Dow impor sale a new article, called the French S by mail. Two for $1 and a red stamp.
April 20, 1864—1y.

E. S. FLIN
Manufacturer and Dealer i INNER SOL
AND SHOE STIFFENINGS OF A 2 MAIN STREET, SOUTH DA

Choice Spring Pigs for

THE subscriber offers for sale nice P
Prince Albert and Chester Coun which the Mackie took the First Premiu Cattle Show. Prices reasonable.
BYRON GOOD
Near Tapl
South Danvers, April 1, 1864.

South Danvers Wizard.

V. SOUTH DANVERS, MASS., WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 17, 1864. NO. 33.

H DANVERS WIZARD
y WEDNESDAY, at Allen's Build-
rs Square,
ollars a year.
TS inserted at reasonable rates.

LES D. HOWARD,
AND PROPRIETOR.

ES, Advertising Agent,
Building, Court Street, Boston, is
at city, and is authorized to re-ents and subscriptions for us at inal Poetry.

[For the Wizard.]

ested by the Death of Abby R. Moore.

her whose life is fled,
her grave,
ess wave,
mbers with the dead.

rld where sorrow reigns l on high,
the sky,
s round the heavenly plains.
n Earth to brighter scenes;
thful brow,
en now,
east of Jesus leans.

rf her frail form lies;
nd her bed,
gels tread,
dust with sleepless eyes.

oot she early came ight His smile, ere awhile
ross, and bore the shame.

Saviour's gentle call:— blest home,
, come;
; forsaking all.

s throne on pinions bright seraphs flew,
re her through me vale, to Heaven's own light.

with the blood-washed throng,
ks in white,
fields of light,
everlasting song.

er not whose life is fled;
r her grave,
ress wave,
numbered with the dead.

Selected.

feits and Alterations.

ll Bank, Charlestown, Mass. from 1s. Vig. Signing of tion of Independence; 5 in corner, and FIVE in red at f the bill.

Bank, Lowell, Mass.—10s
1s. Vig. mechanic seated hand resting on anvil, bail of eft, and R. R. train on the figure 10 on right end and ank carved at the left of the vignette. In the genuine the ank is in the middle of the large X, and a smaller x in ft corner,
d from 2s. Vig. two females a loom; 10 in upper right male portrait below it; TEN t end.

ny Bank, Plymouth, Mass.—
rom 1s. Vig. landing of the in each upper and FIVE in corner.

Bank, Mass.—3s, part imig, blacksmith on lower right counterfeit the right hand of is resting on horse, in genu-ft hand, the entire horse is to genuine, only a portion in Bank, Maine.—5s, raised Vig. shipyard, carpenters at ships on the stocks; right under sail; left end, 5, por-male.

cs Bank, Newark, N. J.—3s,
Vig. three females, well done.
the State of Indiana.—5s Branch) have just made their
They are the exact imitae genuine and should be look-en the ship Meredith was dis-be leaking, an Irish sailor, yed at the pump, but first the rail to see how high the on the side of the vessel.—

ping an hour, he took another the side, and finding the vessel nches deeper than when he be-shouted, "Arrah, now captain all soon pump the sea full at for I have raised it four inches contemporary suggests that something irrepressibly sweet irls,"—to which the Louisville lds, "And it keeps growing on y get bigger." They are both

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE UNITED STATES.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
July 25, 1864.

By an act of Congress, approved June 30, 1864, the Secretary of the Treasury is authorized to issue an an amount not exceeding two hundred millions of dollars in Treasury notes, bearing interest at a rate not exceeding seven and three-tenths per centum, redeemable after three years from date, and to exchange the same for lawful money. The Secretary is further authorized to convert the same into bonds, bearing interest at a rate not exceeding six per centum, payable in coin. In pursuance of the authority thus conferred, I now offer to the people of the United States Treasury notes as described in my advertisement dated July 25, 1864.

The circumstances under which this loan is asked for, and your aid invoked, though differing widely from the existing state of affairs three years ago, are such as to afford equal encouragement and security. Time, while proving that the srruggle for national unity was to exceed in duration and severity our worst anticipations, has tested the national strength, and developed the national resources, to an extent alike unexpected and remarkable, exciting equal astonishment at home and abroad. Three years of war have burdened you with a debt which, but three years since, would have seemed beyond your ability to meet. Yet the accumulated wealth and productive energies of the nation have proved to be so vast that it has been borne with comparative ease, and a peaceful future would hardly feel its weight. As a price paid for national existence, and the preservation of free institutions, it does not deserve a moment's consideration.

Thus far the war has been supported and carried on, as it only could have been, by a people resolved, at whatever cost of blood and treasure, to transmit, unimpaired, to posterity, the system of free government bequeathed to them by the great men who framed it. This deliberate and patriotic resolve has developed a power surprising even to themselves. It has shown that in less than a century a nation has arisen, unsurpassed in vigor, and exhaustless in resources, able to conduct, through a series of years, war on its most gigantic scale, and finding itself, when near its close, almost unimpaired in all the material elements of power. It has, at the present moment, great armies in the field, facing an enemy apparently approaching a period of utter exhaustion, but still struggling with a force the greater and more desperate as it sees, and because it sees, the near approach of a final and fatal consummation. Such, in my deliberate judgment, is the present condition of the great contest for civil liberty in which you are now engaged.

Up to the present moment you have readily and cheerfully afforded the means necessary to support your government in this protracted struggle. It is your war. You proclaimed it, and you have sustained it against traitors everywhere, with a patriotic devotion unsurpassed in the world's history.

The securities offered are such as should command your ready confidence. Much effort has been made to shake public faith in our national credit, both at home and abroad. As yet we have asked no foreign aid. Calm and self-reliant, our own means have thus far proved adequate to our wants. They are yet ample to meet those of the present and the future. It still remains for a patriotic people to furnish the needful supply. The brave men who are fighting our battles by land and sea must be fed and clothed, munitions of war of all kinds must be furnished, or the war must end in defeat and disgrace. This is not the time for any lover of his country to inquire as to the state of the money market, or ask whether he can so invest his surplus capital as to yield him a larger return. No return, and no profit, can be desirable, if followed by national dissolution, or national disgrace. Present profit, thus acquired, is but the precursor of future and speedy destruction. No investment can be so surely profitable as that which tends to insure the national existence.

I am encouraged in the belief that by the recent legislation of Congress our finances may soon be placed upon a sounder and more stable footing. The present deranged condition of the currency is imputable, in a great degree, to disturbances arising from the withdrawal of necessary checks, often inevitable in time of war, when expenditures must largely exceed any possible supply of coin. The opportunities thus presented to acquire sudden wealth have led to vicious speculation, a consequent increase in prices, and violent fluctuation. The remedy is to be found only in controlling the necessity which begets the evil. Hitherto we have felt the need of more extensive and vigorous taxation. Severe comment has been made upon what seemed to many an undue timidity and tardiness of action, on the part of Congress, in this regard. I deem it but just to say that very great misapprehension has existed, and perhaps still exists, upon this point. Legislators, like all others, have much to learn in a new condition of affairs. An entirely new system was to be devised, and that system must necessarily be the growth of time and experience. It is not strange that first efforts should have proved imperfect and inadequate. To lay heavy burdens on a great and patriotic people in such a manner as to be equal, and as to occasion the least amount of suffering or annoyance, requires time and caution, and vast labor; and, with all these, experience is needful to test the value of the system, and correct its errors. Such has been the work which Congress was called upon to perform. I am happy to say that daily results are proving the Internal Revenue Act to exceed in efficiency the most sanguine expectations of its authors. In the month of June, 1863, it yielded about four and one-half millions of dollars, while the corresponding month of this year returned about fifteen millions, under the same law. Under the new law, which went into operation on the first day of the present month, the Treasury not unfrequently receives one million in a day. As time and experience enable the officers employed in collecting the revenue to enforce the stringent provisions of the new law, I trust that a million per day will be found the rule and not the exception. Still, much space is undoubtedly left for improvement in the law, and in its administration, as a greater amount of necessary information is acquired. The proper sources of revenue, and the most effective modes of obtaining it, are best developed in the execution of existing laws. And I have caused measures to be initiated which will, it is believed, enable Congress so to improve and enlarge the system as, when taken in connection with the revenue from customs, and other sources, to afford an ample and secure basis for the national credit. Only on such a basis, and in a steady and vigorous restraint upon currency, can a remedy be found for existing evils. Such restraint can only be exercised when the government is furnished with means to provide for its necessities. But without the aid of a patriotic people, any government is powerless, for this or any other desirable end.

The denominations of the notes proposed to be issued, ranging from fifty to five thousand dollars, place these securities within the reach of all who are disposed to aid their country. For their redemption the faith and honor and property of that country are solemnly pledged. A successful issue to this contest, now believed to be near at hand, will largely enhance their value to the holder; and peace once restored, all burdens can be lightly borne. He who selfishly withholds his aid in the hope of turning his available means to greater immediate profit, is speculating upon his country's misfortunes, and may find that what seems to be present gain leads only to future loss. I appeal, therefore, with confidence to a loyal and patriotic people, and invoke the efforts of all who love their country, and desire for it a glorious future, to aid their government in sustaining its credit, and placing that credit upon a stable foundation.

W. P. FESSENDEN,
Secretary of the Treasury.

EATING ECONOMICALLY.—What kind of food has the most nourishment and costs the least is a question of great practical importance. A dollar's worth of meat, at twenty-five cents a pound, goes as far as fifty cents' worth of butter at half a dollar a pound. Three pounds of flour, at eight cents a pound, is said to contain as much nutriment as nine pounds of roast beef, which at twenty-five cents is $2.25; that is, twenty-five cents' worth of flour goes as far as nine times that much money spent for roast beef as weighed at the butcher's stall.—A pint of white beans, weighing one pound and costing seven cents, contains as much nutriment as three pounds and a half of roast beef, costing eighty-seven and a half cents. Of all the articles that can be eaten, the cheapest are bread, butter, molasses, beans, and rice. A pound of corn meal (Indian) goes as far as a pound of flour, so that, fine family flour at sixteen dollars a barrel in New York City in July, 1864, and corn meal at four cents, the latter is just one-half less expensive. If corn and wheat were ground, and the whole product, bran and all, were made into bread, fifteen per cent. of nutriment would be saved, with much greater healthfulness.

ALL IN ONE TEAM.—Wheeling, Va., must be a great place. The Intelligencer of that city, says:

"We saw yesterday going up toward the upper ferry, a team of four animals—a horse, a pony, a mule and a bull. The horse had the heaves, the pony was blind, the mule was lame, and the bull had no provision for fly time. In the wagon—which was an ordinary one—sat a white man, a crippled negro and a tame skunk. The skunk was firmly bound with a wisp of straw. The white man held the lines, the team held its own, and the nigger held the skunk.

☞ Bill S——is a good accountant, but like all men, will sometimes make mistakes, and in one of his bills figured up that "8 times 8 are 88." The doctor was not slow in discovering the mistake, and demanded an explanation. Bill examined the account and saw that he was down, but did not like to admit it; so putting on a bold face, he said—"That's all right." "How so?" was the inquiry. "It's all owing to the inflation of the currency," said Bill, "the multiplication table, like everything else, has gone up!"

☞ A workman in Paris has succeeded in making barrels without hoops, as solid as the best hooped barrels in the world. The discovery, which has been a desideratum for some three thousand years, is undergoing examination before the Academy of La Rochelle.

☞ Spriggins says "a strap is an excellent thing to sharpen razors, and dull boys."

[From the Philadelphia Photographer.]

THE DEAD SOLDIER'S CHILDREN.

Upon a field which War's red hand
Had strewed with dead and dying;
When the foe, who late so boastfully
Came on, in shame were flying;
In a spot where thickest lay the dead,
Most fierce had been the battle,
Lay one who never more should hear
The guns' death-dealing rattle.

Three wounds, and all in front, told plain
How bravely he had fought;
One grazed his cheek, one broke an arm,
The third his breast had sought.
At night when o'er the scene of strife
The moon her pale rays shed,
In hurrying groups, men moving round
Are burying the dead.

They reach our soldier, note his wounds,
And wonder, "Who was he?"
No sign betrays his name, or aught
About him,—ah! but see!
As they lift to lay him in his grave,
A card falls flutteringly.
One stoops and picks it up,—"Look here!
'Tis a picture—children three."

A happy group! they well might be
A parent's joy and pride,
But oh! what anguish must have filled
The heart of him who died,
To think he ne'er again should see
Those faces bright and fair,
And they, so young and weak, must live
Without a father's care.

Somewhere—oh! where?—in Northern State,
A little homestead lies,
Whose inmates oft for tidings watch
With eager, anxious eyes.
Their hearts are worn with waiting long,
Are sick with hope deferred,
For since that bloody battle day
They have not heard a word.

"Can we not hear? shall we ne'er know
How died he? where he lies?"
So ask the weeping children oft,
The mother's heart so sighs.
Yes, still hope on; some future day
It surely shall be shown,
And by this little picture's aid
Their father's fate be known.

QUESTION FOR MEDICAL MEN.—It has been repeatedly stated, and the fact verified by the independent observation of many witnesses, that the bodies of the rebel dead on our battle fields, turn blacker and burst sooner than the corpses of the National soldiers. An officer in Tennessee, writing to a friend in Pittsburg, on the subject, says:

"I told you that I would keep in mind the matter when I returned to the field, and endeavored to see for myself a confirmation of so curious a statement, for I could not believe that such was the rule, though why the exception I could not imagine. Your son, and your friend the undertaker, tell you this from the East, and I, nearly a thousand miles west of them, corroborate their statements. While conversing with some officers, the other evening, I introduced the subject. All bore witness to the curious fact."

There are two theories respecting the cause of this phenomenon. One is, that the rebels drink more whiskey than our troops, and the other is that they eat less salt.

EFFECT OF LIGHT.—A tadpole confined in darkness would never become a frog; and an infant being deprived of heaven's free light, would only grow into a shapeless idiot, instead of a beautiful and reasonable being. Hence, in the deep, dark gorges of the Swiss Valois, where the direct sunshine never reaches, the hideous prevalence of idiocy startles the traveler. It is a strange, melancholy idiocy. Many citizens are incapable of any articulate speech; some are deaf, some are blind, some labor under all these privations, and all are misshapen in almost every part of the body. I believe there is in all places a marked difference in the healthiness of houses according to their aspect with regard to the sun, and those are decidedly the healthiest, other things being equal, in which all the rooms are, during some part of the day, fully exposed to the direct light. Epidemics attack inhabitants on the shady side of the street, and totally exempt those on the other side; and even in epidemics such as ague, the morbid influence is often thus partial in its labors.

☞ Kate was talking glowingly about "love apples." "That's strange," said Charlie, her accepted lover. "Why should 'love' be associated with apples? On the contrary, I though that love always went in pairs." Kate smiled approvingly.

☞ Said one gentleman of honor to another, "If you don't accept my challenge, I shall post you in the papers."—"Go ahead," said the other, "I had rather fill a dozen papers than one coffin."

THE MOON OVER THE RIGHT SHOULDER.

BY REV. JOHN TODD, D. D.

Reader, was you ever young? Did you live in the country? And did you never watch, if not hold, the plough, (not "plow") and see with surprise that even in an old field, where neither tree nor stump were to be seen, the ploughshare would sometimes catch in the root of some long forgotten tree? No one can remember when the tree stood there; but the roots remain!

There was once a great tree, which spread over all the earth, and its roots penetrated every soul. There came a Holy Watcher, and hewed down that tree—and we no longer see it in our land; but we often strike its roots. These we are not always able to tear out, and so we have to leave them, in the hope that in time they will be gone. That tree is heathenism, and the roots are the superstitions that remain in the soil. And it is curious, and wonderful, how many of these remain, even after Christianity has been, like the plough, drawing them out, for centuries. The very days of our week have the stamp of heathenism on them, though we don't worship the sun on Sunday, nor the moon on Monday, nor Venus on Wednesday, nor Saturn on Saturday. The very Easter Day of the Church is the day of the old Saxon goddess, Eastre.

The roots of the old tree are more abundant in the old country than in our own. They are most plenty in a population that is illiterate and ignorant. In our large cities, there are "Planet-readers," who inhabit the same house from year to year, and live by foretelling the fortunes of their dupes. There are houses over whose door the horse-shoe is nailed—though why a horse-shoe should be especially efficacious to keep out witches, I could never understand. The destruction caused by the "evil eye," I believe, is feared only by some of our foreign population. It is a great terror in Europe, especially in Italy.

Centuries ago, the inhabitants of Canaan, and the Phenicians, used to worship Baal and Ashtaroth. To these they offered human sacrifices. In Germany, they have an annual custom on a certain day, (Baal-tein, Baal's day,) of meeting at early dawn, building a fire, and then making as many biscuit as there are persons present—of course they are very small. One of these biscuits is burned black. They then, all draw from a hat—each a biscuit, blindfolded. The one who draws the black cake is doomed. He is the victim. He is to be burned alive. But, instead of actually burning him, they make him leap through the flames of their fire! This is keeping Baal-tein. And what is it but a relic of the old, ancient Baal worship! They do it under the belief that it will make the season fruitful. Have we anything like it? Yes, in two forms. The first is old Baal's day, christened under the new one of St. Valentine's day—well known to boys and girls, and abounding in Valentines, or Baal-tein tokens. The other is, when at twilight, the boys go into the streets and make bonfires—(boon-fires,) around which they dance, and through whose flames they leap. This boon-fire, and leaping through it, is a faded picture of the old fires when boons were asked of Baal by human sacrifices.

As the traveller ascends the Rhine, he sometimes stops at the little wine town of Bingen, and from that point makes excursions to the wild and inexpressibly beautiful scenery around it. Among other places he visits the little chapel of St. Roch, on the summit of the hill back of the town. If he happens to be there on the 16th of August, he will witness St. Roch's day—when many thousands of pilgrims assemble as near the little shrine as they can get, bringing their offerings, making their vows, and making prayers to the saint, that he would avert all plagues, and give them a propitious season. Who this gifted and honored saint was, I cannot say, but it is plainly a kindred superstition of Baal-tein—if not the same in reality.

Since I can remember, there have been people who believed in witches. In my childhood I heard multitudes of these stories, till I feared to go to bed, and I have thought that perhaps one of these old traditions, which I well remember, will account for the nailing the horse-shoe over the door, and putting into the kettle "to make soap come." The story is as follows: A certain man used to be tormented by having a witch come to his bed-side, and before he could defend himself, she would slip "a witch bridle" on him, and in an instant he was changed into a horse. The witch would then mount him, ride him all night, and just at daylight bring him back, take off the bridle, and leave him in his own shape, but awfully weary by the hard usage of the night. After being tormented thus a whole year, and having his suspicions awakened by something his wife dropped, he contrived one night when the witch came, to be too quick for her, and actually slipped the bridle on her head, and she was the horse! It was now his turn to ride, and away he went, and called up the blacksmith, and had his horse shod on all four feet. After a severe ride, he at last got home just at daylight, and took off the bridle. But what was his amazement in the morning to find that his wife had horse-shoes fastened to her hands and feet! And thus her iniquity came to light. Was it in this way that witches came to have such a dread of the horse-shoe? Who can answer me?

But the moon! the Ashtaroth of the ancients! worshipped all over the world—no wonder she had temples and offerings, and her Moon day once a week. Even now, multitudes pay more attention to her than to the Power that made her. The sailors watch her. The fishermen talk about her influence upon the fish—and how the lobster, and the oyster, and the clam, are not good in "the old of the moon."

Mr. Merriam, lately deceased, probably watched the weather, and made more close and accurate observations with instruments, for over thirty years, than any man living, declares that in all his experience he has never been able to perceive that the moon has the least influence upon the weather. And yet, to what multitudes is this rank heresy! How they run to the almanacs to see when the moon is "new," when it "quarters," and when it is "full," and predict changes in the weather at these points. The fact is, the moon is new, or quarters, or is full once a week the year round; and in our variable climate, the weather changes often—about once a week—when it does not remain unaltered for weeks; and so, if a change in the weather takes place anywhere near the change in the moon, she is the author of the change. I have known educated men cling to this notion instilled into their childhood. I have known men who are careful not to plant—especially, beans, in the old of the moon. And I put it to my reader, who, as I have no doubt, is wise and well educated, and free from all superstition, had you not a "leetle" rather see the new moon over the right shoulder than the left? Don't you always think of it when you see the new moon? Can you tell why? It is one of those old roots which time and Christianity have not yet removed. So, many had rather see a crow fly over the right shoulder, than over the left—a remnant of old Roman notion of omens. The number and the variety of superstitions which still linger and burrow in the world, like the remnant of the old Canaanites whom Israel "could not drive out," is far larger than most suppose. My wonder is, not that there are so many roots of the old tree remaining, but that Christianity has done so much toward removing them. I see no time when we may expect them all to be removed.

The history of the fears and terrors with which superstition has ruled and crushed our race, in addition to all the sorrows which a fallen state is necessarily subject, is enough to make us weep. The whole race has been haunted by imaginary terrors.

> "Whose horrid image did unfix their hair,
> And make their sealed hearts knock at their ribs,
> Against the use of nature."

And even now, almost every house is haunted by some superstition, and every man has a something in him that makes him ask, "Is the new moon over the right shoulder?"—Congregationalist.

☞ An old bachelor friend has suggested to Government to put Dean Swift's advice into execution, viz: to place a tax on female beauty and to leave each lady to rate her own charms; he thought the tax would be readily paid, and be very productive. That old bach wears a wig; lucky for him he does if he should happen round in these diggings.

☞ Pat. Rooney, in writing his life, says, "he early ran away from his father because he discovered that he was only his uncle."

PULPIT PECULIARITIES.—A clergyman was once travelling on board a western steamboat, when among the passengers was a man who took great pains to make known that he was opposed to religion, denouncing Christ as an impostor, and all forms of religion as delusions. He was a man of ability and education, and a great wit, and his remarks seemed to have quite an influence on his hearers. The clergyman refrained from saying anything for a time, but finally determined to silence him. Asking the skeptic if he believed in the immortality of the soul, he received as an answer:

"No, I have none."

"Do you believe in the existence of a God?"

"No."

"Then, sir," replied the clergyman, "I have heard of you before."

"Heard of me?"

"Yes, and read about you."

"Read about me! I was not aware that I was published. Pray, where?"

"In the Psalms of David, sir, where it reads, 'The fool hath said in his heart, there is no God.'"

At this unlooked for turn in the argument, there was one general burst of laughter and hurrah at the expense of the atheist, who, confounded and being unable to rally at being thus unexpectedly called a fool, moved away to another part of the boat. During the remainder of the voyage the wiseacre was silent upon religious subjects; but occasionally some one of the passengers would tease him by slyly observing, "I have heard of you before."

JOSH BILLINGS ON DRAFTING.—Widder women, and their only son, iz xempt, provided the widder's husband has already sarved 2 years in the war, and iz willin to go agin; i believe the supreme corte has decided this thing forever.

Once more: If a man should run awa with his draft, he probably would n't ever be allowed to stand the draft agin; this looks sevear at fust site, but the more yu look at it, the more yu can se the wisdom into it.

Once morely: Xempt are those who have been drafted into the stait prizzen for tryin to git an honnist livin bi supportin 2 wives at onst; also, all them people who are crazee and onsound on the goose; also, all nusepaper correspondunts and fools in general.

Once more agin: No substitute will be acksepted who is less than three or more than ten feet high; he must kno how to chaw terbarker and drink poor whiskee, and mus'nt be afeered of the itch nor the rebels. Moral karicter is not required, as the Government furnishes that and rashuns.

Conclusively: No person can be drafted but twice in 2 different plases without his konsent; but all men has a rite to be drafted at least onst; i don't think even a rit habeas corpus could deprive a man of this last blessed privilege.

ST. PATRICK'S BODY FOUND.—While the workmen engaged in the renovation of St. Patrick's Cathedral, Dublin, the oldest church in Ireland, were digging up a portion of the flooring in one of the aisles, they discovered a large stone coffin of curious workmanship, buried a few feet below the surface. The coffin, when opened, was found to contain the skeleton of an ecclesiastic, supposed to have been buried there 900 years! The skull was perfect, and the bones crumpled into dust when exposed to the air. On the lid of the coffin there was a full-length figure of a Bishop in his robes. It was inspected by some antiquarians, including Dr. Todd, who expressed it as his belief that it was the original founder of the church, St. Patrick. It is in good preservation, and is in every respect a most interesting relic. When the church is finished it will be placed in a most prominent position, because there is no more remarkable antiquity in the building.

☞ A soldier in one of the late battles, sitting very coolly behind one of his guns, where the shot was falling fast, being asked by the chaplain whether he was supported by Divine Providence, replied, "No, sir; I am supported by the Ninth New Jersey."

☞ Newport is said to be so full of secessionists that some houses have recently displayed the Confederate flag from upper windows.

☞ Spriggins says he can always make his wife good-natured by soft-soaping her, and the more lie he puts into it the better she likes it.

The Wizard.

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 17, 1864.

GUERILLAS.

What awful creatures guerillas are. It is said that Jeff Davis employs them. They are unorganized bands of human beings who lurk behind trees, fences and stonewalls to fire upon regular troops. Lincoln has ordered all that are caught to be hung. Yet we find that the Salem Register in its issue of Monday not only justifies guerilla warfare but advises it. Ought not the editor of the Register to be arrested for aiding and abetting in such horrible warfare?
—Essex Statesman.

The above is a fair specimen of the acuteness and logic of the man who "does up" the "Editorial Brevities" of the Statesman—if indeed one man does perform that stupendous and Herculean labor. It might have occurred to one less disposed to cavil and find fault, that, supposing it to be necessary in a military point of view to hang guerillas when caught fighting against us, it yet might be highly desirable to resort to guerilla warfare in self defence; on the same principle that the enemy's spies are hung when caught, though we ourselves employ spies and consider their services not only desirable but honorable. Spies are so useful that it is hardly conceivable how armies could very well operate without them; yet they are at the same time, so dangerous, that it is deemed necessary to put them to such an ignominious death as shall tend to make the service not only dangerous but disgraceful, that others may be detered from enlisting in it.

Now as to guerilla warfare. It is ever resorted to by a brave people when invaded by an enemy to whom no sufficient regular army can be immediately opposed. Our fore-fathers at Concord and Lexington and all along the line of "Percy's retreat" to Boston, did precisely what should have been done recently in Pennsylvania, and what was done, on so much larger scale, in Spain, during Napoleon's time, and which gained for this kind of fighting the name guerilla, which comes from the Spanish word guerrilla, which signifies little war. That the rebels have resorted to this mode of warfare is not at all surprising, neither should they, nor their northern sympathisers feel surprised if the guerilla when he oversteps the line of true guerilla warfare and becomes simply a murderer, and highwayman should, like the spy, be hung when caught. The horrible barbarities committed by roving bands of rebels styling themselves guerillas, are no more worthy of the title "guerilla warfare," than the pirate Alabama was deserving of the appellation "confederate man-of-war," or the atrocious system of human slavery to be called a part of American civilization.

If the President has ordered all such guerillas to be hung when caught, we think none but the bitterest copperhead would affect to mourn over the "edict."

THE WATER SOURCES OF OUR TOWN.

We see it stated that the people of Lynn are about taking measures for the introduction of water into the city from Cedar and Sluice Ponds. As one who has travelled much with fowling-piece and fishing line upon the route traversed by those waters, we would say that Cedar Pond, in our humble judgment, is an exceedingly favorable source for an aqueduct. We don't know what "head" it will give, but think it must be very considerable. Indeed, there must be at least a fall of 60 feet in the first half mile after leaving Cedar Pond. We have noticed that some of our people, who do not frequent the woods, have a little confusion in their minds about the location of this Cedar Pond. The most common error is to confound it with a pond in South Danvers of the same name. This last named pond is up above the Alms House, northerly of the Lynnfield road; but Lynn Cedar Pond is on the road leading from the Dye House Village to Lynnfield. It is the first of a series of ponds which, at a bird's eye view, must present a very picturesque scene. First is Cedar Pond, then Nunnery Pond, then Sluice Pond, then Flax Pond.

Speaking of ponds, it is a fact worthy of public self-congratulation, that hardly a town can be found so largely and conveniently supplied with these luxuries as South Danvers. First we have a good share of Humphrey's Pond, more widely known as Suntaug Lake; then a large part of Spring Pond, christened by Richard S. Fay, who has a princely residence on its shores, as Lynnmere; next comes Brown's Pond, where they used to get "Spring Pond Ice;" then we have the two Bartholomew Ponds, called in colloquial parlance "Great Bartmew" and "Little Bartmew." Then following the same course we have Frog Pond, which is hardly worth mentioning but to perfect the list; then comes the Cedar Pond. These are all natural ponds. Brown and Spring Ponds empty themselves through Tapley Brook.

Humphrey's Pond supplies the brook that carries the woolen mill at Brookdale. Cedar Pond empties itself through Goldthwait's Brook. Tapley Brook enters into Goldthwait's Brook above the "Old Flume." The two Bartholomew's Ponds have no outlet. These are all natural ponds. Besides these we have artificial ones made for mill purposes,—one at Brookdale, one at Newhall's Crossing called Newhall's Pond, one on Tapley Brook, though not continually flowed, and the Wallis Pond.

Anciently there was a fulling mill at the Old Flume on Goldthwait's Brook and a pond above, but slight vestiges of the structure now remain—some timbers half petrified or half rotten—we don't know which—that supported the old mill apron can now be seen. We have been able to find only one man in town who is old enough to recollect the mill, and that is Mr. SAMUEL BROWN, Senior, and his recollection is very dim and almost mythical. But the traditional history of the old mill is quite unquestionable.

But as we commenced a paragraph upon aqueducts, ran into ponds and branched off into brooks, and have brought up in an old mill, we will here "dry up," fully realizing that the subject, although a wet one, will be very dry to some.

ACCIDENT.—An accident occurred at a mill in Edgworth, a part of Malden, on Saturday last, by which Mr. JOHN P. FRIEND, a well known citizen of this town, came near meeting a sudden and horrible death. He was at work in the mill, when his clothing was caught and he was carried rapidly round a shaft with every chance of being killed or mutilated. He retained fully his presence of mind and cried for help, at the same time keeping so closely to the shaft that his body and limbs were saved from striking the projecting beams, except one leg, which was badly bruised. Mr. James Perkins and others who were present and heard his cries for help, immediately stopped the mill and released Mr. Friend from his perilous position and brought him home. Although bodily bruised, it is believed that he suffered no internal injury, and it is hoped, will soon recover.

☞ The Essex Statesman offers us its "advice." Before doing so again, it should consider well two things; first, whether it is qualified to give advice; and, second, whether the advice is called for. Should a mature consideration bring it to an affirmative decision on both of these points. it need not trouble itself as to the "result" of another experiment ad visory, so far as we are concerned, since it is morally certain that we shall either act up to its present advice, or, disregard it; if the latter, the advice is wasted; if the former, we shall trouble the Statesman no more—for its advice is, to "meddle with nothing but truths."

A NEW DODGE.—It is known that the last Legislature authorized towns to appropriate money for recruiting purposes, but limited them to $125 for each recruit. In order to get round this provision, and to get ahead of other municipalities, the city of Lowell has, as we are informed, decided to pay the soldier the $125 in gold, which amounts to about $325 in paper money—the currency, we suppose, the statute referred to.

SICKNESS.—Public health is at a very low state hereabout at the present time. There are a great many cases of dysentery and a few of diptheria in our town, from which diseases several deaths have already occurred. The dry hot weather that has ruled so many weeks, with scarcely two days intermission, is supposed to be the chief cause of so much sickness.

☞ We notice that some of our cotemporaries caution business men that by the provisions of the new stamp act, "all bank checks for $10, and over, must be stamped with a 2 cent stamp."

This is true, but yet may mislead because it is not the whole truth. The law is that "bank checks for the payment of any sum whatsoever, drawn upon any bank, banker, or trust company, or for any sum exceeding $10, on any other person or persons, companies or corporations, at sight, or on demand," shall pay two cents. The law is so plain, that we wonder anyone should have read it and not seen the destinction therein made.

A FORTUNATE FAMILY.—Mr. William Shaw, who lately died at Rockville, 80 years of age, was singularly fortunate in the raising of his family. He was the father of eleven children—4 boys and 7 girls. At the time of his death they were all living and were all married, and all had children of their own. We think such a case as this rarely occurs.

☞ We learn that the Essex Institute hold their next "field meeting," a week from to-day, at the "fountains" of the Salem and South Danvers Aqueduct Company. Wonder if certain "distinguished counsel" will call this an adjourned meeting of a political caucus—under an alias!"

RELIGIOUS NOTICE.—Rev. F. H. Newhall, professor in Wesleyan University, Middletown, Conn., will preach in the Methodist Church, South Danvers, next Sabbath, August 21st.

JOHN MOORE.

IN MEMORIAM.

It was only last week that we were rejoicing over the recovery of the subject of this notice from the fearful malady which had suddenly struck down two sisters and a younger brother to an early grave. Our joy has been turned again to mourning. Too soon for us has he been called to follow them, and surviving friends are called to weep over the departure of one who was endeared to them by the strongest ties of memory and affection.

There are some young persons to whom we feel instinctively attracted by their gentle dignity and amiability of manners. Their very presence at once wins our confidence and our admiration. Our departed friend was one of these. His genial presence, his calm and placid deportment and his mild virtues, attracted all hearts. Nor was he deficient in those sterner qualities which give promise of a life of future usefulness. To his naturally amiable temperament was added a manliness and dignity beyond his years.

He had been for several years clerk and teller in the Danvers Bank, and assistant librarian at the Peabody Institute. In both these situations he was remarkably faithful, correct and reliable. It must be great consolation to his surviving friends that he leaves behind him the memory of a life so irreproachable, and an example such as our young men will do well to cherish and imitate.

Great as is the loss of this excellent young man to our community, it falls with added weight and severer force upon that thrice stricken household. They have in abundant measure the general sympathy, but we well know how feeble and inadequate are all attempts at condolence in the face of such overwhelming sorrow. We may, however, indulge the hope that, in the dark cloud which hangs over them, they may be able to discern the bright bow of promise, giving assurance of a clear and cloudless sky beyond.

FALSE CALENDER.—Some friend has kindly presented us with a very conveniently arranged memorandum book called a "Pocket Diary," published by A. Williams & Co., 100 Washington Street, Boston. It contains a list of distances by railroad from New York, the schedule of Stamp Duties under the Internal Revenue law, rates of postage, etc., etc. But there is one series drawback that overbalances all the good we can say of this publication, viz.: Its Calendar is inaccurate. We have not examined every month, for we were quite unsatisfied with the work upon looking at the month of August, which seems to be entirely knocked into pi. It gives the first day as Friday, when it should be Monday, and the last day as Sunday, when it should be Wednesday, and every other day wrong.

Of all books in the world that should be correct, they are our published calenders. An error in a single date is liable to lead business men or merchants into serious losses. Therefore, we have felt it our duty to expose the imperfections of this gift, however ungrateful it may seem towards the giver. The old proverb, "Look not a gift horse in the mouth," does not apply to almanacs. We write this paragraph for the benefit of the public rather than the publishers.

EPITAPH.—The following Epitaph is inscribed on a grave stone on Fort Hill, Winslow, Me., written by tne subject of it before his death. It will remind the reader of the one written by Benjamin Franklin on himself:

Here lies the Body of Richard Thomas,
an Englishman by Birth, a Whig of '76;
By Occupation a Cooper; now food for Worms.
Like an old Rum-Puncheon, marked, numbered and shorked, he will be raised and finished by his CREATOR.
He died Sept. 28, 1824.
America, my Adopted Country,
my best advice to you is this:
Take care of your Liberty.

ASBURY GROVE CAMP MEETING.—The Annual Camp Meeting of the Methodist Episcopal Church commenced last Monday in Hamilton and will continue through the week. The meeting will be under the special charge of Rev. J. Haskell, the Presiding Elder of the Boston District. The Eastern Railroad will run numerous extra trains for the accommodation of those desirous of attending. The tickets from Salem will be 25 cents each, and free return checks will be furnished on the ground. The Association will furnish board at $4 per week, or $1 per day; dinner 50 cents, supper or breakfast 40 cents. Ample police arrangements have been made, for the preservation of order, and the Association seems to have done everything to render the occasion one of interest.

ROBBERY.—On Monday night, August 8, some rogue entered the premises of Mr. John Nichols in Danvers, near the Newburyport Turnpike, and stole various farm tools, a large grindstone, etc., valued at $25 or $30.

MUSICAL.—The Hutchinson family will give a concert at Bank Hall, Danvers Plains, next Saturday evening, August 20th. They were to sing in Peabody Institute, in this town, last evening.

VALUATION AND TAXES IN SO. DANVERS.

The valuation and taxable property in this town, according to the returns of the assessors, is as follows:

Total value of real estate,	$2,168,450.00
Total value of personal property,	1,098,350.00
Total,	$3,266,800.00

No. of Polls, 1440; Poll Tax, $2; scale of taxation for State, County, Town and Highway purposes, $15 on a $1000.

Total tax for State, County and Town purposes, including highway tax, $51,882.00.

No. of dwelling houses in town,	997
No. of horses,	430
No. of cows,	514
No. of sheep,	139
No. of acres of land taxed,	9,036

The following is a list of such individuals and corporations whose taxes amount to $30 and upwards:

Allen Lewis	320.75
Allen Lewis, trustee to Poole est.	144.00
Abbott John	34.25
Adams Otis F.	41.00
Annable Nathaniel	140.75
Arnold & Hutchinson	33.40
Abbott Alfred A.	65.00
Ayer Hazen	30.50
Buxton Joshua	167.00
Buxton Joshua, Jr.	93.50
Buxton Henry V.	44.75
Buxton John	41.75
Buxton Daniel	61.25
Buxton Daniel heirs of	49.50
Buxton Abigail	40.50
Buxton Jonathan	73.25
Buxton Daniel J.	156.00
Buxton Edward	184.25
Batchelder Malachi F.	39.50
Blake Samuel estate of	41.25
Bodge Horatio	35.00
Bodge Jacob	38.00
Bancroft Sidney C.	232.25
Bancroft James estate of	42.00
Bancroft Alpheus W.	52 25
Bancroft George W.	41.75
Beckett Joseph	54.50
Beckett Benjamin	44.00
Berry William	65.00
Bank Danvers	49.50
Bank Warren	150.00
Bagley John, estate of	58.50
Baker Francis	57.50
Brown Charles E.	48.50
Brown & Stanley	48.00
Brown Samuel, Jr.	123.50
Brown Joseph	75.50
Brown Martha	31.50
Brown Rufus H.	84.50
Brown John	35.75
Brown Samuel	194.00
Brown Daniel	87.50
Brown William H.	231.50
Brown Mrs. Hannah	45.00
Barnard Willis	53.00
Bomer Caleb P.	35.00
Bushby William	64.25
Bushby Joseph	89.75
Bushby Asa, estate of	66.00
Bushby Henry	166.25
Bushby Henry, Jr.	47.75
Brooks Charles	35.00
Brooks & Messer	78.00
Blaney Philip	62.00
Blaney Stephen	395.75
Blaney Stephen and E. T. Trask	34.50
Berry John M.	98.00
Burnham Webster F.	32.00
Barnaby Thomas N.	38.00
Burbeck John C.	146.75
Basford Philander R.	58.25
Butman Josiah M.	31.25
Cook Merritt	44.75
Cook Henry	171.50
Cook James	38.00
Crane Samuel	76.22
Crane Lemuel	30.50
Curtis Andrew	96.50
Currier Caleb S.	30.50
Carr Thomas W.	89.00
Cheever Samuel	68.75
Clark Aaron F.	111.50
Clark William P.	30.50
Clark & Co.	112.50
Clark & Giddings	42.75
Carey Joseph W. heirs of	42.00
Cleary John	47.00
Clement John B.	66.50
Cobb Seward P.	47.00
Daniels Robert S.	177.50
Daniels David	35.00
Dole Moses, estate of	75.00
Dole William T.	196.25
Dodge Charles H.	35.00
Damon Mrs.	36.00
Draper William	44.00
Dustin Jonathan, heirs of	641.25
Davis Samuel	62.00
Elliot Isaac, estate of	178.50
Elliot Isaac B.	146.00
Elliot Lewis W.	238.25
Eaton Peter	43.25
Emerson Oliver	41.00
Emerson Robert R.	95.75
Fairfield Joseph	62.00
Fernald Stephen	143.00
Fernald Luther	33.50
Folsom Peter G.	38.00
Forness Edward	39.50
Foster Ira	32.00
Fiske Albert R.	32.75
Felton Nathaniel	118 25
Flint Elijah, heirs of	82.50
Farwell C. C. & Co.	30.00
Farley Maria L.	44.25
Farley Charles B.	87.50
Goodridge Benjamin, estate of	159.75
Gray Andrew W.	50.00
Giddings Joshua	62.00
Goodridge Zachariah	44.00
Goodwin Daniel C.	56.00
Grant John S.	35.75
Goodale Perley	77.25
Gardner Asa, estate of	149.25
Goldthwait Ebenezer, estate of	40.50
Galeucia Alerson	74.75
Grout John H.	41.00
Huntington Benjamin	63.50
Harris Samuel	71.75
Hussey Botsey K.	35.25
Hodgkins Joseph S.	56.00
Ham Samuel	59.00
Hardy Isaac	291.50
Hardy Henry A.	30.50
Hardy & Osborne	43.50
Haskell Daniel	56.00
Hills Benjamin M.	34.25
Hutchinson Benjamin	284.75
Haven Charles B.	38.00
Herrick John	92.00
Hildreth Paul	58.25
Jacobs John, estate of	66.75
Jacobs Joseph	116.75
Jacobs Warren M.	302.75
Jacobs W. M. & Son	465.75
Jacobs Joseph, Jr.	48.50
Jacobs Edward W.	60.50
King Jonathan	817.25
King Amos	82.25
King Perley & Eben U.	118.50
King Phebe	195.00
King Eben	422.00
King Perley G.	215.75
King Henry A.	291.50
King Anna	39.75
King Eben U.	200.00
King James P.	303.50
King Samuel P. C.	216.50
King D. Webster	84.50
Kimball Hiram	32.75
Kimball Obadiah	236.00
Kimball Moses T.	32.75
Loring Richard	62.00
Little Wm. W., estate of,	181.50
Little Wm. H.	124.25
Little Plummer	179.75
Lord John A.	173.75
Lord Wm. N.	48.50
Lord Wm. N. & Co.	119.00
Lowe Charles P.	176.00
Loftus Darby	30.50
Marsh James	148.25
Marsh Mary	72.00
Marsh Philip	107.00
Mansfield John	50.75
Merrill Wingate	125.75
Munroe Isaac	110.00
Marston Mark	30.50
Merrill Alexander B.	32.75
Merrill Henry M.	44.75
Messer Albert A.	47.00
Mahoney Wm. & Thos. J. Relihan,	76.50
McKay John	39.50
Marshall William, Jr.	43.25
McNiel John	32.00
Needham Elias	68.00
Needham Stephen P.	76.25
Needham Benjamin	71.00
Needham Sylvester	31.25
Nelson & Merrill	114.75
Nutter W. E. & J. S.	57.00
Nutter Cyrus S.	47.00
Newhall Samuel K.	55.25
Newhall David	54.50
Newhall Elbridge G.	44.75
Newman & Symonds	35.25
Osborn Kendall	234.50
Osborn Philp L.	66.50
Osborn Amos	156.50
Osborn Franklin	367.25
Osborn Dennison W.	63.50
Osborn George F.	81.50
Osborn Daniel	110.00
Osborn Richard, estate of	51.00
Osborn Joshua	72.50
Osborn Caleb W.	311.00
Osborn Amos 2d.	77.00
Osborn Caleb	212.00
Osborn Sylvester	299.00
Osborn Dr. George	147.50
Osborn George P.	53.00
Osborn Meles	195.50
Osborn Miles & Co.	215.25
Osborn Henry M.	37.25
Osborn Abraham C.	66.50
Osborn George A.	50.75
Osborn Miles J.	30.50
Osborn David	57.50
Osborn Kendall J.	32.00
Osborn Jacob	86.00
Osborn Persis L.	52.50
Osborn Douglass	61.25
Osborn Mrs. Benjamin G.	40.50
Osborn Joseph	32.00
Osgood Joseph	92.00
O'Regan Timothy	32.00
Poor Henry C.	134.75
Poor Joseph	123.50
Poor Henry	239.75
Poor Nathan H.	71.00
Poor Eben S.	325.25
Poor Henry & Son	90.00
Poland Oliver	32.00
Plumer Hiram	45.50
Perry James	99.50
Peaseley John	125.00
Proctor John W. trustee	51.00
Proctor Daniel	113.75
Proctor Abel	352.25
Proctor Thomas E.	452.00
Proctor Irene F.	183.00
Proctor Thorndike	116.75
Proctor Abel J. estate of	210.00
Poole Joshua H.	46.25
Poole Fitch	44.00
Preston Levi	101.00
Preston Moses	101.00
Porter Andrew	129.50
Putnam Jeremiah S.	54.50
Putnam David	47.00
Putnam Amos	34.25
Peabody Margaret B.	34.50
Peabody Stephen	108.50
Page Enoch	152.00
Peirce William	77.75
Peirce George C.	50.00
Patterson Nathaniel P. C.	86.00
Perkins James	53.00
Perkins Benjamin C.	36.50
Pinder & Brown	762.00
Pinder John	56.00
Pemberton Francis K.	34.25
Phillips Oscar	35.00
Pierson Abel L.	42.50
Parsons Samuel S.	31.25
Phelps Theodore estate of	39.75
Phelps Betsey F.	42.00
Pepper George W.	83.00
Reith John	44.00
Raddin Amos K.	43.25
Reed Joseph W.	69.50
Reed Stephen F.	32.00
Robbins Hannah S.	37.50
Russell Warren	31.25
Russell Elijah	30.50
Richardson Samuel	62.75
Sutton Eben	1769.75
Sutton William	585.50
Sutton William Jr.	154.25
Shed Joseph, estate of	31.50
Stevens John V.	50.00
Stevens & Porter	30.00
Sanger Augustus H.	173.00
Sanger A. & A. H.	141.00
Sanger Abner	236.00
Shaw Joseph, estate of	45.00
Smith James L.	38.00
Smith Richard	158.75
Spaulding Levi	71.75
Simonds Charles	75.50
Safford Joseph, estate of	39.00
Stimpson Thomas	98.00
Stimpson & Floyd	81.00
Stanley Miles O.	62.00
Shillaber George N.	40.25
Shillaber Jonathan	129.50
Shillaber Daniel	46.25
Symonds Samuel	181.25
Symonds Robert S. D.	35.00
Sweetser Thomas A.	77.00
Shackley Moses A.	63.50
Saunders Mary	45.00
Southwick Jonathan	41.75
Southwick Edward	47.00
Southwick George	41.00
Sheen James E.	41.75
Saltonstall Henry	112.25
Saltonstall Henry, guardian	300.00
Saltonstall Henry, trustee	180.00
Todd Edward	92.00
Thomas Josiah B.	222.50
Taylor Daniel, estate of	69.75
Taylor Jefferson,	66.50
Taylor Thomas, estate of	33.00
Taylor Benjamin	75.00
Teel George M.	41.00
Torr Andrew	149.00
Torr John S.	51.50
Torr John	57.50
Trask Thomas	68.00
Trask Edward D.	44.00
Trask Samuel	31.25
Thurston James	32.00
Tilton George P.	120.50
Taggard Samuel	30.50
Townsend Daniel H.	36.50
Upton Eben S.	89.75
Upton Eben, estate of	159.00
Upton David	75.50
Upton Elijah W.	872.00
Upton George	426.50
Union Store	77.25
Ward Alfred A.	63.50
Ward Alfred	60.50
Whitney John	35.00
Wilson Susan	91.50
Wilson Silas	69.75
Wilson Newhall	57.50
Wilson Clarissa	127.50
Wilson Samuel	73.25
Wilson Benjamin	87.50
Wilson Warren	54.50
Wilson John	133.25
Wilson Edward H.	131.75
Winchester Silas	54.50
Winchester Mrs. Ruth	34.50
Winchester Perez L.	35.50
Winchester George J.	32.00
Walker Franklin	38.00
Welch Samuel	56.00
Wolcott William	46.25
Walcott John G.	45.50
Wheeler Benjamin S.	170.00
Wheeler Benjamin	179.75
Wheeler John, estate of	52.50
White & Fiske	75.00
Walton George D.	85.75
Whitten James O.	62.00
Young Jacob	56.00

NON-RESIDENTS.

Benjamin Goodhue, heirs of, Salem	30.00
Richard S. Rogers, Salem	342.75
Asa Lamson, Salem	36.00
Mrs. Catharine Little, Salem	51.00
S. R. B. Railroad Co., Salem	40.50
Timothy O'Shea, Salem	71.25
Mrs. A. Nichols, guardian, Salem	36.75
Salem & Danvers Aqueduct Co, Salem	30.00
Estate of Mrs. D. F. Frothingham, "	30.00
Estate of Emma C. Dodge, Salem	52.50
James M. Caller, Salem	255.00
John Frost, Salem	84.00
Henry Gardner, Salem	346.50
George Crowningshild, Boston	51.00
James Bennet Jr., Boston	31.50
Francis Dane, Boston	177.00
Francis Dane & Co., Boston	307.50
Franklin Upton, Boston	215.25
John L. Shorey, Lynn	33.00
James N. Buffum, Lynn	42.75
Levi H. Russell, Lynnfield	74.25
Sally P. King, Andover	127.50
John Dexter, Manchester	52.50
Horace Tibbetts, Marietta, O.	37.50
Perley Proctor, Danvers	34.50
William Stimpson, Danvers	37.50
Samuel D. Pendar, Newport, Vt.	189.00
Theophilus W. Walker, Waltham	413.25
Proprietors of Winona Mills	252.00
Proprietors of Danvers Bleachery	1500.00

THE ATTACK ON MOBILE.

The fleet, consisting of the Hartford, Brooklyn, Richmond, Lackawana, Ossipee, Monongahela, Oneida, Galena, Port Royal, Metacomet, Octorora, Seminole, Itaska, and the monitors Tecumseh, Manhattan, Chickasaw and Winnebago, and the Admiral's team barge Loyal, got underweigh at the anchorage off the entrance to Mobile Bay, at sunrise, the monitors in advance, and the wooden vessels going together in pairs, the flag-ship taking the lead.

When within point blank range of Fort Morgan the vessels ahead were slowed down to enable the line to close up, and at this time the fort and rebel vessels opened fire on the fleet, which was returned from the 100-pounder Parrotts placed on the bows of our vessels in the advance.

The Admiral waited until directly abreast of Fort Morgan, when he delivered a succession of broadsides from the nine-inch guns of the Hartford with such precision and galling effect that the rebels were driven away from their guns, and the water battery and fort were silenced. At this time the monitors engaged the rebel iron-clad ram Tennessee, which was discovered laying in position to advance on our noble Admiral.

At this moment the monitor Tecumseh struck a torpedo and was seen to rise and disappear beneath the water almost instantly. The firing now became terrific, and the fleet, although steaming ahead at a full rate of speed, was completely enveloped in flame and smoke. The rebel rams made several attempts to run our passing vessels down, but failed to do so, and in the midst of all this a boat was lowered from the Metacomet to pick up the survivors of our ill-fated monitor. It was a beautiful and appalling sight to witness this boat rowing around on its sacred mission to rescue our drowning men, with its beautiful flag flowing to the breeze, and the missiles of death and destruction striking and ricocheting all around it. But the gallant officer (an ensign whose name I forget) heedlessly kept on his way, and succeeded in rescuing the pilot, one of the officers, and three men, belonging to the Tecumseh.

With the exception of the monitor our fleet had by this time succeeded in passing Fort Morgan, only to be subject to a galling, raking fire from the three rebel gunboats—Selma, Morgan, and Gaines. Our secured together in pairs, and the engagement became a short time resulted in d two gunboats under the gun whilst the Selma steamed up intention of escaping to Mob

After a chase of about Selma hauled down her fla of the Metacomet. On boar of her surrender was soo decks were covered the de her scuppers were running
Among others I recognized
Comstock, with his bowels t across the breach of a gun gaged in sighting at the
He once belonged to our n not adequate to describe the which went up from the t tars, and was re-echoed fr another all through this our brave, noble Admiral this fight that his theory o wooden ships" is a correct

At this time, while our fl
ceptions, had collected tog side of the bay, in the direc ell, and out of the range of ram Tennessee was discover direction.

The monitors closed with and one of the most interest ments of the war succeede smaller wooden vessels, were

A fight of some minutes miral Farragut, anxious to ment in a summary manner, Tennessee at full speed; at tain Strong, in the Monon Tennessee amidships, and give room to our Admiral to onist, Buchanan. When away from the two vessels a to wave from the Tenness token of submission, and C went in as a volunteer on presentative of Admiral Fa sword of Admiral Buchana engine of destruction was o
ed at a great loss of life.

Our loss in this fight is a wounded, including the bra the monitor and 100 of down with him.—Correspo Herald.

MEMPHREMAGO

All work necessary to magog House, with its ne additions, complete and co is now done. There is som painting yet remaining, mo postponed until the work c annoyance to guests. W dations other places in th are noted as resorts, we can we are certain that it will b landlords outside the met proprietors of the Memphre

In the office, we find M MCKEEN. The former a had a large experience at requires much patience and of human nature, to ministe whims of old and young, m staid and the fanciful. Mr.
pert over the ledger, a p and is fast learning how t wants and whims. Mr. F steward, and favorably kno tourists who contracted his Fabyan House among the
the more important dome cuisine and administers its capable functionery could Mr. N. C. WEBSTER is the lite, attentive gentleman w ceremonies among the c the dining Hall. He has who already understand or movements and courtesies guest expects to find in the
Mr. LAFAYETTE BUCK is t
gus-eyed proprietor of the
He is so to speak, the P and when anything about the 4th floor chamber to th comme il faut, he is sure to that it is speedily righted.
such watchful and labori
New England as Mr.
"Josiah," everybody kno round, and though at pre health, is early and late u very important task, and ulated Hotel requires, nam driving and punching up nates. Last but by no
House we notice the seni
D. PENDAR. Every guest acquaintance of this modes
ing but most convival gent Memphremagog for twent hours, and if you have make at the desk or in t be sure to ask, "where i very soul of integrity, si ness and conviviality, and official way that he has, find in him what is very s landlord—a friend. It ence, and we presume that that as a rule, the landlor my of the guest. But in find an exception, as hund testify. Such in a few ment of this house, of its i we shall speak hereafter.—

BROCKSIEPER GAS
Those wishing to av
this new and economi
do so by leaving the Stevens' jewelry store,

☞ One day last week
tain locality in Newbury piece of woods by an offen discovered a pig of 300 hanging upon a tree.
was stolen and killed by was unable to remove him

☞ An Amesbury, M who carefully cared for a the other day, thinking for it, found next mornin real live baby, a week old,

☞ As an indication of shelling upon the business burg, the last number of ter has but one advertis
merchant who wishes to s aid of the Potato crop in New it has suffered extremely, and re early planted have passed be-iod when any hope of a crop can But later plantations, and they -quarters of the whole, are in e immensely benefited by the ree weather, and though we shall n a good average yield, there will famine. The decreased consump-e high prices that are now asked, ntinues two months longer, leave a tatoes on the 1st of October equal ve had for years.

the rebel dead and wounded who hands at the battle of Atlanta, on as a handsome young soldier in a acket and pants. The soldier's leg red, and amputation was deemed
The noble youth was placed on the ble, when lo—it was a female! So der youths" have been captured by he commencement of the campaign ittle notice was given her features, cion never rose in the minds of our s to the sex of their patient till the ent."

first brick kiln in New England
d in Salem in 1629. The first regu-ematic attempt at an improved man-f cloth in New England—particularly was made by a company of Yorkshire-in 1638 settled in Rowley, in Essex
The first paper mill in New England p in Milton, seven miles south of Bos-he Neponset river, below the head of andy canes are in fashion in Paris just the fashionable quarters many ladies lemen are seen carrying these canes—ls of which being hollow serve as a ier, being filled with delicious sugar-which friends, when they meet, offer to her. It is the revival of fashion three l years old.

To the Prince Napoleon of France, a been born.

Port of Danvers.

1th, schs Planet, Dermot, Elizabethport;
Herbert, Crowell, New York; 14th, Se-
Ryder, do.

Marriages.

Salem, August 8th, by Rev Mr Spaulding
William A Hill, 19th Mass. Regt, to Miss , daughter of Lemuel Higbee, both of
. No cards.
n, by Rev Dr Mills, Mr David Davenport ss Annie L. Green.
Beverly, July 31, by Rev Dr. Abbott, Mr er Woodbury to Miss Edith A Woodbury.
Topsfield, Aug. 10, by Rev. McLoud, Mr rt C. Perkins, Principal of the Oliver High ol, Lawrence, to Miss Caroline Cleaveland, hter of the late Joel R. Peabody of Tops-

Deaths.

this town, August 10th, Mrs. Sally R.
of Eben S. Upton, 74 yrs 4 mos.
3th, George, son of Richard and Catharine ghton, 5 months.
n Salem, August 8th, John W. Lefavour, , 34 yrs 10 mos; Kate Hanson, daughter of rge W. and Sarah Ellen Glazier, 2 years, 8 ths 25 days; William, son of Thomas and n Bates, 8 mos 8 days; 9th, of diptheria, ta C, only daughter of Lyman B. and M. delia Brooks, 5 yrs; 10th, Mr. George W.
, 45 years; Anstiss Chipman, daughter of niel and Anstiss C Perkins, 20 years 4 mos;
s. Mary, widow of the late Nathaniel Hoop-95 years 8 months 6 days; 13th, Mary Ann, ughter of Joseph and Mary Campbell, 3 yrs months 5 days; Patrick, son of Michael and n Murphy, 7 yrs; 14th, of cholera infantum chard P, son of T. Alvah and Louise R Har-
, 8 months; Isabella, daughter of Thomas P d Mary Newell, 6 yrs 2 mos 23 days.
In Danvers, Aug. 6th, Mrs Mary Ann, wife
Daniel Glover, formerly of Marblehead, 41
s 6 mos 23 days.
In Lynn, Aug. 4, Mr. James P. Brickett, 56 ears.
In Beverly, Aug. 10, Mr. William A Patch,
6 years 8 months.
In Lynnfield, Aug 11, Mrs Charlotte, widow
f the late Col. Matthew Cox, 74 yrs 3 months 0 days.

For Garrison Duty!

CAPT. JOHN F. DEVEREUX, of Salem, having been authorized by His Excellency, Governor JOHN A. ANDREW, to raise a company for

Coast Defence in Massachusetts,

will receive recruits for said purpose at rooms

NO. 226½ ESSEX STREET.

Captain D. is authorized to state that all recruits shall be exempt from draft whilst in service.

All particulars given on application at the rooms, 226½ Essex Street.

☞ Goods received for LEWANDO'S FRENCH DYE HOUSE. M. E. CRANE.
Jan 20 tf

☞ Visit OSBORNE'S Store, and look at the unusual variety of new styles in HATS and CAPS—191 Essex street.

THE GREAT ENGLISH REMEDY.
SIR JAMES CLARKE'S
CELEBRATED FEMALE PILLS!

Prepared from a prescription of Sir J. Clarke, M. D., Physician Extraordinary to the Queen.

This well known medicine is no imposition, but a sure cure and safe remedy for Female Difficulties and Obstructions, from any cause whatever; and although a powerful remedy, they contain nothing hurtful to the constitution.

In all cases of Nervous and Spinal Affections, pain in the Back and Limbs, Fatigue on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Hysterics, and Whites, these pills will effect a cure, when all other means have failed: and, although a powerful remedy, do not contain iron, calomel, antimony, or anything hurtful to the constitution.

Full directions in the pamphlet around each package, which should be carefully preserved.

For full particulars, obtain, free, of the agent, a pamphlet. Sold by all Druggists.

Sole United States Agent,
JOB MOSES, 27 Cortlandt St., New York.

N. B.—$1 and 6 postage stamps enclosed to any authorized agent, will insure a bottle, containing over 50 pills, by return mail. March 9, 1864.—1 yr.

List of Letters

REMAINING in the Post Office at South Danvers, August 16, 1864. [Persons calling for these letters, will please say they are advertised.]

George Buxton,
Mary B. Brown,
Sarah Crouther,
Elbridge Cothoron,
James Craig,
J. P. Goodwin,
John Guppy,
Patrick Kelley,
John McCarthy,
David Mahoney,
James McGogan,
Clara E. Nelson,
Katie E. Nourse,
Abba Peasley,
Eliza Stone,
Lizzie Storely,
Kate Saul,

N. B. These letters are subject to an additional postage of one cent. DANIEL WOODBURY, P. M.

U. S. 7-30 LOAN.

The Secretary of the Treasury gives notice that subscriptions will be received for Coupon Treasury Notes, payable three years from Aug. 15th, 1864, with semi-annual interest at the rate of seven and three-tenths per cent. per annum, principal and interest both to be paid in lawful money.

These notes will be convertible at the option of the holder at maturity, into six per cent. gold bearing bonds, payable not less than five nor more than twenty years from their date, as the Government may elect. They will be issued in denominations of $50, $100, $500, $1,000 and $5,000, and all subscriptions must be for fifty dollars, or some multiple of fifty dollars.

The notes will be transmitted to the owners free of transportation charges as soon after the receipt of the original Certificates of Deposit as they can be prepared.

As the notes draw interest from August 15, persons making deposits subsequent to that date must pay the interest accrued from date of note to date of deposit.

Parties depositing twenty-five thousand dollars and upwards for these notes at any one time will be allowed a commission of one-quarter of one per cent., which will be paid by the Treasury Department upon the receipt of a bill for the amount, certified to by the officer with whom the deposit was made. No deductions for commissions must be made from the deposits.

SPECIAL ADVANTAGES OF THIS LOAN.

IT IS A NATIONAL SAVINGS BANK, offering a higher rate of interest than any other, and THE BEST SECURITY. Any savings bank which pays its depositors in U. S. Notes, considers that it is paying in the best circulating medium of the country, and it CANNOT pay in anything better, for its own assets are either in government securities or in notes or bonds payable in government paper.

It is equally convenient as a temporary or permanent investment. The notes can always be sold for within a fraction of their face and accumulated interest, and are the best security with banks as collaterals for discounts.

Convertible into a Six per cent. 5-20 Gold Bond.

In addition to the very liberal interest on the notes for three years, this privilege of conversion is now worth about three per cent. per annum, for the current rate for 5-20 Bonds is not less than NINE PER CENT. PREMIUM, and before the war the premium on six per cent. U. S. stocks was over twenty per cent. It will be seen that the actual profit on this loan, at the present market rate, is not less than ten per cent. per annum.

ITS EXEMPTION FROM STATE OR MUNICIPAL TAXATION.

But aside from all the advantages we have enumerated, a special Act of Congress EXEMPTS ALL BONDS AND TREASURY NOTES FROM LOCAL TAXATION. On the average, this exemption is worth about two per cent. per annum, according to the rate of taxation in various parts of the country.

It is believed that no securities offer so great inducements to lenders as those issued by the Government.—In all other forms of indebtedness, the faith or ability of private parties, or stock companies, or seperate communities, only, is pledged for payment, while the whole property of the country is held to secure the discharge of all the obligations of the United States.

While the government offers the most liberal terms for its loans, it believes that the very strongest appeal will be to the loyalty and patriotism of the people.

Duplicate certificates will be issued for all deposits.—The party depositing must endorse upon the ORIGINAL certificate the denomination of notes required, and whether they are to be issued in blank or payable to order. When so endorsed it must be left with the officer receiving the deposit, to be forwarded to the Treasury Department.

SUBSCRIPTIONS WILL BE RECEIVED by the Treasurer of the United States, at Washington, the several Assistant Treasurers and designated Depositaries, and by the

First National Bank of Salem, Mass.
First National Bank of Boston, Mass.
Second National Bank of Boston, Mass.
Third National Bank of Boston, Mass.
National Bank of the Republic, Boston, Mass.
Boston National Bank, Boston, Mass.
First National Bank of Amesbury, Mass.
First National Bank of Haverhill, Mass.
First National Bank of Newburyport, Mass.

And by all National Banks which are depositaries of public money, and

ALL RESPECTABLE BANKS AND BANKERS throughout the country will give further information and

AFFORD EVERY FACILITY TO SUBSCRIBERS.
August 17, 1864.—3m

DERBY & CHILDS,
Fire, Marine and Life Insurance Agents.

Orders left at No. 24 Washington st., Salem, or received by mail, promptly attended to.

Losses equitably adjusted and promptly paid, and Insurance effected at reasonable rates.

Salem, August 10,—3m*

BROCKSIEPER GAS REGULATOR!
30 PER CENT. SAVED.

Economy in the use of Gas, with the advantage of having a more brilliant light than heretofore, is a point at once desirable. Inventors have for many years sought to obtain this end by packing or checking in innumerable ways the flow of gas through the burner. Not one of these have attained the result wished for, viz—a pure transparent flame without waste at any and all pressures obtained at any hour and in all localities. Those of our citizens who have taken the pains to examine Brocksieper's Patent Regulator, and have seen the gas ACTUALLY MEASURED THROUGH IT, are unanimous in its praise. We give below the names of a few of the merchants and others of Salem now using the Regulator:

Salem Register Office;
Salem Gazette Office;
Salem Statesman Office;
Salem Post Office;
Merchants Reading Room;
George Creamer, Bookseller;
Browning & Long, Dry Goods;
S. F. Rogers, Confectioner;
J. P. Peabody, Dry Goods;
Theron Palmer, Shoe Dealer;
Adams, Richardson & Co., Hardware;
Doctor Johnson;
Essex House;
Wm. Webb, Jr., Druggist;
Edward Brown, Sup't and Treas. Gas Co.

☞ Orders left at B. F. STEVENS' Jewelry Store, will be promptly attended to. The burner can also be examined there.

SEND FOR A CIRCULAR.

25,000 of these Regulators have been manufactured and sold in the Eastern States since February last. 150 are now in use in Salem. PRICE $1 EACH—6 AND OVER, 90 cents each. The article is warranted in every respect. Call and examine for yourselves. Our facilities for testing the genuineness of this improvement will at once convince the most skeptical.

JOSEPH CLOUTMAN,
OFFICE—Bowker Block, Essex st., up stairs.

NOTICE.—We have this day appointed Mr. JOSEPH CLOUTMAN, of Salem, our sole agent for the sale of Brocksieper's Gas Regulator for the following places: Salem, South Danvers, Beverly, Marblehead and Gloucester, Mass. All orders for the article, at wholesale or retail, to receive attention, must come through him, and he will establish sub-agencies in the above-named places.

HULL & GOODELL,
Sole Proprietors in the U. S.,
446 Broadway, N. Y., and 221 Washington st., Boston.
august 10—tf

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

BY HIS EXCELLENCY THE GOVERNOR.

A Proclamation Concerning the Payment of Bounties to Volunteers.

With the advice and consent of the Council, by virtue of the provisions of the one hundred and thirtieth chapter of the Acts of eighteen hundred and sixty-four, and in the exercise of the power of suspension therein granted, and also by virtue of the power granted to the Governor by the two hundred and ninety-second chapter of the Acts of eighteen hundred and sixty-four, I, JOHN A. ANDREW, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, do hereby make proclamation as follows, viz.:

FIRST. Each volunteer who shall enlist in the military service of the United States, as a part of the quota of this Commonwealth, for the term of three years or the war, shall be entitled to receive from the Treasury of the Commonwealth, at his election, a bounty of three hundred and twenty-five dollars; or, instead thereof, if he shall so elect, a bounty of fifty dollars, and twenty dollars monthly so long as he shall remain in said service. If honorably discharged for disability, after six months' actual service, then said sum of twenty dollars monthly shall be paid to him for six months thereafter; and if such volunteer shall die in the service said sum shall be paid to his widow; or if he shall leave no widow, to his lawful heirs for six months after his decease;—said monthly payment to such volunteer, his widow and heirs, not to exceed the term of three years in the whole, and to be payable at the office of the Treasurer of the Commonwealth

SECOND. Each volunteer who shall enlist for the term of two years only or the war, shall be entitled to receive a bounty of $200, or to receive the aforesaid bounty of fifty dollars and the monthly payment of twenty dollars, at his own election. If honorably discharged for disability, after six months actual service, then said sum of twenty dollars monthly shall be paid to him for six months thereafter; and if such volunteer shall die in the service, said sum shall be paid to his widow; or, if he shall leave no widow, to his lawful heirs, for six months after his decease; said monthly payment to such volunteer, his widow and heirs, not to exceed the term of two years in the whole, and to be payable at the office of the Treasurer of the Commonwealth.

THIRD. Each volunteer who shall enlist, for the term of one year only or the war, shall be entitled to receive a bounty of $100, or else the like twenty dollars monthly payment (but no other bounty) from the Treasury of the Commonwealth, at his own election. If honorably discharged for disability, after six months actual sevice, then said sum of twenty dollars monthly shall be paid to him for six months thereafter; and if such volunteer shall die in service, said sum shall be paid to his widow; or, if he shall leave no widow, to his lawful heirs, for six months after his decease; said monthly payment to such volunteer, his widow and heirs, not to exceed the term of one year in the whole, and to be payable at the office of the Treasurer of the Commonwealth.

All of the foregoing provisions are in addition to the several acts giving State aid to the families of volunteers, to the benefits of which all volunteers, whether for one, two or three years, are also entitled.

FOURTH. Every private and non-commissioned officer who shall be mustered into the service of the United States as a part of the Massachusetts Militia shall receive the sum of twenty dollars monthly so long as he shall remain in said service, which shall be in full discharge of all claim upon the Commonwealth for pay, bounty and State aid.

Given at the Council Chamber this twenty-third day of July, in the year of our Lord eighteen hundred and sixty-four, and of the Independence of the United States of America the eighty-ninth.

JOHN A. ANDREW.

By his Excellency the Governor.
OLIVER WARNER,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
aug 3—3t

From the army hospital—the bloody battle-field—the mansion of the rich and humble abode of the poor—from the office and the sacred desk—from the mountain top, distant valleys and far-off islands of the ocean—from every nook and corner of the civilized world—is pouring in the evidence of the astonishing effects of DRAKE'S PLANTATION BITTERS. Thousands upon thousands of letters like the following may be seen at our office.

REEDSBURY, WIS., Sept. 16, 1863.
"* * * I have been in the army hospitals for fourteen months—speechless and nearly dead. At Alton, Ill. they gave me a bottle of Plantation Bitters. * * * Three bottles restored my speech and cured me. * * * * C. A. FLAUTE.",

SOUTH WARSAW, O. July 28, 1863.
"* * * One young man, who had been sick and not out of the house for two years with Scrofula and Erysipelas, after paying the doctors over $150 without benefit, has been cured by ten bottles of your Bitters. EDWARD WOUNALL.

The following is from the Manager of the Union Home School for the Children of Volunteers:
HAVEMEYER MANSION, FIFTY-SEVENTH ST.,
New York, August 2, 1863.

"DR. DRAKE: Your wonderful Plantation Bitters have been given to some of our little children suffering from weakness and weak lungs with most happy effect. One little girl, in particular, with pains in her head, loss of appetite, and daily wasting consumption, on whom all medical skill had been exhausted, has been entirely restored. We commenced with but a teaspoonful of Bitters a day. Her appetite and strength rapidly increased, and she is now well * *
Respectfully, MRS. O. M. DEVOE."

"* * * I owe much to you, for I verily believe the Plantation Bitters have saved my life, REV. W. H. WAGGONER, Madrid, N. Y."

"* * * Thou wilt send me two bottles more of thy Plantation Bitters. My wife has been greatly benefited by their use.
Thy friend, ASA CURRIN, Philadelphia, Pa."

"* * * I have been a great sufferer from Dyspepsia, and had to abandon preaching. * * * The Plantation Bitters have cured me.
REV. J. S. CATHORN, Rochester, N. Y."

"* * * Send us twenty-four dozen more of your Plantation Bitters, the popularity of which are daily increasing with the guests of our house.
SYKES, CHADWICK & CO.,
Proprietors Willard's Hotel, Washington, D. C.

"* * * I have given the Plantation Bitters to hundreds of our disabled soldiers with the most astonishing effect.
G. W. D. ANDREWS,
Superintendent Soldiers' Home, Cincinnati, O.

"* * * The Plantation Bitters have cured me of liver complaint, of which I was laid up prostrate and had to abandon my Business.
H. B. KINGSLEY, Cleveland, O."

"* * * The Plantation Bitters have cured me of a derangement of the kidneys and urinary organs that has distressed me for years. It acts like a charm.
C. C. MOORE, 254 Broadway, N. Y."
&c. &c. &c. &c. &c.

The Plantation Bitters make the weak strong, the languid brilliant, and are exhausted nature's great restorer. They are composed of the celebrated Calisaya Bark, Wintergreen, Sassafras, Roots, Herbs, &c., all preserved in perfectly pure St. Croix Rum.

S.—T.—1860—X.

Persons of sedentary habits troubled with weakness, lassitude, palpitation of the heart, lack of appetite, distress after eating, torpid liver, constipation, &c. deserve to suffer if they will not try them.

They are recommended by the highest medical authorities, and are warranted to produce an immediate beneficial effect. They are exceedingly agreeable, perfectly pure, and harmless.

NOTICE.—Any person pretending to sell Plantation Bitters in bulk or by the gallon is a swindler and impostor. It is put up only in our patent log cabin bottle. Beware of bottles refilled with imitation deleterous stuff for which several persons are already in prison. See that every bottle has our private United States Stamp over the cork unmutilated, and signature on steel plate side label.

Sold by respectable dealers throughout the habitable globe.

P. H. DRAKE & CO.
202 Broadway, N. Y.
Mch 16—1 yr

Advertisements.

Horse Railroad Notice.
SUNDAY TIME.

ON and after Sunday, August 14, the cars of the S. & S. R. R. will leave Beverly and South Danvers at 9.30, 9.50, 10.10 A. M., and every twenty minutes till 9.30 P. M.

Will leave Washington street station for South Danvers at 9.07, 9.27, 9.47 A. M., and every twenty minutes till 9.07 P. M.

Leave Washington street station for Beverly, at 8.52, 9.12, 9.32 A. M., and every twenty minutes till 8.52 P. M.

Salem, Aug. 17, 1864. M. H. HALE, Supt.

N. J. HOLDEN,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
Office, 27 Washington Street, Salem, Mass.

SPECTACLES!

H. F. SKERRY wishes to call special attention to his stock of

Spectacles and Eye Glasses,

in Gold—Silver—Rubber—Steel and Horn frames, of which he keeps constantly on hand a very large assortment, embracing every style and quality.

—ALSO—

Opera Glasses, Microscopes, &c.

Glasses re-set, and Spectacles repaired.
In Store, our usual assortment of Silver and Plated Ware, Jewelry, Fancy Goods, and Toys. Also, Canton Ware.

No. 180 Essex Street, Salem.
H. F. SKERRY.
Aug. 17.—tf

Browning & Long.

THE LARGEST
LADIES' FURNISHING STORE
IN SALEM.
THE GREATEST VARIETY
DISPLAYED IN THIS VICINITY.
THE RICHEST GOODS,
THE LOWEST PRICES,
—AT—
BROWNING & LONG'S
177 Essex Street, 177
SALEM.
Salem, Aug. 3, 1864.

WHITE BAREGE!

WHITE CREPE MARETZ,
WHITE ALPACCA,
SHIRRED MUSLINS,
TUCKED MUSLINS,
WHITE GOODS of every description.

—For sale by—
THOMAS W. DOWNING & CO.
jy13 179 Essex Street.

COUNTRY AND SEA SHORE!

Wide Brimmed Hats,
For the Country and Sea Shore.
—ALSO—
All the FANCY STYLES OF HATS, for Ladies and Children, at
REITH & CO'S,
No. 2 West Block, Essex Street,
(One door west of J. F. Almy & Co.,)
July 6 SALEM, MASS.

LIFE INSURANCE.

THE MUTUAL
LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY,
Of New York, with a Capital of $11,000,000,
And an Annual Income of over
$2,000,000,

AND declaring a LARGER DIVIDEND than any other Company in the United States, is the one in which every man should secure a policy on his life.

The importance of LIFE INSURANCE cannot be too highly estimated. It is the safest and most practicable method of securing to your family, in case of your death, the means of a comfortable and independent support. Thousands of instances might be cited where families have thus been provided with a competency, who would otherwise have been left in penury and want. Husbands and fathers! treat not with indifference a subject of such vital importance, but see to it at once, that your families are provided with the inestimable advantages which this great and benevolent institution affords.

Because a man has wealth, it is no reason why he should not insure, for he knows not how soon his riches may "take to themselves wings and fly away." And let those who complain of the want of means, remember that

Forty-Five Cents a Week,

Will insure $1,000 on the life of a man of THIRTY.

AN ENDOWMENT POLICY,

Secures to the assured party, on attaining to a certain age, say 50, 55 or 60 years, an amount sufficient for his support in advanced age.

Another feature of this subject, deserving of especial attention, is

SURVIVORSHIP ANNUITIES!

By means of which one party may secure to another, an annuity sufficient to maintain them in comfort and independence through life. A husband may thus make provision for his wife; a father for his child; or a brother for his sister.

Endowment Policies for Children.

By this means a parent may provide, by the payment of a small annual premium, a sum of money sufficient to enable a son to enter into business, at a proper age, or for any other provision, either for a son or daughter.

Many Gentlemen of So. Danvers and Vicinity!

Have already availed themselves of this opportunity now offered of ensuring their lives, and thus securing an inestimable blessing to themselves and their families. Let others be equally wise, and immediately follow their example.

JOHN H. DERBY,
Agent for South Danvers and Vicinity.
Post Office address, Salem, Mass.
August 3, 1864.—1 mo.*

Vitrified Stone Drain Pipe.

JUST received and for sale by the subscribers, 5000 feet o. the above Pipe, the usual sizes suitable for drainage; the best in the market.

Apply to
B. R. WHITE, Mason,
St Peter Court,
or F. P. GOSS, Plumber,
No. 7 St. Peter st.
Salem, Aug. 3, 1864.—3m

LEMON SQUEEZERS,
AT S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS', 32 Front st.

Flour.
100 Bbls "Arcade Mills," 100 do "Crooked Creek," 100 do "May Flower." For sale by july 20 GAYLE & CO., Phillips' Wharf.

ICE PICKS
AND Ice Mallets with Awls, at
jy13 S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS, 32 Front st.

PRESERVE YOUR FRUIT.
GLASS Jars and Glass Covers, for preserving Fruits, Vegetables, &c., in a perfectly fresh state, for sale by S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS', 32 Front st.

A. J. Archer & Co

White Shirred Muslins,
JUST received and for sale by
je22 A. J. ARCHER & CO.

MOURNING GOODS.

AUGUSTUS J. ARCHER & CO.,
HAVE just received a fine assortment
—OF—
MOURNING DRESS GOODS,
for summer wear.
—ALSO—
On hand, a fine stock of
BLACK SILKS,
which our customers will find are at less than Boston prices.
May 25, 1864.

FANCY CLOAKINGS!
—FOR—
Spring Garments,
IN GREAT VARIETY OF STYLES,
which we are prepared to make into GARMENTS to order, in the very best manner, and at
LOWEST CASH PRICES.
A. J. ARCHER & CO.,
March 16—tf. 181 Essex Street.

HOUSE OF EQUITY,
—BY—
Arnold & Hutchinson,
(Successors to C. T. Southwick,)
FIRST QUALITY
FAMILY GROCERIES,
Sold at the Lowest Prices.

A large and complete assortment of
CROCKERY AND GLASS WARE,
Constantly on hand.
Also FLOUR and GRAIN.
ASHLAND HALL BUILDING,
NO. 1 LOWELL STREET,
F. T. ARNOLD. B. F. HUTCHINSON.
South Danvers, Feb 3, 1864.

M. A. PORTER,
236 Essex Street, - - - Salem, Mass.,
(Opposite Horse Railroad Office,)
MAKES TO ORDER BEST QUALITIES OF
WATCH SPRING SKIRTS.

A Good Assortment of Dress and Clock Button, Braids, Spool Cotton, Small Wares, and Thread Store articles generally.

236 Essex Street, - - - Salem, Mass.,
M. A. PORTER.

SPRING AND SUMMER GOODS.
168 ESSEX STREET.

WE invite the attention of the Ladies of Salem and vicinity, to our

New Millinery Goods.
Ladies' and Children's
BONNETS AND HATS,
in all desirable styles.

Crapes, Silks, Ribbons, Feathers, French Flowers, and Laces.

A full assortment of Straw Goods, Mourning Bonnets, Veils, Collars, &c., constantly on hand at the lowest cash prices.

M. E. CRANE,
Successor to M M FLETCHER,
Salem, April 6, 1864.

JUST ARRIVED,
AT DANVERS MILLS,

500 Bushels Corn, in the minnie cob, and will be sold in South Danvers. Constantly on hand a large stock of meal, which will be sold at the lowest Salem prices.

— ALSO ON HAND —
500 Bushels Feed;
200 Bushels prime Northern Oats;
100 Barrels choicest Family Flour.
A good stock of LIME constantly on hand.

JOHN C. MOULTON,
Central St., South Danvers, Mass.
May 25—tf.

DRY GOODS
—AT—
Ann R. Bray's, 76 Federal Street.

A LARGE Stock of Bleached and Brown COTTONS, which we offer at the very lowest prices:

Heavy 4-4 Waltham; Fine 9 8 Boot Mills;
Hill Cotton, Brown and Bleached;
Newmarket, A Cotton; Bennington Cotton;
Monticello Cotton; Cambrics; White Sarsnett;
Bleached Cotton, every width and quality;
American, English and French Prints;
Red, White and Gray Flannels;
Doronts 4-4 and 5-4 widths;
Brown and other Colored Drillings;
Crashes—Bleached, Brown and other colors;

☞ Our stock of Domestic Goods is full, and we shall sell as low as at ANY OTHER STORE in the city.

According to our usual practice, we shall sell out all our DRESS GOODS at a discount.

Salem, July 20—tsio

SELF-SEALING
AIR-TIGHT CASKET.

MR. CHARLES S. BUFFUM, Furnishing Undertaker of South Danvers, takes this method to announce that he has a new burial case, which combines all the advantages of a wooden receptacle with those of a metal one, and yet avoids the disadvantages of both. They have been used with great success, and bodies placed in them have been delivered in perfect preservation after having been transported over a thousand miles. To persons having deceased friends at the seat of war they are invaluable. They come at reasonable prices, are light and durable, and are perfectly air-tight. august 10

HOUSEKEEPERS, ATTENTION!
JACKSON'S
KITCHEN FURNISHING ROOMS,
Under MECHANIC HALL, Salem.

Parties about commencing House-Keeping will find this the ONLY place in Salem where a COMPLETE ASSORTMENT of House-Keeping articles can be found.
dec 9, 1863.

George S. Walker.

Closing off Summer Stock.
NO RISE IN PRICES.

GEORGE S. WALKER will sell his Summer Stock during the month of August, preparatory to the Fall trade, at the same low prices he has been selling during the Spring and Summer, without regard to the late PANIC in PRICES, or the increased premium on gold. Now is the time for those in want, before the stock is broken up, to purchase.

Under-Shirts,
Drawers,
Hosiery,
Gloves,
Scarfs,
Ties, etc.

and every article belonging to a complete Gentlemen's Furnishing Store. GEORGE S. WALKER,
No. 228 Essex St., opp. Eastern Railroad Station.
Salem, Aug. 3, 1864.

Potter, Bachelder & Co.,
DANVERS-PORT and SOUTH DANVERS,
DEALERS IN
WOOD AND COAL.
Constantly on hand

Franklin, Burnside, Dimond, } RED ASH.
Old Company & Packer's Lehigh, Pliny Fisk, Webster and Locust Mountain, } WHITE ASH.

Also Cumberland, Pictou and Campbell for Steam and Smith's use.

OFFICE—No. 6 Allen's Building.

G. W. POTTER,
J. Q. A. BACHELDER,
C. T. BATCHELDER. mch 30

M. FENOLLOSA,
TEACHER OF MUSIC,

LETS............PIANO FORTES, at the lowest rates;
SELLS............PIANO FORTES, at the Manufacturers Prices;
EXCHANGES....PIANO FORTES, on the easiest terms;

At Rooms No. 7 Central street,
feb 11 SALEM, MASS.

AARON T. LOWE,
DEALER IN
BOOTS, SHOES AND RUBBERS,
76 BOSTON STREET, 76.
aug 6 SALEM. tf

T. HARDY, JR.,
—Dealer in—
DOORS, SASHES, BLINDS,
Glazed Sash, Painted Blinds,
FENCE PALES, STAIR BALUSTERS, FRAMING PINS, &c.,
No. 26 FRONT STREET,
Salem, January 14, 1863—tf.

THOMAS PINNOCK,
SLATER,
SALEM, MASS.

Orders may be left at his Yard, No. 25 Peabody St., or at his house No. 6 Hancock street, South Salem.

Roofs covered with any kind of Slates, according to order. All work warranted.
Salem, May 7, 1862. tf

PIN WORMS. MRS. OSBORN'S Universal Worm Powders are the only sure cure ever offered to the public. They are warranted in every case; relief within 24 hrs. 25 cts. per box. Sold by all druggists.

For sale by D. P. GROSVENOR, Jr., 33 Main St., South Danvers. jan 27

EBEN UPTON,
Piano Fortes Tuned and Regulated,
MELODEONS AND PIANOS
BOUGHT, AND EXCHANGED
For New Piano Fortes, at Wholesale Prices.
Orders left at G. CREAMER'S Bookstore, Salem.
July 27, 1864.—6m

Posting Books, Making Bills and Copying.

THE above business will be promptly and accurately performed by the subscriber, who may be found at Messers. CLARK & GIDDINGS' Counting Room on Wallis Street, near the Essex Depot, or by enquiring at this office. jy13 tf JOHN D. HOWARD.

FURNITURE.

HAVING taken the Store No. 10 FRONT STREET, (formerly occupied by BENJAMIN COLMAN,) I shall keep constantly on hand a large stock of

NEW AND SECOND-HAND FURNITURE,
BEDDING, COUNTING-ROOM DESKS, &c., &c.,
which I will sell cheap for CASH.
ALL KINDS OF FURNITURE NEATLY REPAIRED.

☞ All kinds of FURNITURE and BEDDING wanted—for which the highest Cash price will be paid.

P. J. HYNES, 10 FRONT-ST.
Salem, April 6, 1864—1y

REAL ESTATE.

The subscriber offers for sale the following Lots of Land, with the buildings thereon, at Private Sale, until October next, when, if not previously sold, they will be put up at auction.

On Lowell street, a two story DWELLING HOUSE, fitted for two families. This is the Estate formerly known as the Southwick Tavern.

On Lowe street, leading from Foster St. to Washington St., a two story TENEMENT for two families with a garden attached to it.

On Washington street, near the residence of Capt. Lowe, a very eligible BUILDING LOT, on the North side of the street.

On Tremont street, a small COTTAGE HOUSE for one or two families.

On Walnut street, a pleasant, elevated Lot of Land, with a large Barn, situated opposite Mr. Caller's Currying Shop.

In the rear of the above TWO TENEMENT HOUSES.

For particulars apply to
jy 27 WILLIAM SUTTON.

MORRIS'
RESTAURANT,
18 and 20 Derby Square, Salem.

Oysters, Clams, Steak, Poultry, Game, Fish, &c., &c., COOKED TO ORDER.
Pickled Oysters, Lobsters and Clams.
Salem, July 22, 1863. tf

WATER KEGS.
ANOTHER lot of Stone Water Kegs, at
jy13 S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS' 32 Front st.

NEW WHITE WARE.
WHITE Tea Ware and White Dinner Ware, of the new patterns, at
jy 20 S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS', 32 Front st.

Job Press for Sale.

RUGGLES' JOB ENGINE PRESS. Prints a bill 13 by 19 inches. Can be run by one man at the rate of 800 per hour. Is in good condition. It will sold at a very low price, as the owner has no use for it. It is a big bargain. Apply at this office. jy 20-tf

GAYLE & CO.,
COMMISSION MERCHANTS,
AND DEALERS IN
Flour, Grain and Produce,
PHILLIPS WHARF, ... Salem.

DR. J. H. BATCHELDER,
DENTAL SURGEON,
No. 20 Washington St., (near Eastern Railroad Depot),
SALEM, MASS.
Is Licensed to make the New Patent Teeth on HARD RUBBER or VULCANITE.
July 1, 1864.

Auction Sales.

WILLIAM ARCHER, Jr.,
Auctioneer, Real Estate and Stock Broker,
34 Front Street.

Real Estate, Bank, Railroad & Manufacturing Stock bought and sold on Commission.

ON SATURDAY NEXT, at 9½ o'clock will be sold at No. 34 Front street:

SUNDRY articles of Household Furniture, Two Lathes; a quantity of Tools; Desk, &c.
Also—An assortment of Men's, Shoes; Boy's and Misses' Boots and Shoes, &c.
Also—A quantity of Clothing: Coats, Vests and Pants.

VALUABLE REAL ESTATE.

THE Subscriber offers for sale the following Lots of Land, with the Buildings thereon, at private sale, until September next, when such as then remain unsold, will be offered at Public Auction:

A new and well built two-story DWELLING HOUSE, situated on English Street.—This house is well supplied with the modern conveniences, is pleasantly situated on rising ground, and is a very desirable residence.

The MOROCCO FACTORY near the Southwick Tannery. The building is about 150 feet long by 40 wide, is well supplied with pure water and is an excellent place for the Morocco business or Currying.

Near the Morocco Factory are two TWO-STORY BUILDINGS, which may be sold with the Factory, or separately. Together they are about 80 feet long by 20 wide.

On Walnut Street is the large BOARDING HOUSE, with the land adjoining, which is excellently well situated for what it is designed.

Several front LOTS for building purposes on Walnut Street, will be sold at moderate prices and fair terms.

A STORE HOUSE 70 by 25 feet on Walnut Street, with the land under and the rear of it. It can be easily adapted for a Curriers' Shop, or for other kinds of business.

On Wallis Street, near the mill pond, a well built and painted MOROCCO FACTORY, all ready for occupancy. It is about 80 feet long by 25 wide, and in excellent repair.

Next to the Morocco Factory on the same street, a STORE BUILDING, strongly built, and framed for a DWELLING HOUSE, for which it could be easily adapted. Or it would make an excellent Shop for any kind of business.

Near ELM STREET, on a Court south of said street, are two DWELLING HOUSES, planned for two families each. One is two stories high, the other one and a half. Both houses have good tenants and yield a good income; offering a good chance for investment.

Between Harris and English Streets, one One Story DWELLING House, and a One Story and a Half House.

The above is a most excellent opportunity for enterprising young men to secure places for business and dwelling houses, on reasonable terms. Such a chance may not soon again occur.

Persons desiring to purchase any of the above lots may learn the prices and terms on application to ANDREW S. PORTER, Elm Street.
SAMUEL D. PENDAR.
South Danvers, May 11, 1864. tf

MANUAL FENOLLOSA
TEACHER
OF THE
Violin, Piano and Singing,
MUSIC ROOMS, No. 7 Central Street,
SALEM, MASS.

NEW STORE!
Flour! Flour!

JUST RECEIVED, a fresh supply of CHOICE BRANDS, direct from the Mills, for sale, wholesale and retail, at LOWEST PRICES, by
E. F. OSBORN.
Sutton's Building, Main St.
South Danvers, Nov 18, 1863.

R. C. MANNING & CO.,
Successors to JOHN DIKE & CO.,
DEALERS IN
COAL, WOOD, BARK, HAY, &c,
183 DERBY STREET,
SALEM, MASS.
N. C. ROBBINS, R. C. MANNING.
oct17

GEO. E. MEACOM,
Dealer in
DRUGS & MEDICINES,
Fancy & Toilet Articles, &c.,
126 . . MAIN ST . . 126
Nearly opposite Danvers Bank, So. Danvers.

T. A. SWEETSER,
Druggist & Apothecary
37 Main St., So. Danvers.
DEALER IN
Drugs, Medicines, Chemicals Foreign Leeches, Shakers' Herbs, Dye Stuffs, Gums, Acids, Sponges, Shoulder Braces, Trusses, and Genuine Patent Medicines
Also, Imported Cigars of choice brands, Perfumery Toilet Articles and Stationery.
Physicians' Prescriptions carefully prepared by experienced persons.
37 MAIN STREET.

D. P. GROSVENOR, Jr.,
Druggist and Apothecar
33 MAIN STREET.
Dealer in Drugs, Medicines, Chemicals, D
Stuffs, and Popular Proprietary Medicines.
Personal attention to Physicians' Presc tions.
South Danvers, May 29, 1861.

Flour and Grain.
1500 BUSHELS Canada Oats; 100 barrels S rior Family XXX Flour; just landed for sale by GAYLE & CO., Phillips Wha

DR. E. F. KITTREDGE,
From Lowell, formerly of New Ipswich, N.
Has removed his office and residence to
NO. 42 MAIN STREE
SOUTH DANVERS, MASS.
DR. K., from an extensive and successful pr sional experience of upwards of twenty years, justified in saying that he can treat diseases t satisfaction of his patients, and to the credit of self.
Office hours from 7 to 9 A. M., and from 6 to 9
South Danvers, Nov 13, 1863.

6000 BUSHELS PRIME OA received this day, and for sale by aug 10 GAYLE & CO., Phillips W

Miscellaneous.

RATHER FAST.

Artemas Ward, in speaking of his return from the wars, tells the following story:

I must relate a little incident which happened to your humble servant, on his return from the wars. I was walking along the street looking so gallant an' gay, in my brass kote and blue buttons, an' other military harness, when a excited femail rusht out of a house, throw'd her pump handles aroun' my neck—which part I didn't mind much, as they was fair, round ones—an' exclaimed:

"Doo I behoold thee once again?"

"Yoo do—an' I think you are holding me too fastly," sez I, tryiug to release the encentric femail's arms.

"Oh, hav you cum back—hav you cum back!" she vividly cried, hangin' tighter to my neck.

"Certainly, I've cum back, or else I wouldn't be here. But I don't think I know you muchly."

"Not know me—your own Claretta Rosetta Belletta—she who has not sot eyes onto you for mor'n 2 years. Yes," she continued, placin' hands onto my shoulders, an' lookin' up into my face like a dyin' horse fly—"yes, I see me own Alfred's eyes, his nose, his ears, his—"

"Madam," sez I, "excoose me, but allow me to correct you. Ef I are not mistaken, these earses and eyeses, and noses belong to meself, individooally, and your Alfred never owned 'em scarcely!"

"Away with this farces," sez she. "You can't desceve your own Claretta. Cum into the house and see your little son, Lincoln Burnside McClellan Benzer."

It was evident that the femail was mistaken—that it was not me but another man she wanted.

"How old is he?" sez I.

"Which?" she said.

"Them little son, Lincoln Burnside McClellan and so 4th."

"He's just 6 months old—the little darling!"

"Well, madam," sez I, "ef little Lincoln McClellan Burnside and so 4th is only 6 months old, and you haven't sot eyes onto your Alfred for mor'n two years, I think thar's a mistake somewhere, an' that I'm not Alfred, but another man altogether."

The woman shot into the house like 40, an' this was the last I saw of my own Claretta Rosetta Belletta, but I pity Alfred.

☞ A contemporary says naval contractors seem to think this is the time to build vessels of iron—and steal.

Special Notices.

EDITOR OF WIZARD:—Dear Sir,—With your permission I wish to say to the readers of your paper that I will send, by return mail, to all who wish it (free), a Recipe, with full directions for making and using a simple Vegetable Balm, that will effectually remove, in ten days, Pimples, Blotches, Tan, Freckles, and all Impurities of the Skin, leaving the same soft, clear, smooth and beautiful.

I will also mail free to those having Bald Heads, or Bare Faces, simple directions and information that will enable them to start a full growth of Luxuriant Hair, Whiskers, or Moustache, in less than thirty days.

All applications answered by return mail without charge. Respectfully yours,

THOS. F. CHAPMAN, Chemist,
jy 13-3m 831 Broadway, New York.

A GENTLEMAN, cured of Nervous Debility, Incompetency, Premature Decay and Youthful Error, actuated by a desire to benefit others, will be happy to furnish to all who need it, (free of charge,) the recipe and directions for making the simple remedy used in his case. Those wishing to profit by his experience, and possess a Valuable Remedy, will receive the same, by return mail, (carefully sealed,) by addressing

JOHN B. OGDEN,
No. 60 Nassau street, New York.
may 25—3m

BELL'S SPECIFIC PILLS.—WARRANTED IN ALL CASES.—Can be relied on! Never fail to cure! Do not nauseate! Are speedy in action! No change of diet required! Do not interfere with business pursuits! Can be used without detection! Upward of 200 cures the past month—some of them very severe cases. Over one hundred physicians have used them in their practice, and all speak well of their efficacy, and approve of their composition, which is entirely vegetable, and harmless on the system. Hundreds of certificates can be shown.

BELL'S SPECIFIC PILLS are the original and only genuine Specific Pill. They are adapted for male and female, old or young, and the only reliable remedy for effecting a permanent and speedy cure in all cases of Spermatorrhea, or Seminal Weakness, with all its train of evils, such as Urethral and Vaginal Discharges, Gleet, the Whites, Nightly or Involuntary Emissions, Incontinence, Genital Debility and Irritability, Impotence, Weakness or Loss of Power, Nervous Debility, &c., &c., all of which arise principally from Sexual Excesses or Self-Abuse, or some constitutional derangement, and incapacitates the sufferer from fulfilling the duties of married life. In all sexual diseases, as Gonorrhea, Gleet, and Strictures, and in Diseases of the Bladder and Kidneys, they act as a charm! Relief is experienced by taking a single box. Sold by all the principal druggists. Price $1.

They will be sent by mail, securely sealed, and confidentially, on receipt of the money, by

J. BRYAN, M. D.,
No. 76 Cedar street, New York,

Consulting Physician for the treatment of Seminal, Urinary, Sexual and Nervous Diseases, who will send, free to all, the following valuable work, in sealed envelope:

THE FIFTIETH THOUSAND.—DR. BELL'S TREATISE on Self-Abuse, Premature Decay, Impotence and Loss of Power, Sexual Diseases, Seminal Weakness, Nightly Emissions, Genital Debility, &c., &c., a pamphlet of 64 pages, containing important advice to the afflicted, and which should be read by every sufferer, as the means of cure in the severest stages is plainly set forth. Two stamps required to pay postage. December 9, 1863—1 yr.

IMPORTANT TO LADIES.—DR. HARVEY'S FEMALE PILLS have never yet failed in removing difficulties arising from obstruction, or stoppage of nature, or in restoring the system to perfect health when suffering from Spinal Affections, Prolapsus Uteri, the Whites, or other weakness of the Uterine Organs. The Pills are perfectly harmless on the constitution, and may be taken by the most delicate female without causing distress—the same time they act like a charm by strengthening, invigorating and restoring the system to a healthy condition, and by bringing on the monthly period with regularity, no matter from what causes the obstruction may arise. They should, however, NOT be taken during the first three or four months of pregnancy, though safe at any other time, as miscarriage would be the result.

Each box contains 60 Pills. Price $1.

DR. HARVEY'S TREATISE on Diseases of Females, Pregnancy, Miscarriage, Barrenness, Sterility, Reproduction, and Abuses of Nature, and emphatically the Ladies' Private Medical Adviser, a pamphlet of 64 pages, sent free to any address. Six cents required to pay postage.

The Pills and book will be sent by mail when desired, securely sealed, and prepaid, by

J. BRYAN, M. D., General Agent,
No. 76 Cedar street, New York.

Sold by all the principal druggists.
December 9, 1863—1 yr.

THE TRAVELERS INS. CO.,

OF HARTFORD, CONN.

Capital - - - - - - $250,000.

Is now prepared to Insure persons against

ACCIDENTS

OF EVERY DESCRIPTION.

Yearly policies will be issued for a premium of

FIVE DOLLARS,

granting insurance to the amount of

FIVE THOUSAND DOLLARS,

against accidental loss of life while travelling by any public conveyance.

TEN DOLLARS PREMIUM

secures a policy for Five Thousand Dollars, and also twenty-five dollars per week compensation for personal injury incapacitating the assured from his ordinary business.

TWENTY-FIVE DOLLARS PREMIUM

secures a full policy for $5000 and $25 per week compensation for all and EVERY DESCRIPTION OF ACCIDENT, TRAVELLING OR OTHERWISE.

Policies for $5000 with $3 per week compensation, can be had for $3 per annum; or any other sum between $500 and $5000 at proportionate rates.

DIRECTORS:

Gustavus F. Davis,	W. H. D. Callender,
James L. Howard,	George W. Moore,
Marshal Jewell,	Ebenezer Roberts,
Thomas Belknap, Jr.,	Charles White,
Cornelius B. Irwin,	Hugh Harrison,
George S. Gilman,	Jonathan B. Bunce.

JAMES G. PATTERSON, President.
RODNEY DENNIS, Secretary.
HENRY A. DYER, General Agent.

PLUMBER & MERCER, AGENTS,
40 State Street, Boston.

Offices in Salem—JOHN H. DERBY, No. 24 Washington street; SAMUEL MACKINTIRE, No. 218 Essex street. Aug 3, 1864—1yr

R. W. WILKINSON,

DEALER IN

Newspapers, Periodicals, and Stationery of every Description.

FOREIGN and DOMESTIC FRUITS, consisting of Oranges, Lemons, Dates, Figs, Prunes, &c., &c.

Sauces, Pickles and Preserves; Castana, Naples and English Walnuts; Hard, Soft and Paper-shelled Almonds; choice brands of Tobacco and Cigars; also a general assortment of Confectionery of every description.

Also a large and well selected stock of Toys, suitable for children and the Holiday Gifts.

Ice Cream furnished to parties at short notice and in quantities to suit. Wedding Cake and every variety of nice cake furnished to parties or families.

STORE—WARREN BANK BUILDING.

South Danvers, Nov'r 11, 1863.

Putnam Clothes Wringer.

IT IS THE ONLY RELIABLE

SELF-ADJUSTING WRINGER

NO WOOD TO SWELL OR SPLIT.
NO THUMB SCREWS TO GET OUT OF ORDER.
Warranted with or without Cog-Wheels.

IT took the FIRST PREMIUM at fifty-seven State and County Fairs in 1863, and is, without an exception, the best Wringer ever made.

Patented in the United States, England, Canada and Australia. Agents wanted in every town, and in all parts of the world.

Sample Wringer sent, express paid, on receipt of price.

Energetic agents can make from 3 to 10 dollars per day.

No. 2, $6.50; No. 1, $7.50; No. F, $8.50; No. A, $9.50.

Manufactured and sold, wholesale and retail, by THE PUTNAM MANUFACTURING CO., No. 13 Platt Street, New York, and Cleveland, Ohio.

S. C. NORTHROP, Agent.

WHAT EVERYBODY KNOWS, VIZ:

That Iron well galvanized will not rust;

That a simple machine is better than a complicated one;

That a Wringer should be self-adjusting, durable, and efficient;

That Thumb-Screws and Fastenings cause delay and trouble to regulate and keep in order;

That wood soaked in hot water will swell, shrink and split;

That wood bearings for the shaft to run in will wear out;

That the Putnam Wringer, with or without cog-wheels, will not tear the clothes;

That cog-wheel regulators are not essential;

That the Putnam Wringer has all the advantages, and not one of the disadvantages above named;

That all who have tested it, pronounce it the best Wringer ever made;

That it will wring a Thread or a Bed-Quilt WITHOUT ALTERATION.

We might fill the paper with testimonials, but insert only a few to convince the skeptical, if such there be; and we say to all, test Putnam's Wringer. Test it THOROUGHLY with ANY and ALL others, and if not entirely satisfactory, return it.

Putnam Manufacturing Co:—GENTLEMEN; I know from practical experience that iron well galvanized with zinc will not oxidize or rust one particle. The Putnam Wringer is as near perfect as possible, and I can cheerfully recommend it to be the best in use. Respectfully yours,

JNO. W. WHEELER, Cleveland, Ohio.

Many years' experience in the galvanizing business enable me to indorse the above statement in all particulars.

JNO. C. LEFFERTS, No. 100 Beckman St.

New York, January, 1864.

We have tested Putnam's Clothes Wringer by practical working, and know that it will do. It is cheap; it is simple; it requires no room, whether at work or at rest; a child can operate it; it does its duty thoroughly; it saves time and it saves wear and tear. We earnestly advise all who have much washing to do, with all intelligent persons who have any, to buy this Wringer. It will pay for itself in a year at most. HON. HORACE GREELEY.

July 27, 1864.—3m

Do You Wish to be Cured.

DR. BUCHAN'S ENGLISH SPECIFIC PILLS cure, in less than 30 days, the worst cases of NERVOUSNESS, Impotency, Premature Decay, Seminal Weakness, Insanity, and all Urinary, Sexual and Nervous Affections, no matter from what cause produced. Price, One Dollar per box. Sent, post-paid, by mail, on receipt of order. One Box will perfect the cure in most cases. Address JAMES S. BUTLER, jy 13-3m General Agent, 427 Broadway, New York.

HEYLINGBERG'S

Hair Dressing Saloon,

24 MAIN ST., SOUTH DANVERS.

J. J. HEYLINGBERG would announce to his patrons and the public generally, that on and after JUNE 1st, 1864, he will abide by the following

TARIFF OF PRICES:

Shaving,	10 cts.
Hair Cutting,	15 cts.
Champooing,	15 cts.

Particular attention paid to dying hair and whiskers, in one preparation, without washing or scrubbing.

South Danvers, May 11, 1864.

Chickering & Sons' Piano-Fortes.

Hallett & Cumston's Piano-Fortes.

Hallett & Davis's Piano-Fortes.

We select our Piano-Fortes from the above firms and warrant them to give perfect satisfaction. Our terms are reasonable, and all persons in the city and neighboring towns can be accommodated by calling at 76 Federal street.

FOR SALE—Second-hand Piano-Fortes, Chickering's and others.

ap 29 ANN R. BRAY.

NEW BOOKS,

At G. M. WHIPPLE & A. A. SMITH'S.

ENOCH Arden, by Tennyson;
Talks on Women's Topics, by Jennie June;
Capt. Brand, by Harry Wise;
The Monomaniac;
Imogene—a new Novel;
London Nautical Magazine, July;
Geneological Register, July. 190 Essex st.

Cards.

M. B. MANSFIELD,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
214 ESSEX STREET, SALEM, MASS.

 Particular attention paid to procuring Pensions, Bounties, Back Pay, Prize Money, and Army and Navy Claims of all descriptions. March 2.

H. L. HADLEY,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
CORNER MAPLE AND ELM ST.,
Danvers.

Claims against the Government for Bounty, Back Pay, and Pensions, promptly attended to.

THOMAS M. STIMPSON,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
194 ESSEX STREET, SALEM.
Residence Lowell street, South Danvers.

B. C. PERKINS,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
South Danvers—Office in Allen's Building.

ALFRED A. ABBOTT,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
Office, No. 24 Washington Street, Salem.
House, Main St., So. Danvers.

SIDNEY C. BANCROFT,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
27 Washington Street, Salem.

H. O. WILEY,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
Office, Allen's Building, South Danvers.

Claims against the Government for Bounty, Back Pay, and Pensions, promptly attended to.

A. S. CRAWFORD,
Dentist,
No. 4 MAIN STREET, SO. DANVERS SQUARE
Mechanical Dentistry Neatly Executed.

W. L. BOWDOIN,
SURGEON DENTIST,
No. 208 Essex Street, Salem, (Opposite the Market
Residence—No 57 Washington street.
jan 11—1y

NEWMAN & SYMONDS,
DEALERS IN
Family Groceries, Flour & Grain,
HARD WARE AND CROCKERY,
Ready Made Clothing, Gents' Furnishing Goods,
Hats, Caps, Boots, Shoes, &c.,
South Danvers Square, opp. Congregational Church
SAM'L NEWMAN. NATH'L SYMONDS.

S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS,
DEALERS IN
Crockery, China and Hardware; Paper Hangings; Solar and Entry Lamps; Paints, Oil and Window Glass.
No. 32 Front street, Lawrence Place,
feb13 SALEM, MASS.

HENRY L. WHIDDEN,
HOUSE AND SIGN PAINTER,
Glazier and Paperer,
Central Street, South Danvers.
All orders promptly and faithfully executed.
jan2-1y

E. S. FLINT,
DEALER IN
West India Goods, Country Poduce,
No. 2 Main Street, South Danvers.

JESSE SMITH
No. 262 Essex Street, Salem,
Importer and Dealer in
Gold and Silver Watches,
MARINE CHRONOMETERS,
Aueroid Barometers, Spy Glasses, &c.

WILLIAM BLANEY,
HOUSE & SIGN PAINTER
Grainer, Glazier and Paper Hanger.
164 MAIN STREET, Corner of Grove.
WINDOWS and BLINDS cheap for cash.
mch6-tf

F. POOLE
INSURANCE AGENT,
Allen's Building (up stairs),
Deeds drawn, and other common forms.

Horse Railroad Notice.

On and after MONDAY, May 9, the cars of the Salem and South Danvers Railroad Co. will leave

South Danvers for Salem and Beverly at 6.35, 6.55, 7.15, and 7.35, A. M., and every 20 minutes till 12.55 P. M., and at 1.10, 1.25, 1.40, 1.55 P. M., and every 15 minutes till 10.25 P. M. The 9.55, 10.10, and 10.25 P. M., cars will go only to Salem.

Cars will leave Beverly for Salem and South Danvers at 6.35, 6.55, 7.15, and 7.35, A. M., and every 20 minutes till 12.55 P. M., and at 1.10, 1.25, 1.40 and 1.55 P.M., and every 15 minutes till 10.40 P. M. The 9.40, 9.55, 10.10, 10.25 and 10.40 P. M., cars go only to Salem.

Cars leave Washington Street Station for So. Danvers at 6.12, 6.32 and 6.52 A. M. and every 20 minutes till 12.32 P.M, and leave Washington St. Station for Beverly at 6.17, 6.37, 6.57, A.M., and every 20 minutes till 12 37 P. M., and cars will leave Washington St. Station for South Danvers and Beverly at 12.45, 1, 1.15, and 1.30 P. M., and every 15 minutes till 10.00 P. M.

M. H. HALE,
may 11. Sup't. S. & S. D. R. R. Co.

FOR NEW YORK via FALL RIVER AND NEWPORT.

Cabin passage $5.00; Deck, $4.00. Cars leave the Depot of the Old Colony and Newport Railway, corner of South and Kneeland streets, at 5.30 P. M., daily.

For steamer METROPOLIS, Capt. W. Brown, on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

For steamer EMPIRE STATE, Capt. P. Brayton, on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays.

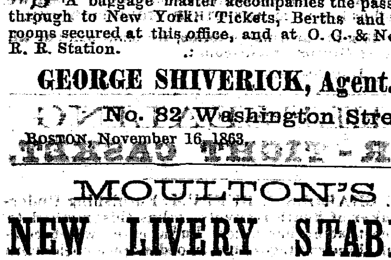
Passengers by this route can take the 4.40 P. M. Express Train, and arrive in Fall River one hour before the Steamboat Train, having time to secure State Rooms and make their preparations for the passage.

Passengers by this line going to Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, &c., can connect with the New Jersey or Camden and Amboy Railroad. Baggage Checked through.

☞ A baggage master accompanies the passengers through to New York. Tickets, Berths and Staterooms secured at this office, and at O. C. & Newport R. R. Station.

GEORGE SHIVERICK, Agent.
No. 82 Washington Street.
BOSTON, November 16, 1863.

MOULTON'S NEW LIVERY STABLE,



Is removed to stable formerly occupied by

SAMUEL HAM,

On MAIN STREET, opposite the Institute.

Good Horses and Carriages will be always in readiness at short notice.

South Danvers, May 25, 1864.

PRESERVE YOUR FRUIT.

GLASS Jars and Glass Covers, for preserving Fruits, Vegetables, &c., in a perfectly fresh state, for sale by S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS', 32 Front st.

Advertisements.

HOSTETTER'S

CELEBRATED

STOMACH BITTERS.

A pure and powerful Tonic, corrective and alterative of wonderful efficacy in disease of the

Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

Cures Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Headache, Debility, Nervousness, Depression of Spirits, Constipation, Colic, Intermittent Fevers, Cramps and Spasms, and all Complaints of either Sex, arising from Bodily Weakness whether inherent in the system or produced by special causes.

Nothing that is not wholesome, genial and restorative in its nature enters into the composition of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. This popular preparation contains no mineral of any kind, no deadly botanical element; no fiery excitant; but it is a combination of the extracts of rare balsamic herbs and plants with the purest and mildest of all diffusive stimulants.

It is well to be forearmed against disease, and, so far as the human system can be protected by human means against maladies engendered by an unwholesome atmosphere, impure water, and other external causes, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS may be relied on as a safeguard.

In districts infested with Fever and Ague, it has been found infallible as a preventive and irresistible as a remedy and thousands who resort to it under apprehension of an attack, escape the scourage; and thousands who neglect to avail themselves of its protective qualities in advance, are cured by a very brief course of this marvelous medicine. Fever and Ague patients, after being plied with quinine for months in vain, until fairly saturated with that dangerous alkaloid, are not unfrequently restored to health within a few days by the use of HOSTETTER'S BITTERS.

The weak stomach is rapidly invigorated and the appetite restored by this agreeable Tonic, and hence it works wonders in cases of DYSPEPSIA and in less confirmed forms of INDIGESTION. Acting as a gentle and painless apperient, as well as upon the liver, it also invariably relieves the CONSTIPATION superinduced by irregular action of the digestive and secretive organs.

Persons of feeble habit, liable to Nervous Attacks, Lowness of Spirits and Fits of Languor, find prompt and permanent relief from the Bitters. The testimony on this point is most conclusive, and from both sexes.

The agony of BILIOUS COLIC is immediately assuaged by a single dose of the stimulant, and by occasionally resorting to it, the return of the complaint may be prevented.

As a General Tonic, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS produce effects which must be experienced or witnessed before they can be fully appreciated. In cases of Constitutional Weakness, Premature Decay and Debility and Decrepitude arising from OLD AGE, it exercises the electric influence. In the convalescent stages of all diseases it operates as a delightful invigorant. When the powers of nature are relaxed, it operates to re-enforce and re-establish them.

Last, but not least, it is The Only Safe Stimulant, being manufactured from sound and innocuous materials, and entirely free from the acid elements present more or less in all the ordinary tonics and stomachics of the day.

No family medicine has been so universally, and, it may be truly added, deservedly popular with the intelligent portion of the community, as HOSTETTER'S BITTERS.

Prepared by HOSTETTER & SMITH, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Sold by all Druggists, Grocers and Storekeepers everywhere.

HELMBOLD'S GENUINE PREPARATIONS.

COMPOUND FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU, a Positive and Specific Remedy for diseases of the Bladder, Kidneys, Gravel, and Dropsical Swellings.

This Medicine increases the power of Digestion, and excite the Absorbents into healthy action, by which the Wtaery or Calcareous depositions, and all Unnatural Enlargements are reduced, as well as Pain and Inflammation.

—:0:—

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU.

For Weaknesses arising from Excesses, Habits of Dissipation, Early Indiscretion of Abuse, attended with the following symptoms:—

Indisposition to Exertion,	Loss of Power,
Loss of Memory,	Difficulty of Breathing,
Weak Nerves,	Trembling,
Horror of Disease,	Wakefulness,
Dimness of Vision,	Pain in the Back,
Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System,
Hot Hands,	Flushing of the Body,
Dryness of the Skin,	Eruptions on the Face,
Pallid Countenance.

These symptoms, if allowed to go on, which this medicine invariably removes, soon follows

Impotency, Fatuity, Epileptic Fits,

In one of which the patient may expire.

Who can say that they are not frequently followed by those "Direful Diseases,"

"INSANITY AND CONSUMPTION."

Many are aware of the cause of their suffering, BUT NONE WILL CONFESS THE RECORDS OF THE INSANE ASYLUMS,

And Melancholy Deaths by Consumption bear ample witness to the Truth of the assertion.

The Constitution once effected with Organic Weakness requires the aid of Medicine to Strengthen and Invigorate the system,

Which HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU invariably does. A Trial will convince the most skeptical.

—:0:—

FEMALES—FEMALES—FEMALES.

In many Affections peculiar to Females the EXTRACT BUCHU is unequalled by any other remedy, as in Chlorosis or Retention, Irregularity, Painfulness, or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated or Schirrous state of the Uterus, Leuchorrhœa or Whites, Sterility, and for all complaints incident to the sex, whether arising from indiscretion or Habits of Dissipation, or in the

DECLINE OR CHANGE OF LIFE.

—:0:—

Take no more Balsam, Mercury, or unpleasant Medicines for unpleasant and dangerous diseases.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU AND IMPROVED ROSE WASH CURES

SECRET DISEASES

In all their Stages,	At little Expense.
Little or no change in Diet.	No inconvenience.
And no Exposure.

It causes a frequent desire and gives strength to Urinate, thereby Removing Obstructions, Preventing and Curing Strictures of the Urethra, allaying Pain and Inflammation, so frequent in this class of diseases, and expelling all Poisonous, Diseased and wornout Matter.

Thousands upon Thousands who have been the victims of Quacks, and who have paid heavy fees to be cured in a short time, have found they were deceived, and that the "POISON" has, by the use of "Powerful Astringents," been dried up in the system, to break out in an aggravated form, and perhaps after Marriage.

—:0:—

Use HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU for all affections and diseases of the URINARY ORGANS, whether existing in MALE or FEMALE, from whatever cause originating and no matter of HOW LONG STANDING.

Diseases of these Organs require the aid of a DIURETIC. HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU IS THE GREAT DIURETIC, and is certain to have the desired effect in all Diseases for which it is Recommended.

Evidence of the most reliable and responsible character will accompany the medicine.

Price $1.00 per bottle, or six for $5.00.

Delivered to any Address, securely packed from observation.

Describe Symptoms in all Communications.

Cures Guaranteed! Advice Gratis!!

Address letters for information to

H. B. HELMBOLD, Chemist,
104 South Tenth st., bel. Chestnut, Phila.

HELMBOLD'S Medical Depot.
HELMBOLD'S Drug & Chemical Warehouse.
594 Broadway, New York.

BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS AND UNPRINCIPLED DEALERS who endeavor to dispose "of their own" and "other" articles on the reputation attained by

Helmbold's Genuine Preparations.
" " Extract Buchu.
" " " Sarsaparilla.
" " Improved Rose Wash.

SOLD BY

ALL DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE.

ASK FOR HELMBOLD'S. TAKE NO OTHER.

Cut out the Advertisement and send for it,

AND AVOID IMPOSITION AND EXPOSURE.

December 16, 1863.—1 yr.

WM. C. HENDERSON,
MANUFACTURER OF
PLAIN AND FANCY
PAPER BOXES;
No. 235 ESSEX STREET,
Sign of "Nest of Boxes,"
july 23 SALEM. tf

DYSPEPSIA AND FITS.

A SURE CURE FOR

THESE distressing complaints is now made known in a Treatise on Foreign and Native Herbal Preparations, published by DR. O. PHELPS BROWN. The prescription was furnished him in such a providential manner, that he cannot conscientiously refuse to make it known, as it has cured everybody who has used it, never having failed in a single case. It is equally sure in cases of Fits as of Dyspepsia; and the ingredients may be found in any drug store. Sent free to all on the receipt of five cents to pre pay postage. This work, of 48 octavo pages, beautifully illustrated, also treats on

Consumption,

Bronchitis, Asthma, General Debility, and gives the best known Herbal Remedies for their positive and permanent cure. Address DR. O. PHELPS BROWN, No. 19 Grand Street, Jersey City, New Jersey.

may 25—3m

MANHOOD:

HOW LOST, HOW RESTORED.

Just published, a new edition of Dr. Culverwell's Celebrated Essay on the radical cure (without medicine) of SPERMATORRHŒA, or Seminal Weakness, Involuntary Seminal Losses, IMPOTENCY, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage, etc.; also, Consumption, Epilepsy and Fits, induced by self-indulgence or sexual extravagance.

☞ Price, in a sealed envelope, only 6 cents.

The celebrated author in this admirable essay clearly demonstrates from a thirty years successful practice, that the alarming consequences of self-abuse may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicine or the application of the knife—pointing out a mode of cure, at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

☞ This Lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the land.

Sent under seal, in a plain envelope, to any address, POST-PAID, on receipt of six cents, or two post stamps. Address the publishers,

CHAS. J. C. KLINE & CO.,
127 Bowery, New York, Post Office Box, 4586.
June 29—10w.

SPEED, COMFORT AND SAFETY!

FOR NEW YORK.

Norwich Steamboat Train.

The only Boats Landing at Jersey City.

CABIN Passage, $5.00; Deck Passage, $4.00. The new and elegant sixteen wheel cars of the steamboat express train leave the Boston & Worcester Railroad Station, Albany Street., at 5½ P. M., daily, connecting with the new steamers, (built expressly for this line,) CITY OF BOSTON, Capt. WILCOX, Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays; CITY OF NEW YORK, Capt. JEWETT, Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays, which (before proceeding to their Pier, No. 39 North River,) will touch at the wharf of the New Jersey Railroad at Jersey City, (Sundays excepted) thus enabling Southern Passengers to make sure connections with the First Southern Train, and at the same time avoid the great annoyance of the Ferry and Hack transportation in the crowded streets of New York. This insures ample time for Breakfast before the trains leave. Conductors E. MORRILL and T. N. TURNER accompany the passengers through to New York.

Tickets, Berths and Staterooms secured at the Railroad Station, and at the Office of the line, 79 Washington Street, Boston.

Through tickets to Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington can be had at 79 Washington Street, Boston.

WM. DICKEY, JR., Agent.
Boston, January 7, 1864.

CURRIER & MILLETT,
Dealers in
Furniture, Chairs,
MATTRESSES, FEATHERS, &
259 & 261 ESSEX ST.
Salem, dec 14—1y

H. & H. G. HUBON,

WASHINGTON STREET, SALEM

Manufacturers of

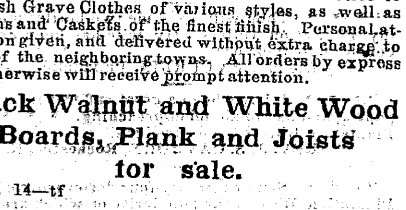
Rose Wood, Mahogany, Black Walnut and Stained Wood

COFFINS and CASKETS.

MAKING this our exclusive business, we are ready at all times and at the shortest notice to furnish Grave Clothes of various styles, as well as Coffins and Caskets of the finest finish. Personal attention given, and delivered without extra charge to any of the neighboring towns. All orders by express or otherwise will receive prompt attention.

Black Walnut and White Wood Boards, Plank and Joists for sale.

dec 14—tf



CHARLES S. BUFFUM,

BEING an authorized UNDERTAKER of South Danvers, will attend Funerals in said place with his Hearse the same as the Town Undertaker. Will also attend Funerals, when desired, in any of the neighboring towns, with one or a pair of horses.

He also furnishes Coffin Caskets, Robes, &c., lower than city prices.

All branches of the business attended to, such as furnishing Coaches, Flowers, Laying Out, &c. Ice Preservers furnished.

All orders promptly attended to, and personal attention given to them. Articles delivered to any of the neighboring towns free of charge. Orders by express or otherwise will receive prompt attention.

Central street, South Danvers,
RESIDENCE 25 ELM STREET.
South Danvers, Feb 17, 1864.

Undertaker's Notice!

THE subscriber being regularly appointed as Undertaker of South Danvers, would respectfully notify the public that he has removed from Central Street, to No. 80 Lowell Street, where he may be found in readiness to attend funerals, and to furnish, when desired.

HENRY SPENCER.
February 10, 1864.

Eastern Railroad.

ON and after MONDAY, April 4, 1864, Trains will leave the Eastern Railroad Station, Washington street, Salem, daily. (Sundays excepted):

For Lynn and Boston, *5.50, 7, 8¼, 9, 10, 11 a m., 12 55, 2¼, 5¼, 7, 7¼, p. m.
Beverly, 8, 8 15, 11¼, am., 1, 3¼, 2¾, 5¼, 6.55, 7¾ p m.
W. Beach, Man'r, Gloucester, and Rockport, 8, 11¼, a m., 3¼, 6¼ p m.
Ipswich and Newburyport, 8 05 am., 1, 3¾, 5¾, 6.55pm.
Amesbury, 8 05 a m., 1, 3¾, 5¾ p m.
Portsmouth, 8 05 a m., 3¾, p m.
Portland, 8 05 a m., 3¾ p m.

AND FOR SALEM, FROM

Portland, 8½ a m., 3 p m.
Portsmouth, 6 20, 9 10, *11½ a m., *5½ p m.
Amesbury, 7.35, 9.40 a m., 5.55 p m.
Newburyport, 7, 7 55, 10, 11.50 a m., 6½ p m.
Ipswich, 7.20, 8.15, 10.20 a m., 12.15, 6.35 p m.
Gloucester, 7, 10, 10 10 a m., 1.40, 4.40 pm.
Manchester, 7.25, 10.25 a m., 1.55, 4.55 p m.
Beverly, 6.50, 7.50, 8.20, 8.50 10.50 am., 12.45, 2.20, 5.20, 6.45, 7.05 pm.
Lynn, 7.45, 7.50, 9, 11, a m., 12.45, 3, 3.30, 4.30, 5 30, 6, 6.40, 7.30, 10 p m.
Boston, 7¼, 7¾, 8¾, 10½ am., 12¼, 2¾, 3, 4, 5, 5.30, 6.10, 7, †9 30 p m.

*Or on arrival from the East.
‡On Wednesdays this train leaves Boston at 11½ p m. and on Saturdays at 10½ p m.

MARBLEHEAD BRANCH.

Marblehead for Salem, 6¾, 7¾, 8¾, 9¾ a m., 12¼, 1¼, 5¼, 6¾, 7¾ p m.
Salem for Marblehead, 7¼, 8¼, 9.25, 11¼ a m., 1, 3¾, 5¾, 7, 7.50 p m.

SOUTH READING BRANCH.

Trains leave the South Reading Depot in Salem for Boston at 6.35, 9.50 a m., 2.25, 4.55 p m
Boston for Salem, 7 a m., 12 m., 2 30, 5½ p. m.

ESSEX RAILROAD.

Leave Salem for Lawrence and way stations, 7, 11¼ a m., 4.45 p m.
Lawrence for Salem, 8 a m., 12.40, 5.50 p m.
Danvers for Salem, 8.40 a m., 1.20, 6.30 p m.
South Danvers for Salem, 8¾ a m., 1.25, 6.35 p m.

J. PRESCOTT, Superintendent.
Boston, April 5, 1864.

Salem and Lowell Railroad.

ON and after MONDAY, April 4, 1864, Trains will run as follows:

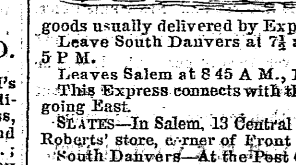
Leave Lowell for Salem, 7.25 a m., and *2.45 p m.
Leave Salem for Lowell, *9 40 a m. and 6 00 p m.

Passengers are not allowed to carry baggage above $50 in value, and that personal, unless notice is given and an extra amount paid. Season tickets do not entitle the holder to take baggage.

*Freight Train with passenger car attached.

F. H. NOURSE, Local Superintendent.
April 4, 1864.

South Danvers & Salem Mail Express.



E LITTLEFIELD, successor to P. Webber, will run an Express regularly between So. Danvers and Salem for the delivery of packages and bundles, and all goods usually delivered by Express.

Leave South Danvers at 7½ and 11 AM, and 1½ and 5 P M.

Leaves Salem at 8 45 A M., 12 M., 2½ and 6 P M.

This Express connects with the first train from Salem going East.

SLATES—In Salem, 13 Central st., and at the Messrs. Roberts' store, corner of Front and Washington sts.

South Danvers—At the Post Office; at Blake & Holman's store; also at R. O. Spiller's store. aug 10

Abbott's South Danvers & Salem EXPRESS.

Leave South Danvers,	7½ a m, 1 p m
Leave Salem,	10 a m, 4 p m

Orders left at Teel & Moulton's, and principal stores on Main street, South Danvers; and at 7 Washington street, and at Reed's in the Market, Salem.

Are you Insured?

THE subscriber would respectfully call your attention to the fact that he is fully prepared to effect INSURANCE AGAINST FIRE, to any amount, at current rates, on

Dwelling Houses, Barns and their contents, Stores, Stocks of Goods, Furniture, &c. &c., and on buildings in process of erection,

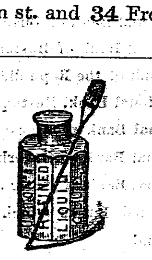
And that he is the authorized Agent for the following responsible Stock and Mutual Companies, viz:

Thames Insurance Co., (Stock,) Norwich, Conn.
Capital—$500,000.
Amos W. Prentice, Pres. Oliver F. Rice, Sec'y
Conway Insurance Company, (Stock) Boston.
Capital and Surplus—$260,000.
James F. Whitney, Pres. David C. Rogers, Sec'y.
City Insurance Company, (Stock) Boston.
Capital—$150,000.
Samuel P. Hayward, Pres. Austin W. Benton, Sec'y

Also, will effect Insurance on the LIVES OF INDIVIDUALS, for one year, seven years, or for the whole term of life, in the

Massachusetts Mutual Life Ins. Co., Springfield, Mass.
Capital and Assets—$375,000.
Caleb Rice, Pres. D. B. Bacon, Sec'y.
William Mack, M. D., Medical Examiner.

WM. ARCHER, Jr.,
18 Washington st. and 34 Front st., Salem.
feb20-1



ALWAYS SUCCESSFUL!

TO ALL THOSE WHO SUFFER FROM

DEBILITY AND SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

DRS. CARSWELL & HUNTER, regularly educated, highly eminent and successful practitioners, after a very extensive practice in Boston, for over twenty years, need hardly speak of their medical qualifications, or remind strangers not to class them with a set of uneducated men, who fill the papers with their boasting advertisements. Drs. C. & H. caution the public against quackery in all its forms, pretending, as some self-styled doctors, to cure all the most difficult and chronic diseases, without knowledge of the human system, or of the modus operandi of the most simple drugs.

Drs. C. & H., since 1840, having confined their whole attention to an office practice for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, they acknowledge no superiors.

CONSTITUTIONAL DEBILITY OR SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Drs. C. & H. are pre-eminently successful in the treatment of the above most difficult and perplexing of all diseases, this complaint being the result of a secret habit in youth; if neglected or improperly treated, it proves one of the greatest evils that can befall a human being. Dr. H. has given particular attention to the above disease for years, and so thoroughly has he become acquainted with the pathology and treatment, that he will warrant a perfect cure under forfeiture of $500; in fact, he will, in the cure of this complaint, acknowledge no superior in this country, or even in the world. Come, then, all you who are afflicted, come to the Old Stand, where you will in a short time be made to rejoice in perfect health.

SYPHILITIC AND SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS,—such as Ulcers and Caries of the throat and nose, Running Sores on the legs and arms, Hard Scabs and Scaly Eruptions on the head, back, &c., pains in the bones and joints, and all other forms of venereal diseases—are made to yield and entirely disappear under Drs. C. & H.'s improved and thoroughly eradicating course of treatment.

The primary or first symptoms of disease, whether a simple running, or small pistules, cancers, or ulcers, are cured in a very few days, if immediate application is made to Drs. C. & H.

13 ENDICOTT STREET, BOSTON, 13

Strangers should be particular in the selection of a physician, lest they be deceived by false advertisements.

Ladies troubled with irregularity, weakness, whites, and other complaints peculiar to the female system, will find a speedy cure by calling as above. No mercury used, and no charge for advice. The afflicted are invited to give us a call.

Boston, April 20, 1864.—1 yr.

25 YEARS' EXPERIENCE enables DRS. CARSWELL & HUNTER to cure any diseases of a private nature in a shorter space of time and for a smaller amount of money than any other doctors in this country, and they also treat all female complaints with perfect success, and on the most satisfactory terms. Patients furnished with board if desired. Please give us a call at our office, No. 13 Endicott St., Boston, Mass.

Boston, April 20, 1864.—1 yr.

A Card to the Suffering.

SWALLOW two or three hogsheads of "Buchu," "Tonic Bitters," "Sarsaparilla," "Nervous Antidotes," &c., &c., &c., and after you are satisfied with the result, then try one box of OLD DOCTOR BUCHAN'S ENGLISH SPECIFIC PILLS—and be restored to health and vigor in less than thirty days. They are purely vegetable, pleasant to take, prompt and salutary in their effects on the broken-down and shattered constitution. Old and young can take them with advantage. Imported and sold in the United States only by

JAS. S. BUTLER, No. 427 Broadway, New York.
☞ Agent for the United States.

P. S. A Box of the Pills, securely packed, will be mailed to any address on receipt of price, which is ONE DOLLAR, post-paid,—money refunded by the Agent if entire satisfaction is not given. jy 13—3m

SUMMER ARRANG
TO LYNN & BOS
BY
OMNIBUS & HORS
W. F. BURNHA

Line of Omnibuses will leave the Lyn Omnibus Office, No. 6 Allen's Buildin yers, passing down Main Street, through Street, to Lynn, daily—Sundays include

Leave South Danvers at 7 50 o'clock and 4 50 P. M.

Leave Lynn (Horse Car Depot, West A. M., 2 40 and 6 40 P. M.

Horse Cars leaving the office at 14 B at 8 15 A. M., 1 15 and 5 15 P. M., will m buses at Lynn, at the above named h passengers to South Danvers.

Tickets to Lynn, - -
Through to Boston, -

Gravesend, Woodend, and Depot Route.

ON and after Monday, Nov 2, in additi route, an Omnibus will leave South Lynn, to connect with the steam and times daily,—Sundays excepted,—runn Gravesend and Woodend, to the Centra and Horse Railroad Station, corner of Broad Streets; leaving South Danvers at necting with the 7.25 steam cars for Bos (connecting with the 11.10 train), and 4 P ing with the 4.50 train); and returning, from the Spring Street Station and Cent pot, at 8 A M, and 1 and 6 P M.

Fare from S. Danvers to Boston by ho
" " " " ste

Through Tickets to and from Boston m the Drivers and Conductors.

South Danvers, Salem an Route.

THE subscriber having purchased of ley the Omnibus line running fro Lynn, would announce that it will no Stage Office, No. 6 Allen's Building, Sou for Salem, at 7 30 A M, and 2 30 P M, an Stage Office in Central St, Salem, at 8 3 30 P M for Lynn. Returning will leave A M and 5 P M; and Salem for South Da A M, and 6.15 P M.

Passengers between South Danvars and be called for by leaving orders at the offi Passengers called for at reasonable char s given at the office.

EXPRESS BUSINES

Between South Danvers and Lynn prom ed to, on reasonable terms.

Extra Coaches furnished at short notice

W. F. BUR
South Danvers, April 20, 1864.

GROUT & MUNRO
SOUTH DANVERS & B
RAILROAD EXPRE

Express leaves South Danvers at 1
Freight " at 5
Express leaves Boston at 3
Freight " at 4

OFFICE at FREIGHT DEPO
Danvers Square.

Express Office in Boston, 3 Washing
Freight Office, 48 Kilby St

Particular attention paid to remo niture, collecting Bills, Notes, Draft

Smallest favors thankfully received.

South Danvers, august 26—tf

MARSHALL'S
DANVERS, SO. DANVERS &
EXPRESS.

Leave DANVERS (daily) at 9 A. M.
SALEM at 1½ P. M.

OFFICES:
In Danvers—At E B Waitt's and the Post
Danversport—Richards' and A W Warren
In So. Danvers—Francis Dane & Co's, and street.
In Salem—No 7 Washington street, 199 Es 17 Derby Square.

All business promptly and faithfully atte

—— Our patrons are particularly re write their orders.

—— Packages, left at the office, should "Marshall's Express."

—— Being connected with the RAI are enabled to forward Notes, Drafts an collection, and small packages, to all pointin the United States, at the usual

P. G. MAR
decl5-tf

Important to the Afflic

DR. DOW continues to be consulted at Nos. 7 and 9 Endicott street, Boston, eases of a

PRIVATE OR DELICATE NATU

By a long course of study and practical of unlimited extent, Dr. D. has now the g of presenting the unfortunate with rem have never since he first introduced them cure the most alarming cases of

GONORRHŒA AND SYPHILIS.

Beneath his treatment, all the horrors, of and impure blood, Impotency, Scrofula, Go Ulcers, pain and distress in the regions o tions Inflammation of the Bladder and Kid drocele, Abcesses, Humors, frightful Swell the long train of horrible symptoms atten class of disease, are made to become as ha the simplest ailings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Dr. D. devotes a great part of his time to ment of those cases caused by a secret and habit, which ruins the body and mind, un unfortunate individual for business or socie of the sad and melancholy effects produced habits of youth, are Weakness of the limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimness of s pitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervous rangement of the digestive functions, Sym Consumption, &c. The fearful effects on are much to be dreaded; loss of memory, of ideas, depression of spirits, evil fo aversion of society, self-distrust, timidity, among the evils produced. Such persons sh fore contemplating matrimony, consult a ph experience, and be at once restored to he happiness.

Patients who wish to remain under Dr. Do ment a few days or weeks, will be furnis pleasant rooms, and charges for board mode Medicines sent to all parts of the country, directions for use, on receiving descriptio cases. Dr. Dow has also for sale the French warranted the best preventive. Order by or $1 and a red stamp.

CAUTION

TO FEMALES IN DELICATE HEA

DR. DOW, Physician and Surgeon, 7 and 9 street, Boston, is consulted daily for all dise dent to the female system. Prolapsus Uteri ing of the Womb, Fluor Albus, Suppression, er menstrual derangements, are all treated u pathological principles, and speedy relief gu in a very few days. So invariably certain is mode of treatment, that most obstinate co yield under it, and the afflicted person soon in perfect health.

Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater experien cure of diseases of women and children, t other physician in Boston.

Boarding accommodations for patients w wish to stay in Boston a few days under h ment.

Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined his tention to an office practice, for the cure of Diseases and Female Complaints, acknowle superior in the United States.

N. B.—All letters must contain four red st they will not be answered.

Office Hours from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M.

CERTAIN CURE

IN ALL CASES, OR NO CHARGES M

Dr. Dow is consulted daily, from 8 a.m. to as above, upon all difficult and chronic dis every name and nature, having by his unwe tention and extraordinary success gained a re which calls patients from all parts of the co obtain advice.

Among the physicians in Boston, none stan in the profession than the celebrated DR. DO 7 Endicott street, Boston. Those who need vices of an experienced physician and surgeo give him a call. P. S.—Dr. Dow imports and sale a new article, called the French Secre by mail. Two for $1 and a red stamp.

April 20, 1864—1y.

E. S. FLINT,
Manufacturer and Dealer in INNER SOLE
AND SHOE STIFFENINGS OF ALL
2 MAIN STREET, SOUTH DANVERS

Choice Spring Pigs for Sa

THE subscriber offers for sale nice PIGS of Prince Albert and Chester County bre which the Mackie took the First Premium at t CattleShow. Prices reasonable.

BYRON GOODALE,
Near Tapley's B
South Danvers, April 1, 1864.

South Danvers Wizard.

OL. V. SOUTH DANVERS, MASS., WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 31, 1864. NO. 35.

SOUTH DANVERS WIZARD

ed every WEDNESDAY, at Allen's Build- Danvers Square.

-Two Dollars a year.

ISEMENTS inserted at reasonable rates.

CHARLES D. HOWARD,

ITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

NILES, Advertising Agent,

ollay's Building, Court Street, Boston, is for that city, and is authorized to re- ertisements and subscriptions for us at t rates.

Selected Poetry.

THERMOMETER 101.

BY COUSIN BENJA.

racious! "What hot weather!"
l melt and run together,— eople say they never saw the like before;
d hotter still 'tis growing—y up to over flowing—reath of air is blowing gh the blinds, or in the door!
stir among the ladies,
nd sinners, maids and babies—
e emigration rages
aratoga and the Falls;
y move—the "Hotel guestes," packed down like modern presses—
skates and bathing-dresses, port hats, and travelling shawls.
our baggage—take your check,
afe except your neck,
ence will that protect redit due the corporation;
r comfort—what can hinder,
mind the dust and cinder;
shall soon be at the "station!"
e masters pulling, hauling, running—children squalling—
d hackmen, loudly calling—rriage! Carriage!" quick and tell 'm—e room yonder if you please," mind a little squeeze, rt, luxury and ease
it us all at "Hotel Pelham."
trunks unpacked?" then hasten in, hen the rich displays begin,
ways sure to raise the WIND
ong the "TONS" in fashion school. s of envy, great and small,
athering around the hall;
ercury, too, begins to fall—
w great the cost to keep one cool.
ou tell me, Cousin Jobe,
ese people A LA MODE?
I saw them in the road—
es, but we must whisper low,
r. Bird, his wife and daughter—lived a year on bread and water they might come and 'board a quarter,'
'recruit their health,' you know."
we live—and thus we find half the world of human kind,
e the body, soul and mind,
gratify some foolish passion;
ing years, that they may gain
mpous crown, an empty name;
reach the goal—but not the fame,
en die a slave to pride and fashion.
, that we should scheme and plot, em and be, what we are not;
s make ourselves a worthless blot pon the page of time's great journal, life at best, is but a span,
would a blessing prove to man,
e would but his powers expand;
nd reap rewards in life eternal.

E WERE BOYS TOGETHER.

BY G. P. MORRIS.

were boys together,
nd never can forget school house near the heather, childhood where we met;
the green home to memory dear,
s sorrows and its joys, ich called the transient smile or tear
When you and I were boys.

were youths together,
nd castles built in air;
ur heart was like a feather,
While mine was dashed with care.
you came wealth with manhood's prime,
o me it brought alloys, er imaged in the primrose time,
When you and I were boys.

We're old men together,
The friends we loved of yore,
ith leaves of autumn weather,
Are gone for evermore.
w blessed to age the impulse given—
The hope time ne'er destroys—hich led our thoughts from earth to Heaven,
When you and I were boys.

ICE FOR DIPTHERIA.—A correspondent of the ovidence Journal vouches for the efficacy of e as a cure for diptheria, croup and all ordi- ry inflammations of the throat. The man- r of application is as follows:—"Break up small piece of ice in a towel, and put the ieces in a bowl, take a position slightly in- lined backwards either in a chair or on a sofa. roceed to feed yourself with small lumps of e, letting them dissolve in the back part of he throat. A single application will often reak up a common sore throat, which other- ise would have a course of two or three days. n cases of bad sore throat, use ice frequently nd freely. In cases of ulceration or diptheria, eep a small lump of ice constantly in the outh."

☞ What kind of meat was kept in he ark? Ham.

Selected.

[From the Beverly Citizen.]

A SUMMER DAY AT NAHANT.

BY MRS. P. A. HANAFORD.

Years ago I read N. P. Willis's enthusiastic descriptions of Nahant and its attractions, and from that hour longed to visit the little peninsula, listen to the roar of old ocean on the hard, smooth, sandy beach, and clamber amid its rocks where the salt spray flew, and the sea-bird screamed. Not until the summer of 1860 was this desire gratified, and then I had only a hasty visit and an unsatisfied glance at the wonders and beauties of this world-renowned watering-place, in contributing to whose celebrity the sketch by Willis mentioned above had no small share. I was therefore heartily glad when my friend, who favored me with the meorable afternoon at Andover, invited me to take the vacant seat in their carriage, and make one of her family party to the rocky shores of Nahant.

Early on the morning of the 23d of June, 1864, then, we were on our way. The clouds had mocked us with a promise of rain, much needed even then, for which we would willingly have postponed our excursion, but the air grew sultry, and we were glad to speed away to the sea-side, ere the sun should reach the meridian. The road from Reading to Nahant passes through Lynnfield, and Lynn, and is a wooded and pleasant path. Fine farm-houses, with a thrifty look, and the elegant cottages of summer residents, were often to be seen, the hills far and near were crowned with trees whose masses of rich foliage were finely delineated against the background of the azure sky, flecked here and there with an evanescent cloud, and the book of Nature seemed indeed to be opened at an illuminated page. As we rode quietly along, pleasant voices and our carriage-wheels alone seeming to break the silence of Nature in those shady paths, where willows often arched the little travelled roads, the contrast of the quiet beauty of that scene and hour, with the rattle of musketry, the roar of cannons, and all the varied and indescribable din of battle in other parts of our land, could not but be felt, and the reflection that far away where our brothers and friends are battling for the Right, scenes are transpiring every hour which will give anguish to many hearts, brought irresistibly, by contrast, the words of Longfellow to the mind—

> "No tears
> Dim the sweet look that Nature wears."

As we passed near High Rock in Lynn I looked up at the residence of the Hutchinson minstrels, and remembered the pleasant music I had heard from them in old Beverly, with a wish that they may live to sing a song of jubilee over a free and peaceful nation. Crossing the city of Lynn, we soon came to the small and rustic cottage of the late Alonzo Lewis—the historian of Lynn, and a poet of no inconsiderable merit. His little volume "Sea-Shells and other Poems" is not unworthy of a place beside the larger works of Bryant whom he much resembles in his vivid and minute descriptions of scenes in Nature. His cottage stands back from the street;—every traveller to Nahant passes it, and it may be known by the quantity of wood with the bark on, used in its construction, and by the enormous egg shaped granite pebbles—a foot and more in diameter—which adorn the tops of the seven or eight stone posts in front of the cottage. I thought of the admirable bust of Mr. Lewis which was modeled by Miss Quiner in Beverly, and which, I believe, she has recently presented to some literary institution in the city of Lynn, where it will be preserved and duly valued.

We did not pause at this suggestive looking tenement, but hastened along the sandy way to our destination. The clouds had gathered again, and when we stopped at the stable of the Maolis House, the rain was pattering on the top of our carriage. Nothing daunted, we spread an umbrella, and with divers and sundry articles, edible and otherwise, to promote our comfort, we repaired to the Tudor Garden. This, as you may be aware, is the pet project of the late Frederick Tudor, a man who both made and used immense sums of money. He has now passed to the spirit land, and his hotel has recently—since our visit—been spirited away by the Fire King. But the evidences of his peculiar tastes remain in the curious arrangements of the garden, where visitors "for a consideration" may choose a sort of wooden summer house—set their own tables, and enjoy while partaking of their repast, wide and pleasant views of the broad, blue ocean. Near the beach is a pool of water, where in gilded letters one reads "Pool of Maolis"—(Maolis is "Siloam" spelt backwards.) In another place is a lofty frame supporting a swing. Among some trees is seen "Taurus," chained. Representations of various scenes, both rural and patriotic, adorn the sides of some of the little summer houses, while the roofs of some are ornamented with shells, and gilded carvings. Some rare plants are to be seen in this garden, but it is not very valuable as a garden. Its chief charm lies in these comfortable pic-nic houses with the admirable sea-views from their open fronts. The eccentric taste of its former owner are shown in a square stone temple surmounted with an enormous gilded ornament in the form of a shell. Here are seen wooden lions in a den, but without a Daniel.

Here then, in this unique spot, where man only seemed to mar, what Nature made lovely, except when his works tended to promote comfort, we rested after our ride; the rain soon ceased, the warm sun exhaled the drops from the grass, the ocean breeze refreshed the travellers from the inland town of Reading, and the noon repast was memorable from the feast of which the eyes partook, while the palate also was satisfied. I gazed with ever new delight far over the blue waves toward my late beloved home on Essex Shores, but the long promontory of Marblehead, and the mist which curtained the North and East forbade the view I desired, of Lowell and Baker's Islands, and the shores of Beverly and Manchester. Egg Rock was in full view, about a mile distant from us, rising precipitously to the height of eighty feet, from the azure waters which dashed against its dark, rocky sides, and threw the white spray far up toward the house upon its summit. Egg Rock is oval in shape, and there the gulls—those screaming sea-birds—deposit their eggs in large quantities, from which circumstance, probably, the Rock derives its name. We looked inquisitively through a spy-glass at the islet, but though we would gladly have trod its rocky paths, we failed to feel willing to trust ourselves to the tiny barque we saw coming toward us from it, tossed like a plaything on the waves, rising and falling on the ever-restless surges. Numerous small busy-like objects were to be seen in the water nearer to us, which proved to be tokens of the places where the lobster-traps are secured. Ever and anon a white wing would be dipped in the billow, sufficient to remind one of a far-off shipwreck, and

> "The sea-bird! sea-bird! sea-bird!
> Love looker on despair;
> The sea-bird! sea-bird! sea-bird!
> The only witness there."

My own eyes looked upon this scene with the delight of one cradled by the deep. Many a time since I left the sea-side, have I exclaimed with the Greek Islander in the Vale of Tempe, in the words of Mrs. Hemans,

> "Where is the sea?—I languish here—
> Where is my own blue sea?
> With all its barques in fleet career,
> And flags, and breezes free.
>
> I miss that voice of waves, which first
> Awoke my childhood's glee;
> The measured chime—the thundering burst—
> Where is my own blue sea?"

Nor am I alone in this longing for the ocean. It is shared by every islander, and by many others whose early homes have been by the seaside. As I looked across to Marblehead, I thought of a gifted friend, born there, who still sighs for old ocean, from her pleasant inland home, and the same pen, which years ago wrote that favorite song—"Do they miss me at home?" wrote also > "Talk not of leafy summer woods,

> Their wealth of sweetest minstrelsy,
> Their sylvan shades and solitudes,—
> I languish for my own blue sea!"*

What though the blue waters of a far-off ocean encircle the forms of two whose presence were as light and song in the home of my childhood, shall I love the ocean less? Do other bereaved ones love the green earth less because deep in its bosom are the buried forms of departed friends? Nay; the spot where loved and honored dust reposes is but the dearer, and more sacred and precious to me than ever, is now the wide and solemn sea. It is a beautiful, a glorious object!—the great highway of nations!—the symbol of God's infinity and eternity! So grand and majestic has it seemed to me when the chariot of the Storm-King has rode madly over its foaming billows, and so beautiful when the moon beams have silvered its placid bosom, that I have often wondered that the Revelator had no place for it in his glowing description of heaven's undying attractions. Recently the Rev. Dr. Stebbins, in a published sermon, has answered my unspoken query. He says, "The answer is plain. John had been driven from the circle of his friends, the bosom of his disciples, and the hearts which he loved, and banished to the little rocky island of Patmos. There he had no friends to sympathize with him. His heart was desolate. All around him was sea. He could not cross from the rocky islet to the home of his friends; the impassable waters spread between. He could see, as the sun set, the tinted peaks of the mountains which rose above their dwellings; he could almost see the curling smoke which rose from their desired abodes; but he could not join their prayer nor their song. All around was sea,—deep, wide, weltering, impassable sea. No wonder, then, that, in describing things undesirable which would be unknown in the celestial world, he should declare that there would be no sea there. No such barrier will separate friend from friend, heart from heart. No such waste of waters will sadly welter and moan between loving hearts, sympathizing bosoms. Heart will join heart, hand will join hand, and no sea will ever separate them. No wonder, as the Apostle's heart yearned for the society of his friends, and his hand was stretched out hopelessly towards the abode of his kindred in the Gospel, that he excluded the sea from his symbols of the blessed abode. It was not to him a means of intercourse with his friends; it shut them from his presence. It was a barrier, not a highway. To him it was a symbol of separation, not of union. But in heaven there is no separation. There is no more sea. Ah, beloved Apostle, whose heart was like an overflowing fountain, well didst thou exclude the sea from the symbols of the heavenly country for there all will be united. No barriers will prevent our attaining the object of our desires. Heaven is not a country of closed gates, but of open fields. It is not a prison, but perfect freedom. It is a place of growth, of advancement in knowledge and goodness, and holy communion. It is a place of the highest activity and widest freedom."

I have not surely wandered from my theme by dwelling thus upon the sea, for what would Nahant be but for its proximity to the ocean? We left our property in the pic-nic house, watched over by the guardian at the garden-gate, and rambled along the shore. Our first pause was made near the little cottage now occupied by Prof. Agassiz—(we caught a glimpse of the illustrious savan in a bottle-ornamented room) at the place known as the "Sporting Horn." While on the bank above we heard what we really supposed to be distant thunder, but at last discovered the sound to proceed from the deep cavern beneath us. Descending, we stood where the salt spray could sprinkle us, and watched the waves driven through the rocky tunnel, which is said to be one hundred feet in length, into the cavern, from whence it is spouted wildly forth, joining the crags around. There was a gleeful excitement in the scene and our proximity to the rush and whirl of the hoarse breakers, and we fairly clapped our hands and shouted, as some huge billow, following its tumbling predecessors, would come in with a majestic roll, pour down its volume of water into the rocky entrance of the cave, and in a few seconds, with a loud reverberating voice, the water would come forth, sporting high in the air, and scattering its silver spray over the adjacent rocks and unwary spectators.

Turning reluctantly away with a glance at Castle Rock, we passed into the village, noticed many charming cottages, gardens and villas, and crossing to the opposite side of the promontory, found ourselves near the cottage formerly occupied by the lamented Prescott. The historian himself described it in a letter as "a cottage where for more than twenty years I have passed the summer months, as it is the coolest spot in New England. The house stands on a bald cliff overlooking the ocean, so near that in a storm the spray is thrown over the piazza, and, as it stands on the extreme point of the peninsula, is many miles out at sea. It is not a bad place—this sea-girt citadel—for reverie and writing, with the music of the winds and waters incessantly beating on the rocks and broad beaches below. The place is called 'Fitful Head,' and Norna's was not wilder." Prescott's secretary describes it as a small, plain structure of wood—an ordinary New England dwelling house, in short, with a veranda running round three sides of it. There were perhaps three or four acres of ground attached to it, treeless and shrubless, and covered in summer with a scanty growth of grass. From the house, on three sides, a pebble could be tossed into the ocean."

Here, at Nahant, Prescott commenced his history of Philip II. and it is said he usually worked hard, as an author, here, for the air refreshed and exhilarated him.

Not far from Prescott's modest summer residence we found the Swallow's Cave, a passage some eight feet high, ten wide, and seventy-two in length, according to the guide book, and clambering along the rocks we obtained a glimpse of a "tall arch, grotesque and beautiful," called Irene's Grotto.

This was the extent of our sight seeing at Nahant, most of the party being too weary to proceed farther. On my previous visit I had seen Pulpit Rock, and had also passed near the hotel which was destroyed by fire a few years ago, and which was said to be "the largest in America, the carpeted floors covering over an area of nearly four acres; nine miles of wire were required to connect the bells with the annunciators, and the whole of this immense establishment was lighted with gas manufactured on the premises." We noticed the blackened ruins of this vast hotel, but did not pass near it. The afternoon had worn away, and after a hasty supper in the garden, and a farewell look at Egg Rock, and the far off sails skirting the horizon, we entered our carriage, and turned homeward. As we drew near the far-famed beach — the long beach where bathers frolic in the surf at some hours, and fast horses skim over the hard sand at others—we saw a lady on horseback, and the last picture of Nahant which lingers in my memory, is the smooth, shining beach with the lady clad in dark, flowing robes, gracefully riding on her snowy steed, and attended by a large and beautiful greyhound. Probably Alonzo Lewis was pursuing the same path with ourselves when he said,

> "And now the city smoke begins to rise,
> And spread its volume o'er the misty sea.
> From school dismissed the barefoot urchin hies
> To drive the cattle from the upland lea;
> With gentle pace we cross the polished beach,
> And the sun sets as we our mansion reach."

I cannot better close this hastily penned account of our Summer day at Nahant than by quoting the admirable description of this "matchless watering-place," from the pen of Mr. Lewis—"The temperature of Nahant, being moderated by sea breezes, so as to be cooler in summer, and milder in winter than the main land, is regarded as highly conducive to health. It is delightful in summer to ramble round this romantic peninsula, and to examine at leisure its interesting curiosities—to hear the waves rippling on the colored pebbles of the beaches, and see them gliding over the projecting ledges in fanciful cascades—to behold the plovers and sand pipers running along the beaches, the seal slumbering upon the outer rocks, the white gulls soaring overhead, the porpoises pursuing their rude gambols along the shore, and the curlew, the loon, the black duck, and the coot, the brant, with his dappled neck, and the old-wife with her strange, wild vocal melody, swimming gracefully in the coves, and rising and sinking with the swell of the tide. The moonlight evenings here are exceedingly lovely; and the phosphoric radiance of the billows on favorable nights, (making the waters look like a sea of fire,) exhibits a scene of wonderful beauty.

But, however delightful Nahant may appear in summer, it is surpassed by the grandeur and sublimity of a winter storm. When the strong east wind has swept over the Atlantic for several days, and the billows, wrought up to fury, are foaming along like living mountains breaking upon the precipitous cliffs—dashing into the rough gorges—thundering in the subterranean caverns of rocks, and throwing the foam and spray like vast columns of smoke, hundreds of feet into the air, above the tallest cliffs—an appearance is presented which the wildest imagination cannot surpass. Then the ocean—checked in its headlong career by a simple bar of sand—as if mad with its detention, roars like protracted thunder; and the wild sea birds borne along by the furious waters, are dashed to death against the cliff. Standing at such an hour upon the rocks, I have seen the waves bend bars of iron an inch in diameter double, float rocks of granite sixteen feet in length, as if they were timbers of wood, and the wind, seizing the white gull in its irresistible embrace, bear her, shrieking, many miles into Lynn woods. In summer a day at Nahant is delightful, and a storm in winter is glorious, but terrible."

Reading, Mass.

* Mrs. Caroline A. Mason.

A DAILY PAPER.

A daily paper, said Edmund Burke, "is the history of the world for one day;" therefore it is the most valuable history that can be read—the history of our own times, which is of much more importance than the history of the Jews, Greeks or Romans, though it is virtually a repetition of their story, and must be to a great extent, since mankind in all ages and countries is essentially the same. The newspapers of to-day are greatly different from what they were a few years since, not only in the general improvement which is common to other things, but in a change of character.—Formerly there were no editorials discussing the topics of the day. The news, which in this country fifty years ago chiefly related to European affairs—the means of communication in this country being limited and slow, and the common people being less ready to correspond with the press. Even now the most popular papers are those giving most attention to news, with editorials of less consequence. We believe there is not a newspaper in this country having a large circulation on its editorial ability! Therefore it happens that literary men and scholars who were not born editors—for editors like poets must be born and cannot be made—seldom succeed. The first literary men of England and America have been forced to retire from the field discomforted, when men of far less ability and taste, but acquainted with the people and their habits, and patient and industrious in collecting news, near and distant, and in writing little items which is the real labor of a newspaper, have risen to distinction. It is different however in Europe, where the masses of the people read less, and the patronage of papers is from a different class; there the great papers depend very much upon their editorials.

In this country the main reliance of the newspaper, as we have said, for circulation, is news; and the main reliance for income is advertising; while the main disability is politics, which does more to corrupt the press, as it does the pulpit at this day, than all other causes; and when corruption comes to press and pulpit it quickly goes to the people. Already we have so degraded ourselves that people set it down as certain that a newspaper must belong to the one or the other of the political parties into which the community is divided; and it is very seldom that publishers or editors have the independence, or, if the manliness, the pecuniary resources, to rise above that servile condition. If one attempts it, and alike approves what is right in all parties, and alike censures the administration and the opposition where he knows they are wrong, he is denounced as whiffling and turning, one thing to-day and another to-morrow, and nothing reliable at any time. Just as though a newspaper must be a hireling, groveling partisan sheet to be anything, and an editor the lying tool of party and power to maintain position, while the support of truth, and the defence of manhood and its rights were not deserving public approbation. Hence it happens that in religion and politics, the newspaper is degraded to low partisanship, and so fails to be that great blessing which it might be, if its object was the elevation of man and the progress and happiness of the race—charity to our neighbor, and the good of our country, irrespective of sect or party, and against sect and party when needed. It is really painful to read what we know is designed to misrepresent, because our side demands it. It is painful to know that the private and public expression are widely different, because a pressure is put upon the conscience of the publisher, and the editor writes as if instant execution threatened, if an honest opinion was declared.—Newburyport Herald.

SAVE YOUR OLD NEWSPAPERS.—Paper-stock dealers pay eight cents a pound for old newspapers in good condition; the material can be made over into white printing paper, and the greater the supply the less will be the increase in the price of the new sheet. Wilkes's Spirit of last week says on this point:

"In Europe a hotel or housekeeper never thinks of destroying a newspaper, or of using it for kindling purposes. All over the continent and in England cheap little bundles of sticks (two or three for a penny,) with the ends dipped in resin, supply all the purposes in the way of kindling which could be performed by five times the value of white printing paper; while the other uses for paper are met by an inferior brown material, which inflicts no waste upon the printing stock. By this means the major part of the original stock is preserved for reproduction, and the price of the article constantly kept down. By the same thrifty system of saving old newspapers and handing them over to the dealers, who will be glad to call at private houses for them, nearly the whole market stock will be preserved, turned into the mill, and reproduced with the loss, certainly of not more than ten or fifteen per cent. Under the present wasteful habits of the public, nearly the whole current edition is now utterly destroyed, while the demand constantly exists against the source."

☞ Why do pioneers go before the army? To axe the way.

COULDN'T TELL.

A few evenings since a Mr. Slocum was reading an account of a dreadful accident which happened at the factory in the town of L——, and which the village editor had described in a great many words.

"I declare, wife, that was an awful accident over to the mill," said Mr. Slocum.

"What is it about, Mr. Slocum?"

"I'll read the account, wife, and then you'll know all about it."

Mr. S. began to read:

"Horrible and Fatal Accident.—It becomes our melancholy and painful duty to record the particulars of an accident that occurred at the lower mill, in this village, yesterday afternoon, by which a human being, in the prime of life, was hurried to that bourne from which, as the immortal Shakspeare says, 'no traveller returns.'"

"Du tell!" exclaimed Mrs. S.

"Mr. David Jones, a workman, who has but few superiors this side of the city, was superintending one of the large drums—"

"I wonder if 'twas a brass drum, such as has 'Eblubust Unum' printed on't?" said Mrs. Slocum.

—"when he became entangled. His arm was drawn around the drum, and finally his whole body was drawn over the shaft at a fearful rate. When his situation was discovered he had revolved with immense velocity about fifteen minutes, his head and limbs striking a large beam a distinct blow at each revolution."

"Poor creeter! how it must have hurt him!"

"When the machinery had been stopped it was found that Mr. Jones's arms and legs were macerated into a jelley."

"Well, didn't it kill him?" asked Mrs. Slocum, with increasing interest.

"Portions of the dura mater, cerebrum and cerebellum, in confused masses, were scattered about the floor; in short, the gates of eternity had opened upon him."

Here Mr. Slocum paused to wipe his spectacles, and his wife seized the opportunity to press the question—

"Was the man killed?"

"I don't know—haven't come to that place yet; you'll know when I've finished the piece." And Mr. S. continued reading:

"It was evident when the shapeless form was taken down, that it was no longer tenanted by the immortal spirit—that the vital spark was extinct."

"Was the man killed?—that's what I want to come at," said Mrs. Slocum.

"Do have a little patience," said Mr. S., eyeing his better half over his spectacles. "I presume we shall come upon it right away." And he went on reading:

"This fatal casualty has cast a gloom over our village, and we trust that it will prove a warning to all persons who are called upon to regulate the powerful machinery of our mills."

"Now," said Mrs. Slocum, perceiving that the narrative was ended, "now, I should like to know whether the man was killed or not?"

Mr. Slocum looked puzzled. He scratched his head, scrutinized the article he had been perusing, and took a graceful survey of the paper.

"I declare, wife," said he, "it's curious, but really the paper don't say!"

☞ It often appears in a family as if all the qualities of the progenitors were potted in several jars—some ruling quality in each son or daughter of the house—and sometimes the unmixed temperament, the rank, unmitigated elixir, the family vice, is drawn off in a separate individual, and the others are proportionately relieved.

☞ The following is probably by Lorenzo Dow: You can stop a clock at any moment, but you cannot stop a watch. The same remark, my brethren, applies to the stopping the talk of a man or a woman. He is a great coarse, ugly machine, but you can silence him. She is a beautiful, fragile, jeweled thing—but she will run on till she stops herself.

☞ Two countrymen went into a hatter's to buy one of them a hat. They were delighted with the sample, inside the crown of which was inserted a looking-glass. "What is this glass for?" said one of the men. The other, impatient at such a display of rural ignorance, exclaimed, "What for? why, for the man who buys the hat to see how it fits him."

☞ Why is a drunkard like a Copperhead? Because he is always sticking his nose into measures to hurt the Constitution.

The Wizard.

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 31, 1864.

NEW ENGLAND CATTLE SHOW.

The Fair of the New England Agricultural Society promises to be a notable occasion of its kind. As it comes so early in the season, the 6th proximo, it will not probably have on exhibition many wonders of the vegetable world.—Harvesting in this State hardly begins so early as this. The principal feature will be the show of live stock. In this line it ought to equal any thing of the kind ever had in the country. Take the six New England States together they comprise very great resources for almost any kind of agricultural exhibitions.

We think the enterprise is worthy of encouragement, and respectfully suggest to our farmers who can spare the means and the time, that they cannot do a better thing for themselves than to attend the Convention. We hope South Danvers will be represented among the attendants and exhibitors.

Nearly every railway in New England, has agreed to take stock, free both ways, and many will run excursion trains, or sell tickets at reduced prices, among which the Eastern, and Boston, and Maine roads. Gov. Andrew, will deliver an address on the fourth or last day, on the grounds of the exhibition.

DEATH OF COL. GOULD OF THE 59TH. Col. J. P. Gould died at the officers' hospital, Philadelphia, on Sunday, the 21st. He was wounded in the attack on Petersburg, on the 30th ult., and had a leg amputated. He was educated at the Norwich Military Academy, and followed the profession of civil engineer. He resided at Stoneham and had represented that town in the Legislature. When the war broke out he organized a company which was attached to the 13th Mass. regiment, and was soon promoted to the rank of Major. In several battles he commanded that regiment. Upon the organization of the veteran regiments in this State, he was appointed to the command of the 59th, and was in all the engagements of the 9th Corps up to the time when he received his fatal wound. He was a brave officer, much esteemed alike in the army and among those who knew him at home.

17TH REGIMENT.—A letter has been received at the State House from Gen. Butler, stating that orders had been issued to Gen. Palmer to give the re-enlisted members of the 17th Mass. regiment a furlough at once, for 40 days. He says that it would have been inconvenient to have furloughed the men before, and it will be seen that the veterans have an extra furlough of ten days, which, however, is no more than they deserve; for, notwithstanding the delay about sending them home, they have conducted themselves in a manner to meet the warm commendation of their general officers.

THE CHICAGO DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION appears to be very largely attended, and the indications were, when we went to press, that McClellan would be the nominee, notwithstanding the violent opposition he receives from the Peace-on-any-terms party, who call him "The Great Hesitator," and say that he lacks nerve, etc. Dean Richmond was particularly severe on him, by saying, when asked if "Mac" was nominated whether he would support him or not, "We have an idiot in the Presidential chair now, and we do not want to fill his place by another!"

REVENUE DECISION.—It appears from the recent decisions of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue—supposing his decision to be right—that farmers are included in the list of business men who must pay for an annual license of $10, if the gross amount of their produce is $1000. We have a good many farmers in South Danvers and Danvers who will come within this description.

TEMPERANCE.—We see by the Nation—a temperance paper of considerable literary merits—that the Sons of Temperance at a convention out in Norfolk County, resolved that the Legislature ought to pass a law compelling town officers, under severe penalties, to enforce the liquor law.

THE SCHOOL SHIP MASSACHUSETTS, Capt. R. Matthews, is on a cruise along the coast. Last week she entered the harbors of Marblehead and Gloucester, and on Friday evening arrived in Salem, where she remains till this morning.—She has on board more than a hundred and fifty boys.

DEFENCES ON SALEM NECK.—The Salem Gazette says that additional works of defence are to be constructed on Salem Neck. That mysterious low black craft which somebody wrote to the Journal about, must look out now.

ROCKVILLE.—We learn that five volunteers from this place have enlisted in the Newbury quoto, viz: William W. Reed, Joseph Rhodes, Lowell Mason, Warren A. Galeucia, Benjamin Stone.

THE 39TH MASS. REGIMENT.

This regiment was very badly cut up in the recent fight for the possession of the Weldon Railroad, near Petersburg. We learn that they now number, all told, only 96 men, and are at present under the command of Capt. GEORGE S. NELSON, of Co. A. Their losses were mostly in prisoners, among whom we regret to say, is Lieut. CHARLES W. HANSON, of this town. HARRISON DODGE is also reported a prisoner. All the particulars that have yet come to hand, concerning Lieut. Hanson's capture, are contained in the following letter, directed to his wife, from the adjutant of the regiment:

AUGUST 20TH, 1864.

MRS. HANSON,—I suppose that you are aware before now that our corps has been engaged again, and for fear that you may have received a wrong impression in regard to Charlie, I have decided to make you acquainted with the facts so far as I know myself. To be brief, I must state that from all that I saw—and judging from what men of his Company told me this morning—I feel perfectly sure and satisfied that he was not wounded, but that he, with Capt. Hutchins, was taken prisoner about three o'clock P. M., last Thursday. We had a severe battle, and held our ground, but lost heavily. Our Colonel is mortally wounded.—I hardly know what I shall do now. My Sergt. Major is missing, my clerk also. Charlie a prisoner, Colonel and Lieut. Colonel gone, and I entirely used up. I left the Brigade about five o'clock that night and went to see Col. P., then went to Dr. Shundik's tent and laid down. Have not returned to the regiment yet, nor do I know when I shall; I do not feel able to walk a half mile to-day.

Respectfully, etc.,
HENRY M. MOULTON.

MAJOR GENERAL GRANVILLE M. DODGE.—This officer, who it is reported was recently shot through the head at Atlanta while exposing himself on the picket line, was born in Danvers, Mass., April 12, 1831, and was educated at the Military Academy at Norwich, Vt. He was commissioned Colonel of the 4th Iowa Volunteers June 17, 1861, and was promoted to Brigadier General in March, 1862; for bravery at Pea Ridge. His gallant conduct at Sugar Valley, May 9, and Ressacca, May 14 and 15, 1864, secured for him the rank of Major General, which was confirmed on June 7, 1864. He has since held the full command of the Sixteenth army corps, and has participated in all the operations of Sherman's Georgia campaign. He fought at New Hope Church, May 27, and operated continually on the right of the main army, engaging the rebels at Big Shandy, June 25, 1864. At the beginning of July he changed front to the left of Sherman's lines, but before crossing the Chattahoochee changed back again. Again changing to the left, he assisted in the occupation of Decatur, five miles from Atlanta, on July 17. On the 20th and 22d of July he was seriously engaged on the left before Atlanta, after which under Gen. Howard, he again changed front to the right. On July 28th, he was again attacked—this time while on the march—and behaved bravely. Since then he has boldly done his duty on the right, and has met with his supposed mortal wound while in the front, on August 19, 1864.

Gen. Scammon, who left Atlanta on the 22d, reports Gen. Dodge still alive, but dangerously wounded.

HOW GEN. DODGE WAS WOUNDED.—A letter from Atlanta states that Gen. Dodge was wounded while making a tour of inspection. Not content with a view from the front line of works, although there is constant danger there from flying bullets, the General, following a little trench, cut for the purpose, walked out to the picket line. The pickets are intrenched, and having little port holes made by setting two boards on the parapet with their upper edges touching, the lower edges thrown apart, and then covering them with dirt. Through one of these Gen. Dodge was looking when some rebel perceived him and fired, with almost fatal effect. The ball struck the forehead at the upper edge, over the left eye, tore off a portion of the scalp, and then passing backward tore a gutter of two or three inches in length through the scalp. The skull is not fractured, though it received a severe stroke. He was immediately conveyed to his quarters.

THE ARMY NEWS, up to Tuesday, is favorable, but not exciting. The enemy not only lament the loss of the Weldon railroad, but constantly fight for it, and the Richmond papers say it will require all the skill and energy of Lee and Beauregard to redeem the field. On the 25th, Gen. Hancock, who was south of Reams Station, was attacked several times, but repulsed the enemy in every assault. In the afternoon a combined attack was made on his centre and left, which, after one of the most desperate battles of the war, resulted in the enemy withdrawing from the field, leaving their dead and wounded on the ground.

BOY SOLDIERS.—The garrison at Fort Gaines consisted in part of four hundred boys between the ages of fourteen and eighteen, who, hastily called together at Mobile, had been sent down to the fort to assist in repelling the assaults of our fleet and soldiers. These children formed a portion of an entire regiment.

LETTER FROM A SOUTH DANVERS TAR.

It is gratifying to know by the following letter, that our town has had a hand in the late brilliant achievements of Admiral Farragut, in Mobile Bay, in the persons of T. SYLVESTER HUNT, and LEMUEL MASON, who form a part of the crew of the noted Hartford. Mr. Hunt writes to his father, as follows:

U. S. FLAG SHIP HARTFORD,
Mobile Bay, August 15, 1864.

DEAR FATHER,—We are now in Mobile Bay and I will give you some account of the fight. At 3 o'clock, A. M., August 5th, the fleet got under way and sailed for Fort Morgan. The sun was just rising, and the ships were sailing side by side, our ship ahead. The flags looked splendid. The fort opened fire first, and then the fleet replied, and such a roar of cannon I never want to hear again.

The first ship that passed the fort was the old Hartford, with the admiral; he was up in the rigging, while we below manned the guns. One of our monitors (Tecumseh) sunk in front of the fort, after the fleet got in. The rebel ram Tennessee came at us, and was going to sink the fleet, but the ships run her down, and she gave up. Not, however, before she had run into our ship and given us a broadside, killing a good many men. I thought our time had come, but Farragut was bound to have her if he lost his ship, and at last the admiral of the Tennessee surrendered. We also took a good many small vessels, but the ram Tennessee is the greatest prize we have taken. All of her crew were taken prisoners, and I was one of the guard put on board of her, where I have been ever since till to-day. After we took the ram we had to go to work on the forts, capturing Fort Powell and then Fort Gaines—splendid works; but Fort Morgan will not give in yet, although we are banging away at her and will soon have her.

From August 8th to the 13th I was on the ram, and we had to fight the forts. They fired five shots to our one, but they could not put any through the ram, for her sides are six feet thick, and plated with six inch iron. The rebels thought she never could be taken, but it is all up with her now, so far as her former owners are concerned. Some of our men are in Fort Powell, and LEMUEL MASON is with them, keeping guard until Fort Morgan is taken, when they will come back to the ship.

The Hartford is considerably damaged, and we lost sixty men killed and wounded. It was a dreadful sight to see our deck covered with blood, and men and officers lying together. The shot and shell came through our ship very fast, and one shell killed eight men near where I stood. When the balls were flying around me, in the thickest of the fight, and in the midst of the uproar of that dreadful battle, I thought of home and the loved ones there I might never see again.

I am in the best of health, and so is Lemuel Mason. Yours, for the Union,

T. SYLVESTER HUNT.

CABBAGE LICE.—Farmers complain bitterly of the sad havoc of cabbage lice. The oldest inhabitant of our town has never known this insect, creature, vermin, or what not, to be so abundant before. Acres of cabbages have been blasted by its ravages. This is another of the evil results of the remarkably dry season. Last spring, cabbages were $20 a hundred; if we do not have great rains soon this vegetable will be $40 a hundred next spring. There is, however, an easy remedy, which our farmers would have seasonably applied had they been accustomed to trouble from this cause. The remedy is this: Dredge upon the infected vegetable through a fine sieve, a quantity of ground plaster, or air-slacked lime, or dry ashes. These substances, or anything similar, immediately absorbs the moisture from the little soft impalpable substance that makes up the "corporosity" of this half vegetable and half animal insect. To make sure work this remedy should be applied several times, and always with care, lest some of the leaves would not be touched by it.

HORSE CARS.—The Salem Car Factory Company are doing a brisk business in the manufacture of horse cars. We recently examined two beautiful cars for the city of New York, made of gas pipe frame and very neatly painted. They were marked on the sides, "So. Broadway and R. R. Depot," "Main, Mechanic and Spring Streets," "Y. and N. Y. R. R. Co." (Yonkers and New York.)

DANVERS.—Our neighboring town of Danvers is fast filling her quota with men of the right stamp. Thirty-three of her citizens have just enlisted and have been paid bounties by the town, amounting to $9900. Of this sum only $300 have been taken with them by these men, the balance being left on deposit for their benefit.

STATE CONVENTIONS.—The Republicans of Massachusetts will meet by delegates in Convention, at Worcester, on Thursday, 15th September proximo, to make nominations of candidates for State officers.

The Massachusetts Democratic Convention will be held at Worcester, September 21.

THANKS.—We return our thanks to Charles L. Flint, Esq., Secretary of the New England Agricultural Society, for a complimentary ticket to the exhibition, which takes place at Springfield, Sept. 6th, 7th, 8th and 9th.

SLEEPER'S MASS. BATTERY was among the captures by the rebels, on Thursday, at Reams Station. Captain Sleeper was wounded in the right arm, and lost 16 men and 54 horses, besides his guns.

RAILROAD ACCIDENT.—About 9 o'clock on Saturday morning, Mr. Albert Whipple, of Hamilton, in attempting to pass the railroad track at the crossing near Frye's Mills, with a two horse team loaded with meadow hay, got the wheel of his wagon caught by the side of the rail, and before he could get it extricated, the down train from Lowell approached, but stopped in season to prevent any damage at that time. A man was sent up the track to stop the train from Lawrence, but he was not in season, as the train was just coming round the curve, and, although the brakes were applied and the engine was reversed, the Lawrence train ran into the Lowell, making a complete wreck of the latter. There were about a hundred passengers in the Lowell train, and it is truly surprising that no one was killed, and so very few injured at all. The most serious casualty was to a woman named Bridget Lee, whose leg was badly injured; Mr. Charles Crane, of Middleton, had a painful though not dangerous wound on his head; Mrs. Appleton, of Lowell, had her foot hurt, and several others were a little bruised, but nearly all the passengers escaped entirely uninjured. The sufferers were at once properly cared for, being removed in carriages, and every attention paid to them. The Lawrence train was not much injured, and no passenger was hurt.

As the hay team started, the wheel struck Mr. Bernard Dugan, of Salem, throwing him down, and, it is feared, inflicting internal injuries, though there are no bones broken.—Salem Register.

The Gazette, in its account of the accident, says, that both trains, in breaking up, labored under the great disadvantage of a slippery track, incident to the moist, dog-day morning. The Lawrence engine struck the rear of the Lowell train about one third the length of the bridge from the road. The force of the blow knocked away the smoke-stack, and buried the front of the engine in the hindermost Lowell car, staving in the end completely. The back of the tender was lifted from its back wheels, which were thrown from the track. With the exception of bending the platform rails, this constituted the chief damage to the Lawrence train. The Lowell cars, however, were driven into each other with great force, destroying the platforms, and the car bodies becoming interlocked. The ends were completely smashed up, as were many of the seats. The wheels became disengaged also, and the cars were thrown far out of place. The sleepers across the bridge were destroyed for some rods. The splinters and broken wood were thrown about in great disorder, and the scene, as hundreds could testify during the day, was one of the utmost confusion.

GEN. GRANT'S movement the past week, by which he has obtained possession of the prize so long coveted, the Weldon railroad, is one of great importance to us; so long as we hold that, Richmond is cut off from the South, and Lee may not unlikely find the division of his army, so as to confront Sheridan in force, a troublesome matter in the end.

JOHN MITCHELL, the Irish exile, and late editor of the Richmond Examiner, is now serving as a conscript private in an ambulance corps of the rebel army, after having given the life of one of his sons, and his own talents and influence to the rebellion.

CAMP MEETINGS.—In the five years of holding camp meeting at Hamilton they have not failed to have a good rain during the session. It has averaged more than two inches to a meeting, or 12.52 inches for the five meetings.

BRIG. GEN. E. W. HINKS,—who, at his own request, on account of feeble health, was relieved from his command under Major Gen. Butler—has lately been serving on General Court Martial at Washington.

QUOTAS.—Newbury has filled her quota for the coming draft; Lawrence has also filled hers, and has nine to spare. South Danvers will be "out of the woods" by the 5th of September, with her quota running over.

REINFORCEMENTS.—It is estimated that the number of recruits for General Grant's army passing through from New York, Boston and New Haven, average daily about 1000.

RELIGIOUS.—The Church and Society of the late Rev. Dr. Parsons Cooke, of Lynn, have voted to extend a call to Rev. J. E. Baklin, of Lowell, to become their pastor, with a salary of $2000.

FORT MORGAN TAKEN.—This immense fort, with its garrison, (including General Paige,) guns, munitions of war, surrendered to Admiral Farragut on the 27th inst.

MAJOR SHOREY.—We are glad to see it stated that Major Shorey of Lynn, reported killed some two weeks ago, is still alive though badly wounded. He has our prayers for his safe delivery.

RHODE ISLAND'S QUOTA FILLED.—It is officially announced by the Governor that Rhode Island has by voluntary enlistments filled her quota.

FELT'S TYPE-SETTING MACHINE FACTORY, in Bridge Street, Salem, is progressing with enterprising despatch.

LIEUTENANT A. A. PUTNAM, 2d Mass. Heavy Artillery, has been appointed Assistant Provost Marshal in Newbern, N. C.

THE ATLANTIC MONTHLY, ever welcome, for September, has arrived. This magazine holds its well-earned position as among the highest in our periodical literature. It is not often that we see in periodicals, foreign or domestic, a more able paper than the leading article—"The Cadmean Madness." There is a good deal of vivacity in the remaining articles.

☞ Captain Robert S. Daniels, Jr., has sent us copies of the Pittsburg (Pa.) Commercial, for which he has our thanks.

Poor Richard's Reasons for buying United States Securities.

The other day we heard a rich neighbor say he had rather have railroad stocks than the U. S. stocks, for they paid higher interest. Just then Poor Richard came up, and said that he just bought some of Uncle Sam's three years notes, paying seven and three-tenths per cent. interest. My rich friend exclaimed, "You! I thought you had no money to buy with."—"Yes," said Richard, "I had a little laid up, for you know it is well to have something laid up against a wet day, and I have kept a little of my earnings by me." Now Poor Richard is known to all the country round to be a very prudent and industrious, and withal, wise man; for Richard never learned anything he didn't know how to make use of, and his wisdom and prudence had become a proverb. So, when he took out his savings and bought the notes, more than one was surprised, and it was no wonder rich Mr. Smith asked why. So Poor Richard, in a very quiet humble way—for he never assumed anything—replied, "I suppose, Mr. Smith, you know a great deal better than I do what to do with money, and how to invest; for I never had much, and all I got I had to work hard for. But I have looked round a good deal upon my neighbors, and seen what they did with their money and I will tell you some things I saw and what I thought of it. One very rich man was always dealing in money, and he made a great deal, but was never satisfied without high interest. So he lent most of his money to some people who he thought were very rich, at a very high rate; and he often told how much he got, till one day the people he lent to went to smash.—He got back about ten cents on a dollar of his money. I knew another old gentleman, who had some bank stock and he went to the bank and got ten per cent. dividend. The President and everybody said it was the best stock in the country—paid ten per cent. But what did the old man do but sell his stock the next day!—Why? why? said everybody. Because, it pays too much dividend. And in six months the bank went to smash. Now, that I know to be a fact. Well, Mr. Smith, you say railroad stocks are best, because they pay high dividends? Can you tell how long they will pay them? I like railroads. I helped to build one, and I go in for useful things. But I tell you what I know about them. One-third of the railroads don't pay any dividend, and two-thirds (and some of them cracked up, too;) do not pay as much as Government stocks. Now that brings me to the Government securities, and I will tell you why I prefer them. I take it you will admit, Mr. Smith, that in the long run the investment which is best should have these qualities: First, it should be perfectly secure; secondly, that the income should be uniform and permanent—not up one year and down the next; and thirdly, that it should be marketable, so when your wet day comes, and you want your money, you can get it back.—And I think these notes or bonds have got these qualities more than any other kind of personal property you can name. Try it.

"First, then, I have been looking into that great book you call the Census Statistics. I used to think it wasn't worth much; but since I began to study it, I tell you, I found out a good many things very useful for me to know. I found out, by looking at the crops, and the factories and shipping, &c., that we (I don't mean the Rebel States) are making a thousand millions of dollars a year more than we spend. So you see that (since the increase of debt isn't half that) we are growing rich instead of poorer, as John Bull and the croakers would have us think. Then the debt will be paid, anyhow, no matter how long the war is. Besides, did you ever hear of a Government that broke before the people did? Look into your big histories, Mr. Smith, and you will find the people break before the Governments. Well, then, I call that stock perfectly secure.

"Secondly, you want the income uniform and permanent. Well, I want you to take up a list of banks, railroads, mines, insurance companies—anything you choose—and tell me (honor bright, now!) how many have paid a uniform income for ten or twenty years. Not one in a hundred, Mr. Smith, and you know it.

"Now here is the Government will pay you without varying a tittle. Now I like something that gives me my income every year.

"Thirdly, you want something which is marketable any day in the year. Now, if you will ask any bank President, he will tell you that Government stocks are the only kind of property that is always salable, because they will sell anywhere in the world.

"Now, Mr. Smith, this is why I put my little savings in Government stocks. I confess, too, that I wanted to help that dear old country, which is my home and my country." "I confess," said Mr. Smith, "I hadn't thought of all this. There is a good deal of sense in what you say, and I will go so far as to put two or three thousand dollars in United States stocks. It can do no harm."

We left Mr. Smith going towards the bank, and Poor Richard returning home, with that calm and placid air which indicated the serenity of his disposition and the consciousness of doing right towards his country and his fellow man.

NOTICE.

"Christ Blessing Little Children," and "Home on a Furlough."

Subscriptions for the above beautiful Engravings received at
B. F. STEVENS' Jewelry Store.

The subscriber, following the example of other business men, has concluded to adopt the "Cash plan." All goods bought or jobs left to be repaired, must be paid for on delivery hereafter.
B. F. STEVENS.
South Danvers, Aug. 31, 1864.

TRIMMING LACES—JOHN P. PEABODY has just received a full line of Brussells Trimming Laces, in all widths, from 25 cents to $2.00 per yard. He has also a full line of Bugle Gimps, Buttons, &c., &c.

RECRUITING.—During the last three days of the past week there were ninety-five recruits sent from the Provost Marshal's office in Salem, to Galloupe's Island, and quite a number in addition sent to the Navy Yard. Let the good work be pressed; only a few days remain before the draft.

Real Thread and French Lace Veils—new patterns—at PEABODY'S.

WHITE GOODS.—We would call the attention of our readers to J. P. PEABODY'S Stock of White Cambrics, Muslins, Lawns, Linens, Nansooks, India Book and Swiss Muslins. As these goods are rapidly advancing in price, it is best for any one to buy early, and they will find a good Stock and the lowest prices at PEABODY'S. He has just opened a full line of Black Malta Trimming Laces.

THE 7-30 LOAN.—The total amount of subscriptions to the 7-30 loan to August 29th, is $25,876,000.

☞ Goods received for LEWANDO'S FRENCH DYE HOUSE. M. E. CRANE.
Jan 20 tf

Port of Danvers.

Ar 25th, sch Olive Avery, Wilson, New York, corn to J V & J Hanson; 27th, Br sch Reindeer, from Digby.

Marriages.

In Salem, Aug. 11th, by Rev. Mr. Hartney, Mr David Ragen to Miss Mary M'Carty; 18th, Mr. William Keating to Miss Lucy E. Kelley; 21st, Mr. Patrick Welch to Miss Catharine Mitchell; Mr James O'Connor to Mrs. Honora Wiley.

23d, by Rev. Mr. Wendell, Mr. George W. Peach (17th Unattached Company Heavy Artillery) to Miss Lizzie J. Thompson, both of Salem.

28th, by Elder Rufus Wendell, Mr. Francis A. Ballard to Miss Hannah J. Clark, all of S.

In Marblehead, Aug. 20th, by Rev. Mr. Allen, Mr John S Peach (17th Unattached Company Heavy Artillery) to Miss Elizabeth Homan.

In Boston, Aug. 24, Mr. Charles J Devereux to Miss Lucy Best.

Deaths.

In this town, August 24th, Jeremiah, son of Michael and Ellen Kelley, 10 months.

In Danvers, August 23d, Mary, daughter of Carl and Joanna Callahan, 11 mos; Jeremiah, son of Daniel and Julia Conner, 3 mos.

In Salem, August 23d, Mr Robert J. Carter, 45 yrs; 24th, Francis J, son of James and Mary Ann Kelley, 6 years 10 months 19 days; 25th, Oliver Haskayne, youngest child of John and Catharine M'Key, 11 mos 23 days; Mrs Sarah, widow of the late Loammi Baldwin, 84 years; 26th, Mr. Patrick Dignan, 70 yrs; 28th, Mrs. Harriet, widow of the late Mr William Stickney, 73 years 9 mos; Mary, daughter of James and Mary Totten, 17 months.

In Beverly, Aug. 22, Mrs Sophia A., wife of Capt Stephen Masury, 49 yrs 8 mos.

In Marblehead, Aug. 22d, Mr. Andrew M. Selman, 45 yrs 8 mos 24 days.

In Lynnfield, Aug. 26, Miss Abigail Hart, 64 years.

In Ipswich, August 26, Capt Sylvanus Caldwell, 77 years.

In Rowley, August 21st, of diptheria, Rosie Belle, daughter of Benj. S. and Caroline L. Dodge, 5 years 10 months.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

HEAD-QUARTERS, BOSTON, August 20, 1864.

GENERAL ORDER, No. 32.

The Volunteer Militia of Massachusetts, as it existed previous to the beginning of the present war, having been almost entirely broken up by the enlistment of its members, individually and as Companies and Regiments, in the service of the United States, in response to the different calls of the President for troops for three months, nine months, one hundred days, one year and three years; and the laws establishing this Volunteer Militia being no longer in conformity with the system of organization prescribed by the laws of the United States, and it having been found impossible to recruit this militia under the laws as they stood, and the safety and honor of the Commonwealth imperatively demanding a well-organized militia for the common defence; the Legislature of Massachusetts at its last session passed an Act, entitled an Act concerning the Militia, which was approved on the 14th day of May last, and which is the 238th Chapter of the Acts of 1864, establishing a new system, in strict conformity to the Constitution and Laws of the United States and the Constitution of the Commonwealth, and by which all previous Acts concerning the militia were repealed;—

As it was known, however, that some of the old organizations still possessed a strong vitality,—as others were capable of being revived and resuscitated, and as there are many glorious associations connected with the names of Companies and Regiments which have won imperishable honor for themselves and for the State,—the Legislature, while abolishing the whole of the ancient system, provided that the Commander-in-Chief might continue in being and retain such Companies and Regiments of the old Volunteer Militia as he should see fit;—

By General Orders No. 22 of the 23d June, 1864, the different commanding officers were directed to make return to the Adjutant-General, on or before the 10th of July, 1864, of the condition of their several commands, stating therein the number of men to be relied on for duty, with any suggestions they might think proper to make relative to the expediency of continuing or disbanding their commands

From the returns made in response to this Order, and from all other accessible sources of information, the Commander-in-Chief has sought to determine what Companies and Regiments of the Volunteer Militia, and of the Independent Division of Militia, presented such proof of present efficiency, or of a power to recruit themselves so as to conform to the requirements of the law, as to warrant him in continuing and retaining them.

And in accordance with the results of such examination, it is hereby ordered that the Companies and Regiments hereinafter enumerated shall be continued and retained, viz.:

CAVALRY.

1. The Company in Boston commanded by Captain Lucius Slade, and heretofore known as Co. A, 1st Battalion Light Dragoons.
2. The Company in Boston commanded by Captain C. T. Stevens, and heretofore known as Co. B, 1st Battalion Light Dragoons.
3. The Company in New Bedford commanded by Captain George H. Shaw, and heretofore known as the company of Cavalry attached to the 2d Brigade, 1st Div. M. V. M.
4. The Company in Charlestown commanded by Captain John F. Gilman, and heretofore known as a company attached to the Independent Division M. V. M.
5. The Company in Roxbury commanded by Captain R. Holmes, formerly known as the Roxbury Horse Guards.

These Companies will be hereafter designated, respectively, in the order above given, as Companies A, B, C, D, E, of Cavalry of the Massachusetts Volunteer Militia; and, until the organization of new companies shall authorize the organization of one or more regiments, will remain unattached.

ARTILLERY.

1. The Company in Boston heretofore known as the 1st Light Battery, and commanded by Captain Lucius Cummings.
2. The Company in Boston commanded by Captain Warren French, at present temporarily attached to the Forty-se ment of Infantry.

These Companies will be respect
nated in the order above given—and Second Light Batteries M Volunteer Militia.

INFANTRY.

The Third Regiment of Infantr ant-Colonel James Barton comm be retained under its present desig
And the following Companies c
ment:—
1. The Company commanded by C
W. Marble, of Freetown, now the United States' service for 10
2. The Company commanded
Thomas B. Griffith, of South
3. The Company commanded by seph O'Neill, of Fall River, at porarily attached to the Sixtiet
4. The Company commanded by vid H. Dyer, of Fall River, and
United States' service for 100 d
5. The Company commanded by C
A. Jennings, of New Bedford, listed in the United States' se
days.
6. The Company commanded by C
Baker, of Rehoboth, now enli
United States' service for 100 d
7. The Company commanded by C
M. Lyle, of Fairhaven, now enl
United States' service for 100 d
8. The Company commanded by Thomas J. Borden, of Fall Riv known as a company of the Division of Militia.

These Companies will be hence nated and known, respectively, i above given, as companies A, B,
I, K, of the Third Regiment of
V. M. The Company commanded
Lewis Soule, of Abington, former Co. E of the Fourth Regiment, M at present in United States' ser days, will be henceforth attached Regiment, unless the friends of Regiment shall forthwith offer t the regiment and shall diligentl same.

The Fifth Regiment of Infan
George H. Peirson commanding,
tained under its present designatio
And the following Companies
ment:—
1. The Company commanded
George H. Homer, of Boston.
2. The Company commanded
John W. Coffin, of Somervill
3. The Company commanded
George F. Barnes, of South I
4. The Company commanded
George H. Marden, Jr., of Ch
5. The Company commanded by vid L. Brown, of Marlborough
6. The Company commanded
Philip J. Cootey, of Boston.
7. The Company commanded
Charles S. Converse, of Wobu
8. The Company commanded b
Webster Davis, of Charlestow
9. The Company commanded by drew A. Powers, of Bolton.
10. The Company commanded
Francis M. Sweetser, of Ston

And these Companies will b designated in the above order, re
Companies A, B, C, D, E, F, G,
of the Fifth Regiment of Infantr

The Sixth Regiment of Infan
Albert S. Follansbee, commandin
tained under its present designatio
And the following Companies
ment:—
1. The Company commanded by seph M. Coombs, of Boston.
2. The Company commanded by
F. Shattuck, of Groton.
3. The Company commanded
Benj. F. Goddard, of Lowell.
4. The Company commanded
James W. Hart, of Lowell.
5. The Company commanded
Frank H. Whitcomb, of Acto
6. The Company commanded
Henry W. Wilson, of Boston
7. The Company commanded
Nathan Taylor, of Lowell.
8. The Company commanded
Moses E. Ware, of Roxbury.
9. The Company commanded by ward H. Staten, of Salem.
10. The Company commanded
Edgar J. Sherman, of Lawre

And the said Companies, in th
will be henceforth respectively
Companies A, B, C, D, E, F, G
the Sixth Regiment of Infantry.

The Eighth Regiment of Infa
Benj. F. Peach, Jr., commanding
tained under its present designati
And the following Companies
ment:—
1. The Company commanded
Lewis A. Tifft, of Springfiel
2. The Company commanded
Henry M. Lyons, of Adams.
3. The Company commanded
Samuel Graves, of Marblehea
4. The Company commanded
William H. Merritt, of Lynn
5. The Company commanded
Samuel F. Littlefield, of Sou
6. The Company commanded
Henry Stone, of Lynn.
7. The Company commanded
Edward L. Low, of Gloucest
8. The Company commanded
William H. Landen, of Sprin
9. The Company commanded
Henry S. Shelton, of Boston
10. The Company commanded
Lafayette Butler, of Pittsfiel

And the said Companies, in th
will be henceforth respectively
Companies A, B, C, D, E, F, G,
of the Eighth Regiment of Infan

The Forty-second Regiment
Colonel Isaac S. Burrill comma retained under its present design
And the following Companies
ment:—
1. The Company commanded
George M. Stewart, of Spring
2. The Company commanded by
C. Tinkham, of Medway.
3. The Company commanded by
B. White, of Boston.
4. The Company commanded
Samuel A. Waterman, of Rox
5. The Company commanded by gustus Ford, of Worcester.
6. The Company commanded
Samuel S. Eddy, of Worceste
7. The Company commanded by son H. Ward, of Worcester.
8. The Company commanded by Stevens, of Braintree.
9. The Company commanded by jamin R. Wales, of Dorcheste

And the said Companies, in th
will be henceforth respectively
Companies A, B, C, D, E, F, G
the Forty-second Regiment of Infa

The Sixtieth Regiment of Inf
Ansel D. Wass commanding, w under its present designation.
And the following Companies
ment:—
1. The Company commanded
Josiah Soule, Jr., of Abington
2. The Company commanded
Edward Bent, of Quincy.
3. The Company commanded by
L. Sproul, of Bridgewater.
4. The Company commanded by
H. Comset, of Boston.
5. The Company commanded by ert H. Chamberlain, of Worc
6. The Company commanded by ker B. Kent, of Boston.
7. The Company commanded
Stephen D. Gardner, of Newl
8. The Company commanded by Boynton, of Haverhill.
9. The Company commanded by Woodward, of Shelburne Fal

And the said Companies, in th
will be henceforth respectively
A, B, C, E, F, G, H, I and K, o
Regiment of Infantry, M. V. M.

The following unattached C be retained:—
1. The Company commanded
Lewis J. Bird, of Boston.

Company commanded by Captain s E. Porter, of Beverly.
Company commanded by Captain
-Dame, of Newburyport.
Company commanded by Captain A.
bourne, of Chelsea.
Company commanded by Captain A.
hilton, of Lawrence.
Company commanded by Captain
-H. Smith, of Boston.
Company commanded by Captain J.
cheller, of Lynn.
Company commanded by Captain s F. Walcott, of Cambridge.
Company commanded by Captain
t W. Reeves, of Salem.
Company commanded by Captain
Gaul, Boston.

d Companies will be for the present , in the above order, as the First, Third, Fourth, Eighth, Ninth, Eleventh, Thirteenth and Fourteenth Un- Companies of Infantry, M. V. M. ove order will not apply to any com- present in the service of the United as to alter the designation by which panies may be known in that service, y shall have been mustered out of

be return of the regiments now in d States service, reorganization of the will be necessary, in order that each for the purposes of drill and disci- l to enable it to be readily assembled, omposed as nearly as possible of com- n the same neighborhood or district. of enlistment will be at once issued djutant-General (in conformity with Chap. 238, Acts of 1864) to the ers of all the companies herein before ed. All non-commissioned officers ates of said companies who shall not in said companies, in conformity with sions of said Act, will be at once dis- and cease to be members of said com- And the commanders of said com- hall, within thirty days, return to the -General rolls of their respective com- pon blank forms to be furnished by tant-General, in conformity with the s of Sect. 10 of said Act; and all npanies as shall not, within the said thirty days, have returned such rolls, all appear by said rolls to be reduced number than the minimum number of missioned officers and privates by said blished for a company of its arm, may with disbanded.

ation for the formation of new com- f the volunteer militia must be made to the Adjutant-General, as they will ranted after the districting of the State formation of companies of the active under the new statute shall have been ced.

organizations of the Volunteer Militia han those herein before enumerated as d and retained, and excepting the two Cadets which by said Act are express- nized and retained, are hereby disband- l all officers holding commissions in any rganization, and all General and Staff of Divisions and Brigades, are hereby ly discharged.

ided, however, that any regiment or com- the Volunteer Militia, not herein be- umerated, which shall present to the nt-General, within ten days, satisfactory f its existence, and power to recruit the minimum strength required by ct for an organization of its arm, and count for its neglect to make returns to neral Order No. 22 of this year, may be ed and continued.

Commander-in-Chief avails himself of casion to tender his thanks to the Major- ls, Brigadier-Generals, and the various Staff, and Company Officers, who are operation of law discharged as afore- r their past fidelity and efficiency in the ; and he entertains the hope that the ization of the militia will receive their t and efficient co-operation.

der of his Excellency, JOHN A. ANDREW, Gov- d Commander-in-Chief.

WILLIAM SCHOULER, Adjutant General.

31.—3w.

---

n the army hospital—the bloody battle-field— nsion of the rich and humble abode of the from the office and the sacred desk—from the in top, distant valleys and far-off islands of ean—from every nook and corner of the civi- world—is pouring in the evidence of the aston- effects of DRAKE'S PLANTATION BIT- . Thousands upon thousands of letters like the ing may be seen at our office.

REEDSBURY, Wis., Sept. 16, 1863.

* * * I have been in the army hospitals for n months—speechless and nearly dead. At Ill. they gave me a bottle of Plantation Bit- * * Three bottles restored my speech and me. * * *

C. A. FLAUTE.

SOUTH WARSAW, O. July 28, 1863.

* * One young man, who had been sick and t of the house for two years with Scrofula and pelas, after paying the doctors over $150 with- enefit, has been cured by ten bottles of your s.

EDWARD WOUNALL.

following is from the Manager of the Union School for the Children of Volunteers:

HAVEMEYER MANSION, FIFTY-SEVENTH ST.,
New York, August 2, 1863.

R. DRAKE: Your wonderful Plantation Bitters been given to some of our little children suffer- rom weakness and weak lungs with most happy One little girl, in particular, with pains in her loss of appetite, and daily wasting consumption, from all medical skill had been exhausted, has entirely restored. We commenced with but a oonful of Bitters a day. Her appetite and gth rapidly increased, and she is now well * *

Respectfully, MRS. O. M. DEVOE."

* * I owe much to you, for I verily believe lantation Bitters have saved my life.

REV. W. H. WAGGONER, Madrid, N. Y."

* * Thou wilt send me two bottles more of Plantation Bitters. My wife has been greatly fited by their use.

Thy friend, ASA CURRIN, Philadelphia, Pa."

* * I have been a great sufferer from Dys- ia, and had to abandon preaching. * * The tation Bitters have cured me.

REV. J. S. CATHORN, Rochester, N. Y."

* * Send us twenty-four dozen more of your tation Bitters, the popularity of which are daily easing with the guests of our house.

SYKES, CHADWICK & CO.,
Proprietors Willard's Hotel, Washington, D. C.

* I have given the Plantation Bitters to dreds of our disabled soldiers with the most as- shing effect.

G. W. D. ANDREWS,
Superintendent Soldiers' Home, Cincinnati, O.

* * The Plantation Bitters have cured me of r complaint, of which I was laid up prostrate and to abandon my Business.

H. B. KINGSLEY, Cleveland, O."

* * The Plantation Bitters have cured me of erangement of the kidneys and urinary organs has distressed me for years. It acts like a charm.

C. C. MOORE, 254 Broadway, N. Y."

&c. &c. &c. &c. &c.

he Plantation Bitters make the weak strong, the guid brilliant, and are exhausted nature's great orer. They are composed of the celebrated Cal a Bark, Wintergreen, Sassafras, Roots, Herbs, all preserved in perfectly pure St. Croix Rum.

S.—T.—1860—X.

Persons of sedentary habits troubled with weak- s, lassitude, palpitation of the heart, lack of appe- distress after eating, torpid liver, constipation, deserve to suffer if they will not try them.

They are recommended by the highest medical au- orities, and are warranted to produce an immediate neficial effect. They are exceedingly agreeable, rfectly pure, and harmless.

NOTICE.—Any person pretending to sell Plantation tters in bulk or by the gallon is a swindler and im- stor. It is put up only in our patent log cabin ttle. Beware of bottles refilled with imitation de- terous stuff, for which several persons are already prison. See that every bottle has our private nited States Stamp over the cork unmutilated, and gnature on steel plate side label.

Sold by respectable dealers throughout the habita- e globe.

P. H. DRAKE & CO.
202 Broadway, N. Y.

Mch 16—1yr

U. S. 7-30 LOAN.

The Secretary of the Treasury gives notice that subscriptions will be received for Coupon Treasury Notes, payable three years from Aug. 15th, 1864, with semi-annual interest at the rate of seven and three tenths per cent. per annum, principal and interest both to be paid in lawful money.

These notes will be convertible at the option of the holder at maturity, into six per cent. gold bearing bonds, payable not less than five nor more than twenty years from their date, as the Government may elect. They will be issued in denominations of $50, $100, $500, $1,000 and $5,000, and all subscriptions must be for fifty dollars, or some multiple of fifty dollars.

The notes will be transmitted to the owners free of transportation charges as soon after the receipt of the original Certificates of Deposit as they can be prepared.

As the notes draw interest from August 15, persons making deposits subsequent to that date must pay the interest accrued from date of note to date of deposit.

Parties depositing twenty-five thousand dollars and upwards for these notes at any one time will be allowed a commission of one-quarter of one per cent., which will be paid by the Treasury Department upon the receipt of a bill for the amount, certified to by the officer with whom the deposit was made. No deductions for commissions must be made from the deposits.

SPECIAL ADVANTAGES OF THIS LOAN.

IT IS A NATIONAL SAVINGS BANK, offering a higher rate of interest than any other, and THE BEST SECURITY. Any savings bank which pays its depositors in U. S. Notes, considers that it is paying in the best circulating medium of the country, and it CANNOT pay in anything better, for its own assets are either in government securities or in notes or bonds payable in government paper.

It is equally convenient as a temporary or permanent investment. The notes can always be sold for within a fraction of their face and accumulated interest, and are the best security with banks as collaterals for discounts.

Convertible into a Six per cent. 5-20 Gold Bond.

In addition to the very liberal interest on the notes for three years, this privilege of conversion is now worth about three per cent. per annum, for the current rate for 5-20 Bonds is not less than NINE PER CENT. PREMIUM, and before the war the premium on six per cent. U. S. stocks was over twenty per cent. It will be seen that the actual profit on this loan, at the present market rate, is not less than ten per cent. per annum.

ITS EXEMPTION FROM STATE OR MUNICIPAL TAXATION.

But aside from all the advantages we have enumerated, a special Act of Congress EXEMPTS ALL BONDS AND TREASURY NOTES FROM LOCAL TAXATION. On the average, this exemption is worth about two per cent. per annum, according to the rate of taxation in various parts of the country.

It is believed that no securities offer so great inducements to lenders as those issued by the Government.— In all other forms of indebtedness, the faith or ability of private parties, or stock companies, or seperate communities, only, is pledged for payment, while the whole property of the country is held to secure the discharge of all the obligations of the United States.

While the government offers the most liberal terms for its loans, it believes that the very strongest appeal will be to the loyalty and patriotism of the people.

Duplicate certificates will be issued for all deposits.— The party depositing must endorse upon the ORIGINAL certificate the denomination of notes required, and whether they are to be issued in blank or payable to order. When so endorsed it must be left with the officer receiving the deposit, to be forwarded to the Treasury Department.

SUBSCRIPTIONS WILL BE RECEIVED by the Treasurer of the United States, at Washington, the several Assistant Treasurers and designated Depositaries, and by the

First National Bank of Salem, Mass.
First National Bank of Boston, Mass.
Second National Bank of Boston, Mass.
Third National Bank of Boston, Mass.
National Bank of the Republic, Boston, Mass.
Boston National Bank, Boston, Mass.
First National Bank of Amesbury, Mass.
First National Bank of Haverhill, Mass.
First National Bank of Newburyport, Mass.

And by all National Banks which are depositaries of public money, and

ALL RESPECTABLE BANKS AND BANKERS throughout the country will give further information and

AFFORD EVERY FACILITY TO SUBSCRIBERS.

August 17, 1864,—3m

DERBY & CHILDS,

Fire, Marine and Life Insurance Agents.

Orders left at No. 24 Washington st., Salem, or received by mail, promptly attended to.

Losses equitably adjusted and promptly paid, and Insurance effected at reasonable rates.

Salem, August 10,—3m*

BROCKSIEPER GAS REGULATOR!

30 PER CENT. SAVED.

Economy in the use of Gas, with the advantage of having a more brilliant light than heretofore, is a point at once desirable. Inventors have for many years sought to obtain this end by packing or checking in innumerable ways the flow of gas through the burner. Not one of these have attained the result wished for; viz:—a pure transparent flame without waste at any and all pressures obtained at any hour and in all localities. Those of our citizens who have taken the pains to examine Brocksieper's Patent Regulator, and have seen the gas ACTUALLY MEASURED THROUGH IT, are unanimous in its praise. We give below the names of a few of the merchants and others of Salem now using the Regulator:

Salem Register Office;
Salem Gazette Office;
Salem Statesman Office;
Salem Post Office;
Merchants Reading Room;
George Creamer, Bookseller;
Browning & Long, Dry Goods;
S. F. Rogers, Confectioner;
J. P. Peabody, Dry Goods;
Theron Palmer, Shoe Dealer;
Adams, Richardson & Co., Hardware;
Doctor Johnson;
Essex House;
Wm. Webb, Jr., Druggist;
Edward Brown, Sup't and Treas. Gas Co.

☞ Orders left at B. F. STEVENS' Jewelry Store, will be promptly attended to. The burner can also be examined there.

SEND FOR A CIRCULAR.

25,000 of these Regulators have been manufactured and sold in the Eastern States since February last. 150 are now in use in Salem. PRICE $1 EACH—6 AND OVER, 90 cents each. The article is warranted in every respect. Call and examine for yourselves. Our facilities for testing the genuineness of this improvement will at once convince the most skeptical.

JOSEPH CLOUTMAN,
OFFICE—Bowker Block, Essex st., up-stairs.

NOTICE.—We have this day appointed Mr. JOSEPH CLOUTMAN, of Salem, our sole agent for the sale of Brocksieper's Gas Regulator for the following places: Salem, South Danvers, Beverly, Marblehead and Gloucester, Mass. All orders for the article, at wholesale or retail, to receive attention, must come through him, and he will establish sub-agencies in the above-named places.

HULL & GOODELL,
Sole Proprietors in the U. S.,
446 Broadway, N. Y., and 221 Washington st., Boston.

august 10—tf

For Garrison Duty!

CAPT. JOHN F. DEVEREUX, of Salem, having been authorized by His Excellency, Governor JOHN A. ANDREW, to raise a company for

Coast Defence in Massachusetts,

will receive recruits for said purpose at rooms

NO. 226½ ESSEX STREET.

Captain D. is authorized to state that all recruits shall be exempt from draft whilst in service.

All particulars given on application at the rooms, 226½ Essex Street.

☞ Visit OSBORNE's Store, and look at the unusual variety of new styles in HATS and CAPS—191 Essex street.

THE GREAT ENGLISH REMEDY.

SIR JAMES CLARKE'S

CELEBRATED FEMALE PILLS!

Prepared from a prescription of Sir J. Clarke, M. D., Physician Extraordinary to the Queen.

This well known medicine is no imposition, but a sure cure and safe remedy for Female Difficulties and Obstructions, from any cause whatever; and, although a powerful remedy, they contain nothing hurtful to the constitution.

In all cases of Nervous and Spinal Affections, pain in the Back and Limbs, Fatigue on slight exertion Palpitation of the Heart, Hysterics, and Whites, these pills will effect a cure, when all other means have failed: and, although a powerful remedy, do not contain iron, calomel, antimony, or anything hurtful to the constitution.

Full directions in the pamphlet around each package, which should be carefully preserved.

For full particulars, obtain, free, of the agent, a pamphlet. Sold by all Druggists.

Sole United States Agent,
JOB MOSES, 27 Cortlandt St., New York.

N. B.—$1 and 6 postage stamps enclosed to any authorized agent, will insure a bottle, containing over 50 pills, by return mail. March 9, 1864.—1 yr.

Advertisements.

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE.

BY virtue of a power of Sale Mortgage, the Mortgagees will sell upon the premises, on the TWENTY-SEVENTH DAY OF SEPTEMBER next, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, the following described parcel of Real Estate, situated in South Danvers, bounded as follows:—Commencing at a stake at the northwesterly corner of land of J. B. Cowdry; thence easterly by land of said Cowdry, about ninety-one feet to a stake, and the wall; thence northerly about one hundred and two feet by land of Pingree to a stake; thence westerly about ninety-four feet to Harris street; thence southerly about one hundred and eight feet by Harris street to the point began at. Being the same owned by THOMAS SHINNICK and MARY ANN SHINNICK, and by them mortgaged to the Salem and Danvers Loan and Fund Association. The above will be sold at Public Auction, to the highest bidder.

South Danvers, August 27, 1864.

ALSO,

WILL be sold upon the premises, by virtue of a power of Sale Mortgage on the TWENTY-SEVENTH DAY OF SEPTEMBER next, at ten and one half o'clock in the forenoon, at Public Auction to the highest bidder the following described parcel of Real Estate;—Bounded northwesterly thirty-nine feet, nine inches, by land of Thomas Larkin; northeasterly one hundred and nine feet, three inches, by land of Richard Bush; southeasterly by Fulton street, about forty feet; southwesterly by land of Gilbert, about one hundred and nine feet, three inches;—(being lot numbered Seventy-Nine, and mortgaged by MOSES JEWETT and SAMUEL S. PARSONS, to the Salem and Danvers Loan and Fund Association.

South Danvers August 27, 1864.—3w.

List of Letters

REMAINING in the Post Office at South Danvers, August 30, 1864, [Persons calling for these letters, will please say they are advertised.]

Ella Clough,	Wm. R. Jones,
Alice Buxton,	Dexter Kendall,
Lucy Apton,	Geo. B. Martin,
T. Q. George,	Judith Moore,
Edward Hogan,	Geo W. Noble,
Fields Holman,	Alice M. Putnam.
E. D. Kimball,

N. B. These letters are subject to an additional postage of one cent. DANIEL WOODBURY, P. M.

THE TRAVELERS INS. CO.,

OF HARTFORD, CONN.

Capital - - - - - - $250,000,

Is now prepared to Insure persons against

ACCIDENTS

OF EVERY DESCRIPTION.

Yearly policies will be issued for a premium of

FIVE DOLLARS,

granting insurance to the amount of

FIVE THOUSAND DOLLARS,

against accidental loss of life while travelling by any public conveyance.

TEN DOLLARS PREMIUM

secures a policy for Five Thousand Dollars, and also twenty-five dollars per week compensation for personal injury incapacitating the assured from his ordinary business.

TWENTY-FIVE DOLLARS PREMIUM

secures a full policy for $5000 and $25 per week compensation for all and EVERY DESCRIPTION OF ACCIDENT, TRAVELLING OR OTHERWISE

Policies for $5000 with $3 per week compensation, can be had for $3 per annum; or any other sum between $500 and $5000 at proportionate rates.

DIRECTORS:

Gustavus F. Davis,	W. H. D. Callender,
James L. Howard,	George W. Moore,
Marshal Jewell,	Ebenezer Roberts,
Thomas Belknap, Jr.,	Charles White,
Cornelius B. Irwin,	Hugh Harrison,
George S. Gilman,	Jonathan B. Bunce.

JAMES G. PATTERSON, President.
RODNEY DENNIS, Secretary.
HENRY A. DYER, General Agent.

PLUMBER & MERCER, AGENTS,
40 State Street, Boston.

Offices in Salem—JOHN H. DERBY, No. 24 Washington street; SAMUEL MACKINTIRE, No. 218 Essex street. Aug. 3, 1864—1yr*

R. W. WILKINSON,

DEALER IN

Newspapers, Periodicals, and Stationery of every Description.

FOREIGN and DOMESTIC FRUITS, consisting of Oranges, Lemons, Dates, Figs, Prunes, &c., &c.

Sauces, Pickles and Preserves; Castana, Naples and English Walnuts; Hard, Soft and Paper-shelled Almonds; choice brands of Tobacco and Cigars; also a general assortment of Confectionery of every description.

Also a large and well-selected stock of Toys, suitable for children and the Holiday Gifts.

Ice Cream furnished to parties at short notice and in quantities to suit. Wedding Cake and every variety of nice cake furnished to parties of families.

STORE—WARREN BANK BUILDING.

South Danvers, Nov'r 11, 1863.

STONE WARE.

BUTTER and Cake Pots, Preserve Pots, Pudding Pans and Bean Pots, Jugs and Pitchers of all sizes, at S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS'S,
Aug. 31. 32 Front street.

CRUMB BRUSHES JUST OPENED.

A FULL stock of all kinds of Brushes and Feather Dusters on hand—at S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS'S,
Aug. 31. 32 Front street.

CLOTHES BASKETS.

WILLOW Clothes Baskets, (Oval,) at S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS'S,
Aug. 31. 32 Front street.

NEW WAR MAP.

PERRIN'S New War Map of the Southern States, arranged from Government Surveys—price 25 cents in covers.

Also—One hundred and fifty miles round Richmond —a new War Map—price 50 cents—at aug 24 G M WHIPPLE & A A SMITH'S.

Horse Railroad Notice.

SUNDAY TIME.

HEREAFTER on Sunday, Horse Cars will leave Washington Street Station for Beverly at 9.12, 9.52, 10.32, 11.12, 11.52 A. M.: 12.32, 1.12, 1.52, 2.32, 3.12, 3.52, 4.32, 5.12, 5.52, 6.32, 7.12, 7.52, and 8.32 P. M. Will leave Washington street station for South Danvers, at 9.07, 9.47, 10.27 A. M., and every twenty minutes till 9.07 P. M.

Cars leave South Danvers at 9.30, 9.50, and 10.10 A. M., and at every 20 minutes till 9.30 P. M.

Leave Beverly at 9.40, 10.20, 11.00, 11.40 A. M.; 12.20, 1.00, 1.40, 2.20, 3.00, 3.40, 4.20, 5.00, 5.40, 6.20, 7.00, 7.40, 8.20, and 9.00 P. M.

Salem, Aug. 31, 1864. M. H. HALE, Supt.

C. W. HALEY, M. D.,

Physician and Surgeon.

OFFICE—WARREN BANK BUILDING,
South Danvers.

N. J. HOLDEN,

Attorney and Counsellor at Law,

Office, 27 Washington Street, Salem, Mass.

SPECTACLES!

H. F. SKERRY wishes to call special attention to his stock of

Spectacles and Eye Glasses,

in Gold—Silver—Rubber—Steel and Horn frames, of which he keeps constantly on hand a very large assortment, embracing every style and quality.

—ALSO—

Opera Glasses, Microscopes, &c.

Glasses re-set, and Spectacles repaired.

In Store, our usual assortment of Silver and Plated Ware, Jewelry, Fancy Goods, and Toys. Also, Canton Ware,

No. 180 Essex Street, Salem.

H. F. SKERRY.

Aug. 17.—tf

Browning & Long.

THE LARGEST

LADIES' FURNISHING STORE

IN SALEM.

THE GREATEST VARIETY

DISPLAYED IN THIS VICINITY.

THE RICHEST GOODS,
THE LOWEST PRICES,

—AT—

BROWNING & LONG'S

177 Essex Street, 177

SALEM.

Salem, Aug. 3, 1864.

WHITE BAREGE!

WHITE CREPE MARETZ,
WHITE ALPACCA,
SHIRRED MUSLINS,
TUCKED MUSLINS,
WHITE GOODS of every description.

—For sale by—

THOMAS W. DOWNING & CO.

Jy13 179 Essex Street.

COUNTRY AND SEA SHORE!

Wide Brimmed Hats,

For the Country and Sea Shore.

—ALSO—

All the FANCY STYLES OF HATS, for Ladies and Children, at

REITH & CO'S,

No. 2 West Block, Essex Street,

(One door west of J. F. Almy & Co.,)

July 6 SALEM, MASS.

LIFE INSURANCE.

THE MUTUAL

LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY,

Of New York, with a Capital of $11,000,000,

And an Annual Income of over

$2,000,000,

AND declaring a LARGER DIVIDEND than any other Company in the United States, is the one in which every man should secure a policy on his life.

The importance of LIFE INSURANCE cannot be too highly estimated. It is the safest and most practicable method of securing to your family, in case of your death, the means of a comfortable and independent support. Thousands of instances might be cited where families have thus been provided with a competency, who would otherwise have been left in penury and want. Husbands and fathers! treat not with indifference a subject of such vital importance, but see to it at once, that your families are provided with the inestimable advantages which this great and benevolent institution affords.

Because a man has wealth, it is no reason why he should not insure, for he knows not how soon his riches may "take to themselves wings and fly away." And let those who complain of the want of means, remember that

Forty-Five Cents a Week,

Will insure $1,000 on the life of a man of THIRTY.

AN ENDOWMENT POLICY,

Secures to the assured party, on attaining to a certain age, as 50, 55, or 60 years, an amount sufficient for his support in advanced age.

Another feature of this subject, deserving of especial attention, is

SURVIVORSHIP ANNUITIES!

By means of which one party may secure to another an annuity sufficient to maintain them in comfort and independence through life. A husband may thus make provision for his wife; a father for his child; or a brother for his sister.

Endowment Policies for Children.

By this means a parent may provide, by the payment of a small annual premium, a sum of money sufficient to enable a son to enter into business, at a proper age, or for any other provision, either for a son or daughter.

Many Gentlemen of So. Danvers and Vicinity!

Have already availed themselves of this opportunity now offered of ensuring their lives, and thus securing an inestimable blessing to themselves and their families. Let others be equally wise, and immediately follow their example.

JOHN H. DERBY,

Agent for South Danvers and Vicinity.

Post Office address, Salem, Mass.

August 3, 1864.—1 mo.*

Vitrified Stone Drain Pipe.

JUST received and for sale by the subscribers, 5000 feet o. the above Pipe, the usual sizes suitable for drainage; the best in the market.

Apply to
B. R. WHITE, Mason,
St Peter Court.
or F. P. GOSS, Plumber,
No. 7 St. Peter st.

Salem, Aug. 3, 1864.—3m

LT. COL. JOHN C. CHAMBERS,

LATE of the 23d Mass. Vols.—Card Photographs, at G M WHIPPLE & A A SMITH'S.

Flour.

100 Bbls. "Arcade Mills," 100 do "Crooked Creek," 100 do "May Flower." For sale by July 29 GAYLE & CO., Phillips' Wharf.

A. J. Archer & Co

White Shirred Muslins.

JUST received and for sale by
ja22 A. J. ARCHER & CO.

MOURNING GOODS.

AUGUSTUS J. ARCHER & CO.,

HAVE just received a fine assortment

—OF—

MOURNING DRESS GOODS,

for summer wear.

—ALSO—

On hand, a fine stock of

BLACK SILKS,

which our customers will find are at less than Boston prices.

May 25, 1864.

FANCY CLOAKINGS!

—FOR—

Spring Garments,

IN GREAT VARIETY OF STYLES,

which we are prepared to make into GARMENTS to order, in the very best manner, and at

LOWEST CASH PRICES.

A. J. ARCHER & CO.,

March 16—tf. 181 Essex Street.

HOUSE OF EQUITY,

—BY—

Arnold & Hutchinson,

(Successors to C. T. Southwick.)

FIRST QUALITY

FAMILY GROCERIES,

Sold at the Lowest Prices.

A large and complete assortment of

CROCKERY AND GLASS WARE,

Constantly on hand.

Also FLOUR and GRAIN.

ASHLAND HALL BUILDING,

NO. 1 LOWELL STREET,

F. T. ARNOLD. B. F. HUTCHINSON.

South Danvers, Feb 3, 1864.

M. A. PORTER,

236 Essex Street, - - - Salem, Mass.,

(Opposite Horse Railroad Office,)

MAKES TO ORDER BEST QUALITIES OF

WATCH SPRING SKIRTS.

A Good Assortment of Dress and Clock Button, Braids, Spool Cotton, Small Wares, and Thread Store articles generally.

236 Essex Street, - - - Salem, Mass.,

M. A. PORTER.

SPRING AND SUMMER GOODS.

168 ESSEX STREET.

WE invite the attention of the Ladies of Salem and vicinity, to our

New Millinery Goods,

Ladies' and Children's

BONNETS AND HATS,

in all desirable styles.

Crapes, Silks, Ribbons, Feathers, French Flowers, and Laces.

A full assortment of Straw Goods, Mourning Bonnets, Veils, Collars, &c., constantly on hand, at the lowest cash prices.

M. E. CRANE,

Successor to M M FLETCHER.

Salem, April 6, 1864.

JUST ARRIVED,

AT DANVERS MILLS.

500 Bushels Corn, in the minnie cob, and will be sold in South Danvers.

Constantly on hand, a large stock of meal, which will be sold at the lowest Salem prices.

— ALSO ON HAND —

500 Bushels Feed;
200 Bushels prime Northern Oats;
100 Barrels choicest Family Flour.
A good stock of LIME constantly on hand.

JOHN C. MOULTON,

Central St., South Danvers, Mass.

May 25—tf.

DRY GOODS

—AT—

Ann B. Bray's, 76 Federal Street.

A LARGE Stock of Bleached and Brown COTTONS, which we offer at the very lowest prices;

Heavy 4-4 Waltham; Fine 9 8 Boot Mills;
Hill Cotton, Brown and Bleached;
Newmarket, A Cotton; Bennington Cotton;
Monticello Cotton; Cambrics; White Saranett;
Bleached Cotton, every width and quality;
American, English and French Prints;
Red, White and Gray Flannels;
Drocots 4-4 and 5-4 widths;
Brown and other Colored Drillings;
Crashes—Bleached, Brown and other colors.

☞ Our stock of Domestic Goods is full, and we shall sell as low as at ANY OTHER STORE in the city.

According to our usual practice, we shall sell out all our DRESS GOODS at a discount.

Salem, July 20—tsio

SELF-SEALING AIR-TIGHT CASKET.

MR. CHARLES S. BUFFUM, Furnishing Undertaker of South Danvers, takes this method to announce that he has a new burial case, which combines all the advantages of a wooden receptacle with those of a metal one, and yet avoids the disadvantages of both. They have been used with great success, and bodies placed in them have been delivered in perfect preservation after having been transported over a thousand miles. To persons having deceased friends at the seat of war they are invaluable. They come at reasonable prices, are light and durable, and are perfectly air-tight. august 10

HOUSEKEEPERS, ATTENTION!

JACKSON'S

KITCHEN FURNISHING ROOMS,

Under MECHANIC HALL, Salem.

Parties about commencing House-Keeping will find this the ONLY place in Salem where a COMPLETE ASSORTMENT of House-Keeping articles can be found.

dec 9, 1863.

George S. Walker.

Closing off Summer Stock.

NO RISE IN PRICES.

GEORGE S. WALKER will sell his Summer Stock during the month of August, preparatory to the Fall trade, at the same low prices he has been selling during the Spring and Summer, without regard to the late PANIC IN PRICES, or the increased premium on gold. Now is the time for those in want, before the stock is broken up, to purchase.

Under-Shirts,	Gloves,
Drawers,	Scarfs,
Hosiery,	Ties, etc.,

and every article belonging to a complete Gentlemen's Furnishing Store. GEORGE S. WALKER,
No. 228 Essex St., opp. Eastern Railroad Station.

Salem, Aug. 6, 1864.

Potter, Bachelder & Co.,

DANVERS-PORT and SOUTH DANVERS,

DEALERS IN

WOOD AND COAL.

Constantly on hand

Franklin, Burnside, Dimond, } RED ASH.

Old Company & Packer's Lehigh, Pliny Fisk, Webster and Locust Mountain, } WHITE ASH.

Also Cumberland, Pictou and Campbell for Steam and Smith's use.

OFFICE—No. 6 Allen's Building.

G. W. POTTER,
J. Q. A. BACHELDER,
C. T. BATCHELDER. mch 30.

M. FENOLLOSA,

TEACHER OF MUSIC,

LETS..............	PIANO FORTES, at the lowest rates;
SELLS..............	PIANO FORTES, at the Manufacturers Prices;
EXCHANGES....	PIANO FORTES, on the easiest terms;

At Rooms No. 7 Central street,

feb 11 SALEM, MASS.

AARON T. LOWE,

DEALER IN

BOOTS, SHOES AND RUBBERS,

76 BOSTON STREET, 76.

aug 6 SALEM.

T. HARDY, JR.,

—Dealer in—

DOORS, SASHES, BLINDS,

Glazed Sash, Painted Blinds,

FENCE PALES, STAIR BALUSTERS, FRAMING PINS, &c.

No. 26 FRONT STREET.

Salem, January 14, 1863—tf.

THOMAS PINNOCK,

SLATER,

SALEM, MASS.

Orders may be left at his Yard, No. 25 Peabody St., or at his house No. 6 Hancock street, South Salem.

Roofs covered with any kind of Slates, according to order. All work warranted.

Salem, May 7, 1862.

PIN WORMS. MRS. OSBORN'S Universal Worm Powders are the only sure cure ever offered to the public. They are warranted in every case; relief within 24 hrs. 25 cts. per box. Sold by all druggists.

For sale by D. P. GROSVENOR, Jr., 33 Main St., South Danvers. jan 27

EBEN UPTON,

Piano Fortes Tuned and Regulated,

MELODEONS AND PIANOS

BOUGHT AND EXCHANGED.

For New Piano Fortes, at Wholesale Prices.

Orders left at G. CREAMER'S Bookstore, Salem.

July 27, 1864.—6m

Posting Books, Making Bills and Copying.

THE above business will be promptly and accurately performed by the subscriber, who may be found at Messer. CLARK & GIDDINGS' Counting Room on Wallis Street, near the Essex Depot, or by enquiring at this office. jy13 tf JOHN D. HOWARD.

FURNITURE.

HAVING taken the Store No. 10 FRONT STREET, (formerly occupied by BENJAMIN COLMAN,) I shall keep constantly on hand a large stock of

NEW AND SECOND-HAND FURNITURE,

BEDDING, COUNTING-ROOM DESKS, &c., &c.,

which I will sell cheap for CASH.

ALL KINDS OF FURNITURE NEATLY REPAIRED.

All kinds of FURNITURE and BEDDING wanted—for which the highest Cash price will be paid.

P. J. HYNES, 10 FRONT-ST.

Salem, April 6, 1864—1y

REAL ESTATE.

The subscriber offers for sale the following Lots of Land, with the buildings thereon, at Private Sale, until October next, when, if not previously sold, they will be put up at auction.

On Lowell street, a two story DWELLING HOUSE, fitted for two families. This is the Estate formerly known as the Southwick Tavern.

On Lowe street, leading from Foster St. to Washington St., a two story TENEMENT for two families with a garden attached to it.

On Washington street, near the residence of Capt. Lowe, a very eligible BUILDING LOT, on the North side of the street.

On Tremont street, a small COTTAGE HOUSE for one or two families.

On Walnut street, a pleasant, elevated Lot of Land, with a large Barn, situated opposite Mr. Caller's Currying Shop.

In the rear of the above TWO TENEMENT HOUSES.

For particulars apply to
jy27 WILLIAM SUTTON.

MANUAL FENOLLOSA,

TEACHER

OF THE

Violin, Piano and Singing,

MUSIC ROOMS, No. 7 Central Street,

SALEM, MASS.

WATER KEGS.

ANOTHER lot of Stone Water Kegs, at
jy13 S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS' 32 Front st.

GAYLE & CO.,

COMMISSION MERCHANTS,

AND DEALERS IN

Flour, Grain and Produce,

PHILLIPS WHARF, Salem.

DR. J. H. BATCHELDER,

DENTAL SURGEON,

No. 20 Washington St., (near Eastern Railroad Depot), SALEM, MASS.

Is Licensed to make the New Patent Teeth on HARD RUBBER or VULCANITE.

July 1 1864

DR. E. F. KITTREDGE,

From Lowell, formerly of New Ipswich, N. H.,

Has removed his office and residence to

NO. 42 MAIN STREET,

SOUTH DANVERS, MASS.

Dr. K., from an extensive and successful professional experience of upwards of twenty years, feels justified in saying that he can treat diseases to the satisfaction of his patients, and to the credit of himself.

Office hours from 7 to 9 A. M., and from 6 to 9 P. M.

South Danvers, Nov 13, 1863.

Auction Sales.

WILLIAM ARCHER, Jr.,

Auctioneer, Real Estate and Stock Broker,
34 Front Street.

Real Estate, Bank, Railroad & Manufacturing Stock bought and sold on Commission.

ON SATURDAY NEXT, at 9½ o'clock will be sold at No. 34 Front street:

A QUANTITY of new second hand Furniture.

Also, an assortment of Mens', Women and Children's Boots and Shoes.

Also, a quantity of Clothing.

At 12 o'clock—1 superior Donkey—a good worker, and has been driven by children.

—Also a superior Donkey Cart and Harness— nearly new.

VALUABLE REAL ESTATE.

THE Subscriber offers for sale the following Lots of Land, with the Buildings thereon, at private sale, until September next, when such as then remain unsold, will be offered at Public Auction;

A new and well built two-story DWELLING HOUSE, situated on English Street. This house is well supplied with the modern conveniences, is pleasantly situated on rising ground, and is a very desirable residence.

The MOROCCO FACTORY near the Southwick Tannery. The building is about 150 feet long by 40 wide, is well supplied with pure water and is an excellent place for the Morocco business or Currying.

Near the Morocco Factory are two TWO-STORY BUILDINGS, which may be sold with the Factory, or separately. Together they are about 80 feet long by 20 wide.

On Walnut Street is the large BOARDING HOUSE, with the land adjoining, which is excellently well situated for what it is designed.

Several front LOTS for building purposes on Walnut Street, will be sold at moderate prices and fair terms.

A STORE HOUSE 70 by 25 feet on Walnut Street, with the land under and the rear of it. It can be easily adapted for a Curriers' Shop, or for other kinds of business.

On Wallis Street, near the mill pond, a well built and painted MOROCCO FACTORY, all ready for occupancy. It is about 80 feet long by 25 wide, and in excellent repair.

Next to the Morocco Factory on the same street, a STORE BUILDING, strongly built, and framed for a DWELLING-HOUSE, for which it could be easily adapted. Or it would make an excellent Shop for any kind of business.

Near ELM STREET, on a Court south of said street, are two DWELLING HOUSES, planned for two families each. One is two stories high, the other one and a half. Both houses have good tenants, and yield a good income; offering a good chance for investment.

Between Harris and English Streets, one One Story DWELLING House, and a One Story and a Half House.

The above is a most excellent opportunity for enterprising young men to secure places for business and dwelling houses, on reasonable terms. Such a chance may not soon again occur.

Persons desiring to purchase any of the above lots may learn the prices and terms on application to ANDREW S. PORTER, Elm Street.

SAMUEL D. PENDAR.

South Danvers, May 11, 1864. tf

MORRIS'

RESTAURANT,

18 and 20 Derby Square, Salem.

Oysters, Clams, Steak, Poultry, Game, Fish, &c., &c., COOKED TO ORDER.

Pickled Oysters, Lobsters and Clams.

Salem, July 22, 1863. tf

NEW STORE!

Flour! Flour!

JUST RECEIVED, a fresh supply of CHOICE BRANDS, direct from the Mills, for sale, wholesale and retail, at LOWEST PRICES, by

E. F. OSBORN,
Sutton's Building, Main St.

South Danvers, Nov 18, 1863.

R. C. MANNING & CO.

Successors to JOHN DIKE & CO.,

DEALERS IN

COAL, WOOD, BARK, HAY, &c,

188 DERBY STREET,

SALEM, MASS.

N. C. ROBBINS, R. C. MANNING.

oct17

GEO. E. MEACOM,

Dealer in

DRUGS & MEDICINES,

Fancy & Toilet Articles, &c.,

126 MAIN ST. 126

Nearly opposite Danvers Bank, So. Danvers.

T. A. SWEETSER,

Druggist & Apothecary

37 Main St., So. Danvers,

DEALER IN

Drugs, Medicines, Chemicals, Foreign Leeches, Shakers' Herbs, Dye Stuffs, Gums, Acids, Sponges, Shoulder Braces, Trusses, and Genuine Patent Medicines,

Also, Imported Cigars of choice brands, Perfumery, Toilet Articles and Stationery.

Physicians' Prescriptions carefully prepared by experienced persons.

37 MAIN STREET.

D. P. GROSVENOR, Jr.,

Druggist and Apothecary,

33 MAIN STREET,

Dealer in Drugs, Medicines, Chemicals, Dye Stuffs, and Popular Proprietary Medicines.

Personal attention to Physicians' Prescriptions.

South Danvers, May 29, 1861. 1y

Flour and Grain.

1500 BUSHELS Canada Oats; 100 barrels Superior Family XXX Flour; just landed and for sale by GAYLE & CO., Phillips Wharf.

6000 BUSHELS PRIME OATS, received this day, and for sale by aug 10 GAYLE & CO., Phillips Wharf.

ICE PICKS

AND Ice Mallets with Awls, at
jy13 S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS, 32 Front st.

LEMON SQUEEZERS,

AT S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS', 32 Front st.

Miscellaneous.

Instance of Presence of Mind.—A Prussian clergyman applied to the late king of Prussia, for permission to preach in his chapel, and to honor him with his presence. His majesty thought it rather presumptuous for a country clergyman to ask such a favor; but, nevertheless, granted his request, and told him he would give him a text to preach on; that he should preach the Sunday following, when he would be there to hear him.—The clergyman waited with anxiety from day to day, as he wished to have it in time, that he might make a fine discourse on it; but Sunday morning came, and no text. He, however, went into the pulpit with an intent to preach one of his old sermons, thinking the king had forgot to send him a text. His majesty came to the chapel soon after, and immediately sent him a letter, which he opened and read; the contents were "The enclosed is your text, you will preach immediately." He opened the small piece of paper that was enclosed, when, to his great astonishment, he found it quite blank; he looked at the other side of it, it was blank there, too; he held it out for the congregation to look at, and said, "Here is nothing;" and then turning it, said, "There is nothing, and of nothing God created heaven and earth." Then quoting a verse from the first chapter of Genesis, he preached a sermon on it extempore. The king was so delighted at the great presence of mind the clergyman had shown, that he conferred great honors on him.

A Rich Story.—The following we clip from an exchange. It is old but good, and will bear reading again:

Do any of you know old Bill Lowry? he moved from Springfield to some point in Minnesota. Bill is tough, smart as a whip, keen as a briar, but then, like all of us fellers, Bill loves to see the bottom of the tumbler at all times. Well, once there was a Methodist revival in town. Bill was there—and a little too full of this kind of spirit to hold much of the other kind. But he sat still. At last the sermon was ended, and the minister came down from his proclamation-stand and said: "Now I want all who love the Lord Jesus, to come forward and be prayed for."

No one moved. In a minute he repeated: "Brethren and sinners. I want all who love the Lord, or who wish to love Him, to come forward on the bench."

No one moved. Then he looked mad and spoke out rather quick,

"If there is a man in this house who is a friend of the Lord, I want him to come forward. If He has no friends we will quit."

Just then old Bill arose, hitched up his trousers, and in a peculiar, half sober voice sang out—

"Hold on thar! I'm, I'm, I'm a friend of the Lord, 'or any other man,' who hain't got no more friends than He 'pears to 'ave in this section!"

☞ A droll story is related of an honest old farmer who, in attempting to drive home a bull, got suddenly hoisted over the fence. Recovering himself he saw the animal on the other side of the rails sawing the air with his head and neck, and pawing the ground. The good old man looked steadily at him a moment and exclaimed—"Darn your apologies; you needn't stand there, you tarnal critter, a bowin' and scrapin'—you did it a purpose, darn your curly pictur!"

☞ Some newspaper wag tells a story of an old gentleman whose eight or ten clerks bored him continually with conundrums. Going home one evening, he was stopped in front of a closed store by a countryman, who asked—"Can you tell me, my friend, why this store is closed?" "Go to thunder," cried he, "with your conundrums. I have been bored to death with them this three weeks!"

☞ "What part of speech is man?" said a pedagogue to a sailor-boy pupil.

"A verb, sir," replied the latter.

"A verb, is it!" said the teacher, with a significant twist of his lips; "please give an example."

"Man the yards," was little tarpaulin's instant response.

☞ It is said that certain eating houses propose adding twenty-five per cent. to their present prices in order to cover the expense of wooden tooth-picks, which have risen ten cents per thousand.

☞ Spriggles had a large tooth extracted yesterday. "Doesn't it alter your voice?" asked his friend. "No," replied Spriggles, "not in the least; my voice is still for war until the rebellion is smashed!"

☞ A young lady, if a visitor knocks at the front door, will sometimes send word, "engaged," though she never had an offer in her life.

☞ A young lady of the delicate variety fainted the other day, when told that gun barrels were often exhibited without breeches.

Special Notices.

Editor of Wizard:—Dear Sir,—With your permission I wish to say to the readers of your paper that I will send, by return mail, to all who wish it (free), a Recipe, with full directions for making and using a simple Vegetable Balm, that will effectually remove, in ten days, Pimples, Blotches, Tan, Freckles, and all Impurities of the Skin, leaving the same soft, clear, smooth and beautiful.

I will also mail free to those having Bald Heads, or Bare Faces, simple directions and information that will enable them to start a full growth of Luxuriant Hair, Whiskers, or Moustache, in less than thirty days.

All applications answered by return mail without charge. Respectfully yours,

THOS. F. CHAPMAN, Chemist,
jy 13-3m 831 Broadway, New York.

Bell's Specific Pills.—Warranted in all Cases.—Can be relied on! Never fail to cure! Do not nauseate! Are speedy in action! No change of diet required! Do not interfere with business pursuits! Can be used without detection! Upward of 200 cures the past month—some of them very severe cases. Over one hundred physicians have used them in their practice, and all speak well of their efficacy, and approve of their composition, which is entirely vegetable and harmless on the system. Hundreds of certificates can be shown.

Bell's Specific Pills are the original and only genuine Specific Pill. They are adapted for male and female, old or young, and the only reliable remedy for effecting a permanent and speedy cure in all cases of Spermatorrhea, or Seminal Weakness, with all its train of evils, such as Urethral and Vaginal Discharges, Gleet, the Whites, Nightly or Involuntary Emissions, Incontinence, Genital Debility and Irritability, Impotence, Weakness or Loss of Power, Nervous Debility, &c., &c., all of which arise principally from Sexual Excesses or Self-Abuse, or some constitutional derangement, and incapacitates the sufferer from fulfilling the duties of married life. In all sexual diseases, as Gonorrhea, Gleet, and Strictures, and in Diseases of the Bladder and Kidneys, they act as a charm! Relief is experienced by taking a single box. Sold by all the principal druggists. Price $1.

They will be sent by mail, securely sealed, and confidentially, on receipt of the money, by

J. BRYAN, M. D.,
No. 76 Cedar street, New York,

Consulting Physician for the treatment of Seminal, Urinary, Sexual, and Nervous Diseases, who will send, free to all, the following valuable work, in sealed envelope:

The Fiftieth Thousand.—Dr. Bell's Treatise on Self-Abuse, Premature Decay, Impotence and Loss of Power, Sexual Diseases, Seminal Weakness, Nightly Emissions, Genital Debility, &c., &c., a pamphlet of 64 pages, containing important advice to the afflicted, and which should be read by every sufferer, as the means of cure in the severest stages is plainly set forth. Two stamps required to pay postage.

December 9, 1863—1yr.

Important to Ladies.—Dr. Harvey's Female Pills have never yet failed in removing difficulties arising from obstruction, or stoppage of nature, or in restoring the system to perfect health when suffering from Spinal Affection, Prolapsus, Uteri, the Whites, or other weakness of the Uterine Organs. The Pills are perfectly harmless on the constitution, and may be taken by the most delicate female without causing distress—the same time they act like a charm by strengthening, invigorating and restoring the system to a healthy condition, and by bringing on the monthly period with regularity, no matter from what causes the obstruction may arise. They should, however, NOT be taken during the first three or four months of pregnancy, though safe at any other time, as miscarriage would be the result.

Each box contains 60 Pills. Price $1.

Dr. Harvey's Treatise on Diseases of Females, Pregnancy, Miscarriage, Barrenness, Sterility, Reproduction, and Abuses of Nature, and emphatically the Ladies' Private Medical Adviser, a pamphlet of 64 pages, sent free to any address. Six cents required to pay postage.

The Pills and book will be sent by mail when desired, securely sealed, and prepaid, by

J. BRYAN, M. D., General Agent,
No. 76 Cedar street, New York.

☞ Sold by all the principal druggists.
December 9, 1863—1 yr.

Putnam Clothes Wringer.

IT IS THE ONLY RELIABLE

SELF-ADJUSTING WRINGER

NO WOOD TO SWELL OR SPLIT.
NO THUMB SCREWS TO GET OUT OF ORDER.
Warranted with or without Cog-Wheels.

It took the FIRST PREMIUM at fifty-seven State and County Fairs in 1863, and is, without an exception, the best Wringer ever made.

Patented in the United States, England, Canada and Australia. Agents wanted in every town, and in all parts of the world.

Sample Wringer sent, express paid, on receipt of price.

Energetic agents can make from 3 to 10 dollars per day.

No. 2, $6.50; No. 1, $7.50; No. F, $8.50; No. A, $9.50.

Manufactured and sold, wholesale and retail, by THE PUTNAM MANUFACTURING CO., No. 13 Platt Steet, New York, and Cleveland, Ohio.

S. C. NORTHROP, Agent.

WHAT EVERYBODY KNOWS, VIZ:

That Iron well galvanized will not rust;

That a simple machine is better than a complicated one;

That a Wringer should be self-adjusting, durable, and efficient;

That Thumb-Screws and Fastenings cause delay and trouble to regulate and keep in order;

That wood soaked in hot water will swell, shrink and split;

That wood bearings for the shaft to run in will wear out;

That the Putnam Wringer, with or without cog-wheels, will not tear the clothes;

That cog-wheel regulators are not essential;

That the Putnam Wringer has all the advantages, and not one of the disadvantages above named;

That all who have tested it, pronounce it the best Wringer ever made;

That it will wring a Thread or a Bed-Quilt, WITHOUT ALTERATION.

We might fill the paper with testimonials, but insert only a few to convince the skeptical, if such there be; and we say to all, test Putnam's Wringer. Test it THOROUGHLY with ANY and ALL others, and if not entirely satisfactory, return it.

Putnam Manufacturing Co:—Gentlemen, I know from practical experience that iron well galvanized with zinc will not oxidize or rust one particle. The Putnam Wringer is as near perfect as possible, and I can cheerfully recommend it to be the best in use. Respectfully yours,

JNO. W. WHEELER, Cleveland, Ohio.

Many years' experience in the galvanizing business enable me to indorse the above statement in all particulars.

JNO. C. LEFFERTS, No. 100 Beckman St.
New York, January, 1864.

We have tested Putnam's Clothes Wringer by practical working, and know that it will do. It is cheap; it is simple; it requires no room, whether at work or at rest; a child can operate it; it does its duty thoroughly; it saves time and it saves wear and tear. We earnestly advise all who have much washing to do, with all intelligent persons who have any, to buy this Wringer. It will pay for itself in a year at most.

HON. HORACE GREELEY.

July 27, 1864.—3m

Do You Wish to be Cured.

Dr. Buchan's English Specific Pills cure, in less than 30 days, the worst cases of NERVOUSNESS, Impotency, Premature Decay, Seminal Weakness, Insanity, and all Urinary, Sexual and Nervous Affections, no matter from what cause produced. Price, One Dollar per box. Sent, post-paid, by mail, on receipt of order. One Box will perfect the cure in most cases. Address JAMES S. BUTLER,

jy 13-3m General Agent, 427 Broadway, New York.

HEYLINGBERG'S
Hair Dressing Saloon,
24 MAIN ST., SOUTH DANVERS.

J. J. HEYLINGBERG would announce to his patrons and the public generally, that on and after JUNE 1st, 1864, he will abide by the following

TARIFF OF PRICES:

Shaving,	10 cts.
Hair Cutting,	15 cts.
Champooing,	15 cts.

Particular attention paid to dying hair and whiskers, in one preparation, without washing or scrubbing.

South Danvers, May 11, 1864.

Job Press for Sale.

Ruggles' Job Engine Press. Prints a bill 13 by 19 inches. Can be run by one man at the rate of 800 per hour. Is in good condition. It will sold at a very low price, as the owner has no use for it. It is a big bargain. Apply at this office. jy 20-tf

---

NEW WHITE WARE.

White Tea Ware and White Dinner Ware, of the new patterns, at

jy 20 S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS', 32 Front st.

Cards.

M. B. MANSFIELD,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
214 ESSEX STREET, SALEM, MASS.

 Particular attention paid to procuring Pensions, Bounties, Back Pay, Prize Money, and Army and Navy Claims of all descriptions. March 2.

H. L. HADLEY,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
CORNER MAPLE AND ELM ST.,
Danvers.

Claims against the Government for Bounty, Back Pay, and Pensions, promptly attended to.

THOMAS M. STIMPSON,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
194 ESSEX STREET, SALEM.
Residence Lowell street, South Danvers.

B. C. PERKINS,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
South Danvers—Office in Allen's Building.

ALFRED A. ABBOTT,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
Office, No. 24 Washington Street, Salem.
House, Main St., So. Danvers.

SIDNEY C. BANCROFT,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
27 Washington Street, Salem.

H. O. WILEY,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
Office, Allen's Building, South Danvers.

Claims against the Government for Bounty, Back Pay, and Pensions, promptly attended to.

A. S. CRAWFORD
Dentist,
No. 4 Main Street, So. Danvers Square
Mechanical Dentistry Neatly Executed.

W. L. BOWDOIN,
SURGEON DENTIST,
No. 208 Essex Street, Salem, (Opposite the Marke
Residence—No. 57 Washington street.
jan 11—1y

NEWMAN & SYMONDS,
DEALERS IN
Family Groceries, Flour & Grain,
HARD WARE AND CROCKERY,
Ready Made Clothing, Gents' Furnishing Goods,
Hats, Caps, Boots, Shoes, &c.,
South Danvers Square, opp. Congregational Church
SAM'L NEWMAN. NATH'L SYMONDS.

S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS,
DEALERS IN
Crockery, China and Hardware; Paper Hangings; Solar and Entry Lamps; Paints, Oil and Window Glass.
No. 32 Front street, Lawrence Place,
feb13 SALEM, MASS.

HENRY L. WHIDDEN,
HOUSE AND SIGN PAINTER,
Glazier and Paperer,
Central Street, South Danvers.
All orders promptly and faithfully executed.
jan2-1y

E. S. FLINT,
DEALER IN
West India Goods, Country Poduce,
No. 2 Main Street, South Danvers.

JESSE SMITH
No. 262 Essex Street, Salem,
Importer and Dealer in
Gold and Silver Watches,
MARINE CHRONOMETERS,
Aueroid Barometers, Spy Glasses, &c.

WILLIAM BLANEY,
HOUSE & SIGN PAINTER
Grainer, Glazier and Paper Hanger.
164 MAIN STREET, Corner of Grove.
WINDOWS and BLINDS cheap for cash.
mch6-tf

F. POOLE
INSURANCE AGENT,
Allen's Building (up stairs),
Deeds drawn, and other common forms.

Horse Railroad Notice.

On and after Monday, May 9, the cars of the Salem and South Danvers Railroad Co. will leave

South Danvers for Salem and Beverly at 6.35, 6.55, 7.15, and 7.35, A. M., and every 20 minutes till 12.55 P. M., and at 1.10, 1.25, 1.40, 1.55 P. M., and every 15 minutes till 10.25 P. M. The 9.55, 10.10, and 10.25 P. M., cars will go only to Salem.

Cars will leave Beverly for Salem and South Danvers at 6.35, 6.55, 7.15, and 7.35, A. M., and every 20 minutes till 12.55 P. M., and at 1.10, 1.25, 1.40, and 1.55 P.M., and every 15 minutes till 10.40 P. M. The 9.40, 9.55, 10.10, 10.25 and 10.40 P. M., cars go only to Salem.

Cars leave Washington Street Station for So. Danvers at 6.12, 6.32 and 6.52 A. M. and every 20 minutes till 12.32 P. M, and leave Washington St. Station for Beverly at 6.17, 6.37, 6.57, A.M., and every 20 minutes till 12 37 P. M., and cars will leave Washington St. Station for South Danvers and Beverly at 12.45, 1, 1.15, and 1.30 P. M., and every 15 minutes till 10.00 P. M.

M. H. HALE,
may 11 Sup't. S. & S. D. R. R. Co.

FOR NEW YORK via FALL RIVER AND NEWPORT.

Cabin passage $5.00; Deck $4.00. Cars leave the Depot of the Old Colony and Newport Railway, corner of South and Kneeland streets, at 5.30 P. M., daily.

For steamer METROPOLIS, Capt. W. Brown, on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

For steamer EMPIRE STATE, Capt. P. Brayton, on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays.

Passengers by this route can take the 4.40 P. M. Express Train, and arrive in Fall River one hour before the Steamboat Train, having time to secure State Rooms and make their preparations for the passage.

Passengers by this line going to Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, &c., can connect with the New Jersey or Camden and Amboy Railroad. Baggage Checked through.

☞ A baggage master accompanies the passengers through to New York. Tickets, Berths and Staterooms secured at this office, and at O. C. & Newport R. R. Station.

GEORGE SHIVERICK, Agent.
No. 82 Washington Street.
Boston, November 16, 1863.

MOULTON'S
NEW LIVERY STABLE,

Is removed to stable formerly occupied by
SAMUEL HAM,
On MAIN STREET, opposite the Institute.

Good Horses and Carriages will be always in readiness at short notice.

South Danvers, May 25, 1864.

PRESERVE YOUR FRUIT.

Glass Jars and Glass Covers, for preserving Fruits, Vegetables, &c., in a perfectly fresh state, for sale by S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS', 32 Front st.

Advertisements.

HOSTETTER'S
CELEBRATED
STOMACH BITTERS.

A pure and powerful Tonic, corrective and alterative of wonderful efficacy in disease of the

Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

Cures Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Headache, Debility, Nervousness, Depression of Spirits, Constipation, Colic, Intermittent Fevers, Cramps and Spasms, and all Complaints of either Sex, arising from Bodily Weakness whether inherent in the system or produced by special causes.

Nothing that is not wholesome, genial and restorative in its nature enters into the composition of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. This popular preparation contains no mineral of any kind, no deadly botanical element; no fiery excitant: but it is a combination of the extracts of rare balsamic herbs and plants with the purest and mildest of all diffusive stimulants.

It is well to be forearmed against disease, and, so far as the human system can be protected by human means against maladies engendered by an unwholesome atmosphere, impure water and other external causes, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS may be relied on as a safeguard.

In districts infested with Fever and Ague, it has been found infallible as a preventive and irresistible as a remedy, and thousands who resort to it under apprehension of an attack, escape the scourge; and thousands who neglect to avail themselves of its protective qualities in advance, are cured by a very brief course of this marvelous medicine. Fever and Ague patients, after being plied with quinine for months in vain, until fairly saturated with that dangerous alkaloid, are not unfrequently restored to health within a few days by the use of HOSTETTER'S BITTERS.

The weak stomach is rapidly invigorated and the appetite restored by this agreeable Tonic, and hence it works wonders in cases of Dyspepsia and in less confirmed forms of Indigestion. Acting as a gentle and painless apperient, as well as upon the liver, it also invariably relieves the Constipation superinduced by irregular action of the digestive and secretive organs.

Persons of feeble habit, liable to Nervous Attacks, Lowness of Spirits and Fits of Languor, find prompt and permanent relief from the Bitters. The testimony on this point is most conclusive, and from both sexes.

The agony of Bilious Colic is immediately assuaged by a single dose of the stimulant, and by occasionally resorting to it, the return of the complaint may be prevented.

As a General Tonic, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS produce effects which must be experienced or witnessed before they can be fully appreciated. In cases of Constitutional Weakness, Premature Decay and Debility and Decrepitude arising from Old Age, it exercises the electric influence. In the convalescent stages of all diseases it operates as a delightful invigorant. When the powers of nature are relaxed, it operates to re-enforce and re-establish them.

Last, but not least, it is The Only Safe Stimulant, being manufactured from sound and innocuous materials, and entirely free from the acid elements present more or less in all the ordinary tonics and stomachics of the day.

No family medicine has been so universally, and, it may be truly added, deservedly popular with the intelligent portion of the community, as HOSTETTER'S BITTERS.

Prepared by HOSTETTER & SMITH, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Sold by all Druggists, Grocers and Storekeepers everywhere.

HELMBOLD'S
GENUINE PREPARATIONS.

COMPOUND FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU, a Positive and Specific Remedy for diseases of the Bladder, Kidneys, Gravel, and Dropsical Swellings.

This Medicine increases the power of Digestion, and excite the Absorbents into healthy action, by which the Wtaery or Calcareous depositions, and all Unnatural Enlargements are reduced, as well as Pain and Inflammation.

—:o:—

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU.

For Weaknesses arising from Excesses, Habits of Dissipation, Early Indiscretion of Abuse, attended with the following symptoms:—

Indisposition to Exertion,	Loss of Power,
Loss of Memory,	Difficulty of Breathing,
Weak Nerves,	Trembling,
Horror of Disease,	Wakefulness,
Dimness of Vision,	Pain in the Back,
Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System,
Hot Hands,	Flushing of the Body,
Dryness of the Skin,	Eruptions on the Face,
Pallid Countenance.

These symptoms, if allowed to go on, which this medicine invariably removes, soon follows

Impotency, Fatuity, Epileptic Fits,

In one of which the patient may expire.

Who can say that they are not frequently followed by those "Direful Diseases,"

"INSANITY AND CONSUMPTION."

Many are aware of the cause of their suffering, BUT NONE WILL CONFESS THE RECORDS OF THE INSANE ASYLUMS.

And Melancholy Deaths by Consumption bear ample witness to the Truth of the assertion.

The Constitution once effected with Organic Weakness requires the aid of Medicine to Strengthen and Invigorate the system,

Which Helmbold's Extract Buchu invariably does. A Trial will convince the most skeptical.

FEMALES—FEMALES—FEMALES.

In many Affections peculiar to Females the Extract Buchu is unequalled by any other remedy, as in Chlorosis or Retention, Irregularity, Painfulness, or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated Scirrhous state of the Uterus, Leuchorrhea or Whites, Sterility, and for all complaints incident to the sex, whether arising from indiscretion or Habits of Dissipation, or in the

DECLINE OR CHANGE OF LIFE.

—:o:—

Take no more Balsam, Mercury, or unpleasant Medicines for unpleasant and dangerous diseases.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU AND IMPROVED ROSE WASH, CURES

SECRET DISEASES

In all their Stages, At little Expense.
Little or no change in Diet. No inconvenience.
And no Exposure.

It causes a frequent desire and gives strength to Urinate, thereby Removing Obstructions, Preventing and Curing Strictures of the Urethra, allaying Pain and Inflammation, so frequent in this class of diseases, and expelling all Poisonous, Diseased and wornout Matter.

Thousands upon Thousands who have been the Victims of Quacks, and who have paid heavy fees to be cured in a short time, have found they were deceived, and that the "POISON" has, by the use of "Powerful Astringents," been dried up in the system, to break out in an aggravated form, and perhaps after Marriage.

Use Helmbold's Extract Buchu for all affections and diseases of the URINARY ORGANS, whether existing in MALE or FEMALE, from whatever cause originating and no matter of HOW LONG STANDING.

Diseases of these Organs requires the aid of a DIURETIC. HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU IS THE GREAT DIURETIC, and is certain to have the desired effect in all Diseases for which it is Recommended.

Evidence of the most reliable and responsible character will accompany the medicine.

Price $1.00 per bottle, or six for $5.00.

Delivered to any Address, securely packed from observation.

Describe Symptoms in all Communications.

Cures Guaranteed! Advice Gratis!!

Address letters for information to
H. B. HELMBOLD, Chemist,
104 South Tenth-st., bel. Chestnut, Phila.

HELMBOLD'S Medical Depot.
HELMBOLD'S Drug & Chemical Warehouse.
594 Broadway, New York.

BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS AND UNPRINCIPLED DEALERS who endeavor to dispose "of their own" and "other" articles on the reputation attained by

Helmbold's Genuine Preparations.
" " Extract Buchu.
" " " Sarsaparilla.
" " Improved Rose Wash.

SOLD BY
ALL DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE.
ASK FOR HELMBOLD'S. TAKE NO OTHER.
Cut out the Advertisement and send for it.
AND AVOID IMPOSITION AND EXPOSURE.
December 16, 1863.—1 yr.

WM. C. HENDERSON,
MANUFACTURER OF
PLAIN AND FANCY
PAPER BOXES;
No. 235 ESSEX STREET,
Sign of "Nest of Boxes,"
july 23 SALEM. tf

MANHOOD:
HOW LOST, HOW RESTORED.

Just published, a new edition of Dr. Culverwell's Celebrated Essay on the radical cure (without medicine) of Spermatorrhœa, or Seminal Weakness, Involuntary Seminal Losses, Impotency, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage, etc.; also, Consumption, Epilepsy and Fits, induced by self-indulgence or sexual extravagance.

☞ Price, in a sealed envelope, only 6 cents.

The celebrated author in this admirable essay clearly demonstrates from a thirty years successful practice, that the alarming consequences of self-abuse may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicine or the application of the knife—pointing out a mode of cure, at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

☞ This Lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the land.

Sent under seal, in a plain envelope, to any address, POST-PAID, on receipt of six cents, or two post stamps. Address the publishers,

CHAS. J. C. KLINE & CO.,
127 Bowery, New York, Post Office Box, 4586.
June 29—10w.

SPEED, COMFORT AND SAFETY!

FOR NEW YORK.
Norwich Steamboat Train.
The only Boats Landing at Jersey City.

Cabin Passage, $5.00; Deck Passage, $4.00. The new and elegant sixteen wheel cars of the steamboat express train leave the Boston & Worcester Railroad Station, Albany Street, at 5½ P. M., daily, connecting with the new steamers, (built expressly for this line,) CITY OF BOSTON, Capt. Willcox, Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays; CITY OF NEW YORK, Capt. Jewett, Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays, which (before proceeding to their Pier, No. 39 North River,) will touch at the wharf of the New Jersey Railroad at Jersey City, (Sundays excepted) thus enabling Southern Passengers to make sure connections with the First Southern Train, and at the same time avoid the great annoyance of the Ferry and Hack transportation in the crowded streets of New York. This insures ample time for Breakfast before the trains leave. Conductors E. Morrill and T. N. Turner accompany the passengers through to New York.

Tickets, Berths and Staterooms secured at the Railroad Station, and at the Office of the line, 79 Washington Street, Boston.

Through tickets to Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington can be had at 79 Washington Street, Boston. WM. DICKEY, Jr., Agent.

Boston, January 7, 1864.

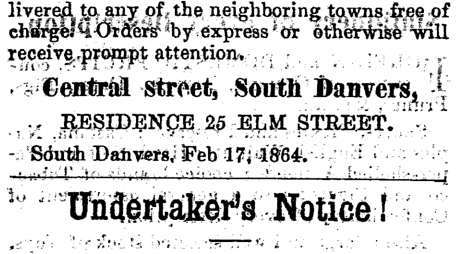
CURRIER & MILLETT,
Dealers in
Furniture, Chairs,
MATTRESSES, FEATHERS, &
259 & 261 ESSEX ST.
Salem, dec 14—1y

H. & H. G. HUBON,
WASHINGTON STREET, SALEM
Manufacturers of
Rose Wood, Mahogany, Black Walnut and Stained Wood
COFFINS and CASKETS.

Making this our exclusive business, we are ready at all times and at the shortest notice to furnish Grave Clothes of various styles, as well as Coffins and Caskets of the finest finish. Personal attention given, and delivered without extra charge to any of the neighboring towns. All orders by express or otherwise will receive prompt attention.

Black Walnut and White Wood Boards, Plank and Joists for sale.

dec 14—tf



CHARLES S. BUFFUM,

Being an authorized UNDERTAKER of South Danvers, will attend Funerals in said place with his Hearse the same as the Town Undertaker. Will also attend Funerals, when desired, in any of the neighboring towns, with one or a pair of horses.

He also furnishes Coffin Caskets, Robes, &c., lower than city prices.

All branches of the business attended to, such as furnishing Coaches, Flowers, Laying Out, &c. Ice Preservers furnished.

All orders promptly attended to, and personal attention given to them. Articles delivered to any of the neighboring towns free of charge. Orders by express or otherwise will receive prompt attention.

Central street, South Danvers,
RESIDENCE 25 ELM STREET.
South Danvers, Feb 17, 1864.

Undertaker's Notice!

The subscriber being regularly appointed as Undertaker of South Danvers, would respectfully notify the public that he has removed from Central Street, to No. 80 Lowell Street, where he may be found in readiness to attend funerals, and to furnish, when desired.

HENRY SPENCER.
February 10, 1864.

Chickering & Sons' Piano-Fortes.
Hallett & Cumston's Piano-Fortes.
Hallett & Davis's Piano-Fortes.

We select our Piano-Fortes from the above firms and warrant them to give perfect satisfaction. Our terms are reasonable, and all persons in the city and neighboring towns can be accommodated by calling at 76 Federal street.

FOR SALE—Second-hand Piano-Fortes,—Chickering's and others.

ap 29 ANN R. BRAY.

NEW BOOKS,
At G. M. WHIPPLE & A. A. SMITH'S.

Enoch Arden, by Tennyson;
Talks on Women's Topics, by Jennie June;
Capt. Brand, by Harry Wise;
The Monomaniac;
Imogene—a new Novel;
London Nautical Magazine, July;
Geneological Register, July. 190 Essex st.

Eastern Railroad.

On and after Monday, April 4, 1864, Trains will leave the Eastern Railroad Station, Washington street, Salem, daily. (Sundays excepted):

For Lynn and Boston, *5.50, 7, 8¼, 9, 10, 11 a m., 12.55, 2¼, 5½, 7, 7½, p. m.

Beverly, 8 8 15, 11½, am., 1, 3½, 2¾, 5¾, 6.55, 7¾ p m.

W. Beach, Man'r, Gloucester, and Rockport, 8, 11½, a. m., 3¼, 6½ p m.

Ipswich and Newburyport, 8 05 am., 1, 3¾, 5¾, 6.55pm.

Amesbury, 8 05 a m., 1, 3¾, 5¾ p m.

Portsmouth, 8 05 a m., 3¾, p m.

Portland, 8 05 a m., 3¾ p m.

AND FOR SALEM, FROM

Portland, 8½ a m., 3 p m.

Portsmouth, 6 20 9 10, *11½ a m., *5½ p m.

Amesbury, 7.35, 9.40 a m., 5.55 p m.

Newburyport, 7, 7 55, 10, 11.50 a m., 6½ p m.

Ipswich, 7.20, 8.15, 10.20 a m., 12.15, 6.35 p m.

Gloucester, 7, 10, 10 10 a m., 1.40, 4.40 pm.

Manchester, 7.25, 10.25 a m., 1.55, 4.55 p m.

Beverly, 6.50, 7.50, 8.20, 8.50 10.50 am., 12.45, 2.20, 5.20, 6.45, 7.05 pm.

Lynn, 7.45, 7.50, 9, 11, a. m., 12.45, 3, 3.30, 4.30, 5 30, 6, 6.40, 7.30, ‡10 p m.

Boston, 7½, 7¼, 8½, 10½ am., 12½, 2½, 3, 4, 5, 5.30, 6.10, 7, †9.30 p m.

*Or on arrival from the East.
‡On Wednesdays this train leaves Boston at 11¼ p m. and on Saturdays at 10½ p m.

MARBLEHEAD BRANCH.

Marblehead for Salem, 6¾, 7¾, 8¾, 9¾ a m., 12¾, 1¾, 5¼ 6¾, 7¾ p m.

Salem for Marblehead, 7¼, 8¼, 9.25, 11¼ a m., 1, 3¾, 5¾, 7, 7.50 p m.

SOUTH READING BRANCH.

Trains leave the South Reading Depot in Salem for Boston at 6.35, 9.50 a m., 2.25, 4.55 p m

Boston for Salem, 7 a m., 12 m., 2 30, 5½ p m.

ESSEX RAILROAD.

Leave Salem for Lawrence and way stations, 7, 11¼ a m., 4.45 p m.

Lawrence for Salem, 8 a m., 12.40, 5.50 p m.

Danvers for Salem, 8.40 a m., 1.20, 6.30 p m.

South Danvers for Salem, 8¾ a m., 1.25, 6.35 p m.

J. PRESCOTT, Superintendent.

Boston, April 5, 1864.

Salem and Lowell Railroad.

On and after Monday, April 4, 1864, Trains will run as follows:

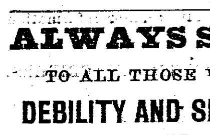
Leave Lowell for Salem, 7.25 a m., and *2.45 p m.
Leave Salem for Lowell, *9 40 a m. and 6 00 p m.

Passengers are not allowed to carry baggage above $50 in value, and that personal, unless notice is given and an extra amount paid. Season tickets do not entitle the holder to take baggage.

*Freight Train with passenger car attached.

F. H. NOURSE, Local Superintendent.
April 4, 1864

South Danvers & Salem Mail Express.



E. LITTLEFIELD, successor to P. Webber, will run an Express regularly between So. Danvers and Salem for the delivery of packages and bundles, and all goods usually delivered by Express.

Leave South Danvers at 7½ and 11 AM, and 1½ and 5 P M.

Leaves Salem at 8 45 A M., 12 M., 2½ and 6 P M.

This Express connects with the first train from Salem going East.

Slates—In Salem, 13 Central st., and at the Messrs. Roberts' store, corner of Front and Washington sts. South Danvers—At the Post Office; at Blake & Holman's store; also at R. O. Spiller's store. aug 10

Abbott's South Danvers & Salem
EXPRESS.

Leave South Danvers, - - - - 7½ a m, 1 p m
Leave Salem, - - - - - 10 a m, 4 p m

Orders left at Teel & Moulton's, and principal stores on Main street, South Danvers; and at 7 Washington street, and at Reed's in the Market, Salem.

Are you Insured?

The subscriber would respectfully call your attention to the fact that he is fully prepared to effect Insurance against Fire, to any amount, at current rates, on

Dwelling Houses, Barns and their contents, Stores, Stocks of Goods, Furniture, &c. &c., and on buildings in process of erection,

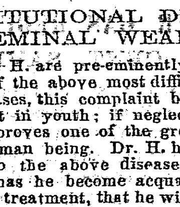
And that he is the authorized Agent for the following responsible Stock and Mutual Companies, viz:

Thames Insurance Co., (Stock,) Norwich, Conn.
Capital—$500,000.
Amos W. Prentice, Pres. Oliver F. Rice, Sec'y
Conway Insurance Company, (Stock) Boston.
Capital and Surplus—$260,000.
James F. Whitney, Pres. David C. Rogers, Sec'y.
City Insurance Company, (Stock) Boston.
Capital—$150,000.
Samuel P. Hayward, Pres. Austin W. Benton, Sec'y

Also, will effect Insurance on the LIVES OF INDIVIDUALS, for one year, seven years, or for the whole term of life, in the

Massachusetts Mutual Life Ins. Co., Springfield, Mass.
Capital and Assets—$375,000.
Caleb Rice, Pres. D. B. Bacon, Sec'y.
William Mack, M. D., Medical Examiner.

WM. ARCHER, Jr.,
18 Washington st. and 34 Front st., Salem.
feb20-1



ALWAYS SUCCESSFUL!

TO ALL THOSE WHO SUFFER FROM

DEBILITY AND SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Drs. Carswell & Hunter, regularly educated, highly eminent, and successful practitioners, after a very extensive practice in Boston, for over twenty years, need hardly speak of their medical qualifications, or remind strangers not to class them with a set of uneducated men, who fill the papers with their boasting advertisements. Drs. C. & H. caution the public against quackery in all its forms, pretending, as some self-styled doctors, to cure all the most difficult and chronic diseases, without knowledge of the human system, or of the modus operandi of the most simple drugs.

Drs. C. & H., since 1840, having confined their whole attention to an office practice for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, they acknowledge no superiors.

CONSTITUTIONAL DEBILITY OR SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Drs. C. & H. are pre-eminently successful in the treatment of the above most difficult and perplexing of all diseases, this complaint being the result of a secret habit in youth; if neglected or improperly treated, it proves one of the greatest evils that can befall a human being. Dr. H. has given particular attention to the above disease for years, and so thoroughly has he become acquainted with the pathology and treatment, that he will warrant a perfect cure under forfeiture of $500; in fact, he will, in the cure of this complaint, acknowledge no superior in this country, or even in the world. Come, then, all you who are afflicted, come to the Old Stand, where you will in a short time be made to rejoice in perfect health.

Syphilitic and Scrofulous Affections,—such as Ulcers and Caries of the throat and nose, Running Sores on the legs and arms, Hard Scabs and Scaly Eruptions on the head, back, &c., pains in the bones and joints, and all other forms of venereal diseases—are made to yield and entirely disappear under Drs. C. & H.'s improved and thoroughly eradicating course of treatment.

The primary or first symptoms of disease, whether a simple running, or small pistules, cancers, or ulcers, are cured in a very few days, if immediate application is made to Drs. C. & H.

13 ENDICOTT STREET, BOSTON. 13

Strangers should be particular in the selection of a physician, lest they be deceived by false advertisements.

Ladies troubled with irregularity, weakness, whites, and other complaints peculiar to the female system, will find a speedy cure by calling as above. No mercury used, and no charge for advice. The afflicted are invited to give us a call.

Boston, April 20, 1864.—1 yr.

---

25 YEARS' EXPERIENCE enables DRS. CARSWELL & HUNTER to cure any diseases of a private nature in a shorter space of time and for a smaller amount of money than any other doctors in this country, and they also treat all female complaints with perfect success, and on the most satisfactory terms. Patients furnished with board if desired. Please give us a call at our office, No. 13 Endicott St., Boston, Mass.

Boston, April 20, 1864.—1 yr.

A Card to the Suffering.

Swallow two or three hogsheads of "Buchu," "Tonic Bitters," "Sarsaparilla," "Nervous Antidotes," &c., &c., &c., and after you are satisfied with the result, then try one box of OLD DOCTOR BUCHAN'S ENGLISH SPECIFIC PILLS—and be restored to health and vigor in less than thirty days. They are purely vegetable, pleasant to take, prompt and salutary in their effects on the broken-down and shattered constitution. Old and young can take them with advantage. Imported and sold in the United States only by JAS. S. BUTLER, No. 427 Broadway, New York.

☞ Agent for the United States.

P. S. A Box of the Pills, securely packed, will be mailed to any address on receipt of price, which is ONE DOLLAR, post-paid,—money refunded by the Agent if entire satisfaction is not given. jy 13-3m

SUMMER ARRAN
TO LYNN & BOS
BY OMNIBUS & HOR
W. F. BURNHA

Line of Omnibuses will leave the Omnibus Office, No. 6 Allen's Buil vers, passing down Main Street, thro
Street, to Lynn, daily—Sundays inc
Leave South Danvers at 7 50 o'cl
and 4 50 P. M
Leave Lynn (Horse Car Depot, W
A. M., 2 40 and 6 40 P. M.
Horse Cars leaving the office at at 8 15 A. M., 1 15 and 5 15 P. M., wil buses at Lynn, at the above name
passengers to South Danvers.
Tickets to Lynn, - -
Through to Boston,

Gravesend, Woodend, a
Depot Route

On and after Monday, Nov 2, in a route, an Omnibus will leave So
Lynn, to connect with the steam
times daily,—Sundays excepted,—
Gravesend and Woodend, to the Ce
and Horse Railroad Station, corne
Broad Streets; leaving South Danve
necting with the 7.25 steam cars for (connecting with the 11.10 train), an ing with the 4.50 train); and return
from the Spring Street Station and
pot, at 8 A M, and 1 and 6 P M.
Fare from S. Danvers to Boston b
" " " "
Through Tickets to and from Bost
the Drivers and Conductors.

South Danvers, Salem
Route.

The subscriber having purchase
ley the Omnibus line running
Lynn, would announce that it wi
Stage Office, No. 6 Allen's Building,
for Salem, at 7 30 A M, and 2 30 P
Stage Office in Central St, Salem,
3 30 P M for Lynn. Returning will
A M and 5 P M; and Salem for Sout
A M, and 6.15 P M.
Passengers between South Danvar
be called for by leaving orders at th
Passengers called for at reasonabl
s given at the office.

EXPRESS BUSIN
Between South Danvers and Lynn
ed to, on reasonable terms.
Extra Coaches furnished at short
F. B
South Danvers, April 20, 1864.

GROUT & MUN
SOUTH DANVERS&
RAILROAD EX
Express leaves South Danvers at
Freight " at
Express leaves Boston at
Freight " " at
OFFICE at FREIGHT D
Danvers Square.
Express Office in Boston, 3 Was
Freight Office, 48 Kil
Particular attention paid to
niture, collecting Bills, Notes,
Smallest favors thankfully received
South Danvers, august 26—tf

MARSHAL
DANVERS, SO. DANVER
EXPRESS
Leave DANVERS (daily) at 9 A. M
" SALEM at 1½ P. M.
OFFICES:
In Danvers—At E B Waitt's and the
Danversport—Richards' and A W W
In So. Danvers—Francis Dane & Co'
street.
In Salem—No 7 Washington street,
17 Derby Square.
All business promptly and faithfull
—— Our patrons are particular
write their orders.
—— Packages, left at the office, sh
"Marshall's Express."
—— Being connected with the
are enabled to forward Notes, Dra collection, and small packages, t point in the United States, at the
P. G dec1s8-tf

Important to the A

Dr. Dow continues to be consul
Nos. 7 and 9 Endicott street, Bo
eases of a
PRIVATE OR DELICATE
By a long course of study and pra of unlimited extent, Dr. D. has now of presenting the unfortunate wi have never, since he first introduce cure the most alarming cases of
GONORRHŒA AND SYP
Beneath his treatment, all the hor and impure blood, Impotency, Scrof Ulcers, pain and distress in the re tion, Inflammation of the Bladder a drocele, Abcesses, Humors, frightfu the long train of horrible symptom class of disease, are made to become
the simplest ailings of a child.
SEMINAL WEAKNE
Dr. D. devotes a great part of his ment of those cases caused by a se habit, which ruins the body and mi unfortunate individual for business of the sad and melancholy effects p habits of youth, are Weakness
limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimn
pitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, N
rangement of the digestive functio
Consumption, &c. The fearful effe are much to be dreaded; loss of m
of ideas, depression of spirits,
aversion of society, self-distrust,
among the evils produced. Such pe fore contemplating matrimony, cons experience, and be at once restor
happiness.
Patients who wish to remain unde
ment a few days or weeks, will be pleasant rooms, and charges for bo
Medicines sent to all parts of the directions for use, on receiving d cases. Dr. Dow has also for sale the warranted the best preventive.
or $1 and a red stamp.

CAUTION
TO FEMALES IN DELICAT
DR. DOW, Physician and Surgeon street, Boston, is consulted daily for dent to the female system. Prolaps
ing of the Womb, Fluor Albus, Supp er menstrual derangements, are all t pathological principles, and speedy in a very few days. So invariably mode of treatment, that most obst yield under it, and the afflicted pers
in perfect health.
Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater cure of diseases of women and chi
other physician in Boston.
Boarding accommodations for pa
wish to stay in Boston a few days
ment.
Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confin
tention to an office practice, for the Diseases and Female Complaints, a
superior in the United States.
N. B.—All letters must contain fou
they will not be answered.
Office Hours from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M.

CERTAIN CU
IN ALL CASES, OR NO CHA
Dr. Dow is consulted daily, from as above, upon all difficult and ch every name and nature, having by tention and extraordinary success ga which calls patients from all parts o
obtain advice.
Among the physicians in Boston,
in the profession than the celebrated
7 Endicott street, Boston. Those wh vices of an experienced physician an give him a call. P. S.—Dr. Dow imp sale a new article, called the Frenc
by mail. Two for $1 and a red stam
April 20, 1864—1y.

E. S. FLI
Manufacturer and Deale
INNER SO
AND SHOE STIFFENINGS OF
2 Main Street, South

Choice Spring Pigs

The subscriber offers for sale nice
Prince Albert and Chester C
which the Mackie took the First Pre
Cattle Show. Prices reasonable.
BYRON GO
Near T
South Danvers, April 1, 1864.

South Danvers Wizard.

VOL. V. SOUTH DANVERS, MASS., WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 24, 1864. NO. 34.

HE SOUTH DANVERS WIZARD
ublished every WEDNESDAY, at Allen's Build-
South Danvers Square,
ERMS—Two Dollars a year.
VERTISEMENTS inserted at reasonable rates.

CHARLES D. HOWARD,
EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

S. R. NILES, Advertising Agent,
1 Scollay's Building, Court Street, Boston, is Agent for that city, and is authorized to re-e advertisements and subscriptions for us at lowest rates.

Selected Poetry.

[From Harper's Weekly.]

OUR FLAG!

As one of the brigades of the Reserve Corps ich came up to the rescue of Gen. Thomas Chicamauga was marching through Athens, abama, a bright-eyed girl of four summers s looking at the sturdy fellows tramping by. hen she saw the sun glancing through the ipes of red and on the golden stars of the g she exclaimed, clapping her hands, "Oh. ! pa! God made that flag! See the stars!" shout deep and loud went up from that lumn, and many a bronzed veteran lifted his t as he passed the sunny-haired child, re-ving, if his good right arm availed any-ing, God's flag should conquer.]

own the long streets the soldiers passed
In solid columns through the town;
eir clothes were soiled with Southern dust,
Their faces with the sun were brown.

ey marched the field of blood to reach,
Where the fierce cannon thundered loud, nd where 'twixt hostile armies rolled
The black and blinding battle-cloud.

ey bore aloft with conscious pride
The flag our fathers loved of old—at banner with the crimson stripes,
And with the shining stars of gold.

ose by the road-side stood a child
With flaxen hair and radiant eyes, eath whose white lids imprisoned seemed
The color of the azure skies.

or when she saw the sacred flag
For which our brave boys bear their scars,
Papa!" she cried, and clapped her hands,
"God made that flag—see, see the stars!"

he soldiers heard her little voice,
And pealing to the far-off sky shout prolonged and loud went up
From those bronzed veterans passing by.

ome raised aloft their dust-stained hats,
And many a stern face kindly smiled, nd eyes unused to tender looks
Turned fondly on the fair-haired child.

od's banner! Yes. With patriot blood
To-day its hallowed folds are wet;
ut by each precious drop now spilled
Its stars shall be forever set.

THE OAK TREE.

BY MARY HOWITT.

The Oak-Tree was an acorn once
And fell upon the earth,
And sun and showers nourished it
And gave the Oak-Tree birth.
The little sprouting Oak-Tree,
Two leaves it had at first,
Till sun and showers had nourished it,
Then out the branches burst.
The little sapling Oak Tree,
Its root was like a thread,
Till the kindly earth had nourished it,
Then out it freely spread.
On this side and on that side,
It grappled with the ground,
And in the ancient rifted rock
Its firmest footing found.

The winds came and the rain fell,
The gusty tempests blew,
All, all were friends to the Oak-Tree,
And stronger yet it grew;
The boy that saw the acorn fall,
He feeble grew and grey,
But the Oak was still a thriving tree
And strengthened every day!
For centuries grew the Oak-Tree,
Nor doth its verdure fail;
Its heart is like the iron-wood,
Its heart like plaited mail;
Now cut us down the Oak-Tree,
The monarch of the wood,
And of its timbers stout and strong
We'll make a vessel good.
The Oak-Tree of the forest
Both east and west shall fly,
And the blessing of a thousand lands
Upon our ship shall lie;
For she shall not be a man-of-war,
Nor a pirate shall she be,
But a noble Christian merchant ship
To sail upon the sea.

☞ The Mexican ladies, among other oddities, or what seems oddities to an unaccustomed eye, have a way of sipping chocolate during divine service. The pious personage, who has come all the way from Austria to play Emperor in the halls of Montezumas is said to be greatly scandalized at this proceeding.

☞ The French Punch takes off our American war, by a cut representing two men leaning against a post, one with a spy glass in his hand, and the other inquiring if the war in America has closed. To this the reply comes—not yet; I see that a few of the people still survive.

☞ A Scotch paper tells the story of a dairy farmer, who, after the burial of his wife, drove a hard bargain with the grave digger, who, bringing his hand down on the shovel, exclaimed: "Down wi' anither shillin', or up she comes!"

Selected.

A STORY FOR THE TIMES.

BY OLIVER OPTIC.

'To think of wearing the same dress to church Sunday after Sunday!' exclaimed Mrs. Bradley, a young married lady, to Mrs. Green, her mother.

'Why not, Sarah?'

'Folks will think it the only one I have which is fit to wear to meeting.'

'It is, isn't it?'

'I know it, but I don't care about all the world knowing it.'

'You would not make the whole world believe that which is not true, would you?'

'I don't care; I mean to have a new silk immediately.'

'But Sarah, your husband cannot afford it.'

'Yes he can; at least we can curtail our expenses in something else.'

'What?'

'Well, I don't know; we could make our provision bill less.'

Mrs. Green shook her head.

'I don't think there is any need of our having beef-steaks and mutton-chops every morning for breakfast. We never find such things at home, you know. I would not give a straw to have meat for breakfast.'

'But James depends upon it.'

'I know it; yet for the sake of letting me appear a little better on Sunday, he would willingly dispense with it.'

'Would you be willing to ask him the question?'

'Yes; why not?'

'You would ask him to go without his breakfast in order that you may have an extra silk dress!'

'Go without his breakfast, mother? I never thought of such a thing,' said Mrs. Bradley, with a disturbed look.

'But you know it amounts to the same to him. He was brought up in the country, where he had meat for breakfast, and he does not think he could make a meal without it.'

'We will not say anything more about that, then,' replied the young wife, who, I beg the reader to believe, would not willingly have deprived her husband of any real comfort. 'How do you suppose Mrs. Farmer gets so many dresses?'

'I don't know.'

'She seems to come out with a new one almost every Sunday. She must have at least half a dozen silks and berages.'

'I hope her husband can afford them,' replied Mrs. Green, shaking her head significantly.

'He is not any better off than James. They have the same salary, and are in the same concern.'

'A thousand dollars in these hard times will not go a great way with a man who has a family to support, especially if his wife has a great many silk dresses.'

'But James saves two or three hundred of his salary every year.'

'Every young man ought to save something.'

'Do you suppose John Farmer does?'

'I think not at the rate his wife dresses.'

'But it is too hard to wear the same dress every Sunday. If I had one more I could get along very well.'

'You would want another.'

'No I shouldn't mother.'

'There is no end to it when you undertake to follow all these absurdities. When I was a girl I had only one dress to wear to meeting and that was a calico one.'

'The times have changed.'

'Changed for the worse. I am sure no such vanity as flaunting out in a different dress every Sunday entered a girl's head, especially girls whose fathers are not independently rich.'

'Nobody thinks of wearing the same dress all the time. Only one more—'

'One is enough, Sarah. If you let such silly notions get into your head, you will never know where to stop. You could easily spend all your husband's salary in dress, and then not keep up with the demands of the times.'

'I am sure James can afford me a new silk; it will not cost much.'

'Do not think of it, child. Be prudent, careful and contented, and when James is different.'

Mrs. Bradley was satisfied, after considerable more demonstration on the part of her mother, that she could get along without another new silk. But it was hard to give up the idea of competing with Mrs. Farmer, whose husband was no better off than hers.

James Bradley and John Farmer were clerks in a large house in the city, and both resided in neat cottages in the suburbs. Their fortune had been thus far very much the same, and, perhaps they might have continued the same through life, but for the different character of their wives.

Mrs. Bradley had been brought up to live within her means.

A careful mother who realized the responsibility of her position and rigidly inculcated the principles of a sound economy, had trained her up to habits of economy and thrift. And all these practical qualities she had brought with her into her domestic relations, when she embarked in a new sphere of life.

Mrs. Farmer, on the other hand, though her parents were no better off in the world, had brought her up to be a lady—to wear fine dresses, and to play on the piano in the parlor. Her knowledge and experience in household duties were very narrow and superficial, and her husband's thousand dollars a year would hardly support them. They were obliged in order to dress her as her habits and wishes required, to 'scrimp' in many of the real comforts of life. The provision bill was kept at the lowest possible figure. Mrs. Farmer thought beef-steaks were unhealthy in the morning, and John found it necessary to be of her opinion. Six dollars a year for ice would buy a new bonnet, hence ice was the cause of a great many complaints that prevailed in summer.

The comforts of living were sacrificed to the luxuries of dress. Beef-steaks at twenty cents a pound were unhealthy; but new bonnets at ten dollars apiece were necessaries of life. Mutton chops at fifteen cents a pound caused dyspepsia, but silk dresses at a dollar and a half a yard, were not only healthy, but indispensable to the happiness of the lady.

All the salary was spent—was intended to be spent—and the only question was whether it should be put in the body or on the body. The habit of extravagance was there, and all the thrift and economy which Mrs. Farmer knew, was to save money for new dresses.

She and Mrs. Bradley were on intimate terms with each other, and as may readily be supposed, the subject of a new dress was frequently discussed.

A few days after the conversation of Mrs. Bradley with her mother, her neighbor was making a call. Mrs. Farmer could talk of nothing but dress. It was the study of her life—what she most hoped for in the future. As usual the conversation immediately degenerated into dress—it was all Mrs. Farmer knew.

'How do you like my new silk?' asked she, after several adroit passes in order to introduce this matter.

'It is very pretty, indeed. You come out in a new dress almost every Sunday, Ellen,' replied Mrs. Bradley.

'I wish I could.'

'I wonder how many nice dresses you have in your wardrobe?'

'I have only one that is fit to wear,' replied Mrs. Farmer, indifferently.

'Only one!'

'Only one that is fit to wear anywhere.'

'You have at least three silks.'

'All old-fashioned—made last fall—and all out of date. I tried to make John give me a berage, but he wouldn't.'

'I am sure if I had your dresses I should think I was a princess.'

'Pshaw! if my husband don't give me another next week, I shan't go to church but once a month.'

'If I had your dresses, Ellen, I should not think of another for a year at least.'

'Why don't you dress better, Sarah?'

'I can't afford to do so.'

'Pooh!'

'My mother thinks I dress well enough.'

'Why you have worn the same dress to meeting every Sunday for a year.'

'And probably shall wear it every Sunday for next year.'

'I wouldn't if I were you.'

'I can't afford a new dress every month. I was speaking the other day about having one more dress, but mother said so much against it, that I gave up the idea.'

'Tied to your mother's apron-string yet!' sneered Mrs. Farmer.

'I am too thankful to get my mother's advice to reject it.'

'But get the raw silk, do! It will become you so well; and then we shall have a little respite from that everlasting fawn-color!'

'No; I have made up my mind not to have it.'

'Put the money in your stomach instead and get the dyspepsia in the bargain!' said Mrs. Farmer, as she took her leave.

The 'long run' tells the story; so let us step forward a few years, and look into the counting-room of the clerks.

James and John are still there, and occupying the same relative positions. Their salaries have been raised, and for three years they have been the recipients of the handsome sum of fourteen hundred a year.

The first of January is at hand. Harris & Co. are about to dissolve, and the senior, who has made a princely fortune—and is a queer old fellow at that—is about to form a new co-partnership.

'Boys,' says old Mr. Harris, 'you have been with me a long while! I suppose you want to go ahead and become merchants.'

The 'boys' acknowledged the 'corn,' and John Farmer winked significantly at his associates.

'But,' continued the patriarchal merchant, 'to go ahead in business requires certain qualities of mind and body. One must be industrious, economical, and wide awake, as well as shrewd. Driving fast horses, eating champagne suppers, and sucking mint juleps, do not furnish the necessary schooling for a merchant. I won't preach, however. In one word, the first of January is close upon us. Those of you who can put two thousand dollars into the concern, shall draw a sixth of the profits! That's all.'

The old fellow turned on his heel, picked up his hat and left the counting-room.

James Bradley was the only one of the number—four in all—who could 'face the music.' The other three had perfected themselves in the art of driving 2.40 horses, drinking sherry cobblers, and eating good dinners, which Mr. Harris had hinted was not a necessary qualification for one of his partners. John Farmer's surplus had been spent in giving his wife, 'one more dress.' As his salary was increased from year to year, 'one more dress' was oftener required. Beef-steaks, mutton-chops and ice were as unhealthy and dyspeptic in their tendency as ever, and yet Mrs. Farmer, from the costliness of her apparel, might have been mistaken for the lady of a nabob.

Five years more. Old Harris is dead; and though the firm is Harris & Co., James Bradley is the senior partner. He has already made a competence, and does a very large business.

John Farmer left the concern three years ago. It was supposed he could not endure the thought of being a clerk under his former companion. He left Boston and went to New York, but his unthrifty habits followed him. His wife wore the greater part of his salary on her back; and disheartened by ill-success, he had increased the number of sherry cobblers in his per diem allowance to such an extent that he had been discharged from his place. Not being able to get another situation in New York, he reached Boston in straitened circumstances. He was equally unfortunate there. The toddy blossoms on his nose were against him; his coat was rusty, and his breath smelt like the fog from a three-cent grog-shop. His last dollar was spent, and his wife was paying a visit to a friend who had repeatedly urged her to spend a week with her, and whom she would have been very sorry to disappoint!

He was reduced to the last extremity. His old friend and associate, James Bradley, was now in affluence and able to assist him. Mortifying as was the thought, there was scarcely any other alternative but to apply to him for a situation.

James was shocked when he recognized him. Sherry cobblers, a shiftless wife, 'one more dress,' and the want of encouragement had done their work.

'Is there a vacancy in your counting-room, Mr. Bradley?' he asked, in humble tones.

'There is not, John; but I will create a place for you,' replied the liberal merchant, as he realized the situation of his former associate.

'Thank you,' replied John, a tear starting from his eye at this unexpected kindness—the first he had experienced anywhere, not excepting his own house—for many and many a weary month. James took him home to dine with him, and John had an opportunity to contrast his own circumstances with those of his thrifty friend. He was sad at heart—in fact he was a ruined man. He did very well for a few months in the counting-room of his friend, but his old habits soon obtained the mastery over him again, and he died suddenly of a disease induced by dissipation.

'One more dress,' said Mrs. Green—the good old lady was now a cherished member of her daughter's family—'is the representative of the whole system of extravagance. 'One more dress,' as the type of a great bundle of bad habits, was the ruin of John Farmer. Don't you know it, Sarah?'

'I do, mother, and I cannot be too grateful for your wholesome advice. I am sure without it, I should have procured 'one more dress,' then wanted another and another until I had spoiled all my husband's expectations. Poor Ellen Farmer! she is binding shoes for her daily bread now.'

THE DEAF WIVES.

The following story was told some dozen or fifteen years ago by an editor of a Pennsylvania paper, and has been published before. The scene occurred in New Hampshire, some forty years ago, and is doubtless true; and we reproduce it for our fun-loving readers of the present day:

Nathaniel Ela, or "Uncle Nat," as he was generally called, was the corpulent rubicund, and jolly old landlord of the best hotel in the flourishing village of Dover, at the head of the Piscataqua, and was exceedingly fond of a bit of fun withal. He was also the owner of a large farm in New Durham, about twenty miles distant, the overseer of which was one Caleb Ricker, or "Boss Kale," as termed by the numerous hands under his control, and sufficiently waggish for all practical purposes of fun and frolic.—Caleb, like a wise and prudent man, had a wife; and so had Uncle Nat, who was accustomed to visit his farm every month or two, to see how matters went on. On the occasion of one of these visits, the following dialogue occurred between Uncle Nat and Mistress Ricker:

"Mr Ela," said the good old lady, "why have you never brought Mrs. Ela out to see the farm, and pay us a visit? I dare say, she would be pleased to spend a day or two with us, and I would endeavor to render her stay as pleasant and comfortable as possible."

"Why, to tell the truth, Mrs. Ricker," said Uncle Nat, "I have been thinking about it for some time, but then she is so very deaf as to render conversation with her extremely difficult—in fact, it requires the greatest effort to hear anything that is said to her; and she is consequently very reluctant to mingle in the society of strangers."

"Never mind that," replied the importunate Mrs. Ricker, "I have a good strong voice, and if anybody can make her hear, I can."

"If you think so, and will risk it," said Uncle Nat, "she shall accompany me on my next visit to the farm." This having been agreed on, Uncle Nat left for the field.

It was finally settled between the wicked wags that the fact that their wives could both hear as well as anybody should be kept a profound secret until disclosed by a personal interview of the ladies themselves.

The next time Uncle Nat was about to visit the farm, he suggested to his wife that a ride into the country would be of service to her; that Mrs. Ricker, who had never seen her, was very anxious to receive a visit from her, and proposed that she should accompany him on that occasion. She consented, and they were soon on their journey. They had not, however, proceeded far, when Uncle Nat observed that he was sorry to inform her that Mrs. Ricker was extremely deaf, and she would be under the necessity of elevating her voice to the highest pitch, in order to converse with her. Mrs. Ela regretted the misfortune, but thought, as she had a strong voice, she would be able to make her friend hear. In a few hours after, Uncle Nat and his lady drove up to the door of his country mansion, and Boss Ricker, who had been previously informed of the time of Uncle Nat's intended arrival, was already in waiting.—Mrs. Ricker, not expecting them at the time, happened to be engaged with her domestic duties in the kitchen; but, observing her visitors through the window, she flew to the glass to adjust her cap and put herself in the best trim to receive them that the moment would allow. In the meantime, Boss Kale had ushered Uncle Nat and his lady into the parlor; soon after Mrs. R. appeared in the presence of her guests.

"Mrs. Ricker, I will make you acquainted with Mrs. Ela," roared Uncle Nat, in a voice of thunder.

"How do you do, madam?" screamed Mrs. Ricker to Mrs. Ela, with her mouth close to the ear of the latter.

"Very well, I thank you," replied Mrs. Ela, in a tone of corresponding elevation.

"How did you leave your family?" continued Mrs. R., in a voice quite up to the pitch of her first effort.

"All very well, I thank you—how's your family?" returned Mrs. E., in a key which called into requisition all the power of her lungs.

In the meantime Uncle Nat and Boss Kale had quietly stolen out of the door, and remained under the window, listening to the boisterous conversation of their deaf wives, which was continued on the same elevated letter of the staff for some time, when Mrs. R., in the same ledger line key she had observed from the first, thus addressed her lady guest:—

"What on earth are you hollowing to me for, I ain't deaf?"

"Ain't you, indeed?" said Mrs. E., "but pray what are you hollowing to me for—I'm sure I'm not deaf?"

Each then came gradually down to her ordinary key, when a burst of laughter from Uncle Nat and Boss Kale, at the window, revealed the whole trick, and even the ladies themselves were compelled to join in the merriment they had afforded the outsiders, by the ludicrous character of their interview.

A SHOCKING PICTURE DRAWN FROM LIFE.

The following is an extract from a letter written by a soldier in the 104th Pennsylvania Volunteers:

NEAR RICHMOND, VA., June 18, '64.

When I last wrote you I believe we were near Fredericksburg. Since then the Rebels have been turned out of position after position, and have been driven across every river from the Rapidan to the James. Grant's tactics are entirely strange to see. As a Rebel prisoner expressed it, "He flanks us on the left, and fights us on the right." The entire practicability of the overland route to Richmond, which the McClellanites so vehemently denounced, has been fully demonstrated. Those terrible fortifications — impregnable they said—which covered every plain and lined every crest from Fredericksburg to Richmond, have been successfully turned, and the "intersecting rivers" have been used to complete the process. And, instead of finding a hostile country, we found thousands of friends who had been long looking for us, and who rejoiced at our coming. The poor negroes! it would have done your heart good to see them at every plantation, with their bundles and children, waiting to join the train. The wagon trains alone picked up about three thousand of these freedmen—free now! God bless the President! I wish some of the pro-slavery people of the North would come out here and see how this system of Slavery has been carried on in this State, the stock-raising State of the Confederacy.

I remember about four miles north of the Pamunkey river we were met by a delegation of Uncle Tom's hardy black fellows, who wanted to emigrate to the Yankee land of promise. They said they represented 150 slaves, the property of Mr. Anderson Scott, who owned these cultivated fields for miles. They wanted to get their children carried in our transportation wagons to White House landing, from which place they had been assured Uncle Sam would take them North. Our wagons being full, we could accommodate but few. However, anything was preferable to being a slave; so they determined to come along any way. About a mile further, we came to the mansion of this rich slave lord, Mr. Scott. A broad avenue, lined with broad spreading magnolias in full bloom, led up to the house, which was the usual style of Southern plantation houses. On one side of this house, and in the rear, stood a neat and very tidy little slave hut. Everything was clean about. The little yard neatly trimmed and swept, the door-step scrubbed to an astonishing degree of whiteness, every thing, in fact, denoting the careful and skilful housekeeper.

Around the door were three women and about half a dozen children, from the wee baby to the young girl of fifteen or sixteen. Two of the women were about a shade lighter than the quadroon, while all the children were white. The third woman was apparently pure white; her eyes were blue, her hair brown and straight; her features were entirely American—nothing to denote a particle of negro blood. In her arms she had a beautiful little boy, about four years old, with fair hair and blue eyes. This woman was crying bitterly when we rode up.—Thinking that she was a member of the family, we tried to console her by assuring her that the Yankees made war upon men and not upon women. Can you imagine how shocked we were when we were told that this white woman and child were slaves, and that the degraded mother was weeping for shame at her degradation! Lieutenant Wren, Quartermaster of the 61st New York, was so excited that he bolted into the house, and his sword rattled and his spurs jingled with his impetuosity as he strode along the halls in search of the old scoundrel Scott.

I asked one of the women why she did not bundle up and come along, now that she had a chance, with the rest. She said she had an idiotic son in the house who was sick, and they could not go without him. I asked this woman if she was the daughter of the owner of the plantation. She said she was! We went into the hut, and upon a clean bed there sat this poor idiot boy, white as I am, with brown hair. About this time Mr. Scott came in, the owner of all these white people, whiter than himself. He is an old shrivelled up nigger-faced, crooked-backed little specimen of Southern chivalry, aristocratic as a king, and "Virginian born by Gawd." I asked the mother of this boy if Mr. Scott was his father? You should have seen her blush as she answered "Yes." The incestuous old beast! This idiot son—the child of his own daughter—father and grandfather to his own children!

Now, send down your Pro-Slavery partisans and Copperheads of the North to look upon this. Talk to me of the divinity of Slavery! The horrible barbarity and crimes of this "institution" can never be told in the North. They must be seen to be believed. It is impossible that any nation can live or stand that has for its corner stone this crime! I go on with renewed and firmer faith, if possible, in the absolute justice of our cause. I consider this war as a marvelous blessing. We are rooting out the dragon's teeth that we have sown, and in their stead drop the precious seed of freedom for all. I have an impression, that amounts to a conviction, that this war will not terminate until Slavery, the essence of crime and "the sum of villainies," is destroyed completely and irretrievably. Heaven grant that so it may be. Do you know how these skin aristocrats rave over the new theory of miscegenation, or the mixture of the races. Here we have a practical illustration of their duplicity and inconsistency in the very worst form of miscegenation—incestuous amalgamation.

All the rest of the old man's slaves (floating capital) passed by at this time with their traps and pappooses, shouting on the road to glory and to Freedom, "Come along! Come along! We're gwine to hab our Freedom!" This sight so excited these poor white slaves, who, knowing their inability to go along without the boy, began to cry in the most distressing manner, and there, in the midst of them stood this old scoundrel, the author of all this misery. I believe I would have been justified in breaking his neck.

We advised these poor people to stay, as they were perfectly safe, being inside our lines, and in case we fell back we would manage to take them with us; and in the mean time, if the old man ill treated them we would come back and chastise him. So we went away and encamped that night on the banks of the sluggish and malarious Pamunkey. Let me say to you, with reverence, that this country would abolitionize the devil. We seem to have settled down to the regular operations of a siege. Everything is favorable to us. We believe Grant to be the greatest General of the age, and every soldier seems to be animated with the spirit of the Commanding General.

☞ Josh Billings deposes, among other good things, "that yer kant judge a man bi hiz religun eny more than yer kan judge hiz shurt bi the size ov the kollar and ristbands."

☞ A bald-headed woman was once so much pleased with a poet who praised the beauty and profusion of her hair, that she presented him with six hundred pounds.

☞ The soldiers say they prefer tobacco to tracts. They want to be good but they also want to smoke.

The Wizard.

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 24, 1864.

THE "STATESMAN" AND THE NATIONAL ISSUES.

First of all—and first and last and always—and before all other things—the people desire the integrity of the Republic. This is the priceless jewel, before which every thing else pales. They will not listen for a moment to separation. Next—and above all things next to the integrity of the nation and the supremacy of the Constitution and the laws over the whole United States, they desire Peace. They would make no other condition of peace than the integrity of the Nation and the supremacy of law.—Essex Statesman, Aug. 17th.

EXECUTIVE MANSION,
Washington, July 18th. }

To Hon. Horace Greeley—

To Whom it may Concern:—Any proposition which embraces the restoration of peace, the integrity of the whole Union, and the abandonment of slavery, and which comes by and with an authority that can control the armies now at war against the United States, will be received by the executive Government of the United States, and will be met by liberal terms on other substantial and collateral points, and the bearer or bearers thereof shall have safe conduct both ways.

(Signed) ABRAHAM LINCOLN.

Withdraw your armies from our territory, and peace will come of itself. We do not seek to subjugate you. We are not waging an offensive war, except so far as it is offensive defensive—that is, so far as we are forced to invade you to prevent your invading us. Let us alone and peace will come at once.

* * * * * *

Slavery is no longer an element in the contest. It never was an essential element. It was only a means ot bringing other conflicting elements to an earlier culmination. It fired the musket which was already capped and loaded.

* * * * * *

The dispute between your government and ours is narrowed down to this: Union or disunion; or to put it in other words: Independence or subjugation.

* * * * * *

Say to Mr. Lincoln from me that I shall at any time be pleased to receive proposals for peace on the basis of our independence. It will be useless to approach me with any other. —Jefferson Davis, to Mr. Gilmore, July 17th.

We earnestly commend the above extracts to the serious consideration of our readers. It will be seen that the Essex Statesman, which affects to be the mouthpiece of the "opposition" in this district, endorses most emphatically the position taken by President Lincoln in his letter to Mr. Greeley, on the question of the "integrity of the whole Union," while its own issue that it tries to get up with the Republican party, to wit: that President Lincoln has no right to insist upon the abolition of slavery as a condition of peace—is just as emphatically repudiated by President Davis.

President Lincoln asks for propositions that shall embrace the "integrity of the Union."

President Davis requires "proposals for peace on the basis of our independence. It will be useless to approach me with any other."

The Statesman says "no other condition of peace than the integrity of the Nation and the supremacy of the laws."

Thus far the Statesman joins hands with Lincoln and the Republican party against Davis and his rebel coadjutors. The issue is plain, simple, and direct. Davis himself puts it thus fairly and squarely to the world—"Union or Disunion! Independence or subjugation!" The Statesman meets this just as fairly and squarely when it says:

"The Constitution—the Union, and the enforcement of the laws, peaceably if we can—forcibly if we must. No other condition—no other limitation—no other qualification. This—this alone must be the issue."

If "this alone must be the issue," why does the Statesman seek so pertinaciously to fasten upon the contest another issue, which one of the parties to that contest resolutely and distinctly repudiates? True, that Mr. Lincoln asks for the "abandonment of slavery;" but is it not also true that Davis cares nothing for saving slavery? He says in so many words, "slavery is no longer an element in the contest. It never was an ESSENTIAL element."

And when he further says, "Independence or subjugation," he thereby, in as plain language as is possible to use, tells the Statesman, as well as everybody else, either acknowledge our independence, withdraw your armies, and let us have our own way; or, go on fighting until by force of arms you have conquered us, when, of course, you, as the victors, can have your way!

This alternative the Statesman pretends to accept by declaring in favor of the absolute "integrity of the Republic," "peaceably if we can—FORCIBLY IF WE MUST." J. Davis says we "must." Why, then, don't the Statesman accept that sole issue and go in to the contest heartily and zealously on the war basis? If they conquer—"Independence" is not only theirs, but slavery also, if they want it. If, however, we conquer (as we certainly shall!) we not only procure the "integrity of the Nation," but, as the victors, have the right to impose such conditions as we choose. We state in advance that one of those conditions will be "the abandonment of slavery." To this Davis replies, very well, that we do not regard as essential. But the Statesman interposes its voice, saying, [to Davis,] you shall not have your independence! [and to Lincoln,] we will not help you to prevent their having their independence, unless you agree to let them have slavery!

Again we ask of the Statesman the reason for its assuming this singular and absurd position? The only answer we can gather from its own columns, is, that for Lincoln "to compel the performance of a condition precedent, which he has prescribed, would destroy all the distinguishing qualities of our complex and mixed system of State and National sovereignty."

This may be very lucid, but to our comprehension, if it means anything, it means that it desires to see slavery saved above all other things.

From the remarkable words of Davis, and the more deceitful words of his northern allies as illustrated by the Statesman and other copperhead sheets, we are strengthened in the conviction, long ago entertained, that slavery, as a topic for quarrel and dissension is confined to the North alone. The great majority of the nation will hail the auspicious day when that foulest of all blots upon the national escutcheon shall be forever removed.

The South to-day are willing, if we may believe their chief, to yield to any terms on the slavery question if we will grant them their "Independence." But here among ourselves in the North, within sight of Bunker's Hill, and on soil consecrated by blood of the earliest martyrs to freedom and the rights of man, we find a pitiful minority seeking to distract the people with pretended issues that are ignored by their allies the rebels themselves, and thereby endeavoring to save and defend the odious institution of human slavery, under the false and specious pretext of guarding the rights of the states.

The only right of State sovereignty that Davis asks for, is, that any State may secede from the Union at pleasure and set up for itself as an independent government. This is what the Statesman, equally with Lincoln and the whole Republican party, most decidedly refuses to allow. Yet the Statesman cannot work with that party—cannot join hands against the common enemy to put down rebellion—but must carp, and scold, and find fault with every measure of the administration, pull back in every effort to raise men and money for the war, denounce every Union general in order to extol McClellan and Lee and Beauregard, and continuously and systematically belittle every victory or advantage gained by our forces on sea or land, while at the same time, as studiously exaggerating the slightest advantage obtained by the rebels.

Thank God, the influence of the Statesman is as small, as its counsels are dangerous, unpatriotic, and pernicious!

IMPORTANT, IF TRUE.

Prof. Neumayer, of Munich, says the world is coming to an end in 1865. He adds that a comet will run against the earth and absorb it, as one drop of mercury absorbs another.

We cut the above from an exchange. So many have been the predictions of the coming of the world to an end, which have failed in fulfilment, that we are becoming incredulous in regard to them. But now we have a prediction, not from a religious enthusiast, but from a learned Professor—a man of science, who, moreover, tells us how the result is to be accomplished. It is therefore to be hoped that this time the prediction will be fulfilled. It is to be done in such an agreeable way that we feel almost impatient to see the thing accomplished. How beautiful to see the absorbing process by which our little planet and one of those wandering stars which traverse the spaces of immensity, approach each other and

"Like kindred drops are mingled into one!"

How novel and sublime will it be for us of this planet, who have all our lives long been travelling around the sun in an unvarying circle, like a horse in a mill, to go off on the back of one of those hazy celestial messengers, whose office it is to visit distant worlds and suns of other systems! What glorious splendor and variety of celestial scenery should we witness, as our long trained heavenly chariot sweeps through space! What fine opportunities would we have for observations in Astronomy, and to hear, with the mind's ear, the exquisite music of the spheres! Starting from Earth's orbit, we should probably move toward the sun, somewhat incommoded by the heat perhaps, but we could have a passing look at Venus, Mars and fiery little Mercury, and a host of young Asteroids. We should then be desirous of somewhat cooler weather, and shoot off to the regions of Neptune. Perhaps we should find other members of our system in farther orbits. On the way we might see the vast ball, we call Jupiter, rolling along, attended by his satelites, and we might also see Saturn with its shadowy rings. It is impossible to conjecture what other views of beauty and sublimity would await us as we rolled on to other suns and systems. We have said enough to awaken curiosity and interest in the prediction of the German Professor, and to beget the desire to have it come to pass.

Such a result would not only be desirable for the gratification of a laudable curiosity and as a means of increased knowledge, but also as an avoidance of many of the evils we now suffer. For instance, all the troubles caused by the great rebellion would cease at once in this vastly greater Revolution of Nature. Who would then care a fig for State rights or territorial boundaries or negro slavery? It is doubtful if, after the absorption of our earth into the bigger comet, we should be able to find South Carolina, or if we found it, perhaps it would constitute a part of the tail of its new territory. With South Carolina out of the way, and the general mixing up of continents, we should hear no more of the rebellion. We should also get rid of our financial troubles. Gold would bear no premium, and 5-20's and 7-30's, would be nowhere. There would be no scale of prices for commodities. People would hardly know whether they paid 45 cents per pound for beef-steak or only 35. It must take time to accommodate these matters to the new state of things. In such a great change it is to be expected that there will be some inconveniences. Let us, however, welcome our friendly comet, and if it does not come next year, let us, like our second Advent friends, look for it until it does come.

VOLUNTEER NEGOTIATORS.—The Atlantic Monthly for September contains an account of the vist of Mr. J. R. Gilmore (better known by his nom de plume of Edmund Kirke, the writer of two or three flashy novels in the negro dialect,) and a Col. Jaques to Richmond to talk with Jeff. Davis about propositions for peace. It seems they gained nothing but a little notoriety, and came back with prodigious fleas in their ears. We do not think favorably of these self-made plenipotentiaries. They always get snubbed and sell themselves very cheap. Rev. Monclure Conway began it in England and made a fool of himself, while Horace Greeley tried it at Niagara and came off second best by furnishing capital to the Copperheads. The best negotiators for peace—and we all desire to have it—are GRANT and SHERMAN and SHERIDAN, with the aid of such sea-dogs as FARRAGUT and WINSLOW.

MARBLEHEAD!—Since our last, the patriotic town of Marblehead has been invaded by a pack of guerillas from Salem, who were handsomely repulsed and driven home. The raiders had captured a few prisoners, when the spirit of the people was aroused, the bells rang, the men, women and children collected as in the days of "Old Flood Ireson," who,

For his hord hort,
Was torred and feathered
And put in a cort.

We think the Salem raiders will in future learn not to interfere with the patriotic and excitable Marbleheaders, who "know their rights, and knowing, dare maintain."

PEABODY HIGH SCHOOL.—We regret to have to announce the resignation of Mr. ISAAC N. CARLETON, the able and faithful Principal of this school. Mr. CARLETON, during his year of service in the school, has worked vigorously and won the confidence and esteem of both pupils and parents, who will deeply regret his determination to resign the position he has held with so much credit to himself and satisfaction to our community. He goes to Lexington as Associate Principal of the school for young ladies which Dr. Dio Lewis proposes to open there on the first of October next.

His successor in the Peabody School has not yet been appointed.

ACCIDENT.—As one of the workmen, Mr. JAMES CODEY, at the new building on Main street, erected by Messrs. W. M. Jacobs & Son, was standing near where the stone cutters were hammering a block of granite, a chip of the stone flew off and struck his right eye, the sight of which was instantly destroyed, causing much pain at the time. The sight of the other eye was uninjured, and he is now doing well.

THE ASBURY GROVE CAMP MEETING.—This annual assemblage took place last week, the visitants having had fine weather all the time, except Wednesday, when it rained, and the services were held in the tents. The largest attendance was on Thursday and Friday. The services are reported to have been quite interesting, and good order was maintained throughout.

THE OLD SOUTH CHURCH.—This edifice is now closed for the purpose of thorough renovation and repairs. In the meantime, the congregation, by invitation of the Baptist Society, will hold its services in the Baptist Church.

THE END OF VACATION.—The vacation of most of our schools closes with the present week. Notice will be given of the time when the term of the High School will commence.

GOVERNMENT LOAN.

By reference to our advertising columns, persons having money to invest will acquire some valuable information with regard to the 7-30 loan of the United States Government. Now is the time to subscribe for Treasury notes, under this loan. The rate of interest is 7 3-10 per cent., payable in lawful money. At the maturity of the notes—August 15, 1867—the holder may, if he so elects, receive, in lieu of payment, in lawful money, 6 per cent, gold bearing bonds.

Subscriptions as low as $50 will be received. Thus it will be seen that it is really what it was intended to be—a "people's loan," and popular at that. It affords to people of all classes a good, safe and remunerative means of putting their funds at interest.

There are hundreds in our town who only need the information this advertisement gives to induce them to subscribe.

We have always wondered why our soldiers do not more generally invest in government securities. Under our present bounty system vast amounts of money are being received by new recruits. Can they do better than to invest the whole, or a part, in this war?

As to our capitalists we think nothing need be said; they are already investing largely and need no hints from us. Their instincts are generally right in financial matters, and if they can couple a little patriotism with their financiering, they are ever ready to do it.

MILITARY.—The 5th and 60th Regiments have left the camp at Mankin's Woods, near Baltimore, the former going to Fort McHenry and the latter to some point in the Northwest, probably Indianapolis. A portion of the 8th remains in camp. Capt. Tifft's company have been ordered to the city for provost duty, and other companies of the regiment have been detached for service elsewhere.

A man was enrolled last year in three different sub-districts in Concord, N. H., and has been drafted from all of them.

Gov. Andrew has been authorized to raise thirty new companies of Infantry as a portion of the contingent of Massachusetts under the last call of the President. The men are to be enlisted for one, two or three years as they may prefer, and will rendezvous at Galloup's Island.

COL. FRANCIS A. OSBORN, of the 24th Massachusetts, formerly of this town, was wounded in one of the late battles near Richmond. He has been assigned to the command of a Brigade in General Turner's Division, 10th Corps.

MR. OLIVER NEWTON, of Worcester, son of Oliver Newton who formerly lived in this town, has lately visited his relatives here, carrying very severe marks of battle upon his person. He has been wounded twice—once in the shoulder by a ball, which is now in his lung, and again by the loss of his right eye, the ball striking the upper part of the nose. The sight of the eye is entirely destroyed. He is a member of the 15th Regiment. In addition to this sorry experience he has been subjected to imprisonment at Richmond for 8 months.

WHO SHOULD PAY FOR STAMPS ON RECEIPTS?—The question whether the person who pays money should also pay for the Government stamp upon the receipt, as the person to whom the money is paid is entitled to the full amount and the receipt is only for the benefit of the buyer, is decided by Commissioner Lewis, as follows:

"Ordinarily at law no person is bound to give a receipt for money paid. The receipt is an instrument of evidence, useful only to the person to whom it is given. If he needs a receipt, it is necessary for him to furnish the stamp or to stamp the receipt, if required, before it is signed. The person who receives the money is not obliged to give a receipt, unless the other party furnishes the proper stamp."

A FIELD MEETING OF THE ESSEX INSTITUTE will take place in the vicinity of Ship Rock, South Danvers, and the various ponds near by, to-morrow, August 25th, if the weather should be favorable; otherwise a postponement and another appointment will be made. The public meeting will be held in the Rockville Chapel, commencing at 3 P. M. Cars leave the South Reading depot at Salem, at 9.50 A. M., and at 2.25 P. M. All interested are respectfully invited to attend and to participate in the proceedings.

THE FIRST MASS. HEAVY ARTILLERY.—It is known that the recruits for this Regiment were refused their bounty of $100, because they had not served quite two years. We now learn that Boston intends to pay the bounty, trusting to have it refunded to the city by the United States government when a proper representation is made. It is time that this justice was done. Some of the recruits were from this town.

THE SALEM FORTS are garrisoned and the city is safe once more. The garrison marched into town, on Tuesday of last week, making an uncommonly fine appearance, as everybody took occasion to observe.—Gazette.

[For the Wizard.]

FASHION.

"Give me my robe, put on my crown; I have immortal longings in me." Thus spake Cleopatra, as she waited for the poisoned worm of the Nile, which was soon applied by her, from a basket of figs, to her breast, with this language:

"Peace, peace!
Dost thou not see my baby at my breast,
That sucks the nurse asleep? * * *
As sweet as balm,—as soft as air, as gentle,—
O Anthony!"

So the great queen of Egypt went to her death. So died one of the most beautiful women in ancient or modern times. Her great beauty and her great wickedness lured the great Mark Anthony to his doom, his navies and his armies to destruction, and left his name a mockery and a bye-word among the nations. On the solemn occasion on which the above words were uttered, she seems to have realized the necessity of dressing herself in a richer and nobler robe than such as those with which she had been accustomed in her life of infamy to bedeck herself, with the the base purpose of entrapping and destroying her victims. Even Cleopatra saw the futility and the vanity of fashion and dress as she approached into the presence of her God. She was about to commit suicide, but she knew she must appear in other than the frivolous trappings of mortality as she approached the throne of Heaven. Heathen as she was "she had immortal longings."

The fashion of our day is as arbitrary as despotism, and insatiate as the grave. It drives men to madness, and reduces women to the lowest depths of human wretchedness and human folly.

The extreme of fashion has produced as much wretchedness in our world as almost any other sin for which man stands accountant before the court of Heaven. It beggars children, it degrades mothers and daughters, and attracts fathers and sons and brothers into the very jaws of despair and death. It has no mercy. It stands prominent among the greatest evils, if not the greatest crimes of the nineteenth century.

Although the house is bare of necessaries, the family sinking in sickness and in pain, the father and husband languishing by exhaustion in vain efforts to supply the many wants of a suffering family,—there stands the tyrant Fashion, and in commanding tones, demands a ribbon, or a shawl, or a dress, which must be forthcoming, even though the family goes supperless to bed, or sits shivering through the dark cold days of a merciless winter.

Though war rages through the land, and devastation and death sweeps over the fairest fields of our beloved country—and that country calls for aid—still there stands before her that gaunt, mean and merciless demon Fashion, crying out, Give me another ribbon; I must have one more jewel; I cannot let you off without another feather, although the country bleeds at every pore, and villany and crime stalk unchecked through the land. My mandate must and shall be obeyed, cries the cruel tyrant, though the land runs blood and misery, and gloom and anguish overshadow all the people, and

"Blood and destruction shall be so in use,
And dreadful objects so familiar,
That mothers shall but smile, when they behold
Their infants quartered with the hands of war."

Women of America, rise in your virtue—rise in the power of your beauty—rise in the majesty of your great influence over our common humanity, and put down—trample under your feet—this mean despot Fashion, and rid the country of a most degrading slavery.

H. D. J.

TRAVELLERS in the White Mountain region, this summer, complain that many netural objects of interest are defaced by the advertisements of New England quack medicine men. A purse is to be made up by tourists to employ a house painter to judiciously efface the offensive advertisements by the application of paint, as near as possible to the natural color of the objects disfigured.

HEAVY AND RAPID FIRING off our harbor on Friday, gave rise to much inquiry and led to the circulation of some exciting rumors which nobody believed. It appears that the officers of the U. S. gunboat Dacotah, in passing up the bay, on her return from a cruise after the Tallahassee, were exercising her men and guns by firing shot and shell at Half Way Rock.—Salem Register.

☞ Under our obituary head in to-day's paper will be found the record of the death of Mr. Robert Deland and his wife, who were over four-score years of age. They have lived together for many years, and closed their earthly career within twenty-one hours of each other, and were buried at the same time.—Register.

THE BUTTER DODGE.—It is said that emissaries of speculators in butter are traversing the country, engaging butter at high figures, even 60 cts. per lb., to be delivered at a future day. They are very careful not to buy any, however. The object of this game is to bolster up the prices of their stock now in hand by thus inducing dairymen to hold on to their product for a time. Whoever falls into this trap will certainly meet with loss, as the butter will never be called for by the rascals. It is hoped that somebody will get bit by holding on to his butter.—Abington Standard.

AFFAIRS IN LYNNFIELD.

Military Funeral—Lieut. Keenan—Pic-Nic and Sailing Party.

LYNNFIELD, Aug. 22d, 1864.

DEAR WIZARD,—The monotony of our quiet town was broken on Wednesday of last week by an event of more than common interest—although of late such events are not of unfrequent occurrence. I allude to the funeral of a soldier—one who had gallantly given his life in his country's cause, yet had the good fortune to be laid by loving and sympathizing friends to rest in his own loved land, and near his childhood's home. 'Tis but a few of the many brave sons of New England who have had that blessed privilege accorded them; by far the most of those who have died now rest beneath the sod of the sunny South, far away from the loved ones who have watched for their return, but who will behold them no more this side of Heaven; or they sleep beneath the waves of the blue ocean, from whose depths the last angels' trump shall summon them to the judgment to receive the reward of their courage and patriotic fidelity.

The funeral of Lieut. BENJ. PARSONS, of Lynnfield Centre, took place on Wednesday of last week; the services were held in the First Congregational Church, and were of a very interesting and impressive character; a company of soldiers were present from Fort Pickering, Salem, and, together with the Lynnfield Band, performed escort duty. The procession first formed at the residence of the parents of the deceased, and marched to the Church, the Band playing Pleyl's Hymn while the procession entered. The exercises at the Church were as follows:

1st Palestrina—("Peace, troubled soul,") by the Band.

2d—Reading of the Scriptures, and remarks by Rev. Mr. Butler,—concluding with "Come ye disconsolate," by the Band.

After an opportunity to take a last look at the deceased had been given to all present, the procession again formed and marched to the cemetery, the Band playing "Pleyl's Hymn." Much credit is due the town authorities and other prominent citizens of Lynnfield Centre, for the favors which they showed to the Band and escort. I have no doubt that they will be long remembered. Although many of Lynnfield's sons have fallen in this cruel war, this is the first instance where one has come home to die or been laid to rest in his native town.

Capt. THOMAS KEENAN, of the 5th Regt., Vet. Vols., is still at home, not being sufficiently recovered from a wound received at the battle of the Wilderness to rejoin his command. Capt. K. had a very narrow escape, having been struck by a bullet in the neck, nearly piercing his windpipe. For a time he was unable to talk, except in a whisper, but has regained his voice since, so that he now speaks quite naturally. The citizens of South Lynnfield made Capt. K. the recipient of a fine sword last winter. The presentation,—which came off at the hotel,—was a grand affair, consisting of speeches, vocal and instrumental music, dancing and a collation.

The new Lynnfield Band accompanied a pic-nic and sailing party from South Danvers, one week ago last Wednesday, down Salem harbor. The first boat started about 8 o'clock, from Phillips' Wharf, being filled with gentlemen from South Danvers, accompanied by the Band. Having sailed about 20 miles out, we (I was there,) dropped anchor and proceeded to catch a few fish, in which all were very successful. After catching fish enough to supply the party, the anchor was again weighed, and we put back for Salem, arriving at Hospital Point about 2 o'clock P. M., having previously enjoyed a fine lunch of fried fish on board. After getting on shore at Hospital Point, we proceeded to make a reconnoisance, and discovered Mr. JOSEPH MORRIS & Co. busily engaged in preparing supper. The lady portion of the pic-nic, with their escorts, soon began to arrive, coming in omnibuses and carriages, and being bent on having a sail, proceeded directly to the shore, where they were soon taken on board the boat, and started on a short sail off Marblehead, the Band enlivening the spirit of the occasion. Returning, supper was served at about six, and shortly after the party started for home, well satisfied with the pleasures of the day.

The Band return their thanks for the kindness showed them, and in all things they were well pleased—in fact not only pleased but delighted.

LYNNFIELD.

The Seven-Thirties—What are they?

We trust that a large portion of our readers have pondered the Appeal of Mr. Fessenden, our new Secretary of the Treasury. The purport of it is that the People of the United States, acting as a body through their agent the Government, wish individuals to lend them two hundred millions of dollars for three years, at seven and three-tenths per cent. annual interest, payable every six months. For this they offer Treasury Notes—that is, in reality, notes drawn and endorsed by every man in the country. The loan is wanted for a great national purpose, to effect which every man, unless he be a traitor at heart if not in act, is solemnly pledged.

The Appeal is addressed not merely to a few great capitalists, but also to the many whose aggregate means constitute the mass of the wealth of the land. The notes upon which this loan is asked are from $50 upward. Every man who has fifty dollars can take part in this loan. Apart from patriotism and the duty which all owe to their country, no investment is so desirable as this.

It is secure. Every dollar of every man's property is pledged for the punctual payment of the interest, and of the debt when due.—The security is increasing in value. For some years before the war we were earning 1000 millions a year more than we spent. During the three years of the war, owing to the high prices and constant demand for labor, we have earned more than ever before. No man who could or would work has been idle; and, except for the war, we have spent less than before. The total valuation of the property of the United States, according to the census of 1860, was $16,159,000,000, of which $10,957,448,956 was in the Loyal States. This valuation, according to the usual rule of assessment, was not more than two-thirds of the actual cash value of the property. The increase of property in the Loyal States during the last ten years was over 126 per cent., or an average of 12 6-10 per cent. per annum. In three years of the war we of the United States have certainly earned 3000 millions more than we have spent apart from the war. The cost of the war may be set down at 2000 millions. Deducting this from our net earnings, the People who are security for this loan are 1000 millions r than they were when the war brok
No other investment can be s vertible. The man who has a T for $50, or $100, or $1000, can money more readily, and upon b than if it were invested upon bon gage, or in railroad stocks.

The interest offered is higher th alized from any other safe and co vestment. It is, moreover, readil when due. To each note are "coupons," or interest tickets, du piration of each successive half holder of a note has simply to these coupons, present it at the ne Government Agency, and receive the note itself need not be prese
Or a coupon thus payable will equivalent, when due, to money.

Thus, while this loan presents tages to large capitalists, it offe ducements to those who wish to and profitable investment of small is in every way the best Savings every institution of this kind mu invest its deposits profitably in interest and expenses. They will ly in this loan, as the best inves from the gross interest which they must deduct largely for the exp Bank. Their usual rate of intere depositors is 5 per cent. upon sum
The person who invests directly ment will receive almost 50 per c
Thus the man who deposits $1000
Savings' Bank receives 50 dollars est; if he deposits the same sum tional Savings' Bank he receives
For those who wish to find a safe, and profitable means of investing earnings which they have reserved age or for the benefit of their child nothing which presents so many a this National Loan.

It is convertible into a six per bearing bond. At the expiratio years a holder of the notes of th has the option of accepting payme of funding his notes in a six per c terest bond, the principal payabl than five nor more than twenty y
date as the Government may ele months past, these bonds have average premium of about eight the New York market, and have to-day (Aug. 12th,) thus making of interest over ten per cent; an make the inducement even great by special act exempts its Treasur state and municipal taxation. Co ask more? Was patriotism ever rewarded?—Harper's Magazine.

OUR PRESIDENT.—The race of g the Presidential chair seems to nated with Andrew Jackson, who to command a second election. It they only seemed great — omitti for whom that claim was never only because distance lends encha from their connection with great na gles, military and civil, or because prior was so small as not to over moderate capacity. Be it as it ma appeared to run on a down grade and though all this second class—s sition and many of them lower i statesmanship—aspired to re-elect of them, Van Buren, could even ge nomination. There were seven of t Presidents to Van Buren, and sever ond class to the present, throwin
Harrison and Taylor who died could develope their policy, if they Now we have come to a break, whe tion of the country is to vote, an Lincoln is on the course for a secon re-elected he will be the first re thirty-two years, and that will not old order.

In the office Mr. Lincoln labors advantage, for he is held accountab ever is done by any of his secre ought to be, since if they are not men in the right place" he shoul out and put in others; and we thin dent ever had so many off-oxen in Mr. Lincoln has. Each one pulls line and in his own time, without spirit that can command them to w er. Seward is on his own hook and Stanton not only work apart b other; while the Secretary of the kept at hard labor to supply them out being able to control the expen oftentimes without a word of advi
Mrs. Lincoln calls the Cabinet " family," and proposes to have the one group standing back to bac
Cabinet is unfortunate for the cou a time, and unfortunate for a Pre looks to a second term. We are
March he will make a clean sweep
It would add to his political pro would do it in August. As the Convention resolved—harmony an the Cabinet is essential. If Jackso ident they would hear "By the thundering in their ears.—Newbury

A MURDEROUS REBEL MISSILE.
man named Kinney, formerly a recently belonging to a western reached this city yesterday. He long time under General Sherm wounded at the battle of Atloon cumstances attending his injuries we do not recollect to have seen r ing the war. Young Kinney was lower part of the leg by a bullet—an ordinary rifle ball. It lodged but did not prevent his walking
He had just seated himself in an half an hour after being hit, whe exploded in his leg—shattering t ribly, making four distinct openin rying away a quantity of bone.
severe shock the young hero trav home in Troy, and is now under one of our surgeons, with a chance
He is as patriotic as he is brave.
limb, doctor," he said, "for Go want to get back and join my regi
if I've got to lose both legs for why, it's all right." The use of explode half an hour after lodg part of the body is an English no ticed only by the rebels. It is the ment of "the barbarism of war," illustration of Southern "chival Times.

SALEM & SO. DANVERS RAILROAD.
for the week ending Aug. 18, 1864,
Corresponding with last year, . . .

Increase, ...

AGAZINE.—We have received Waitt, Danvers, this magazine Its illustrated papers are, "An the Coast of Australia," and th the Esquimaux." Both pa- ingly interesting. The number great variety of other excellent among which may be mention- Monroe and his Administration," ne Under Fire," "Presentation " "The Cafe Greco," &c.

o ENROLLED MEN.—We are in- Commissioner of the Board of this District, that only a very of the quota of Essex County procured, and that a very large quired to fill up the deficiency. sioner states that the draft must e day set by the President, viz: e President has not the power a law of Congress passed at the ohibits him from delaying the ause, after the day appointed. ll be peremptory and very effec- mptions for physical disability y few. The most of those dis- the draft of 1863, will be held ng draft. a be exempted by payment of money. Substitutes cannot be at exorbitant rates to meet the will occur after the draft, when ten in this county will be seek- only a few days to procure lrafted can count himself a sol- nion for one year, with a good ce that his patriotism will have nities to display itself in the r.

r.—An accident of a frightful d in this place a few days since. name of Patrick Hennessey, in Mr. Joseph Merrill, fell into a an liquor and was badly scald- that it was thought doubtful if ver, but by the care and skill of is now in a fair way to recover. a miracle that he was not in- Observer.

ONERS ESCAPING.—Sixteen of the ficers confined as prisoners on nd made their escape from the ne day last week. Some work- oyed within the enclosure, who abit of passing through the gate ere recognized by being without isoners seeing the gate open, coats and passed out without d. One got on board a steamer the others scattered away and er on such floating substances as ure. The United States steamer ts made pursuit, and secured all prisoners at Camp Norton have escape by means of tunnels, five recently been discovered. One four hundred feet in length, pleted when found.

G may soon be monopolized by New York Express predicts that ter's strike will put two thousand pe-setting in that city, in one of the city weekly papers are al- ely by females; and in the coun- times have forced the printing n the aid of females. We have mpositors at the Herald office, blishments are all well supplied. go to war, and the young wo- form much of the labor which l upon stronger hands. Print- iness for females.—Newburyport

R has taken to ditch digging— at last ditch in which the rebels He attempts to cut across an tch Gap, 150 yards to reach the hile it is five miles around. At of the point to be cut off, are the ions that prevent our monitors to Fort Darling. The success- on of the canal would entirely uctions and let the fleet advance.

SUBSTITUTE RUNNER.—Yester- essed, smart, intelligent woman, to business, appeared at Ports- four substitutes which she had Baltimore. She sold them soon val to the brokers for $900 each. who informed us considered it a re are women in this city pick- l the time!—Manchester, N. H.,

Marriages.

August 18th, by Rev. Dr. Mills, Lord to Mrs. Lucy D. Lord. Thos. H. Shahan, Adjutant M. h Mass. Regt.) to Miss Margaret Salem.

ad, August 5, by Rev Mr Bruce, Brown to Miss Jane Symonds.

Deaths.

, August 14th, Mr. John Moore, nths. Hannah B., widow of the late 87 years. F., daughter of Joseph W. and rrell, 17 years 1 month. lward P. Towne, 32 yrs. Funer- esday) afternoon, at 3 o'clock.— friends are invited. Bancroft, aged 80 yrs 1 month. August 16th, Charles Wallace, dhue and Harriet Augusta Hen- s 22 days; 17th, Lucy Frances, George H. and Sarah A. Warren, days; Mrs. Julia O., wife of Mr. e, 48 yrs; Mr. George H. Car- mos 8 days; 18th, Addie Low, ohn and Helen M. Frost, 6 mos ies Smith, son of John S. and enderson, 3 months; Margaret, ugh and Bridget Clark, 2 years; of James and Teresa O'Rourke, ssie Jane, daughter of George C. C. Smith, 1 year; Putnam, son and Lois Florance, 8 yrs; Mary ghter of Charles F. and Lydia ; Mrs. Elizabeth Cleaveland, 53 ry, wife of Mr. Robert Deland, s 19 days; 20th, Mr. Robert De- days; Miss Elizabeth Hannah, Louisa, daughter of George W. Luscomb, 2 years; Daniel, son Mary M'Kyring, 5 yrs 1 mo 14 pt Thomas Farless, 77 yrs 2 mos Elizabeth, widow of the late Mr 75 yrs 9 mos; Mr Daniel Linne- William, son of William and hoe, 4 years; 22d, Mr. John F. mos; Ellen, daughter of John d, 20 months. July 25, Mr Nelson E. Jefferson

"DON'T LET HIM DROP."—The freedmen of Vicksburg went out to the Jeff. Davis plantation on the 4th of July, and had a pic-nic. One old darkey stood in the porch of the Jeff. Davis mansion and prayed for the arch rebel thus:

"Oh! Massa Jesus, mighty God, save Massa Jeff. 'fore it am eberlastingly too late. Oh Lord, take him by de nap of de neck and shake him over de fiery furnace till he squeal like a pig in de bars. But don't let him drop—oh, Massa Jesus, don't let him drop—but fetch him to repentance, and save him soul in de eberlasting kingdom 'fore dem Yankees make him dry bones in a box.

C. W. HALEY, M. D.,
Physician and Surgeon.
Office in the Warren Bank Building, South Danvers.

List of Letters

REMAINING in the Post Office at South Danvers, August 23, 1864, [Persons calling for those letters, will please say they are advertised.]

John Cleary	Mary J. Pert
Chas. Haskell	E. Stimpson
Elias W. Howe & Bro.	Maria Ridout
H. Hardy	Mary A. Shackley
Abbie F. Hacket	T. Sweetser & Co.
John McDonald	Eliza Venzie
John Wholey.

N. B. These letters are subject to an additional postage of one cent. DANIEL WOODBURY, P. M.

For Garrison Duty!

CAPT. JOHN F. DEVEREUX, of Salem, having been authorized by His Excellency, Governor JOHN A. ANDREW, to raise a company for

Coast Defence in Massachusetts,

will receive recruits for said purpose at rooms

NO. 226½ ESSEX STREET.

Captain D. is authorized to state that all recruits shall be exempt from draft whilst in service.

All particulars given on application at the rooms, 226½ Essex Street.

☞ Goods received for LEWANDO'S FRENCH DYE HOUSE. M. E. CRANE.
Jan 20 tf

☞ Visit OSBORNE'S Store, and look at the unusual variety of new styles in HATS and CAPS—191 Essex street.

THE GREAT ENGLISH REMEDY.
SIR JAMES CLARKE'S
CELEBRATED FEMALE PILLS!
Prepared from a prescription of Sir J. Clarke, M. D., Physician Extraordinary to the Queen.

This well known medicine is no imposition, but a sure cure and safe remedy for Female Difficulties and Obstructions, from any cause whatever; and, although a powerful remedy, they contain nothing hurtful to the constitution.

In all cases of Nervous and Spinal Affections, pain in the Back and Limbs, Fatigue on slight exertion Palpitation of the Heart, Hysterics, and Whites, these pills will effect a cure, when all other means have failed: and, although a powerful remedy, do not contain iron, calomel, antimony, or anything hurtful to the constitution.

Full directions in the pamphlet around each package, which should be carefully preserved.

For full particulars, obtain, free, of the agent, a pamphlet. Sold by all Druggists.

Sole United States Agent,
JOB MOSES, 27 Cortlandt St., New York.

N. B.—$1 and 6 postage stamps enclosed to any authorized agent, will insure a bottle, containing over 50 pills, by return mail. March 9, 1864.—1 yr.

HAGAN'S MAGNOLIA BALM.
This is the most delightful and extraordinary article ever discovered. It changes the sun burnt face and hands to a pearly satin texture of ravishing beauty, imparting the marble purity of youth, and the distingue appearance so inviting in the city belle of fashion. It removes tan, freckles, pimples and roughness from the skin, leaving the complexion fresh, transparent and smooth. It contains no material injurious to the skin. Patronized by Actresses and Opera Singers It is what every lady should have. Sold everywhere.
Prepared by W. E. HAGAN, Troy N. Y.
Address all orders to
DEMAS S. BARNES, & CO., New-York.

HEIMSTREET'S
INIMITABLE HAIR RESTORATIVE.
NOT A DYE,
But restores gray hair to its original color, by supplying the capillary tubes with natural sustenance, impaired by age or disease. All instantaneous dyes are composed of lunar caustic, destroying the vitality and beauty of the hair, and afford of themselves no dressing. Heimstreet's Inimitable Coloring not only restores hair to its natural color by an easy process,
Luxuriant Beauty,
promotes its growth, prevents its falling off, eradicates dandruff, and imparts health and pleasantness to the head. It has stood the test of time, being the original Hair Coloring, and is constantly increasing in favor. Used by both gentlemen and ladies. It is sold by all respectable dealers, or can be procured by them of the commercial agents, D. S. BARNES & CO, 202 Broadway, New York. Two sizes, 50 cents and $1.

MEXICAN MUSTANG LINIMENT.
The parties in St. Louis and Cincinnati. who have been Counterfeiting the Mustang Liniment under pretense of proprietorship. have been thoroughly estoped by the Courts. To guard against further imposition, I have procured from the U. States Treasury, a private steel plate revenue stamp, which is placed over the top of each bottle. Each stamp bears the fac simile of my Signature, and without which the article is a Counterfeit, dangerous and worthless imitation. Examine every bottle. This Liniment has been in use and growing in favor for many years. There hardly exists a hamlet on the habitable Globe that does not contain evidence of its wonderful effects. It is the best emolient in the world. With its present improved ingredients, its effects upon man and beast are perfectly remarkable. Sores are healed, pains relieved, lives saved, valuable animals made useful, and untold ills assuaged. For cuts, bruises, sprains, rheumatism, swellings, bites, cuts, caked breasts. strained horses, &c., it is a Sovereign Remedy that should never be dispensed with. It should be in every family. Sold by all Druggists.
D. S. BARNES, New-York.
March 9th, 1864—1 yr.

LYON'S KATHAIRON.
Kathairon is from the Greek word "Kathro," or "Kathairo," signifying to cleanse, rejuvenate and restore. This article is what its name signifies. For preserving, restoring and beautifying the human hair it is the most remarkable preparation in the world. It is again owned and put up by the original proprietor, and is now made with the same care, skill and attention which gave it a sale of over one million bottles per annum.
It is a most delightful Hair Dressing.
It eradicates scurf and dandruff.
It keeps the head cool and clean.
It makes the hair rich, soft and glossy.
It prevents the hair from falling off and turning [gray.
It restores hair upon bald heads.
Any lady or gentleman who values a beautiful head of hair should use Lyon's Kathairon. It is known and used throughout the civilized world. Sold by all respectable dealers.
DEMAS S. BARNES, & CO., New-York.

U. S. 7-30 LOAN.

The Secretary of the Treasury gives notice that subscriptions will be received for Coupon Treasury Notes, payable three years from Aug. 15th, 1864, with semi-annual interest at the rate of seven and three tenths per cent. per annum, principal and interest both to be paid in lawful money.

These notes will be convertible at the option of the holder at maturity, into six per cent. gold bearing bonds, payable not less than five nor more than twenty years from their date, as the Government may elect. They will be issued in denominations of $50, $100, $500, $1,000 and $5,000, and all subscriptions must be for fifty dollars, or some multiple of fifty dollars.

The notes will be transmitted to the owners free of transportation charges as soon after the receipt of the original Certificates of Deposit as they can be prepared.

As the notes draw interest from August 15, persons making deposits subsequent to that date must pay the interest accrued from date of note to date of deposit.

Parties depositing twenty-five thousand dollars and upwards for these notes at any one time will be allowed a commission of one-quarter of one per cent., which will be paid by the Treasury Department upon the receipt of a bill for the amount, certified to by the officer with whom the deposit was made. No deductions for commissions must be made from the deposits.

SPECIAL ADVANTAGES OF THIS LOAN.

IT IS A NATIONAL SAVINGS BANK, offering a higher rate of interest than any other, and THE BEST SECURITY. Any savings bank which pays its depositors in U. S. Notes, considers that it is paying in the best circulating medium of the country, and it CANNOT pay in anything better, for its own assets are either in government securities or in notes or bonds payable in government paper.

It is equally convenient as a temporary or permanent investment. The notes can always be sold for within a fraction of their face and accumulated interest, and are the best security with banks as collaterals for discounts.

Convertible into a Six per cent. 5-20 Gold Bond.

In addition to the very liberal interest on the notes for three years, this privilege of conversion is now worth about three per cent. per annum, for the current rate for 5-20 Bonds is not less than NINE PER CENT. PREMIUM, and before the war the premium on six per cent. U. S. stocks was over twenty per cent. It will be seen that the actual profit on this loan, at the present market rate, is not less than ten per cent. per annum.

ITS EXEMPTION FROM STATE OR MUNICIPAL TAXATION.

But aside from all the advantages we have enumerated, a special Act of Congress EXEMPTS ALL BONDS AND TREASURY NOTES FROM LOCAL TAXATION. On the average, this exemption is worth about two per cent. per annum, according to the rate of taxation in various parts of the country.

It is believed that no securities offer so great inducements to lenders as those issued by the Government.— In all other forms of indebtedness, the faith or ability of private parties, or stock companies, or seperate communities, only, is pledged for payment, while the whole property of the country is held to secure the discharge of all the obligations of the United States.

While the government offers the most liberal terms for its loans, it believes that the very strongest appeal will be to the loyalty and patriotism of the people.

Duplicate certificates will be issued for all deposits.— The party depositing must endorse upon the ORIGINAL certificate the denomination of notes required, and whether they are to be issued in blank or payable to order. When so endorsed it must be left with the officer receiving the deposit, to be forwarded to the Treasury Department,

SUBSCRIPTIONS WILL BE RECEIVED by the Treasurer of the United States, at Washington, the several Assistant Treasurers and designated Depositaries, and by the

First National Bank of Salem, Mass.
First National Bank of Boston, Mass.
Second National Bank of Boston, Mass.
Third National Bank of Boston, Mass.
National Bank of the Republic, Boston, Mass.
Boston National Bank, Boston, Mass.
First National Bank of Amesbury, Mass.
First National Bank of Haverhill, Mass.
First National Bank of Newburyport, Mass.

And by all National Banks which are depositaries of public money, and

ALL RESPECTABLE BANKS AND BANKERS throughout the country will give further information and

AFFORD EVERY FACILITY TO SUBSCRIBERS.
August 17, 1864,—3m

DERBY & CHILDS,
Fire, Marine and Life Insurance Agents.
Orders left at No. 24 Washington st., Salem, or received by mail, promptly attended to.
Losses equitably adjusted and promptly paid, and Insurance effected at reasonable rates.
Salem, August 10,—3m*

BROCKSIEPER GAS REGULATOR!
30 PER CENT. SAVED.
Economy in the use of Gas, with the advantage of having a more brilliant light than heretofore, is a point at once desirable. Inventors have for many years sought to obtain this end by packing or checking in innumerable ways the flow of gas through the burner. Not one of these have attained the result wished for, viz:—a pure transparent flame without waste at any and all pressures obtained at any hour and in all localities. Those of our citizens who have taken the pains to examine Brocksieper's Patent Regulator, and have seen the gas ACTUALLY MEASURED THROUGH IT, are unanimous in its praise. We give below the names of a few of the merchants and others of Salem now using the Regulator:
Salem Register Office;
Salem Gazette Office;
Salem Statesman Office;
Salem Post Office;
Merchants Reading Room;
George Creamer, Bookseller;
Browning & Long, Dry Goods;
S. F. Rogers, Confectioner;
J. P. Peabody, Dry Goods;
Thoron Palmer, Shoe Dealer,
Adams, Richardson & Co., Hardware;
Doctor Johnson;
Essex House;
Wm. Webb, Jr., Druggist;
Edward Brown, Sup't and Treas. Gas Co.
☞ Orders left at B. F. STEVENS' Jewelry Store, will be promptly attended to. The burner can also be examined there.
SEND FOR A CIRCULAR.
25,000 of these Regulators have been manufactured and sold in the Eastern States since February last. 150 are now in use in Salem. PRICE $1 EACH—6 AND OVER, 90 cents each. The article is warranted in every respect. Call and examine for yourselves. Our facilities for testing the genuineness of this improvement will at once convince the most skeptical.
JOSEPH CLOUTMAN,
OFFICE—Bowker Block, Essex st., up-stairs.

NOTICE.—We have this day appointed Mr. JOSEPH CLOUTMAN, of Salem, our sole agent for the sale of Brocksieper's Gas Regulator for the following places; Salem, South Danvers, Beverly, Marblehead and Gloucester, Mass. All orders for the article, at wholesale or retail, to receive attention, must come through him, and he will establish sub-agencies in the above-named places.
HULL & GOODELL,
Sole Proprietors in the U. S.,
446 Broadway, N. Y., and 221 Washington st., Boston.
august 10—tf

Advertisements.

Horse Railroad Notice.
SUNDAY TIME.
ON and after Sunday, August 14, the cars of the S. & S. D. R. R. will leave Beverly and South Danvers at 9.3, 9.30, 10.10 A. M., and every twenty minutes till 9.30 P. M.
Will leave Washington street station for South Danvers, at 9.07, 9.27, 9.47 A. M., and every twenty minutes till 9.07 P. M.
Leave Washington street station for Beverly, at 8.52, 9.12, 9.32 A. M., and every twenty minutes till 8.52 P. M.
Salem, Aug. 17, 1864. M. H. HALE, Supt.

N. J. HOLDEN,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
Office, 27 Washington Street, Salem, Mass.

SPECTACLES!
H. F. SKERRY wishes to call special attention to his stock of
Spectacles and Eye Glasses,
in Gold—Silver—Rubber—Steel and Horn frames, of which he keeps constantly on hand a very large assortment, embracing every style and quality.
—ALSO—
Opera Glasses, Microscopes, &c.
Glasses re-set, and Spectacles repaired.
In Store, our usual assortment of Silver and Plated Ware, Jewelry, Fancy Goods, and Toys, Also, Canton Ware,
No. 180 Essex Street, Salem.
H. F. SKERRY.
Aug. 17,—tf

Browning & Long.
THE LARGEST
LADIES' FURNISHING STORE
IN SALEM.
THE GREATEST VARIETY
DISPLAYED IN THIS VICINITY.
THE RICHEST GOODS,
THE LOWEST PRICES,
—AT—
BROWNING & LONG'S
177 Essex Street, 177
SALEM.
Salem, Aug. 3, 1864.

WHITE BAREGE!
WHITE CREPE MARETZ,
WHITE ALPACCA,
SHIRRED MUSLINS,
TUCKED MUSLINS,
WHITE GOODS of every description.
—For sale by—
THOMAS W. DOWNING & CO.
ly13 179 Essex Street.

COUNTRY AND SEA SHORE!
Wide Brimmed Hats,
For the Country and Sea Shore.
—ALSO—
All the FANCY STYLES OF HATS, for Ladies and Children, at
REITH & CO'S,
No. 2 West Block, Essex Street,
(One door west of J. F. Almy & Co.,)
July 6 SALEM, MASS.

LIFE INSURANCE.
THE MUTUAL
LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY,
Of New York, with a Capital of $11,000,000,
And an Annual Income of over
$2,000,000,
AND declaring a LARGER DIVIDEND than any other Company in the United States, is the one in which every man should secure a policy on his life.
The importance of LIFE INSURANCE cannot be too highly estimated. It is the safest and most practicable method of securing to your family, in case of your death, the means of a comfortable and independent support. Thousands of instances might be cited where families have thus been provided with a competency, who would otherwise have been left in penury and want. Husbands and fathers! treat not with indifference a subject of such vital importance, but see to it at once. that your families are provided with the inestimable advantages which this great and benevolent institution affords.
Because a man has wealth, it is no reason why he should not insure, for he knows not how soon his riches may "take to themselves wings and fly away." And let those who complain of the want of means, remember that
Forty-Five Cents a Week,
Will insure $1,000 on the life of a man of THIRTY,
AN ENDOWMENT POLICY,
Secures to the assured party, on attaining to a certain age, say 50, 55 or 60 years, an amount sufficient for his support in advanced age.
Another feature of this subject, deserving of especial attention, is
SURVIVORSHIP ANNUITIES!
By means of which one party may secure to another, an annuity sufficient to maintain them in comfort and independence through life. A husband may thus make provision for his wife; a father for his child; or a brother for his sister.
Endowment Policies for Children.
By this means a parent may provide, by the payment of a small annual premium, a sum of money sufficient to enable a son to enter into business, at a proper age, or for any other provision, either for a son or daughter.
Many Gentlemen of So. Danvers and Vicinity!
Have already availed themselves of this opportunity now offered of ensuring their lives, and thus securing an inestimable blessing to themselves and their families. Let others be equally wise, and immediately follow their example.
JOHN H. DERBY,
Agent for South Danvers and Vicinity,
Post Office address, Salem, Mass.
August 3, 1864.—1 mo.*

Vitrified Stone Drain Pipe.
JUST received and for sale by the subscribers, 5000 feet of the above Pipe, the usual sizes suitable for drainage; the best in the market.
Apply to
B. R. WHITE, Mason,
St Peter Court,
or F. P. GOSS, Plumber,
No. 7 St. Peter st.
Salem, Aug. 3, 1864.—3m

LT. COL. JOHN C. CHAMBERS,
LATE of the 23d Mass. Vols—Card Photographs, at G M WHIPPLE & A A SMITH'S.

NEW WAR MAP.
PERRIN'S New War Map of the Southern States, arranged from Government Surveys—price 25 cents in covers.
Also—One hundred and fifty miles round Richmond —a new War Map—price 50 cents—at aug 24 G M WHIPPLE & A A SMITH'S.

Flour.
100 Bbls "Arcade Mills;" 100 do "Crooked Creek;" 100 do "May Flower." For sale by july 20 GAYLE & CO., Phillips' Wharf.

A. J. Archer & Co

White Shirred Muslins
JUST received and for sale by
je22 A. J. ARCHER & CO.

MOURNING GOODS.
AUGUSTUS J. ARCHER & CO.,
HAVE just received a fine assortment
—OF—
MOURNING DRESS GOODS,
for summer wear.
—ALSO—
On hand, a fine stock of
BLACK SILKS,
which our customers will find are at less than Boston prices.
May 25, 1864.

FANCY CLOAKINGS!
—FOR—
Spring Garments,
IN GREAT VARIETY OF STYLES,
which we are prepared to make into GARMENTS to order, in the very best manner, and at
LOWEST CASH PRICES.
A. J. ARCHER & CO.,
March 16—tf. 181 Essex Street.

HOUSE OF EQUITY,
—BY—
Arnold & Hutchinson,
(Successors to C. T. Southwick.)
FIRST QUALITY
FAMILY GROCERIES,
Sold at the Lowest Prices.
A large and complete assortment of
CROCKERY AND GLASS WARE,
Constantly on hand.
Also FLOUR and GRAIN.
ASHLAND HALL BUILDING,
NO. 1 LOWELL STREET,
F. T. ARNOLD. B. F. HUTCHINSON.
South Danvers, Feb 3, 1864.

M. A. PORTER,
236 Essex Street, - - - Salem, Mass.,
(Opposite Horse Railroad Office,)
MAKES TO ORDER BEST QUALITIES OF
WATCH SPRING SKIRTS.
A Good Assortment of Dress and Clock Button, Braids, Spool Cotton, Small Wares, and Thread Store articles generally.
236 Essex Street, - - - Salem, Mass.,
M. A. PORTER.

SPRING AND SUMMER GOODS.
168 ESSEX STREET.
WE invite the attention of the Ladies of Salem and vicinity, to our
New Millinery Goods.
Ladies' and Children's
BONNETS AND HATS,
in all desirable styles.
Crapes, Silks, Ribbons, Feathers, French Flowers, and Laces.
A full assortment of Straw Goods, Mourning Bonnets, Veils, Collars, &c., constantly on hand at the lowest cash prices.
M. E. CRANE,
Successor to M M FLETCHER.
Salem, April 6, 1864.

JUST ARRIVED,
AT DANVERS MILLS,
500 Bushels Corn, in the minnie cob, and will be sold in South Danvers. Constantly on hand a large stock of meal, which will be sold at the lowest Salem prices.
—ALSO ON HAND—
500 Bushels Feed;
200 Bushels prime Northern Oats;
100 Barrels choicest Family Flour.
A good stock of LIME constantly on hand.
JOHN C. MOULTON,
Central St., South Danvers, Mass.
May 25—tf.

DRY GOODS
—AT—
Ann R. Bray's, 76 Federal Street.
A LARGE Stock of Bleached and Brown COTTONS, which we offer at the very lowest prices:
Heavy 4 4 Waltham; Fine 9 8 Boot Mills;
Hill Cotton, Brown and Bleached;
Newmarket, A Cotton; Bennington Cotton;
Monticello Cotton; Cambrics; White Sarsnett;
Bleached Cotton, every width and quality;
American, English and French Prints;
Red, White and Gray Flannels;
Doronts 4-4 and 3-4 widths;
Brown and other Colored Drillings;
Crashes—Bleached, Brown and other colors;
☞ Our stock of Domestic Goods is full, and we shall sell as low as at ANY OTHER STORE in the city.
According to our usual practice, we shall sell out all our DRESS GOODS at a discount.
Salem, July 20—tsio

SELF-SEALING
AIR-TIGHT CASKET.
MR. CHARLES S. BUFFUM, Furnishing Undertaker of South Danvers, takes this method to announce that he has a new burial case, which combines all the advantages of a wooden receptacle with those of a metal one, and yet avoids the disadvantages of both. They have been used with great success, and bodies placed in them have been delivered in perfect preservation after having been transported over a thousand miles. To persons having deceased friends at the seat of war they are invaluable. They come at reasonable prices, are light and durable, and are perfectly air-tight. august 10

HOUSEKEEPERS, ATTENTION!
JACKSON'S
KITCHEN FURNISHING ROOMS,
Under MECHANIC HALL, Salem.
Parties about commencing House-Keeping will find this the ONLY place in Salem where a COMPLETE ASSORTMENT of House-Keeping articles can be found.
dec 9, 1863.

George S. Walker.
Closing off Summer Stock.
NO RISE IN PRICES.
GEORGE S. WALKER will sell his Summer Stock during the month of August, preparatory to the Fall trade, at the same low prices he has been selling during the Spring and Summer, without regard to the late PANIC IN PRICES, or the increased premium on gold. Now is the time for those in want, before the stock is broken up, to purchase.
Under-Shirts, Gloves,
Drawers, Scarfs,
Hosiery, Ties, etc.
and every article belonging to a complete Gentlemen's Furnishing Store. GEORGE S. WALKER,
No. 228 Essex St., opp. Eastern Railroad Station.
Salem, Aug. 3, 1864.

Potter, Bachelder & Co.,
DANVERS-PORT and SOUTH DANVERS,
DEALERS IN
WOOD AND COAL.
Constantly on hand
Franklin, Burnside, Dimond, } RED ASH.
Old Company & Packer's Lehigh, Pliny Fisk, Webster and Locust Mountain, } WHITE ASH.
Also Cumberland, Pictou and Campbell for Steam and Smith's use.
OFFICE---No. 6 Allen's Building.
G. W. POTTER,
J. Q. A. BACHELDER,
C. T. BATCHELDER. mch 30

M. FENOLLOSA,
TEACHER OF MUSIC,
LETS............PIANO FORTES, at the lowest rates;
SELLS..........PIANO FORTES, at the Manufacturer's Prices;
EXCHANGES....PIANO FORTES, on the easiest terms;
At Rooms No. 7 Central street,
feb 11 SALEM, MASS.

AARON T. LOWE,
DEALER IN
BOOTS, SHOES AND RUBBERS,
76 BOSTON STREET, 76.
aug 6 SALEM. tf

T. HARDY, JR.,
—Dealer in—
DOORS, SASHES, BLINDS,
Glazed Sash, Painted Blinds,
FENCE PALES, STAIR BALUSTERS, FRAMING PINS, &c.,
No. 26 FRONT STREET,
Salem, January 14, 1863—tf.

THOMAS PINNOCK,
SLATER,
SALEM, MASS.
Orders may be left at his Yard, No. 25 Peabody St., or at his house No. 6 Hancock street, South Salem.
Roofs covered with any kind of Slates, according to order. All work warranted.
Salem, May 7, 1862. tf

PIN WORMS. MRS. OSBORN'S Universal Worm Powders are the only sure cure ever offered to the public. They are warranted in every case; relief within 24 hrs. 25cts. per box. Sold by all druggists.
For sale by D. P. GROSVENOR, Jr., 33 Main St., South Danvers. jan 27

EBEN UPTON,
Piano Fortes Tuned and Regulated,
MELODEONS AND PIANOS
BOUGHT, AND EXCHANGED
For New Piano Fortes, at Wholesale Prices.
Orders left at G. CREAMER'S Bookstore, Salem.
July 27, 1864.—6m

Posting Books, Making Bills and Copying.
THE above business will be promptly and accurately performed by the subscriber, who may be found at Messrs. CLARK & GIDDINGS' Counting Room on Wallis Street, near the Essex Depot, or by enquiring at this office. jy13 tf JOHN D. HOWARD.

FURNITURE.
HAVING taken the Store No. 10 FRONT STREET, (formerly occupied by BENJAMIN COLMAN,) I shall keep constantly on hand a large stock of
NEW AND SECOND-HAND FURNITURE,
BEDDING, COUNTING-ROOM DESKS, &c., &c.,
which I will sell cheap for CASH.
ALL KINDS OF FURNITURE NEATLY REPAIRED.
☞ All kinds of FURNITURE and BEDDING wanted—for which the highest Cash price will be paid.
P. J. HYNES, 10 FRONT-ST.
Salem, April 6, 1864—1y

REAL ESTATE.
The subscriber offers for sale the following Lots of Land, with the buildings thereon, at Private Sale, until October next, when, if not previously sold, they will be put up at auction.
On Lowell street, a two story DWELLING HOUSE, fitted for two families. This is the Estate formerly known as the Southwick Tavern.
On Lowe street, leading from Foster St. to Washington St., a two story TENEMENT for two families with a garden attached to it.
On Washington street, near the residence of Capt. Lowe, a very eligible BUILDING LOT, on the North side of the street.
On Tremont street, a small COTTAGE HOUSE for one or two families.
On Walnut street, a pleasant, elevated Lot of Land, with a large Barn, situated opposite Mr. Caller's Currying Shop.
In the rear of the above TWO TENEMENT HOUSES.
For particulars apply to
jy 27 WILLIAM SUTTON.

MORRIS'
RESTAURANT,
18 and 20 Derby Square, Salem.
Oysters, Clams, Steak, Poultry, Game, Fish, &c., &c., COOKED TO ORDER.
Pickled Oysters, Lobsters and Clams.
Salem, July 22, 1863. tf

WATER KEGS.
ANOTHER lot of Stone Water Kegs, at
jy13 S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS' 32 Front st.

NEW WHITE WARE.
WHITE Tea Ware and White Dinner Ware, of the new patterns, at
jy 20 S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS', 32 Front st.

Job Press for Sale.
RUGGLES' JOB ENGINE PRESS. Prints a bill 13 by 19 inches. Can be run by one man at the rate of 800 per hour. Is in good condition. It will sold at a very low price, as the owner has no use for it. It is a big bargain. Apply at this office. jy 20-tf

GAYLE & CO.,
COMMISSION MERCHANTS,
AND DEALERS IN
Flour, Grain and Produce,
PHILLIPS WHARF, Salem.

DR. J. H. BATCHELDER,
DENTAL SURGEON,
No. 20 Washington St., (near Eastern Railroad Depot), SALEM, MASS.
Is Licensed to make the New Patent Teeth on HARD RUBBER or VULCANITE.
July 1, 1864.

Auction Sales.

WILLIAM ARCHER, Jr.,
Auctioneer, Real Estate and Stock Broker,
34 Front Street.
Real Estate, Bank, Railroad & Manufacturing Stock bought and sold on Commission.

VALUABLE REAL ESTATE.

THE Subscriber offers for sale the following Lots of Land, with the Buildings thereon, at private sale, until September next, when such as then remain unsold, will be offered at Public Auction:

A new and well built two-story DWELLING HOUSE, situated on English Street.— This house is well supplied with the modern conveniences, is pleasantly situated on rising ground, and is a very desirable residence.

The MOROCCO FACTORY near the Southwick Tannery. The building is about 150 feet long by 40 wide, is well supplied with pure water and is an excellent place for the Morocco business or Currying.

Near the Morocco Factory are two TWO-STORY BUILDINGS, which may be sold with the Factory, or separately. Together they are about 80 feet long by 20 wide.

On Walnut Street is the large BOARDING HOUSE, with the land adjoining, which is excellently well situated for what it is designed.

Several front LOTS for building purposes on Walnut Street, will be sold at moderate prices and fair terms.

A STORE HOUSE 70 by 25 feet on Walnut Street, with the land under and the rear of it. It can be easily adapted for a Curriers' Shop, or for other kinds of business.

On Wallis Street, near the mill pond, a well built and painted MOROCCO FACTORY, all ready for occupancy. It is about 80 feet long by 25 wide, and in excellent repair.

Next to the Morocco Factory on the same street, a STORE BUILDING, strongly built, and framed for a DWELLING HOUSE, for which it could be easily adapted. Or it would make an excellent Shop for any kind of business.

Near ELM STREET, on a Court south of said street, are two DWELLING HOUSES, planned for two families each. One is two stories high, the other one and a half. Both houses have good tenants and yield a good income; offering a good chance for investment.

Between Harris and English Streets, one One Story DWELLING House, and a One Story and a Half House.

The above is a most excellent opportunity for enterprising young men to secure places for business and dwelling houses, on reasonable terms. Such a chance may not soon again occur.

Persons desiring to purchase any of the above lots may learn the prices and terms on application to ANDREW S. PORTER, Elm Street.

SAMUEL D. PENDAR.
South Danvers, May 11, 1864. tf

MANUAL FENOLLOSA
TEACHER
OF THE
Violin, Piano and Singing,
MUSIC ROOMS, No. 7 Central Street,
SALEM, MASS.

NEW STORE!
Flour! Flour!
JUST RECEIVED, a fresh supply of CHOICE BRANDS, direct from the Mills, for sale, wholesale and retail, at LOWEST PRICES, by
E. F. OSBORN.
Sutton's Building, Main St.
South Danvers, Nov 18, 1863.

R. C. MANNING & CO.
Successors to JOHN DIKE & CO.,
DEALERS IN
COAL, WOOD, BARK, HAY, &c,
183 DERBY STREET,
SALEM, MASS.
N. C. ROBBINS, R. C. MANNING.
oct17

GEO. E. MEACOM,
Dealer in
DRUGS & MEDICINES,
Fancy & Toilet Articles, &c.,
126 MAIN ST. 126.
Nearly opposite Danvers Bank, So. Danvers.

T. A. SWEETSER,
Druggist & Apothecary
37 Main St., So. Danvers,
DEALER IN
Drugs, Medicines, Chemicals, Foreign Leeches, Shakers' Herbs, Dye Stuffs, Gums, Acids, Sponges, Shoulder Braces, Trusses, and Genuine Patent Medicines,
Also, Imported Cigars of choice brands, Perfumery, Toilet Articles and Stationery.
Physicians' Prescriptions carefully prepared by experienced persons.
37 MAIN STREET.

D. P. GROSVENOR, Jr.,
Druggist and Apothecary,
33 MAIN STREET.
Dealer in Drugs, Medicines, Chemicals, Dye Stuffs, and Popular Proprietary Medicines.
Personal attention to Physicians' Prescriptions.
South Danvers, May 29, 1861. 1y

Flour and Grain.
1500 BUSHELS Canada Oats; 100 barrels Superior Family XXX Flour; just landed and for sale by GAYLE & CO., Phillips Wharf.

DR. E. F. KITTREDGE,
From Lowell, formerly of New Ipswich, N. H., Has removed his office and residence to
NO. 42 MAIN STREET,
SOUTH DANVERS, MASS.
Dr. K., from an extensive and successful professional experience of upwards of twenty years, feels justified in saying that he can treat diseases to the satisfaction of his patients, and to the credit of himself.
Office hours from 7 to 9 A. M., and from 5 to 9 P. M.
South Danvers, Nov 13, 1863.

6000 BUSHELS PRIME OATS, received this day, and for sale by aug 10 GAYLE & CO., Phillips Wharf.

ICE PICKS
AND Ice Mallets with Awls, at
jy13 S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS, 32 Front st.

LEMON SQUEEZERS,
AT S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS', 32 Front st.

Miscellaneous.

Retort of an Earnest Republican.—Few men could surpass the late Rev. Dr. Bethune in his power of keen and witty retort. The editor of the Congregationalist states that while he was in Florence, two English clergymen called on him, and in conversing upon the war in this country, one of them said to the doctor:

"You need a king in your country, sir."

"A king?" replied Dr. Bethune; "do you know how there came to be a king?"

"Yes," said the clergyman, "God gave him to the Jews in his anger."

"Yes," responded the doctor; "and do you know who was the first king?"

"Saul, of course," was the reply.

"Yes," said the doctor, and Saul was a driver of asses—the only beings that want kings."

☞ The papers are bragging of an invention by which leather can be tanned in ten minutes. We have seen the human hide tanned in five. Our school master used to do it occasionally in two.

☞ A man with a looking-glass, meeting a boy, says to him, "Here boy, come and look in this glass and you will see a monkey." "Ah, indeed," said the boy, "how did you discover it?" The man made no reply.

☞ A jealous woman in Washington cowhided her husband for dancing with another lady, and cheerfully paid the damages in the police court for the operation.

☞ A man is apt to think that his personal freedom gives him the right to make his fellow men do just what he pleases.

☞ The best way to keep from freezing in cold weather is to be continually getting into hot water with your neighbors.

☞ A young lady in Louisville who had two suitors, engaged herself to one, and then eloped with the other.

☞ 'Here's to internal improvements,' as Tim said when he swallowed a dose of salts.

☞ Why is the letter "o" the most charitable letter? Because it is found offener than any other in "doing good."

☞ Hon. Edward Everett has sent a check to Gov. Andrew to procure a representative recruit. Everett two years ago sent a man into the Union army.

Special Notices.

Editor of Wizard:—Dear Sir,—With your permission I wish to say to the readers of your paper that I will send, by return mail, to all who wish it (free,) a Recipe, with full directions for making and using a simple Vegetable Balm, that will effectually remove, in ten days, Pimples, Blotches, Tan, Freckles, and all Impurities of the Skin, leaving the same soft, clear, smooth and beautiful.

I will also mail free to those having Bald Heads, or Bare Faces, simple directions and information that will enable them to start a full growth of Luxuriant Hair, Whiskers, or Moustache, in less than thirty days.

All applications answered by return mail without charge. Respectfully yours,

THOS. F. CHAPMAN, Chemist,
jy 13–3m 831 Broadway, New York.

A GENTLEMAN, cured of Nervous Debility, Incompetency, Premature Decay and Youthful Error, actuated by a desire to benefit others, will be happy to furnish to all who need it, (free of charge,) the recipe and directions for making the simple remedy used in his case. Those wishing to profit by his experience, and possess a Valuable Remedy, will receive the same, by return mail, (carefully sealed,) by addressing

JOHN B. OGDEN,
No. 60 Nassau street, New York.
may 25–3m

"BELL'S SPECIFIC PILLS.—Warranted in all cases.—Can be relied on! Never fail to cure! Do not nauseate! Are speedy in action! No change of diet required! Do not interfere with business pursuits! Can be used without detection! Upward of 200 cures the past month—some of them very severe cases. Over one hundred physicians have used them in their practice, and all speak well of their efficacy, and approve of their composition, which is entirely vegetable and harmless on the system. Hundreds of certificates can be shown.

Bell's Specific Pills are the original and only genuine Specific Pill. They are adapted for male and female, old or young, and the only reliable remedy for effecting a permanent and speedy cure in all cases of Spermatorrhea, or Seminal Weakness, with all its train of evils, such as Urethral and Vaginal Discharges, Gleet, the Whites, Nightly or Involuntary Emissions, Incontinence, Genital Debility and Irritability, Impotence, Weakness or Loss of Power, Nervous Debility, &c., &c., all of which arise principally from Sexual Excesses or Self-Abuse, or some constitutional derangement, and incapacitates the sufferer from fulfilling the duties of married life. In all sexual diseases, as Gonorrhea, Gleet, and Strictures, and in Diseases of the Bladder and Kidneys, they act as a charm! Relief is experienced by taking a single box. Sold by all the principal Druggists. Price $1.

They will be sent by mail, securely sealed, and confidentially, on receipt of the money, by

J. BRYAN, M. D.,
No. 76 Cedar street, New York,

Consulting Physician for the treatment of Seminal, Urinary, Sexual, and Nervous Diseases, who will send free to all, the following valuable work, in sealed envelope:

THE FIFTIETH THOUSAND.—DR. BELL'S TREATISE on Self-Abuse, Premature Decay, Impotence and Loss of Power, Sexual Diseases, Seminal Weakness, Nightly Emissions, Genital Debility, &c., &c., a pamphlet of 64 pages, containing important advice to the afflicted, and which should be read by every sufferer, as the means of cure in the severest stages is plainly set forth. Two stamps required to pay postage. December 9, 1863—1yr.

Important to Ladies.—Dr. Harvey's Female Pills have never yet failed in removing difficulties arising from obstruction, or stoppage of nature, or in restoring the system to perfect health when suffering from Spinal Affections, Prolapsus, Uteri, the Whites, or other weakness of the Uterine Organs. The Pills are perfectly harmless on the constitution, and may be taken by the most delicate female without causing distress—the same time they act like a charm by strengthening, invigorating and restoring the system to a healthy condition, and by bringing on the monthly period with regularity, no matter from what causes the obstruction may arise. They should, however, NOT be taken during the first three or four months of pregnancy, though safe at any other time, as miscarriage would be the result.

Each box contains 60 Pills. Price $1.

Dr. Harvey's Treatise on Diseases of Females, Pregnancy, Miscarriage, Barrenness, Sterility, Reproduction, and Abuses of Nature, and emphatically the Ladies' Private Medical Adviser, a pamphlet of 64 pages, sent free to any address. Six cents required to pay postage.

The Pills and book will be sent by mail when desired, securely sealed, and prepaid, by

J. BRYAN, M. D., General Agent,
No. 76 Cedar street, New York.

☞ Sold by all the principal druggists.
December 9, 1863—1yr.

THE TRAVELERS INS. CO.,
OF HARTFORD, CONN.

Capital - - - - - - - $250,000,

Is now prepared to Insure persons against

ACCIDENTS

OF EVERY DESCRIPTION.

Yearly policies will be issued for a premium of

FIVE DOLLARS,

granting insurance to the amount of

FIVE THOUSAND DOLLARS,

against accidental loss of life while travelling by any public conveyance.

TEN DOLLARS PREMIUM

secures a policy for Five Thousand Dollars, and also twenty-five dollars per week compensation for personal injury incapacitating the assured from his ordinary business.

TWENTY-FIVE DOLLARS PREMIUM

secures a full policy for $5000 and $25 per week compensation for all and EVERY DESCRIPTION OF ACCIDENT, TRAVELLING OR OTHERWISE.

Policies for $5000 with $3 per week compensation, can be had for $3 per annum; or any other sum between $500 and $5000 at proportionate rates.

Directors:

Gustavus F. Davis,	W. H. D. Callender,
James L. Howard,	George W. Moore,
Marshal Jewell,	Ebenezer Roberts,
Thomas Belknap, Jr.,	Charles White,
Cornelius B. Irwin,	Hugh Harrison,
George S. Gilman,	Jonathan B. Bunce.

JAMES G. PATTERSON, President.
RODNEY DENNIS, Secretary.
HENRY A. DYER, General Agent.
PLUMBER & MERCER, Agents,
40 State Street, Boston.

Offices in Salem—JOHN H. DERBY, No. 24 Washington street; SAMUEL MACKINTIRE, No. 218 Essex street. Aug. 3, 1861—1yr.

R. W. WILKINSON,
DEALER IN

Newspapers, Periodicals, and Stationery of every Description.

FOREIGN and DOMESTIC FRUITS, consisting of Oranges, Lemons, Dates, Figs, Prunes, &c., &c.

Sauces, Pickles and Preserves; Castana, Naples and English Walnuts; Hard, Soft and Paper-shelled Almonds; choice brands of Tobacco and Cigars; also a general assortment of Confectionery of every description.

Also a large and well selected stock of Toys, suitable for children and the Holiday Gifts.

Ice Cream furnished to parties at short notice and in quantities to suit. Wedding Cake and every variety of nice cake furnished to parties or families.

STORE—WARREN BANK BUILDING.
South Danvers, Nov'r 11, 1863.

Putnam Clothes Wringer.
IT IS THE ONLY RELIABLE

SELF-ADJUSTING WRINGER

NO WOOD TO SWELL OR SPLIT.
NO THUMB SCREWS TO GET OUT OF ORDER.
Warranted with or without Cog-Wheels.

IT took the FIRST PREMIUM at fifty-seven State and County Fairs in 1863, and is, without an exception, the best Wringer ever made.

Patented in the United States, England, Canada and Australia. Agents wanted in every town, and in all parts of the world.

Sample Wringer sent, express paid, on receipt of price.

Energetic agents can make from 3 to 10 dollars per day.

No. 2, $6.50; No. 1, $7.50; No. F, $8.50; No. A, $9.50.

Manufactured and sold, wholesale and retail, by THE PUTNAM MANUFACTURING CO., No. 13 Platt Street, New York, and Cleveland, Ohio.

S. C. NORTHROP, Agent.

WHAT EVERYBODY KNOWS, VIZ:

That Iron well galvanized will not rust;

That a simple machine is better than a complicated one;

That a Wringer should be self-adjusting, durable, and efficient;

That Thumb-Screws and Fastenings cause delay and trouble to regulate and keep in order;

That wood soaked in hot water will swell, shrink and split;

That wood bearings for the shaft to run in will wear out;

That the Putnam Wringer, with or without cog-wheels, will not tear the clothes;

That cog-wheel regulators are not essential;

That the Putnam Wringer has all the advantages, and not one of the disadvantages above named;

That all who have tested it, pronounce it the best Wringer ever made;

That it will wring a Thread or a Bed-Quilt WITHOUT ALTERATION.

We might fill the paper with testimonials, but insert only a few to convince the skeptical, if such there be; and we say to all, test Putnam's Wringer. Test it THOROUGHLY with ANY and ALL others, and if not entirely satisfactory, return it.

Putnam Manufacturing Co.:—Gentlemen; I know from practical experience that iron well galvanized with zinc will not oxidize or rust one particle. The Putnam Wringer is as near perfect as possible, and I can cheerfully recommend it to be the best in use. Respectfully yours,

JNO. W. WHEELER, Cleveland, Ohio.

Many years' experience in the galvanizing business enable me to indorse the above statement in all particulars.

JNO. C. LEFFERTS, No. 100 Beckman St.
New York, January, 1864.

We have tested Putnam's Clothes Wringer by practical working, and know that it will do. It is cheap; it is simple; it requires no room, whether at work or at rest; a child can operate it; it does its duty thoroughly; it saves time and it saves wear and tear. We earnestly advise all who have much washing to do, with all intelligent persons who have any, to buy this Wringer. It will pay for itself in a year at most. Hon. HORACE GREELEY.

July 27, 1864.—3m

Do You Wish to be Cured.

DR. BUCHAN'S ENGLISH SPECIFIC PILLS cure, in less than 30 days, the worst cases of NERVOUSNESS, Impotency, Premature Decay, Seminal Weakness, Insanity, and all Urinary, Sexual and Nervous Affections, no matter from what cause produced. Price, One Dollar per box. Sent, post-paid, by mail, on receipt of order. One Box will perfect the cure in most cases. Address JAMES S. BUTLER,

jy 13–3m General Agent, 427 Broadway, New York.

HEYLINGBERG'S
Hair Dressing Saloon,
24 MAIN ST., SOUTH DANVERS.

J. HEYLINGBERG would announce to his patrons and the public generally, that on and after JUNE 1st, 1864, he will abide by the following

TARIFF OF PRICES:

Shaving, - - - - - - - -	10 cts,
Hair Cutting, - - - - - - -	15 cts,
Champooing, - - - - - - -	15 cts.

Particular attention paid to dying hair and whiskers, in one preparation, without washing or scrubbing.

South Danvers, May 11, 1864.

Chickering & Sons' Piano-Fortes.
Hallett & Cumston's Piano-Fortes.
Hallett & Davis's Piano-Fortes.

We select our Piano-Fortes from the above firms and warrant them to give perfect satisfaction. Our terms are reasonable, and all persons in the city and neighboring towns can be accommodated by calling at 76 Federal street.

FOR SALE—Second-Hand Piano-Fortes,—Chickering's and others.

ap 29 ANN B. BRAY.

NEW BOOKS,
At G. M. WHIPPLE & A. A. SMITH'S.

Enoch Arden, by Tennyson;
Talks on Women's Topics, by Jennie June;
Capt. Brand, by Harry Wise;
The Monomaniac;
Imogene—a new Novel;
London Nautical Magazine, July;
Geneological Register, July. 190 Essex st.

Cards.

M. B. MANSFIELD,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
214 ESSEX STREET, SALEM, MASS.

⁂ Particular attention paid to procuring Pensions, Bounties, Back Pay, Prize Money, and Army and Navy Claims of all descriptions. March 2.

H. L. HADLEY,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
CORNER MAPLE AND ELM ST.,
Danvers.

Claims against the Government for Bounty, Back Pay, and Pensions, promptly attended to.

THOMAS M. STIMPSON,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
194 ESSEX STREET, SALEM.
Residence Lowell street, South Danvers.

B. C. PERKINS,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
South Danvers—Office in Allen's Building.

ALFRED A. ABBOTT,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
Office, No. 24 Washington Street, Salem.
House, Main St., So. Danvers.

SIDNEY C. BANCROFT,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
27 Washington Street, Salem.

H. O. WILEY,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
Office, Allen's Building, South Danvers.

Claims against the Government for Bounty, Back Pay, and Pensions, promptly attended to.

A. S. CRAWFORD
Dentist,
No. 4 Main Street, So. Danvers Square
Mechanical Dentistry Neatly Executed.

W. L. BOWDOIN,
SURGEON DENTIST,
No. 208 Essex Street, Salem, (Opposite the Marke
Residence—No. 57 Washington street.
jan 11—1y

NEWMAN & SYMONDS,
DEALERS IN
Family Groceries, Flour & Grain,
HARD WARE AND CROCKERY,

Ready Made Clothing, Gents' Furnishing Goods, Hats, Caps, Boots, Shoes, &c.,
South Danvers Square, opp. Congregational Church
SAM'L NEWMAN. NATH'L SYMONDS.

S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS,
DEALERS IN

Crockery, China and Hardware; Paper Hangings; Solar and Entry Lamps; Paints, Oil and Window Glass.

No. 32 Front street, Lawrence Place,
feb13 SALEM, MASS.

HENRY L. WHIDDEN,
HOUSE AND SIGN PAINTER,
Glazier and Paperer,
Central Street, South Danvers.
All orders promptly and faithfully executed.
jan2-1y

E. S. FLINT,
DEALER IN
West India Goods, Country Poduce,
No. 2 Main Street, South Danvers.

JESSE SMITH
No. 262 Essex Street, Salem,
Importer and Dealer in
Gold and Silver Watches,
MARINE CHRONOMETERS,
Aueroid Barometers, Spy Glasses, &c.

WILLIAM BLANEY,
HOUSE & SIGN PAINTER
Grainer, Glazier and Paper Hanger.
164 MAIN STREET, Corner of Grove.
WINDOWS and BLINDS cheap for cash.
mch6-tf

F. POOLE
INSURANCE AGENT,
Allen's Building (up stairs),
Deeds drawn, and other common forms.

Horse Railroad Notice.

On and after Monday, May 9, the cars of the Salem and South Danvers Railroad Co. will leave

South Danvers for Salem and Beverly at 6.35, 6.55, 7.15, and 7.35, A. M., and every 20 minutes till 12.55 P. M., and at 1.10, 1.25, 1.40, 1.55 P. M., and every 15 minutes till 10.25 P. M. The 9.55, 10.10, and 10.25 P. M., cars will go only to Salem.

Cars will leave Beverly for Salem and South Danvers at 6.35, 6.55, 7.15, and 7.35, A. M., and every 20 minutes till 12.55 P. M., and at 1.10, 1.25, 1.40 and 1.55 P. M., and every 15 minutes till 10.40 P. M. The 9.40, 9.55, 10.10, 10.25 and 10.40 P. M., cars go only to Salem.

Cars leave Washington Street Station for So. Danvers at 6.12, 6.32 and 6.52 A. M. and every 20 minutes till 12.32 P. M, and leave Washington St. Station for Beverly at 6.17, 6.37, 6.57, A.M., and every 20 minutes till 12 37 P. M., and cars will leave Washington St. Station for South Danvers and Beverly at 12.45, 1.15, and 1.30 P. M., and every 15 minutes till 10.00 P. M.

M. H. HALE,
may 11 Sup't. S. & S. D. R. R. Co.

FOR NEW YORK via FALL RIVER AND NEWPORT.

Cabin passage $5.00; Deck, $4.00. Cars leave the Depot of the Old Colony and Newport Railway, corner of South and Kneeland streets, at 5.30 P. M., daily.

For steamer METROPOLIS, Capt. W. Brown, on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

For steamer EMPIRE STATE, Capt. P. Brayton, on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays.

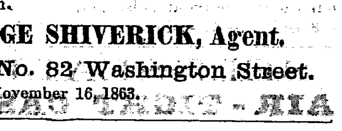
Passengers by this route can take the 4.40 P. M. Express Train, and arrive in Fall River one hour before the Steamboat Train, having time to secure State Rooms and make their preparations for the passage.

Passengers by this line going to Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, &c., can connect with the New Jersey or Camden and Amboy Railroad. Baggage Checked through.

☞ A baggage master accompanies the passengers through to New York. Tickets, Berths and State-rooms secured at this office, and at O. C. & Newport R. R. Station.

GEORGE SHIVERICK, Agent,
No. 82 Washington Street.
Boston, November 16, 1863.

MOULTON'S
NEW LIVERY STABLE,



Is removed to stable formerly occupied by
SAMUEL HAM,
On MAIN STREET, opposite the Institute.

Good Horses and Carriages will be always in readiness at short notice.
South Danvers, May 25, 1864.

PRESERVE YOUR FRUIT.

GLASS Jars and Glass Covers, for preserving Fruits, Vegetables, &c., in a perfectly fresh state, for sale by S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS', 32 Front st.

Advertisements.

HOSTETTER'S
CELEBRATED
STOMACH BITTERS.

A pure and powerful Tonic, corrective and alterative of wonderful efficacy in disease of the

Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

Cures Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Headache, Debility, Nervousness, Depression of Spirits, Constipation, Colic, Intermittent Fevers, Cramps and Spasms, and all Complaints of either Sex, arising from Bodily Weakness whether inherent in the system or produced by special causes.

Nothing that is not wholesome, genial and restorative in its nature enters into the composition of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. This popular preparation contains no mineral of any kind, no deadly botanical element; no fiery excitant; but it is a combination of the extracts of rare balsamic herbs and plants with the purest and mildest of all diffusive stimulants.

It is well to be forearmed against disease, and, so far as the human system can be protected by human means against maladies engendered by an unwholesome atmosphere, impure water and other external causes, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS may be relied on as a safeguard.

In districts infested with Fever and Ague, it has been found infallible as a preventive and irresistible as a remedy and thousands who resort to it under apprehension of an attack, escape the scourage; and thousands who neglect to avail themselves of its protective qualities in advance, are cured by a very brief course of this marvelous medicine. Fever and Ague patients, after being plied with quinine for months in vain, until fairly saturated with that dangerous alkaloid, are not unfrequently restored to health within a few days by the use of HOSTETTER'S BITTERS.

The weak stomach is rapidly invigorated and the appetite restored by this agreeable Tonic, and hence it works wonders in cases of Dyspepsia and in less confirmed forms of Indigestion. Acting as a gentle and painless apperient, as well as upon the liver, it also invariably relieves the Constipation superinduced by irregular action of the digestive and secretive organs.

Persons of feeble habit, liable to Nervous Attacks, Lowness of Spirits and Fits of Languor, find prompt and permanent relief from the Bitters. The testimony on this point is most conclusive, and from both sexes.

The agony of Bilious Colic is immediately assuaged by a single dose of the stimulant, and by occasionally resorting to it, the return of the complaint may be prevented.

As a General Tonic, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS produce effects which must be experienced or witnessed before they can be fully appreciated. In cases of Constitutional Weakness, Premature Decay and Debility and Decrepitude arising from Old Age, it exercises the electric influence. In the convalescent stages of all diseases it operates as a delightful invigorant. When the powers of nature are relaxed, it operates to re-enforce and re-establish them.

Last, but not least, it is The Only Safe Stimulant, being manufactured from sound and innocuous materials, and entirely free from the acid elements present more or less in all the ordinary tonics and stomachics of the day.

No family medicine has been so universally, and, it may be truly added, deservedly popular with the intelligent portion of the community, as HOSTETTER'S BITTERS.

Prepared by HOSTETTER & SMITH, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Sold by all Druggists, Grocers and Storekeepers everywhere.

HELMBOLD'S
GENUINE PREPARATIONS.

COMPOUND FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU, a Positive and Specific Remedy for diseases of the Bladder, Kidneys, Gravel, and Dropsical Swellings.

This Medicine increases the power of Digestion, and excite the Absorbents into healthy action, by which the Wtaery or Calcareous depositions, and all Unnatural Enlargements are reduced, as well as Pain and Inflammation.

—:0:—

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU.

For Weaknesses arising from Excesses, Habits of Dissipation, Early Indiscretion of Abuse, attended with the following symptoms:—

Indisposition to Exertion,	Loss of Power,
Loss of Memory,	Difficulty of Breathing,
Weak Nerves,	Trembling,
Horror of Disease,	Wakefulness,
Dimness of Vision,	Pain in the Back,
Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System,
Hot Hands,	Flushing of the Body,
Dryness of the Skin,	Eruptions on the Face,
Pallid Countenance.

These symptoms, if allowed to go on, which this medicine invariably removes, soon follows

Impotency, Fatuity, Epileptic Fits,

In one of which the patient may expire.

Who can say that they are not frequently followed by those "Direful Diseases,"

"INSANITY AND CONSUMPTION."

Many are aware of the cause of their suffering, BUT NONE WILL CONFESS THE RECORDS OF THE INSANE ASYLUMS,

And Melancholy Deaths by Consumption bear ample witness to the Truth of the assertion.

The Constitution once effected with Organic Weakness requires the aid of Medicine to Strengthen and Invigorate the system,

Which HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU invariably does. A Trial will convince the most skeptical.

FEMALES—FEMALES—FEMALES.

In many Affections peculiar to Females the Extract Buchu is unequalled by any other remedy, as in Chlorosis or Retention, Irregularity, Painfulness, or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated Scirrhous state of the Uterus, Leuchorrhea or Whites, Sterility, and for all complaints incident to the sex, whether arising from indiscretion or Habits of Dissipation, or in the

DECLINE OR CHANGE OF LIFE.

—:0:—

Take no more Balsam, Mercury, or unpleasant Medicines for unpleasant and dangerous diseases.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU AND IMPROVED ROSE WASH CURES

SECRET DISEASES

In all their Stages,	At little Expense.
Little or no change in Diet.	No inconvenience.
And no Exposure.

It causes a frequent desire and gives strength to Urinate, thereby Removing Obructions, Preventing and Curing Strictures of the Urethra, allaying Pain and Inflammation, so frequent in this class of diseases, and expelling all Poisonous, Diseased and wornout Matter.

Thousands upon Thousands who have been the Victims of Quacks, and who have paid heavy fees to be cured in a short time, have found they were deceived, and that the "POISON" has, by the use of "Powerful Astringents," been dried up in the system, to break out in an aggravated form, and perhaps after Marriage.

—:0:—

Use Helmbold's Extract Buchu for all affections and diseases of the URINARY ORGANS, whether existing in MALE or FEMALE, from whatever cause originating and no matter of HOW LONG STANDING.

Diseases of these Organs requires the aid of a DIURETIC. HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU IS THE GREAT DIURETIC, and is certain to have the desired effect in all Diseases for which it is Recommended.

Evidence of the most reliable and responsible character will accompany the medicine.

Price $1.00 per bottle, or six for $5.00.

Delivered to any Address, securely packed from observation.

Describe Symptoms in all Communications.

Cures Guaranteed! Advice Gratis!!

Address letters for information to

H. B. HELMBOLD, Chemist,
104 South Tenth-st., bel. Chestnut, Phila.

HELMBOLD'S Medical Depot.
HELMBOLD'S Drug & Chemical Warehouse.
594 Broadway, New York.

BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS AND UNPRINCIPLED DEALERS who endeavor to dispose "of their own" and "other" articles on the reputation attained by

Helmbold's Genuine Preparations.
" " Extract Buchu.
" " " Sarsaparilla.
" " Improved Rose Wash.

SOLD BY
ALL DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE.
ASK FOR HELMBOLD'S. TAKE NO OTHER.
Cut out the Advertisement and send for it.
AND AVOID IMPOSITION AND EXPOSURE.
December 16, 1863.—1yr.

WM. C. HENDERSON,
MANUFACTURER OF
PLAIN AND FANCY
PAPER BOXES;
No. 235 ESSEX STREET,
Sign of "Nest of Boxes."
July 23 SALEM. tf

DYSPEPSIA AND FITS.

A SURE CURE FOR

THESE distressing complaints is now made known in a Treatise on Foreign and Native Herbal Preparations, published by Dr. O Phelps Brown. The prescription was furnished him in such a providential manner, that he cannot conscientiously refuse to make it known, as it has cured everybody who has used it, never having failed in a single case. It is equally sure in cases of Fits as of Dyspepsia; and the ingredients may be found in any drug store. Sent free to all on the receipt of five cents to pre-pay postage. This work, of 48 octavo pages, beautifully illustrated, also treats on

Consumption,

Bronchitis, Asthma, General Debility, and gives the best known Herbal Remedies for their positive and permanent cure. Address Dr O. Phelps Brown, No. 19 Grand Street, Jersey City, New Jersey.

may 25—3m

MANHOOD:
HOW LOST, HOW RESTORED.

Just published, a new edition of Dr. Culverwell's Celebrated Essay on the radical cure (without medicine) of Spermatorrhœa, or Seminal Weakness, Involuntary Seminal Losses, Impotency, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage, etc.; also, Consumption, Epilepsy and Fits, induced by self-indulgence or sexual extravagance.

☞ Price, in a sealed envelope, only 6 cents.

The celebrated author in this admirable essay clearly demonstrates from a thirty years successful practice, that the alarming consequences of self-abuse may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicine or the application of the knife—pointing out a mode of cure, at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

☞ This Lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the land.

Sent under seal, in a plain envelope, to any address, POST-PAID, on receipt of six cents, or two post stamps. Address the publishers,

CHAS. J. C. KLINE & CO.,
127 Bowery, New York, Post Office Box, 4586.
June 29—10w.

SPEED, COMFORT AND SAFETY!

FOR NEW YORK.
Norwich Steamboat Train.
The only Boats Landing at Jersey City.

CABIN Passage, $5.00; Deck Passage, $4.00. The new and elegant sixteen wheel cars of the steamboat express train leave the Boston & Worcester Railroad Station, Albany Street, at 5½ P. M., daily, connecting with the new steamers, (built expressly for this line,) CITY OF BOSTON, Capt. Wilcox, Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays; CITY OF NEW YORK, Capt. Jewett, Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays, which (before proceeding to their Pier, No. 39 North River,) will touch at the wharf of the New Jersey Railroad at Jersey City, (Sundays excepted) thus enabling Southern Passengers to make sure connections with the First Southern Train, and at the same time avoid the great annoyance of the Ferry and Hack transportation in the crowded streets of New York. This insures ample time for Breakfast before the trains leave. Conductors E. Morrill and T. N. Turner accompany the passengers through to New York.

Tickets, Berths and Staterooms secured at the Railroad Station, and at the Office of the line, 79 Washington Street, Boston.

Through tickets to Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington can be had at 79 Washington Street, Boston. WM. DICKEY, Jr., Agent.

Boston, January 7, 1864.

CURRIER & MILLETT,
Dealers in
Furniture, Chairs,
MATTRESSES, FEATHERS, &
259 & 261 ESSEX ST.
Salem, dec 14—1y

H. & H. G. HUBON,
WASHINGTON STREET, SALEM
Manufacturers of
Rose Wood, Mahogany, Black Walnnt and Stained Wood
COFFINS and CASKETS.

MAKING this our exclusive business, we are ready at all times and at the shortest notice to furnish Grave Clothes of various styles, as well as Coffins and Caskets of the finest finish. Personal attention given, and delivered without extra charge to any of the neighboring towns. All orders by express or otherwise will receive prompt attention.

Black Walnut and White Wood Boards, Plank and Joists for sale.

dec 14—tf

CHARLES S. BUFFUM,

BEING an authorized UNDERTAKER of South Danvers, will attend Funerals in said place with his Hearse the same as the Town Undertaker. Will also attend Funerals, when desired, in any of the neighboring towns, with one or a pair of horses.

He also furnishes Coffin Caskets, Robes, &c., lower than city prices.

All branches of the business attended to, such as furnishing Coaches, Flowers, Laying Out, &c. Ice Preservers furnished.

All orders promptly attended to, and personal attention given to them. Articles delivered to any of the neighboring towns free of charge. Orders by express or otherwise will receive prompt attention.

Central Street, South Danvers,
RESIDENCE 25 ELM STREET.
South Danvers, Feb 17, 1864.

Undertaker's Notice!

THE subscriber being regularly appointed as Undertaker of South Danvers, would respectfully notify the public that he has removed from Central Street, to No. 80 Lowell Street, where he may be found in readiness to attend funerals, and to furnish, when desired.

HENRY SPENCER.
February 10, 1864.

Eastern Railroad.

ON and after Monday, April 4, 1864, Trains will leave the Eastern Railroad Station, Washington street, Salem, daily. (Sundays excepted):

For Lynn and Boston, *5.50, 7, 8¼, 9, 10, 11 a m., 12 55, 2¼, 5¼, 7, 7¼, p. m.
Beverly, 8, 8 15, 11¼, am., 1, 3¼, 2¼, 5¼, 6.55, 7¾ p m.
W. Beach, Man'r, Gloucester, and Rockport, 8, 11¼, a m., 3¼, 6¼ p m.
Ipswich and Newburyport, 8 05 am., 1, 3¼, 5¼, 6.55pm.
Amesbury, 8 05 a m., 1, 3¼, 5¼ p m.
Portsmouth, 8 05 a m., 3¼, p m.
Portland, 8 05 a m., 3¼ p m.

AND FOR SALEM, FROM

Portland, 8¼ a m., 3 p m.
Portsmouth, 6 20, 9 10, *11¼ a m., *5¼ p m.
Amesbury, 7.35, 9.40 a m., 5.55 p m.
Newburyport, 7, 7 55, 10, 11.50 a m., 6¼ p m.
Ipswich, 7.20, 8.15, 10.20 a m., 12.15, 6.35 p m.
Gloucester, 7, 10, 10 10 a m., 1.40, 4.40 pm.
Manchester, 7.25, 10.25 a m., 1.55, 4.55 p m.
Beverly, 6.50, 7.50, 8.20, 8.50 10.50 am., 12.45, 2.20, 5.20, 6.45, 7.05 pm.
Lynn, 7.45, 7.50, 9, 11, a m., 12.45, 3, 3.30, 4.30, 5 30, 6, 6.40, 7.30, 10 p m.
Boston, 7¼, 7¼, 8¼, 10½ am., 12¼, 2½, 3, 4, 5, 5.30, 6.10, 7, †9.30 p m.

*Or on arrival from the East.
†On Wednesday's this train leaves Boston at 11¼ p m. and on Saturdays at 10¼ p m.

MARBLEHEAD BRANCH.

Marblehead for Salem, 6¾, 7¾, 8¾, 9¾ a m., 12¼, 1¼, 5¼ 6¾, 7½ p m.
Salem for Marblehead, 7¼, 8¼, 9.25, 11¼ a m., 1, 3¼, 5¼, 7, 7.50 p m.

SOUTH READING BRANCH.

Trains leave the South Reading Depot in Salem for Boston at 6.35, 9.50 a m., 2.25, 4.55 p m
Boston for Salem, 7 a m., 12 m., 2 30, 5¼ p m.

ESSEX RAILROAD.

Leave Salem for Lawrence and way stations, 7, 11¼ a m., 4.45 p m.
Lawrence for Salem, 8 a m., 12.40, 5.50 p m.
Danvers for Salem, 8.40 a m., 1.20, 6.30 p m.
South Danvers for Salem, 8¾ a m., 1.25, 6.35 p m.

J. PRESCOTT, Superintendent.
Boston, April 5, 1864.

Salem and Lowell Railroad.

ON and after Monday, April 4, 1864, Trains will run as follows:

Leave Lowell for Salem, 7.25 a m., and *2.45 p m.
Leave Salem for Lowell, *9 40 a m. and 6 00 p m.

Passengers are not allowed to carry baggage above $50 in value, and that personal, unless notice is given and an extra amount paid. Season tickets do not entitle the holder to take baggage.

*Freight Train with passenger car attached.

F. H. NOURSE, Local Superintendent.
April 4, 1864.

South Danvers & Salem Mail Express.

E LITTLEFIELD, successor to P. Webber, will run an Express regularly between So. Danvers and Salem for the delivery of packages and bundles, and all goods usually delivered by Express.

Leave South Danvers at 7½ and 11 AM, and 1½ and 5 P M.

Leaves Salem at 8 45 A M., 12 M., 2½ and 6 P M.

This Express connects with the first train from Salem going East.

Slates—In Salem, 13 Central st., and at the Messrs. Roberts' store, corner of Front and Washington sts.

South Danvers—At the Post Office; at Blake & Holman's store; also at R. O. Spiller's store. aug 10

Abbott's South Danvers & Salem EXPRESS.

Leave South Danvers, - - - -	7½ a m, 1 p m
Leave Salem, - - - - - -	10 a m, 4 p m

Orders left at Teel & Moulton's, and principal stores on Main street, South Danvers; and at 7 Washington street, and at Reed's in the Market, Salem.

Are you Insured?

THE subscriber would respectfully call your attention to the fact that he is fully prepared to effect Insurance against Fire, to any amount, at current rates, on

Dwelling Houses, Barns and their contents, Stores, Stocks of Goods, Furniture, &c. &c., and on buildings in process of erection,

And that he is the authorized Agent for the following responsible Stock and Mutual Companies, viz:

Thames Insurance Co., (Stock,) Norwich, Conn.
Capital—$500,000.
Amos W. Prentice, Pres. Oliver F. Rice, Sec'y
Conway Insurance Company, (Stock) Boston.
Capital and Surplus—$260,000.
James F. Whitney, Pres. David C. Rogers, Sec'y.
City Insurance Company, (Stock) Boston.
Capital—$150,000.
Samuel P. Hayward, Pres. Austin W. Benton, Sec'y

Also, will effect Insurance on the LIVES OF INDIVIDUALS, for one year, seven years, or for the whole term of life, in the

Massachusetts Mutual Life Ins. Co., Springfield, Mass.
Capital and Assets—$375,000.
Caleb Rice, Pres. D. B. Bacon, Sec'y.
William Mack, M. D., Medical Examiner.

WM. ARCHER, Jr.,
18 Washington st. and 34 Front st., Salem.
feb20-1

ALWAYS SUCCESSFUL!
TO ALL THOSE WHO SUFFER FROM
DEBILITY AND SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

DRS. CARSWELL & HUNTER, regularly educated, highly eminent and successful practitioners, after very extensive practice in Boston, for over twenty years, need hardly speak of their medical qualifications, or remind strangers not to class them with a set of uneducated men, who fill the papers with their boasting advertisements. Drs. C. & H. caution the public against quackery in all its forms, pretending, as some self-styled doctors, to cure all the most difficult and chronic diseases, without knowledge of the human system, or of the modus operandi of the most simple drugs.

Drs. C. & H., since 1840, having confined their whole attention to an office practice for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, they acknowledge no superiors.

CONSTITUTIONAL DEBILITY OR SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Drs. C. & H. are pre-eminently successful in the treatment of the above most difficult and perplexing of all diseases, this complaint being the result of a secret habit in youth; if neglected or improperly treated, it proves one of the greatest evils that can befall a human being. Dr. H. has given particular attention to the above disease for years, and so thoroughly has he become acquainted with the pathology and treatment, that he will warrant a perfect cure under forfeiture of $500; in fact, he will, in the cure of this complaint, acknowledge no superior in this country, or even in the world. Come, then, all you who are afflicted, come to the Old Stand, where you will in a short time be made to rejoice in perfect health.

Syphilitic and Scrofulous Affections,—such as Ulcers and Caries of the throat and nose, Running Sores on the legs and arms, Hard Scabs and Scaly Eruptions on the head, back, &c., pains in the bones and joints, and all other forms of venereal diseases—are made to yield and entirely disappear under Drs. C. & H.'s improved and thoroughly eradicating course of treatment.

The primary or first symptoms of disease, whether a simple running, or small pistules, cancers, or ulcers, are cured in a very few days, if immediate application is made to Drs. C. & H.

13 ENDICOTT STREET, BOSTON. 13

Strangers should be particular in the selection of a physician, lest they be deceived by false advertisements.

Ladies troubled with irregularity, weakness, whites, and other complaints peculiar to the female system, will find a speedy cure by calling as above. No mercury used, and no charge for advice. The afflicted are invited to give us a call.

Boston, April 20, 1864.—1 yr.

25 YEARS' EXPERIENCE enables DRS. CARSWELL & HUNTER to cure any diseases of a private nature in a shorter space of time and for a smaller amount of money than any other doctors in this country, and they also treat all female complaints with perfect success, and on the most satisfactory terms. Patients furnished with board if desired. Please give us a call at our office, No. 13 Endicott St., Boston, Mass.

Boston, April 20, 1864.—1 yr.

A Card to the Suffering.

SWALLOW two or three hogsheads of "Buchu," "Tonic Bitters," "Sarsaparilla," "Nervous Antidotes," &c., &c., &c., and after you are satisfied with the result, then try one box of OLD DOCTOR BUCHAN'S ENGLISH SPECIFIC PILLS—and be restored to health and vigor in less than thirty days. They are purely vegetable, pleasant to take, prompt and salutary in their effects on the broken-down and shattered constitution. Old and young can take them with advantage. Imported and sold in the United States only by

JAS. S. BUTLER, No. 427 Broadway, New York.
☞ Agent for the United States.

P. S. A Box of the Pills, securely packed, will be mailed to any address on receipt of price, which is ONE DOLLAR, post-paid,—money refunded by the Agent if entire satisfaction is not given. jy 13–3m

SUMMER ARR
LYNN & B
BY OMNIBUS & H
W. F. BURI

Line of Omnibuses will leav
Omnibus Office, No. 6 Allen's vers, passing down Main Stree
Street, to Lynn, daily—Sunda
Leave South Danvers at 7
and 4 50 P. M.
Leave Lynn (Horse Car Dep
A. M., 2 40 and 5 40 P. M.
Horse Cars leaving the offic
at 8 15 A. M., 1 15 and 5 15 P. M buses at Lynn, at the above
passengers to South Danvers.
Tickets to Lynn,
Through to Boston,

Gravesend, Wooden
Depot Ro

ON and after Monday, Nov 2
route, an Omnibus will lea
Lynn, to connect with the st times daily,—Sundays except Gravesend and Woodend, to th
and Horse Railroad Station, Broad Streets; leaving South D
necting with the 7.25 steam car (connecting with the 11.10 train ing with the 4.50 train); and r from the Spring Street Station
pot, at 8 A M, and 1 and 6 P M.
Fare from S. Danvers to Bos

Through Tickets to and from the Drivers and Conductors.

South Danvers, Sal
Route.

THE subscriber having pur
ley the Omnibus line ru
Lynn, would announce that i
Stage Office, No. 6 Allen's Buil for Salem, at 7 30 A M, and 2 3
Stage Office in Central St, Sa
3.30 P M for Lynn. Returning
A M and 5 P M; and Salem for
A M, and 6.15 P M.
Passengers between South Da be called for by leaving orders Passengers called for at reaso
s given at the office.

EXPRESS BU
Between South Danvers and
ed to, on reasonable terms.
Extra Coaches furnished at sh
W. F
South Danvers, April 20, 1864.

GROUT & M
SOUTH DANVER
RAILROAD E

Express leaves South Danvers
Freight " " "
Express leaves Boston at
Freight " " at
OFFICE at FREIGHT
Danvers Square.
Express Office in Boston, 3
Freight Office, 48
Particular attention paid
niture, collecting Bills, Note
Smallest favors thankfully rece
South Danvers, august 26—tf

MARSHA
DANVERS, SO. DANV
EXPRES

Leave DANVERS (daily) at 9
" SALEM at 1½ P. M.
OFFICES:
In Danvers—At E B Waitt's and Danversport—Richards' and A V
In So. Danvers—Francis Dane & street.
In Salem—No 7 Washington stre
17 Derby Square.
All business promptly and fait
Our patrons are partic
write their orders.
Packages left at the office
"Marshall's Express."
Being connected with t
are enabled to forward Notes, collection, and small packages, point in the United States, at P
dec18-tf

Important to the

DR. DOW continues to be con
Nos. 7 and 9 Endicott street,
eases of a
PRIVATE OR DELICAT
By a long course of study and p
of unlimited extent, Dr. D. has n
of presenting the unfortunate
have never, since he first introdu
cure the most alarming cases of
GONORRHŒA AND S
Beneath his treatment, all the
and impure blood, Impotency, Scr
Ulcers, pain and distress in the
tion, Inflammation of the Bladder
drocele, Abcesses, Humors, fright
the long train of horrible sympt
class of disease, are made to beco
the simplest ailings of a child.
SEMINAL WEAKN
Dr. D. devotes a great part of h
ment of those cases caused by a habit, which ruins the body and unfortunate individual for busines
of the sad and melancholy effects habits of youth, are Weakne limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dim
pitation of the heart, Dyspepsia,
rangement of the digestive funct
Consumption, &c. The fearful are much to be dreaded; loss of
of ideas, depression of spirits,
aversion of society, self-distrust among the evils produced. Such fore contemplating matrimony, c experience, and be at once rest
happiness.
Patients who wish to remain
ment a few days or weeks, will pleasant rooms, and charges for b
Medicines sent to all parts of th directions for use, on receiving cases. Dr. Dow has also for sale
warranted the best preventive.
or $1 and a red stamp.

CAUTIO
TO FEMALES IN DELICA
DR. DOW, Physician and Surge street, Boston, is consulted daily f dent to the female system. Prolap
ing of the Womb, Fluor Albus, Su
er menstrual derangements, are al pathological principles; and speedy
in a very few days. So invariably mode of treatment, that most ob yield under it, and the afflicted pe
in perfect health.
Dr. Dow has no doubt had greate
cure of diseases of women and c
other physician in Boston.
Boarding accommodations for wish to stay in Boston a few day
ment.
Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confi
tention to an office practice, for th
Diseases and Female Complaints,
superior in the United States.
N. B.—All letters must contain f
they will not be answered.
Office Hours from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M

CERTAIN CU
IN ALL CASES, OR NO CHA
Dr. Dow is consulted daily, from as above, upon all difficult and every name and nature, having by tention and extraordinary success g
which calls patients from all parts
obtain advice.
Among the physicians in Boston,
in the profession than the celebrate
7 Endicott street, Boston. Those w vices of an experienced physician a give him a call. P. S.—Dr. Dow im
sale a new article, called the Frenc
by mail. Two for $1 and a red stam
April 20, 1864. 1y.

E. S. FLI
Manufacturer and Deal
INNER SO
AND SHOE STIFFENINGS OF
2 Main Street, South

Choice Spring Pigs

THE subscriber offers for sale nic
Prince Albert and Chester
which the Mackie took the First Pre Cattle Show. Prices reasonable.
BYRON GO
Near T
South Danvers, April 1, 1864.

South Danvers Wizard.

V. SOUTH DANVERS, MASS., WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 7, 1864. NO. 36.

UTH DANVERS WIZARD
very WEDNESDAY, at Allen's Build-
nvers Square,
o Dollars a year.
MENTS inserted at reasonable rates.

ARLES D. HOWARD,
OR AND PROPRIETOR.

ILES, Advertising Agent,
y's Building, Court Street, Boston, is or that city, and is authorized to re-isements and subscriptions for us at ates.

elected Poetry.

HED TO THE MAST.

ast the sentinel forts
Dash'd boldly the ships;
uns belching forth fire
From their red hot lips!
he crews sworn together
To stand to the last y the brave Admiral
Lashed to the mast!

Amid the smoke flutter'd
The stripes and the stars,
Above the din was heard
The shouts of the tars!
None car'd for the danger,
And none stood aghast;
Was not the Admiral
Lashed to the mast?

The loud roar of the guns,
The shriek of the shells!
The air filled with smoke
And sulphurous smells!
A hail of hot iron
Thick falling and fast
Round the brave Admiral
Lashed to the mast!

The deck of the flag-ship
Slippery with gore,
Thundering from ev'ry
Huge gun that she bore!
The Tecumseh went down
In the fearful blast,
Wept by the Admiral
Lashed to the mast!

Oh, how it stirs the heart
Of loyal and leal
To think of that fight in
The Bay of Mobile!
Where navy won laurels
More bright than the past
Under old Farragut
Lashed to the mast!

The American navy—
The best in the world!
The American banner—
The proudest unfurl'd!
The American sailor—
Let cowards avast!
The type of her bravest
Lashed to the mast!

him, who in the love of nature holds,
nunion with her visible forms, she speaks ious language; for his gayer hours ath a voice of gladness and a smile eloquence of beauty, and she glides his darker musings, with a mild healing sympathy, that steals away
r sharpness, ere he is aware.

Selected.

IUSIC AND LIGHT ON THE BATTLE-LD.—A brave and godly captain in of our Western regiments told this y as he was being removed to the pital. He was shot through both ghs with a rifle-bullet—a wound from ich he could never recover. While ig on the field he suffered intense ny from thirst. He supported his d upon his hand, and the rain from iven was falling around him. In a le while a little pool of water formed der his elbow, and he thought if he uld only get to that puddle he might ench his thirst. He tried to get into position to suck up a mouthful of mud- wator, but he was unable to reach thin a foot of it. Said he—"I never lt so much the loss of an earthly bless- g. By and by night fell, and the stars ione out clear and beautiful above the rk field, and I began to think of the reat God who had given his Son to die death of agony for me, and that he was up there—up above the scene of uffering and above those glorious stars; nd I felt that I was going home to meet im, and praise him there; and I felt hat I ought to praise God, even wound- d and on the battle-field. I could not elp singing that beautiful hymn—

'When I can read my title clear
To mansions in the skies,
I'll bid farewell to every fear,
And wipe my weeping eyes.'

And," said he, "there was a Christian brother in the bush near me. I could not see him, but I could hear him. He took up the strain; and beyond him another and another caught it up, and all over the terrible battle-field of Shiloh that night the echo was resounding, and we made the field of battle ring with hymns of praise to God!"

☞ Franklin, on hearing the remark that what was lost on earth went to the moon, asserted that there must be a deal of good advice accumulated there.

SWAN'S CROSSING, DANVERS.

The frequent passenger over the Essex Railroad often hears the conductor, at a certain obscure way station, announce "Swan's Crossing." It is the first stopping place above "Beaver Brook," and the last of the five within the limits of Danvers—the next being at Middleton. It is the centre of a country locality, and accommodates a neighborhood of worthy and thrifty farmers, who, when they wish to ride in the cars, have only to raise the target at the station and the train stops for them. The depot is an unobtrusive structure of that dingy red which seems to be the standard color of all small depots. It is fitted up with neither grained nor cushioned seats or chairs, but is occupied by several industrious shoemakers, whose calling is evidently subjected to but little disturbance by either the frequency with which the trains stop, or the number of passengers who come and go. The stranger, on alighting, ascends the steps, passes in at the front, and out at the back door of the depot, and looks around evidently at a loss which way to proceed. He seems to be dropped in the midst of green grass and growing things, the only road to the door being a foot-path leading to the travelled way a few rods distant. If you wish to reach a certain man's house, you may first take the road, or, quite as likely, one of the affable shoemakers will point a way, indicated by a foot-track, through several fields and over a stone wall or two. It always takes the country people to inaugurate these "short cuts," and informally dedicate them to neighborhood use. Our way, a day or two since, was easily found, and we reached the house of our destination at the intersection of two roads, after passing through a field or two, a graveyard, and a clump of locusts.

This locality is surrounded with much more of interest than the careless passenger who passes by in the train, would be apt to imagine. Mr. John Preston has an excellent farm near here, on which a fine new barn has been erected within a year or two. Mr. Preston is the father of Mr. Charles P. Preston who is Secretary of the Essex Agricultural Society, and who lives on the place. Some attention has been given to apple-growing on this farm, which will soon become conspicuous in this line. Mr. Andrew Nichols, too, has a thrifty and comfortable place near by. Mr. Nichols is a son of the late Dr. Andrew Nichols of South Danvers, and is Secretary of the Danvers Farmers' Club. So it will be seen that "Swan's Crossing" is well represented, officially, in the agricultural organizations. Mr. Edward D. Kimball, formerly of Salem, has an extensive estate in this neighborhood; and his ample grounds, spacious lawn, and fine residence, situated on a commanding eminence, together with the well built stone wall which encloses the estate, are conspicuous objects of notice to the passer to or from "Beaver Brook," near which, also, Mr. S. P. Driver of Salem has an attractive place. Besides these, and numerous other farms which might likewise be specially named, there is the Putnam place, which gives something of a historic character to the locality, from the fact that Gen. Israel Putnam was born there. But we shall allude to this again.

The Newburyport Turnpike passes along by some of the farms named; and the half way stone, indicating Newburyport at one end and Boston at the other, as sixteen miles distant, is near the school-house, but a few rods from the old Putnam place. The Turnpike was built some half century since, and with its numerous taverns and stage lines, spoiled more fortunes than it made. The road forms a nearly straight line between Boston and Newburyport. It was constructed on the principle of turning out for nothing; and so continues its course, up hill and down, visible from each hill-top for miles ahead, and looking no larger than a foot-path in the distance. Mr. John Nichols, now eighty-four years of age, owns a farm on the southern side of the turnpike, at the junction of one of the old roads to Middleton. Mr. Nichols is a brother to the late Dr. Andrew Nichols, and has lived in the same house fifty-eight years, ever since he was married. His wife is still living, and the aged couple will probably close their days near the place where Mr. N. was born. Mr. Nichols, though so far advanced in years, is in vigorous health, and does most or all of his own work—mowing, etc.

Mr. Andrew Nichols, the nephew, who lives on the opposite side of the Turnpike, bought his land of his uncle. It contains numerous forest trees, as locusts, pines, hemlocks, chestnuts, beeches, black and white birches and lindens, besides apples. These were all set out by Mr. Nichols since the construction of the turnpike road. Mr. Nichols, the present occupant, has built a neat and convenient cottage house here, and conducts his farm thriftily, raising many apples. From a knoll in the rear of his house, a view may be obtained of the village at Danvers Plains and of the spires and factory towers of Salem—the two places being in a direct line.

The peat meadows in this vicinity present an uncommonly interesting sight the present season, from the fact that a much larger quantity than usual is being cut. We visited several of these meadows, passing a little way over the Turnpike to the east, and crossing one of the old, and now unfrequented roads to Middleton. Turning in through a gateway to the right, we come to Bishop's Meadow, so named from the fact that it was included in an early grant to Peter Bishop, more than two hundred years ago. This is now owned by Mr. Henry Verry, and is probably one of the best peat meadows in the county. From this and the surrounding meadows in the neighborhood, more than one hundred cords of peat have been cut the present season, more than in any one of twenty years before. Two years ago not over ten cords were cut on the same meadows. This difference is attributable to the rise in the price of coal, which will have the effect of bringing peat into conspicuous notice as an article of fuel. It is certainly cheap for farmers' use. A man can buy the privilege of cutting, for $1.25 a rod, five feet wide. This area will produce about a cord of dry turf, and can be cut in two days by a common laborer, and in one perhaps by an expert hand. There are many days after haying time which the farmer can devote to this work without neglecting anything else, and which, in one sense, may rightly be said to cost him nothing. The cutting of peat is a curious and interesting operation—the cutters being as sharp almost as a razor. It requires some dexterity to handle each piece quickly and well, though the operation looks easy to a spectator. The topping is first removed and afterwards thrown into the cut space, where, after about four years, the meadow grass is fit to be mowed. The vegetation also serves as a source for a new supply of peat which may be cut in from forty to eighty years afterward. The topping makes a very rich fertilizer also, and is greatly used to facilitate the growing of hot-house plants. There is a great difference in the quality of peat, which, when dried, shrinks to about half the original size. Color and weight indicate the measure of quality.

We have alluded to the house where Gen. Israel Putnam was born. It is a comfortable looking place, where the passer by, on a summer day, looks with a wishful eye. It is at the corner where the Middleton road crosses the Turnpike. It is still in the hands of the General's descendants, his granddaughter, the widow of the late Daniel Putnam, over ninety years of age, still living there. There is an old pear tree on the premises, near the house, with several willows large and old enough to be interesting. The pear tree bears all the marks of age, but still produces pleasant fruit. There is direct evidence of its existence from 1742, and it was no doubt planted some years before that date. The good people of the house are very kind and affable, and evidently take pleasure in showing visitors about the premises. The associations that give character to the house cause many to call and pay their personal respects; and among the visitors last week was ex-Secretary Chase, who called with R. P. Waters, Esq., of Beverly, finding, no doubt, much to interest him.

The room where Gen. Putnam was born still retains its original appearance, and, with the entire old part of the house, bears the characteristic of the ancient style of construction, with many heavy beams in plain sight. Gen. Putnam was born Jan. 7, 1718, at which time Danvers was a part of Salem, and he removed to Pomfret in Connecticut at about the age of twenty-one. The public are of course familiar with the principal events of his life and the prominent traits of his character, among which personal bravery was conspicuous. He acquired fame for his distinguished services in the French war which opened in 1754, and during the revolutionary struggle, which he survived about seven years, having departed this life on the 19th of May, 1790. His patriotic and martial spirit has not become obliterated through the line of descent, as the venerable lady now living on the place has lost two grandchildren in the present struggle against the Southern rebellion—both sons of Mr. Wm. R. Putnam, who also lives on the farm. One of these died a few weeks since, of wounds received in one of the recent engagements, and the other, who joined the army at the age of sixteen, was killed in one of the battles before Richmond, under Gen. McClellan. The latter, previous to his departure for the war, occupied the room in which Gen. Putnam was born; and, as a memento showing his handicraft and taste, there now hangs in the room a neatly carved wooden sword made during his leisure moments.

A portion of this house was added to the old structure in 1744. The family take great interest in relics and curiosities, and usually spread out a profuse array of curious things for the inspection of guests. Among these is an old copy of the stamp act, making 24 royal quarto pages. The imprint reads, "London edition, reprinted and sold by Edes and Gill in Queen street, 1765. Gen. Putnam's clear and plain autograph is also affixed to in some of the old conveyances. There is likewise an old sword owned by the brother of the General—Lieut. David Putnam. A box made of playing cards picked up soon after Gen. Gage left his quarters at the present Collins House, and once used by British soldiers; a piece of granite from Gen. Putnam's monument at Brooklyn, Conn.; samples of petrified wood found at "Blind Hole Swamp;" a most perfect impression of a fern leaf which had been imbedded in a rock taken from the mining region of Pennsylvania; clay stones from the banks of the Connecticut, found at Piermont, N. H.; a "froze and thawed" apple which has spent four years in the arctic regions in the Resolute, which was sent in search of Sir John Franklin, was lost, and picked up by a whaler; fibrous gypsum and gypsum from mines in Webster County, Iowa; various Indian relics, and the tusk of a walrus,—constitute some others of the curiosities. In addition to these we saw, also, an interesting specimen, in full vigor, of what, in California, is called the "Rock Rose," though it seems to bear no resemblance to the rose family that we could observe. These plants dry up and appear dead in seasons of drought, but expand and come to full life when moistened by rains or the artificial application of water. For this reason they are called "Resurrection Plants." They grow in Mexico and California, and travellers sometimes bring a specimen from the Holy Land, called the "Rose of Jericho."—Gazette, 30th.

ARE NOT HOOP SKIRTS DANGEROUS? One day recently as a gentleman was walking on one of our sidewalks, his foot came in contact with the hoop skirt of a lady who was passing him, and in an instant found himself lying on the ground, and stunned by the fall. The lady was very much frightened, supposing the man seriously injured. He finally took an upright position, begging pardon of the lady and passed on, thankful that the matter was no worse.

Another case was that of a lady upwards of seventy years of age, while passing through her room with a kerosene lamp in her hand, her foot caught in the hoop skirt of her grand-daughter, and she was thrown very violently to the floor, and came very near setting the house on fire. We mention these facts to caution the female community to be careful and give all passers by a wide berth, and it would be well for the gentlemen to keep a good look-out when they come in contact with these "infernal machines."—Newburyport Herald.

CONTINENTAL MONTHLY.—The September number of this periodical is received. It is unusually readable and sprightly with not a heavy article on its pages. It has a number of new contributors, which it will do well to retain. There is one paper in this number which has much of the ingenuity and quiet humor of the lamented Hawthorne, and reminds us of his exquisite relation of the "Virtuoso's Collection." The article is entitled "A Castle in the Air."

☞ The latest dog story is of two dogs who fell to fighting in a saw mill. In the course of the tussel, one of the dogs went plump against a saw in rapid motion, which cut him in two instanter. The hind legs ran away, but the fore legs continued the fight and whipped the other dog.

THE RESULT OF COURTESY.

Every one should have a higher motive than the hope of reward for the exercise of kindness and courtesy. It should be done habitually, from the love of being useful to and benefitting others. Still it is true that every well-disposed person takes pleasure in encouraging good qualities; and hence it often happens, as is related in the following story, that affable conduct, and a love of imparting knowledge, contributes to success in life.

A few years ago on a radiant spring afternoon, two men, who from their conversation appeared to be foreigners, stopped before the gate of one of our large workshops in Philadelphia, for the manufacture of locomotive engines. Entering a small office, the elder of the two men inquired of the superintendent in attendance if he would permit them to inspect the works.

"You can pass in and look about, if you please," said the superintendent, vexed apparently at being interrupted in the perusal of his newspaper. He then scanned the two strangers more closely. They were respectably but plainly dressed, and evidently made no pretensions to official dignity of any kind.

"Is there any one who can show us over the establishment, and explain matters to us?" asked Mr. Wolfe, the elder of the strangers.

"You must pick your own way, gentlemen," replied the superintendent; "we are all too busy to attend to every party that comes along. I'll thank you not to interrupt the workmen by asking questions."

"It was not so much the matter, as the manner, of his reply that was offensive to Mr. Wolfe and his companion. It was spoken with a certain official assumption of superiority, mingled with contempt for the visitors, indicating a haughty and selfish temper.

"I think we will not trouble you," said Mr. Wolfe, bowing; and taking his companion's arm, they passed out.

"If there is anything I dislike it is incivility," said Mr. Wolfe to his companion, when they were in the street. "I do not blame the man for not wishing to show us over his establishment; he is no doubt annoyed and interrupted by many heedless visitors; but he might have dismissed us with courtesy. He might have sent us away better content with a gracious refusal, than with an ungracious consent."

"Perhaps we shall have better luck here, said the other stranger; and they stopped before another workshop of a similar kind. They were received by a brisk little man, the head clerk, apparently, who in reply to their request to be shown over the establishment answered, "Oh yes! come with me, gentlemen, this way." So saying, he hurried them along the area strewn with iron bars, broken and rusty wheels of iron fragments of old cylinders, into the principal workshop. Here, without stopping to explain any one thing, he led the strangers along with the evident intention of getting rid of them as soon as possible. When they paused where the workmen were riveting the external castings of a boiler, the clerk looked at his watch, tapped his right foot against an iron tube, and showed other signs of impatience. Whereupon Mr. Wolfe remarked: "We will not detain you any longer, sir," and with his friend, took leave.

"This man is an improvement on the other," said Mr. Wolfe; "but all the civility he has is on the surface; it does not come from the heart. We must look further."

The strangers walked on for nearly half a mile in silence, when one of them pointed to a picture of a locomotive engine with a train of cars underneath. It overtopped a small building not more than ten feet in height, communicating with a yard and workshop. "Look," said the observer, "here is a machinist whose name is not on our list."

"Probably it was thought too small a concern for our purpose," said his companion.

"Nevertheless, let us try it," said Mr. Wolfe.

They entered, and found at the desk a middle aged man, whose somewhat grimy aspect and apron round his waist showed that he divided his labors between the workshop and the counting-room.

"We want to look over your works, if you have no objection."

"It will give me great pleasure to show you all there is to be seen," said the mechanic, with a pleased alacrity, ringing a bell, and telling the boy who entered to take charge of the office. He then led the way, and explained to the strangers the whole process of constructing a locomotive engine. He showed them how the various parts of the machinery were manufactured, and patiently answered all their questions. He told them of an improved mode of tubing boilers, by which the power of generating steam was increased, and showing with what care he provided for security from bursting. Two hours passed away. The strangers were delighted with the intelligence displayed by the mechanic, and with his frank, attentive and unsuspicious manners.

"Here is a man who loves his profession so well, that he takes pleasure in explaining its mysteries to all who can understand them," thought Mr. Wolfe.

"I am afraid we have given you a good deal of trouble," said the other stranger.

"Indeed, gentlemen, I have enjoyed your visit," said the mechanic, "and shall be glad to see you again."

"Perhaps you may," said Mr. Wolfe, and the strangers departed.

Five months afterwards, as the mechanic, whose means were quite limited, sat in his office, meditating how hard it was to get business by the side of such large establishments as were his competitors, the two strangers entered. He gave them a hearty welcome, handed chairs, and then sat down.

"We come," said Mr. Wolfe, "with a proposition from the Emperor of Russia."

"From the Emperor? Impossible!"

"Here are our credentials."

"But, gentlemen," said the now agitated mechanic, "what does this mean? how have I earned such an honor?"

"Simply by your straightforward courtesy and frankness, combined with professional intelligence," said Mr. Wolfe. "Because we were strangers, you did not think it necessary to treat us with distrust or coldness. You saw we were in earnest in acquainting ourselves with your works, and did not ask us, before extending to us your civilities, what letters of introduction we brought. You measured us by the spirit we showed, and not by the dignities we could have exhibited."

The mechanic visited St. Petersburg, and soon after moved his whole establishment there. He had imperial orders for as many locomotive engines as he could construct. He has lately returned to his own country, and is still receiving large returns from his Russian workshop. And all this prosperity grew out of his unselfish civility to two strangers, one of whom was the secret agent of the Czar of Russia.—N. J. Messenger.

SALT.—Salt is the emblem of fidelity; a man who has partaken of salt with you is bound to you by the laws of hospitality; and thus bread and salt are eaten at the ratification of a bargain or treaty, to make it binding on all parties. Salt is also an emblem of desolation; conquered cities were sown with salt. In Scotland and Ireland salt appears to have been considered to represent the incorruptible spirit: and was therefore laid above the head of a corpse; and in some cases a platter was so placed containing a small portion of salt and earth unmixed, the one to represent the immortal the other the mortal part. In former days, when it was the custom for all the household of a nobleman or gentleman to dine together, the large salt-cellar which was placed in the middle of the table was the boundary of distinction between the family and the menials.

☞ The following advertisement of the celebrated Russia Salve from a Boston paper we copy gratuitously, as the ne plus ultra of its kind:

The bull frogs raised their tails on high,
And bounded o'er the plain!
A bumblebee went thundering by
And then came down the rain;
Chain-lightning split a peasant's nose,
And killed a yearling calf!
Loud o'er the crashing thunder rose
A shout for Russia Salve!

OUR NAVY.—The Richmond Sentinel is greatly troubled, editorially, about our navy; says that it (the Union navy) has "borne hard" upon them throughout the war, and that could they get rid of it they would "make such short work of the Yankees as would astonish the world."

☞ We walked to church on Sunday morning behind "the girl with a hole in the heel of her stocking." She probably knew of it Saturday, but remembered the Sabbath and kept it hole-y.

HOW TO PICKLE CUCUMBERS.

Cut the cucumbers from off the vines without bruising the stems; lay them carefully in a basket, take them to the cellar; sort and pack them in barrels, putting different sizes in separate barrels, spread a layer of salt between each layer of cucumbers; there should be sufficient salt to entirely cover the pickles between the layers. Continue to pack the cucumbers daily as they are picked, never using any but fine cucumbers, discarding all that are crooked or of slow growth. Keep boards over the pickles, and weight to press them under the brine, which will be formed without the addition of water, with the juice extracted from the fruit by the salt. Pickles packed in this manner may be preserved for years, if there are no impurities in the salt; but if the salt is mixed with lime, they will soften and spoil. In two months after the barrel is filled, take them from the brine, freshen and green. To green cucumbers, prepare alum water; put the pickles in a vat or boiler, lined with tinned copper; heat the alum water, and pour it over the pickles. This is the process which is usually employed by pickle makers, except that they throw steam into the vats to heat the alum-water, and if managed properly, the pickles may be greened with less action of copper than when scalded in the usual method in bright brass kettles. Take the pickles from the vat when a little green, and pour over them water boiling hot. If not greened sufficiently, repeat the hot water until they are the desired color, and when cold, put them in good vinegar, let them remain until quite soured; then change to pretty strong vinegar, which will keep the pickles hard and sour; add to a barrel six large peppers, without bruising, and keep the pickles under the vinegar with weights.—Ru. American.

CLERGYMEN'S LICENSES.—Some of the clergymen dislike the idea of being forced to purchase licenses to preach the gospel on the ground that it degrades their calling, putting it on the same level with ordinary business. One in this congressional district being called upon to sign an application for a license, declined, saying that he already had a call from God, and he did not think the license would be any higher authority than that. That, however, was not the spirit of the Great Teacher, who, when called upon to pay tribute to Cæsar, said, render unto Cæsar the things that are Cæsar's, and unto God the things that are God's.—Newburyport Herald.

HORNED CATTLE.—The first horned cattle brought to America from Europe, were imported by Columbus, in his second voyage in the year 1493, consisting of one bull and several cows. The Portuguese took cattle to Newfoundland and Nova Scotia in the year 1563. In 1604 L'Escarbot, a French lawyer, took cattle to Acadia the same year that country was first settled. The first cattle introduced into Virginia was previous to 1609. In 1610 Sir Ralph Lane imported cows into that colony from the West Indies. In 1611 Sir Thomas Gates brought into the same settlements one hundred cows, besides other horned cattle.

☞ A novel mode of lighting has been introduced at a Baptist Church just built in Philadelphia. There is not a gas burner in the audience room. In the panels of the ceiling are circles of ground glass, two feet in diameter. Above each of these, in the loft, is an argand burner, and over the burner a powerful reflector. The effect is just about the same as if there were thirty full moons shining in the ceiling. The light is not intense, but abundant and mellow, and not painful to the eyes.

☞ A lot of rebel officers, some of them of high rank, who recently arrived in Baltimore, were, notwithstanding their detestation of everything Yankee, not ashamed to appear in uniforms doubtless stolen from the lifeless bodies of our heroic slain.

☞ The editor of a denominational paper at the West says:—"A man needs grace to edit a religious paper properly at any time, but especially when he has the rheumatism."

☞ Sennacherib's army lost 185,000 men in a single night by the angel of pestilence.

☞ 10,000 horse and 100,000 foot fell on the battle field of Issus!

The Wizard.

WEDNESDAY, SEPT'R. 7, 1864.

THE TREADWELL FARM.

It will be recollected by those interested in the business affairs of the Essex Agricultural Society, that Dr. Treadwell, of Salem, devised to the Society a farm in Topsfield to be used for experiments in agriculture, conditional that, if the Society should fail to use it for such purpose, it should revert to the Massachusetts Life and Hospital Society.

Some months ago, the Committee of the Society having the supervision of the farm, having become convinced that the farm, as an experimental institution, could not be made to pay without greater pecuniary outlays than the limited means of the Society could afford, recommended that the farm be surrendered up to the Hospital Company.

A meeting of the Society was called to consider the subject, but they refused to adopt the recommendation—a majority of those present believing it possible to carry on the farm without loss. The Committee resigned, another was appointed, and the meeting was adjourned sine die.

Since the adjournment, somebody, who probably digs more in the law than he does in the soil, has discovered that the form of this devise is such as to bring it directly under the application of a decision of our Supreme Court, in the case of proprietors of Brattle Street Church vs. Moses Grant and others, reported in the 5th of Gray, where it was held that, to quote the exact words of the Court, "It has long been the settled rule in England, and adopted as a part of the common law of this Commonwealth, that all limitations, by way of executory devise, which may not take effect within the term of a life or lives in being at the death of the testator and twenty one years afterwards as a term in gross, or, in case of a child en ventre sa mere, twenty-one years and nine months, are void as too remote and tending to create perpetuities."

The conclusion is, that the title to the farm is in the Society—absolute and indefeasible—the condition being simply void. What will be done now can be only conjectured. Probably the stewardship of the farm will not be carried on with any very scrupulous regard to "experiments"—except such experiments as will be found on trial to bring a fair return for the money spent. Whether the Society ought to avail themselves of their technical rights under the law—which was not probably known to the testator—and sell the estate, disregarding the trust, involves a question of ethics about which Solomons, Solons and Ciceros of old, differed, and we suspect the wise men of modern days will hardly be able to agree.

Young Ladies' Boarding School.—We have received a circular, descriptive of the new school for Physical and Mental Culture of Young Ladies, established by Dr. Dio. Lewis at Lexington. It develops a plan of physical, intellectual and moral training of young ladies, by which they can receive a thorough and finished education to go forth to the common duties of life with sound constitutions and robust health, as well as well cultivated minds.

Dr. Lewis has the good fortune to have with him as Associate Principal, Mr. Isaac N. Carleton, late of the Peabody High School, who has the charge of the literary department, aided by a corps of able assistants. The pupils will also have the advantages of matronly care and attention, a genial home and such pleasant recreations as will make their school day home attractive.

The location is fine and healthful, the building stately and ample for room, with all the accessaries to make the establishment desirable as a place for the acquisition of a finished education.

Arrival.—Lieut. B. F. Southwick, of the Massachusetts 5th, arrived home last week, and left for Baltimore yesterday. Lieut. Southwick came on in charge of a rebel spy, and after depositing the copperhead in Fort Warren, came here on a short visit to his friends. He says the boys at Fort McHenry are in the best of spirits, and many of them disposed to re-enlist.

Commissioned.—George B. Kenney, of Danvers, has been commissioned a captain in the 29th Co. Heavy Artillery. Mr. Kenney has before held a commission as captain in the Mass. Seventeenth Regiment.

☞ The New England Agricultural Show is well attended this week at Springfield. So is that of our neighbor Lunt, who keeps a great variety of good eating peaches, pears, and all other fruits of the season.

Caucuses.—The time has again come round for the different political parties to commence holding their caucuses. By reference to another column it will be observed that the Republicans of this town will open the ball next Monday evening. The Republicans of Danvers will hold one next Saturday evening.

THE SITUATION, POLITICALLY.

Gen. McClellan has been nominated at Chicago as candidate for President of the United States, and on a peace platform! We think this appropriate, as peace seems, according to his military experience, to be more his vocation than war. He has, to be sure, to eat the bold words he spoke at West Point, and he is placed in the position of the old Federalists who resolved that it was "unbecoming a moral and religious people to rejoice over victories." Can he rejoice at the victories of Farragut and Sherman? Does he, as a peace man, wish the war to come to a speedy end by the success of our arms? If not, why did he fight, or, make-believe fight, three years ago? Does he mean to place himself on the side of the rebels and the rebellion, or on the side of the old Flag? He must be in a queer state of mind to rejoice over Union victories. He must blow hot and blow cold, pray "good Lord and good Devil." He must bow low to Jeff. Davis in abject submission and beg for peace and throw away one-third of the territory of the Union. He must stop fighting just to eat humble-pie. What a position for a man wearing the uniform of a Major General of the Army!

We are in no fear that the Union will ever be so disgraced. Such an event is as remote as any chance of a military victory under his auspices. His political, like his military career, will be heralded by a great noise, but he will only go up like the rocket to come down like the stick.

Peabody High School.—At a meeting of the School Committee on Wednesday evening, Mr. Henry Dame, late of the High School at Nantucket, was unanimously elected Master of the Peabody High School.

Mr. Dame comes among us with very high testimonials as to fitness to teach, and literary acquirements, and he appears also to possess those personal requisites of geniality combined with dignity of manner which are needful to command respect in the school room.

We bespeak for him and his family the good will and kind consideration of our people, and trust that their stay among us will be not only pleasant but permanent.

The term will commence on Monday next, at the usual hour.

Horse Railroad Collision.—As one of the horse cars was coming up from Salem yesterday to relieve another which had been detained by balky horses, the car which had been detained, having got under way, went at a rapid rate down the same track and collided with the other; but before they met the drivers succeeded in swinging round their horses so that they were not injured; neither was any person upon the cars injured. The driver was arraigned before the Salem Police Court and mulcted in a small fine and costs for fast driving, in violation of the city ordinance.

Court Report.—The Superior Court, civil term, commenced in Newburyport yesterday, Judge Vose presiding. Wm. Davis, of Newburyport, was chosen foreman of the first jury, and Wm. Poor, of Salem, of the second jury. Rev. Samuel Spaulding offered prayer. No cases were ready for trial. The term will be a short one. It will probably adjourn to Salem in about one week.

Another Pirate Captured.—The U. S. Frigate Niagara lately seized the rebel pirate steamer Georgia, 20 miles off of Lisbon, Portugal, put a prize crew on board, and sent her to New York.—The captain and crew were landed at Dover, England. Our gallant navy are not only stopping up all the rebel rat holes along the coast, but are catching the rats.

Arrest.—We learn that a well dressed young man, at first looked upon as some college student, was yesterday arrested at Salem for passing counterfeit greenbacks. It was afterwards supposed, from his movements, that he was a professional counterfeit operator.

LETTER FROM LIEUT. HANSON.

Libbey Prison, Richmond,
Sunday, August 21st, 1864.

My Dear Wife,—I was taken prisoner August 18th, near Six Mile Station, on the Weldon Railroad, with Capt. Hutchins and 15 men of the regiment. Yesterday we were sent to this place, and arrived about 10 o'clock, A. M. We found the quarters much superior to our expectations—we are in a large hall, about 100 feet long by 50 feet wide, with open windows on three sides. We each got a blanket last night, and I had a first rate night's rest—have two meals a day: at 9 A. M., boiled bacon, or fresh meat and corn bread; and at 4 P. M., stewed black beans and corn bread—and enough of it. Last night several others of the regiment were brought in, but I have no means of ascertaining their names. Port Dodge I hear is one of them.

Now, my dear wife, you must not worry about me, for I am in good health, good spirits and in good company; we shall try and keep cheerful, which is half the battle. It is the opinion that we shall be sent to some point south before long.

C. W. Hanson.

State Documents.—We are indebted to Wm. H. Little, Esq., for a big pile of State documents, which will make quite an accession to our office library.

"TIRED OF THE WAR."

Washington, D. C., August 31, 1864.

My Dear Wizard,—I have been sometimes pained of late at the tone in which I have heard men declare themselves "tired of the war." I do not allude to that natural and praiseworthy preference for peace and its pursuits over war and its calamities, which every one should feel and which augurs no waning zeal or halting loyalty, but to that disposition which would accept peace at any price. There has certainly been enough in the course of the present struggle—enough of sorrow, bloodshed, suspended industry and devastation, of all those terrible and tragic scenes that are incident to civil war—to cause the heart of every patriot to sicken and grow faint at times in view of the ordeal through which we are passing and of which the end is not yet in full sight. But is it manly or patriotic to yield to such despondency that we would stop in the midst of the struggle and give up everything, which, before the war was fairly entered into, we deemed worthy of every sacrifice and for which we declared ourselves willing to stake our all? To shrink from the contest now—to throw up our hands in despair—to look to a peace purchased at the price of both national honor and national existence—a peace, too, which, if thus obtained, must soon relapse into constant broils and never ending war—instead of looking straight forward through the smoke of battle to that only lasting peace for which we can hope, with the Union restored, to be followed by the greatness, glory and prosperity from whose shining track we were rudely thrown by this rebellion—is not this the part of cowardice and a thousand fold more disgraceful and humiliating than had we never taken up the gage of war thrown down by secession, but permitted that fatal heresy to disrupt the Union without a single blow being struck in its defence? Every heart, which is not hardened against human suffering, must yearn for peace, and in the agony of its sorrow oftentimes cry out,

"Peace! Peace! God of our fathers, grant us peace!
Peace in our hearts, at Thine altars peace;
On the red waters and their blighted shores;
Peace for the leaguered cities and the hosts
That watch and bleed around them and within;
Peace for the homeless and the fatherless:
Peace for the captive on his way
And the rude crowd who jeer his helplessness;
For them that suffer, them that do this wrong,
Sinning and sinned against, O God! for all;
For a distracted, torn and bleeding land,
Speed the glad tidings! Give us, give us peace!"

It is for peace that our armies are now in the field, that so much blood has been shed and such burdens borne; but for a peace worth having—a peace that shall be permanent and settle forever in the minds of all that war shall not be made upon the life and integrity of the nation with impunity. To conquer such a peace we started out when our flag was insulted and fired upon at Fort Sumter; and what has since occurred to turn us back? Is not our cause as just to-day as when, three years ago, it inspired such an uprising of the people as was never before witnessed? Have we lost that self-reliance and determination, which, in a few months, overcame all the advantages that years of preparation gave the rebels at the start, and which, since then, have not only gained battles and taken cities but reclaimed whole States from the hands of traitors, besides preserving others to the Union which were on the very verge of rebellion?

It is the very fact that we have already suffered and sacrificed so much which should give us new resolution to bear the burdens that may yet be necessary to solve the problem of our nation's destiny and bring out from that solution one great nation, self-governed, self-preserved, that so the sacrifices already made shall not have been made in vain and worse than in vain. Such a war as we are engaged in cannot do otherwise than discourage the timid and quench the little zeal of those who were at first only lukewarm in the cause and I think it can only be this class which has become tired of the war in the sense which I have indicated. No war of the magnitude of ours was ever prosecuted to a termination with the same enthusiasm which inspired its beginning. Most people, when they enter upon such an undertaking, think only of the end to be attained without dwelling upon the means to such an end. They see victories in the future without counting their cost. They see successes without the defeats which must inevitably occur in the hazard of war. Hence they murmur at delays and losses, whether unavoidable or the result of incapacity in our leaders, and become discouraged in regard to the prospect of ultimate success; and unless they gain fortitude from experience and perseverance from opposition, they may grow so tired of the war as in some gloomy hour to be willing to accept any terms of peace that offer a return of that ease and quietude upon which their imaginations love to dwell. But it is a stern endurance, an indomitable perseverance under trials and adverse circumstances, whtch characterize a great people as well as individual greatness, and these are qualities which have marked the history of the Anglo-Saxon race and been regarded as peculiarly among the attributes of the American nation. Had the founders of our government not possessed them in a high degree the Revolutien had stopped midway in its career and left the colonies under the British yoke, for our sky has never yet been so dark nor our burdens so heavy as oppressed the hearts and fortunes of the patriots of that struggle. Had that compact essence of the true soldier, General Grant, not possessed a persistency of purpose which knows "no such word as fail" but gathers to itself new resolution and new resources in proportion to the obstacles that rear themselves against it, Vicksburg had still been in rebel hands and the "Father of Waters" still enchained.

"Nil desperandum" should be our motto in this crisis, and if we are true to ourselves, to the memory of our fathers and to the great cause of freedom and self-government, which is now being tested in the crucible of fire, we shall not fail nor shall the glory of our name go down in darkness and dishonor. I am as well aware as any one that there may have to be negotiations other than those of fire and sword before the broken chords of the Union can be so mended, re-strung, as to again give forth their wonted harmony and I would have them resorted to in the true spirit of peace so soon as there appears a prospect of accomplishing the desired end by such means. But the utterances of the chief spirit and controlling head among the rebels, which have recently come to us through those who sought a way to peace upon the basis of the Union, declare that any initiative on our part looking to this object would be rejected and disdained.

Thus the responsibility for all the anguish and blood and devastation which may yet stand between us and that consummation so devoutly to be wished rests not on us—as did not the commencement of the war—if we keep constantly in view the aim which first inspired us—the preservation of the Union—but on those seeking to destroy it,

"For they, 'twas they, unsheathed the ruthless blade,
And Heaven shall ask the havoc it has made."

Yours, etc.,
Delta.

A VERY PLEASING OCCASION.

A family gathering, or pic-nic, came off at the residence of Miss Betsy Newhall, Lynnfield, on Wednesday P. M., the 24th of August, which we think is entitled to notice. The gathering was to celebrate the 80th anniversary of Miss Newhall's birth, and from far and near, of all ages and of both sexes, relatives came to pay homage to one who had become endeared to them by a virtuous life and kindly deeds. The gathering was one of unusual interest. Nearly one hundred relatives were present, and the day seemed to have been made especially for the occasion. There was the usual congratulations between those who had not often met, etc., etc.; but a very interesting feature was an address by a member of the family, who gave a synopsis of its history, and showed that it is not only one of the most ancient and numerous of Danvers names, but that, in point of patriotism, it holds no mean place.

The father of Miss Newhall (Joseph,) was one of the "minute men" from this town in our early revolutionary struggles, and was engaged in the same conflict that the noble heroes were whose names are inscribed on the granite shaft now standing in one of our public squares. A brother had been summoned and had placed the knapsack upon his back, when he hesitated. Joseph was standing by and noticing the indecision of his brother, he immediately took the knapsack from him, and shouldering his gun, went forward as his substitute, and had he fallen, his name would now be recorded with the others on the monument. As an apt illustration that the same patriotic spirit still lived in the family, allusion was made to a gentleman then present—Captain Warren B. Gallucia, a near relative—who enlisted in Dedham as a private in 1861, and now was among them as captain in the Mass. 51st Regt. of Volunteers, leaning upon crutches, he having been wounded in the battle before Petersburg in July last, and at home on a short furlough. Others were spoken of who had been, or were now engaged in the present war.

The table for the repast was set in a beautiful grove near the residence of Miss Newhall, and to which she was carried. At the close of the speeches and sentiments, the old lady made a feeling reply, with tears in eyes and joy in her heart—the burden of which was—"how good God was to her, a poor weak cripple!" On separating, each one of the adult population of the party placed a sum of money in her hands, with a wish that they might enjoy another re-union on her 81st anniversary.

AFFAIRS IN LYNNFIELD.

Lynnfield, September 5th, 1864.

Dear Wizard,—The last week has been a busy one in this town, as it has doubtless been in other towns, on account of the close proximity of the dreaded draft. Town officers and committees have been flying around soliciting subscriptions and hunting up recruits,—in most cases finding recruits more readily than money, the greatest trouble being in finding money enough to pay the bounty after getting the recruits. The bounty paid each recruit by this town is $350. The number to be obtained last week to fill the quota was six, which have been nearly all raised.

Capt. Henry Bancroft, of Lynnfield Centre, besides paying a considerable sum towards furnishing recruits, has bought a substitute to represent him in the army, although his age renders him exempt. Would there were more men of Captain B.'s stamp in town!

The new Band is broken up on account of the loss of several of its members, including the leader, who has gone to the British Provvinces—the climate at just about this season of the year being quite uncongenial to his constitution. Three others have enlisted in the army.

Among those recently killed near Petersburg, was Private Wendall G. Nichols, (39th Mass. Regt.,) of this town. He was a young man of good character, and beloved by all those who best knew him. The nearest relative he leaves here is an affectionate sister, who deeply feels his loss.

Dr. Lougee, late proprietor of the hotel, having suddenly left within two days, the house is closed to the public until further notice.

Humphrey's Pond is now very low on account of the dry season, and many of the wells in this vicinity are dry.

The state of health here is generally good, although there are some cases of bowel complaints, which are generally confined to aged people and infants. There has been but one death here this season, and that was an infant. The state of health in the center ward has not been so good.

Yours, respectfully,
Lynnfield.

Salem.—We copy the following items from the Salem Gazette:—

Singular Coincidence.—Robert A. Phippen and Charles A. Phippen, brothers, members of Co. A, 1st Mass. H. A., at the battle of Spottsylvania Court House, were each wounded by the loss of a fore-finger—one on the right and the other on the left hand. They subsequently returned home; and, on a recent Thursday Charles was obliged to have his finger re-amputated again, and on the following Thursday, Robert was obliged to submit to the same operation.

Colored Enlistments.—Among the recent enlistments in Salem, are those of ten or a dozen colored citizens, among whom are Mr. Cassell, the caterer, and several of his brothers; Mr. Wheatland, who, for many years has been employed at our neighbors, the Messrs. Downing; Mr. John A. Washington; Mr. Fountaine, the barber, and others. These are well known in this community as good and worthy citizens.

The School Ship Massachusetts left our harbor on Wednesday morning, having been visited by a great number of people during her stay here. On Sunday there were religious services in the school room, in which several of the members of the Young Men's Christian Association participated. On Tuesday Mr F. W. Putnam delivered an instructive lecture to the boys on Fishes. There are about one hundred and sixty fine healthy looking boys on board.

☞ "Holiday Sketches" in our next.

THE FALL OF ATLANTA.

The glorious news from Sherman is received with great joy all over the loyal North, and our exchanges teem with intelligence of rejoicings in honor of the event. The capture of Atlanta is one of those substantial victories that tell greatly towards a speedy ending of the rebellion. The possession of Atlanta secures the possession of the whole State of Georgia, and renders the condition of the rebel leaders more desperate than ever before. It was by an apparent retreat—one of those masterly strategic movements for which Sherman has been so noted—that he has been enabled to achieve so brilliant a result. For some time past it has been apparent, not only to Gen. Sherman but to the majority of his officers, that the position could not be taken by direct assault. The works which Johnston was enabled to build around Atlanta during the time he occupied Sherman's attention by his slow retreats, are represented to be of the most formidable character and strength. On the other hand, a complete investment of the place was impossible from a want of men—Gen. Sherman's army being too small to establish the line around the city as strongly as would be necessary to prevent successful sallies of the enemy. It is now known that Hood has added materially to his strength by the conscription of numerous boys and old men, who behind works could render very good service. Outside of the works this very strength would prove a great weakening and a terrible cost of powder and provender.

The purpose of General Sherman in the movement which began on the night of the 26th was to deprive the rebel commander, General Hood, of this strength and of his protection of the works at Atlanta. In other words, Sherman hoped by flanking Atlanta and cutting off his supplies to force Hood out to fight, and thus, with his largely preponderating force of veteran troops, to whip him in an open field. With this view Sherman moved on the night in question with twenty days' rations, and all his army, except the Twentieth corps, (Slocum's,) which had been withdrawn from the front of Atlanta to Chattahoochie bridges, there to remain as a corps of observation, and to occupy Atlanta in the event of Hood abandoning it. It was also employed to look after the communications and hurry forward the railroad and supplies to whatever new position Sherman might assume.

The army is reported to have moved in the following order:—The Twenty-third corps (Schofield) in advance, followed the Fourteenth (Davis,) Fifteenth (Logan,) Sixteenth (Ransom,) Seventeenth (Blair,) and the Fourth (Stanley,) in the order named, all making the flank movement with strong skirmish lines on either flank and front and rear. East Point was left to the east, and at dawn Hood found Sherman gone. The glorious result of this movement was the capture of Atlanta.

The city of Atlanta contains about twenty thousand inhabitants, five thousand of which are composed of rebel refugees and officials, who have come thither since the war began.—Three main railroads diverge from it—viz: the road to Chattanooga, on the north; the Georgia road running east to Charteston; and the road to the south, which forks into that leading to Montgomery and Pensacola, through Macon to Savannah. The importance of its capture can hardly be over-estimated, because of the valuable strategic position thus gained by the Union forces.

The campaign of Gen. Sherman is one of the most brilliant ones of the whole war. Starting from Chattanooga early in May he has pushed steadily on through the enemy's country and, opposed by Gen. Joseph Johnston, to his objective point, Atlanta, having traversed a distance of one hundred and thirty-eight miles. At every step his advance was disputed by the foe. A severe battle was fought at Tunnel Hill, which victory resulted in the capture of Dalton. Gen. Sherman then pushed on his troops to Rome and Kingston, occupying them almost before the rebels were aware of the presence of our troops. Next came Marietta, which was regarded as the key of Atlanta, and as such it proved to be. In the early part of July, Gen. Sherman appeared in front of Atlanta, and coolly set to work to take it by siege. At this time Gen. Johnston was superseded by Gen. Hood, on account of the dissatisfaction with the retreating policy which obtained with the latter. Gen. Hood at once took the offensive, but was unable to deter Sherman from his purpose. Again and again he flung his troops against the besiegers, but to no purpose.

There are many noticeable features of this campaign, one of which is the steadiness with which he advanced after he had once started. Yet all the while he was fighting battles, defensive as well as offensive, and sending out expeditions to cut important lines of communication and otherwise harrass the enemy. On the other hand, the rebels constantly retreated. The few times that they made a stand they were either beaten in open fight or compelled by a flank movement to leave their chosen position.

Volunteering.—Of the men volunteering for the army, there is a much smaller number of foreigners than in the early part of the war. We hear nothing now of the Irish companies, regiments and brigades, and it seems to be by concerted action that they hold back. The fact has attracted the attention of those whose duties keep them at the stations for new troops. So in the West there are fewer Germans. As the Irish went with a rush under Corcoran and Meagher, so the Germans followed Sigel and Carl Schurz; but now they seem more inclined to stay at home and vote in November. The Western States that had not a surplus of men to begin with, will find it no easier to answer the present draft than the New England States. A friend writes us from Michigan—"The draft is frightening everybody; many men are leaving, intending to stay away if they are drafted; and if not they will return home. Substitutes are very scarce and command high prices, and will be higher when the draft takes place."—Probably New England stands as well to-day, on raising soldiers, as any section of the country.—Newburyport Herald.

Mobile.—The capture of Fort Morgan at Mobile, effectually closes that port to all the world, and if it does nothing else will relieve our fleet and allow the brave Farragut, who has won a name that will place him among the highest naval heroes of the world—to enter upon service elsewhere. We should not be surprised if he should be called to act on Charleston, which has so stubbornly held others at bay for fourteen months, or on Wilmington, now the chief port of the Confederacy. He can do little in the attack on the city of Mobile as there is no water for his ships—only seven feet we are told, and possibly he has now done all he intended.

Southern Manufactures.—There is no doubt that the Southern States, driven by the stress of circumstances, are becoming a manufacturing people. The correspondent of the N. Y. World gives the following: "In Georgia, South Carolina and Alabama, manufactories have sprung up of many articles of domestic use, and are being vigorously carried on. At Richmond there are glass-works, where not only window glass, but also tumblers and glass dishes, are made, of excellent quality. At Danville, in Virginia, there is a stocking manufactory, where both cotton and woolen hose are made. At Raleigh, in North Carolina, there is a manufactory of knives and forks, which turns out work equal to that formerly brought from Connecticut. There are manufactories where hats are made at eleven different towns in the three states named above. There are two places in South Carolina where ladies' straw bonnets are made. There are seven places in Georgia where cotton-cards are manufactured, and yet the demand for them exceeds the supply. There is a blanket manufactory at Montgomery, in Alabama, one at Macon, and one at Savannah, at all of which blankets of excellent quality are made, both for the army, and for domestic use. There are manufactories of glass-ware and fine earthen-ware—cups and saucers—at both Savannah and Columbus, in Georgia. There are manufactories of pins and knitting needles at a dozen places in the South, where, three years ago, such things were not thought of."

Important to Coal Consumers.—The United States Circuit Court at Philadelphia, have decided that the weight of a ton of coal is 2240 pounds instead of 2000 pounds. The Judge ruled that a company of grocers might as well meet and agree to reduce the number of ounces in a pound, and make the smaller number the standard of a pound for their customers, as for coalers to agree that the weight of a ton shall be 2000 pounds, and furnish that amount to their customers.

Millinery Notice.

The subscriber has removed to 184 Essex Street, Salem, opposite Central St. Grateful for the patronage bestowed by her friends whilst in South Danvers, she would desire its continuance at her new place of business, where will be found a new and desirable stock of Millinery and other articles which will be sold or made up on the most reasonable terms.

PAULINE SYMONDS.

Sept. 7th, 1864—3w

☞ OUR CLOSING PRICES! ☜

The best Spool Cottons—200 yds—	only 11 cts;
The best American Pins—	only 6 cts;
Best Gold Eyed Needles—	only 8 cts;
Best Worsted Dress Braids—full—	only 15 cts;
Best Sea Island Cottons—Hanks—	only 10 cts;
Best English Thread—full Hanks—	only 8 cts;
Our Best Kid Gloves $1 75;
Our Best Kid Gloves $1 75;
Our Best Kid Gloves $1 75;
Our Best Kid Gloves $1 75;
Black French Lace Veils—	only $1 00;
Black French Lace Veils—	only $1 25;
Black Lace Veils—	from 75 cts to $8 00;
Finest Grenadine Veils—	only $1 05;
Best Corsets—warranted—	only $1 75;
Nice Hem Stitched Linen Hdkfs	35;
Nice Plain Linen Hdkf only	20;
Bargains in Hosiery and Gloves.
Bargains in Trimming Laces.
Bargains in Thread Edgings.
Bargains in Embroideries.

STOCK TO BE REDUCED.

JOHN P. PEABODY, 220 Essex St.

Malta Laces—Collars—Veils. John P. Peabody, has just opened a full line of the above goods, in new and choice patterns. He is still selling the best Paris Kid Gloves for $1 75 per pair, and will continue to do so as long as his present stock holds out. He has a full line of White Cambrics, Muslins, Linens, Dimetys, &c.—220 Essex Street, Salem.

Port of Danvers.

Ar 27th, schs J Compton, Grace, Philadelphia; Governor, Chase, New York; 30th, Ada Herbert, Crowell, do.

Marriages.

In Salem, August 10, by Rev. Mr. Rainoni, Mr. Thomas Reardon to Miss Bridget Drisken.

Deaths.

In this town, August 29, John, son of Dennis and Margaret Roach, 16 months.

Sept. 1st, Lucy Florence Fiske, daughter of Abraham A. and Lucy A. Fiske, 4 months 15 days.

In Salem, August 30th, Sophia Pickman, daughter of John and Nancy L. Radford, 16 yrs 9 mos; Margaret, daughter of James and Ellen Chambers, 13 yrs; Mr. Ebenezer Hutchings, 67 yrs; Herbert Wheelock, son of James and Sarah R Upton, 13 mos; Anna E. daughter of William L. and Theresa M. Kimball, 11 months 22 days; 31st, Henry N, son of Joseph and Elizabeth Weeman, 17½ mos; Ruth Ann, daughter of John W and Margaret S Grant, 3 yrs 2 mos; Sept. 1, Mr Timothy J. Stevens, 76 yrs; Mr. John F. M'Carty, 24 yrs; 2d, Charlotte E., daughter of John W. and Jessie S. Rogers, 9 mos; 3d, Alice Geneva, daughter of Augustus C. and Margaret M. Rand, 7 mos; Mrs. Catharine, widow of the late Mr. Eugene O'Keefe, 34 years; Edward Brown, son of I. Putnam and Maria D. Harris, 6 yrs 11 mos 16 days; Sarah Ellen, daughter of Increase and Sarah Batchelder, 22 years 4 months; Mary J. daughter of Joseph and Mary Lightfoot, 7 mos 20 days; 4th, Edward H, son of Thomas and Elizabeth A. Boden, 3 yrs 10 mos; Ann Maria, daughter of Harrison and Mary J. Hardy, 10 mos; 5th, William Manning, 85 years 9 mos; David H, son of John W. and Ellen P. Pratt, 3 years 20 days; Arthur Perkins, son of Constantine and Margaret Victorato, 2 yrs 5 days; James, son of Richard and Elizabeth Jackson, 8 months.

In Hospital, at Fort Wagner, Md, Aug. 31, Mr. Wm. P. Fabens, 31 yrs—a member of the 10th Unattached Co. Mass. Heavy Artillery, and son of the late Mr. Elias W. Fabens of Salem.

In Beverly, Sept. 3d, Mr. Abraham Edwards 57 yrs—son of the late Joseph Edwards; 4th, Capt. Michael Whitney, 77 years.

In Ipswich, Aug. 26th, Miss Hannah Treadwell, 93 years.

In Rowley, Aug. 28, Anson, son of Edward L and Mary Smith, 7 yrs 4 mos.

In Newburyport, Aug. 30, Mr. Enoch Smith, 81 years.

In Marblehead, Aug. 28, Charles William, son of Wm. H. and Harriet Boynton, 7 months 23 days.

In Essex, Aug. 27th, Everett Andrews, 18 yrs 2 mos 15 days; 29th, Mrs. Sally Burnham, 80 yrs; 30th, Mrs Nancy L Haskell, 54 years 8 months.

In Lancaster, Mass., Sept. 1, Mrs. Anna W, wife of Henry Wilder, Esq., and daughter of the late Hon Benj Goodhue of Salem, 58 years 7 months 21 days.

Citizens' Cauc

The citizens of South Danver supporting the present National ministrations, and in favor of prosecution of the war for the the Rebellion, are hereby notifi
the Town Hall, on MONDAY
Sept. 12th, for the purpose of gates to the Republican State C be holden in Worcester on th present month, to nominate Stat
Per order of Town
Sept. 7—1w

New Advertise

PURCHASERS OF DR
AUTUMN,
JAMES F. ALMY
Have in stock an assortme
AUTUMN DRESS
Comprising our usual great variety, at
Also—a large stock of MOURNING
well worthy of consideration;
Also—a fine assortment of LADIES
MENTS, suitable for the season;
Also—a fine line of AUTUMN SHAW
In Prints, M. de Laines, Cottons, Fla
Towellings, Table Coverings, N
HOUSEKEEPING GO
of all kinds, our stock is complete largely before the late rise, and is LESS THAN WHOLESALE R
JAMES F. ALMY &
188 Essex Street, opposite
Salem, September 7th, 1864.

AT TH
"OLD BUTTON
148 Essex St.,
WE are selling for a few weeks at sale prices,
Spool Cotton, warranted 200 yards,
Sea Island Cottons per hank,
French Embroidery Cotton,
Crochet Cotton per ball,
White Serpentine Braid,
2 skeins Silk or Twist,
A cake small sized Honey Soap,
1 cake Barber's Shaving Soap, best
1 roll Hair Pins,
12 nice Envelopes,
Nice cake Almond Soap (cheap),
Good Horn Dressing Comb,
Paper best pins,
24 sheets Note Paper,
Rubber Head Pencils,
Moor's Ink per bottle,
1 box Button Rings,
Emb. Braid, all colors,
Upton's Liquid Glue,
Large size cake Pumice Soap,
1 package White Envelopes,
1 Tooth Brush, or 5 Thimbles,
Children's Cord Nets,
A good Back Comb,
2 papers Black Mourning Pins,
Hair Brushes, only
A good Crochet Net,
Round Rubber Combs, real rubber,
Ladies' Shopping Bags,
Cotton Ribbed Hose,
Cotton and Wool Hose,
Bernett's Cocoaine,
The celebrated Hall's Hair Renewe
ranted genuine,
We are selling a Ladies' size Hoop kid finish, at only
Also a host of other articles, sellin
Very Low Pr
Please remember the
OLD BUTTON
148 Essex Street,
FRANK B. STO
Sept. 7, 1864—1m*

LANDSCAPE PA
AND DRAWIN
MR. J. W. THYNG respec that he proposes forming a Class
Landscape Painting,
Sketching from
A
For further information apply to BROTHER. —Refers to—
Prof. CROSBY, Principal Normal S
W. WARDWELL, Artist, Boston.

Dancing.
MR. E. UPTON'S Fall Te
in DANCING will commenc
SATURDAY, SE
at CREAMER HALL, Salem,

ANN R. B
76 Federal Stree
WE have just received our Fall of Black Alpacas. They Rich Black Silks: a few of the p with soft finish. Ladies are buying to Black Silks. sept 7

OATS. O
5000 BUSHELS PR received this day, and sept 7 GAYLE & CO.,

Indispensable to Ev
and Seama
BROOKS PA
WRITING AND TOIL
EASILY carried in the coat pock manufacturers at the old price
D. B. BROOKS &
201 Essex Stre
Those who have friends in the Ar can have them sent to them free of

SKINNERS PULMONALES S
Skinner's
Immediately
Colds, Hoarse
Bronchitis, La
every sympto of Pulmonary are white, in as su table fo cradle as the p years and te who overtax
ceive instant relief by their use. So
Prepared by E. M. SKINNER, Che
St., Boston.

SPALDING'S FOR FO
ROSE MARY
the Rosema rank as pu liable. It To beautif curl the
To remove
ly. 4th,
bald heads.
beard and
6th, To prevent the hair from falli all diseases of the scalp. 8th, T turning grey. 9th, To cure head hair eaters. Sold everywhere.
M SKINNER, Chemist, 27 Tremo
Museum, Boston, Mass.

List of Lett
REMAINING in the Post Office
Sept. 6th, 1864. [Persons calli will please say they are advertised.]
Russell S Browne Mrs H
Phillip Carroll Hosea
Mrs Elizabeth S Osborn Marga
Abial Rogers B F C
John O Connell Mrs C
N. B. These letters are subject to age of one cent. DANIEL WO

SEE THE GHOSTS AND SPECTROPIA, or Surprising
Ghosts everywhere and of all sept 7 G M WHIPPLE

LUDLOW'S PATENT
FOR putting up Tomatoes, Peac
This is the only Jar ever in tested. For sale in any quantity at sept 7 S. C. & E. A. SIMON

KNIVES AND F
TABLE Knives and Forks with Carvers, Forks and Steels, at N

SILVER PLATED
IVORY Handled Knives with he
S. C. & E. A. SIMO

th of Massachusetts.

RTERS, BOSTON, August 20, 1864.
ER, No. 32.

r Militia of Massachusetts, as ious to the beginning of the raving been almost entirely he enlistment of its members, l as Companies and Regiments, the United States, in response calls of the President for troops ths, nine months, one hundred and three years; and the laws is Volunteer Militia being no rmity with the system of organ- ed by the laws of the United aving been found impossible to ilitia under the laws as they safety and honor of the Com- peratively demanding a well- ia, for the common defence; the Massachusetts at its last session entitled an Act concerning the was approved on the 14th day d which is the 238th Chapter 1864, establishing a new system, rmity to the Constitution and United States and the Constitu- ommonwealth, and by which all concerning the militia were re-own, however, that some of the ons still possessed a strong vi- ers were capable of being revived ed, and as there are many glori- ns connected with the names of d Regiments which have won honor for themselves and for the egislature, while abolishing the ancient system, provided that the n-Chief might continue in being ch Companies and Regiments of teer Militia as he should see fit;— Orders No. 22 of the 23d June, ferent commanding officers were ake return to the Adjutant-Gen- efore the 10th of July, 1864, of of their several commands, stat- he number of men to be relied on ith any suggestions they might to make relative to the expedi- inuing or disbanding their com-returns made in response to this from all other accessible sources of the Commander-in-Chief has termine what Companies and Regi- e Volunteer Militia, and of the Division of Militia, presented f present efficiency, or of a power themselves so as to conform to the s of the law, as to warrant him in and retaining them. accordance with the results of such , it is hereby ordered that the Com- Regiments hereinafter enumerated tinued and retained, viz.:

CAVALRY.

mpany in Boston commanded by Lucius Slade, and heretofore known , 1st Battalion Light Dragoons.

mpany in Boston commanded by C. T. Stevens, and heretofore as Co. B, 1st Battalion Light Dra-npany in New Bedford commanded tain George H. Shaw, and hereto- own as the company of Cavalry at- to the 2d Brigade, 1st Div. M. V. M.

ompany in Charlestown commanded tain John F. Gilman, and heretofore as a company attached to the Inde- t Division M. V. M.

ompany in Roxbury commanded by n R. Holmes, formerly known as the ry Horse Guards.

Companies will be hereafter designat- tively, in the order above given, as s A, B, C, D, E, of Cavalry of the setts Volunteer Militia; and, until ization of new companies shall au- e organization of one or more regi- ll remain unattached.

ARTILLERY.

Company in Boston heretofore known 1st Light Battery, and commanded ptain Lucius Cummings.

Company in Boston commanded by n Warren French, at present tem- ly attached to the Forty-second Regi- of Infantry.

Companies will be respectively desig- the order above given—as the First ond Light Batteries Massachusetts r Militia.

INFANTRY.

Third Regiment of Infantry, Lieuten- nel James Barton commanding, will ed under its present designation. the following Companies of said Regi-

Company commanded by Captain John Marble, of Freetown, now enlisted in United States' service for 100 days.

Company commanded by Captain nas B. Griffith, of South Carver.

Company commanded by Captain Jo- O'Neill, of Fall River, at present tem- rily attached to the Sixtieth Regiment.

Company commanded by Captain Da- H. Dyer, of Fall River, and now in the ed States' service for 100 days' duty.

Company commanded by Captain Isaac ennings, of New Bedford, and now en- d in the United States' service for 100 s.

Company commanded by Captain O. A. er, of Rehoboth, now enlisted in the ted States' service for 100 days.

Company commanded by Captain Jabez Lyle, of Fairhaven, now enlisted in the ted States' service for 100 days.

Company commanded by Lieutenant mas J. Borden, of Fall River, formerly own as a company of the Independent ision of Militia.

se Companies will be henceforth desig- and known, respectively, in the order given, as companies A, B, C, D, E, H, of the Third Regiment of Infantry, M.

The Company commanded by Captain Soule, of Abington, formerly known as of the Fourth Regiment, M. V. M., and esent in United States' service for 100 will be henceforth attached to the Third nent, unless the friends of the Fourth nent shall forthwith offer to reorganize egiment and shall diligently recruit the e Fifth Regiment of Infantry, Colonel ge H. Peirson commanding, will be re- d under its present designation. d the following Companies of said Regi- :—

The Company commanded by Captain George H. Homer, of Boston.
The Company commanded by Captain John W. Coffin, of Somerville.
The Company commanded by Captain George F. Barnes, of South Danvers.
The Company commanded by Captain George H. Marden, Jr., of Charlestown.
The Company commanded by Captain David L. Brown, of Marlborough.
The Company commanded by Captain Philip J. Cootey, of Boston.
The Company commanded by Captain Charles S. Converse, of Woburn.
The Company commanded by Captain D Webster Davis, of Charlestown.
The Company commanded by Captain Andrew A. Powers, of Bolton.
The Company commanded by Captain Francis M. Sweetser, of Stoneham.

And these Companies will be henceforth ignated in the above order, respectively, as mpanies A, B, C, D, E, F, G, H, I, and K, the Fifth Regiment of Infantry, M. V. M.

The Sixth Regiment of Infantry, Colonel bert S. Follansbee commanding, will be re- ned under its present designation.

And the following Companies of said Regiment:—

1. The Company commanded by Captain Joseph M. Coombs, of Boston.
2. The Company commanded by Captain Geo. F. Shattuck, of Groton.
3. The Company commanded by Captain Benj. F. Goddard, of Lowell.
4. The Company commanded by Captain James W. Hart, of Lowell.
5. The Company commanded by Captain Frank H. Whitcomb, of Acton.
6. The Company commanded by Captain Henry W. Wilson, of Boston.
7. The Company commanded by Captain Nathan Taylor, of Lowell.
8. The Company commanded by Captain Moses E. Ware, of Roxbury.
9. The Company commanded by Captain Edward H. Staten, of Salem.
10. The Company commanded by Captain Edgar J. Sherman, of Lawrence.

And the said Companies, in the above order, will be henceforth respectively designated as Companies A, B, C, D, E, F, G, H, I, K, of the Sixth Regiment of Infantry.

The Eighth Regiment of Infantry, Colonel Benj. F. Peach, Jr., commanding, will be retained under its present designation.

And the following Companies of said Regiment:—

1. The Company commanded by Captain Lewis A. Tifft, of Springfield.
2. The Company commanded by Captain Henry M. Lyons, of Adams.
3. The Company commanded by Captain Samuel Graves, of Marblehead.
4. The Company commanded by Captain William H. Merritt, of Lynn.
5. The Company commanded by Captain Samuel F. Littlefield, of South Reading.
6. The Company commanded by Captain Henry Stone, of Lynn.
7. The Company commanded by Captain Edward L. Low, of Gloucester.
8. The Company commanded by Captain William H. Landen, of Springfield.
9. The Company commanded by Captain Henry S. Shelton, of Boston.
10. The Company commanded by Captain Lafayette Butler, of Pittsfield.

And the said Companies, in the above order, will be henceforth respectively designated as Companies A, B, C, D, E, F, G, H, I, and K, of the Eighth Regiment of Infantry, M. V. M.

The Forty-second Regiment of Infantry, Colonel Isaac S. Burrill commanding, will be retained under its present designation.

And the following Companies of said Regiment:—

1. The Company commanded by Captain George M. Stewart, of Springfield.
2. The Company commanded by Captain Benj. C. Tinkham, of Medway.
3. The Company commanded by Captain Isaac B. White, of Boston.
4. The Company commanded by Captain Samuel A. Waterman, of Roxbury.
5. The Company commanded by Captain Augustus Ford, of Worcester.
6. The Company commanded by Captain Samuel S. Eddy, of Worcester.
7. The Company commanded by Captain Alanson H. Ward, of Worcester.
8. The Company commanded by Captain I. T. Stevens, of Braintree.
9. The Company commanded by Captain Benjamin R. Wales, of Dorchester.

And the said Companies, in the above order, will be henceforth respectively designated as Companies A, B, C, D, E, F, G, I, and K, of the Forty-second Regiment of Infantry, M. V. M.

The Sixtieth Regiment of Infantry, Colonel Ansel D. Wass commanding, will be retained under its present designation.

And the following Companies of said Regiment:—

1. The Company commanded by Captain Josiah Soule, Jr., of Abington.
2. The Company commanded by Captain F. Edward Bent, of Quincy.
3. The Company commanded by Captain Chas. L. Sproul, of Bridgewater.
4. The Company commanded by Captain Moses H. Comset, of Boston.
5. The Company commanded by Captain Robert H. Chamberlain, of Worcester.
6. The Company commanded by Captain Barker B. Kent, of Boston.
7. The Company commanded by Captain Stephen D. Gardner, of Newburyport.
8. The Company commanded by Captain David Boynton, of Haverhill.
9. The Company commanded by Captain C. J. Woodward, of Shelburne Falls.

And the said Companies, in the above order, will be henceforth respectively designated as A, B, C, E, F, G, H, I and K, of the Sixtieth Regiment of Infantry, M. V. M.

The following unattached Companies will be retained:—

1. The Company commanded by Captain Lewis J. Bird, of Boston.
2. The Company commanded by Captain Francis E. Porter, of Beverly.
3. The Company commanded by Captain Luther Dame, of Newburyport.
4. The Company commanded by Captain A. J. Hilbourne, of Chelsea.
8. The Company commanded by Captain A. L. Hamilton, of Lawrence.
9. The Company commanded by Captain George H. Smith, of Boston.
11. The Company commanded by Captain J. C. Batcheller, of Lynn.
12. The Company commanded by Captain Charles F. Walcott, of Cambridge.
13. The Company commanded by Captain Robert W. Reeves, of Salem.
14. The Company commanded by Captain Lewis Gaul, Boston.

And said Companies will be for the present designated, in the above order, as the First, Second, Third, Fourth, Eighth, Ninth, Eleventh, Twelfth, Thirteenth and Fourteenth Unattached Companies of Infantry, M. V. M.

The above order will not apply to any companies at present in the service of the United States, so as to alter the designation by which such companies may be known in that service, until they shall have been mustered out of service.

Upon the return of the regiments now in the United States service, reorganization of the regiments will be necessary, in order that each regiment, for the purposes of drill and discipline, and to enable it to be readily assembled, may be composed as nearly as possible of companies from the same neighborhood or district.

Books of enlistment will be at once issued by the Adjutant-General (in conformity with Sect. 18, Chap. 238, Acts of 1864) to the commanders of all the companies herein before enumerated. All non-commissioned officers and privates of said companies who shall not re-enlist in said companies, in conformity with the provisions of said Act, will be at once discharged, and cease to be members of said companies. And the commanders of said companies shall, within thirty days, return to the Adjutant-General rolls of their respective companies, upon blank forms to be furnished by the Adjutant-General, in conformity with the provisions of Sect. 10 of said Act; and all such companies as shall not, within the said space of thirty days, have returned such rolls, or as shall appear by said rolls to be reduced to a less number than the minimum number of non-commissioned officers and privates by said Act established for a company of its arm, may be forthwith disbanded.

Application for the formation of new companies of the volunteer militia must be made at once to the Adjutant-General, as they will not be granted after the districting of the State for the formation of companies of the active militia under the new statute shall have been commenced.

All organizations of the Volunteer Militia other than those herein before enumerated as continued and retained, and excepting the two corps of Cadets which by said Act are expressly recognized and retained, are hereby disbanded; and all officers holding commissions in any such organization, and all General and Staff Officers of Divisions and Brigades, are hereby honorably discharged.

Provided, however, that any regiment or company of the Volunteer Militia, not herein before enumerated, which shall present to the Adjutant-General, within ten days, satisfactory proof of its existence, and power to recruit itself to the minimum strength required by said Act for an organization of its arm, and shall account for its neglect to make returns to the General Order No. 22 of this year, may be reinstated and continued.

The Commander-in-Chief avails himself of this occasion to tender his thanks to the Major-Generals, Brigadier-Generals, and the various Field, Staff, and Company Officers, who are by the operation of law discharged as aforesaid, for their past fidelity and efficiency in the service; and he entertains the hope that the reorganization of the militia will receive their constant and efficient co-operation.

By order of his Excellency, JOHN A. ANDREW, Governor and Commander-in-Chief.

WILLIAM SCHOULER, Adjutant General.
Aug. 31.—3w.

U. S. 7-30 LOAN.

The Secretary of the Treasury gives notice that subscriptions will be received for Coupon Treasury Notes, payable three years from Aug. 15th, 1864, with semi-annual interest at the rate of seven and three-tenths per cent. per annum, principal and interest both to be paid in lawful money.

These notes will be convertible at the option of the holder at maturity, into six per cent. gold bearing bonds, payable not less than five nor more than twenty years from their date, as the Government may elect. They will be issued in denominations of $50, $100, $500, $1,000 and $5,000, and all subscriptions must be for fifty dollars, or some multiple of fifty dollars.

The notes will be transmitted to the owners free of transportation charges as soon after the receipt of the original Certificates of Deposit as they can be prepared.

As the notes draw interest from August 15, persons making deposits subsequent to that date must pay the interest accrued from date of note to date of deposit.

Parties depositing twenty-five thousand dollars and upwards for these notes at any one time will be allowed a commission of one-quarter of one per cent., which will be paid by the Treasury Department upon the receipt of a bill for the amount, certified to by the officer with whom the deposit was made. No deductions for commissions must be made from the deposits.

SPECIAL ADVANTAGES OF THIS LOAN.

IT IS A NATIONAL SAVINGS BANK, offering a higher rate of interest than any other, and THE BEST SECURITY. Any savings bank which pays its depositors in U. S. Notes, considers that it is paying in the best circulating medium of the country, and it CANNOT pay in anything better, for its own assets are either in government securities or in notes or bonds payable in government paper.

It is equally convenient as a temporary or permanent investment. The notes can always be sold for within a fraction of their face and accumulated interest, and are the best security with banks as collaterals for discounts.

Convertible into a Six per cent. 5-20 Gold Bond.

In addition to the very liberal interest on the notes for three years, this privilege of conversion is now worth about three per cent. per annum, for the current rate for 5-20 Bonds is not less than NINE PER CENT. PREMIUM, and before the war the premium on six per cent. U. S. stocks was over twenty per cent. It will be seen that the actual profit on this loan, at the present market rate, is not less than ten per cent. per annum.

ITS EXEMPTION FROM STATE OR MUNICIPAL TAXATION.

But aside from all the advantages we have enumerated, a special Act of Congress EXEMPTS ALL BONDS AND TREASURY NOTES FROM LOCAL TAXATION. On the average, this exemption is worth about two per cent. per annum, according to the rate of taxation in various parts of the country.

It is believed that no securities offer so great inducements to lenders as those issued by the Government.— In all other forms of indebtedness, the faith or ability of private parties, or stock companies, or seperate communities, only, is pledged for payment, while the whole property of the country is held to secure the discharge of all the obligations of the United States.

While the government offers the most liberal terms for its loans, it believes that the very strongest appeal will be to the loyalty and patriotism of the people.

Duplicate certificates will be issued for all deposits.— The party depositing must endorse upon the ORIGINAL certificate the denomination of notes required, and whether they are to be issued in blank or payable to order. When so endorsed it must be left with the officer receiving the deposit, to be forwarded to the Treasury Department.

SUBSCRIPTIONS WILL BE RECEIVED by the Treasurer of the United States, at Washington, the several Assistant Treasurers and designated Depositaries, and by the

First National Bank of Salem, Mass.
First National Bank of Boston, Mass.
Second National Bank of Boston, Mass.
Third National Bank of Boston, Mass.
National Bank of the Republic, Boston, Mass.
Boston National Bank, Boston, Mass.
First National Bank of Amesbury, Mass.
First National Bank of Haverhill, Mass.
First National Bank of Newburyport, Mass.

And by all National Banks which are depositaries of public money, and

ALL RESPECTABLE BANKS AND BANKERS throughout the country will give further information and

AFFORD EVERY FACILITY TO SUBSCRIBERS.
August 17, 1864,—3m

BROCKSIEPER GAS REGULATOR!
30 PER CENT. SAVED.

Economy in the use of Gas, with the advantage of having a more brilliant light than heretofore, is a point at once desirable. Inventors have for many years sought to obtain this end by packing or checking in innumerable ways the flow of gas through the burner. Not one of these have attained the result wished for, viz:—a pure transparent flame without waste at any and all pressures obtained at any hour and in all localities. Those of our citizens who have taken the pains to examine Brocksieper's Patent Regulator, and have seen the gas ACTUALLY MEASURED THROUGH IT, are unanimous in its praise. We give below the names of a few of the merchants and others of Salem now using the Regulator:

Salem Register Office;
Salem Gazette Office;
Salem Statesman Office;
Salem Post Office;
Merchants Reading Room;
George Creamer, Bookseller;
Browning & Long, Dry Goods;
S. F. Rogers, Confectioner;
J. P. Peabody, Dry Goods;
Theron Palmer, Shoe Dealer,
Adams, Richardson & Co., Hardware;
Doctor Johnson;
Essex House;
Wm. Webb, Jr., Druggist;
Edward Brown, Sup't and Treas. Gas Co.

☞ Orders left at B. F. STEVENS' Jewelry Store will be promptly attended to. The burner can also be examined there.

SEND FOR A CIRCULAR.

25,000 of these Regulators have been manufactured and sold in the Eastern States since February last. 150 are now in use in Salem. PRICE $1 EACH—6 AND OVER, 90 cents each. The article is warranted in every respect. Call and examine for yourselves. Our facilities for testing the genuineness of this improvement will at once convince the most skeptical.

JOSEPH CLOUTMAN,

OFFICE—Bowker Block, Essex st., up-stairs.

NOTICE.—We have this day appointed Mr. JOSEPH CLOUTMAN, of Salem, our sole agent for the sale of Brocksieper's Gas Regulator for the following places: Salem, South Danvers, Beverly, Marblehead and Gloucester, Mass. All orders for the article, at wholesale or retail, to receive attention, must come through him, and he will establish sub-agencies in the above-named places.

HULL & GOODELL,
Sole Proprietors in the U. S.,
446 Broadway, N. Y., and 221 Washington st., Boston.
august 10—tf

☞ Goods received for LEWANDO'S FRENCH DYE HOUSE. M. E. CRANE.
Jan 20 tf

NOTICE.

"Christ Blessing Little Children," and "Home on a Furlough."

Subscriptions for the above beautiful Engravings received at B. F. STEVENS' Jewelry Store.

The subscriber, following the example of other business men, has concluded to adopt the "Cash plan." All goods bought or jobs left to be repaired, must be paid for on delivery hereafter.

B. F. STEVENS.
South Danvers, Aug. 31, 1864.

DERBY & CHILDS,
Fire, Marine and Life Insurance Agents.

Orders left at No. 24 Washington st., Salem, or received by mail, promptly attended to.

Losses equitably adjusted and promptly paid, and Insurance effected at reasonable rates.

Salem, August 10,—3m*

☞ Visit OSBORNE'S Store, and look at the unusual variety of new styles in HATS and CAPS—191 Essex street.

HAGAN'S MAGNOLIA BALM.

This is the most delightful and extraordinary article ever discovered. It changes the sun burnt face and hands to a pearly satin texture of ravishing beauty, imparting the marble purity of youth, and the distingue appearance so inviting in the city belle of fashion. It removes tan, freckles, pimples and roughness from the skin, leaving the complexion fresh, transparent and smooth. It contains no material injurious to the skin. Patronized by Actresses and Opera Singers. It is what every lady should have. Sold everywhere.

Prepared by W. E. HAGAN, Troy N. Y.
Address all orders to
DEMAS S. BARNES, & CO., New-York.

HEIMSTREET'S
INIMITABLE HAIR RESTORATIVE.
NOT A DYE,

But restores gray hair to its original color, by supplying the capillary tubes with natural sustenance, impaired by age or disease. All instantaneous dyes are composed of lunar caustic, destroying the vitality and beauty of the hair, and afford of themselves no dressing. Heimstreet's Inimitable Coloring not only restores hair to its natural color by an easy process,

Luxuriant Beauty,

promotes its growth, prevents its falling off, eradicates dandruff, and imparts health and pleasantness to the head. It has stood the test of time, being the original Hair Coloring, and is constantly increasing in favor. Used by both gentlemen and ladies. It is sold by all respectable dealers, or can be procured by them of the commercial agents, D. S. BARNES & CO, 202 Broadway, New York. Two sizes, 50 cents and $1.

MEXICAN MUSTANG LINIMENT.

The parties in St. Louis and Cincinnati, who have been Counterfeiting the Mustang Liniment under pretense of proprietorship, have been thoroughly estoped by the Courts. To guard against further imposition, I have procured from the U. States Treasury, a private steel plate revenue stamp, which is placed over the top of each bottle. Each stamp bears the fac simile of my Signature, and without which the article is a Counterfeit, dangerous and worthless imitation. Examine every bottle. This Liniment has been in use and growing in favor for many years. There hardly exists a hamlet on the habitable Globe that does not contain evidence of its wonderful effects. It is the best emolient in the world. With its present improved ingredients, its effects upon man and beast are perfectly remarkable. Sores are healed, pains relieved, lives saved, valuable animals made useful, and untold ills assuaged. For cuts, bruises, sprains, rheumatism, swellings, bites, cuts, caked breasts, strained horses, &c., it is a Sovereign Remedy that should never be dispensed with. It should be in every family. Sold by all Druggists.

D. S. BARNES, New-York.
March 9th, 1864.—1 yr.

LYON'S KATHAIRON.

Kathairon is from the Greek word "Kathro," or "Kathairo," signifying to cleanse, rejuvenate and restore. This article is what its name signifies. For preserving, restoring and beautifying the human hair it is the most remarkable preparation in the world. It is again owned and put up by the original proprietor, and is now made with the same care, skill and attention which gave it a sale of over one million bottles per annum.

It is a most delightful Hair Dressing.
It eradicates scurf and dandruff.
It keeps the head cool and clean.
It makes the hair rich, soft and glossy.
It prevents the hair from falling off and turning gray.
It restores hair upon bald heads.

Any lady or gentleman who values a beautiful head of hair should use Lyon's Kathairon. It is known and used throughout the civilized world. Sold by all respectable dealers.

DEMAS S. BARNES, & CO., New-York.

THE GREAT ENGLISH REMEDY.
SIR JAMES CLARKE'S
CELEBRATED FEMALE PILLS!

Prepared from a prescription of Sir J. Clarke, M. D., Physician Extraordinary to the Queen.

This well known medicine is no imposition, but a sure cure and safe remedy for Female Difficulties and Obstructions, from any cause whatever; and, although a powerful remedy, they contain nothing hurtful to the constitution.

In all cases of Nervous and Spinal Affections, pain in the Back and Limbs, Fatigue on slight exertion Palpitation of the Heart, Hysterics, and Whites, these pills will effect a cure, when all other means have failed; and, although a powerful remedy, do not contain iron, calomel, antimony, or anything hurtful to the constitution.

Full directions in the pamphlet around each package, which should be carefully preserved.

For full particulars, obtain, free, of the agent, a pamphlet. Sold by all Druggists.

Sole United States Agent,
JOB MOSES, 27 Cortlandt St., New York.

N. B.—$1 and 6 postage stamps enclosed to any authorized agent, will insure a bottle, containing over 50 pills, by return mail. March 9, 1864.—1 yr.

Advertisements.

THE LARGEST
LADIES' FURNISHING STORE
IN SALEM.

THE GREATEST VARIETY
DISPLAYED IN THIS VICINITY.

THE RICHEST GOODS,
THE LOWEST PRICES,
—AT—
BROWNING & LONG'S
177 Essex Street, 177
SALEM.

Salem, Aug. 3, 1864.

A. J. Archer & Co.

Damask Table Linen.

TABLE CLOTHS, in all sizes; Napkins, Doylies, Towellings.
A full assortment for sale by
sept 7 A. J. ARCHER & CO.

Flannels. Flannels.

3-4, 4-4, 7-8 FINE WHITE FLANNELS;
Blue, Mixed, Twilled and Plain,
Dark Navy Blue Twilled,
Bleached and Brown Cotton Flannels.
For sale by A. J. ARCHER & CO.,
sept 7 181 Essex st.

MOURNING GOODS.

AUGUSTUS J. ARCHER & CO.,

HAVE just received a fine assortment
—OF—
MOURNING DRESS GOODS,
for summer wear.
—ALSO—
On hand, a fine stock of
BLACK SILKS,
which our customers will find are at less than Boston prices.
May 25, 1864.

WHITE BAREGE!

WHITE CREPE MARETZ,
WHITE ALPACCA,
SHIRRED MUSLINS,
TUCKED MUSLINS,
WHITE GOODS of every description.

—For sale by—
THOMAS W. DOWNING & CO.
jy13 179 Essex Street.

COUNTRY AND SEA SHORE!

Wide Brimmed Hats,
For the Country and Sea Shore.
—ALSO—
All the FANCY STYLES OF HATS, for Ladies and Children, at
REITH & CO'S,
No. 2 West Block, Essex Street,
(One door west of J. F. Almy & Co.,)
July 6 SALEM, MASS.

WATER KEGS.

ANOTHER lot of Stone Water Kegs, at
jy13 S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS' 32 Front st.

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE.

BY virtue of a power of Sale Mortgage, the Mortgagees will sell, upon the premises, on the TWENTY-SEVENTH DAY OF SEPTEMBER next, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, the following described parcel of Real Estate, situated in South Danvers, bounded as follows:—Commencing at a stake at the northwesterly corner of land of J. B. Cowdry; thence easterly by land of said Cowdry, about ninety-one feet to a stake, and the wall; thence northerly about one hundred and two feet by land of Pingree to a stake; thence westerly about ninety-four feet to Harris street; thence southerly about one hundred and eight feet by Harris street to the point began at. Being the same owned by THOMAS SHINNICK and MARY ANN SHINNICK, and by them mortgaged to the Salem and Danvers Loan and Fund Association. The above will be sold at Public Auction, to the highest bidder.

South Danvers, August 27, 1864.

ALSO,

WILL be sold upon the premises, by virtue of a power of Sale Mortgage, on the TWENTY-SEVENTH DAY OF SEPTEMBER next, at ten and one half o'clock in the forenoon, at Public Auction, to the highest bidder, the following described parcel of Real Estate:—Bounded northwesterly thirty-nine feet, nine inches, by land of Thomas Larkin; northeasterly one hundred and nine feet, three inches, by land of Richard Bush; southeasterly by Fulton street, about forty feet; southwesterly by land of Gilbert, about one hundred and nine feet, three inches;—(being lot numbered Seventy-Nine, and mortgaged by MOSES JEWETT and SAMUEL S. PARSONS, to the Salem and Danvers Loan and Fund Association.

South Danvers August 27, 1864.—3w.

REAL ESTATE.

The subscriber offers for sale the following Lots of Land, with the buildings thereon, at Private Sale, until October next, when, if not previously sold, they will be put up at auction.

On Lowell street, a two story DWELLING HOUSE, fitted for two families. This is the Estate formerly known as the Southwick Tavern.

On Lowe street, leading from Foster St. to Washington St., a two story TENEMENT for two families with a garden attached to it.

On Washington street, near the residence of Capt. Lowe, a very eligible BUILDING LOT, on the North side of the street.

On Tremont street, a small COTTAGE HOUSE for one or two families.

On Walnut street, a pleasant, elevated Lot of Land, with a large Barn, situated opposite Mr. Caller's Currying Shop.

In the rear of the above TWO TENEMENT HOUSES.

For particulars apply to
jy 27 WILLIAM SUTTON.

HOUSE OF EQUITY,
—BY—
Arnold & Hutchinson,
(Successors to G. T. Southwick.)

FIRST QUALITY
FAMILY GROCERIES,
Sold at the Lowest Prices.

A large and complete assortment of
CROCKERY AND GLASS WARE,
Constantly on hand.
Also FLOUR and GRAIN.
ASHLAND HALL BUILDING,
NO. 1 LOWELL STREET,
F. T. ARNOLD. B. F. HUTCHINSON.
South Danvers, Feb 3, 1864.

M. A. PORTER,

236 Essex Street, - - - Salem, Mass.,
(Opposite Horse Railroad Office,)
MAKES TO ORDER BEST QUALITIES OF
WATCH SPRING SKIRTS.
A Good Assortment of Dress and Cloak Button, Braids, Spool Cotton, Small Wares, and Thread Store articles generally.
236 Essex Street, - - - Salem, Mass.,
M. A. PORTER,

AARON T. LOWE,
DEALER IN
BOOTS, SHOES AND RUBBERS,
76 BOSTON STREET, 76.
aug 6 SALEM. tf

George S. Walker.

Closing off Summer Stock.

NO RISE IN PRICES.

GEORGE S. WALKER will sell his Summer Stock during the month of August, preparatory to the Fall trade, at the same low prices he has been selling during the Spring and Summer, without regard to the late PANIC IN PRICES, or the increased premium on gold. Now is the time for those in want, before the stock is broken up, to purchase.

Under-Shirts, Gloves,
Drawers, Scarfs,
Hosiery, Ties, etc.

and every article belonging to a complete Gentlemen's Furnishing Store. GEORGE S. WALKER,
No. 228 Essex St., opp. Eastern Railroad Station.
Salem, Aug. 3, 1864.

Potter, Bachelder & Co.,

DANVERS-PORT and SOUTH DANVERS,
DEALERS IN
WOOD AND COAL.
Constantly on hand

Franklin, Burnside, Dimond, } RED ASH.
Old Company & Packer's Lehigh, Pliny Fisk, Webster and Locust Mountain, } WHITE ASH.

Also Cumberland, Picton and Campbell for Steam and Smith's use.

OFFICE—No. 6 Allen's Building.

G. W. POTTER,
J. Q. A. BACHELDER,
C. T. BATCHELDER. mch 30

SPECTACLES!

H. F. SKERRY wishes to call special attention to his stock of

Spectacles and Eye Glasses,

in Gold—Silver—Rubber—Steel and Horn frames, of which he keeps constantly on hand a very large assortment, embracing every style and quality.

— ALSO —

Opera Glasses, Microscopes, &c.

Glasses re-set, and Spectacles repaired.

In Store, our usual assortment of Silver and Plated Ware, Jewelry, Fancy Goods, and Toys, Also, Canton Ware,

No. 180 Essex Street, Salem.
H. F. SKERRY.
Aug. 17.—tf

T. HARDY, JR.,
—Dealer in—
DOORS, SASHES, BLINDS,
Glazed Sash, Painted Blinds,
FENCE PALES, STAIR BALUSTERS, FRAMING PINS, &c.,
No. 26 FRONT STREET,
Salem, January 14, 1863—tf.

EBEN UPTON,
Piano Fortes Tuned and Regulated,
MELODEONS AND PIANOS
BOUGHT, AND EXCHANGED
For New Piano Fortes, at Wholesale Prices.
Orders left at G. CREAMER'S Bookstore, Salem.
July 27, 1864.—6m

LIFE INSURANCE.

THE MUTUAL
LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY,
Of New York, with a Capital of $11,000,000,
And an Annual Income of over
$2,000,000,

AND declaring a LARGER DIVIDEND than any other Company in the United States, is the one in which every man should secure a policy on his life.

The importance of LIFE INSURANCE cannot be too highly estimated. It is the safest and most practicable method of securing to your family, in case of your death, the means of a comfortable and independent support. Thousands of instances might be cited where families have thus been provided with a competency, who would otherwise have been left in penury and want. Husbands and fathers! treat not with indifference a subject of such vital importance, but see to it at once, that your families are provided with the inestimable advantages which this great and benevolent institution affords.

Because a man has wealth, it is no reason why he should not insure, for he knows not how soon his riches may "take to themselves wings and fly away." And let those who complain of the want of means, remember that

Forty-Five Cents a Week,

Will insure $1,000 on the life of a man of THIRTY.

AN ENDOWMENT POLICY,

Secures to the assured party, on attaining to a certain age, say 50, 55 or 60 years, an amount sufficient for his support in advanced age.

Another feature of this subject, deserving of especial attention, is

SURVIVORSHIP ANNUITIES!

By means of which one party may secure to another, an annuity sufficient to maintain them in comfort and independence through life. A husband may thus make provision for his wife; a father for his child; or a brother for his sister.

Endowment Policies for Children.

By this means a parent may provide, by the payment of a small annual premium, a sum of money sufficient to enable a son to enter into business, at a proper age, or for any other provision, either for a son or daughter.

Many Gentlemen of So. Danvers and Vicinity!

Have already availed themselves of this opportunity now offered of ensuring their lives, and thus securing an inestimable blessing to themselves and their families. Let others be equally wise, and immediately follow their example.

JOHN H. DERBY,
Agent for South Danvers and Vicinity.
Post Office address, Salem, Mass.
August 3, 1864.—1 mo.*

Vitrified Stone Drain Pipe.

JUST received and for sale by the subscribers, 5000 feet of the above Pipe, the usual sizes suitable for drainage; the best in the market.

Apply to
B. R. WHITE, Mason,
St Peter Court.
or F. P. GOSS, Plumber,
No. 7 St Peter st.
Salem, Aug. 3, 1864.—3m

SPRING AND SUMMER GOODS.

168 ESSEX STREET.

WE invite the attention of the Ladies of Salem and vicinity, to our

New Millinery Goods,
Ladies' and Children's
BONNETS AND HATS,
in all desirable styles.

Crapes, Silks, Ribbons, Feathers, French Flowers, and Laces.

A full assortment of Straw Goods, Mourning Bonnets, Veils, Collars, &c., constantly on hand at the lowest cash prices.

M. E. CRANE,
Successor to M M FLETCHER.
Salem, April 6, 1864.

C. W. HALEY, M. D.,
Physician and Surgeon.
OFFICE—WARREN BANK BUILDING,
South Danvers.

CLOTHES BASKETS.

WILLOW Clothes Baskets (Oval,) at
S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS'S,
Aug 31. 32 Front street.

Auction Sales.

WILLIAM ARCHER, Jr.,
Auctioneer, Real Estate and Stock Broker,
34 Front Street.

Real Estate, Bank, Railroad & Manufacturing Stock bought and sold on Commission.

Horse Railroad Notice.

SUNDAY TIME.

HEREAFTER on Sunday, Horse Cars will leave Washington Street Station for Beverly at 9.12, 9.52, 10.32, 11.12, 11.52 A. M.; 12.32, 1.12, 1.52, 2.32, 3.12, 3.52, 4.32, 5.12, 5.52, 6.32, 7.12, 7.52, and 8.32 P. M.

Will leave Washington street station for South Danvers, at 9.07, 9.27, 9.47 A. M., and every twenty minutes till 9.07 P. M.

Cars leave South Danvers at 9.30, 9.50, and 10.10 A. M., and every 20 minutes till 9.30 P. M.

Leave Beverly at 9.40, 10.20, 11.00, 11.40 A. M.; 12.20, 1.00, 1.40, 2.20, 3.00, 3.40, 4.20, 5.00, 4.40, 6.20, 7.00, 7.40, 8.20, and 9.00 P. M.

Salem, Aug. 31, 1864. M. H. HALE, Supt.

M. FENOLLOSA,
TEACHER OF MUSIC,

LETS............PIANO FORTES, at the lowest rates;
SELLS..........PIANO FORTES, at the Manufacturers Prices;
EXCHANGES....PIANO FORTES, on the easiest terms;

At Rooms No. 7 Central street,
Feb 11 SALEM, MASS.

NEW STORE!
Flour! Flour!

JUST RECEIVED, a fresh supply of CHOICE BRANDS, direct from the Mills, for sale, wholesale and retail, at LOWEST PRICES, by

E. F. OSBORN.
Sutton's Building, Main St.
South Danvers, Nov 18, 1863.

R. C. MANNING & CO.
Successors to JOHN DIKE & CO.,
DEALERS IN
COAL, WOOD, BARK, HAY, &c.
183 DERBY STREET,
SALEM, MASS.
N. C. ROBBINS; R. C. MANNING.
oct17

GEO. E. MEACOM,

Dealer in
DRUGS & MEDICINES,
Fancy & Toilet Articles, &c.,
126 MAIN ST. 126
Nearly opposite Danvers Bank, So. Danvers.

T. A. SWEETSER,
Druggist & Apothecary.
37 Main St., So. Danvers,

DEALER IN
Drugs, Medicines, Chemicals, Foreign Leeches, Shakers' Herbs, Dye Stuffs, Gums, Acids, Sponges, Shoulder Braces, Trusses, and Genuine Patent Medicines.

Also, Imported Cigars of choice brands, Perfumery, Toilet Articles and Stationery.

Physicians' Prescriptions carefully prepared by experienced persons.

37 MAIN STREET.

D. P. GROSVENOR, Jr.,

Druggist and Apothecary,
33 MAIN STREET.

Dealer in Drugs, Medicines, Chemicals, Dye Stuffs, and Popular Proprietary Medicines.

Personal attention to Physicians' Prescriptions.

South Danvers, May 29, 1861. 1y

SELF-SEALING
AIR-TIGHT CASKET.

MR. CHARLES S. BUFFUM, Furnishing Undertaker of South Danvers, takes this method to announce that he has a new burial case, which combines all the advantages of a wooden receptacle with those of a metal one, and yet avoids the disadvantages of both. They have been used with great success, and bodies placed in them have been delivered in perfect preservation after having been transported over a thousand miles. To persons having deceased friends at the seat of war they are invaluable. They come at reasonable prices, are light and durable, and are perfectly air tight. august 10

HOUSEKEEPERS, ATTENTION!
JACKSON'S
KITCHEN FURNISHING ROOMS,
Under MECHANIC HALL, Salem.

Parties about commencing House-Keeping will find this the ONLY place in Salem where a COMPLETE ASSORTMENT of House-Keeping articles can be found.
dec 9, 1863.

GAYLE & CO.,
COMMISSION MERCHANTS,
AND DEALERS IN
Flour, Grain and Produce,
PHILLIPS WHARF, - - - - Salem.

DR. J. H. BATCHELDER,
DENTAL SURGEON,
No. 20 Washington St., (near Eastern Railroad Depot),
SALEM, MASS.

Is Licensed to make the New Patent Teeth on HARD RUBBER or VULCANITE.
July 1, 1864.

DR. E. F. KITTREDGE,
From Lowell, formerly of New Ipswich, N. H.,
Has removed his office and residence to
NO. 42 MAIN STREET,
SOUTH DANVERS, MASS.

Dr. K., from an extensive and successful professional experience of upwards of twenty years, feels justified in saying that he can treat diseases to the satisfaction of his patients, and to the credit of himself.

Office hours from 7 to 9 A. M., and from 5 to 9 P. M.
South Danvers, Nov 18, 1863.

MANUAL FENOLLOSA
TEACHER
OF THE
Violin, Piano and Singing,
MUSIC ROOMS, No. 7 Central Street,
SALEM, MASS.

STONE WARE.

BUTTER and Cake Pots; Preserve Pots; Pudding Pans and Bean Pots; Jugs, and Pitchers of all sizes, at S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS'S,
Aug. 31, 32 Front street.

CRUMB BRUSHES JUST OPENED.

A FULL stock of all kinds of Brushes and Feather Dusters on hand—at
S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS'S,
Aug. 31, 32 Front street.

Special Notices.

EDITOR OF WIZARD:—Dear Sir,—With your permission I wish to say to the readers of your paper that I will send, by return mail, to all who wish it (free), a Recipe, with full directions for making and using a simple Vegetable Balm, that will effectually remove, in ten days, Pimples, Blotches, Tan, Freckles, and all Impurities of the Skin, leaving the same soft, clear, smooth and beautiful.

I will also mail free to those having Bald Heads, or Bare Faces, simple directions and information that will enable them to start a full growth of Luxuriant Hair, Whiskers, or Moustache, in less than thirty days.

All applications answered by return mail without charge. Respectfully yours,

THOS. F. CHAPMAN, Chemist,

jy 13–3m 831 Broadway, New York.

BELL'S SPECIFIC PILLS.—WARRANTED IN ALL CASES.—Can be relied on! Never fail to cure! Do not nauseate! Are speedy in action! No change of diet required! Do not interfere with business pursuits! Can be used without detection! Upward of 200 cures the past month—some of them very severe cases. Over one hundred physicians have used them in their practice, and all speak well of their efficacy, and approve of their composition, which is entirely vegetable and harmless on the system. Hundreds of certificates can be shown.

BELL'S SPECIFIC PILLS are the original and only genuine Specific Pill. They are adapted for male and female, old or young, and the only reliable remedy for effecting a permanent and speedy cure in all cases of Spermatorrhea, or Seminal Weakness, with all its train of evils, such as Urethral and Vaginal Discharges, Gleet, the Whites, Nightly or Involuntary Emissions, Incontinence, Genital Debility and Irritability, Impotence, Weakness or Loss of Power, Nervous Debility, &c., &c., all of which arise principally from Sexual Excesses or Self-Abuse, or some constitutional derangement, and incapacitates the sufferer from fulfilling the duties of married life. In all sexual diseases, as Gonorrhea, Gleet, and Strictures, and in Diseases of the Bladder and Kidneys, they act as a charm! Relief is experienced by taking a single box. Sold by all the principal druggists. Price $1.

They will be sent by mail, securely sealed, and confidentially, on receipt of the money, by

J. BRYAN, M. D.,

No. 76 Cedar street, New York,

Consulting Physician for the treatment of Seminal, Urinary, Sexual, and Nervous Diseases, who will send, free to all, the following valuable work, in sealed envelope:

THE FIFTIETH THOUSAND.—DR. BELL'S TREATISE on Self-Abuse, Premature Decay, Impotence and Loss of Power, Sexual Diseases, Seminal Weakness, Nightly Emissions, Genital Debility, &c., &c., a pamphlet of 64 pages, containing important advice to the afflicted, and which should be read by every sufferer, as the means of cure in the severest stages is plainly set forth. Two stamps required to pay postage. December 9, 1863—1 yr.

IMPORTANT TO LADIES.—DR. HARVEY'S FEMALE PILLS have never yet failed in removing difficulties arising from obstruction, or stoppage of nature, or in restoring the system to perfect health when suffering from Spinal Affections, Prolapsus, Uteri, the Whites, or other weakness of the Uterine Organs. The Pills are perfectly harmless on the constitution, and may be taken by the most delicate female without causing distress—the same time they act like a charm by strengthening, invigorating and restoring the system to a healthy condition, and by bringing on the monthly period with regularity, no matter from what causes the obstruction may arise. They should, however, NOT be taken during the first three or four months of pregnancy, though safe at any other time, as miscarriage would be the result.

Each box contains 60 Pills. Price $1.

DR. HARVEY'S TREATISE on Diseases of Females, Pregnancy Miscarriage, Barrenness, Sterility, Reproduction, and Abuses of Nature, and emphatically the Ladies' Private Medical Adviser, a pamphlet of 64 pages, sent free to any address. Six cents required to pay postage.

The Pills and book will be sent by mail when desired, securely sealed, and prepaid, by

J. BRYAN, M. D., General Agent,

No. 76 Cedar street, New York.

☞ Sold by all the principal druggists,

December 9, 1863—1 yr.

VALUABLE REAL ESTATE.

THE Subscriber offers for sale the following Lots of Land, with the Buildings thereon, at private sale, until September next, when such as then remain unsold, will be offered at Public Auction:

A new and well built two-story DWELLING HOUSE, situated on English Street. This house is well supplied with the modern conveniences, is pleasantly situated on rising ground, and is a very desirable residence.

The MOROCCO FACTORY near the Southwick Tannery. The building is about 150 feet long by 40 wide, is well supplied with pure water and is an excellent place for the Moroceo business or Currying.

Near the Morocco Factory are two TWO-STORY BUILDINGS, which may be sold with the Factory, or separately. Together they are about 80 feet long by 20 wide.

On Walnut Street is the large BOARDING HOUSE, with the land adjoining, which is excellently well situated for what it is designed.

Several front LOTS for building purposes on Walnut Street, will be sold at moderate prices and fair terms.

A STORE HOUSE 70 by 25 feet on Walnut Street, with the land under and the rear of it. It can be easily adapted for a Curriers' Shop, or for other kinds of business.

On Wallis Street, near the mill pond, a well built and painted MOROCCO FACTORY, all ready for occupancy. It is about 80 feet long by 25 wide, and in excellent repair.

Next to the Morocco Factory on the same street, a STORE BUILDING, strongly built, and framed for a DWELLING HOUSE, for which it could be easily adapted. Or, it would make an excellent Shop for any kind of business.

Near ELM STREET, on a Court south of said street, are two DWELLING HOUSES, planned for two families each. One is two stories high, the other one and a half. Both houses have good tenants and yield a good income; offering a good chance for investment.

Between Harris and English Streets, one One Story DWELLING House, and a One Story and a Half House.

The above is a most excellent opportunity for enterprising young men to secure places for business and dwelling houses, on reasonable terms. Such a chance may not soon again occur.

Persons desiring to purchase any of the above lots may learn the prices and terms on application to ANDREW S. PORTER, Elm Street.

SAMUEL D. PENDAR.

South Danvers, May 11, 1864. tf

MORRIS'
RESTAURANT,

18 and 20 Derby Square, Salem.

Oysters, Clams, Steak, Poultry, Game, Fish, &c., &c., COOKED TO ORDER.

Pickled Oysters, Lobsters and Clams.

Salem, July 22, 1863. tf

NEW WAR MAP.

PERRIN'S New War Map of the Southern States, arranged from Government Surveys—price 25 cents in covers.

Also—One hundred and fifty miles round Richmond—a new War Map—price 50 cents—at

aug 24 G M WHIPPLE & A A SMITH'S.

Flour and Grain.

1500 BUSHELS Canada Oats; 100 barrels Superior Family XXX Flour; just landed and for sale by GAYLE & CO., Phillips Wharf.

6000 BUSHELS PRIME OATS, received this day, and for sale by

aug 10 GAYLE & CO., Phillips Wharf.

ICE PICKS

AND Ice Mallets with Awls, at

jy13 S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS, 32 Front st.

LEMON SQUEEZERS,

AT S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS', 32 Front st.

LT. COL. JOHN C. CHAMBERS,

LATE of the 23d Mass. Vols—Card Photographs, at G M WHIPPLE & A A SMITH'S.

Flour.

100 Bbls "Arcade Mills;" 100 do "Crooked Creek;" 100 do "May Flower." For sale by july 20 GAYLE & CO., Phillips' Wharf.

NEW WHITE WARE.

WHITE Tea Ware and White Dinner Ware, of the new patterns, at

jy 20 S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS', 32 Front st.

Cards.

N. J. HOLDEN,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
Office, 27 Washington Street, Salem, Mass.

M. B. MANSFIELD,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
214 ESSEX STREET, SALEM, MASS.

 Particular attention paid to procuring Pensions, Bounties, Back Pay, Prize Money, and Army and Navy Claims of all descriptions. March 2.

H. L. HADLEY,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
CORNER MAPLE AND ELM ST.,
Danvers.

Claims against the Government for Bounty, Back Pay, and Pensions, promptly attended to.

THOMAS M. STIMPSON,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
194 ESSEX STREET, SALEM.
Residence Lowell street, South Danvers.

B. C. PERKINS,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
South Danvers—Office in Allen's Building.

ALFRED A. ABBOTT,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
Office, No. 24 Washington Street, Salem.
House, Main St., So. Danvers.

SIDNEY C. BANCROFT,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
27 Washington Street, Salem.

H. O. WILEY,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
Office, Allen's Building, South Danvers.

Claims against the Government for Bounty, Back Pay, and Pensions, promptly attended to.

A. S. CRAWFORD
Dentist,
No. 4, MAIN STREET, So. DANVERS SQUARE
Mechanical Dentistry Neatly Executed.

W. L. BOWDOIN,
SURGEON DENTIST,
No. 208 Essex Street, Salem, (Opposite the Marke
Residence—No. 57 Washington street.
jan 11—1y

NEWMAN & SYMONDS,
DEALERS IN
Family Groceries, Flour & Grain,
HARD WARE AND CROCKERY,
Ready-Made Clothing; Gents' Furnishing Goods,
Hats, Caps, Boots, Shoes, &c.,
South Danvers Square, opp. Congregational Church
SAM'L NEWMAN. NATH'L SYMONDS.

S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS,
DEALERS IN
Crockery, China and Hardware; Paper Hangings; Solar and Entry Lamps; Paints, Oil and Window Glass.
No. 32 Front street, Lawrence Place,
feb13 SALEM, MASS.

HENRY L. WHIDDEN,
HOUSE AND SIGN PAINTER,
Glazier and Paperer,
Central Street, South Danvers.
All orders promptly and faithfully executed.
jan2-1y

JESSE SMITH
No. 262 Essex Street, Salem,
Importer and Dealer in
Gold and Silver Watches,
MARINE CHRONOMETERS,
Aneroid Barometers, Spy Glasses, &c.

WILLIAM BLANEY,
HOUSE & SIGN PAINTER
Grainer, Glazier and Paper Hanger.
164 MAIN STREET, Corner of Grove.
WINDOWS and BLINDS cheap for cash.
mch6-tf

F. POOLE
INSURANCE AGENT,
Allen's Building (up stairs),
Deeds drawn, and other common forms.

Advertisements.

R. W. WILKINSON,

DEALER IN

Newspapers, Periodicals, and Stationery of every Description.

FOREIGN and DOMESTIC FRUITS, consisting of Oranges, Lemons, Dates, Figs, Prunes, &c., &c.

Sauces, Pickles and Preserves; Castana, Naples and English Walnuts; Hard, Soft and Paper-shelled Almonds; choice brands of Tobacco and Cigars; also a general assortment of Confectionery of every description.

Also a large and well selected stock of Toys, suitable for children and the Holiday Gifts.

Ice Cream furnished to parties at short notice and in quantities to suit. Wedding Cake and every variety of nice cake furnished to parties or families.

STORE—WARREN BANK BUILDING.

South Danvers, Nov'r 11, 1863.

JUST ARRIVED,

AT DANVERS MILLS,

500 Bushels Corn, in the minnie cob, and will be sold in South Danvers. Constantly on hand a large stock of meal, which will be sold at the lowest Salem prices.

— ALSO ON HAND —

500 Bushels Feed;
200 Bushels prime Northern Oats;
100 Barrels choicest Family Flour.
A good stock of LIME constantly on hand.

JOHN C. MOULTON,

Central St., South Danvers, Mass.

May 25—tf.

FURNITURE.

HAVING taken the Store No. 10 FRONT STREET, (formerly occupied by BENJAMIN COLMAN,) I shall keep constantly on hand a large stock of

NEW AND SECOND-HAND FURNITURE,

BEDDING, COUNTING-ROOM DESKS, &c., &c.,

which I will sell cheap for CASH.

ALL KINDS OF FURNITURE NEATLY REPAIRED.

☞ All kinds of FURNITURE and BEDDING wanted—for which the highest Cash price will be paid.

P. J. HYNES, 10 FRONT-ST.

Salem, April 6, 1864—1y

Posting Books, Making Bills and Copying.

THE above business will be promptly and accurately performed by the subscriber, who may be found at Messrs. CLARK & GIDDINGS' Counting Room on Wallis Street, near the Essex Depot, or by enquiring at this office. jy13 tf JOHN D. HOWARD.

Job Press for Sale.

RUGGLES' JOB ENGINE PRESS. Prints a bill 13 by 19 inches. Can be run by one man at the rate of 800 per hour. Is in good condition. It will sold at a very low price, as the owner has no use for it. It is a big bargain. Apply at this office. jy 20-tf

THE TRAVELERS INS. CO.,

OF HARTFORD, CONN.

Capital - - - - - $250,000.

Is now prepared to Insure persons against

ACCIDENTS

OF EVERY DESCRIPTION.

Yearly policies will be issued for a premium of

FIVE DOLLARS,

granting insurance to the amount of

FIVE THOUSAND DOLLARS,

against accidental loss of life while travelling by any public conveyance.

TEN DOLLARS PREMIUM

secures a policy for Five Thousand Dollars, and also twenty-five dollars per week compensation for personal injury incapacitating the assured from his ordinary business.

TWENTY-FIVE DOLLARS PREMIUM

secures a full policy for $5000 and $25 per week compensation for all and EVERY DESCRIPTION OF ACCIDENT, TRAVELLING OR OTHERWISE.

Policies for $5000 with $3 per week compensation, can be had for $3 per annum; or any other sum between $500 and $5000 at proportionate rates.

DIRECTORS:

Gustavus F. Davis,
James L. Howard,
Marshal Jewell,
Thomas Belknap, Jr.,
Cornelius B. Irwin,
George S. Gilman,
W. H. D. Callender,
George W. Moore,
Ebenezer Roberts,
Charles White,
Hugh Harrison,
Jonathan B. Bunce.

JAMES G. PATTERSON, President.
RODNEY DENNIS, Secretary.
HENRY A. DYER, General Agent.

PLUMBER & MERCER, AGENTS,
40 State Street, Boston.

Offices in Salem—JOHN H. DERBY, No. 24 Washington street; SAMUEL MACKINTIRE, No. 218 Essex street. Aug. 3, 1864—1yr

DRY GOODS

— AT —

Ann R. Bray's, 76 Federal Street.

A LARGE Stock of Bleached and Brown COTTONS, which we offer at the very lowest prices:

Heavy 4 4 Waltham; Fine 9 8 Boot Mills;
Hill Cotton, Brown and Bleached;
Newmarket, A Cotton; Bennington Cotton;
Monticello Cotton; Cambrics; White Sarsnett;
Bleached Cotton, every width and quality;
American, English and French Prints;
Red, White and Gray Flannels;
Doronts 4-4 and 3-4 widths;
Brown and other Colored Drillings;
Crashes—Bleached, Brown and other colors;

☞ Our stock of Domestic Goods is full, and we shall sell as low as at ANY OTHER STORE in the city.

According to our usual practice, we shall sell out all our DRESS GOODS at a discount.

Salem, July 20—tsio

THOMAS PINNOCK,
SLATER,

SALEM, MASS.

Orders may be left at his Yard, No. 25 Peabody St., or at his house No. 6 Hancock street, South Salem.

Roofs covered with any kind of Slates, according to order. All work warranted.

Salem, May 7, 1862. tf

HEYLINGBERG'S
Hair Dressing Saloon,

24 MAIN ST., SOUTH DANVERS.

J. J. HEYLINGBERG would announce to his patrons and the public generally, that on and after JUNE 1st, 1864, he will abide by the following

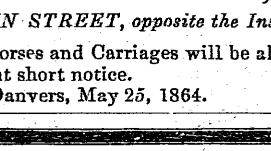
TARIFF OF PRICES:

Shaving,	10 cts,
Hair Cutting,	15 cts,
Champooing,	15 cts.

Particular attention paid to dying hair and whiskers, in one preparation, without washing or scrubbing.

South Danvers, May 11, 1864.

MOULTON'S
NEW LIVERY STABLE,



Is removed to stable formerly occupied by

SAMUEL HAM,

On MAIN STREET, opposite the Institute.

Good Horses and Carriages will be always in readiness at short notice.

South Danvers, May 25, 1864.

PIN WORMS. MRS. OSBORN'S Universal Worm Powders are the only sure cure ever offered to the public. They are warranted in every case; relief within 24 hrs. 25 cts. per box. Sold by all druggists

For sale by D. P. GROSVENOR, Jr., 33 Main St., South Danvers. jan 27

Putnam Clothes Wringer.

IT IS THE ONLY RELIABLE

SELF-ADJUSTING WRINGER

NO WOOD TO SWELL OR SPLIT.

NO THUMB SCREWS TO GET OUT OF ORDER.

Warranted with or without Cog-Wheels.

IT took the FIRST PREMIUM at fifty-seven State and County Fairs in 1863, and is, without an exception, the best Wringer ever made.

Patented in the United States, England, Canada and Australia. Agents wanted in every town, and in all parts of the world.

Sample Wringer sent, express paid, on receipt of price.

Energetic agents can make from 3 to 10 dollars per day.

No. 2, $6.50; No. 1, $7.50; No. F, $8.50; No. A, $9.50.

Manufactured and sold, wholesale and retail, by THE PUTNAM MANUFACTURING CO., No. 13 Platt Street, New York, and Cleveland, Ohio.

S. C. NORTHROP, Agent.

WHAT EVERYBODY KNOWS, VIZ:

That Iron well galvanized will not rust;

That a simple machine is better than a complicated one;

That a Wringer should be self-adjusting, durable, and efficient;

That Thumb-Screws and Fastenings cause delay and trouble to regulate and keep in order;

That wood soaked in hot water will swell, shrink and split;

That wood bearings for the shaft to run in will wear out;

That the Putnam Wringer, with or without cog-wheels, will not tear the clothes;

That cog-wheel regulators are not essential;

That the Putnam Wringer has all the advantages, and not one of the disadvantages above named;

That all who have tested it, pronounce it the best Wringer ever made;

That it will wring a Thread or a Bed-Quilt WITHOUT ALTERATION.

We might fill the paper with testimonials, but insert only a few to convince the skeptical, if such there be; and we say to all, test Putnam's Wringer. Test it THOROUGHLY with ANY and ALL others, and if not entirely satisfactory, return it.

Putnam Manufacturing Co:—GENTLEMEN; I know from practical experience that iron well galvanized with zinc will not oxidize or rust one particle. The Putnam Wringer is as near perfect as possible, and I can cheerfully recommend it to be the best in use. Respectfully yours,

JNO. W. WHEELER, Cleveland, Ohio.

Many years' experience in the galvanizing business enable me to indorse the above statement in all particulars.

JNO. C. LEFFERTS, No. 100 Beckman St. New York, January, 1864.

We have tested Putnam's Clothes Wringer by practical working, and know that it will do. It is cheap; it is simple; it requires no room, whether at work or at rest; a child can operate it; it does its duty thoroughly; it saves time and it saves wear and tear. We earnestly advise all who have much washing to do, with all intelligent persons who have any, to buy this Wringer. It will pay for itself in a year at most. HON. HORACE GREELEY.

July 27, 1864.—3m

HOSTETTER'S
CELEBRATED
STOMACH BITTERS.

A pure and powerful Tonic, corrective and alterative of wonderful efficacy in disease of the

Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

Cures Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Headache, Debility, Nervousness, Depression of Spirits, Constipation, Colic, Intermittent Fevers, Cramps and Spasms, and all Complaints of either Sex, arising from Bodily Weakness whether inherent in the system or produced by special causes.

Nothing that is not wholesome, genial and restorative in its nature enters into the composition of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. This popular preparation contains no mineral of any kind, no deadly botanical element; no fiery excitant: but it is a combination of the extracts of rare balsamic herbs and plants with the purest and mildest of all diffusive stimulants.

It is well to be forearmed against disease, and, so far as the human system can be protected by human means against maladies engendered by an unwholesome atmosphere, impure water and other external causes, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS may be relied on as a safeguard.

In districts infested with Fever and Ague, it has been found infallible as a preventive and irresistible as a remedy and thousands who resort to it under apprehension of an attack, escape the scourage; and thousands who neglect to avail themselves of its protective qualities in advance, are cured by a very brief course of this marvelous medicine. Fever and Ague patients, after being plied with quinine for months in vain, until fairly saturated with that dangerous alkaloid, are not unfrequently restored to health within a few days by the use of HOSTETTER'S BITTERS.

The weak stomach is rapidly invigorated and the appetite restored by this agreeable Tonic, and hence it works wonders in cases of DISPEPSIA and in less confirmed forms of INDIGESTION. Acting as a gentle and painless apperient, as well as upon the liver, it also invariably relieves the CONSTIPATION superinduced by irregular action of the digestive and secretive organs.

Persons of feeble habit, liable to Nervous Attacks, Lowness of Spirits and Fits of Languor, find prompt and permanent relief from the Bitters. The testimony on this point is most conclusive, and from both sexes.

The agony of BILIOUS COLIC is immediately assuaged by a single dose of the stimulant, and by occasionally resorting to it, the return of the complaint may be prevented.

As a General Tonic, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS produce effects which must be experienced or witnessed before they can be fully appreciated. In cases of Constitutional Weakness, Premature Decay and Debility and Decrepitude arising from OLD AGE, it exercises the electric influence. In the convalescent stages of all diseases it operates as a delightful invigorant. When the powers of nature are relaxed, it operates to re-enforce and re-establish them.

Last, but not least, it is The Only Safe Stimulant, being manufactured from sound and innocuous materials, and entirely free from the acid elements present more or less in all the ordinary tonics and stomachics of the day.

No family medicine has been so universally, and, it may be truly added, deservedly popular with the intelligent portion of the community, as HOSTETTER'S BITTERS.

Prepared by HOSTETTER & SMITH, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Sold by all Druggists, Grocers and Storekeepers everywhere.

HELMBOLD'S
GENUINE PREPARATIONS.

COMPOUND FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU, a Positive and Specific Remedy for diseases of the Bladder, Kidneys, Gravel, and Dropsical Swellings.

This Medicine increases the power of Digestion, and excite the Absorbents into healthy action, by which the Wtaery or Calcareous depositions, and all Unnatural Enlargements are reduced, as well as Pain and Inflammation.

—:0:—

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU.

For Weaknesses arising from Excesses, Habits of Dissipation, Early Indiscretion of Abuse, attended with the following symptoms:—

Indisposition to Exertion,
Loss of Memory,
Weak Nerves,
Horror of Disease,
Dimness of Vision,
Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System,
Hot Hands,
Dryness of the Skin,
Loss of Power,
Difficulty of Breathing,
Trembling,
Wakefulness,
Pain in the Back,
Flushing of the Body,
Eruptions on the Face,
Pallid Countenance.

These symptoms, if allowed to go on, which this medicine invariably removes, soon follows

Impotency, Fatuity, Epileptic Fits,

In one of which the patient may expire.

Who can say that they are not frequently followed by those "Direful Diseases,"

"INSANITY AND CONSUMPTION."

Many are aware of the cause of their suffering, BUT NONE WILL CONFESS THE RECORDS OF THE INSANE ASYLUMS.

And Melancholy Deaths by Consumption bear ample witness to the Truth of the assertion.

The Constitution once effected with Organic Weakness requires the aid of Medicine to Strengthen and Invigorate the system,

Which HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU invariably does. A Trial will convince the most skeptical.

—:0:—

FEMALES—FEMALES—FEMALES.

In many Affections peculiar to Females the EXTRACT BUCHU is unequalled by any other remedy, as in Chlorosis or Retention, Irregularity, Painfulness, or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated Scirrhous state of the Uterus, Leucorrhœa or Whites, Sterility, and for all complaints incident to the sex, whether arising from indiscretion or Habits of Dissipation, or in the

—:0:—

DECLINE OR CHANGE OF LIFE.

—:0:—

Take no more Balsam, Mercury, or unpleasant Medicines for unpleasant and dangerous diseases.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU AND IMPROVED ROSE WASH CURES

SECRET DISEASES

In all their Stages, At little Expense.
Little or no change in Diet. No inconvenience.
And no Exposure.

It causes a frequent desire and gives strength to Urinate, thereby Removing Obstructions, Preventing and Curing Strictures of the Urethra, allaying Pain and Inflammation, so frequent in this class of diseases, and expelling all Poisonous, Diseased and wornout Matter.

Thousands upon Thousands who have been the Victims of Quacks, and who have paid heavy fees to be cured in a short time, have found they were deceived, and that the "POISON" has, by the use of "Powerful Astringents," been dried up in the system to break out in an aggravated form, and perhaps after Marriage.

—:0:—

Use HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU for all affections and diseases of the URINARY ORGANS, whether existing in MALE or FEMALE, from whatever cause originating and no matter of HOW LONG STANDING.

Diseases of these Organs requires the aid of a DIURETIC. HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU IS THE GREAT DIURETIC, and is certain to have the desired effect in all Diseases for which it is Recommended.

Evidence of the most reliable and responsible character will accompany the medicine.

Price $1.00 per bottle, or six for $5.00.

Delivered to any Address, securely packed from observation.

Describe Symptoms in all Communications.

Cures, Guaranteed! Advice Gratis!!

Address letters for information to

H. B. HELMBOLD, Chemist,
104 South Tenth-st., bel. Chestnut, Phila.

HELMBOLD'S Medical Depot.
HELMBOLD'S Drug & Chemical Warehouse.
594 Broadway, New York.

BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS AND UNPRINCIPLED DEALERS who endeavor to dispose "of their own" and "other" articles on the reputation attained by

Helmbold's Genuine Preparations.
" " Extract Buchu.
" " Sarsaparilla.
" " Improved Rose Wash.

SOLD BY

ALL DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE.

ASK FOR HELMBOLD'S. TAKE NO OTHER.

Cut out the Advertisement and send for it.

AND AVOID IMPOSITION AND EXPOSURE.

December 16, 1863.—1 yr.

Horse Railroad Notice.

On and after MONDAY, May 9, the cars of the Salem and South Danvers Railroad Co. will leave

South Danvers for Salem and Beverly at 6.35, 6.55, 7.15, and 7.35, A. M., and every 20 minutes till 12.55 P. M., and at 1.10, 1.25, 1.40, 1.55 P. M., and every 15 minutes till 10.25 P. M. The 9.55, 10.10, and 10.25 P. M., cars will go only to Salem.

Cars will leave Beverly for Salem and South Danvers at 6.35, 6.55, 7.15, and 7.35, A. M., and every 20 minutes till 12.55 P. M., and at 1.10, 1.25, 1.40 and 1.55 P.M., and every 15 minutes till 10.40 P. M. The 9.40, 9.55, 10.10, 10.25 and 10.40 P. M., cars go only to Salem.

Cars leave Washington Street Station for So. Danvers at 6.12, 6.32 and 6.52 A. M. and every 20 minutes till 12.32 P.M, and leave Washington St. Station for Beverly at 6.17, 6.37, 6.57, A.M., and every 20 minutes till 12.37 P. M., and cars will leave Washington St. Station for South Danvers and Beverly at 12.45, 1, 1.15, and 1.30 P. M., and every 15 minutes till 10.00 P. M.

M. H. HALE,

may 11 Sup't. S. & S. D. R. R. Co.

WM. C. HENDERSON,

MANUFACTURER OF

PLAIN AND FANCY

PAPER BOXES;

No. 235 ESSEX STREET,

Sign of "Nest of Boxes,"

july 23 SALEM. tf

CURRIER & MILLETT,

Dealers in

Furniture, Chairs, MATTRESSES, FEATHERS, & 259 & 261 ESSEX ST.

Salem, dec 14—1y

H. & H. G. HUBON,

WASHINGTON STREET, SALEM

Manufacturers of

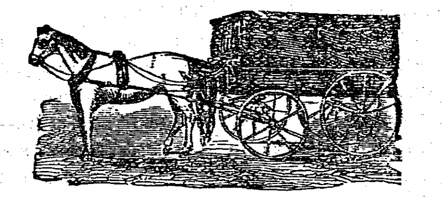
Rose Wood, Mahogany, Black Walnnt and Stained Wood

COFFINS and CASKETS.

MAKING this our exclusive business, we are ready at all times and at the shortest notice to furnish Grave Clothes of various styles, as well as Coffins and Caskets of the finest finish. Personal attention given, and delivered without extra charge to any of the neighboring towns. All orders by express or otherwise will receive prompt attention.

Black Walnut and White Wood Boards, Plank and Joists for sale.

dec 14—tf



CHARLES S. BUFFUM,

BEING an authorized UNDERTAKER of South Danvers, will attend Funerals in said place with his Hearse the same as the Town Undertaker. Will also attend Funerals, when desired, in any of the neighboring towns, with one or a pair of horses.

He also furnishes Coffin Caskets, Robes, &c., lower than city prices.

All branches of the business attended to, such as furnishing Coaches, Flowers, Laying Out, &c. Ice Preservers furnished.

All orders promptly attended to, and personal attention given to them. Articles delivered to any of the neighboring towns free of charge. Orders by express or otherwise will receive prompt attention.

Central street, South Danvers,

RESIDENCE 25 ELM STREET.

South Danvers, Feb 17, 1864.

Undertaker's Notice!

THE subscriber being regularly appointed as Undertaker of South Danvers, would respectfully notify the public that he has removed from Central Street, to No. 80 Lowell Street, where he may be found in readiness to attend funerals, and to furnish, when desired.

HENRY SPENCER.

February 10, 1864.

Chickering & Sons' Piano-Fortes.
Hallett & Cumston's Piano-Fortes.
Hallett & Davis's Piano-Fortes.

We select our Piano-Fortes from the above firms and warrant them to give perfect satisfaction. Our terms are reasonable, and all persons in the city and neighboring towns can be accommodated by calling at 76 Federal street.

FOR SALE—Second-hand Piano-Fortes,—Chickering's and others.

ap 29 ANN R. BRAY.

FOR NEW YORK via FALL RIVER AND NEWPORT.

Cabin passage $5.00; Deck, $4.00. Cars leave the Depot of the Old Colony and Newport Railway, corner of South and Kneeland streets, at 5.30 P. M., daily.

For steamer METROPOLIS, Capt. W. Brown, on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

For steamer EMPIRE STATE, Capt. P. Brayton, on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays.

Passengers by this route can take the 4.40 P. M. Express Train, and arrive in Fal lRiver one honr before the Steamboat Train, having time to secure State Booms and make their preparations for the passage.

Passengers by this line going to Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, &c., can connect with the New Jersey or Camden and Amboy Railroad. Baggage Checked through.

☞ A baggage master accompanies the passengers through to New York. Tickets, Berths and Staterooms secured at this office, and at O. C. & Newport R. R. Station.

GEORGE SHIVERICK, Agent.

No. 82 Washington Street,

BOSTON, November 16, 1863.

NEW BOOKS,

At G. M. WHIPPLE & A. A. SMITH'S.

ENOCH Arden, by Tennyson;
Talks on Women's Topics, by Jennie June;
Capt. Brand, by Harry Wise;
The Monomaniac;
Imogene—a new Novel;
London Nautical Magazine, July;
Geneolo&ical Register, July. 190 Essex st.

Eastern Railroad.

ON and after MONDAY, April 4, 1864, Trains will leave the Eastern Railroad Station, Washington street, Salem, daily. (Sundays excepted):

For Lynn and Boston, *5.50, 7, 8½, 9, 10, 11 a m., 12 55, 2½, 5¼, 7, 7¼, p. m.
Beverly, 8, 8 15, 11½ am., 1, 3½, 2¾, 5¾, 6.55, 7¾ p m.
W. Beach, Man'r, Gloucester, and Rockport, 8, 11¼, a. m., 3½, 6¼ p m.
Ipswich and Newburyport, 8 05 am., 1, 3¾, 5¾, 6.55pm.
Amesbury, 8 05 a m., 1, 3½, 5¾ p m.
Portsmouth, 8 05 a m., 3¾, p. m.
Portland, 8 05 a m., 3¾ p m.

AND FOR SALEM, FROM

Portland, 8½ a m., 3 p m.
Portsmouth, 6 20, 9 10, *11½ a m., *5½ p m.
Amesbury, 7.35, 9.40 a m., 5.55 p m.
Newburyport, 7, 7 55, 10, 11.50 a m., 6¼ p m.
Ipswich, 7.20, 8.15, 10.20 a m., 12.15, 6.35 p m.
Gloucester, 7, 10, 10 10 a m., 1.40, 4.40 p m.
Manchester, 7.25, 10.25 a m., 1.55, 4.55 p m.
Beverly, 6.50, 7.50, 8.20, 8.50, 10.50 am., 12.45, 2.20, 5.20, 6.45, 7.05 pm.
Lynn, 7.45, 7.50, 9, 11, a m., 12.45, 3, 3.30, 4.30, 5 30, 6, 6.40, 7.30, 10 p m.
Boston, 7½, 7¾, 8½, 10½ am., 12½, 2½, 3, 4, 5, 5.30, 6.10, 7, †9.30 p m.

*Or on arrival from the East.
†On Wednesdays this train leaves Boston at 11¼ p m. and on Saturdays at 10½ p m.

MARBLEHEAD BRANCH.

Marblehead for Salem, 6¾, 7¾, 8¾, 9¾ a m., 12¾, 1¾, 5¼ 6¾, 7½ p m.
Salem for Marblehead, 7½, 8½, 9.25, 11¼ a m., 1, 3¾, 5¾, 7, 7.50 p m.

SOUTH READING BRANCH.

Trains leave the South Reading Depot in Salem for Boston at 6.35, 9.50 a m., 2.25, 4.55 p m.
Boston for Salem, 7 a m., 12 m., 2 30, 5½ p m.

ESSEX RAILROAD.

Leave Salem for Lawrence and way stations, 7, 11¼ a m., 4.45 p m.
Lawrence for Salem, 8 a m., 12.40, 5.50 p m.
Danvers for Salem, 8.40 a m., 1.20, 6.30 p m.
South Danvers for Salem, 8¾ a m., 1.25, 6.35 p m.

J. PRESCOTT, Superintendent.

Boston, April 5, 1864.

Salem and Lowell Railroad.

ON and after MONDAY, April 4, 1864, Trains will run as follows:

Leave Lowell for Salem, 7.25 a m., and *2.45 p m.
Leave Salem for Lowell, *9.40 a m. and 6 00 p m.

Passengers are not allowed to carry baggage above $50 in value, and that personal, unless notice is given and an extra amount paid. Season tickets do not entitle the holder to take baggage.

*Freight Train with passenger car attached.

F. H. NOURSE, Local Superintendent.

April 4, 1864.

SPEED, COMFORT AND SAFETY!

FOR NEW YORK.
Norwich Steamboat Train.

The only Boats Landing at Jersey City.

CABIN Passage, $5.00; Deck Passage, $4.00. The new and elegant sixteen wheel cars of the steamboat express train leave the Boston & Worcester Railroad Station, Albany Street., at 5½ P. M., daily, connecting with the new steamers, (built expressly for this line,) CITY OF BOSTON, Capt. WILCOX, Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays; CITY OF NEW YORK, Capt. JEWETT, Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays, which (before proceeding to their Pier, No. 39 North River,) will touch at the wharf of the New Jersey Railroad at Jersey City, (Sundays excepted) thus enabling Southern Passengers to make sure connections with the First Southern Train, and at the same time avoid the great annoyance of the Ferry and Hack transportation in the crowded streets of New York. This insures ample time for Breakfast before the trains leave. Conductors E. MORRILL and T. N. TURNER accompany the passengers through to New York.

Tickets, Berths and Staterooms secured at the Railroad Station, and at the Office of the line, 79 Washington Street, Boston.

Through tickets to Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington can be had at 79 Washington Street, Boston. WM. DICKEY, JR., Agent.

Boston, January 7, 1864.

Are you Insured?

THE subscriber would respectfully call your attention to the fact that he is fully prepared to effect INSURANCE AGAINST FIRE, to any amount, at current rates, on

Dwelling Houses, Barns and their contents, Stores, Stocks of Goods, Furniture, &c. &c., and on buildings in process of erection,

And that he is the authorized Agent for the following responsible Stock and Mutual Companies, viz:

Thames Insurance Co., (Stock,) Norwich, Conn.
Capital—$500,000.
Amos W. Prentice, Pres. Oliver F. Rice, Sec'y

Conway Insurance Company, (Stock) Boston.
Capital and Surplus—$260,000.
James F. Whitney, Pres. David C. Rogers, Sec'y.

City Insurance Company, (Stock) Boston.
Capital—$150,000.
Samuel P. Hayward, Pres. Austin W. Benton, Sec'y

Also, will effect Insurance on the LIVES OF INDIVIDUALS, for one year, seven years, or for the whole term of life, in the

Massachusetts Mutual Life Ins. Co., Springfield, Mass.
Capital and Assets—$375,000.
Caleb Rice, Pres. D. B. Bacon, Sec'y.
William Mack, M. D., Medical Examiner.

WM. ARCHER, Jr.,

18 Washington st. and 34 Front st., Salem.

feb20-1

ALWAYS SUCCESSFUL!

TO ALL THOSE WHO SUFFER FROM

DEBILITY AND SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

DRS. CARSWELL & HUNTER, regularly educated, highly eminent and successful practitioners, after a very extensive practice in Boston, for over twenty years, need hardly speak of their medical qualifications, or remind strangers not to class them with a set of uneducated men, who fill the papers with their boasting advertisements. Drs. C. & H. caution the public against quackery in all its forms, pretending, as some self-styled doctors, to cure all the most difficult and chronic diseases, without knowledge of the human system, or of the modus operandi of the most simple drugs.

Drs. C. & H., since 1840, having confined their whole attention to an office practice for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, they acknowledge no superiors.

CONSTITUTIONAL DEBILITY OR SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Drs. C. & H. are pre-eminently successful in the treatment of the above most difficult and perplexing of all diseases, this complaint being the result of a secret habit in youth; if neglected or improperly treated, it proves one of the greatest evils that can befall a human being. Dr. H. has given particular attention to the above disease for years, and so thoroughly has he become acquainted with the pathology and treatment, that he will warrant a perfect cure under forfeiture of $500; in fact, he will, in the cure of this complaint, acknowledge no superior in this country, or even in the world. Come, then, all you who are afflicted, come to the Old Stand, where you will in a short time be made to rejoice in perfect health.

SYPHILITIC AND SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS,—such as Ulcers and Caries of the throat and nose, Running Sores on the legs and arms, Hard Scabs and Scaly Eruptions on the head, back, &c., pains in the bones and joints, and all other forms of venereal diseases—are made to yield and entirely disappear under Drs. C. & H.'s improved and thoroughly eradicating course of treatment.

The primary or first symptoms of disease, whether a simple running, or small pistules, cancers, or ulcers, are cured in a very few days, if immediate application is made to Drs. C. & H.

13 ENDICOTT STREET, BOSTON. 13

Strangers should be particular in the selection of a physician, lest they be deceived by false advertisements.

Ladies troubled with irregularity, weakness, whites, and other complaints peculiar to the female system, will find a speedy cure by calling as above. No mercury used, and no charge for advice. The afflicted are invited to give us a call.

Boston, April 20, 1864.—1 yr.

25 YEARS' EXPERIENCE enables DRS. CARSWELL & HUNTER to cure any diseases of a private nature in a shorter space of time and for a smaller amount of money than any other doctors in this country, and they also treat all female complaints with perfect success, and on the most satisfactory terms. Patients furnished with board if desired. Please give us a call at our office, No. 13 Endicott St., Boston, Mass.

Boston, April 20, 1864.—1 yr.

A Card to the Suffering.

SWALLOW two or three hogsheads of "Buchu," "Tonic Bitters," "Sarsaparilla," "Nervous Antidotes," &c., &c., &c., and after you are satisfied with the result, then try one box of OLD DOCTOR BUCHAN'S ENGLISH SPECIFIC PILLS—and be restored to health and vigor in less than thirty days. They are purely vegetable, pleasant to take, prompt and salutary in their effects on the broken-down and shattered constitution. Old and young can take them with advantage. Imported and sold in the United States only by

JAS. S. BUTLER, No. 427 Broadway, New York.
Agent for the United States.

P. S. A Box of the Pills, securely packed, will be mailed to any address on receipt of price, which is ONE DOLLAR, post-paid,—money refunded by the Agent if entire satisfaction is not given. jy 13–3m

PRESERVE YOUR FRUIT.

GLASS Jars and Glass Covers, for preserving Fruits, Vegetables, &c., in a perfectly fresh state, for sale by S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS', 32 Front st.

SUMMER ARRAN

— TO —

LYNN & BOS

— BY —

OMNIBUS & HOR

W. F. BURNHA

Line of Omnibuses will leave the Omnibus Office, No. 6 Allen's Buil vers, passing down Main Street, thro Street, to Lynn, daily—Sundays inc

Leave South Danvers at 7 50 o'cl and 4 50 P. M.

Leave Lynn (Horse Car Depot, W A. M., 2 40 and 6 40 P. M.

Horse Cars leaving the office at 1 at 8 15 A. M., 1 15 and 5 15 P. M., wil buses at Lynn, at the above name passengers to South Danvers.

Tickets to Lynn, -
Through to Boston, -

Gravesend, Woodend, a Depot Route

ON and after Monday, Nov 2, in a route, an Omnibus will leave So Lynn, to connect with the steam a times daily,—Sundays excepted,— Gravesend and Woodend, to the Ce and Horse Railroad Station, corne Broad Streets; leaving South Danve necting with the 7.25 steam cars for (connecting with the 11.10 train), and ing with the 4.50 train); and return from the Spring Street Station and pot, at 8 A M, and 1 and 6 P M.

Fare from S. Danvers to Boston b
" " " "

Through Tickets to and from Bost the Drivers and Conductors.

South Danvers, Salem Route.

THE subscriber having purchase ley the Omnibus line running Lynn, would announce that it wil Stage Office, No. 6 Allen's Building, for Salem, at 7 30 A M, and 2 30 P M Stage Office in Central St, Salem, 3 30 P M for Lynn. Returning will A M and 5 P M; and Salem for Sout A M, and 6.15 P M.

Passengers between South Danvar be called for by leaving orders at th

Passengers called for at reasonable s given at the office.

EXPRESS BUSIN

Between South Danvers and Lynn ed to, on reasonable terms.

Extra Coaches furnished at short

W. F. B

South Danvers, April 20, 1864.

GROUT & MUN
SOUTH DANVERS &
RAILROAD EXP

Express leaves South Danvers at
Freight " " " at
Express leaves Boston at
Freight " " " at

OFFICE at FREIGHT DE
Danvers Square.

Express Office in Boston, 3 Was
Freight Office, 48 Kilb

Particular attention paid to niture, collecting Bills, Notes, I

Smallest favors thankfully received

South Danvers, august 26—tf

South Danvers & Salem M

E. I succ ber, pres twee and deliv and goods usually delivered by Express.

Leave South Danvers at 7½ and 11 5 P M.

Leaves Salem at 8.45 A M., 12 M.,

This Express connects with the first going East.

SLATES—In Salem, 13 Central st., an Roberts' store, corner of Front and W South Danvers—At the Post Office man's store; also at R. O. Spiller's sto

Abbott's South Danver
EXPRES

Leave South Danvers, - -
Leave Salem, - -

Orders left at Teel & Moulton's, and on Main street, South Danvers; and on street, and at Reed's in the Mark

Important to the A

DR. DOW continues to be consult Nos. 7 and 9 Endicott street, Bo eases of a

PRIVATE OR DELICATE

By a long course of study and prac of unlimited extent. Dr. D. has now of presenting the unfortunate wit have never, since he first introduced cure the most alarming cases of

GONORRHŒA AND SYP

Beneath his treatment, all the hor and impure blood, Impotency, Scrofu Ulcers, pain and distress in the reg tion, Inflammation of the Bladder an drocele, Abcesses, Humors, frightful the long train of horrible symptom class of disease, are made to become the simplest ailings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNES

Dr. D. devotes a great part of his t ment of those cases caused by a sec habit, which ruins the body and min unfortunate individual for business o of the sad and melancholy effects pro habits of youth, are Weakness of limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimne pitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Ne rangement of the digestive function Consumption, &c. The fearful effec are much to be dreaded; loss of mem of ideas, depression of spirits, e aversion of society, self-distrust, tim among the evils produced. Such pers fore contemplating matrimony, consul experience, and be at once restore happiness.

Patients who wish to remain under ment a few days or weeks, will be pleasant rooms, and charges for board

Medicines sent to all parts of the co directions for use, on receiving des cases. Dr. Dow has also for sale the warranted the best preventive. Or or $1 and a red stamp.

CAUTION

TO FEMALES IN DELICATE

DR. DOW, Physician and Surgeon, street, Boston, is consulted daily for a dent to the female system. Prolapsus ing of the Womb, Fluor Albus, Suppr er menstrual derangements, are all tr pathological principles, and speedy re in a very few days. So invariably ce mode of treatment, that most obstin yield under it, and the afflicted perso in perfect health.

Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater e cure of diseases of women and child other physician in Boston.

Boarding accommodations for pati wish to stay in Boston a few days u ment.

Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined tention to an office practice, for the Diseases and Female Complaints, ac superior in the United States.

N. B.—All letters must contain four they will not be answered.

Office Hours from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M.

CERTAIN CURI

IN ALL CASES, OR NO CHARG

Dr. Dow is consulted daily, from 8 a as above, upon all difficult and chron every name and nature, having by his tention and extraordinary success gaine which calls patients from all parts of t obtain advice.

Among the physicians in Boston, non in the profession than the celebrated 7 Endicott street, Boston. Those who vices of an experienced physician and give him a call. P. S.—Dr. Dow impo sale a new article, called the French by mail. Two for $1 and a red stamp.

April 20, 1864—1y.

Do You Wish to be C

DR. BUCHAN'S ENGLISH SPECIFI in less than 30 days, the worst VOUSNESS, Impotency, Premature D Weakness, Insanity, and all Urinary, S vous Affections, no matter from what c Price. One Dollar per box. Sent, pos on receipt of order. One Box will per most cases. Address JAMES S.

jy 13–3m General Agent, 427 Broadwa

South Danvers Wizard.

L. V. SOUTH DANVERS, MASS., WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 14, 1864. NO. 37.

OUTH DANVERS WIZARD
every WEDNESDAY, at Allen's Buildanvers Square.
wo Dollars a year.
EMENTS inserted at reasonable rates.

HARLES D. HOWARD,
TOR AND PROPRIETOR.

NILES, Advertising Agent,
lay's Building, Court Street, Boston, is for that city, and is authorized to receive rtisements and subscriptions for us at rates.

nwealth of Massachusetts.

AD-QUARTERS, BOSTON, August 20, 1864.

ORDER, No. 32.

olunteer Militia of Massachusetts, as l previous to the beginning of the war, having been almost entirely ip by the enlistment of its members, lly and as Companies and Regiments, vice of the United States, in response ferent calls of the President for troops months, nine months, one hundred year and three years; and the laws ng this Volunteer Militia being no conformity with the system of organ- prescribed by the laws of the United nd it having been found impossible to this militia under the laws as they d the safety and honor of the Com- th imperatively demanding a well- d militia for the common defence; the ire of Massachusetts at its last session n Act, entitled an Act concerning the which was approved on the 14th day last, and which is the 238th Chapter cts of 1864, establishing a new system, ; conformity to the Constitution and f the United States and the Constitu- the Commonwealth, and by which all Acts concerning the militia were re-was known, however, that some of the inizations still possessed a strong vi- as others were capable of being revived uscitated, and as there are many glori- ociations connected with the names of ies and Regiments which have won iable honor for themselves and for the the Legislature, while abolishing the f the ancient system, provided that the nder-in-Chief might continue in being ain such Companies and Regiments of Volunteer Militia as he should see fit;— eneral Orders No. 22 of the 23d June, ne different commanding officers were l to make return to the Adjutant-Gen- or before the 10th of July, 1864, of dition of their several commands, stat- rein the number of men to be relied on ty, with any suggestions they might proper to make relative to the expedi- continuing or disbanding their com-

the returns made in response to this and from all other accessible sources of ition, the Commander-in-Chief has to determine what Companies and Regi- of the Volunteer Militia, and of the ndent Division of Militia, presented oof of present efficiency, or of a power uit themselves so as to conform to the ments of the law, as to warrant him in ing and retaining them.

in accordance with the results of such ation, it is hereby ordered that the Com- and Regiments hereinafter enumerated e continued and retained, viz.:

CAVALRY.

Company in Boston commanded by tain Lucius Slade, and heretofore known Co. A, 1st Battalion Light Dragoons.

Company in Boston commanded by tain C. T. Stevens, and heretofore own as Co. B, 1st Battalion Light Dra- ns.

Company in New Bedford commanded Captain George H. Shaw, and hereto- known as the company of Cavalry at- hed to the 2d Brigade, 1st Div. M. V. M.

Company in Charlestown commanded Captain John F. Gilman, and heretofore own as a company attached to the Inde- ndent Division M. V. M.

Company in Roxbury commanded by ptain R. Holmes, formerly known as the xbury Horse Guards.

se Companies will be hereafter designat- spectively, in the order above given, as anies A, B, C, D, E, of Cavalry of the chusetts Volunteer Militia; and, until organization of new companies shall au- the organization of one or more regi- , will remain unattached.

ARTILLERY.

e Company in Boston heretofore known the 1st Light Battery, and commanded Captain Lucius Cummings.

e Company in Boston commanded by ptain Warren French, at present tem- rarily attached to the Forty-second Regi- ent of Infantry.

ese Companies will be respectively desig- l in the order above given—as the First Second Light Batteries Massachusetts nteer Militia.

INFANTRY.

e Third Regiment of Infantry, Lieuten- Colonel James Barton commanding, will tained under its present designation. d the following Companies of said Regi- t:— he Company commanded by Captain John V. Marble, of Freetown, now enlisted in e United States' service for 100 days.

he Company commanded by Captain homas B. Griffith, of South Carver.

he Company commanded by Captain Jo- eph O'Neill, of Fall River, at present tem- orarily attached to the Sixtieth Regiment.

The Company commanded by Captain Da- id H. [illegible], of Fall River, and now in the United States' service for 100 days' duty.

The Company commanded by Captain Isaac A. Jennings, of New Bedford, and now en- isted in the United States' service for 100 days.

The Company commanded by Captain O. A. Baker, of Rehoboth, now enlisted in the United States' service for 100 days.

The Company commanded by Captain Jabez M. Lyle, of Fairhaven, now enlisted in the United States' service for 100 days.

The Company commanded by Lieutenant Thomas J. Borden, of Fall River, formerly known as a company of the Independent Division of Militia.

hese Companies will be henceforth desig- ed and known, respectively, in the order ve given, as companies A, B, C, D, E, H, K, of the Third Regiment of Infantry, M. M. The Company commanded by Captain Lewis Soule, of Abington, formerly known as Co. E of the Fourth Regiment, M. V. M., and at present in United States' service for 100 days, will be henceforth attached to the Third Regiment, unless the friends of the Fourth Regiment shall forthwith offer to reorganize the regiment and shall diligently recruit the same.

The Fifth Regiment of Infantry, Colonel George H. Peirson commanding, will be retained under its present designation.

And the following Companies of said Regiment:—

1. The Company commanded by Captain George H. Homer, of Boston.
2. The Company commanded by Captain John W. Coffin, of Somerville.
3. The Company commanded by Captain George F. Barnes, of South Danvers.
4. The Company commanded by Captain George H. Marden, Jr., of Charlestown.
5. The Company commanded by Captain David L. Brown, of Marlborough.
6. The Company commanded by Captain Philip J. Cootey, of Boston.
7. The Company commanded by Captain Charles S. Converse, of Woburn.
8. The Company commanded by Captain D Webster Davis, of Charlestown.
9. The Company commanded by Captain Andrew A. Powers, of Bolton.
10. The Company commanded by Captain Francis M. Sweetser, of Stoneham.

And these Companies will be henceforth designated in the above order, respectively, as Companies A, B, C, D, E, F, G, H, I, and K, of the Fifth Regiment of Infantry, M. V. M.

The Sixth Regiment of Infantry, Colonel Albert S. Follansbee commanding, will be retained under its present designation.

And the following Companies of said Regiment:—

1. The Company commanded by Captain Joseph M. Coombs, of Boston.
2. The Company commanded by Captain Geo. F. Shattuck, of Groton.
3. The Company commanded by Captain Benj. F. Goddard, of Lowell.
4. The Company commanded by Captain James W. Hart, of Lowell.
5. The Company commanded by Captain Frank H. Whitcomb, of Acton.
6. The Company commanded by Captain Henry W. Wilson, of Boston.
7. The Company commanded by Captain Nathan Taylor, of Lowell.
8. The Company commanded by Captain Moses E. Ware, of Roxbury.
9. The Company commanded by Captain Edward H. Staten, of Salem.
10. The Company commanded by Captain Edgar J. Sherman, of Lawrence.

And the said Companies, in the above order, will be henceforth respectively designated as Companies A, B, C, D, E, F, G, H, I, K, of the Sixth Regiment of Infantry.

The Eighth Regiment of Infantry, Colonel Benj. F. Peach, Jr., commanding, will be retained under its present designation.

And the following Companies of said Regiment:—

1. The Company commanded by Captain Lewis A. Tifft, of Springfield.
2. The Company commanded by Captain Henry M. Lyons, of Adams.
3. The Company commanded by Captain Samuel Graves, of Marblehead.
4. The Company commanded by Captain William H. Merritt, of Lynn.
5. The Company commanded by Captain Samuel F. Littlefield, of South Reading.
6. The Company commanded by Captain Henry Stone, of Lynn.
7. The Company commanded by Captain Edward L. Low, of Gloucester.
8. The Company commanded by Captain William H. Landen, of Springfield.
9. The Company commanded by Captain Henry S. Shelton, of Boston.
10. The Company commanded by Captain Lafayette Butler, of Pittsfield.

And the said Companies, in the above order, will be henceforth respectively designated as Companies A, B, C, D, E, F, G, H, I, and K, of the Eighth Regiment of Infantry, M. V. M.

The Forty-second Regiment of Infantry, Colonel Isaac S. Burrill commanding, will be retained under its present designation.

And the following Companies of said Regiment:—

1. The Company commanded by Captain George M. Stewart, of Springfield.
2. The Company commanded by Captain Benj. C. Tinkham, of Medway.
3. The Company commanded by Captain Isaac B. White, of Boston.
4. The Company commanded by Captain Samuel A. Waterman, of Roxbury.
5. The Company commanded by Captain Augustus Ford, of Worcester.
6. The Company commanded by Captain Samuel S. Eddy, of Worcester.
7. The Company commanded by Captain Alanson H. Ward, of Worcester.
8. The Company commanded by Captain I. T. Stevens, of Braintree.
9. The Company commanded by Captain Benjamin R. Wales, of Dorchester.

And the said Companies, in the above order, will be henceforth respectively designated as Companies A, B, C, D, E, F, G, I, and K, of the Forty-second Regiment of Infantry, M. V. M.

The Sixtieth Regiment of Infantry, Colonel Ansel D. Wass commanding, will be retained under its present designation.

And the following Companies of said Regiment:—

1. The Company commanded by Captain Josiah Soule, Jr., of Abington.
2. The Company commanded by Captain F. Edward Bent, of Quincy.
3. The Company commanded by Captain Chas. L. Sproul, of Bridgewater.
4. The Company commanded by Captain Moses H. Comset, of Boston.
5. The Company commanded by Captain Robert H. Chamberlain, of Worcester.
6. The Company commanded by Captain Barker B. Kent, of Boston.
7. The Company commanded by Captain Stephen D. Gardner, of Newburyport.
8. The Company commanded by Captain David Boynton, of Haverhill.
9. The Company commanded by Captain C. J. Woodward, of Shelburne Falls.

And the said Companies, in the above order, will be henceforth respectively designated as A, B, C, E, F, G, H, I and K, of the Sixtieth Regiment of Infantry, M. V. M.

The following unattached Companies will be retained:—

1. The Company commanded by Captain Lewis J. Bird, of Boston.
2. The Company commanded by Captain Francis E. Porter, of Beverly.
3. The Company commanded by Captain Luther Dame, of Newburyport.
4. The Company commanded by Captain A. J. Hilbourne, of Chelsea.
8. The Company commanded by Captain A. L. Hamilton, of Lawrence.
9. The Company commanded by Captain George H. Smith, of Boston.
11. The Company commanded by Captain J. C. Batcheller, of Lynn.
12. The Company commanded by Captain Charles F. Walcott, of Cambridge.
13. The Company commanded by Captain Robert W. Reeves, of Salem.
14. The Company commanded by Captain Lewis Gaul, Boston.

And said Companies will be for the present designated, in the above order, as the First, Second, Third, Fourth, Eighth, Ninth, Eleventh, Twelfth, Thirteenth and Fourteenth Unattached Companies of Infantry, M. V. M.

The above order will not apply to any companies at present in the service of the United States, so as to alter the designation by which such companies may be known in that service, until they shall have been mustered out of service.

Upon the return of the regiments now in the United States service, reorganization of the regiments will be necessary, in order that each regiment, for the purposes of drill and discipline, and to enable it to be readily assembled, may be composed as nearly as possible of companies from the same neighborhood or district.

Books of enlistment will be at once issued by the Adjutant-General (in conformity with Sect. 18, Chap. 238, Acts of 1864) to the commanders of all the companies herein before enumerated. All non-commissioned officers and privates of said companies who shall not re-enlist in said companies, in conformity with the provisions of said Act, will be at once discharged, and cease to be members of said companies. And the commanders of said companies shall, within thirty days, return to the Adjutant-General rolls of their respective companies, upon blank forms to be furnished by the Adjutant-General, in conformity with the provisions of Sect. 10 of said Act; and all such companies as shall not, within the said space of thirty days, have returned such rolls, or as shall appear by said rolls to be reduced to a less number than the minimum number of non-commissioned officers and privates by said Act established for a company of its arm, may be forthwith disbanded.

Application for the formation of new companies of the volunteer militia must be made at once to the Adjutant-General, as they will not be granted after the districting of the State for the formation of companies of the active militia under the new statute shall have been commenced.

All organizations of the Volunteer Militia other than those herein before enumerated as continued and retained, and excepting the two corps of Cadets which by said Act are expressly recognized and retained, are hereby disbanded; and all officers holding commissions in any such organization, and all General and Staff Officers of Divisions and Brigades, are hereby honorably discharged.

Provided, however, that any regiment or company of the Volunteer Militia, not herein before enumerated, which shall present to the Adjutant-General, within ten days, satisfactory proof of its existence, and power to recruit itself to the minimum strength required by said Act for an organization of its arm, and shall account for its neglect to make returns to the General Order No. 22 of this year, may be reinstated and continued.

The Commander-in-Chief avails himself of this occasion to tender his thanks to the Major-Generals, Brigadier-Generals, and the various Field, Staff, and Company Officers, who are by the operation of law discharged as aforesaid, for their past fidelity and efficiency in the service; and he entertains the hope that the reorganization of the militia will receive their constant and efficient co-operation.

By order of his Excellency, JOHN A. ANDREW, Governor and Commander-in-Chief.

WILLIAM SCHOULER, Adjutant General.

Aug. 31.—3w.

REBEL IRON CLADS.—The rebels have shown us that iron clad vessels are not a failure. The Tennessee, which was captured at Mobile, is more efficient than any of our iron clads, and one of the most formidable craft afloat. She was faster, stronger, and more heavily armed than any of our ships; and so confident were the rebels that they did not fear to engage our whole fleet of 13 vessels with 200 guns. Her armor consists of two and a half inch iron in bars eight inches wide crossing each other, and bolted down with one and three quarter inch bolts, making five inches of solid iron. This is backed by two feet of solid oak throughout the entire portion of the boat above the water line, and extending some feet below that.—From her casemates forward, including her pilot house, an additional inch of iron is given her, making six inches of plating, and an additional foot, making three feet of wooden backing at this part of the boat. The inclined sides are five inches of iron plating, with two feet of solid oak backing. Though fired at close quarters by our fleet, including the fifteen inch guns in the Monitors, no part of the plating was pierced by our bolts, and yet she was struck by nearly 200 shots. One shell from a fifteen inch gun made a deep indentation in the plating and broke its wooden backing.—Several of our ships run into her at full speed, but made no impression on her. At one point only was she vulnerable; her rudder chains were above deck with insufficient protection, and a 15 inch shot from the Chickasaw hit that point, severing her chains and rendering her unmanageable; then her crew, Admiral Buchanan being wounded, became demoralized and surrendered. If her rudder chains had been below the deck our whole fleet could not have taken her, but probably half of them would have gone to the bottom. For national service she is worth all the other prizes the navy has taken.

☞ The idea of utilizing coal dust, by putting it in such form as to serve for fuel, is practically carried out in Belgium. The end is effected by combining eight parts of coal tar with ninety-four parts of coal dust. The mixture, subjected to a great heat, becomes a paste, which is pressed into cakes. These cakes are warranted to produce not more than six per cent. of ashes, and are in great demand for generating steam on railway locomotives. We have no doubt that the heaps of coal dust wasting in our mines could be utilized by some process, and be disposed of at cheaper rates this winter, when coal will be so dear.

A WAY TO "HEAD" BED BUGS.—A correspondent says: "If any of your readers need a sure remedy for bed-bugs, they can have mine and cleanse the house of this vermin-trouble without expense. They have only to wash with salt and water, filling the cracks where they frequent with salt, and you may look in vain for them. Salt seems inimical to the bed-bugs, and they will not trail through it. I think it preferable to all 'ointments,' and the buyer requires no certificate to its genuineness."

Original Poetry.

[For the Wizard.]

Lines Suggested by the Repairs Upon the South Church.

The God of Light's imperial Throne is fixed above the sky,
His glory shines with full-orbed blaze and fills eternity;
Around Him sit on thrones of light a bright cherubic throng,
Who make the vast Pavilion ring with their immortal song.
This mighty God too dwells on earth, in Temples made with hands,
Where saints oft meet to sing His praise and learn His just commands.
How oft within these hallowed walls, to thee, O God, has risen,
The love-winged soul, and joined in praise the choral song of heaven;
While the sphered-seraphs of the sky, e'en with the strain beguiled,
Leaned from their rolling orbs to hear the humble song, and smiled.
O LOVE sublime can mount aloft, as on a seraph's car,
And bursting through yon azure vault, the golden gates unbar;
She through the pearly portals rides, where Jesus sits enthroned,
Amidst his own Shekinal flame, and there in glory zoned,
And halo-crowned, she joins in praise with all the shining train,
Who roll the flood of sacred song around the heavenly plain.
But Nature's wheel must cease to roll, and earthly temples fall,
And man himself forsake the scenes of this terrestrial ball;
But who, when He whose fiat gave birth to the rolling sun,
Shall pluck him from his radiant sphere, no more his course to run;
When tombs shall burst, and stars shall rush, as from their orbits hurled,
And Chaos drive in wild dismay her ploughshare o'er the world;
Who then of all the favored throng which worshipped here below,
Shall reach that Temple in the skies where joys forever flow?
Shall they who deemed the Gospel false, and all devotion vain?
Or they who, with a Critic's ear, heard only to complain?
Shall they who came with gaudy plumes to make a bright display?
Or those who merely came to see, and ape the popinjay?
Shall they, who, oft as Sabbath dawns, within this House appear,
To entertain with nasal songs their pious neighbor's ear?
Or those whose sordid souls refused a portion of their store,
When called to build fair Zion's wastes, or asked to help the poor?
Shall these, O Lord, thy blissful face in realms of glory see?
Shall their feet tread Thy golden Courts, or press the crystal Sea!
Shall unclean hands e'er wave the palm before Thy glorious Throne?
Or those bright crowns adorn their brows which shine for God alone?
The Muse is dumb—she answers not—their record is on high,
With Him whose Throne for judgment stands above the starry sky.
But they who sought to learn His Will, by holy angels given,
And keep the golden rule, proclaimed by Him who came from heaven;
Whose lips, and hands, and lives are clean, whose breasts with pity glow,
Whose ears are quick to hear the cry of misery and woe;
Whose hearts are open wide to share the bounties God has given,
With those who never here below have been so blest of Heaven;
Whose generous souls to Church or Sect disdained to be confined,
But loved the good of every name, and prayed for all mankind;
These—these shall stand above, enwrapped in Glory's cloudless blaze,
Shall strike the Harp, and sweep the Lyre, to the Redeemer's praise;
Yea, they shall "walk in soft white light, with Kings and Priests abroad,
And they shall summer high in bliss upon the Hills of God."

Selected.

CHINESE IRON MENDING.—The Chinese are dexterous menders of broken iron vessels. Their method is described by Dr. Lockhart. The surface of the broken vessel is first scraped clean. A portion of cast iron is then melted in a crucible no bigger than a thimble, in a furnace as large as the lower half of a common tumbler. The iron, when melted, is dropped on a piece of felt covered with charcoal ashes. It is pressed inside the vessel against the hole to be filled up, and as it exudes on the other side it is struck and pressed with a small roll of felt covered with ashes. The new and old iron adheres, and, the superfluous metal being removed, the vessel is as good as new.

☞ The question was recently proposed to a Down East editor: Are hoop skirts dangerous? He immediately answered that they are always very dangerous when they have anything in them!

WORKMEN'S DWELLINGS.

In some respects the most remarkable of the model lodging-houses in London are those which have been due to the liberality of Miss Burdett Coutts and Mr. Peabody. The munificence of the lady here named is well known to all who have interested themselves in the welfare of the people, especially in crowded localities. In a district about half a mile northeast of Shoreditch church is Columbia Square, a name given by Miss Burdett Coutts to the handsomest cluster of workmen's buildings hitherto erected in the metropolis. Four clusters or blocks of buildings enclose the four sides of an open quadrangle, and have two frontages—one toward the quadrangle, and one toward the road's outside. For distinction the four blocks are known respectively as Columbia Square, east, west, north, and south. Each block is of great length, five stories high, and fitted with baths, wash-houses, club-rooms, and numerous appliances conducive to health, cleanliness, and comfort. There are 390 rooms for 183 families. In the centre of the quadrangle is an elegant cross or architectural tower, bearing a few inscriptions; and northward of the cluster, separated from it only by a pleasant raised terrace, is a commodious new church, with school and parsonage. The rents average about two shillings (fifty cents) per room (a standard very extensively adopted in such buildings,) and the tenements are eagerly sought for.

Still more recently another cluster has been built, somewhat southward of the last, and in the thickly-populated district of Spitalfields. The reader will remember that Mr. Peabody, an American merchant, who had made a large fortune in England, some time ago made over the noble sum of a hundred and fifty thousand pounds sterling to trustees, to be applied as they might think best for the benefit of the poor of London. As the gift was a very unusual one, (the donor being still alive,) so is the duty of the trustees a delicate one; for they have to choose between many conflicting modes of benefitting the poor of so great a metropolis, and are inundated with applications from committees and secretaries of institutions. The trustees determined that one of their first enterprises should be the erection of a group of lodging houses to assist in putting to the test of experience the problem of making such places self-paying. A site was purchased, at the junction of White Lion street with Commercial street, Spitalfields, and on this site a handsome structure has lately been opened. The building has two main fronts, of two hundred and fifteen and one hundred and forty feet respectively, domestic Gothic in their architecture, and decidedly an ornament in a neighborhood where handsome buildings are "few and far between." A peculiarity in this structure is that the basement ground floor and first floor are built as shops, store-rooms, and dwelling-rooms for the shopkeepers; irrespective of the tenements (of two or three rooms each) on the second and third floors, which are well furnished with cupboards, cooking-ranges, boilers, ovens, lavatories, baths, etc.—Chambers' Journal.

A LOCK WITHOUT A KEYHOLE.—The impossibility of rendering a strong box altogether safe against theft, by means of skeleton keys, has led a locksmith on Frankfort-on-the-Main to hit upon the ingenious idea of constructing a strong box without any keyhole at all, and which even the owner himself cannot open. Why, what's the use of such a box? you will ask. But observe, inside is a clock-work, the hand of which the owner places at the hour and minute when he wants access to the box. The clock-work begins to move as soon as the lid is shut, and opens the lock from the inside at the moment which the hand of the clock indicates. Time, dependent upon the owner, is the key to the lock, a key which can neither be stolen from him nor imitated.

CHANGE OF INSTINCT.—The most curious instance of a change of instinct is mentioned by Darwin. The bees carried to Barbadoes and the Western Islands ceased to lay up honey after the first year. They found the weather so fine, and the materials for honey so plentiful that they quitted their grave, mercantile character, became exceedingly profligate and debauched, ate up their capital, and resolved to work no more, and amused themselves by flying about the sugar-houses and stinging the negroes.

SOUND TALK.

Gail Hamilton talks about right in the following from her pen, and which demands more than a passing thought. Speaking of high prices she says:

"Suppose sugar is thirty cents a pound, molasses a dollar a gallon, beef sold by the square inch, cotton cloth sixty cents a yard, and gold at two hundred and eighty. How long has it been since a man's life consisted in the abundance of sweets which he could swallow? If sugar is three times as high as it used to be, use one-third as much, and the equilibrium is at once restored. Even at that you will probably have as much as the soldiers have. If St. Paul would agree to eat no meat while the world standeth, lest he should make his brother to offend, cannot christian men and women forego beefsteak for a year, or two, or three, or twenty, that a nation perish not? If cambric and linen are expensive, are we all princes and princesses that we must have twelve dozen of everything, the wardrobe through? Pull out the bureau drawers and use their contents unflinchingly, regardless of the future, where the honor of now is imperative. Dive into old linings with scissors and needle, and gaer auld claes look amaist as weel's the new. Ask for black buttons at the shops and then see what an inexhaustible mine of black buttons your old boots at home are, and walk away without purchasing, at a clear gain of forty-two cents. Make your loaf cake of dried apples and molasses, and affirm resolutely that nobody could tell the difference till people are silenced, if not convinced! Economy can be made as a mathematical problem, and as merry as a July pic-nic. And having economised carefully and successfully, consider that the privilege of it are enough for your share, and send the money saved to the relief of wounded soldiers, or to the assistance of the freed people. It may be said that this does not take into account the really poor people; but so far as I have observed, the fearful looking for is not among the really poor people. It is not they who are threatened with absolute want, but they who fear a curtailment of luxuries, a diminution of dividends, an increase of expenditure, who have the most anxiety.

GALLOUPE'S ISLAND.—This Island is a post village in Boston Harbor, containing a population of from fifteen hundred to two thousand souls, besides some bounty jumpers who have no souls. A large number of the inhabitants are "conscript fathers." The climate is salubrious. Formerly there was snow on the Island all the year round—which was Jo. Snow, which froze to the place—which it isn't so now. The architecture of the place is varied, some of the buildings being of one story, and the others of two. The place is connected with the main land by a bridge called the Bellingham, and U. S. males swim over, being generally attended by a guard. The place has a thriving commerce. Its imports are chiefly made up of substitutes, and whiskey and New England rum, packed in the bosoms of visiting women, who almost invariably deposit their burdens on the wharf. The exports are soldiers and rejected substitutes. There are several stores in the place doing a thriving business, including the trade in pies and the trade in boots, both sewed and pegged. The religious advantages of the place are limited to the guard-house, where the most sinful of the people can repent at their leisure, with a diet admirably suited to the purpose. Many of the inhabitants join the church and "take orders." It is, on the whole, a very snug and economical place to live, and something should be done to encourage emigration from the less favored portions of the State. People going there receive rent, food and clothing free of expense for three years, and a large sum of money in hand—to say nothing about the chances for "travel, study and promotion."—Propeller.

GENERAL HAMILTON.—The dwelling-house in which Gen. Hamilton lived has just been taken down, the last of old residences in the lower part of New York. It was a three-story brick house, and a very genteel one in its day. The marble stone steps down which Hamilton walked on the morning that he left home for the bloody ground of Hoboken, where he fought with Burr, are all that remain of this once celebrated edifice. Nearly every passer-by clips off a bit of the marble and bears it away in commemoration of the great man whose sun went down in blood.

DRINKS ALL ROUND.

Joe Harris was a whole-souled, merry fellow, and very fond of his glass. After living in New Orleans several years, he came to the conclusion that he would visit an old uncle who lives in Massachusetts, whom he had not seen for many years. Now there is a difference between New Orleans and Massachusetts in regard to the use of ardent spirits; and when Joe arrived there and found all the people temperate, he felt bad, thinking with the famous old song, that "keeping the spirits up by pouring the spirits down" was the best way to make the time pass, and began to feel that he was in a pickle. But on the morning after his arrival in town, the old man and his sons being out at work, his aunt came to him and said: "Joe, you have lived in the South, and no doubt are in the habit of taking something about eleven o'clock. Now I keep some here for medical purposes, but let no one know it, as my husband wants to set a good example for the boys."

Joe promised, and thinking he would get no more that day, took, as he expressed it, a "buster." After that he walked out to the stable, and who should he meet but his uncle.

"Well," says he, "I expect that you are in the habit of drinking something down in New Orleans, but you will find us all temperance folks here, and for my sons, I don't let them know I have any brandy about, but I jest keep a little out here for my rheumatism. Will you accept a little?"

Joe signified his readiness, and took another horn. Then continuing his walk, he went to where the boys were building a fence. After conversing awhile, one of his cousins said:

"Joe, I expect you would like to have something to drink; and as the folks are so down on liquor, we keep some out here to help us along with our work."

Out came the bottle and down they sat, and he says by the time they went home he was as tight as he could be, and all from visiting a temperance family!

AN INFALLIBLE CURE FOR DYSENTERY.—Dr. Page, of Washington, communicates to the Republican of that city the following simple remedy, long known in family practice, and which was recently tried in the camp of the New York 22d Regiment, where there were from eighty to one hundred cases daily, and with rapid cures in every case:—

Recipe—In a teacup half full of vinegar, dissolve as much salt as it will take up, leaving a little excess of salt at the bottom of the cup. Pour boiling water upon the solution till the cup is two-thirds or three-quarters full. A scum will rise to the surface, which must be removed, and the solution allowed to cool.

Dose—Table spoonful three times a day until relieved.

The rationale of the operation of this simple medicine will readily occur to the pathologist, and in many hundred trials I have never known it to fail in dysentery and protracted diarrhœa.

THE SPONGE BUSINESS.—The sponge business has become a prominent department of industry in the Bahama Islands. It is almost entirely the growth of the last twenty years, and nets annually about $20,000. The sponge is fished and raked from the sandy bottom of the ocean at the depth of twenty, forty or sixty feet. It belongs to a very low order of animal life, organization hardly being detected. When first taken from the water it is black, and becomes exceedingly offensive from decomposition. It is so poisonous in this condition that it almost blisters the flesh it happens to touch. The first process is to bury it in the sand, where it remains for two or three weeks, in which time the gelatinous animal matter is absorbed and destroyed by the insects that swarm in the sand. After being cleansed it is compressed and packed in bales like cotton. The sponge has been applied to a variety of new purposes, and within the past few years has quadrupled in value.

BOYS' SLEDS.—Among the latest patents, is a coasting sled for boys, which can be steered at will, without using the leg for a rudder, according to the old fashion. The sled rests upon four runners, and those forward with the aid of ropes, can be turned to the right or left by the lad, who sits upright, with both feet braced forward. But no kind-hearted genius has yet invented a sled which will pull itself up hill.

The Wizard.

WEDNESDAY, SEPT'R. 14, 1864.

PRESIDENTIAL MATTERS.

We publish in another column the platform of the Democratic party as laid down at their late National Convention, and also General McClellan's letter of acceptance of the nomination for President. We do not now recollect of an instance where the nominee for this high office so distinctly repudiated the principles of the party that put him in nomination, as General McClellan has in this case.

Considerable public discussion is now had as to the meaning of the platform, And upon this subject there is really more room for debate, than on the meaning of McClellan's letter.

The first resolution prates of the Unionism of the Democratic party. The second declares for an armistice, though in guarded phraseology. The third threatens revolutionary resistance to the administration in case of the repetition of executive interference in the election of Kentucky, Maryland, Missouri and Delaware. The fourth complains of executive usurpation, setting forth a short bill of particulars. The fifth denounces the administration for neglecting prisoners, but as to what prisoners are referred to it is not so clear. According to the Democratic creed, the Southern rebels are "fellow citizens" as much as Northern soldiers. The sixth alleges sympathy with our soldiers.

Not a word is uttered against the rebels, nor against the rebellion, nor against the doctrine of secession. Not a syllable is said in favor of prosecuting the war in case their "Convention of all the States" should be unable to agree.

It is said by the Democratic writers that the platform is not for an armistice, but for "immediate efforts to be made for a cessation of hostilities." Doesn't this mean precisely the same thing as an armistice? Is it quite honest to say that a party is not in favor of a thing which they think immediate efforts should be made to obtain?

The plain meaning of all these resolutions is, that the Democracy propose to stop the war, negotiate for a re-construction of the Union, and, if they can't get that, then drive the best bargain they can with the South upon the matter of recognizing their bogus government. Every sensible man knows that a platform that suits Vallandigham, Wood, Harris, and the like, must mean this.

These Copperheads are satisfied with this platform; and for them to support the nomination of McClellan, who plainly enunciates the very opposite doctrine, would be to place themselves in an attitude most shamefully hypocritical and inconsistent. Therefore we have not been surprised to learn from the public prints that these grand Moguls of the Peace Wing of the party have treated McClellan just as he has treated the platform,—repudiated him.

McClellan is wrong in accepting the nomination of a party whose platform of principles he spits upon. But he virtually says that he don't believe the platform represents the opinion of the Convention. This is cool! The resolutions adopted by the Convention say no more war, an armstice and peace in the Union if it can be attained without further fighting, if not peace with the Southern Confederacy. McClellan says, no peace till the Union is re-established under the old Constitution. And then he says my views are the views of the Convention, and these resolutions are but so much paper and I shall pay no attention to them.

What the Democracy will do in this exigency of their affairs, is more than we can guess. Probably there will be a peace candidate nominated. Meanwhile the Lincoln stock is continually rising in the political stock exchange.

Testimonials of Respect.—Last Thursday evening the pupils of Peabody High School called in a body upon their late highly respected teacher, Mr. Isaac N. Carleton, to give him a parting visit. They found him in his dressing gown, quite unprepared to receive so numerous a company, and somewhat surprised at this large accession to his family. Before he had time to recover his usual equanimity, one of the pupils, Mr. James Powell, stepped forward and addressed him in behalf of the school, tendering their grateful thanks for his labors for the improvement of their minds, manners and morals—at the same time presenting him with a silver-plated salver and ice-pitcher, and two goblets of fine workmanship, together with their best wishes for his present and future welfare. The remainder of the evening was passed in social enjoyment.

Insurance.—In our advertising columns will be found the advertisement of Derby & Childs, who are engaged in the business of Fire, Marine and Life Insurance. Messrs. D. & C. issue Participation Policies, thus affording the public cheap insurance, by allowing them three fourths of net profits in Stock Companies without their assuming any liability. If premiums are paid in gold losses will be paid in gold.

CO. A, 39TH REGIMENT.

List of killed, and taken prisoners, of Co. A, 39th Mass., at the fight on the Weldon Railroad, Aug. 18th and 19th.

KILLED, AUGUST 18TH.

Private	W. G. Nichols,	Lynnfield, Mass.

TAKEN PRISONERS, AUGUST 19TH.

1st Sergt.	J. P. Dodge,	So. Danvers, Mass.
"	J. W. Cotterell,	Belfast, Me.
Corporal	T. Bean,	Easton, Mass.
"	S. C. Packard,	Bridgewater, Mass
"	G. W. Cole,	Bridgewater, Mass.
Private	T. S. Adams,	Charlestown, Mass.
"	G. Boodry,	Easton, Mass.
"	G. W. Burnham,	Essex, Mass.
"	W. S. Evans,	Danvers, Mass.
"	J. H. Gibbs,	Danvers, Mass.
"	D. B. Flynn,	Stowe, Mass.
"	C. M. Goodwin,	Danvers, Mass.
"	A. A. Haskell,	Essex, Mass.
"	W. Hunting,	Needham, Mass.
"	S. Martean,	Worcester Mass.
"	R. E. Mears,	Essex, Mass.
"	W. Myers,	South Danvers, Mass.
"	B. G. Morse,	Lawrence, Mass.
"	S. E. Ordway,	Boston, Mass.
"	J. H. Perkins,	Danvers, Mass.
"	J. N. Sawyer,	Concord, Mass.
"	E. Stevens,	Needham, Mass.
"	G. F. Whitcomb,	Stowe, Mass.
Pioneer	J. H. Mitchell,	Lynnfield, Mass.

There are now present for duty—1 sergeant, 2 corporals, 10 privates, in command of Lieut. Porter. Capt. Nelson is in command of the regiment. He, with Lieut. Porter, decided not to accept the "Richmond draft."

HISTORY OF A COMFORT BAG.

For the information of the benevolent young school girls and boys, who some time since sent to the camps a quantity of soldiers' comfort bags, we publish the following letter. It gives the simple history of one of these little messengers of comfort and usefulness, and shows how they are appreciated, in hospital as well as camp.

It is to be remembered that this is the story of only one bag; if each one of all the others could have a narrator as faithful, what a shower of blessings would return and fall upon the young donors here at home! They would feel doubly repaid for all the cost and trouble they have had, by the consciousness that they have done good to others.

New Richmond, where the letter is dated, is a flourishing town in Ohio, on the Ohio River, about 20 miles above Cincinnati:

New Richmond, Sept. 5th, 1864.

Dear Little Girls,—It is with pleasure I take my pen to answer your letter. I am not a soldier, but a soldier's widow. My husband enlisted in Tennessee, in the 18th Pennsylvania Cavalry, Co. B. He was wounded the 18th of June, below the knee; he was near Charles City, Va., and was taken to Huddington Hospital, West Philadelphia; had his limb amputated the 28th of July, and died the 18th of August. He bore his sufferings with great patience, rejoicing in hope of that world, where sickness, sorrow, pain, and death are felt, and feared no more.

I left home the 7th of August and arrived at the hospital the ninth, and while taking care of my husband, I needed some thread to make a ring pad; so I went to the room where the commissary stores are and inquired of the lady in charge, If I could get some thread? She handed me a little bag, saying—I think you will find some there: which I did, and a nice towel and pocket handkerchief, which were very acceptable, as mine were all dirty. I found some cloves;—having the teeth ache I instantly put some in my mouth. On my way home I was sick and could not drink water, so I took a paper of tea from my little bag, put it in a bottle and filled it with cold water; after standing awhile I had some good tea. The little book I gave to my niece;—her father is in Gen. Grant's army;—the bandage, buttons, and gum remain in the bag.

I have given you its history,—accept my thanks, and may God bless these little girls and increase their usefulness as they increase in years. May they live long and be happy, and do much good before they are called to their reward.

God has given me one little girl and eight boys, all living except one, who died of diptheria, the ninth of November, 1863.

Please accept these few lines from your well-wishing friend,

Laura B. Hull.

In addition to the above, we have a letter from a soldier, addressed to one of the little Misses, which we publish below:

Slough Hospital,
Alexandria, Va., August 24, 1864.

My dear Miss,—I have just received your offering to the soldiers, and will gladly say that I was greatly pleased at receiving at, but was more pleased at the spirit you have commenced to show at your early age, though I have no great number of years to boast of, being only twice as old as you are; yet I have seen some of the hardships of a soldier' life.

I have been in the 2d Mass. Cavalry for a year and a half, and am now shot through the wrist so that I can never use it again.

Remember me to your little brother.

From a soldier friend,

Charles P. Celmond.

Ordination and Installation.—We learn that Mr. Montgomery, who has been preaching some time past at the Unitarian Church in this town, will be ordained and installed as pastor of that society to-morrow, the services to commence at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. It is understood that Rev. Dr. Briggs, of Salem, will preach the sermon, and that the other parts will fall to clergymen in this vicinity.

Elections.—Vermont, "The star that never sets," has gone Union by 20,000 majority; Maine, the "Pine Tree State," ditto. At this rate Father Abraham will go out of New England with 120,000 plurality. "How are you, Mac?"

REPUBLICAN CAUCUSES.

At a meeting of the Republicans of Danvers, held at the Town Hall, on Saturday evening, Sept. 10,—J. Q. A. Bachelder, Moderator, E. F. Putnam, Secretary,—the following gentlemen were elected delegates to the State Convention:

J. Q. A. Bachelder, E. F. Putnam, I. W. Andrews, Charles P. Preston, J. D. Black.

To the County Convention—John A. Putnam, George Porter, J. Q. A. Bachelder, Augustus Fowler, Allen Knight.

To the Congressional Conveinion—Augustus Mudge, S. P. Cummings, Wm. Endicott, G. B. Martin, S. D. Shattuck.

To the Senatorial Convention—I. W. Andrews, J. R. Langley, J. C. Butler, Nathan Tapley, H. A. Perkins.

Voted, That each delegation have power to fill any vacancies that may exist.

The following resolution, submitted by S. P. Cummings, was adopted by the meeting:

Resolved, That John A. Andrew, Henry Wilson, and John B. Alley, justly deserves a re-nomination, for the faithful, able and efficient manner in which they have discharged the duties of their several offices; and we earnestly hope our delegates will use all their efforts to secure their re-nomination, and if nominated, we pledge them our hearty and undivided support.

Voted, That the Secretary be requested to send the proceedings of the meeting to the South Danvers Wizard, for publication.

The Republicans of South Danvers met on Monday evening last. George F. Osborne was elected chairman, and Amos Merrill secretary.

It was voted that the delegates to the Worcester Convention be nominated from the floor, and the following were selected:

John Pinder, Henry Poor, Oscar Phillips, Dana Woodbury, Stephen Blaney, and Lewis Allen.

Voted, That delegates have authority to fill vacancies.

The following were elected a Rallying Committee:

Moses A. Shackley, Ethan Stone, R. G. Nelson, Daniel Woodbury, George E. Lewis, E. P. Barrett, Amos Merrill, Francis Marsh, Alonzo Raddin, Boman Viles, John V. Stevens, J. S. Needham, Charles Whipple, James P. King.

Town Committee—Francis Baker, Henry A. King, Stephen Blaney, A. P. Phillips, Merritt Cook, Miles O. Stanley, George F. Osborn.

Honorable.—We like to record those instances of high mercantile honor which give assurance that men are mindful of their moral as well as legal obligations. Mr. S. A. Carlton, who was a resident here some eighteen years ago, was engaged in business, and meeting with misfortune, failed. Since that time he has prospered in a remarkable degree, and recently called upon those to whom he was indebted and paid up not only all their original demands, but compound interest also. No one will question that conduct so honorable is deserving of prosperity.

Mr. C. is a brother of the late Mr. George R. Carlton, who was publisher and proprietor of the "Danvers Courier." He is now engaged in the friction match business, which he carries on so extensively that his stamp duties to the government amount to about $1400 per day, or nearly half a million dollars per annum.

Improvement.—Mr. Craig, who, for a number of years, carried on the printing establishment at Dye House Village, Lynn, has bought out the old mill estate at Newhall's Crossing, together with several lots of adjoining lands, and has already made excavations for the foundation of a new structure, to be built of brick. His design is to establish a cloth printing business.

Steam Fire Engine.—It has been known in town for some time, though we have inadvertently omitted to mention the fact before, that the Town's Committee has contracted with Button & Co., of New York, for the manufacture of a steam fire engine. The engine house is to be on the site now occupied by Price's paint shop, Foster street.

A. B. C.—The members of the Abbott Bowling Club will please take notice that the attic is now open every evening, that the alleys are in splendid condition, and every member is requested to tend up and so suffer no degeneration of this beneficient institution.

Salem.—From our Salem exchanges we transcribe the following news items:

Accident.—On Tuesday noon, a chaise, containing two ladies, came in collision with the Danvers omnibus on North Bridge. Both shafts of the chaise were broken, the horse ran, and the ladies were thrown out, receiving bruises not of a dangerous character.

Salute.—A salute of one hundred guns was fired on Salem Common, on Wednesday, and the bells of the city were rung, and flags displayed, in honor of the recent successes at Atlanta, and over the chief defences of Mobile.—This was done by subscriptions from the citizens.

Call Accepted.—Rev. Edward S. Atwood of Grantville has accepted the unanimous call of the Church and Proprietors, as the successor of Rev. I. E. Dwinell in the active Pastorate of the South Society.

Patent.—In the list of patents issued for the week ending Sept. 6th, we notice the name of "Miles O. Stanley of South Danvers, Mass., for metalic bridle winkers."

WHAT PROGRESS HAVE WE MADE IN THE WAR?

Washington, D. C., Sept. 9th, 1864.

Dear Wizard,—In my last letter I lamented the tone in which I sometimes hear men declare themselves tired of the war, and I propose in this to offer a few considerations why there is reason for encouragement in view of the progress made thus far in our efforts to suppress the rebellion.

In attempting to do so I do not expect to put forth any new or profound views upon the subject; I have not sufficient statistics before me, nor do I profess to have the ability, to enable me thus to edify your readers. But it will not be unprofitable for us to look back occasionally at the point from which we started and to reflect upon the progress we have made and where and how we stand to-day, in contrast with the rebels, in a military, financial and political point of view.

All I can do in the brief space of this letter will be to take a cursory glance at some of the successes achieved by our arms since the government first found the rebels arrayed in arms against its authority, and to refresh the memories of your readers as to some of the events which have become landmarks of our progress, lest they lose sight of that steady advance which history has recorded in our favor. That the leading politicians of the South had been for years planning and preparing for the outbreak, for which the election of Mr. Lincoln was used as a pretext, as would have been that of Fremont, is clear to every one who will read the evidence which is gradually being brought to light upon that subject and which is scattered all through the secret history of the incipient stages of the rebellion, long years back; while the administration of Buchanan was but a prologue to the rebellion itself, the programme of which was quietly begun by depleting Northern arsenals to supply the South with arms and munitions of war, so that when secession culminated in overt acts of war, the rebels were all panoplied for the contest, while we were pursuing the arts of peace, unconscious and unmindful of "grim-visaged" war then standing on the threshold of events. Our army consisted of some 13,000 men, scattered from Oregon to Texas, and our navy had been sent to foreign seas. From the moment of Mr. Lincoln's election preparations on the part of the rebels went on apace while the "Ship of State" had on board an imbecile captain, looking on at all this mutiny and solemnly declaring to the mutineers that although they had no right to pursue the course they had entered upon, and wreck the lives and fortunes of all on board, yet he could find no authority in his commission to coerce them into better conduct. A captain worthy of his post in such an hour of danger would have pointed to the yard-arm as authority sufficient for the occasion. So for months we drifted at the mercy of the angry elements, and in this impotent condition the inauguration of Mr. Lincoln found us. If we will look back to his Inaugural Address, we shall find that he calmly argued and expostulated with the rebels upon the course they were taking, pointed out the ruin in which they would involve themselves and us if allowed to go on unchecked, and while he expressed a determination to perform the duty which the Constitution and his oath of office imposed upon him, his whole tone was as conciliatory as any loyal man could wish; and he closed by saying:

"In your hands, my dissatisfied countrymen, and not in mine, is the momentous issue of civil war. The government will not assail you.—You can have no conflict without being yourselves the aggressors. You have no oath registered in heaven to destroy the government; while I have the most solemn one to preserve, protect and defend it.

* * * We are not enemies, but friends. We must not be enemies. Though passion may have strained, it must not break, our bonds of affection.

The mystic chords of memory, stretching from every battle-field and patriot grave to every living heart and hearthstone all over this broad land, will yet swell the chorus of the Union, when again touched, as surely they will be, by the better angels of our nature."

Could any one, however desirous of preserving peace, have asked for language more pacific than this? But the conflict had been planned by those to whom peace was distasteful, provided it included the preservation of the Union; and the conflict came. Fort Sumter was fired upon to prevent the possibility of a peaceable adjustment, and on the 14th of April, 1861, surrendered to the rebels. At that time neither our army nor navy had been increased, while the South had a large force under arms. On the next day, April 15, 1861, the President issued his call for 75,000 volunteers, to which the governors of Virginia, North Carolina and Tennessee (which states had not then pretended to secede) refused to respond, as did those of Missouri, Kentucky and Delaware, while Maryland shuffled and at first gave no decided response.

Washington was so isolated from the loyal states that troops could not even come to rescue it from capture without sprinkling the pavements of Baltimore with their blood. Two or three months of suspense were passed in preparation for the conflict of arms, at the end of which time we had no foothold in all the rebel states except at Fortress Monroe, Key West and Fort Pickens, and could scarcely keep the rebels at bay in front of the national capital.—Even Kentucky was neutral ground and Cairo was the extreme Southern point held by us in the West, while Missouri was over-run by the rebels and their batteries blockaded both the Mississippi and the Potomac. Then came the battle of the first Bull Run, the experience of which, while it filled the country with consternation at first, set us to preparing for the contest in earnest. Since that time the history of our arms, varied by disaster and defeats as should have been anticipated, has been, on the whole, a series of successes, among which are the capture of New Orleans and Baton Rouge, giving us possession of the mouth of the Mississippi and control of a large part of Louisiana; of Columbus, Bowling Green, Forts Donelson and Henry, Nashville, Memphis, Murfreesboro, Little Rock, Helena, Chattanooga, Knoxville, by means of which both Arkansas and Tennessee have been to a great extent reclaimed from rebel dominion, and East Tennessee, the granary of the South has stopped its supplies.

The capture of Fort Hatteras, Roanoke Island and Newbern in North Carolina, Norfolk and other points in Eastern Virginia, Port Royal and Morris Island in South Carolina; Jacksonville and other places in Florida has given us a chain of possessions all along the coast, which serve the double purpose of rendering the blockade now easy and efficient, and at the same time affording us points d'apui for inland operations; so that we are all the while strangling the rebellion when we are not able to strike it, and only a single port, Wilmington, remains where the blockade is not effective. Western Virginia has become a loyal State and Maryland has taken sides for the Union to such an extent that the rebels must have learned to look in vain for any organized resistance to the government in that direction.

By the capture of Vicksburg and Port Hudson the Mississippi was opened to the patrol of our gunboats and the so-called Confederacy cut completely in twain. Jeff. Davis himself declared, when exhorting the people of Mississippi to hold on to Vicksburg at every cost, that the decision blow of the war would be struck in the region of the Yazoo river, wherein he but foretold the importance of the victories which were so gloriously achieved by General Grant.

The resources of the rebels both in men and means have been greatly diminished by these acquisitions which we have been constantly making of their cities, communications and territory until their future conscriptions cannot reach more than half the population from which their present army was taken.

At the present moment their main force in the East is occupied in front of Richmond, whatever fate may be awaiting that city, while in the West the gallant army of Sherman has passed its way, like a wedge, into the heart of the Empire State of the South and holds Atlanta—the arsenal of the Confederacy—in a state of siege; and Farragut has struck a blow, reminding us of his brilliant feat at New Orleans, and which threatens Mobile with the fate of the Crescent City. Our flag now floats in every state (except Texas) of the thirty-six for which a star is emblazoned on its folds.—What is better than all, we have never lost an important point when once taken, notwithstanding the desperate efforts on the part of the rebels to overpower the garrisons left, often necessarily in weak force, to hold them; and every attempt which they have made to transfer the bloody conflict to Northern soil has resulted in hurling them back in defeat if not confusion.

These are some of the results of our military operations thus far, and who will say, in view of them, that we have not made long strides towards crushing this giant rebellion? Had any one, three years ago, described this progress as the sure result to follow our efforts would we have then considered it small?—Would we not, rather, have regarded it as determining the fate of the rebel confederacy, and only to be followed by a final blow?

But I must leave this matter for your readers to consider in the hope that this hasty and unskilful treatment of the subject may serve to give courage to the desponding, if it does not shame those who would give up all our brave soldiers have achieved and beg for peace at any price; on terms, even, which most of them would have scorned to accept before the contest began.

Yours, etc., Delta.

HOLIDAY SKETCHES.

And they drift so strange and swift,
There's no time for choosing
Which to follow, ——.

—C. P. Cranch.

Dear Wizard,—We live in a period of intense activity. The age, like the gentleman who inquires of Sir Umfreville the road to Chester, seems to devour the very way it treads. Among the evils which this general restlessness of body and mind has created, none is more apparent than the tendency of Society to snatch eagerly new ideas and lift them to an importance that does not belong to them. The ocean is not less turbulent than the American mind. Idea after idea is thrown to the surface of every wave, seized upon by some enthusiastic hobby-rider and ridden to its death. Rarely does there come up a great Neptunean thought, which, by the radiance of its truth, puts these phantasies to flight and calms the troubled waters.

Thus Society allows itself to be tyrannized over. Now Catholicism is about to burn Protestantism at the stake, Irishmen usurp the reins of government, and thus, by creating foolish fears and prejudices, a few politicians are lifted into office. Now the world is coming to an end burned by fire, and saints dressed in their ascension robes mount the house-tops. Now departed spirits come to earth, rap at our tables, play upon our pianos, confuse our tongues and heal diseases as of yore. Now beef makes sensual our bodies and infuses the plagues of the Middle Ages into our very bones, and men mortify their flesh, grow poor and wrinkled before their time on cold water, Graham bread and cabbage. Now the race is growing feeble and fast going to decay, and lo! our intellectual arenas become sparring grounds, where young Amazons and boys, imbarbes to "animated sounds," engage in conflict with imaginary foes.

But to enumerate the ideas possessed of little intrinsic value, that, in these later days, have flourished for awhile in good repute and died away, or which are still active and flaunting, would be a troublesome task—idle as that of counting the plagues let loose by luckless Pandora from Epimethens' jar. To describe their immediate effects, however, is not so difficult, for, ab uno disce omnes, they all possess the same features, are members of the same family.

One of the most noticeable effects of these evanescent theories is seen in the strong love of the people for novelty and show. Pretension rises to popularity in a day, but worth, which is modest, plods upwards through the heat of many suns. Some quack nostrum—Pill or Bitters—builds a house on Fifth Avenue for its shrewd inventor, while the fees of the honest village physician scarcely meet his daily wants. The minister in gown and white cravat, of brilliant rhetoric and showy gesture, preaches to smiling crowds, while the great, good man, of larger brain and richer piety, delivers his sermons to empty pews.

By the continual strengthening of this love for that which is pleasing and transitory, a distaste for hearty intellectual labor, we fear, has been created, which is rapidly tending to a chronic superficiality of mind among the people. Our literature is vapid and tame, pleasant enough for summer reading with the mercury at blood-heat, light enough for the dyspeptic brain, but wanting in that strength of diction, depth of reason and play of manly wit, which the reflecting mind craves, seeks and grows strong upon. The American mind is not a philosophic mind. In some of the sciences, and, perhaps, in many of the arts, we possess minds of the first rate order. But in the department of ethics, of poetry, music, and the higher departments of literature in which the greater and nobler faculties of the brain perform their work we recall but few, and these are rapidly passing away. The practicability of the American mind, its power of adapting means to ends, we know. It is a sublime and noble work, this seizing the great thoughts of those who have gone before and moulding them into institutions that elevate the race. But a practical mind is not generally a great mind. Back of execution is thought, and the brain that forgets to originate while it performs will reach imbecility at last.

Are we keeping full the reservoir out of which have flown our material prosperity and national greatness? Are we careful enough to increase the breadth of the foundation as we build higher the superstructure? Education is more generally diffused; but is it not more superficial, also? Wealth is more abundant; but is there not less of honor and uprightness in the workshop and counting-room? Churches are more numerous; but is there not less, too, of vital piety among religious professors? Printing presses, panting night and day, are uttering from their inky mouths the thoughts of authors, musical, literary, scientific; but is there not less of sublimity, strength, depth and acuteness?

Mark Miles.

DEMOCRATIC PLATFORM.

The following is the Platform adopted by the recent Convention at Chicago, and put forth as the voice of the Democracy in the present crisis:

Resolved, That in the future as in the past, we will adhere with unswerving fidelity to the Union under the Constitution, as the only solid foundation of our strength, security and happiness as a people, and as a frame work of Government equally conducive to the prosperity of all the States, both Northern and Southern.

Resolved, That this Convention does explicitly declare, as the sense of the American people, that after four years of failure to restore the Union by the experiment of war, during which, under pretence of military necessity or war power, higher than the Constitution, the Constitution has been disregarded in every part, and public liberty and private rights alike trodden down, and the material prosperity of the country essentially impaired, justice, humanity, liberty and the public welfare demand that immediate efforts be made for a cessation of hostilities with a view to an ultimate convention of all the States, or other peaceable means, to the end that at the earliest practicable moment peace may be restored on the basis of the Federal Union of the States.

Resolved, That the direct interference of the military authority of the United States in the recent elections held in Kentucky, Maryland, Missouri and Delaware, was a shameful violation of the Constitution, and the repetition of such acts will be held as revolutionary, and resisted with all the means and power under our control.

Resolved, That the aim and object of the Democratic party is to preserve the Federal Union and the rights of the States unimpaired, and they hereby declare that they consider the Administrative usurpation of extraordinary and dangerous powers not granted by the Constitution, the subversion of civil and military law in States not in insurrection, the arbitrary military arrest, imprisonment, trial and sentence of American citizens in States where the civil law exists in full force, the suppression of the freedom of speech and of the press, the denial of the right of asylum, the open and avowed disregard of State rights, the employment of unusual test oaths and interference with and denial of the right of the people to bear arms, as calculated to prevent the restoration of the Union and perpetuation of a Government deriving its just powers from the consent of the governed.

Resolved, That the shameful disregard of the Administration of its duty in respect to our fellow citizens who now and long have been prisoners of war in a suffering condition, deserves the severest reprobation on the score alike of public and common humanity.

Resolved, That the sympathy of the Democratic party is heartily and earnestly extended to the soldiery of our army, who are and have been in the field under the flag of our country, and in the event of our attaining power they will receive all the care, protection, regard, and kindness, that the brave soldiers of the Republic have so nobly earned.

GEN. McCLELLAN'S LETTER OF ACCEPTANCE.

Orange, N. J., Sept. 8, 1864.

Gentlemen:—I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter informing me of my nomination by the Democratic National Convention, recently assembled at Chicago, as their candidate at the next election for President of the United States. It is unnecessary for me to say to you that this nomination comes to me unsought. I am happy to know that when the nomination was made the record of my public life was kept in view. The effect of long and varied service in the army during war and peace has been to strengthen and make indellible in my mind and heart the love and reverence for the Union, Constitution, laws and flag of our country, impressed upon me in early youth. These feelings have thus far guided the course of my life and must continue to do so to its end.

The existence of more than one government over the region which once owned our flag is incompatible with the peace, the power and the happiness of the people. The preservation of our Union was the avowed object for which the war was commenced. It should have been conducted for that object only, and in accordance with those principles which I took occasion to declare when in active service. Thus conducted, the work of reconciliation would have been easy, and we might have reaped the benefits of our many victories on land and sea.

The Union was originally formed by the exercise of a spirit of conciliation and compromise. To restore and preserve it the same spirit must prevail in our councils and the hearts of the people.

The re-establishment of the Union in all its integrity is, and must continue to be, the indispensable condition in any settlement. As soon as it is clear, or even probable, that our present adversaries are ready for peace upon the basis of the Union, we should exhaust all the resources of statesmanship practiced by civilized nations, and taught by the traditions of the American people, consistent with the honor and interests of the country, to secure such a peace, re-establish the Union, and guarantee for the future the constitutional rights of every State. The Union is the one condition of peace. We ask no more.

Let me add what I doubt not was, although unexpressed, the sentiment of the Convention, as it is of the people they represent—that when any one State is willing to return to the Union it should be received at once with a full guarantee of all its Constitutional rights.

If a frank, earnest and persistent effort to obtain these objects should fail, the re ity for ulterior consequences will those who remain in arms against t
But the Union must be preserved at al
I could not look in the face of my gal rades of the army and navy, who vived so many bloody battles, and that their labors and the sacrifice o of our slain and wounded brethren in vain; that we had abandoned t for which we have so often periled
A vast majority of our people, whet army and navy or at home, would, a hail with unbounded joy, the perman ration of peace on the basis of the Un
the Constitution, without the effusion drob of blood. But no peace can be without Union.

As to the other subjects presented olutions of the Convention I need that I should seek in the Constitut
United States and the laws framed dance therewith the rule of my du limitations of Executive power; e restore economy in public expendit tablish the supremacy of law, and by tion of a more vigorous nationali our commanding position among the the earth.

The condition of our finances, the tion of the paper money, and th thereby imposed on labor and capital necessity of a return to a sound fin tem; while the rights of citizens and of States, and the binding authori over the President, army and peop jects of not less vital importance i in peace.

Believing that the views here ex but those of the Convention and you represent, I accept the nomi realize the weight of the responsil borne, should the people ratify y
Conscious of my own weakness, seek persistently the guidance of t
the Universe, and relying on his a aid do my best to restore Union and suffering people, and to establish their liberties and rights.

I am, gentlemen, very respect
Your obedient servant,
GEORGE B. McCL

To Horatio Seymour and others o mittee.

Ratification Meeting.—The s
"Little Mac" held a large meeti last Thursday evening. Delegation ent from Lynn, Marblehead, and
J. S. Cabot, of Salem, presided, formidable array of Vice Preside whom were Messrs. Rufus Brow
Sutton, Jr., Henry C. Poor, H.
J. Hubbard, Henry Bushby, of Sou
Edw. D. Kimball, H. W. S. Cleve
Warren, Daniel Richards, Levi M
Eveleth, of Danvers. Miles Osb
South Danvers, and M. J. Currier were among the Secretaries. Nea above acted with the Bell-Evere years ago.

Speeches were made by J. S. Ca
Northend, Wm. C. Endicott, of Hiram O. Wiley ("We are co Abraham,") of South Danvers. meeting was also held, and speech by several individuals.

The Salem Register in noticing says:

"The McClellan Democracy he pear to be composed of the old party and the remains of the 1860—that is to say such portio still cherish a hostility to the Lin tration. The policy of the party to make as much bluster, noise, possible, in the hope of deludin
the belief that Little Mac is ca thing before him. But the day demonstrations, and street parad lights to have any appreciable effe
They can gather a crowd at any voters are not deceived by them.
a-days think. They have watche of the war with an intenser an gent interest than politicians gi for; they have weighed the p engaged in it, and they made long ago on the great ideas at minedly that no glare and gli show of enthusiasm can mislea Chicago Democracy may have with music, and banners, and crackers and blue-lights, every week from now until the day o
it would not alter the result.
of the country will present a phalanx, and will vindicate th gallant soldiers in the field and oak on the sea, by an unmistaka tion at the polls.

Marriages

In Middleton, Sept. 1st, by Johnson, Mr. Eben U. King of to Miss Louise Trow of Middlet
In Salem, Sept. 4, by Rev. M
Richard Hynas to Miss Lizzie C
Danvers.
5th, by Rev. W. Spaulding
Clough to Mrs. Sylvia Clough,
Danvers.
6th, by Rev. Mr. Haskell, Peabody of Newburyport, to daughter of Ephraim Allen Esq
In Beverly, Aug. 28th, by Re
Mr. James H. Kelley to Miss Lo
both of Danvers.
In Lynn, Sept. 8, by Rev.
Mr. B. Waldo Edmands of Miss Lizzie H, adopted daught ating clergyman.

Deaths.

In this town, Sept. 5th, W
28 years.
6th, Dennis E, son of Den
O'Ragan, 4 months.
10th, Mrs. Emeline A. Tucke
27 days.
In Salem, Sept. 6th, Annie of Capt. John G. and Helen A.
Ann Maria, daughter of Davi
Murphy, 5 yrs 9 mos; 7th, Jo
David and Margaret Ryan, 7 y
Catharine, wife of John Carey
John Hammond, 76 yrs 8 mos
Mrs. Emeline K, wife of Mr. J yrs; Ada Frances, daughter of Sarah W. Williams, 4 yrs; 11th
Briggs, 34 years; Nellie Jewe
John B and Sarah A Skinner,
Eliza J, wife of Mr. George Mass. Regt.) of South Danvers.
In Beverly, Sept. 11, Mrs. A
Rev. J. C. Foster, (pastor o
Church) 45 years.
In Marblehead, Sept. 4th,
Roundey, formerly of Co. A, 1
45 years.
In Essex, Sept. 5th, Charli years 1 month; 7th, Mr. Dani
years.
In Rowley, Aug. 25, Emma daughter of Sanford and Helen 10 months 23 days; 29th, Ri son of Sanford and Helen Bod months 9 days.
In Boston, Sept. 7th, of co
Lewis E. Josselyn, 33 yrs 3 mo
Josselyn Esq, of the Lynn Bay

ORSTEDS.

s day opened our Fall stock of Worsteds.

ll line of the best colors—most ought last spring, consequently nabled to sell them at our usual e, warrant them the best goods ; and will sell them at less than olesale prices.

220 Essex St., Salem,
JOHN P. PEABODY.

CASES for sale at PEABODY'S, et.

sicians' Notice.

ans of Danvers have unanimous- harge on and after Sept. 10th $1 s a report that the Missouri guer- Quantrell has been captured.

NOTICE.

essing Little Children," and a Furlough."
ns for the above beautiful En- ved at
F. STEVENS' Jewelry Store.

iber, following the example of ; men, has concluded to adopt the All goods bought or jobs left ed, must be paid for on delivery
B. F. STEVENS.
vers, Aug. 31, 1864.

received for LEWANDO'S FRENCH
M. E. CRANE.
tf

OSBORNE'S Store, and look at the iety of new styles in HATS and ssex street.

rmy hospital—the bloody battle-field— of the rich and humble abode of the ie office and the sacred desk—from the , distant valleys and far-off islands of rom every nook and corner of the civi- is pouring in the evidence of the aston- of DRAKE'S PLANTATION BIT- usands upon thousands of letters like the y be seen at our office.

REEDSBURY, Wis., Sept. 16, 1863.
I have been in the army hospitals for nths—speechless and nearly dead. At ey gave me a bottle of Plantation Bit- Three bottles restored my speech and * * *
C. A. FLAUTE.

SOUTH WARSAW, O. July 28, 1863.
One young man, who had been sick and he house for two years with Scrofula and after paying the doctors over $150 with- has been cured by ten bottles of your
EDWARD WOUNALL.

wing is from the Manager of the Union l for the Children of Volunteers:
MEYER MANSION, FIFTY-SEVENTH ST.,
New York, August 2, 1863.
AKE: Your wonderful Plantation Bitters iven to some of our little children suffer- eakness and weak lungs with most happy little girl, in particular, with pains in her f appetite, and daily wasting consumption, ll medical skill had been exhausted, has ely restored. We commenced with but a of Bitters a day. Her appetite and pidly increased, and she is now well * *
Respectfully, MRS. O. M. DEVOE."

I owe much to you, for I verily believe ion Bitters have saved my life.
V. W. H. WAGGONER, Madrid, N. Y."

Thou wilt send me two bottles more of ation Bitters. My wife has been greatly y their use.
iend, ASA CURRIN, Philadelphia, Pa."

I have been a great sufferer from Dys- l had to abandon preaching. * * * The Bitters have cured me.
EV. J. S. CATHORN, Rochester, N. Y."

Send us twenty-four dozen more of your Bitters, the popularity of which are daily with the guests of our house.
SYKES, CHADWICK & CO.,
etors Willard's Hotel, Washington, D. C.

I have given the Plantation Bitters to of our disabled soldiers with the most as- effect.
G. W. D. ANDREWS,
rintendent Soldiers' Home, Cincinnati, O.

The Plantation Bitters have cured me of plaint, of whi h I was laid up prostrate and andon my Business.
H. B. KINGSLEY, Cleveland, O."

The Plantation Bitters have cured me of ement of the kidneys and urinary organs istressed me for years. It acts like a charm.
C. C. MOORE, 254 Broadway, N. Y."
&c. &c. &c. &c.

antation Bitters make the weak strong, the brilliant, and are exhausted nature's great They are composed of the celebrated Cal rk, Wintergreen, Sassafras, Roots, Herbs, reserved in perfectly pure St. Croix Rum.

S.—T.—1860—X.

s of sedentary habits troubled with weak- itude, palpitation of the heart, lack of appe- ess after eating, torpid liver, constipation, ve to suffer if they will not try them.

are recommended by the highest medical au- and are warranted to produce an immediate l effect. They are exceedingly agreeable, pure, and harmless.

.—Any person pretending to sell Plantation n bulk or by the gallon is a swindler and im- It is put up only in our patent log cabin Beware of bottles refilled with imitation de- stuff for which several persons are already n. See that every bottle has our private States Stamp over the cork unmutilated, and e on steel plate side label.

y respectable dealers throughout the habita- e.

P. H. DRAKE & CO.
202 Broadway, N. Y.
6—1yr

GREAT ENGLISH REMEDY.

SIR JAMES CLARKE'S

EBRATED FEMALE PILLS!

ared from a prescription of Sir J. Clarke, M. ., Physician Extraordinary to the Queen.

s well known medicine is no imposition, but a ure and safe remedy for Female Difficulties and uctions, from any cause whatever; and, although erful remedy, they contain nothing hurtful to onstitution.

ll cases of Nervous and Spinal Affections, pain Back and Limbs, Fatigue on slight exertion itation of the Heart, Hysterics, and Whites, these will effect a cure, when all other means have ; and, although a powerful remedy, do not in iron, calomel, antimony, or anything hurtful constitution.

l directions in the pamphlet around each age, which should be carefully preserved.

r full particulars, obtain, free, of the agent, a hlet. Sold by all Druggists.

e United States Agent,
JOB MOSES, 27 Cortlandt St., New York.

B.—$1 and 6 postage stamps enclosed to any orized agent, will insure a bottle, containing over lls, by return mail. March 9, 1864.—1 yr.

Millinery Notice.

The subscriber has removed to 184 ESSEX STREET, SALEM, opposite Central St. Grateful for the patronage bestowed by her friends whilst in South Danvers, she would desire its continuance at her new place of business, where will be found a new and desirable stock of Millinery and other articles which will be sold or made up on the most reasonable terms.

PAULINE SYMONDS.
Sept. 7th, 1864—3w

U. S. 7-30 LOAN.

The Secretary of the Treasury gives notice that subscriptions will be received for Coupon Treasury Notes, payable three years from Aug. 15th, 1864, with semi-annual interest at the rate of seven and three-tenths per cent. per annum, principal and interest both to be paid in lawful money.

These notes will be convertible at the option of the holder at maturity, into six per cent. gold bearing bonds, payable not less than five nor more than twenty years from their date, as the Government may elect. They will be issued in denominations of $50, $100, $500, $1,000 and $5,000, and all subscriptions must be for fifty dollars, or some multiple of fifty dollars.

The notes will be transmitted to the owners free of transportation charges as soon after the receipt of the original Certificates of Deposit as they can be prepared.

As the notes draw interest from August 15, persons making deposits subsequent to that date must pay the interest accrued from date of note to date of deposit.

Parties depositing twenty-five thousand dollars and upwards for these notes at any one time will be allowed a commission of one-quarter of one per cent., which will be paid by the Treasury Department upon the receipt of a bill for the amount, certified to by the officer with whom the deposit was made. No deductions for commissions must be made from the deposits.

SPECIAL ADVANTAGES OF THIS LOAN.

IT IS A NATIONAL SAVINGS BANK, offering a higher rate of interest than any other, and THE BEST SECURITY. Any savings bank which pays its depositors in U. S. Notes, considers that it is paying in the best circulating medium of the country, and it CANNOT pay in anything better, for its own assets are either in government securities or in notes or bonds payable in government paper.

It is equally convenient as a temporary or permanent investment. The notes can always be sold for within a fraction of their face and accumulated interest, and are the best security with banks as collaterals for discounts.

Convertible into a Six per cent. 5-20 Gold Bond.

In addition to the very liberal interest on the notes for three years, this privilege of conversion is now worth about three per cent. per annum, for the current rate for 5-20 Bonds is not less than NINE PER CENT. PREMIUM, and before the war the premium on six per cent. U. S. stocks was over twenty per cent. It will be seen that the actual profit on this loan, at the present market rate, is not less than ten per cent. per annum.

ITS EXEMPTION FROM STATE OR MUNICIPAL TAXATION.

But aside from all the advantages we have enumerated, a special Act of Congress EXEMPTS ALL BONDS AND TREASURY NOTES FROM LOCAL TAXATION. On the average, this exemption is worth about two per cent. per annum, according to the rate of taxation in various parts of the country.

It is believed that no securities offer so great inducements to lenders as those issued by the Government.— In all other forms of indebtedness, the faith or ability of private parties, or stock companies, or seperate communities, only, is pledged for payment, while the whole property of the country is held to secure the discharge of all the obligations of the United States.

While the government offers the most liberal terms for its loans, it believes that the very strongest appeal will be to the loyalty and patriotism of the people.

Duplicate certificates will be issued for all deposits.— The party depositing must endorse upon the ORIGINAL certificate the denomination of notes required, and whether they are to be issued in blank or payable to order. When so endorsed it must be left with the officer receiving the deposit, to be forwarded to the Treasury Department.

SUBSCRIPTIONS WILL BE RECEIVED by the Treasurer of the United States, at Washington, the several Assistant Treasurers and designated Depositaries, and by the

First National Bank of Salem, Mass.
First National Bank of Boston, Mass.
Second National Bank of Boston, Mass.
Third National Bank of Boston, Mass.
National Bank of the Republic, Boston, Mass.
Boston National Bank, Boston, Mass.
First National Bank of Amesbury, Mass.
First National Bank of Haverhill, Mass.
First National Bank of Newburyport, Mass.

And by all National Banks which are depositaries of public money, and

ALL RESPECTABLE BANKS AND BANKERS throughout the country will give further information and

AFFORD EVERY FACILITY TO SUBSCRIBERS.
August 17, 1864;—3m

BROCKSIEPER GAS REGULATOR!

30 PER CENT. SAVED.

Economy in the use of Gas, with the advantage of having a more brilliant light than heretofore, is a point at once desirable. Inventors have for many years sought to obtain this end by packing or checking in innumerable ways the flow of gas through the burner. Not one of these have attained the result wished for, viz:—a pure transparent flame without waste at any and all pressures obtained at any hour and in all localities. Those of our citizens who have taken the pains to examine Brocksieper's Patent Regulator, and have seen the gas ACTUALLY MEASURED THROUGH IT, are unanimous in its praise. We give below the names of a few of the merchants and others of Salem now using the Regulator:

Salem Register Office ;
Salem Gazette Office ;
Salem Statesman Office ;
Salem Post Office ;
Merchants Reading Room ;
George Creamer, Bookseller ;
Browning & Long, Dry Goods ;
S. F. Rogers, Confectioner ;
J. P. Peabody, Dry Goods ;
Theron Palmer, Shoe Dealer ;
Adams, Richardson & Co., Hardware ;
Doctor Johnson ;
Essex House ;
Wm. Webb, Jr., Druggist ;
Edward Brown, Sup't and Treas. Gas Co.

☞ Orders left at B. F. STEVENS' Jewelry Store will be promptly attended to. The burner can also be examined there.

SEND FOR A CIRCULAR.

25,000 of these Regulators have been manufactured and sold in the Eastern States since February last. 150 are now in use in Salem. PRICE $1 EACH—6 AND OVER, 90 cents ea h. The article is warranted in every respect. Call and examine for yourselves. Our facilities for testing the genuineness of this improvement will at once convince the most skeptical.

JOSEPH CLOUTMAN,
OFFICE—Bowker Block, Essex st., up-stairs.

NOTICE.—We have this day appointed Mr. JOSEPH CLOUTMAN, of Salem, our sole agent for the sale of Brocksieper's Gas Regulator for the following places: Salem, South Danvers, Beverly, Marblehead and Gloucester, Mass. All orders for the article, at wholesale or retail, to receive attention, must come through him, and he will establish sub-agencies in the above-named places.

HULL & GOODELL,
Sole Proprietors in the U. S.,
446 Broadway, N. Y., and 221 Washington st., Boston.
August 10—tf

J. F. Almy & Co.

PURCHASERS OF DRY GOODS.

AUTUMN, 1864.

JAMES F. ALMY & CO.,

Have in stock an assortment of

AUTUMN DRESS GOODS,

Comprising our usual great variety, at LOWEST PRICES.
Also—a large stock of MOURNING DRESS GOODS, well worthy of consideration;
Also—a fine assortment of LADIES' CLOTH GARMENTS, suitable for the season;
Also—a fine line of AUTUMN SHAWLS;
In Prints, M. de Laines, Cottons, Flannels, Shirtings, Towellings, Table Coverings, Napkins, and

HOUSEKEEPING GOODS,

of all kinds, our stock is complete and was bought largely before the late rise, and is now offered at LESS THAN WHOLESALE RATES.

JAMES F. ALMY & CO.,
188 Essex Street, opposite Central Street.
Salem, September 7th, 1864.

New Advertisements.

LIFE INSURANCE.

THE MUTUAL

LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY,

Of New York, with a Capital of $11,000,000,

And an Annual Income of over

$2,000,000,

AND declaring a LARGER DIVIDEND than any other Company in the United States, is the one in which every man should secure a policy on his life.

The importance of LIFE INSURANCE cannot be too highly estimated. It is the safest and most practicable method of securing to your family, in case of your death, the means of a comfortable and independent support. Thousands of instances might be cited where families have thus been provided with a competency, who would otherwise have been left in p nury and want. Husbands and fathers! treat not with indifference a subject of such vital importance, but see to it at once, that your families are provided with the inestimable advantages which this great and benevolent institution affords.

Because a man has wealth, it is no reason why he should not insure, for he knows not how soon his riches may "take to themselves wings and fly away." And let those who complain of the want of means, remember that

Forty-Five Cents a Week,

Will insure $1,000 on the life of a man of THIRTY.

AN ENDOWMENT POLICY,

Secures to the assured party, on attaining to a certain age, say 50, 55 or 60 years, an amount sufficient for his support in advanced age.

Another feature of this subject, deserving of especial attention. is

SURVIVORSHIP ANNUITIES!

By means of which one party may secure to another an annuity sufficient to maintain them in comfort and independence through life. A husband may thus make provision for his wife; a father for his child; or a brother for his sister.

Endowment Policies for Children.

By this means a parent may provide, by the payment of a small annual premium, a sum of money sufficient to enable a son to enter into business, at a proper age, or for any other provision, either for a son or daughter.

Many Gentlemen of So. Danvers and Vicinity!

Have already availed themselves of this opportunity now offered of ensuring their lives, and thus securing an inestimable blessing to themselves and their families. Let others be equally wise, and immediately follow their example.

JOHN H. DERBY,
Agent for South Danvers and Vicinity.
Post Office address, Salem, Mass.
September 14, 1864.—tf.

NEW BOOKS,

At G. M. WHIPPLE & A. A. SMITH'S.

LIFE and Letters of Dr. Scudder ;
Headley's New Book on the Adirondack ;
Pride of Life ; Centeola ;
Alabama and Sumter ;
Flirtations in Fashionable Life ;
New Tax Law ; Tax Payers' Guide ;
The Trial, by author of Heir of Redclyffe ;
Broken Lights, by Miss Cobbe ;
Man and his Relations, Brittain ;
Tit Bits, a new Cook Book for the Times.
sept 14 190 Essex Street, Salem.

LINSEED OIL.

RAW and Boiled Oil of the best quality, at
S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS',
sept 14 32 Front street, Salem.

WINDOW GLASS.

GERMAN Window Glass, of all sizes, for sale by the box or light at 32 Front Street, Salem.

List of Letters

REMAINING unclaimed in the Post Office at South Danvers, Mass., Sept. 13th, 1864.

☞ To obtain any of these letters, the applicant must call for ADVERTISED LETTERS, give the date of this list, and pay one cent for advertising.

☞ If not called for within one month, they will be sent to the Dead Letter Office.

☞ Office Hours from 7 A. M. to 8 P. M.

Michl. Ahearn	Charles Lawrence
Mrs L C Brown	E A Gardner
Michl. Cocklin	Master Frank Morgan
Martha P Wilson	Miss Mary B Hawkes
Thornton B Hoyt	Mrs M F Russell
Mrs Caroline A Wolcott	Mary A Sewa'l
Mrs Walter Nichols	Franklin Putnam
Daniel J Wentworth	Sylvester Rice
Mrs Alice Duffy	L Pratt
Mrs Ellen Saul	Mrs Clara R Nelson
Mr T O Getchell	Carrie A Rogers
James Maguire	Alma C Smith
James Merrill	William Willcock
John Wheeler	Miss J Donovan
Mess. J B Winn & Co	John Hieman
J G Walcott	Mr F D
Elisha G Hyde

DANIEL WOODBURY, P. M.

DERBY & CHILDS,

Fire, Marine and Life Insurance Agents.

ORDERS left at No. 24 Washington st., Salem, or received by mail, promptly attended to.

Losses equitably adjusted and promptly paid, and Insurance effected at reasonable rates.
Salem, August 10.—3m*

Dancing.

MR. E. UPTON'S Fall Term for Instruction in DANCING will commence on

SATURDAY, SEPT. 24TH,

at CREAMER HALL, Salem, at 2 o'clock. sep 7*

THE LARGEST

LADIES' FURNISHING STORE

IN SALEM.

THE GREATEST VARIETY

DISPLAYED IN THIS VICINITY.

THE RICHEST GOODS, THE LOWEST PRICES,

—AT—

BROWNING & LONG'S

177 Essex Street, 177

SALEM.

Salem, Aug. 3, 1864.

LUDLOW'S PATENT TEST JAR,

FOR putting up Tomatoes, Peaches, Berries, &c. This is the only Jar ever invented that can be tested. For sale in any quantity at sept 7 S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS', 32 Front st.

KNIVES AND FORKS.

TABLE Knives and Forks with Ivory Handles. Also Carvers, Forks and Steels, at No. 32 Front Street.

SILVER PLATED KNIVES.

IVORY Handled Knives with heavy Silver plate—at S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS, 32 Front st.

PEABODY'S,
220
Essex Street, Salem.

LADIES' FURNISHING STORE.

The Largest Stock and Lowest Prices.

NO DEVIATION FROM THE ASKING PRICE.

OUR CUSTOMERS will find many Extra Bargains in Goods that were bought before the last advance in prices. We are prepared to show a very large stock of the choicest Goods at our usual large discount from current rates.

JOHN P. PEABODY.

Hosiery.

For Ladies, Misses and Children—in silk, Wool, Cotton and Lisle Thread.

Gloves.

Our best Kid Gloves only $1 75. As the importers are now asking $25 per doz., we cannot sell our next invoice less than $2 25.

Our best Kids only $1 75.
Our best Kids only $1 75.

Ladies', Misses' and Children's Gloves in all the best styles.

RIBBONS AND FLOWERS.
RIBBONS AND FLOWERS.
RIBBONS AND FLOWERS.
RIBBONS AND FLOWERS.
RIBBONS AND FLOWERS.

Embroideries.

Needle Work Cambric Edgings ;
Needle Work Cambric Insertings ;
Needle Work Cambric Floundings ;
Needle Work Cambric Collars ;
Needle Work Muslin Collars ;
Infant's Waists ;
Wrought Collars ;
Wrought Bands.

Lace Goods.

Malta Lace Collars from 25 cts. to $4 ;
Lace Edgings from 2 cts. to $2 ;
Brusselles and Malta Laces ;
Brusselles and Malta Laces.

Veils.

Black French Lace Veils—all prices ;
Pusher Lace Veils—pretty styles ;
Real Point Lace Veils—new ;
Real Thread Lace Veils—new ;
Grenadine Veils—in all colors ;
Love and Crape Veils—for mourning ;
Lace Veils, with Crape folds—new ;

CORSETS AND SKIRTS.
CORSETS AND SKIRTS.
CORSETS AND SKIRTS.
CORSETS AND SKIRTS.
CORSETS AND SKIRTS.

Handkerchiefs.

Nice Hem Stitched—pure linen ;
Hdkfs for 35 cents—a real bargain ;
Wrought Hdkfs—all prices ;
Plain Linen Cambric Hdkfs ;
Cotton Hdkfs—in all sizes ;
Gent's Linen Hdkfs—at old prices ;
Pongee Silk Hdkfs—old style.

White Goods.

Linens, Lawns, Muslins, Cambrics, Dimitys, &c.,

At very low prices for the times.

Buttons.

BUTTONS. BUTTONS.
BUTTONS.

The largest stock of Buttons in the city and the lowest prices.

Rubber Buttons ;
Pearl Buttons ;
Glass Buttons ;
Agate Buttons ;
Jet Buttons ;
Gilt Buttons ;
Steel Buttons ;
Silvered Buttons ;
Brocade Buttons ;
Silk Buttons ;
Crochet Buttons ;
Bugle Buttons ;
Lace Buttons ;
Linen Buttons ;

Buttons of all kinds, sizes and prices.

Leather Bags.

Real Russia Leather Shopping Bags. A full stock bought before the rise, and for sale at old prices.

Wallets.

Elastic Band Wallets at old prices for the present. We have a new style Wallet with Photograph holder.

Jet and Steel Goods.

Brooches, Pins, Buckles, &c., &c.
An extensive stock of choice Goods.

Small Wares.

Pins—Needles—Buttons—Cottons—Threads—Silks—Twists—Hooks and Eyes—Tapes—Elastics—Elastic Cords—Combs — Brushes—Soaps — Perfumes — Toilet Powders—Puffs—Toilet Boxes—&c., &c.

OUR BUSINESS.

Having built up my business in Salem by doing it strictly on the ONE PRICE system, and exclusively for CASH—buying for CASH and SELLING CHEAP—I intend to go on, and nothing will be left undone in the future to keep my store where it is NOW, at the HEAD of the Ladies' Furnishing and Fancy Dry Goods business in Salem.

JOHN P. PEABODY,
sept 14 220 Essex St., Salem.

A. J. Archer & Co.

Damask Table Linen.

TABLE CLOTHS, in all sizes ; Napkins, Doylies, Towellings.
A full assortment for sale by
sept 7 A. J. ARCHER & CO.

Flannels, Flannels.

3-4, 4-4, 7-8 FINE WHITE FLANNELS ;
Blue, Mixed, Twilled and Plain,
Dark Navy Blue Twilled,
Bleached and Brown Cotton Flannels.
For sale by A. J. ARCHER & CO.,
sept 7 181 Essex st.

MOURNING GOODS.

AUGUSTUS J. ARCHER & CO.,

HAVE just received a fine assortment

—OF—

MOURNING DRESS GOODS,

for summer wear.

—ALSO—

On hand, a fine stock of

BLACK SILKS,

which our customers will find are at less than Boston prices.

May 25, 1864.

AT THE

"OLD BUTTON STORE,"

148 Essex St., Salem.

WE are selling for a few weeks at less than wholesale prices,

Spool Cotton, warranted 200 yards,	10 cts
Sea Island Cottons per hank,	10 "
French Embroidery Cotton,	5 "
Crochet Cotton per ball,	5 "
White Serpentine Braid,	5 "
2 skeins Silk or Twist,	5 "
A cake small sized Honey Soap,	5 "
1 cake Barber's Shaving Soap, best in use,	5 "
1 roll Hair Pins,	5 "
12 nice Envelopes,	5 "
Nice cake Almond Soap (cheap),	5 "
Good Horn Dressing Comb,	5 "
Paper best pins,	6 "
24 sheets Note Paper,	8 "
Rubber Head Pencils,	8 "
Moor's Ink per bottle,	8 "
1 box Button Rings,	8 "
Emb. Braid, all colors,	10 "
Upton's Liquid Glue,	10 "
Large size cake Pumice Soap,	10 "
1 package White Envelopes,	10 "
1 Tooth Brush, or 5 Thimbles,	10 "
Children's Cord Nets,	10 "
A good Back Comb,	10 "
2 papers Black Mourning Pins,	10 "
Hair Brushes, only	20 "
A good Crochet Net,	20 "
Round Rubber Combs, real rubber,	20 "
Ladies' Shopping Bags,	125 "
Cotton Ribbed Hose,	38 "
Cotton and Wool Hose,	42 "
Bernett's Cocoaine,	80 "
The celebrated Hall's Hair Renewer, warranted genuine,	80 "
We are selling a Ladies' size Hoop Skirt, kid finish, at only	98 "

Also a host of other articles, selling at

Very Low Prices.

Please remember the

OLD BUTTON STORE,
148 Essex Street, Salem,
FRANK B. STORY,
Sept. 7, 1864—1m*

WHITE BAREGE!

WHITE CREPE MARETZ,
WHITE ALPACCA,
SHIRRED MUSLINS,
TUCKED MUSLINS,
WHITE GOODS of every description.

—For sale by—

THOMAS W. DOWNING & CO.
jy13 179 Essex Street.

COUNTRY AND SEA SHORE!

Wide Brimmed Hats,

For the Country and Sea Shore.

—ALSO—

All the FANCY STYLES OF HATS, for Ladies and Children, at

REITH & CO'S,
No. 2 West Block, Essex Street,
(One door west of J. F. Almy & Co.,)
July 6 SALEM, MASS.

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE.

BY virtue of a power of Sale Mortgage, the Mortgagees will sell, upon the premises, on the TWENTY-SEVENTH DAY OF SEPTEMBER next, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, the following described parcel of Real Estate, situated in South Danvers, bounded as follows:—commencing at a stake at the northwesterly corner of land of J. B. Cowdry; thence easterly by land of said Cowdry, about ninety-one feet to a stake, and the wall; thence northerly about one hundred and two feet by land of Pingree to a stake; thence westerly about ninety-four feet to Harris street; thence southerly about one hundred and eight feet by Harris street to the point began at. Being the same owned by THOMAS SHINNICK and MARY ANN SHINNICK, and by them mortgaged to the Salem and Danvers Loan and Fund Association. The above will be sold at Public Auction, to the highest bidder.

South Danvers, August 27, 1864.

ALSO,

WILL be sold upon the premises, by virtue of a power of Sale Mortgage, on the TWENTY-SEVENTH DAY OF SEPTEMBER next, at ten and one half o'clock in the forenoon, at Public Auction, to the highest bidder, the following described parcel of Real Estate:—Bounded northwesterly thirty-nine feet, nine inches, by land of Thomas Larkin; northeasterly one hundred and nine feet, three inches, by land of Richard Bush: southeasterly by Fulton street, about forty feet; southwesterly by land of Gilbert, about one hundred and nine feet, three inches;—(being lot numbered Seventy-Nine, and mortgaged by MOSES JEWETT and SAMUEL S. PARSONS, to the Salem and Danvers Loan and Fund Association.

South Danvers August 27, 1864.—3w.

REAL ESTATE.

The subscriber offers for sale the following Lots of Land, with the buildings thereon, at Private Sale, until October next, when, if not previously sold, they will be put up at auction.

On Lowell street, a two-story DWELLING HOUSE, fitted for two families. This is the Estate formerly known as the Southwick Tavern.

On Lowe street, leading from Foster St. to Washington St., a two story TENEMENT for two families with a garden attached to it.

On Washington street, near the residence of Capt. Lowe, a very eligible BUILDING LOT, on the North side of the street.

On Tremont street, a small COTTAGE HOUSE for one or two families.

On Walnut street, a pleasant, elevated Lot of Land, with a large Barn, situated opposite Mr. Caller's Currying Shop.

In the rear of the above TWO TENEMENT HOUSES.

For particulars apply to
jy 27 WILLIAM SUTTON.

OATS. OATS.

5000 BUSHELS PRIME OATS, received this day, and for sale by
sept 7 GAYLE & CO., Phillips Wharf.

Indispensable to Every Soldier and Seaman,

BROOKS' PATENT WRITING AND TOILET CASE.

EASILY carried in the coat pocket. Supplied by the manufacturers at the old price—$2.

D. B. BROOKS & BROTHER,
201 Essex Street, Salem, Mass.

Those who have friends in the Army of the Potomac can have them sent to them free of postage. sept 7

George S. Walker.

For Fall and Winter Wear,

GEORGE S. WALKER would invite special attention to his complete stock of Gentlemen's Furnishing Goods.

Under Garments, Scarfs, Ties, Hosiery, Shirts, Collars, Gloves, Wool Under Shirts, Umbrellas, &c.

Giving my exclusive attention to this department of trade, customers may be sure of finding at ALL times the LARGEST STOCK and the LOWEST PRICES in the city. SHIRTS and COLLARS made to order.

GEORGE S. WALKER,
No. 228 Essex St., opp. Eastern Railroad Station.
Salem, Sept. 14, 1864.

Potter, Bachelder & Co.,

DANVERS-PORT and SOUTH DANVERS,

DEALERS IN

WOOD AND COAL.

Constantly on hand

Franklin, Burnside, Dimond, } RED ASH.
Old Company & Packer's Lehigh, Pliny Fisk, Webster and Locust Mountain, } WHITE ASH.

Also Cumberland, Pictou and Campbell for Steam and Smith's use.

OFFICE—No. 6 Allen's Building.

G. W. POTTER,
J. Q. A. BACHELDER,
C. T. BATCHELDER. mch 30

SPECTACLES!

H. F. SKERRY wishes to call special attention to his stock of

Spectacles and Eye Glasses,

in Gold—Silver—Rubber—Steel and Horn frames, of which he keeps constantly on hand a very large assortment, embracing every style and quality.

—ALSO—

Opera Glasaes, Microscopes, &c.

Glasses re-set and Spectacles repaired.

In Store, our usual assortment of Silver and Plated Ware, Jewelry, Fancy Goods, and Toys. Also, Canton Ware,

No. 180 Essex Street, Salem.
H. F. SKERRY.
Aug. 17.—tf.

T. HARDY, JR.,

—Dealer in—

DOORS, SASHES, BLINDS,

Glazed Sash, Painted Blinds,

FENCE PALES, STAIR BALUSTERS, FRAMING PINS, &c.,

No. 26 FRONT STREET,

Salem, January 14, 1863—tf.

EBEN UPTON,

Piano Fortes Tuned and Regulated,

MELODEONS AND PIANOS

BOUGHT, AND EXCHANGED

For New Piano Fortes, at Wholesale Prices.

Orders left at G. CREAMER'S Bookstore, Salem.
July 27, 1864.—6m

Vitrified Stone Drain Pipe.

JUST received and for sale by the subscribers, 5000 feet o. the above Pipe, the usual sizes suitable for drainage; the best in the market.

Apply to
B. R. WHITE, Mason,
St Peter Court.
or F. P. GOSS, Plumber,
No. 7 St. Peter st.
Salem, Aug. 3, 1864.—3m

SPRING AND SUMMER GOODS.

168 ESSEX STREET.

WE invite the attention of the Ladies of Salem and vicinity, to our

New Millinery Goods.

Ladies' and Children's

BONNETS AND HATS,

in all desirable styles.

Crapes, Silks, Ribbons, Feathers, French Flowers, and Laces.

A full assortment of Straw Goods, Mourning Bonnets, Veils, Collars, &c., constantly on hand at the lowest cash prices.

M. E. CRANE,
Successor to M M FLETCHER.
Salem, April 6, 1864.

C. W. HALEY, M. D.,

Physician and Surgeon.

OFFICE—WARREN BANK BUILDING,
South Danvers.

M. A. PORTER,

236 Essex Street, - - - Salem, Mass.,
(Opposite Horse Railroad Office,)

MAKES TO ORDER BEST QUALITIES OF

WATCH SPRING SKIRTS.

A Good Assortment of Dress and Cloak Button, Braids, Spool Cotton, Small Wares, and Thread Store articles generally.

236 Essex Street, - - - Salem, Mass.,
M. A. PORTER.

AARON T. LOWE,

DEALER IN

BOOTS, SHOES AND RUBBERS,

76 BOSTON STREET, 76.

aug 6 SALEM. tf

HOUSE OF EQUITY,

—BY—

Arnold & Hutchinson,

(Successors to C. T. Southwick.)

FIRST QUALITY

FAMILY GROCERIES,

Sold at the Lowest Prices.

A large and complete assortment of

CROCKERY AND GLASS WARE,

Constantly on hand.

Also FLOUR and GRAIN.

ASHLAND HALL BUILDING,
NO. 1 LOWELL STREET,
F. T. ARNOLD. B. F. HUTCHINSON.
South Danvers, Feb 3, 1864.

ANN R. BRAY,

76 Federal Street, Salem.

WE have just received our Fall and Winter Stock of Black Alpacas. They will compare with Rich Black Silks: a few of the pieces are very fine with soft finish. Ladies are buying them in preference to Black Silks. sept 7 ANN R. BRAY.

Auction Sales.

WILLIAM ARCHER, Jr.,

Auctioneer, Real Estate and Stock Broker,
34 Front Street.

Real Estate, Bank, Railroad & Manufacturing Stock bought and sold on Commission.

Horse Railroad Notice.

SUNDAY TIME.

HEREAFTER on Sunday, Horse Cars will leave Washington Street Station for Beverly at 9.12, 9.52, 10.32, 11.12, 11.52 A. M.; 12.32, 1.12, 1.52, 2.32, 3.12, 3.52, 4.32, 5.12, 5.52, 6.32, 7.12, 7.52, and 8.32 P. M.

Will leave Washington street station for South Danvers, at 9.07, 9.27, 9.47 A. M., and every twenty minutes till 9.07 P. M.

Cars leave South Danvers at 9.30, 9.50, and 10.10. A. M., and every 20 minutes till 9.30 P. M.

Leave Beverly at 9.40, 10.20, 11.00, 11.40 A. M.; 12.20, 1.00, 1.40, 2.20, 3.00, 3.40, 4.20, 5.00, 4.40, 6.20, 7.00, 7.40, 8.20, and 9.00 P. M.

Salem, Aug. 31, 1864. M. H. HALE, Supt.

M. FENOLLOSA,

TEACHER OF MUSIC,

LETS............PIANO FORTES, at the lowest rates;
SELLS ....PIANO FORTES, at the Manufacturers Prices;
EXCHANGES....PIANO FORTES, on the easiest terms;

At Rooms No. 7 Central street,
feb 11 SALEM, MASS.

NEW STORE!

Flour! Flour!

JUST RECEIVED, a fresh supply of CHOICE BRANDS, direct from the Mills, for sale, wholesale and retail, at LOWEST PRICES, by

E. F. OSBORN,
Sutton's Building, Main St.
South Danvers, Nov 18, 1863.

R. C. MANNING & CO.

Successors to JOHN DIKE & CO.,

DEALERS IN

COAL, WOOD, BARK, HAY, &c.

183 DERBY STREET,
SALEM, MASS.
N. C. ROBBINS, R. C. MANNING.
oct17

GEO. E. MEACOM,

Dealer in

DRUGS & MEDICINES,

Fancy & Toilet Articles, &c.,

126 MAIN ST. 126

Nearly opposite Danvers Bank, So. Danvers.

T. A. SWEETSER,

Druggist & Apothecary,

37 Main St., So. Danvers,

DEALER IN

Drugs, Medicines, Chemicals, Foreign Leeches, Shakers' Herbs, Dye Stuffs, Gums, Acids, Sponges, Shoulder Braces, Trusses, and Genuine Patent Medicines.

Also, Imported Cigars of choice brands, Perfumery, Toilet Articles and Stationery.

Physicians' Presciptions carefully prepared by experienced persons.

37 MAIN STREET.

D. P. GROSVENOR, Jr.,

Druggist and Apothecary,

33 MAIN STREET.

Dealer in Drugs, Medicines, Chemicals, Dye Stuffs, and Popular Proprietary Medicines.

Personal attention to Physicians' Prescriptions.

South Danvers, May 29, 1861. 1y

SELF-SEALING AIR-TIGHT CASKET.

MR. CHARLES S. BUFFUM, Furnishing Undertaker of South Danvers, takes this method to annouce that he has a new burial ca e, which combines all the advantages of a wooden receptacle with those of a metal one, and yet avoids the disadvantages of both. They have been used with great success, and bodies placed in them have been delivered in perfect preservation after having been transported over a thousand miles. To persons having deceased friends at the seat of war they are invaluable. They come at reasonable prices, are light and durable, and are perfectly air-tight. august 10

HOUSEKEEPERS, ATTENTION!

JACKSON'S

KITCHEN FURNISHING ROOMS,

Under MECHANIC HALL, Salem.

Parties about commencing House-Keeping will find this the ONLY place in Salem where a COMPLETE ASSORTMENT of House-Keeping articles can be found.
dec 9, 1863.

GAYLE & CO.,

COMMISSION MERCHANTS,

AND DEALERS IN

Flour, Grain and Produce,

PHILLIPS WHARF, Salem.

DR. J. H. BATCHELDER,

DENTAL SURGEON,

No. 20 Washington St., (near Eastern Railroad Depot),
SALEM, MASS.

Is Licensed to make the New Patent Teeth on HARD RUBBER or VULCANITE.

July 1, 1864.

DR. E. F. KITTREDGE,

From Lowell, formerly of New Ipswich, N. H.,
Has removed his office and residence to

NO. 42 MAIN STREET,
SOUTH DANVERS, MASS.

Dr. K., from an extensive and successful professional experience of upwards of twenty years, feels justified in saying that he can treat diseases to the satisfaction of his patients, and to the credit of himself.

Office hours from 7 to 9 A. M., and from 6 to 9 P. M.
South Danvers, Nov 13, 1863.

MANUAL FENOLLOSA

TEACHER
OF THE

Violin, Piano and Singing,

MUSIC ROOMS, No. 7 Central Street,
SALEM, MASS.

STONE WARE.

BUTTER and Cake Pots; Preserve Pots; Pudding Pans and Bean Pots; Jugs and Pitchers of all sizes, at
S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS'S,
Aug. 31. 32 Front street.

SEE THE GHOSTS AND SPECTRES.

SPECTROPIA, or Surprising Illusions, showing Ghosts everywhere and of all colors.
sept 7 G M WHIPPLE & A A SMITH'S.

Miscellaneous.

☞ Mrs. Partington, in illustration of the proverb that "a soft answer turneth away wrath," says that "it is better to speak paragorically of a person, than to be all the time flinging epitaphs at him, for no good comes to nobody that never speaks no good to no one."

☞ A traveller says there is a race of men at the extremity of South America, of such enormous proportions that they mix their lather in a wash-tub, and shave with a scythe. They probably curl their hair with a cistern-pole.

☞ An exchange declares that "girls who ain't handsome hate those who are, and those who are handsome, hate one another."

☞ A conscript being told that it was sweet to die for his country, tried to excuse himself on the ground that he never did like sweet things.

☞ Why is a tobacco chewer like a goose in a Dutch oven? Because he is always on the spit.

☞ In some places the grass has been so short it had to be lathered before it could be mowed.

Special Notices.

EDITOR OF WIZARD:—Dear Sir,—With your permission I wish to say to the readers of your paper that I will send by return mail, to all who wish it (free) a Recipe, with full directions for making and using a simple Vegetable Balm, that will effectually remove, in ten days, Pimples, Blotches, Tan, Freckles, and all Impurities of the Skin, leaving the same soft, clear, smooth and beautiful.

I will also mail free to those having Bald Heads, or Bare Faces, simple directions and information that will enable them to start a full growth of Luxuriant Hair, Whiskers, or Moustache, in less than thirty days.

All applications answered by return mail without charge. Respectfully yours,

THOS. F. CHAPMAN, Chemist,
jy 13-3m 831 Broadway, New York.

BELL'S SPECIFIC PILLS.—WARRANTED IN ALL CASES.—Can be relied on! Never fail to cure! Do not nauseate! Are speedy in action! No change of diet required! Do not interfere with business pursuits! Can be used without detection! Upward of 200 cures the past month—some of them very severe cases. Over one hundred physicians have used them in their practice, and all speak well of their efficacy, and approve of their composition, which is entirely vegetable and harmless on the system. Hundreds of certificates can be shown.

BELL'S SPECIFIC PILLS are the original and only genuine Specific Pill. They are adapted for male and female, old or young, and the only reliable remedy for effecting a permanent and speedy cure in all cases of Spermatorrhea, or Seminal Weakness, with all its train of evils, such as Urethral and Vaginal Discharges, Gleet, the Whites, Nightly or Involuntary Emissions, Incontinence, Genital Debility and Irritability, Impotence, Weakness or Loss of Power, Nervous Debility, &c., &c., all of which arise principally from Sexual Excesses or Self-Abuse, or some constitutional derangement, and incapacitates the sufferer from fulfilling the duties of married life. In all sexual diseases, as Gonorrhea, Gleet, and Strictures, and in Diseases of the Bladder and Kidneys, they act as a charm! Relief is experienced by taking a single box. Sold by all the principal druggists. Price $1.

They will be sent by mail, securely sealed, and confidentially, on receipt of the money, by

J BRYAN, M. D.,
No. 76 Cedar street, New York,

Consulting Physician for the treatment of Seminal, Urinary, Sexual, and Nervous Diseases, who will send, free to all, the following valuable work, in sealed envelope:

THE FIFTIETH THOUSAND.—DR. BELL'S TREATISE on Self-Abuse, Premature Decay, Impotence and Loss of Power, Sexual Diseases, Seminal Weakness, Nightly Emissions, Genital Debility, &c., &c., a pamphlet of 64 pages, containing important advice to the afflicted, and which should be read by every sufferer, as the means of cure in the severest stages is plainly set forth. Two stamps required to pay postage. December 9, 1863—1 yr.

IMPORTANT TO LADIES.—DR. HARVEY'S FEMALE PILLS have never yet failed in removing difficulties arising from obstruction, or stoppage of nature, or in restoring the system to perfect health when suffering from Spinal Affection, Prolapsus, Uteri, the Whites, or other weakness of the Uterine Organs. The Pills are perfectly harmless on the constitution, and may be taken by the most delicate female without causing distress—the same time they act like a charm by strengthening, invigorating and restoring the system to a healthy condition, and by bringing on the monthly period with regularity, no matter from what causes the obstruction may arise. They should, however, NOT be taken during the first three or four months of pregnancy though safe at any other time, as miscarriage would be the result.

Each box contains 60 Pills. Price $1.

DR. HARVEY'S TREATISE on Diseases of Females, Pregnancy, Miscarriage, Barrenness, Sterility, Reproduction, and Abuses of Nature, and emphatically the Ladies' Private Medical Adviser, a pamphlet of 64 pages, sent free to any address. Six cents required to pay postage.

The Pills and book will be sent by mail when desired, securely sealed, and prepaid, by

J. BRYAN, M. D., General Agent,
No. 76 Cedar street, New York.

☞ Sold by all the principal druggists.
December 9, 1863—1 yr.

VALUABLE REAL ESTATE.

THE Subscriber offers for sale the following Lots of Land, with the Buildings thereon, at private sale, until September next, when such as then remain unsold, will be offered at Public Auction:

A new and well built two-story DWELLING HOUSE, situated on English Street.—This house is well supplied with the modern conveniences, is pleasantly situated on rising ground, and is a very desirable residence.

The MOROCCO FACTORY near the Southwick Tannery. The building is about 150 feet long by 40 wide, is well supplied with pure water and is an excellent place for the Morocco business or Currying.

Near the Morocco Factory are two TWO-STORY BUILDINGS, which may be sold with the Factory, or separately. Together they are about 80 feet long by 20 wide.

On Walnut Street is the large BOARDING HOUSE, with the land adjoining, which is excellently well situated for what it is designed.

Several front LOTS for building purposes on Walnut Street, will be sold at moderate prices and fair terms.

A STORE HOUSE 70 by 25 feet on Walnut Street, with the land under and the rear of it. It can be easily adapted for a Curriers' Shop, or for other kinds of business.

On Wallis Street, near the mill pond, a well built and painted MOROCCO FACTORY, all ready for occupancy. It is about 80 feet long by 25 wide, and in excellent repair.

Next to the Morocco Factory on the same street, a STORE BUILDING, strongly built, and framed for a DWELLING HOUSE, for which it could be easily adapted. Or it would make an excellent Shop for any kind of business.

Near ELM STREET, on a Court south of said street, are two DWELLING HOUSES, planned for two families each. One is two stories high, the other one and a half. Both houses have good tenants and yield a good income; offering a good chance for investment.

Between Harris and English Streets, one One Story DWELLING House, and a One Story and a Half House.

The above is a most excellent opportunity for enterprising young men to secure places for business and dwelling houses, on reasonable terms. Such a chance may not soon again occur.

Persons desiring to purchase any of the above lots may learn the prices and terms on application to ANDREW S. PORTER, Elm Street.

SAMUEL D. PENDAR.

South Danvers, May 11, 1864. tf

Cards.

N. J. HOLDEN,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
Office, 27 Washington Street, Salem, Mass.

M. B. MANSFIELD,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
214 ESSEX STREET, SALEM, MASS.

Particular attention paid to procuring Pensions, Bounties, Back Pay, Prize Money, and Army and Navy Claims of all descriptions. March 2.

H. L. HADLEY,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
CORNER MAPLE AND ELM ST.,
Danvers.

Claims against the Government for Bounty, Back Pay, and Pensions, promptly attended to.

THOMAS M. STIMPSON,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
194 ESSEX STREET, SALEM.
Residence Lowell street, South Danvers.

B. C. PERKINS,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
South Danvers—Office in Allen's Building.

ALFRED A. ABBOTT,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
Office, No. 24 Washington Street, Salem.
House, Main St. So. Danvers.

SIDNEY C. BANCROFT,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
27 Washington Street, Salem.

H. O. WILEY,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
Office, Allen's Building, South Danvers.

Claims against the Government for Bounty, Back Pay, and Pensions, promptly attended to.

A. S. CRAWFORD
Dentist,
No. 4 MAIN STREET, SO. DANVERS SQUARE
Mechanical Dentistry Neatly Executed.

W. L. BOWDOIN,
SURGEON DENTIST,
No, 208 Essex Street, Salem, (Opposite the Marke
Residence—No. 57 Washington street.
jan 11—1y

NEWMAN & SYMONDS,
DEALERS IN
Family Groceries, Flour & Grain,
HARD WARE AND CROCKERY,
Ready Made Clothing, Gents' Furnishing Goods,
Hats, Caps, Boots, Shoes, &c.,
South Danvers Square, opp. Congregational Church
SAM'L NEWMAN. NATH'L SYMONDS.

S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS,
DEALERS IN
Crockery, China and Hardware; Paper Hangings; Solar and Entry Lamps · Paints, Oil and Window Glass.
No. 32 Front street; Lawrence Place,
feb13 SALEM, MASS.

HENRY L. WHIDDEN,
HOUSE AND SIGN PAINTER,
Glazier and Paperer,
Central Street, South Danvers.
All orders promptly and faithfully executed.
jan2-1y

JESSE SMITH
No. 262 Essex Street, Salem,
Importer and Dealer in
Gold and Silver Watches,
MARINE CHRONOMETERS,
Aueroid Barometers, Spy Glasses, &c.

WILLIAM BLANEY,
HOUSE & SIGN PAINTER
Grainer, Glazier and Paper Hanger.
164 MAIN STREET, Corner of Grove.
WINDOWS and BLINDS cheap for cash.
mch6-tf

F. POOLE
INSURANCE AGENT,
Allen's Building (up stairs),
Deeds drawn, and other common forms.

Advertisements.

Skinner's Pulmonales

Immediately Relieve Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, loss of Voice, Bronchitis, Lassitude, Thirst and every symptom of the first stages of Pulmonary Consumption; they are white, in form of a wafer, and as suitable for the infant in the cradle as the patient of three score years and ten. Orators and all who overtax the vocal organs receive instant relief by their use. Sold by all Druggists. Prepared by E. M. SKINNER, Chemist, 27 Tremont St., Boston. sept 7—1y

SPALDING'S ROSE MARY

FOR FOURTEEN YEARS the Rosemary has held a high rank as pure, uniform and reliable. It is Warranted. 1st, To beautify the hair. 2d, To curl the hair elegantly. 3d, To remove dandruff effectually. 4th, To restore hair to bald heads. 5th, To force the beard and whiskers to grow. 6th, To prevent the hair from falling off. 7th, To cure all diseases of the scalp. 8th, To prevent the hair turning grey. 9th, To cure headache. 10th, To kill hair eaters. Sold everywhere. Prepared by EDW. M. SKINNER, Chemist, 27 Tremont St., opposite the Museum, Boston, Mass. sept 7—1y

FURNITURE.

HAVING taken the Store No. 10 FRONT STREET, (formerly occupied by BENJAMIN COLMAN,) I shall keep constantly on hand a large stock of

NEW AND SECOND-HAND FURNITURE,
BEDDING, COUNTING-ROOM DESKS, &c., &c.,
which I will sell cheap for CASH.
ALL KINDS OF FURNITURE NEATLY REPAIRED.

☞ All kinds of FURNITURE and BEDDING wanted—for which the highest Cash price will be paid.

P. J. HYNES, 10 FRONT-ST.
Salem, April 6, 1864—1y

MORRIS'
RESTAURANT,
18 and 20 Derby Square, Salem.

Oysters, Clams, Steak, Poultry, Game, Fish, &c., &c., COOKED TO ORDER.
Pickled Oysters, Lobsters and Clams.
Salem, July 22, 1863. tf

Posting Books, Making Bills and Copying.

THE above business will be promptly and accurately performed by the subscriber, who may be found at Messers. CLARK & GIDDINGS' Counting Room on Wallis Street, near the Essex Depot, or by enquiring at this office. jy13 tf JOHN D. HOWARD.

Job Press for Sale.

RUGGLES' JOB ENGINE PRESS. Prints a bill 13 by 19 inches. Can be run by one man at the rate of 800 per hour. Is in good condition. It will sold at a very low price, as the owner has no use for it. It is a big bargain. Apply at this office. jy 20-tf

CRUMB BRUSHES JUST OPENED.

A FULL stock of all kinds of Brushes and Feather Dusters on hand—at
S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS'S,
Aug. 31. 32 Front street.

THE TRAVELERS INS. CO.,
OF HARTFORD, CONN.
Capital - - - - - - $250,000.

Is now prepared to Insure persons against
ACCIDENTS
OF EVERY DESCRIPTION.

Yearly policies will be issued for a premium of
FIVE DOLLARS,
granting insurance to the amount of
FIVE THOUSAND DOLLARS,
against accidental loss of life while travelling by any public conveyance.

TEN DOLLARS PREMIUM

secures a policy for Five Thousand Dollars, and also twenty-five dollars per week compensation for personal injury incapacitating the assured from his ordinary business.

TWENTY-FIVE DOLLARS PREMIUM

secures a full policy for $5000 and $25 per week compensation for all and EVERY DESCRIPTION OF ACCIDENT, TRAVELLING OR OTHERWISE

Policies for $5000 with $3 per week compensation, can be had for $3 per annum; or any other sum between $500 and $5000 at proportionate rates.

DIRECTORS:

Gustavus F. Davis,	W. H. D. Callender,
James L. Howard,	George W. Moore,
Marshal Jewell,	Ebenezer Roberts,
Thomas Belknap, Jr.,	Charles White,
Cornelius B. Irwin,	Hugh Harrison,
George S. Gilman,	Jonathan B. Bunce.

JAMES G. PATTERSON, President.
RODNEY DENNIS, Secretary.
HENRY A. DYER, General Agent.

PLUMBER & MERCER, AGENTS,
40 State Street, Boston.

Offices in Salem—JOHN H. DERBY, No. 24 Washington street; SAMUEL MACKINTIRE, No. 218 Essex street. Aug. 3, 1864—1yr*

R. W. WILKINSON,
DEALER IN
Newspapers, Periodicals, and Stationery of every Description,

FOREIGN and DOMESTIC FRUITS, consisting of Oranges, Lemons, Dates, Figs, Prunes, &c., &c.

Sauces, Pickles and Preserves; Castana, Naples and English Walnuts; Hard, Soft and Paper-shelled Almonds; choice brands of Tobacco and Cigars; also a general assortment of Confectionery of every description.

Also a large and well selected stock of Toys, suitable for children and the Holiday Gifts.

Ice Cream furnished to parties at short notice and in quantities to suit. Wedding Cake and every variety of nice cake furnished to parties or families.

STORE—WARREN BANK BUILDING.
South Danvers, Nov'r 11, 1863.

JUST ARRIVED,
AT DANVERS MILLS,

500 Bushels Corn, in the minnie cob, and will be sold in South Danvers. Constantly on hand a large stock of meal, which will be sold at the lowest Salem prices.

—ALSO ON HAND—
500 Bushels Feed;
200 Bushels prime Northern Oats;
100 Barrels choicest Family Flour.
A good stock of LIME constantly on hand.

JOHN G. MOULTON,
Central St., South Danvers, Mass.
May 25—tf.

THOMAS PINNOCK,
SLATER,
SALEM, MASS.

Orders may be left at his Yard, No. 25 Peabody St., or at his house No. 6 Hancock street, South Salem.

Roofs covered with any kind of Slates, according to order. All work warranted.
Salem, May 7, 1862. tf

HEYLINGBERG'S
Hair Dressing Saloon,
24 MAIN ST., SOUTH DANVERS.

J. J. HEYLINGBERG would announce to his patrons and the public generally, that on and after JUNE 1st, 1864, he will abide by the following

TARIFF OF PRICES:

Shaving,	10 cts,
Hair Cutting,	15 cts,
Champooing,	15 cts.

Particular attention paid to dying hair and whiskers, in one preparation, without washing or scrubbing.
South Danvers, May 11, 1864.

Putnam Clothes Wringer.
IT IS THE ONLY RELIABLE
SELF-ADJUSTING WRINGER
NO WOOD TO SWELL OR SPLIT.
NO THUMB SCREWS TO GET OUT OF ORDER.
Warranted with or without Cog-Wheels.

IT took the FIRST PREMIUM at fifty-seven State and County Fairs in 1863, and is, without an exception, the best Wringer ever made.

Patented in the United States, England, Canada and Australia. Agents wanted in every town, and in all parts of the world.

Sample Wringer sent, express paid, on receipt of price.

Energetic agents can make from 3 to 10 dollars per day.

No. 2, $6.50; No. 1, $7.50; No. F, $8.50; No. A, $9.50.

Manufactured and sold, wholesale and retail, by THE PUTNAM MANUFACTURING CO., No. 13 Platt Street, New York, and Cleveland, Ohio.
S. C. NORTHROP, Agent.

WHAT EVERYBODY KNOWS, VIZ:

That Iron well galvanized will not rust;

That a simple machine is better than a complicated one;

That a Wringer should be self-adjusting, durable, and efficient;

That Thumb-Screws and Fastenings cause delay and trouble to regulate and keep in order;

That wood soaked in hot water will swell, shrink and split;

That wood bearings for the shaft to run in will wear out;

That the Putnam Wringer, with or without cog-wheels, will not tear the clothes;

That cog-wheel regulators are not essential;

That the Putnam Wringer has all the advantages, and not one of the disadvantages above named;

That all who have tested it, pronounce it the best Wringer ever made;

That it will wring a Thread or a Bed-Quilt WITHOUT ALTERATION.

We might fill the paper with testimonials, but insert only a few to convince the skeptical, if such there be; and we say to all, test Putnam's Wringer. Test it THOROUGHLY with ANY and ALL others, and if not entirely satisfactory, return it.

Putnam Manufacturing Co:—GENTLEMEN; I know from practical experience that iron well galvanized with zinc will not oxidize or rust one particle. The Putnam Wringer is as near perfect as possible, and I can cheerfully recommend it to be the best in use. Respectfully yours,
JNO. W. WHEELER, Cleveland, Ohio.

Many years' experience in the galvanizing business enable me to indorse the above statement in all particulars.
JNO. C. LEFFERTS, No. 100 Beckman St.
New York, January, 1864.

We have tested Putnam's Clothes Wringer by practical working, and know that it will do. It is cheap; it is simple; it requires no room, whether at work or at rest; a child can operate it; it does its duty thoroughly; it saves time and it saves wear and tear. We earnestly advise all who have much washing to do, with all intelligent persons who have any, to buy this Wringer. It will pay for itself in a year at most. HON. HORACE GREELEY.
July 27, 1864.—3m

CLOTHES BASKETS.

WILLOW Clothes Baskets, (Oval,) at
S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS'S,
Aug. 31. 32 Front street.

HOSTETTER'S
CELEBRATED
STOMACH BITTERS.

A pure and powerful Tonic, corrective and alterative of wonderful efficacy in disease of the

Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

Cures Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Headache, Debility, Nervousness, Depression of Spirits, Constipation, Colic, Intermittent Fevers, Cramps and Spasms, and all Complaints of either Sex, arising from Bodily Weakness whether inherent in the system or produced by special causes.

Nothing that is not wholesome, genial and restorative in its nature enters into the composition of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. This popular preparation contains no mineral of any kind, no deadly botanical element; no fiery excitant: but it is a combination of the extracts of rare balsamic herbs and plants with the purest and mildest of all diffusive stimulants.

It is well to be forearmed against disease, and, so far as the human system can be protected by human means against maladies engendered by an unwholesome atmosphere, impure water and other external causes, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS may be relied on as a safeguard.

In districts infested with Fever and Ague, it has been found infallible as a preventive and irresistible as a remedy, and thousands who resort to it under apprehension of an attack, escape the scourage; and thousands who neglect to avail themselves of its protective qualities in advance, are cured by a very brief course of this marvelous medicine. Fever and Ague patients, after being plied with quinine for months in vain, until fairly saturated with that dangerous alkaloid, are not unfrequently restored to health within a few days by the use of HOSTETTER'S BITTERS.

The weak stomach is rapidly invigorated and the appetite restored by this agreeable Tonic, and hence it works wonders in cases of DYSPEPSIA and in less confirmed forms of INDIGESTION. Acting as a gentle and painless apperient, as well as upon the liver, it also invariably relieves the CONSTIPATION superinduced by irregular aation of the digestive and secretive organs.

Persons of feeble habit, liable to Nervous Attacks, Lowness of Spirits and Fits of Languor, find prompt and permanent relief from the Bitters. The testimony on this point is most conclusive, and from both sexes.

The agony of BILIOUS COLIC is immediately assuaged by a single dose of the stimulant, and by occasionally resorting to it, the return of the complaint may be prevented.

As a General Tonic, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS produce effects which must be experienced or witnessed before they can be fully appreciated. In cases of Constitutional Weakness, Premature Decay and Debility and Decrepitude arising from OLD AGE, it exercises the electric influence. In the convalescent stages of all diseases it operates as a delightful invigorant. When the powers of nature are relaxed, it operates to re-enforce and re-establish them.

Last, but not least, it is The Only Safe Stimulant, being manufactured from sound and innocuous materials, and entirely free from the acid elements present more or less in all the ordinary tonics and stomachics of the day.

No family medicine has been so universally, and, it may be truly added, deservedly popular with the intelligent portion of the community, as HOSTETTER'S BITTERS.

Prepared by HOSTETTER & SMITH, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Sold by all Druggists, Grocers and Storekeepers everywhere.

HELMBOLD'S
GENUINE PREPARATIONS.

COMPOUND FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU, a Positive and Specific Remedy for diseases of the Bladder, Kidneys, Gravel, and Dropsical Swellings.

This Medicine increases the power of Digestion, and excite the Absorbents into healthy action, by which the Wtaery or Calcareous depositions, and all Unnatural Enlargements are reduced, as well as Pain and Inflammation.

—:0:—

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU.

For Weaknesses arising from Excesses, Habits of Dissipation, Early Indiscretion of Abuse, attended with the following symptoms:—

Indisposition to Exertion,	Loss of Power,
Loss of Memory,	Difficulty of Breathing,
Weak Nerves,	Trembling,
Horror of Disease,	Wakefulness,
Dimness of Vision,	Pain in the Back,
Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System,
Hot Hands,	Flushing of the Body,
Dryness of the Skin,	Eruptions on the Face,
Pallid Countenance.

These symptoms, if allowed to go on, which this medicine invariably removes, soon follows

Impotency, Fatuity, Epileptic Fits,

In one of which the patient may expire.

Who can say that they are not frequently followed by those "Direful Diseases,"

"INSANITY AND CONSUMPTION."

Many are aware of the cause of their suffering, BUT NONE WILL CONFESS THE RECORDS OF THE INSANE ASYLUMS.

And Melancholy Deaths by Consumption bear ample witness to the Truth of the assertion.

The Constitution once effected with Organic Weakness requires the aid of Medicine to Strengthen and Invigorate the system,

Which HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU invariably does. A Trial will convince the most skeptical.

—:0:—

FEMALES—FEMALES—FEMALES.

In many Affections peculiar to Females the EXTRACT BUCHU is unequalled by any other remedy, as in Chlorosis or Retention, Irregularity, Painfulness or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated Scirrhous state of the Uterus, Leuchorrhœa or Whites, Sterility, and for all complaints incident to the sex, whether arising from indiscretion or Habits of Dissipation, or in the

DECLINE OR CHANGE OF LIFE.

—:0:—

Take no more Balsam, Mercury, or unpleasant Medicines for unpleasant and dangerous diseases.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU AND IMPROVED ROSE WASH CURES

SECRET DISEASES

In all their Stages, At little Expense.
Little or no change in Diet. No inconvenience.
And no Exposure.

It causes a frequent desire and gives strength to Urinate, thereby Removing Obsructions, Preventing and Curing Strictures of the Urethra, allaying Pain and Inflammation, so frequent in this class of diseases, and expelling all Poisonous, Diseased and wornout Matter.

Thousands upon Thousands who have been the Victims of Quacks, and who have paid heavy fees to be cured in a short time, have found they were deceived, and that the "POISON" has, by the use of "Powerful Astringents," been dried up in the system, to break out in an aggravated form, and perhaps after Marriage.

—:0:—

Use HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU for all affections and diseases of the URINARY ORGANS, whether existing in MALE or FEMALE, from whatever cause originating and no matter of HOW LONG STANDING. Diseases of these Organs requires the aid of a DIURETIC. HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU IS THE GREAT DIURETIC, and is certain to have the desired effect in all Diseases for which it is Recommended.

Evidence of the most reliable and responsible character will accompany the medicine.

Price $1.00 per bottle, or six for $5.00.

Delivered to any Address, securely packed from observation.

Describe Symptoms in all Communications.

Cures Guaranteed! Advice Gratis!!

Address letters for information to

H. B. HELMBOLD, Chemist,
104 South Tenth-st., bel. Chestnut, Phila.

HELMBOLD'S Medical Depot.
HELMBOLD'S Drug & Chemical Warehouse.
594 Broadway, New York.

BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS AND UNPRINCIPLED DEALERS who endeavor to dispose "of their own" and "other" articles on the reputation attained by

Helmbold's Genuine Preparations.
" " Extract Buchu.
" " " Sarsaparilla.
" " Improved Rose Wash.

SOLD BY
ALL DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE.
ASK FOR HELMBOLD'S. TAKE NO OTHER.
Cut out the Advertisement and send for it.
AND AVOID IMPOSITION AND EXPOSURE.
December 16, 1863.—1 yr.

Horse Railroad Notice.

On and after MONDAY, May 9, the cars of the Salem and South Danvers Railroad Co. will leave

South Danvers for Salem and Beverly at 6.35, 6.55, 7.15, and 7.35, A. M., and every 20 minutes till 12.55 P. M., and at 1.10, 1.25, 1.40, 1.55 P. M., and every 15 minutes till 10.25 P. M. The 9.55, 10.10, and 10.25 P. M., cars will go only to Salem.

Cars will leave Beverly for Salem and South Danvers at 6.35, 6.55, 7.15, and 7.35, A. M., and every 20 minutes till 12.55 P. M., and at 1.10, 1.26, 1.40 and 1.55 P.M., and every 15 minutes till 10.40 P. M. The 9.40, 9.55, 10.10, 10.25 and 10.40 P. M., cars go only to Salem.

Cars leave Washington Street Station for So. Danvers at 6.12, 6.32 and 6.52 A. M. and every 20 minutes till 12.32 P.M, and leave Washington St. Station for Beverly at 6.17, 6.37, 6.57, A.M., and every 20 minutes till 12 37 P. M., and cars will leave Washington St. Station for South Danvers and Beverly at 12.45, 1, 1.15, and 1.30 P. M., and every 15 minutes till 10.00 P. M.

M. H. HALE,
may 11 Sup't. S. & S. D. R. R. Co.

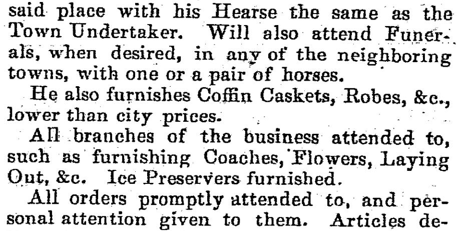
WM. C. HENDERSON,
MANUFACTURER OF
PLAIN AND FANCY
PAPER BOXES;
No. 235 ESSEX STREET,
Sign of "Nest of Boxes,"
July 23 SALEM. tf

CURRIER & MILLETT,
Dealers in
Furniture, Chairs,
MATTRESSES, FEATHERS, &
259 & 261 ESSEX ST.
Salem, dec 14—1y

H. & H. G. HUBON,
WASHINGTON STREET, SALEM
Manufacturers of
Rose Wood, Mahogany, Black Walnnt and Stained Wood
COFFINS and CASKETS.

MAKING this our exclusive business, we are ready at all times and at the shortest notice to furnish Grave Clothes of various styles, as well as Coffins and Caskets of the finest finish. Personal attention given, and delivered without extra charge to any of the neighboring towns. All orders by express or otherwise will receive prompt attention.

Black Walnut and White Wood Boards, Plank and Joists for sale.
dec 14—tf



CHARLES S. BUFFUM,

BEING an authorized UNDERTAKER of South Danvers, will attend Funerals in said place with his Hearse the same as the Town Undertaker. Will also attend Funerals, when desired, in any of the neighboring towns, with one or a pair of horses.

He also furnishes Coffin Caskets, Robes, &c., lower than city prices.

All branches of the business attended to, such as furnishing Coaches, Flowers, Laying Out, &c. Ice Preservers furnished.

All orders promptly attended to, and personal attention given to them. Articles delivered to any of the neighboring towns free of charge. Orders by express or otherwise will receive prompt attention.

Central street, South Danvers,
RESIDENCE 25 ELM STREET.
South Danvers, Feb 17, 1864.

Undertaker's Notice!

THE subscriber being regularly appointed as Undertaker of South Danvers, would respectfully notify the public that he has removed from Central Street, to No. 80 Lowell Street, where he may be found in readiness to attend funerals, and to furnish, when desired.
HENRY SPENCER.
February 10, 1864.

Chickering & Sons' Piano-Fortes.
Hallett & Cumston's Piano-Fortes.
Hallett & Davis's Piano-Fortes.

We select our Piano-Fortes from the above firms and warrant them to give perfect satisfaction. Our terms are reasonable, and all persons in the city and neighboring towns can be accommodated by calling at 76 Federal street.

FOR SALE—Second-hand Piano-Fortes,—Chickering's and others,
ap 29 ANN B. BRAY.

MOULTON'S
NEW LIVERY STABLE,

Is removed to stable formerly occupied by
SAMUEL HAM,
On MAIN STREET, opposite the Institute.

Good Horses and Carriages will be always in readiness at short notice.
South Danvers, May 25, 1864.

PIN WORMS. MRS. OSBORN'S Universal Worm Powders are the only sure cure ever offered to the public. They are warranted in every case; relief within 24 hrs. 25cts. per box. Sold by all druggists.

For sale by D. P. GROSVENOR, Jr., 33 Main St., South Danvers. jan 27

WATER KEGS.

ANOTHER lot of Stone Water Kegs, at
jy13 S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS' 32 Front st.

Eastern Railroad.

ON and after MONDAY, April 4, 1864, Trains will leave the Eastern Railroad Station, Washington street, Salem, daily. (Sundays excepted):

For Lynn and Boston, *5.50, 7, 8½, 9, 10, 11 a m., 12 55, 2¼, 5¼, 7, 7¼, p. m.
Beverly, 8, 8 15, 11¼, am., 1, 3¼, 2¾, 5¾, 6.55, 7¾ p m.
W. Beach, Man'r, Gloucester, and Rockport, 8, 11¼, a. m., 3½, 6¾ p m.
Ipswich and Newburyport, 8 05 am., 1, 3¾, 5¾, 6.55pm.
Amesbury, 8 05 a m., 1, 3¾, 5¾ p m.
Portsmouth, 8 05 a m., 3¾, p. m.
Portland, 8 05 a m., 3¾ p m.

AND FOR SALEM, FROM

Portland, 8¼ a m., 3 p m.
Portsmouth, 6 20, 9 10, *11¼ a m., *5½ p m.
Amesbury, 7.35, 9.40 a m., 5.55 p m.
Newburyport, 7, 7 55, 10, 11.50 a m., 6¼ p m.
Ipswich, 7.20, 8.15, 10.20 a m., 12.15, 6.35 p m.
Gloucester, 7, 10, 10.10 a m., 1.40, 4.40 pm.
Manchester, 7.25, 10.25 a m., 1.55, 4.55 p m.
Beverly, 6.50, 7.50, 8.20, 8.50 10.50 am., 12.45, 2.20, 5.20, 6.45, 7.05 pm.
Lynn, 7.45, 7.50, 9, 11, a m., 12.45, 3, 3.30, 4.30, 5 30, 6, 6.40, 7.30, 10 p m.
Boston, 7¼, 7¾, 8¼, 10½ am., 12¼, 2½, 3, 4, 5, 5.30, 6.10, 7, †9.30 p m.

*Or on arrival from the East.
‡On Wednesdays this train leaves Boston at 11¼ p m. and on Saturdays at 10¼ p m.

MARBLEHEAD BRANCH.

Marblehead for Salem, 6¾, 7¾, 8¾, 9¾ a m., 12¾, 1¾, 5¼ 6¾, 7¼ p.m.
Salem for Marblehead, 7¼, 8¼, 9.25, 11¼ a m., 1, 3¼, 5¾, 7, 7.50 p m.

SOUTH READING BRANCH.

Trains leave the South Reading Depot in Salem for Boston at 6.35, 9.50 a m., 2.25, 4.55 p m
Boston for Salem, 7 a m., 12 m., 2 30, 5¼ p m.

ESSEX RAILROAD.

Leave Salem for Lawrence and way stations, 7, 11¼ a m., 4.45 p m.
Lawrence for Salem, 8 a m., 12.40, 5.50 p m.
Danvers for Salem, 8.40 a m., 1.20, 6.30 p m.
South Danvers for Salem, 8¾ a m., 1.25, 6.35 p m.

J. PRESCOTT, Superintendent.
Boston, April 5, 1864.

Salem and Lowell Railroad.

ON and after MONDAY, April 4, 1864, Trains will run as follows:

Leave Lowell for Salem, 7.25 a m., and *2.45 p m.
Leave Salem for Lowell, *9 40 a m. and 6 00 p m.

Passengers are not allowed to carry baggage above $50 in value, and that personal, unless notice is given and an extra amount paid. Season tickets do not entitle the holder to take baggage.

*Freight Train with passenger car attached.
F. H. NOURSE, Local Superintendent.
April 4, 1864

SPEED, COMFORT AND SAFETY!

FOR NEW YORK.
Norwich Steamboat Train.
The only Boats Landing at Jersey City.

CABIN Passage, $5.00; Deck Passage, $4.00. The new and elegant sixteen wheel cars of the steamboat express train leave the Boston & Worcester Railroad Station, Albany Street., at 5½ P. M., daily, connecting with the new steamers, (built expressly for this line,) CITY OF BOSTON, Capt. WILCOX, Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays; CITY OF NEW YORK, Capt. JEWETT, Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays, which (before proceeding to their Pier, No. 39 North River,) will touch at the wharf of the New Jersey Railroad at Jersey City, (Sundays excepted) thus enabling Southern Passengers to make sure connections with the First Southern Train, and at the same time avoid the great annoyance of the Ferry and Hack transportation in the crowded streets of New York. This insures ample time for Breakfast before the trains leave. Conductors E. MORRILL and T. N. TURNER accompany the passengers through to New York.

Tickets, Berths and Staterooms secured at the Railroad Station, and at the Office of the line, 79 Washington Street, Boston.

Through tickets to Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington can be had at 79 Washington Street, Boston. WM. DICKEY, JR., Agent.
Boston, January 7, 1864.

Are you Insured?

THE subscriber would respectfully call your attention to the fact that he is fully prepared to effect INSURANCE AGAINST FIRE, to any amount, at current rates, on

Dwelling Houses, Barns and their contents, Stores, Stocks of Goods, Furniture, &c. &c., and on buildings in process of erection,

And that he is the authorized Agent for the following responsible Stock and Mutual Companies, viz:

Thames Insurance Co., (Stock,) Norwich, Conn.
Capital—$500,000.
Amos W. Prentice, Pres. Oliver F. Rice, Sec'y
Conway Insurance Company, (Stock) Boston.
Capital and Surplus—$260,000.
James F. Whitney, Pres. David C. Rogers, Sec'y,
City Insurance Company, (Stock) Boston.
Capital—$150,000.
Samuel P. Hayward, Pres. Austin W. Benton, Sec'y

Also, will effect Insurance on the LIVES OF INDIVIDUALS, for one year, seven years, or for the whole term of life, in the

Massachusetts Mutual Life Ins. Co., Springfield, Mass.
Capital and Assets—$375,000.
Caleb Rice, Pres. D. B. Bacon, Sec'y.
William Mack, M. D., Medical Examiner.

WM. ARCHER, Jr.,
18 Washington st. and 34 Front st., Salem.
feb20-1

ALWAYS SUCCESSFUL!
TO ALL THOSE WHO SUFFER FROM
DEBILITY AND SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

DRS. CARSWELL & HUNTER, regularly educated, highly eminent and successful practitioners, after a very extensive practice in Boston, for over twenty years, need hardly speak of their medical qualifications, or remind strangers not to class them with a set of uneducated men, who fill the papers with their boasting advertisements. Drs. C. & H. caution the public against quackery in all its forms, pretending, as some self-styled doctors, to cure all the most difficult and chronic diseases, without knowledge of the human system, or of the modus operandi of the most simple drugs.

Drs. C. & H., since 1840, having confined their whole atttention to an office practice for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, they acknowledge no superiors.

CONSTITUTIONAL DEBILITY OR SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Drs. C. & H. are pre-eminently successful in the treatment of the above most difficult and perplexing of all diseases, this complaint being the result of a secret habit in youth; if neglected or improperly treated, it proves one of the greatest evils that can befall a human being. Dr. H. has given particular attention to the above disease for years, and so thoroughly has he become acquainted with the pathology and treatment, that he will warrant a perfect cure under forfeiture of $500; in fact, he will, in the cure of this complaint, acknowledge no superior in this country, or even in the world. Come, then, all you who are afflicted, come to the Old Stand, where you will in a short time be made to rejoice in perfect health.

SYPHILITIC AND SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS,—such as Ulcers and Caries of the throat and nose, Running Sores on the legs and arms, Hard Scabs and Scaly Eruptions on the head, back, &c., pains in the bones and joints, and all other forms of venereal diseases are made to yield and entirely disappear under Drs. C. & H.'s improved and thoroughly eradicating course of treatment.

The primary or first symptoms of disease, whether a simple running, or small pistules, cancers, or ulcers, are cured in a very few days, if immediate application is made to Drs. C. & H.

13 ENDICOTT STREET, BOSTON. 13

Strangers should be particular in the selection of a physician, lest they be deceived by false advertisements.

Ladies troubled with irregularity, weakness, whites, and other complaints peculiar to the female system, will find a speedy cure by calling as above. No mercury used, and no charge for advice. The afflicted are invited to give us a call.
Boston, April 20, 1864.—1 yr.

25 YEARS' EXPERIENCE enables DRS. CARSWELL & HUNTER to cure any diseases of a private nature in a shorter space of time and for a smaller amount of money than any other doctors in this country, and they also treat all female complaints with perfect success, and on the most satisfactory terms. Patients furnished with board if desired. Please give us a call at our office, No. 13 Endicott St., Boston, Mass.
Boston, April 20, 1864.—1 yr.

A Card to the Suffering.

SWALLOW two or three hogsheads of "Buchu," "Tonic Bitters," "Sarsaparilla," "Nervous Antidotes," &c., &c., &c., and after you are satisfied with the result, then try one box of OLD DOCTOR BUCHAN'S ENGLISH SPECIFIC PILLS—and be restored to health and vigor in less than thirty days. They are purely vegetable, pleasant to take, prompt and salutary in their effects on the broken-down and shattered constitution. Old and young can take them with advantage. Imported and sold in the United States only by
JAS. S. BUTLER, No. 427 Broadway, New York.
Agent for the United States.

P. S. A Box of the Pills, securely packed, will be mailed to any address on receipt of price, which is ONE DOLLAR, post-paid,—money refunded by the Agent if entire satisfaction is not given. jy 13—3m

PRESERVE YOUR FRUIT.

GLASS Jars and Glass Covers, for preserving Fruits, Vegetables, &c., in a perfectly fresh state, for sale by S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS', 32 Front st.

SUMMER ARRAN
TO LYNN & BO
BY OMNIBUS & HO
W. F. BURNH

Line of Omnibuses will leave th
Omnibus Office, No. 6 Allen's Bu
vers, passing down Main Street, th Street, to Lynn, daily—Sundays in Leave South Danvers at 7 50 o
and 4 50 P. M
Leave Lynn (Horse Car Depot,
A. M., 2 40 and 6 40 P. M.
Horse Cars leaving the office at at 8 15 A. M., 1 15 and 5 15 P. M., w buses at Lynn, at the above nam
passengers to South Danvers.
Tickets to Lynn, -
Through to Boston,

Gravesend, Woodend,
Depot Rout

ON and after Monday, Nov 2, in route, an Omnibus will leave
Lynn, to connect with the steam
times daily,—Sundays excepted,— Gravesend and Woodend, to the C and Horse Railroad Station, cor
Broad Streets; leaving South Danv
necting with the 7.25 steam cars fo (connecting with the 11.10 train), a ing with the 4.50 train); and retur from the Spring Street Station and
pot, at 8 A M, and 1 and 6 P. M.
Fare from S. Danvers to Boston
" " " "
Through Tickets to and from Bos
the Drivers and Conductors.

South Danvers, Salem
Route.

THE subscriber having purchas
ley the Omnibus line runnin
Lynn, would announce that it w
Stage Office, No. 6 Allen's Buildin
for Salem, at 7 30 A M, and 2.30 P
Stage Office in Central St, Salem
3 30 P M for Lynn. Returning wil
A M and 5 P M; and Salem for Sou
A. M. and 6.15 P M.
Passengers between South Danv be called for by leaving orders at Passengers called for at reasonab
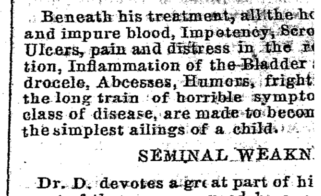
s given at the office.

EXPRESS BUSI
Between South Danvers and Lyn
ed to, on reasonable terms.
Extra Coaches furnished at shor
W. F.
South Danvers, April 20, 1864.

GROUT & MU
SOUTH DANVERS
RAILROAD EX
Express leaves South Danvers a
Freight " " " a
Express leaves Boston at
Freight " " at
OFFICE at FREIGHT
Danvers Square.
Express Office in Boston, 3 W
Freight Office, 48 K
Particular attention paid t
niture, collecting Bills, Notes
Smallest favors thankfully recei
South Danvers, august 26—tf

South Danvers & Salem



goods usually delivered by Express
Leave South Danvers at 7½ and
5 P M.
Leaves Salem at 8 45 A M., 12 M
This Express connects with the f
going East.
SLATES—In Salem, 13 Central st.,
Roberts' store, corner of Front and
South Danvers—At the Post Offic man's store; also at R. O. Spiller's

Abbott's South Danve
EXPRES
Leave South Danvers,
Leave Salem,
Orders left at Teel & Moulton's, on Main street, South Danvers;
on street, and at Reed's in the Ma

Important to the

DR. DOW continues to be cons
Nos. 7 and 9 Endicott street,
eases of a
PRIVATE OR DELICAT
By a long course of study and pr of unlimited extent. Dr. D. has no
of presenting the unfortunate w have never, since he first introduc
cure the most alarming cases of
GONORRHŒA AND SY
Beneath his treatment, all the ho
and impure blood, Impotency, Scro
Ulcers, pain and distress in the dation, Inflammation of the Bladder
drocele, Abcesses, Humors, fright
the long train of horrible sympto
class of disease, are made to becom
the simplest ailings of a child.
SEMINAL WEAKN
Dr. D. devotes a great part of hi
ment of those cases caused by a habit, which ruins the body and m unfortunate individual for business
of the sad and melancholy effects habits of youth, are Weakness
limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dim
pitation of the heart, Dyspepsia,
rangement of the digestive functio
Consumption, &c. The fearful ef are much to be dreaded; loss of m
of ideas, depression of spirits,
aversion of society, self-distrust,
among the evils produced. Such p fore contemplating matrimony, con experience, and be at once resto
happiness.
Patients who wish to remain und ment a few days or weeks, will b
pleasant rooms, and charges for bo
Medicines sent to all parts of the directions for use, on receiving d cases. Dr. Dow has also for sale th warranted the best preventive
or $1 and a red stamp.

CAUTION
TO FEMALES IN DELICAT
DR. DOW, Physician and Surgeo
street, Boston, is consulted daily fo
dent to the female system. Prolaps
ing of the Womb, Fluor Albus, Sup er menstrual derangements, are all pathological principles, and speedy
in a very few days. So invariably mode of treatment, that most obs yield under it, and the afflicted per
in perfect health.
Dr. Dow has no doubt had greate
cure of diseases of women and c
other physician in Boston.
Boarding accommodations for p wish to stay in Boston a few days
ment.
Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confi
tention to an office practice, for th
Diseases and Female Complaints,
superior in the United States.
N. B.—All letters must contain fo
they will not be answered.
Office Hours from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M

CERTAIN CU
IN ALL CASES, OR NO CHA
Dr. Dow is consulted daily, from as above, upon all difficult and c
every name and nature, having by tention and extraordinary success which calls patients from all parts
obtain advice.
Among the physicians in Boston,
in the profession than the celebrate
7 Endicott street, Boston. Those w vices of an experienced physician give him a call. P. S.—Dr. Dow in sale a new article, called the Fren
by mail. Two for $1 and a red stam
April 20, 1864—1y.

Do You Wish to be

DR. BUCHAN'S ENGLISH SPEC in less than 30 days, the wor
VOUSNESS, Impotency, Prematur Weakness, Insanity, and all Urinar vous Affections, no matter from wha
Price, One Dollar per box. Sent on receipt of order. One Box will most cases. Address JAMES jy 13-3m General Agent, 427 Broadw

South Danvers Wizard.

V. SOUTH DANVERS, MASS., WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 21, 1864. NO. 38.

TH DANVERS WIZARD
ery WEDNESDAY, at Allen's Buildvers Square.
Dollars a year.
NTS inserted at reasonable rates.

RLES D. HOWARD,
R AND PROPRIETOR.

LES, Advertising Agent,
's Building, Court Street, Boston, is that city, and is authorized to re-ments and subscriptions for us at es.

ected Poetry.

ARE COMING HOME."

BY ANNIE M. D.

ee them coming home,
hear their tread,
t that the columns move—
f the dead.
bayonets gleam on high,
ife or drum,
triumph fill the air,
oldiers homeward come!
y march, unseen they move;
ft their arms behind—
gh stamped on every brow,
no more can bind.
ir ranks, as on they pass?
husband, see;
pale are falling in
y field that's won.
ou saw them going forth—
young, and brave—
heir shouts as on they moved;
as to the grave.
mother of her boy—
ner hope, her pride;
that his country called,
ly left her side.
ng homeward with that throng,—
's weeping sore;
e fell and breathed her name,
's her boy's no more.
ruel war!
l your work be done?
hrong, when will you pass,
ne see the sun?

THE LOVERS.

part she thinks none listen,
she carols and now she stops;
evening star begins to glisten
the lines of blossoming hops.

erey! your mother taught you nd cares that to maids belong;
to read and to sew, she taught you,
lid not teach you that tender song!
boughs, one through them breaking!
startled, and fain would fly,
she turns, her steps o'ertaking,
s with her—"Mercy, it is but I!"
he touches her hand unbidden—is balmy, I pray you stay—
Her downcast eyes are hidden, er a word she has to say.
drawn her prisoned fingers to his lips with a yearning strong;
urmurs low that late she lingers,
her will want her, and think her long.
ther is she, then honor duly,
test wish in her heart that stirs;
s a bond yet dearer truly,
e is a love that passeth hers."
ercy!" her heart attendeth;
blush on her maiden brow is sweet;
r face when his own he blendeth, lips of the youth and the maiden meet.

—Jean Ingelbow.

Y A BABY'S GRAVE.

aby's grave!
foot or two at the most,
ised sod, yet I think that God
s what that little grave cost.
baby's grave!
ildren even so small,
sit there and sing—so small a thing scarcely a grave at all!
baby's grave!
ge! how we moan and fret
e face that was here such a space—re strange, could we forget!
baby's grave!
ve measure grief by this,
were shed on our baby dead;
w how they fell on this.
baby's grave!
the little life be much,
a gem for His diadem,
se kingdom is made of such?
baby's grave!
ften we come and sit tle stone, and thank God to own re nearer Heaven for it.

—London Good Words.

Doctor Bolus, who was very angry joke was passed on his profes-ce said—"I defy any man whom ttended to accuse me of ignorance ect." "That you may safely do replied a wag, "dead men tell
."

Why is an honest man like a er?" said one person to another.
t tell," was the answer. "Why he is a plain dealer." "Ah! I now; you have made it a deal
"

Selected.

THE SKIPPER'S WIFE.

FOUNDED ON FACT.

Elruin is much like other fishing villages on the Suffolk coast—nothing particularly striking in scenery. Some say the lights on the water are more varied than in many places, and when the sun sets in the sultry summer evenings, there certainly is a particularly bright line of dancing light from the horizon, ending where the waves ripple in at the base of the cliff. I say cliff, for there is only one at Elruin, jutting out into the sea some forty yards farther than the rest of the mainland, which forms almost a straight line from the harbor, a mile to the east of the village, to the remains of the old castle, a hundred yards to the west of the cliff.

The Shark's-tooth Cliff, as it is called, rises about sixty feet above the sea. It was formerly much higher, but every year, as the tides run high, a portion gives way. One of the fishermen has often told me that he could remember well, as a child, its being a perfect hill, and that he and the other lads used to amuse themselves by sliding down the slippery turf facing the sea, and gathering the mushrooms for which the hill used to be so celebrated. The sea encroaches very fast, though not so rapidly as it did before they put up the breakwater.

At certain times, when the tides are very low, you can see a rock covered with long, matted seaweeds. This the fishermen call the Belfry Rock, as it is where the old parish church used to stand.

Three years ago, when the tides were very low, I hired a boat, and was rowed out to the Belfry. The waters were as still and clear as crystal, and, gazing over the sides of the crab-boat, I could distinctly make out in places where the foundations must have stood. I had been reading the account of the old church in the county history, and it seemed to me so strange to be floating over the foundations of those Norman arches, that had once been so much admired. As I gazed down, I saw the red lines of seaweed lazily moving at the bottom, where the shrimps were darting quickly about, and the little eels showing their pointed heads from the crevices of what might have been old building stones.

It was an important village once, Elruin, and the church (so said my county history) was the pride of the neighborhood.

The noble family of Blais for many a hundred years owned the entire parish, and among other things, I read how, up to the year 1600, they used to enforce a toll upon every boat, as it returned from the herring or mackerel harvest; and how no boats were permitted to put out on the day that a body was borne from the castle to the family vaults, long since filled with sand and sea-water. The fishermen's wives, even to the present day, frighten their noisy children into silence by threatening to hand them over to the Black Earl.

Who this Black Earl was I could never satisfactorily discover; but tradition said that an owner of the place, some hundreds of years ago, had finished a life of unexampled wickedness by springing off the cliff into the sea; and this I know, that, even to this time, before a storm the fisherman will tell you that the form of the Black Earl is to be seen hovering over where the chancel of the church once stood, and where his body, if it could have been found, would have been buried.

"Can't see much of the ruin, young gentleman," said the old fisherman who had rowed me out, and who had been watching, with evident satisfaction, the interest I took in surveying the site of the church, which he, in common with the other villagers, took great delight in pointing out.

"Very little," I said, waking from the reverie about the old Norman church, (St. Matthias',) its vaults filled with sand and seaweed, and all those bodies resting round it, where the once grassy churchyard stretched, waiting till the sea shall give up its dead.

I had been thinking and dreaming, till I could almost fancy that the low rolling of the sea was the sound of the organ, and that once more Elruin Church stood before me, with its lofty spire and deep-cut windows, and that I could see the simple fishing folk bowing before the old earl's pew, who, with his wife and daughters, sat in ruffled state, surrounded by the quaintly carved monuments of sleeping ancestors.

"Did you ever see the Black Earl?" I said, raising my eyes from gazing over the side of the boat, seeing that my companion expected me to talk.

"Thank the Lord, never," he answered, refilling his pipe; "my mother did, however, afore that great storm which blew so uncommon hard fifty-six years ago. One day she comes in and says—'I say, Bill, I was a-coming back along the cliff just now, when I seed a black shadow, like a man, floating round the Belfry Rock.'"

"'Mayhap it was a cloud or a porpoise,' says I, seeing she looked very much frightened about it.

"'Twan't a cloud, boy, nor a porpoise, either,' she said—'twas the Black Earl; but don't talk no more about it.—I should not have minded so much if your dad had not gone out a-fishing, and the clouds look very unked.'

"Sure enough, there was such a gale that night as I never heard afore or since. I was a-sleeping in the same room with mother, when I wakes up, hearing a powerful noise of wind against the window. I starts up, and sees mother kneeling by her bed. 'What's the matter, mother?' says I. 'Bill,' says my mother, rising from her knees, and catching hold of my hand, 'I've been praying for your father—I knew 'twas the Black Earl I seed. Lord have mercy on us both! I know my dear man be a dead corpse!' And so he was, sure enough. He and his two mates were picked up, three days after, at the foot of yonder building."

"That's the coast-guard station, is it not?" I said to him, looking at the building he pointed me out, and wishing to change what I knew must be a painful subject. "Do you often have any smuggled goods landed at Elruin?"

"Very few, indeed—they keeps such an uncommon lookout now-a-days; but when I was a boy a deal of business used to be done, and they say as how the great people at the castle were not above trying it on, now and then."

"When do you last remember any goods being smuggled on shore?" I said, seeing, from a grim sort of a smile, that he had a good story if he would but tell it.

"Two years ago, come January, was the last time as ever it was tried on; mayhap, sir, you would like to hear about it? Although part seems rather sad-like, here goes:—

"Two years ago, come January, a ship, looking like a collier coming from Newcastle, anchored in the offing. It was a clear, frosty morning, with a sharp breeze from the east, which prevented many from going out fishing. About twenty of us were gathered round the benches in front of the coast-guard station yonder, when we seed this ship letting down her anchor.

"'What ship is that?' said I; 'taint the 'Tilda, what brings coals to the Elruin wharf, Jack,' says I to my son; 'cut home and get the glass, and let's see what we can make of her.'

"Just as Jack comes with the telescope, up comes Lieut. Barnes, who commands the station.

"'What do you make of her, my man?' said he.

"'Make of her, captain,' says I, (we allers calls him captain,) 'make of her? why nothing at all; taint the 'Tilda, though she seems to be a collier.'

"'A salvage case, perhaps,' says he, 'but we shall hear all about it directly, as I see they are letting down the boat.'

"In a few minutes the boat was at the shore, and a man with a thick serge coat, and very large buttons, jumped out and walked up towards the place where we were standing.

"'Does your parson live near here, mates?' says he, as he came up the gangway.

"'Parson,' said old John Piler, who loves his joke, 'to be sure he does, and he'll marry you as well as any one along the coast, as no doubt you have heard, and come about.'

"This sally was received with shouts of laughter by all, except the man with the big buttons, who put on a most uncommon sad face, and pulled out a large handkerchief, with which he began to mop his eyes.

"'Taint my getting married,' said he, 'I be come about. Yonder ship be the collier, Mary Ann Darley, of Newcastle; and it be along of Mary Ann Darley that I be here to-day.'

"'She then wants to get married, only it's not to you,' said old John; 'and that's why you put on such an uncommon long face. Well, I be sorry for you, mate, that I be.'

"'Mary Ann Darley, who was the beloved wife of our skipper, George Halfred Darley, and arter whom the ship was named, is dead—dead as a red herring,' said the man, with a voice full of anguish, which made old John look ashamed of his former jokes. 'No, mates, without any more trifling with my feelings, which are such as I can't express, tell us where your dear parson lives, because our skipper's mind be in such a state that he says nothing but the consolation your vicar can give, of whom he has often heard, can do him any good.'

"This compliment to our minister, the Rev. Mr. Coles, whom we all loved, and of whom were not a little proud, and the expression of deep sorrow on the man's face, turned all our sympathies towards him, and we all volunteered to show him the way to the vicarage.

"In less than half an hour we saw our minister's tall, thin figure, coming down the village with the man with the big buttons, and in another ten minutes he was on board the vessel.

"In about an hour's time the boat landed Mr. Coles again, who, as he passed us, stopped to shake hands with the lieutenant, who had again joined us, bringing his own glass with him.

"'Most interesting case,' said the vicar 'I never saw a man more completely prostrated by grief. Poor fellow! his wife dead—just three days—only been married two years. I never witnessed more sympathy exhibited for any one than the whole crew expressed towards him—to see it was quite charming. The man with those large buttons is a good, honest, sailor-like fellow, with the tenderest of hearts. I was deeply interested in all the particulars he gave me of the young woman's death. He ended by beseeching me to persuade the skipper to bury his wife, as the crew can't bear a dead body on board ship, and the skipper, he says, is almost always sitting and crying by it. I could not help agreeing with him that it was no use in keeping the poor woman above ground.'

"'And what have you settled to do?' said the lieutenant, returning his glass into its case.

"'Why, of course, the thing was rather irregular, but as all the men on board seemed very anxious about it, I told the skipper, poor fellow, who seemed as overcome by grief as any man I ever met, that if he liked, I would perform the last rites over his poor young wife this very afternoon. At first, as I was told to expect, he would not hear of the funeral taking place anywhere but at Newcastle, his home; but after some persuasion he yielded the point, and the thing is all settled; so, as I must tell the sexton to prepare a grave by half-past three, I must not talk any longer; and really, the scene I have just come from makes me feel that I should like to be alone for a time. I am most thankful to say that the conversation I had with the poor fellow has done much to make him resigned. He had heard of me often, he said, and on his table I noticed my little tract on resignation, which he told me had been a balm to his wounded spirit. Very gratifying, was it not? Good morning to you, my dear lieutenant; good morning, my good men,' he added, as we raised our caps to him, and saw his kindly face turn towards home.

"Before long the bell began to toll, and as I went home to my dinner I saw the sexton hard at work at the grave, which, at the skipper's request, was to be made on the side nearest the sea and farthest from the village, since he told the vicar it would be so comforting, when his ship passed by Elruin, 'to see the spot where his Mary Ann was sleeping.'

"The report that there was to be a funeral from the strange ship in the offing spread like wildfire through the village, and half an hour before the body was to leave the ship the cliff was crowded by villagers, the women with their shawls tied over their heads, and leading their children by their hands.

"Funerals are always a great attraction to our people, but since the last earl died at the castle none had caused so much attention as this.

"'Poor Skipper Darley!' says my old woman; 'won't he feel lonesome just when he gets back to his ship without his missus?'

"'Werry,' says I, 'no doubt; he ain't been married more nor two years.—Lord! what a good sort of a female she must have been, all the crew seemed so fond of her; look here, old lady, through the glass. D'ye see the figure-head of the vessel yonder?'

"'Yes,' says she, resting the glass on my shoulder—'a figure of a woman in green gown and yaller hair.'

"'That be no doubt an exact likeness of Mary Ann Darley,' says I; it's a very common plan that, and as old Cap'n Bist, as commanded the 'Tilda years ago, used to say, "Whenever I follows my wife, I goes right; as I sticks her at the end of my vessel, the 'Tilda allers goes right."'

"'Lor'!' says my wife, again looking through the glass, 'how beautiful Mrs. Mary Ann Darley must have been! Never did I see such a bust, hair and hearings. They are coming at last—the boats are being let down.'

"The church-bells tolled sadly through the keen, frosty air, and there was not a heart, among all those on the cliff that did not feel the deepest sympathy for the widowed skipper.

"Slowly, and with a long, measured stroke, came the two boats, into the first of which we had noticed the coffin being lowered.

"The bier had been taken down to the shore; so, when they had all landed, the coffin was placed upon it, and borne up the gangway by four of the crew. The other four came behind; the skipper, who appeared dreadfully agitated, leaned heavily on the arm of the man with the big buttons, his face buried in his handkerchief, from which at times we could hear a deep sob.

"Up the little street the procession went, and among all the women there was not an eye that was not filled with tears.

"'Poor fellow!' said my wife, 'he do take on terrible, to be sure, that he entirely does. How kind his friend seems to him. Ain't he crying a little, too?'

"Mr. Coles met him at the church gate, and, with some sixty others, they at once entered the church. I and my wife stood at the corner of the yard and waited till they came out, which they did before long, and the coffin was lowered into the grave as the clock ceased to chime four.

"After it was all over, Mr. Coles went up and shook hands, in his kind way, with the skipper, and tried to console him. Much he seemed to require comforting, poor fellow!

"'Just let me look once more at my Mary Hann's coffin—one more look at Mary Hann Darley's grave afore they fill it up forever.'

"'Come along, poor mate,' said his friend, 'and don't take on so terrible; I have spoke to the kind vicar, and he says he will see to the monument being erected right, when you send the design from Newcastle. Only think how comforting it will be, when you are sailing along past this here place with coals, to be able just to look through the glass and say—"I can see the place where, underneath an illigant tomb, rests Mary Hann Darley, what was so very dear to me as a wife, and all those who knowed her as a sister."'

"These words seemed to have a comforting effect on the mind of the widower, who suffered himself to be led away, saying, in tones that deeply moved us all,—'Bless your good vicar, what wrote that tract, which alone prevents me following my Mary Hann to the grave broken-earted.'

"The bell began once more to toll, as the sexton filled up the grave, and hid, from the admiring sight of the boys the rows of brass nails, which told that Mary Ann Darley was cut off at the early age of twenty-six.

"'Cut off like a tulip,' said the sexton, who always improved the occasion to the bystanders; 'and her husband remains as an ostrich alone in the desert; and how I wonders he did not have a brick grave, which would have made her comfortable, and been two shillings fourpence into my breeches' pocket, which, as my wife has twins again, would be very acceptable—very.'

"'Bless me, John,' says my old woman, as we walked home, 'I don't know what you would do without your missus, to get your meals ready and take the insides out of fishes, nor I without my old man; and it's thinking of this that makes me feel so sad about this poor young man as has lost his Mary Ann, which must have been very beautiful, if she was any way like the figure on the ship, which was most pleasing as seen through your glass.'

"I had that evening, I remember, left a net on the seashore, and as I passed the coast guard station I saw the lieutenant watching the ship, which had not yet started. He called me up into the guard room, where he was seated. 'Bill,' says he to me, 'three of my men unfortunately are at Darling this week. I must have at least five men to-night; so if you wish to earn a good night's wages, be down at my house before eight this evening.'

"Before the appointed time I was at the lieutenant's house; four of the coast guard were seated round the kitchen fire, each armed with a musket and cutlass.

"'This is for you,' said the lieutenant, handing me a cutlass and long pistol; 'now follow me.'

"'Where are we to go to?' said I to the man with whom I had to walk.

"'To church,' says he.

"'To church?' says I. 'What a rum go!'

"'A rum go, indeed,' says he; 'only, it's orders not to talk, so don't ax no more questions.'

"It was a clear night, and the frosty tombstones looked like ghosts as we entered the church, the key of which the lieutenant had got. In a few minutes we were seated round the stove in the vestry, which we had lighted. A window was just opposite where I was sitting; I could see the light of the strange ship in the offing, and a few yards before us was the new-made grave of the skipper's wife.

"I think we must have sat more than three hours, when I noticed the light on the ship, which it was my turn to watch, moving. Looking through the night-glass, I could see that a boat was being lowered into the sea. I called the attention of the lieutenant to the fact, who said—'All right—I thought so; but, as they won't think of landing nearer than the ruins, we shall have to wait some time yet, I'll be bound.'

"In less than an hour after this, just as the clock was chiming twelve, I distinctly saw four figures clambering over the church wall. Two of them stopped short and hid themselves under the shadow of an old tombstone, evidently to keep watch. The other two, keeping as much as possible out of the moonlight, advanced to the new-made grave before the window.

"I can't tell you my horror, when I saw the two men, whom I recognized as the skipper and his friend with the big buttons, proceed to take off their coats and set to work with shovel and pick-axe to open the grave.

"'He can't make up his mind to leave his dear wife, after all,' I whispered to the man next me, who was carefully examining the priming of his musket.

"'Don't talk, you fool,' says he; 'let him have his wife if he likes. Remember, silence is orders, and no lights.'

"For three quarters of an hour we sat quieter than ever. 'Now's the time,' says the lieutenant; 'they're lifting the coffin out. You, John, and George Pranker, go through the south door, and mind you cut them off if they try to get through the village gate; don't use your muskets unless you can't help it, but don't let them get away. Now you three others come with me; directly I open the vestry door, rush out and handcuff them before they have time to get up from the coffin, which they are opening. Are you ready?' says the lieutenant, cocking his pistols. 'Now then, here goes, and look sharp.' With a crack open flew the vestry door—out we rushed; and before the two men had time to rise from their knees they were safely secured with the handcuffs we had brought with us.

"'Very neatly done,' said the lieutenant, as in a few seconds time John comes up to say that they had secured both the other men.

"'Take the coffin to the station-house,' said the lieutenant; and so we did, and opened it at once. In it, instead of the young wife with yellow hair, we found a large collection of silk, tobacco, and contraband goods. The clever rascals had hit upon this plan of getting their things on shore—knowing how strict the officers were in looking over every box that was landed.

"'Ah,' said the lieutenant, as he finished overhauling the coffin, 'I expected as much; directly I saw that artful scoundrel with the big buttons, I felt almost sure I had seen him before; and now I know it, it is no other than the man who took me in so cleverly ten years ago, when I had command at Darling; but I'm equal with him now, anyhow.'"—Once a Week.

☞ Charity begins at home.

SPANISH JEWS AND THE CRUCIFIXION.

In the notes to Southey's "Don Roderick," there is a letter relative to the Jews so remarkable and so curious that I have attempted a translation, although the original is in quaint old Spanish, differing as much from modern Castilian as the English of our days does from the English of Chaucer's. Mr. Southey prefaces this letter in the following words:

"When Toledo was recovered from the Moors by Alonzo VI., the Jews of that city waited on the conqueror and assured him that they were part of the ten tribes whom Nebuchadnezzar had transported into Spain; not descendants of Jerusalem Jews, who had crucified Christ. Their ancestors, they said, were entirely innocent of the crucifixion, for when Caiaphas, the high priest, had written to the Toledan synagogues to ask their advice respecting the person who called himself the Messiah, and whether he should be slain, the Toledans returned for answer that, in their judgment, the prophecies seemed fulfilled in this person, and therefore he ought not by any means to be put to death. This reply they produced in the original Hebrew, and in Arabic, as it had been translated by command of King Galifre. Alonzo gave ear to the story, had the letter translated into Latin and Castilian, and deposited among the archives of Toledo. The latter version is thus rendered by Sardoval."

Here follows the letter in the old Castilian tongue, of which the following is a translation:

"Levi, chief of the synagogue, and Samuel and Joseph, honorable men and of good report in the congregation of Toledo, to Eleazar Nugad, high-priest, and to Samuel Canud, and to Anus and Caiaphas, good and noble men of the congregation of the Holy Land, health in the God of Israel. Your messenger, Azarias, a master of the law, has brought us your letter, by which you inform us of the signs and acts of the prophet of Nazareth. A certain person of the name of Samuel, the son of Amacias, lately passed through this city, and he related many good deeds of this prophet; that in his conduct he is very meek and humble, freely conversing with the miserable, doing good even to his enemies, while he does injury to no one. To the proud and wicked he is unyielding; and because he tells you your sins to your faces, ye are his enemies, and bear him ill-will. We inquired of the man the year, month, and day of his (the prophet's) birth, and we remember that on the day of his nativity three suns appeared here in the heavens, which by little and little formed themselves into one; and when our fathers beheld this sign they were astonished, saying to the assembly, 'Messiah will soon be born, or mayhap he is already come into the world.'

Beware, therefore, brethren, lest he (Messiah) be come, and ye did not recognize him. Moreover, the same man told us, that one of his shepherds said that about the time of the nativity certain Magi, men of great wisdom, came to the Holy land, inquiring the place of the Holy child's birth; and also that Herod, your king, was astonished, and sent for the wise men of the city, asking them where the child should be born. They inquired of the Magi, and they said in Bethlehem of Judah. The Magi said that a star of great brilliancy led them from far to the Holy Land. See now if the prophecy be not fulfilled which says, 'Kings shall behold, and shall walk in the brightness of his nativity.' Beware lest you persecute him whom you ought to receive with pleasure, and hold in honor. But do whatsoever to you shall appear right. For our parts, neither by our advice, neither by our will, shall this man be put to death. For should we do such a thing, in us might be fulfilled the prophecy which says, 'They gather themselves with no consent against the Lord, and against his Messias.' And although you be men of much wisdom in such matters, this advice we give you, lest the God of Israel be angry with you, and destroy your temple a second time; and know this for a certainty, that it will soon be destroyed. This is the reason why our forefathers escaped from the Babylonish captivity. Pyrro being their captain, empowered by King Cyrus, laden with much riches, in the sixty-ninth year of the captivity, dwelt at Toledo, being there received by the Gentiles; and not willing to return to Jerusalem to build the temple which was again to be destroyed, they built one in Toledo."—London Ladies' Companion.

☞ Beggars fear no Rebellion.

The Wizard

WEDNESDAY, SEPT'R. 21, 1864.

Republican Caucus.—We hear much inquiry and complaint about the result of the Republican Caucus the other night. The principal cause of complaint is that the Caucus was called for the express purpose of nominating delegates to the State Convention, no other business being suggested in the poster, but after the Caucus assembled they voted to choose a new Town Committee. Last year, at a caucus called in the same manner, a proposition was made by some one to choose a Town Committee,—but it was voted down as contrary to precedent, notice of such business not having been given. We think it would have been more conducive to the harmony of the party if this part of the business had been deferred—not that we could wish any different result, but we should rather have seen the result attained in a manner so fair and aboveboard as to defy criticism even from the most captious. This year it behooves all loyal men to stand together without envy, jealousy or bickering.

THE TWO PLATFORMS.

Another Presidential campaign, the nineteenth of the Republic, and more important than any other that has taken place, has commenced. The two platforms, and their nominees are before the people. Soon the cauldron will be seething and hissing with intensest fury. Every citizen who disbelieves in political monasticism, is loyal to God and the best interests of his country, will not fail to compare and judge the two platforms, bono animo, without influence of party or prejudice, and to cast his vote on the second Tuesday of November next as a conscientious regard to duty may dictate.

We speak of only two platforms. The Cleveland platform we regard of little moment in the fight. Fremont—God bless him for every noble deed and word he has done, and uttered—Fremont, the noblest thing he can do—a deed that will twine a laurel for his brow greener than it ever yet has worn—is to turn to his followers, and, laying aside all personal feeling and dislike, say to them: "I see that in this contest there can be but two great parties, that for country and that against. Whatever wrongs I may have suffered, whatever opinions of lesser moment I may hold, I forget them all for the common good, and throw myself upon the side of freedom, country, and an honorable peace."

We recognize, then, but two parties in this contest,—the Union and the Democratic. And our judgment of the two must be formed from their platforms, which are, in nearly every respect, dissimilar, and in questions of greatest moment to the future welfare of the country, entirely antagonistic.

The Republican platform affirms it to be the "duty of every citizen to maintain the integrity of the Union, and the paramount authority of its Constitution and laws," treat the Rebellion as "criminal" and demands its "complete suppression;" affirms that "Slavery was the cause, and now constitutes the strength of the Rebellion," and demands its "utter and complete extirpation;" applauds the "Proclamation of Emancipation, and the employment as Union soldiers of men heretofore held in slavery;" and "returns thanks to the soldiers and sailors of the army and navy, without distinction of color, who have perilled their lives in defense of their country."

The Democratic platform affirms "unswerving fidelity to the Union," but is silent about the duty of maintaining its integrity; declares that these four years of war have availed nothing, are a "failure," and, by implication, affirms that the war is wrong and the rebellion justifiable; declares every really useful and important act of the Administration a "usurpation," and, sneaking behind the doctrine of State Rights, upholds slavery and denounces every righteous attempt to rid the country of its heaviest burden and greatest curse. Such is the platform of the Democratic party,—an insult it seems to us, to our soldiery, for while it pretends to extend its sympathy to them, it virtually says that all their noble endeavors have been in vain, and that every drop of their heroic blood has been spilled in an unholy struggle; an insult to the brain and courage of the north, for it says we have as yet accomplished nothing, and represents that twenty million freemen, with every military resource at their command, are unable to cope with one-third their number engaged in the most accursed rebellion that ever tugged at the vitals of an empire; an insult to liberty, because it would again enshackle 3,000,000 of God's children whom the Proclamation of Emancipation has made free; blasphemy against the Almighty, for it would put back into worse than Egyptian bondage a people whom, for four long years, He has been leading through the Red Sea of blood to their promised freedom.

We know that McClellan has written that "the Union must be preserved at all hazards," and that, if diplomacy fail to reunite the States, upon the South must fall the responsibility of the failure. But what sign of manliness or strength of purpose is that which plants itself upon a political platform, and, yet, declares rotten the timbers upon which it stands? which writes Peace upon its banner to deceive the ignorant and proclaim War to trap the more conscientious and patriotic?

Now McClellan does not possess the qualities essential to leadership. His whole military course exhibited the want of these, and the manner in which he has accepted the nomination from Chicago, only adds additional testimony to the proof. His letter of acceptance, therefore, can have but little weight in the controversy.

Citizens, is it difficult to tell upon which side all true and loyal men must take their stand? need the lovers of liberty and their country's honor read with uncertain light their duty at the present hour? Yancy is dead, else he might see the breezes of his native State, as they ruffle the waters of her Bay, kissing again the flag whose honor, with eloquent tongue, he sought so long to weaken and dishonor. Atlanta is fallen, and Calhoun's imaginary capital of a mighty empire, as the central pillar of the rebellion, has crumbled to the dust. Richmond is tottering to its fall. What citizen is ready, now that victory, speedy and complete, is within our grasp, now that the blood and groans and tears of these forty months of war seem flowering out for a glad fruition, to yield the victory to Rebellion and give up to bondage 3,000,000 of people, whom, to make free, we have pledged our sacred honor, and so become a hissing and a bye word to all coming time?

Ordination.—On Thursday last Mr. David G. Montgomery, from the Divinity School, Cambridge, was ordained as pastor of the Unitarian Church, in this town. The sermon was preached by Rev. Dr. Briggs of Salem, who seemed to be inspired by the occasion to even more than his usual power and fervency of thought and utterance.

All the services were of an interesting character, the parts being assigned as follows:—

1. Anthem.
2. Reading of Scripture, by Rev. Sidney H. Morse, of Ohio.
3. Hymn.
4. Sermon, by Rev. Dr. Briggs of Salem, from I Cor., IX chap., 16th verse: * * "Necessity is laid upon me; yea, woe is unto me, if I preach not the gospel!"
5. Ordaining Prayer, by Rev. Joseph B. Marvin of Toledo, Ohio.
6. Charge to the Pastor and Address to the Society, by Rev. Mr. Wilson, of Salem.
7. Right Hand of Fellowship, by Rev. Mr. Haskell of Salem.
8. Hymn.
9. Benediction, by the Pastor.

A Model Town.—We are informed by one of our neighbors, who has been rusticating up in the "Switzerland of America," that the town of Lincoln, N. H., is a model municipality, though not of very vast resources. Its whole number of voters is 14. It has filled all its quotas; one half its enrolled men have gone to the war, and there is now only one man in town liable to draft. The present town debt reaches the enormous sum of 50 dollars. Hull must look to its laurels.

Terrible Affray.—A San Francisco paper gives an account of a remarkable street fight in that city, wherein a noted gambler, named Bill Davis, was attacked by four ruffians with pistols. Davis repelled the attack with wonderful vigor and good fortune, and succeeded in killing them all four with his revolver.—Davis, however, received six wounds, but none of them fatal.

A Big Haul.—The other day we saw a crowd looking with apparent wonder at an object on the sidewalk, wrapped in an oil cloth coat, which looked like some case for a Coroner. On approaching the scene we found it to be nothing more nor less than the largest codfish we ever beheld. It was caught outside of Baker's Island by Mr. Lauriston Stiles, of this town. Its weight was 82 pounds.

Dancing.—Mr. Eben Upton — the most successful teacher in the Terpsichorean art we have in these parts—will open a school for instruction in dancing at Creamer Hall, Salem, next Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. As the horse cars pass directly by the door, it will be very convenient for those who wish to attend from our town.

Major Gen. Dodge, of South Danvers, who was reported to be mortally wounded in one of the battles before Atlanta, has just returned to his home in Iowa. It is expected he will recover, though his wound was very severe.

The Draft.—The quotas of all the towns and cities in this district have been filled, most of them having a surplus. Salem is 109 ahead of her call, Danvers 32, South Danvers 29.

Maine.—The Republican majority in Maine last year was, 17.629. This year it will be about 18,000.

ORDINATIONS IN THE OLDEN TIME.

There is a marked difference between an ordination of a man for the ministry now and at the times of our fathers. The ordination of to-day is but an ordinary occurrence. The society itself does not know of it a week beforehand, the observances are like the services of a common Sunday, the right hand of fellowship is given, the consecrating prayer is made and the young candidate becomes the pastor. This is all, and it probably accords more with the simplicity of apostolic times than the more sensational ceremonies of our earlier history.

In those days an ordination was more than an ordinary occasion,—it was a great event. Such occasions were infrequent because a "settlement for life" meant then what the words implied. A minister once ordained, remained with his people to the end of his life, when another ordination followed his funeral. The latter event was as most as sensational as the former and gave rise to the remark of the graceless youngster, who was "glad the minister was dead, because there would be two great days, the funeral and the ordination."

We cannot better illustrate the remark at the beginning of this article than by describing from record and tradition the events of the ordination of Mr. Walker in this town in 1806, in contrast with that of last Thursday. After the usual long time passed in hearing candidates, which is as common now as then, the choice was made. This was a very interesting item of news, not only at home but for all the towns and villages around. It was the topic of conversation in all circles. Who were to constitute the council? and then who would probably have the parts at the approaching ceremony, were questions of great interest. At last the wished for day arrived. Early in the morning, people in their best costumes thronged to the meeting house green, which was well sprinkled with tents and booths for the sale of cakes, ale, egg-nog and stronger beverages.

Carriages of all sorts of style and equipment came into town filled with passengers in holiday apparel and numerous were the signs by the way-side of "Entertainment for man and Beast." The appearance at the central part of the village was that of a modern agricultural show or training field and side shows and the squeaking of fiddles gave variety to the scene. While this was going on out of doors the council of ministers, with their white bands and full flowing white wigs, and the lay delegates, were assembled at one of the principal houses, the candidate was closely examined, the proceedings recorded, and then a procession formed to march to the meeting house. Arrived near the meeting house the idle throng without gave up their sports for the moment and crowded up on either side of the procession as it wound its way among the stands and booths, and thus formed a lane through which it marched into the house. As many as pleased entered the house, but many more prefered to spend their holiday outside and enjoy the music of flute and violin. On the occasion we are describing the latter instrument was found so annoying to the congregation, that the Rev. Moderator, Dr. Hopkins of Salem, cried out in his peculiar nasal voice, "Stop that fiddle on the front door step, it disturbs the public worship of God." No wonder that the fiddler on the front step was a disturber of worship when it is known that there was no entry, the door opening flush into the meeting house.

The services were longer at that day than in our own times. The sermon was a long one and contained a direct address to the candidate and another to the people. The right hand of fellowship was long, the charge was long, and so were the anthems which the choir had been many weeks rehearsing for the occasion. That the prayer was long we may safely infer from the custom of the time, and also that it was one of those preaching prayers, containing side hits at men and things for which the clergy of that day were so celebrated.

Thus usually ended the ordination day, unless a ball took place in the evening, which was common. It was essentially a holiday and was so regarded both by priest and people. The former as well as the latter were on such days more liberal in their potations than on ordinary occasions. It was regarded as a breach of manners to omit the offer of the contents of the decanter or punch bowl to the minister on his visits, and it was usual on all public assemblages to use artificial stimulants freely, both by clergy and laity. It was the custom of the time and they are not to be judged severely by us who live in a later if not wiser age.

A New Richmond in the Field.—We see by the Boston Courier of the 14th instant, that "Hon. J. W. Percey of Salem," made a speech at the McClellan ratification meeting, lately held in Lawrence. Alas! what is fame?

Peaches.—The Wizard Office, from the editors to the "devil," express their thanks to Mr. Boman Viles, for a bountiful supply of nice peaches.

WAR CORRESPONDENCE.

Near Berryville, Sept. 5th, 1864.

Dear Friend,—I'm going to pay you for writing a short letter by sending a similar one in return. There is no news of importance here. The day after I wrote you before, part of our force had a right smart fight at Berryville—our regiment was not engaged. The old Vermont brigade lost about three hundred. It was Sunday and our brigade, making a rapid detour round through Charleston, formed on the right flank of our army and threw up fortifications, working till after dark, and then at 11 at night, we left them and fell back to Halltown. This last place is a strong position for defence, and we hoped the Johnnies would follow us up and attack, which they showed some disposition to do, till we were so well fortified, they knew it would be of no use; then they began slowly falling back for the purpose of drawing us out, but Gen. Sheridan shows no disposition to fight them, unless it be on ground of his own choosing, and so he has thus far moved at his leisure. We are now about two miles from Berryville—have worked day and night, are strongly entrenched, with three lines of battle, and the Johnnies are constantly trying to "play possum" with our pickets and skirmishers, and although a hard battle has been expected here for the past two days, I hardly think we will have one here. Saturday night the 8th corps ran on to the rebels rather unexpectedly, and a sharp skirmish ensued in which the rebs were routed. I hope in my next letter I can tell you that we have had a BIG fight, and whipped the rebels soundly.—Jeff Davis says "Independence or subjugation"—and we say it shall be the latter. There is no doubt all our soldiers ardently desire peace—but they don't want it by any concession to the traitors. I was conversing with a soldier who in his "three years" experience had been in nearly 30 pitched battles and nearly 100 skirmishes, and remarked to him, "Well, you have seen a great deal of war, and would like to see it ended." "Yes," he said. "What terms will you concede to the rebels?" His answer more strong than polite or pious, was, "I won't give a G—d d—nd inch, I would sooner fight ten years longer." And this is the spirit of the army as I look at it. We want peace—but it shall be peace—and not an armistice—"Atlanta is ours"—Richmond and Mobile soon will be—I cannot tell you how wild with delight the boys were with the news of Atlanta's fall, and before the "merry, merry month of May," I hope and a little expect that "Johnny will come marching home" to the anxious hearts, that have so long waited for his return.

Yours,

Fred.

P. S. We captured 80 Johnnies to-day.

CATTLE SHOW.

The following is a programme of the Cattle Show and Exhibition of the Essex Agricultural Society, at Lawrence, Tuesday and Wednesday, Sept. 27th and 28th, 1864:

Tuesday, 10 A. M. The Trustees, Committees, and Marshals meet at the Common Council Room, City Hall, for the calling of the roll.

11 A. M. The Society will meet at the same place, for the choice of a President, four Vice Presidents, Secretary and twelve Trustees.

2 P. M. The trial of Draft Oxen and Horses will come off at South Lawrence near the bridge.

7½ P. M. Farmers' Meeting at Common Council Room, City Hall, for discussion.

Wednesday, 9½ A. M. The Ploughing Match will take place on Land in South Lawrence, near the Lowell Railroad.

11 A. M. The members of the Society will meet in front of City Hall, and proceed to the Lawrence Street Church to hear the Address of Hon. Darwin E. Ware.

12, M. The Society will have a public Dinner, in the Basement Hall of City Hall Building, after which the Premiums will be announced and Addresses may be expected from Gov. Andrew and other distinguished gentlemen.

3 P. M. Trial of Steam Fire Engines on the Common for Prizes.

The Cattle and other Pens, and Poultry Stands will be on Essex Street near the City Hall.

Fruits, Flowers, Dairy Products, Vegetables and Domestic Manufactures will be exhibited in the City Hall, where all entries should be made previous to 10 o'clock A. M. on Tuesday.

Carriages and Agricultural Implements in the Society's tent on Essex Street.

Superintendent of Hall of Exhibition, Wm. D. Lamb, to whom all articles of Domestic Manufacture, and Fruits, should be addressed at Lawrence.

Superintendents of Stock, James S. Howe, Eben G. Berry, Asa M. Bodwell.

Entries will be received at Room No. 5, City Hall, at or before 10 A. M. on Tuesday.

JOSHUA HOWE, President.
Charles P. Preston, Secretary.

New Artists' Rooms.—Messrs. Bushby & Hart, of South Danvers, have taken the upper part of Hill's Building, on the corner of Central Square and Willow Street, which they are fitting up in beautiful style, and will soon open as a Photograph and Artists' Gallery. They have both had much experience in the taking of photographic and other pictures, and having patriotically and bravely given their country three years' service in the Union armies, to put down the rebellion, now return to their favorite profession. We should also state, that Mr. Bushby is a portrait painter of no ordinary merit. We have seen some of his pictures which were excellent likenesses, and exhibited both in the drawing and coloring, genius and art. We cannot doubt that Messrs. Bushby & Hart will be liberally patronized, as they certainly deserve to be.—Lynn Bay State.

☞ The following premiums were awarded to citizens of Essex County at the New England Agricultural Exhibition at Springfield:—

For Ayrshire Herd premiums; for two years old Ayrshire Bull, 1st premium; for yearling Ayrshire Bull, 1st premium; for Ayrshire Cow 3d premium; for Ayrshire Heifer two years old, 3d premium—to Dr. George B. Loring, Salem.

First premiums for Potatoes, Onions, Cabbages, Winter Squashes, and best collection of Vegetables—to S. A. Merrill, Salem.

The Presidential Election is fixed by law to take place on the Tuesday following the first Monday in November, and not the first Tuesday, as many suppose. This year the first Monday not coming till the 7th, the election takes place on the second Tuesday, which is the 8th.

AFFAIRS IN LYNNFIELD.

Lynnfield, September 19th, 1864.

Dear Wizard,—Everything is quiet at present in this place—more so than usual, I think—and although some of the old settlers get into a controversy, occasionally, on the probable issue of the war and the Presidential election, most people seem to have settled down to a quiet understanding and resolve to let the thing take its course, let the issue be what it will.

Notices were posted about town this week by the authorities stating that according to the Provost Marshall's account the quota of Lynnfield was full and one over, which was joyful news to some, no doubt, and many will be glad to see the matter settled for this call.

Capt. Thomas Keenan left town last week for the front, after an absence of about five months. He left in good spirits, and took with him the kind wishes of all citizens of Lynnfield, to whom, by his merits, he has endeared himself.

The Hotel has been re-opened since my last letter — Mr. Charles Pitman, who formerly kept the Ocean House, Swampscot, having taken the proprietorship of it. It is said that his reputation has formerly been good in regard to "keeping a hotel." I trust it may hold out in this case.

Gen. Newhall having taken pains to cultivate some fine grapes which he intended to send to the Horticultural Fair this fall had the mortification to find one morning, recently, that they had all been stolen the night before. Such cases are not rare in this place and the general opinion is that it would not be difficult to point ont the offenders and a lack of sufficient proof only prevents them from being brought to justice. However, the day may not be far distant when some of them will be made to feel the weight of the law.

Yours, respectfully, Lynnfield.

Salem Mechanic Light Infantry. The Register published the roll of this company, which is now attached to the 6th Regiment, (100 days men,) and we find the following names of persons belonging to South Danvers and Danvers:

South Danvers.

Luther D. Kilbourn.
John E. Moody.
Jeremiah Kerbey.
Frank B. Messer.
J. A. Moulton.
F. H. Sanger.
Theodore P. Teague.

Danvers.

George M. Crowell, 2d Lieut.
Warren P. Dodge, Corporal.
Albion W. Bodwell.
William Collins.
Patrick Collins.
Daniel A. Caskin.
Charles H. Giles.
Onis K. Huff.
Thomas Hartman.
William S. Inman.
Hugh Murphy.
Edward North.
Thaddeus Osgood.
Richard Poor.
Joseph Thompson.
Walter F. Tarlton.
Austin Towne.
Frederick Wright.

Democratic Caucus.—The Democrats of this town held a meeting at the Town Hall, on Thursday evening last, for the purpose of electing Delegates to the Democratic State Convention, to be holden at Worcester the 21st inst., (to-day.) The meeting was called to order by Henry C. Poor. H. O. Wiley was chosen Chairman, and C. F. Holman, Secretary. On motion of H. C. Poor, the Chairman appointed a committee of four, consisting of F. K. Pemberton, S. A. Southwick, J. H. Estes, H. C. Poor, to draw up a list of Delegates to attend the State Convention, and they reported the following gentlemen:

Eben Sutton, S. A. Southwick, H. O. Wiley, F. K. Pemberton.

Alternates—H. C. Poor, B. M. Hills, R. H. Brown, Denis Linnehan.

On motion of H. C. Poor, the above gentlemen were appointed to attend, also, the Congressional, Senatorial and County Conventions.

On motion of H. C. Poor, the chair appointed a committee of two—consisting of C. F. Holman and R. H. Brown—to retire and report a Town Committee for the ensuing year. The committee reported the following gentlemen: H. C. Poor, J. H. Estes, H. O. Wiley.

The business of the evening over, H. O. Wiley addressed the meeting in his characteristic style; after which it adjourned with three cheers for McClellan, and three more for the Old Union.

Gen. Foster Engine Company.—On Sunday last this Company attended the funeral of their late much respected comrade, Mr. Joshua J. Whipple. After the funeral obsequies, the Company voted that a letter of condolence expressive of the sympathy and sorrow of his late associates, be presented to the family of the deceased. The following is the letter alluded to above:

Gen. Foster Engine Room,
South Danvers, Sept. 18, 1864

Dear Madam,—The undersigned in behalf of the Engine Company, of which your late husband was so long a respected and honored member, are directed to express to you their high regard for him as a citizen and associate, their estimation of his excellent character and their sorrow for his loss. They desire to join with you in cherishing the memory of one whose public spirit and private virtues have endeared him to all with whom he was connected.

With deep sympathy for you in your great affliction, we remain yours, very respectfully,

GUSTAVUS MERRILL, Foreman.
George E. Lewis, Clerk.

To Mrs. Whipple.

South Danvers Agricultural Library Association.—The annual meeting of this association was held the first Wednesday of the present month, and the following gentlemen were elected officers for the ensuing year:

President—Kendell Osborn.
Vice President—Miles O. Stanley.
Secretary and Treasurer—William Wolcott.
Libarian—Amos Merrill.

ANOTHER GLORIOUS VICTORY!

Washington, Sept. 20.

We have won a glorious victory in the Shenandoah Valley. Sheriden defeated Early yesterday, in the vicinity of Halltown, capturing 2500 prisoners, five guns and nine stands of colors, beside killing and wounding nearly 3000 of the enemy.

The Rebel Gens, Gordon and Rhodes are killed, and three others wounded.

A Mystery Explained.—The Atlana Intelligencer publishes the following among its selected items:

It is a well-known fact that the reason assigned by many for the panic which caused our troops to break at the battle of Mission Ridge was that the enemy showed themselves in such overwhelming numbers that the boys thought the whole world was marching to attack them. We, to show the opinion prevailing among our boys, will relate the following anecdote, which we do not remember to have seen in print:

As line after line, and mass after mass of Yankees appeared crossing the plain and ascending the hillside, marching onward with seemingly resistless force, our troops began to waver, and many of them, to their shame, fled without firing a gun. Some of them, however, stayed until the last, and among these was one fellow who, to use his own language, "stayed thar till they got so close that he heard one of the Yankee Generals give the command: 'Attention, World! By Nations, right wheel! By States, Fire!' and then I thought it was time for this darned little Southern confederacy to be gittin' out of the way." Don't blame him for it; it was about time to "git out o' the way."

Lost.—A Locket, containing a soldier's miniature, on one side, and some hair on the other. Any one finding the same by returning it at this office will be suitably rewarded.

Breakfast Shawls—Sontags, &c., at Peabody's.

Water Falls—Nets—Combs, &c., at Peabody's.

50 Cents—Have you seen those 50 cent Wrought Collars at Peabody's.

Loan.—The subscriptions to 7-30 loan on Friday and Saturday were over $2,000,000.—The total to date $36,294,000.

Worsteds.—The largest stock of real German Zephyr Worsteds in Salem has just been opened at J. P. Peabody's, 220 Essex street.—As the larger part of the Stock was bought last Spring he can sell them at less than the present wholesale prices. Customers will do well to buy now before he has to replenish his stock, as they must cost more then. He has also a full line of Clouds, Sontags, Hoods, Mittens, Shawls, &c., which will be sold at the lowest possible prices.

Episcopal Services.

Divine Service, according to the order of the Protestant Episcopal Church, will be held in the Town Hall on Sunday evening next, and on every following Sunday until further notice. Service to commence at 7 o'clock. All interested are affectionately invited to attend. Sermon next Sunday by the Rector of Grace Church, Salem. Sept 21

To Consumptives.

Consumptive sufferers will receive a valuable prescription for the cure of Consumption, Asthma, Bronchitis, and all Throat and Lung affections (free of charge) by sending their address to Rev. EDWARD A. WILSON, Williamsburg, Kings Co., New York.
sept 21—3 mos.

NOTICE.

"Christ Blessing Little Children," and "Home on a Furlough."
Subscriptions for the above beautiful Engravings received at
B. F. STEVENS' Jewelry Store.

The subscriber, following the example of other business men, has concluded to adopt the "Cash plan." All goods bought or jobs left to be repaired, must be paid for, on delivery hereafter.
B. F. STEVENS.
South Danvers, Aug. 31, 1864.

Port of Danvers.

Ar 15th, schs Albert Pharo and John Lancaster, Philadelphia.

Marriages.

In San Francisco, Sept. 17th, Mr. James L. Sperry of Murphys, Cal., to Miss Hittie B. Felton, of South Danvers.

In Beverly, Sept 15th, at the First Baptist Church, by Rev Mr Foster, assisted by Rev Dr Abbott, Mr George Meacom to Miss Frances E Batchelder.

In Cambridge, Sept 14, by Rev Mr Wheeler, Mr. Jonathan King to Mrs. Elizabeth W. Damon, both of South Danvers.

Deaths.

In South Danvers, Sept 10th, Mary Ella, daughter of Boman and Hannah M Viles, 13 months 16 days.

We, her dimpled hands have folded,
On her pure and peaceful breast,
And within the little casket
Laid our darling down to rest.

Who can tell the bitter anguish,
Or the grief our bosom tore,
When we knew our darling Mamie
Here would greet us nevermore!

E're the shafts of dark-winged Azrael
To our peaceful home were sent,
By her loving ways we're often Thought her but an angel lent.

She has gone, and her departure
Sad our happy home has made;
Fallen in the early autumn—
Fairest flowers the soonest fade!

But we trust again to meet her,
When life's fitful dream is o'er,
In the arms of the Redeemer—
Where sad partings are no more.

O thou great and blessed Saviour,
For the loss of our sweet one,
Give our hearts thy consolation,
May we feel—Thy will be done. J. B. H. F.

Sept 17, Samuel, son of Hiram and Sarah Ann Plumer, 13 years.

In Danvers, Sept 15, Mr Amos Alden Pope, 26 years.

In Salem, Sept 12, Mr John Tivnan, 66 ys; 15th, Mrs Charlotte, widow of the late Mr John Merrill, 84; 16th, Mr John Meyers, 55; Mrs Mehitable Fisk, 91 yrs 2 mos 21 ds—widow of the late Nathaniel Fisk of Topsfield; 17th, Mrs Eliza J, widow of the late Isaac D Lamson, and daughter of the late Joseph Janes, 51 years 5 mos.

In Beverly, Sept 12, Mrs Janes, widow of the late Benj. Giles, 71 yrs 5 mos; 13th, Mr Edwin H Obear, 24 years 5 mos—a member of Co G, 23d Mass. Reg.

In Boxford, Sept 10, Mrs Hannah, wife of Mr Daniel Mitchell, 79.

In Boston, Sept 4, Mr John Julian, 76 yrs.

In Loudon, N H, Sept 13, Mr Joseph E Clifford, 66 years.

U. S. 7-30 L

The Secretary of the Treasury gives scriptions will be received for Coupon payable three years from Aug. 15th, 186 nual interest at the rate of seven and cent. per annum, principal and interest
in lawful money.

These notes will be convertible at t holder at maturity, into six per cent. gol payable not less than five nor more t from their date, as the Government m will be issued in denominations of $
$1,000 and $5,000, and all subscription ty dollars, or some multiple of fifty do

The notes will be transmitted to t transportation charges as soon after t original Certificates of Deposit as t
pared.

As the notes draw interest from A making deposits subsequent to that d interest accrued from date of note to Parties depositing twenty-five thou upwards for these notes at any one tim a commission of one-quarter of one will be paid by the Treasury Depart ceipt of a bill for the amount, certifie with whom the deposit was made. N commissions must be made from the d

SPECIAL ADVANTAGES OF

It is a National Savings Bank, rate of interest than any other, and ty. Any savings bank which pays it S. Notes, considers that it is paying i ing medium of the country, and it c thing better, for its own assets are ei securities or in notes or bonds payal paper.

It is equally convenient as a tempo investment. The notes can always a fraction of their face and accumu are the best security with banks as counts.

Convertible into a Six per cent.

In addition to the very liberal in for three years, this privilege of worth about three per cent. per ann rate for 5-20 Bonds is not less th premium, and before the war the cent. U. S. stocks was over twenty seen that the actual profit on this market rate, is not less than ten pe

ITS EXEMPTION FROM STATE OR

But aside from all the advantage
ed, a special Act of Congress exem Treasury notes from local average, this exemption is worth per annum, according to the rate o
parts of the country.

It is believed that no securities
ments to lenders as those issued
In all other forms of indebtedness, of private parties, or stock compan
munities, only, is pledged for paym property of the country is held to of all the obligations of the United

While the government offers th for its loans, it believes that the will be to the loyalty and patriotis

Duplicate certificates will be issu
The party depositing must endorse certificate the denomination of whether they are to be issued in bl der. When so endorsed it must b receiving the deposit, to be forwar
Department,

Subscriptions will be receiv
of the United States, at Washing sistant Treasurers and designated the

First National Bank of Salem,
First National Bank of Bosto
Second National Bank of Bost
Third National Bank of Bost
National Bank of the Republi
Boston National Bank, Bosto
First National Bank of Ames
First National Bank of Have
First National Bank of Newb

And by all National Banks whic public money, and
ALL RESPECTABLE BANK
throughout the country will gi
and
AFFORD EVERY FACILITY
August 17, 1864,—3m

Physicians'

The Physicians of Danver
ly agreed to charge on and per visit.

Millinery N

The subscriber has rem
Street, Salem, opposite Ce for the patronage bestowe whilst in South Danvers, continuance at her new plac will be found a new and des linery and other articles w made up on the most reaso
PAUL
Sept. 7th, 1864—3w

FROM
The Celebrated Deg
and secured fo
MR. J. M.
when in Ger
WHO SELECTED EVERY ARTIC
ELEGANC
OVER 200
Magnificent Worsted
Making the Finest Variety o
Work ever shown in
NOW ON VI
BROWNING
To which the Ladies are r
No Hall of Art ever presente tion.

received for LEWANDO'S FRENCH
M. E. CRANE.
tf.

SBORNE'S Store, and look at the ety of new styles in HATS and ssex street.

ny hospital—the bloody battle-field— of the rich and humble abode of the e office and the sacred desk—from the distant valleys and far-off islands of om every nook and corner of the civi-s pouring in the evidence of the aston- of DRAKE'S PLANTATION BIT- sands upon thousands of letters like the be seen at our office.

REEDSBURY, WIS., Sept. 16, 1863.
I have been in the army hospitals for hs,—speechless and nearly dead. At y gave me a bottle of Plantation Bit- Three bottles restored my speech and * * *
C. A. FLAUTE.',

SOUTH WARSAW, O. July 28, 1863.
One young man, who had been sick and e house for two years with Scrofula and fter paying the doctors over $150 with- as been cured by ten bottles of your
EDWARD WOUNALL.

ing is from the Manager of the Union for the Children of Volunteers:
EYER MANSION, FIFTY-SEVENTH ST.,
New York, August 2, 1863.
KE: Your wonderful Plantation Bitters ven to some of our little children suffer- akness and weak lungs with most happy ittle girl, in particular, with pains in her appetite, and daily wasting consumption; medical skill had been exhausted, has y restored. We commenced with but a of Bitters a day. Her appetite and dly increased, and she is now well * *
Respectfully, MRS. O. M. DEVOE."

I owe much to you, for I verily believe n Bitters have saved my life.
. W. H. WAGGONER, Madrid, N. Y."

Thou wilt send me two bottles more of ion Bitters. My wife has been greatly their use.
end, ASA CURRIN, Philadelphia, Pa."

I have been a great sufferer from Dys- had to abandon preaching. * * * The Bitters have cured me.
V. J. S. CATHORN, Rochester, N. Y."

Send us twenty-four dozen more of your Bitters, the popularity of which are daily with the guests of our house.
SYKES, CHADWICK & CO.,
ters Willard's Hotel, Washington, D. C.

I have given the Plantation Bitters to of our disabled soldiers with the most as- ffect.
G. W. D. ANDREWS,
ntendent Soldiers' Home, Cincinnati, O.

The Plantation Bitters have cured me of aint, of which I was laid up prostrate and ndon my Business.
H. B. KINGSLEY, Cleveland, O."

The Plantation Bitters have cured me of ment of the kidneys and urinary organs stressed me for years. It acts like a charm.
C. C. MOORE, 254 Broadway, N. Y."
&c. &c. &c. &c.

ntation Bitters make the weak strong, the rilliant, and are exhausted nature's great They are composed of the celebrated Cal k, Wintergreen, Sassafras, Roots, Herbs, eserved in perfectly pure St. Croix Rum.

S.—T.—1860—X.

of sedentary habits troubled with weak- tude, palpitation of the heart, lack of appe- ss after eating, torpid liver, constipation, e to suffer if they will not try them.

re recommended by the highest medical au- and are warranted to produce an immediate effect. They are exceedingly agreeable, pure, and harmless.

.—Any person pretending to sell Plantation bulk or by the gallon is a swindler and im- It is put up only in our patent log cabin Beware of bottles refilled with imitation de- stuff for which several persons are already . See that every bottle has our private States Stamp over the cork unmutilated, and on steel plate side label.

respectable dealers throughout the habita-

P. H. DRAKE & CO.
202 Broadway, N. Y.
—1 yr

GREAT ENGLISH REMEDY.
SIR JAMES CLARKE'S
EBRATED FEMALE PILLS!

red from a prescription of Sir J. Clarke, M. , Physician Extraordinary to the Queen.

well known medicine is no imposition, but a re and safe remedy for Female Difficulties and tions, from any cause whatever; and, although rful remedy, they contain nothing hurtful to stitution.

cases of Nervous and Spinal Affections, pain Back and Limbs, Fatigue on slight exertion tion of the Heart, Hysterics, and Whites, these ll effect a cure, when all other means have and, although a powerful remedy, do not iron, calomel, antimony, or anything hurtful onstitution.

directions in the pamphlet around each e, which should be carefully preserved. full particulars, obtain, free, of the agent, a let. Sold by all Druggists.
United States Agent,
JOB MOSES, 27 Cortlandt St., New York.
.—$1 and 6 postage stamps enclosed to any ized agent, will insure a bottle, containing over , by return mail. March 9, 1864.—1 yr.

New Advertisements.

Village Bank.

Stockholders of this Bank are hereby notified at the annual meeting will be held at their g Rooms on MONDAY, the 3d day of October at 9 o'clock, A. M., for the following purposes:
For the election of Directors.
To act upon the subject of loans to the Direc- greeably to the General Statutes, Chap. 57, Sec.
To see if they will vote with the required au- y of two-thirds of the Capital Stock, to become sociation under the provisions of the act of Con- of the United States, entitled "An act to provide tional Currency secured by a pledge of United s bonds, and to provide for the circulation and ption thereof," approved June 3, 1864, and to rize the Directors, if they deem it expedient, to acts and things necessary to effect this object.
. To act on any other business that may legally before them.
Per order, WM. L. WESTON, Cashier.
nvers, Sept. 21, 1864. 2w

Warren Bank.

E annual meeting of the Stockholders of this Bank will be holden at their Bank Rooms, on SDAY, October 4th, at 9 o'clock, A. M., for the e of Directors for the ensuing year; to act upon ubject of loans to Directors; and to transact such business as may legally come before them.
otice is hereby given, that at a meeting of the kholders of this Bank, held June 8th, 1864, it was d that said Bank become an Association for carry- n the business of Banking under the laws of the ed States, and that the Directors have procured authority of the owners of two-thirds of the capital k to make the certificate required therefor by the s of the United States.
Per order, FRANCIS BAKER, Cashier.
outh Danvers, Sept. 21, 1864. 2w

Messenger's Notice.

OTICE is hereby given, that a warrant has been duly issued by the Judge of the Court of Insolven- against the estate of PELATIAH LITTLEFIELD, alem, in the County of Essex, currier, an insolvent tor, and that the payment of any debts, and the very of any property belonging to said insolvent tor, to him or for his use, and the transfer of any perty by him, are forbidden by law: A meeting of creditors of said Insolvent Debtor, will be held at ourt of Insolvency, at Salem, in said County, at the rt House, on the 24th day of October next, at 10 ock in the forenoon, for the proof of debts, and the ice of assignee or assignees.
DANIEL POTTER, Dep. Sheriff, Messenger.
alem, Sept. 20, 1864. 2w

J. F. Almy & Co.

HOSIERY, GLOVES, &C., &C.

WE have just received a full stock of
GENT'S WOOL SOCKS,
AND LADIES' AND MISSES' HOSIERY,
in best makes, at low prices.

Also—a fine stock of Ladeis' Silk, fleece lined and Cloth GLOVES, in all grades and sizes.

We have received this morning a line of GENT'S SHIRT FRONTS,
in fine qualities.

We have received this morning a fine stock of
BLANKETS,
comprising a variety of makes.

We have in stock a full line of American and Foreign CLOTHS, suitable for
WINTER CLOAKS,
which we are prepared to make to order, from measure, for Ladies or Children, in any style.

The prices throughout our whole stock are low in comparison to the present ruling rates.

JAMES F. ALMY & CO.,
188 Essex Street, opposite Central Street.
Salem, September 21st, 1864

STORE TO LET.

THE Store now occupied by Messrs. Blake & Holman, on the corner of Washington and Main Sts. The best located and most convenient store in town for the Grocery business. Possession given immediately. Apply to
R. S. DANIELS.
South Danvers, Sept. 21.

WHITE LEAD.

FOREST River White Lead and New York White Lead, for sale in any quantity, at sep 21 S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS', 32 Front st.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

MESSRS. BROWNING & LONG

HAVE received their own importation of GENUINE
German Zephyr Worsted.

It will be gratifying to their customers to know that their present assortment surpasses anything ever seen in Salem.

Elegant New and Delicate Shades!

NEW PURPLE, AZULINE, GOLD AND STEEL MAUVE, FAWN, MAIZE, WINE AND CUIR.

MAGNIFICENT COLORS!

The superiority of BERLIN ZEPHYR is too well known to need comment. Our present stock is in advance of all previous seasons.

We make this a great specialty, and, therefore, can offer a greater variety and more perfect assortment.

Many colors are entirely new, and the shades really near perfection.

We show the greatest stock ever displayed in
ONE ESTABLISHMENT
in this vicinity.

Our Prices are, with a very slight advance, as same as those of the Summer, and as low as GOOD WORSTEDS can be sold anywhere in the country.

Every shade in our great assortment has a different number, and, having a sufficient quantity of each on hand, we are able, at any time of the season, to match any color.

BROWNING & LONG,
177 Essex Street, 177
SALEM.
Salem, Sept. 21, 1864.

AUTUMN STYLES.

WE are now prepared to show our customers a fine
—— assortment of ——
FALL MILLINERY GOODS.
REITH & CO'S,
No. 2 West Block, 188 Essex St.,
Sept 21 SALEM, MASS.

197 REMOVAL. 197

Gentlemen's Clothing.
YOUTH'S AND BOYS' CLOTHING,
— AND THE —
FURNISHING GOODS ESTABLISHMENT,
of the subscriber is removed to
197 Essex Street,
Store lately occupied by Mr. JOHN MCKEY.
☞ A full and fresh assortment of GOODS is now opening and will be kept up as the season advances.
Salem, Sept 21. T. H. LEFAVOUR.

List of Letters

REMAINING unclaimed in the Post Office at South Danvers, Mass., Sept. 20th, 1864.
☞ "To obtain any of these letters, the applicant must call for ADVERTISED LETTERS, give the date of this list, and pay one cent for advertising.
☞ "If not called for within one month, they will be sent to the Dead Letter Office.
☞ Office Hours from 7 A. M. to 8 P. M.

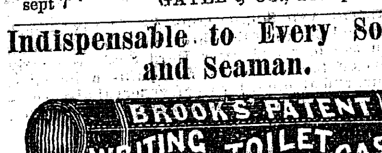
Lucy A Barker
Hannah J McAuliffe
Jos. Eddy
Charlotte H Crosby
Abbie F. Evans
Warren P Davis
Eliza K Eldridge
Henry Deland
L C Emerson
G F Gethell
Andrew Dare
J F Kimball
Maria Larrabee
Alphonzo M Larozue
Newell M Jewett
E D Kimball
Esther Larrabee
A B Maine
Geo H McLellan
N A Merrill
Lizzie C Moore
Alpha Osborne
Annie Nichols
Mattie Newhall
Margaret O'Connell
Cleve Parker
Danl W Putnam
Jane Ritche
Margaret Ritchie
D W Swift
Emily H Stanly
John Scanlan
Charles Reed
Sarah E Sanborn
Richard Fennessy
Mary J Russell

DANIEL WOODBURY, P. M.

OATS. OATS.

5000 BUSHELS PRIME OATS, received this day, and for sale by
sept 7 GAYLE & CO., Phillips Wharf.

Indispensable to Every Soldier and Seaman.



EASILY carried in the coat pocket. Supplied by the manufacturers at the old price—$2.
D. B. BROOKS & BROTHER,
201 Essex Street, Salem, Mass.
Those who have friends in the Army of the Potomac can have them sent to them free of postage. sept 7

REAL ESTATE.

The subscriber offers for sale the following Lots of Land, with the buildings thereon, at Private Sale, until October next, when, if not previously sold, they will be put up at auction.

On Lowell street, a two story DWELLING HOUSE, fitted for two families. This is the Estate formerly known as the Southwick Tavern.

On Lowe street, leading from Foster St. to Washington St., a two story TENEMENT for two families with a garden attached to it.

On Washington street, near the residence of Capt. Lowe, a very eligible BUILDING LOT, on the North side of the street.

On Tremont street, a small COTTAGE HOUSE for one or two families.

On Walnut street, a pleasant, elevated Lot of Land, with a large Barn, situated opposite Mr. Caller's Currying Shop.

In the rear of the above TWO TENEMENT HOUSES.
For particulars apply to
jy 27 WILLIAM SUTTON.

DR. E. F. KITTREDGE,

From Lowell, formerly of New Ipswich, N. H.,
Has removed his office and residence to
NO. 42 MAIN STREET,
SOUTH DANVERS, MASS.

Dr. K., from an extensive and successful professional experience of upwards of twenty years, feels justified in saying that he can treat diseases to the satisfaction of his patients, and to the credit of himself.

Office hours from 7 to 9 A. M., and from 6 to 9 P. M.
South Danvers, Nov 13, 1863.

A. J. Archer & Co

WOOLENS. WOOLENS.

OVER-COATINGS;
COAT AND PANT CLOTHS;
LOW PRICED WOOLENS;
FOR MEN'S AND BOYS' WEAR,
For sale by
AUGUSTUS J. ARCHER & CO.,
sept 21 181 Essex st.

BLANKETS. BLANKETS.

A FINE assortment of the Best Makes,
—— For sale by ——
AUGUSTUS J. ARCHER & CO.,
Sept. 21, 1864. 181 Essex st.

WHITE BAREGE!

WHITE CREPE MARETZ,
WHITE ALPACCA,
SHIRRED MUSLINS,
TUCKED MUSLINS,
WHITE GOODS of every description.
—— For sale by ——
THOMAS W. DOWNING & CO.
ly13 179 Essex Street.

LIFE INSURANCE.

THE MUTUAL
LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY,
Of New York, with a Capital of $11,000,000,
And an Annual Income of over
$2,000,000,

AND declaring a LARGER DIVIDEND than any other Company in the United States, is the one in which every man should secure a policy on his life.

The importance of LIFE INSURANCE cannot be too highly estimated. It is the safest and most practicable method of securing to your family, in case of your death, the means of a comfortable and independent support. Thousands of instances might be cited where families have thus been provided with a competency, who would otherwise have been left in penury and want. Husbands and fathers! treat not with indifference a subject of such vital importance, but see to it at once, that your families are provided with the inestimable advantages which this great and benevolent institution affords.

Because a man has wealth, it is no reason why he should not insure, for he knows not how soon his riches may "take to themselves wings and fly away." And let those who complain of the want of means, remember that

Forty-Five Cents a Week,
Will insure $1,000 on the life of a man of THIRTY.

AN ENDOWMENT POLICY,
Secures to the assured party, on attaining to a certain age, say 50, 55 or 60 years, an amount sufficient for his support in advanced age.

Another feature of this subject, deserving of especial attention, is

SURVIVORSHIP ANNUITIES!
By means of which one party may secure to another, an annuity sufficient to maintain them in comfort and independence through life. A husband may thus make provision for his wife; a father for his child; or a brother for his sister.

Endowment Policies for Children.
By this means a parent may provide, by the payment of a small annual premium, a sum of money sufficient to enable a son to enter into business, at a proper age, or for any other provision, either for a son or daughter.

Many Gentlemen of So. Danvers and Vicinity!
Have already availed themselves of this opportunity now offered of ensuring their lives, and thus securing an inestimable blessing to themselves and their families. Let others be equally wise, and immediately follow their example.

JOHN H. DERBY,
Agent for South Danvers and Vicinity.
Post Office address, Salem, Mass.
September 14, 1864.—tf.

WINDOW GLASS.

GERMAN Window Glass, of all sizes, for sale by the box or light at 32 Front Street, Salem.

DERBY & CHILDS,

Fire, Marine and Life Insurance Agents.

ORDERS left at No. 24 Washington st., Salem; or received by mail, promptly attended to.

Losses equitably adjusted and promptly paid, and Insurance effected at reasonable rates.
Salem, August 10,—3m*

KNIVES AND FORKS.

TABLE Knives and Forks with Ivory Handles. Also Carvers, Forks and Steels, at No. 32 Front Street.

NEW BOOKS,

At G. M. WHIPPLE & A. A. SMITH'S.

LIFE and Letters of Dr. Scudder;
Headley's New Book on the Adirondack;
Pride of Life; Centeola;
Alabama and Sumter;
Flirtations in Fashionable Life;
New Tax Law; Tax Payers' Guide;
The Trial, by author of Heir of Redclyffe;
Broken Lights, by Miss Cobbe;
Man and his Relations, Brittain;
Tit Bits, a new Cook Book for the Times.
sept 14 190 Essex Street, Salem.

AT THE "OLD BUTTON STORE,"

148 Essex St., Salem,

WE are selling for a few weeks at less than wholesale prices,

Spool Cotton, warranted 200 yards,	10 cts;
Sea Island Cottons per hank,	10 "
French Embroidery Cotton,	5 "
Crochet Cotton per ball,	5 "
White Serpentine Braid,	5 "
2 skeins Silk or Twist,	5 "
A cake small sized Honey Soap,	5 "
1 cake Barber's Shaving Soap, best in use,	5 "
1 roll Hair Pins,	5 "
12 nice Envelopes,	5 "
Nice cake Almond Soap (cheap),	5 "
Good Horn Dressing Comb,	5 "
Paper best pins,	6 "
24 sheets Note Paper,	8 "
Rubber Head Pencils,	8 "
Moor's Ink per bottle,	8 "
1 box Button Rings,	8 "
Emb. Braid, all colors,	10 "
Upton's Liquid Glue,	10 "
Large size cake Pumice Soap,	10 "
1 package White Envelopes,	10 "
1 Tooth Brush, or 5 Thimbles,	10 "
Children's Cord Nets,	10 "
A good Back Comb,	10 "
2 papers Black Mourning Pins,	10 "
Hair Brushes, only	20 "
A good Crochet Net,	20 "
Round Rubber Combs, real rubber,	20 "
Ladies' Shopping Bags,	125 "
Cotton Ribbed Hose,	38 "
Cotton and Wool Hose,	42 "
Bernett's Cocoaine,	80 "
The celebrated Hall's Hair Renewer, warranted genuine,	80 "
We are selling a Ladies' size Hoop Skirt, kid finish, at only	98 "

Also a host of other articles, selling at
Very Low Prices.
Please remember the
OLD BUTTON STORE,
148 Essex Street, Salem,
FRANK B. STORY,
Sept. 7, 1864—1m*

George S. Walker.

For Fall and Winter Wear.

GEORGE S. WALKER would invite special attention to his complete stock of Gentlemen's Furnishing Goods.
Under Garments, Scarfs, Hosiery, Ties, Shirts, Collars, Gloves, Wool Under Shirts, Umbrellas, &c.

Giving my exclusive attention to this department of trade, customers may be sure of finding at ALL times the LARGEST STOCK and the LOWEST PRICES in the city. SHIRTS and COLLARS made to order.
GEORGE S. WALKER,
No. 228 Essex St., opp. Eastern Railroad Station.
Salem, Sept. 14, 1864.

Potter, Bachelder & Co.,

DANVERS-PORT and SOUTH DANVERS,
DEALERS IN
WOOD AND COAL.
Constantly on hand
Franklin, Burnside, Dimond, } RED ASH.
Old Company & Packer's Lehigh, Pliny Fisk, Webster and Locust Mountain, } WHITE ASH.
Also Cumberland, Pictou and Campbell for Steam and Smith's use.
OFFICE—No. 6 Allen's Building.
G. W. POTTER,
J. Q. A. BACHELDER,
C. T. BATCHELDER. mch 30

SPECTACLES!

H. F. SKERRY wishes to call special attention to his stock of
Spectacles and Eye Glasses,
in Gold—Silver—Rubber—Steel and Horn frames, of which he keeps constantly on hand a very large assortment, embracing every style and quality.
— ALSO —
Opera Glasses, Microscopes, &c.
Glasses re-set, and Spectacles repaired.
In Store, our usual assortment of Silver and Plated Ware, Jewelry, Fancy Goods, and Toys. Also, Canton Ware,
No. 180 Essex Street, Salem.
H. F. SKERRY.
Aug. 17.—tf

T. HARDY, JR.,

—Dealer in—
DOORS, SASHES, BLINDS,
Glazed Sash, Painted Blinds,
FENCE PALES, STAIR BALUSTERS, FRAMING PINS, &c.,
No. 26 FRONT STREET,
Salem, January 14, 1863—tf.

EBEN UPTON,

Piano Fortes Tuned and Regulated,
MELODEONS AND PIANOS
BOUGHT, AND EXCHANGED
For New Piano Fortes, at Wholesale Prices.
Orders left at G. CREAMER'S Bookstore, Salem.
July 27, 1864.—6m

Vitrified Stone Drain Pipe.

JUST received and for sale by the subscribers, 5000 feet of the above Pipe, the usual sizes suitable for drainage; the best in the market.
Apply to
B. R. WHITE, Mason,
St Peter Court.
or F. P. GOSS, Plumber,
No. 7 St. Peter st.
Salem, Aug. 3, 1864.—3m

SPRING AND SUMMER GOODS.

168 ESSEX STREET.

WE invite the attention of the Ladies of Salem and vicinity, to our
New Millinery Goods.
Ladies' and Children's
BONNETS AND HATS,
in all desirable styles.

Crapes, Silks, Ribbons, Feathers, French Flowers, and Laces.

A full assortment of Straw Goods, Mourning Bonnets, Veils, Collars, &c., constantly on hand at the lowest cash prices.
M. E. CRANE,
Successor to M. M. FLETCHER.
Salem, April 6, 1864.

C. W. HALEY, M. D.,

Physician and Surgeon.
OFFICE—WARREN BANK BUILDING,
South Danvers.

M. A. PORTER,

236 Essex Street, —Salem, Mass.,
(Opposite Horse Railroad Office,)
MAKES TO ORDER BEST QUALITIES OF
WATCH SPRING SKIRTS.
A Good Assortment of Dress and Clock Button, Braids, Spool Cotton, Small Wares, and Thread Store articles generally.
236 Essex Street, — Salem, Mass.,
M. A. PORTER.

AARON T. LOWE,

DEALER IN
BOOTS, SHOES AND RUBBERS,
76 BOSTON STREET, 76.
aug 6 SALEM. tf

HOUSE OF EQUITY,

—BY—
Arnold & Hutchinson,
(Successors to C. T. Southwick.)
FIRST QUALITY
FAMILY GROCERIES,
Sold at the Lowest Prices.
A large and complete assortment of
CROCKERY AND GLASS WARE,
Constantly on hand.
Also FLOUR and GRAIN.
ASHLAND HALL BUILDING,
NO. 1 LOWELL STREET,
F. T. ARNOLD. B. F. HUTCHINSON.
South Danvers, Feb 3, 1864.

Dancing.

MR. E. UPTON'S Fall Term for Instruction in DANCING will commence on SATURDAY, SEPT. 24TH,
at CREAMER HALL, Salem, at 2 o'clock. sep 7

BARGAINS.

3 Cents—Knitting Needles only 3 cents—at Peabody's.

German Worsteds at Peabody's.

75 Cents—Best quality Kid Finished Silk Gloves for 75 cents per pair, at Peabody's.

German Worsteds at Peabody's.

5 Cents—Two Cakes nice Toilet Soap for 5 cts., at Peabody's.

German Worsteds at Peabody's.

5 Cents—10 pair Boot Lacets for 5 cents, at Peabody's.

German Worsteds at Peabody's.

6 Cents—12 Dozen Agate Buttons for 6 cts., at Peabody's.

German Worsteds at Peabody's.

$1 75 Cents—The best Paris Kid Gloves—only $1 75 per pair.

German Worsteds at Peabody's.

35 Cents—Nice Linen Hdkfs, with wide Hem, only 35 cents, at Peabody's.

German Worsteds at Peabody's.

11 Cents—The best Spool Cottons—200 yds warranted—on 11 cts—at Peabody's.

German Worsteds at Peabody's.

10 Cents—Best Sea Island Cotton—only 10 cents per Hank—at Peabody's, 220 Essex street.

German Worsteds at Peabody's.

40 Cents—Railroad Tickets for Boston for 40 cts. each, at J. P. Peabody's 220 Essex street.

German Worsteds at Peabody's.

15 Cents—Best Worsted Dress Braids—in all colors full pieces—only 15 cents at Peabody's.

German Worsteds at Peabody's.

8 Cents— Only 8 cents for a nice Horn Dressing Comb, at Peabody's.

German Worsteds at Peabody's.

25 Cents—Very Nice Lisle Thread Gloves with pretty wrists, for 25 cts., at Peabody's Thread Store.

German Worsteds at Peabody's.

42 Cents—Nice Cotton and Wool Ribb'd Hose, only 42 cents per pair, at Peabody's Ladies' Furnishing Store.

German Worsteds at Peabody's.

5 Cents—Two Spools or two Skeins of Silk for 5 cents, at Peabody's, 220 Essex street.

German Worsteds at Peabody's.

15 Cents—Embroidery Braid—12 yard pieces only 15 cents—at Peabody's 220 Essex street.

German Worsteds at Peabody's.

5 CENTS—The best Linen Tapes, only 5 cts. per piece, at Peabody's Hosiery and Glove Store.

German Worsteds at Peabody's.

6 CENTS—Nice Elastic Cords for 6 cents per yard, at Peabody's, 220 Essex st., Salem.

German Worsteds at Peabody's.

25 CENTS—Package of Old Brown Windsor Soap for 25 cents—Old price—at Peabody's, 220 Essex street.

German Worsteds at Peabody's.

10 CENTS—A good Tooth Brush for 10 cents, at Peabody's.

German Worsteds at Peabody's.

38 CENTS—A good Hair Brush for 38 cents, at Peabody's.

ONE PRICE ONLY AT PEABODY'S.

JOHN P. PEABODY.

220 ESSEX ST., SALEM.

Auction Sales.

WILLIAM ARCHER, Jr.,

Auctioneer, Real Estate and Stock Broker,
34 Front Street.
Real Estate, Bank, Railroad & Manufacturing Stock bought and sold on Commission.

ON SATURDAY NEXT, at 9½ o'clock will be sold at No. 34 Front street:

The usual variety of New and Second Hand Furniture: 3 new Lounges; Tables; Chairs; Carpets; Stoves; a variety of styles of Black Walnut Book Shelves; a lot of charts; 1 set encyclopædia, 20 vols, &c.

BOOTS — Men's, Women's and Children's Boots and Shoes.

CLOTHING—A quantity of Clothing.

DRY GOODS—An invoice of Dry Goods:—Cassimeres, Dress Goods.

At 11 o'clock—1 six octave Piano Forte, a good investment; 1 Singer's Family Sewing Machine.

Horse Railroad Notice.

SUNDAY TIME.

HEREAFTER on Sunday, Horse Cars will leave Washington Street Station for Beverly at 9.12, 9.52, 10.32, 11.12, 11.52 A. M.; 12.32, 1.12, 1.52, 2.32, 3.12, 3.52, 4.32, 5.12, 5.52, 6.32, 7.12, 7.52, and 8.32 P. M.

Will leave Washington street station for South Danvers, at 9.07, 9.27, 9.47 A. M., and every twenty minutes till 9.07 P. M.

Cars leave South Danvers at 9.30, 9.50, and 10.10. A. M., and every 20 minutes till 9.30 P. M.

Leave Beverly at 9.40, 10.20, 11.00, 11.40 A. M.; 12.20, 1.00, 1.40, 2.20, 3.00, 3.40, 4.20, 5.00, 4.40, 6.20, 7.00, 7.40, 8.20, and 9.00 P. M.

Salem, Aug. 31, 1864. M. H. HALE, Supt.

M. FENOLLOSA,

TEACHER OF MUSIC,
LETS..............PIANO FORTES, at the lowest rates;
SELLS ....PIANO FORTES, at the Manufacturers Prices;
EXCHANGES....PIANO FORTES, on the easiest terms;
At Rooms No. 7 Central street,
feb 11 SALEM, MASS.

NEW STORE!

Flour! Flour!

JUST RECEIVED, a fresh supply of CHOICE BRANDS, direct from the Mills, for sale, wholesale and retail, at LOWEST PRICES, by
E. F. OSBORN.
Sutton's Building, Main St.
South Danvers, Nov 18, 1863.

R. C. MANNING & CO.

Successors to JOHN DIKE & CO.,
DEALERS IN
COAL, WOOD, BARK, HAY, &c,
183 DERBY STREET,
SALEM, MASS.
N. C. ROBBINS, R. C. MANNING.
oct17

GEO. E. MEACOM,

Dealer in
DRUGS & MEDICINES,
Fancy & Toilet Articles, &c.,
126 · · MAIN ST · · · 126
Nearly opposite Danvers Bank, So. Danvers.

T. A. SWEETSER,

Druggist & Apothecary
37 Main St., So. Danvers,
DEALER IN
Drugs, Medicines, Chemicals, Foreign Leeches, Shakers' Herbs, Dye Stuffs, Gums, Acids, Sponges, Shoulder Braces, Trusses, and Genuine Patent Medicines,
Also, Imported Cigars of choice brands, Perfumery, Toilet Articles and Stationery.
Physicians' Prescriptions carefully prepared by experienced persons.
37 MAIN STREET.

D. P. GROSVENOR, Jr.,

Druggist and Apothecary,
83 MAIN STREET.
Dealer in Drugs, Medicines, Chemicals, Dye Stuffs, and Popular Proprietary Medicines.
Personal attention to Physicians' Prescriptions.
South Danvers, May 29, 1861. 1y

SELF-SEALING AIR-TIGHT CASKET.

MR. CHARLES S. BUFFUM, Furnishing Undertaker of South Danvers, takes this method to annouce that he has a new burial case, which combines all the advantages of a wooden receptacle with those of a metal one, and yet avoids the disadvantages of both. They have been used with great success, and bodies placed in them have been delivered in perfect preservation after having been transported over a thousand miles. To persons having deceased friends at the seat of war they are invaluable. They come at reasonable prices, are light and durable, and are perfectly air-tight. august 10

HOUSEKEEPERS, ATTENTION!

JACKSON'S
KITCHEN FURNISHING ROOMS,
Under MECHANIC HALL, Salem.
Parties about commencing House-Keeping will find this the ONLY place in Salem where a COMPLETE ASSORTMENT of House-Keeping articles can be found.
dec 9, 1863.

GAYLE & CO.,

COMMISSION MERCHANTS,
AND DEALERS IN
Flour, Grain and Produce,
PHILLIPS WHARF, Salem.

DR. J. H. BATCHELDER,

DENTAL SURGEON,
No. 20 Washington St., (near Eastern Railroad Depot,) SALEM, MASS.
Is Licensed to make the New Patent Teeth on HARD RUBBER or VULCANITE.
July 1, 1864.

ANN R. BRAY,

76 Federal Street, Salem.
WE have just received our Fall and Winter of Black Alpacas. They will com Rich Black Silks: a few of the pieces with soft finish. Ladies are buying to Black Silks. sept 7

MANUAL

Special Notices.

BROCKSIEPER GAS REGULATOR!

30 PER CENT SAVED.

Economy in the use of Gas, with the advantage of having a more brilliant light than heretofore, is a point [illegible]. Inventors have for many years sought to obtain this end by packing or checking in innumerable ways the flow of gas through the burner. Not one of these have attained the result wished for, viz.—a pure transparent flame without waste at any and all pressures obtained at any hour and in all localities. Those of our citizens who have taken the pains to examine Brocksieper's Patent Regulator, and have seen the gas ACTUALLY MEASURED THROUGH IT, are unanimous in its praise. We give below the names of a few of the merchants and others of Salem now using the Regulator:

Salem Register Office;
Salem Gazette Office;
Salem Statesman Office;
Salem Post Office;
Merchants Reading Room;
George Creamer, Bookseller;
Browning & Long, Dry Goods;
S. P. Rogers, Confectioner;
J. P. Peabody, Dry Goods;
[illegible], Shoe Dealer;
Adams, Richardson & Co., Hardware;
Doctor Johnson;
Essex House;
Wm. Webb, Jr., Druggist;
Edward Brown, Sup't and Treas. Gas Co.

Orders left at B. F. STEVENS' Jewelry Store, will be promptly attended to. The Burner can also be examined there.

SEND FOR A CIRCULAR.

25,000 of these Regulators have been manufactured and sold in the Eastern States since February last. 150 are now in use in Salem. PRICE $1 EACH—6 AND OVER, 90 cents each. The article is warranted in every respect. Call and examine for yourselves. Our facilities for testing the genuineness of this improvement will at once convince the most skeptical.

JOSEPH CLOUTMAN,

OFFICE—Bowker Block, Essex st., up-stairs.

NOTICE.—We have this day appointed Mr. JOSEPH CLOUTMAN, of Salem, our sole agent for the sale of Brocksieper's Gas Regulator for the following places: Salem, South Danvers, Beverly, Marblehead and Gloucester, Mass. All orders for the article, at wholesale or retail, to receive attention, must come through him, and he will establish sub-agencies in the above-named places.

HULL & GOODELL,
Sole Proprietors in the U. S.
446 Broadway, N. Y., and 221 Washington st., Boston.
august 10—tf

EDITOR OF WIZARD:—Dear Sir:—With your permission I wish to say to the readers of your paper that I will send, by return mail, to all who wish it (free), a Recipe, with full directions for making and using a simple Vegetable Balm, that will effectually remove, in ten days, Pimples, Blotches, Tan, Freckles, and all Impurities of the Skin, leaving the same soft, clear, smooth and beautiful.

I will also mail free to those having Bald Heads, or Bare Faces, simple directions and information that will enable them to start a full growth of Luxuriant Hair, Whiskers, or Moustache, in less than thirty days.

All applications answered by return mail without charge. Respectfully yours,

THOS. F. CHAPMAN, Chemist,
jy 13-3m 831 Broadway, New York.

BELL'S SPECIFIC PILLS.—WARRANTED IN ALL CASES.—Can be relied on! Never fail to cure! Do not nauseate! Are speedy in action! No change of diet required! Do not interfere with business pursuits! Can be used without detection! Upward of 200 cures the past month—some of them very severe cases. Over one hundred physicians have used them in their practice, and all speak well of their efficacy, and approve of their composition, which is entirely vegetable and harmless on the system. Hundreds of certificates can be shown.

BELL'S SPECIFIC PILLS are the original and only genuine Specific Pill. They are adapted for male and female, old or young, and the only reliable remedy for effecting a permanent and speedy cure in all cases of Spermatorrhea, or Seminal Weakness, with all its train of evils, such as Urethral and Vaginal Discharges, Gleet, the Whites, Nightly or Involuntary Emissions, Incontinence, Genital Debility and Irritability, Impotence, Weakness or Loss of Power, Nervous Debility, &c., &c., all of which arise principally from Sexual Excesses or Self-Abuse, or some constitutional derangement, and incapacitates the sufferer from fulfilling the duties of married life. In all sexual diseases, as Gonorrhea, Gleet, and Strictures, and in Diseases of the Bladder and Kidneys, they act as a charm! Relief is experienced by taking a single box. Sold by all the principal druggists. Price $1.

They will be sent by mail, securely sealed, and confidentially, on receipt of the money, by

J. BRYAN, M. D.,
No. 76 Cedar street, New York.

Consulting Physician for the treatment of Seminal, Urinary, Sexual, and Nervous Diseases, who will send free to all, the following valuable work, in sealed envelope:

THE FIFTIETH THOUSAND.—DR. BELL'S TREATISE on Self-Abuse, Premature Decay, Impotence and Loss of Power, Sexual Diseases, Seminal Weakness, Nightly Emissions, Genital Debility, &c., &c., a pamphlet of 64 pages, containing important advice to the afflicted, and which should be read by every sufferer, as the means of cure in the severest stages is plainly set forth. Two stamps required to pay postage. December 9, 1863—1yr.

IMPORTANT TO LADIES.—DR. HARVEY'S FEMALE PILLS have never yet failed in removing difficulties arising from obstruction, or stoppage of nature, or in restoring the system to perfect health when suffering from Spinal Affections, Prolapsus, Uteri, the Whites, or other weakness of the Uterine Organs. The Pills are perfectly harmless on the constitution, and may be taken by the most delicate female without causing distress—the same time they act like a charm by strengthening, invigorating and restoring the system to a healthy condition, and by bringing on the monthly period with regularity, no matter from what causes the obstruction may arise. They should, however, NOT be taken during the first three or four months of pregnancy, though safe at any other time, as miscarriage would be the result.

Each box contains 60 Pills. Price $1.

DR. HARVEY'S TREATISE on Diseases of Females, Pregnancy, Miscarriage, Barrenness, Sterility, Reproduction, and Abuses of Nature, and emphatically the Ladies' Private Medical Adviser, a pamphlet of 64 pages, sent free to any address. Six cents required to pay postage.

The Pills and book will be sent by mail when desired, securely sealed, and prepaid, by

J. BRYAN, M. D., General Agent,
No. 76 Cedar street, New York.

Sold by all the principal druggists.
December 9, 1863—1 yr.

VALUABLE REAL ESTATE.

THE Subscriber offers for sale the following Lots of Land, with the Buildings thereon, at private sale, until September next, when such as then remain unsold, will be offered at Public Auction:

A new and well built two-story DWELLING HOUSE, situated on English Street.—This house is well supplied with the modern conveniences, is pleasantly situated on rising ground, and is a very desirable residence.

The MOROCCO FACTORY near the Southwick Tannery. The building is about 150 feet long by 40 wide, is well supplied with pure water and is an excellent place for the Morocco business or Currying.

Near the Morocco Factory are two TWO-STORY BUILDINGS, which may be sold with the Factory, or separately. Together they are about 80 feet long by 20 wide.

On Walnut Street is the large BOARDING HOUSE, with the land adjoining, which is excellently well situated for what it is designed.

Several front LOTS for building purposes on Walnut Street, will be sold at moderate prices and fair terms.

A STORE-HOUSE 70 by 25 feet on Walnut Street, with the land under and the rear of it. It can be easily adapted for a Curriers' Shop, or for other kinds of business.

On Wallis Street, near the mill pond, a well built and painted MOROCCO FACTORY, all ready for occupancy. It is about 80 feet long by 25 wide and in excellent repair.

Next to the Morocco Factory on the same street, a STORE BUILDING, strongly built, and framed for a DWELLING HOUSE, for which it could be easily adapted. Or it would make an excellent Shop for any kind of business.

Near ELM STREET, on a Court south of said street, are two DWELLING HOUSES, planned for two families each. One is two stories high, the other one and a half. Both houses have good tenants and yield a good income; offering a good chance for investment.

Between Harris and English Streets, one One Story DWELLING House, and a One Story and a Half House.

The above is a most excellent opportunity for enterprising young men to secure places for business and dwelling houses, on reasonable terms. Such a chance may not soon again occur.

Persons desiring to purchase any of the above lots may learn the prices and terms on application to ANDREW S. PORTER, Elm Street.

SAMUEL D. PENDAR.

South Danvers, May 11, 1864. tf

Cards.

N. J. HOLDEN,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
Office, 27 Washington Street, Salem, Mass.

M. B. MANSFIELD,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
214 ESSEX STREET, SALEM, MASS.,

 Particular attention paid to procuring Pensions, Bounties, Back Pay, Prize Money, and Army and Navy Claims of all descriptions. March 2.

H. L. HADLEY,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
CORNER MAPLE AND ELM ST.
Danvers.

Claims against the Government for Bounty, Back Pay, and Pensions, promptly attended to.

THOMAS M. STIMPSON,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
194 ESSEX STREET, SALEM.
Residence Lowell street, South Danvers.

B. C. PERKINS,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
South Danvers—Office in Allen's Building.

ALFRED A. ABBOTT,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
Office, No. 24 Washington Street, Salem.
House, Main St., So. Danvers.

SIDNEY C. BANCROFT,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
27 Washington Street, Salem.

H. O. WILEY,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
Office, Allen's Building, South Danvers.

Claims against the Government for Bounty, Back Pay, and Pensions, promptly attended to.

A. S. CRAWFORD,
Dentist,
No. 4 MAIN STREET, SO. DANVERS SQUARE.
Mechanical Dentistry Neatly Executed.

W. L. BOWDOIN,
SURGEON DENTIST,
No, 208 Essex Street, Salem, (Opposite the Market Residence—No 57 Washington street)
jan 11—1y

NEWMAN & SYMONDS,
DEALERS IN
Family Groceries, Flour & Grain,
HARD WARE AND CROCKERY,
Ready Made Clothing, Gents' Furnishing Goods,
Hats, Caps, Boots, Shoes, &c.,
South Danvers Square, opp. Congregational Church
SAM'L NEWMAN. NATH'L SYMONDS.

S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS,
DEALERS IN
Crockery, China and Hardware; Paper Hangings; Solar and Entry Lamps; Paints, Oil and Window Glass.
No. 32 Front street, Lawrence Place,
feb13 SALEM, MASS.

HENRY L. WHIDDEN,
HOUSE AND SIGN PAINTER,
Glazier and Paperer,
Central Street, South Danvers.
All orders promptly and faithfully executed.
jan2-1y

JESSE SMITH
No. 262 Essex Street, Salem,
Importer and Dealer in
Gold and Silver Watches,
MARINE CHRONOMETERS,
Aueroid Barometers, Spy Glasses, &c.

WILLIAM BLANEY,
HOUSE & SIGN PAINTER
Grainer, Glazier and Paper Hanger.
164 MAIN STREET, Corner of Grove.
WINDOWS and BLINDS cheap for cash.
mch6-tf

F. POOLE
INSURANCE AGENT,
Allen's Building (up stairs),
Deeds drawn, and other common forms.

Advertisements.

Skinner's Pulmonales

Immediately Relieve Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, loss of Voice, Bronchitis, Lassitude, Thirst and every symptom of the first stages of Pulmonary Consumption; they are white in form of a wafer, and as suitable for the infant in the cradle as the patient of three score years and ten. Orators and all who overtax the vocal organs receive instant relief by their use. Sold by all Druggists. Prepared by E. M. SKINNER, Chemist, 27 Tremont St., Boston. sept 7—1y

SPALDING'S ROSE MARY

FOR FOURTEEN YEARS the Rosemary has held a high rank as pure, uniform and reliable. It is Warranted. 1st, To beautify the hair. 2d, To curl the hair elegantly. 3d, To remove dandruff effectually. 4th, To restore hair to bald heads. 5th, To force the beard and whiskers to grow. 6th, To prevent the hair from falling off. 7th, To cure all diseases of the scalp. 8th, To prevent the hair turning grey. 9th, To cure headache. 10th, To kill hair eaters. Sold everywhere. Prepared by EDW. M SKINNER, Chemist, 27 Tremont St., opposite the Museum, Boston, Mass. sept 7—1y

FURNITURE.

HAVING taken the Store No. 10 FRONT STREET, (formerly occupied by BENJAMIN COLMAN,) I shall keep constantly on hand a large stock of

NEW AND SECOND-HAND FURNITURE,
BEDDING, COUNTING-ROOM DESKS, &c. &c.,
which I will sell cheap for CASH.
ALL KINDS OF FURNITURE NEATLY REPAIRED.

☞ All kinds of FURNITURE and BEDDING wanted—for which the highest Cash price will be paid.

P. J. HYNES, 10 FRONT-ST.
Salem, April 6, 1864—1y

MORRIS'
RESTAURANT,
18 and 20 Derby Square, Salem.

Oysters, Clams, Steak, Poultry, Game, Fish, &c., &c., COOKED TO ORDER.
Pickled Oysters, Lobsters and Clams.
Salem, July 22, 1863. tf

Posting Books, Making Bills and Copying.

THE above business will be promptly and accurately performed by the subscriber, who may be found at Messers. CLARK & GIDDINGS' Counting Room on Wallis Street, near the Essex Depot, or by enquiring at this office.
jy13 tf JOHN D. HOWARD.

Job Press for Sale.

RUGGLES' JOB ENGINE PRESS. Prints a bill 13 by 19 inches. Can be run by one man at the rate of 800 per hour. Is in good condition. It will sold at a very low price, as the owner has no use for it. It is a big bargain. Apply at this office. jy 20-tf

LUDLOW'S PATENT TEST JAR,

FOR putting up Tomatoes, Peaches, Berries, &c.—This is the only Jar ever invented that can be tested. For sale in any quantity at sept 7 S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS', 32 Front st.

THE TRAVELERS INS. CO.,

OF HARTFORD, CONN.

Capital - - - - - - $250,000.

Is now prepared to Insure persons against

ACCIDENTS

OF EVERY DESCRIPTION.

Yearly policies will be issued for a premium of

FIVE DOLLARS,

granting insurance to the amount of

FIVE THOUSAND DOLLARS,

against accidental loss of life while travelling by any public conveyance.

TEN DOLLARS PREMIUM

secures a policy for Five Thousand Dollars, and also twenty-five dollars per week compensation for personal injury incapacitating the assured from his ordinary business.

TWENTY-FIVE DOLLARS PREMIUM

secures a full policy for $5000 and $25 per week compensation for all and EVERY DESCRIPTION OF ACCIDENT, TRAVELLING OR OTHERWISE.

Policies for $5000 with $3 per week compensation, can be had for $3 per annum; or any other sum between $500 and $5000 at proportionate rates.

DIRECTORS:

Gustavus F. Davis,	W. H. D. Callender,
James L. Howard,	George W. Moore,
Marshal Jewell,	Ebenezer Roberts,
Thomas Belknap, Jr.,	Charles White,
Cornelius B. Irwin,	Hugh Harrison,
George S. Gilman,	Jonathan B. Bunce.

JAMES G. PATTERSON, President.
RODNEY DENNIS, Secretary.
HENRY A. DYER, General Agent.

PLUMBER & MERCER, AGENTS,
40 State Street, Boston.

Offices in Salem—JOHN H. DERBY, No. 24 Washington street; SAMUEL MACKINTIRE, No. 218 Essex street. Aug. 3, 1861—1yr*

R. W. WILKINSON,
DEALER IN
Newspapers, Periodicals, and Stationery of every Description.

FOREIGN and DOMESTIC FRUITS, consisting of Oranges, Lemons, Dates, Figs, Prunes, &c., &c.

Sauces, Pickles and Preserves; Castana, Naples and English Walnuts; Hard, Soft and Paper-shelled Almonds; choice brands of Tobacco and Cigars; also a general assortment of Confectionery of every description.

Also a large and well selected stock of Toys, suitable for children and the Holiday Gifts.

Ice Cream furnished to parties at short notice and in quantities to suit. Wedding Cake and every variety of nice cake furnished to parties or families.

STORE—WARREN BANK BUILDING.
South Danvers, Nov'r 11, 1863.

JUST ARRIVED,

AT DANVERS MILLS,

500 Bushels Corn, in the minnie cob, and will be sold in South Danvers. Constantly on hand a large stock of meal, which will be sold at the lowest Salem prices.

—ALSO ON HAND—

500 Bushels Feed;
200 Bushels prime Northern Oats;
100 Barrels choicest Family Flour.
A good stock of LIME constantly on hand.

JOHN G. MOULTON,
Central St., South Danvers, Mass.
May 25—tf.

THOMAS PINNOCK,
SLATER,
SALEM, MASS.

Orders may be left at his Yard, No. 25 Peabody St., or at his house No. 6 Hancock street, South Salem.

Roofs covered with any kind of Slates, according to order. All work warranted.
Salem, May 7, 1862. tf

HEYLINGBERG'S
Hair Dressing Saloon,
24 MAIN ST., SOUTH DANVERS.

J. J. HEYLINGBERG would announce to his patrons and the public generally, that on and after JUNE 1st, 1864, he will abide by the following

TARIFF OF PRICES:

Shaving,	10 cts,
Hair Cutting,	15 cts,
Champooing,	15 cts.

Particular attention paid to dying hair and whiskers, in one preparation, without washing or scrubbing.

South Danvers, May 11, 1864.

Putnam Clothes Wringer.

IT IS THE ONLY RELIABLE

SELF-ADJUSTING WRINGER

NO WOOD TO SWELL OR SPLIT.
NO THUMB SCREWS TO GET OUT OF ORDER.

Warranted with or without Cog-Wheels.

IT took the FIRST PREMIUM at fifty-seven State and County Fairs in 1863, and is, without an exception, the best Wringer ever made.

Patented in the United States, England, Canada and Australia. Agents wanted in every town, and in all parts of the world.

Sample Wringer sent, express paid, on receipt of price.

Energetic agents can make from 3 to 10 dollars per day.

No. 2, $6.50; No. 1. $7.50; No. F, $8.50; No. A, $9.50.

Manufactured and sold, wholesale and retail, by THE PUTNAM MANUFACTURING CO., No. 13 Platt Street, New York, and Cleveland, Ohio.

S. C. NORTHROP, Agent.

WHAT EVERYBODY KNOWS, VIZ:

That Iron well galvanized will not rust;

That a simple machine is better than a complicated one;

That a Wringer should be self-adjusting, durable, and efficient;

That Thumb-Screws and Fastenings cause delay and trouble to regulate and keep in order;

That wood soaked in hot water will swell, shrink and split;

That wood bearings for the shaft to run in will wear out;

That the Putnam Wringer, with or without cog-wheels, will not tear the clothes;

That cog-wheel regulators are not essential;

That the Putnam Wringer has all the advantages, and not one of the disadvantages above named;

That all who have tested it, pronounce it the best Wringer ever made;

That it will wring a Thread or a Bed-Quilt WITHOUT ALTERATION.

We might fill the paper with testimonials, but insert only a few to convince the skeptical, if such there be; and we say to all, test Putnam's Wringer. Test it THOROUGHLY with ANY and ALL others, and if not entirely satisfactory, return it.

Putnam Manufacturing Co:—GENTLEMEN; I know from practical experience that iron well galvanized with zinc will not oxidize or rust one particle. The Putnam Wringer is as near perfect as possible, and I can cheerfully recommend it to be the best in use. Respectfully yours,

JNO. W. WHEELER, Cleveland, Ohio.

Many years' experience in the galvanizing business enable me to indorse the above statement in all particulars.

JNO. C. LEFFERTS, No. 100 Beckman St.
New York, January, 1864.

We have tested Putnam's Clothes Wringer by practical working, and know that it will do. It is cheap; it is simple; it requires no room, whether at work or at rest; a child can operate it; it does its duty thoroughly; it saves time and it saves wear and tear. We earnestly advise all who have much washing to do, with all intelligent persons who have any, to buy this Wringer. It will pay for itself in a year at most.

HON. HORACE GREELEY.
July 27, 1864.—3m

SILVER PLATED KNIVES.

IVORY Handled Knives with heavy Silver plate—at S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS, 32 Front st.

HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS.

A pure and powerful Tonic, corrective and alterative of wonderful efficacy in disease of the

Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

Cures Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Headache, Debility, Nervousness, Depression of Spirits, Constipation, Colic, Intermittent Fevers, Cramps and Spasms, and all Complaints of either Sex, arising from Bodily Weakness whether inherent in the system or produced by special causes.

Nothing that is not wholesome, genial and restorative in its nature enters into the composition of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. This popular preparation contains no mineral of any kind, no deadly botanical element; no fiery excitant: but it is a combination of the extracts of rare balsamic herbs and plants with the purest and mildest of all diffusive stimulants.

It is well to be forearmed against disease, and, so far as the human system can be protected by human means against maladies engendered by an unwholesome atmosphere, impure water and other external causes, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS may be relied on as a safeguard.

In districts infested with Fever and Ague, it has been found infallible as a preventive and irresistible as a remedy and thousands who resort to it under apprehension of an attack, escape the scourage; and thousands who neglect to avail themselves of its protective qualities in advance, are cured by a very brief course of this marvelous medicine. Fever and Ague patients, after being plied with quinine for months in vain, until fairly saturated with that dangerous alkaloid, are not unfrequently restored to health within a few days by the use of HOSTETTER'S BITTERS.

The weak stomach is rapidly invigorated and the appetite restored by this agreeable Tonic, and hence it works wonders in cases of DYSPEPSIA and in less confirmed forms of INDIGESTION. Acting as a gentle and painless aperient, as well as upon the liver, it also invariably relieves the CONSTIPATION superinduced by irregular action of the digestive and secretive organs.

Persons of feeble habit, liable to Nervous Attacks, Lowness of Spirits and Fits of Languor, find prompt and permanent relief from the Bitters. The testimony on this point is most conclusive, and from both sexes.

The agony of BILIOUS COLIC is immediately assuaged by a single dose of the stimulant, and by occasionally resorting to it, the return of the complaint may be prevented.

As a General Tonic, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS produce effects which must be experienced or witnessed before they can be fully appreciated. In cases of Constitutional Weakness, Premature Decay and Debility and Decrepitude arising from OLD AGE, it exercises the electric influence. In the convalescent stages of all diseases it operates as a delightful invigorant. When the powers of nature are relaxed, it operates to re-enforce and re-establish them.

Last, but not least, it is The Only Safe Stimulant, being manufactured from sound and innocuous materials, and entirely free from the acid elements present more or less in all the ordinary tonics and stomachics of the day.

No family medicine has been so universally, and, it may be truly added, deservedly popular with the intelligent portion of the community, as HOSTETTER'S BITTERS.

Prepared by HOSTETTER & SMITH, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Sold by all Druggists, Grocers and Storekeepers everywhere.

HELMBOLD'S GENUINE PREPARATIONS.

COMPOUND FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU, a Positive and Specific Remedy for diseases of the Bladder, Kidneys, Gravel and Dropsical Swellings.

This Medicine increases the power of Digestion, and excite the Absorbents into healthy action, by which the Wtaery or Calcareous depositions, and all Unnatural Enlargements are reduced, as well as Pain and Inflammation.

—:0:—

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU.

For Weaknesses arising from Excesses, Habits of Dissipation, Early Indiscretion of Abuse, attended with the following symptoms:—

Indisposition to Exertion,	Loss of Power,
Loss of Memory,	Difficulty of Breathing,
Weak Nerves,	Trembling,
Horror of Disease,	Wakefulness,
Dimness of Vision,	Pain in the Back,
Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System,
Hot Hands,	Flushing of the Body,
Dryness of the Skin,	Eruptions on the Face,
Pallid Countenance.

These symptoms, if allowed to go on, which this medicine invariably removes, soon follows

Impotency, Fatuity, Epileptic Fits,

In one of which the patient may expire.

Who can say that they are not frequently followed by those "Direful Diseases,"

"INSANITY AND CONSUMPTION."

Many are aware of the cause of their suffering, BUT NONE WILL CONFESS THE RECORDS OF THE INSANE ASYLUMS.

And Melancholy Deaths by Consumption bear ample witness to the Truth of the assertion.

The Constitution once effected with Organic Weakness requires the aid of Medicine to Strengthen and Invigorate the system,

Which HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU invariably does. A Trial will convince the most skeptical.

—:0:—

FEMALES—FEMALES—FEMALES.

In many Affections peculiar to Females the EXTRACT BUCHU is unequalled by any other remedy, as in Chlorosis or Retention, Irregularity, Painfulness, or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated Scirrhous state of the Uterus, Leuchorrhœa or Whites, Sterility, and for all complaints incident to the sex, whether arising from indiscretion or Habits of Dissipation, or in the

DECLINE OR CHANGE OF LIFE.

—:0:—

Take no more Balsam, Mercury, or unpleasant Medicines for unpleasant and dangerous diseases.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU AND IMPROVED ROSE WASH CURES

SECRET DISEASES

In all their Stages, At little Expense.
Little or no change in Diet. No inconvenience.
And no Exposure.

It causes a frequent desire and gives strength to Urinate, thereby Removing Obstructions, Preventing and Curing Strictures of the Urethra, allaying Pain and Inflammation, so frequent in this class of diseases, and expelling all Poisonous, Diseased and wornout Matter.

Thousands upon Thousands who have been the Victims of Quacks, and who have paid heavy fees to be cured in a short time, have found they were deceived, and that the "POISON" has, by the use of "Powerful Astringents," been dried up in the system, to break out in an aggravated form, and perhaps after Marriage.

—:0:—

Use HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU for all affections and diseases of the URINARY ORGANS, whether existing in MALE or FEMALE, from whatever cause originating and no matter of HOW LONG STANDING. Diseases of these Organs requires the aid of a DIURETIC. HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU IS THE GREAT DIURETIC, and is certain to have the desired effect in all Diseases for which it is Recommended.

Evidence of the most reliable and responsible character will accompany the medicine.

Price $1.00 per bottle, or six for $5.00.

Delivered to any Address, securely packed from observation.

Describe Symptoms in all Communications.

Cures Guaranteed! Advice Gratis!!

Address letters for information to

H. B. HELMBOLD, Chemist,
104 South Tenth-st., bel. Chestnut, Phila.

HELMBOLD'S Medical Depot.
HELMBOLD'S Drug & Chemical Warehouse.
594 Broadway, New York.

BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS AND UNPRINCIPLED DEALERS who endeavor to dispose "of their own" and "other" articles on the reputation attained by

Helmbold's Genuine Preparations.
" " Extract Buchu.
" " Sarsaparilla.
" " Improved Rose Wash.

SOLD BY
ALL DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE.
ASK FOR HELMBOLD'S. TAKE NO OTHER.
Cut out the Advertisement and send for it.
AND AVOID IMPOSITION AND EXPOSURE.
December 16, 1863.—1 yr.

Horse Railroad Notice.

On and after MONDAY, May 9, the cars of the Salem and South Danvers Railroad Co. will leave

South Danvers for Salem and Beverly at 6.35, 6.55, 7.15, and 7.35, A. M., and every 20 minutes till 12.55 P. M., and at 1.10, 1.25, 1.40, 1.55 P. M., and every 15 minutes till 10.25 P. M. The 9.55, 10.10, and 10.25 P. M., cars will go only to Salem.

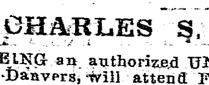
Cars will leave Beverly for Salem and South Danvers at 6.35, 6.55, 7.15, and 7.35, A. M., and every 20 minutes till 12.55 P. M., and at 1.10, 1.25, 1.40 and 1.55 P.M., and every 15 minutes till 10.40 P. M. The 9.40, 9.55, 10.10, 10.25 and 10.40 P. M., cars go only to Salem.

Cars leave Washington Street Station for So. Danvers at 6.12, 6.32 and 6.52 A. M. and every 20 minutes till 12.32 P.M, and leave Washington St. Station for Beverly at 6.17, 6.37, 6.57, A.M., and every 20 minutes till 12 37 P. M., and cars will leave Washington St. Station for South Danvers and Beverly at 12.45, 1, 1.15, and 1.30 P. M., and every 15 minutes till 10.00 P. M.

M. H. HALE,
may 11 Sup't. S. & S. D. R. R. Co.

WM. C. HENDERSON,
MANUFACTURER OF
PLAIN AND FANCY
PAPER BOXES,
No. 235 ESSEX STREET,
Sign of "Nest of Boxes,"
july 23 SALEM. tf

CURRIER & MILLETT,
Dealers in



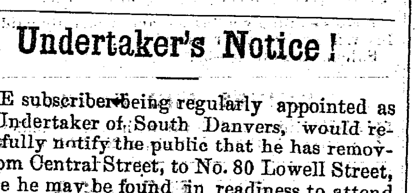
Furniture, Chairs,
MATTRESSES, FEATHERS, &
259 & 261 ESSEX ST.
Salem, dec 14—1y

H. & H. G. HUBON,
WASHINGTON STREET, SALEM
Manufacturers of
Rose Wood, Mahogany, Black Walnut and Stained Wood
COFFINS and CASKETS.

MAKING this our exclusive business, we are ready at all times and at the shortest notice to furnish Grave Clothes of various styles, as well as Coffins and Caskets of the finest finish. Personal attention given, and delivered without extra charge to any of the neighboring towns. All orders by express or otherwise will receive prompt attention.

Black Walnut and White Wood Boards, Plank and Joists for sale.

dec 14—tf



CHARLES S. BUFFUM,

BEING an authorized UNDERTAKER of South Danvers, will attend Funerals in said place with his Hearse the same as the Town Undertaker. Will also attend Funerals, when desired, in any of the neighboring towns, with one or a pair of horses.

He also furnishes Coffins, Caskets, Robes, etc., lower than city prices.

All branches of the business attended to, such as furnishing Coaches, Flowers, Laying Out, etc.

Ice Preservers Furnished.

All orders promptly attended to, and personal attention given to them. Articles delivered to any of the neighboring towns free of charge. Orders by express or otherwise will receive prompt attention.

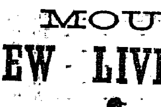
Central street, South Danvers,
RESIDENCE 25 ELM STREET.
South Danvers, Feb 17, 1864.

Undertaker's Notice!

THE subscriber being regularly appointed as Undertaker of South Danvers, would respectfully notify the public that he has removed from Central Street, to No. 80 Lowell Street, where he may be found in readiness to attend funerals, and to furnish, when desired.

HENRY SPENCER.
February 10, 1864.

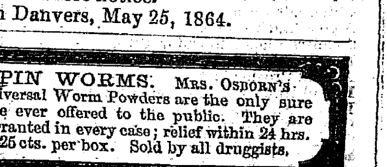
Chickering & Sons' Piano-Fortes.
Hallett & Cumston's Piano-Fortes.
Hallett & Davis's Piano-Fortes.



We select our Piano-Fortes from the above firms and warrant them to give perfect satisfaction. Our terms are reasonable, and all persons in the city and neighboring towns can be accommodated by calling at 76 Federal street.

FOR SALE—Second-hand Piano-Fortes,—Chickering's and others.
ap 29 ANN R. BRAY.

MOULTON'S NEW LIVERY STABLE,



Is removed to stable formerly occupied by
SAMUEL HAM,
On MAIN STREET, opposite the Institute.

Good Horses and Carriages will be always in readiness at short notice.
South Danvers, May 25, 1864.

PIN WORMS. MRS. OSBORN'S Universal Worm Powders are the only sure cure ever offered to the public. They are warranted in every case; relief within 24 hrs. 25 cts. per box. Sold by all druggists.

For sale by D. P. GROSVENOR, Jr., 33 Main St., South Danvers. jan 27

SEE THE GHOSTS AND SPECTRES.

SPECTROPIA, or Surprising Illusions, showing Ghosts everywhere and of all colors.
sept 7 G M WHIPPLE & A A SMITH'S.

LINSEED OIL.

RAW and Boiled Oil of the best quality, at
S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS',
sept 14 32 Front street, Salem.

Eastern Railroad.

ON and after MONDAY, April 4, 1864, Trains will leave the Eastern Railroad Station, Washington street, Salem, daily, (Sundays excepted):

For Lynn and Boston, *5.50, 7, 8¼, 9, 10, 11 a m., 12 55, 2¼, 5¼, 7, 7¼, p. m.
Beverly, 8, 8 15, 11¼, am., 1, 3¼, 2¾, 5¾, 6.55, 7¾ p m.
W. Beach, Man'r, Gloucester, and Rockport, 8, 11¼, a m., 3¼, 6¾ p m.
Ipswich and Newburyport, 8 05 am., 1, 3¾, 5¾, 6.55pm.
Amesbury, 8 05 a m., 1, 3¾, 5¾ p m.
Portsmouth, 8 05 a m., 3¾, p m.
Portland, 8 05 a m., 3¾ p m.

AND FOR SALEM, FROM

Portland, 8¾ a m., 3 p m.
Portsmouth, 6 20, 9 10, *11¼ a.m., *5½ p m.
Amesbury, 7.35, 9.40 a m., 5.55 p m.
Newburyport, 7, 7 55, 10, 11.50 a m., 6¼ p m.
Ipswich, 7.20, 8.15, 10.20 a m., 12.15, 6.35 p m.
Gloucester, 7, 10, 10 10 a m., 1.40, 4.40 pm.
Manchester, 7.25, 10.25 a m., 1.55, 4.55 p m.
Beverly, 6.50, 7.50, 8.20, 8.50 10.50 am., 12.45, 2.20, 5.20, 6.45, 7.05 pm.
Lynn, 7.45, 7.50, 9, 11, a m., 12.45, 3, 3.30, 4.30, 5 30, 6, 6.40, 7.30, 10 p m.
Boston, 7¼, 7¼, 8¼, 10¼ am., 12¼, 2¼, 3, 4, 5, 5.30, 6.10, 7, †9.30 p m.

*Or on arrival from the East.
†On Wednesdays this train leaves Boston at 11¼ p m. and on Saturdays at 10¼ p m.

MARBLEHEAD BRANCH.

Marblehead for Salem, 6¾, 7¾, 8¾, 9¾ a m., 12¾, 1¾, 5¼, 6¾, 7½ p m.
Salem for Marblehead, 7¼, 8¼, 9.25, 11¼ a m., 1, 3¼, 5¼, 7, 7.50 p m.

SOUTH READING BRANCH.

Trains leave the South Reading Depot in Salem for Boston at 6.35, 9.50 a m., 2.25, 4.55 p m.
Boston for Salem, 7 a m., 12 m., 2 30, 5¼ p m.

ESSEX RAILROAD.

Leave Salem for Lawrence and way stations, 7, 11¼ a m., 4.45 p m.
Lawrence for Salem, 8 a m., 12.40, 5.50 p m.
Danvers for Salem, 8.40 a m., 1.20, 6.30 p m.
South Danvers for Salem, 8¾ a m., 1.25, 6.35 p m.

J. PRESCOTT, Superintendent.
Boston, April 5, 1864.

Salem and Lowell Railroad.

ON and after MONDAY, April 4, 1864, Trains will run as follows:

Leave Lowell for Salem, 7.25 a m. and *2.45 p m.
Leave Salem for Lowell, *9 40 a m. and 6 00 p m.

Passengers are not allowed to carry baggage above $50 in value, and that personal, unless notice is given and an extra amount paid. Season tickets do not entitle the holder to take baggage.

*Freight Train with passenger car attached.

F. H. NOURSE, Local Superintendent.
April 4, 1864.

SPEED, COMFORT AND SAFETY!

FOR NEW YORK.

Norwich Steamboat Train.

The only Boats Landing at Jersey City.

CABIN Passage, $5.00; Deck Passage, $4.00. The new and elegant sixteen wheel cars of the steamboat express train leave the Boston & Worcester Railroad Station, Albany Street., at 5¼ P. M., daily, connecting with the new steamers, (built expressly for this line,) CITY OF BOSTON, Capt. WILCOX, Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays; CITY OF NEW YORK, Capt. JEWETT, Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays, which (before proceeding to their Pier, No. 39 North River,) will touch at the wharf of the New Jersey Railroad at Jersey City, (Sundays excepted) thus enabling Southern Passengers to make sure connections with the First Southern Train, and at the same time avoid the great annoyance of the Ferry and Hack transportation in the crowded streets of New York. This insures ample time for Breakfast before the trains leave. Conductors E. MORRILL and T. N. TURNER accompany the passengers through to New York.

Tickets, Berths and Staterooms secured at the Railroad Station, and at the Office of the line, 79 Washington Street, Boston.

Through tickets to Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington can be had at 79 Washington Street, Boston.

WM. DICKEY, JR., Agent.
Boston, January 7, 1864.

Are you Insured?

THE subscriber would respectfully call your attention to the fact that he is fully prepared to effect INSURANCE AGAINST FIRE, to any amount, at current rates, on

Dwelling Houses, Barns and their contents, Stores, Stocks of Goods, Furniture, &c. &c., and on buildings in process of erection.

And that he is the authorized Agent for the following responsible Stock and Mutual Companies, viz:

Thames Insurance Co., (Stock,) Norwich, Conn.
Capital—$500,000.
Amos W. Prentice, Pres. Oliver F. Rice, Sec'y.
Conway Insurance Company, (Stock) Boston.
Capital and Surplus—$260,000.
James F. Whitney, Pres. David C. Rogers, Sec'y.
City Insurance Company, (Stock) Boston.
Capital—$150,000.
Samuel P. Hayward, Pres. Austin W. Benton, Sec'y

Also, will effect Insurance on the LIVES OF INDIVIDUALS, for one year, seven years, or for the whole term of life, in the

Massachusetts Mutual Life Ins. Co., Springfield, Mass.
Capital and Assets—$375,000.
Caleb Rice, Pres. D. B. Bacon, Sec'y.
William Mack, M. D., Medical Examiner.

WM. ARCHER, Jr.,
18 Washington st. and 34 Front st., Salem.
feb20-1.

ALWAYS SUCCESSFUL!

TO ALL THOSE WHO SUFFER FROM

DEBILITY AND SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

DRS. CARSWELL & HUNTER, regularly educated, highly eminent and successful practitioners, after a very extensive practice in Boston, for over twenty years, need hardly speak of their medical qualifications, or remind strangers not to class them with a set of uneducated men, who fill the papers with their boasting advertisements. Drs. C. & H. caution the public against quackery in all its forms, pretending, as some self-styled doctors, to cure all the most difficult and chronic diseases, without knowledge of the human system, or of the modus operandi of the most simple drugs.

Drs. C. & H., since 1840, having confined their whole attention to an office practice for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, they acknowledge no superiors.

CONSTITUTIONAL DEBILITY OR SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Drs. C. & H. are pre-eminently successful in the treatment of the above most difficult and perplexing of all diseases, this complaint being the result of a secret habit in youth; if neglected or improperly treated, it proves one of the greatest evils that can befall a human being. Dr. H. has given particular attention to the above disease for years, and so thoroughly has he become acquainted with the pathology and treatment, that he will warrant a perfect cure under forfeiture of $500; in fact, he will, in the cure of this complaint, acknowledge no superior in this country, or even in the world. Come, then, all you who are afflicted, come to the Old Stand, where you will in a short time be made to rejoice in perfect health.

SYPHILITIC AND SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS,—such as Ulcers and Caries of the throat and nose, Running Sores on the legs and arms, Hard Scabs and Scaly Eruptions on the head, back, &c., pains in the bones and joints, and all other forms of venereal diseases—are made to yield and entirely disappear under Drs. C. & H.'s improved and thoroughly eradicating course of treatment.

The primary or first symptoms of disease, whether a simple running, or small pistules, cancers, or ulcers, are cured in a very few days, if immediate application is made to Drs. C. & H.

13 ENDICOTT STREET, BOSTON. 13

Strangers should be particular in the selection of a physician, lest they be deceived by false advertisements.

Ladies troubled with irregularity, weakness, whites, and other complaints peculiar to the female system, will find a speedy cure by calling as above. No mercury used, and no charge for advice. The afflicted are invited to give us a call.

Boston, April 20, 1864.—1 yr.

25 YEARS' EXPERIENCE enables DRS. CARSWELL & HUNTER to cure any diseases of a private nature in a shorter space of time and for a smaller amount of money than any other doctors in this country, and they also treat all female complaints with perfect success, and on the most satisfactory terms. Patients furnished with board if desired. Please give us a call at our office, No. 13 Endicott St., Boston, Mass.

Boston, April 20, 1864.—1 yr.

A Card to the Suffering.

SWALLOW two or three hogsheads of "Buchu," "Tonic Bitters," "Sarsaparilla," "Nervous Antidotes," &c., &c., &c., and after you are satisfied with the result, then try one box of OLD DOCTOR BUCHAN'S ENGLISH SPECIFIC PILLS—and be restored to health and vigor in less than thirty days. They are purely vegetable, pleasant to take, prompt and salutary in their effects on the broken-down and shattered constitution. Old and young can take them with advantage. Imported and sold in the United States only by

JAS. S. BUTLER, No. 427 Broadway, New York.
☞ Agent for the United States.

P. S. A Box of the Pills, securely packed, will be mailed to any address on receipt of price, which is ONE DOLLAR, post-paid,—money refunded by the Agent if entire satisfaction is not given. jy 13-3m

PRESERVE YOUR FRUIT.

GLASS Jars and Glass Covers, for preserving Fruits, Vegetables, &c., in a perfectly fresh state, for sale by S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS', 32 Front st.

SUMMER ARRANG
TO LYNN & BOS
BY
OMNIBUS & HORS
W. F. BURNHAM

Line of Omnibuses will leave the Lyn Omnibus Office, No. 6 Allen's Buildin vers, passing down Main Street, throug Street, to Lynn, daily—Sundays includ

Leave South Danvers at 7 50 o'clock and 4 50 P. M.

Leave Lynn (Horse Car Depot, West A. M., 2 40 and 6 40 P. M.

Horse Cars leaving the office at 1[illegible] at 8 15 A. M., 1 15 and 5 15 P. M. will m buses at Lynn, at the above named h passengers to South Danvers.

Tickets to Lynn, - -
Through to Boston, -

Gravesend, Woodend, an
Depot Route.

ON and after Monday, Nov 2, in addit route, an Omnibus will leave South Lynn, to connect with the steam and times daily,—Sundays excepted,—run Gravesend and Woodend, to the Centra and Horse Railroad Station, corner o Broad Streets; leaving South Danvers a necting with the 7.25 steam cars for Bo (connecting with the 11.10 train), and 4 ing with the 4.50 train); and returning from the Spring Street Station and Cen pot, at 8 A M, and 1 and 6 P M.

Fare from S. Danvers to Boston by ho
" " " " ste

Through Tickets to and from Boston m the Drivers and Conductors.

South Danvers, Salem a
Route.

THE subscriber having purchased of ley the Omnibus line running fr Lynn, would announce that it will n Stage Office, No. 6 Allen's Building, So for Salem, at 7 30 A M, and 2 30 P M, a Stage Office in Central St, Salem, at 8 3 30 P M for Lynn. Returning will leave A M and 5 P M; and Salem for South D A M, and 6 15 P M.

Passengers between South Danvars an be called for by leaving orders at the off Passengers called for at reasonable cha s given at the office.

EXPRESS BUSINES

Between South Danvers and Lynn pro ed to, on reasonable terms.

Extra Coaches furnished at short notic

W. F. BUR
South Danvers, April 20, 1864.

GROUT & MUNRO
SOUTH DANVERS & B
RAILROAD EXPR

Express leaves South Danvers at
Freight " " " at
Express leaves Boston at
Freight " " at

OFFICE at FREIGHT DEPO
Danvers Square.

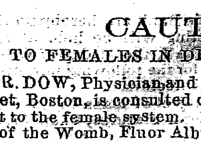
Express Office in Boston, 3 Washi
Freight Office, 48 Kilby S

Particular attention paid to remo niture, collecting Bills, Notes, Draft

Smallest favors thankfully received.

South Danvers, august 26—tf

South Danvers & Salem Mail



E LITT successor ber, will press re tween S and Sale delivery and bund goods usually delivered by Express.

Leave South Danvers at 7½ and 11 AM, 5 P M.

Leaves Salem at 8.45 A M., 12 M., 2½ an

This Express connects with the first train going East.

SLATES—In Salem, 13 Central st., and at Roberts' store, corner of Front and Washi South Danvers—At the Post Office, at B man's store; also at R. O. Spiller's store.

Abbott's South Danvers &
EXPRESS.

Leave South Danvers, 7½
Leave Salem, 10

Orders left at Teel & Moulton's, and princ on Main street, South Danvers; and at 7 on street, and at Reed's in the Market, Sa

Important to the Afflic

DR. DOW continues to be consulted at Nos. 7 and 9 Endicott street, Boston, eases of a

PRIVATE OR DELICATE NATU

By a long course of study and practical e of unlimited extent, Dr. D. has now the gr of presenting the unfortunate with rem have never, since he first introduced them, cure the most alarming cases of

GONORRHŒA AND SYPHILIS.

Beneath his treatment, all the horrors of and impure blood, Impotency, Scrofula, Go Ulcers, pain and distress in the regions o tion, Inflammation of the Bladder and Kidn drocele, Abcesses, Humors, frightful Swel the long train of horrible symptoms atte class of disease, are made to become as ha the simplest ailings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Dr. D. devotes a great part of his time to ment of those cases caused by a secret an habit, which ruins the body and mind, unf unfortunate individual for business or socie of the sad and melancholy effects produced habits of youth, are Weakness of the limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimness of s pitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervous rangement of the digestive functions, Sym Consumption, &c. The fearful effects on are much to be dreaded; loss of memory, of ideas, depression of spirits, evil for aversion of society, self-distrust, timidity, among the evils produced. Such persons s fore contemplating matrimony, consult a ph experience, and be at once restored to h happiness.

Patients who wish to remain under Dr. Do ment a few days or weeks, will be furnish pleasant rooms, and charges for board mode

Medicines sent to all parts of the countr directions for use, on receiving descript cases. Dr. Dow has also for sale the French warranted the best preventive. Order by or $1 and a red stamp.

CAUTION

TO FEMALES IN DELICATE HEAL

DR. DOW, Physician and Surgeon, 7 and 9 street, Boston, is consulted daily for all dise dent to the female system. Prolapsus Uteri, ing of the Womb, Fluor Albus, Suppression, er menstrual derangements, are all treated u pathological principles, and speedy relief g in a very few days. So invariably certain is mode of treatment, that most obstinate co yield under it, and the afflicted person soon in perfect health.

Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater experien cure of diseases of women and children, th other physician in Boston.

Boarding accommodations for patients w wish to stay in Boston a few days under h ment.

Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined his w tention to an office practice, for the cure of Diseases and Female Complaints, acknowle superior in the United States.

N. B.—All letters must contain four red sta they will not be answered.

Office Hours from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M.

CERTAIN CURE

IN ALL CASES, OR NO CHARGES MA

Dr. Dow is consulted daily, from 8 a. m. to as above, upon all difficult and chronic dise every name and nature, having, by his unwea tention and extraordinary success gained a rep which calls patients from all parts of the cou obtain advice.

Among the physicians in Boston, none stand in the profession than the celebrated DR. DO 7 Endicott street, Boston. Those who need t vices of an experienced physician and surgeon give him a call. P. S.—Dr. Dow imports and sale a new article, called the French Secret. by mail. Two for $1 and a red stamp.

April 20, 1864—1y.

Do You Wish to be Cured.

DR. BUCHAN'S ENGLISH SPECIFIC PILL in less than 30 days, the worst cases of VOUSNESS, Impotency, Premature Decay, S Weakness, Insanity, and all Urinary, Sexual an vous Affections, no matter from what cause pro Price, One Dollar per box. Sent, postpaid, b on receipt of order. One Box will perfect the most cases. Address JAMES S. BUTLE jy 13-3m General Agent, 427 Broadway, New Y

South Danvers Wizard.

V. SOUTH DANVERS, MASS., WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 5, 1864. NO. 40.

H DANVERS WIZARD

y WEDNESDAY, at Allen's Build-
rs Square,
ollars a year.
s inserted at reasonable rates.
LES D. HOWARD,
AND PROPRIETOR.

ES, Advertising Agent,
Building, Court Street, Boston, is
at city, and is authorized to re-ents and subscriptions for us at ertisements.

AND WINTER 1864

OTHING.

OISE & CO.,
ashington Street,
oors south of Milk St.)
OSTON,
n to their LARGE STOCK of IABLE CLOTHING,
'S AND BOYS' WEAR,
y offer at wholesale or retail
LOWEST CASH
PRICES
o a full assortment of
E GOODS,
be made to measure in the latest
e choicest AMERICAN FABas the most desirable selections
CLOTHS.
ts have been made for manufac-

s' Clothing

than heretofore, having secured
f Mrs. S. B. WARD, (formerly r Read,) who will superintend ortment, where may be found an ortment of READY MADE for Boys and Youth, and a nt of CLOTHS for Custom

SHING GOODS.
ing Goods Department contains ortment of Goods for Gents' and almost endless variety.

SE & CO., flatter themselves furnish Ready-Made Clothing
N FIGURES
milar establishment. The Goods n manufacture, and are ual to Custom Garments.
also offer EXTRA INDUCE-Custom Clothing.
Military Uniforms made at short in the city and examine the Stock.
EMBER THE NUMBER,
Washington Street,
3m. BOSTON.

LEMEN'S HATS.
LL STYLES.
best selected assortments of FALL and
HATS in Boston, may be found at
A. JACKSON'S,
ont and 101 Court Sts.
COMPRISING
k Hats,
ine Felt Hats, and Cloth Hats and Caps,
st styles.
S AND CAPS FOR BOYS.
arge and well assorted stock of Ladies'
n's FURS.
ACKSON'S,
t St. and 59 Tremont St.,
BOSTON

W STORE!
our! Flour!
ECEIVED, a fresh supply of CHOICE
, direct from the Mills, for sale,
nd retail, at LOWEST PRICES, by
E. F. OSBORN.
Sutton's Building, Main St.
anvers, Nov 18, 1863.

. C. HENDERSON,
MANUFACTURER OF
PLAIN AND FANCY
PER BOXES;
235 ESSEX STREET,
Sign of "Nest of Boxes,"
SALEM. tf

M. FENOLLOSA,
TEACHER OF MUSIC,
PIANO FORTES,
at the lowest rates;
PIANO FORTES,
at the Manufacturers Price;
ES PIANO FORTES,
on the easiest terms;
at Rooms No. 7 Central street,
SALEM, MASS.

Books, Making Bills and
Copying.
business will be promptly and accurately ed by the subscriber, who may be found at ARK & Cummins' Counting Room on Wal-ear the Essex Depot, or by enquiring at this ly 13 tf. JOHN D. HOWARD.

Special Notices.

To Consumptives.

Consumptive sufferers will receive a valuable prescription for the cure of Consumption, Asthma, Bronchitis, and all Throat and Lung affections (free of charge) by sending their address to Rev. EDWARD A. WILSON, Williamsburg, Kings Co., New York.
sept 21—3 mos

From the army hospital—the bloody battle-field—the mansion of the rich and humble abode of the poor—from the office and the sacred desk—from the mountain top, distant valleys and far-off islands of the ocean—from every nook and corner of the civilized world—is pouring in the evidence of the astonishing effects of DRAKE'S PLANTATION BITTERS. Thousands upon thousands of letters like the following may be seen at our office.

REEDSBURY, WIS., Sept. 16, 1863.

"* * * * I have been in the army hospitals for fourteen months—speechless and nearly dead. At Alton, Ill., they gave me a bottle of Plantation Bitters. * * Three bottles restored my speech and cured me. * * *"

C. A. FLAUTE.

SOUTH WARSAW, O., July 28, 1863.

"* * * One young man, who had been sick and not out of the house for two years with Scrofula and Erysipelas, after paying the doctors over $150 without benefit, has been cured by ten bottles of your Bitters.

EDWARD WOUNALL.

The following is from the Manager of the Union Home School for the Children of Volunteers:

HAVEMEYER MANSION, FORTY-SEVENTH ST., New York, August 2, 1863.

"DR. DRAKE: Your wonderful Plantation Bitters have been given to some of our little children suffering from weakness and weak lungs with most happy effect. One little girl, in particular, with pains in her head, loss of appetite, and daily wasting consumption, on whom all medical skill had been exhausted, has been entirely restored. We commenced with but a teaspoonful of Bitters a day. Her appetite and strength rapidly increased, and she is now well * *

Respectfully, MRS. O. M. DEVOE."

"* * * I owe much to you, for I verily believe the Plantation Bitters have saved my life.

REV. W. H. WAGGONER, Madrid, N. Y."

"* * * Thou wilt send me two bottles more of thy Plantation Bitters. My wife has been greatly benefited by their use.

Thy friend, ASA CURRIN, Philadelphia, Pa."

"* * * I have been a great sufferer from Dyspepsia, and had to abandon preaching. * * * The Plantation Bitters have cured me.

REV. J. S. CATHORN, Rochester, N. Y."

"* * * Send us twenty-four dozen more of your Plantation Bitters, the popularity of which are daily increasing with the guests of our house.

SYKES, CHADWICK & CO.,
Proprietors Willard's Hotel, Washington, D. C."

"* * * I have given the Plantation Bitters to hundreds of our disabled soldiers with the most astonishing effect.

G. W. D. ANDREWS,
Superintendent Soldiers' Home, Cincinnati, O."

"* * * The Plantation Bitters have cured me of liver complaint, of which I was laid up prostrate and had to abandon my Business.

H. B. KINGSLEY, Cleveland, O."

"* * * The Plantation Bitters have cured me of a derangement of the kidneys and urinary organs that has distressed me for years. It acts like a charm.

C. C. MOORE, 254 Broadway, N. Y."

&c. &c. &c. &c.

The Plantation Bitters make the weak strong, the languid brilliant, and are exhausted nature's great restorer. They are composed of the celebrated Calisaya Bark, Wintergreen, Sassafras, Roots, Herbs, &c., all preserved in perfectly pure St. Croix Rum.

S.—T.—1860—X.

Persons of sedentary habits troubled with weakness, lassitude, palpitation of the heart, lack of appetite, distress after eating, torpid liver, constipation, &c. deserve to suffer if they will not try them.

They are recommended by the highest medical authorities, and are warranted to produce an immediate beneficial effect. They are exceedingly agreeable, perfectly pure, and harmless.

NOTICE.—Any person pretending to sell Plantation Bitters in bulk or by the gallon is a swindler and impostor. It is put up only in our patent log cabin bottle. Beware of bottles refilled with imitation deleterous stuff for which several persons are already in prison. See that every bottle has our private United States Stamp over the cork unmutilated, and signature on steel plate side label.

Sold by respectable dealers throughout the habitable globe.

P. H. DRAKE & CO.
202 Broadway, N. Y.
Mch 18—1 yr

THE GREAT ENGLISH REMEDY.
SIR JAMES CLARKE'S
CELEBRATED FEMALE PILLS!

Prepared from a prescription of Sir J. Clarke, M. D., Physician Extraordinary to the Queen.

This well known medicine is no imposition, but a sure cure and safe remedy for Female Difficulties and Obstructions, from any cause whatever; and, although a powerful remedy, they contain nothing hurtful to the constitution.

In all cases of Nervous and Spinal Affections, pain in the Back and Limbs, Fatigue on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Hysterics, and Whites, these pills will effect a cure, when all other means have failed; and, although a powerful remedy, do not contain iron, calomel, antimony, or anything hurtful to the constitution.

Full directions in the pamphlet around each package, which should be carefully preserved.

For full particulars, obtain, free, of the agent, a pamphlet. Sold by all Druggists.

Sole United States Agent,
JOB MOSES, 27 Cortlandt St., New York.

N. B.—$1 and 6 postage stamps enclosed to any authorized agent, will insure a bottle, containing over 50 pills, by return mail. March 9, 1864.—1 yr.

DR. E. F. KITTREDGE,
From Lowell, formerly of New Ipswich, N. H.,
Has removed his office and residence to
NO. 42 MAIN STREET,
SOUTH DANVERS, MASS.

Dr. K., from an extensive and successful professional experience of upwards of twenty years, feels justified in saying, that he can treat diseases to the satisfaction of his patients, and to the credit of himself.

Office hours from 7 to 9 A. M., and from 8 to 9 P. M.
South Danvers, Nov 13, 1863.

MANUAL FENOLLOSA
TEACHER
OF THE
Violin, Piano and Singing,
MUSIC ROOMS, No. 7 Central Street,
SALEM, MASS.

☞ Visit OSBORNE'S Store, and look at the unusual variety of new styles in HATS and CAPS—191 Essex street.

Selected.

WAITING FOR ME.

The following touching poem is afloat on the sea of letters. It will stir tender memories in many a heart that has often felt the sentiment, Somebody is "waiting for me."

There is a form of girlish mould,
Under the spread of the branches old
At the well-known beechen tree,
With the sunset lighting her tresses of gold,
And the breezes waving them fold upon fold,
Waiting for me.

There is a sweet voice with the cadence deep,
Of one that singeth our babe to sleep,
And often turns to see
How the stars through the lattice begin to peep
And watch the lazy dial creep,
Waiting for me.

Long since those locks are lain in the clay,
Long since that voice has passed away,
On earth no more to be,
But still in the spirit world afar
She is the dearest of those that are Waiting for me.

THE WIDOW'S POT OF GOLD.

A PRETTY CUTE STORY.

Deacon Bancroft, though a very good man in the main, and looked up to with respect by all the inhabitants in the village of Centreville, was rumored to have, in Yankee parlance, "a pretty sharp eye to the main chance,"—a peculiarity from which Deacons are not always exempt.

In worldly matters he was decidedly well to do, having inherited a fine farm from his father, which was growing yearly more valuable. It might be supposed that under circumstances like these the deacon, who was fully able to do so, would have found an helpmeet to share his house and name. But the deacon was rather wary. Matrimony was to him a matter of money, and it was his firm resolve not to marry unless he could thereby enhance his worldly prosperity. Unhappily, the village of Centreville, and the town in the immediate vicinity, contained few who were qualified in this important particular, and of those there were probably none with whom the deacons suit would have prospered.

So it happened that year after year passed away, until Deacon Bancroft was in the prime of life—forty-five or thereabouts—still unmarried, and in all probability likely to remain so.

Deacon Bancroft's nearest neighbor was a widow. The widow Wells, who had passed through one matrimonial experience, was about three or four years younger than Deacon Bancroft. She was still quite comely. Unfortunately, the late Mr. Wells had not been able to leave her enough to make her independent of the world. All that she possessed, was the small, old fashioned house in which she lived and a small sum of money, which was insufficient to support her and a little son of seven—too young to be classed as "productive" of anything but mischief. She was therefore obliged to take three or four boarders, to eke out her scanty income, which necessarily imposed upon her considerable labor and anxiety.

It is not surprising, then, that under this state of affairs, the widow should have now bethought herself seriously of a second marriage as a means of bettering her condition, and need we esteem it an especial wonder, if, during her reflections, she hit upon her neighbor, Deacon Bancroft? The deacon, as already said, was in flourishing circumstances. He would be able to maintain a wife in great comfort; and, being one of the chief personages in the village, could offer her a very prominent social position.

Some sagacious persons have observed, however, that it takes two to make a match—a fact to be carefully considered; for in the present case it was exceedingly doubtful whether the worthy deacon, even if he had known the favorable opinion of his next door neighbor, would have been inclined to propose changing her name to Bancroft, unless, indeed, a suitable motive was brought to bear upon him. Here was a chance for finessing.

One evening after a day of fatiguing labor, the Widow Wells sat at the fire in the sitting-room, with feet resting on the fender.

"If I am ever so situated as not to work so hard," she murmured, "I shall be quite happy. It's a hard life keeping boarders. If I were only as well off as Deacon Bancroft."

Still the widow kept on thinking, and shortly her face brightened up. She had an idea which she resolved to put into execution at the earliest practicable moment. What it was the reader will discover in the sequel.

"Henry," she said to her son, on the morning of the next day, "I want you to stop at Deacon Bancroft's as you go along to school, and ask him if he will call and see me in the course of the morning or afternoon, just as he finds it most convenient."

Deacon Bancroft was not a little surprised at the summons. However, about eleven o'clock he called in. The widow had got on the dinner, and had leisure to sit down. She appeared a little embarrassed.

"Henry told me that you would like to see me," he commenced.

"Yes, deacon Bancroft, I do; but I am very much afraid that you will think strange of it—at least of what I have to say to you."

The deacon very politely promised not to be surprised, although at the time his curiosity was visibly excited.

"Suppose," said the widow, casting down her eyes to the floor—"mind, I am only supposing the case—supposing a person should find a pot of gold pieces in their cellar, would the law have a right to touch it, or would it belong to them?"

The deacon pricked up his ears.

"A pot of gold pieces, widow? Why, unquestionably, the law would have nothing to do with it."

"And the one who formerly owned the house could not come forward and claim it, could he?" enquired the widow, with apparent anxiety.

"No, madam, certainly not—when the house was disposed of everything went with it as a matter of course."

"I am glad to hear it, deacon. You won't think strange of the question, but it happened to occur to my mind, and I would like to have it satisfied."

"Certainly, widow, certainly," said the deacon, abstractedly.

"And deacon, as you are here, I hope you'll stop to dinner with us; it will be on the table punctually at twelve."

"Well, no," said the deacon, "I'm obliged to ye, but they'll be expecting me home."

"At any rate, deacon," said the widow, lifting a steaming mince pie from the oven, "you won't object to taking a piece of my mince pie; you must know that I rather pride myself on my mince pies."

The warm pie sent forth such a delicious odor that the deacon was sorely tempted, and after saying, "well, really, with the intention of refusing, he finished by saying, "On the whole, I guess I will, as it looks so nice."

The widow was really a good cook, and the deacon ate with much gusto the generous slice she cut for him, and, after a little chatting upon unimportant subjects, he withdrew in some mental perplexity.

"Can it be possible," thought he, "that the widow has really found a pot of gold in her cellar? She did not say so, to be sure, but why should she show so much anxiety to know as to the proprietorship of treasure thus found, if she had not happened upon some? To be sure, so far as his knowledge extended, there was no one who had occupied the premises who would be in the least likely to lay up such an amount of gold, but the house was one hundred and fifty years old, at the very least, and undoubtedly had many occupants of whom we know nothing. It might be, after all. The woman's earnest desire to have him think it was all curiosity likewise gave additional probability to the supposition. I will wait and watch," thought the deacon.

It so happened that Deacon Bancroft was one of the directors in a saving institution situated in the next town, and accordingly used to ride over there once or twice a month to attend meetings of the board. On the next occasion of this kind, Widow Welles sent over to know if he could carry her over with him, as she had a little business to attend to there. The request was readily accorded, and arriving in town, Mrs. Wells requested to be set down at the Bank.

"Ha! ha!" thought the deacon, "that means something."

He said nothing, however, but determined to come back and find out, as he readily could, from the cashier, what business she had with the bank.

The widow tripped into the office, looking very nonchalent.

"Can you give some small bills for a five dollar gold piece?" she inquired.

"With pleasure," was the reply.

"By the way, said she, "the bank is in quite a flourishing condition, is it not?"

"None in the State in better footing," was the prompt response.

"You receive deposits, do you not?"

"Yes, madam, we are receiving them every day."

"Do you receive as high as—as five thousand dollars?"

"No," said the cashier, with some surprise; "or rather we do not allow interest on so large a sum. One thousand dollars is our limit. Did you know of any one who—"

"It is of no consequence," said the widow, hurriedly, "I only asked for curiosity. By the way, did you say how much interest you allowed on such deposits as came within your limits?"

"Five per cent., madam."

"Thank you; I merely asked for curiosity. What a beautiful morning it is."

And the widow tripped lightly out.

Shortly afterwards Deacon Bancroft entered.

"How's business now, Mr. Cashier?" he asked.

"About as usual."

"Had any new deposits lately?"

"None of any magnitude."

"I brought over a lady this morning, who seemed to have business with you."

"Widow Wells?"

"Yes."

"Do you know," said the cashier, "whether she has had money left her lately?"

"None that I know of," said the deacon, pricking up his ears. "Why? did she deposit any?"

"No; but she inquired whether we received deposits as high as five thousand dollars."

"Indeed!" ejaculated the deacon. "Was that all she came for?" he inquired a moment afterwards.

"No; she changed a gold piece for bills."

"Ha!" pondered the deacon, reflectively; "did she give any reason for enquiring?"

"No; she said she only asked for curiosity."

The deacon left the bank in deep thought. He came to the conclusion that this curiosity only veiled a deep motive. He no longer entertained a doubt that the widow had actually found a pot of gold in her cellar, and appearances seemed to indicate that its probable value was equal to five thousand dollars. The gold piece which she had exchanged at the bank appeared to confirm this story.

"I rather think," said the deacon complacently, "I can see into a millstone about as far as most people,—a statement the literal truth of which I defy any one to question, though, as to the prime fact of people's being able to see into a millstone at all, doubts have now and then introduced themselves upon my mind."

The next Sunday Widow Wells appeared at church in a new stylish bonnet, which led to some such remarks as these?

How much vanity some people have, to be sure! How a woman who has to keep boarders for a living can afford to dash out with such a bonnet is more than I can tell; I should think she was old enough to know better. (This last remark was made by a lady just six months younger than the widow, whose attempts to catch a husband had hitherto proved utterly unavailing.) I suppose, continued the same lady, she is trying to catch a second husband with her finery. Before I would condescend to such means I'd—d'd drown myself.

In this last amiable speech the young lady had unwittingly hit upon the true motive. The widow was intent upon catching Deacon Bancroft, and she indulged in a costly bonnet, not because she supposed he would be caught with finery, but because it would strengthen in his mind the idea that she had stumbled upon hidden wealth.

The widow had calculated shrewdly, and the display had the effect she anticipated.

Monday afternoon Deacon Bancroft found an errand that called him over to the widow's. It was about tea-time. He was importuned to stay to tea, and somewhat to his surprise, actually did. The polite widow, who knew the deacon's weak point, brought one of her best pies, a slice of which her guest partook of with zest.

"You'll take another piece, I know," said she, persuasively.

"Really, I am ashamed," said the deacon, and he passed his plate. "The fact is," he said, apologetically, "your pies are so nice I don't know where to stop."

"Do you call these nice?" modestly said the widow. "I only call them common. I can make mince pies when I set out to, but this time my luck was not so good as usual."

"I shouldn't want any better," said the deacon emphatically.

"Then I hope, if you like them, you'll drop in to tea often. We ought to be more neighborly, Deacon Bancroft."

Deacon Bancroft assented, and he meant what he said. The fact is, the deacon began to think the widow was a very charming woman. She was very comely, and she was such an excellent cook! Besides, he had no doubt in his mind that she was worth a considerable sum of money. What objection could there be to her becoming Mrs. Bancroft? He brought the question before her one evening. The widow blushed, professed to be greatly surprised;—in fact, she had never thought of the thing in life, but, on the whole, she thought highly of the deacon, and to cut short the matter, accepted him.

A month afterwards she was installed as mistress of the deacon's large house, somewhat to the surprise of the village people, who could not conceive how she had brought him over.

Some weeks after the ceremony the deacon ventured to inquire about the pot of gold which she had found in the cellar.

"Pot of gold!" she exclaimed in surprise; "I know of none. What put that extraordinary idea into your head?"

The deacon anxiously related the circumstances on which his expression was grounded.

"O Lor, deacon, I only asked from pure curiosity."

"And was that the reason you made inquiries at the bank?"

"Certainly. What else could it be?"

The deacon went into the barn, and for about half an hour sat in silent meditation.

At the end of that time he ejaculated, as a closing consideration, "after all, she makes good mince pies."

It gives me pleasure to state that the union between the deacon and the widow proved a very happy one; although to the end of his life he never could make up his mind about that "Pot of Gold."

A KIND JUDGE.—A very learned and compassionate judge in a Western State, on passing sentence on one Jones, who had been convicted of murder, concluded his remarks as follows:—"The fact is, Jones, the court did not intend at first to order you to be executed before next spring; but the weather is so very cold; our goal is unfortunately in a bad condition; much of the glass in the windows is broken; the chimneys are in such a dilapidated state that no fire can be made to render your apartment comfortable; besides, owing to a great number of prisoners, not more than one blanket can be allowed to each, and to sleep sound and comfortable is therefore out of the question. In consideration of these circumstances, and wishing to lessen your sufferings as much as possible, the court, in the exercise of humanity and compassion, do hereby order you to be executed to-morrow morning, as soon after breakfast as may be convenient to the sheriff and agreeable to you."

WHERE CAIN WENT TO.—A teacher in one of the Oakland Sabbath schools, a couple of Sundays ago, put the following question to his class:

"What became of Cain after he killed Abel?"

The class got "stuck," and like the darkey, were about to "gib it up," when a brilliant little one sung out:

"I know what became of Cain after he killed Abel."

"Well, little one," said the teacher, "what did become of him?"

"He became a vagabond and went round the saloons a bumming!"

☞ A child speaking of his home to a friend, was asked: "Where is your home?" Looking with loving eyes at his mother, he replied: "Where mother is!" Was ever question so truthfully, beautifully, or touchingly answered!

THE NEW LADIES' MONTHLY.—We have the prospect of a new Magazine for the Ladies, which will quite cut out the Philadelphia periodicals. It is to be a union of "Demorest's Illustrated monthly" and the "Mirror of Fashions." This announcement cannot fail to make great sensation in the world of fashion, and put all the ladies on the qui vive.

MRS. JOHN MORGAN, widow of the guerilla chief recently shot in East Tennessee, has early come to grief. She is said to be a very bewitching young woman, the daughter of a distinguished lawyer of Tennessee, named Ready, and in the old Union she figured for a time in Washington as a belle. Then she would have turned up her pretty nose at the suggestion of marrying John Morgan. But she is an inveterate rebel, and when the war had gone on apace, she was fascinated by the reputation of the young chief and his "stars" as a Major General, and less than two years ago she was married in grand style at the Murfreesboro' Court House in Tennessee, the walls of the building being decorated with evergreen wreaths, encircling inscriptions in evergreens of towns which John had captured. All the Generals, Lieutenant Generals, Major Generals, Brigadiers, Colonels, etc., in Bragg's army gave eclat to the occasion, and Mrs. Morgan, true Southern woman as she is, was supremely happy, Southern women loving eclat as well as other women do. When Bragg was driven from Murfreesboro' Mrs. Morgan fled too, and has shared the fortunes of war till ill luck has overtaken her.

WOMEN IN HISTORY.—When the Grecian world rested from its war labors in the age of Pericles, we began to hear of Aspasia, his counsellor and wife, whom historic criticism has lately vindicated from the aspersions of her own and Pericles' personal enemies.—When Rome had conquered a peace in the first centuries of the empire, Hypatia appeared in the school of Alexandria inferior to none of her male contemporaries, as a lecturer in philosophy; when the Italian republics were at their intellectual height, the Italian women, especially the female law-lecturers of Bologna, were unsurpassed by the other sex in learning and genius. In diplomatic circles, and on the thrones of modern Europe, women have displayed a grandeur of talent, and wielded a power that was irrefragable. The late queen of Portugal, the present queen of Spain, Victoria of England, and the Archduchess Sophia of Austria, are no more inferior to Louis Napoleon, the king of Piedmont, the czar of Russia, than to Isabella of Castile, Elizabeth of England, Catherine of Russia, and Maria Theresa. They are superior to the king of Russia and the emperor of Austria.—Christian Examiner.

A SOLILOQUY.—The old maid sat in her old arm chair, with half closed eyes and pensive air, and with a blush on her virtuous face, fell into "old Morpheus," sweet embrace. She dreamt that a husband kind and true, her form to his side he fondly drew, while in accents gentle clear, and slow, he called her the dearest name below. A fire was kindled upon the hearth, whose brightness told of joy and mirth, while the tea-kettle sang a merrier lay than it had whistled for many a day. New light was diffused in the old maid's heart, as she felt a loneliness depart; the table was spread all clean and new with plates and saucers and chairs for two. (Here the poet kindly pauses for the purpose of taking a drink and prolonging the "old critter's bliss."—But to resume.) At last as the dusky, dim twilight was fast giving way to the shades of night, she stretched out her arms for a sweet embrace, and alas! alas! found empty space. As from her vision of bliss she awoke, and found that her dream had perished and broke, she arose and said with a shuddering sigh: "Oh! would I had married in days gone by!"

☞ A new style of veil coming into favor with the ladies, is made of the fashionable black and white figured lace, with a fine elastic run through the upper part, which fits to the edge of the bonnet, and a second elastic run through the lower part of the veil, a short distance from the bottom, which fastens it under the chin, giving the effect of a street mask, transparent, but very coquettish.

GOOD.—It is stated that General Sheridan, before he went to battle, ordered religious services at the headquarters, and sent for a regimental chaplain to officiate. The chaplain opened the services by reading that celebrated hymn, commencing "Early my God, without delay,

I seek thy smiling face."

☞ The noblest question in the world is—What good can I do in it?

The Wizard.

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 5, 1864.

Hon. R. S. MATTHEWS IN SALEM.

This well known champion of the Union cause addressed an immense audience at Mechanic Hall, last Thursday evening, many of whom were from this town, and they will bear us out in the assertion that Mr. MATTHEWS has proved himself to be one of the best political speakers of two political campaigns.—We may go farther than this and assert without qualification, that for nervous action, withering sarcasm, exuberance of language and epithet, power of denunciation and adroitness of repartee, he was not surpassed by RUFUS CHOATE himself. In the above particulars the two orators were somewhat alike, yet different in other respects. Our Massachusetts orator must have been in one of his best moods to have held spell-bound such an immense audience for two hours and more. He must have thrown himself fully into his work to have exhibited more fervor of eloquence or effectiveness of argument than were displayed by him of Maryland. We mention Mr. Choate's name because there is no other orator with whom we are acquainted, whom Mr. Matthews so much resembles. No report of the utterances of either, could do them justice. Chain-lightning cannot be intelligibly reported. We can see the effects. We remember seeing the speaker attack the Chicago platform. We remember afterwards seeing the fragments of that structure scattered all around him. This it is which shows the force of the onset.

We hope Mr. MATTHEWS will take the stump in Pennsylvania.

COUNTY OFFICERS.

The County officers to be chosen this year are a County Treasurer, Register of Deeds, and a County Commissioner.

ALLEN W. DODGE of Hamilton is the present incumbent of the first named office. He has had the office during the past twelve years, and we have never heard a word of complaint against him. Though he will probably get the nomination, it will not be without a warm canvass. We have heard the names of three gentlemen as competitors, viz:—JACOB BATCHELDER of Lynn, JAMES D. BLACK of Danvers, and AMOS MERRILL of South Danvers—all of whom are unexceptionable.

For Register of Deeds we have heard no one named as likely to contest the nomination with the present incumbent, but Mr. Batchelder, in case he should not be nominated as County Treasurer. Mr. Batchelder would certainly make a very fine officer, but it is no way likely that the people will feel like giving up EPHRAIM BROWN, Esq., who has filled the office for some 15 years, and always in a most faithful and unexceptionable manner.

Under the present law, one of the three County Commissioners goes out of office each year. Mr. SWETT of Haverhill is the one whose term expires the present year. We have heard no one named in opposition to his re-election but Mr. LEVI PATCH of Gloucester. It is not supposed that the friends of Mr. Patch can make much headway against Mr. Swett, who has been an efficient and popular officer.

The Clerk of the Court is elected once in five years. His term does not expire till next year. The same of the Sheriff and District Attorney.

ACCIDENT.—Mr. Plumer Little, one of our substantial and worthy citizens, met with an accident last week, which may prove of a most serious character.—He fell from a tree by the breaking of a limb, where he was gathering fruit, and struck the ground with so much force as to paralize him all over. He still lies in a critical state, wholly unable to help himself.

Since the above was in type, we learn that Mr. LITTLE died yesterday morning, at 5 o'clock. He was 55 years of age.

A DISCOURSE FOR THE TIMES.—By the special notices it will be seen that Rev. Mr. SWEETSER will, on Sunday evening, deliver an address on "THE HOUR." Mr. S. has proved himself not only an earnest and able preacher, but a powerful and effective orator. We hope to see the Church on Washington Street well filled, that all may drink in the inspirations of patriotism.

☞ At the Republican Ratification Meeting in Salem, last Thursday evening, the following gentlemen from this town were elected as Vice Presidents:—Dr. George Osborne, Alfred A. Abbott, Eben S. Poor, Fitch Poole. From Danvers, I. W. Andrews, J. D. Black, Geo. Tapley, J. W. Putnam.

☞ The Register, in its account of the ordination of Mr. S. Franklin Trench at Hamilton last week, speaks of the sermon of W. M. BARBER of this town as "a glowing and earnest presentation of Christ as the source of strength and success to the preacher of the Gospel."

CATTLE SHOW.

The annual exhibition of the Essex Agricultural Society took place at Lawrence last Tuesday and Wednesday, the 27th and 28th ult.

In point of attendance of members of the Society and spectators, the occasion was regarded as unequalled in the history of the Society.

The hall of exhibition was exceedingly well decorated, and the articles exhibited were as varied, excellent and curious as we have ever seen on the many previous occasions of the kind that we have attended.

The show of live stock, however, was quite meagre, and was generally considered unsatisfactory. The Ayrshire cows of Hon. Eben S. Poor, and the Merino sheep of Dr. Geo. B. Loring, attracted considerable attention.

The time-honored custom of a public dinner which was broken last year, was this year restored. The dinner was a good one and well served, and at a moderate price. The after dinner speeches were well made and well received.

Tuesday evening there was a public discussion upon agricultural subjects, but as we were not present we can only record the fact that it was currently reported as a very interesting meeting.

There was a trial of Steam Fire Engines upon the Common in the afternoon of Thursday, which attracted a vast crowd of people. We believe the Society had nothing to do with this part of the day's entertainment; but it was regarded as very favorable to the pecuniary interests of the Society that it occurred when it did, as it attracted thither many more persons than would otherwise have attended, a good many of whom visited the exhibition rooms.

At the Society meeting, Tuesday morning, the Treadwell Farm question came up again for discussion. Dr. Loring proposed to give the Trustees power to sell. This was opposed by Hon. David Choate, Col. Adams, Dr. Spofford, S. C. Bancroft and Warren Ordway, as being made without proper notice to the Society, which had decided not to sell at a meeting lately held for the purpose of considering it, and as of doubtful expediency.

The proposition was finally withdrawn, and Dr. Loring of Salem, S. C. Bancroft of South Danvers, and Enoch S. Williams of Newburyport, were chosen a committee to consider the expediency of selling the farm, and to report at the next meeting.

Among the premiums awarded we notice Geo. B. Martin of Danvers, Patchen colt, $5; Geo. B. Loring of Salem, one pair full blood Ayrshires, 1st premium, $5; Eben S. Poor of South Danvers, heifer, $4; do., best lot of calves, $4; Geo. B. Loring of Salem, $5 for ewe sheep, and "Harris' Insects" for lot of lambs; Peter Waitt of Danvers, $4 for clustered fruits. Geo. L. Hodgkins of Salem, R. Waitt of Danvers, M. H. Roberts, J. V. Stevens and S. Southwick of South Danvers received premiums for pears.

A STRANGE ANIMAL.—Upon our late visit to the garden of Mr. ANDREW PORTER, on Elm Street, to view and admire his splendid fruit trees, we were permitted to see some specimens of a little creature which has committed great ravages in his garden, particularly among his currants, of which they have destroyed great quantities. The scientific name of this singular animal is Eniavtnarruc, a hard word to spell and a harder to pronounce. Ever since they were caught Mr. Porter has allowed them to run in his cellar, so they are quite domesticated. They are most beautiful creatures, of a rich fawn color, (one of them nearly white) with eyes bright and sparkling, and they are as gentle and harmless as rabbits. Mr. P. kindly offered us one of the young ones, which we thankfully accepted and hope to raise it. It is a sweet little creature in its quiescent state, but when it runs, it is perfectly charming. We should like to have many more such pets.

GEN. EARLY.—It is said that during the battle of the Wilderness, Gen. Early on learning that a South Carolina regiment, which had been ordered to charge on the Federals, for some reason had faltered, rode up to it, and in that peculiarity of tone for which he is noted, cried out, "Blast you, you got us into this damned scrape, and by G—d, you shall help us out!" The story goes that the regiment was so cut up by this remark that they rushed upon their foe and drove him from his position.

COMMISSIONS.—Edgar M. Briggs, of Danvers, is promoted to 2d Lieutenant in the 35th Regiment; Henry A. Merritt, of Salem, is to be 1st Lieutenant in 2d Heavy Artillery.

BAPTISM.—Rev. Mr. Barrows, of the Baptist Church, administered the rites of baptism to ten persons on Sunday last.

SUDDEN DEATH.—Mr. JESSE HARWOOD, a well-known and esteemed citizen of Lynn, died suddenly at his residence, on Tuesday afternoon of last week, of apoplexy. Mr. Harwood was an unusually large man, weighing at one time four hundred pounds, but latterly not quite as much.

INSTALLATION AND DEDICATION OF AMITY LODGE, DANVERS.

This young and thriving off-shoot of old Jordan Lodge of South Danvers has been for the past year working under a dispensation from the Grand Lodge of Massachusetts.

The returns of the year's work having been sent to the last quarterly communication of the Grand Lodge, those returns approved, and a charter granted to the new Lodge, Monday, the 26th of the last month, was fixed upon as the time for the appropriate ceremonies of constituting the brethren into a regular lodge of Free and Accepted Masons. There were the names of twenty-six signers appended to the original petition for the dispensation. The Lodge the past year have conferred the degrees of masonry upon forty-two candidates; and there are about forty others, master masons, residing within the jurisdiction of this Lodge.

In addition to these there were present delegations from Jordan, Essex, Liberty, and Starr King, and many visitors from other lodges. The ceremonies were performed by the officers of the Grand Lodge, a large number of whom were present.

Those relating to the consecration of the hall, and the dedication of the lodge, were conducted in a very impressive manner within the lodge, and were open only to members of the fraternity. The installation of the officers took place at the Universalist Church, in the presence of a large audience, of which the ladies composed the major part.

These ceremonies were very felicitously performed by the Most Worshipful Grand Master, Bro. William Parkman, whose pleasant tones and quiet humor always strike a happy chord and give pleasure to his hearers, yet we were sorry in this case that he had not spoken a little louder, as a fuller tone would have added to their number. After the installation of the officers, the R. W. Bro. C. C. Dame of Newburyport, gave a short but very impressive address to the officers and brethren of the lodge. The exercises were commenced by an appropriate anthem, which, together with several hymns that were interspersed between the different exercises, were performed by a select choir under the direction of Mr. A. W. Trask, in a manner that elicited the warm praise of all the lovers of good music. Miss Anna Lowe, of Boxford, who has a wonderful skill in producing harmony from that, the grandest of all instruments, presided at the organ.

After the conclusion of the ceremonies of the installation, the holders of refreshment tickets were invited to repair to Gothic Hall, under the church, where the brethren of the lodge had prepared a bountiful repast. About four hundred sat down to the tables and regaled themselves with the good things set before them, after which Bro. Parkman entertained the company in a very happy manner by his humorous remarks. R. W. Bros. Gardner, Dean, Dadman and Sutton, and other members of the fraternity, also gave much good advice to the brethren and valuable information concerning the secrets of masonry to the ladies and the uninitiated of the other sex present, interspersed with a vein of wit and humor that was well calculated to please that large class who would rather "laugh with those that laugh," than "weep with those that weep."

The choir also added much to the pleasures of the supper by the singing of a choice selection of songs and glees.

T.

REPUBLICAN CAUCUS.—A caucus of the Republican voters of this town was held last Monday evening, at Town Hall. George F. Osborn was elected Chairman, and Amos Merrill Secretary. On motion of Sidney C. Bancroft it was voted that fifteen persons be nominated from the floor to select delegates from, to attend the District Convention, the six persons receiving the highest number of marks to be declared elected. It was also agreed that any person could add any other name if he chose.

The following were selected to mark from: Miles O. Stanley, Joseph Poor, Amos Merrill, John S. Torr, Francis Baker, Stephen Blaney, Eben S. Poor, John C. Blaney, George F. Sanger, James P. King, Oscar Phillips, Isaac Hardy, H. A. Hardy, A. B. Merrill, A. P. Phillips.

There were 463 marks made against the different names, which, divided by six, (the amount of marks each voter was entitled to,) shows that some 77 persons voted. Of these 57 voted for Miles O. Stanley, 50 for Amos Merrill, 44 for Francis Baker, 44 for Joseph Poor, 37 for A. B. Merrill, and 35 for A. P. Phillips, and they were elected. The next highest were Eben S. Poor 30, Stephen Blaney 28, John C. Blaney 28. The balance ranged all the way from 2 to 22.

It was voted not to instruct the delegates.

It was also voted that at the next caucus, delegates be chosen for both County and Senatorial Conventions.

SHERIDAN's victories in the Shenandoah valley are the more gratifying since that has been the scene of disaster and disgrace to our arms ever since the war begun. Seven Generals had failed there, with respectable forces, before Sheridan took the job. Patterson came to terrible disgrace at the outset; Banks made there his masterly retreat, outrunning the rebels and alarming the whole country; Fremont rode up the valley, then rode down, and next rode out, doing nothing that was expected of him; then followed Shields, Milroy, Sigel, Hunter, all in the same way; and last of all Sheridan came, sweeping his sponge over the scene to wipe out the record of the past by the glory of the present.—Newburyport Herald.

UNION MEETING AT DANVERS.

The people of Danvers, on Saturday evening, the 24th ult., gathered en masse in Gothic Hall to hear that able and indefatigable champion of human rights, the Hon. Henry Wilson. But the hall would not contain the half of the multitude that came to hear. After it was packed in every aisle and corner, large numbers were still without. This is the largest hall there is in town, and the meeting was one of the largest ever held within our precincts. The meeting was called to order under the direction of a Committee of Arrangements, by Charles P. Preston, Esq., who presented the name of Hon. James D. Black for President, with a long list of Vice Presidents and Secretaries. After the organization had been effected and the people had fixed themselves as quietly as they could, Mr. Wilson was introduced.

He began by tracing the history of this foul rebellion from 1853, when Franklin Pierce declared as Chief Magistrate of these United States that peace reigned within our borders, that all our discontents had been amicably settled, and that hereafter our internal conflicts would be tempered by the moral graces. Rapidly glancing at the Kansas tragedy—at the threats of disruption in the election of 1856 as illustrations of the spirit of the promise—he showed clearly by the appointments made, under the regime of Pierce as well as those made under Buchanan, the heartlessness and hypocrisy of this pretence; that it was never intended to have peace, except at the sacrifice of honor; had it been, a nest of scorpions would not have been nursed and warmed into life by the Democratic party (so-called.)

He showed the several acts of the conspirators and traitors preceding the cannonade of Sumter,—how they were allowed by Buchanan, when in his very Cabinet, to steal our arms, to send our navy to distant seas and oceans, to place our regular army at the disposal of traitors to be surrendered by them ignominiously at the first opportunity,—how that those very forts and batteries lately captured by that naval hero, the gallant Farragut, who, amid the crash of battle and in the jaws of death, stood at top-mast, coolly directing the conflict, were surrendered,—how that the treasury was depleted, and the government was menaced by thirty thousand armed and drilled traitors, and how seven States had passed their acts of secession, all precedent to the inauguration of Abraham Lincoln,—with, also, the declaration of the old Pub. Func., that no power inhered in the government by the Constitution to use the force of arms against these traitors. These, and many more of the overt acts of the rebels, with the course of their Democratic friends North, were placed in bold relief before the mind. Then the several attempts of the Republicans, after Lincoln's inauguration, were briefly alluded to,—all the steps taken by the President to avert the war, and a lucid history of its progress, following which a scathing analysis of the Chicago platform, or rather the Niagara-Chicago platform, with, also, a brief outline of some of the chief builders thereof, was presented, with the many and important issues involved in the present political campaign.

He occupied about an hour and a half in his address, and was much applauded throughout. It was a fair and candid appeal to all the better feelings of our nature, as well as a logical and concise statement of the causes of the war and the necessity of its continuance, if we would be respected and honored. The last armed traitor must fall in his tracks rather than this glorious land should be smitten by disunion and anarchy. It is the first instance that Mr. Wilson ever spoke to the people of the town and he has made a very favorable impression.

Adjutant General Schouler made a short speech, relating in the course of his remarks a most touching instance of the devotion of a mother who had lost five sons in the war. It was an instance more glorious than Spartan devotion to the country, and not an eye but what moistened at its recital. His remarks went to show that, do what we might, we owed it all to ourselves and unborn generations.

He was followed by one who was formerly our townsman, and who often revisits his native hills and pleasant plains to spend a short time from the arduous duties of his profession with his friends and relatives. The Rev. A. P. Putnam chained the attention of the vast assemblage in an eloquent manner. He portrayed the bitter prejudices that met him in his journey on the continent—with what thrilling feeling he beheld the flag of his country floating so proudly on the ocean and seas and forts he visited, the great beacon of human liberty—how intense his desire was to learn the events of the war on the burning sands of Africa and among the tombs of the Pharaohs, and how his soul burned with shame at the jeers and flaunts of the aristocrats of the Old World. Deepening the exalted and powerful tones of his clear and commanding voice,

> "I saw him stand on freedom's fane,
> Pouring the soft, persuasive strain,
> Giving vast conceptions birth,—
> Hark! I hear his thunders' sound
> Shake the forum round and round,—
> Shake the pillars of the earth."

Shall traitors receive the protection of the Constitution which they would tear in shreds? they who would hurl from its lofty pedestal, Freedom? they who have imbrued their hands in their brothers' blood? they who have devastated our fair land with rapine and war? No! No! Never! Or, if they are to receive it, let them have it under that Constitution and not over it—let them be hanged as it prescribes, and their subjugation made certain.

But I will not attempt to do justice to the sublime words he uttered, and will say in conclusion, that we had a meeting that makes any lingering hopes of the opposers of Abraham in this section as vain as the hopes of the enemies of Abraham of old. If any of this class were there to hear—if intelligent—they must have changed their opinions before now. Depend upon it, it was a most telling success.

A.

SOMETHING NEW.—J. H. Bufford & Co., 313 Washington street, Boston, have published the best map of Richmond and Petersburg and vicinity that we have ever seen. Every place of note is distinctly marked upon it, and also its square miles, so that the approach of our gallant boys can be easily noted. They have also issued maps of Mobile and its vicinity, as well as of Atlanta, but we will not attempt a description, but hope every one will buy one for themselves.

Their pictures of Grant, Sherman, Sheridan and Farragut, "our Peace Commissioners," are perfect gems in the lithograph line. Call in and see them. Want of space forbids a further notice at this time, but we shall recur to their American enterprise again.

HOLIDAY SKETCHES.

What are your politics?—[BAILEY'S FESTUS.

DEAR WIZARD,—It is not a saucy question. To what creed do you subscribe? and what are your politics? are questions which the democratic tendencies of our American society have rendered almost as polite as the customary salutation, What's the news?

Is he Federalist or Anti-Federalist? Whig or Democrat? Republican or Abolitionist? Hunker or Barnburner? Does he believe in Tariff or Free Trade? Is his political gospel the articles of 1783, or the Constitution of 1789? Such are the questions, each of which, sometime in the life of the Republic, having passed from ear to ear without a single scruple as to propriety or politeness.

I believe that a more important question could not be asked. The custom is honorable. Political monasticism and that Prudence that dares not plant itself upon some principle, or is unwilling to give a reason for the political opinion that it may cherish, are detestable. Secret ballots are as unfit in a Republic as are bayonets in a time of peace.

See how important the question!

Said Mirabeau: "It is more important to give men morals and habits than laws and tribunals." But the laws of a Republic are carved from the thoughts and feelings of the people. The truths that are born of the schools to-day become giants to-morrow, controlling the nation. The student of our history will find that the rise and fall of parties, their commingling and dissolution, have been produced by the expansive growth of some moral idea, radical, perhaps, at the time of its inception. It has happened, therefore, that ever since the birth of the Republic the creeds of political parties have represented most accurately the average moral and intellectual standing of the people. The floating thoughts and prejudices of one generation become concentred in the next, and, crystalizing into statutes, govern the State. There was the contest of Federalist and Anti-Federalist from 1790 to 1800. Springing up immediately after the war for Independence these parties were the embodiment respectively of the decaying power of Aristocracy and that rising love of Social Equality which is the genius of our institutions. Jefferson was elected in 1800, and Democracy triumphing, grappled with the British lion, and sent her back a second time discomfited to her den. These two new parties under the new names of Whig and Democrat continued in power—the Whigs representing the conservative elements of the country; trade, birth, intellect; and the Democrats representing the radical and more popular elements in the government—till after the close of the last half century. Meanwhile the Cotton Gin had been invented, and a new question began to ruffle the surface of American politics. The demand for cotton and the profits attending its manufacture were riveting closer the rapidly increasing shackles of our bondsmen and usurping the places of justice and truth in the morals of the South and the larger cities of our seaboard. Gradually the conscience of the nation awoke, and, through the influence of its schools, the press, and the rostrum, it sent its pulsations anew through all the ramifications of society, tearing down parties, exposing hypocrisy, and remodelling the statutes of a corrupt legislation.

Again, every great question that has agitated the nation, separating it into parties, has been a moral one. No party has ever lived through four years of our national life that has not considered in some one of the dogmas which it has advocated the rights of the people. The Anti-Masonic party died out with the excitement that brought it into being. The Know Nothing party was gathered to the Shades when the politicians who had conceived it had gained, through the prejudices which it excited, place and power. Tariff and Free Trade are no longer questions of political importance, nor are they considered worthy of a plank in any party platform.

On the contrary, those parties which have remained permanent in the Republic for a respectable length of time, have been those which have stood upon some great principle which underlay the rights and dignity of man. In this respect, however, the workings of our government are not peculiar. For however liberal or monarchical the government, God always places the throne upon the broad shoulders of the people. A Vox populi vox Dei. Richelieu is the great representative of Absolutism in modern history. By his power France was raised to the very acme of prosperity. But all her magnificence was like a "dream of summer" amid the fluttering of autumn leaves. Louis XV on his dying bed heard afar off the muttering of that tempest that was soon to sweep his empire with intensest fury. Robespierre, on the contrary, may be considered the modern representative of the radical element in government. But the fickle populace first flattered, then cut off his head. This is the cause of the strength of our government and the hope of its perpetuity,—that it rests upon two pillars, the radical and the conservative elements, Jefferson and Hamilton, Federalist and Anti-Federalist. If we had not come out of the Revolution with the power of these two antagonistic elements nearly equally balanced, the nation would have gravitated towards despotism or anarchy. As it is, there is centralization of power without tyranny, radicalism, without anarchy, a spirit of industry that builds mighty cities, enriches our lowliest homes with the profits of busy trade, promotes moral and intellectual culture, and weaves for our autumn months garlands of richest gold; yet a reserved force, a thunder sleeping on the cloudlet's placid crest, that, when evoked, is able to avenge disloyalty and insult, and preserve the integrity of the empire.

The importance of the political opinion that a citizen may hold, therefore, is obvious. The Republic in educating its sons for citizenship also educates them for its highest places of honor and trust. Through the veins of the youngest infant runs royal blood, and upon budding manhood fall responsibilities known in other nations only to the aristocratic few. The right to vote in the Republic is the evidence of citizenship. No individual, therefore, who has not taken his stand after careful thought and with conscientious resolve, upon the political questions that may divide the nation, has a moral right to cast a ballot. Year after year we choose our position, either for the country or against, for the elevation of humanity or its degradation. Which has it been? Which shall it be?

MARK MILES.

☞ Lieut. G. W. Creasy, 35th Regt., and Lieuts. J. B. Hill, J. W. Day and B. Mann, of the 17th Regt., are confined in Savannah, Georgia.

PERSONAL.—Gen. Sheridan, it is said, is a native of Boston, and when a boy, sold newspapers in the streets.

Mrs. General Lander, formerly Miss J. M. Davenport, the well known actress, has decided to resume her profession next November.

John Lynch, the new Republican member of Congress from the Portland (Me.) district, was born there of Irish parents, and began life as a cart driver, and has worked himself up to an intelligent and wealthy merchant and honored citizen.

Beauregard supersedes Gen. Hood in command of the rebel army in Georgia.

Mayor Gunther, of New York, looks upon rejoicings over Union victories as being merely political demonstrations.

The Richmond Whig asserts that Gilmore and Jaquess, the self-constituted peace commissioners, left the rebel capital without paying their hotel bill, and that it has just been paid by the rebel Secretary of War.

Lieut Col. Pierson arrived in Salem last week. He was taken from the cars to the house on a stretcher, and it is hoped that his recovery will be hastened now that he is at home.

FORTY MILLION SEVEN-THIRTIES SUBSCRIBED.—The subscriptions to this popular loan are now upwards of forty million dollars and they continue to come in at the rate of about a million a day. While nearly all the miscellaneous have been declining for several weeks, Government stocks have remained firm; and lenders have plenty of money to loan on Government paper, at as low rates as ever.

OPENING.—Miss Crane will have an "opening" at her Millinery Rooms, 168 Essex st, commencing to-morrow.

☞ Winchester is one vast hospital. There cannot be less than 5,000 wounded in the town. Every hotel, vacant store and house is overflowing.

☞ The London Times says the capture of Atlanta is the crowning success of the South-western army.

DRY GOODS.—The Boston Herald says:—The traders in dry goods have reduced the prices of their goods to correspond with the present price of gold, which is commendable in them, and shows that they are anxious to accommodate the public.

PROTESTANT EPISCOPAL SERVICE.—We understand that the services held in the Town Hall, on Sunday evenings, under the direction of the Rector of Grace Church, Salem, are uniformly well attended, the hall being filled on every favorable evening. On the last Sunday evening, in consequence of the severe storm, the service was omitted. It will take place, however, as will be seen by the notice, on the next and succeeding Sunday evenings, at 7 o'clock.

We observe that Prayer Books have been provided for the use of those who desire. The musical portions of the service are performed by some members of the congregations and choirs of the Episcopal Churches in Salem, and form an impressive feature in the beautiful worship of the Episcopal Church.

We are requested to say, that it will add greatly to the interest of these occasions, if each attendant will make use of the Prayer Books provided, either in the musical or responsive portions of the service.

OCTOBER ELECTIONS.—In the elections of October 11th, there are no governors to be chosen in Pennsylvania or Ohio, and the strength of the parties will best be seen in the election of Representatives to Congress. Two years ago Ohio was Democratic by more than five thousand, and then chose her present delegation to Congress, 14 out of the 19 being Democrats. Last year the Republican majority was 101,000, though Vallandigham had more votes than any Democrat ever received before. It is no doubt strongly the same now; no reasonable McClellan man claims that State. In the struggle for Representatives the Republicans must gain largely. In Pennsylvania, in 1862, the Democratic majority was some four thousand, and the Representatives were equally divided. Last year the Republican majority was 15,000, and we see no reason to suppose it will be less now. Some of the Republicans canvassing claim 40,000, while the Democrats hope for a majority.

THE NEWS FROM VIRGINIA is exciting and very favorable. Grant has put his whole line in motion. Meade has struck the enemy at Poplar Grove Church; Warren and Birney on the extreme right have carried some of the strongest rebel fortifications, and passed on to within five miles of the rebel capital; while Butler has repulsed the enemy at Bottom Creek. The reinforcements have been hurried down, making Grant's army very strong, while from appearances Lee is very weak.

COUNTY CONVENTION. The Republican County and Councillor Convention will be held this year at Amory Hall, Market Street, Lynn, on Wednesday, Oct. 12th, at 10 o'clock, A. M. The basis of representation will be one delegate for each town and city, and one additional delegate for each one hundred votes, or majority fraction, cast at the last election for the Republican candidate for Governor.

ENFORCING THE SUNDAY LAW.—The hair-dressers in this city, with one exception, closed their shops on Sunday last, and refused to do any more labor on that day. Mr. J. B. Hill, in Central Square, however, disregarding the hint of the City Marshal, kept his shop open, and as a consequence was called before Justice Newhall, of the Police Court, to answer a charge of violating the Sunday law. He was not prepared for defence, and his case was postponed till Tuesday next, when he will have a hearing in regard to the matter.—Lynn Reporter.

JOHN P. PEABODY, as will be seen by his advertisement, has made his marks, and marked his goods down so low as to almost compare with "peace time" prices. Ladies will make a note of this.

GEN. SHERMAN seems to that "a hungry soldier has for when he caught a lad in wagon one night, abstracting a large sugar cured ham, he kindly and without any sho
"Have you any meat?" " the soldier; "the regiment behind on rations, and the doesn't want to make any e Take the ham, then," said S he resumed his cigar, "and w need any more, come to me them."

THE POTATO CROP OF
have thus far escaped the which are incident to the September. The result is is to have the largest pota has had for many years. M were late planted or had c slowly, and a frost early i would have destroyed the grown condition. As it i valuable crop will be very most all crops have come with an average yield.—L nal.

Lyceum Lectu

The First Lecture of the Co auspices of the BOWDITCH delivered by JOHN B. GOUG
at GOTHIC HALL, DANVERS,
EVENING, Oct. 6. SUBJECT
Shadows of London Life.
Mr. Gough will be followe
Chapin, D. D., and Geo. W.
New York, and other disting
A Concert will be given by Mendelssohn Quintette Club
November. It is intended t
CLASS, rather than a LONG Cou
Tickets for the Course, $1.
ture, 25 Cents.
To be had at the Post Of Danversport and Danvers C ham, of L. Merrill & Son, an
Danvers.
GEORGE W. ANDREW
Danvers, Oct. 5th, 1864.

Religious No

Rev. S. B. SWEETSER, preach in the South Danvers M next Sabbath evening, Oct. 9
Subject:—THE HOUR.

Episcopal Serv

Divine Service, according t
Protestant Episcopal Church,
the Town Hall on the next (9th instant,) commencing at service will be held, also, on Sunday evening, at the same h
These services are in the ch
GEORGE D. WILDES, R
Church, Salem. As at pre they are wholly free; and all p are affectionately invited to at
If the weather should be evening appointed, the service
Oct. 5th, 1864.

Republican Ca

The Republicans of South
quested to meet at the TOV
MONDAY EVENING, Oct. 10, t to attend the County Convent
Lynn on the 12th inst.
Also to elect delegates to torial Convention.
Per order Rep. Town
FRANCIS BAK

☞ Goods received for L
DYE HOUSE.
Jan 20 tf

Port of Da

Ar 29th, schs Eliza Bate
Margaretville, NS; E L Ha ton, New York; 30th, Nellie phia; Jane Woodbury, Bang

Marriag

In this town, Oct. 2, by R
Mr. Daniel B. Brown to M both of South Danvers.
In Salem, Sept. 2d, by
Mr. Lawrence Dolan of Salem
Sullivan of South Danvers.
16th, by Rev Mr Hartney, ney of Lynn, to Miss Ann M
28th, by John Dixey, Es
Brown of South Danvers, to Welsh of Lynn.
29th, by Rev. Dr. Brigg
Becket of Salem, to Miss
South Danvers.
At Dubuque, Iowa, by Rev
Capt. Horace Poole, former Miss Frankie F., daughter o worthy, Esq., of Dubuque.
In Council Bluffs, Iowa, S
W. W. Allen, Mr. Nathan P of this town, to Miss Susan of C. B.

Death

[Deaths are recorded grat funeral notices are charged 2 poetry and notices are charg line.]

In this town, Sept. 28th, of Asa and Mary Jane Bl
months 8 days.
Oct. 3d, Mrs. Betsey, wife
69 years. Funeral at 3 o'clo
4th, Mr. Plumer Little,
Thursday afternoon at 2½ o'c
In Salem, Sept. 26th, Mr.
22 yrs—son of Capt William
Mr. Joseph Burnham, 63 ye
28th, Samuel Noah, son o
Hannah Jane Pulsifer, 6 yrs
Mack, of So. Danvers, 27 ye
Capt. Samuel Ropes, 47 yrs
Mr. Willard Towne, 56 yrs
29th, Mrs. Hannah, widow
Samuel Stacy, 86 yrs 10 mos widow of the late Mr. Jam yrs; Oct. 1st, Mrs. Ellen M., W. Coney, 32 years; Mrs.
John Rennie, of Manchester,
ry Edward, son of John Babcock, 3 years; 3d, Eliz
Charles and Ellen Sheridan,
C. S. Tarr, daughter of th and Susan S. Tarr, 14 yrs 6
In Rowley, Sept 23, Miss
19 years 9 months.

7-30 LOAN.

f the Treasury gives notice that sub- received for Coupon Treasury Notes s from Aug. 15th, 1864, with semi-an- e rate of seven and three-tenths per principal and interest both to be paid

l be convertible at the option of the , into six per cent. gold bearing bonds, han five nor more than twenty years s the Government may elect. They denominations of $50, $100, $500, , and all subscriptions must be for fi- e multiple of fifty dollars.

be transmitted to the owners free of rges as soon after the receipt of the tes of Deposit as they can be pre-aw interest from August 15, persons subsequent to that date must pay the rom date of note to date of deposit. ng twenty-five thousand dollars and e notes at any one time will be allowed one-quarter of one per cent., which he Treasury Department upon the re- the amount, certified to by the officer eposit was made. No deductions for t be made from the deposits.

VANTAGES OF THIS LOAN.

NAL SAVINGS BANK, offering a higher han any other, and THE BEST SECURI- s bank which pays its depositors in U. rs that it is paying in the best circulat- he country, and it CANNOT pay in any- its own assets are either in government otes or bonds payable in government nvenient as a temporary or permanent e notes can always be sold for within r face and accumulated interest, and rity with banks as collaterals for dis-

g a Six per cent. 5-20 Gold Bond, the very liberal interest on the notes , this privilege of conversion is now ee per cent. per annum, for the current Bonds is not less than NINE PER CENT. efore the war the premium on six per s was over twenty per cent. It will be ual profit on this loan, at the present ot less than ten per cent. per annum.

FROM STATE OR MUNICIPAL TAXATION.

all the advantages we have enumerat- of Congress EXEMPTS ALL BONDS AND s FROM LOCAL TAXATION. On the emption is worth about two per cent. rding to the rate of taxation in various ntry.

hat no securities offer so great induce- s as those issued by the Government.— s of indebtedness, the faith or ability es, or stock companies, or seperate com- is pledged for payment, while the whole country is held to secure the discharge tions of the United States.

ernment offers the most liberal terms believes that the very strongest appeal yalty and patriotism of the people.

tificates will be issued for all deposits.— siting must endorse upon the ORIGINAL denomination of notes required, and e to be issued in blank or payable to or- [illegible] eposit, to be forwarded to the Treasury

NS WILL BE RECEIVED by the Treasurer tates, at Washington, the several As- ers and designated Depositaries, and by nal Bank of Salem, Mass.

onal Bank of Boston, Mass.
tional Bank of Boston, Mass.
ional Bank of Boston, Mass.
ank of the Republic, Boston, Mass.
tional Bank, Boston, Mass.
nal Bank of Amesbury, Mass.
onal Bank of Haverhill, Mass.
onal Bank of Newburyport, Mass.
tional Banks which are depositaries of
and
ECTABLE BANKS AND BANKERS.

e country will give further information

ERY FACILITY TO SUBSCRIBERS.
1864.—3m

---

y-made Overcoats, $60, $55, $50, $40, $38, $35, $33, $32, $30, $28, $22, $20, $19, $18, $17, $16, $15, $12, $11, $10. One Price only at Co's, 14 & 15 Dock Square, Boston.

Boys' Clothing call at BENNETT & rice House, 14 and 15 Dock Square, ly-made Pants, $17, $16, $15, $14, $11, $10, $9, $8, $7.50, $7, $6.50, $5, $4.50, $4, $3.50, $3, $2.50, at & Co.'s One Price House, 14 and 15 re, Boston.

---

Gents' Furnishing Goods, Shirts ers, or a garment made to order, call TT & Co.'s One Price House, 14 and quare, Boston.

---

e Board of Government
OF THE
MEN'S UNION, OF SALEM,

sure in announcing to the Member he Public generally that they have angements for a Course of Lectures es of Concerts, to be given at ME- ALL, on alternate Monday Evenings, coming winter. of Lecturers will consist of some of distinguished names in the lecture e Concerts will be of a high order, and amateurs of Boston and Salem, be more particularly advertised in fu- rs.

to each course, $1.00. A few tickets d at the apothecary store of Thomas ser, No. 37 Main Street.
8th, 1864. 3w

Notice.

rs of the South Danvers Musical As- who have Books belonging to the on, are requested to leave them at R. inson's Store, in the Bank Building.
Per Order of the Directors.
Danvers, Sept. 27th, 1864. 2w*

INS IN GENT'S UNDER-SHIRTS, DRAW- ERY, &c.—Bought early in the season be sold at the Very Lowest Prices.
GEORGE S. WALKER,
228 Essex St., Salem.

J. F. Almy & Co.

HOSIERY, GLOVES, &C., &C.

WE have just received a full stock of
GENT'S WOOL SOCKS,
AND LADIES' AND MISSES' HOSIERY,
in best makes, at low prices.

Also—a fine stock of Ladeis' Silk, fleece lined and Cloth GLOVES, in all grades and sizes.

We have received this morning a line of
GENT'S SHIRT FRONTS,
in fine qualities.

We heve received this morning a fine stock of
BLANKETS,
comprising a variety of makes.

We have in stock a full line of American and Foreign CLOTHS, suitable for
WINTER CLOAKS,
which we are prepared to make to order, from measure, for Ladies or Children, in any style.

The prices throughout our whole stock are low in comparison to the present ruling rates.

JAMES F. ALMY & CO.,
188 Essex Street, opposite Central Street.
Salem, September 21st, 1864.

New Advertisements.

OPENING!

A FULL ASSORTMENT OF
FALL AND WINTER STYLE
BONNETS,
HATS,
DRESS CAPS and
HEAD-DRESSES.
OCTOBER 6TH,
AT
M. E. CRANE'S,
168 ESSEX STREET, -- SALEM.
October 5th, 1864.

Two Splendid Engravings.

"CHRIST Blessing Little Children," and "Home on a Furlough."
Subscriptions for these beautiful Engravings receiv ed at B. F. STEVENS' Jewelry Store, oct 5 116 Main St., South Danvers.

Pew to Let in South Church.

PEW No. 35, in South Church, will be let for a term of years. Apply to JOHN FROST, oct 5 No. 140 Boston Street, Salem.

Salem and Danvers Aqueduct Co'y.

ALL persons using the water of the Salem and South Danvers Aqueduct, are hereby notified that the water rents, for the six months ending Nov'r 1, 1864, are now due; and that they are required to pay the same, at the office of the Company, No. 2 Sewall Street, on the 1st day of October inst. Should the bills remain unpaid for thirty days, the water will be stopped, in conformity to the regulations of the Company.

Office hours from 9 to 1 o'clock, and from 2 to 5.
Per order of the Directors,
Salem, Oct 1, 1864. WM. JELLY, Collector.

NEW PLAIDS.

ANN R. BRAY,
76 Federal Street, Salem.

HAS just opened a variety of NEW PLAIDS for Ladies and Children, which will be sold low for Cash.

We have a large stock of DOMESTIC GOODS, which we shall sell out at Reduced Prices.

We invite our customers, and all those who are purchasing Goods for family use, to call, as we shall sell so as to make it an object for all who wish to save money. oct 5 ANN R. BRAY.

NEW BOOKS,

At G. M. WHIPPLE & A. A. SMITH'S.

[illegible] various sources, by Eliza Buckminster Lee;
Evan Dale; Emily Chester;
Essays on Social Subjects from Saturday Review;
Poems of the War, by George H. Boker;
Harper's Hand Book for Travellers in Europe and the East. 190 Essex street.

WAR MAPS.

ALL the late styles—at G. M. WHIPPLE & A. A. SMITH'S, 190 Essex Street, Salem.

SCHOOL BOOKS.

AT the lowest prices, and strongest bindings—for sale by G. M. WHIPPLE & A. A. SMITH.

SILVERED GLASS.

SILVERED Glass Ware, at
S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS',
oct 5 32 Front street.

CUT GLASS.

CUT Glass Dishes, Goblets, etc., at
S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS',
oct 5 32 Front street.

List of Letters

REMAINING unclaimed in the Post Office at South Danvers, Mass., Sept. 4th, 1864.

☞ To obtain any of these letters, the applicant must call for ADVERTISED LETTERS, give the date of this list, and pay one cent for advertising.

☞ If not called for within one month, they will be sent to the Dead Letter Office.

☞ Office Hours from 7 A. M. to 8 P. M.

C J Carlton	C T Murphy
E N Carleton	John McDougal
Eliza K Eldridge	David Prescott
Mary Ann Fitzpatrick	Rev C B Rice
Joseph Inman	Jerry Saunders
Mary Kimball	Lizzie Townsend
Michael Kelly	Nellie Weed

DANIEL WOODBURY, P. M.

AUTUMN GOODS.

SHAWLS,
—AND—
DRESS GOODS.

BLANKETS,
QUILTS,
AND
HOUSE-KEEPING GOODS.

CLOTHS,
DOESKINS,
OVER-COATINGS,
—AND—
CLOAK CLOTHS,

For sale by
THOMAS W. DOWNING & CO.,
Sept. 28. 179 Essex street, Salem.

AUTUMN AND WINTER DRY GOODS.

PRINTS, De Laines, Plaids, Poplins, Alpaccas, Coburgs, Thibets, and many other styles for Dresses;

SHAWLS AND HOUSEKEEPING GOODS.

Bleached and Unbleached Cottons, different widths. Cotton Flannels, Wool and Cotton and Wool Flannels, of every variety and color.

Union and all wool Cassimeres and Doeskins, for Mens' and Boys' wear.

Hosiary, Gloves, Yarns, Umbrellas, &c., &c., sold at the lowest prices for the Cash, at
238 Essex Street.
GEO. P. DANIELS.
Salem, Sept. 28, 1864.

NEW INKSTAND.

OLIVER'S Patent Inkstand claims the following advantages:—It is not complicated—No trouble to fill—Does not get out of order—It is very economical—It prevents evaporation—Does not require frequent filling—Can be easily operated—It is easily cleaned—Filters the Ink for use—Keeps the Ink free from exposure and fresh and limpid—it is both ornamental and durable. For sale by
Salem, Sept 23 G M WHIPPLE & A A SMITH.

LEAD IN CANS.

WHITE LEAD in Cans from 1 to 10 lbs. each, for sale at S C & E A SIMONDS'S, sep 28 32 Front st, Salem.

STORE TO LET.

THE Store now occupied by Messrs. Blake & Holman, on the corner of Washington and Main Sts. The best located and most convenient store in town for the Grocery business. Possession given immediately. Apply to
R. S. DANIELS.
South Danvers, Sept. 21.

A. J. Archer & Co

WOOLENS. WOOLENS.

OVER-COATINGS;
COAT AND PANT CLOTHS;
LOW PRICED WOOLENS;
FOR MEN'S AND BOYS' WEAR,
For sale by
AUGUSTUS J. ARCHER & CO.,
sept 21 181 Essex st.

BLANKETS. BLANKETS.

A FINE assortment of the Best Makes,
For sale by
AUGUSTUS J. ARCHER & CO.,
Sept. 21, 1864. 181 Essex st.

Ladies' Furnishing Goods.

THE DOWNFALL OF GOLD!

LOW PRICES AGAIN!

In consideration of the great fall in Gold, and the general Panic in the Market,

BROWNING & LONG,

have deemed it expedient to reduce the price of their

"German Zephyr Worsteds,"

5 TO 10

CENTS AN OUNCE

THROWN OFF from the established price this season, making our Worsteds LOWER than German Zephyrs are sold Elsewhere.

Our Worsteds having been so long used here it is unnecessary for us to enter into detail regarding their quality; suffice it to say, we have this season the finest Assortment and Largest Stock

Ever Displayed Here!

OUR MAGNIFICENT COLLECTION
—OF—
WORSTED WORK
SHOULD BE SEEN BY EVERY ONE!

The success of attending the sale of so many Patterns has encouraged us to Keep the Entire lot in Salem.

NO ONE SHOULD MISS SEEING IT.

NEW GOODS
NOW OPENING
IN EVERY DEPARTMENT,
Which have just been received at the LOW RATE OF GOLD!

BROWNING & LONG,

LADIES' FURNISHING STORE,
177 Essex Street, 177
SALEM.
Salem, Sept. 21, 1864.

AUTUMN STYLES.

WE are now prepared to show our customers a fine
—assortment of—

FALL MILLINERY GOODS.

REITH & CO'S,
No. 2 West Block, 188 Essex St.,
Sept 21 SALEM, MASS.

197 REMOVAL. 197

Gentlemen's Clothing,
YOUTH'S AND BOYS' CLOTHING,
—AND THE—
FURNISHING GOODS ESTABLISHMENT,
of the subscriber is removed to
197 Essex Street,
Store lately occupied by MR. JOHN MCKEY.

☞ A full and fresh assortment of GOODS is now opening and will be kept up as the season advances.
Salem, Sept 21. T. H. LEFAVOUR.

REAL ESTATE.

The subscriber offers for sale the following Lots of Land, with the buildings thereon, at Private Sale, until October next, when, if not previously sold, they will be put up at auction.

On Lowell street, a two story DWELLING HOUSE, fitted for two families. This is the Estate formerly known as the Southwick Tavern.

On Lowe street, leading from Foster St. to Washington St., a two story TENEMENT for two families with a garden attached to it.

On Washington street, near the residence of Capt. Lowe, a very eligible BUILDING LOT, on the North side of the street.

On Tremont street, a small COTTAGE HOUSE for one or two families.

On Walnut street, a pleasant, elevated Lot of Land, with a large Barn, situated opposite Mr. Caller's Currying Shop.

In the rear of the above TWO TENEMENT HOUSES.
For particulars apply to
jy 27 WILLIAM SUTTON.

WHITE LEAD.

FOREST River White Lead and New York White Lead, for sale in any quantity, at sep 21 S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS', 32 Front st.

George S. Walker.

For Fall and Winter Wear.

GEORGE S. WALKER would invite special attention to his complete stock of Gentlemen's Furnishing Goods.

Under Garments, Scarfs,
Hosiery, Ties,
Shirts, Collars, Gloves,
Wool Under Shirts, Umbrellas, &c.

Giving my exclusive attention to this department of trade, customers may be sure of finding at ALL times the LARGEST STOCK and the LOWEST PRICES in the city. SHIRTS and COLLARS made to order.

GEORGE S. WALKER,
No. 228 Essex St., opp. Eastern Railroad Station.
Salem, Sept. 14, 1864.

THE CHEAP STORE.

RECEIVED This Day a New and Desirable Stock of

DRESS GOODS,
Rich Colors and Splendid Styles, CONSISTING IN PART OF
PLAIN ALPACCAS, CASHMERES, FIGURED ALPACCAS, DeLAINES, BRIGHT PLAIDS,
FRENCH CHECKS,
For Children.

Also SHAWLS, BALMORAL SKIRTS, SHIRTING FLANNEL, WHITE FLANNEL, SALISBURY FLANNEL, &c., &c.

REMEMBER THE CHEAP STORE.
164 ESSEX STREET, SALEM,
(Opposite Museum Building.)
Sept 28 J. E. P. FEARING.

Potter, Bachelder & Co.,

DANVERS-PORT and SOUTH DANVERS,
DEALERS IN
WOOD AND COAL.
Constantly on hand

Franklin, Burnside, Dimond, } RED ASH.
Old Company & Packer's Lehigh, Pliny Fisk, Webster and Locust Mountain, } WHITE ASH.

Also Cumberland, Pictou and Campbell for Steam and Smith's use.

OFFICE—No. 6 Allen's Building.
G. W. POTTER,
J. Q. A. BACHELDER,
C. T. BATCHELDER. mch 30

G. W. HALEY, M. D.,

Physician and Surgeon.
OFFICE—WARREN BANK BUILDING,
South Danvers.

M. A. PORTER,

286 Essex Street, - - Salem, Mass.,
(Opposite Horse Railroad Office,)
MAKES TO ORDER BEST QUALITIES OF

WATCH SPRING SKIRTS.

A Good Assortment of Dress and Cloak Button, Braids, Spool Cotton, Small Wares, and Thread Store articles generally.

236 Essex Street, - - Salem, Mass.
M. A. PORTER.

AARON T. LOWE,

BOOTS, SHOES AND RUBBERS,
76 BOSTON STREET, 76
SALEM.
aug 6 tf

HOUSE OF EQUITY,

—BY—
Arnold & Hutchinson,
(Successors to C. T. Southwick.)
FIRST QUALITY
FAMILY GROCERIES,
Sold at the Lowest Prices.

A large and complete assortment of
CROCKERY AND GLASS WARE,
Constantly on hand.
Also FLOUR and GRAIN.
ASHLAND HALL BUILDING,
NO. 1 LOWELL STREET,
F. T. ARNOLD. B. F. HUTCHINSON.
South Danvers, Feb 3, 1864.

OATS. OATS.

5000 BUSHELS PRIME OATS, received this day, and for sale by
sept 7 GAYLE & CO., Phillips Wharf.

SELF SEALING AIR-TIGHT CASKET.

MR. CHARLES S. BUFFUM, Furnishing Undertaker of South Danvers, takes this method to announce that he has a new burial case, which combines all the advantages of a wooden receptacle with those of a metal one, and yet avoids the disadvantages of both. They have been used with great success, and bodies placed in them have been delivered in perfect preservation after having been transported over a thousand miles. To persons having deceased friends at the seat of war they are invaluable. They come at reasonable prices, are light and durable, and are perfectly air-tight. august 10

EBEN UPTON,

Piano Fortes Tuned and Regulated.
MELODEONS AND PIANOS
BOUGHT, AND EXCHANGED
For New Piano Fortes, at Wholesale Prices.
Orders left at G. CREAMER'S Bookstore, Salem.
July 27, 1864.—6m

Vitrified Stone Drain Pipe.

JUST received and for sale by the subscribers, 5000 feet of the above Pipe, the usual sizes suitable for drainage; the best in the market.
Apply to
B. R. WHITE, Mason,
St Peter Court,
or F. P. GOSS, Plumber,
No. 7 St. Peter st.
Salem, Aug. 3, 1864.—3m

DERBY & CHILDS,

Fire, Marine and Life Insurance Agents.

ORDERS left at No. 24 Washington st., Salem, or received by mail, promptly attended to.

Losses equitably adjusted and promptly paid, and Insurance effected at reasonable rates.
Salem, August 10.—3m

WANTED TO HIRE,

FOR a year or term of years, a COTTAGE HOUSE and Garden, pleasantly located in Danversport, or Danvers Center. Rent of no consequence, provided all else prove satisfactory.
Address T. H. S. at this office, stating terms, etc.
South Danvers, Sept 28. tf

Ladies' Furnishing Goods.

German Zephyr Worsteds.

We have a large Stock of the finest quality and best Shades of German Zephyr Worsteds, at Less Price than any other store in Essex County.
JOHN P. PEABODY.

We warrant our Worsteds to be from 5 to 10 cents per ounce less than they can be bought in this city.

We have a full stock of Knit Shawls—Capes—Sontags, &c, &c.
JOHN P. PEABODY.

Last Year's Price.

We have a few of the finest and best Clouds—kept from last year's stock, which we will sell at $1.25. We have all the different colors and styles.
JOHN P. PEABODY.

Buttons and Trimmings.

Our stock of Dress and Cloak Buttons is full of all the desirable styles.

In Trimmings we have Quill'd Ribbons—Velvets—Bugle Gimps—Braids—Cords, &c—all at our usual Low Prices.
JOHN P. PEABODY.

Our Stock.

[illegible] nishing Goods in this city, and always sell at the lowest prices. We invite customers to examine our stock and compare our prices with those of other dealers and judge for themselves.
JOHN P. PEABODY.

White Goods.

Muslins — Cambrics — Linens — Dimities — Linen Lawns and Cambrics — Nainsooks — Swiss Mulls, &c., &c.

We own these goods at very low prices, and are selling them at a very large discount from current rates.
JOHN P. PEABODY.

Our Whole Stock

Is looked over every week, and such prices put upon all articles that do not sell readily, as will cause rapid sales. By so doing, we can always show a fresh assortment, and customers get the benefit of any decline in prices.
JOHN P. PEABODY.

White Goods of all kinds at Peabody's.
Trimmings of all kinds at Peabody's.
Buttons of all kinds at Peabody's.
Hosiery of all kinds at Peabody's.
Gloves of all kinds at Peabody's.
Toilet Articles of all kinds at Peabody's.
Jet, Steel and Leather Goods, in variety, at Peabody's.

THE LARGEST STOCK.
THE LOWEST PRICES.
THE CHOICEST GOODS.
THE QUICKEST SALES.

ONE PRICE ONLY,
—AT—
290 ESSEX ST., SALEM.
JOHN P. PEABODY.

Auction Sales.

WILLIAM ARCHER, Jr.,

Auctioneer, Real Estate and Stock Broker,
34 Front Street:

Real Estate, Bank, Railroad & Manufacturing Stock bought and sold on Commission.

ON SATURDAY NEXT, at 9½ o'clock will be sold at No. 34 Front street;

A QUANTITY of New and Second Hand Furniture, Lounges; Tables; Chairs; Carpets; Stoves; Chamber Sets, &c; 24 Framed Oil Paintings and Engravings.

BOOTS—Men's, Boys', and Misses' Boots and Shoes.

CLOTHING—A quantity of Clothing, Undershirts, &c., &c.

—At private sale, at Auction prices—Chemical and Family Soap; Coffee; Saleratus; Cream of Tartar; Ground Pepper, &c.

R. C. MANNING & CO.

Successors to JOHN DIKE & CO.,
DEALERS IN
COAL, WOOD, BARK, HAY, &c,
183 DERBY STREET,
SALEM, MASS.
N. C. ROBBINS, R. C. MANNING.
oct17

GEO. E. MEACOM,

Dealer in
DRUGS & MEDICINES,
Fancy & Toilet Articles, &c.,
126 MAIN ST. 126
Nearly opposite Danvers Bank, So. Danvers.

T. A. SWEETSER,

Druggist & Apothecary,
37 Main St., So. Danvers,
DEALER IN
Drugs, Medicines, Chemicals, Foreign Leeches, Shakers' Herbs, Dye Stuffs, Gums, Acids, Sponges, Shoulder Braces, Trusses, and Genuine Patent Medicines.

Also, Imported Cigars of choice brands, Perfumery, Toilet Articles and Stationery.

Physicians' Prescriptions carefully prepared by experienced persons.
37 MAIN STREET.

D. P. GROSVENOR, Jr.,

Druggist and Apothecary,
33 MAIN STREET.

Dealer in Drugs, Medicines, Chemicals, Dye Stuffs, and Popular Proprietary Medicines.

Personal attention to Physicians' Prescriptions.
South Danvers, May 29, 1861. 1y

DR. J. H. BATCHELDER,

DENTAL SURGEON.
[illegible] Railroad Depot)
SALEM, MASS.

Is Licensed to make the New Patent Teeth on HARD RUBBER or VULCANITE.
July 1, 1864.

STURGIS'

ELECTRIC COMPOUND,

An Effectual External Remedy for

NEURALGIA
—AND—
RHEUMATISM.

ALSO, INVALUABLE FOR
Spinal Irritation, Ague in the Face,
Toothache, Pain in the Side, Back,
and Limbs, Ear, Ague, &c.

Among the Advantages of this Medicine are the following:

ITS effect is very rapid—in most cases instantaneous.

It is external in its application, and the patient runs no risk in using it. It does not strike to the stomach.

It reaches the nerves and muscles, as it is believed no other medicine does.

It has cured some of the most violent and obstinate cases of Neuralgia ever known.

It can be used on a child or an aged person alike.

While it is very powerful, it is perfectly harmless.

The proprietor has been allowed to publish the names of many persons who have used the COMPOUND with the most beneficial results. He inserts a few of them. They are among the most respectable citizens of Boston and other places, and their residences and places of business are given.

Rev. N. Munroe, late of Boston Recorder.
Joseph H. Allen, 119 Washington St., house 55 Rutland Street.
N. P. Kempt, Tract Society, 40 Cornhill.
Addison Boyden, 408 Washington Street, Boston, firm of Haley, Morse & Boyden.
William H. Brewster, Publisher of Boston Traveller.

The following letter from one of our best citizens will speak for itself:

REV. JOSEPH E. BARRY, the children's missionary of Boston, was the recipient a few weeks since of a bottle of STURGIS'S ELECTRIC COMPOUND, for Neuralgia, Rheumatism, &c., and having experienced great benefit from its use, and having known of many severe cases of the above complaints where it produced cures, considers it his duty to make known to his friends and others being so unfortunate as to be troubled with these terrible complaints, the virtue of this preparation.
Boston, Sept. 15, 1863. JOSEPH E. BARRY.

REMARKABLE CURE OF NEURALGIA.—The following letter, (unsolicited,) was received by the proprietor in May last:

CAMP ROGERS, Newbern, May 6, 1863.

Dear Sir. I have been for some weeks suffering under a severe attack of Neuralgia, the severity of which has caused me to be in "perfect agony" both night and day. Having heard of STURGIS'S ELECTRIC COMPOUND from a "companion in arms," I was induced to give it a trial, which had the happy effect to immediately cure me. I am surprised that surgeons do not have it in the army, as there is a constant demand for such an invaluable relief. I make this statement for the public good, and I have no scruples about your using this as a recommendation to other victims of this painful disorder.

Yours, respectfully. JOSEPH HOUGHTON,
Co. D. 43d Reg't Mass. Vols.

For Sale by all Druggists.
☞ Office No. 119 Washington St., Boston.
Sept. 28—6mo.

TO LET.

A good FARM of about 30 acres, situated about a mile from So. Danvers Square, on the Old Boston Road, with 12 Cows, and all other necessary and convenient live stock, farming implements, milk route, etc. Here is a rare chance for an experienced farmer. The best of references required.

Further particulars can be learned on application to
SIDNEY C. BANCROFT.
South Danvers, Sept 28. 3tis

Special Notices.

BROCKSIEPER GAS REGULATOR!

30 PER CENT. SAVED.

Economy in the use of Gas, with the advantage of having a more brilliant light than heretofore, is a point at once desirable. Inventors have for many years sought to obtain this end by packing or checking in innumerable ways the flow of gas through the burner. Not one of these have attained the result wished for, viz:—a pure transparent flame without waste at any and all pressures obtained at any hour and in all localities. Those of our citizens who have taken the pains to examine Brocksieper's Patent Regulator, and have seen the gas ACTUALLY MEASURED THROUGH IT, are unanimous in its praise. We give below the names of a few of the merchants and others of Salem now using the Regulator:

Salem Register Office;
Salem Gazette Office;
Salem Statesman Office;
Salem Post Office;
Merchants Reading Room;
George Creamer, Bookseller;
Browning & Long, Dry Goods;
S. F. Rogers, Confectioner;
J. P. Peabody, Dry Goods;
Theron Palmer, Shoe Dealer;
Adams, Richardson & Co., Hardware;
Doctor Johnson;
Essex House;
Wm. Webb, Jr., Druggist;
Edward Brown, Sup't and Treas. Gas Co.

☞ Orders left at B. F. STEVENS' Jewelry Store, will be promptly attended to. The burner can also be examined there.

SEND FOR A CIRCULAR.

25,000 of these Regulators have been manufactured and sold in the Eastern States since February last—150 are now in use in Salem. PRICE $1 EACH—6 AND OVER, 90 cents each. The article is warranted in every respect. Call and examine for yourselves. Our facilities for testing the genuineness of this improvement will at once convince the most skeptical.

JOSEPH CLOUTMAN,

OFFICE—Bowker Block, Essex st., up-stairs.

NOTICE.—We have this day appointed Mr. JOSEPH CLOUTMAN, of Salem, our sole agent for the sale of Brocksieper's Gas Regulator for the following places: Salem, South Danvers, Beverly, Marblehead and Gloucester, Mass. All orders for the article, at wholesale or retail, to receive attention, must come through him, and he will establish sub-agencies in the above-named places.

HELL & GOODELL,
Sole Proprietors in the U. S.,
446 Broadway, N. Y., and 221 Washington st., Boston.
august 10—tf

EDITOR OF WIZARD.—Dear Sir,—With your permission I wish to say to the readers of your paper that I will send, by return mail, to all who wish it (free), a Recipe, with full directions for making and using a simple Vegetable Balm, that will effectually remove, in ten days, Pimples, Blotches, Tan, Freckles, and all Impurities of the Skin, leaving the same soft, clear, smooth and beautiful.

I will also mail free to those having Bald Heads, or Bare Faces, simple directions and information that will enable them to start a full growth of Luxuriant Hair, Whiskers, or Moustache, in less than thirty days.

All applications answered by return mail without charge. Respectfully yours,

THOS. F. CHAPMAN, Chemist,
jy 13—3m 831 Broadway, New York.

BELL'S SPECIFIC PILLS.—WARRANTED IN ALL CASES.—Can be relied on! Never fail to cure! Do not nauseate! Are speedy in action! No change of diet required! Do not interfere with business pursuits! Can be used without detection! Upward of 200 cures the past month—some of them very severe cases. Over one hundred physicians have used them in their practice, and all speak well of their efficacy, and approve of their composition, which is entirely vegetable, and harmless on the system. Hundreds of certificates can be shown.

BELL'S SPECIFIC PILLS are the original and only genuine Specific Pill. They are adapted for male and female, old or young, and the only reliable remedy for effecting a permanent and speedy cure in all cases of Spermatorrhea, or Seminal Weakness, with all its train of evils, such as Urethral and Vaginal Discharges, Gleet, the Whites, Nightly or Involuntary Emissions, Incontinence, Genital Debility and Irritability, Impotence, Weakness or Loss of Power, Nervous Debility, &c., &c., all of which arise principally from Sexual Excesses or Self-Abuse, or some constitutional derangement, and incapacitates the sufferer from fulfilling the duties of married life. In all sexual diseases, as Gonorrhea, Gleet, and Strictures, and in Diseases of the Bladder and Kidneys, they act as a charm! Relief is experienced by taking a single box. Sold by all the principal druggists. Price $1.

They will be sent by mail, securely sealed, and confidentially, on receipt of the money, by

No. 76 Cedar Street, New York,

Consulting Physician for the treatment of Seminal, Urinary, Sexual, and Nervous Diseases, who will send, free to all, the following valuable work, in sealed envelope:

THE FIFTIETH THOUSAND.—DR. BELL'S TREATISE on Self-Abuse, Premature Decay, Impotence and Loss of Power, Sexual Diseases, Seminal Weakness, Nightly Emissions, Genital Debility, &c., &c., a pamphlet of 64 pages, containing important advice to the afflicted, and which should be read by every sufferer, as the means of cure in the severest stages is plainly set forth. Two stamps required to pay postage. December 9, 1863—1yr.

IMPORTANT TO LADIES.—DR. HARVEY'S FEMALE PILLS have never yet failed in removing difficulties arising from obstruction, or stoppage of nature, or in restoring the system to perfect health when suffering from Spinal Affections, Prolapsus, Uteri, the Whites, or other weakness of the Uterine Organs. The Pills are perfectly harmless on the constitution, and may be taken by the most delicate female without causing distress—the same time they act like a charm by strengthening, invigorating and restoring the system to a healthy condition, and by bringing on the monthly period with regularity, no matter from what causes the obstruction may arise. They should, however, NOT be taken during the first three or four months of pregnancy, though safe at any other time, as miscarriage would be the result.

Each box contains 60 Pills. Price $1.

DR. HARVEY'S TREATISE on Diseases of Females, Pregnancy, Miscarriage, Barrenness, Sterility, Reproduction, and Abuses of Nature, and emphatically the Ladies' Private Medical Adviser, a pamphlet of 64 pages, sent free to any address. Six cents required to pay postage.

The Pills and book will be sent by mail when desired, securely sealed, and prepaid, by

J. BRYAN, M. D., General Agent,
No. 76 Cedar street, New York.

☞ Sold by all the principal druggists.
December 9, 1863—1yr.

HOUSEKEEPERS, ATTENTION!

JACKSON'S

KITCHEN FURNISHING ROOMS,

Under MECHANIC HALL, Salem.

Parties about commencing House-Keeping, will find this the ONLY place in Salem where a COMPLETE ASSORTMENT of House-Keeping articles can be found.
dec 9, 1863.

SPECTACLES!

H. F. SKERRY wishes to call special attention to his stock of

Spectacles and Eye Glasses,

in Gold—Silver—Rubber—Steel and Horn frames, of which he keeps constantly on hand a very large assortment, embracing every style and quality.

—ALSO—

Opera Glasses, Microscopes, &c.

Glasses re-set, and Spectacles repaired.

In Store, our usual assortment of Silver and Plated Ware, Jewelry, Fancy Goods, and Toys. Also, Canton Ware.

No. 180 Essex Street, Salem.

H. F. SKERRY.

Aug. 17.—tf

Indispensable to Every Soldier and Seaman.

BROOK'S PATENT WRITING AND TOILET CASE.

EASILY carried in the coat pocket. Supplied by the manufacturers at the old price—$2.

D. B. BROOKS & BROTHER,
201 Essex Street, Salem, Mass.

Those who have friends in the Army of the Potomac can have them sent to them free of postage. sept 7

T. HARDY, JR.,

—Dealer in—

DOORS, SASHES, BLINDS,

Glazed Sash, Painted Blinds,

FENCE PALES, STAIR BALUSTERS, FRAMING PINS, &c.,

No. 26 FRONT STREET,

Salem, January 14, 1863—tf

Cards.

N. J. HOLDEN,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
Office, 27 Washington Street, Salem, Mass.

M. B. MANSFIELD,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
214 ESSEX STREET, SALEM, MASS.

 Particular attention paid to procuring Pensions, Bounties, Back Pay, Prize Money, and Army and Navy Claims of all descriptions. March 2.

H. L. HADLEY,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
CORNER MAPLE AND ELM ST.,
Danvers.

Claims against the Government for Bounty, Back Pay, and Pensions, promptly attended to.

THOMAS M. STIMPSON,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
194 ESSEX STREET, SALEM.
Residence Lowell street, South Danvers.

B. C. PERKINS,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
South Danvers—Office in Allen's Building.

ALFRED A. ABBOTT,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
Office, No. 24 Washington Street, Salem.
House, Main St., So. Danvers.

SIDNEY C. BANCROFT,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
27 Washington Street, Salem.

H. O. WILEY,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
Office, Allen's Building, South Danvers.

Claims against the Government for Bounty, Back Pay, and Pensions, promptly attended to.

A. S. CRAWFORD
Dentist,
No. 4 MAIN STREET, SO. DANVERS SQUARE
Mechanical Dentistry Neatly Executed.

W. L. BOWDOIN,
SURGEON DENTIST,
No. 208 Essex Street, Salem, (Opposite the Market
Residence—No. 57 Washington street.
jan 11—1y

NEWMAN & SYMONDS,
DEALERS IN
Family Groceries, Flour & Grain,
HARD WARE AND CROCKERY,
Ready Made Clothing, Gents' Furnishing Goods, Hats, Caps, Boots, Shoes, &c.,
South Danvers Square, opp. Congregational Church
SAM'L NEWMAN. NATH'L SYMONDS.

S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS,
DEALERS IN
Crockery, China and Hardware; Paper Hangings; Solar and Entry Lamps; Paints, Oil and Window Glass.
No. 32 Front street, Lawrence Place,
feb13 SALEM, MASS.

HENRY L. WHIDDEN,
HOUSE AND SIGN PAINTER,
Glazier and Paperer,
Central Street, South Danvers.
All orders promptly and faithfully executed.
jan2-1y

JESSE SMITH
No. 262 Essex Street, Salem,
Importer and Dealer in
Gold and Silver Watches,
MARINE CHRONOMETERS,
Aueroid Barometers, Spy Glasses, &c.

WILLIAM BLANEY,
HOUSE & SIGN PAINTER
Grainer, Glazier and Paper Hanger.
164 MAIN STREET, Corner of Grove.
WINDOWS and BLINDS cheap for cash.
mch6-tf

F. POOLE
INSURANCE AGENT,
Allen's Building (up stairs),
Deeds drawn, and other common forms.

Advertisements.

LIFE INSURANCE.

THE MUTUAL

LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY,

Of New York, with a Capital of $11,000,000,

And an Annual Income of over

$2,000,000,

AND declaring a LARGER DIVIDEND than any other Company in the United States, is the one in which every man should secure a policy on his life.

The importance of LIFE INSURANCE cannot be too highly estimated. It is the safest and most practicable method of securing to your family, in case of your death, the means of a comfortable and independent support. Thousands of instances might be cited where families have thus been provided with a competency, who would otherwise have been left in penury and want. Husbands and fathers! treat not with indifference a subject of such vital importance, but see to it at once, that your families are provided with the inestimable advantages which this great and benevolent institution affords.

Because a man has wealth, it is no reason why he should not insure, for he knows not how soon his riches may "take to themselves wings and fly away." And let those who complain of the want of means, remember that

Forty-Five Cents a Week,

Will insure $1,000 on the life of a man of THIRTY.

AN ENDOWMENT POLICY,

Secures to the assured party, on attaining to a certain age, say 50, 55 or 60 years, an amount sufficient for his support in advanced age.

Another feature of this subject, deserving of especial attention, is

SURVIVORSHIP ANNUITIES!

By means of which one party may secure to another an annuity sufficient to maintain them in comfort and independence through life. A husband may thus make provision for his wife; a father for his child; or a brother for his sister.

Endowment Policies for Children.

By this means a parent may provide, by the payment of a small annual premium, a sum of money sufficient to enable a son to enter into business, at a proper age, or for any other provision, either for a son or daughter.

Many Gentlemen of So. Danvers and Vicinity!

Have already availed themselves of this opportunity now offered of ensuring their lives, and thus securing an inestimable blessing to themselves and their families. Let others be equally wise, and immediately follow their example.

JOHN H. DERBY,
Agent for South Danvers and Vicinity.
Post Office address, Salem, Mass.
September 14, 1864.—tf.

GAYLE & CO.,
COMMISSION MERCHANTS,
AND DEALERS IN
Flour, Grain and Produce,
PHILLIPS WHARF, Salem.

THE TRAVELERS INS. CO.,

OF HARTFORD, CONN.

Capital - - - - - - $250,000.

Is now prepared to insure persons against

ACCIDENTS

OF EVERY DESCRIPTION.

Yearly policies will be issued for a premium of

FIVE DOLLARS,

granting insurance to the amount of

FIVE THOUSAND DOLLARS,

against accidental loss of life while travelling by any public conveyance.

TEN DOLLARS PREMIUM

secures a policy for Five Thousand Dollars, and also twenty-five dollars per week compensation for personal injury incapacitating the assured from his ordinary business.

TWENTY-FIVE DOLLARS PREMIUM

secures a full policy for $5000 and $25 per week compensation for all and EVERY DESCRIPTION OF ACCIDENT, TRAVELLING OR OTHERWISE.

Policies for $5000 with $3 per week compensation, can be had for $3 per annum; or any other sum between $500 and $5000 at proportionate rates.

DIRECTORS:

Gustavus F. Davis,	W. H. D. Callender,
James L. Howard,	George W. Moore,
Marshal Jewell,	Ebenezer Roberts,
Thomas Belknap, Jr.,	Charles White,
Cornelius B. Irwin,	Hugh Harrison,
George S. Gilman,	Jonathan B. Bunce.

JAMES G. PATTERSON, President.
RODNEY DENNIS, Secretary.
HENRY A. DYER, General Agent.

PLUMBER & MERCER, AGENTS,
40 State Street, Boston.

Offices in Salem—JOHN H. DERBY, No. 24 Washington street; SAMUEL MACKINTIRE, No. 218 Essex street.
Aug. 3, 1864—1yr*

JUST ARRIVED,

AT DANVERS MILLS,

500 Bushels Corn, in the minnie cob, and will be sold in South Danvers. Constantly on hand a large stock of meal, which will be sold at the lowest Salem prices.

—ALSO ON HAND—

500 Bushels Feed;
200 Bushels prime Northern Oats;
100 Barrels choicest Family Flour.
A good stock of LIME constantly on hand.

JOHN G. MOULTON,
Central St., South Danvers, Mass.
May 25—tf.

HEYLINGBERG'S

Hair Dressing Saloon,

24 MAIN ST., SOUTH DANVERS.

J. J. HEYLINGBERG would announce to his patrons and the public generally, that on and after JUNE 1st, 1864, he will abide by the following

TARIFF OF PRICES:

Shaving,	10 cts,
Hair Cutting,	15 cts,
Champooing,	15 cts.

Particular attention paid to dying hair and whiskers, in one preparation, without washing or scrubbing.

South Danvers, May 11, 1864.

VALUABLE REAL ESTATE.

THE Subscriber offers for sale the following Lots of Land, with the Buildings thereon, at private sale, until September next, when such as then remain unsold, will be offered at Public Auction:

A new and well built two-story DWELLING HOUSE, situated on English Street.—This house is well supplied with the modern conveniences, is pleasantly situated on rising ground, and is a very desirable residence.

The MOROCCO FACTORY near the Southwick Tannery. The building is about 150 feet long by 40 wide, is well supplied with pure water and is an excellent place for the Morocco business or Currying.

Near the Morocco Factory are two TWO-STORY BUILDINGS, which may be sold they are about 80 feet long by 20 wide.

On Walnut Street is the large BOARDING HOUSE, with the land adjoining, which is excellently well situated for what it is designed.

Several front LOTS for building purposes on Walnut Street, will be sold at moderate prices and fair terms.

A STORE HOUSE 70 by 25 feet on Walnut Street, with the land under and the rear of it. It can be easily adapted for a Curriers' Shop, or for other kinds of business.

On Wallis Street, near the mill pond, a well built and painted MOROCCO FACTORY, all ready for occupancy. It is about 80 feet long by 25 wide, and in excellent repair.

Next to the Morocco Factory on the same street, a STORE BUILDING, strongly built, and framed for a DWELLING HOUSE, for which it could be easily adapted. Or it would make an excellent Shop for any kind of business.

Near ~~ELM STREET~~, on a Court south of said street, are two DWELLING HOUSES, planned for two families each. One is two stories high, the other one and a half. Both houses have good tenants and yield a good income; offering a good chance for investment.

Between Harris and English Streets, one One Story DWELLING House, and a One Story and a Half House.

The above is a most excellent opportunity for enterprising young men to secure places for business and dwelling houses, on reasonable terms. Such a chance may not soon again occur.

Persons desiring to purchase any of the above lots may learn the prices and terms on application to ANDREW S. PORTER, Elm Street.

SAMUEL D. PENDAR.

South Danvers, May 11, 1864. tf

SKINNERS PULMONALES S

Skinner's Pulmonales

Immediately Relieve Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, loss of Voice, Bronchitis, Lassitude, Thirst and every symptom of the first stages of Pulmonary Consumption; they are white, in form of a wafer, and as suitable for the infant in the cradle as the patient of three score years and ten. Orators and all who overtax the vocal organs receive instant relief by their use. Sold by all Druggists. Prepared by E. M. SKINNER, Chemist, 27 Tremont St., Boston. sept 7—1y

---

SPALDING'S ROSE MARY

FOR FOURTEEN YEARS the Rosemary has held a high rank as pure, uniform and reliable. It is Warranted. 1st, To beautify the hair. 2d, To curl the hair elegantly. 3d, To remove dandruff effectually. 4th, To restore hair to bald heads. 5th, To force the beard and whiskers to grow. 6th, To prevent the hair from falling off. 7th, To cure all diseases of the scalp. 8th, To prevent the hair turning grey. 9th, To cure headache. 10th, To kill hair eaters. Sold everywhere. Prepared by EDW. M. SKINNER, Chemist, 27 Tremont St., opposite the Museum, Boston, Mass. sept 7—1y

---

FURNITURE.

HAVING taken the Store No. 10 FRONT STREET, (formerly occupied by BENJAMIN COLMAN,) I shall keep constantly on hand a large stock of

NEW AND SECOND-HAND FURNITURE,

BEDDING, COUNTING-ROOM DESKS, &c., &c.,

which I will sell cheap for CASH.

ALL KINDS OF FURNITURE NEATLY REPAIRED.

☞ All kinds of FURNITURE and BEDDING wanted—for which the highest Cash price will be paid.

P. J. HYNES, 10 FRONT-ST.

Salem, April 6, 1864—1y

MORRIS'

RESTAURANT,

18 and 20 Derby Square, Salem.

Oysters, Clams, Steak, Poultry, Game, Fish, &c., &c., COOKED TO ORDER.
Pickled Oysters, Lobsters and Clams.
Salem, July 22, 1863. tf

HOSTETTER'S

CELEBRATED

STOMACH BITTERS.

A pure and powerful Tonic, corrective and alterative of wonderful efficacy in disease of the

Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

Cures Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Headache, Debility, Nervousness, Depression of Spirits, Constipation, Colic, Intermittent Fevers, Cramps and Spasms, and all Complaints of either Sex, arising from Bodily Weakness whether inherent in the system or produced by special causes.

Nothing that is not wholesome, genial and restorative in its nature enters into the composition of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. This popular preparation contains no mineral of any kind, no deadly botanical element; no fiery excitant; but it is a combination of the extracts of rare balsamic herbs and plants with the purest and mildest of all diffusive stimulants.

It is well to be forearmed against disease, and, so far as the human system can be protected by human means against maladies engendered by an unwholesome atmosphere, impure water and other external causes, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS may be relied on as a safeguard.

In districts infested with Fever and Ague, it has been found infallible as a preventive and irresistible as a remedy and thousands who resort to it under apprehension of an attack, escape the scourge; and thousands who neglect to avail themselves of its protective qualities in advance, are cured by a very brief course of this marvelous medicine. Fever and Ague patients, after being plied with quinine for months in vain, until fairly saturated with that dangerous alkaloid, are not unfrequently restored to health within a few days by the use of HOSTETTER'S BITTERS.

The weak stomach is rapidly invigorated and the appetite restored by this agreeable Tonic, and hence it works wonders in cases of DYSPEPSIA and in less confirmed forms of INDIGESTION. Acting as a gentle and painless appeient, as well as upon the liver, it also invariably relieves the CONSTIPATION superinduced by irregular action of the digestive and secretive organs.

Persons of feeble habit, liable to Nervous Attacks, Lowness of Spirits and Fits of Languor, find prompt and permanent relief from the Bitters. The testimony on this point is most conclusive, and from both sexes.

The agony of BILIOUS COLIC is immediately assuaged by a single dose of the stimulant, and by occasionally resorting to it, the return of the complaint may be prevented.

As a General Tonic, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS produce effects which must be experienced or witnessed before they can be fully appreciated. In cases of Constitutional Weakness, Premature Decay and Debility it exercises the electric influence. In the convalescent stages of all diseases it operates as a delightful invigorant. When the powers of nature are relaxed, it operates to re-enforce and re-establish them.

Last, but not least, it is The Only Safe Stimulant, being manufactured from sound and innocuous materials, and entirely free from the acid elements present more or less in all the ordinary tonics and stomachics of the day.

No family medicine has been so universally, and, it may be truly added, deservedly popular with the intelligent portion of the community, as HOSTETTER'S BITTERS.

Prepared by HOSTETTER & SMITH, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Sold by all Druggists, Grocers and Storekeepers everywhere.

HELMBOLD'S

GENUINE PREPARATIONS.

COMPOUND FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU, a Positive and Specific Remedy for diseases of the Bladder, Kidneys, Gravel, and Dropsical Swellings.

This Medicine increases the power of Digestion, and excite the Absorbents into healthy action, by which the Wtaery or Calcareous depositions, and all Unnatural Enlargements are reduced, as well as Pain and Inflammation.

—o—

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU.

For Weaknesses arising from Excesses, Habits of Dissipation, Early Indiscretion of Abuse, attended with the following symptoms:—

Indisposition to Exertion,	Loss of Power,
Loss of Memory,	Difficulty of Breathing,
Weak Nerves,	Trembling,
Horror of Disease,	Wakefulness,
Dimness of Vision,	Pain in the Back,
Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System,
Hot Hands,	Flushing of the Body,
Dryness of the Skin,	Eruptions on the Face,

Pallid Countenance.

These symptoms, if allowed to go on, which this medicine invariably removes, soon follows

Impotency, Fatuity, Epileptic Fits,

In one of which the patient may expire.

Who can say that they are not frequently followed by those "Direful Diseases,"

"INSANITY AND CONSUMPTION."

Many are aware of the cause of their suffering, BUT NONE WILL CONFESS THE RECORDS OF THE INSANE ASYLUMS.

And Melancholy Deaths by Consumption bear ample witness to the Truth of the assertion.

The Constitution once effected with Organic Weakness requires the aid of Medicine to Strengthen and Invigorate the system,

Which HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU invariably does. A Trial will convince the most skeptical.

—o—

FEMALES—FEMALES—FEMALES.

In many Affections peculiar to Females the EXTRACT BUCHU is unequalled by any other remedy, as in Chlorosis or Retention, Irregularity, Painfulness, or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated Scirrhous state of the Uterus, Leuchorrhœa or Whites, Sterility, and for all complaints incident to the sex, whether arising from indiscretion or Habits of Dissipation, or in the

DECLINE OR CHANGE OF LIFE.

—o—

Take no more Balsam, Mercury, or unpleasant Medicines for unpleasant and dangerous diseases.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU AND IMPROVED ROSE WASH CURES

SECRET DISEASES

In all their Stages, At little Expense.
Little or no change in Diet. No inconvenience.
And no Exposure.

It causes a frequent desire and gives strength to Urinate, thereby Removing Obsructions, Preventing and Curing Strictures of the Urethra, allaying Pain and Inflammation, so frequent in this class of diseases, and expelling all Poisonous, Diseased and wornout Matter.

Thousands upon Thousands who have been the Victims of Quacks, and who have paid heavy fees to be cured in a short time, have found they were deceived, and that the "POISON" has, by the use of "Powerful Astringents," been dried up in the system, to break out in an aggravated form, and perhaps after Marriage.

—o—

Use HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU for all affections and diseases of the URINARY ORGANS, whether existing in MALE or FEMALE, from whatever cause originating and no matter of HOW LONG STANDING.

Diseases of these Organs require the aid of a DIURETIC. HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU IS THE GREAT DIURETIC, and is certain to have the desired effect in all Diseases for which it is Recommended.

Evidence of the most reliable and responsible character will accompany the medicine.

Price $1.00 per bottle, or six for $5.00. Delivered to any Address, securely packed from observation.

Describe Symptoms in all Communications.

Cures Guaranteed! Advice Gratis!!

Address letters for information to

H. B. HELMBOLD, Chemist,
104 South Tenth-st., bel. Chestnut, Phila.

HELMBOLD'S Medical Depot.
HELMBOLD'S Drug & Chemical Warehouse.
594 Broadway, New York.

BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS AND UNPRINCIPLED DEALERS who endeavor to dispose "of their own" and "other" articles on the reputation attained by

Helmbold's Genuine Preparations.
" " Extract Buchu.
" " " Sarsaparilla.
" " Improved Rose Wash.

SOLD BY
ALL DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE.

ASK FOR HELMBOLD'S. TAKE NO OTHER.
Cut out the Advertisement and send for it,
AND AVOID IMPOSITION AND EXPOSURE.
December 16, 1863.—1 yr.

Horse Railroad Notice.

On and after MONDAY, May 9, the cars of the Salem and South Danvers Railroad Co. will leave

South Danvers for Salem and Beverly at 6.35, 6.55, 7.15, and 7.35, A. M., and every 20 minutes till 12.55 P. M., and at 1.10, 1.25, 1.40, 1.55 P. M., and every 15 minutes till 10.25 P. M. The 9.55, 10.10, and 10.25 P. M., cars will go only to Salem.

Cars will leave Beverly for Salem and South Danvers at 6.35, 6.55, 7.15, and 7.35, A. M., and every 20 minutes till 12.55 P. M., and at 1.10, 1.25, 1.40 and 1.55 P.M., and every 15 minutes till 10.40 P. M. The 9.40, 9.55, 10.10, 10.25 and 10.40 P. M., cars go only to Salem.

Cars leave Washington Street Station for So. Danvers at 6.12, 6.32 and 6.52 A. M. and every 20 minutes till 12.32 P.M, and leave Washington St. Station for Beverly at 6.17, 6.37, 6.57, A.M., and every 20 minutes till 12.37 P. M., and cars will leave Washington St. Station for South Danvers and Beverly at 12.45, 1, 1.15, and 1.30 P. M., and every 15 minutes till 10.00 P. M.

M. H. HALE,
may 11 Sup't. S. & S. D. R. R. Co.

Horse Railroad Notice,

SUNDAY TIME.

HEREAFTER on Sunday, Horse Cars will leave Washington Street Station for Beverly at 9.12, 9.52, 10.32, 11.12, 11.52 A. M.; 12.32, 1.12, 1.52, 2.32, 3.12, 3.52, 4.32, 5.12, 5.52, 6.32, 7.12, 7.52, and 8.32 P. M.

Will leave Washington street station for South Danvers, at 9.07, 9.27, 9.47 A. M., and every twenty minutes till 9.07 P. M.

Cars leave South Danvers at 9.30, 9.50, and 10.10. A. M., and every 20 minutes till 9.30 P. M.

Leave Beverly at 9.40, 10.20, 11.00, 11.40 A. M.; 12.20, 1.00, 1.40, 2.20, 3.00, 3.40, 4.20, 5.00, 4.40, 6.20, 7.00, 7.40, 8.20, and 9.00 P. M.

Salem, Aug. 31, 1864. M. H. HALE, Supt.

CURRIER & MILLETT,
Dealers in
Furniture, Chairs,
MATTRESSES, FEATHERS, &
259 & 261 ESSEX ST.
Salem, dec 14—1y

H. & H. G. HUBON,
WASHINGTON STREET, SALEM
Manufacturers of
Rose Wood, Mahogany, Black Walnut and Stained Wood

COFFINS and CASKETS.

MAKING this our exclusive business, we are ready at all times and at the shortest notice to furnish Grave Clothes of various styles, as well as Coffins and Caskets of the finest finish. Personal attention given, and delivered without extra charge to any of the neighboring towns. All orders by express

Black Walnut and White Wood Boards, Plank and Joists for sale.

dec. 14—tf

CHARLES S. BUFFUM,

BEING an authorized UNDERTAKER of South Danvers, will attend Funerals in said place with his Hearse the same as the Town Undertaker. Will also attend Funerals, when desired, in any of the neighboring towns, with one or a pair of horses.

He also furnishes Coffin Caskets, Robes, etc., lower than city prices.

All branches of the business attended to, such as furnishing Coaches, Flowers, Laying Out, etc.

Ice Preservers Furnished.

All orders promptly attended to, and personal attention given to them. Articles delivered to any of the neighboring towns free of charge. Orders by express or otherwise will receive prompt attention.

Central Street, South Danvers,
RESIDENCE 25 ELM STREET
South Danvers, Feb 17, 1864.

Undertaker's Notice!

THE subscriber being regularly appointed as Undertaker of South Danvers, would respectfully notify the public that he has removed from Central Street, to No. 80 Lowell Street, where he may be found in readiness to attend funerals, and to furnish, when desired.

HENRY SPENCER.
February 10, 1864.

Chickering & Sons' Piano-Fortes.
Hallett & Cumston's Piano-Fortes.
Hallett & Davis's Piano-Fortes.

We select our Piano-Fortes from the above firms and warrant them to give perfect satisfaction. Our terms are reasonable, and all persons in the city and neighboring towns can be accommodated by calling at 76 Federal street.

FOR SALE.—Second-hand Piano-Fortes,—Chickering's and others.
ap 29 ANN E. BRAY.

MOULTON'S

NEW LIVERY STABLE,

Is removed to stable formerly occupied by

SAMUEL HAM,

On MAIN STREET, opposite the Institute.

Good Horses and Carriages will be always in readiness at short notice.
South Danvers, May 25, 1864.

PIN WORMS. MRS. OSBORN'S Universal Worm Powders are the only sure cure ever offered to the public. They are warranted in every case; relief within 24 hrs. 25 cts. per box. Sold by all druggists.

For sale by D. P. GROSVENOR, Jr., 33 Main St., South Danvers. jan 27

SEE THE GHOSTS AND SPECTRES.

SPECTROPIA, or Surprising Illusions, showing Ghosts everywhere and of all colors.
sept 7 G M WHIPPLE & A A SMITH'S.

LINSEED OIL.

RAW and Boiled Oil of the best quality, at
S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS',
sept 14 32 Front street, Salem.

Putnam Clothes Wringer.

IT IS THE ONLY RELIABLE

SELF-ADJUSTING WRINGER

NO WOOD TO SWELL OR SPLIT.
NO THUMB SCREWS TO GET OUT OF ORDER.
Warranted with or without Cog-Wheels.

IT took the FIRST PREMIUM at fifty-seven State and County Fairs in 1863, and is, without an exception, the best Wringer ever made.

Patented in the United States, England, Canada and Australia. Agents wanted in every town, and in all parts of the world.

Sample Wringer sent, express paid, on receipt of price.

Energetic agents can make from 3 to 10 dollars per day.

No. 2, $6.50; No. 1. $7.50; No. F, $8.50; No. A, $9.50.

Manufactured and sold, wholesale and retail, by THE PUTNAM MANUFACTURING CO., No. 13 Platt Street, New York, and Cleveland, Ohio.

S. C. NORTHROP, Agent.

WHAT EVERYBODY KNOWS, VIZ:

That Iron well galvanized will not rust;
That a simple machine is better than a complicated one;
That a Wringer should be self-adjusting, durable, and efficient;
That Thumb-Screws and Fastenings cause delay and trouble to regulate and keep in order;
That wood soaked in hot water will swell, shrink and split;
That wood bearings for the shaft to run in will wear out;
That the Putnam Wringer, with or without cog-wheels, will not tear the clothes;
That cog-wheel regulators are not essential;
That the Putnam Wringer has all the advantages, and not one of the disadvantages above named;
That all who have tested it, pronounce it the best Wringer ever made;
That it will wring a Thread or a Bed-Quilt WITHOUT ALTERATION.

We might fill the paper with testimonials, but insert only a few to convince the skeptical, if such there be; and we say to all, test Putnam's Wringer. Test it THOROUGHLY with ANY and ALL others, and if not entirely satisfactory, return it.

Putnam Manufacturing Co:—GENTLEMEN; I know from practical experience that iron well galvanized with zinc will not oxidize or rust one particle. The Putnam Wringer is as near perfect as possible, and I can cheerfully recommend it to be the best in use. Respectfully yours,

JNO. W. WHEELER, Cleveland, Ohio.

Many years' experience in the galvanizing business enable me to indorse the above statement in all particulars.

JNO. C. LEFFERTS, No. 100 Beckman St.,
New York, January, 1864.

We have tested Putnam's Clothes Wringer by practical working, and know that it will do. It is cheap; it is simple; it requires no room, whether at work or at rest; a child can operate it; it does its duty thoroughly; it saves time and it saves wear and tear. We earnestly advise all who have much washing to do, with all intelligent persons who have any, to buy this Wringer. It will pay for itself in a year at most.

HON. HORACE GREELEY.
July 27, 1864.—3m

THOMAS PINNOCK,

SLATER,

SALEM, MASS.

Orders may be left at his Yard, No. 25 Peabody St., or at his house No. 6 Hancock street, South Salem.

Roofs covered with any kind of Slates, according to order. All work warranted.

Salem, May 7, 1862. tf

Are you Insured?

THE subscriber would respectfully call your attention to the fact that he is fully prepared to effect INSURANCE AGAINST FIRE, to any amount, at current rates, on

Dwelling Houses, Barns and their contents, Stores, Stocks of Goods, Furniture, &c. &c., Buildings in process of erection,

And that he is the authorized Agent for the following responsible Stock and Mutual Companies, viz:

Thames Insurance Co., (Stock,) Norwich, Conn.
Capital—$500,000.
Amos W. Prentice, Pres. Oliver F. Rice, Sec'y
Conway Insurance Company, (Stock) Boston.
Capital and Surplus—$260,000.
James F. Whitney, Pres. David C. Rogers, Sec'y.
City Insurance Company, (Stock) Boston.
Capital—$150,000.
Samuel P. Hayward, Pres. Austin W. Benton, Sec'y.

Also, will effect Insurance on the LIVES OF INDIVIDUALS, for one year, seven years, or for the whole term of life, in the

Massachusetts Mutual Life Ins. Co., Springfield, Mass.
Capital and Assets—$375,000.
Caleb Rice, Pres. D. B. Bacon, Sec'y.
William Mack, M. D., Medical Examiner.

WM. ARCHER, Jr.,
18 Washington st. and 34 Front st., Salem.
feb20-1

ALWAYS SUCCESSFUL!

TO ALL THOSE WHO SUFFER FROM

DEBILITY AND SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

DRS. CARSWELL & HUNTER, regularly educated, highly eminent and successful practitioners, after a very extensive practice in Boston, for over twenty years, need hardly speak of their medical qualifications, or remind strangers not to class them with a set of uneducated men, who fill the papers with their boasting advertisements. Drs. C. & H. caution the public against quackery in all its forms, pretending, as some self-styled doctors, to cure all the most difficult and chronic diseases, without knowledge of the human system, or of the modus operandi of the most simple drugs.

Drs. C. & H., since 1840, having confined their whole attention to an office practice for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, they acknowledge no superiors.

CONSTITUTIONAL DEBILITY OR SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Drs. C. & H. are pre-eminently successful in the treatment of the above most difficult and perplexing of all diseases, this complaint being the result of a secret habit in youth; if neglected or improperly treated, it proves one of the greatest evils that can befall a human being. Dr. H. has given particular attention to the above disease for years, and so thoroughly has he become acquainted with the pathology and treatment, that he will warrant a perfect cure under forfeiture of $500; in fact, he will, in the cure of this complaint, acknowledge no superior in this country, or even in the world. Come, then, all you who are afflicted, come to the Old Stand, where you will in a short time be made to rejoice in perfect health.

SYPHILITIC AND SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS,—such as Ulcers and Caries of the throat and nose, Running Sores on the legs and arms, Hard Scabs and Scaly Eruptions on the head, back, &c., pains in the bones and joints, and all other forms of venereal diseases—are made to yield and entirely disappear under Drs. C. & H.'s improved and thoroughly eradicating course of treatment.

The primary or first symptoms of disease, whether a simple running, or small pistules, cancers, or ulcers, are cured in a very few days, if immediate application is made to Drs. C. & H.

13 ENDICOTT STREET, BOSTON. 13

Strangers should be particular in the selection of a physician, lest they be deceived by false advertisements.

Ladies troubled with irregularity, weakness, whites, and other complaints peculiar to the female system, will find a speedy cure by calling as above. No mercury used, and no charge for advice. The afflicted are invited to give us a call.

Boston, April 20, 1864.—1 yr.

---

25 YEARS' EXPERIENCE enables DRS. CARSWELL & HUNTER to cure any diseases of a private nature in a shorter space of time and for a smaller amount of money than any other doctors in this country, and they also treat all female complaints with perfect success, and on the most satisfactory terms. Patients furnished with board if desired. Please give us a call at our office, No. 13 Endicott St., Boston, Mass.

Boston, April 20, 1864.—1 yr.

A Card to the Suffering.

SWALLOW two or three hogsheads of "Buchu," "Tonic Bitters," "Sarsaparilla," "Nervous Antidotes," &c., &c., &c., and after you are satisfied with the result, then try one box of OLD DOCTOR BUCHAN'S ENGLISH SPECIFIC PILLS—and be restored to health and vigor in less than thirty days. They are purely vegetable, pleasant to take, prompt and salutary in their effects on the broken-down and shattered constitution. Old and young can take them with advantage. Imported and sold in the United States only by

JAS. S. BUTLER, No. 427 Broadway, New York.
☞ Agent for the United States.

P. S. A Box of the Pills, securely packed, will be mailed to any address on receipt of price, which is ONE DOLLAR, post-paid,—money refunded by the Agent if entire satisfaction is not given. jy 13-3m

---

SILVER PLATED KNIVES.

IVORY Handled Knives with heavy Silver plate—at
S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS, 32 Front st.

SUMMER ARRANGE

TO

LYNN & BOST

BY

OMNIBUS & HORSE

W. F. BURNHAM

Line of Omnibuses will leave the Lynn Omnibus Office, No. 6 Allen's Building vers, passing down Main Street, through Street, to Lynn, daily—Sundays included.
Leave South Danvers at 7.50 o'clock and 4 50 P. M.
Leave Lynn (Horse Car Depot, West A. M., 2 40 and 6 40 P. M.
Horse Cars leaving the office at 11 B at 8 15 A. M., 1 15 and 5 15 P. M., will me buses at Lynn, at the above named ho passengers to South Danvers.

Tickets to Lynn,
Through to Boston,

Gravesend, Woodend, an Depot Route.

ON and after Monday, Nov 2, in addit route, an Omnibus will leave South Lynn, to connect with the steam and times daily,—Sundays excepted,—runi Gravesend and Woodend, to the Centr and Horse Railroad Station, corner of Broad Streets; leaving South Danvers a necting with the 7.25 steam cars for Bo (connecting with the 11.10 train), and 4 ing with the 4.50 train); and returning from the Spring Street Station and Cen pot at 8 A. M., and 1 and 6 P. M.

Fare from S. Danvers to Boston by h
" " " " " st

Through Tickets to and from Boston the Drivers and Conductors.

EXPRESS BUSINES

Between South Danvers and Lynn pro ed to, on reasonable terms.

Extra Coaches furnished at short not

W. F. BU

South Danvers, April 20, 1864.

GROUT & MUNR

SOUTH DANVERS & I

RAILROAD EXPR

Express leaves South Danvers at
Freight " " at
Express leaves Boston at
Freight " " at

OFFICE at FREIGHT DEP
Danvers Square.

Express Office in Boston, 3 Washi
Freight Office, 48 Kilby

Particular attention paid to re niture, collecting Bills, Notes, Dr

Smallest favors thankfully received.

South Danvers, august 26—tf

LITTLEFIEL

South Danvers & Salem Ma

E. LI succe ber, w prese tween and deliv and b goods usually delivered by Express.

Leave South Danvers at 7½ and 11 A
Leave Salem at 8.45 A. M., 2 and 6

This Express connects with the first t going East.

SLATES—In Salem, 13 Central st., and Roberts' store, corner of Front and Wa South Danvers—At the Post Office; a man's store; also at R. O. Spiller's store

---

Abbott's South Danvers

EXPRESS

Leave South Danvers,
Leave Salem,

Orders left at Teel & Moulton's, and on Main street, South Danvers; and on street, and at Reed's in the Market

---

Important to the Af

DR. DOW continues to be consulte Nos. 7 and 9 Endicott street, Bosto eases of a

PRIVATE OR DELICATE NA

By a long course of study and practi of unlimited extent, Dr. D. has now th of presenting the unfortunate with have never, since he first introduced cure the most alarming cases of

GONORRHŒA AND SYPH

Beneath his treatment, all the horro and impure blood, Impotency, Scrofu Ulcers, pain and distress in the regio tion, Inflammation of the Bladder and drocele, Abcesses, Humors, frightful the long train of horrible symptoms class of disease, are made to become the simplest ailings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS

Dr. D. devotes a great part of his ti ment of those cases caused by a secre habit, which ruins the body and mind unfortunate individual for business or of the sad and melancholy effects prod habits of youth, are Weakness of limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimness pitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Ner rangement of the digestive functions, Consumption, &c. The fearful effects are much to be dreaded; loss of mem of ideas, depression of spirits, evi aversion of society, self-distrust, tim among the evils produced. Such perso fore contemplating matrimony, consult experience, and be at once restored happiness.

Patients who wish to remain under D ment a few days or weeks, will be f pleasant rooms, and charges for board Medicines sent to all parts of the cou directions for use, on receiving descr cases. Dr. Dow has also for sale the F warranted the best preventive. Ord or $1 and a red stamp.

CAUTION

TO FEMALES IN DELICATE

DR. DOW, Physician and Surgeon, 7 street, Boston, is consulted daily for all dent to the female system. Prolapsus ing of the Womb, Fluor Albus, Suppres er menstrual derangements, are all trea pathological principles, and speedy reli in a very few days. So invariably cert mode of treatment, that most obstina yield under it, and the afflicted person in perfect health.

Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater ex cure of diseases of women and child other physician in Boston.

Boarding accommodations for patie wish to stay in Boston a few days un ment.

Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined tention to an office practice, for the cu Diseases and Female Complaints, ack superior in the United States.

N. B.—All letters must contain four re they will not be answered.

Office Hours from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M.

CERTAIN CURE

IN ALL CASES, OR NO CHARGE

Dr. Dow is consulted daily, from 8 a as above, upon all difficult and chron every name and nature, having by his tention and extraordinary success gaine which calls patients from all parts of obtain advice.

Among the physicians in Boston, non in the profession than the celebrated D 7 Endicott street, Boston. Those who vices of an experienced physician and s give him a call. P. S.—Dr. Dow impor sale a new article, called the French S by mail. Two for $1 and a red stamp.

April 20, 1864—1y.

Do You Wish to be Cu

DR. BUCHAN'S ENGLISH SPECIFI in less than 30 days, the worst c VOUSNESS, Impotency, Premature De Weakness, Insanity, and all Urinary, S vous Affections, no matter from what ca Price, One Dollar per box. Sent, post on receipt of order. One Box will perf most cases. Address JAMES S. jy 13-3m General Agent, 427 Broadway

---

Job Press for Sal

RUGGLES' JOB ENGINE PRESS. P by 19 inches. Can be run by one m of 800 per hour. Is in good condition. It very low price, as the owner has no use big bargain. Apply at this office.

LUDLOW'S PATENT TES

FOR putting up Tomatoes, Peaches, P This is the only Jar ever invented tested. For sale in any quantity at sept 7 S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS', 3

South Danvers Wizard.

V. SOUTH DANVERS, MASS., WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 28, 1864. NO. 39.

TH DANVERS WIZARD
ry WEDNESDAY, at Allen's Builders Square.
Dollars a year,
NTS inserted at reasonable rates.

RLES D. HOWARD,
AND PROPRIETOR.

ES, Advertising Agent,
Building, Court Street, Boston, is
that city, and is authorized to renents and subscriptions for us at
s.

ertisements.

INSURANCE.

THE MUTUAL
SURANCE COMPANY,
York, with a Capital of 000,000,
Annual Income of over $2,000,000,

g a LARGER DIVIDEND than any pany in the United States, is the one in h should secure a policy on his life.
ce of LIFE INSURANCE cannot be too
. It is the safest and most practicable ring to your family, in case of your us of a comfortable and independent sands of instances might be cited where hus been provided with a competency, erwise have been left in penury and ls and fathers! treat not with indiffersuch vital importance, but see to it at families are provided with the insti-es which this great and benevolent inan has wealth, it is no reason why he e, for he knows not how soon his riches themselves wings and fly away." And omplain of the want of means, remem-

Five Cents a Week,
,000 on the life of a man of THIRTY.

DOWMENT POLICY,
assured party, on attaining to a certain of 60 years, an amount sufficient for his nced age.
re of this subject, deserving of especial

ORSHIP ANNUITIES!
hich one party may secure to another, an nt, to maintain them in comfort and inrough life. A husband may thus make his wife; a father for his child; or a sister.

nt Policies for Children.
s a parent may provide, by the payment ual premium, a sum of money sufficient to enter into business, at a proper age, provision, either for a son or daughter.

nen of So. Danvers and Vicinity!
availed themselves of this opportunity ensuring their lives, and thus securing blessing to themselves and their fami-be equally wise, and immediately folple.

N H. DERBY,
South Danvers and Vicinity.
ddress, Salem, Mass.
4, 1864.—tf.

RBY & CHILDS,
rine and Life Insurance Agents.
ft at No. 24 Washington st., Salem, or y mail, promptly attended to.
ably adjusted and promptly paid, and ted at reasonable rates.
st 10,—3m*

AT THE BUTTON STORE,"
Essex St., Salem,
lling for a few weeks at less than whole-ces,

, warranted 200 yards,	10 cts;
Cottons per hank,	10 "
broidery Cotton,	5 "
ton per ball,	5 "
entine Braid,	5 "
k or Twist,	5 "
ll sized Honey Soap,	5 "
er's Shaving Soap, best in use,	5 "
Pins,	5 "
velopes,	5 "
lmond Soap (cheap)	5 "
Dressing Comb,	5 "
pins,	6 "
ote Paper,	8 "
ad Pencils,	8 "
per bottle,	8 "
n Rings,	8 "
, all colors,	10 "
quid Glue,	10 "
ake Pumice Soap,	10 "
White Envelopes,	10 "
ush, or 5 Thimbles,	10 "
Cord Nets,	10 "
k Comb,	10 "
ack Mourning Pins,	20 "
es, only	20 "
ochet Net,	20 "
ber Combs, real rubber,	20 "
pping Bags,	125 "
bed Hose,	38 "
Wool Hose,	42 "
ocoaine,	80 "
ated Hall's Hair Renewer, warne,	80 "
ling a Ladies' size Hoop Skirt,
t only	98 "

t of other articles, selling at ery Low Prices.
member the
BUTTON STORE,
Essex Street, Salem.
FRANK B. STORY,
64—1m*

ECTACLES!
ERRY wishes to call special attention to ock of
acles and Eye Glasses,
ver—Rubber—Steel and Horn frames, of eps constantly on hand a very large as-mbracing every style and quality.
—ALSO—
Glasses, Microscopes, &c.
-set, and Spectacles repaired.
our usual assortment of Silver and Plated
ry, Fancy Goods, and Toys, Also, Can-
180 Essex Street, Salem.
H. F. SKERRY.
tf

GAYLE & CO.,
ISSION MERCHANTS,
AND DEALERS IN
Grain and Produce,
WHARF, ... Salem.

Special Notices.

To Consumptives.

Consumptive sufferers will receive a valuable prescription for the cure of Consumption, Asthma, Bronchitis, and all Throat and Lung affections (free of charge) by sending their address to Rev. EDWARD A. WILSON, Williamsburg, Kings Co., sept 21—3 mos. New York.

HAGAN'S MAGNOLIA BALM,

This is the most delightful and extraordinary article ever discovered. It changes the sun burnt face and hands to a pearly satin texture of ravishing beauty, imparting the marble purity of youth, and the distingue appearance so inviting in the city belle of fashion. It removes tan, freckles, pimples and roughness from the skin, leaving the complexion fresh, transparent and smooth. It contains no material injurious to the skin. Patronized by Actresses and Opera Singers. It is what every lady should have. Sold everywhere.

Prepared by W. E. HAGAN, Troy N. Y.
Address all orders to
DEMAS S. BARNES, & CO., New-York.

HEIMSTREET'S
INIMITABLE HAIR RESTORATIVE.
NOT A DYE,

But restores gray hair to its original color, by supplying the capillary tubes with natural sustenance impaired by age or disease. All instantaneous dyes are composed of lunar caustic, destroying the vitality and beauty of the hair, and afford of themselves no dressing. Heimstreet's Inimitable Coloring not only restores hair to its natural color by an easy process,

Luxuriant Beauty,

promotes its growth, prevents its falling off, eradicates dandruff, and imparts health and pleasantness to the head. It has stood the test of time, being the original Hair Coloring, and is constantly increasing in favor. Used by both gentlemen and ladies. It is sold by all respectable dealers, or can be procured by them of the commercial agents, D. S. BARNES & CO, 202 Broadway, New York. Two sizes, 50 cents and $1.

MEXICAN MUSTANG LINIMENT.

The parties in St. Louis and Cincinnati who have been Counterfeiting the Mustang Liniment under pretense of proprietorship, have been thoroughly estoped by the Courts. To guard against further imposition, I have procured from the U. States Treasury, a private steel plate revenue stamp, which is placed over the top of each bottle. Each stamp bears the fac simile of my Signature, and without which the article is a Counterfeit, dangerous and worthless imitation. Examine every bottle. This Liniment has been in use and growing in favor for many years. There hardly exists a hamlet on the habitable Globe that does not contain evidence of its wonderful effects. It is the best emolient in the world. With its present improved ingredients, its effects upon man and beast are perfectly remarkable. Sores are healed, pains relieved, lives saved, valuable animals made useful, and untold ills assuaged. For cuts, bruises, sprains, rheumatism, swellings, bites, cuts, caked breasts, strained horses, &c., it is a Sovereign Remedy that should never be dispensed with. It should be in every family. Sold by all Druggists.

D. S. BARNES, New-York.

March 9th, 1864.—1 yr.

LYON'S KATHAIRON.

Kathairon is from the Greek word "Kathro," or "Katharo," signifying to cleanse, rejuvenate and restore. This article is what its name signifies. For preserving, restoring and beautifying the human hair it is the most remarkable preparation in the world. It is again owned and put up by the original proprietor, and is now made with the same care, skill and attention which gave it a sale of over one million bottles per annum.

It is a most delightful Hair Dressing.
It eradicates scurf and dandruff.
It keeps the head cool and clean.
It makes the hair rich, soft and glossy.
It prevents the hair from falling off and turning [gray.
It restores hair upon bald heads.

Any lady or gentleman who values a beautiful head of hair should use Lyon's Kathairon. It is known and used throughout the civilized world. Sold by all respectable dealers.

DEMAS S. BARNES, & CO., New-York.

THE GREAT ENGLISH REMEDY.
SIR JAMES CLARKE'S
CELEBRATED FEMALE PILLS!

Prepared from a prescription of Sir J. Clarke, M. D., Physician Extraordinary to the Queen.

This well known medicine is no imposition, but a sure cure and safe remedy for Female Difficulties and Obstructions, from any cause whatever; and, although a powerful remedy, they contain nothing hurtful to the constitution.

In all cases of Nervous and Spinal Affections, pain in the Back and Limbs, Fatigue on slight exertion Palpitation of the Heart, Hysterics, and Whites, these pills will effect a cure when all other means have failed: and, although a powerful remedy, do not contain iron, calomel, antimony, or anything hurtful to the constitution.

Full directions in the pamphlet around each package, which should be carefully preserved.

For full particulars, obtain, free, of the agent, a pamphlet. Sold by all Druggists.

Sole United States Agent,
JOB MOSES, 27 Cortlandt St., New York.

N. B.—$1 and 6 postage stamps enclosed to any authorized agent, will insure a bottle, containing over 50 pills, by return mail. March 9, 1864.—1 yr.

DR. E. F. KITTREDGE,
From Lowell, formerly of New Ipswich, N. H.,
Has removed his office and residence to
NO. 42 MAIN STREET,
SOUTH DANVERS, MASS.

Dr. K., from an extensive and successful professional experience of upwards of twenty years, feels justified in saying that he can treat diseases to the satisfaction of his patients, and to the credit of himself.

Office hours from 7 to 9 A. M., and from 6 to 9 P. M.
South Danvers, Nov 13, 1863.

MANUAL FENOLLOSA
TEACHER
OF THE
Violin, Piano and Singing,
Music Rooms, No. 7 Central Street,
SALEM, MASS.

☞ Visit Osborne's Store, and look at the unusual variety of new styles in Hats and Caps—191 Essex street.

Selected.

TO BE OR NOT TO BE.

BY F. THORNE.

In the Boston Advertiser recently appeared the startling statement, that in Massachusetts alone there are one hundred thousand more women than men between the ages of fifteen and forty-five. The Advertiser strongly advocated the emigration of these surplus women to Oregon, the surplus there being of the other sex. This is not new to us. We have not been all our days to parties composed on a similar plan to the reading club alluded to in the "Color Guard"—"fifteen girls and one beau;" we have not heard these people time and again say, "so and so is a nice girl, would make some one a nice wife; why don't she get married?" "Oh, there's no one to have her," without reflecting on the cause of this sad state of things. It is certainly heart-rending to see the numbers of pretty, amiable, accomplished grown and growing up around us, and to observe the exceedingly slim material, both in quantity and quality, from which they are expected to get husbands.—Young men of enterprise are apt to consider Massachusetts, as Douglas said of New Hampshire, a fine state to be born in, if you only emigrate soon enough.—They will not stay to stagnate in our slow, respectable old towns, to struggle up against our adamantine laws of caste and precedent, while the rapid progress and exuberant freedom of the West, or the whirl of business life in cities, is possible to them. Then the patriotic ones will go to the war, and we want they should go and glory in it, although our hearts and our homes are left unto us desolate. From these causes, the cream being gone, only the skim milk is left, and short measure at that. Of course there are some exceptions, pure cream, still left, but it so weakens the force of an argument to stop for the exceptions, that hereafter they may be considered as understood.

Now my dear sisters and fellow sufferers, it not being probable that more than fifty thousand or so of us will leave for Oregon, what will become of the less enterprising thousands who prefer to meet their destiny at home? Single blessedness evidently looms over us. One of the most sensible things related of Hannah Thurston is that "she had already in resolve, passed that gulf in woman's life, thirty." That is, she had looked her fate in the face, and was prepared to meet it. Shakspeare says something of this sort, that dangers met lose half their terrors. Let us, therefore, consider the pros and cons of the matter

Firstly, lest we be accused of making the worse appear the better cause, we may as well admit that marriage is the happiest state, in spite of St. Paul, who, being an old bachelor, naturally tried to make the best of it. It is human nature to get married. Furthermore, human nature has the sanction of Holy Writ.—We are told, "He that getteth a wife from the Lord getteth a good thing." I do not recollect any passage which says the same of a husband, probably because that was considered so evident as to need no proof. Married people are undoubtedly far happier than single, if—ah thou little marplot of an if! what a disagreeable monosyllable thou art! If it were not for thy intrusiveness, how much more of goodness and happiness there might be in the world. But thou must needs step in and spoil all! The many "ifs" of married life cast a sort of reflected charm over the certainties of single blessedness. If your husband is good, and true, and tolerably amiable (it won't do to expect perfection), and energetic, why then happy art thou; but if he be cross, or shiftless, or drunken, or tyrannical, there you are, tied for life. You cannot leave when the term is half out; you cannot give warning and try another place. There is no release from this service, but the grave; you must stay in this school of your own choosing till you are called to the great final examination. Doubtless Longfellow says for many a poor, dumb heart what it cannot express, when he makes his Spanish Student sigh,—

"To go through life, unloving and unloved;
To feel that thirst and hunger of the soul
We cannot still; that longing, that wild impulse,
And struggling after something we have not
And cannot have; the effort to be strong;
And, like the Spartan boy, to smile, and smile
While secret wounds do bleed beneath our cloaks;
And this the dead feel not—the dead alone!
Would I were with them!"

But better even this loneliness, which leaves untarnished your bright ideal of what might have been, than to find, when too late, that you have loved unworthily; that you have given your life for a brief, flitting dream; that your idol is fallen and shattered. Even happy marriages are not unalloyed bliss. You have your little frailties and peculiarities, your husband has his, and, if ever so happily mated, you will still often need the services of the "two bears," bear and forbear. By some mysterious dispensation of Providence, bustling, driving men usually take to themselves slow, always behind-time help-meets, and vice versa. Through life they go, one hanging back, the other hurrying on, dragging his weight with him. This, though probably a wise arrangement for both parties (particularly the slow one) is still an aggravation. Then there are the children. Of course no one would be without them; but when one considers teething, croup, mumps, measles, the sleepless nights and anxious days incident to what Tupper calls "that well-spring of joy in a household, a babe;" when one considers how early their little tempers begin to manifest themselves, how naturally they take to everything wrong, and how difficult it is to force anything good into them—even children cannot be considered an unmixed joy. Therefore, in view of all this, and much more that might be said, it is evident that, if to be a single woman is not the best thing life has to offer, neither is it the worst. Q. E. D. It may be a "lone, lorn life," as Mrs. Gummidge would say, without even her consolation of the "old un's" memory, but it is a comfort to know there is a still lower deep.

"Old maid" is the wolf's cry that has driven many a girl into a miserable, unhappy marriage. Anything to escape that ignominy. Matches should be made in heaven, but people get tired of waiting. They begin to think heaven has forgotten them, and so take the management of affairs into their own hands.—Or some officious match-maker presumes to take upon herself the responsibility of uniting two human beings for life in that relation, which, more than any other, must exert so mighty an influence, either for weal or woe, on the character, on their whole future. Hence come about some of the wretched marriages one sees in the world. Therefore, my dear sisters, what'er betide, do not so far lose your self-respect as to become fishers of men. We hear complaints that the old time chivalry towards women is fast becoming a myth. If it be a pleasant moonlight night, good walking and not too far, Corin finds it not disagreeable to take the fair Phyllis on his arm and escort her home. But if the night be dark, muddy, stormy, Corin sometimes slips out early in the evening and leaves Phyllis to shift for herself. Not very gentlemanly, not particularly "high toned" in Corin, certainly; but may not one reason why our Barkises are less "willing" than could be desired, be found in the fact that their lady-loves are sometimes a thought too much so? After all, the great end and aim of life is not to get married (novel as the idea may seem to some), but character. If the best training for you be the peculiar trials of single life, that will be your school. If you need the discipline of married life, Heaven will send you a husband in its own good time. Whichever happens will be best for you.—Therefore you need give yourself no trouble about the matter, but can go right on your course, doing each day what each day brings.

There is a traditionary idea that old maids must necessarily be sour, cross and disagreeable. However, we all know many exceptions. One of the most agreeable persons I ever met was of this class, I suppose, though one never thought whether she were married or single. Her face was not handsome, but still one you loved to look at, so attractive was its kind, amiable expression.—A perfect lady, highly accomplished, tastefully dressed, thoughtful of every one's comfort, liked by every one, such was this woman. I mention particularly the fact of her being well dressed, because some think being a confirmed spinster is a sufficient and reasonable excuse for making a fright of one's self. A great mistake. It is a woman's duty under all circumstances, to look as well as her endowments by nature and the length of her purse will admit. An attractive exterior goes far in this world. People are prone to choose the silver casket, even if it does contain a fool's head, rather than that of lead with all its treasures.

In view of the fact that so many young ladies in Massachusetts, from the circumstances of the case, can never expect to be married, I have written this to remind them that single blessedness is not very bad after all. Not the best thing, but not the worst. An ill-assorted marriage is worse. So, my gentle reader, if you must be a spinster, throw your heart into it, and be one with all your might. Show the world what a single woman ought to be. If you have missed that sphere deemed peculiarly woman's, still remember "Life has nobler uses than regret."

It is still possible for you to be a lady, genial and amiable, attractive and intelligent, with troops of friends. Do good. There will be opportunities enough while the world is as far from the millenium as at present. Laugh often. Wrinkles in the corners of the eyes are much more becoming than up and down the forehead. If sometimes your life grows wearisome, think to yourself, "I might have been worse—I might have been that man's wife." Use the leisure which freedom from family cares brings, to improve your mind; cultivate any accomplishment you have a taste for; make the most of yourself in every way. Try to live a life worthy that noble hero who would have been your husband had he not fallen on the battle field of his country. Probably every woman would not have achieved matrimony had this war never been, but now she can imagine she would have done so, which is a great comfort. If he had lived and been her husband, she might not have realized all her hopes and dreams. Being human, he would not have been perfect. But now she can still keep fresh in one corner of her heart a bit of that romance which experience often dispels. There will be one thing in life which will still have for her the charm that invests the untried.

But it takes a great deal of courage to be a model maiden. Not every one is equal to it. Know then, ye faint-hearted, that to every one, sooner or later, comes one offer, one chance of escape. By and by some compassionate friend will introduce you to a clergyman matrimonially inclined, from some remote country parsonage, a widower with a large and interesting family. In the most business-like manner, with "no nonsense" about it, he will lay at your feet the dignity of being the third Mrs. Jones. Leap, silly fish, out of the frying pan into the fire. You will have "Mrs." on your tombstone at least, and that, too, ere long.—Springfield Republican.

From the Iowa Daily State Register.

UNUSUAL BUT JUST TRIBUTE.

The following article, from the Chicago Times, gives quite an extended sketch of the military services of Major General G. Dodge. Any praise of any faithful Union officer is unusual with that journal, and the exception in favor of Gen. Dodge may be therefore taken as evidence of the universal concession in the army of his merit. The Times speaks briefly of the part which the General took in the great battle of the 22d of July, and the manner in which he helped to save the army from defeat. He was undoubtedly in a position where bad generalship on his part would have lost the day to our army. The hardest fighting of the battle was at the front and on the right of his corps. The enemy had secretly massed a very heavy force in rear of the Seventeenth Corps, and taken advantage of a long belt of timber to extend their line in front of the Sixteenth. Gen. Dodge learned of the movement in time to place his infantry and batteries in position to receive them, and when the enemy in three columns emerged from the timber, on the left, front and right, the whole line of the Sixteenth became engaged. In the eagerness of the Rebs. to press the front and left of the Sixteenth, they exposed the flank of their center column, seeing which, Gen. Dodge ordered a fire upon them in front and flank, and with such destruction that they soon gave way, and this being followed by a prompt charge, they were driven from their position.—Communication was soon afterward established with the Seventeenth Corps, aid sent to them from the Sixteenth, and the critical event of the day passed in safety. With only about forty-five hundred men, Gen. Dodge met over one half of Hardee's corps, viz: Walker's, Bate's, and a portion of Clebourne's Divisions, and drove them with great slaughter.—During the engagement on his front he captured prisoners from forty-nine different regiments, eight brigades and three divisions. Four hundred prisoners were captured, eight battle-flags, thirteen hundred muskets, and four hundred and twenty-two rebel dead were buried in front of his lines. This was one of the most hotly contested battles of a campaign of about four months, and it will be a matter of pride to the people of Iowa that an officer from their State bore himself so gallantly as a prominent actor in it:

From the Chicago Times, Sept. 10th.

MAJOR GENERAL DODGE.

Major General G. M. Dodge passed yesterday at the Tremont, leaving in the evening via the Chicago and Rock Island Railroad for Davenport, from whence he will proceed in a few days to his home in Council Bluffs, Iowa. General Dodge is suffering from a severe wound received in the trenches before Atlanta, on August 19th, and is now barely able to travel.

During his brief stay but a few of his personal friends were aware of his presence in the city.

General G. M. Dodge was formerly connected with the Engineer's Department of the Chicago and Rock Island Railroad, and was subsequently resident Engineer upon the Western Division of Mississippi and Missouri River Railroad. He entered the service at the beginning of the war, as Colonel of the Fourth Iowa Infantry, winning his first laurels at Pea Ridge, where he commanded a brigade. Col. Dodge was the first officer to discover the movement of the rebels upon Curtis' rear, and by his prompt action and correct disposition saved the Federal army from the complete surprise the rebels intended. He bore himself gallantly through the entire action, and near its close was wounded in several places, one of which was pronounced mortal. Recovering, he was promoted to be a Brigadier General for his gallantry. For a long time he was stationed at Corinth, in command of the left wing of the Sixteenth Army Corps, and for his operations in Western Tennessee, Northern Mississippi, and subsequently in the region south of Nashville, he was promoted to be Major General under the recommendation of General Grant, General Sherman, and the lamented McPherson. In command of the Sixteenth Corps, he accompanied Sherman throughout the whole of his Atlanta campaign. The task of occupying Snake Gap, which compelled the enemy to abandon his first and strongest position at Dalton, was assigned to General Dodge. This was the most brilliant strategic movement conceived by General Sherman during the whole campaign, and was successfully executed. In the operations before Resaca, at Dallas, New Hope Church, and Kenesaw Mountain, General Dodge, with his command, took an honorable and conspicuous part. In the grand movements towards Atlanta, commencing upon July 18th, and culminating in the terrific battle of the 22d, Gen. Dodge with the Sixteenth Corps was held for reserves in that portion of the army commanded by Gen. McPherson, probably one third of Sherman's army. By a series of brilliant movements scarcely parallelled in the history of the war, the Confederate Gen. Hood who had just been placed in command in lieu of Johnston, withdrew nearly all his forces from the front of the remainder of the Federal army, and concentrated his entire forces on McPherson, who was so far advanced as to be beyond the reach of immediate support. A greater portion of this force by a circuitous route gained McPherson's rear, and swept down upon him in close columns, intending to crush him upon the first onset. The movement was one of daring brilliancy and the surprise complete.

Unprepared for an assault in that quarter it seemed as if McPherson would be crushed, and that would have involved the utter failure of the whole campaign. Gen. Dodge was at dinner when word was brought by an Aide of the rebel movement, and realizing the peril in which it placed the entire army, he made such disposition upon his own responsibility as secured its safety. Facing troops to the rear, and bringing them into position under a galling fire, and in some instances fighting for the ground upon which to form them, outnumbered in front and the enemy sweeping around both flanks, that one little corps gallantly held the rebel force in check until the remainder of the army of the Tennessee could be brought into position. Gen. McPherson's first intimation of the rebel movement from the terrible fire opened by Gen. Dodge upon the advancing columns of the enemy, and riding to Gen. Dodge's position he thanked him for saving the army from defeat, and left his side to receive his own death shot from the foes which had closed in upon one of Dodge's flanks.

In subsequent movements Gen. Dodge took a prominent part, until the 19th of August, when in giving his personal supervisions to the advancing of his lines, already within one hundred and fifty yards of the enemy, he was shot in the head by a rebel sharpshooter and was at the time announced as killed. He is rapidly recovering and will be able to resume his position by the time of the next advance.

NATIONAL PROGRESS.

Henry C. Wright, in a letter to the Liberator, makes the following record of events, touching the abolition of slavery, that have occurred since the inauguration of President Lincoln:

1. Emancipation in Western Virginia.
2. Emancipation in Missouri.
3. Emancipation in the District of Columbia.
4. Emancipation in Maryland.
5. Slavery abolished and forever prohibited in all Territories.
6. Kansas admitted as a free State.
7. Provisions made to admit Colorado, Nebraska and Nevada as free States.
8. Organization of Idaho, Montana, Dakota and Arizon as Free Territories.
9. Recognition of the independence of Hayti and Liberia.
10. Three millions of slaves declared free by Proclamation of the President, January 1, 1863.
11. All Fugitive Slave laws repealed.
12. Inter-state slave trade abolished.
13. Negroes admitted to equal rights in United States Courts, as parties to suits and as witnesses.
14. Equality of the negro recognized in the public conveyances of the District of Columbia.
15. All rebel states prohibited from entering the Union with slavery.
16. Free labor established on numerous plantations in South Carolina, Louisiana, Mississippi, Tennessee and Arkansas.
17. Schools for the education of freed slaves in South Carolina, Tennessee, Louisiana, and in Eastern Virginia—where, till within three years, to educate the negro was punishable with death.
18. The wives and children of all slaves employed as freemen in military and other service of the United States made free.
19. All negroes, bond and free, enrolled as part of the military force of the nation.
20. The loyal people of Arkansas, Tennessee, Louisiana and Florida seeking a return to the Union on the basis of freedom to all, and of the abolition and prohibition of slavery.
21. The abolition and prohibition of slavery by an amendment of the Constitution passed in the Senate by a two-thirds majority and by nearly the same in the House. Lost by lack of three or four voters, through the influence of Democratic members.
22. The nation, through its representatives in Baltimore, June 8, made the abolition and prohibition of slavery the basis of its governmental administration for the future.
23. The Federal government forbidden to employ any man as a slave in any capacity.
24. One hundred and fifty thousand negroes, mostly freed slaves, in the pay and uniform of the government as soldiers.

☞ A Methodist and a Quaker having stopped at a public house, agreed to sleep in the same bed. The Methodist knelt down, prayed fervently, and confessed a long catalogue of sins. After he arose the Quaker observed, "Really, friend, if thou art as bad as thou sayest thou art, I think I dare not sleep with thee."

☞ In raising the heart above despair, an old violin is worth four doctors and two apothecary shops.

☞ Why is the letter L like a young lady giving away her sweetheart to another? Because it makes over a lover.

☞ The sleeping fox catches no poultry.

The Wizard.

WEDNESDAY, SEPT'R. 28, 1864.

PLATFORMS.

"Platforms are a modern invention. No one of them ever yet meant anything."

So says a notorious renegade through the columns of a copperhead contemporary; and so say, practically, all the leaders of the Democratic party in New England. Aside from the contemptible meanness of attending a convention as a delegate, assisting in the construction of a platform, and then, under the dictation of the military chieftain who is nominated as the candidate for that platform, coolly kicking away that platform as worthless lumber that don't "mean anything;" aside from this, look at the miserable Janus face aspect of the party that has promulgated a platform of principles, that don't mean anything in the East, but DOES MEAN EVERYTHING IN THE WEST! Here in the East the cry is—"vote for McClellan! He is for subduing the rebels and maintaining the Union! Never mind the platform; that don't mean anything!" But out West the cry of the same party is—"Sustain the party! Put down the Republicans and stop the war. Vote the party ticket, because by electing that ticket on our platform, the Peace policy will triumph. Never mind McClellan's letter; that don't mean anything! because he accepts the nomination on our platform."

So they go. Although they are trying hard to deceive the people, yet the hypocrisy of these brazen tongued leaders is so transparent, that none but the most ignorant or deluded can fail to see through it.

The truth is, the Chicago platform is really one of the most sincere declarations of principles that ever a party put forth; and not till their own chosen idol, instead of meekly acquiesing in its disgraceful surrender of the honor of the nation boldly spit upon and spurned it, did ever a military man among them dream of repudiating it.

But it is all up with them now, and except as a matter of idle curiosity, it don't matter a straw whether the platform means anything, or whether McClellan's letter means anything; the people themselves have taken the matter up, and they mean that "Honest old Abe," with the Constitution in one hand and the Baltimore Platform in the other, shall remain in the White House four years longer, dating from the Fourth of March next.

OLD SOUTH CHURCH.—We congratulate our neighbor, the Church, that the days of her mourning have passed, although, as we think of our own brick walls with their glaring red, we envy her not a little the new and comely dress she has just put on. It seems as if the whole Square were brighter for the change. The feelings we experience are not unlike those which come over us when, on some lowering day, the sun of a sudden bursts the clouds and looks down upon us with his broad and genial face. Even the boys look brighter and more cheerful as they fill the benches beneath our sanctum, and trade, if our eyes do not deceive us, is brisker with our many neighbors across the way. May the Old South never again pass under the cloud.

SALEM YOUNG MEN'S UNION.—We would call the attention of our citizens to the advertisement of the Young Men's Union of Salem, who propose to give a course of lectures and a series of concerts the coming season. "Edmund Kirke" will deliver a lecture in reference to his recent visit to Richmond, which will be well worth hearing, as it will contain what he has not before published. Rev. E. H. Chapin, Bayard Taylor, Esq., and Prof. J. E. Murdoch, the dramatic reader, have also been engaged.

The horse cars will accommodate South Danvers people who wish to attend, and tickets may be had of T. A. Sweetser.

FLAG RAISING.—We hear it stated that a proposal is on foot and receiving liberal encouragement, to procure a new campaign flag, to be raised shortly with suitable public demonstrations. We trust that the parties interested in this patriotic movement will follow it up with despatch. It is time something was done in our town by way of promoting the election of Lincoln and Johnson.

DISTRICT CONVENTION.—We see that the Congressional District Convention is called for the 6th of October next, in Salem. We also hear that the County Convention is to be held in Lynn instead of Salem, where it has generally been held. We don't know the reason for this change; but we suspect it must be a pretty cogent one to reconcile the delegates to such an innovation.

A DUBIOUS LOOK.—Five of the six New England States have voted this year—all but Massachusetts, and not one Democratic representative have they elected to Congress. New England will stand in the next Congress with an unbroken front.

DANVERS.—The Republicans of this town held a rousing ratification meeting in Gothic Hall, last Saturday evening. Addresses were made by Gen. Wilson and Rev. A. P. Putnam.

Amity Lodge.—This new and flourishing order of Free Masons was duly ordained and its officers installed last Monday evening in the Universalist Church. The officers of the Grand Lodge of Massachusetts were in attendance, and conducted the services. The proceedings closed with a sumptuous supper at Gothic Hall, over 300 ladies and gentlemen being present. In our next issue we shall present a more detailed account of this grand affair.

The officers of this lodge for the ensuing year, are—

W. M.—A. W. Howe.
S. W.—B. R. Tibbetts.
J. W.—J. Q. A. Bachelder.
Treas.—Dean Kimball.
Sec'y.—T. C. Everett.
S. D.—W. L. Hyde.
J. D.—J. W. Legro.
S. S.—P. M. Chase.
J. S.—N. K. Cross.
Chap'n—Rev. R. F. Chase.
Marshal—R. B. Hood.
Tyler—Chris'r Hammond.

☞ The following are the names of twenty volunteers belonging to South Danvers, who enlisted on the recent call for troops:

George T. Jacobs,
Henry Lufkin,
Nahum Morrison,
Charles Colby,
Jeremiah Newhall,
Frank Elliot,
William Dickey,
David N. Reed,
Lowell L. Mason,
Charles Tucker,
John G. Moore,
Wesley Reed,
D. W. Larrabee,
Hersey Galeucia,
Robert M. Jackman,
Charles L. Bailey,
Austin J. Peaslee,
James Riley, (Navy,)
Timothy Reardon,
Frank Duffy.

THE INDICATIONS.—We are enabled to say from no inconsiderable personal inquiry and observation among most all classes of voters in our town, that the indications here are that McClellan will poll rather a small vote—much smaller than a superficial view would lead one to expect. We hear of but a very few—here and there one—who voted for Lincoln in 1860 and are intending to vote McClellan this year. We are quite confident that this class is considerably outnumbered by those who voted against Lincoln in 1860 but purpose to vote for him this year.

APPOINTMENT.—We are glad to learn that the Selectmen have made the appointment of Mr. SAMUEL QUINER WHITE, as lamp-lighter. We regard this appointment as eminently appropriate and judicious. Mr. WHITE has long been himself a bright and shining light in our community and a guide to our ways, as printer of the WIZARD. He is therefore well fitted to enlighten our paths in the night time. If the street lamps burn more brightly under the administration of the new official, the public will know where the credit belongs.

"OPENING."—Last Friday was the grand "opening day" for the milliners of New York. The new styles are said to be held at prices so enormously high that only the wives or daughters of Government contractors will reach them. $30 dollars will buy a very ordinary bonnet, but $75 or $80 will procure one that will create a stunning sensation at the opera.

CONGRESS OF WORKINGMEN.—The International Workingmen's Congress was in session in Louisville, Ky., on the 21st inst. Seven States were represented. The object was mutual protection against the augmentation of the prices of the necessaries of life. We have not learned the result of their deliberations.

DIVIDENDS.—Warren Bank has declared a semi-annual dividend of 3 1-2 per cent., exclusive of government and town taxes.

Danvers Bank has declared a dividend of 4 per cent., free of all taxes.

☞ The Scientific American says:—"A crossed belt will drive more than a straight belt, because it hugs the pulley tighter." Cross a straight belt, and, of course, it will hug more tightly and drive more. But a crossed belt will drive more because it clasps more of the pulley.

☞ Young women in South Merrimack, says the Springfield Republican, make $2 a day and their board at reaping, and are often seen "coming through the rye" as fast as the native farmers. Do they ever "meet a body?"

RECRUITING FUND.—The list of subscribers to the Recruiting Fund can be seen at the Union League Rooms, Warren Bank Building.

SHERIDAN'S victories,—Early groans for the Democratic party.

ROBBERY.—On Wednesday night of last week the grocery store of Messrs. Arnold & Hutchinson was entered thro' an aperture, 10 by 12 inches, in a window sash, and the money drawer robbed of $30 in U. S. currency. The next day but one five Irish lads were arrested on suspicion of being the guilty parties, and taken before Judge Perkins, who convicted two of them—John Gannon and Patrick Garvey — and sentenced them to the Reform School. The names of the other three were Malay, brothers, who had nothing proved against them except helping to spend the money by visiting such places of note as Bunker Hill, Lexington, Cambridge, State House, etc.—all of them being well imbued with patriotism—and by laying out largely in ice creams, fine cut tobacco, mint juleps, cocktails, and all the fashionable drinks of the day. Gannon and Garvey are only about thirteen years of age—the latter, young as he is, being an old offender, and richly deserving the punishment now meted out to him.

PAY OF POSTMASTERS.—By the act approved July 1, 1864, commissions to Postmasters have been stopped and fixed salaries substituted.—Postmasters are divided into five classes—the first class to receive not more then $4000, nor less than $3000; the second class to receive less than $3000, and not less than $2000; the third class to receive less than $2000 and not less than $1000; the fourth class to receive less than $1000, and not less than $100; the fifth class to receive less than $100.

The South Danvers Post Office comes in the Third Class, with a salary of $1400 a year; Salem is in the Second Class, at $2700 a year; Boston in the First Class, at $4000 a year.

TRUE.—The Newburyport Herald, in an article on the political situation of the country, very truly says:

"It is silly for any party desiring votes in the North, to tell us of some shoddy official who has defrauded the government of a few thousands, if it has nothing to say of the greater thieves who attempted to steal fourteen States and the glorious Union of the country. It is folly to appeal to the people to overthrow the Sewards or Stantons for denying the habeas corpus to a few persons in Fort Lafayette, if it has no denunciation of those who hold 38,000 of our patriotic soldiers in the single prison of Andersonville, Ga."

A RARE SIGHT.—Recently visiting the spacious and well-filled garden of our friend ANDREW S. PORTER, on Elm Street, we noticed a young pear tree, scarcely taller than we are, and only five years old, heavily burdened with sixty fine, large, plump-looking pears, weighing, we should think, half a pound each. They are called the Tongress. Mr. P. takes pride in his garden, and well he might, for very few excel it in this town.

MASONIC CELEBRATION.—Arrangements have been made to lay the corner-stone of the new Masonic Temple, corner of Tremont and Boylston streets, on Friday, the 14th day of October next. On that occasion it is proposed to have a procession, embracing the Grand Lodge of Massachusetts, Encampments, Chapters and Lodges of Boston and other cities and towns in the Commonwealth. It is thought that the interesting exercises will draw together a body of from 50,000 to 60,000 Masons.

GOLD.—The fall in the price of gold is the happy result of the great victories achieved by Sherman and Sheridan at Atlanta and in the Shenandoah Valley. As gold tumbles, down goes the price of every thing with it, much to the joy of the people.

☞ It is expected that the Annual Address before the Seamen's Orphan and Children's Friend Society will be delivered on Sunday evening, Oct. 9th, by Rev. W. M. BARBER of South Danvers.

SOME DIFFERENCE.—We learn that new potatoes were selling in Boston last Saturday at 80 cents per bushel—here they were selling for $1.50; hind quarters of lamb at 12 cents a pound, here at 20 and 30 cents.

THANKS.—Our thanks are extended to Mr. HAZEN AYER, for a good sized basket full of pears. When ours are ripe, we will return the compliment.

THE FALL SEASON.—The tide of Victory this fall is sweeping all before it.—Gold, produce, dry goods, are all falling. The fall season has begun.

☞ We are indebted to Capt. BARNES of Co. C, for Baltimore papers. Also, to JOHN P. WINCHESTER, for Philadelphia papers.

☞ Hoop Skirts have recently decreased in size, and are more acceptable to the wearers on account of their compactness.

☞ Butter is now selling in Western Massachusetts for 40 cents per pound, and wood for $6 per cord.

☞ The ponds are now said to be lower than they were ever before known to be at this season of the year.

☞ Receipts for taxes by tax collectors are exempt from stamp duty.

☞ "Holiday Sketches" in our next.

WAR MATTERS.

The more recent raid made upon our cattle corral at Lighthouse Point, early on Friday morning, was a fine thing for the rebels. It gave them about twenty-five hundred beeves, all the herdsmen, the cavalry guard of one hundred men, and a telegraph construction train of six wagons, and its workmen and its workmen and guard. The raiders were three brigades of Wade Hampton's cavalry.—A force of Kaut's cavalry were sent out in pursuit, but it returned on Saturday morning, reporting only the capture of a dozen stragglers, and fifty or sixty of the beeves.

Any joy the rebels may have extracted from the above little affair, must have been speedily turned to grief by the arrival of the news at Richmond of the signal defeat of the rebel Early, in the Shenandoah Valley. Gen Sheriday has gained two complete and glorious victories. In the first bloody collision on Monday of last week, Sheridan inflicted a damage on the enemy of over ten thousand men, capturing six thousand prisoners, five pieces of artillery, nineteen army flags, and killing and wounding seven rebel generals. In the second engagement, which occurred at Fisher's Hill, four days afterwards, he captured twenty pieces more of artillery, eleven hundred prisoners, and compelled the rebel general to make an inglorious retreat toward Richmond.

> "Cheers! cheers for our soldiers,
> Rough, wrinkled and brown,
> The men that make heroes,
> And ask no renown."

Some rascally rebels skulking in Canada have gone into the piratical line on Lake Erie, and seized two small steamers, the Parsons and Island Queen. They skuttled the former and burnt the latter off Detroit. Of course the British authorities can have no sympathy with these scoundrels, and ought at once, without any demand from our government, to expel the whole brood.

"Give us a cessation of hostilities for only three months," said a rebel prisoner the other day, "and we can fight you five years longer."

The following Massachusetts regiments are supposed to be with Gen. Sheridan in the Shenandoah Valley: 26th, 30th, 34th, 37th, 38th and 41st (3d Cavalry). There are also, we believe, several Massachusetts Batteries with him.

Major B. F. Watson, of Lawrence, who served with credit as Lieut. Colonel of the gallant 6th, in its first campaign, and who has since held the position of paymaster, has, on account of some bodily injury, received while in service, resigned.

Two deserters from Lee's army whose home was Atlanta, remarked, on reaching our lines—"When we heerd you'd gut thar we kincluded Jeff. Davis war a dead coon."

Deserters report Lee's army to be reduced to 40,000, independent of Early's command.

Fisher's Hill, the scene of Sheridan's last victory, is a short distance beyond Strasburg, and is a field on which it is reasonable to suppose that the enemy had the ground greatly in his favor. It is a position that Early long ago chose to fight upon when he should be forced to fight anywhere near it. It will be remembered that when forced up the valley in August, and just before he received his last reinforcement from Lee, he had concentrated his force at this point and evidently intended to dispute our passage there. He had then, probably, reconnoitered and studied the ground on which he has now been beaten; for all his advantages of position and fortification have not enabled him to arrest the triumphant progress of Sheridan's victorious columns. The Richmond Dispatch, in admitting Early's defeat on Monday, said he had fallen back to Fisher's Hill, where he held an impregnable position and would advance on Sheridan. By this time, probably, the Dispatch sings another tune.

ARREST FOR PASSING COUNTERFEIT BILLS.—This community was taken completely by surprise, on Wednesday, at hearing that JOHN HALLIDAY, a young man who has for several years been employed as senior clerk in the Lynn post office, had been arrested in Boston for attempting to pass counterfeit money. It appears that he left the post office about eleven o'clock on Wednesday forenoon, saying to Mr. Chase, the postmaster, that he was going to Mt. Auburn. Upon arriving in Boston, he went at once to the office of George H. Gooding, broker, No. 16 State street, and offered for exchange a counterfeit one hundred dollar bill on the Pawtuxet Bank, of Providence, R. I.—Mr. Gooding at once detected the spurious nature of the bill, and sent for an officer, while he detained Halliday in conversation. After being conveyed to the office of Chief of Police, Halliday offered considerable resistance when a search was commenced upon his person. It required two severe blows to open his clenched hand, in which was found a sheet of seven counterfeit bills like that which he had attempted to pass, but uncut and unsigned. He refused to tell where he obtained them, and was committed to the Tombs. On Thursday he was arrigned in the Police Court, when he waived the reading of the complaint, and also an examination, and in default of bail in the sum of one thousand dollars was committed to jail, to await his trial at the October term of the Superior Court. Halliday, who is about twenty-five years of age, has up to the present time maintained an excellent character, and had the fullest confidence of his employer and all who knew him, as an honest and upright young man. It is supposed that he has been led astray by some villain, who first tempted and then lured him on to destruction. In this community, at least, suspicion rests strongly upon one whose previous conduct has made him amenable to the charge of being capable of any act, however dark and damning. It is a sad case, and the sympathies of our citizens are with the afflicted family who have been stricken with sorrow by the criminal act of one of its loved members.—Lynn Reporter.

PEABODY'S double column advertisement attracts the eye by the nice display it makes. It is an invitation to the public to call at his store and see his rich and varied display of goods.—Where one person reads his sign on the street, thousands read it in the newspaper. It is no matter how well a business man is known, he can always pick up new customers if he will only take the pains to advertise; for by neglecting the means of securing trade he loses the best of profits. Whenever you find persons doing a big business, distancing all competitors in the quality and prices of goods, on account of enormous sales, you will invariably find that they believe in advertising liberally, and put in practice what they believe.

THE COMINGE ELECTION.

The relative strength of the several States in the electoral college has been considerably changed since the last Presidential election, by the decennial re-appointment. Maine had 8 votes in 1860, and in 1864 will have but 7. Massachusetts also loses 1, falling from 13 to 12 votes; New York drops from 35 to 33; Pennsylvania loses 1; Ohio loses 2, and Kentucky 1. Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, N. Carolina, S. Carolina, Texas, Tennessee, and Virginia will not be heard of in the electoral college. The vote of California will be increased from 4 to 5 votes; Illinois will advance from 11 to 16 votes; Iowa which had 4 votes in 1860, will now have 8; Wisconsin will have 8 instead of 5; Michigan increases 2 votes, and Kansas with her three votes will be added to the college. The following is an accurate statement of the number of votes to which each State likely to participate in the election will be entitled:

Maine	7	Indiana,	13
New Hampshire	5	Illinois,	16
Massachusetts,	12	Michigan,	8
Rhode Island,	4	Vermont,	5
Connecticut,	6	Iowa,	8
New York,	33	Minnesota,	4
Wisconsin,	8	Kansas,	3
New Jersey,	7	Kentucky,	11
Pennsylvania,	26	Missouri,	11
Delaware,	3	California,	5
Maryland,	7
Oregon,	3		226
Ohio,	21

The total number of votes to which these States are entitled to is 226. A majority of this electoral college is necessary to an election, and that majority is 114 votes.

In connection with this article we give the National and State tickets of the Union Republican and Democratic National parties. It may be convenient to refer to before the campaign is over:

Union Republican Nominations.

ELECTION Nov. 8, 1864.

For President,
ABRAHAM LINCOLN, of Illinois.
For Vice-President,
ANDREW JOHNSON, of Tennessee.
For Electors at Large,
EDWARD EVERETT, of Boston.
WHITING GRISWOLD, of Greenfield.

STATE NOMINATIONS.

For Governor,
JOHN A. ANDREW, of Boston.
For Lt. Governor,
JOEL HAYDEN, of Williamsburg.
Secretary of Commonwealth,
OLIVER WARNER, of Northampton.
Treasurer and Receiver General,
HENRY K. OLIVER, of Salem.
Auditor,
LEVI REED, of Abington.
Attorney General,
CHESTER I. REED, of Taunton.

Democratic National Nominations.

For President,
GEORGE B. McCLELLAN, of New Jersey.
For Vice-President,
GEORGE H. PENDLETON, of Ohio.
Electors at Large,
ROBERT C. WINTHROP, of Boston,
ERASMUS D. BEACH, of Springfield.

STATE NOMINATIONS.

For Governor,
HENRY W. PAINE, of Cambridge.
For Lieutenant Governor,
THOMAS F. PLUNKETT, of Pittsfield.
Secretary of State,
F. O. PRINCE, of Winchester.
Treasurer and Receiver General,
NATHAN CLARK, of Lynn.
Auditor,
MOSES BATES, of Plymouth.
Attorney General,
S. O. LAMB, of Greenfield.

HARPER'S MONTHLY FOR OCTOBER is received from E. B. Waitt, Danvers. It opens with a traveller's sketch, entitled "A Tour through Arizonia," beautifully illustrated. It also contains an article of peculiar interest to our locality, entitled "Scenes in the War of 1812," relating to "Privateering." At the head of the article is a view of the harbor of Marblehead. Many facts and incidents relative to the Salem Privateers are given.

ATLANTIC MONTHLY.—This magazine for October is received, and sustains its own past high reputation, which is saying a great deal. The announcement comes that with this number the price is raised to $4. This would be fatal to a new enterprise, but the ATLANTIC has long since become one of the necessaries of life and it cannot be dispensed with.

THE CONTINENTAL.—This periodical for October is before us and gives a very acceptable table of contents. We can say of this magazine that it has been constantly improving since its first start, and it has at last settled down as a first class periodical. It is constantly enlisting able and interesting writers, whose productions are well suited to cultivated readers.

GODEY'S LADY'S BOOK for October has four engravings, the Fairy's Court, the young Draught Players, grand Fashion Plate, and a ludicrous wood cut of Leap Year. Owing to the high price of paper, the publisher is to raise the club price, to a rate not yet stated.

MESSRS. BROWNING & LONG have at their store a most elaborate display of Worsted Work, said by good judges to be one of the finest ever shown in the city.

SALEM.

MAJ. GEN. BURNSIDE passed through Salem on Wednesday afternoon, on his way from West Beach to Rhode Island. A large concourse of spectators gathered at the depot in anticipation of his arrival, and, when the train arrived, the General was greeted with hearty cheers. He appeared on the platform of the rear car, and, shaking many of the hands offered him, returned thanks to the citizens for the generous welcome they had given him, and said he rejoiced with them at one of the greatest victories of the war, achieved by one of the greatest Generals of the war, who, notwithstanding some thought he might be a little slow, he had always been confident would strike a decisive blow when the opportunity offered. We may meet, he said, with some little temporary reverses; but he declared his conviction that important blows would be struck within the next three months, which would be followed up till this rebellion was crushed.

When the General had concluded his little speech, the cheers were renewed, and he submitted pleasantly to what must have been the irksome task of shaking hundreds of offered hand. The company from the Salem forts was drawn up in line and saluted him, and, as the train moved slowly on its way again, the cheers were once more repeated with heartiness and good will.—Gazette.

WELCOME HOME AGAIN. We are pleased to learn that John Kinsman, Esq., after an absence of some years in Ohio, is about to resume his residence in this city, having purchased an estate on Bridge Street. There are few men among us who by their enterprise and public spirit have done more for our city than Mr. Kinsman, and he will receive a cordial welcome.—Observer.

TARGET PRACTICE.—The heavy guns at Fort Lee were fired on Friday at a target stationed at a considerable distance out in the water.—The shots were good line shots and struck with sufficient precision to show that it would be quite dangerous for any belligerent vessel to attempt an entrance into our harbor. A gusty wind prevailed at the time which increased the difficulty of obtaining accurate results.—Reg.

On Thursday our streets were enlivened by a visit from Engine Co. No. 6, of Portsmouth, accompanied by the Brass Band of that place; they made a fine appearance as they passed our office. Engine Co. No. 3, of this city, extended them hospitality.—Ib.

DISTRICT CONVENTION.—The Republican Convention to nominate for Representative to Congress and Electors from this District, is called to meet in this city, at Lyceum Hall, on Thursday, October 6th.

SUDDEN DEATH.—The community were pained to learn Friday morning of the sudden death of George A. Ward, Esq., of this city, at his residence on Thursday evening, of heart disease. He was moving about with his usual animation and geniality of spirit during the day at the horticultural exhibition, in the rooms of the Essex Institute, and in the course of the evening passed away. The last day of a life of singular felicity of spirit and temperament was most appropriately spent in that beautiful scene of flowers and fruits, and contributing to the enjoyment of the friendly throngs who gathered to witness it. Of the traits of Mr. Ward's character, of his ingenuous virtues, of his varied knowledge, of his noble nature, it is impossible to speak at length in a brief obituary. Descended from an ancestry identified with the history of Salem, he returned last October after an absence of forty years to the home of his birth and early life, and enjoyed as few hearts were so capable of enjoying, a reunion with the friends of his youth, and diffused his own spirit of enthusiasm in all that relates to the welfare and improvement of society into the whole community.—Observer.

The recent report as to the blowing up the flag-ship Hartford is a heartless hoax.

Republican Union Caucus.

The Republicans of South Danvers are requested to meet in TOWN HALL, next MONDAY EVENING, Oct. 3d, at 7½ o'clock, to elect delegates to attend the District Convention, to be holden in Salem, the 6th day of October, for the purpose of nominating a candidate for Representative to the Thirty-ninth Congress, and also to nominate a candidate for Presidential Elector.

The basis of the Convention will be one for every two hundred voters, and one for every majority fraction.

Per order of Rep. Town Committee.
FRANCIS BAKER, Chairman.

The Board of Government
OF THE
YOUNG MEN'S UNION, OF SALEM,

Take pleasure in announcing to the Members and to the Public generally that they have made arrangements for a Course of Lectures and a Series of Concerts, to be given at MECHANIC HALL, on alternate Monday Evenings, during the coming winter.

The list of Lecturers will consist of some of the most distinguished names in the lecture field. The Concerts will be of a high order, by artists and amateurs of Boston and Salem, and will be more particularly advertised in future papers.

Tickets to each course, $1.00. A few tickets may be had at the apothecary store of Thomas A. Sweetser, No. 37 Main Street.

Sept. 28th, 1864. 3w

Episcopal Services.

Divine Service, according to the order of the Protestant Episcopal Church, will be held in the Town Hall on Sunday evening next, and on every following Sunday until further notice. Service to commence at 7 o'clock. All interested are affectionately invited to attend.

Notice.

Members of the South Danvers Musical Association, who have Books belonging to the Association, are requested to leave them at R. W. Wilkinson's Store, in the Bank Building.

Per Order of the Directors.
South Danvers, Sept. 27th, 1864. 2w*

BARGAINS IN GENT'S UNDER-SHIRTS, DRAWERS, HOSIERY, &c.—Bought early in the season and will be sold at the Very Lowest Prices.

GEORGE S. WALKER,
228 Essex St., Salem.

U. S. 7-30 LOA

The Secretary of the Treasury gives notice t
scriptions will be received for Coupon Treasur payable three years from Aug. 15th, 1864, with s nual interest at the rate of seven and three-te cent. per annum, principal and interest both to
in lawful money.

These notes will be convertible at the opti holder at maturity, into six per cent. gold beari payable not less than five nor more than twe
from their date, as the Government may ele
will be issued in denominations of $50, $1 $1,000 and $5,000, and all subscriptions must ty dollars, or some multiple of fifty dollars.

The notes will be transmitted to the owne transportation charges as soon after the rece original Certificates of Deposit as they ca
pared.

As the notes draw interest from August 1 making deposits subsequent to that date mu interest accrued from date of note to date of Parties depositing twenty-five thousand d upwards for these notes at any one time will b a commission of one-quarter of one per ce will be paid by the Treasury Department up ceipt of a bill for the amount, certified to by with whom the deposit was made. No dedu commissions must be made from the deposits.

SPECIAL ADVANTAGES OF THIS

IT IS A NATIONAL SAVINGS BANK, offering
rate of interest than any other, and THE BES
TY. Any savings bank which pays its depo
S. Notes, considers that it is paying in the bes ing medium of the country, and it CANNOT thing better, for its own assets are either in g securities or in notes or bonds payable in g
paper.

It is equally convenient as a temporary or investment. The notes can always be sold a fraction of their face and accumulated in are the best security with banks as collater
counts.

Convertible into a Six per cent. 5-20 G

In addition to the very liberal interest o for three years, this privilege of conversi worth about three per cent. per annum, for rate for 5-20 Bonds is not less than NINE PREMIUM, and before the war the premium cent. U. S. stocks was over twenty per cent.
seen that the actual profit on this loan, at market rate, is not less than ten per cent. p

ITS EXEMPTION FROM STATE OR MUNICIPAL

But aside from all the advantages we hav
ed, a special Act of Congress EXEMPTS ALL TREASURY NOTES FROM LOCAL TAXATIO average, this exemption is worth about per annum, according to the rate of taxatio
parts of the country.

It is believed that no securities offer so g
ments to lenders as those issued by the Go
In all other forms of indebtedness, the fa of private parties, or stock companies, or s
munities, only, is pledged for payment, wh property of the country is held to secure t
of all the obligations of the United States.

While the government offers the most
for its loans, it believes that the very str will be to the loyalty and patriotism of the Duplicate certificates will be issued for a

The party depositing must endorse upon th certificate the denomination of notes
whether they are to be issued in blank or der. When so endorsed it must be left w receiving the deposit, to be forwarded to t Department.

SUBSCRIPTIONS WILL BE RECEIVED by t of the United States, at Washington, the sistant Treasurers and designated Deposit
the

First National Bank of Salem, Mass.
First National Bank of Boston, Mass.
Second National Bank of Boston, Mas
Third National Bank of Boston, Mass
National Bank of the Republic, Bosto
Boston National Bank, Boston, Mass.
First National Bank of Amesbury, M
First National Bank of Haverhill, Ma
First National Bank of Newburyport,
And by all National Banks which are d
public money, and

ALL RESPECTABLE BANKS AND
throughout the country will give furthe
and
AFFORD EVERY FACILITY TO SU
August 17, 1864.—3m

Port of Danve

Ar 19th, schs Ada Herbert, C
Susan & Mary, Hall, New York;
Thayer, Rockland.

Marriages.

In this town, Sept. 23, by Rev ford, Alonzo Raddin to Miss M both of S. D.

In Danvers, Sept. 20, by Rev J
Lieut. B. E. Newhall to Miss Ma ter of Joseph W. Ropes Esq.

In Salem, Sept. 16th, Mr. Willi to Miss Lydia K. Clough; 19th, M tin of Salem, to Miss Martha Wh
22d, Mr. A. Franklin Hitchings
E. Lewis; 24th, Mr. Alfred Se
Ann Parker.

In Lynn, Sept. 6th, by Rev.
Chelsea, Mr. George F. Jacobs
Jane Williams, both of South Da

Deaths.

[Deaths are recorded gratuito funeral notices are charged 25 cen poetry and notices are chargeable line.]

In this town, Sept. 8th, Lou wife of James Thurston, aged 67
16th, Mr. Joshua J. Whipple, 3
20th, Nathaniel P. Symonds, 6
24th, Samuel Ham, Esq., 63 ye
27th, Mr. R. Morrill, 70 years.

In Salem, Sept. 22d, George A
71 years 5 months 24 days; 23d
Blanchard, 80 yrs 6 mos; Miss R
44 yrs; 25th, Henry Hubon Esq.
25 days; 26th, Mrs. Julia, wife
Murphy, 37 yrs; Mrs. Rebecca G entery, 87 yrs 8 mos 8 days.

In Beverly, Sept. 22d, Mr. Ma
79 years 7 months.

In Haverhill, Sept. 18, Miss Na
59 years; 19th, Mrs. Sarah Leon the late Hon. Joseph E. Sprague
years.

In Topsfield, Sept. 16, of dys
M., son of Amasa F. and Debor worth, aged 1 year 7 months 21

> Yes, it is well—though never n
> His infant form to earth be g
> He rests where sin and grief a
> And we shall meet our child

☞ Goods received for LEWAN
DYE HOUSE. M.
Jan 20 tf

Col. Pierson, of the 39th, is will soon leave for his home i health will permit.

e, Overcoats, $60, $55, $50,
38, $35, $33, $32, $30, $28,
$26, $19, $18, $17, $16, $15,
1, $10. One Price only at
14 & 15 Dock Square, Boston.

Clothing call at BENNETT & ouse, 14 and 15 Dock Square, le Pants, $17, $16, $15, $14,

$10, $9, $8, $7.50, $7, $6.50,
$4.50, $4, $3.50, $3, $2.50, at s One Price House, 14 and 15
ston.

s' Furnishing Goods, Shirts
a garment made to order, call
Co.'s One Price House, 14 and
Boston.

Advertisements.

HEAP STORE.

s Day a New and Desirable Stock

S GOODS,

and Splendid Styles,

STING IN PART OF CCAS, CASHMERES,
ALPACCAS, DeLAINES,
IT PLAIDS,
ENCH CHECKS,
For Children.
LS, BALMORAL SKIRTS,
LANNEL, WHITE FLAN-
URY FLANNEL, &c., &c.

THE CHEAP STORE.
STREET, SALEM,
ite Museum Building.)
J. E. P. FEARING.

N AND WINTER
Y GOODS.

aines, Plaids, Poplins, Alpaccas, Co-
and many other styles for Dresses:

ND HOUSEKEEPING GOODS.

nbleached Cottons, different widths,
s, Wool and Cotton and Wool Flaniety and color.
wool Cassimeres and Doeskins, for wear.
s, Yarns, Umbrellas, &c., &c.; sold at for the Cash, at
238 Essex Street.
GEO. P. DANIELS.
, 1864.

W INKSTAND.

ent Inkstand claims the following ad-
It is not complicated—No trouble to t out of order—It is very economical poration—Does not require frequent asily operated—It is easily cleaned—or use—Keeps the Ink free from exand limpid—it is both ornamental r sale by
G M WHIPPLE & A A SMITH.

EAD IN CANS.

D in Cans from 1 to 10 lbs. each, for
S C & E A SIMONDS'S,
32 Front st, Salem.

ED TO HIRE,

term of years, a COTTAGE HOUSE pleasantly located in Danversport, er. Rent of no consequence, provid-satisfactory.
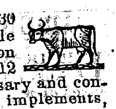
S. at this office, stating terms, etc.
s, Sept 28. tf

TO LET.



good FARM of about 30
es, situated about a mile m So. Danvers Square, on Old Boston Road, with 12
ws, and all other necessary and connient live stock, farming implements,
Here is a rare chance for an experi-
The best of references required.
culars can be learned on application to
SIDNEY C. BANCROFT.
rs, Sept 28. 3tis

STURGIS'

RIC COMPOUND,

ctual External Remedy for

URALGIA

—AND—

EUMATISM.

), INVALUABLE FOR

ritation, Ague in the Face,
he, Pain in the Side, Back,
Limbs, Ear, Ague, &c.

Advantages of this Medicine are the following:

is very rapid—in most cases instantaal in its application, and the patient runs ng it. It does not strike to the stomach, the nerves and muscles, as it is believed icine does.
d some of the most violent and obstinate ralgia ever known.
sed on a child or an aged person alike.
very powerful, it is perfectly harmless.
ietor has been allowed to publish the y persons who have used the COMPOUND t beneficial results. He inserts a few of are among the most respectable citizens d other places, and their residences and siness are given.
roe, late of Boston Recorder.
llen, 119 Washington St., house 55 Ruth-et.
Tract Society, 40 Cornhill.
den, 408 Washington Street, Boston, firm
, Morse & Boyden.
Brewster, Publisher of Boston Traveller.

wing letter from one of our best citizens or itself:
PH E. BARRY, the children's missionary of the recipient a few weeks since of a bot-IS's ELECTRIC COMPOUND, for Neuralgia,
, &c., and having experienced great ben-use, and having known of many severe above complaints where it produced cures, his duty to make known to his friends and g so unfortunate as to be troubled with le complaints, the virtue of this preparaept. 15, 1863. JOSEPH E. BARRY.

BLE CURE OF NEURALGIA.—The following licited,) was received by the proprietor in

CAMP ROGERS, Newbern, May 6, 1863.
I have been for some weeks suffering vere attack of Neuralgia, the severity of caused me to be in "perfect agony," both ay. Having heard of STURGIS'S ELECTRIC from a "companion in arms," I was in-ye it a trial, which had the happy effect to cure me. I am surprised that surgeons ve it in the army, as there is a constant deuch an invaluable relief. I make this state-e public good, and I have no scruples about this as a recommendation to other victims ful disorder.
respectfully, JOSEPH HOUGHTON,
Co. D, 43d Reg't Mass. Vols.

Sale by all Druggists.

—6mo.

ORE TO LET.

ore now occupied by Messrs. Blake & Holon the corner of Washington and Main Sts.
located and most convenient store in town rocery business. Possession given immedi-pply to
R. S. DANIELS.
Danvers, Sept 21.

J. F. Almy & Co.

HOSIERY, GLOVES, &C., &C.

WE have just received a full stock of
GENT'S WOOL SOCKS,
AND LADIES' AND MISSES' HOSIERY,
in best makes, at low prices.
Also—a fine stock of Ladies' Silk, fleece lined and Cloth GLOVES, in all grades and sizes.
We have received this morning a line of
GENT'S SHIRT FRONTS,
in fine qualities.
We heve received this morning a fine stock of
BLANKETS,
comprising a variety of makes.
We have in stock a full line of American and Foreign CLOTHS, suitable for
WINTER CLOAKS,
which we are prepared to make to order, from measure, for Ladies or Children, in any style.
The prices throughout our whole stock are low in comparison to the present ruling rates.

JAMES F. ALMY & CO.,
188 Essex Street, opposite Central Street.
Salem, September 21st, 1864.

AUTUMN GOODS.

SHAWLS,
—AND—
DRESS GOODS.

BLANKETS,
QUILTS,
AND
HOUSE-KEEPING GOODS.

CLOTHS,
DOESKINS,
OVER-COATINGS,
—AND—
CLOAK CLOTHS,

For sale by
THOMAS W. DOWNING & CO.,
Sept. 28. 179 Essex street, Salem.

1864 FALL AND WINTER 1864

CLOTHING.

L. D. BOISE & CO.,
154 Washington Street,
(Five doors south of Milk St.,)
BOSTON,

Invite attention to their LARGE STOCK of FASHIONABLE CLOTHING,
FOR MEN'S AND BOYS' WEAR,
Which they offer at wholesale or retail
AT THE LOWEST CASH PRICES.

Also a full assortment of
PIECE GOODS,
Which will be made to measure in the latest style, from the choicest AMERICAN FABRICS, as well as the most desirable selections of FOREIGN CLOTHS.

Arrangements have been made for manufacturing

Boys' Clothing

more extensive than heretofore, having secured the services of Mrs. S. B. WARD, (formerly with J. Walter Read,) who will superintend this department, where may be found an extensive assortment of READY-MADE CLOTHING for Boys' and Youth, and a full assortment of CLOTHS for Custom manufacture.

FURNISHING GOODS.

The Furnishing Goods Department contains the usual assortment of Goods for Gents' and Boys' wear, in almost endless variety.

L. D. BOISE & CO., flatter themselves that they can furnish Ready-Made Clothing at as LOW FIGURES
as at any similar establishment. The Goods are of our own manufacture, and are Fully Equal to Custom Garments.

They can also offer EXTRA INDUCEMENTS in Custom Clothing.
Naval and Military Uniforms made at short notice.
Call when in the city and examine the Stock.

REMEMBER THE NUMBER,
154 Washington Street,
Sept. 28. BOSTON.

GENTLEMEN'S HATS.

FALL STYLES.

ONE of the best selected assortments of FALL and WINTER HATS in Boston, may be found at
J. A. JACKSON'S,
59 Tremont and 101 Court Sts.
COMPRISING
Dress Silk Hats,
Fine Felt Hats, and
Cloth Hats and Caps,
of all the latest styles.
HATS AND CAPS FOR BOYS.
N. B.—A large and well assorted stock of Ladies' and Gentlemen's FURS.

JACKSON'S,
101 Court St. and 59 Tremont St.,
Sept. 28. BOSTON.

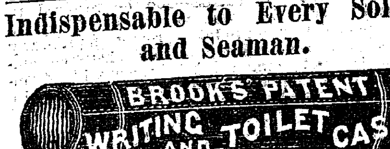
List of Letters

REMAINING unclaimed in the Post Office at South Danvers, Mass., Sept. 26th, 1864.
☞ "To obtain any of these letters, the applicant must call for ADVERTISED LETTERS, give the date of this list, and pay one cent for advertising.
☞ "If not called for within one month, they will be sent to the Dead Letter Office.
☞ Office Hours from 7 A. M. to 8 P. M.

Ellen M Buxton	Mary E Hammond
Clarissa Averill	Chas. Lewis
Phebe Blair	E C Newhall
Nathaniel Cross	Hannah R Osborn
Anna R Colburn	J M Sawyer
Elizabeth Gleason	Geo J Reed
E H Johnson	Lizzie M Sawyer

DANIEL WOODBURY, P. M.

Indispensable to Every Soldier and Seaman.



EASILY carried in the coat pocket. Supplied by the manufacturers at the old price—$2.
D. B. BROOKS & BROTHER,
201 Essex Street, Salem, Mass.
Those who have friends in the Army of the Potomac can have them sent to them free of postage. sept 7

A. J. Archer & Co

WOOLENS. WOOLENS.

OVER-COATINGS;
COAT AND PANT CLOTHS;
LOW PRICED WOOLENS;
FOR MEN'S AND BOYS' WEAR.
For sale by
AUGUSTUS J. ARCHER & CO.,
sept 21 181 Essex st.

BLANKETS. BLANKETS.

A FINE assortment of the Best Makes,
—For sale by—
AUGUSTUS J. ARCHER & CO.,
Sept. 21, 1864. 181 Essex st.

FROM
The Celebrated Degen in Bavaria, and secured for us by
MR. J. MAYER,
when in Germany,
WHO SELECTED EVERY ARTICLE FOR ITS PECULIAR ELEGANCE.
OVER 200 PIECES
Magnificent Worsted Embroideries,
Making the Finest Variety of ELEGANT WORSTED WORK ever shown in one collection, NOW ON VIEW AT
BROWNING & LONG'S
To which the Ladies are respectfully invited.
No Hall of Art ever presented a more artistic exhibition. Salem, Sept. 21, 1864.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

MESSRS. BROWNING & LONG
HAVE received their own importation of GENUINE
German Zephyr Worsted.

It will be gratifying to their customers to know that their present assortment surpasses anything ever seen in Salem.

Elegant New and Delicate Shades!
NEW PURPLE, AZULINE, GOLD AND STEEL, MAUVE, FAWN, MAIZE, WINE AND CUIR.

MAGNIFICENT COLORS!

The superiority of BERLIN ZEPHYR is too well known to need comment. Our present stock is in advance of all previous seasons.

We make this a great specialty, and, therefore, can offer a greater variety and more perfect assortment.

Many colors are entirely new, and the shades really near perfection.

We show the greatest stock ever displayed in
ONE ESTABLISHMENT
in this vicinity.

Our Prices are, with a very slight advance, as same as those of the Summer, and as low as GOOD WORSTEDS can be sold anywhere in the country.

Every shade in our great assortment has a different number, and, having a sufficient quantity of each on hand, we are able, at any time of the season, to match any color.

BROWNING & LONG,
177 Essex Street, 177
SALEM.
Salem, Sept. 21, 1864.

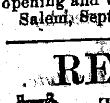
AUTUMN STYLES.

WE are now prepared to show our customers a fine assortment of
FALL MILLINERY GOODS.
REITH & CO'S,
No. 2 West Block, 188 Essex St.,
Sept 21 SALEM, MASS.

197 REMOVAL. 197

Gentlemen's Clothing,
YOUTH'S AND BOYS' CLOTHING,
—AND THE—
FURNISHING GOODS ESTABLISHMENT,
of the subscriber is removed to
197 Essex Street.
Store lately occupied by Mr. JOHN MCKEY.
☞ A full and fresh assortment of GOODS is now opening and will be kept up as the season advances.
Salem, Sept 21. T. H. LEFAVOUR.

REAL ESTATE.



The subscriber offers for sale the following Lots of Land, with the buildings thereon, at Private Sale, until October next, when, if not previously sold, they will be put up at auction.
On Lowell street, a two story DWELLING HOUSE, fitted for two families. This is the Estate formerly known as the Southwick Tavern.
On Lowe street, leading from Foster St. to Washington St., a two story TENEMENT for two families with a garden attached to it.
On Washington street, near the residence of Capt. Lowe, a very eligible BUILDING LOT, on the North side of the street.
On Tremont street, a small COTTAGE HOUSE for one or two families.
On Walnut street, a pleasant, elevated Lot of Land, with a large Barn, situated opposite Mr. Caller's Currying Shop.
In the rear of the above TWO TENEMENT HOUSES.
For particulars apply to
jy 27 WILLIAM SUTTON.

WHITE LEAD.

FOREST River White Lead and New York White Lead, for sale in any quantity, at sep 21 S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS', 32 Front st.

George S. Walker.

For Fall and Winter Wear.

GEORGE S. WALKER would invite special attention to his complete stock of Gentlemen's Furnishing Goods.
Under Garments, Scarfs,
Hosiery, Ties,
Shirts, Collars, Gloves,
Wool Under Shirts, Umbrellas, &c.
Giving my exclusive attention to this department of trade, customers may be sure of finding at ALL times the LARGEST STOCK and the LOWEST PRICES in the city.
SHIRTS and COLLARS made to order.
GEORGE S. WALKER,
No. 228 Essex St., opp. Eastern Railroad Station.
Salem, Sept. 14, 1864.

Potter, Bachelder & Co.,
DANVERS-PORT and SOUTH DANVERS,
DEALERS IN
WOOD AND COAL.
Constantly on hand
Franklin, Burnside, Diamond, } RED ASH.
Old Company & Packer's Lehigh, Pliny Fisk, Webster and Locust Mountain, } WHITE ASH.
Also Cumberland, Pictou and Campbell for Steam and Smith's use.
OFFICE—No. 6 Allen's Building.
G. W. POTTER,
J. Q. A. BACHELDER,
C. T. BATCHELDER, mch 30

SPRING AND SUMMER GOODS.

168 ESSEX STREET.

WE invite the attention of the Ladies of Salem and vicinity, to our
New Millinery Goods.
Ladies' and Children's
BONNETS AND HATS,
in all desirable styles.
Crapes, Silks, Ribbons, Feathers, French Flowers, and Laces.
A full assortment of Straw Goods, Mourning Bonnets, Veils, Collars, &c., constantly on hand at the lowest cash prices.
M. E. CRANE,
Successor to M M FLETCHER,
Salem, April 6, 1864.

C. W. HALEY, M. D.,
Physician and Surgeon.
OFFICE—WARREN BANK BUILDING,
South Danvers.

M. A. PORTER,

236 Essex Street, - - - Salem, Mass.,
(Opposite Horse Railroad Office,)
MAKES TO ORDER BEST QUALITIES OF
WATCH SPRING SKIRTS.
A Good Assortment of Dress and Clock Button, Braids, Spool Cotton, Small Wares, and Thread Store articles generally.
236 Essex Street, - - - Salem, Mass.,
M. A. PORTER.

AARON T. LOWE,
DEALER IN
BOOTS, SHOES AND RUBBERS,
76 BOSTON STREET, 76.
aug 6 SALEM. tf

HOUSE OF EQUITY,

—BY—
Arnold & Hutchinson,
(Successors to C. T. Southwick.)

FIRST QUALITY
FAMILY GROCERIES,
Sold at the Lowest Prices.

A large and complete assortment of
CROCKERY AND GLASS WARE,
Constantly on hand.
Also FLOUR and GRAIN.
ASHLAND HALL BUILDING,
NO. 1 LOWELL STREET,
F. T. ARNOLD. B. F. HUTCHINSON.
South Danvers, Feb 3, 1864.

WINDOW GLASS.

GERMAN Window Glass, of all sizes, for sale by the box or light at 32 Front Street, Salem.

KNIVES AND FORKS.

TABLE Knives and Forks with Ivory Handles. Also Carvers, Forks and Steels, at No. 32 Front Street.

Village Bank.

THE Stockholders of this Bank are hereby notified that the annual meeting will be held at their Banking Rooms on MONDAY, the 3d day of October next, at 9 o'clock, A. M., for the following purposes:
1st. For the election of Directors.
2d. To act upon the subject of loans to the Directors, agreeably to the General Statutes, Chap. 57, Sec. 54.
3d. To see if they will vote with the required authority of two-thirds of the Capital Stock, to become an Association under the provisions of the act of Congress of the United States, entitled "An act to provide a National Currency secured by a pledge of United States bonds, and to provide for the circulation and redemption thereof," approved June 3, 1864, and to authorize the Directors, if they deem it expedient, to do all acts and things necessary to effect this object.
4th. To act on any other business that may legally come before them.
Per order, WM. L. WESTON, Cashier.
Danvers, Sept. 21, 1864. 2w

Warren Bank.

THE annual meeting of the Stockholders of this Bank will be holden at their Bank Rooms, on TUESDAY, October 4th, at 9 o'clock, A. M., for the choice of Directors for the ensuing year; to act upon the subject of loans to Directors; and to transact such other business as may legally come before them.
Notice is hereby given, that at a meeting of the Stockholders of this Bank, held June 8th, 1864, it was voted that said Bank become an Association for carrying on the business of Banking under the laws of the United States, and that the Directors have procured the authority of the owners of two-thirds of the capital stock to make the certificate required therefor by the laws of the United States.
Per order, FRANCIS BAKER, Cashier.
South Danvers, Sept. 21, 1864. 2w

Messenger's Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given that a warrant has been duly issued by the Judge of the Court of Insolvency, against the estate of PELATIAH LITTLEFIELD, of Salem, in the County of Essex, currier, an insolvent debtor, and that the payment of any debts, and the delivery of any property belonging to said insolvent debtor, to him or for his use, and the transfer of any property by him, are forbidden by law; A meeting of the creditors of said Insolvent Debtor, will be held at a Court of Insolvency, at Salem, in said County, at the Court House, on the 24th day of October next, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, for the proof of debts, and the choice of assignee or assignees.
DANIEL POTTER, Dep. Sheriff, Messenger.
Salem, Sept. 20, 1864. 2w

OATS. OATS.

5000 BUSHELS PRIME OATS, received this day, and for sale by
sept 7 GAYLE & CO., Phillips Wharf.

KID GLOVES--ONLY $1.25.

$1.25—We have a few pairs of Kid Gloves in black and colors, slightly damaged, which we will close at $1.25 per pair. The same kind that we are selling at $1.75. As they are not damaged to hurt, they are real bargains.

German Worsteds at Peabody's.

$1.25—We have a few of the best clouds that we shall close at our last year's price—$1.25. As the Jobbers are asking $19 per dozen, we cannot continue this price after our present stock is sold.

German Worsteds at Peabody's.

3 Cents—Knitting Needles only 3 cents—at Peabody's.

German Worsteds at Peabody's.

75 Cents—Best quality Kid Finished Silk Gloves for 75 cents per pair, at Peabody's.

German Worsteds at Peabody's.

5 Cents—Two Cakes nice Toilet Soap for 5 cts., at Peabody's.

German Worsteds at Peabody's.

5 Cents—10 pair Boot Lacets for 5 cents, at Peabody's.

German Worsteds at Peabody's.

6 Cents—12 Dozen Agate Buttons for 6 cts., at Peabody's.

German Worsteds at Peabody's.

$1 75 Cents—The best Paris Kid Gloves—only $1 75 per pair.

German Worsteds at Peabody's.

35 Cents—Nice Linen Hdkfs, with wide Hem, only 35 cents, at Peabody's.

German Worsteds at Peabody's.

11 Cents—The best Spool Cottons—200 yds warranted—on 11 cts—at Peobody's.

German Worsteds at Peabody's.

10 Cents—Best Sea Island Cotten—only 10 cents per Hank—at Peabody's, 220 Essex street.

German Worsteds at Peabody's.

40 Cents—Railroad Tickets for Boston for 40 cts. each, at J. P. Peabody's 220 Essex street.

German Worsteds at Peabody's,

15 Cents—Best Worsted Dress Braids—in all colors full pieces—only 15 cents at Peabody's.

German Worsteds at Peabody's.

8 Cents—Only 8 cents for a nice Horn Dressing Comb, at Peabody's.

German Worsteds at Peabody's.

38 Cents—Nice Cotton and Wool Ribb'd Hose, only 38 cents per pair, at Peabody's Ladies' Furnishing Store.

German Worsteds at Peabody's.

5 Cents—Two Spools or two Skeins of Silk for 5 cents, at Peabody's, 220 Essex street.

German Worsteds at Peabody's.

15 Cents—Embroidery Braid—12 yard pieces only 15 cents—at Peabody's 220 Essex street.

German Worsteds at Peabody's.

5 CENTS—The best Linen Tapes, only 5 cts. per piece, at Peabody's Hosiery and Glove Store.

German Worsteds at Peabody's.

6 CENTS—Nice Elastic Cords for 6 cents per yard, at Peabody's, 220 Essex st., Salem.

German Worsteds at Peabody's.

25 CENTS—Package of Old Brown Windsor Soap for 25 cents—Old price—at Peabody's, 220 Essex street.

German Worsteds at Peabody's.

10 CENTS—A good Tooth Brush for 10 cents, at Peabody's.

German Worsteds at Peabody's.

38 CENTS—A good Hair Brush for 38 cents, at Peabody's.

ONE PRICE ONLY AT PEABODY'S.

JOHN P. PEABODY.

220 ESSEX ST., SALEM.

Auction Sales.

WILLIAM ARCHER, Jr.,
Auctioneer, Real Estate and Stock Broker,
34 Front Street.
Real Estate, Bank, Railroad & Manufacturing Stock bought and sold on Commission.

ON SATURDAY NEXT, at 9½ o'clock will be sold at No. 34 Front street:
THE FURNITURE of a person breaking up house-keeping, consisting of Black Walnut Chamber set with Marble top Commode, stuffed Chairs and Sofa, Lounge, Black Walnut Sideboard, Mirrors, one White Dinner set, a quantity of Glass and Crockery Ware. Refrigerator; Cooking Stove and Fixtures; Bath Tubs, &c. Feather Beds, Mattrasses, stair and other Carpets; 1 superior parlor Billard Table, &c.

Horse Railroad Notice.

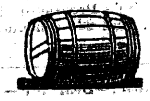
SUNDAY TIME.

HEREAFTER on Sunday, Horse Cars will leave Washington Street Station for Beverly at 9.12, 9.52, 10.32, 11.12, 11.52 A. M.; 12.32, 1.12, 1.52, 2.32, 3.12, 3.52, 4.32, 5.12, 5.52, 6.32, 7.12, 7.52, and 8.32 P. M.
Will leave Washington street station for South Danvers, at 9.07, 9.27, 9.47 A. M., and every twenty minutes till 9.07 P. M.
Cars leave South Danvers at 9.30, 9.50, and 10.10 A. M., and every 20 minutes till 9.30 P. M.
Leave Beverly at 9.40, 10.20, 11.00, 11.40 A. M.; 12.20, 1.00, 1.40, 2.20, 3.00, 3.40, 4.20, 5.00, 4.40, 6.20, 7.00, 7.40, 8.20, and 9.00 P. M.
Salem, Aug. 31, 1864. M. H. HALE, Supt.

M. FENOLLOSA,
TEACHER OF MUSIC,
LETS............PIANO FORTES,
at the lowest rates;
SELLS............PIANO FORTES,
at the Manufacturers Prices;
EXCHANGES....PIANO FORTES,
on the easiest terms;
At Rooms No. 7 Central street,
feb 11 SALEM, MASS.

NEW STORE!

Flour! Flour!



JUST RECEIVED, a fresh supply of CHOICE BRANDS, direct from the Mills, for sale, wholesale and retail, at LOWEST PRICES, by
E. F. OSBORN.
Sutton's Building, Main St.
South Danvers, Nov 18, 1863.

R. C. MANNING & CO.
Successors to JOHN DIKE & CO.,
DEALERS IN
COAL, WOOD, BARK, HAY, &c,
186 DERBY STREET,
SALEM, MASS.
N. C. ROBBINS, R. C. MANNING.
oct17

GEO. E. MEACOM,

Dealer in
DRUGS & MEDICINES,
Fancy & Toilet Articles, &c.,
126 MAIN ST. 126
Nearly opposite Danvers Bank, So. Danvers.

T. A. SWEETSER,
Druggist & Apothecary
37 Main St., So. Danvers,

DEALER IN
Drugs, Medicines, Chemicals, Foreign Leeches, Shakers' Herbs, Dye Stuffs, Gums, Acids, Sponges, Shoulder Braces, Trusses, and Genuine Patent Medicines,
Also, Imported Cigars of choice brands, Perfumery, Toilet Articles and Stationery.
Physicians' Prescriptions carefully prepared by experienced persons.
37 MAIN STREET.

D. P. GROSVENOR, Jr.,

Druggist and Apothecary,
38 MAIN STREET.
Dealer in Drugs, Medicines, Chemicals, Dye Stuffs, and Popular Proprietary Medicines.
Personal attention to Physicians' Prescriptions.
South Danvers, May 29, 1861. 1y

SELF-SEALING
AIR-TIGHT CASKET.

MR. CHARLES S. BUFFUM, Furnishing Undertaker of South Danvers, takes this method to announce that he has a new burial case, which combines all the advantages of a wooden receptacle with those of a metal one, and yet avoids the disadvantages of both. They have been used with great success, and bodies placed in them have been delivered in perfect preservation after having been transported over a thousand miles. To persons having deceased friends at the seat of war they are invaluable. They come at reasonable prices, are light and durable, and are perfectly air-tight. august 10

DR. J. H. BATCHELDER,
DENTAL SURGEON,
No. 20 Washington St., (near Eastern Railroad Depot), SALEM, MASS.
Is Licensed to make the New Patent Teeth on HARD RUBBER or VULCANITE.
July 1, 1864.

ANN R. BRAY,
76 Federal Street, Salem.

WE have just received our Fall and Winter Stock of Black Alpacas. They will compare with Rich Black Silks; a few of the pieces are very fine, with soft finish. Ladies are buying them in preference to Black Silks. sept 7 ANN R. BRAY.

T. HARDY, JR.,
—Dealer in—
DOORS, SASHES, BLINDS,
Glazed Sash, Painted Blinds,
FENCE PALES, STAIR BALUSTERS, FRAMING PINS, &c.,
No. 26 FRONT STREET,
Salem, January 14, 1863—tf.

EBEN UPTON,
Piano Fortes Tuned and Regulated,
MELODEONS AND PIANOS
BOUGHT AND EXCHANGED
For New Piano Fortes, at Wholesale Prices.
Orders left at G. CREAMER'S Bookstore, Salem.
July 27, 1864.—6m

Vitrified Stone Drain Pipe.

JUST received and for sale by the subscribers, 5000 feet of the above Pipe, the usual sizes suitable for drainage; the best in the market.
Apply to
B. B. WHITE, Mason, St. Peter Court, or F. P. GOSS, Plumber, No. 7 St. Peter st.
Salem, Aug. 3, 1864.—3m
tf

Special Notices.

BROCKSIEPER'S GAS REGULATOR!

30 PER CENT. SAVED.

Economy in the use of Gas, with the advantage of having a more brilliant light than heretofore, is a point at once desirable. Inventors have for many years sought to obtain this end by packing or checking in innumerable ways the flow of gas through the burner. Not one of these have attained the result wished for, viz:—a pure transparent flame without waste at any and all pressures obtained at any hour and in all localities. Those of our citizens who have taken the pains to examine Brocksieper's Patent Regulator, and have seen the gas ACTUALLY MEASURED THROUGH IT, are unanimous in its praise. We give below the names of a few of the merchants and others of Salem now using the Regulator:

Salem Register Office;
Salem Gazette Office;
Salem Statesman Office;
Salem Post Office;
Merchants Reading Room;
George Creamer, Bookseller;
Browning & Long, Dry Goods;
S. F. Rogers, Confectioner;
J. P. Peabody, Dry Goods;
Ingherson Palmer, Shoe Dealer;
Adams, Richardson & Co., Hardware;
Doctor Johnson;
Essex House;
Wm. Webb, Jr., Druggist;
Edward Brown, Sup't and Treas. Gas Co.

☞ Orders left at B. F. STEVENS' Jewelry Store, will be promptly attended to. The burner can also be examined there.

SEND FOR A CIRCULAR.

25,000 of these Regulators have been manufactured and sold in the Eastern States since February last; 150 are now in use in Salem. PRICE $1 EACH—6 AND OVER, 90 cents each. The article is warranted in every respect. Call and examine for yourselves. Our facilities for testing the genuineness of this improvement will at once convince the most skeptical.

JOSEPH CLOUTMAN,

OFFICE—Bowker Block, Essex st., up-stairs.

NOTICE.—We have this day appointed Mr. JOSEPH CLOUTMAN, of Salem, our sole agent for the sale of Brocksieper's Gas Regulator for the following places: Salem, South Danvers, Beverly, Marblehead and Gloucester, Mass. All orders for the article, at wholesale or retail, to receive attention, must come through him, and he will establish sub-agencies in the above named places.

HULL & GOODELL,
Sole Proprietors in the U. S.,
446 Broadway, N. Y., and 221 Washington st., Boston.
august 10—tf

EDITOR OF WIZARD:—Dear Sir,—With your permission I wish to say to the readers of your paper that I will send, by return mail, to all who wish it (free), a Recipe, with full directions for making and using a simple Vegetable Balm, that will effectually remove, in ten days, Pimples, Blotches, Tan, Freckles, and all Impurities of the Skin, leaving the same soft, clear, smooth and beautiful.

I will also mail free, to those having Bald Heads, or Bare Faces, simple directions and information that will enable them to start a full growth of Luxuriant Hair, Whiskers, or Moustache, in less than thirty days.

All applications answered by return mail without charge. Respectfully yours,

THOS. F. CHAPMAN, Chemist,
jy 13—3m 831 Broadway, New York.

BELL'S SPECIFIC PILLS.—WARRANTED IN ALL CASES.— —Can be relied on! Never fail to cure! Do not nauseate! Are speedy in action! No change of diet required! Do not interfere with business pursuits! Can be used without detection! Upward of 200 cures the past month—some of them very severe cases. Over one hundred physicians have used them in their practice, and all speak well of their efficacy, and approve of their composition, which is entirely vegetable, and harmless on the system. Hundreds of certificates can be shown.

BELL'S SPECIFIC PILLS are the original and only genuine Specific Pill. They are adapted for male and female, old or young, and the only reliable remedy for effecting a permanent and speedy cure in all cases of Spermatorrhea, or Seminal Weakness, with all its train of evils, such as Urethral and Vaginal Discharges, Gleet, the Whites, Nightly or Involuntary Emissions, Incontinence, Genital Debility and Irritability, Impotence, Weakness or Loss of Power, Nervous Debility, &c., &c., all of which arise principally from Sexual Excesses or Self-Abuse, or some constitutional derangement, and incapacitates the sufferer from fulfilling the duties of married life. In all sexual diseases, as Gonorrhea, Gleet, and Strictures, and in Diseases of the Bladder and Kidneys, they act as a charm! Relief is experienced by taking a single box. Sold by all the principal druggists. Price $1.

They will be sent by mail, securely sealed, and confidentially, on receipt of the money, by

J. BRYAN, M. D.,
No. 76 Cedar street, New York,

Consulting Physician for the treatment of Seminal, Urinary, Sexual, and Nervous Diseases, who will send, free to all, the following valuable work, in sealed envelope:

THE FIFTIETH THOUSAND.—DR. BELL'S TREATISE on Self-Abuse, Premature Decay, Impotence and Loss of Power, Sexual Diseases, Seminal Weakness, Nightly Emissions, Genital Debility, &c., &c., a pamphlet of 64 pages, containing important advice to the afflicted, and which should be read by every sufferer, as the means of cure in the severest stages is plainly set forth. Two stamps required to pay postage.

December 9, 1863—1yr.

IMPORTANT TO LADIES.—DR. HARVEY'S FEMALE PILLS have never yet failed in removing difficulties arising from obstruction, or stoppage of nature, or in restoring the system to perfect health when suffering from Spinal Affections, Prolapsus, Uteri, the Whites, or other weakness of the Uterine Organs. The Pills are perfectly harmless on the constitution, and may be taken by the most delicate female without causing distress—the same time they act like a charm by strengthening, invigorating and restoring the system to a healthy condition, and by bringing on the monthly period with regularity, no matter from what causes the obstruction may arise. They should, however, NOT be taken during the first three or four months of pregnancy, though safe at any other time, as miscarriage would be the result.

Each box contains 60 Pills. Price $1.

DR. HARVEY'S TREATISE on Diseases of Females, Pregnancy, Miscarriage, Barrenness, Sterility, Reproduction, and Abuses of Nature, and emphatically the Ladies' Private Medical Adviser, a pamphlet of 64 pages, sent free to any address. Six cents required to pay postage.

The Pills and book will be sent by mail when desired, securely sealed, and prepaid, by

J. BRYAN, M. D., General Agent,
No. 76 Cedar street, New York.

☞ Sold by all the principal druggists.
December 9, 1863—1yr.

VALUABLE REAL ESTATE.

THE Subscriber offers for sale the following Lots of Land, with the Buildings thereon, at private sale, until September next, when such as then remain unsold, will be offered at Public Auction:

A new and well built two-story DWELLING HOUSE, situated on English Street. This house is well supplied with the modern conveniences, is pleasantly situated on rising ground, and is a very desirable residence.

The MOROCCO FACTORY near the Southwick Tannery. The building is about 100 feet long by 40 wide, is well supplied with pure water and is an excellent place for the Morocco business or Currying.

Near the Morocco Factory are two TWO STORY BUILDINGS, which may be sold with the Factory, or separately. Together they are about 80 feet long by 20 wide.

On Walnut Street is the large BOARDING HOUSE, with the land adjoining, which is excellently well situated for what it is designed.

Several front LOTS for building purposes on Walnut Street, will be sold at moderate prices and fair terms.

A STORE HOUSE 70 by 25 feet on Walnut Street, with the land under and the rear of it. It can be easily adapted for a Curriers' Shop or for other kinds of business.

On Wallis Street, near the mill pond, a well built and painted MOROCCO FACTORY, all ready for occupancy. It is about 80 feet long by 25 wide, and in excellent repair.

Next to the Morocco Factory on the same street, a STORE BUILDING, strongly built, and framed for a DWELLING HOUSE, for which it could be easily adapted. It would make an excellent Shop for any kind of business.

Near ELM STREET, on a Court south of said Street, are two DWELLING HOUSES, planned for two families each. One is two stories high, the other one and a half. Both houses have good tenants and yield a good income, offering a good chance for investment.

Between Harris and English Streets, one One Story DWELLING House, and a One Story and a Half House.

The above is a most excellent opportunity for enterprising young men to secure places for business and dwelling houses, on reasonable terms. Such a chance may not soon again occur.

Persons desiring to purchase any of the above lots may learn the prices and terms on application to ANDREW S. PORTER, Elm Street.

SAMUEL D. PENDAR.
South Danvers, May 11, 1864. tf

Cards.

N. J. HOLDEN,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
Office, 27 Washington Street, Salem, Mass.

M. B. MANSFIELD,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
214 ESSEX STREET, SALEM, MASS.

_ Particular attention paid to procuring Pensions, Bounties, Back Pay, Prize Money, and Army and Navy Claims of all descriptions. March 2.

H. L. HADLEY,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
CORNER MAPLE AND ELM ST.,
Danvers.

Claims against the Government for Bounty, Back Pay, and Pensions, promptly attended to.

THOMAS M. STIMPSON,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
194 ESSEX STREET, SALEM.
Residence Lowell street, South Danvers.

B. C. PERKINS,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
South Danvers—Office in Allen's Building.

ALFRED A. ABBOTT,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
Office, No. 24 Washington Street, Salem.
House, Main St., So. Danvers.

SIDNEY C. BANCROFT,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
27 Washington Street, Salem.

H. O. WILEY,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
Office, Allen's Building, South Danvers.

Claims against the Government for Bounty, Back Pay, and Pensions, promptly attended to.

A. S. CRAWFORD,
Dentist,
No. 4 MAIN STREET, SO. DANVERS SQUARE
Mechanical Dentistry Neatly Executed.

W. L. BOWDOIN,
SURGEON DENTIST,
No, 208 Essex Street, Salem, (Opposite the Marke
Residence—No. 57 Washington street,
jan 11—1y

NEWMAN & SYMONDS,
DEALERS IN
Family Groceries, Flour & Grain,
HARD WARE AND CROCKERY,
Ready Made Clothing, Gents' Furnishing Goods,
Hats, Caps, Boots, Shoes, &c.,
South Danvers Square, opp. Congregational Church
SAM'L NEWMAN. RATHE SYMONDS.

S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS,
DEALERS IN
Crockery, China and Hardware; Paper Hangings; Solar and Entry Lamps · Paints, Oil and Window Glass.
No. 32 Front street, Lawrence Place,
feb13 SALEM, MASS.

HENRY L. WHIDDEN,
HOUSE AND SIGN PAINTER,
Glazier and Paperer,
Central Street, South Danvers.
All orders promptly and faithfully executed.
jan2-1y

JESSE SMITH
No. 262 Essex Street, Salem,
Importer and Dealer in
Gold and Silver Watches,
MARINE CHRONOMETERS,
Aueroid Barometers, Spy Glasses, &c.

WILLIAM BLANEY,
HOUSE & SIGN PAINTER
Grainer, Glazier and Paper Hanger,
164 MAIN STREET, Corner of Grove.
WINDOWS and BLINDS cheap for cash.
mch6-tf

F. POOLE
INSURANCE AGENT,
Allen's Building, (up stairs),
Deeds drawn, and other common forms.

HOUSEKEEPERS, ATTENTION!

JACKSON'S
KITCHEN FURNISHING ROOMS,
Under MECHANIC HALL, Salem.

Parties about commencing House-Keeping will find this the ONLY place in Salem where a COMPLETE ASSORTMENT of House-Keeping articles can be found.
dec 9, 1863.

Advertisements.

Skinner's Pulmonales

Immediately Relieve Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, loss of Voice, Bronchitis, Lassitude, Thirst and every symptom of the first stages of Pulmonary Consumption; they are white, in form of a wafer, and as suitable for the infant in the cradle as the patient of three score years and ten. Orators and all who overtax the vocal organs receive instant relief by their use. Sold by all Druggists. Prepared by E. M. SKINNER, Chemist, 27 Tremont St., Boston. sept 7—1y

SPALDING'S
ROSE
MARY

FOR FOURTEEN YEARS the Rosemary has held a high rank as pure, uniform and reliable. It is Warranted, 1st, To beautify the hair. 2d, To curl the hair elegantly. 3d, To remove dandruff effectually. 4th, To restore hair to bald heads. 5th, To force the beard and whiskers to grow. 6th, To prevent the hair from falling off. 7th, To cure all diseases of the scalp. 8th, To prevent the hair turning grey. 9th, To cure headache. 10th, To kill hair eaters. Sold everywhere. Prepared by EDW. M SKINNER, Chemist, 27 Tremont St., opposite the Museum, Boston, Mass. sept 7—1y

FURNITURE.

HAVING taken the Store No. 10 FRONT STREET, (formerly occupied by BENJAMIN COLMAN,) I shall keep constantly on hand a large stock of

NEW AND SECOND-HAND FURNITURE,
BEDDING, COUNTING-ROOM DESKS, &c., &c.,
which I will sell cheap for CASH.
ALL KINDS OF FURNITURE NEATLY REPAIRED.

☞ All kinds of FURNITURE and BEDDING wanted—for which the highest Cash price will be paid.

P. J. HYNES, 10 FRONT-ST.
Salem, April 6, 1864—1y

MORRIS'
RESTAURANT,
18 and 20 Derby Square, Salem.

Oysters, Clams, Steak, Poultry, Game, Fish, &c., &c., COOKED TO ORDER.
Pickled Oysters, Lobsters and Clams.
Salem, July 22, 1863. tf

Posting Books, Making Bills and Copying.

THE above business will be promptly and accurately performed by the subscriber, who may be found at Messers. CLARK & GIDDINGS' Counting Room on Wallis Street, near the Essex Depot, or by enquiring at this office. jy13 tf JOHN D. HOWARD.

THE TRAVELERS INS. CO.,

OF HARTFORD, CONN.
Capital - - - - $250,000.
Is now prepared to Insure persons against
ACCIDENTS
OF EVERY DESCRIPTION.

Yearly policies will be issued for a premium of FIVE DOLLARS, granting insurance to the amount of FIVE THOUSAND DOLLARS, against accidental loss of life while travelling by any public conveyance.

TEN DOLLARS PREMIUM

secures a policy for Five Thousand Dollars, and also twenty-five dollars per week compensation for personal injury incapacitating the assured from his ordinary business.

TWENTY-FIVE DOLLARS PREMIUM

secures a full policy for $5000 and $25 per week compensation for all and EVERY DESCRIPTION OF ACCIDENT, TRAVELLING OR OTHERWISE.

Policies for $5000 with $3 per week compensation, can be had for $3 per annum; or any other sum between $500 and $5000 at proportionate rates.

DIRECTORS:

Gustavus F. Davis,	W. H. D. Callender,
James L. Howard,	George W. Moore,
Marshal Jewell,	Ebenezer Roberts,
Thomas Belknap, Jr.,	Charles White,
Cornelius B. Irwin,	Hugh Harrison,
George S. Gilman,	Jonathan B. Bunce.

JAMES G. PATTERSON, President.
RODNEY DENNIS, Secretary.
HENRY A. DYER, General Agent.
PLUMBER & MERCER, AGENTS,
40 State Street, Boston.

Offices in Salem—JOHN H. DERBY, No. 24 Washington street; SAMUEL MACKINTIRE, No. 218 Essex street. Aug. 3, 1864—1yr*

R. W. WILKINSON,
DEALER IN
Newspapers, Periodicals, and Stationery of every Description.

FOREIGN and DOMESTIC FRUITS, consisting of Oranges, Lemons, Dates, Figs, Prunes, &c., &c.

Sauces, Pickles and Preserves; Castana, Naples and English Walnuts; Hard, Soft and Paper-shelled Almonds; choice brands of Tobacco and Cigars; also a general assortment of Confectionery of every description.

Also a large and well selected stock of Toys, suitable for children and the Holiday Gifts.

Ice Cream furnished to parties at short notice and in quantities to suit. Wedding Cake and every variety of nice cake furnished to parties or families.

STORE—WARREN BANK BUILDING.
South Danvers, Nov'r 11, 1863.

JUST ARRIVED,

AT DANVERS MILLS,

500 Bushels Corn, in the minnie cob, and will be sold in South Danvers. Constantly on hand a large stock of meal, which will be sold at the lowest Salem prices.

—ALSO ON HAND—
500 Bushels Feed;
200 Bushels prime Northern Oats;
100 Barrels choicest Family Flour.
A good stock of LIME constantly on hand.

JOHN C. MOULTON,
Central St., South Danvers, Mass.
May 25—tf.

THOMAS PINNOCK,
SLATER,
SALEM, MASS.

Orders may be left at his Yard, No. 25 Peabody St., or at his house No. 6 Hancock street, South Salem.

Roofs covered with any kind of Slates, according to order. All work warranted.

Salem, May 7, 1862. tf

HEYLINGBERG'S
Hair Dressing Saloon,
24 MAIN ST., SOUTH DANVERS.

J. J. HEYLINGBERG would announce to his patrons and the public generally, that on and after JUNE 1st, 1864, he will abide by the following

TARIFF OF PRICES:

Shaving,	10 cts,
Hair Cutting,	15 cts,
Champooing,	15 cts.

Particular attention paid to dying hair and whiskers, in one preparation, without washing or scrubbing.

South Danvers, May 11, 1864.

Putnam Clothes Wringer.

IT IS THE ONLY RELIABLE
SELF-ADJUSTING WRINGER
NO WOOD TO SWELL OR SPLIT.
NO THUMB SCREWS TO GET OUT OF ORDER.
Warranted with or without Cog-Wheels.

IT took the FIRST PREMIUM at fifty-seven State and County Fairs in 1863, and is, without an exception, the best Wringer ever made.

Patented in the United States, England, Canada and Australia. Agents wanted in every town, and in all parts of the world.

Sample Wringer sent, express paid, on receipt of price.

Energetic agents can make from 3 to 10 dollars per day.

No. 2, $6.50; No. 1, $7.50; No. F, $8.50; No. A, $9.50.

Manufactured and sold, wholesale and retail, by THE PUTNAM MANUFACTURING CO., No. 13 Platt Street, New York, and Cleveland, Ohio.

S. C. NORTHROP, Agent.

WHAT EVERYBODY KNOWS, VIZ:

That Iron well galvanized will not rust;

That a simple machine is better than a complicated one;

That a Wringer should be self-adjusting, durable, and efficient;

That Thumb-Screws and Fastenings cause delay and trouble to regulate and keep in order;

That wood soaked in hot water will swell, shrink and split;

That wood bearings for the shaft to run in will wear out;

That the Putnam Wringer, with or without cog-wheels, will not tear the clothes;

That cog-wheel regulators are not essential;

That the Putnam Wringer has all the advantages, and not one of the disadvantages above named;

That all who have tested it, pronounce it the best Wringer ever made;

That it will wring a Thread or a Bed-Quilt WITHOUT ALTERATION.

We might fill the paper with testimonials, but insert only a few to convince the skeptical, if such there be; and we say to all, test Putnam's Wringer. Test it THOROUGHLY with ANY and ALL others, and if not entirely satisfactory, return it.

Putnam Manufacturing Co:—GENTLEMEN; I know from practical experience that iron well galvanized with zinc will not oxidize or rust one particle. The Putnam Wringer is as near perfect as possible, and I can cheerfully recommend it to be the best in use. Respectfully yours,

JNO. W. WHEELER, Cleveland, Ohio.

Many years' experience in the galvanizing business enable me to indorse the above statement in all particulars.

JNO. C. LEFFERTS, No. 100 Beckman St.
New York, January, 1864.

We have tested Putnam's Clothes Wringer by practical working, and know that it will do. It is cheap; it is simple; it requires no room, whether at work or at rest; a child can operate it; it does its duty thoroughly; it saves time and it saves wear and tear. We earnestly advise all who have much washing to do, with all intelligent persons who have any, to buy this Wringer. It will pay for itself in a year at most. HON. HORACE GREELEY.

July 27, 1864.—3m

SILVER PLATED KNIVES.

IVORY Handled Knives with heavy Silver plate—at S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS, 32 Front st.

HOSTETTER'S
CELEBRATED
STOMACH BITTERS.

A pure and powerful Tonic, corrective and alterative of wonderful efficacy in disease of the

Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

Cures Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Headache, Debility, Nervousness, Depression of Spirits, Constipation, Colic, Intermittent Fevers, Cramps and Spasms, and all Complaints of either Sex, arising from Bodily Weakness whether inherent in the system or produced by special causes.

Nothing that is not wholesome, genial and restorative in its nature enters into the composition of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. This popular preparation contains no mineral of any kind, no deadly botanical element; no fiery excitant; but it is a combination of the extracts of rare balsamic herbs and plants with the purest and mildest of all diffusive stimulants.

It is well to be forearmed against disease, and, so far as the human system can be protected by human means against maladies engendered by an unwholesome atmosphere, impure water and other external causes, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS may be relied on as a safeguard.

In districts infested with Fever and Ague, it has been found infallible as a preventive and irresistible as a remedy and thousands who resort to it under apprehension of an attack, escape the scourage; and thousands who neglect to avail themselves of its protective qualities in advance, are cured by a very brief course of this marvelous medicine. Fever and Ague patients, after being plied with quinine for months in vain, until fairly saturated with that dangerous alkaloid, are not unfrequently restored to health within a few days by the use of HOSTETTER'S BITTERS.

The weak stomach is rapidly invigorated and the appetite restored by this agreeable Tonic, and hence it works wonders in cases of DISPEPSIA and in less confirmed forms of INDIGESTION. Acting as a gentle and painless apperient, as well as upon the liver, it also invariably relieves the CONSTIPATION superinduced by irregular action of the digestive and secretive organs.

Persons of feeble habit, liable to Nervous Attacks, Lowness of Spirits and Fits of Languor, find prompt and permanent relief from the Bitters. The testimony on this point is most conclusive, and from both sexes.

The agony of BILIOUS COLIC is immediately assuaged by a single dose of the stimulant, and by occasionally resorting to it, the return of the complaint may be prevented.

As a General Tonic, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS produce effects which must be experienced or witnessed before they can be fully appreciated. In cases of Constitutional Weakness, Premature Decay and Debility and Decrepitude arising from OLD AGE, it exercises the electric influence. In the convalescent stages of all diseases it operates as a delightful invigorant. When the powers of nature are relaxed, it operates to re-enforce and re-establish them.

Last, but not least, it is The Only Safe Stimulant, being manufactured from sound and innocuous materials, and entirely free from the acid elements present more or less in all the ordinary tonics and stomachics of the day.

No family medicine has been so universally, and, it may be truly added, deservedly popular with the intelligent portion of the community, as HOSTETTER'S BITTERS.

Prepared by HOSTETTER & SMITH, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Sold by all Druggists, Grocers and Storekeepers everywhere.

HELMBOLD'S
GENUINE PREPARATIONS.

COMPOUND FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU, a Positive and Specific Remedy for diseases of the Bladder, Kidneys, Gravel, and Dropsical Swellings.

This Medicine increases the power of Digestion, and excite the Absorbents into healthy action, by which the Wtaery or Calcareous depositions, and all Unnatural Enlargements are reduced, as well as Pain and Inflammation.

—:0:—

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU.

For Weaknesses arising from Excesses, Habits of Dissipation, Early Indiscretion of Abuse, attended with the following symptoms:

Indisposition to Exertion,	Loss of Power,
Loss of Memory,	Difficulty of Breathing,
Weak Nerves,	Trembling,
Horror of Disease,	Wakefulness,
Dimness of Vision,	Pain in the Back,
Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System,
Hot Hands,	Flushing of the Body,
Dryness of the Skin,	Eruptions on the Face,
Pallid Countenance.

These symptoms, if allowed to go on, which this medicine invariably removes, soon follows

Impotency, Fatuity, Epileptic Fits,

In one of which the patient may expire.

Who can say that they are not frequently followed by those "Direful Diseases,"

"INSANITY AND CONSUMPTION."

Many are aware of the cause of their suffering, BUT NONE WILL CONFESS THE RECORDS OF THE INSANE ASYLUMS.

And Melancholy Deaths by Consumption bear ample witness to the Truth of the assertion.

The Constitution once effected with Organic Weakness, requires the aid of Medicine to Strengthen and Invigorate the system,

Which HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU invariably does. A Trial will convince the most skeptical.

—:0:—

FEMALES—FEMALES—FEMALES.

In many Affections peculiar to Females the EXTRACT BUCHU is unequalled by any other remedy, as in Chlorosis or Retention, Irregularity, Painfulness or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated Scirrhous state of the Uterus, Leuchorrhœa or Whites, Sterility, and for all complaints incident to the sex, whether arising from indiscretion or Habits of Dissipation, or in the

DECLINE OR CHANGE OF LIFE.

—:0:—

Take no more Balsam, Mercury, or unpleasant Medicines for unpleasant and dangerous diseases.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU AND IMPROVED ROSE WASH CURES

SECRET DISEASES

In all their Stages,	At little Expense.
Little or no change in Diet,	No inconvenience.

And no Exposure.

It causes a frequent desire and gives strength to Urinate, thereby Removing Obstructions, Preventing and Curing Strictures of the Urethra, allaying Pain and Inflammation, so frequent in this class of diseases, and expelling all Poisonous, Diseased and wornout Matter.

Thousands upon Thousands who have been the Victims of Quacks, and who have paid heavy fees to be cured in a short time, have found they were deceived, and that the "POISON" has, by the use of "Powerful Astringents," been dried up in the system, to break out in an aggravated form, and perhaps after Marriage.

Use HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU for all affections and diseases of the URINARY ORGANS, whether existing in MALE or FEMALE, from whatever cause originating, and no matter of HOW LONG STANDING.

Diseases of these Organs requires the aid of a DIURETIC. HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU IS THE GREAT DIURETIC, and is certain to have the desired effect in all Diseases for which it is Recommended.

Evidence of the most reliable and responsible character will accompany the medicine.

Price $1.00 per bottle, or six for $5.00.

Delivered to any Address, securely packed from observation.

Describe Symptoms in all Communications.

Cures Guaranteed! Advice Gratis!!

Address letters for information to

H. B. HELMBOLD, Chemist,
104 South Tenth-st., bel. Chestnut, Phila.

HELMBOLD'S Medical Depot.
HELMBOLD'S Drug & Chemical Warehouse.
594 Broadway, New York.

BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS AND UNPRINCIPLED DEALERS who endeavor to dispose "of their own" and "other" articles on the reputation attained by

Helmbold's Genuine Preparations,
" " Extract Buchu.
" " " Sarsaparilla.
" " Improved Rose Wash.

SOLD BY
ALL DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE.
ASK FOR HELMBOLD'S. TAKE NO OTHER.
Cut out the Advertisement and send for it.
AND AVOID IMPOSITION AND EXPOSURE.
December 16, 1863.—1 yr.

Horse Railroad Notice.

On and after MONDAY, May 9, the cars of the Salem and South Danvers Railroad Co. will leave

South Danvers for Salem and Beverly at 6.35, 6.55, 7.15, and 7.35, A. M., and every 20 minutes till 12.55 P. M., and at 1.10, 1.25, 1.40, 1.55 P. M., and every 15 minutes till 10.25 P. M. The 9.55, 10.10, and 10.25 P. M., cars will go only to Salem.

Cars will leave Beverly for Salem and South Danvers at 6.35, 6.55, 7.15, and 7.35, A. M., and every 20 minutes till 12.55 P. M., and at 1.10, 1.25, 1.40 and 1.55 P.M., and every 15 minutes till 10.40 P. M. The 9.40, 9.55, 10.10, 10.25 and 10.40 P. M., cars go only to Salem.

Cars leave Washington Street Station for So. Danvers at 6.12, 6.32 and 6.52 A. M. and every 20 minutes till 12.32 P.M, and leave Washington St. Station for Beverly at 6.17, 6.37, 6.57, A.M., and every 20 minutes till 12.37 P. M., and cars will leave Washington St. Station for South Danvers and Beverly at 12.45, 1, 1.15, and 1.30 P. M., and every 15 minutes till 10.00 P. M.

M. H. HALE,
may 11 Sup't. S. & S. D. R. R. Co.

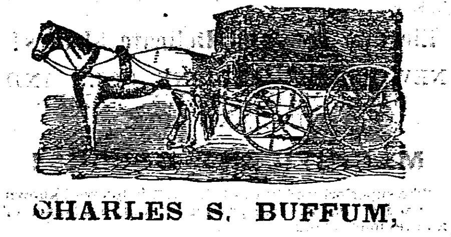
WM. C. HENDERSON,
MANUFACTURER OF
PLAIN AND FANCY
PAPER BOXES,
No. 235 ESSEX STREET,
Sign of "Nest of Boxes,"
july 23 SALEM. tf

CURRIER & MILLETT,
Dealers in
Furniture, Chairs,
MATTRESSES, FEATHERS, &
259 & 261 ESSEX ST.
Salem, dec 14—1y

H. & H. G. HUBON,
WASHINGTON STREET, SALEM
Manufacturers of
Rose Wood, Mahogany, Black Walnnt and Stained Wood
COFFINS and CASKETS.

MAKING this our exclusive business, we are ready at all times and at the shortest notice to furnish Grave Clothes of various styles, as well as Coffins and Caskets of the finest finish. Personal attention given, and delivered without extra charge to any of the neighboring towns. All orders by express or otherwise will receive prompt attention.

Black Walnut and White Wood Boards, Plank and Joists for sale.
dec 14—tf



CHARLES S. BUFFUM,

BEING an authorized UNDERTAKER of South Danvers, will attend Funerals in said place with his Hearse the same as the Town Undertaker. Will also attend Funerals, when desired, in any of the neighboring towns, with one or a pair of horses.

He also furnishes Coffin Caskets, Robes, etc., lower than city prices.

All branches of the business attended to, such as furnishing Coaches, Flowers, Laying Out, etc.

Ice Preservers Furnished.

All orders promptly attended to, and personal attention given to them. Articles delivered to any of the neighboring towns free of charge. Orders by express or otherwise will receive prompt attention.

Central street, South Danvers,
RESIDENCE 25 ELM STREET.
South Danvers, Feb 17, 1864.

Undertaker's Notice!

THE subscriber being regularly appointed as Undertaker of South Danvers, would respectfully notify the public that he has removed from Central Street, to No. 80 Lowell Street, where he may be found in readiness to attend funerals, and to furnish, when desired.

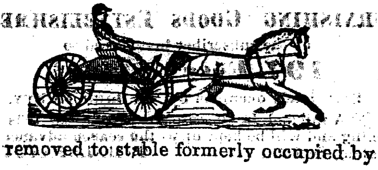
HENRY SPENCER.
February 10, 1864.

Chickering & Sons' Piano-Fortes.
Hallett & Cumston's Piano-Fortes.
Hallett & Davis's Piano-Fortes.

We select our Piano-Fortes from the above firms and warrant them to give perfect satisfaction. Our terms are reasonable, and all persons in the city and neighboring towns can be accommodated by calling at 76 Federal street.

FOR SALE—Second-hand Piano-Fortes,—Chickering's and others.
ap 29 ANN R. BRAY.

MOULTON'S
NEW LIVERY STABLE,



Is removed to stable formerly occupied by
SAMUEL HAM,
On MAIN STREET, opposite the Institute.

Good Horses and Carriages will be always in readiness at short notice.

South Danvers, May 25, 1864.

PIN WORMS. MRS. OSBORN'S Universal Worm Powders are the only sure cure ever offered to the public. They are warranted in every case; relief within 24 hrs. 25 cts. per box. Sold by all druggists.

For sale by D. P. GROSVENOR, Jr., 33 Main St., South Danvers. jan 27

SEE THE GHOSTS AND SPECTRES.

SPECTROPIA, or Surprising Illusions, showing Ghosts everywhere and of all colors.
sept 7 G M WHIPPLE & A A SMITH'S.

LINSEED OIL.

RAW and Boiled Oil of the best quality, at S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS', sept 14 32 Front street, Salem.

Eastern Railroad.

ON and after MONDAY, April 4, 1864, Trains will leave the Eastern Railroad Station, Washington street, Salem, daily. (Sundays excepted.)

For Lynn and Boston, *5.50, 7, 8¼, 9, 10, 11 a m., 12.55 2¼, 5¼, 7, 7¼, p. m.
Beverly, 8, 8 15, 11¼, am., 1, 3¼, 2¼, 5¼, 6.55, 7¼ p m.
W. Beach, Man'r, Gloucester, and Rockport, 8, 11¼, a. m., 3¼, 6¼ p m.
Ipswich and Newburyport, 8 05 am., 1, 3¼, 5¼, 6.55pm.
Amesbury, 8 05 a m., 1, 3¼, 5¼ p m.
Portsmouth, 8 05 a m., 3¼, p. m.
Portland, 8 05 a. m., 3¼ p m.

AND FOR SALEM, FROM

Portland, 8¼ a m., 3 p. m.
Portsmouth, 6 20, 9.10, *11¼ a. m., *5¼ p. m.
Amesbury, 7.35, 9.40 a. m., 5.55 p. m.
Newburyport, 7, 7 55, 10, 11.50 a m., 6¼ p. m.
Ipswich, 7 20, 8.15, 10.20 a. m., 12.15, 6.35 p m.
Gloucester, 7, 10, 10 10 a. m., 1.40, 4.40 pm.
Manchester, 7.25, 10.25 a m., 1.55, 4.55 p m.
Beverly, 6.50, 7.50, 8.20, 8.50 10.50 am., 12.45, 2.20, 5.20, 6.45, 7.05 pm.
Lynn, 7.45, 7.50, 9, 11, a. m., 12.45, 3, 3.30, 4.30, 5 30, 6, 6.40, 7.30, 10 p m.
Boston, 7¼, 7½, 8½, 10½ am., 12¼, 2½, 3, 4, 5, 5.30, 6.10, 7, †9.30 p m.

*Or on arrival from the East.
†On Wednesdays this train leaves Boston at 11¼ p. m. and on Saturdays at 10¼ p. m.

MARBLEHEAD BRANCH.

Marblehead for Salem, 6¼, 7¼, 8¼, 9¼ a m., 12¼, 1¼, 5¼ 6¼, 7¼ p m.
Salem for Marblehead, 7¼, 8¼, 9.25, 11¼ a m., 1, 3¼, 5¼, 7, 7.50 p m.

SOUTH READING BRANCH.

Trains leave the South Reading Depot in Salem for Boston at 6.35, 9.50 a. m., 2.25, 4.55 p m.
Boston for Salem, 7 a m., 12 m., 2 30, 5¼ p m,

ESSEX RAILROAD.

Leave Salem for Lawrence and way stations, 7, 11¼ a. m., 4.45 p m.
Lawrence for Salem, 8 a. m., 12.40, 5.50 p m.
Danvers for Salem, 8.40 a. m., 1.20, 6.30 p m.
South Danvers for Salem, 8¼ a m., 1.25, 6.35 p m.

J. PRESCOTT, Superintendent.
Boston, April 5, 1864.

Salem and Lowell Railroad.

ON and after MONDAY, April 4, 1864, Trains will run as follows:

Leave Lowell for Salem, 7.25 a m., and *2.45 p m.
Leave Salem for Lowell, *9.40 a m. and 6 00 p m.

Passengers are not allowed to carry baggage above $50 in value, and that personal, unless notice is given and an extra amount paid. Season tickets do not entitle the holder to take baggage.

*Freight Train with passenger car attached.

F. H. NOURSE, Local Superintendent.
April 4, 1864.

SPEED, COMFORT AND SAFETY!

FOR NEW YORK.
Norwich Steamboat Train.

The only Boats Landing at Jersey City.

CABIN Passage, $5.00; Deck Passage, $4.00. The new and elegant sixteen wheel cars of the steamboat express train leave the Boston & Worcester Railroad Station, Albany Street, at 5¼ P. M., daily, connecting with the new steamers, (built expressly for this line,) CITY OF BOSTON, Capt. WILCOX, Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays; CITY OF NEW YORK, Capt. JEWETT, Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays, which (before proceeding to their Pier, No. 39 North River) will touch at the wharf of the New Jersey Railroad at Jersey City, (Sundays excepted) thus enabling Southern Passengers to make sure connections with the First Southern Train, and at the same time avoid the great annoyance of the Ferry and Hack transportation in the crowded streets of New York. This insures ample time for Breakfast before the trains leave. Conductors E. MORRILL and T. N. TURNER accompany the passengers through to New York.

Tickets, Berths and Staterooms secured at the Railroad Station, and at the Office of the line, 79 Washington Street, Boston.

Through tickets to Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington can be had at 79 Washington Street, Boston. WM. DICKEY, JR., Agent.

Boston, January 7, 1864.

Are you Insured?

THE subscriber would respectfully call your attention to the fact that he is fully prepared to effect INSURANCE AGAINST FIRE, to any amount, at current rates, on

Dwelling Houses, Barns and their contents, Stores, Stocks of Goods, Furniture, &c. &c., and on buildings in process of erection,

And that he is the authorized Agent for the following responsible Stock and Mutual Companies, viz:

Thames Insurance Co., (Stock,) Norwich, Conn.
Capital—$500,000.
Amos W. Prentice, Pres. Oliver F. Rice, Sec'y
Conway Insurance Company, (Stock) Boston,
Capital and Surplus—$260,000.
James F. Whitney, Pres. David C. Rogers, Sec'y.
City Insurance Company, (Stock) Boston.
Capi al—$150,000.
Samuel P. Hayward, Pres. Austin W. Benton, Sec'y

Also, will effect Insurance on the LIVES OF INDIVIDUALS, for one year, seven years, or for the whole term of life, in the

Massachusetts Mutual Life Ins. Co., Springfield, Mass.
Capital and Assets—$375,000.
Caleb Rice, Pres. D. B. Bacon, Sec'y.
William Mack, M. D., Medical Examiner.

WM. ARCHER, Jr.,
18 Washington st. and 34 Front st., Salem.
feb20-1

ALWAYS SUCCESSFUL!

TO ALL THOSE WHO SUFFER FROM

DEBILITY AND SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

DRS. CARSWELL & HUNTER, regularly educated, highly eminent and successful practitioners, after a very extensive practice in Boston, for over twenty years, need hardly speak of their medical qualifications, or remind strangers not to class them with a set of uneducated men, who fill the papers with their boasting advertisements. Drs. C. & H. caution the public against quackery in all its forms, pretending, as some self-styled doctors, to cure all the most difficult and chronic diseases, without knowledge of the human system, or of the modus operandi of the most simple drugs.

Drs. C. & H., since 1840, having confined their whole attention to an office practice for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, they acknowledge no superiors.

CONSTITUTIONAL DEBILITY OR SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Drs. C. & H. are pre-eminently successful in the treatment of the above most difficult and perplexing of all diseases, this complaint being the result of a secret habit in youth; if neglected or improperly treated, it proves one of the greatest evils that can befall a human being. Dr. H. has given particular attention to the above disease for years, and so thoroughly has he become acquainted with the pathology and treatment, that he will warrant a perfect cure under forfeiture of $500; in fact, he will, in the cure of this complaint, acknowledge no superior in this country, or even in the world. Come, then, all you who are afflicted, come to the Old Stand, where you will in a short time be made to rejoice in perfect health.

SYPHILITIC AND SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS,—such as Ulcers and Caries of the throat and nose, Running Sores on the legs and arms, Hard Scabs and Scaly Eruptions on the head, back, &c., pains in the bones and joints, and all other forms of venereal diseases—are made to yield and entirely disappear under Drs. C. & H.'s improved and thoroughly eradicating course of treatment.

The primary or first symptoms of disease, whether a simple running, or small pistules, cancers, or ulcers, are cured in a very few days, if immediate application is made to Drs. C. & H.

13 ENDICOTT STREET, BOSTON. 13

Strangers should be particular in the selection of a physician, lest they be deceived by false advertisements.

Ladies troubled with irregularity, weakness, whites, and other complaints peculiar to the female system, will find a speedy cure by calling as above. No mercury used, and no charge for advice. The afflicted are invited to give us a call.

Boston, April 20, 1864.—1 yr.

25 YEARS' EXPERIENCE enables DRS. CARSWELL & HUNTER to cure any diseases of a private nature in a shorter space of time and for a smaller amount of money than any other doctors in this country, and they also treat all female complaints with perfect success, and on the most satisfactory terms. Patients furnished with board if desired. Please give us a call at our office, No. 13 Endicott St., Boston, Mass.

Boston, April 20, 1864.—1 yr.

A Card to the Suffering.

SWALLOW two or three hogsheads of "Buchu," "Tonic Bitters," "Sarsaparilla," "Nervous Antidotes," &c., &c., &c., and after you are satisfied with the result, then try one box of OLD DOCTOR BUCHAN'S ENGLISH SPECIFIC PILLS—and be restored to health and vigor in less than thirty days. They are purely vegetable, pleasant to take, prompt and salutary in their effects on the broken-down and shattered constitution. Old and young can take them with advantage. Imported and sold in the United States only by

JAS. S. BUTLER, No. 427 Broadway, New York.
☞ Agent for the United States.

P. S. A Box of the Pills, securely packed, will be mailed to any address on receipt of price, which is ONE DOLLAR, post-paid,—money refunded by the Agent if entire satisfaction is not given. jy 13-3m

PRESERVE YOUR FRUIT.

GLASS Jars and Glass Covers for preserving Fruits, Vegetables, &c., in a perfectly fresh state, for sale by S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS', 32 Front st.

SUMMER ARRANG
TO LYNN & BOS
BY
OMNIBUS & HORS
W. F. BURNHA

Line of Omnibuses will leave the Ly Omnibus Office, No. 6 Allen's Buildi vers, passing down Main Street, throu Street, to Lynn, daily—Sundays inclu

Leave South Danvers at 7 50 o'cloc and 4 50 P. M.

Leave Lynn (Horse Car Depot, Wes A. M., 2 40 and 6 40 P. M.

Horse Cars leaving the office at 14 at 8 15 A M., 1 15 and 5 15 P. M., will buses at Lynn, at the above named passengers to South Danvers.

Tickets to Lynn,
Through to Boston,

Gravesend, Woodend, an
Depot Route.

ON and after Monday, Nov 2, in add route, an Omnibus will leave Sou Lynn, to connect with the steam an times daily—Sundays excepted,—ru Gravesend and Woodend, to the Cen and Horse Railroad Station, corner Broad Streets; leaving South Danvers necting with the 7.25 steam cars for (connecting with the 11.10 train), and ing with the 4.50 train); and returnin from the Spring Street Station and C pot, at 8 A M, and 1 and 6 P M.

Fare from S. Danvers to Boston by

Through Tickets to and from Bosto the Drivers and Conductors.

EXPRESS BUSINE

Between South Danvers and Lynn ed to, on reasonable terms.

Extra Coaches furnished at short no

W. F. B

South Danvers, April 20, 1864.

CROUT & MUN
SOUTH DANVERS &
RAILROAD EXP

Express leaves South Danvers at
Freight " " " at
Express leaves Boston at
Freight " " at

OFFICE at FREIGHT DE
Danvers Square.

Express Office in Boston, 3 Wash
Freight Office, 48 Kilby

Particular attention paid to f niture, collecting Bills, Notes, D

Smallest favors thankfully received.

South Danvers, august 26—tf

South Danvers & Salem M

goods usually delivered by Express.

Leave South Danvers at 7¼ and 11 5 P M.

Leaves Salem at 8.45 A M., 12 M., 2

This Express connects with the first going East.

SLATES—In Salem, 13 Central st., and Roberts' store, corner of Front and W South Danvers—At the Post Office man's store; also at E. O. Spiller's sto

Abbott's South Danver
EXPRES

Leave South Danvers,
Leave Salem,

Orders left at Teel & Moulton's, and on Main street, South Danvers; and on street, and at Reed's in the Mark

Important to the A

DR. DOW continues to be consult Nos. 7 and 9 Endicott street, Bos eases of a

PRIVATE OR DELICATE N

By a long course of study and prac of unlimited extent, Dr. D. has now of presenting the unfortunate wit have never, since he first introduced cure the most alarming cases of

GONORRHŒA AND SYP

Beneath his treatment, all the hor and impure blood, Impotency, Scrofu Ulcers, pain and distress in the reg tion, Inflammation of the Bladder an drocele, Abcesses, Humors, frightfu the long train of horrible symptoms class of disease, are made to become the simplest ailings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNES

Dr. D. devotes a great part of his ment of those cases caused by a sec habit, which ruins the body and min unfortunate individual for business o of the sad and melancholy effects pro habits of youth, are Weakness of limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimnes pitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Ne rangement of the digestive function Consumption, &c. The fearful effe are much to be dreaded, loss of me of ideas, depression of spirits, e aversion of society, self-distrust, ti among the evils produced. Such pers fore contemplating matrimony, consu experience, and be at once restore happiness.

Patients who wish to remain under ment a few days or weeks, will be pleasant rooms, and charges for boar

Medicines sent to all parts of the co directions for use, on receiving des cases. Dr. Dow has also for sale the warranted the best preventive. O or $1 and a red stamp.

CAUTION

TO FEMALES IN DELICATE

DR. DOW, Physician and Surgeon, street, Boston, is consulted daily for dent to the female system. Prolapsus ing of the Womb, Fluor Albus, Suppr er menstrual derangements, are all tre pathological principles, and speedy re in a very few days. So invariably ce mode of treatment, that most obsti yield under it, and the afflicted perso in perfect health.

Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater ex cure of diseases of women and child other physician in Boston.

Boarding accommodations for pati wish to stay in Boston a few days u ment.

Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined tention to an office practice, for the c Diseases and Female Complaints, ac superior in the United States.

N. B.—All letters must contain four they will not be answered.

Office Hours from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M.

CERTAIN CUR

IN ALL CASES, OR NO CHARG

Dr. Dow is consulted daily, from 8 as above, upon all difficult and chro every name and nature, having by hi tention and extraordinary success gai which calls patients from all parts of obtain advice.

Among the physicians in Boston, no in the profession than the celebrated 7 Endicott street, Boston. Those who vices of an experienced physician an give him a call. P. S.—Dr. Dow impo sale a new article, called the French by mail. Two for $1 and a red stamp.

April 20, 1864—1y.

Do You Wish to be C

DR. BUCHAN'S ENGLISH SPECIF in less than 30 days, the worst VOUSNESS, Impotency, Premature D Weakness, Insanity, and all Urinary, vous Affections, no matter from what Price, One Dollar per box. Sent, pos on receipt of order. One Box will per most cases. Address JAMES S. jy 13-3m General Agent, 427 Broadwa

Job Press for Sa

RUGGLES' JOB ENGINE PRESS. by 19 inches. Can be run by one of 800 per hour. Is in good condition. very low price, as the owner has no use big bargain. Apply at this office.

LUDLOW'S PATENT TE

FOR putting up Tomatoes, Peaches, This is the only Jar ever invente tested. For sale in any quantity at
sept 7 S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS',

South Danvers Wizard.

V. SOUTH DANVERS, MASS., WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 12, 1864. NO. 41.

TH DANVERS' WIZARD
y WEDNESDAY, at Allen's Builders Square,
ollars a year.
ts inserted at reasonable rates.

RLES D. HOWARD,
AND PROPRIETOR.

ES, Advertising Agent,
Building, Court Street, Boston, is hat city, and is authorized to re-ments and subscriptions for us at
s.

ertisements.

L AND WINTER 1864
OTHING.
BOISE & CO.,
Washington Street,
doors south of Milk St.,)
BOSTON,
ion to their LARGE STOCK of
NABLE CLOTHING,
N'S AND BOYS' WEAR,
ey offer at wholesale or retail
E LOWEST CASH
PRICES.
lso a full assortment of
CE GOODS,
l be made to measure in the latest
the choicest AMERICAN FABll as the most desirable selections
N CLOTHS.
nts have been made for manufac-ys' Clothing.
ve than heretofore, having secured of Mrs. S. B. WARD, (formerly lter Read,) who will superintend ment, where may be found an ssortment of READY-MADE for Boys and Youth, and a nent of CLOTHS for Custom ISHING GOODS.
ishing Goods Department contains assortment of Goods for Gents' and in almost endless variety.
DISE & CO., flatter themselves an furnish Ready-Made Clothing
W FIGURES
similar establishment. The Goods own manufacture, and are qual to Custom Garments.
n also offer EXTRA INDUCE-n Custom Clothing.
nd Military Uniforms made at short en in the city and examine the Stock.
MEMBER THE NUMBER,
Washington Street,
3—3m. BOSTON.

TLEMEN'S HATS.
ALL STYLES.
he best selected assortments of FALL and ER HATS in Boston, may be found at
A. JACKSON'S,
mont and 101 Court Sts.
COMPRISING
Silk Hats,
Fine Felt Hats, and
Cloth Hats and Caps,
latest styles.
TS AND CAPS FOR BOYS.
A large and well assorted stock of Ladies
men's FURS.
JACKSON'S,
urt St. and 59 Tremont St.,
—3m. BOSTON.

EW STORE!
lour! Flour!
RECEIVED, a fresh supply of CHOICE
NDS, direct from the Mills, for sale,
le and retail, at LOWEST PRICES, by
E. F. OSBORN.
Sutton's Building, Main St.
Danvers, Nov 18, 1863.

M. C. HENDERSON,
MANUFACTURER OF
PLAIN AND FANCY
PER BOXES,
o. 235 ESSEX STREET,
Sign of "Nest of Boxes,"
SALEM. tf

M. FENOLLOSA,
TEACHER OF MUSIC,
.......PIANO FORTES,
at the lowest rates;
.......PIANO FORTES,
at the Manufacturers Prices;
NGES.....PIANO FORTES,
on the easiest terms;
At Rooms No. 7 Central street,
SALEM, MASS.

ng Books, Making Bills and
Copying.
above business will be promptly and accurately formed by the subscriber, who may be found at & GIDDINGS' Counting Room on Wal-
the Essex Depot, or by enquiring at this
JOHN D. HOWARD.

Special Notices.

To Consumptives.

Consumptive sufferers will receive a valuable prescription for the cure of Consumption, Asthma, Bronchitis, and all Throat and Lung affections (free of charge) by sending their address to Rev. EDWARD A. WILSON, Williamsburg, Kings Co.,
sept 21—3 mos. New York.

HAGAN'S MAGNOLIA BALM.

This is the most delightful and extraordinary article ever discovered. It changes the sun burnt face and hands to a pearly satin texture of ravishing beauty, imparting the marble purity of youth, and the distingue appearance so inviting in the city belle of fashion. It removes tan, freckles, pimples and roughness from the skin, leaving the complexion fresh, transparent and smooth. It contains no material injurious to the skin. Patronized by Actresses and Opera Singers. It is what every lady should have. Sold everywhere.

Prepared by W. E. HAGAN, Troy N. Y.
Address all orders to
DEMAS S. BARNES, & CO., New-York.

HEIMSTREET'S
INIMITABLE HAIR RESTORATIVE.
NOT A DYE,

But restores gray hair to its original color, by supplying the capillary tubes with natural sustenance, impaired by age or disease. All instantaneous dyes are composed of lunar caustic, destroying the vitality and beauty of the hair, and afford of themselves no dressing. Heimstreet's Inimitable Coloring not only restores hair to its natural color by an easy process,

Luxuriant Beauty,

promotes its growth, prevents its falling off, eradicates dandruff, and imparts health and pleasantness to the head. It has stood the test of time, being the original Hair Coloring, and is constantly increasing in favor. Used by both gentlemen and ladies. It is sold by all respectable dealers, or can be procured by them of the commercial agents, D. S. BARNES & CO., 202 Broadway, New York. Two sizes, 50 cents and $1.

MEXICAN MUSTANG LINIMENT.

The parties in St. Louis and Cincinnati, who have been Counterfeiting the Mustang Liniment under pretense of proprietorship, have been thoroughly estopped by the Courts. To guard against further imposition, I have procured from the U. States Treasury, a private steel plate revenue stamp, which is placed over the top of each bottle. Each stamp bears the fac simile of my Signature, and without which the article is a Counterfeit, dangerous and worthless imitation. Examine every bottle. This Liniment has been in use and growing in favor for many years. There hardly exists a hamlet on the habitable Globe that does not contain evidence of its wonderful effects. It is the best emolient in the world. With its present improved ingredients, its effects upon man and beast are perfectly remarkable. Sores are healed, pains relieved, lives saved, valuable animals made useful, and untold ills assuaged. For cuts, bruises, sprains, rheumatism, swellings, bites, cuts, caked breasts, strained horses, &c., it is a Sovereign Remedy that should never be dispensed with. It should be in every family. Sold by all Druggists.

D. S. BARNES, New-York.
March 9th, 1864.—1 yr.

LYON'S KATHAIRON.

Kathairon is from the Greek word "Kathro," or "Kathairo," signifying to cleanse, rejuvenate and restore. This article is what its name signifies. For preserving, restoring and beautifying the human hair it is the most remarkable preparation in the world. It is again owned and put up by the original proprietor, and is now made with the same care, skill and attention which gave it a sale of over one million bottles per annum.

It is a most delightful Hair Dressing.
It eradicates scurf and dandruff.
It keeps the head cool and clean.
It makes the hair rich, soft and glossy.
It prevents the hair from falling off and turning gray.
It restores hair upon bald heads.

Any lady or gentleman who values a beautiful head of hair should use Lyon's Kathairon. It is known and used throughout the civilized world. Sold by all respectable dealers.

DEMAS S. BARNES, & CO., New-York.

THE GREAT ENGLISH REMEDY.
SIR JAMES CLARKE'S
CELEBRATED FEMALE PILLS!

Prepared from a prescription of Sir J. Clarke, M. D., Physician Extraordinary to the Queen.

This well known medicine is no imposition, but a sure cure and safe remedy for Female Difficulties and Obstructions, from any cause whatever; and, although a powerful remedy, they contain nothing hurtful to the constitution.

In all cases of Nervous and Spinal Affections, pain in the Back and Limbs, Fatigue on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Hysterics, and Whites, these pills will effect a cure, when all other means have failed: and, although a powerful remedy, do not contain iron, calomel, antimony, or anything hurtful to the constitution.

Full directions in the pamphlet around each package, which should be carefully preserved.

For full particulars, obtain, free, of the agent, a pamphlet. Sold by all Druggists.

Sole United States Agent,
JOB MOSES, 27 Cortlandt St., New York.

N. B.—$1 and 6 postage stamps enclosed to any authorized agent, will insure a bottle, containing over 50 pills, by return mail. March 9, 1864.—1 yr.

DR. E. F. KITTREDGE,
From Lowell, formerly of New Ipswich, N. H.,
Has removed his office and residence to
NO. 42 MAIN STREET,
SOUTH DANVERS, MASS.

Dr. K., from an extensive and successful professional experience of upwards of twenty years, feels justified in saying that he can treat diseases to the satisfaction of his patients, and to the credit of himself.

Office hours from 7 to 9 A. M., and from 5 to 9 P. M.
South Danvers, Nov 13, 1863.

MANUAL FENOLLOSA
TEACHER
OF THE
Violin, Piano and Singing,
MUSIC ROOMS, No. 7 Central Street,
SALEM, MASS.

☞ Visit OSBORNE'S Store, and look at the unusual variety of new styles in HATS and CAPS—191 Essex street.

Selected.

THE CABIN BOY.

The little brown cottage stood all alone, at the point of that long strip of ground which the villagers called "Land's End." Round three sides of this lonely dwelling the curling sea-waves dashed on a rocky strand, and often sent the salt spray into the window and door. An old fishing-boat lay in front, and a potato patch at the back of the cottage, and these two possessions formed the entire fortune of the inmates.

And who were they? A poor widow called Conner, and her only son, Jack, a boy about twelve years old. They lived here when summer suns shone, or the quiet moon looked down and made a bright pathway of light across the calm waters; and here they lived, too, when winter winds howled, and the noise of the waves joined the wild music of the storm. All within that cottage was very poor. An earthen floor and an old-fashioned fire-place, a bedstead, two broken chairs and a stool, a chest, which served also as a table, a cupboard in one corner and a fishing-net in another, a well rigged ship in the window-seat and a few common pictures on the walls, were the only things to strike a stranger on entering; except, indeed, Jack happened to be at home, as he seldom was while daylight lasted, and then one could not help observing what a bright eye beamed under his sun-burnt brow.

And a very intelligent boy Jack was, though he had been very little at school, and had no lesson-book except the well worn Bible out of which his mother had taught him to read. But the ocean had been a sort of schoolmaster to him, and he knew more about winds and tides, shells and sea-weeds, fish and fowl, than most boys of his age. Ever since he could remember, his days had been spent about that rough shore. The waves brought him drift-wood for the fire, and "wrack" for the potato garden, and supplied many a plentiful meal of fish.

But as Jack grew older he felt a great desire to see the world, and not only be able to earn his own bread, but perhaps to provide for his mother better than he could do by staying at home. How long these wishes might have been forming themselves into realities we cannot say, had not a very unexpected event opened on his path.

One fine summer afternoon, when Jack and his mother had just returned from selling a load of fish in the market town, an unlooked-for visitor arrived at their humble home in the form of a letter, with two post-marks and a great red seal. It was soon opened, and the name, Tom White, at the end, told that it came from an old neighbor, who had done them many a good turn in former days, and was now boatswain of an East Indiaman. Like most sailors' letters, it began by expressing a wish that it might find the receiver in good health, and concluded with a great number of kind messages to all inquiring friends. But between both ends it managed to convey the information that a cabin-boy was wanted on board the "Sarah Anne," and that if Jack applied, he would have a chance of the berth. He urged him to lose no time in reaching a sea-port, forty miles distant, adding that his mother need not trouble herself about an outfit, for he would see every thing provided.

What a change that letter produced inside the little brown cottage! Love and fear struggled for victory in the widow's heart, while hope made the future look so bright to Jack that he could scarcely believe the offer was real, and read the letter over and over to make sure it was written there. Long and late they sat by the driftwood fire that night; and as the widow talked the matter over with her son, she began to think that this proposal might be an answer to her prayers; so, telling Jack to go to bed, she promised to consult a friend, and tell him the result in the morning. Jack knew well whom she meant, but asked no questions.

The returning dawn of a midsummer morning found the widow on her knees; but she rose with a calmer heart, though with weeping eyes, and was able to say, as she bent over the bed where Jack slept, and wakened him with a kiss, "You may go, my boy, with a mother's blessing. But remember, dear, wherever you go, God's eye is on you—in the light and in the dark. Don't swear, nor drink, nor steal. Never forget, Jack, to pray, and read the blessed book, which I will tie up in your bundle, whether they laugh at you or not; and oh, my child, as you cannot be good or happy without heavenly help, cling to the Saviour; put all your trust in Him. How could I face your father up there, if his own boy were not coming too?"

Sometimes things are finished in a short time, which could not have been done so well or so easily if a longer time had been given—so with this parting. Before the sun had risen high above the hills, Jack was turning his back on his native village, poor in everything but a mother's love. One night was spent on the road, and the next found him tired, footsore, and a little sore-hearted, too, the accepted cabin-boy of the "Sarah Anne." Tom White had been looking for his arrival, for the vessel was to sail the next day; but there was time enough to drop a letter into the post, just to tell the widow how Jack got on.

For some weeks after leaving port the weather was fine, and the new cabin-boy, who was ready and obliging, performed the various duties better than could have been expected. All day long his hands were kept so busy that he had little to think; but at night his thoughts often carried him back to the little brown cottage, and in his dreams he was always there. So far, things had gone smoothly enough. But one evening the ship was passing a foreign port, just as the sun was going down; heavy clouds hung round the sky, and the brisk gale which had been blowing all day rose into a storm that formed a crest of foam on the dark waves which thundered against the sides of the ship, and obliged the captain to give a hasty order for "all hands to reef topsails." This had scarcely been done when Jack saw an unexpected sight which filled him with terror and surprise. The waves began to boil, and made a kind of hissing sound. Something like smoke appeared above the surface, and gradually rose higher and higher with a whirling motion, until the angry clouds seemed to lap up the water with their black mouths, and sea and sky were united by a hollow horn-shaped column. Another and another appeared; and as the cloud to which they pointed was driven by the wind, they followed its movements towards the vessel without being broken.

Tom White stood by the cabin-boy's side, and hastily explained to him how these pillar-like waterspouts are raised by a whirlwind, just as he had often seen the autumn breezes raise a whirl of dust and leaves on the road at home, and, sweeping them round and round, finally lift them up in the middle and scatter them at the top. He added that, though waterspouts seldom last more than a few minutes, they are much dreaded by the seamen.

At that moment a flash of fire issued from one of the portholes of the vessel, followed by a peal like thunder. The captain, having seen the danger, had ordered a cannon to be fired in the direction of the waterspouts, which burst with a terrible noise, and gave the sailors wet jackets, but did no further harm. The waterspouts were gone, but not the storm. All night the brave ship tossed and reeled, now sinking into a valley of waters, now riding the toppling waves like a sea-bird. The timbers creaked and groaned. The trembling helm quivered and started. During that fearful night the sailor's strength was tried as he staggered along the wave-washed deck. But it seemed still worse to Jack, down below, when his time came for turning in. The pitchy darkness, the lashing sea, the howling winds, all made him afraid. As he lay for four hours swinging in his little hammock, his whole life passed before him in review. Young as he was, it had not been all as it should have been. Indeed conscience spoke so loud as to be heard above the raging storm, and the last words of his mother, "Cling to the Saviour; put your trust in Him," were heartily turned into a prayer that he might be enabled to do so. At daybreak the tempest was still fierce; but it was something to have light; and before noon the wind abated, the waves sank into a regular swell, and the rudder obeyed the helmsman's hand.

It was Sunday, and seemed to have brought a Sabbath calm along with it. He who once walked the waters had said again, "Peace, be still." These were Jack's thoughts, as he sat in the corner of the cabin in a quiet moment, and read the story. "What are you doing there, Jack?" shouted a rough voice at his ear; "reading the Bible, I declare!" and the rough voice went off into a rougher laugh. Jack closed the book, blushing as if he had been doing something wrong. Just then, however, his mother's advice came to his mind, like a soft whisper: "Read the blessed book, my son, whether they laugh or not;" and he opened it once more. "This is God's book, Ned," said the cabin-boy, "which he wishes every one to read and obey; would you like to hear a little of it?" "Well, I don't say much against that, seeing I have nothing else to do," replied Ned, in a careless way. Jack began to read aloud, and soon had more than one listener, for most of the men who were not on duty dozed away the spare hours, and were glad of anything new to pass away the time. Tom White had crept behind him unperceived, and brushed away a tear with his weather-beaten hand, as the sacred words were read.

This was only the beginning of a long course of Sunday reading, in which, though Jack had to bear many a joke and sneer, he persevered, as those only can who are resolved, by God's grace to be good and do good. We are not to suppose, however, that every thing went quite smoothly with Jack from that day. Like the gallant ship herself, he had his trials—fierce temptations to sin from without and within, and little falls, that always made room for greater ones. But he had taken the Bible for his chart, and looked to God, who has promised to bring those who trust in Him into the desired haven. And old ocean still taught the cabin-boy many a lesson. Its currents and tides, its calms and storms, its myriad forms of fish and flower, and shell and coral, plainly told him that one hand had made them all; the same hand, the Bible added, which was nailed to the cross.

Years have passed; Jack is a cabin-boy no longer, and takes care, now that he has become first mate, that his mother wants for nothing which can add to the comfort of her old age. She says she expects to see him after his next voyage; but if they do not live to meet again, she hopes to tell his sainted father in heaven that his boy is coming too.—English Magazine.

ARE THE GERMANS WRONG IN WANTING OUR BONDS?

Not a bit of it! No shrewder, thriftier people in matters of money, exist on earth. Our Jersey people and New England people are a frugal, industrious people, but they can't save money like the Germans. All Germany is a great savings bank. It is true that their working men are not so rich, on an average, as our working men, because they don't get more than one quarter of the wages of our men. But a German can save money, and he knows when it is safe. Now these shrewd, thrifty Germans want our bonds. They want them by millions. They turn aside from the great beggars of the world in Europe, and come to us Republicans. They treat the notes of Napoleon and Joseph Maximilian with indifference, but want to discount all the American notes they can get. The London Times says this is all wrong—that the Republicans in America are all bankrupt, and the Germans must be crazy to slight British and French beggars, and go begging, themselves, to America. Are they crazy? We asked Poor Richard what he thought about it. "Why," said he, "how can they be crazy, when they are doing just what I did a little more than a year ago, when I put my little savings into Government six per cents? Now see what I got by it; just count up. I have received six per cent in gold, which averaged 100 per cent. in currency, making 12 per cent. income. Now, to-day, my bond is salable in the New York market at 10 per cent. premium. Put these together, and to-day I have 22 per cent. for one year's use of my money! What do you think of that? You know, as well as I do, that there are thousands of people who did this, and to-day they have 22 per cent. on their investments. Why, I saw Miss Jones, our school-ma'am go to the bank and buy a $500 bond. How she got the money I don't know, but these Yankee school-mistresses are first rate hands at taking care of themselves. Well, now count up. If Miss Jones sells her bonds to-day she gets her $500 back safe, and she gets $110 clear gain. Can you sharp fellows down in William Street do any better? You know I told Mr. Smith, the banker, my ideas about that, and he bought $5,000 six per cent. bonds, and you see he got $1,100 for a year's use of his money. I met him the other day, and he said, 'Poor Richard, you are right; I begin to think the Government can take care of itself and us too. For my part, I mean to buy some of the 7.30's. The rate of interest is high enough, and in three years they will turn to six per cent. bonds again.' 'Yes, Mr smith, it is right, on the money side; but it is right on the country's side, too. Help the country, or it can't help you. Now, I say the Germans are not only right, but they would be right, if they got half that interest. They cannot make a quarter of it at home'." So thought Poor Richard, and so think we, when we think of the German opinion of our situation and our financial strength, we must remember that they are far better judges of our condition than we are, or our enemies are. They are lookers-on, at a great distance. They have none of our enmities or prejudices. They can examine the facts disinterestedly. They do; and the result is a verdict that the American Government is stable—its ability and integrity in meeting its financial engagements unquestionable. This verdict, too, is founded on a series of facts which are unimpeachable and well known to every intelligent American. Take two or three of the most important;—1. The United States doubles its population each twenty-five years. The population of the country, which in 1850 was twenty-three millions, will in 1875 be forty-six millions. "But the rebellion!" says some one. How much has the rebellion diminished the strength of the United States? Take this astonishing fact, that if all the Rebel States had been sunk in the Pacific Ocean, The United States would in 1875 have a population equal to that of the whole in 1860. In other words, fifteen years will supply the total loss of the eleven original Rebel States! What can impede the progress of such a country? 2. The wealth of the country increased 127 per cent. in ten years! Now let it increase but 80 from 1860 to 1870, and it will amount to ten times all the loans of the government. The German knows what he is about. He will get the largest income from loans in the world, on the safest security. No such opportunity has occurred before for the investment of money, and in all probability will never occur again. If the American does not know and take advantage of this, the German and Frenchman will.—Ex.

GOVERNMENT SECURITIES.—Some of our readers ask to be enlightened upon the different sorts of Government Securities now in the market.

The "Sixes of '81" are six per cent. bonds, the interest payable semi-annually in coin, and the principal payable in 1881, these bonds having been authorized by an act of 1861.

The "Seven-thirties" are bonds bearing interest at the rate of 7 3-10 per annum, or seven dollars and thirty cents on a hundred dollars, interest payable semi-annually in coin, and the bonds redeemable in three years from date, or they may be at any time before maturity, converted into the regular six per cent. bonds. Most of this class have been converted. They were authorized in 1861.

"Five-twenties" are six per cent. bonds, interest payable semi-annually in coin, to run twenty years if not redeemed after five years, a right which the government reserves.

"Ten-forties" are the same as the above with the exception that they run forty years unless redeemed by the government, at its option, after ten years.

THE WHITE MOUNTAINS have been capped with snow several times during the past fortnight and have presented a magnificent appearance from the valleys. The melting snow has filled the mountain streams so that the waterfalls in the vicinity are really crystal cascades. The glories of early autumn at the mountains attract many visitors who are amply repaid for the tour by the magnificent distant views obtained these clear days.

THE HAVERHILL GAZETTE says:—Very few shoes are sold at the present time. There seems to be a settled conviction in the minds of most people that the present high price of goods of all descriptions cannot last much longer, and the manufacturers and purchasers are holding back in order to be prepared to meet the crash when it comes.

☞ Gen. Sherman, the best fighting and the best writing General in the service does not seem to feel certain of an immediate termination of the war. In his last letter to the Mayor of Atlanta, he says—"We may have three years of military operations from this quarter, and therefore I deem it wise and prudent to prepare in time."

A NEGRO PROPOSES HIMSELF TO QUEEN VICTORIA!—Her Majesty is a widow—open, of course, to connubial offer. Abyssinians, though negroes, are human beings, capable of love and its vicissitudes. The present Emperor, Theodore, having heard of the widowhood of Queen Victoria, has had a letter written to her, offering her his hand. Mr. Cameron, the English Consul, was charged to forward this missive to his sovereign. The reply to so unforeseen an offer not being immediately forthcoming, the Emperor Theodore got angry, and had Mr. Cameron put in chains until his Majesty should have obtained satisfaction for such a want of attention towards him. On hearing of the imprisonment of Mr. Cameron, her Britannic Majesty is said to have decided on replying by a polite refusal, the sending of which by post was more economical than a special mission to Abyssinia.

GEN. SHERMAN.—The Mayor and two of the Aldermen of Atlanta, all that remained of the city government, petitioned Gen. Sherman to revoke his order for the removal of the people, representing that it would cause great suffering. Gen. Sherman responded in a magnificent letter, laying down the facts and the arguments with great power. We believe his letter represents the views and feelings of nine tenths of the people of the North. He says, "We don't want your houses or horses or negroes; we don't want to drive you from your homes or suffer; we would share the last cracker with you and protect you with our lives from all harm, if you would return to allegiance; but the Union must and shall be preserved, and the war must go on till you submit." This is the sentiment of every loyal man, and we believe that a large majority of the Southern people would be glad to settle on the basis that Sherman would propose. The difficulty is that the people do not dare to speak and cannot act.

☞ The followers of Joe Smith have got a strong foothold in the city of London, which they make a sort of European headquarters. They have lately been holding a series of meetings there under the auspices of the missionaries, Brigham Young, Jr., and Orson Pratt. Young Brigham went out the past spring, and the London Mormons have chosen him as European president, and his father as president of the church of the latter day saints all over the world.

☞ Pennsylvania has been enlightened as to her duty in voting, as a large number of political missionaries went out from Massachusetts for that purpose, sent by both parties. No less than five democrats have gone from this county, two of them from Newburyport, one from Gloucester, one from Salem, and one from South Danvers.

☞ The New York World says it is reminded by General Fremont's letter declining to run for the Presidency of the old story, that when John Tyler's party finally went over to the democratic organization, they went over in an omnibus, thirteen voters, all told.

☞ It is said that a tribe of Indians that once resided on the banks of the "Chon-gogg-a-gog-mau-chogg-a-gogg" river has become extinct, the younger members having all choked to death in their first efforts to pronounce the name of the river.

☞ Marshal Mathers has gone to Algiers to put down the rebellion. He is the fellow who, having pursued the Arabs of that country into caverns, built fires in the mouths of the caves, and baked them.

☞ Gen. Cass has taken the McClellan side, though he was reported a few days ago to have said that the Chicago platform was an ignominious surrender to the rebels.

☞ A large black snake was killed in Essex woods recently, measuring seven feet in length. He had within him three striped squirrels and a large assortment of frogs.

☞ Reverdy Johnson, of Maryland, has published another letter taking the strongest grounds against the re-election of Mr. Lincoln, and in favor of McClellan.

☞ Last year 25,196 persons died in New York, an average of 69 daily, and an increase of 3,952 over the previous year.

The Wizard.

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 12, 1864.

NOTICE.—On and after to-day our Carriers will not be allowed to sell any newspapers. Persons desiring extra copies will find them at Mr. Wilkinson's, or at this office. All those who have been in the habit of purchasing papers of our Carriers will please bear this in mind.

South Danvers, Oct. 12, 1864.—tf.

GEN. DODGE.—We learn that General DODGE is expected in this town in a few days, and we trust he will get such a reception that will not only do honor to a young, brave and chivalrous officer, but to the town who claims him as her son.

PRESIDENTIAL ELECTION.

It is now a little less than a month before the Presidential election takes place. The canvass has thus far been carried on temperately, and in this State with a good deal less excitement than was anticipated before it began. Many intelligent, though rather over anxious men, prophesied that the Presidential campaign of this year would be marked with success upon one side and the other to a dangerous degree, but thus far these gloomy prophesies have received no verification.

We hear of some instances where Union processions have been assaulted by Democrats, and Democratic processions by Unionists; but such outrages have been on a small scale, and only made, or participated in, by persons of low character, who are generally promptly rebuked by the speakers and writers of their own party. So we think it safe to predict that the election will take place under as favorable auspices for a fair and full expression of the preferences of the voters, as the most sanguine friend of our institutions could expect.

For want of some more substantial charge against the Union party, the Democrats allege that there is great danger of the will of the people being suppressed, or stifled, by military interference with the freedom of the ballot. Of course in time of war, especially of civil war, there is greater danger of this than in time of peace. But it seems to us hardly fair, or indeed hardly decent, to charge on the Administration a design to interfere, by military power, in the freedom of election, simply because it is possible for it to do so. We very much doubt whether there is a single man of intelligence in the Democratic party who honestly believes that President Lincoln will ever attempt to encroach upon the freedom of the election, and all talk of the kind is mere electioneering pretence, made to deceive the ignorant and excite the jealousy of the thoughtless.

Even if Mr. Lincoln were vicious enough to violate his oath of office, and override the simplest constitutional prerogatives of the citizen, we think it almost absurd to suppose that he would be stupid enough to attempt such a stupid experiment.

The bitterest enemies of the President—those who deny that he has any statesmanship—admit that he is a skilful politician — adroit in gaining and holding the confidence and good will of his party. If this is true of himself, as it undoubtedly is, he could not fail to see that any unauthorized interference with the freedom of the ballot, especially when his own election was involved, would be wholly indefencible, and would inevitably work a forfeiture of party and public confidence, and put himself in the wrong and his enemies in the right upon an important and controlling issue.

We have lately read the rules of the War Department for taking the ballots of soldiers in the field and camp, and did not fail to observe with what jealous care the right to vote freely is protected to the soldier. Of course the necessities of the service require some degree of care and formality in taking the ballot, but the rules prescribed bear equally upon all sides contesting the ballot and neither side is permitted to use any undue influence, or any underhanded means; both of the great parties may have commissioners present to look out for the interests of their respective parties and see fair play.

This matter of soldiers voting is made the occasion of a great deal of senseless clamor on the part of the Democracy, who are driven to great extremities for want of political capital. They charge that soldiers' votes are one of the corrupt means by which the President is to control the election.

Now the fact is that the plan of soldiers' voting is entirely dependent upon the legislation of the several States, and the President is no way responsible for it.

But suppose it were otherwise, what just man could complain? Why should not the citizen who has gone to the war in defence of his country have the privilege of voting, as well as he who remains at home? But above all, why should the Democrats, who believe, or pretend to believe, that McClellan is going to get the soldiers' votes, object to a law that enables them to vote?

REPUBLICAN UNION CAUCUS.

Another caucus of the Republican Union Party was held last Monday evening at Town Hall, to elect delegates to attend the County and Senatorial Conventions. Francis Baker, Chairman of the Republican Town Committee, called the meeting to order, and asked for a nomination of a permanent chairman to preside. A babel of voices named different individuals, most prominent among which were the names of George F. Osborne and Eben S. Poor, and the former was finally proposed and voted for in the affirmative, when—before the negative was put—a motion was made by a gentleman to ballot for chairman, and considerable discussion ensued, participated in by Messrs. Chas. Manning, Philip Blaney, Sidney C. Bancroft, Thomas M. Stimpson, Isaac Hardy and others, most of them insisting for a ballot; but it was finally settled by a vote not to ballot, and Mr. Osborne was the chairman without a question. Amos Merrill was elected Secretary.

On motion of Sidney C. Bancroft it was voted to choose by ballot four delegates to the County and Councillor Convention, and Eben S. Poor, A. P. Phillips and Isaac Hardy were appointed to assort and count the votes.

The voting was very expeditiously done, as there was no time lost in preparing ballots and selecting vote-distributors, that being evidently attended to some little time before the caucus met,—one party having printed ballots, while another had written ballots. The printed ballots "won the day," however, and elected Miles O. Stanley, Stephen Blaney, Caleb W. Osborne and Amos Merrill delegates, (good, staunch Republicans,) defeating a written ballot with the names of four other staunch Republicans.

It was then voted to choose by ballot six delegates to attend the Republican Senatorial Convention, (not yet called,) and another printed ticket was now produced, which proved, like its predecessor, to be a "trump,"—(there's nothing like printers' ink,)—electing Miles O. Stanley, Stephen Blaney, Caleb W. Osborne, Amos Merrill, Alexander B. Merrill and Isaac Hardy, defeating a hastily and imperfectly written ballot containing five names.

All of them, the victors and vanquished, are firm supporters of "Honest Old Abe," and we have no doubt, will do all in their power to elect him.

This was the largest caucus that has been held in this town for some years—107 votes being cast at one time. There can be no complaint now about a few doing all the business. At the next caucus, which will be for Representative to the General Court, we hope to see nearly all of the Union voters—some 600—in town present. There will undoubtedly be plenty of candidates, all anxious and willing to serve their country.

THE SOUTH CHURCH.—Since the rejuvination of this edifice, we presume it will not be proper any more to call it the Old South. We visited it the other day and find the interior keeps the promise to the eye of its exterior adorning. The staging was down and a good survey was afforded of the work of the decorative artist. We found the view very fine as a whole, the lights and shades happily blended, filling the eye with the impression of completeness of effect. Back of the pulpit the old pattern of pannel work is mainly preserved, but the tints are deeper, showing the white marble pulpit in stronger contrast. The side walls present pannels between the windows, and the top ceiling is tastefully and elaborately painted in fresco from elegant designs.

Great improvements have been made in the organ loft, by the removal of those unsightly corners and barriers which have so long disfigured it. These have given place to a graceful sweep or curve, in the concave of which stands the organ. This improvement not only satisfies the eye but gives room for some twelve more eligible pews. The organ itself is to be painted to conform with the rest of the interior that all may present a consistent harmony of effect.

The prospect now is that the house may be ready for occupancy in season for the Thanksgiving services.

A FINANCIAL OPERATION.—A financial transaction happened last week on our principal street, which puts to shame all the operations of Wall street or State street. An Irishman desired to purchase a pig of a swine pedler, who asked him eleven dollars. After some parley our Hibernian offered him nine dollars in gold, saying he would not give a cent more. The pedler took it into consideration and finally accepted the offer, received a ten dollar gold piece and gave back the change in good greenback currency. The pedler pocketed the golden eagle, and the Irishman carried off his pig, both mutually rejoicing. We give no opinion of the morality of the transaction on the part of the pedler, although the purchaser was fully satisfied at having so cheaply secured such a jewel of a pig.

ARRIVAL OF THE 23D MASS.—The portion of the 23d Mass., who did not re-enlist, arrived in Boston, from Newbern, last Thursday morning via. New York in steam transport Charles Thomas. The regiment has not participated in so many bloody battles as some others that have gone from Massachusetts, yet their record is one of which they may well feel proud, and they have nobly performed their duty.

RECRUITING FUND.—We shall publish next week the names, and sums subscribed by our citizens towards the late Recruiting Fund. All those desiring extra copies containing it will please leave word with R. W. Wilkinson, or at this office, on or before Saturday next, in order to enable us to ascertain how many extra copies to strike off.

☞ We have received a communication, entitled "The Presidential Campaign," which will lay over till next week.

REV. MR. QUINT.

This gentleman has been known and praised by the Democrats as a McClellan man and as a conservative in politics.—He is all this now, but he says in a recent number of the Congregationalist that he is in favor of the General, but not of the politician. In like manner he is conservative, but his conservatism leads him to support the government, and he would have peace by conquering it.—He scouts "cessation of hostilities," and the whole of the Chicago platform. We are afraid Mr. Quint will get small praise now from the Democratic papers, who were lately so jubilant about his McClellanism. Mr. Quint's article closes as follows:

"Nor would McClellan's election procure peace. The rebels have exerted every effort to keep up their cause in hope of it. Let Lincoln be chosen by an emphatic vote, and the rebels will be disheartened. They would see in it the determination of the loyal people "you shall submit!" "there shall be no compromise!" "The whole power of the people shall be poured upon you if needed!" Against this emphatic determination, their spirits would fail. They know they are at the end of their resources. The war would speedily end. The army knows this, and knows that all that puts off the end is the wish of those at the North who sympathize with treason.

You who are in the field—you cannot vote for men for whose election the rebels are longing; you will not. You who have sons in the field—will you vote as your sons' enemies want you to vote? You have had noble sons fall on the field—can you vote as their slayers ask you to vote?

A patriotic, honest, and capable man is before us for re-election. He has made some mistakes; but none in the one point that this rebellion must be suppressed. His heart is right. We can trust him. His position is not ambiguous, and the rebels know it. His reelection would send dismay through their whole population. Can a patriot hesitate?

There is still another view—this—that if McClellan's letter was the platform, and his whole party stood upon it, still it would be impossible for any freedom loving man to approve it; for his position as to the real issues before our country, in which are included the cause, the life, and the object of this rebellion, seems fatally wrong. But I must defer its consideration."

THANKSGIVING CONTRIBUTION.—The Soldiers' Aid Society would hereby gratefully acknowledge the receipt of the following contributions from the various churches of this place:

Unitarian,	$43 08
Universalist,	27 23
Methodist,	8 54
South Church,	81 16
Total,	$160 01

☞ At the annual meeting of the members of the South Danvers Mutual Fire Insurance Company, the following Board of Directors was chosen for the ensuing year:

Henry Cook, Robert S. Daniels, George Osborne, Henry Poor, Joseph Osgood, Benjamin Wheeler, John Whitney, N. P. C. Patterson, John Safford.

At a subsequent meeting of the Board, Henry Cook was re-elected President.

☞ At the annual meeting of the Stockholders of the Danvers Bank, the following were chosen Directors for the ensuing year:

Eben Sutton, Warren M. Jacobs, E. T. Osborn, A. A. Abbott, Jonathan King, Joseph Osgood, Isaac B. Elliot.

At a subsequent meeting of the Directors, Eben Sutton was re-elected President for the ensuing year.

VILLAGE BANK, DANVERS.—The following gentlemen were elected Directors at the annual meeting of the Stockholders, on the 3d inst:

Daniel Richards, Samuel P. Fowler, Francis P. Merriam, John A. Putnam, Edwin Mudge, Daniel F. Putnam, Gilbert A. Tapley, Israel H. Putnam.

At a meeting of the Directors, subsequently, Daniel Richards, Esq., was re-elected President.

The Stockholders passed the following vote:—

Voted, That when two-thirds of the Stockholders have assented thereto, the Directors of the Village Bank shall be fully authorized to organize said Bank as an association for carrying on the business of Banking, under the laws of the United States.

Voted, That this meeting recommend to the Directors to declare a stock Dividend of fifteen dollars ($15) on each share, and to request the Stockholders to subscribe ten dollars ($10) on each share, thus restoring the par value of the shares to $100, and the aggregate Capital to $200,000.

The Bank has a surplus of $40,000. The dividend proposed to be made of $15 per share will amount to $30,000, and will leave a surplus of $10,000, which sum it is expected will be somewhat increased by the collection of old debts.—Gaz.

DISCOURSE ON THE "HOUR."—The M. E. Church on Washington Street, was densely crowded on Sunday evening to hear the views of Rev. Mr. SWEETSER, the pastor, on the present crisis of our national affairs. The speaker held his large audience for a full hour in undivided attention, and nothing but the sacredness of day and the place prevented frequent bursts of applause. His denunciation of traitors, south and north, were withering in the extreme and he handled them with ungloved hands.—We were glad to see so large an audience and such rapt attention to the words of the speaker and we think he will now be better known and appreciated for his patriotic ardor and the fervor of his natural eloquence.

SUPERIOR COURT.—The October term, for criminal business, of this Court commenced at Lawrence last Monday. Nothing will probably be done this week in the way of trying cases, as the Grand Jury will require several days for their labors. We hear that the traverse jurors are summoned for next Monday.

WAR CORRESPONDENCE.

FORT TOTTEN, NEWBERN, N. C.,
September 28th, 1864.

DEAR WIZARD,—In common with the rest of the loyal country the loyalists of North Carolina are rejoicing over the recent victory of Sheridan. Fort Totten yesterday spoke the joy of the Newbernians in the hurrah of a hundred guns and universal was the good feeling prevailing in all the camps. The soldiers here, while they sympathize strongly with their more suffering brethren of the heroic armies of Virginia and Georgia, rejoice also in their triumphs hardly less than if those triumphs were altogether their own. Out of the common cause grows up in the heart of the soldier a sentiment and spirit of brotherhood by which success in any part becomes equally the success of the whole army.

The Richmond Examiner not long ago said, "If Atlanta were to fall or Petersburg, or if Sheridan should drive Early back to Lynchburg, or if any one of these events should befall, then all the peace principles and peace Presidents of Chicago would be at the election next November where last year's snow is and last night's moonshine." If therefore the Examiner is a prophet, and no doubt it is in this case, Mac the Little, the unsurpassed captain of the 19th century, (on paper,) is where was the moonshine of yesternight. But it needed no prophet to tell this. That a man placed at the head of a nation's armies, with the amplest means at his disposal and with the most magnificent opportunities to accomplish decisive results, should retire from his position to private life and there continue two years, his country meanwhile blazing with a war which he had shown no capacity to terminate, and then, the war still raging, but numbered in its days by the genius of another man, should put himself before the people and ask their suffrages to elevate him to the Chief Magistracy of that nation is an act so preposterous that it is difficult to account for the candidacy of McClellan upon any other assumption than that of insanity. I recollect of visiting an insane asylum and meeting an inmate who insisted that she was the wife of Andrew Jackson, and whose whole conversation was about her husband the General. I pitied that woman, and as I pitied her, so I pity poor McClellan. He is not a responsible man. In the light of history it is even questionable if he was while at the head of the army. However, as he is not now in a position to do any harm let us let him rest.

Under the recent act of Congress and the Treasury Regulations made in conformity therewith, trade in Eastern North Carolina is receiving a new and most healthful impetus.—The chief products of the State, cotton, grain, tobacco, turpentine and tar are now being shipped in large quantities. Yankee enterprise is fast giving development to this hitherto undeveloped region. Lands and plantations which for years have gone unworked or run to waste from time whereof memory runs not to the contrary, are now being cleared up, fenced, tilled and made to bud and blossom with the substantial products. Tar kilns are springing up in many a new place and sending forth their smoke. The article of "Light-wood," heretofore considered as good for nothing or next to that, is now eagerly gathered and is likely to become of itself a source of no inconsiderable trade. This spirit of enterprise has taken hold of many of the old inhabitants, who seem to be waking up as from a long sleep. As we have travelled round, we have seen not a few actual Rip Van Winkles. But there are destined to be more. Only let the enterprising youth of the North take up their abode in this naturally wealth-containing land and in three years a Rip Van Winkle will cease to be a novelty.

The sickly season of this latitude may be said now to have fairly commenced, but with the proper precautions it is hoped that no disorder will gain such general prevalence as to render the season one of unusual sickness. The authorities are showing themselves prompt in adopting such sanitary measures as are deemed most admirable — clearing up and carrying away the filth of the town, burning the old and worthless buildings, (they ought to burn half the town,) cutting down and burying or carrying beyond the lines, the rank vegetation, and causing large fires to be kept burning in all the camps during the night. Soldiers are warned against exposing themselves needlessly to the hot sun of the day and the cool air of the night—an exposure which is doubtless the cause of more than half of all the sickness at this time of the year. It has been reported that Newbern is visited with the yellow-fever, but this is not true. A certain fever of rather a malignant character prevails here, but though resembling it in some respects, it is not the yellow fever. It has proved fatal in quite a number of cases with citizens and with soldiers, but with the latter chiefly in the hospital in the town.

There are at present of the 2d Mass. Artillery five companies at Fort Totten. Within a few weeks these companies, which had become reduced in numbers by deaths and other causes, have been filled by recruits from Massachusetts, but as the recruits are undrilled and unarmed too, their presence for awhile is only additional labor to their older comrades in the service.—Of late our guard for the garrison during the day has been furnished from the 1st N. C. colored regiment. This became necessary in consequence of the great number of sick. But as the Yankee recruits quickly learned their business, the darkies are now relieved. Who says a darkey does not make a good soldier?—Who says he will not quickly make one? If any man answers I, he speaks of that of which he knows nothing. The fact is the negro is so imitative, he possesses such a certain aptness over the pale face that in all which relates to the school of the soldier at least, he will outstrip the white man every time. Not a negro boy ten years old about the camps but will take up a stake or a broom and execute the manual of arms with an accuracy hardly equalled by any old soldier. All the commands incident to ordinary company drill they give correctly and forming themselves in squads go through with the movements. In fact they seem to be natural born "trainers," and as the fighting quality of the black is now established beyond controversy it is about time to sink prejudice against negroes as troops. Indeed it is about time to sink prejudice against the negro altogether. He is a man, and the more I see of him the more am I persuaded that the boasted superiority of the Caucasian over the African is without existence, except in the speech of vain men. How glorious a truth is this war discovering to the world! After all it is true that this long hitherto despised race that has been considered fit only for slavery and degradation, is a race of MEN and WOMEN, endowed with intelligence, affections, souls, rights equally with white men and white women. That is the lesson of this war.

A. A.

IN THE FIELD, EDINBURG, VA.,
September 23, 1864.

DEAR FRIEND,—Your good letter came to me to-day, and I shall have to call it a long one, I suppose, as it took me all the afternoon to read it. We were on the march and I had to read a few lines at a time, as we stopped to rest. We had orders on Sunday to march—got all ready into line, but orders were countermanded, and we put up our tents again. Gen. Grant was with Sheridan Saturday and Sunday. You have heard more of the particulars of the battle of Winchester than I can give, so I'll not attempt to write about it,—suffice it to say we whipped the rebels soundly and drove them from Dan to Beersheba.

Sheridan ordered a general charge last night at six; and although the rebels had just before told our pickets that their generals were not drunk to-day and they would whip us, the charge was so sudden, unexpected and impetuous that the chivalric sons of the South were frightened out of their wits, took to their heels, leaving their half-cooked suppers, their kettles, and their artillery even. We captured 20 pieces in the charge. The loss of life was small, and we call it one of the most important and bloodless victories of the war. It is evening, and artillery and musketry are heard plainly. The beginning of the end begins to dawn.

McClellan will not be President;—our country must be saved, and we want no trembling Uzziah to put forth his hand to save the ark—but honest, tried Abe Lincoln, the people's and the soldiers' friend.

Our band had two men wounded at Winchester. I guess you will soon see me marching into a house on Lowell street, and that, too, soon, for we are going to have this great rebellion crushed before June.

F. M. G.

FORT WHIPPLE, VA. Oct. 3d, 1864.

DEAR WIZARD,—The following are the names of men from Danvers belonging to the 17th Unattached Co. Mass. H. A., now stationed at the above named fort, four miles from the city of Washington:

John Ambrose,	Thomas B. George,
Thomas H. Bailey,	John S. George,
Wallace Bailey,	Charles A. Guppy,
Florence H. Croley,	Edward F. Gurley,
Timothy Dexter Croley,	Charles Hayward,
Eben F. Cressy,	Charles H. Newhall,
Elbridge Cothran,	Joseph F. Pitman,
Lewis W. Day,	Albert Perry,
Stephen S. Day,	Wm. B. Ross,
Thomas S. Dodge,	Jacob C. Spalding,
Wm. G. Dickey,	John Q. Welch,
Benj. F. Grover,	John W. Rollins,
Douglas R. Wilson.

There are eighteen pairs of brothers in this Company—fourteen from Marblehead and four from Danvers.

Yours, truly,
FLORENCE H. CROLEY.

CONGRESSIONAL CONVENTION.—The Republican Convention of this Congressional District was held at Salem last Thursday. Mr. Alley, the present incumbent, was nominated by acclamation. We hear considerable comment as to the manner in which the nomination was made.

The Statesman represents that the motion to nominate Mr. Alley was made and passed before the credentials of members had been examined. The Gazette gives it the other way; but from what we learn from delegates who were present, we are of opinion that the Gazette is inaccurate upon this point. The gist of the complaint made by the anti-Alley men is, that they were denied the privilege of testing the strength of Mr. Alley by a ballot—some of them alleging that this test would have disclosed a strong opposition, and perhaps have made the result different. We think the friends of Mr. Alley made a mistake in objecting to a ballot. Mr. Alley undoubtedly had a decided majority in the Convention—and this would have appeared by a ballot, and his opponents would have been precluded from alleging the contrary against him. We think he was strong enough to have withstood any fair test. If he was, a ballot should have been taken on his account; if he was not, a ballot should have been taken on account of his constituents—for we suppose that nobody will claim that the real preference of the District ought to be ignored or disregarded for the gratification of any single individual.

REBEL NEGRO SOLDIERS.—The Richmond Enquirer of the 6th favors the making soldiers of negroes, and giving such soldiers their freedom if they escape the casualties of battle. It argues upon the rebel Congress to purchase 250,000 negroes, present them with their freedom, and arm and drill them. It says neither negroes nor slavery should be permitted to stand in the way of the success of the rebel cause, and that Virginia, after exhausting her whites, will fight her blacks through to the last man.

THE NEW STEAM FIRE ENGINE, which was contracted for some months ago by this city, arrived here on Wednesday morning, in company with the "P. M. Neal," an engine of similar size, which is intended for the city of Lynn. In accordance with the general custom in regard to new city purchases, the engine was put on exhibition in front of the City Hall, where she attracted general attention. She is of about the same power as the Salem, No. 1, which has given such good satisfaction for the past three years, and built by the same company. In the afternoon she was taken to the reservoir near the Court House. The steam guage indicated 10 pounds of steam in six minutes from the time fire was applied. Her trial was very satisfactory, maintaining the high reputation of her builders. With the three steamers and our efficient hand engines, we now have a fire department which cannot be surpassed in the country.—Statesman.

☞ Gen. Thomas Francis Meagher has published a letter severely denouncing the Democratic party and his Irish fellow citizens for following them. He says the Irish have suffered themselves to be bamboozled into being obstinate herds in the political field, contracting inveterate instincts, following with gross stupidity and the stoniest blindness certain worn out old path-ways described for them by their drivers, but never doing anything worthy of the intellectual and chivalrous reputation of their race.

[For the Wizard.]

ON MONADNOCK.

"There's the summit, fifteen miles from here, just visible through the mist. This is the last day of our visit; let's spend it on Monadnock!" The ladies, wearied with the ride to Gilsum and Surry Mountain, sent their regrets to the monarch of Cheshire, and bade us adieu.

With a well laden basket we sped on our way. An hour had passed with its songs and stories, when one of us exclaimed, "We're close to it, at last!" "Yes," was the answer, "We shall reach it in an hour." Convinced, yet not believing, we gazed upon the purplish-gray hight, that seemed so near and yet so distant. The winds were lifting, one by one, the mantles of mist that still rested on his shoulders, wafting them high above, to vanish there or in the horizontal distance. Vail after vail, the attendant airs withdrew till, full and clear, his face received the forenoon sun, and his venerable head our reverential gaze:—

Monadnock, Grand, to thee we bow;
As thou didst stand when Earth was young,
So standest thou.

Enchanted with the scene, we longed to press the sides of this majestic form; and, impatient with their highest speed, urged the horses forward. The toilsome ascent commenced. Bowlder after bowlder, thousands of tons of erratic granite, lay along the path. "How long since the ice-carriers left you here and fainted where they dropped you, or wasted far adown the slope? Whence came you, round and square and shapeless stones? Thank this mountain for your release from your frigid captor. Cling to your preserver though storm and shine, frost and sun, attack and destroy you. This noble mountain, the hills around, even we who address you, shall moulder likewise and be no more."

The rude half-way house is reached, and the top seems no nearer than when we were eight miles away. As when a height in science or art is to be attained, how near it seems at first, how distant it becomes as we advance! "And when we shall stand upon your dizzy hight, Monadnock, shall we not behold, far away, summits overtopping yours? Shall not the attainment of our present aim, high though it is, serve to present still higher ends—grander altitudes to excite ambition and reward toil?"

Leaving to the attention of the groom the jaded horses, we take our shawls and food, and continue up the steep. Enterprise has formed a pathway here and strewn it with stones. We advance as if by stairs. George and Sidney constitute the van, Amasa and his friend, less vigorous, following, stopping now and then to examine a tree or flower, and, as each silently confesses, to rest. Strong limbs and sound lungs this mountain-climbing demands.

"It would never do for us to tend goats in Switzerland, would it, Amasa?"

"No; but it would just suit George and Sid to chase deer up and down the Alps; for there they are, half a mile ahead."

"Taking some 'nourishment', too," was the rejoinder, in the same tone.

"Ah, George, you've found a spring, have you?"

"Yes; and thinking we'd need some water, I've just made a pint of room for it in this bottle."

"Good; but we think a little more wouldn't hurt, so let us lower the contents, and then fill it again,"

"That's swamp water," said Amasa.

"Swamp water on a mountain of rock!" ejaculated George.

Amasa was right; for we soon came to a few square rods of floor-like surface, green with blades, and saturated with water. The snows that are heaped here in winter, and the rains that pour down, serve at once to protect and nourish this Alpine garden.

"A snug cottage and a choice library would make this a delightful place of residence for life."

"Add a plenty to eat, drink, and burn," came down from the leader, who was on the way again.

Not stopping to view the landscape that was spread out below us, we pushed steadily forward to the "pinnacle." This reached, the eye wandered with delight over the wide-spreading plain. The hills we thought steep in passing over them were now gentle swells; the farms, mere patches; the highways, lines of sand; the woods, a network extending beyond the bounds of vision; the ponds, innumerable, and glassy near by, or glimmering in the distance.

"Dinner will refresh us. It's cold up here. No wonder buzzards have good appetites. This is the place to hatch eagles, the rocks are just hard enough. Here, under the lee, squatting on our shawls, we'll eat, drink, and be merry,—if possible. The lower world may spread its fine linen, arrange its gilded porcelain and fragrant bouquets. We will place on the bare rocks our crackers and beef and apples, and eat from the plates that nature gave us, with utensils that were made before knives and forks. The repast finished, we light cigars and pass an hour in smoky doze. Indeed, dreamy sleep has already rendered soft our indurate bed when, "Come up here!" grates on our ears, and we clamber up for the view.

To the southeast is Wachusett; northeast, Kearsarge; in the west, the huge knolls of Vermont rise far into the air. The White Hills are hidden in cloud. Between these hights and ourselves are no elevations that rival Monadnock. We stand in the center of a vast amphitheatre. Its sides, not ornamented with feudal walls

"—— where ruin greenly dwells," nor with Grecian columns, that tell of heroic times and faith in Olympic gods, but arrayed in the smoke that rises from many a seat of industry, and decorated with clusters of clean, white houses breathing a new civilization, the whole expanse, with its woods and waters, becoming almost primeval when we think of the climes which earlier man cleared and furrowed, of the lands he peopled, and of the plains now scattered over with the remains of his temples. And shall this new civilization be checked in its progress? Shall the master spirit of the Old World place its iron heel upon the New? The spotted plains below us answer, "No! Peopled sparsely, our minerals scarcely worked, our soil little tilled, we now defy all opposition to progress. A century later, and who can estimate our preponderance in all that is good and great and human?"

Here in the coarse granite are large garnets. Many have been crushed by the hammer of the clumsy visitor. They appear like drops of blood, more indelible than the Macbethian spots, not less audible in their cry of "Shame!"

In sheltered nooks, are a few flowers. These little beauties, peeping up here and there, tell the well learned truth that in places the most forbidding and under circumstances the most unfortunate, we may find bright and forms or the words and smiles of frien Mountain cranberries, too, grow he soil, moisture, and heat are favorable.
removes a cluster to be planted in his Does he think they will enjoy a life a spiritless kitchen-vegetables? Will pine for the free air and the free g their natal place?

A long ramble over the rocks, and proaches. We must hurry homewa lost on the mountain. As evening c Monadnock and its spurs lose their we outline. In the deepning obscurity, ine the land heaved into waves purs pursued,—an ocean tossed and billow selves upon the highest crest, which Omnipotent command, and stoppe dashed into spray.

SUPPRESSING PRIVATE CHECKS.—S our well known traders of good stan before United States Commissioner
Boston last week, for issuing and c private checks as currency. This which is generally known to be co
State law, is also in contravention o law of the United States. The s cents induced not a few traders to is and the public have generally foun
a convenience. There ought to b enough afloat in the market, and we will come forth in sufficient quantity private checks have been suppress parties complained of, not being mal fenders, were dealt with leniently, discharged on paying costs.—Gazette

GARDEN SAUCE FROM THE S
VALLEY.—Early beats.

☞ In these times of high prices to remember that children can be su shoes for less than half the usual a by wearing Metal-Tipped Shoes, to ing of stockings destroyed and dangered by wet feet, arising from like habit of wearing out their s toes first.—Boston Journal.

Shin-Plasters.

NOTICE.—We continue to the Salem Currency Checks at pa
we redeem in any sums that ca
Green-Backs or Postage Currency
none out after this date.
JOHN P. PE
Salem, Oct. 12.

Episcopal Service

Divine Service, according to the Protestant Episcopal Church, wil
the Town Hall on the next Sund (16th instant,) commencing at 7 o' service will be held, also, on each
Sunday evening, at the same hour
These services are in the charge
GEORGE D. WILDES, Recto
Church, Salem. As at present they are wholly free; and all perso are affectionately invited to attend
If the weather should be sto evening appointed, the service wi
Oct. 12th, 1864.

INTERESTING HISTORY.—A g
Boston, well known in private bus has been all his life, and his an him, subject to severe attacks o
All the usual remedies failing to endeavored to discover a cure.
tinued experiments, he at leng application which cured him e used it without any failure.
learning of this, he had nu for the remedy, and for two or t went the round of private circles, one that used it. He sold none, mand became so great as to make impossible to supply it without a upon his purse.
It was then offered for sale, an to assert that scarcely any medi such an introduction to the publ a time. The sale has been alm parallel. We refer to "Stur Compound." A number of wel tlemen of Boston and other plac it with remarkable effect, and w itation in recommending it to eve very common for persons who ha to visit the proprietor and offer th publication, so remarkable and the effect of the medicine. It is nally, and a child may use it.
druggists have it for sale.

☞ Goods received for LAWA
DYE HOUSE. M.
Jan 20 tf

Marriages

In Danvers, Oct. 4th, by Rev.
Mr. Henry Conant to Miss Ha
sey, both of D.
In Salem, by Rev. Mr. Carle
H. Munroe to Miss Abbie A. Ph
Oct. 5th, by Rev. Mr. Winn,
Babcock to Miss Susie H. Stone.
7th, by Rev. Mr. Spaulding,
Henfield to Miss Mary Susan Ca
8th, by Rev. Mr. Winn, Mr.
to Miss Eliza L. Maguire, both
In Beverly, Oct. 6th, at th
Church, by Rev. Mr. Foster, Mr. ter of Salem, to Miss Augusta M
In Boston, Oct. 6th, by Rev.
Horace Osborn to Miss Sarah of Salem.

Deaths.

[*Deaths are recorded gratuit funeral notices are charged 25 c poetry and notices are chargeab
line.*]

In this town, Sept. 24th, Cha 10 years 2 months 24 days.
In Salem, Oct. 3d, Dora
Charles H. and Lovey J. L
Mr. Thomas Symonds, 73 years son of Charles H. and Hannah mos 14 days; 5th, Mr. Thomas 10 mos 15 days; Mary Alice, da and Mary A. Townes, 2 years
Mrs. Mary, widow of the late M rell, 73 yrs 10 mos 15 days; Jo and Ann Howell, 10 mos; 6
Goodale, of Wenham, 17 yrs croup, Frankie H., only son o and Elizabeth D. Lord, 14 mos
W., son of Mr. Joseph H. Do days; Lillie, daughter of Jame
Stetson, 13 mos 7 days; Mrs. A Patrick Murphy, 28 yrs; 10th, daughter of Hon. C. W. Upha
In Essex, Oct. 1, Susan S. B
14 days.
In Boston, Oct. 5, of paralys
P. Curtis, 72 yrs—for many ye member of the Suffolk bar.
In Sacramento, Cal., July fever, Lucius D. Martin, 24 yr a native of Danvers.

U. S. 7-30 LOAN.

he Secretary of the Treasury gives notice that sub-ptions will be received for Coupon Treasury Notes, able three years from Aug. 15th, 1864, with semi-an-l interest at the rate of seven and three-tenths per t. per annum, principal and interest both to be paid awful money.

hese notes will be convertible at the option of the ler at maturity, into six per cent. gold bearing bonds, able not less than five nor more than twenty years n their date, as the Government may elect. They be issued in denominations of $50, $100, $500, 000 and $5,000, and all subscriptions must be for fif-ollars, or some multiple of fifty dollars.

he notes will be transmitted to the owners free of isportation charges as soon after the receipt of the inal Certificates of Deposit as they can be pre-ed.

s the notes draw interest from August 15, persons ing deposits subsequent to that date must pay the rest accrued from date of note to date of deposit. arties depositing twenty-five thousand dollars and ards for these notes at any one time will be allowed mmission of one-quarter of one per cent., which be paid by the Treasury Department upon the re-t of a bill for the amount, certified to by the officer whom the deposit was made. No deductions for missions must be made from the deposits.

ECIAL ADVANTAGES OF THIS LOAN.

Is a National Savings Bank, offering a higher of interest than any other, and the best securi-Any savings bank which pays its depositors in U. otes, considers that it is paying in the best circulat-medium of the country, and it cannot pay in any-g better, for its own assets are either in government urities or in notes or bonds payable in government er.

is equally convenient as a temporary or permanent stment. The notes can always be sold for within ction of their face and accumulated interest, and the best security with banks as collaterals for dis-nts.

vertible into a Six per cent. 5-20 Gold Bond.

addition to the very liberal interest on the notes three years, this privilege of conversion is now th about three per cent. per annum, for the current for 5-20 Bonds is not less than nine per cent. mium, and before the war the premium on six per U. S. stocks was over twenty per cent. It will be that the actual profit on this loan, at the present ket rate, is not less than ten per cent. per annum.

EXEMPTION FROM STATE OR MUNICIPAL TAXATION.

ut aside from all the advantages we have enumerat-a special Act of Congress exempts all bonds and asury notes from local taxation. On the age, this exemption is worth about two per cent. annum, according to the rate of taxation in various s of the country.

is believed that no securities offer so great induce-ts to lenders as those issued by the Government.—l other forms of indebtedness, the faith or ability rivate parties, or stock companies, or seperate com-ities, only, is pledged for payment, while the whole erty of the country is held to secure the discharge ll the obligations of the United States.

hile the government offers the most liberal terms ts loans, it believes that the very strongest appeal be to the loyalty and patriotism of the people.

uplicate certificates will be issued for all deposits.—party depositing must endorse upon the original ificate the denomination of notes required, and ther they are to be issued in blank or payable to or-When so endorsed it must be left with the officer iving the deposit, to be forwarded to the Treasury artment.

ubscriptions will be received by the Treasurer he United States, at Washington, the several As-nt Treasurers and designated Depositaries, and by

First National Bank of Salem, Mass.
First National Bank of Boston, Mass.
Second National Bank of Boston, Mass.
Third National Bank of Boston, Mass.
National Bank of the Republic, Boston, Mass.
Boston National Bank, Boston, Mass.
First National Bank of Amesbury, Mass.
First National Bank of Haverhill, Mass.
First National Bank of Newburyport, Mass.

by all National Banks which are depositaries of lic money, and

LL RESPECTABLE BANKS AND BANKERS oughout the country will give further information

FORD EVERY FACILITY TO SUBSCRIBERS.
ugust 17, 1864,—3m

☞ Ready-made Overcoats, $60, $55, $50, 5, $42, $40, $38, $35, $33, $32, $30, $28, , $25, $22, $20, $19, $18, $17, $16, $15, , $13, $12, $11, $10. One Price only at nnett & Co's, 14 & 15 Dock Square, Boston.

☞ For Boys' Clothing call at Bennett & 's One Price House, 14 and 15 Dock Square, ston.

☞ Ready-made Pants, $17, $16, $15, $14, , $12, $11, $10, $9, $8, $7.50, $7, $6.50, , $5.50, $5, $4.50, $4, $3.50, $3, $2.50, at nnett & Co.'s One Price House, 14 and 15 ck Square, Boston.

☞ For Gents' Furnishing Goods, Shirts l Drawers, or a garment made to order, call Bennett & Co.'s One Price House, 14 and Dock Square, Boston.

The Board of Government
OF THE
YOUNG MEN'S UNION, OF SALEM,

ke pleasure in announcing to the Member d to the Public generally that they have de arrangements for a Course of Lectures d a Series of Concerts, to be given at Me-anic Hall, on alternate Monday Evenings, ring the coming winter.

The list of Lecturers will consist of some of most distinguished names in the lecture d. The Concerts will be of a high order, artists and amateurs of Boston and Salem, d will be more particularly advertised in fu-e papers.

Tickets to each course, $1.00. A few tickets y be had at the apothecary store of Thomas Sweetser, No. 37 Main Street.
Sept. 28th, 1864. 3w

Bargains in Gent's Under-Shirts, Draw-s, Hosiery, &c.—Bought early in the season d will be sold at the Very Lowest Prices.
George S. Walker,
228 Essex St., Salem.

MATRIMONIAL!
LADIES AND GENTLEMEN,

you wish to marry, address the undersigned, who l send you without money and without price, valu-e information that will enable you to marry happy l speedily, irrespective of age, wealth or beauty. is information will cost you nothing, and if you h to marry, I will cheerfully assist you. All letters ctly confidential. The desired information sent by rn mail, and no questions asked. Address
Sarah B. Lambert, Greenpoint, Kings Co.,
ct. 12, 1864.—2 m. New York.

J. F. Almy & Co.

HOSIERY, GLOVES, &C., &C.

We have just received a full stock of
GENT'S WOOL SOCKS,
AND LADIES' AND MISSES' HOSIERY,
in best makes, at low prices.

Also—a fine stock of Ladies' Silk, fleece lined and Cloth GLOVES, in all grades and sizes.

We have received this morning a line of
GENT'S SHIRT FRONTS,
in fine qualities.

We heve received this morning a fine stock of
BLANKETS,
comprising a variety of makes.

We have in stock a full line of American and Foreign CLOTHS, suitable for
WINTER CLOAKS,
which we are prepared to make to order, from measure, for Ladies or Children, in any style.

The prices throughout our whole stock are low in comparison to the present ruling rates.

JAMES F. ALMY & CO.,
188 Essex Street, opposite Central Street.
Salem, September 21st, 1864.

New Advertisements.

Sheriff's Sale.

Essex, ss., September 22d, 1864. Taken on three Executions, and will be sold at Public Auction, on THURSDAY, the 27th day of October inst., at eleven o'clock in the forenoon, on the premises hereinafter described, all the right that PELETIAH LITTLEFIELD has, or had when the same was attached on the original writs, of redeeming the following described Mortgaged Real Estate, to wit,—A certain lot of land with a dwelling house and other buildings thereon, situate in Salem in said County, and bounded northwesterly by Albion Street, 50 feet; southwesterly by land of Trafatter, about 106 feet; southeasterly by a new street, 50 feet, and northeasterly by land of Dahiel A. Manning, about 106 feet, with all the appurtenances and privileges thereto belonging; it being the same estate described in a Mortgage Deed from said Littlefield to Geo Lawrence, recorded with the Essex County Deeds, Book 590, Leaf 182.
DANIEL POTTER, Deputy Sheriff.
Oct. 12.—3 w.

List of Letters

Remaining unclaimed in the Post Office at South Danvers, Mass., Oct. 11th, 1864.

☞ "To obtain any of these letters, the applicant must call for advertised letters, give the date of this list, and pay one cent for advertising.

☞ "If not called for within one month, they will be sent to the Dead Letter Office.

☞ Office Hours from 7 A. M. to 8 P. M.

James N. Buffum,	Chas. S. Peabody,
W. H. Baldwin,	Eliza Southwick,
Nancy Babbidge,	Mary Quinn,
Cath. Brown,	Osborn Richards,
M. C. Bickford,	Ellen Rean,
James Gillion,	William Short,
John Holland,	M. F. Russell,
Susan Huisman,	Sarah Stickney,
Caroline Baswell,	Henry C. Steene,
Lieut. Chas. Masury,	Matt. A. Stickney,
Ellen Mahan,	J. C. Sheen,
Adelia Norwood,	Green Sanborn,
Perley Proctor,	John A. Williams.

DANIEL WOODBURY, P. M.

Vitrified Stone Drain Pipe.

Just received and for sale by the subscribers, 5000 feet of the above Pipe, the usual sizes suitable for drainage; the best in the market.

Apply to
B. R. WHITE, Mason,
St. Peter Court.
or P. P. GOSS, Plumber,
No. 7 St. Peter st.

Salem, Aug. 3, 1864.—3m

OPENING!
A FULL ASSORTMENT OF
FALL AND WINTER STYLE
BONNETS,
HATS,
DRESS CAPS and
HEAD-DRESSES.
OCTOBER 6TH,
AT
M. E. CRANE'S,
168 ESSEX STREET, - - SALEM.
October 5th, 1864.

Two Splendid Engravings.

"Christ Blessing Little Children," and "Home on a Furlough."

Subscriptions for these beautiful Engravings received at B. F. STEVENS' Jewelry Store,
oct 5 116 Main St., South Danvers.

Salem and Danvers Aqueduct Co'y.

All persons using the water of the Salem and South Danvers Aqueduct, are hereby notified that the water rents, for the six months ending Nov'r 1, 1864, are now due; and that they are required to pay the same, at the office of the Company, No. 2 Sewall Street, on the 1st day of October inst. Should the bills remain unpaid for thirty days, the water will be stopped, in conformity to the regulations of the Company.

Office hours from 9 to 1 o'clock, and from 2 to 5.
Per order of the Directors,
Salem, Oct 1, 1864. WM. JELLY, Collector.

DERBY & CHILDS,
Fire, Marine and Life Insurance Agents.

Orders left at No. 24 Washington st., Salem, or received by mail, promptly attended to.

Losses equitably adjusted and promptly paid, and Insurance effected at reasonable rates.
Salem, August 10,—3m*

WANTED TO HIRE,

For a year or term of years, a COTTAGE HOUSE and Garden, pleasantly located in Danversport, or Danvers Center. Rent of no consequence, provided all else prove satisfactory.

Address T. H. S., at this office, stating terms, etc.
South Danvers, Sept 28. tf

CAMPAIGN MEDALS,

Of different styles—at
oct 12 G. M. WHIPPLE & A. A. SMITH'S.

WEBSTER'S NEW DICTIONARY,

New edition, illustrated throughout, and greatly enlarged—for sale by oct 12 G. M. WHIPPLE & A. A. SMITH.

PAPER SHADES.

A fine assortment of Paper Shades for Kerosene Lamps, just received from Philadelphia, and for sale at S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS', 32 Front St.
oct 12

NEW BOOKS,
At G. M. WHIPPLE & A. A. SMITH'S.

The Hour which cometh, and now is—Sermons preached by James Freeman Clarke; Character and Public Services of Abraham Lincoln; Lindisfarn Chase—a Novel by T. A. Trollope; Our Mutual Friend, by Charles Dickens—Book first; Harper's Hand-book for Travelling in Europe and the East. oct 12 190 Essex street.

WAR MAPS.

All the late styles—at G. M. WHIPPLE & A. A. SMITH'S, 190 Essex Street, Salem.

AUTUMN GOODS.
SHAWLS,
AND
DRESS GOODS.
BLANKETS,
QUILTS,
AND
HOUSE-KEEPING GOODS.
CLOTHS,
DOESKINS,
OVER-COATINGS,
AND
CLOAK CLOTHS,
For sale by
THOMAS W. DOWNING & CO.,
Sept. 28. 179 Essex street, Salem.

A. J. Archer & Co

REDUCED PRICES!

DRY GOODS.

AUGUSTUS J. ARCHER & CO.,

Are Prepared to offer their Large Stock of
SHAWLS,
DRESS GOODS,
GARMENTS,
WOOLENS,
House-Keeping Goods,
—At the—
LOWEST MARKET PRICES.
oct 12—tf 181 Essex street.

NEW
DRESS GOODS,
PLAIN AND FIGURED,
—AT—
164 ESSEX ST., SALEM.

CHOICE STYLES AND COLORS.
— ALSO —
PLAIDS for CHILDREN'S SHAWLS,
BALMORALS, WHITE FLANNELS,
CALICOES, HOOP SKIRTS, &c., &c.

These Goods are positively selling at BARGAINS, please call and see for yourselves.

BE SURE AND FIND THE RIGHT STORE,
164 ESSEX STREET, SALEM,
(Opposite Museum Building.)
oct 12 J. E. P. FEARING.

Ladies' Furnishing Goods.

Improvement!

Messrs. BROWNING & LONG

Have made alterations in their Establishment with the view of improving and enlarging their

Worsted Department,

and can now insure a spacious Department solely devoted to

"GERMAN ZEPHYR WORSTEDS,"

with a powerful light, plenty of room, and a great assortment, making over One Hundred and Twenty-five different shades, being one of the FINEST Stocks of the kind in the United States.

Ladies will be surprised at the immense Stock now open; as we make it a speciality and have our Worsteds direct from Germany, we show many colors not to be found elsewhere.

PRICES LOWER
Than any Establishment in Boston.

By the New Arrangement Ladies will find it an easy task to select Shades.

OUR PRICES WERE REDUCED
WITH THE FALL OF GOLD!

Magnificent Patterns
For all sorts of
NEW WORSTED GOODS,
Which we are pleased to show every one—they are ra rarities.

Our Great Collection
—OF—
WORSTED WORK,
Comprising nearly every article
EVER MADE ON CANVAS, should be seen by
EVERY ADMIRER OF WORSTED WORK.

NEW GOODS
NOW BEING OPENED!
—Secured at—
The Low Rate of Gold!
—AT—
BROWNING & LONG'S
LADIES' FURNISHING STORE,
177 Essex Street, 177
SALEM.
Salem, Oct. 12, 1864.

AUTUMN AND WINTER
DRY GOODS.

Prints, De Laines, Plaids, Poplins, Alpaccas, Coburgs, Thibets, and many other styles for Dresses:

SHAWLS AND HOUSEKEEPING GOODS.

Bleached and Unbleached Cottons, different widths. Cotton Flannels, Wool and Cotton and Wool Flannels, of every variety and color.

Union and all wool Cassimeres and Doeskins, for Mens' and Boys' wear.

Hosiary, Gloves, Yarns, Umbrellas, &c., &c., sold at the lowest prices for the Cash, at
238 Essex Street.
GEO. P. DANIELS.
Satem, Sept. 28, 1864.

TO LET.

A good FARM of about 30 acres, situated about a mile from So. Danvers Square, on the Old Boston Road, with 12 Cows, and all other necessary and convenient live stock, farming implements, milk route, etc. Here is a rare chance for an experienced farmer. The best of references required.

Further particulars can be learned on application to
SIDNEY C. BANCROFT.
South Danvers, Sept 28.

STORE TO LET.

The Store now occupied by Messrs. Blake & Holman, on the corner of Washington and Main Sts. The best located and most convenient store in town for the Grocery business. Possession given immediately. Apply to R. S. DANIELS.
South Danvers, Sept. 21.

George S. Walker.

GREAT REDUCTION!
Stock Reduced to Gold Value!

Customers may be assured that hereafter goods will be sold at gold value, and that the reduction will be real.

Undershirts, Hosiery,
Drawers, Gloves, &c.,
At Greatly Reduced Prices,
—AT—
GEORGE S. WALKER'S,
No. 228 Essex Street
oct 12 Opp. Eastern Railroad Station.

NEW PLAIDS.
ANN R. BRAY,
76 Federal Street, Salem.

Has just opened a variety of NEW PLAIDS for Ladies and Children, which will be sold low for Cash.

We have a large stock of DOMESTIC GOODS, which we shall sell out at Reduced Prices.

We invite our customers, and all those who are purchasing Goods for family use, to call, as we shall sell so as to make it an object for all who wish to save money. oct 5 ANN R. BRAY.

Potter, Bachelder & Co.,
DANVERS-PORT and SOUTH DANVERS,
DEALERS IN
WOOD AND COAL.
Constantly on hand

Franklin, Burnside, Dimond, } RED ASH.

Old Company & Packer's Lehigh, Pliny Fisk, Webster and Locust Mountain, } WHITE ASH.

Also Cumberland, Pictou and Campbell, for Steam and Smith's use.

OFFICE—No. 6 Allen's Building.
G. W. POTTER,
J. Q. A. BACHELDER,
C. T. BATCHELDER. mch 30

C. W. HALEY, M. D.,
Physician and Surgeon.
OFFICE—WARREN BANK BUILDING,
South Danvers.

M. A. PORTER,
236 Essex Street, - - Salem, Mass.,
(Opposite Horse Railroad Office,)
MAKES TO ORDER BEST QUALITIES OF
WATCH SPRING SKIRTS.

A Good Assortment of Dress and Cloak Button, Braids, Spool Cotton, Small Wares, and Thread Store articles generally.

236 Essex Street, - - Salem, Mass.,
M. A. PORTER.

AUTUMN STYLES.

We are now prepared to show our customers a fine
— assortment of —
FALL MILLINERY GOODS,
REITH & CO'S,
No. 2 West Block, 188 Essex St.,
Sept 21 Salem, Mass.

---

197 REMOVAL. 197
Gentlemen's Clothing,
YOUTH'S AND BOYS' CLOTHING,
—AND THE—
FURNISHING GOODS ESTABLISHMENT,
of the subscriber is removed to
197 Essex Street,
Store lately occupied by Mr. JOHN MCKEY.

☞ A full and fresh assortment of GOODS is now opening and will be kept up as the season advances.
Salem, Sept 21. T. H. LEFAVOUR.

REAL ESTATE.

The subscriber offers for sale the following Lots of Land, with the buildings thereon, at Private Sale until October next, when, if not previously sold, they will be put up at auction.

On Lowell street, a two story DWELLING HOUSE, fitted for two families. This is the Estate formerly known as the Southwick Tavern.

On Lowe street, leading from Foster St. to Washington St., a two story TENEMENT for two families with a garden attached to it.

On Washington street, near the residence of Capt. Lowe, a very eligible BUILDING LOT, on the North side of the street.

On Tremont street, a small COTTAGE HOUSE for one or two families.

On Walnut street, a pleasant, elevated Lot of Land, with a large Barn, situated opposite Mr. Caller's Currying Shop.

In the rear of the above TWO TENEMENT HOUSES.

For particulars apply to
jy 27 WILLIAM SUTTON.

HOUSE OF EQUITY,
—BY—
Arnold & Hutchinson,
(Successors to C. T. Southwick.)

FIRST QUALITY
FAMILY GROCERIES,
Sold at the Lowest Prices.

A large and complete assortment of
CROCKERY AND GLASS WARE,
Constantly on hand.
Also FLOUR and GRAIN,
ASHLAND HALL BUILDING,
NO. 1 LOWELL STREET,
F. T. ARNOLD. B. F. HUTCHINSON.
South Danvers, Feb 3, 1864.

OATS. OATS.

5000 BUSHELS PRIME OATS, received this day, and for sale by
sept 7 GAYLE & CO., Phillips Wharf.

SELF-SEALING
AIR-TIGHT CASKET.

Mr. CHARLES S. BUFFUM, Furnishing Undertaker of South Danvers, takes this method to announce that he has a new burial case, which combines all the advantages of a wooden receptacle with those of a metal one, and yet avoids the disadvantages of both. They have been used with great success, and bodies placed in them have been delivered in perfect preservation after having been transported over a thousand miles. To persons having deceased friends at the seat of war they are invaluable. They come at reasonable prices, are light and durable, and are perfectly air-tight. august 10

EBEN UPTON,
Piano Fortes Tuned and Regulated,
MELODEONS AND PIANOS
BOUGHT AND EXCHANGED.
For New Piano Fortes, at Wholesale Prices.
Orders left at G. CREAMER'S Bookstore, Salem.
July 27, 1864.—6m

Ladies' Furnishing Goods.

German Zephyr Worsteds.

We have a large Stock of the finest quality and best Shades of German Zephyr Worsteds, at Less Price than any other store in Essex County.
JOHN P. PEABODY.

We warrant our Worsteds to be from 5 to 10 cents per ounce less than they can be bought in this city.

We have a full stock of Knit Shawls—Capes —Sontags, &c, &c.
JOHN P. PEABODY.

Last Year's Price.

We have a few of the finest and best Clouds—kept from last year's stock, which we will sell at $1.25. We have all the different colors and styles.
JOHN P. PEABODY.

Buttons and Trimmings.

Our stock of Dress and Cloak Buttons is full of all the desirable styles.

In Trimmings we have Quill'd Ribbons—Velvets—Bugle Gimps—Braids—Cords, &c—all at our usual Low Prices.
JOHN P. PEABODY.

Our Stock.

We have the largest stock of Ladies' Furnishing Goods in this city, and always sell at the lowest prices. We invite customers to examine our stock and compare our prices with those of other dealers and judge for themselves.
JOHN P. PEABODY.

White Goods.

Muslins—Cambrics—Linens—Dimities—Linen Lawns and Cambrics—Nainsooks—Swiss Mulls, &c., &c.

We own these goods at very low prices, and are selling them at a very large discount from current rates.
JOHN P. PEABODY.

Our Whole Stock

Is looked over every week, and such prices put upon all articles that do not sell readily, as will cause rapid sales. By so doing, we can always show a fresh assortment, and customers get the benefit of any decline in prices.
JOHN P. PEABODY.

White Goods of all kinds at Peabody's,
Trimmings of all kinds at Peabody's,
Buttons of all kinds at Peabody's,
Hosiery of all kinds at Peabody's,
Gloves of all kinds at Peabody's,
Toilet Articles of all kinds at Peabody's.
Jet, Steel and Leather Goods, in variety, at Peabody's.

THE LARGEST STOCK.
THE LOWEST PRICES.
THE CHOICEST GOODS.
THE QUICKEST SALES.

ONE PRICE ONLY,
—AT—
220 ESSEX ST., SALEM.
JOHN P. PEABODY.

Auction Sales.

WILLIAM ARCHER, JR.,
Auctioneer, Real Estate and Stock Broker,
34 Front Street.

Real Estate, Bank, Railroad & Manufacturing Stock bought and sold on Commission.

On SATURDAY NEXT, at 9½ o'clock, will be sold at No. 34 Front street:

A QUANTITY of New and Second Hand Furniture, Lounges, Tables, Chairs, Carpets, Stoves; 1 new Chamber Set; one superior Ship's Spy Glass; one set Encyclopedia; lot Picture Frames.

Boots and Shoes—Men's, Women's, Boys' and Misses' Boots and Shoes.

Dry Goods—Shawls, Undershirts, Cassimeres and Satinetts.

Also—6 Boxes Tobacco, Coffee, Cream of Tartar, Saleratus, 20 Boxes Family Soap.

—At private sale, at Auction prices—3 new Painted Chamber Sets.
October 12.

R. C. MANNING & CO.
Successors to JOHN DIKE & CO.,
DEALERS IN
COAL, WOOD, BARK, HAY, &c,
188 DERBY STREET,
SALEM, MASS.
N. C. ROBBINS, R. C. MANNING.
oct17

GEO. E. MEACOM,
Dealer in
DRUGS & MEDICINES,
Fancy & Toilet Articles, &c.,
126 MAIN ST. 126
Nearly opposite Danvers Bank, So. Danvers.

T. A. SWEETSER,
Druggist & Apothecary,
37 Main St., So. Danvers;
DEALER IN
Drugs, Medicines, Chemicals, Foreign Leeches, Shakers' Herbs, Dye Stuffs, Gums, Acids, Sponges, Shoulder Braces, Trusses, and Genuine Patent Medicines.

Also, Imported Cigars of choice brands, Perfumery, Toilet Articles and Stationery.

Physicians' Prescriptions carefully prepared by experienced persons.

37 MAIN STREET.

D. P. GROSVENOR, Jr.,
Druggist and Apothecary,
33 MAIN STREET.

Dealer in Drugs, Medicines, Chemicals, Dye Stuffs, and Popular Proprietary Medicines.

Personal attention to Physicians' Prescriptions.
South Danvers, May 29, 1861. ly

DR. J. H. BATCHELDER
DENTAL SURGEON,
No. 20 Washington St., (near Eastern Railroad Depot)
SALEM, MASS.

Is Licensed to make the New Patent Teeth on HARD RUBBER or VULCANITE.
July 1, 1864.

STURGIS'
ELECTRIC COMPOUND,
An Effectual External Remedy for NEURALGIA
—AND—
RHEUMATISM.

ALSO, INVALUABLE FOR
Spinal Irritation, Ague in the Face,
Toothache, Pain in the Side, Back,
and Limbs, Ear, Ague, &c.

Among the Advantages of this Medicine are the following:

Its effect is very rapid—in most cases instantaneous.

It is external in its application, and the patient runs no risk in using it. It does not strike to the stomach.

It reaches the nerves and muscles, as it is believed no other medicine does.

It has cured some of the most violent and obstinate cases of Neuralgia ever known.

It can be used on a child or an aged person alike.

While it is very powerful, it is perfectly harmless.

The proprietor has been allowed to publish the names of many persons who have used the Compound with the most beneficial results. He inserts a few of them. They are among the most respectable citizens of Boston and other places, and their residences and places of business are given:

Rev. N. Munroe, late of Boston Recorder.
Joseph H. Allen, 119 Washington St., house 55 Ruthland Street.
N. P. Kempt, Tract Society, 40 Cornhill.
Addison Boyden, 408 Washington Street, Boston, firm of Haley, Morse & Boyden.
William H. Brewster, Publisher of Boston Traveller.

The following letter from one of our best citizens will speak for itself:

Rev. Joseph E. Barry, the children's missionary of Boston, was the recipient a few weeks since of a bottle of Sturgis's Electric Compound, for Neuralgia, Rheumatism, &c., and having experienced great benefit from its use, and having known of many severe cases of the above complaints where it produced cures, considers it his duty to make known to his friends and others being so unfortunate as to be troubled with these terrible complaints, the virtue of this preparation.

Boston, Sept. 15, 1863. JOSEPH E. BARRY.

Remarkable Cure of Neuralgia.—The following letter (unsolicited,) was received by the proprietor in May last:

Camp Rogers, Newbern, May 6, 1863.

Dear Sir, I have been for some weeks suffering under a severe attack of Neuralgia, the severity of which has caused me to be in "perfect agony" both night and day. Having heard of Sturgis's Electric Compound from a "companion in arms," I was induced to give it a trial, which had the happy effect to immediately cure me. I am surprised that surgeons do not have it in the army, as there is a constant demand for such an invaluable relief. I make this statement for the public good, and I have no scruples about your using this as a recommendation to other victims of this painful disorder.

Yours, respectfully, JOSEPH HOUGHTON,
Co. D. 43d Reg't Mass. Vols.

For Sale by all Druggists.
☞ Office No. 119 Washington St., Boston.
Sept. 28—6mo.

AARON T. LOWE,
DEALER IN
BOOTS, SHOES AND RUBBERS,
76 BOSTON STREET, 76.
SALEM.
aug 6

Special Notices.

BROCKSIEPER GAS REGULATOR!

30 PER CENT. SAVED.

Economy in the use of Gas, with the advantage of having a more brilliant light than heretofore, is a point at once desirable. Inventors have for many years sought to obtain this end by packing or checking in innumerable ways the flow of gas through the burner. Not one of these have attained the result wished for, viz:—a pure transparent flame without waste at any and all pressures obtained at any hour and in all localities. Those of our citizens who have taken the pains to examine Brocksieper's Patent Regulator, and have seen the gas ACTUALLY MEASURED THROUGH IT, are unanimous in its praise. We give below the names of a few of the merchants and others of Salem now using the Regulator:

Salem Register Office;
Salem Gazette Office;
Salem Statesman Office;
Salem Post Office;
Merchants Reading Room;
George Creamer Bookseller;
Browning & Long, Dry Goods;
S. F. Rogers, Confectioner;
G. P. Peabody, Dry Goods;
Theron Palmer, Shoe Dealer;
Adams, Richardson & Co., Hardware;
Doctor Johnson;
Essex House;
Wm. Webb, Jr., Druggist;
Edward Brown, Supt. and Treas. Gas Co.

☞ Orders left at B. F. STEVENS' Jewelry Store, will be promptly attended to. The burner can also be examined there.

SEND FOR A CIRCULAR.

25,000 of these Regulators have been manufactured and sold in the Eastern States since February last. 150 are now in use in Salem. PRICE $1 EACH. 6 AND OVER, 90 cents each. The article is warranted in every respect. Call and examine for yourselves. Our facilities for testing the genuineness of this improvement will at once convince the most skeptical.

JOSEPH CLOUTMAN,

OFFICE—Bowker Block, Essex st., up-stairs.

NOTICE.—We have this day appointed Mr. JOSEPH CLOUTMAN, of Salem, our sole agent for the sale of Brocksieper's Gas Regulator for the following places: Salem, South Danvers, Beverly, Marblehead and Gloucester, Mass. All orders for the article, at wholesale or retail, to receive attention, must come through him, and he will establish sub-agencies in the above named places.

HULL & GOODELL,
Sole Proprietors in the U. S.,
446 Broadway, N. Y., and 221 Washington st., Boston.
August 19—tf.

BELL'S SPECIFIC PILLS.—WARRANTED IN ALL CASES.—Can be relied on! Never fail to cure! Do not nauseate! Are speedy in action! No change of diet required! Do not interfere with business pursuits! Can be used without detection! Upward of 200 cures the past month—some of them very severe cases. Over one hundred physicians have used them in their practice, and all speak well of their efficacy, and approve of their composition, which is entirely vegetable and harmless on the system. Hundreds of certificates can be shown.

BELL'S SPECIFIC PILLS are the original and only genuine Specific Pill. They are adapted for male and female, old or young, and the only reliable remedy for effecting a permanent and speedy cure in all cases of Spermatorrhea, or Seminal Weakness, with all its train of evils, such as Urethral and Vaginal Discharges, Gleet, the Whites, Nightly or Involuntary Emissions, Incontinence, Genital Debility and Irritability, Impotence, Weakness or Loss of Power, Nervous Debility, &c., &c., all of which arise principally from Sexual Excesses or Self-Abuse, or some constitutional derangement, and incapacitates the sufferer from fulfilling the duties of married life. In all sexual diseases, as Gonorrhea, Gleet, and Strictures, and in Diseases of the Bladder and Kidneys, they act as a charm! Relief is experienced by taking a single box. Sold by all the principal druggists. Price $1.

They will be sent by mail, securely sealed, and confidentially, on receipt of the money, by

J. BRYAN, M. D.,
No. 76 Cedar street, New York,

Consulting Physician for the treatment of Seminal, Urinary, Sexual, and Nervous Diseases, who will send, free to all, the following valuable work, in sealed envelope:

THE FIFTIETH THOUSAND.—DR. BELL'S TREATISE on Self-Abuse, Premature Decay, Impotence and Loss of Power, Sexual Diseases, Seminal Weakness, Nightly Emissions, Genital Debility, &c., &c., a pamphlet of 64 pages, containing important advice to the afflicted, and which should be read by every sufferer, as the means of cure in the severest stages is plainly set forth. Two stamps required to pay postage. December 9, 1863—1 yr.

IMPORTANT TO LADIES.—DR. HARVEY'S FEMALE PILLS have never yet failed in removing difficulties arising from obstruction, or stoppage of nature, or in restoring the system to perfect health when suffering from Spinal Affections, Prolapsus Uteri, the Whites, or other weakness of the Uterine Organs. The Pills are perfectly harmless on the constitution, and may be taken by the most delicate female without causing distress—the same time they act like a charm by strengthening, invigorating and restoring the system to a healthy condition, and by bringing on the monthly period with regularity, no matter from what causes the obstruction may arise. They should, however, NOT be taken during the first three or four months of pregnancy, though safe at any other time, as miscarriage would be the result.

Each box contains 60 Pills. Price $1.

DR. HARVEY'S TREATISE on Diseases of Females, Pregnancy, Miscarriage, Barrenness, Sterility, Reproduction, and Abuses of Nature, and emphatically the Ladies' Private Medical Adviser, a pamphlet of 64 pages, sent free to any address. Six cents required to pay postage.

The Pills and book will be sent by mail when desired, securely sealed, and prepaid, by

J. BRYAN, M. D., General Agent,
No. 76 Cedar street, New York.

☞ Sold by all the principal druggists.
December 9, 1863—1 yr.

HOUSEKEEPERS, ATTENTION!

—AND—

JACKSON'S

KITCHEN FURNISHING ROOMS,

Under MECHANIC HALL, Salem.

Parties about commencing House-Keeping will find this the ONLY place in Salem where a COMPLETE ASSORTMENT of House-Keeping articles can be found.
dec 9, 1863.

SPECTACLES!

H. F. SKERRY wishes to call special attention to his stock of

Spectacles and Eye Glasses,

in Gold—Silver—Bubber—Steel and Horn frames, of which he keeps constantly on hand a very large assortment, embracing every style and quality.

—ALSO—

Opera Glasses, Microscopes, &c.

Glasses re-set, and Spectacles repaired.

In Store, our usual assortment of Silver and Plated Ware, Jewelry, Fancy Goods, and Toys. Also, Canton Ware.

No. 180 Essex Street, Salem.

H. F. SKERRY.

Aug. 17—tf.

MORRIS'

RESTAURANT,

18 and 20 Derby Square, Salem.

Oysters, Clams, Steak, Poultry, Game, Fish, &c., &c., COOKED TO ORDER.
Pickled Oysters, Lobsters and Clams.
Salem, July 22, 1863. tf

T. HARDY, JR.

—Dealer in—

DOORS, SASHES, BLINDS,

Glazed Sash, Painted Blinds,

FENCE PALES, STAIR BALUSTERS, FRAMING PINS, &c.

No. 26 FRONT STREET,

Salem, January 14, 1863—tf.

SCHOOL BOOKS.

At the lowest prices, and strongest bindings—for sale by G. M. WHIPPLE & A. A. SMITH.

SILVERED GLASS.

SILVERED Glass Ware, at
S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS',
oct 5 32 Front street.

CUT GLASS.

CUT Glass Dishes, Goblets, etc., at
S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS',
oct 5 32 Front street.

WINDOW GLASS.

GERMAN Window Glass, of all sizes, for sale by the box or light at 32 Front Street, Salem.

WHITE LEAD.

FOREST River White Lead and New York White Lead, for sale in any quantity, at sep 21 S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS', 32 Front st.

Cards.

N. J. HOLDEN,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
Office, 27 Washington Street, Salem, Mass.

M. B. MANSFIELD,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
214 ESSEX STREET, SALEM, MASS.

⁎ Particular attention paid to procuring Pensions, Bounties, Back Pay, Prize Money, and Army and Navy Claims of all descriptions. March 2.

H. L. HADLEY,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
CORNER MAPLE AND ELM ST.,
Danvers.

Claims against the Government for Bounty, Back Pay, and Pensions, promptly attended to.

THOMAS M. STIMPSON,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
194 ESSEX STREET, SALEM.
Residence Lowell street, South Danvers.

B. C. PERKINS,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
South Danvers—Office in Allen's Building.

ALFRED A. ABBOTT,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
Office, No. 24 Washington Street, Salem.
House, Main St., So. Danvers.

SIDNEY C. BANCROFT,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
27 Washington Street, Salem.

H. O. WILEY,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
Office, Allen's Building, South Danvers.

Claims against the Government for Bounty, Back Pay, and Pensions, promptly attended to.

A. S. CRAWFORD
Dentist,
No. 4 MAIN STREET, So. DANVERS SQUARE
Mechanical Dentistry Neatly Executed.

W. L. BOWDOIN,
SURGEON DENTIST,
No, 208 Essex Street, Salem, (Opposite the Marke
Residence—No.57 Washington street.
jan 11—1y

NEWMAN & SYMONDS,
DEALERS IN
Family Groceries, Flour & Grain,
HARD WARE AND CROCKERY,
Ready Made Clothing, Gents' Furnishing Goods,
Hats, Caps, Boots, Shoes, &c.,
South Danvers Square, opp. Congregational Church
SAM'L NEWMAN. NATH'L SYMONDS.

S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS,
DEALERS IN
Crockery, China and Hardware; Paper Hangings; Solar and Entry Lamps · Paints, Oil and Window Glass.
No. 32 Front street, Lawrence Place,
feb13 SALEM, MASS.

HENRY L. WHIDDEN,
HOUSE AND SIGN PAINTER,
Glazier and Paperer,
Central Street, South Danvers.
All orders promptly and faithfully executed.
jan2-1y

JESSE SMITH,
No. 262 Essex Street, Salem,
Importer and Dealer in
Gold and Silver Watches,
MARINE CHRONOMETERS,
Aueroid Barometers, Spy Glasses, &c.

WILLIAM BLANEY,
HOUSE & SIGN PAINTER
Grainer, Glazier and Paper Hanger.
164 MAIN STREET, Corner of Grove.
WINDOWS and BLINDS cheap for cash.
mch6-tf

F. POOLE
INSURANCE AGENT,
Allen's Building (up stairs),
Deeds drawn, and other common forms.

Advertisements.

LIFE INSURANCE.

THE MUTUAL

LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY,

Of New York, with a Capital of $11,000,000,

And an Annual Income of over

$2,000,000,

AND declaring a LARGER DIVIDEND than any other Company in the United States, is the one in which every man should secure a policy on his life.

The importance of LIFE INSURANCE cannot be too highly estimated. It is the safest and most practicable method of securing to your family, in case of your death, the means of a comfortable and independent support. Thousands of instances might be cited where families have thus been provided with a competency, who would otherwise have been left in penury and want. Husbands and fathers! treat not with indifference a subject of such vital importance, but see to it at once, that your families are provided with the inestimable advantages which this great and benevolent institution affords.

Because a man has wealth, it is no reason why he should not insure, for he knows not how soon his riches may "take to themselves wings and fly away." And let those who complain of the want of means, remember that

Forty-Five Cents a Week,

Will insure $1,000 on the life of a man of THIRTY.

AN ENDOWMENT POLICY

Secures to the assured party, on attaining to a certain age, say 50, 55 or 60 years, an amount sufficient for his support in advanced age.

Another feature of this subject, deserving of especial attention, is

SURVIVORSHIP ANNUITIES!

By means of which one party may secure to another, an annuity sufficient to maintain them in comfort and independence through life. A husband may thus make provision for his wife; a father for his child; or a brother for his sister.

Endowment Policies for Children.

By this means a parent may provide, by the payment of a small annual premium, a sum of money sufficient to enable a son to enter into business, at a proper age, or for any other provision, either for a son or daughter.

Many Gentlemen of So. Danvers and Vicinity!

Have already availed themselves of this opportunity now offered of ensuring their lives, and thus securing an inestimable blessing to themselves and their families. Let others be equally wise, and immediately follow their example.

JOHN H. DERBY,
Agent for South Danvers and Vicinity.
Post Office address, Salem, Mass.
September 14, 1864.—tf.

GAYLE & CO.,
COMMISSION MERCHANTS,
AND DEALERS IN
Flour, Grain and Produce,
PHILLIPS WHARF, - - - - Salem.

THE TRAVELERS INS. CO.,

OF HARTFORD, CONN.

Capital - - - - - - $250,000.

Is now prepared to Insure persons against

ACCIDENTS

OF EVERY DESCRIPTION.

Yearly policies will be issued for a premium of

FIVE DOLLARS,

granting insurance to the amount of

FIVE THOUSAND DOLLARS,

against accidental loss of life while travelling by any public conveyance.

TEN DOLLARS PREMIUM

secures a policy for Five Thousand Dollars, and also twenty-five dollars per week compensation for personal injury incapacitating the assured from his ordinary business.

TWENTY-FIVE DOLLARS PREMIUM

secures a full policy for $5000 and $25 per week compensation for all and EVERY DESCRIPTION OF ACCIDENT, TRAVELLING OR OTHERWISE.

Policies for $5000 with $3 per week compensation, can be had for $3 per annum; or any other sum between $500 and $5000 at proportionate rates.

DIRECTORS:

Gustavus F. Davis,	W. H. D. Callender,
James L. Howard,	George W. Moore,
Marshal Jewell,	Ebenezer Roberts,
Thomas Belknap, Jr.,	Charles White,
Cornelius B. Irwin,	Hugh Harrison,
George S. Gilman,	Jonathan B. Bunce.

JAMES G. PATTERSON, President.
RODNEY DENNIS, Secretary.
HENRY A. DYER, General Agent.

PLUMBER & MERCER, AGENTS,
40 State Street, Boston.

Offices in Salem—JOHN H. DERBY, No. 24 Washington street; SAMUEL MACKINTIRE, No. 218 Essex street. Aug. 3, 1861—1yr*

JUST ARRIVED,

AT DANVERS MILLS,

500 Bushels Corn, in the minnie cob, and will be sold in South Danvers. Constantly on hand a large stock of meal, which will be sold at the lowest Salem prices.

—ALSO ON HAND—

500 Bushels Feed;
200 Bushels prime Northern Oats;
100 Barrels choicest Family Flour.
A good stock of LIME constantly on hand.

JOHN C. MOULTON,
Central St., South Danvers, Mass.
Aug 25—tf.

HEYLINGBERG'S

Hair Dressing Saloon,

24 MAIN ST., SOUTH DANVERS.

J. J. HEYLINGBERG would announce to his patrons and the public generally, that on and after JUNE 1st, 1864, he will abide by the following

TARIFF OF PRICES:

Shaving,	10 cts,
Hair Cutting,	15 cts,
Champooing,	15 cts.

Particular attention paid to dying hair and whiskers, in one preparation, without washing or scrubbing.

South Danvers, May 11, 1864.

VALUABLE REAL ESTATE.

THE Subscriber offers for sale the following Lots of Land, with the Buildings thereon, at private sale, until September next, when such as then remain unsold, will be offered at Public Auction:

A new and well built two-story DWELLING HOUSE, situated on English Street.—This house is well supplied with the modern conveniences, is pleasantly situated on rising ground, and is a very desirable residence.

The MOROCCO FACTORY near the Southwick Tannery. The building is about 150 feet long by 40 wide, is well supplied with pure water and is an excellent place for the Morocco business or Currying.

Near the Morocco Factory are two TWO-STORY BUILDINGS, which may be sold with the Factory, or separately. Together they are about 80 feet long by 20 wide.

On Walnut Street is the large BOARDING HOUSE, with the land adjoining, which is excellently well situated for what it is designed

Several front LOTS for building purposes on Walnut Street, will be sold at moderate prices and fair terms.

A STORE HOUSE 70 by 25 feet on Walnut Street, with the land under and the rear of it. It can be easily adapted for a Curriers' Shop, or for other kinds of business.

On Wallis Street, near the mill pond, a well built and painted MOROCCO FACTORY, all ready for occupancy. It is about 80 feet long by 25 wide, and in excellent repair.

Next to the Morocco Factory on the same street, a STORE BUILDING, strongly built, and framed for a DWELLING HOUSE, for which it could be easily adapted. Or it would make an excellent Shop for any kind of business.

Near ELM STREET, on a Court south of said street, are two DWELLING HOUSES, planned for two families each. One is two stories high, the other one and a half. Both houses have good tenants and yield a good income; offering a good chance for investment.

Between Harris and English Streets, one One Story DWELLING House, and a One Story and a Half House.

The above is a most excellent opportunity for enterprising young men to secure places for business and dwelling houses, on reasonable terms. Such a chance may not soon again occur.

Persons desiring to purchase any of the above lots may learn the prices and terms on application to ANDREW S. PORTER, Elm Street.

SAMUEL D. PENDAR.
South Danvers, May 11, 1864. tf

SKINNERS PULMONALES S

Skinner's Pulmonales

Immediately Relieve Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, loss of Voice, Bronchitis, Lassitude, Thirst and every symptom of the first stages of Pulmonary Consumption; they are white, in form of a wafer, and as suitable for the infant in the cradle as the patient of three score years and ten. Orators and all who overtax the vocal organs receive instant relief by their use. Sold by all Druggists. Prepared by E. M. SKINNER, Chemist, 27 Tremont St., Boston. sept 7—1y

---

SPALDING'S ROSE MARY

FOR FOURTEEN YEARS the Rosemary has held a high rank as pure, uniform and reliable. It is Warranted. 1st, To beautify the hair. 2d, To curl the hair elegantly. 3d, To remove dandruff effectually. 4th, To restore hair to bald heads. 5th, To force the beard and whiskers to grow. 6th, To prevent the hair from falling off. 7th, To cure all diseases of the scalp. 8th, To prevent the hair turning grey. 9th, To cure headache. 10th, To kill hair eaters. Sold everywhere. Prepared by EDW. M. SKINNER, Chemist, 27 Tremont St., opposite the Museum, Boston, Mass. sept 7—1y

---

FURNITURE.

HAVING taken the Store No. 10 FRONT STREET, (formerly occupied by BENJAMIN COLMAN,) I shall keep constantly on hand a large stock of

NEW AND SECOND-HAND FURNITURE,

BEDDING, COUNTING-ROOM DESKS, &c., &c.,

which I will sell cheap for CASH.

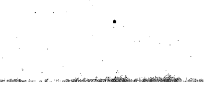
ALL KINDS OF FURNITURE NEATLY REPAIRED.

☞ All kinds of FURNITURE and BEDDING wanted—for which the highest Cash price will be paid.

P. J. HYNES, 10 FRONT-ST.

Salem, April 6, 1864—1y

CURRIER & MILLETT,
Dealers in



Furniture, Chairs,
MATTRESSES, FEATHERS, &
259 & 261 ESSEX ST.
Salem, dec 14—1y

HOSTETTER'S

CELEBRATED

STOMACH BITTERS.

A pure and powerful Tonic, corrective and alterative of wonderful efficacy in disease of the

Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

Cures Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Headache, Debility, Nervousness, Depression of Spirits, Constipation, Colic, Intermittent Fevers, Cramps and Spasms, and all Complaints of either Sex, arising from Bodily Weakness whether inherent in the system or produced by special causes.

Nothing that is not wholesome, genial and restorative in its nature enters into the composition of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. This popular preparation contains no mineral of any kind, no deadly botanical element; no fiery excitant: but it is a combination of the extracts of rare balsamic herbs and plants with the purest and mildest of all diffusive stimulants.

It is well to be forearmed against disease, and, so far as the human system can be protected by human means against maladies engendered by an unwholesome atmosphere, impure water and other external causes, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS may be relied on as a safeguard.

In districts infested with Fever and Ague, it has been found infallible as a preventive and irresistible as a remedy, and thousands who resort to it under apprehension of an attack, escape the scourge; and thousands who neglect to avail themselves of its protective qualities in advance, are cured by a very brief course of this marvelous medicine. Fever and Ague patients, after being plied with quinine for months in vain, until fairly saturated with that dangerous alkaloid, are not unfrequently restored to health within a few days by the use of HOSTETTER'S BITTERS.

The weak stomach is rapidly invigorated and the appetite restored by this agreeable Tonic, and hence it works wonders in cases of DYSPEPSIA and in less confirmed forms of INDIGESTION. Acting as a gentle and painless apperient, as well as upon the liver, it also invariably relieves the CONSTIPATION superinduced by irregular action of the digestive and secretive organs.

Persons of feeble habit, liable to Nervous Attacks, Lowness of Spirits and Fits of Languor, find prompt and permanent relief from the Bitters. The testimony on this point is most conclusive, and from both sexes.

The agony of BILIOUS COLIC is immediately assuaged by a single dose of the stimulant, and by occasionally resorting to it, the return of the complaint may be prevented.

As a General Tonic, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS produce effects which must be experienced or witnessed, before they can be fully appreciated. In cases of Constitutional Weakness, Premature Decay and Debility and Decrepitude arising from OLD AGE, it exercises the electric influence. In the convalescent stages of all diseases it operates as a delightful invigorant. When the powers of nature are relaxed, it operates to re-enforce and re-establish them.

Last, but not least, it is The Only Safe Stimulant, being manufactured from sound and innocuous materials, and entirely free from the acid elements present more or less in all the ordinary tonics and stomachics of the day.

No family medicine has been so universally, and, it may be truly added, deservedly popular with the intelligent portion of the community, as HOSTETTER'S BITTERS.

Prepared by HOSTETTER & SMITH, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Sold by all Druggists, Grocers and Storekeepers everywhere.

HELMBOLD'S

GENUINE PREPARATIONS.

COMPOUND FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU, a Positive and Specific Remedy for diseases of the Bladder, Kidneys, Gravel, and Dropsical Swellings.

This Medicine increases the power of Digestion, and excite the Absorbents into healthy action, by which the Watery or Calcareous depositions, and all Unnatural Enlargements are reduced, as well as Pain and Inflammation.

—o—

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU.

For Weaknesses arising from Excesses, Habits of Dissipation, Early Indiscretion of Abuse, attended with the following symptoms:—

Indisposition to Exertion,	Loss of Power,
Loss of Memory,	Difficulty of Breathing,
Weak Nerves,	Trembling,
Horror of Disease,	wakefulness,
Dimness of Vision,	Pain in the Back,
Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System,
Hot Hands,	Flushing of the Body,
Dryness of the Skin,	Eruptions on the Face,
Pallid Countenance.

These symptoms, if allowed to go on, which this medicine invariably removes, soon follows

Impotency, Fatuity, Epileptic Fits,

In one of which the patient may expire.

Who can say that they are not frequently followed by those "Direful Diseases,"

"INSANITY AND CONSUMPTION."

Many are aware of the cause of their suffering, BUT NONE WILL CONFESS THE RECORDS OF THE INSANE ASYLUMS.

And Melancholy Deaths by Consumption bear ample witness to the Truth of the assertion.

The Constitution once effected with Organic Weakness requires the aid of Medicine to Strengthen and Invigorate the system,

Which HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU invariably does. A Trial will convince the most skeptical.

—o—

FEMALES—FEMALES—FEMALES.

In many Affections peculiar to Females the EXTRACT BUCHU is unequalled by any other remedy, as in Chlorosis or Retention, Irregularity, Painfulness, or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated Scirrhous state of the Uterus, Leuchorrhœa or Whites, Sterility, and for all complaints incident to the sex, whether arising from Indiscretion or Habits of Dissipation, or in the

DECLINE OR CHANGE OF LIFE.

—o—

Take no more Balsam, Mercury, or unpleasant Medicines for unpleasant and dangerous diseases.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU AND IMPROVED ROSE WASH CURES

SECRET DISEASES

In all their Stages,	At little Expense,
Little or no change in Diet.	No inconvenience.
And no Exposure.

It causes a frequent desire and gives strength to Urinate, thereby Removing Obstructions, Preventing and Curing Strictures of the Urethra, allaying Pain and Inflammation, so frequent in this class of diseases, and expelling all Poisonous, Diseased and wornout Matter.

Thousands upon Thousands who have been the Victims of Quacks, and who have paid heavy fees to be cured in a short time, have found they were deceived, and that the "POISON" has, by the use of "Powerful Astringents," been dried up in the system, to break out in an aggravated form, and perhaps after Marriage.

—o—

Use HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU for all affections and diseases of the URINARY ORGANS, whether existing in MALE or FEMALE, from whatever cause originating and no matter of HOW LONG STANDING.

Diseases of these Organs, requires the aid of a DIURETIC. HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU IS THE GREAT DIURETIC, and is certain to have the desired effect in all Diseases for which it is Recommended.

Evidence of the most reliable and responsible character will accompany the medicine.

Price $1.00 per bottle, or six for $5.00.

Delivered to any Address, securely packed from observation.

Describe Symptoms in all Communications.

Cures Guaranteed! Advice Gratis!!

Address letters for information to

H. B. HELMBOLD, Chemist,
104 South Tenth st., bel. Chestnut, Phila.

HELMBOLD'S Medical Depot.
HELMBOLD'S Drug & Chemical Warehouse,
594 Broadway, New York.

BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS AND UNPRINCIPLED DEALERS who endeavor to dispose "of their own" and "other" articles on the reputation attained by

Helmbold's Genuine Preparations.
" " Extract Buchu.
" " " Sarsaparilla.
" " Improved Rose Wash.

SOLD BY

ALL DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE.

ASK FOR HELMBOLD'S. TAKE NO OTHER.

Cut out the Advertisement and send for it.

AND AVOID IMPOSITION AND EXPOSURE.

December 16, 1863.—1 yr.

Horse Railroad Notice.

On and after MONDAY, May 9, the cars of the Salem and South Danvers Railroad Co. will leave

South Danvers for Salem and Beverly at 6.35, 6.55, 7.15, and 7.35, A. M., and every 20 minutes till 12.55 P. M., and at 1.10, 1.25, 1.40, 1.55 P. M., and every 15 minutes till 10.25 P. M. The 9.55, 10.10, and 10.25 P. M., cars will go only to Salem.

Cars will leave Beverly for Salem and South Danvers at 6.35, 6.55, 7.15, and 7.35, A. M., and every 20 minutes till 12.55 P. M., and at 1.10, 1.25, 1.40 and 1.55 P.M., and every 15 minutes till 10.40 P. M. The 9.40, 9.55, 10.10, 10.25 and 10.40 P. M., cars go only to Salem.

Cars leave Washington Street Station for So. Danvers at 6.12, 6.32 and 6.52 A. M. and every 20 minutes till 12.32 P.M, and leave Washington St. Station for Beverly at 6.17, 6.37, 6.57, A.M., and every 20 minutes till 12.37 P. M., and cars will leave Washington St. Station for South Danvers and Beverly at 12.45, 1, 1.15, and 1.30 P. M., and every 15 minutes till 10.00 P. M.

M. H. HALE,
may 11 Sup't. S. & S. D. R. R. Co.

Horse Railroad Notice.

SUNDAY TIME.

HEREAFTER on Sunday, Horse Cars will leave Washington Street Station for Beverly at 9.12, 9.52, 10.32, 11.12, 11.52 A. M., 12.32, 1.12, 1.52, 2.32, 3.12, 3.52, 4.32, 5.12, 5.52, 6.32, 7.12, 7.52, and 8.32 P. M.

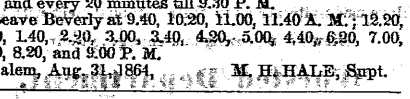
Will leave Washington street station for South Danvers, at 9.07, 9.27, 9.47 A. M., and every twenty minutes till 9.07 P. M.

Cars leave South Danvers at 9.30, 9.50, and 10.10. A. M., and every 20 minutes till 9.30 P. M.

Leave Beverly at 9.40, 10.20, 11.00, 11.40 A. M.; 12.20, 1.00, 1.40, 2.20, 3.00, 3.40, 4.20, 5.00, 4.40, 6.20, 7.00, 7.40, 8.20, and 9.00 P. M.

Salem, Aug. 31, 1864. M. H. HALE, Supt.

Indispensable to Every Soldier and Seaman.



EASILY carried in the coat pocket. Supplied by the manufacturers at the old price—$2.

D. B. BROOKS & BROTHER,
201 Essex Street, Salem, Mass.

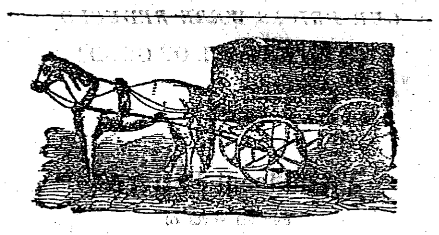
Those who have friends in the Army of the Potomac can have them sent to them free of postage. sept 7

HENRY G. HUBON,

WASHINGTON STREET, SALEM
—Manufacturers of—
Rose Wood, Mahogany, Black Walnut and Stained Wood

COFFINS and CASKETS.

MAKING this our exclusive business, we are ready at all times and at the shortest notice to furnish Grave Clothes of various styles, as well as Coffins and Caskets of the finest finish. Personal attention given. and delivered without extra charge to any of the neighboring towns. All orders by express or otherwise will receive prompt attention.
nov 1—tf



CHARLES S. BUFFUM,

BEING an authorized UNDERTAKER of South Danvers, will attend Funerals in said place with his Hearse the same as the Town Undertaker. Will also attend Funerals, when desired, in any of the neighboring towns, with one or a pair of horses.

He also furnishes Coffin Caskets, Robes, etc., lower than city prices.

All branches of the business attended to, such as furnishing Coaches, Flowers, Laying Out, etc.

Ice Preservers Furnished.

All orders promptly attended to, and personal attention given to them. Articles delivered to any of the neighboring towns free of charge. Orders by express or otherwise will receive prompt attention.

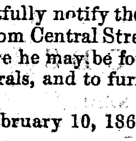
Central street, South Danvers,
RESIDENCE 25 ELM STREET.
South Danvers, Feb 17, 1864.

Undertaker's Notice!

THE subscriber being regularly appointed as Undertaker of South Danvers, would respectfully notify the public that he has removed from Central Street, to No. 80 Lowell Street, where he may be found in readiness to attend funerals, and to furnish, when desired.

HENRY SPENCER.
February 10, 1864.

Chickering & Sons' Piano-Fortes.
Hallett & Cumston's Piano-Fortes.
Hallett & Davis's Piano-Fortes.

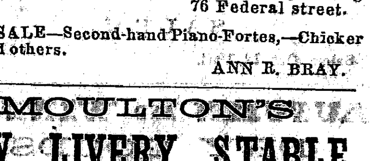


We select our Piano-Fortes from the above firms and warrant them to give perfect satisfaction. Our terms are reasonable, and all persons in the city and neighboring towns can be accommodated by calling at 76 Federal street.

FOR SALE—Second-hand Piano-Fortes,—Chickering's and others.
ap 29 ANN R. BRAY.

MOULTON'S

NEW LIVERY STABLE,



Is removed to stable formerly occupied by

SAMUEL HAM,

On MAIN STREET, opposite the Institute.

Good Horses and Carriages will be always in readiness at short notice.
South Danvers, May 25, 1864.

PIN WORMS. MRS. OSBORN'S Universal Worm Powders are the only sure cure ever offered to the public. They are warranted in every case; relief within 24 hrs. 25 cts. per box. Sold by all druggists.

For sale by D. P. GROSVENOR, Jr., 33 Main St., South Danvers. jan 27

NEW INKSTAND.

OLIVER'S Patent Inkstand claims the following advantages:—It is not complicated—No trouble to fill—Does not get out of order—It is very economical—It prevents evaporation—Does not require frequent filling—Can be easily operated—It is easily cleaned—Filters the Ink for use—Keeps the Ink free from exposure and fresh and limpid—it is both ornamental and durable. For sale by

Salem, Sept 23 G M WHIPPLE & A A SMITH.

Putnam Clothes Wringer.

IT IS THE ONLY RELIABLE

SELF-ADJUSTING WRINGER

NO WOOD TO SWELL OR SPLIT.

NO THUMB SCREWS TO GET OUT OF ORDER.

Warranted with or without Cog-Wheels.

IT took the FIRST PREMIUM at fifty-seven State and County Fairs in 1863, and is, without an exception, the best Wringer ever made.

Patented in the United States, England, Canada and Australia. Agents wanted in every town, and in all parts of the world.

Sample Wringer sent, express paid, on receipt of price.

Energetic agents can make from 3 to 10 dollars per day.

No. 2, $6.50; No. 1, $7.50; No. F, $8.50; No. A, $9.50.

Manufactured and sold, wholesale and retail, by THE PUTNAM MANUFACTURING CO.,
No. 13 Platt Street, New York, and Cleveland, Ohio.
S. C. NORTHROP, Agent.

WHAT EVERYBODY KNOWS, VIZ:

That Iron well galvanized will not rust;

That a simple machine is better than a complicated one;

That a Wringer should be self-adjusting, durable, and efficient;

That Thumb-Screws and Fastenings cause delay and trouble to regulate and keep in order;

That wood soaked in hot water will swell, shrink and split;

That wood bearings for the shaft to run in will wear out;

That the Putnam Wringer, with or without cog-wheels, will not tear the clothes;

That cog-wheel regulators are not essential;

That the Putnam Wringer has all the advantages, and not one of the disadvantages above named;

That all who have tested it, pronounce it the best Wringer ever made;

That it will wring a Thread or a Bed-Quilt WITHOUT ALTERATION.

We might fill the paper with testimonials, but insert only a few to convince the skeptical, if such there be; and we say to all, test Putnam's Wringer. Test it THOROUGHLY with ANY and ALL others, and if not entirely satisfactory, return it.

Putnam Manufacturing Co:—GENTLEMEN; I know from practical experience that iron well galvanized with zinc will not oxidize or rust one particle. The Putnam Wringer is as near perfect as possible, and I can cheerfully recommend it to be the best in use. Respectfully yours,

JNO. W. WHEELER, Cleveland, Ohio.

Many years' experience in the galvanizing business enable me to indorse the above statement in all particulars.

JNO. C. LEFFERTS, No. 100 Beekman St.
New York, January, 1864.

We have tested Putnam's Clothes Wringer by practical working, and know that it will do. It is cheap; it is simple; it requires no room, whether at work or at rest; a child can operate it; it does its duty thoroughly; it saves time and it saves wear and tear. We earnestly advise all who have much washing to do, with all intelligent persons who have any, to buy this Wringer. It will pay for itself in a year at most. HON. HORACE GREELEY.

July 27, 1864.—3m

THOMAS PINNOCK,

SLATER,

SALEM, MASS.

Orders may be left at his Yard, No. 25 Peabody St., or at his house No. 6 Hancock street, South Salem.

Roofs covered with any kind of Slates, according to order. All work warranted.

Salem, May 7, 1862. tf

Are you Insured?

THE subscriber would respectfully call your attention to the fact that he is fully prepared to effect INSURANCE AGAINST FIRE, to any amount, at current rates, on

Dwelling Houses, Barns and their contents, Stores, Stocks of Goods, Furniture, &c. &c., and on buildings in process of erection,

And that he is the authorized Agent for the following responsible Stock and Mutual Companies, viz:

Thames Insurance Co., (Stock,) Norwich, Conn.
Capital—$500,000.
Amos W. Prentice, Pres. Oliver F. Rice, Sec'y
Conway Insurance Company, (Stock) Boston.
Capital and Surplus—$260,000.
James F. Whitney, Pres. David C. Rogers, Sec'y.
City Insurance Company, (Stock) Boston.
Capital—$150,000.
Samuel P. Hayward, Pres. Austin W. Benton, Sec'y

Also, will effect Insurance on the LIVES OF INDIVIDUALS, for one year, seven years, or for the whole term of life, in the

Massachusetts Mutual Life Ins. Co., Springfield, Mass.
Capital and Assets—$375,000.
Caleb Rice, Pres. D. B. Bacon, Sec'y.
William Mack, M. D., Medical Examiner.

WM. ARCHER, Jr.,
18 Washington st. and 34 Front st., Salem.
feb26-1

ALWAYS SUCCESSFUL!

TO ALL THOSE WHO SUFFER FROM

DEBILITY AND SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

DRS. CARSWELL & HUNTER, regularly educated, highly eminent and successful practitioners, after a very extensive practice in Boston, for over twenty years, need hardly speak of their medical qualifications, or remind strangers not to class them with a set of uneducated men, who fill the papers with their boasting advertisements. Drs. C. & H. caution the public against quackery in all its forms, pretending, as some self-styled doctors, to cure all the most difficult and chronic diseases, without knowledge of the human system, or of the modus operandi of the most simple drugs.

Drs. C. & H., since 1840, having confined their whole attention to an office practice for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, they acknowledge no superiors.

CONSTITUTIONAL DEBILITY OR SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Drs. C. & H. are pre-eminently successful in the treatment of the above most difficult and perplexing of all diseases, this complaint being the result of a secret habit in youth; if neglected or improperly treated, it proves one of the greatest evils that can befall a human being. Dr. H. has given particular attention to the above disease for years, and so thoroughly has he become acquainted with the pathology and treatment, that he will warrant a perfect cure under forfeiture of $500; in fact, he will, in the cure of this complaint, acknowledge no superior in this country, or even in the world. Come, then, all you who are afflicted, come to the Old Stand, where you will in a short time be made to rejoice in perfect health.

SYPHILITIC AND SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS,—such as Ulcers and Caries of the throat and nose, Running Sores on the legs and arms, Hard Scabs and Scaly Eruptions on the head, back, &c., pains in the bones and joints, and all other forms of venereal diseases—are made to yield and entirely disappear under Drs. C. & H.'s improved and thoroughly eradicating course of treatment.

The primary or first symptoms of disease, whether a simple running, or small pistules, cancers, or ulcers, are cured in a very few days, if immediate application is made to Drs. C. & H.

13 ENDICOTT STREET, BOSTON, 13

Strangers should be particular in the selection of a physician, lest they be deceived by false advertisements.

Ladies troubled with irregularity, weakness, whites, and other complaints peculiar to the female system, will find a speedy cure by calling as above. No mercury used, and no charge for advice. The afflicted are invited to give us a call.

Boston, April 20, 1864—1 yr.

---

25 YEARS' EXPERIENCE enables DRS. CARSWELL & HUNTER to cure any diseases of a private nature in a shorter space of time and for a smaller amount of money than any other doctors in this country, and they also treat all female complaints with perfect success, and on the most satisfactory terms. Patients furnished with board if desired. Please give us a call at our office, No. 13 Endicott St., Boston, Mass.

Boston, April 20, 1864.—1 yr.

PRESERVE YOUR FRUIT.

GLASS Jars and Glass Covers, for preserving Fruits, Vegetables, &c., in a perfectly fresh state, for sale by S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS', 32 Front st.

LEAD IN CANS.

WHITE LEAD in Cans from 1 to 10 lbs. each, for sale at S C & E A SIMONDS'S,
sep 28 32 Front st, Salem.

KNIVES AND FORKS.

TABLE Knives and Forks with Ivory Handles. Also Carvers, Forks and Steels, at No. 32 Front Street.

SILVER PLATED KNIVES.

IVORY Handled Knives with heavy Silver plate—at S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS, 32 Front st.

SUMMER ARRANG

TO

LYNN & BOS

BY

OMNIBUS & HORS

W. F. BURNHA

Line of Omnibuses will leave the Omnibus Office, No. 6 Allen's Build vers, passing down Main Street, thro Street, to Lynn, daily—Sundays incl

Leave South Danvers at 7 50 o'clo and 4 50 P. M

Leave Lynn (Horse Car Depot, We A. M., 2 40 and 5 40 P. M.

Horse Cars leaving the office at 14 at 8 15 A. M., 1 15 and 5 15 P. M., will buses at Lynn, at the above named passengers to South Danvers.

Tickets to Lynn, - -
Through to Boston, - -

Gravesend, Woodend, a
Depot Route.

ON and after Monday, Nov 2, in ad route, an Omnibus will leave Sou Lynn, to connect with the steam an times daily,—Sundays excepted,—ru Gravesend and Woodend, to the Cen and Horse Railroad Station, corner Broad Streets; leaving South Danvers necting with the 7.25 steam cars for (connecting with the 11.10 train), and ing with the 4.50 train); and returnin from the Spring Street Station and C pot, at 8 A M, and 1 and 6 P.M.

Fare from S. Danvers to Boston by " "

Through Tickets to and from Boston the Drivers and Conductors.

EXPRESS BUSINE

Between South Danvers and Lynn p ed to, on reasonable terms.

Extra Coaches furnished at short no

W. F. BU

South Danvers, April 20, 1864.

CROFT & MUNR

SOUTH DANVERS &

RAILROAD EXP

Express leaves South Danvers at
Freight " " at
Express leaves Boston at Freight " "

OFFICE at FREIGHT DE
Danvers Square.

Express Office in Boston, 3 Wash
Freight Office, 48 Kilby

Particular attention paid to re niture, collecting Bills, Notes, D

Smallest favors thankfully received.

South Danvers, august 26—tf

LITTLEFIE

South Danvers & Salem

goods usually delivered by Express.

Leave South Danvers at 7½ and 11

Leave Salem at 8.45 A M., 2 and 6

This Express connects with the first going East.

SLATES—In Salem, 13 Central st., and Roberts' store, corner of Front and Wa South Danvers—At the Post Office; man's store; also at R. O. Spiller's store

---

Abbott's South Danvers

EXPRESS

Leave South Danvers, - - -
Leave Salem, - - -

Orders left at Teel & Moulton's, and on Main street, South Danvers; and on street, and at Reed's in the Marke

---

Important to the Af

DR. DOW continues to be consulte Nos. 7 and 9 Endicott street, Bost cases of a

PRIVATE OR DELICATE NA

By a long course of study and practi of unlimited extent, Dr. D. has now th of presenting the unfortunate with have never, since he first introduced t cure the most alarming cases of

GONORRHŒA AND SYPH

Beneath his treatment, all the horro and impure blood, Impotency, Scrofula Ulcers, pain and distress in the regio tion, Inflammation of the Bladder and drocele, Abcesses, Humors, frightful S the long train of horrible symptoms class of disease, are made to become a the simplest ailings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS

Dr. D. devotes a great part of his tim ment of those cases caused by a secre habit, which ruins the body and mind, unfortunate individual for business or s of the sad and melancholy effects prod habits of youth, are Weakness of t limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimnes pitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Ner rangement of the digestive functions, Consumption, &c. The fearful effects are much to be dreaded; loss of memo of ideas, depression of spirits, ev aversion of society, self-distrust, timi among the evils produced. Such person fore contemplating matrimony, consult experience, and be at once restored happiness.

Patients who wish to remain under D ment a few days or weeks, will be fu pleasant rooms, and charges for board m

Medicines sent to all parts of the cou directions for use, on receiving descr cases. Dr. Dow has also for sale the warranted the best preventive. Orde or $1 and a red stamp.

CAUTION

TO FEMALES IN DELICATE H

DR. DOW, Physician and Surgeon, 7 a street, Boston, is consulted daily for all dent to the female system. Prolapsus ing of the Womb, Fluor Albus, Suppres er menstrual derangements, are all trea pathological principles, and speedy relie in a very few days. So invariably certa mode of treatment, that most obstinate yield under it, and the afflicted person s in perfect health.

Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater expe cure of diseases of women and childre other physician in Boston.

Boarding accommodations for patien wish to stay in Boston a few days und ment.

Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined h tention to an office practice, for the cur Diseases and Female Complaints, ackn superior in the United States.

N. B.—All letters must contain four re they will not be answered.

Office Hours from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M.

CERTAIN CURE

IN ALL CASES, OR NO CHARGE

Dr. Dow is consulted daily, from 8 a. as above, upon all difficult and chronic every name and nature, having by his u tention and extraordinary success gained which calls patients from all parts of the obtain advice.

Among the physicians in Boston, none s in the profession than the celebrated DR. 7 Endicott street, Boston. Those who ne vices of an experienced physician and su give him a call. P. S.—Dr. Dow imports sale a new article, called the French Se by mail. Two for $1 and a red stamp.

April 20, 1864—1y.

Job Press for Sale.

RUGGLES' JOB ENGINE PRESS. Prin by 19 inches. Can be run by one ma of 800 per hour. Is in good condition. very low price, as the owner has no use fo big bargain. Apply at this office.

LUDLOW'S PATENT TEST

FOR putting up Tomatoes, Peaches, Be This is the only Jar ever invented t tested. For sale in any quantity by sept 7 S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS, 32

SEE THE GHOSTS AND SPE

SPECTROPIA, or Surprising Illusions Ghosts everywhere and of all colors.
sept 7 G M WHIPPLE & A A S

LINSEED OIL.

RAW and Boiled Oil of the best quality, S. C. & E. A. SIMO sept 14 32 Front stree

South Danvers Wizard.

VOL. V. SOUTH DANVERS, MASS., WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 19, 1864. NO. 42.

THE SOUTH DANVERS WIZARD
published every WEDNESDAY, at Allen's Build-
, South Danvers Square.
TERMS—Two Dollars a year.
ADVERTISEMENTS inserted at reasonable rates.

CHARLES D. HOWARD,
EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

S. R. NILES, Advertising Agent,
1 Scollay's Building, Court Street, Boston, is Agent for that city, and is authorized to reye advertisements and subscriptions for us at lowest rates.

Advertisements.

64 FALL AND WINTER 1864
CLOTHING.
. D. BOISE & CO.,
154 Washington Street,
(Five doors south of Milk St.,) vite attention to their LARGE STOCK of ASHIONABLE CLOTHING,
BOSTON,
FOR MEN'S AND BOYS' WEAR,
Which they offer at wholesale or retail
T THE LOWEST CASH PRICES.
Also a full assortment of
PIECE GOODS,
Which will be made to measure in the latest le, from the choicest AMERICAN FAB-
CS, as well as the most desirable selections
FOREIGN CLOTHS.
Arrangements have been made for manufac-ng
Boys' Clothing
e extensive than heretofore, having secured services of Mrs. S. B. WARD, (formerly J. Walter Read,) who will superintend department, where may be found an ensive assortment of READY-MADE OTHING for Boys' and Youth, and a assortment of CLOTHS for Custom ufacture.
URNISHING GOODS.
he Furnishing Goods Department contains usual assortment of Goods for Gents' and s' wear, in almost endless variety.
. D. BOISE & CO., flatter themselves they can furnish Ready-Made Clothing
s
LOW FIGURES
t any similar establishment. The Goods of our own manufacture, and are ly Equal to Custom Garments.
hey can also offer EXTRA INDUCE-NTS in Custom Clothing.
aval and Military Uniforms made at short ce.
all when in the city and examine the Stock.
REMEMBER THE NUMBER,
54 Washington Street,
ept. 28.—3m. BOSTON.

ENTLEMEN'S HATS.
FALL STYLES.
E of the best selected assortments of FALL and WINTER HATS in Boston, may be found at
J. A. JACKSON'S,
Tremont and 101 Court Sts.
COMPRISING
ss Silk Hats,
Fine Felt Hats, and
Cloth Hats and Caps,
the latest styles.
HATS AND CAPS FOR BOYS.
B.—A large and well assorted stock of Ladies'
entlemen's FURS.
JACKSON'S,
Court St. and 59 Tremont St.,
t. 28—3m. BOSTON.

EW STORE!
Flour! Flour!
ST RECEIVED, a fresh supply of CHOICE
RANDS, direct from the Mills, for sale,
esale and retail, at LOWEST PRICES, by
E. F. OSBORN.
Sutton's Building, Main St.
uth Danvers, Nov 18, 1863.

WM. C. HENDERSON,
MANUFACTURER OF
PLAIN AND FANCY
APER BOXES?
No. 235 ESSEX STREET,
Sign of "Nest of Boxes,"
23 SALEM. tf

M. FENOLLOSA,
TEACHER OF MUSIC,
........PIANO FORTES,
at the lowest rates;
S ....PIANO FORTES,
at the Manufacturers Prices;
ANGES....PIANO FORTES,
on the easiest terms;
At Rooms No. 7 Central street,
SALEM, MASS.

ing Books, Making Bills and
Copying.
above business will be promptly and accurately
formed by the subscriber, who may be found at
. CLARK & GIDDINGS' Counting Room on Wal-
near the Essex Depot, or by enquiring at this
jy13 tf JOHN D. HOWARD.

Special Notices.

To Consumptives.
Consumptive sufferers will receive a valuable prescription for the cure of Consumption, Asthma, Bronchitis, and all Throat and Lung affections (free of charge) by sending their address to Rev. EDWARD A. WILSON, Williamsburg, Kings Co.,
sept 21—3 mos. New York.

From the army hospital—the bloody battle-field—the mansion of the rich and humble abode of the poor—from the office and the sacred desk—from the mountain top, distant valleys and far-off islands of the ocean—from every nook and corner of the civilized world—is pouring in the evidence of the astonishing effects of DRAKE'S PLANTATION BITTERS. Thousands upon thousands of letters like the following may be seen at our office.

REEDSBURY, WIS., Sept. 16, 1863.
"* * * * I have been in the army hospitals for fourteen months—speechless and nearly dead. At Alton, Ill. they gave me a bottle of Plantation Bitters. * * * Three bottles restored my speech and cured me. * * * *
C. A. FLAUTE.',

SOUTH WARSAW, O. July 28, 1863.
"* * * One young man, who had been sick and not out of the house for two years with Scrofula and Erysipelas, after paying the doctors over $150 without benefit, has been cured by ten bottles of your Bitters.
EDWARD WOUNALL.

The following is from the Manager of the Union Home School for the Children of Volunteers:
HAVEMEYER MANSION, FIFTY-SEVENTH ST.,
New York, August 2, 1863.
"DR. DRAKE: Your wonderful Plantation Bitters have been given to some of our little children suffering from weakness and weak lungs with most happy effect. One little girl, in particular, with pains in her head, loss of appetite, and daily wasting consumption, on whom all medical skill had been exhausted, has been entirely restored. We commenced with but a teaspoonful of Bitters a day. Her appetite and strength rapidly increased, and she is now well * *
Respectfully, MRS. O. M. DEVOE."

"* * * I owe much to you, for I verily believe the Plantation Bitters have saved my life.
REV. W. H. WAGGONER, Madrid, N. Y."

"* * * Thou wilt send me two bottles more of thy Plantation Bitters. My wife has been greatly benefited by their use.
Thy friend, ASA CURRIN, Philadelphia, Pa."

"* * * I have been a great sufferer from Dyspepsia, and had to abandon preaching. * * * The Plantation Bitters have cured me.
REV. J. S. CATHORN, Rochester, N. Y."

"* * * Send us twenty-four dozen more of your Plantation Bitters, the popularity of which are daily increasing with the guests of our house.
SYKES, CHADWICK & CO.,
Proprietors Willard's Hotel, Washington, D. C.

"* * * I have given the Plantation Bitters to hundreds of our disabled soldiers with the most astonishing effect.
G. W. D. ANDREWS,
Superintendent Soldiers' Home, Cincinnati, O.

"* * * The Plantation Bitters have cured me of liver complaint, of which I was laid up prostrate and had to abandon my Business.
H. B. KINGSLEY, Cleveland, O."

"* * * The Plantation Bitters have cured me of a derangement of the kidneys and urinary organs that has distressed me for years. It acts like a charm.
C. C. MOORE, 254 Broadway, N. Y."
&c. &c. &c. &c.

The Plantation Bitters make the weak strong, the languid brilliant, and are exhausted nature's great restorer. They are composed of the celebrated Calisaya Bark, Wintergreen, Sassafras, Roots, Herbs, &c., all preserved in perfectly pure St. Croix Rum.

S.—T.—1860—X.
Persons of sedentary habits troubled with weakness, lassitude, palpitation of the heart, lack of appetite, distress after eating, torpid liver, constipation, &c. deserve to suffer if they will not try them.

They are recommended by the highest medical authorities, and are warranted to produce an immediate beneficial effect. They are exceedingly agreeable, perfectly pure, and harmless.

NOTICE.—Any person pretending to sell Plantation Bitters in bulk or by the gallon is a swindler and impostor. It is put up only in our patent log cabin bottle Beware of bottles refilled with imitation deleterous stuff for which several persons are already in prison. See that every bottle has our private United States Stamp over the cork unmutilated, and signature on steel plate side label.

Sold by respectable dealers throughout the habitable globe.
P. H. DRAKE & CO.
202 Broadway, N. Y.
Mch 16—1 yr

THE GREAT ENGLISH REMEDY.
SIR JAMES CLARKE'S
CELEBRATED FEMALE PILLS!
Prepared from a prescription of Sir J. Clarke, M. D., Physician Extraordinary to the Queen.

This well known medicine is no imposition, but a sure cure and safe remedy for Female Difficulties and Obstructions, from any cause whatever; and, although a powerful remedy, they contain nothing hurtful to the constitution.

In all cases of Nervous and Spinal Affections, pain in the Back and Limbs, Fatigue on slight exertion Palpitation of the Heart, Hysterics, and Whites, these pills will effect a cure, when all other means have failed: and, although a powerful remedy, do not contain iron, calomel, antimony, or anything hurtful to the constitution.

Full directions in the pamphlet around each package, which should be carefully preserved.

For full particulars, obtain, free, of the agent, a pamphlet. Sold by all Druggists.
Sole United States Agent,
JOB MOSES, 27 Cortlandt St., New York.
N. B.—$1 and 6 postage stamps enclosed to any authorized agent, will insure a bottle, containing over 50 pills, by return mail. March 9, 1864.—1 yr.

DR. E. F. KITTREDGE,
From Lowell, formerly of New Ipswich, N. H.,
Has removed his office and residence to
NO. 42 MAIN STREET,
SOUTH DANVERS, MASS.
Dr. K., from an extensive and successful professional experience of upwards of twenty years, feels justified in saying that he can treat diseases to the satisfaction of his patients, and to the credit of himself.
Office hours from 7 to 9 A. M., and from 6 to 9 P. M.
South Danvers, Nov 13, 1863.

MANUAL FENOLLOSA
TEACHER
OF THE
Violin, Piano and Singing,
MUSIC ROOMS, No. 7 Central Street,
SALEM, MASS.

☞ Visit OSBORNE's Store, and look at the unnusual variety of new styles in HATS and CAPS—191 Essex street.

LIST OF SUBSCRIBERS TO THE RECRUITING FUND,

AND THE AMOUNT CONTRIBUTED BY EACH.

ENROLLED MEN.

Arnold, Frank T.	$50
Adams, Otis F.	"
Annable, Benjamin F.	25
Abbott, Alfred A.	"
Abbott, George C.	"
Blaney, Stephen	50
Brown, William H.	"
Burnham, F. H.	"
Brown, Rufus H.	"
Buxton, H. V,	"
Buffum, Charles S.	"
Butman, Josiah M.	"
Berry, John M.	45
Bodge, Benjamin H.	40
Buxton, A. S.	35
Barker, Warren P.	"
Brown, D. Cutler	30
Bushby, Joseph Jr.	"
Boynton, Josiah B.	25
Barnard, John W.	"
Barnard, Willis Jr.	"
Buxton James,	"
Burbeck, Joseph	"
Blaney, William	"
Beckett, Joseph	"
Brooks, Charles H.	"
Barrett, E. Pope	"
Bartlett, J. E. F.	"
Buxton, Robert G.	"
Bolster, Joseph	"
Barber, William M.	"
Bodge, Amos P.	"
Bushby, Nathan	"
Buxton, George	"
Bodge, Jacob	"
Brown, Joseph 2d	"
Brock, George A.	"
Batchelder, George H.	"
Boynton, James A.	"
Bixby, Samuel	"
Buxton, Thomas W.	"
Beede, Ivory H.	"
Brown, Lewis	"
Buxton, George W.	"
Brown, Thomas L.	"
Bickett, Edward	"
Buckly, Dennis	20
Butler, Benjamin	15
Buxton, James H.	5
Cobb, Seward P.	100
Coolidge, O. B.	50
Cook, James	"
Clement, J. B.	"
Clark, William P.	35
Choate, John H.	"
Colby, Charles	25
Crawford, M F.	"
Cate, William	"
Chandler, Samuel. C.	"
Craig, James	"
Cross, Nathaniel	"
Cressey, William B.	"
Carr, Charles E.	"
Curtis, Samuel	"
Callihan, P.	15
Callihan, James	10
Davis, Samuel	50
Dennison, Isaac	"
Dodge, W. P.	35
Decatur, E. A.	25
Daniels, Robert S. Jr.	"
Delory, Joseph	"
Davis, Daniel R.	"
Elliot, Lewis W.	175
Emerson, Robert	50
Earl, Benjamin P.	35
Eldridge, L. Y.	25
Emerson, George	"
Elliot, Lewis	"
Estes, B. F.	10
Farwell, Chandler C.	100
Fernald, Luther	50
Forniss, Edward	"
Folsom, Charles G.	"
Fisk, Albert R.	"
Felton, Daniel H.	35
Felton, Nathaniel W.	"
Felton, Levi	25
Frye, J. H.	"
Farwell, Levi	"
Forniss, Joseph	"
Foster, James B.	"
Flint D. H.	"
Flint, Charles E.	"
Friend, John P.	"
Frame, William	"
Farnham, Henry	15
Foss, Charles	10
Fiske, Abraham A.	"
Flint, Charles	20
Giddings, Edward	50
Galloup, David R.	"
Grant, Oliver	25
Gilson, Charles A.	"
Gill, Roger	"
Graves, Joseph S.	"
Graves, John Jr.	"
Goodrich, George H.	"
Goldthwait, Joseph	"
Goodale, Byron	15
Hutchinson, Benjamin F.	50
Haven, Charles B.	"
Holman, Chauncey F.	"
Howard, Charles D.	"
Hardy, Henry A.	"
Hanson, Luther C.	35
Homan, Enos E.	25
Humphrey, B. B.	"
Hyde, Milton	"
Hamilton, J. P.	"
Harwood, Charles H.	"
Hills, Benjamin M.	"
Hartnett, Patrick	"
Hussey, Nathan K.	"
Hutchinson, Cleves K.	"
Howard, J. O.	"
Holden, Charles	"
Hodgkins, Nathaniel K.	"
Ham, Oliver D.	25
Hart, S. P.	"
Hubbard, Alonzo	"
Harris, Joseph E.	"
Hammond, John H.	"
Hayward, Edmund	10
Jeffries, George	25
Jacobs, A. N.	"
Johnson, George E.	"
Jeffries, William	"
Jones, George W.	"
King, D. Webster	40
Kinney, Nahum B.	25
Kilbourn, Luther D.	"
Kimball, E. A.	"
Kimball, Hiram A.	"
Kimball, George A, Jr.	"
Knight, Willard	10
Low, Charles P.	125
Lummus, A.	50
Lewis, George E.	"
Little, George H.	25
Linnehan, John	"
Lane, Oliver A.	"
Legroo, George H.	"
Lewis, George A.	"
Lawrence, Charles A.	"
Littlefield, Eri	"
Larrabee, Joseph N.	"
Linnehan, Dennis	15
Lee, N. T.	10
Munroe, William C.	50
Messer, Albert A.	"
Merrill, Henry M.	"
Munroe, Isaac	"
Moore, Joseph	45
McKenzie Alfred	25
Mayhew, W. A.	"
Meade, Augustus	"
Morgan, H. B.	"
Moore, Henry	"
Morrill, Francis A.	"
Marsh, Frank	"
Mellen, A. J.	"
Marsh, Caleb W.	"
Marsh, George E.	"
Manning, C. R.	"
Moulton, John	"
Mahony, Cornelius, 2d	"
Mahan, Philip	"
Merrill, Alexander B.	"
Marden, John W.	"
Meacom, George E.	"
Merrill, Amos	"
Motley, John	15
Marks, Benjamin N.	10
Manning, Green/	5
Moreland, Joseph D.	5
Nelson, Philip T.	50
Nutter, Cyrus S.	45
Nutter, William E.	30
Nichols,	25
Nelson, Reuben G.	"
Newell, Herbert	"
Newhall, Henry A.	"
Needham, Joel F.	"
Nutter, Joseph S.	"
Newhall, James B.	"
Newhall, J. W.	"
Osborne, George P.	100
Osborne, Miles Jr.	75
Osborne Kendall Jr.	"
Osborne, Joseph	50
Osgood, William N.	"
Osborne, George F.	"
Osborne, George S.	"
Osborne, Jacob	"
Osborne, Abraham C.	25
Osborne, James W.	"
Osborne, Alfred A.	"
Osborne, Warren P.	"
Osborne, Franklin Jr,	"
Osborne, Lyman B.	"
Osborne, Calvin P.	"
Osborne, Stephen A.	"
Osgood, Henry	"
Poor, Eben S.	300
Pinder, John	175
Poor, Henry C.	100
Pike, James	50
Perkins Benjamin C.	"
Pickering, William H.	"
Poole, Joshua H.	"
Pierson, Abiel L.	"
Phillips, Oscar	"
Pray, William L.	45
Price, William H.	35
Price, William H. 2d	25
Patten, J. H	"
Poland, William H.	"
Pingree, William F.	"
Proctor, Henry H.	"
Putnam, John	"
Perkins, A. H.	"
Putnam, F. L.	"
Proctor, Alfred	"
Peabody, W. G.	"
Pierce, Charles L.	"
Proctor, Edward W.	"
Poole, Francis	"
Poor, Nathan H. 2d	"
Proctor, Charles	"
Pickering, John F.	"
Patch, Francis	"
Perkins, William	"
Plummer, E. F.	"
Prescott Josiah W.	"
Parsons, Samuel S.	15
Parker Benjamin	10
Porter, Alonzo D.	"
Pingree William H.	"
Richardson, W. B.	50
Roberts, M. H.	"
Rayner, Walter	40
Rust, Elbridge	25
Roberts, David	"
Roundy, George	"
Roundy, Alfred	"
Rust, John P.	"
Raddin, Alonzo	"
Richardson, C. H.	"
Richardson, William H.	"
Raddin, Albert	"
Reith, John Jr.	"
Roome, W. J.	"
Reed, William W.	10
Ridley, Madison	"
Ragan, William	"
Saltonstall, Henry	100
Sutton, William Jr.	75
Stimpson, Samuel B.	50
Stimpson, Thomas M.	"
Story, Charles D.	"
Saunders, George A.	"
Sanger, George F.	"
Symonds, Samuel	"
Stevens, Benjamin F.	37
Safford, Oscar F.	35
Stone, Benjamin F.	25
Stone, Daniel Jr.	"
Stone, Daniel A.	"
Shapleigh, John	"
Stevens, John W.	"
Stevens, Charles P.	"
Southwick, George W.	"
Shillaber, N. H.	"
Stockwell J. A.	"
Southwick, L. B.	"
Spencer, Walter P.	"
Sanborn, John F.	"
Sawyer, Thomas H.	"
Southwick, Nathan	"
Southwick, Levi	"
Shaw, John, 2d	"
Symonds, Robert S. D.	"
Spiller, Richard O.	"
Stiles, John J.	"
Southwick, David H.	"
Southwick, Benjamin F.	"
Stanley, L. Dow	"
Shany, Edward	15
Shephard, John	10
Southwick, Thomas H.	"
Sinclair, Alonzo	5
Smith, John M.	"
Todd, Edward	50
Thomas, Josiah B.	"
Trask, Samuel	35
Twiss, Hezekiah D.	25
Turell, John A.	"
Twiss, George	"
Tufts, Albert	"
Taylor, Benjamin H.	"
Tilton, Benjamin T.	"
Tilton, Charles D.	"
Trask, Edward	"
Towne, Samuel	"
Trask, Thomas S.	"
Trask, Warren	"
Trask, Asa B.	"
Upton, J. Warren	"
Vittum William H.	"
Wilson, Edward H.	60
Wheeler, Alfred F.	50
Whitten, G. H.	"
Walker, William F.	"
Woodbury, Dana	"
Winchester, George J.	"
Woodbury, N. W.	"
Woodbury, Albert B.	40
Wilson, John	35
Wilson, Samuel Jr.	"
Whipple, Charles H.	"
Wilson, Charles E.	"
Wilkinson, Henry	25
Wilson, W. F.	"
Willey, Charles G.	"
Wilson, Samuel P.	"
Wentworth A. F.	"
Woodbury, Edward	"
Walton, George D.	"
Webber, Parker	"
Wolcott, Samuel	"
Winchester, Percy L.	"
Winchester Benjamin J.	"
White, E. F.	"
Whidden, A. H.	"
Wilkins, James W.	"
Waterman, J. L.	12
White, George W.	10
Williams, S. P.	"
Young, Jacob	25
Total amount	$11,364
Subscribed and unpaid	$75

FROM MEN NOT ENROLLED.

Allen Lewis	50
Blake Abel P.	25
Baker Francis	10
Brown John	5
Buxton Amos F.	3
Brown James	15
Clark Mayhew S.	25
Crane Samuel	15
Conroy Daniel	5
Crane Lemuel	"
Cross Leonard	3
Dole William T.	50
Dwinell John S.	2
Elliot Isaac B.	75
Fernald Stephen	50
Flint E. S.	10
Felton Nathaniel	5
Gardner Henry	100
Goodale Jacob P.	12
Goodwin Thomas	10
Grosvenor Daniel P. Jr.	"
Goodale Perley	8
Hutchinson Benjamin	35
Hardy Isaac	25
Herrick John	7
Heylingberg John J.	5
Harris Samuel	"
Jacobs W. M.	225
Jole Peter	2
King Eben	200
King Jonathan	"
King Perley	50
King Henry A.	"
King James P.	"
King Eben U.	"
King Samuel P. C.	25
Lord William N.	175
Little Plumer	50
Little William H.	"
Larrabee J. N.	2
Ladies in Dis. No. 6	"
Merrill Wingate	20
Marsh James	15
Mansfield Capt. John	"
Moulton E. N.	5
Marshall William	"
Mugford Henry	3
Needham Benjamin	9
Osborne Dr. George	200
Osborne C. Warren	125
Osborn Franklin	50
Osborn Amos	"
Osborn Miles	25
Osborn Kendall	"
Osborn Caleb	"
Osgood Dr. Joseph	"
Osborn Dennison	10
Osborne George A.	"
Osborne Jonathan E.	5
Osborn Amos 2d	"
Poor Henry	300
Proctor Thomas E.	300
Proctor Abel	50
Proctor Thorndike	25
Preston Levi	"
Parsons Charles	"
Poor Joseph	"
Pemberton Francis K.	"
Pepper George W.	10
Poor Nathan H.	"
Phillips Alonzo P.	"
Potter George W.	5
Rogers Richard S.	125
Reed Jonas	10
Raddin Amos K.	5
Reed Stephen F.	3
Sutton Eben	200
Shaw Everett	25
Symonds Charles	"
Symonds Nathaniel	"
Sweetser Thomas A.	"
Stimpson & Floyd	"
Smith Richard	20
Saul Thomas	10
Stimpson Charles M.	"
Southwick George	5
Southwick Jonathan	"
Stevens John V.	"
Shackley Moses A.	"
Smith John M.	"
Sheen James E.	3
Stone Ethan	2
Torr Andrew	30
Trask William	25
Taylor Benjamin	10
Upton E. W.	225
Upton George	50
Upton David	2
Wheeler Benjamin	125
Wheeler Benjamin S.	75
White Amos A.	25
Wolcott William	10
Wilson Isaac	"
Cash on Cook's paper	10
Balance from old subscription	108.75
Total amount	$4381.75
Subscribed by Enrolled Men	11,364
Subscribed by Men not Enrolled	43181.75
	$15,745.75

From this sum 82 volunteers were enlisted, and there is yet in the hands of the Treasurer a balance of $332.75

Seven of our citizens furnished substitutes, viz:—D. Webster King, Stephen Blaney, C. B. Farley, Alex. B. Merrill, Franklin Osborn, Jr., James E. T. Bartlett, R. G. Nelson, making a total of 89 men in all, enlisted as follows:

66 for 3 years.
1 " 2 years.
15 " 1 year.
7 substitutes for 3 years.
Total, 89

We would state here that our town has a surplus of 31 sure, perhaps 33, in excess of all calls.

☞ The following paragraph was in the last letter ever written by Senator Douglas—"I know of no mode in which a loyal citizen may so well demonstrate his devotion to his country as by sustaining the flag, the Constitution and the Union, under all circumstances and under every administration, regardless of party politics, against all assailants, at home and abroad. We should never forget that a man cannot be a true Democrat unless he is a loyal patriot."

TERRIBLE MORTALITY.—Eight thousand federal prisoners died at Andersonville in July and August, according to a Richmond journal, being at the rate of almost 130 per day. Is not this sufficient to show that they must have been cruelly treated? If any such mortality prevailed among rebel prisoners in the North, what a howl would go up from Europe over federal inhumanity!

☞ A soldier read the inscription on the transparencies of a Democratic procession in Trenton, N. J., recently, which were principally abusive of the President and insulting to the government, and turning to a companion, said: "I say, Jim, this is the first rebel raid we've seen since we left Virginia."

☞ The New York Herald asks,—"If McClellan be elected what will he do with Grant, Sherman, and other such Generals?" That is easily told. He will probably put Buell, Porter and "other such Generals" in their places.

☞ The Saco Democrat tells the story that a staunch Democrat in that section, sold his vote to the Republicans for ten quarts of buttermilk. Wonder if that is the market price?

☞ A Varnish Factory is to be established near Bridge street, Salem, which is becoming the manufacturer's end of that city.

HAS NOTHING BEEN DONE?

The Hon Henry C. Deming, of Connecticut, in his speech at the mass meeting in New York on Tuesday evening, concluded with the following eloquent words:

Nothing been done? Why in three years and a half we have done more than Julius Cæsar with his ten years in Gaul—more than Hannibal with his ten years in Italy—more than the conquerer of British India with his fifteen years in that country. I challenge you to find in all history a single martial enterprise more conspicuous for the obstacles to be overcome, more numerous with examples of endurance and heroism, more magnificent in its results, and more fatal to the enemy, than that of opening the Mississippi. (Applause.) Was nothing done at Sebastopol? Then nothing was done at Vicksburg. Was nothing done at Antwerp? Then nothing was done at Port Hudson. We have won more substantial triumphs at the expense of fewer comparative reverses, than in the memorable seven years which filled the world with the fame of Frederick the Great, or in the three and a half years of the campaign of Napoleon the First, from the time he descended the Alps like an avalanche on the plains of Lombardy until he turned his white charger in grim dismay from the crimsoned field of Waterloo.

Nothing has been done? Say, O Sherman! sweeping with thy besom the mountain fastness of Northern Georgia, gathering into thy toils all the arteries of rebel communication, and holding in thy palm the arsenal of the Confederacy, has nothing been done? Say, O Grant! clearing that blind war path in the bloody Wilderness at the bayonet point, advancing thy lines point to point from the Rapidan to the James, and tightening the death coil around Richmond (applause), is the reproach, "nothing's been done," a fitting one to send back to the still bleeding but victorious legions of Sheridan? (Applause.) Read that; reproach if you dare, sons of New York; over the ashes of Corcoran and Wadsworth. Read it, sons of New Jersey, over the ashes of the brightest leader in the army—Philip Kearney. (Applause.) Read it, sons of Connecticut, over the tombs of Lyon and Sedgwick. (Applause.) Nothing been done? Passing through the enfilading fire of Forts Jackson and Philip, our national armament on the Mississippi won a victory which pales not before Trafalgar. Under the contracted fire of two forts and one battery, they won another in Mobile Bay which pales not before the Nile. Alas, alas, nothing has been done! Hear it, O Farragut! in the maintop of the Hartford. [Tremendous and long continued cheers, the audience rising and waving their hats.]

SALEM FORTS.—Fort Pickering, on Winter Island, is rapidly approaching completion, and will be a very fine, well planned, and well built earth work. It is already mounted, partly at least with rifled guns, and the pyramids of round and piles of conical shot, with the freshly painted guns, give the fortification quite a warlike appearance. There is a good supply of ammunition at the fort; and solid shot, shell, grape and canister, together with the various implements for loading and cleaning the guns, are among the articles which the curious may inspect. The ditch on the land side is wide and deep, and will contain, we presume, some ten feet of water. It is being stoned up in permanent and enduring style, and the bridge at the entrance is provided with a draw. The soldiers' quarters, well protected by earth, are commodious and comfortable. One would fail to recognize the old Fort Pickering in the new and substantial work in progress. Application has been made for a further grant of land to the United States for defence; and we trust the application may be met in a generous spirit by the city.

The work on the opposite side of the harbor, at Naugus Head, is called Fort Miller. Fort Lee, at the Neck, is a neat and strong little work, commanding in position. It is well situated for defence, and commands an excellent view and fine breeze, which the detachment from the Winter Island barracks no doubt appreciate in summer weather. Both the Salem and Marblehead forts were built under the direction of Capt. Williams, to whom the work is very creditable.

The Salem forts are garrisoned by a company from Georgetown, which appears to be made up of very excellent and well behaved men. They have a library, provided, we believe, under the auspices of the Christian Association. On the whole, a visit to the forts is pleasant at this time.—Gazette.

SAY not thou hast lost a day,
If, amidst its weary hours,
Gloomy thoughts and flagging powers,
Thou hast found that thou couldst pray,
By a single earnest prayer
Thou may'st much of work have done,
Much of wealth and progress won,
Yielded not by toil and care.
—Lord Kinloch.

☞ The McClellan journals make a great ado about the enormous losses of Gen. Grant during the present campaign. The National Intelligencer states them at 68,200. But the official reports of Gen. McClellan and others show that he lost in the Peninsular campaign 70,835 men—2635 more than Grant, even according with the Copperhead figuring. While McClellan's sacrifice of life did us no good, Grant has broken Lee's army, and placed us in grasp of Richmond.

☞ Joe Hooker has done a remarkable thing for him—turned his back on the enemy.—When the crowd wished to cheer him in Wall street last week he went out of the back door of the Bank of America and ran home—did modest, fighting Joe.

The Wizard.

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 19, 1864.

NOTICE.—On and after to-day our Carriers will not be allowed to sell any newspapers. Persons desiring extra copies will find them at Mr. Wilkinson's, or at this office. All those who have been in the habit of purchasing papers of our Carriers will please bear this in mind.

South Danvers, Oct. 12, 1864.—tf.

SENATORIAL CONVENTION—DIST. NO. 2.—This Convention will take place on Tuesday, Nov. 2, in Salem, at the Republican Head Quarters,—which are on Washington street. South Danvers will be entitled to THREE delegates, Danvers to three. The whole number of delegates will be 21, and Salem will have 12 of them.

ONLY THREE WEEKS.

The time of the Presidential election rapidly approaches. In three weeks more the great question will be decided—not so much who the man may be in the Presidential chair, as what policy will be pursued in regard to the rebellion. The great question, after all, is, shall we have a real and permanent, or only a sham peace?—a peace which shall make this great country whole and complete and powerful on the face of the earth, or two crippled commonwealths, always bickering, if not always fighting for supremacy? In this view the question before the people assumes proportions of great magnitude. It is a question of Union or Division, One Flag or two Flags, Peace or War. As men vote on these issues they will declare either for Union or Secession. One side will have the sympathies of the patriotic and the loyal at home and all the lovers of Free institutions abroad, and the other will also have sympathizers in Jefferson Davis and the whole horde of Southern rebels, aided and comforted by such Northern renegades as Vallandigham, Fernando Wood, Gunther, and other ruling spirits of the Chicago Convention.

We have no fears of the result of this election. There is too much of real patriotism in the people to permit the country to be put down and disgraced by its open and secret enemies. There is the right spirit in our brave army to go on and conquer a peace, and such a peace as is worth having. There is the right spirit too in the masses of the people to uphold and cheer on that army to final victory. There are those here at home who will not rejoice in its victories, but wish for and prophesy defeats. In this view, can it be possible that the American people are so lost to the patriotism which animated our fathers that they will traitorously join the enemies of their own loved country in such numbers as to endanger her existence? Certainly not, and the result in a few weeks will prove it. The result of the recent elections predict a political victory and on the coming trial swelling numbers will make it a magnificent and triumphant one.

STUMP SPEAKING.

Among the best of our political stump speakers at the present time, are U. S. GRANT, W. T. SHERMAN and P. H. SHERIDAN. They are all capital orators and very logical. There is also a gallant sailor of the name of FARRAGUT, who is a very effective speaker. He has been stumping it down near Mobile. He speaks very loud, and his opponents say he uses heavy arguments. GRANT and SHERIDAN have been stumping it in Virginia, and they have an appointment to speak in Richmond. On that occasion BEN. F. BUTLER will appear on the rostrum to introduce the speakers. G. M. DODGE, our former fellow-citizen, has been speaking to the Copperheads of the South West in a very effective manner. His voice was lately heard along the hills of Pea Ridge in thunder echoes for the Union. That is the kind of stump speaking we need.

There is a marked difference or individuality among these speakers. GRANT is stately, cool and commanding. SHERIDAN and DODGE are active and decided, stirring up their audiences, and there is no going to sleep while they are speaking. FARRAGUT is rough and boisterous as befits a sailor. SHERMAN is careful, adroit, and not to be Hood-winked by his adversary. He is also a very moving stump speaker. Jefferson Davis, in his late visit to Georgia, was affected almost to tears on account of the stump speeches of SHERMAN. All these speakers are advocating a speedy and permanent PEACE.

NEW DEPOT.—We hear that the Eastern Railroad Company are about to build a new depot in this town for the Essex Railroad. It is to be located between the present depot and Central street. We are glad to hear this, as the present structure is an awkward, unsightly and inconvenient thing—altogether behind the times.

THE REPUBLICAN MEETINGS in Salem are so largely attended that hundreds have to go away, unable to get within hearing of the speakers' voices. It was especially so at the meeting last Monday evening. There is not a hall in Salem half large enough to meet the wants of these times.

ESSEX STATESMAN.

This journal appears lately to be in a very uncomfortable state of mind. It frets, it scolds, it threatens, it worries, it snarls, it growls,—and all for no reason in the world. Our sweet tempered contemporary seems to have something heavy or windy on its stomach. What can it be? It cannot be the result of the recent elections, for it expresses itself satisfied in regard to those. Pennsylvania will be all right next month and "go for little Mac," and "the result in Ohio is cheering!" Now, if the Statesman can find comfort so easily, why does it worry? Why does it fret about the Army vote, when it has been telling us all along that the army is mainly composed of Democrats? Does it really believe that these good Democrats are scared by the fear that old Abe will punish them with the "Russian Knout or Black Hole of Calcutta" if they do not vote for him? It flies into a passion when it is called Rebel, yet it has no fault to find with Rebellion. It seems rather to like the rebels, and is swift to take part with them against their country. It likes the Chicago platform, which makes no objection to Rebels, yet it has objection to being called Rebel. Its objection is to the word and not the thing.

CUSHING AND LORING.

CALEB CUSHING.—Two appointments have been made at Newburyport by the Democrats for Caleb Cushing to speak, but when the time came he was sick. It is hard for a man who uttered the noble words and far-reaching sentiments that he did the 17th of September, 1861, at Salisbury Beach, to so wheel about and belittle himself in company with the traitors that wrote the Chicago platform. Cushing then spoke as follows:—N. H. Mirror.

"We do not begin to comprehend the intense, profound, and even sublime trial through which we are passing. There is no uncertainty as to the duty of every citizen of the United States. In the eye of the law, the duty of the citizen is unmistakable. It is to accept the constitutional fact of the war. * * I know it as well as any other man, and, from the secession of the Southern States, I have abstained from sympathy, countenance, and intercourse with them.

The second duty is an active duty. In time of war, every subject owes to the government, which has a right to demand it of him, his body, his wealth, and his thoughts; his body to defend the government; his moral allegiance to sustain the government and the Constitution. Would to God that all would feel it their duty to support the administration in this hour of trial. I here declare that whatever has been said of me or thought of me to the contrary, I have from the 4th of March, 1861, sunk all opposition. And let me tell you on the 17th of September, that but one thing remains to the United States, and that is to conquer a victory. In such a time as this, to talk of political parties is not the thing Party now is the dust in the balance, the foam on the waves."

GEORGE B. LORING.—It is currently reported that this gentleman has become disgusted with the course adopted by his old political associates and means to give his aid and support to the government, as Butler, Dix, Holt and a host of other prominent Democrats are now doing.—As he can do this without any abandonment of Democratic principles, we feel inclined to give credit to the flying rumor. We have never hesitated to admit, while in open political opposition to him, that his talent and power are great in any cause in which he may enlist, and we would be glad to have him announced to appear on the rostrum and give the public a knowledge of his true position.—The patriotic sentiments he advanced at the gathering in Salem on the 4th of July 1862, prove that his feelings and judgment were with his country and against the rebellion, and give assurance that he is not the man to give aid and comfort to the public enemy.

FLAG RAISING.—A new and beautiful United States flag with the names of LINCOLN and JOHNSON was thrown to the breeze from the top of our office yesterday forenoon at about half past 10 o'clock. The crowded state of our columns prevents us from giving a detailed account of the exercises on the occasion, and we have only room to say that the music, the speeches, and the cheering were all that could be expected, and that the immense crowd dispersed in good order after the ceremonies. A more patriotic throng is seldom seen in our streets than was gathered on this auspicious occasion.

JUSTICE'S COURT.—Friday, Oct. 14th, William J. Little with three or four aliases, was tried for stealing an overcoat belonging to Robert Robson, from the ante-room of Sutton's Hall, on the occasion of a dance on the evening of the 11th inst. Evidence not being sufficient, prisoner was discharged. Wm. D. Northend, Esq., appeared for defendant.

BUSINESS.—The depression in the shoe trade has sensibly affected the business of our town. Our tanneries are slacking up and men are getting out of employment. The sole leather trade has declined more than the upper leather. Within a short time the price of the best sole leather has fallen from 48 cents per pound to 38. Upper leather has gone from 30 to 27 cents per foot; and sales are dull at this.

THE ELECTIONS.

The elections last week were, on the whole, decidedly gratifying to the Union party. Ohio has been carried by 85,000 majority, and the Republicans will probably have seventeen out of the nineteen Congressmen elected. Indiana has happily disappointed the Republicans—having been set down as sure for "Little Mac,"—by rolling up a majority of 25,000 for Gov. Morton, one of the staunchest Union men we have, and electing nine Republican Congressmen to one Democratic. Pennsylvania, on the home vote, is claimed by both parties; but the Republicans have made a gain of three or four Congressmen and carried both branches of the Legislature. The vote of the soldiers, as far as heard from, is about all one way, and will probably overcome any Democratic majority on the home vote. We consider all three of these States as sure for LINCOLN and JOHNSON.

It looks now as though the new free constitution would be adopted in Maryland, notwithstanding the slaveholding counties voted heavily against it, as of course they would.

WHERE ARE THEY?—Gen. JOHN A. LOGAN is announced to take the stump in Illinois for LINCOLN and JOHNSON. The General is a life-long Democrat, but he is not the man to fight one way and speak and vote another. Fresh from the fields of SHERMAN'S great victories; just emerged from struggles in which he was a conspicuous actor, and known to the nation as a true Democrat, he will speak as by authority. There is a force and power in the words and position of such a man. He is no partisan; no motives of the politician influence him—nothing but the loftiest sentiments of patriotism and a profound sense of duty.

PROMOTED.—We are happy to see that Lieut. CHAS. W. HANSON has been promoted, and is now a Captain. He will not probably have the pleasure of seeing his commission just yet, as he is now a guest of the rebels, having been taken prisoner at the fight for the recovery of the Weldon Railroad.

POCKET PICKED.—On Saturday last, while in the Boston & Maine depot, Mr. George W. Elliott, a hard-working citizen of Lynnfield, was robbed of his wallet, containing some $125 00, by having his pocket picked.

COUNTY CONVENTION.—The County Convention of the Republican party was held in Lynn last Wednesday. Called to order by George L. Ford of the County Committee. Thomas Wright, of Lawrence, was chosen President, and N. J. Holden, of Salem, Secretary, with the usual number of supernumerary officers. Hon. EBEN S. POOR of this town was nominated for Councillor, and J. B. SWETT of Haverhill for County Commissioner, and EPHRAIM BROWN of Salem for Register of Deeds,—all by acclamation. All of these nominees are the present incumbents.

The County Treasurership was warmly contested; the competitors being ALLEN W. DODGE of Hamilton, who is the present Treasurer, JAMES D. BLACK of Danvers and AMOS MERRILL of South Danvers. A ballot was taken, which resulted as follows:

Whole number of votes,	132
Necessary to a choice,	67
Amos Merrill of So. Danvers, had	5
James D. Black of Danvers,	34
Allen W. Dodge of Hamilton,	93

A County Committee was chosen, consisting of Wm. H. Graves of Ipswich; W. F. Gile of Lawrence; George L. Ford of Gloucester; Enoch G. Currier of Newburyport; S. W. Hopkinson of Bradford; John V. Spaulding of Lynn; C. Beckford of Salem; Calvin Buttrick of Haverhill; Jno. Rowell of Salisbury.

The Convention was a large one, and, considering the warmth of the canvass, was very harmonious in its deliberations and unanimous in its results.

Everything went on well, and there was no complaint, except in regard to the place of meeting. Nobody seemed to understand why Lynn was selected instead of Salem; but as the County Committee had made the selection, it was sort of taken for granted that they acted upon some very wise though mysterious reason.

RENOVATION OF BEDS.—If people only knew how injurious to health is the practice of sleeping on foul (not fowl) feathers, they would lose no time in having them renovated and made perfectly fresh and sweet. It is a good thing to "air" the bed before it is made up, but this does not cure effectually the impurities of feathers which have for a long time been slept upon. Any good physician will tell you that it is deleterious to health to sleep on beds which have been made foul by the exhalations of the human body. Now is the time, just as we are changing our mattresses for feather beds, to have the latter renovated. Mr. SUMNER SOUTHWICK does this service in a thorough manner by a process perfectly effectual. He has the exclusive agency of the improvement for this and the neighboring towns. If you would have freedom from disease, and quiet and healthful sleep, call upon Mr. Southwick on Park street.

THE VOLUNTEER ENGINE COMPANY.—This company had one of their Clam Chowder entertainments, for which they have become so celebrated, on Thursday evening last, at which a large number attended, included invited guests. Among the latter we were pleased to see the smiling face of our old friend, Corporal SIMEON K. WHIPPLE, in compliment to whom, we believe, the gathering took place. He is looking well, but not quite as stout as when he left for the war. This is not to be wondered at, after participating in twelve pitched battles and a residence a part of the time in hospital. He looks the very image of a veteran soldier.

☞ Gen. Grant voted for Douglas in 1860, and his father for Lincoln, and both together support the latter this fall.

SALEM.

A large Republican meeting was held at Mechanic Hall on Monday evening to hear an able address from George Sennott, Esq., of Boston, (formerly secretary of the Democratic State Committee.) A. C. Goodell, Esq., presided.

A large meeting of the friends of McClellan and Pendleton was held in Mechanic Hall on Thursday evening, and was addressed by Mr. Paine, the candidate for Governor, and Hon. Tollman Willey of Boston. S. Endicott Peabody, Esq., presided.

The woman who wheeled a wheelbarrow full of household goods up Essex street yesterday noon, exhibited strength and pluck. We record the circumstance because of its unusual character, and not because the act (very likely prompted by necessity,) may not have been commendable. These acts ought to teach the lesson that there is, after all, a correct mean between these laborious practices of the stout Irish woman, and the indolent tendencies of too many American "young ladies."—Gazette.

Mr. J. P. Peabody has a double column advertisement in the next page,—a rivulet of text in a meadow of margin,—offering his goods upon a gold basis, and lower. His stock is all marked down, and we are assured will be sold at as low rates as these goods would have brought a year ago.—Gaz.

A meeting of Irishmen was held at Lyceum Hall, on Monday evening last, for forming a circle of the Fenian brotherhood. Fifty-nine took the pledge of the brotherhood.

THE HEROIC DESCENDANT OF PUTNAM.—The young hero referred to in the extract from a recent speech by Mr. Chase, published recently, was Robert Winthrop Putnam, of the old General Putnam stock, which has flourished on the old homestead in Danvers for more than two hundred years. Though but just sixteen years when he heard of the firing on Sumter, he resolved to fight for his country, and nothing could shake this resolution. After making several attempts to be mustered in and being rejected on account of age, he went to the camp at Lynnfield in August, 1861, where he succeeded in passing muster, no questions being asked him about his age, and was enrolled with Co. F of the 19th regiment, which he selected because he liked the bearing of the gallant young Captain Rice, who now commands what remains of the fighting Nineteenth. His intelligence, courage and manly character soon made him the favorite of his company and regiment. When mortally wounded he refused to quit the field, but cheered on his comrades. In his last letter to his sister, dated on the eve of battle, he wrote:

> "I left home to help defend a Constitution that was second to none in the world; a flag which every nation on earth respected, and if I am to die, I shall be happy to die in the service of my country."

A gentleman who knew him well spoke of him, in an address delivered about two years ago, as follows:

> "With tears of admiration and envy have I read of the deeds of heroes and patriots; but I never saw and felt what it was to be a true hero, until I saw a noble youth of sixteen summers, full of all gentleness and manly virtue, calmly and deliberately resolve to give himself to his country, bid farewell to the pleasant scenes of his rural home, father, mother, sister and brother, buckle on his knapsack, shoulder his Enfield rifle and take his place among entire strangers in the ranks of the 19th regiment of Massachusetts Volunteers. As his regiment passed through Boston, on its way to the front, I claimed the privilege of marching by his side. On the Common I filled his canteen with water (he would take nothing else), and when the word came "to fall in," I bade him adieu, feeling that I had witnessed a virtue equal to any I have read of from Plutarch to to the present time."

"ROBBING THE CRADLE AND THE GRAVE." Jeff. Davis made a most lugubrious speech at Macon, Ga., on the 23d ult. He tried to cheer the hearts of the Georgians, but we should judge the effect was far from inspiriting. The usual role of rebel speech makers was enacted, trying to arouse the passions of the woman to goad every man into the rebel ranks. We should judge the rebels were enforcing conscription in the extreme, if the following significant language, taken from their executive's speech, can be taken as a criterion. "Let the old man remain at home and make bread. But should they know of any young man keeping away from the service, who cannot be made to go any other way, let them write to the Executive. I read all letters sent me from the people, but have not time to answer them." If there is one boy that escapes official minions and is hardened to your taunts, send word to your executive and have him go. That's it. Every man and every boy must be pressed into the service. No wonder Gen. Grant said they were "ROBBING THE CRADLE AND THE GRAVE!"

GEORGE PEABODY, the American London Banker, retired from business Oct. 1st, in conformity with a long expressed intention. The London Times says: "It is certain no one has completed a business career which has commanded more universal respect from the commercial world. The business of the house, the prosperity of which has been uninterrupted, will henceforth be carried on by the remaining partners, J. S. Morgan and Chas. Cubitt Gouch."

GODEY'S LADY'S BOOK.—The November number of this interesting Magazine has been received, and will be found a welcome visitor in the family circle,—that is our experience. Its pages as usual are filled with pleasant reading, useful information pertaining to many household matters, and a great variety of Fashion Plates, directions for embroidery, useful and fancy needlework, etc. The steel engraving of "The Farm House Porch," is worth the price of the book.

PASS HIM ROUND.—A fellow giving his name as William E. Wood has been swindling the people of Gloucester out of their honest dues by contracting bills for board, horse-hire, etc., and in settlement gave his (worthless) checks upon the Gloucester Bank, and in some instances receiving a balance from the honest unsuspecting party.

WARREN BANK.—The following gentlemen have been elected Directors of this bank for the ensuing year:—Lewis Allen, Elijah W. Upton, Sylvester Osborn, Benjamin Wheeler, Levi Preston, Franklin Osborn, George Osborne, Henry A. Hardy, C. Warren Osborn. At a subsequent meeting, Lewis Allen was selected President, and Francis Baker, Cashier.

"WHY DON'T YOU PUT UP THE FLAG?"

We have frequently been asked,—"Why don't you run up the flag?" "Why don't you put the names of the candidates at the head of your paper?" An exchange answers the questions so well that we have decided to adopt its reasons:

Our young readers doubtless know, although we cannot teach it to our old fashioned conservative friends, that the practice of displaying the names of candidates, at the head of a paper, for a considerable period before the election, has long since been abandoned by the leading papers. Formely the names of candidates indicating the preference of the paper, were often displayed even before the nomination, and always immediately after, and until the election. But as space in the paper grew more valuable, the practice fell into disuse, and many papers do not display the names till a few days before the election; some not then. The leading Union papers, generally, come to us without displaying at the head the names of the candidates whom they support with so much power in their columns. The New York Tribune has displayed them within a few days. Other papers, where space is less valuable, or where old custom has a stronger sway, retain the practice of displaying the names immediately after the nomination.

Papers that are shaky in their politics and that have little reputation for consistency in their principles of fidelity to their party avowals, are sure to make great display of nominations. There are other papers that are notoriously in the market, for sale to any body of any politics, that belong to one man to-day, and another to-morrow. They are like the little nigger boy on the steamboat, who was asked whom he belonged to, and who said "don no; did b'long to Massa Jones, but he is down in the cabin playing poker with the captain; don no who I b'long to now." Such papers of course indicate their ownership by displaying nominations in large type, and for a long time before the election.

THE PRESIDENTIAL CONTEST.

MR. EDITOR,—As the presidential campaign is now opened, and the candidates placed before the people, it becomes the duty of us all to pause for a moment, and consider what is our duty to our country at this critical time.

Never since the foundation of this Republic was laid, have the people been called upon to weigh the importance of right action as now. It is not for political power that we should strive, but for national life. There has been a dark cloud hanging over us for the last four years, and still we see its lightnings flash, and hear its thunders roar. But, thank God, that dark cloud is breaking. The bright and beautiful sun has made its appearance. Its rays are seen at Atlanta and in the Shenandoah valley, and soon its beams will stretch over Petersburg, Richmond, and Charleston. Copperheads tell us that Government has done nothing to put down the rebellion. But none except those who are wilfully blind can fail to see that there has been a work done which, without the aid of Divine Providence, could not have been accomplished. It has created a navy out of a few old mud-skows, that is capable of sweeping the sea of its commerce. It has raised an army from the peaceful cities and towns of the North and West, which foreign nations look upon with dread, and dare not attack, even while the rebellion is on our hands. And with this army and navy we have surrounded the rebels, and we shall soon close in upon them so tight that they will be compelled to ask to be let alone on terms very different from what they have heretofore. In regard to the two candidates between whom we are to choose,—all their public acts are fresh in the minds of the people who will be their judges. But what is McClellan's claim upon the American people, that he is brought forward at this time for our support? Is he a hero or a great statesman? All that his friends claim for him is the good will of the soldiers who fought under him when he made that masterly retreat on the Peninsula. But would they not love any general who led them through all the swamps, ditches and mud-holes that McClellan dug, treating them with consideration and kindness? They would be ungrateful if they did not. Mr. Lincoln has had the reins of government for almost four years, during the whole of which time we have had a rebellion on our hands such as the world never saw before. Some of his friends think he has been too slow in prosecuting the war; but if we look back to the time when Buchanan left the presidential chair, and trace carefully the events that have since taken place, we may satisfy ourselves that this is not the case.

We all thought that seventy-five thousand men would be sufficient to crush out the rebellion in its bud. We were all deceived as to the power we had to contend with. The All-wise Ruler of the universe had a higher object in view than human vision could reach; therefore He gave strength to the rebels in order to bring out a force adequate to the work He has to do. That work is to finish the superstructure the foundation of which our forefathers laid. The building has been going up tier by tier. Old and faithful workmen have passed away, and new ones have taken their places. But the Original Designer still remains, and the work must go on. No earthly power can stay its progress until the cap-stone is laid. Therefore let every true and loyal citizen take courage. Let us do our duty faithfully and wait patiently; and in due time we shall see a temple rising in this country which will surpass Solomon's in strength and beauty, to which all nations will flow, and in which they shall learn that God hath created of one blood all people, and endowed them with certain inalienable rights, such as life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness. And when that not far distant time arrives, we shall have the proud satisfaction of being able to transmit to our children the rich heritage bequeathed to us by our fathers.

UNION.

A STRAW.—A Presidential vote was taken in the Grand Jury of this county, at its session here in September last; twenty-four votes were cast, of which McClellan had 1, and Lincoln 23.—Lawrence American.

☞ A correspondent of the Advertiser sends a passage from the "Lady of Shalott," which, after introducing a single capital, he appropriately names,—

THE CROPS OF THE SHENANDOAH.

Only reapers, reaping Early
In among the bearded barley,
Hear a song that echoes cheerly
From the river winding clearly.

GEN'L DODGE

COMING TO SOUTH DANVERS!

A tellegram having been received in this town yesterday from General Dodge, announcing that he had decided to visit South Danvers, a committee of arrangements announce the following:

The reception of Major General Grenville M. Dodge will take place at the Peabody Institute, on Thursday, (to-morrow evening,) the 20th. There will be an address of welcome; a band of music will be in attendance. There will also be a procession of escort, and all wishing to join it are requested to meet promptly at the Institute at 7 o'clock. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

☞ As a train of cars from Buffalo, containing a number of McClellan delegates, was stopping at a station, a salute was fired from a small cannon placed on a platform car, the heavy oakum wads from which struck a child in its mother's arms, killing him instantly, and bespattering the mother with his blood and brains.

☞ The potato crop of Connecticut is equal to the best in "old times," when the fashionable standard yield was 200 bushels to the acre. They are selling in Boston at $1 per bushel, and a drug at that.

☞ An Englishman engaged in the blockade running business, just from Nassau, reports that it is believed there will be only time to make one or two more trips before the rebellion is closed.

☞ They are getting up a monster petition on the other side of the water, addressed to the President and people of the United States, praying for peace. It is estimated that it will receive one million signatures.

☞ The Union procession in Philadelphia on Saturday night was fourteen miles long. The display of banners and transparencies was on the most magnificent scale.

☞ Our advertising columns will be found quite interesting, and will thoroughly post up the reader in reference to the best places to trade. Give them an attentive perusal.

☞ A chemist in Liverpool, who sold strychnine by mistake, and killed a man, was sued by the widow, and compelled to pay her $7500 damages.

☞ It is stated that 30,000 Poles are to be added to the Confederate army, but how is not stated.

☞ Chief Justice Taney, of the U. S. Supreme Court, died last week; it is thought Ex-Secretary Chase will succeed him.

☞ The venerable Ex-Gov. Levi Lincoln has been nominated as one of the Lincoln electors of the State.

IMPORTANT LEGAL DECISION.—The controversy which has been pending for a long time between Messrs. Davis & Furber, proprietors of the machine shop at North Andover, and Mr. Eben Sutton, as to the rights of the different mills in the use of the water of Cochichewick Brook, has recently been decided.

By a rule of Court and by an agreement in pais, the whole matter, including not only the question of past damages, but the establishment of the rights of the parties for the future, was referred to a board, consisting of Judge Otis P. Lord, of Salem, Hon. Henry W. Paine, of Cambridge, and James B. Francis, Esq., of Lowell.

After prolonged hearings and careful investigation, the referees have published their award, by which they decide against the claims of Davis & Co for damages, and establish the right in Mr. Sutton to maintain the water by the Hodge's Mill Dam, so called, to the height claimed by him, to wit, to the level of the apron of the old Grist-Mill wheel. This decision affects large interests. Counsel for Davis and others: Judge Abbott, of Boston, and D. Saunders, Jr., of Lawrence—Counsel for Sutton: Hon. A. A. Abbott and S. B. Ives, Jr., of Salem; and Wm. C. Endicott, Esq., of Salem, for the heirs of the late Hon. George Hodges.—Lawrence Sentinel.

Warren Five Cents Savings Bank.

The Annual Meeting of the Warren Five Cents Savings Bank, will be held at the Warren Bank Rooms, on WEDNESDAY, November 2d, at 7 o'clock P. M., for the choice of officers the ensuing year, and for the transaction of any other business that may legally come before them.

Per order,
F. BAKER, Treasurer.

So. Danvers, Oct. 19, 1864.

Marriages.

In this town, Oct. 12th, by Rev. Mr. Barber, Mr. Cleaves K. Hutchinson to Miss C. A. Poor, daughter of Henry Poor, Esq.

In Salem, Oct. 6th, by Rev Mr Spaulding, Mr Edward Semon of Paterson, N. J., to Miss Caroline M. daughter of Mr Joseph Smith of Salem.

12th, by Rev Dr Briggs, Mr John Newcomb of Salem, to Miss Mary A Chipman, of Wellfleet.

16th, by Rev Mr Atwood, Captain John W Cann, of Boston, to Miss Lucy S, youngest daughter of Andrew Sleuman Esq, of Salem.

Deaths.

[Deaths are recorded gratuitously; but all funeral notices are charged 25 cents. Obituary poetry and notices are chargeable at 6¼ cents a line.]

In this town, Oct. 14th, Henry, son of Daniel and Mary Sullivan, 4 yrs 10 mos.

In Salem, Oct. 11th, Mrs Margaret, wife of Mr Michael M'Carty, 47 years; Miss Ellen Welch, daughter of the late Mr Welch, 15 years; 14th, Miss Eliza Peele Gardner, 73 years 6 mos; Charles Augustus, son of John Q and Nancy H Hawes, 18 yrs 8 mos 6 days.

In Danvers, Oct. 11th, Mr Samuel Glover, of Marblehead, 55 yrs 2 mos 11 days; 12th, Daniel F, son of Daniel F and Mary Brown, 3 yrs 9 mos.

In Beverly, Sept 28th, Mrs Mary, widow of the late Nathan Southwick, 89 yrs 6 mos 12 days.

In Marblehead, Oct 12, Mrs Hannah, wife of Mr Benj Pedrick, (Co B, 23d Mass Regt) 58 yrs 10 mos.

In Jamaica Plain, Oct 11th, Mrs Hannah P, widow of the late Dudley Bradstreet of Danvers, 90 years.

At the Naval Hospital, New York, Oct 11, Mr Francis M Bowditch of Salem, 39 years.

In Washington, D C, Oct 7, Mr Calvin L Townes of Salem, Mass, 25 yrs—member of Co M, 1st Mass Heavy Artillery.

U. S. 7-30 LO

The Secretary of the Treasury gives n scriptions will be received for Coupon T
payable three years from Aug. 15th, 1864,
nual interest at the rate of seven and th cent. per annum, principal and interest b
in lawful money.

These notes will be convertible at the holder at maturity, into six per cent. gold payable not less than five nor more tha from their date, as the Government may will be issued in denominations of $50
$1,000 and $5,000, and all subscriptions ty dollars, or some multiple of fifty dolla

The notes will be transmitted to the transportation charges as soon after the original Certificates of Deposit as they pared.

As the notes draw interest from Augu making deposits subsequent to that date interest accrued from date of note to dat

Parties depositing twenty-five thousan upwards for these notes at any one time w a commission of one-quarter of one pe will be paid by the Treasury Departmen ceipt of a bill for the amount, certified to with whom the deposit was made. No d commissions must be made from the depo

SPECIAL ADVANTAGES OF TI

IT IS A NATIONAL SAVINGS BANK, offe rate of interest than any other, and THE TY. Any savings bank which pays its de S. Notes, considers that it is paying in the ing medium of the country, and it CANNO thing better, for its own assets are either i securities or in notes or bonds payable i paper.

It is equally convenient as a temporary investment. The notes can always be so a fraction of their face and accumulated are the best security with banks as colla
counts.

Convertible into a Six per cent. 5-20

In addition to the very liberal interest for three years, this privilege of conve worth about three per cent. per annum, f rate for 5-20 Bonds is not less than NI PREMIUM, and before the war the premi cent. U. S. stocks was over twenty per ce seen that the actual profit on this loan, market rate, is not less than ten per cent.

ITS EXEMPTION FROM STATE OR MUNICIPA

But aside from all the advantages we ha
ed, a special Act of Congress EXEMPTS AL
TREASURY NOTES FROM LOCAL TAXATI
average, this exemption is worth about per annum, according to the rate of taxati
parts of the country.

It is believed that no securities offer so ments to lenders as those issued by the G
In all other forms of indebtedness, the fa of private parties, or stock companies, or munities, only, is pledged for payment, wh property of the country is held to secure
of all the obligations of the United States

While the government offers the most
for its loans, it believes that the very str
will be to the loyalty and patriotism of th

Duplicate certificates will be issued for The party depositing must endorse upon t certificate the denomination of notes
whether they are to be issued in blank or
der. When so endorsed it must be left w receiving the deposit, to be forwarded to Department.

SUBSCRIPTIONS WILL BE RECEIVED by t
of the United States, at Washington, th sistant Treasurers and designated Deposi
the

First National Bank of Salem, Mass.
First National Bank of Boston, Mass.
Second National Bank of Boston, Mass
Third National Bank of Boston, Mass.
National Bank of the Republic, Bosto
Boston National Bank, Boston, Mass.
First National Bank of Amesbury, Ma
First National Bank of Haverhill, Mas
First National Bank of Newburyport,

And by all National Banks which are de
public money, and

ALL RESPECTABLE BANKS AND throughout the country will give further
and

AFFORD EVERY FACILITY TO SUB
August 17, 1864,—3m

Episcopal Services

Divine Service, according to the o Protestant Episcopal Church, will the Town Hall on the next Sunda (16th instant,) commencing at 7 o'c service will be held, also, on each
Sunday evening, at the same hour.

These services are in the charge o
GEORGE D. WILDES, Rector
Church, Salem. As at present they are wholly free; and all persons are affectionately invited to attend.

If the weather should be storm evening appointed, the service will b
Oct. 12th, 1864.

Shin-Plasters.

NOTICE.—We continue to the Salem Currency Checks at par.
we redeem in any sums that can
Green-Backs or Postage Currency.
none out after this date.

JOHN P. PEA
Salem, Oct. 12.

☞ Ready-made Overcoats, $60,
$45, $42, $40, $38, $35, $33, $32,
$26, $25, $22, $20, $19, $18, $17,
$14, $13, $12, $11, $10. One Pri
BENNETT & Co's, 14 & 15 Dock Squa

☞ For Boys' Clothing call at B
Co's One Price House, 14 and 15 Do
Boston.

☞ Ready-made Pants, $17, $16,
$13, $12, $11, $10, $9, $8, $7.50,
$6, $5.50, $5, $4.50, $4, $3.50, $3,
BENNETT & Co.'s One Price House,
Dock Square, Boston.

☞ For Gents' Furnishing Goo and Drawers, or a garment made to at BENNETT & Co.'s One Price Hou
15 Dock Square, Boston.

BARGAINS IN GENT'S UNDER-SHIR
ERS, HOSIERY, &c.—Bought early in and will be sold at the Very Lowest GEORGE S. WALK
228 Essex St.,

☞ Goods received for LEWANDO'S
DYE HOUSE. M. E. C
Jan 20 tf

F. Almy & Co.

le of Dry Goods

LOWEST
PRICES.

ES F. ALMY & COMPANY

Stock a great variety of

G AND SQUARE SHAWLS,

ived from New York.

from our own Cloak Rooms, a choice variety of

DIES' OUTSIDE GARMENTS,

for the Autumn.

IN CLOTHS,

Autumn and Winter Garments, ck was bought last June, at much lower rates

evail to-day.

e we are prepared to make to order from meas-ny style.

OURNING GOODS

— IN —

ACCAS, COBURGS,
THIBETS,
M. DE LAINES,
REPS, &c., &c.

A good stock bought months ago.

invite special attention to our stock of

DRESS GOODS.

rising a greater variety of CHOICE FABRICS, in Effects, than we have ever before offered.

fall in Gold has not reached the margin at which tock of Dress Goods was bought.

h Black Silks,
Rich Colored Silks,
Rich Plaid Silks,
Rich Figured Silks.

e balance of our old stock closing at low prices.

ease call and look at our stock of PLAID WOOL
LINS, at $1 75.

ease call and look at our stock of COTTON WARP
D POPLINS—magnificent colors—at $1.50.

ease look at our stock of PLAIN WOOL M. DE-NS, at 75c. These goods are the best quality. We lower grades at lower prices.

e have a good stock of Poie De Chevres, Alpaccas, rgs, Repps, Thibets, Poplins, M. DeLaines, Prints, selling low.

Gent's Shirting Flannels.

MES F. ALMY & CO., have in stock a good va-of Plaid and Striped Shirting Flannels, at low
s.

Table Coverings.

MES F. ALMY & CO. have in stock a great va-of White, Brown and Colored TABLE COVER-
S—old stock—closing at low prices.

Quilts.

lso QUILTS—Lancaster, Bates and Marseilles—all s and qualities.

Balmoral Skirts.

urchasers should look at our stock of Balmoral
rts. We have them in great variety at wholesale es.

leached and Brown Cottons.

AMES F. ALMY & CO. have in stock the follow-grades:—Bleached and Brown Cottons, which they selling 10 per cent. under the market. Exeter 4-4 ian Orchard, C. & O.: Laconia, K.; Dwight, I. A.
W.; Beaufort, James, Hill; Imperial, Moncrif; Evtt, 9-8; Boot, S; Moncrif.

Ve can afford to give them to the Trade as above,
I will do so until further notice.

Flannels. Flannels.

AMES F. ALMY & CO. are selling a tip top quality
Domet FLANNEL, over 7-8 wide, at 55 cts.

Also the Damon 7-8 Domet Flannels, at 62½ cts. per rd.

A good quality Gray Twilled Flannel, 62½ cts.

A Heavy Blue Twilled Flannel, 62½ cts.

All grades of Grey, Blue and Red Twilled Flannels
low prices.

Also a splendid line of plain White all wool Flannels om 50 cents up.

Hosiery and Gloves,

dies' and Gent's Under Clothing, Kid Gloves, Velvet
bbons, Our usual stock at our usual low prices.

Designing to make some changes in the character of r Stock the coming Spring, we shall close our prest stock very low.

We shall give an opportunity to Cash buyers to buy oods very low.

AMES F. ALMY & CO.,
188 Essex Street, opposite Central Street.
Salem, October 19th, 1864.

MATRIMONIAL!

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN,

If you wish to marry, address the undersigned, who will send you without money and without price, valuable information that will enable you to marry happy and speedily, irrespective of age, wealth or beauty. This information will cost you nothing, and if you wish to marry, I will cheerfully assist you. All letters strictly confidential. The desired information sent by return mail, and no questions asked. Address

Sarah B. Lambert, Greenpoint, Kings Co.,
oct. 12, 1864.—2 m. NEW YORK.

New Advertisements.

Salem & South Danvers R. R. Co.

CARS will leave South Danvers for Salem and Beverly at 6 35, 6 55, 7 15, and 7 35, A. M., and every 20 minutes till 12 55 P. M., and at 1 10, 1 25, 1 40, 1 55, P. M., and every 15 minutes till 10 25 P. M. (The 9 55, 10 10, and 10 25 P. M. cars go only to Salem.)

Cars will leave Beverly for Salem and So. Danvers at 6 35, 6 55, 7 15, 7 35, A. M., and every 20 minutes till 12 55 P. M., and at 1 10, 1 25, 1 40, and 1 55, P. M., and every 15 minutes till 10 40, P. M. (The 9 40, 9 55, 10 10, 10 25 and 10 40 P. M. cars go only to Salem.)

Cars leave Washington Street Station for South Danvers at 6 12, 6 32, 6 52 A. M., and every 20 minutes till 12 32 P M., and leave Washington St. Station for Beverly at 6 17, 6 37, and 6 57 A. M, and every 20 minutes till 12 37 P. M.; and Cars will leave Washington Street Station for South Danvers and Beverly at 12 45, 1 00, 1 15, and 1 30, P. M., and every 15 minutes till 10 00 P. M.

Special Cars will leave Washington Street immediately after all Public Meetings, Lectures and Exhibitions.

On and after Oct. 20, the fares on the S. & S. D. R. R. will be as follows:

For each passenger between Beverly and Salem and South Danvers and Salem, over twelve years of age, except children going to and from school, the fare will be six cents to passengers making their own change—OTHERWISE, SEVEN CENTS.

TICKETS, to be used only by children going to and from school, 25 for $1 00;

Tickets for adult passengers, 18 for $1 00;

Tickets good for any distance between the corner of Webb and Bridge streets and the corner of Boston and Essex streets, 20 for $1 00, or 5 for 25 cents;

Tickets, especially for employees in the Bridge street Factories, good between the Factories and North St., 25 for $1 00.

All the above Tickets may be purchased at the Office of the Company, corner of Washington and Essex Streets, at the usual places, and on the cars.

M. H. HALE,
Oct. 19 Sup't S. & S. D. R. R. CO.

NEW GOODS.

ANN R. BRAY,
76 Federal Street, Salem.

WILL open this morning Rich POPLINS, at $1 50 per yard;
All Wool do, rich colors, at reduced prices;
Black Alpaccas, from 75 cts to $1 75;
Housekeeping Goods at Reduced Prices;
Cottons, Brown and Bleached; 5-4 Waltham and Rockville Sheetings; 4-4 Lonsdale, James Mills, Hills and all the best makes Shirting, at the lowest cash prices,
PRINTS, at reduced prices;
BLANKETS, the very best makes—All-wool and Union Blankets, at the lowest market price.
CAMELS' HAIR SCARFS—medium size;
Also—One very large, of the finest quality—at
ANN R. BRAY'S,
oct 19 76 Federal Street, Salem.

List of Letters

REMAINING unclaimed in the Post Office at South Danvers, Mass., Oct. 18th, 1864.

☞ "To obtain any of these letters, the applicant must call for ADVERTISED LETTERS, give the date of this list, and pay one cent for advertising.

☞ "If not called for within one month, they will be sent to the Dead Letter Office.

☞ Office Hours from 7 A. M. to 8 P. M,

Samuel P Pope	Sarah A Foss
J S Nelson	Daniel Fuller
Cath. O'Donnell	Paul Ellis & Sons
Mary O'Leary	Joseph Dustin
B D Kinsman	Alden Cann
Nelly Haress	A Collins
J M Howe	Abigail Campbell

Joseph Learl
DANIEL WOODBURY, P. M.

THE CAVALIER DISMOUNTED;

AN Essay on the Origin of the Thirteen Colonies, by Wm. H. Whitmore, member of Mass. His. Society and of the N. E. His. Genealogical Soc'y. Price 20 cts.
G. M. WHIPPLE & A. A. SMITH,
Oct. 19.—2 w. Publishers.

AUTUMN GOODS.

SHAWLS,
—AND—
DRESS GOODS.

BLANKETS,
QUILTS,
AND
HOUSE-KEEPING GOODS.

CLOTHS,
DOESKINS,
OVER-COATINGS,
—AND—
CLOAK CLOTHS,

For sale by
THOMAS W. DOWNING & CO.,
sept 28 179 ESSEX STREET, SALEM.

OPENING!

A FULL ASSORTMENT OF
FALL AND WINTER STYLE
BONNETS,
HATS,
DRESS CAPS and
HEAD-DRESSES.

OCTOBER 6TH,
AT
M. E. CRANE'S,
168 ESSEX STREET, - - SALEM.
October 5th, 1864.

Sheriff's Sale.

ESSEX, ss., September 22d, 1864. Taken on three Executions, and will be sold at Public Auction, on THURSDAY, the 27th day of October inst., at eleven o'clock in the forenoon, on the premises hereinafter described, all the right that PELETIAH LITTLEFIELD has, or had when the same was attached on the original writs, of redeeming the following described Mortgaged Real Estate, to wit,—A certain lot of land with a dwelling house and other buildings thereon, situate in Salem in said County, and bounded northwesterly by Albion Street, 50 feet; southwesterly by land of Trafatter, about 106 feet; southeasterly by a new street, 50 feet, and northeasterly by land of Daniel A. Manning, about 106 feet, with all the appurtenances and privileges thereto belonging; it being the same estate described in a Mortgage Deed from said Littlefield to Geo. Lawrence, recorded with the Essex County Deeds, Book 590, Leaf 182.

DANIEL POTTER, Deputy Sheriff.
Oct. 12.—3 w.

Vitrified Stone Drain Pipe.

JUST received and for sale by the subscribers, 5000 feet of the above Pipe, the usual sizes suitable for drainage; the best in the market.

Apply to
B. R. WHITE, Mason,
St Peter Court,
or F. P. GOSS, Plumber,
No. 7 St. Peter st.
Salem, Aug. 3, 1864.—3m

Two Splendid Engravings.

"CHRIST Blessing Little Children," and "Home on a Furlough."

Subscriptions for these beautiful Engravings received at B. F. STEVENS' Jewelry Store, oct 5 116 Main St., South Danvers.

DERBY & CHILDS,

Fire, Marine and Life Insurance Agents.

ORDERS left at No. 24 Washington st., Salem, or received by mail, promptly attended to.

Losses equitably adjusted and promptly paid, and Insurance effected at reasonable rates.

Salem, August 10,—3m*

WEBSTER'S NEW DICTIONARY,

NEW edition, illustrated throughout and greatly enlarged—for sale by
oct 12 G. M. WHIPPLE & A. A. SMITH.

PAPER SHADES.

A FINE assortment of Paper Shades for Kerosene Lamps, just received from Philadelphia, and for sale at S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS', 32 Front St.
oct 12

A. J. Archer & Co

REDUCED PRICES!

DRY GOODS.

AUGUSTUS J. ARCHER & CO.,

ARE Prepared to offer their Large Stock of

SHAWLS,
DRESS GOODS,
GARMENTS,
WOOLENS,
House-Keeping Goods,
— At the —
LOWEST MARKET PRICES.

oct 12—tf 181 Essex street.

NEW DRESS GOODS,

PLAIN AND FIGURED,
— AT —
164 ESSEX ST., SALEM.

CHOICE STYLES AND COLORS.

— ALSO —

PLAIDS for CHILDREN'S SHAWLS,
BALMORALS, WHITE FLANNELS,
CALICOES, HOOP SKIRTS, &c., &c.

These Goods are positively selling at BARGAINS, please call and see for yourselves.

BE SURE AND FIND THE RIGHT STORE,
164 ESSEX STREET, SALEM,
(Opposite Museum Building.)
oct 12 J. E. P. FEARING.

Ladies' Furnishing Goods.

Improvement!

Messrs. BROWNING & LONG

Have made alterations in their Establishment with the view of improving and enlarging their

Worsted Department,

and can now insure a spacious Department solely devoted to

"GERMAN ZEPHYR WORSTEDS,"

with a powerful light, plenty of room, and a great assortment, making over One Hundred and Twenty-five different shades, being one of the FINEST Stocks of the kind in the United States.

Ladies will be surprised at the immense Stock now open; as we make it a speciality and have our Worsteds direct from Germany, we show many colors not to be found elsewhere.

PRICES LOWER
Than any Establishment in Boston.

By the New Arrangement Ladies will find it an easy task to select Shades.

OUR PRICES WERE REDUCED
WITH THE FALL OF GOLD!

Magnificent Patterns
For all sorts of
NEW WORSTED GOODS,
Which we are pleased to show every one—they are rarities.

Our Great Collection
—OF—
WORSTED WORK,
Comprising nearly every article
EVER MADE ON CANVAS,
should be seen by
EVERY ADMIRER OF WORSTED WORK.

NEW GOODS
NOW BEING OPENED!
—Secured at—
The Low Rate of Gold.
—AT—
BROWNING & LONG'S
LADIES' FURNISHING STORE,
177 Essex Street, 177
SALEM.
Salem, Oct. 12, 1864.

AUTUMN AND WINTER DRY GOODS.

PRINTS, De Laines, Plaids, Poplins, Alpaccas, Coburgs, Thibets, and many other styles for Dresses:

SHAWLS AND HOUSEKEEPING GOODS.

Bleached and Unbleached Cottons, different widths. Cotton Flannels, Wool and Cotton and Wool Flannels, of every variety and color.

Union and all wool Cassimeres and Doeskins, for Mens' and Boys' wear.

Hosiery, Gloves, Yarns, Umbrellas, &c., &c., sold at the lowest prices for the Cash, at
238 Essex Street.
GEO. P. DANIELS.
Salem, Sept. 28, 1864.

STORE TO LET.

THE Store now occupied by Messrs. Blake & Holman, on the corner of Washington and Main Sts. The best located and most convenient store in town for the Grocery business. Possession given immediately. Apply to
R. S. DANIELS.
South Danvers, Sept. 21.

WANTED TO HIRE,

FOR a year or term of years, a COTTAGE HOUSE and Garden, pleasantly located in Danversport, or Danvers Center. Rent of no consequence, provided all else prove satisfactory.

Address T. H. S. at this office, stating terms, etc.
South Danvers, Sept 28. tf

George S. Walker.

GREAT REDUCTION!

Stock Reduced to Gold Value!

CUSTOMERS may be assured that hereafter goods will be sold at gold value, and that the reduction will be real.

Undershirts, Hosiery,
Drawers, Gloves, &c.,
At Greatly Reduced Prices,
—AT—
GEORGE S. WALKER'S,
No. 228 Essex Street,
oct 12 Opp. Eastern Railroad Station.

Potter, Bachelder & Co.,

DANVERS-PORT and SOUTH DANVERS,
DEALERS IN

WOOD AND COAL.

Constantly on hand

Franklin, Burnside, Dimond, } RED ASH.

Old Company & Packer's Lehigh, Pliny Fisk, Webster and Locust Mountain, } WHITE ASH.

Also Cumberland, Pictou and Campbell for Steam and Smith's use.

OFFICE—No. 6 Allen's Building.

G. W. POTTER,
J. Q. A. BACHELDER,
C. T. BATCHELDER. mch 30

C. W. HALEY, M. D.,

Physician and Surgeon.

OFFICE—WARREN BANK BUILDING,
South Danvers.

M. A. PORTER,

236 Essex Street, - - - Salem, Mass.,
(Opposite Horse Railroad Office,)
MAKES TO ORDER BEST QUALITIES OF

WATCH SPRING SKIRTS.

A Good Assortment of Dress and Clock Button, Braids, Spool Cotton, Small Wares, and Thread Store articles generally.

236 Essex Street, - - - Salem, Mass.,
M. A. PORTER.

AUTUMN STYLES.

WE are now prepared to show our customers a fine
— assortment of —

FALL MILLINERY GOODS.

REITH & CO'S,
No. 2 West Block, 188 Essex St.,
Sept 21 SALEM, MASS.

---

197 REMOVAL. 197

Gentlemen's Clothing.

YOUTH'S AND BOYS' CLOTHING,
— AND THE —
FURNISHING GOODS ESTABLISHMENT,
of the subscriber is removed to
197 Essex Street,
Store lately occupied by Mr. JOHN McKEY.

☞ A full and fresh assortment of GOODS is now opening and will be kept up as the season advances.

Salem, Sept 21. T. H. LEFAVOUR.

REAL ESTATE.

The subscriber offers for sale the following Lots of Land, with the buildings thereon, at Private Sale, until October next, when, if not previously sold, they will be put up at auction.

On Lowell street, a two story DWELLING HOUSE, fitted for two families. This is the Estate formerly known as the Southwick Tavern.

On Lowe street, leading from Foster St. to Washington St., a two story TENEMENT for two families with a garden attached to it.

On Washington street, near the residence of Capt. Lowe, a very eligible BUILDING LOT, on the North side of the street.

On Tremont street, a small COTTAGE HOUSE for one or two families.

On Walnut street, a pleasant, elevated Lot of Land, with a large Barn, situated opposite Mr. Caller's Currying Shop.

In the rear of the above TWO TENEMENT HOUSES.

For particulars apply to
jy 27 WILLIAM SUTTON.

Salem and Danvers Aqueduct Co'y.

ALL persons using the water of the Salem and South Danvers Aqueduct, are hereby notified that the water rents, for the six months ending Nov'r 1, 1864, are now due; and that they are required to pay the same, at the office of the Company, No. 2 Sewall Street, on the 1st day of October inst. Should the bills remain unpaid for thirty days, the water will be stopped, in conformity to the regulations of the Company.

Office hours from 9 to 1 o'clock, and from 2 to 5.

Per order of the Directors,
Salem, Oct 1, 1864. WM. JELLY, Collector.

CAMPAIGN MEDALS,

OF different styles—at
oct 12 G. M. WHIPPLE & A. A. SMITH'S.

HOUSE OF EQUITY,

—BY—
Arnold & Hutchinson,
(Successors to C. T. Southwick.)

FIRST QUALITY
FAMILY GROCERIES,
Sold at the Lowest Prices.

A large and complete assortment of
CROCKERY AND GLASS WARE,
Constantly on hand.
Also FLOUR and GRAIN.

ASHLAND HALL BUILDING,
NO. 1 LOWELL STREET,
F. T. ARNOLD. B. F. HUTCHINSON.
South Danvers, Feb 3, 1864.

OATS. OATS.

5000 BUSHELS PRIME OATS, received this day, and for sale by
sept 7 GAYLE & CO., Phillips Wharf.

SELF-SEALING AIR-TIGHT CASKET.

MR. CHARLES S. BUFFUM, Furnishing Undertaker of South Danvers, takes this method to announce that he has a new burial case, which combines all the advantages of a wooden receptacle with those of a metal one, and yet avoids the disadvantages of both. They have been used with great success, and bodies placed in them have been delivered in perfect preservation after having been transported over a thousand miles. To persons having deceased friends at the seat of war they are invaluable. They come at reasonable prices, are light and durable, and are perfectly air-tight. august 10

EBEN UPTON,

Piano Fortes Tuned and Regulated,
MELODEONS AND PIANOS
BOUGHT, AND EXCHANGED
For New Piano Fortes, at Wholesale Prices.
Orders left at G. CREAMER's Bookstore, Salem.
July 27, 1864.—6m

Gold Basis!

Our Stock All Marked Down!

BARGAINS.

ALL goods that were bought previous to the late fall in Gold, marked down to Gold Prices.

The Largest Stock in Salem.

The Lowest Prices in Salem.

THE BEST GERMAN WORSTEDS.

Chenchillas	40 cts
Purples	40 cts
Orange	40 cts
Crimson	35 cts
Scarlet	35 cts
Brown	35 cts
Drabs	35 cts
Blues	35 cts
Black	30 cts
White	30 cts

Best Cloud made only $1 15.
Best Cloud made only $1 15.
Best Cloud made only $1 15.
Best Cloud made only $1 15.
Best Knit Shawls $2 50.
Best Knit Shawls $2 50.
Best Knit Shawls $2 50.
Best Knit Shawls $2 50.

Sontags all Marked Down.
Hoods all Marked Down.
Everything at very Low Prices.

STOCK TO BE REDUCED.

Sale to be Continued Ten Days
At these prices, unless we get out of goods.
We cannot replace them for the same money.

Best Kid Gloves $1 50.
Best Kid Gloves $1 50.

White Kid Gloves $1 25.
White Kid Gloves $1 25.

RIBBONS, FLOWERS
—AND—
BONNET RUCHES.

☞ We have this week opened some choice ☜ ☞ styles of Millinery Goods, bought at ☜ ☞ "way down prices," and to be sold at ☜
☞ our usual low prices. ☜

We have a fine stock of Goods—none better in the market—and at our present prices we are safe in saying that there are none cheaper. An early call will insure a better stock to select from.

JOHN P. PEABODY,
220 ESSEX ST., SALEM.

Auction Sales.

WILLIAM ARCHER, Jr.,

Auctioneer, Real Estate and Stock Broker,
34 Front Street.

Real Estate, Bank, Railroad & Manufacturing Stock bought and sold on Commission.

ON SATURDAY NEXT, at 9½ o'clock, will be sold at No. 34 Front street:

A QUANTITY of New and Second Hand Furniture. Lounges, Tables, Chairs, Carpets, Stoves, 1 new Chamber Set; 60 Wooden Stools; one set Encyclopædia; lot Picture Frames.

BOOTS AND SHOES—Men's, Women's, Boys and Misses' Boots and Shoes.

DRY GOODS—Shawls, Undershirts, Cassimeres and Satinetts.

Also—6 Boxes Tobacco, Coffee, Cream of Tartar, Saleratus, 20 boxes Family Soap.

—At private sale, at Auction prices—
3 new Painted Chamber Setts.

R. C. MANNING & CO.

Successors to JOHN DIKE & CO.,
DEALERS IN
COAL, WOOD, BARK, HAY, &c,
188 DERBY STREET,
SALEM, MASS.
N. C. ROBBINS, R. C. MANNING.
oct17

GEO. E. MEACOM,

Dealer in
DRUGS & MEDICINES,
Fancy & Toilet Articles, &c.,
126 · · MAIN ST · · · 126
Nearly opposite Danvers Bank, So. Danvers.

T. A. SWEETSER,

Druggist & Apothecary
37 Main St., So. Danvers,
DEALER IN
Drugs, Medicines, Chemicals, Foreign Leeches, Shakers' Herbs, Dye Stuffs, Gums, Acids, Sponges, Shoulder Braces, Trusses, and Genuine Patent Medicines,

Also, Imported Cigars of choice brands, Perfumery, Toilet Articles and Stationery.

Physicians' Prescriptions carefully prepared by experienced persons.

37 MAIN STREET.

D. P. GROSVENOR, Jr.,

Druggist and Apothecary,
33 MAIN STREET.

Dealer in Drugs, Medicines, Chemicals, Dye Stuffs, and Popular Proprietary Medicines.

Personal attention to Physicians' Prescriptions.

South Danvers, May 29, 1861. ly

DR. J. H. BATCHELDER,

DENTAL SURGEON,
No. 20 Washington St., (near Eastern Railroad Depot), SALEM, MASS.

Is Licensed to make the New Patent Teeth on HARD RUBBER or VULCANITE.

July 1, 1864.

STURGIS' ELECTRIC COMPOUND,

An Effectual External Remedy for

NEURALGIA
—AND—
RHEUMATISM.

ALSO, INVALUABLE FOR

Spinal Irritation, Ague in the Face, Toothache, Pain in the Side, Back, and Limbs, Ear, Ague, &c.

Among the Advantages of this Medicine are the following:

ITS effect is very rapid—in most cases instantaneous.

It is external in its application, and the patient runs no risk in using it. It does not strike to the stomach.

It reaches the nerves and muscles, as it is believed no other medicine does.

It has cured some of the most violent and obstinate cases of Neuralgia ever known.

It can be used on a child or an aged person alike.

While it is very powerful, it is perfectly harmless.

The proprietor has been allowed to publish the names of many persons who have used the COMPOUND with the most beneficial results. He inserts a few of them. They are among the most respectable citizens of Boston and other places, and their residences and places of business are given.

Rev. N. Munroe, late of Boston Recorder.
Joseph H. Allen, 119 Washington St., house 55 Ruthland Street.
N. P. Kempt, Tract Society, 40 Cornhill.
Addison Boyden, 408 Washington Street, Boston, firm of Haley, Morse & Boyden.
William H. Brewster, Publisher of Boston Traveller.

The following letter from one of our best citizens will speak for itself:

REV. JOSEPH E. BARRY, the children's missionary of Boston, was the recipient a few weeks since of a bottle of STURGIS'S ELECTRIC COMPOUND, for Neuralgia, Rheumatism, &c., and having experienced great benefit from its use, and having known of many severe cases of the above complaints where it produced cures, considers it his duty to make known to his friends and others being so unfortunate as to be troubled with these terrible complaints, the virtue of this preparation.

Boston, Sept. 15, 1863. JOSEPH E. BARRY.

REMARKABLE CURE OF NEURALGIA.—The following letter, (unsolicited,) was received by the proprietor in May last:

CAMP ROGERS, Newbern, May 6, 1863.

Dear Sir. I have been for some weeks suffering under a severe attack of Neuralgia, the severity of which has caused me to be in "perfect agony" both night and day. Having heard of STURGIS'S ELECTRIC COMPOUND from a "companion in arms," I was induced to give it a trial, which had the happy effect to immediately cure me. I am surprised that surgeons do not have it in the army, as there is a constant demand for such an invaluable relief. I make this statement for the public good, and I have no scruples about your using this as a recommendation to other victims of this painful disorder.

Yours, respectfully. JOSEPH HOUGHTON,
Co. D. 43d Reg't Mass. Vols.

For Sale by all Druggists.

☞ Office No, 119 Washington St., Boston.
Sept. 28—6mo.

AARON T. LOWE,

DEALER IN
BOOTS, SHOES AND RUBBERS,
76 BOSTON STREET, 76.
aug 6 SALEM. tf

Special Notices.

BROCKSIEPER GAS REGULATOR!

30 PER CENT. SAVED.

Economy in the use of Gas, with the advantage of having a more brilliant light than heretofore, is a point at once desirable. Inventors have for many years sought to obtain this end by packing or checking in innumerable ways the flow of gas through the burner. Not one of these have attained the result wished for, viz:—a pure transparent flame without waste at any and all pressures obtained at any hour and in all localities. Those of our citizens who have taken the pains to examine Brocksieper's Patent Regulator, and have seen the gas ACTUALLY MEASURED THROUGH IT, are unanimous in its praise. We give below the names of a few of the merchants and others of Salem now using the Regulator:

Salem Register Office;
Salem Gazette Office;
Salem Statesman Office;
Salem Post Office;
Merchants Reading Room;
George Creamer, Bookseller;
Browning & Long, Dry Goods;
S. F. Rogers, Confectioner;
J. P. Peabody, Dry Goods;
Theron Palmer, Shoe Dealer;
Adams, Richardson & Co., Hardware;
Doctor Johnson;
Essex House;
Wm. Webb Jr., Druggist;
Edward Brown, Sup't and Treas. Gas Co.

☞ Orders left at B. F. STEVENS' Jewelry Store, will be promptly attended to. The burner can also be examined there.

SEND FOR A CIRCULAR.

25,000 of these Regulators have been manufactured and sold in the Eastern States since February last. 150 are now in use in Salem. PRICE $1 EACH—6 AND OVER, 90 cents each. The article is warranted in every respect. Call and examine for yourselves. Our facilities for testing the genuineness of this improvement will at once convince the most skeptical.

JOSEPH CLOUTMAN,

OFFICE—Bowker Block, Essex st., up-stairs.

NOTICE.—We have this day appointed Mr. JOSEPH CLOUTMAN, of Salem, our sole agent for the sale of Brocksieper's Gas Regulator for the following places: Salem, South Danvers, Beverly, Marblehead and Gloucester, Mass. All orders for the article, at wholesale or retail, to receive attention, must come through him, and he will establish sub-agencies in the above-named places.

HULL & GOODELL,
Sole Proprietors in the U. S.,
446 Broadway, N. Y., and 221 Washington st., Boston.
august 10—tf

BELL'S SPECIFIC PILLS.—WARRANTED IN ALL CASES.——Can be relied on! Never fail to cure! Do not nauseate! Are speedy in action! No change of diet required! Do not interfere with business pursuits! Can be used without detection! Upward of 200 cures the past month—some of them very severe cases. Over one hundred physicians have used them in their practice, and all speak well of their efficacy, and approve of their composition, which is entirely vegetable, and harmless on the system. Hundreds of certificates can be shown.

BELL'S SPECIFIC PILLS are the original and only genuine Specific Pill. They are adapted for male and female, old or young, and the only reliable remedy for effecting a permanent and speedy cure in all cases of Spermatorrhea, or Seminal Weakness, with all its train of evils, such as Urethral and Vaginal Discharges, Gleet, the Whites, Nightly or Involuntary Emissions, Incontinence, Genital Debility and Irritability, Impotence, Weakness or Loss of Power, Nervous Debility, &c., &c., all of which arise principally from Sexual Excesses of Self-Abuse, or some constitutional derangement, and incapacitates the sufferer from fulfilling the duties of married life. In all sexual diseases, as Gonorrhea, Gleet, and Strictures, and in Diseases of the Bladder and Kidneys, they act as a charm! Relief is experienced by taking a single box.

Sold by all the principal druggists. Price $1.

They will be sent by mail, securely sealed, and confidentially, on receipt of the money, by

J. BRYAN, M. D.,
No. 76 Cedar street, New York,

Consulting Physician for the treatment of Seminal, Urinary, Sexual, and Nervous Diseases, who will send, free to all, the following valuable work, in sealed envelope:

THE FIFTIETH THOUSAND.—DR. BELL'S TREATISE on Self-Abuse, Premature Decay, Impotence and Loss of Power, Sexual Diseases, Seminal Weakness, Nightly Emissions, Genital Debility, &c., &c., a pamphlet of 64 pages, containing important advice to the afflicted, and which should be read by every sufferer, as the means of cure in the severest stages is plainly set forth. Two stamps required to pay postage.

December 9, 1863—1 yr.

IMPORTANT TO LADIES.—DR. HARVEY'S FEMALE PILLS have never yet failed in removing difficulties arising from obstruction, or stoppage of nature, or in restoring the system to perfect health when suffering from Spinal Affections, Prolapsus, Uteri, the Whites, or other weakness of the Uterine Organs. The Pills are perfectly harmless on the constitution, and may be taken by the most delicate female without causing distress—the same time they act like a charm by strengthening, invigorating and restoring the system to a healthy condition, and by bringing on the monthly period with regularity, no matter from what causes the obstruction may arise. They should, however, NOT be taken during the first three or four months of pregnancy, though safe at any other time, as miscarriage would be the result.

Each box contains 60 Pills. Price $1.

DR. HARVEY'S TREATISE on Diseases of Females, Pregnancy, Miscarriage, Barrenness, Sterility, Reproduction, and Abuses of Nature, and emphatically the Ladies' Private Medical Adviser, a pamphlet of 64 pages, sent free to any address. Six cents required to pay postage.

The Pills and book will be sent by mail when desired, securely sealed, and prepaid, by

J. BRYAN, M. D., General Agent,
No. 76 Cedar street, New York.

☞ Sold by all the principal druggists.
December 9, 1863—1 yr.

HOUSEKEEPERS, ATTENTION!

JACKSON'S

KITCHEN FURNISHING ROOMS,

Under MECHANIC HALL, Salem.

Parties about commencing House-Keeping will find this the ONLY place in Salem where a COMPLETE ASSORTMENT of House-Keeping articles can be found.
dec 9, 1863.

SPECTACLES!

H. F. SKERRY wishes to call special attention to his stock of

Spectacles and Eye Glasses,

in Gold—Silver—Rubber—Steel and Horn frames, of which he keeps constantly on hand a very large assortment, embracing every style and quality.

—ALSO—

Opera Glasses, Microscopes, &c.

Glasses re-set, and Spectacles repaired.

In Store, our usual assortment of Silver and Plated Ware, Jewelry, Fancy Goods, and Toys. Also, Canton Ware.

No. 180 Essex Street, Salem.

H. F. SKERRY.

Aug. 17—tf

MORRIS'

RESTAURANT,

18 and 20 Derby Square, Salem.

Oysters, Clams, Steak, Poultry, Game, Fish, &c., &c., COOKED TO ORDER.
Pickled Oysters, Lobsters and Clams.
Salem, July 22, 1863. tf

T. HARDY, JR.,

—Dealer in—

DOORS, SASHES, BLINDS,

Glazed Sash, Painted Blinds,

FENCE PALES, STAIR BALUSTERS, FRAMING PINS, &c.,

No. 26 FRONT STREET,

Salem, January 14, 1863—tf.

SCHOOL BOOKS.

AT the lowest prices, and strongest bindings—for sale by G. M. WHIPPLE & A. A. SMITH.

SILVERED GLASS.

SILVERED Glass Ware, at
S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS',
oct 5 32 Front street.

CUT GLASS.

CUT Glass Dishes, Goblets, etc., at
S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS',
oct 5 32 Front street.

WINDOW GLASS.

GERMAN Window Glass, of all sizes, for sale by the box or light at 32 Front Street, Salem.

WHITE LEAD.

FOREST River White Lead and New York White Lead, for sale in any quantity, at sep 21 S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS', 32 Front st.

Cards.

N. J. HOLDEN,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
Office, 27 Washington Street, Salem, Mass.

M. B. MANSFIELD,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
214 ESSEX STREET, SALEM, MASS.

 Particular attention paid to procuring Pensions, Bounties, Back Pay, Prize Money, and Army and Navy Claims of all descriptions. March 2.

H. L. HADLEY,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
CORNER MAPLE AND ELM ST.,
Danvers.

Claims against the Government for Bounty, Back Pay, and Pensions, promptly attended to.

THOMAS M. STIMPSON,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
194 ESSEX STREET, SALEM.
Residence Lowell street, South Danvers.

B. C. PERKINS,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
South Danvers—Office in Allen's Building.

ALFRED A. ABBOTT,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
Office, No. 24 Washington Street, Salem.
House, Main St., So. Danvers.

SIDNEY C. BANCROFT,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
27 Washington Street, Salem.

H. O. WILEY,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
Office, Allen's Building, South Danvers.

Claims against the Government for Bounty, Back Pay, and Pensions, promptly attended to.

A. S. CRAWFORD
Dentist,
No. 4 MAIN STREET, SO. DANVERS SQUARE
Mechanical Dentistry Neatly Executed.

W. L. BOWDOIN,
SURGEON DENTIST,
No, 208 Essex Street, Salem, (Opposite the Marke
Residence—No. 57 Washington street.
jan 11—1y

NEWMAN & SYMONDS,
DEALERS IN
Family Groceries, Flour & Grain,
HARD WARE AND CROCKERY,
Ready Made Clothing, Gents' Furnishing Goods,
Hats, Caps, Boots, Shoes, &c.,
South Danvers Square, opp. Congregational Church
SAM'L NEWMAN. NATH'L SYMONDS.

S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS,
DEALERS IN
Crockery, China and Hardware; Paper Hangings; Solar and Entry Lamps · Paints, Oil and Window Glass.
No. 32 Front street, Lawrence Place,
feb13 SALEM, MASS.

HENRY L. WHIDDEN,
HOUSE AND SIGN PAINTER,
Glazier and Paperer,
Central Street, South Danvers.
All orders promptly and faithfully executed.
jan2-1y

JESSE SMITH
No. 262 Essex Street, Salem,
Importer and Dealer in
Gold and Silver Watches,
MARINE CHRONOMETERS,
Aueroid Barometers, Spy Glasses, &c.

WILLIAM BLANEY,
HOUSE & SIGN PAINTER
Grainer, Glazier and Paper Hanger.
164 MAIN STREET, Corner of Grove.
WINDOWS and BLINDS cheap for cash.
mch6-tf

F. POOLE
INSURANCE AGENT,
Allen's Building (up stairs),
Deeds drawn, and other common forms.

Advertisements.

LIFE INSURANCE.

THE MUTUAL

LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY,

Of New York, with a Capital of $11,000,000,

And an Annual Income of over

$2,000,000,

AND declaring a LARGER DIVIDEND than any other Company in the United States, is the one in which every man should secure a policy on his life.

The importance of LIFE INSURANCE cannot be too highly estimated. It is the safest and most practicable method of securing to your family, in case of your death, the means of a comfortable and independent support. Thousands of instances might be cited where families have thus been provided with a competency, who would otherwise have been left in penury and want. Husbands and fathers! treat not with indifference a subject of such vital importance, but see to it at once, that your families are provided with the inestimable advantages which this great and benevolent institution affords.

Because a man has wealth, it is no reason why he should not insure, for he knows not how soon his riches may "take to themselves wings and fly away." And let those who complain of the want of means, remember that

Forty-Five Cents a Week,

Will insure $1,000 on the life of a man of THIRTY.

AN ENDOWMENT POLICY,

Secures to the assured party, on attaining to a certain age, say 50, 55 or 60 years, an amount sufficient for his support in advanced age.

Another feature of this subject, deserving of especial attention, is

SURVIVORSHIP ANNUITIES!

By means of which one party may secure to another, an annuity sufficient to maintain them in comfort and independence through life. A husband may thus make provision for his wife; a father for his child; or a brother for his sister.

Endowment Policies for Children.

By this means a parent may provide, by the payment of a small annual premium, a sum of money sufficient to enable a son to enter into business, at a proper age, or for any other provision, either for a son or daughter.

Many Gentlemen of So. Danvers and Vicinity!

Have already availed themselves of this opportunity now offered of ensuring their lives, and thus securing an inestimable blessing to themselves and their families. Let others be equally wise, and immediately follow their example.

JOHN H. DERBY,
Agent for South Danvers and Vicinity.
Post Office address, Salem, Mass.
September 14, 1864.—tf.

GAYLE & CO.,
COMMISSION MERCHANTS,
AND DEALERS IN
Flour, Grain and Produce,
PHILLIPS WHARF, - - - - - Salem.

THE TRAVELERS INS. CO.,

OF HARTFORD, CONN.

Capital - - - - - - $250,000.

Is now prepared to Insure persons against

ACCIDENTS

OF EVERY DESCRIPTION.

Yearly policies will be issued for a premium of

FIVE DOLLARS,

granting insurance to the amount of

FIVE THOUSAND DOLLARS,

against accidental loss of life while travelling by any public conveyance.

TEN DOLLARS PREMIUM

secures a policy for Five Thousand Dollars, and also twenty-five dollars per week compensation for personal injury incapacitating the assured from his ordinary business.

TWENTY-FIVE DOLLARS PREMIUM

secures a full policy for $5000 and $25 per week compensation for all and EVERY DESCRIPTION OF ACCIDENT, TRAVELLING OR OTHERWISE.

Policies for $5000 with $3 per week compensation, can be had for $3 per annum; or any other sum between $500 and $5000 at proportionate rates.

DIRECTORS:

Gustavus F. Davis,	W. H. D. Callender,
James L. Howard,	George W. Moore,
Marshal Jewell,	Ebenezer Roberts,
Thomas Belknap, Jr.,	Charles White,
Cornelius B. Irwin,	Hugh Harrison,
George S. Gilman,	Jonathan B. Bunce.

JAMES G. PATTERSON, President.
RODNEY DENNIS, Secretary.
HENRY A. DYER, General Agent.

PLUMBER & MERCER, AGENTS,
40 State Street, Boston.

Offices in Salem—JOHN H. DERBY, No. 24 Washington street; SAMUEL MACKINTIRE, No. 218 Essex street. Aug. 3, 1864—1yr*

JUST ARRIVED,

AT DANVERS MILLS,

500 Bushels Corn, in the minnie cob, and will be sold in South Danvers. Constantly on hand a large stock of meal, which will be sold at the lowest Salem prices.

—ALSO ON HAND—

500 Bushels Feed;
200 Bushels prime Northern Oats;
100 Barrels choicest Family Flour.
A good stock of LIME constantly on hand.

JOHN C. MOULTON,
Central St., South Danvers, Mass.
Aug. 25—tf.

HEYLINGBERG'S

Hair Dressing Saloon,

24 MAIN ST., SOUTH DANVERS.

J. J. HEYLINGBERG would announce to his patrons and the public generally, that on and after JUNE 1st, 1864, he will abide by the following

TARIFF OF PRICES:

Shaving, - - - - - - - - -	10 cts,
Hair Cutting, - - - - - - -	15 cts,
Champooing, - - - - - - -	15 cts.

Particular attention paid to dying hair and whiskers, in one preparation, without washing or scrubbing.

South Danvers, May 11, 1864.

VALUABLE REAL ESTATE.

THE Subscriber offers for sale the following Lots of Land, with the Buildings thereon, at private sale, until September next, when such as then remain unsold, will be offered at Public Auction:

A new and well built two-story DWELLING HOUSE, situated on English Street.—This house is well supplied with the modern conveniences, is pleasantly situated on rising ground, and is a very desirable residence.

The MOROCCO FACTORY near the Southwick Tannery. The building is about 150 feet long by 40 wide, is well supplied with pure water and is an excellent place for the Morocco business or Currying.

Near the Morocco Factory are two TWO-STORY BUILDINGS, which may be sold with the Factory, or separately. Together they are about 80 feet long by 20 wide.

On Walnut Street is the large BOARDING HOUSE, with the land adjoining, which is excellently well situated for what it is designed

Several front LOTS for building purposes on Walnut Street, will be sold at moderate prices and fair terms.

A STORE HOUSE 70 by 25 feet on Walnut Street, with the land under and the rear of it. It can be easily adapted for a Curriers' Shop, or for other kinds of business.

On Wallis Street, near the mill pond, a well built and painted MOROCCO FACTORY, all ready for occupancy. It is about 80 feet long by 25 wide, and in excellent repair.

Next to the Morocco Factory on the same street, a STORE BUILDING, strongly built, and framed for a DWELLING HOUSE, for which it could be easily adapted. Or it would make an excellent Shop for any kind of business.

Near ELM STREET, on a Court south of said street, are two DWELLING HOUSES, planned for two families each. One is two stories high, the other one and a half. Both houses have good tenants and yield a good income; offering a good chance for investment.

Between Harris and English Streets, one One Story DWELLING House, and a One Story and a Half House.

The above is a most excellent opportunity for enterprising young men to secure places for business and dwelling houses, on reasonable terms. Such a chance may not soon again occur.

Persons desiring to purchase any of the above lots may learn the prices and terms on application to ANDREW S. PORTER, Elm Street.

SAMUEL D. PENDAR.
South Danvers, May 11, 1864. tf

Skinner's Pulmonales

Immediately Relieve Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, loss of Voice, Bronchitis, Lassitude, Thirst and every symptom of the first stages of Pulmonary Consumption; they are white, in form of a wafer, and as suitable for the infant in the cradle as the patient of three score years and ten. Orators and all who overtax the vocal organs receive instant relief by their use. Sold by all Druggists. Prepared by E. M. SKINNER, Chemist, 27 Tremont St., Boston. sept 7—1y

SPALDING'S ROSE MARY

FOR FOURTEEN YEARS the Rosemary has held a high rank as pure, uniform and reliable. It is Warranted 1st, To beautify the hair. 2d, To curl the hair elegantly. 3d, To remove dandruff effectually. 4th, To restore hair to bald heads. 5th, To force the beard and whiskers to grow. 6th, To prevent the hair from falling off. 7th, To cure all diseases of the scalp. 8th, To prevent the hair turning grey. 9th, To cure headache. 10th, To kill hair eaters. Sold everywhere. Prepared by EDW. M SKINNER, Chemist, 27 Tremont St., opposite the Museum, Boston, Mass. sept 7—1y

FURNITURE.

HAVING taken the Store No. 10 FRONT STREET, (formerly occupied by BENJAMIN COLMAN,) I shall keep constantly on hand a large stock of

NEW AND SECOND-HAND FURNITURE,

BEDDING, COUNTING-ROOM DESKS, &c., &c.,

which I will sell cheap for CASH.

ALL KINDS OF FURNITURE NEATLY REPAIRED.

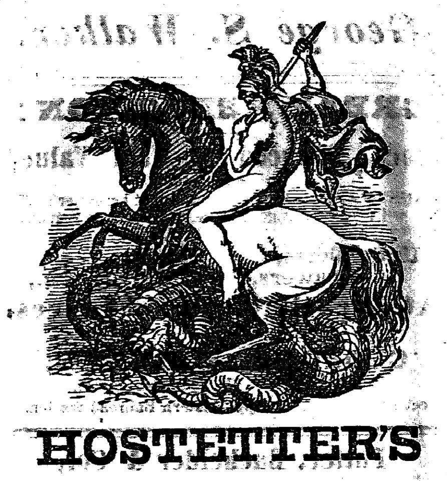
☞ All kinds of FURNITURE and BEDDING wanted—for which the highest Cash price will be paid.

P. J. HYNES, 10 FRONT-ST.

Salem, April 6, 1864—1y

CURRIER & MILLETT,
Dealers in

Furniture, Chairs,
MATTRESSES, FEATHERS, &
259 & 261 ESSEX ST.
Salem, dec 14—1y



HOSTETTER'S

CELEBRATED

STOMACH BITTERS.

A pure and powerful Tonic, corrective and alterative of wonderful efficacy in disease of the

Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

Cures Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Headache, Debility, Nervousness, Depression of Spirits, Constipation, Colic, Intermittent Fevers, Cramps and Spasms, and all Complaints of either Sex, arising from Bodily Weakness whether inherent in the system or produced by special causes.

Nothing that is not wholesome, genial and restorative in its nature enters into the composition of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. This popular preparation contains no mineral of any kind, no deadly botanical element; no fiery excitant: but it is a combination of the extracts of rare balsamic herbs and plants with the purest and mildest of all diffusive stimulants.

It is well to be forearmed against disease, and, so far as the human system can be protected by human means against maladies engendered by an unwholesome atmosphere, impure water and other external causes, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS may be relied on as a safeguard.

In districts infested with Fever and Ague, it has been found infallible as a preventive and irresistible as a remedy and thousands who resort to it under apprehension of an attack, escape the scourage; and thousands who neglect to avail themselves of its protective qualities in advance, are cured by a very brief course of this marvelous medicine. Fever and Ague patients, after being plied with quinine for months in vain, until fairly saturated with that dangerous alkaloid, are not unfrequently restored to health within a few days by the use of HOSTETTER'S BITTERS.

The weak stomach is rapidly invigorated and the appetite restored by this agreeable Tonic, and hence it works wonders in cases of DISPEPSIA and in less confirmed forms of INDIGESTION. Acting as a gentle and painless aperient, as well as upon the liver, it also invariably relieves the CONSTIPATION superinduced by irregular action of the digestive and secretive organs.

Persons of feeble habit, liable to Nervous Attacks, Lowness of Spirits and Fits of Languor, find prompt and permanent relief from the Bitters. The testimony on this point is most conclusive, and from both sexes.

The agony of BILIOUS COLIC is immediately assuaged by a single dose of the stimulant, and by occasionally resorting to it, the return of the complaint may be prevented.

As a General Tonic, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS produce effects which must be experienced or witnessed before they can be fully appreciated. In cases of Constitutional Weakness, Premature Decay and Debility and Decrepitude arising from OLD AGE, it exercises the electric influence. In the convalescent stages of all diseases it operates as a delightful invigorant. When the powers of nature are relaxed, it operates to re-enforce and re-establish them.

Last, but not least, it is The Only Safe Stimulant, being manufactured from sound and innocuous materials, and entirely free from the acid elements present more or less in all the ordinary tonics and stomachics of the day.

No family medicine has been so universally, and, it may be truly added, deservedly popular with the intelligent portion of the community, as HOSTETTER'S BITTERS.

Prepared by HOSTETTER & SMITH, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Sold by all Druggists, Grocers and Storekeepers everywhere.

HELMBOLD'S

GENUINE PREPARATIONS.

COMPOUND FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU, a Positive and Specific Remedy for diseases of the Bladder, Kidneys, Gravel, and Dropsical Swellings.

This Medicine increases the power of Digestion, and excite the Absorbents into healthy action, by which the Watery or Calcareous depositions, and all Unnatural Enlargements are reduced, as well as Pain and Inflammation.

—:0:—

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU.

For Weaknesses arising from Excesses, Habits of Dissipation, Early Indiscretion of Abuse, attended with the following symptoms:—

Indisposition to Exertion,	Loss of Power,
Loss of Memory,	Difficulty of Breathing,
Weak Nerves,	Trembling,
Horror of Disease,	Wakefulness,
Dimness of Vision,	Pain in the Back,
Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System,
Hot Hands,	Flushing of the Body,
Dryness of the Skin,	Eruptions on the Face,
Pallid Countenance.

These symptoms, if allowed to go on, which this medicine invariably removes, soon follows

Impotency, Fatuity, Epileptic Fits,

In one of which the patient may expire.

Who can say that they are not frequently followed by those "Direful Diseases,"

"INSANITY AND CONSUMPTION."

Many are aware of the cause of their suffering, BUT NONE WILL CONFESS THE RECORDS OF THE INSANE ASYLUMS.

And Melancholy Deaths by Consumption bear ample witness to the Truth of the assertion.

The Constitution once effected with Organic Weakness requires the aid of Medicine to Strengthen and Invigorate the system,

Which HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU invariably does. A Trial will convince the most skeptical.

—:0:—

FEMALES—FEMALES—FEMALES.

In many Affections peculiar to Females the EXTRACT BUCHU is unequalled by any other remedy, as in Chlorosis or Retention, Irregularity, Painfulness, or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated Scirrhous state of the Uterus, Leuchorrhœa or Whites, Sterility, and for all complaints incident to the sex, whether arising from indiscretion or Habits of Dissipation, or in the

DECLINE OR CHANGE OF LIFE.

—:0:—

Take no more Balsam, Mercury, or unpleasant Medicines for unpleasant and dangerous diseases.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU AND IMPROVED ROSE WASH CURES

SECRET DISEASES

In all their Stages, At little Expense.
Little or no change in Diet. No inconvenience.
And no Exposure.

It causes a frequent desire and gives strength to Urinate, thereby Removing Obsructions, Preventing and Curing Strictures of the Urethra, allaying Pain and Inflammation, so frequent in this class of diseases, and expelling all Poisonous, Diseased and wornout Matter.

Thousands upon Thousands who have been the Victims of Quacks, and who have paid heavy fees to be cured in a short time, have found they were deceived, and that the "POISON" has, by the use of "Powerful Astringents," been dried up in the system, to break out in an aggravated form, and perhaps after Marriage.

Use HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU for all affections and diseases of the URINARY ORGANS, whether existing in MALE or FEMALE, from whatever cause originating and no matter of HOW LONG STANDING. Diseases of these Organs requires the aid of a DIURETIC. HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU IS THE GREAT DIURETIC, and is certain to have the desired effect in all Diseases for which it is Recommended.

Evidence of the most reliable and responsible character will accompany the medicine.

Price $1.00 per bottle, or six for $5.00.

Delivered to any Address, securely packed from observation.

Describe Symptoms in all Communications.

Cures Guaranteed! Advice Gratis!!

Address letters for information to

H. B. HELMBOLD, Chemist,
104 South Tenth-st., bel. Chestnut, Phila.

HELMBOLD'S Medical Depot.
HELMBOLD'S Drug & Chemical Warehouse.
594 Broadway, New York.

BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS AND UNPRINCIPLED DEALERS who endeavor to dispose "of their own" and "other" articles on the reputation attained by

Helmbold's Genuine Preparations.
" " Extract Buchu.
" " " Sarsaparilla.
" " Improved Rose Wash.

SOLD BY

ALL DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE.

ASK FOR HELMBOLD'S. TAKE NO OTHER.
Cut out the Advertisement and send for it.
AND AVOID IMPOSITION AND EXPOSURE.
December 16, 1863,—1 yr.

Horse Railroad Notice.

On and after MONDAY, May 9, the cars of the Salem and South Danvers Railroad Co. will leave

South Danvers for Salem and Beverly at 6.35, 6.55, 7.15, and 7.35, A. M., and every 20 minutes till 12.55 P. M., and at 1.10, 1.25, 1.40, 1.55 P. M., and every 15 minutes till 10.25 P. M. The 9.55, 10.10, and 10.25 P. M., cars will go only to Salem.

Cars will leave Beverly for Salem and South Danvers at 6.35, 6.55, 7.15, and 7.35, A. M., and every 20 minutes till 12.55 P. M., and at 1.10, 1.25, 1.40 and 1.55 P.M., and every 15 minutes till 10.40 P. M. The 9.40, 9.55, 10.10, 10.25 and 10.40 P. M., cars go only to Salem.

Cars leave Washington Street Station for So. Danvers at 6.12, 6.32 and 6.52 A. M. and every 20 minutes till 12.32 P.M, and leave Washington St. Station for Beverly at 6.17, 6.37, 6.57, A.M., and every 20 minutes till 12 37 P. M., and cars will leave Washington St. Station for South Danvers and Beverly at 12.45, 1, 1.15, and 1.30 P. M., and every 15 minutes till 10.00 P. M.

M. H. HALE,
may 11 Sup't. S. & S. D. R. R. Co.

Horse Railroad Notice.

SUNDAY TIME.

HEREAFTER on Sunday, Horse Cars will leave Washington Street Station for Beverly at 9.12, 9.52, 10.32, 11.12, 11.52 A. M.; 12.32, 1.12, 1.52, 2.32, 3.12, 3.52, 4.32, 5.12, 5.52, 6.32, 7.12, 7.52, and 8.32 P. M.

Will leave Washington street station for South Danvers, at 9.07, 9.27, 9.47 A. M., and every twenty minutes till 9.07 P. M.

Cars leave South Danvers at 9.30, 9.50, and 10.10. A. M., and every 20 minutes till 9.30 P. M.

Leave Beverly at 9.40, 10.20, 11.00, 11.40 A. M.; 12.20, 1.00, 1.40, 2.20, 3.00, 3.40, 4.20, 5.00, 4.40, 6.20, 7.00, 7.40, 8.20, and 9.00 P. M.

Salem, Aug. 31, 1864, M. H. HALE, Supt.

Indispensable to Every Soldier and Seaman.

BROOKS'S PATENT
WRITING AND TOILET CASE

EASILY carried in the coat pocket. Supplied by the manufacturers at the old price—$2.

D. B. BROOKS & BROTHER,
201 Essex Street, Salem, Mass.

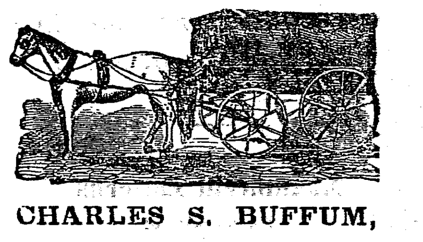
Those who have friends in the Army of the Potomac can have them sent to them free of postage. sept 7

HENRY G. HUBON,

WASHINGTON STREET, SALEM
Manufacturers of
Rose Wood, Mahogany, Black Walnnt and Stained Wood

COFFINS and CASKETS.

MAKING this our exclusive business, we are ready at all times and at the shortest notice to furnish Grave Clothes of various styles, as well as Coffins and Caskets of the finest finish. Personal attention given, and delivered without extra charge to any of the neighboring towns. All orders by express or otherwise will receive prompt attention.
nov 1—tf



CHARLES S. BUFFUM,

BEING an authorized UNDERTAKER of South Danvers, will attend Funerals in said place with his Hearse the same as the Town Undertaker. Will also attend Funerals, when desired, in any of the neighboring towns, with one or a pair of horses.

He also furnishes Coffin Caskets, Robes, etc., lower than city prices.

All branches of the business attended to, such as furnishing Coaches, Flowers, Laying Out, etc.

Ice Preservers Furnished.

All orders promptly attended to, and personal attention given to them. Articles delivered to any of the neighboring towns free of charge. Orders by express or otherwise will receive prompt attention.

Central street, South Danvers,
RESIDENCE 25 ELM STREET.
South Danvers, Feb 17, 1864.

Undertaker's Notice!

THE subscriber being regularly appointed as Undertaker of South Danvers, would respectfully notify the public that he has removed from Central Street, to No. 80 Lowell Street, where he may be found in readiness to attend funerals, and to furnish, when desired.

HENRY SPENCER.
February 10, 1864.

Chickering & Sons' Piano-Fortes.

Hallett & Cumston's Piano-Fortes.

Hallett & Davis's Piano-Fortes.

We select our Piano-Fortes from the above firms and warrant them to give perfect satisfaction. Our terms are reasonable, and all persons in the city and neighboring towns can be accommodated by calling at 76 Federal street.

FOR SALE—Second-hand Piano-Fortes,—Chickering's and others.
ap 29 ANN R. BRAY.

MOULTON'S

NEW LIVERY STABLE,

Is removed to stable formerly occupied by

SAMUEL HAM,

On MAIN STREET, opposite the Institute.

Good Horses and Carriages will be always in readiness at short notice.

South Danvers, May 25, 1864.

PIN WORMS. MRS. OSBORN'S Universal Worm Powders are the only sure cure ever offered to the public. They are warranted in every case; relief within 24 hrs. 25cts. per box. Sold by all druggists.

For sale by D. P. GROSVENOR, Jr., 33 Main St., South Danvers. jan 27

NEW INKSTAND.

OLIVER'S Patent Inkstand claims the following advantages:—It is not complicated—No trouble to fill—Does not get out of order—It is very economical—It prevents evaporation—Does not require frequent filling—Can be easily operated—It is easily cleaned—Filters the Ink for use—Keeps the Ink free from exposure and fresh and limpid—it is both ornamental and durable. For sale by

Salem, Sept 23 G M WHIPPLE & A A SMITH,

Putnam Clothes Wringer.

IT IS THE ONLY RELIABLE

SELF-ADJUSTING WRINGER

NO WOOD TO SWELL OR SPLIT.
NO THUMB SCREWS TO GET OUT OF ORDER.
Warranted with or without Cog-Wheels.

IT took the FIRST PREMIUM at fifty-seven State and County Fairs in 1863, and is, without an exception, the best Wringer ever made.

Patented in the United States, England, Canada and Australia. Agents wanted in every town, and in all parts of the world.

Sample Wringer sent, express paid, on receipt of price.

Energetic agents can make from 3 to 10 dollars per day.

No. 2, $6.50; No. 1. $7.50; No. F, $8.50; No. A, $9.50.

Manufactured and sold, wholesale and retail, by THE PUTNAM MANUFACTURING CO., No. 13 Platt Street, New York, and Cleveland, Ohio.

S. C. NORTHROP, Agent.

WHAT EVERYBODY KNOWS, VIZ:

That Iron well galvanized will not rust;

That a simple machine is better than a complicated one;

That a Wringer should be self-adjusting, durable, and efficient;

That Thumb-Screws and Fastenings cause delay and trouble to regulate and keep in order;

That wood soaked in hot water will swell, shrink and split;

That wood bearings for the shaft to run in will wear out;

That the Putnam Wringer, with or without cog-wheels, will not tear the clothes;

That cog-wheel regulators are not essential;

That the Putnam Wringer has all the advantages, and not one of the disadvantages above named;

That all who have tested it, pronounce it the best Wringer ever made;

That it will wring a Thread or a Bed-Quilt WITHOUT ALTERATION.

We might fill the paper with testimonials, but insert only a few to convince the skeptical, if such there be; and we say to all, test Putnam's Wringer. Test it THOROUGHLY with ANY and ALL others, and if not entirely satisfactory, return it.

Putnam Manufacturing Co:—GENTLEMEN; I know from practical experience that iron well galvanized with zinc will not oxidize or rust one particle. The Putnam Wringer is as near perfect as possible, and I can cheerfully recommend it to be the best in use. Respectfully yours,

JNO. W. WHEELER, Cleveland, Ohio.

Many years' experience in the galvanizing business enable me to indorse the above statement in all particulars.

JNO. C. LEFFERTS, No. 100 Beckman St.
New York, January, 1864.

We have tested Putnam's Clothes Wringer by practical working, and know that it will do. It is cheap; it is simple; it requires no room, whether at work or at rest; a child can operate it; it does its duty thoroughly; it saves time and it saves wear and tear. We earnestly advise all who have much washing to do, with all intelligent persons who have any, to buy this Wringer. It will pay for itself in a year at most. HON. HORACE GREELEY.

July 27, 1864.—3m

Are you Insured?

THE subscriber would respectfully call your attention to the fact that he is fully prepared to effect INSURANCE AGAINST FIRE, to any amount, at current rates, on

Dwelling Houses, Barns and their contents, Stores, Stocks of Goods, Furniture, &c. &c., and on buildings in process of erection,

And that he is the authorized Agent for the following responsible Stock and Mutual Companies, viz:

Thames Insurance Co., (Stock,) Norwich, Conn.
Capital—$500,000.
Amos W. Prentice, Pres. Oliver F. Rice, Sec'y
Conway Insurance Company, (Stock) Boston.
Capital and Surplus—$260,000.
James F. Whitney, Pres. David C. Rogers, Sec'y.
City Insurance Company, (Stock) Boston.
Capital—$150,000.
Samuel P. Hayward, Pres. Austin W. Benton, Sec'y

Also, will effect Insurance on the LIVES OF INDIVIDUALS, for one year, seven years, or for the whole term of life, in the

Massachusetts Mutual Life Ins. Co., Springfield, Mass.
Capital and Assets—$375,000.
Caleb Rice, Pres. D. B. Bacon, Sec'y.
William Mack, M. D., Medical Examiner.

WM. ARCHER, Jr.,
18 Washington st. and 34 Front st., Salem.
feb20-1

ALWAYS SUCCESSFUL!

TO ALL THOSE WHO SUFFER FROM

DEBILITY AND SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

DRS. CARSWELL & HUNTER, regularly educated, highly eminent and successful practitioners, after a very extensive practice in Boston, for over twenty years, need hardly speak of their medical qualifications, or remind strangers not to class them with a set of uneducated men, who fill the papers with their boasting advertisements. Drs. C. & H. caution the public against quackery in all its forms, pretending, as some self-styled doctors, to cure all the most difficult and chronic diseases, without knowledge of the human system, or of the modus operandi of the most simple drugs.

Drs. C. & H., since 1840, having confined their whole attention to an office practice for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, they acknowledge no superiors.

CONSTITUTIONAL DEBILITY OR SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Drs. C. & H. are pre-eminently successful in the treatment of the above most difficult and perplexing of all diseases, this complaint being the result of a secret habit in youth; if neglected or improperly treated, it proves one of the greatest evils that can befall a human being. Dr. H. has given particular attention to the above disease for years, and so thoroughly has he become acquainted with the pathology and treatment, that he will warrant a perfect cure under forfeiture of $500; in fact, he will, in the cure of this complaint, acknowledge no superior in this country, or even in the world. Come, then, all you who are afflicted, come to the Old Stand, where you will in a short time be made to rejoice in perfect health.

SYPHILITIC AND SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS,—such as Ulcers and Caries of the throat and nose, Running Sores on the legs and arms, Hard Scabs and Scaly Eruptions on the head, back, &c., pains in the bones and joints, and all other forms of venereal diseases—are made to yield and entirely disappear under Drs. C. & H.'s improved and thoroughly eradicating course of treatment.

The primary or first symptoms of disease, whether a simple running, or small pistules, cancers, or ulcers, are cured in a very few days, if immediate application is made to Drs. C. & H.

13 ENDICOTT STREET, BOSTON. 13

Strangers should be particular in the selection of a physician, lest they be deceived by false advertisements.

Ladies troubled with irregularity, weakness, whites, and other complaints peculiar to the female system, will find a speedy cure by calling as above. No mercury used, and no charge for advice. The afflicted are invited to give us a call.

Boston, April 20, 1864.—1 yr.

25 YEARS' EXPERIENCE enables DRS. CARSWELL & HUNTER to cure any diseases of a private nature in a shorter space of time and for a smaller amount of money than any other doctors in this country, and they also treat all female complaints with perfect success, and on the most satisfactory terms. Patients furnished with board if desired. Please give us a call at our office, No. 13 Endicott St., Boston, Mass.

Boston, April 20, 1864.—1 yr.

NEW BOOKS,

At G. M. WHIPPLE & A. A. SMITH'S.

The Hour which cometh, and now is—Sermons preached by James Freeman Clarke;
Character and Public Services of Abraham Lincoln;
Lindisfarn Chase—a Novel by T. A. Trollope;
Our Mutual Friend, by Charles Dickens—Book first;
Harper's Hand-book for Travelling in Europe and the East. oct 12 190 Essex street.

WAR MAPS.

ALL the late styles—at G. M. WHIPPLE & A. A. SMITH'S, 190 Essex Street, Salem.

PRESERVE YOUR FRUIT.

GLASS Jars and Glass Covers, for preserving Fruits, Vegetables, &c., in a perfectly fresh state, for sale by S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS', 32 Front st.

LEAD IN CANS.

WHITE LEAD in Cans from 1 to 10 lbs. each, for sale at S C & E A SIMONDS'S,
sep 28 32 Front st, Salem.

KNIVES AND FORKS.

TABLE Knives and Forks with Ivory Handles. Also Carvers, Forks and Steels, at No. 32 Front Street.

SILVER PLATED KNIVES.

IVORY Handled Knives with heavy Silver plate—at S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS, 32 Front st.

SUMMER ARRAN

—TO—

LYNN & BOS

—BY—

OMNIBUS & HORS

W. F. BURNHA

Line of Omnibuses will leave the Omnibus Office, No. 6 Allen's Buil vers, passing down Main Street, thro Street, to Lynn, daily—Sundays incl

Leave South Danvers at 7 50 o'cl and 4 50 P. M.

Leave Lynn (Horse Car Depot, W A. M., 2 40 and 6 40 P. M.

Horse Cars leaving the office at 1 at 8 15 A. M., 1 15 and 5 15 P. M., wil buses at Lynn, at the above name passengers to South Danvers.

Tickets to Lynn, - -
Through to Boston, -

Gravesend, Woodend, a Depot Route.

ON and after Monday, Nov 2, in a route, an Omnibus will leave So Lynn, to connect with the steam a times daily,—Sundays excepted,— Gravesend and Woodend, to the Ce and Horse Railroad Station, corne Broad Streets; leaving South Danver necting with the 7.25 steam cars for (connecting with the 11.10 train), and ing with the 4.50 train); and return from the Spring Street Station and pot, at 8 A M, and 1 and 6 P M.

Fare from S. Danvers to Boston b
" " " "

Through Tickets to and from Bost the Drivers and Conductors.

EXPRESS BUSIN

Between South Danvers and Lynn ed to, on reasonable terms.

Extra Coaches furnished at short n

W. F. B

South Danvers, April 20, 1864.

CROUT & MUN

SOUTH DANVERS &

RAILROAD EXP

Express leaves South Danvers at
Freight " " " at
Express leaves Boston at
Freight " " at

OFFICE at FREIGHT DE
Danvers Square.

Express Office in Boston, 3 Was
Freight Office, 48 Kilb

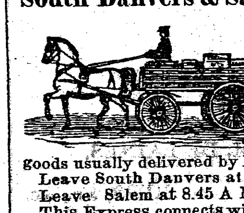
Particular attention paid to r niture, collecting Bills, Notes, D

Smallest favors thankfully received.

South Danvers, august 26—tf

LITTLEFIE

South Danvers & Salem M



E suc ber, pre twe and deli and goods usually delivered by Express.

Leave South Danvers at 7½ and 11
Leave Salem at 8.45 A. M., 2 and
This Express connects with the firs going East.

SLATES—In Salem, 13 Central st., a Roberts' store, corner of Front and W South Danvers—At the Post Office man's store; also at R. O. Spiller's st

Abbott's South Danve

EXPRES

Leave South Danvers, - - -
Leave Salem, - - -

Orders left at Teel & Moulton's, an on Main street, South Danvers; an on street, and at Reed's in the Mar

Important to the

DR. DOW continues to be consul Nos. 7 and 9 Endicott street, Bo eases of a

PRIVATE OR DELICATE

By a long course of study and pra of unlimited extent, Dr. D. has now of presenting the unfortunate wi have never, since he first introduce cure the most alarming cases of

GONORRHŒA AND SYP

Beneath his treatment, all the hor and impure blood, Impotency, Scrof Ulcers, pain and distress in the reg tion, Inflammation of the Bladder an drocele, Abcesses, Humors, frightfu the long train of horrible symptom class of disease, are made to become the simplest ailings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNES

Dr. D. devotes a great part of his ment of those cases caused by a sec habit, which ruins the body and min unfortunate individual for business o of the sad and melancholy effects pr habits of youth, are Weakness o limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimnes pitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, N rangement of the digestive function Consumption, &c. The fearful effec are much to be dreaded; loss of me of ideas, depression of spirits, e aversion of society, self-distrust, ti among the evils produced. Such per fore contemplating matrimony, consu experience, and be at once restore happiness.

Patients who wish to remain under ment a few days or weeks, will be pleasant rooms, and charges for boar

Medicines sent to all parts of the c directions for use, on receiving de cases. Dr. Dow has also for sale the warranted the best preventive. O or $1 and a red stamp.

CAUTION

TO FEMALES IN DELICATE

DR. DOW, Physician and Surgeon, street, Boston, is consulted daily for dent to the female system. Prolapsu ing of the Womb, Fluor Albus, Supp er menstrual derangements, are all tr pathological principles, and speedy r in a very few days. So invariably c mode of treatment, that most obsti yield under it, and the afflicted perso in perfect health.

Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater e cure of diseases of women and chil other physician in Boston.

Boarding accommodations for pat wish to stay in Boston a few days ment.

Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confine tention to an office practice, for the Diseases and Female Complaints, a superior in the United States.

N. B.—All letters must contain four they will not be answered.

Office Hours from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M.

CERTAIN CUR

IN ALL CASES, OR NO CHAR

Dr. Dow is consulted daily, from 8 as above, upon all difficult and chr every name and nature, having by h tention and extraordinary success ga which calls patients from all parts o obtain advice.

Among the physicians in Boston, n in the profession than the celebrated 7 Endicott street, Boston. Those wh vices of an experienced physician an give him a call. P. S.—Dr. Dow imp sale a new article, called the French by mail. Two for $1 and a red stam

April 20, 1864—1y.

Job Press for Sa

RUGGLES' JOB ENGINE PRESS. by 19 inches. Can be run by one of 800 per hour. Is in good condition. very low price, as the owner has no us big bargain. Apply at this office.

LUDLOW'S PATENT TE

FOR putting up Tomatoes, Peaches This is the only Jar ever inven tested. For sale in any quantity at
sept 7 S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS

SEE THE GHOSTS AND S

SPECTROPIA, or Surprising Illu Ghosts everywhere and of all colo sept 7 G M WHIPPLE & A

LINSEED OIL.

RAW and Boiled Oil of the best qua S. C. & E. A. sept 14 32 Front

For Gents' Furnishing Goods, Shirts rawers, or a garment made to order, call NNETT & Co.'s One Price House, 14 and k Square, Boston.

Goods received for LEWANDO'S FRENCH OUSE. M. E. CRANE.
20 tf

MATRIMONIAL!

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN,

wish to marry, address the undersigned, who d you without money and without price, valuformation that will enable you to marry happy edily, irrespective of age, wealth or beauty. formation will cost you nothing, and if you marry, I will cheerfully assist you. All letters confidential. The desired information sent by ail, and no questions asked. Address rah B. Lambert, Greenpoint, Kings Co., , 1864.—2 m. NEW YORK.

Marriages.

town, Oct 24, by Rev Mr Barbour, Mr Luther h to Miss Sarah E Needham, both of S D. em, Oct 16, by Rev Mr Spaulding, Mr Charles e of S, to Mrs Mary Thompson of Danvers.
y Rev Mr Winn, Mr George W Pierce to Miss len Abbott; 20th, Mr Hiram F Russell of Bosiss Carrie B. Safford.
y Rev E S Atwood, Mr Wm T Burbank to n Maria Berry.
nham, 19th inst, by Rev Mr Gorham, Mr Benj n of W, to Miss Betsey Claxton of Beverly.

Deaths.

hs are recorded gratuitously; but all notices are charged 25 cents. Obituary and notices are chargeable at 6¼ cents a town, Oct 18, Celinda Hartwell, 26 yrs 3 ms.

Valter, son of Joseph and Augusta Fairfield, onths.
s Mary, wife of Mr Anthony Rowan, 41 yrs.
rs Phebe Bancroft, 73 years.
vers, Oct 23, Mrs Betsy, widow of the late tham, 82 yrs.
m, Oct 17, Miss Sarah McIntire, 66; 19th, Miss M Carney, 23; Mrs Nancy, widow of the late Bright, 75; 20th, Miss Caroline Odlin, daughlate Mr Elisha Odlin, Jr; 22d, Jeremiah Lin; Mrs Ellen Carroll, 48; 23d, Mrs Hannah F, Mr Stephen W Davis, 34 yrs; 24th, Edward, hn and Mary McGinnis, 5 yrs.

New Advertisements.

For Sale,

THE TWO-STORY WOODEN HOUSE, belonging to the Estate of the late EMMA DODGE, near the Depot. The House is conr two families, and has recently been shingled ed. Any one wishing to invest, will find this portunity. Enquire of
J. DODGE, 107 Lowell Street.
anvers, Oct. 26, 1864.—tf.

List of Letters

NING unclaimed in the Post Office at South vers, Mass., Oct. 25th, 1864.
o obtain any of these letters, the applicant for ADVERTISED LETTERS, give the date of nd pay one cent for advertising.
f not called for within one month, they will the Dead Letter Office.
ice Hours from 7 A. M. to 8 P. M.

D. Benson,
ent,
omins,
sty,
n,
ne Everett,
Dalton,
Hanson,
Jenkins,
Lynch,
rd,
ness,
Reuben T. Morton,
John Nolan,
Timothy Osgood,
Geo. A. Potter,
S. Sylvester,
Geo. A. Saunders,
George Stewart,
Amande Slydell,
Lucy J. Spilers,
Reuben Ward,
John H. Willis.

DANIEL WOODBURY, P. M.

& South Danvers R. R. Co.

ill leave South Danvers for Salem and Bevt 6 35, 6 55, 7 15, and 7 35, A. M., and every s till 12 55 P. M., and at 1 10, 1 25, 1 40, 1 55, every 15 minutes till 10 25 P. M. (The 9 55, 10 25 P. M. cars go only to Salem.)
ll leave Beverly for Salem and So. Danvers 5, 7 15, 7 35, A. M., and every 20 minutes till , and at 1 10, 1 25, 1 40, and 1 55, P. M., and inutes till 10 40, P. M. (The 9 40, 9 55, 10 10, 0 40 P. M. cars go only to Salem.)
e Washington Street Station for South Dan12, 6 32, 6 52 A. M., and every 20 minutes till and leave Washington St. Station for Bev7, 6 37, and 6 57 A. M, and every 20 minutes M.; and Cars will leave Washington Street South Danvers and Beverly at 12 45, 1 00, 30, P. M., and every 15 minutes till 10 00

Cars will leave Washington Street immediall Public Meetings, Lectures and Exhibifter Oct. 20, the fares on the S. & S. D. R. R. ollows:

passenger between Beverly and Salem and vers and Salem, over twelve years of age, dren going to and from school, the fare will ts to passengers making their own change—, SEVEN CENTS.
S, to be used only by children going to and , 25 for $1 00;
or adult passengers, 18 for $1 00;
good for any distance between the corner of Bridge streets and the corner of Boston and s, 20 for $1 00, or 5 for 25 cents;
specially for employees in the Bridge street ood between the Factories and North St., ove Tickets may be purchased at the Office pany, corner of Washington and Essex he usual places, and on the cars.
M. H. HALE,
Sup't S. & S. D. R. R. CO.

se Railroad Notice.

SUNDAY TIME.

FTER on Sunday, Horse Cars will leave ngton Street Station for Beverly at 9.12, 11.12, 11.52 A. M.; 12.32, 1.12, 1.52, 2.32, 32, 5.12, 5.52, 6.32, 7.12, 7.52, and 8.32 P. M. Washington street station for South Dan9.27, 9.47 A. M., and every twenty minutes t.
e South Danvers at 9.30, 9.50, and 10.10, A y 20 minutes till 9.30 P. M. verly at 9.40, 10.20, 11.00, 11.40 A. M.; 12.20, 20, 3.00, 3.40, 4.20, 5.00, 4.40, 6.20, 7.00, d 9.00 P. M.
g. 31, 1864, M. H. HALE, Supt.

TER'S NEW DICTIONARY,

ition, illustrated throughout and greatly d—for sale by
G. M. WHIPPLE & A. A. SMITH.

PAPER SHADES.

assortment of Paper Shades for Kerosene , just received from Philadelphia, and for S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS', 32 Front St.

UMN GOODS.

SHAWLS,
—AND—
DRESS GOODS.

BLANKETS,
QUILTS,
AND
USE-KEEPING GOODS.

CLOTHS,
DOESKINS,
OVER-COATINGS,
—AND—
CLOAK CLOTHS,

S. W. DOWNING & CO.,
179 ESSEX STREET, SALEM.

OPENING!

ULL ASSORTMENT OF
AND WINTER STYLE
TS,
ATS,
DRESS CAPS and
HEAD-DRESSES.
OCTOBER 6TH,
AT
M. E. CRANE'S,
SEX STREET, - - SALEM.

J. F. Almy & Co.

Sale of Dry Goods

AT LOWEST
PRICES.

JAMES F. ALMY & COMPANY have in Stock a great variety of

LONG AND SQUARE SHAWLS,

just received from New York.

Also, from our own Cloak Rooms, a choice variety of

LADIES' OUTSIDE GARMENTS,

suitable for the Autumn.

IN CLOTHS,

For Autumn and Winter Garments,

our stock was bought last June, at much lower rates than prevail to-day.

These we are prepared to make to order from measure in any style.

MOURNING GOODS

— IN —

ALPACCAS,
COBURGS,
THIBETS,
M. DE LAINES,
REPS, &c., &c.

A good stock bought months ago.

We invite special attention to our stock of

DRESS GOODS.

Comprising a greater variety of CHOICE FABRICS, in Novel Effects, than we have ever before offered.

The fall in Gold has not reached the margin at which our stock of Dress Goods was bought.

Rich Black Silks,
Rich Colored Silks,
Rich Plaid Silks,
Rich Figured Silks.

The balance of our old stock closing at low prices.

Please call and look at our stock of PLAID WOOL POPLINS, at $1 75.

Please call and look at our stock of COTTON WARP PLAID POPLINS—magnificent colors—at $1.50.

Please look at our stock of PLAIN WOOL M. DELAINS, at 75c. These goods are the best quality. We have lower grades at lower prices.

We have a good stock of Poie De Chevres, Alpaccas, Coburgs, Repps, Thibets, Poplins, M. DeLaines, Prints, etc, selling low.

Gent's Shirting Flannels.

JAMES F. ALMY & CO., have in stock a good variety of Plaid and Striped Shirting Flannels, at low prices.

Table Coverings.

JAMES F. ALMY & CO. have in stock a great variety of White, Brown and Colored TABLE COVERINGS—old stock—closing at low prices.

Quilts.

Also QUILTS—Lancaster, Bates and Marseilles—all sizes and qualities.

Balmoral Skirts.

Purchasers should look at our stock of Balmoral Skirts. We have them in great variety at wholesale prices.

Bleached and Brown Cottons.

JAMES F. ALMY & CO. have in stock the following grades:—Bleached and Brown Cottons, which they are selling 10 per cent. under the market. Exeter 4-4 Indian Orchard, C. & O.; Laconia, K.; Dwight, I. A. & W.; Beaufort, James, Hill; Imperial, Moncrif; Everett, 9-8; Boot, S; Moncrif.

We can afford to give them to the Trade as above, and will do so until further notice.

Flannels. Flannels.

JAMES F. ALMY & CO. are selling a tip top quality of Domet FLANNEL, over 7-8 wide, at 55 cts.

Also the Damon 7-8 Domet Flannels, at 62½ cts. per yard.

A good quality Gray Twilled Flannel, 62½ cts.

A Heavy Blue Twilled Flannel, 62½ cts.

All grades of Grey, Blue and Red Twilled Flannels at low prices.

Also a splendid line of plain White all wool Flannels from 50 cents up.

Hosiery and Gloves,

Ladies' and Gent's Under Clothing, Kid Gloves, Velvet Ribbons, Our usual stock at our usual low prices.

Designing to make some changes in the character of our Stock the coming Spring, we shall close our present stock very low.

We shall give an opportunity to Cash buyers to buy Goods very low.

JAMES F. ALMY & CO.,
188 Essex Street, opposite Central Street.
Salem, October 19th, 1864.

OUR WORSTEDS.

BEST GERMAN ZEPHYRS!

A VERY LARGE STOCK.

LOWEST PRICES.

25

Black, per ounce,	25 cents;
White, per ounce,	25 cents;
Black, per pound,	$3 75;
White, per pound,	$3 75;

30

Browns, per ounce,	30 cents;
Greens, per ounce,	30 cents;
Blues, per ounce,	30 cents;
Drabs, per ounce,	30 cents;
Scarlets, per ounce,	30 cents;
Crimsons, per ounce,	30 cents;

At PEABODY'S, 220 Essex Street.

35

Chinchillas, per ounce,	35 cents;
Perdrix, per ounce,	35 cents;
Printed, per ounce,	35 cents;
Purples, per ounce,	35 cents;
Orange, per ounce,	35 cents;

At PEABODY'S, 220 Essex Street,

During his Sale at Reduced Prices.

JOHN P. PEABODY,
220 Essex Street, Salem.

GREATEST SALE

—EVER HELD—

IN SALEM.

BROWNING & LONG'S

ENTIRE STOCK

—AT—

A DISCOUNT OF

10

PER CENT.;

NEW GOODS INCLUDED

— AND —

NO EXCEPTIONS MADE.

The greater portion of our Stock having been purchased at a rate of Gold less than 200, and NEVER having marked our Stock above that value, we can assure our customers that in giving them a reduction of

10 PER CENT. ON ALL PURCHASES,

we shall be selling these Goods as low, if not lower, than the present wholesale rate.

SALE COMMENCES
Monday, October 24, 1864.

Having the largest establishment in Salem, we necessarily have the

LARGEST STOCK,

Customers thereby having a more complete and extensive assortment to select from than can be found elsewhere.

10 Per Cent. DEDUCTION
MADE AT OUR DESK
ON EVERY PURCHASE.

OUR NEW FALL
GOODS

Having been purchased at the present Low Rate of Gold, it gives our customers an opportunity to obtain from a fresh stock the NEWEST AND LATEST STYLES.

NEW KID GLOVES,
AT THE REDUCTION.

NEW GLOVES,
AT THE REDUCTION.

NEW UNDER-GARMENTS,
AT THE REDUCTION.

NEW HOSIERY,
AT THE REDUCTION.

NEW LACE GOODS,
AT THE REDUCTION.

NEW VEILS,
AT THE REDUCTION.

NEW LINEN HDKFS.,
AT THE REDUCTION.

NEW WORSTEDS,
AT THE REDUCTION.

EVERY THING AT THE REDUCTION.

Our New Worsted
Department

Is now in successful operation. Our Worsteds are the best Berlin Zephyrs, and our prices as low as the same quality can be purchased anywhere.

WE INVITE EVERY ONE TO EXAMINE OUR

WORSTED WORK.

We wish every one to call in and see our

NEW AND BEAUTIFUL STOCK,

and convince themselves that Prices are

LOWER THAN THEY HAVE BEEN.

BROWNING & LONG,
LADIES' FURNISHING STORE,
177 Essex Street, 177
SALEM.
Oct. 26th, 1864.

Ladies' Furnishing Goods.

PEABODY'S
LADIES' FURNISHING STORE.

MARKED DOWN!

Stock to be Reduced.

BARGAINS!

LOWER THAN GOLD.

Seasonable Goods
—AT—
REDUCED PRICES,
At J. P. PEABODY'S.

German Worsteds.

Black or White, only	25 cts.;
Common Colors, only	30 cts.;
Purple and Orange, only	35 cts.;
Chinchillas, only	35 cts.;

Hoods—Shawls—Sontags—Hats—Sea Foams, Mittens—Sleeves—Gaiters—Boots Clouds—Scarfs, &c.
At J. P. PEABODY'S.

Woolen Yarns, only	10 cts.;
Blue Mix'd Yarn, only	10 cts.;
White Yarns, only	10 cts.;
Drab Yarns, only	10 cts.;
Slate Yarns, only	10 cts.;
Yarns all marked down to	10 cts.;

At J. P. PEABODY'S.

Best Kid Gloves,	$1 50
White Kid Gloves,	1 25
Hand Knit Shawls,	2 50
The Finest Cloud made,	1 15
Good Breakfast Shawls,	1 75
Extra good Sontag,	1 45
Good warm Hood,	1 00
Nice new style Hood,	1 25
Extra pretty Hood.	1 50
Best Hand Knit Zephyr Hood	1 75

Woolen Goods at Reduced Prices.
At JOHN P. PEABODY'S.

Bargains.

Best Worsted Braids,	12 cts.;
Best Spool Cottons,	10 cts.;
Best American Pins,	5 cts.;
Best Linen Thread,	5 cts.;
Nice Elastic Cords,	5 cts.;
Best Gold Eyed Needles,	8 cts.;
Best Sea Island Cottons,	10 cts.;
200 yds Spool Cottons,	10 cts.;

Small Wares at Very Low Prices.
At J. P. PEABODY'S.

Lace Goods.

Black Lace Veils,	New Styles;
Trimming Laces,	New Styles;
Edgings and Inserting,	New Styles;

Malta Collars;
Malta Collars;
Malta Collars;
Malta Collars;

Collars,	Cuffs,
Collars,	Cuffs,
Collars,	Cuffs,
Collars,	Cuffs,

At J. P. PEABODY'S, 220 Essex st.

RIBBONS, FLOWERS
—AND—
BONNET RUCHES.

NETS,
Of all the various Styles,
And all kinds of Ornaments for the Hair.

The Largest Stock of Ladies' Furnishing Goods in Essex County, and the LOWEST PRICES.

ONE PRICE ONLY,

JOHN P. PEABODY,
220 ESSEX ST., SALEM.

George S. Walker.

GREAT REDUCTION!

Stock Reduced to Gold Value!

CUSTOMERS may be assured that hereafter goods will be sold at gold value, and that the reduction will be real.

Undershirts, Hosiery,
Drawers, Gloves, &c.,

At Greatly Reduced Prices,
—AT—
GEORGE S. WALKER'S,
No. 228 Essex Street,
oct 12 Opp. Eastern Railroad Station.

A. J. Archer & Co

REDUCED PRICES!

DRY GOODS.

AUGUSTUS J. ARCHER & CO.,

ARE Prepared to offer their Large Stock of

SHAWLS,
DRESS GOODS,
GARMENTS,
WOOLENS,

House-Keeping Goods,
— At the —
LOWEST MARKET PRICES.

oct 12—tf 181 Essex street.

NEW
DRESS GOODS,
PLAIN AND FIGURED,
— AT —
164 ESSEX ST., SALEM.

CHOICE STYLES AND COLORS.

— ALSO —

PLAIDS for CHILDREN'S SHAWLS,
BALMORALS, WHITE FLANNELS,
CALICOES, HOOP SKIRTS, &c., &c.

These Goods are positively selling at BARGAINS, please call and see for yourselves.

BE SURE AND FIND THE RIGHT STORE,
164 ESSEX STREET, SALEM,
(Opposite Museum Building.)
oct 12 J. E. P. FEARING.

Potter, Bachelder & Co.,
DANVERS-PORT and SOUTH DANVERS,
DEALERS IN
WOOD AND COAL.
Constantly on hand

Franklin, Burnside, Dimond, } RED ASH.
Old Company & Packer's Lehigh, Pliny Fisk, Webster and Locust Mountain, } WHITE ASH.

Also Cumberland, Pictou and Campbell for Steam and Smith's use.

OFFICE—No. 8 Allen's Building.

G. W. POTTER,
J. Q. A. BACHELDER,
C. T. BATCHELDER. mch 30

G. W. HALEY, M. D.,
Physician and Surgeon.
OFFICE—WARREN BANK BUILDING,
South Danvers.

M. A. PORTER,
236 Essex Street, - - - Salem, Mass.,
(Opposite Horse Railroad Office,)
MAKES TO ORDER BEST QUALITIES OF

WATCH SPRING SKIRTS.

A Good Assortment of Dress and Clock Button, Braids, Spool Cotton, Small Wares, and Thread Store articles generally.

236 Essex Street, - - - Salem, Mass.,
M. A. PORTER.

AUTUMN STYLES.

WE are now prepared to show our customers a fine
— assortment of —
FALL MILLINERY GOODS.
REITH & CO'S,
No. 2 West Block, 188 Essex St.,
Sept 21 SALEM, MASS.

197 REMOVAL. 197

Gentlemen's Clothing.
YOUTH'S AND BOYS' CLOTHING,
— AND THE —
FURNISHING GOODS ESTABLISHMENT,
of the subscriber is removed to
197 Essex Street,
Store lately occupied by Mr. JOHN MCKEY.

☞ A full and fresh assortment of GOODS is now opening and will be kept up as the season advances.
Salem, Sept 21. T. H. LEFAVOUR.

CAMPAIGN MEDALS,

OF different styles—at
oct 12 G. M. WHIPPLE & A. A. SMITH'S.

HOUSE OF EQUITY,
—BY—
Arnold & Hutchinson,
(Successors to C. T. Southwick.)

FIRST QUALITY
FAMILY GROCERIES,
Sold at the Lowest Prices.

A large and complete assortment of
CROCKERY AND GLASS WARE,
Constantly on hand.

Also FLOUR and GRAIN.

ASHLAND HALL BUILDING,
NO. 1 LOWELL STREET,
F. T. ARNOLD. B. F. HUTCHINSON.
South Danvers, Feb 3, 1864.

Auction Sales.

WILLIAM ARCHER, Jr.,
Auctioneer, Real Estate and Stock Broker,
34 Front Street.

Real Estate, Bank, Railroad & Manufacturing Stock bought and sold on Commission.

ON SATURDAY NEXT, at 9½ o'clock, will be sold at No. 34 Front street:

THE USUAL QUANTITY of New and Second Hand Furniture, Sofas, Lounges, Chairs, Tables; 75 new stools; 2 new Painted Chamber Sets; about 20 oil Paintings and Engravings in Frames; 1 Gas Stove, in good order; Book shelves, Brackets, &c.

BOOTS AND SHOES—Men's, Boys', Women's, Misses', and children's Boots and Shoes.

DRY GOODS—Cassimeres, Satinetts, Men's Undershirts, and Drawers.

CLOTHING—Coats, Pants, Vests, &c.

GROCERIES — Coffee, Saleratus, Cream of Tartar, 10 Boxes Chemical Soap.

— At private sale, —
New Painted Chamber Sets.
Oct. 26.

AUTUMN AND WINTER
DRY GOODS.

PRINTS, De Laines, Plaids, Poplins, Alpaccas, Coburgs, Thibets, and many other styles for Dresses:

SHAWLS AND HOUSEKEEPING GOODS.

Bleached and Unbleached Cottons, different widths.
Cotton Flannels, Wool and Cotton and Wool Flannels, of every variety and color.
Union and all wool Cassimeres and Doeskins, for Mens' and Boys' wear.
Hosiery, Gloves, Yarns, Umbrellas, &c., &c., sold at the lowest prices for the Cash, at

238 Essex Street.
GEO. P. DANIELS.
Salem, Sept. 28, 1864.

NEW GOODS.

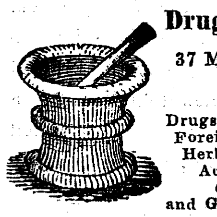
ANN R. BRAY,
76 Federal Street, Salem.

WILL open this morning Rich POPLINS, at $1 50 per yard;
All Wool do, rich colors, at reduced prices;
Black Alpaccas, from 75 cts to $1 75;
Housekeeping Goods at Reduced Prices;
Cottons, Brown and Bleached; 5-4 Waltham and Rockville Sheetings; 4-4 Lonsdale, James Mills, Hills and all the best makes Shirting, at the lowest cash prices,
PRINTS, at reduced prices;
BLANKETS, the very best makes—All-wool and Union Blankets, at the lowest market price,
CAMELS' HAIR SCARFS—medium size;
Also—One very large, of the finest quality—at
ANN R. BRAY'S,
oct 19 76 Federal Street, Salem.

GEO. E. MEACOM,

Dealer in
DRUGS & MEDICINES,
Fancy & Toilet Articles, &c.,
126 · · MAIN ST · · 126
Nearly opposite Danvers Bank, So. Danvers.

T. A. SWEETSER,



Druggist & Apothecary
37 Main St., So. Danvers,

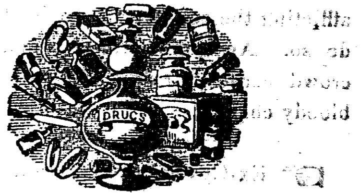
DEALER IN
Drugs, Medicines, Chemicals, Foreign Leeches, Shakers' Herbs, Dye Stuffs, Gums, Acids, Sponges, Shoulder Braces, Trusses, and Genuine Patent Medicines,

Also, Imported Cigars of choice brands, Perfumery, Toilet Articles and Stationery.

Physicians' Prescriptions carefully prepared by experienced persons.

37 MAIN STREET.

D. P. GROSVENOR, Jr.,



Druggist and Apothecary,
33 MAIN STREET.

Dealer in Drugs, Medicines, Chemicals, Dye Stuffs, and Popular Proprietary Medicines.

Personal attention to Physicians' Prescriptions.

South Danvers, May 29, 1861. 1y

OATS. OATS.

5000 BUSHELS PRIME OATS, received this day, and for sale by
sept 7 GAYLE & CO., Phillips Wharf.

STORE TO LET.

THE Store now occupied by Messrs. Blake & Holman, on the corner of Washington and Main Sts. The best located and most convenient store in town for the Grocery business. Possession given immediately. Apply to
B. S. DANIELS.
South Danvers, Sept. 21.

WANTED TO HIRE,

FOR a year or term of years, a COTTAGE HOUSE and Garden, pleasantly located in Danversport or Danvers Center. Rent of no consequence, provided all else prove satisfactory.
Address T. H. S. at this office, stating terms, etc.
South Danvers, Sept 28. tf

Sheriff's Sale.

ESSEX, ss., September 22d, 1864. Taken on three Executions, and will be sold at Public Auction, on THURSDAY, the 27th day of October inst., at eleven o'clock in the forenoon, on the premises hereinafter described, all the right that PELETIAH LITTLEFIELD has, or had when the same was attached on the original writs, of redeeming the following described Mortgaged Real Estate, to wit,—A certain lot of land with a dwelling house and other buildings thereon, situate in Salem in said County, and bounded northwesterly by Albion Street, 50 feet; southwesterly by land of Trafatter, about 106 feet; southeasterly by a new street, 50 feet, and northeasterly by land of Daniel A. Manning, about 106 feet, with all the appurtenances and privileges thereto belonging, it being the same estate described in a Mortgage Deed from said Littlefield to Geo. Lawrence, recorded with the Essex County Deeds, Book 590, Leaf 182.
DANIEL POTTER, Deputy Sheriff.
Oct. 12.—3 w.

Vitrified Stone Drain Pipe.

JUST received and for sale by the subscribers, 5000 feet of the above Pipe, the usual sizes suitable for drainage; the best in the market.
Apply to
B. R. WHITE, Mason,
St Peter Court,
or F. P. GOSS, Plumber,
No. 7 St. Peter st.
Salem, Aug. 3, 1864.—3m

Two Splendid Engravings.

"CHRIST Blessing Little Children," and "Home on a Furlough."
Subscriptions for these beautiful Engravings received at
B. F. STEVENS' Jewelry Store,
oct 5 116 Main St., South Danvers.

DERBY & CHILDS,
Fire, Marine and Life Insurance Agents.

ORDERS left at No. 24 Washington st., Salem, or received by mail, promptly attended to.
Losses equitably adjusted and promptly paid, and Insurance effected at reasonable rates.
Salem, August 10,—3m*

THE CAVALIER DISMOUNTED;

AN Essay on the Origin of the Thirteen Colonies, by Wm. H. Whitmore, member of Mass. His. Society and of the N. E. His. Genealogical Soc'y. Price 30 cts.
G. M. WHIPPLE & A. A. SMITH,
Oct. 19.—2 w. Publishers.

The Wizard.

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 26, 1864.

POLITICAL.—The Democrats of Essex county have made the following nominations:

Councillor, William Nutting, Jr., Marblehead; County Treasurer, Joseph D. Tuck, of Beverly; Register of Deeds, Ephraim Brown, of Salem; County Commissioner, John I. Ladd, of Groveland.

The Democrats of the 5th District have nominated Joseph B. Morss of Newburyport as their candidate for Congress, and S. Endicott Peabody of Salem, for Presidential Elector.

"JUST LIKE HIM."—On Wednesday of last week Gen. Butler sent a flag of truce notifying the enemy that he had sworn evidence from rebel prisoners, that one hundred and ten colored Federal soldiers had been taken out of prison by the rebels and made to work on the Richmond fortifications; and that in retaliation therefor he had put the same number of rebel prisoners in his hands at work on the Dutch Gap canal. He has also transmitted statements of our officers that colored troops had been murdered after capture by rebel regiments in front of the Army of the James.

BONNETS.—Some persons delight in having specimens of all the coins of our country, of every issue. More amusing would be pictures of the styles of bonnets from the Pilgrims to the present period. Of the raging fashions now there is much talk.

Willis tells us that in Paris, in early June, "the astonished opera-glass explores the brilliant crowd almost in vain to find one vestige of a bonnet. The bonnet has retreated to the extreme rear; it barely flanks to the extreme right and left wings of the wild and voluminous coiffures into which fashionable beauty twists, puffs, expands and frizzles its own hair, and all the other hair upon which it can lay its hands." Later authorities, who report from observations on Broadway, confess that something is missing from millinery as well as nature; the wind whispers of other departed forms besides crushed flowers and fallen leaves. "The cape has all vanished, the existence of the crown is a matter of doubt, and whether the bonnet has dwindled into a headdress, or the headdress expanded into a bonnet, is an open question."—Manchester Mirror.

"CHAPE."—The Dayton Journal states that Fernando Wood, in a fine frenzy, during a speech made recently in that city, said that if by offering up his life he could stop the bloodshed that is now afflicting the country, he would cheerfully do so. An appreciative Irishman in the crowd earnestly responded—"It wud be bloody chape."

☞ Ex-Governor Gardner, of this State, has taken up his residence in New York city, retaining only a summer estate at Dorchester.

☞ The religious and a few of the secular journals are discussing the propriety of clergymen charging a fee for services at funerals.

Advertisements.

R. C. MANNING & CO.,
Successors to JOHN DIKE & CO.,
DEALERS IN
COAL, WOOD, BARK, HAY, &c,
183 DERBY STREET,
SALEM, MASS.
N. C. ROBBINS. R. C. MANNING.
oct17

REAL ESTATE.

The subscriber offers for sale the following Lots of Land, with the buildings thereon, at Private Sale, until October next, when, if not previously sold, they will be put up at auction.

On Lowell street, a two story DWELLING HOUSE, fitted for two families. This is the Estate formerly known as the Southwick Tavern.

On Lowe street, leading from Foster St. to Washington St., a two story TENEMENT for two families with a garden attached to it.

On Washington street, near the residence of Capt. Lowe, a very eligible BUILDING LOT, on the North side of the street.

On Tremont street, a small COTTAGE HOUSE for one or two families.

On Walnut street, a pleasant, elevated Lot of Land, with a large Barn, situated opposite Mr. Caller's Currying Shop.

In the rear of the above TWO TENEMENT HOUSES.
For particulars apply to
jy27 WILLIAM SUTTON.

Salem and Danvers Aqueduct Co'y.

ALL persons using the water of the Salem and South Danvers Aqueduct, are hereby notified that the water rents, for the six months ending Nov'r 1, 1864, are now due: and that they are required to pay the same, at the office of the Company, No. 2 Sewall Street, on the last day of October inst. Should the bills remain unpaid for thirty days, the water will be stopped, in conformity to the regulations of the Company.

Office hours from 9 to 1 o'clock, and from 2 to 5.
Per order of the Directors,
Salem, Oct 1, 1864. WM. JELLY, Collector.

SELF-SEALING AIR-TIGHT CASKET.

MR. CHARLES S. BUFFUM, Furnishing Undertaker of South Danvers, takes this method to announce that he has a new burial case, which combines all the advantages of a wooden receptacle with those of a metal one, and yet avoids the disadvantages of both. They have been used with great success, and bodies placed in them have been delivered in perfect preservation after having been transported over a thousand miles. To persons having deceased friends at the seat of war they are invaluable. They come at reasonable prices, are light and durable, and are perfectly air-tight. august 10

EBEN UPTON,
Piano Fortes Tuned and Regulated,
MELODEONS AND PIANOS
BOUGHT, AND EXCHANGED.
For New Piano Fortes, at Wholesale Prices,
Orders left at G. CREAMER'S Bookstore, Salem.
July 27, 1864.—6m.

STURGIS'
ELECTRIC COMPOUND,
An Effectual External Remedy for NEURALGIA
—AND—
RHEUMATISM.

ALSO, INVALUABLE FOR
Spinal Irritation, Ague in the Face,
Toothache, Pain in the Side, Back,
and Limbs, Ear, Ague, &c.

Among the Advantages of this Medicine are the following:

ITS effect is very rapid—in most cases instantaneous.
It is external in its application, and the patient runs no risk in using it. It does not strike to the stomach.
It reaches the nerves and muscles, as it is believed no other medicine does.
It has cured some of the most violent and obstinate cases of Neuralgia ever known.
It can be used on a child or an aged person alike.
While it is very powerful, it is perfectly harmless.

The proprietor has been allowed to publish the names of many persons who have used the COMPOUND with the most beneficial results. He inserts a few of them They are among the most respectable citizens of Boston and other places, and their residences and places of business are given.

Rev. N. Munroe, late of Boston Recorder.
Joseph H. Allen, 119 Washington St., house 55 Ruthland Street.
N. P Kempt, Tract Society, 40 Cornhill.
Addison Boyden, 408 Washington Street, Boston, firm of Haley, Morse & Boyden.
William H. Brewster, Publisher of Boston Traveller.

The following letter from one of our best citizens will speak for itself:

REV. JOSEPH E. BARRY, the children's missionary of Boston, was the recipient a few weeks since of a bottle of STURGIS'S ELECTRIC COMPOUND, for Neuralgia, Rheumatism, &c., and having experienced great benefit from its use, and having known of many severe cases of the above complaints where it produced cures, considers it his duty to make known to his friends and others being so unfortunate as to be troubled with these terrible complaints, the virtue of this preparation
Boston, Sept. 15, 1863. JOSEPH E. BARRY.

REMARKABLE CURE OF NEURALGIA.—The following letter, (unsolicited,) was received by the proprietor in May last:

CAMP ROGERS, Newbern, May 6, 1863.

Dear Sir. I have been for some weeks suffering under a severe attack of Neuralgia, the severity of which has caused me to be in 'perfect agony" both night and day. Having heard of STURGIS'S ELECTRIC COMPOUND from a "companion in arms." I was induced to give it a trial, which had the happy effect to immediately cure me. I am surprised that surgeons do not have it in the army, as there is a constant demand for such an invaluable relief I make this statement for the public good, and I have no scruples about your using this as a recommendation to other victims of this painful disorder.
Yours, respectfully. JOSEPH HOUGHTON,
Co. D. 43d Reg't Mass. Vols.

For Sale by all Druggists.
☞ Office No. 119 Washington St., Boston.
Sept. 28—6mo.

AARON T. LOWE,
DEALER IN
BOOTS, SHOES AND RUBBERS,
76 BOSTON STREET, 76.
aug 6 SALEM. tf

DR. J. H. BATCHELDER,
DENTAL SURGEON,
No. 90 Washington St., (near Eastern Railroad Depot.)
SALEM, MASS.
Is Licensed to make the New Patent Teeth on HARD RUBBER or VULCANITE.
July 1, 1864.

LIFE INSURANCE.
THE MUTUAL
LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY,
Of New York, with a Capital of $11,000,000,
And an Annual Income of over
$2,000,000,

AND declaring a LARGER DIVIDEND than any other Company in the United States, is the one in which every man should secure a policy on his life.

The importance of LIFE INSURANCE cannot be too highly estimated. It is the safest and most practicable method of securing to your family, in case of your death, the means of a comfortable and independent support. Thousands of instances might be cited where families have thus been provided with a competency, who would otherwise have been left in penury and want. Husbands and fathers! treat not with indifference a subject of such vital importance, but see to it at once, that your families are provided with the inestimable advantages which this great and benevolent institution affords.

Because a man has wealth, it is no reason why he should not insure, for he knows not how soon his riches may "take to themselves wings and fly away." And let those who complain of the want of means, remember that

Forty-Five Cents a Week,
Will insure $1,000 on the life of a man of THIRTY.

AN ENDOWMENT POLICY,
Secures to the assured party, on attaining to a certain age, say 50, 55 or 60 years, an amount sufficient for his support in advanced age.

Another feature of this subject, deserving of especial attention, is

SURVIVORSHIP ANNUITIES!
By means of which one party may secure to another, an annuity sufficient to maintain them in comfort and independence through life. A husband may thus make provision for his wife; a father for his child; or a brother for his sister.

Endowment Policies for Children.
By this means a parent may provide, by the payment of a small annual premium, a sum of money sufficient to enable a son to enter into business, at a proper age, or for any other provision, either for a son or daughter.

Many Gentlemen of So. Danvers and Vicinity!
Have already availed themselves of this opportunity now offered of ensuring their lives, and thus securing an inestimable blessing to themselves and their families. Let others be equally wise, and immediately follow their example.

JOHN H. DERBY,
Agent for South Danvers and Vicinity.
Post Office address, Salem, Mass.
September 14, 1864.—tf.

FURNITURE.

HAVING taken the Store No. 10 FRONT STREET, (formerly occupied by BENJAMIN COLMAN,) I shall keep constantly on hand a large stock of
NEW AND SECOND-HAND FURNITURE,
BEDDING, COUNTING-ROOM DESKS, &c., &c.,
which I will sell cheap for CASH.
ALL KINDS OF FURNITURE NEATLY REPAIRED.
☞ All kinds of FURNITURE and BEDDING wanted—for which the highest Cash price will be paid.
P. J. HYNES, 10 FRONT-ST.
Salem, April 6, 1864—1y

CURRIER & MILLETT,
Dealers in

Furniture, Chairs,
MATTRESSES, FEATHERS, &
259 & 261 ESSEX ST.
Salem, dec 14—1y

Cards.

N. J. HOLDEN,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
Office, 27 Washington Street, Salem, Mass.

M. B. MANSFIELD,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
214 ESSEX STREET, SALEM, MASS.,
 Particular attention paid to procuring Pensions, Bounties, Back Pay, Prize Money, and Army and Navy Claims of all descriptions. March 2.

H. L. HADLEY,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
CORNER MAPLE AND ELM ST.,
Danvers.
Claims against the Government for Bounty, Back Pay, and Pensions, promptly attended to.

THOMAS M. STIMPSON,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
194 ESSEX STREET, SALEM.
Residence Lowell street, South Danvers.

B. C. PERKINS,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
South Danvers—Office in Allen's Building.

ALFRED A. ABBOTT,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
Office, No. 24 Washington Street, Salem.
House, Main St., So. Danvers.

SIDNEY C. BANCROFT,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
27 Washington Street, Salem.

H. O. WILEY,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
Office, Allen's Building, South Danvers.
Claims against the Government for Bounty, Back Pay, and Pensions, promptly attended to.

A. S. CRAWFORD
Dentist,
No. 4 MAIN STREET, SO. DANVERS SQUARE
Mechanical Dentistry Neatly Executed.

W. L. BOWDOIN,
SURGEON DENTIST,
No, 208 Essex Street, Salem, (Opposite the Marke
Residence—No. 57 Washington street.
jan 11—1y

NEWMAN & SYMONDS,
DEALERS IN
Family Groceries, Flour & Grain,
HARD WARE AND CROCKERY,
Ready Made Clothing, Gents' Furnishing Goods,
Hats, Caps, Boots, Shoes, &c.,
South Danvers Square, opp. Congregational Church
SAM'L NEWMAN. NATH'L SYMONDS.

S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS,
DEALERS IN
Crockery, China and Hardware; Paper Hangings; Solar and Entry Lamps · Paints, Oil and Window Glass.
No. 32 Front street, Lawrence Place,
feb13 SALEM, MASS.

HENRY L. WHIDDEN,
HOUSE AND SIGN PAINTER,
Glazier and Paperer,
Central Street, South Danvers.
All orders promptly and faithfully executed.
jan2-1y

JESSE SMITH
No. 202 Essex Street, Salem,
Importer and Dealer in
Gold and Silver Watches,
MARINE CHRONOMETERS,
Aueroid Barometers, Spy Glasses, &c.

WILLIAM BLANEY,
HOUSE & SIGN PAINTER
Grainer, Glazier and Paper Hanger.
164 MAIN STREET, Corner of Grove.
WINDOWS and BLINDS cheap for cash.
mch6-tf

F. POOLE
INSURANCE AGENT,
Allen's Building (up stairs),
Deeds drawn, and other common forms.

HOUSEKEEPERS, ATTENTION!
JACKSON'S
KITCHEN FURNISHING ROOMS,
Under MECHANIC HALL, Salem.

Parties about commencing House-Keeping will find this the ONLY place in Salem where a COMPLETE ASSORTMENT of House-Keeping articles can be found.
dec 9, 1863.

MORRIS'
RESTAURANT,
18 and 20 Derby Square, Salem.
Oysters, Clams, Steak, Poultry, Game, Fish, &c., &c., COOKED TO ORDER.
Pickled Oysters, Lobsters and Clams.
Salem, July 22, 1863. tf

T. HARDY, JR.,
—Dealer in—
DOORS, SASHES, BLINDS,
Glazed Sash, Painted Blinds,
FENCE PALES, STAIR BALUSTERS, FRAMING PINS, &c.,
No. 26 FRONT STREET,
Salem, January 14, 1863—tf.

GAYLE & CO.,
COMMISSION MERCHANTS,
AND DEALERS IN
Flour, Grain and Produce,
PHILLIPS WHARF, - - - - Salem.

SPECTACLES!

H. F. SKERRY wishes to call special attention to his stock of
Spectacles and Eye Glasses,
in Gold—Silver—Rubber—Steel and Horn frames, of which he keeps constantly on hand a very large assortment, embracing every style and quality.
—ALSO—
Opera Glasses, Microscopes, &c.
Glasses re-set, and Spectacles repaired.
In Store, our usual assortment of Silver and Plated Ware, Jewelry, Fancy Goods, and Toys, Also, Canton Ware,
No. 180 Essex Street, Salem.
H. F. SKERRY.
Aug. 17.—tf

NEW INKSTAND.
OLIVER'S Patent Inkstand claims the following advantages:—It is not complicated—No trouble to fill—Does not get out of order—It is very economical—It prevents evaporation—Does not require frequent filling—Can be easily operated—It is easily cleaned—Filters the Ink for use—Keeps the Ink free from exposure and fresh and limpid—it is both ornamental and durable. For sale by
Salem, Sept 23 G M WHIPPLE & A A SMITH.

HOSTETTER'S
CELEBRATED
STOMACH BITTERS.

A pure and powerful Tonic, corrective and alterative of wonderful efficacy in disease of the
Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

Cures Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Headache, Debility, Nervousness, Depression of Spirits, Constipation, Colic, Intermittent Fevers, Cramps and Spasms, and all Complaints of either Sex, arising from Bodily Weakness whether inherent in the system or produced by special causes.

Nothing that is not wholesome, genial and restorative in its nature enters into the composition of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. This popular preparation contains no mineral of any kind, no deadly botanical element; no fiery excitant: but it is a combination of the extracts of rare balsamic herbs and plants with the purest and mildest of all diffusive stimulants.

It is well to be forearmed against disease, and, so far as the human system can be protected by human means against maladies engendered by an unwholesome atmosphere, impure water and other external causes, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS may be relied on as a safeguard.

In districts infested with Fever and Ague, it has been found infallible as a preventive and irresistible as a remedy and thousands who resort to it under apprehension of an attack, escape the scourage; and thousands who neglect to avail themselves of its protective qualities in advance, are cured by a very brief course of this marvelous medicine. Fever and Ague patients, after being plied with quinine for months in vain, until fairly saturated with that dangerous alkaloid, are not unfrequently restored to health within a few days by the use of HOSTETTER'S BITTERS.

The weak stomach is rapidly invigorated and the appetite restored by this agreeable Tonic, and hence it works wonders in cases of DISPEPSIA and in less confirmed forms of INDIGESTION. Acting as a gentle and painless apperient, as well as upon the liver, it also invariably relieves the CONSTIPATION superinduced by irregular action of the digestive and secretive organs.

Persons of feeble habit, liable to Nervous Attacks, Lowness of Spirits and Fits of Languor, find prompt and permanent relief from the Bitters. The testimony on this point is most conclusive, and from both sexes.

The agony of BILIOUS COLIC is immediately assuaged by a single dose of the stimulant, and by occasionally resorting to it, the return of the complaint may be prevented.

As a General Tonic, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS produce effects which must be experienced or witnessed before they can be fully appreciated. In cases of Constitutional Weakness, Premature Decay and Debility and Decrepitude arising from OLD AGE, it exercises the electric influence. In the convalescent stages of all diseases it operates as a delightful invigorant. When the powers of nature are relaxed, it operates to re-enforce and re-establish them.

Last, but not least, it is The Only Safe Stimulant, being manufactured from sound and innocuous materials, and entirely free from the acid elements present more or less in all the ordinary tonics and stomachics of the day.

No family medicine has been so universally, and, it may be truly added, deservedly popular with the intelligent portion of the community, as HOSTETTER'S BITTERS.

Prepared by HOSTETTER & SMITH, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Sold by all Druggists, Grocers and Storekeepers everywhere.

HELMBOLD'S
GENUINE PREPARATIONS.

COMPOUND FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU, a Positive and Specific Remedy for diseases of the Bladder, Kidneys, Gravel, and Dropsical Swellings.

This Medicine increases the power of Digestion, and excite the Absorbents into healthy action, by which the Wtaery or Calcareous depositions, and all Unnatural Enlargements are reduced, as well as Pain and Inflammation.

—:0:—

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU.

For Weaknesses arising from Excesses, Habits of Dissipation, Early Indiscretion of Abuse, attended with the following symptoms:—

Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power,
Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing,
Weak Nerves, Trembling,
Horror of Disease, Wakefulness,
Dimness of Vision, Pain in the Back,
Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System,
Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body,
Dryness of the Skin, Eruptions on the Face,
Pallid Countenance.

These symptoms, if allowed to go on, which this medicine invariably removes, soon follows
Impotency, Fatuity, Epileptic Fits,
In one of which the patient may expire.
Who can say that they are not frequently followed by those "Direful Diseases,"
"INSANITY AND CONSUMPTION."
Many are aware of the cause of their suffering,
BUT NONE WILL CONFESS THE RECORDS OF THE INSANE ASYLUMS.
And Melancholy Deaths by Consumption bear ample witness to the Truth of the assertion.
The Constitution once effected with Organic Weakness requires the aid of Medicine to Strengthen and Invigorate the system,
Which HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU invariably does. A Trial will convince the most skeptical.

—:0:—

FEMALES—FEMALES—FEMALES.

In many Affections peculiar to Females the EXTRACT BUCHU is unequalled by any other remedy, as in Chlorosis or Retention, Irregularity, Painfulness, or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated Scirrhous state of the Uterus, Leuchorrhœa or Whites, Sterility, and for all complaints incident to the sex, whether arising from indiscretion or Habits of Dissipation, or in the

DECLINE OR CHANGE OF LIFE.

—:0:—

Take no more Balsam, Mercury, or unpleasant Medicines for unpleasant and dangerous diseases.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU AND IMPROVED ROSE WASH CURES
SECRET DISEASES
In all their Stages, At little Expense.
Little or no change in Diet. No inconvenience.
And no Exposure.

It causes a frequent desire and gives strength to Urinate, thereby Removing Obstructions, Preventing and Curing Strictures of the Urethra, allaying Pain and Inflammation, so frequent in this class of diseases, and expelling all Poisonous, Diseased and wornout Matter.

Thousands upon Thousands who have been the Victims of Quacks, and who have paid heavy fees to be cured in a short time, have found they were deceived, and that the "POISON" has, by the use of "Powerful Astringents," been dried up in the system, to break out in an aggravated form, and perhaps after Marriage.

—:0:—

Use HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU for all affections and diseases of the URINARY ORGANS, whether existing in MALE or FEMALE, from whatever cause originating and no matter of HOW LONG STANDING.

Diseases of these Organs requires the aid of a DIURETIC. HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU IS THE GREAT DIURETIC, and is certain to have the desired effect in all Diseases for which it is Recommended.

Evidence of the most reliable and responsible character will accompany the medicine.

Price $1.00 per bottle, or six for $5.00.
Delivered to any Address, securely packed from observation.
Describe Symptoms in all Communications.
Cures Guaranteed! Advice Gratis!!
Address letters for information to
H. B. HELMBOLD, Chemist,
104 South Tenth-st., bel. Chestnut, Phila.
HELMBOLD'S Medical Depot.
HELMBOLD'S Drug & Chemical Warehouse.
594 Broadway, New York.

BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS AND UNPRINCIPLED DEALERS who endeavor to dispose "of their own" and "other" articles on the reputation attained by
Helmbold's Genuine Preparations.
" " Extract Buchu.
" " " Sarsaparilla.
" " Improved Rose Wash.
SOLD BY
ALL DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE.
ASK FOR HELMBOLD'S. TAKE NO OTHER.
Cut out the Advertisement and send for it.
AND AVOID IMPOSITION AND EXPOSURE
December 16, 1863.—1 yr.

VALUABLE REAL ESTATE.

THE Subscriber offers for sale the following Lots of Land, with the Buildings thereon, at private sale, until September next, when such as then remain unsold, will be offered at Public Auction:

A new and well built two-story DWELLING HOUSE, situated on English Street.—This house is well supplied with the modern conveniences, is pleasantly situated on rising ground, and is a very desirable residence.

On Walnut Street is the large BOARDING HOUSE, with the land adjoining, which is excellently well situated for what it is designed.

Several front LOTS for building purposes on Walnut Street, will be sold at moderate prices and fair terms.

A STORE HOUSE 70 by 25 feet on Walnut Street, with the land under and the rear of it. It can be easily adapted for a Curriers' Shop, or for other kinds of business.

On Wallis Street, near the mill pond, a well built and painted MOROCCO FACTORY, all ready for occupancy. It is about 80 feet long by 25 wide, and in excellent repair.

Next to the Morocco Factory on the same street, a STORE BUILDING, strongly built, and framed for a DWELLING HOUSE, for which it could be easily adapted. Or it would make an excellent Shop for any kind of business.

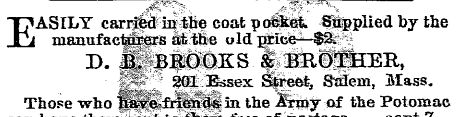
Near ELM STREET, on a Court south of said street, are two DWELLING HOUSES, planned for two families each. One is two stories high, the other one and a half. Both houses have good tenants and yield a good income; offering a good chance for investment.

Between Harris and English Streets, one One Story DWELLING House, and a One Story and a Half House.

The above is a most excellent opportunity for enterprising young men to secure places for business and dwelling houses, on reasonable terms. Such a chance may not soon again occur.

Persons desiring to purchase any of the above lots may learn the prices and terms on application to ANDREW S. PORTER, Elm Street.
SAMUEL D. PENDAR.
South Danvers, May 11, 1864. tf

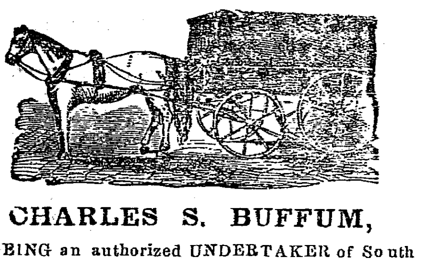
Indispensable to Every Soldier and Seaman.



EASILY carried in the coat pocket. Supplied by the manufacturers at the old price—$2.
D. B. BROOKS & BROTHER,
201 Essex Street, Salem, Mass.
Those who have friends in the Army of the Potomac can have them sent to them free of postage. sept 7

HENRY G. HUBON,
WASHINGTON STREET, SALEM
Manufacturers of
Rose Wood, Mahogany, Black Walnnt and Stained Wood
COFFINS and CASKETS.

MAKING this our exclusive business, we are ready at all times and at the shortest notice to furnish Grave Clothes of various styles, as well as Coffins and Caskets of the finest finish. Personal attention given, and delivered without extra charge to any of the neighboring towns. All orders by express or otherwise will receive prompt attention.
nov 1—tf



CHARLES S. BUFFUM,

BEING an authorized UNDERTAKER of South Danvers, will attend Funerals in said place with his Hearse the same as the Town Undertaker. Will also attend Funerals, when desired, in any of the neighboring towns, with one or a pair of horses.

He also furnishes Coffins Caskets, Robes, etc., lower than city prices.

All branches of the business attended to, such as furnishing Coaches, Flowers, Laying Out, etc.

Ice Preservers Furnished.

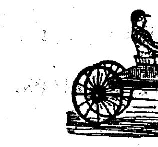
All orders promptly attended to, and personal attention given to them. Articles delivered to any of the neighboring towns free of charge. Orders by express or otherwise will receive prompt attention.

Central street, South Danvers,
RESIDENCE 25 ELM STREET.
South Danvers, Feb 17, 1864.

Undertaker's Notice!

THE subscriber being regularly appointed as Undertaker of South Danvers, would respectfully notify the public that he has removed from Central Street, to No. 80 Lowell Street, where he may be found in readiness to attend funerals, and to furnish, when desired.
HENRY SPENCER.
February 10, 1864.

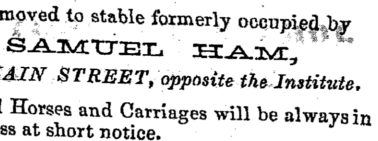
Chickering & Sons' Piano-Fortes.
Hallett & Cumston's Piano-Fortes.
Hallett & Davis's Piano-Fortes.



We select our Piano-Fortes from the above firms and warrant them to give perfect satisfaction Our terms are reasonable, and all persons in the city and neighboring towns can be accommodated by calling at 76 Federal street.

FOR SALE—Second-hand Piano-Fortes,—Chickering's and others.
ap 29 ANN R. BRAY.

MOULTON'S
NEW LIVERY STABLE,



Is removed to stable formerly occupied by
SAMUEL HAM,
On MAIN STREET, opposite the Institute.
Good Horses and Carriages will be always in readiness at short notice.
South Danvers, May 25, 1864.

PIN WORMS. MRS. OSBORN'S Universal Worm Powders are the only sure cure ever offered to the public. They are warranted in every case; relief within 24 hrs. 25cts. per box. Sold by all druggists.

For sale by D. P. GROSVENOR, Jr., 33 Main St., South Danvers. jan 27

JUST ARRIVED,
AT DANVERS MILLS,
500 Bushels Corn, in the minnie cob, and will be sold in South Danvers. Constantly on hand a large stock of meal, which will be sold at the lowest Salem prices.
—ALSO ON HAND—
500 Bushels Feed:
200 Bushels prime Northern Oats;
100 Barrels choicest Family Flour.
A good stock of LIME constantly on hand.
JOHN C. MOULTON,
Central St., South Danvers, Mass.
Aug 25—tf.

THE TRAVELERS INS. CO.,
OF HARTFORD, CONN.
Capital - - - - - - $250,000.
Is now prepared to Insure persons against
ACCIDENTS
OF EVERY DESCRIPTION.
Yearly policies will be issued for a premium of
FIVE DOLLARS,
granting insurance to the amount of
FIVE THOUSAND DOLLARS,
against accidental loss of life while travelling by any public conveyance.

TEN DOLLARS PREMIUM
secures a policy for Five Thousand Dollars, and also twenty-five dollars per week compensation for personal injury incapacitating the assured from his ordinary business.

TWENTY-FIVE DOLLARS PREMIUM
secures a full policy for $5000 and $25 per week compensation for all and EVERY DESCRIPTION OF ACCIDENT, TRAVELLING OR OTHERWISE.

Policies for $5000 with $3 per week compensation, can be had for $3 per annum; or any other sum between $500 and $5000 at proportionate rates.

DIRECTORS:
Gustavus F. Davis, W. H. D. Callender,
James L Howard, George W. Moore,
Marshal Jewell, Ebenezer Roberts,
Thomas Belknap, Jr., Charles White,
Cornelius B. Irwin, Hugh Harrison,
George S. Gilman, Jonathan B. Bunce.
JAMES G. PATTERSON, President.
RODNEY DENNIS, Secretary.
HENRY A. DYER, General Agent.
PLUMBER & MERCER, AGENTS,
40 State Street, Boston.
Offices in Salem—JOHN H. DERBY, No. 24 Washington street; SAMUEL MACKINTIRE, No. 218 Essex street. Aug. 3, 1864—1yr*

Skinner's Pulmonales
Immediately Relieve Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, loss of Voice, Bronchitis, Lassitude, Thirst and every symptom of the first stages of Pulmonary Consumption; they are white, in form of a wafer, and as suitable for the infant in the cradle as the patient of three score years and ten. Orators and all who overtax the vocal organs receive instant relief by their use. Sold by all Druggists. Prepared by E. M. SKINNER, Chemist, 27 Tremont St., Boston. sept 7—1y

SPALDING'S ROSE MARY
FOR FOURTEEN YEARS the Rosemary has held a high rank as pure, uniform and reliable. It is Warranted. 1st, To beautify the hair. 2d, To curl the hair elegantly. 3d, To remove dandruff effectually. 4th, To restore hair to bald heads. 5th, To force the beard and whiskers to grow. 6th, To prevent the hair from falling off. 7th, To cure all diseases of the scalp. 8th, To prevent the hair turning grey. 9th, To cure headache. 10th, To kill hair eaters. Sold everywhere. Prepared by EDW. M SKINNER, Chemist, 27 Tremont St., opposite the Museum, Boston, Mass. sept 7—1y

ALWAYS SUCCESSFUL!
TO ALL THOSE WHO SUFFER FROM
DEBILITY AND SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

DRS. CARSWELL & HUNTER, regularly educated, highly eminent and successful practitioners, after a very extensive practice in Boston, for over twenty years, need hardly speak of their medical qualifications, or remind strangers not to class them with a set of uneducated men, who fill the papers with their boasting advertisements. Drs. C. & H. caution the public against quackery in all its forms, pretending, as some self-styled doctors, to cure all the most difficult and chronic diseases, without knowledge of the human system, or of the modus operandi of the most simple drugs.

Drs. C. & H., since 1840, having confined their whole attention to an office practice for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, they acknowledge no superiors.

CONSTITUTIONAL DEBILITY OR SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Drs. C. & H. are pre-eminently successful in the treatment of the above most difficult and perplexing of all diseases, this complaint being the result of a secret habit in youth; if neglected or improperly treated, it proves one of the greatest evils that can befall a human being. Dr. H. has given particular attention to the above disease for years, and so thoroughly has he become acquainted with the pathology and treatment, that he will warrant a perfect cure under forfeiture of $500; in fact, he will, in the cure of this complaint, acknowledge no superior in this country, or even in the world. Come, then, all you who are afflicted, come to the Old Stand, where you will in a short time be made to rejoice in perfect health.

SYPHILITIC AND SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS,—such as Ulcers and Caries of the throat and nose, Running Sores on the legs and arms, Hard Scabs and Scaly Eruptions on the head, back, &c., pains in the bones and joints, and all other forms of venereal diseases—are made to yield and entirely disappear under Drs. C. & H.'s improved and thoroughly eradicating course of treatment.

The primary or first symptoms of disease, whether a simple running, or small pistules, cancers, or ulcers, are cured in a very few days, if immediate application is made to Drs. C. & H.

13 ENDICOTT STREET, BOSTON. 13

Strangers should be particular in the selection of a physician, lest they be deceived by false advertisements.

Ladies troubled with irregularity, weakness, whites, and other complaints peculiar to the female system, will find a speedy cure by calling as above. No mercury used, and no charge for advice. The afflicted are invited to give us a call.
Boston, April 20, 1864.—1 yr.

BELL'S SPECIFIC PILLS.—WARRANTED IN ALL CASES.—.—Can be relied on! Never fail to cure! Do not nauseate! Are speedy in action! No change of diet required! Do not interfere with business pursuits! Can be used without detection! Upward of 200 cures the past month—some of them very severe cases. Over one hundred physicians have used them in their practice, and all speak well of their efficacy, and approve of their composition, which is entirely vegetable, and harmless on the system. Hundreds of certificates can be shown.

BELL'S SPECIFIC PILLS are the original and only genuine Specific Pill. They are adapted for male and female, old or young, and the only reliable remedy for effecting a permanent and speedy cure in all cases of Spermatorrhea, or Seminal Weakness, with all its train of evils, such as Urethral and Vaginal Discharges, Gleet, the Whites, Nightly or Involuntary Emissions, Incontinence, Genital Debility and Irritability, Impotence, Weakness or Loss of Power, Nervous Debility, &c., &c., all of which arise principally from Sexual Excesses or Self-Abuse, or some constitutional derangement, and incapacitates the sufferer from fulfilling the duties of married life. In all sexual diseases, as Gonorrhea, Gleet, and Strictures, and in Diseases of the Bladder and Kidneys, they act as a charm! Relief is experienced by taking a single box.

Sold by all the principal druggists. Price $1.

They will be sent by mail, securely sealed, and confidentially, on receipt of the money, by
J BRYAN, M. D,
No. 76 Cedar street, New York,
Consulting Physician for the treatment of Seminal, Urinary, Sexual, and Nervous Diseases, who will send, free to all, the following valuable work, in sealed envelope:

THE FIFTIETH THOUSAND.—DR. BELL'S TREATISE on Self-Abuse, Premature Decay, Impotence and Loss of Power, Sexual Diseases, Seminal Weakness, Nightly Emissions, Genital Debility, &c., &c., a pamphlet of 64 pages, containing important advice to the afflicted, and which should be read by every sufferer, as the means of cure in the severest stages is plainly set forth. Two stamps required to pay postage. December 9, 1863—1 yr.

IMPORTANT TO LADIES.—DR. HARVEY'S FEMALE PILLS have never yet failed in removing difficulties arising from obstruction, or stoppage of nature, or in restoring the system to perfect health when suffering from Spinal Affections, Prolapsus, Uteri, the Whites, or other weakness of the Uterine Organs. The Pills are perfectly harmless on the constitution, and may be taken by the most delicate female without causing distress—the same time they act like a charm by strengthening, invigorating and restoring the system to a healthy condition, and by bringing on the monthly period with regularity, no matter from what causes the obstruction may arise. They should, however, NOT be taken during the first three or four months of pregnancy, though safe at any other time, as miscarriage would be the result.

Each box contains 60 Pills. Price $1.

DR. HARVEY'S TREATISE on Diseases of Females, Pregnancy, Miscarriage, Barrenness, Sterility, Reproduction, and Abuses of Nature, and emphatically the Ladies' Private Medical Adviser, a pamphlet of 64 pages, sent free to any address. Six cents required to pay postage

The Pills and book will be sent by mail when desired, securely sealed, and prepaid, by
J. BRYAN, M. D., General Agent,
No. 76 Cedar street, New York.
☞ Sold by all the principal druggists.
December 9, 1863—1 yr.

SUMMER ARRA
—TO—LYNN & BO
—BY—
OMNIBUS & HO
W. F. BURNH
Line of Omnibuses will leave th
Omnibus Office, No. 6 Allen's B vers passing down Main Street, t
Street, to Lynn, daily—Sundays i Leave South Danvers at 7 50 o
and 4 50 P. M
Leave Lynn (Horse Car Depot,
A. M., 2 40 and 6 40 P. M.
Horse Cars leaving the office a
at 8 15 A. M., 1 15 and 5 15 P. M., buses at Lynn, at the above na
passengers to South Danvers.
Tickets to Lynn, -
Through to Boston,

Gravesend, Woodend,
Depot Rout
ON and after Monday, Nov 2, in route, an Omnibus will leave
Lynn, to connect with the steam
times daily,—Sundays excepted.
Gravesend and Woodend, to the
and Horse Railroad Station, co
Broad Streets; leaving South Danv
necting with the 7.25 steam cars f
(connecting with the 11.10 train), a ing with the 4.50 train); and retu from the Spring Street Station an pot, at 8 A M, and 1 and 6 P M.
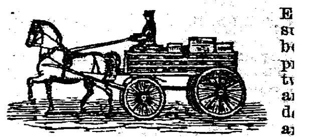
Fare from S. Danvers to Boston
" " " "
Through Tickets to and from Bo
the Drivers and Conductors.

EXPRESS BUSI
Between South Danvers and Lyn
ed to, on reasonable terms.
Extra Coaches furnished at shor
W. F.
South Danvers, April 20, 1864.

CROUT & MU
SOUTH DANVERS
RAILROAD EX
Express leaves South Danvers a
Freight " " " a
Express leaves Boston at
Freight " " at
OFFICE at FREIGHT D
Danvers Square.
Express Office in Boston, 3 W
Freight Office, 48 K
Particular attention paid t
niture, collecting Bills, Notes,
Smallest favors thankfully recei
South Danvers, august 26—tf

LITTLEFI
South Danvers & Salem



goods usually delivered by Express
Leave South Danvers at 7½ and
Leave Salem at 8.45 A. M., 2 a
This Express connects with the f
go'ng East.
SLATES—In Salem, 13 Central st.,
Roberts' store, corner of Front an South Danvers—At the Post Off man's store; also at R. O. Spiller's

Important to the
DR. DOW continues to be cons
Nos. 7 and 9 Endicott street,
eases of a
PRIVATE OR DELICAT
By a long course of study and p
of unlimited extent. Dr. D. has n
of presenting the unfortunate
have never, since he first introdu
cure the most alarming cases of
GONORRHŒA AND S
Beneath his treatment, all the h
and impure blood, Impotency, Scr
Ulcers, pain and distress in the
tion, Inflammation of the Bladder
drocele, Abscesses, Humors, fright
the long train of horrible sympt
class of disease, are made to beco
the simplest ailings of a child.
SEMINAL WEAKN
Dr. D. devotes a great part of h
ment of those cases caused by a habit, which ruins the body and unfortunate individual for busines
of the sad and melancholy effects habits of youth, are Weakness
limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dim
pitation of the heart, Dyspepsia,
rangement of the digestive funct
Consumption, &c. The fearful e are much to be dreaded; loss of
of ideas, depression of spirits,
aversion of society, self-distrust,
among the evils produced. Such p fore contemplating matrimony, co experience, and be at once resto
happiness.
Patients who wish to remain und
ment a few days or weeks, will
pleasant rooms, and charges for bo
Medicines sent to all parts of the directions for use, on receiving cases. Dr Dow has also for sale t warranted the best preventive.
or $1 and a red stamp.

CAUTIO
TO FEMALES IN DELICA
DR. DOW, Physician and Surgeo
street, Boston, is consulted daily fo
dent to the female system. Prolaps
ing of the Womb, Fluor Albus, Su
er menstrual derangements, are all pathological principles, and speedy
in a very few days. So invariably mode of treatment, that most ob
yield under it, and the afflicted per
in perfect health.
Dr. Dow has no doubt had greate
cure of diseases of women and c
other physician in Boston.
Boarding accommodations for wish to stay in Boston a few days
ment.
Dr. Dow, since 1845, having conf
tention to an office practice, for th
Diseases and Female Complaints,
superior in the United States.
N. B.—All letters must contain f
they will not be answered.
Office Hours from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M.

CERTAIN CU
IN ALL CASES, OR NO CHA
Dr. Dow is consulted daily, from
as above, upon all difficult and c
every name and nature, having by tention and extraordinary success g
which calls patients from all parts
obtain advice.
Among the physicians in Boston,
in the profession than the celebrate
7 Endicott street, Boston. Those w
vices of an experienced physician a give him a call. P. S.—Dr. Dow i sale a new article, called the Fren by mail. Two for $1 and a red sta
April 20, 1864—1y.

Job Press for
RUGGLES' JOB ENGINE PRESS.
by 19 inches. Can be run by of 800 per hour. Is in good conditio very low price, as the owner has no big bargain. Apply at this office.

HEYLINGBER
Hair Dressing
24 MAIN ST., SOUTH
J. J. HEYLINGBERG would an rons and the public generally,
JUNE 1st, 1864, he will abide by th
TARIFF OF PRICES:
Shaving,
Hair Cutting,
Champooing,
Particular attention paid to dyin kers, in one preparation, without w bing.
South Danvers, May 11, 1864.

25 YEARS' EXPERIENC
CARSWELL & HUNTER to
of a private nature in a shorter spa a smaller amount of money than an this country, and they also treat all with perfect success, and on the terms. Patients furnished with Please give us a call at our office, N
Boston, Mass.
Boston, April 20, 1864.—1 yr.

South Danvers Wizard.

VOL. V. SOUTH DANVERS, MASS., WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 2, 1864. NO. 44.

HE SOUTH·DANVERS WIZARD
ublished every WEDNESDAY, at Allen's Build-
, South Danvers Square.
ERMS—Two Dollars a year.
DVERTISEMENTS inserted at reasonable rates.

CHARLES D. HOWARD,
EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

S. R. NILES, Advertising Agent,
1 Scollay's Building, Court Street, Boston, is r Agent for that city, and is authorized to reve advertisements and subscriptions for us at r lowest rates.

Advertisements.

THE GOLDEN OPPORTUNITY,"
WITH A DISCOUNT!

HE recent fall in GOLD having produced a corresponding effect on the value of ERCHANDISE,

VE HAVE MARKED DOWN
Our Entire Stock of
CLOTHING,
Much below the basis of a Gold value,
Affording to customers the MOST FAVORABLE
OPPORTUNITY
Yet presented of Selecting their
WINTER CLOTHING.
THE SAME REDUCTION EXTENDS TO THE CUSTOM DEPARTMENT.
Please examine our
Superb Stock and Low Prices,
And let your interest decide.

L. D. BOISE & CO.,
MANUFACTURERS & DEALERS IN CLOTHING,
154 Washington Street,
BOSTON,
(Five doors south of Milk St.,)
Nov. 2d, 1864.

GENTLEMEN'S HATS.

FALL STYLES.

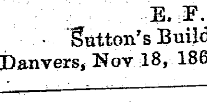
ONE of the best selected assortments of FALL and WINTER HATS in Boston, may be found at

J. A. JACKSON'S,
59 Tremont and 101 Court Sts.
COMPRISING
Dress Silk Hats,
Fine Felt Hats, and
Cloth Hats and Caps,
of all the latest styles.
HATS AND CAPS FOR BOYS.

N. B.—A large and well assorted stock of Ladies and Gentlemen's FURS.

JACKSON'S,
101 Court St. and 59 Tremont St.,
Sept. 28—3m. BOSTON.

NEW STORE!
Flour! Flour!



JUST RECEIVED, a fresh supply of CHOICE BRANDS, direct from the Mills, for sale, wholesale and retail, at LOWEST PRICES, by
E. F. OSBORN.
Sutton's Building, Main St.
South Danvers, Nov 18, 1863.

WM. C. HENDERSON,
MANUFACTURER OF
PLAIN AND FANCY
PAPER BOXES!
No. 235 ESSEX STREET,
Sign of "Nest of Boxes,"
July 23 SALEM. tf

M. FENOLLOSA,
TEACHER OF MUSIC,
LETS..............PIANO FORTES, at the lowest rates;
SELLS............PIANO FORTES, at the Manufacturers Prices;
EXCHANGES....PIANO FORTES, on the easiest terms.
At Rooms No. 7 Central street,
feb 11 SALEM, MASS.

Posting Books, Making Bills and Copying.

THE above business will be promptly and accurately performed by the subscriber, who may be found at Messers. CLARK & GIDDINGS' Counting-Room on Wallis Street, near the Essex Depot, or by enquiring at this office. jy13 tf JOHN D. HOWARD.

SPECTACLES!

H. F. SKERRY wishes to call special attention to his stock of

Spectacles and Eye Glasses,

in Gold—Silver—Rubber—Steel and Horn frames, of which he keeps constantly on hand a very large assortment, embracing every style and quality.

—ALSO—

Opera Glasses, Microscopes, &c.

Glasses re-set, and Spectacles repaired.
In Store, our usual assortment of Silver and Plated Ware, Jewelry, Fancy Goods, and Toys. Also, Canton Ware.

No. 180 Essex Street, Salem.
H. F. SKERRY.
Aug. 17.—tf

G. H. LANE & CO.

BEING connected with one of the largest Clothing Houses in Franklin Street, and having made extensive preparations for this present season's business, now offer in

Special Departments

(all of which will be found full and complete) the following, at PRICES far below the present cost to manufacture:

OVERCOATS.

The most extensive show of Overcoats ever offered in this market, combining all the popular makes of

Chinchillas, Castors, Tricots, Eskimos, Beavers and Pilots,

In SACKS and SURTOUTS, some of which are particularly adapted to the wants of DRIVERS, being made up with Fur bindings and facings.

BUSINESS COATS,

embracing many new styles.

WALKING COATS,

manufactured from a great variety of PLAIN and MIXED Goods.

ENGLISH HUNTING COATS,

made from heavy FUR BEAVER.

DRESS COATS,

in plain BLACKS and DIAGONAL RIBBED, TRICOT and AMOOR GOODS.

BUSINESS SUITS,

of all grades, from the finest and most expensive qualities down to medium and low priced goods.

PANTALOONS,

A great variety, including some of the most STRIKING, NOVEL and UNIQUE PATTERNS.

VESTS,

a very attractive and thoroughly assorted stock.

Boys' Department.

Under the most capable management, is at all times full in stock and assortment. Our styles for this season being entirely new and strictly our own.

BOYS OVERCOATS,

an unusually large and handsome line, embracing all the leading styles.

BOYS TOGAS,

to be found only at this establishment being original with us.

JACKETS AND PANTS,

to match—perhaps the best assortment that can be offered by any house in the trade.

METROPOLITAN SUITS,

manufactured from a variety of Fabrics, selected with special reference to the requirements of genteel trade.

CARIBALDI SUITS,

new and elegant stocks, unsurpassed for style and finish.

POLKA SUITS,

in the largest quantity and made from the best quality of goods.

The above comprises one of the LARGEST and BEST SELECTED STOCKS of MEN'S and BOYS' CLOTHING ever before offered at RETAIL in NEW ENGLAND.

Special Inducements to Wholesale Buyers for Cash.

G. H. LANE & CO.,
31 and 32 DOCK SQUARE,
Oct. 26th, 1864. BOSTON.

HOUSEKEEPERS, ATTENTION!
JACKSON'S
KITCHEN FURNISHING ROOMS,
Under MECHANIC HALL, Salem.

Parties about commencing House-Keeping will find this the ONLY place in Salem where a COMPLETE ASSORTMENT of House-Keeping articles can be found.
dec 9, 1863.

T. HARDY, JR.,
—Dealer in—
DOORS, SASHES, BLINDS,
Glazed Sash, Painted Blinds,
FENCE PALES, STAIR BALUSTERS, FRAMING PINS, &c.,
No. 26 FRONT STREET,
Salem, January 14, 1863—tf.

CAMPAIGN MEDALS,
OF different styles—at
oct 12 G. M. WHIPPLE & A. A. SMITH'S.

Special Notices.

To Consumptives.

Consumptive sufferers will receive a valuable prescription for the cure of Consumption, Asthma, Bronchitis, and all Throat and Lung affections (free of charge) by sending their address to Rev. EDWARD A. WILSON, Williamsburg, Kings Co.,
sept 21—3 mos. New York.

From the army hospital—the bloody battle-field—the mansion of the rich and humble abode of the poor—from the office and the sacred desk—from the mountain top, distant valleys and far-off islands of the ocean—from every nook and corner of the civilized world—is pouring in the evidence of the astonishing effects of DRAKE'S PLANTATION BITTERS. Thousands upon thousands of letters like the following may be seen at our office.

REEDSBURY, WIS., Sept. 16, 1863.
"* * * * I have been in the army hospitals for fourteen months—speechless and nearly dead. At Alton, Ill. they gave me a bottle of Plantation Bitters. * * * Three bottles restored my speech and cured me. * * * *
C. A. FLAUTE.',

SOUTH WARSAW, O. July 28, 1863.
"* * * One young man, who had been sick and not out of the house for two years with Scrofula and Erysipelas, after paying the doctors over $150 without benefit, has been cured by ten bottles of your Bitters.
EDWARD WOUNALL.

The following is from the Manager of the Union Home School for the Children of Volunteers:
HAVEMEYER MANSION, FIFTY-SEVENTH ST.,
New York, August 2, 1863.
"DR. DRAKE: Your wonderful Plantation Bitters have been given to some of our little children suffering from weakness and weak lungs with most happy effect. One little girl, in particular, with pains in her head, loss of appetite, and daily wasting consumption, on whom all medical skill had been exhausted, has been entirely restored. We commenced with but a teaspoonful of Bitters a day. Her appetite and strength rapidly increased, and she is now well * *
Respectfully, MRS. O. M. DEVOE."

"* * * I owe much to you, for I verily believe the Plantation Bitters have saved my life.
REV. W. H. WAGGONER, Madrid, N. Y."

"* * * Thou wilt send me two bottles more of thy Plantation Bitters. My wife has been greatly benefited by their use.
Thy friend, ASA CURRIN, Philadelphia, Pa."

"* * * I have been a great sufferer from Dyspepsia, and had to abandon preaching. * * * The Plantation Bitters have cured me.
REV. J. S. CATHORN, Rochester, N. Y."

"* * * Send us twenty-four dozen more of your Plantation Bitters, the popularity of which are daily increasing with the guests of our house.
SYKES, CHADWICK & CO.,
Proprietors Willard's Hotel, Washington, D. C.

"* * * I have given the Plantation Bitters to hundreds of our disabled soldiers with the most astonishing effect.
G. W. D. ANDREWS,
Superintendent Soldiers' Home, Cincinnati, O.

"* * * The Plantation Bitters have cured me of liver complaint, of which I was laid up prostrate and had to abandon my Business.
H. B. KINGSLEY, Cleveland, O."

"* * * The Plantation Bitters have cured me of a derangement of the kidneys and urinary organs that has distressed me for years. It acts like a charm.
C. C. MOORE, 254 Broadway, N. Y."
&c. &c. &c. &c. &c.

The Plantation Bitters make the weak strong, the languid brilliant, and are exhausted nature's great restorer. They are composed of the celebrated Calisaya Bark, Wintergreen, Sassafras, Roots, Herbs, &c., all preserved in perfectly pure St. Croix Rum.

S.—T.—1860—X.

Persons of sedentary habits troubled with weakness, lassitude, palpitation of the heart, lack of appetite, distress after eating, torpid liver, constipation, &c. deserve to suffer if they will not try them.

They are recommended by the highest medical authorities, and are warranted to produce an immediate beneficial effect. They are exceedingly agreeable, perfectly pure, and harmless.

NOTICE.—Any person pretending to sell Plantation Bitters in bulk or by the gallon is a swindler and impostor. It is put up only in our patent log cabin bottle Beware of bottles refilled with imitation deleterous stuff for which several persons are already in prison. See that every bottle has our private United States Stamp over the cork unmutilated, and signature on steel plate side label.

Sold by respectable dealers throughout the habitable globe.

P. H. DRAKE & CO.
202 Broadway, N. Y.
Mch 16—1 yr

THE GREAT ENGLISH REMEDY.

SIR JAMES CLARKE'S
CELEBRATED FEMALE PILLS!

Prepared from a prescription of Sir J. Clarke, M. D., Physician Extraordinary to the Queen.

This well known medicine is no imposition, but a sure cure and safe remedy for Female Difficulties and Obstructions, from any cause whatever; and, although a powerful remedy, they contain nothing hurtful to the constitution.

In all cases of Nervous and Spinal Affections, pain in the Back and Limbs, Fatigue on slight exertion Palpitation of the Heart, Hysterics, and Whites, these pills will effect a cure, when all other means have failed: and, although a powerful remedy, do not contain iron, calomel, antimony, or anything hurtful to the constitution.

Full directions in the pamphlet around each package, which should be carefully preserved.

For full particulars, obtain, free, of the agent, a pamphlet. Sold by all Druggists.

Sole United States Agent,
JOB MOSES, 27 Cortlandt St., New York.

N. B.—$1 and 6 postage stamps enclosed to any authorized agent, will insure a bottle, containing over 50 pills, by return mail. March 9, 1864.—1 yr.

DR. E. F. KITTREDGE,
From Lowell, formerly of New Ipswich, N. H.,
Has removed his office and residence to
NO. 42 MAIN STREET,
SOUTH DANVERS, MASS.

Dr. K., from an extensive and successful professional experience of upwards of twenty years, feels justified in saying that he can treat diseases to the satisfaction of his patients, and to the credit of himself.

Office hours from 7 to 9 A. M., and from 6 to 9 P. M.
South Danvers, Nov 13, 1863.

MANUAL FENOLLOSA
TEACHER
OF THE
Violin, Piano and Singing,
MUSIC ROOMS, No. 7 Central Street,
SALEM, MASS.

☞ Visit OSBORNE's Store, and look at the unusual variety of new styles in HATS and CAPS—191 Essex street.

Original Poetry.

Lines Composed on the Death of Q. M. Serg. A. D. Murray.

O bury me not in Southern soil,
Where strangers rudely look!
But carry me to my Northern home,
Beside the murmuring brook.

Bury me not where the cannon's roar
And the soldier's dying groan
Shall mingle in one common sound,
But bury me near my home.

Yes, lay me in my native land,
Where friends may gather round
And gaze upon the silent grave,
While I sleep beneath the ground.

I would not sleep my long, last sleep
So far from my dear home,
Where friendly voices ne'er are heard,
Where none but strangers roam.

I do not like this blood-stained soil,
Stained with war's poisoned foam:
So take me to my native land,
And to the loved at home.

At eventide, when twilight shades
Begin to gather near,
'Twill sooth my friends to see the grave
Of one to memory dear.

O write a line to father dear,
And tell him that I moan
Not for a name of honor here,
But a resting-place at home!

Tell my mother how I missed her
When death's dew was on my brow;
When my eye was struck with blindness,
O methinks I see her now!

Tell my brother and my sister
They were ever kind to me;
Tell them not to grieve in sadness,
If my face they never see.

O comrades hear my last request,
Wherever you may roam!
A blessing will upon you rest,
If you'll send me to my home.

Selected.

OUR WESTERN OFFICERS.

BY EDMUND KIRKE.

The letters were written, the two aides had disappeared, and another knot of soldiers had gathered around the General, when a short, stout, thick-necked man, with puffy cheeks, coarse, heavy features, and very much the air of a Bowery boy rigged out in regimentals, swaggered into the room with his hat on. Giving no heed to the galaxy of generals and major-generals about me, he stalked up to Rosecrans, and said to him, "Can I see you?" They passed on to the further corner of the apartment, and I asked the gentleman nearest me, "Who is he?" "General McCook," was the answer.

It was Major-General Alexander McDowell McCook,—the "fighting McCook,"—who never fought without being beaten, and has probably wasted more lives than any ten generals in the army.

"Why do you always attack McCook?" I asked Captain Firman, the rebel General Wheeler's aide, a short time afterwards.

"Because we are always sure to whip him," was his reply.

While the two generals were in conversation a spare, sallow-faced, dark-haired man, who had the air and manners of a gentleman, entered the room, and bowing to the officers about me, joined the two in the corner.

"That is Crittenden," said the officer. "They are here for consultation. We must leave."

We all passed into General Garfield's apartment, and every chair and stool in the room, and the low camp-out in the corner, were soon filled with "sitters,"—and sitters who would grace any portrait-gallery in the world.

The reader has heard of every one of them. The stout, full-faced, florid-complexioned man, leaning against the wall by the window, was the "old Russian," Turchin. The very tall, slim young man, with long, dark hair and flowing beard, just then canted back in his chair, with his long legs perched on the window-sill, was the Chief of Cavalry,—Stanley. The handsome man next to him, with wavy, brown hair, and a face so much like Lowell's, was St. Clair Morgan, who might be a poet, and is a hero. The scarred warrior on his right, with long, white beard, thin, gray tufts on the sides of his head, and spectacles on his nose, was Van Cleve; and leaning against the wall, at his back, the dark man, with keen, intense eyes, heavy, black beard, and coarse, wiry hair, starting up into a sort of pyramid on the top of his head, was Jeff. C. Davis, who killed Nelson. The plain, farmer-like, plucky looking man on my right, was Palmer,—now commanding the Fourteenth Corps. The tall man next to him, in rusty uniform and big boots, with a full, clear eye and expressive face, was Negley; and in other parts of the room were Hazen, Lytle, Reynolds, Harker, King, McKibben, and others, "too numerous to mention."

Thrusting his pen behind his ear, Garfield wheeled about on his stool, and opened the conversation. It soon turned upon the rebellion, which he compared to the conspiracy of Catiline. It had, he said, the same origin and object, and was set on foot by a similar class of bankrupt scoundrels. A discussion followed, and in it Garfield,—who, at fifteen, drove horses on a canal, and worked his way through college with a saw and a jackplane—displayed a classical knowledge that would have done credit to any Harvard professor. At its close a singularly quiet, unassuming man, in plain pants, loose, blue sack, and every-day boots, entered the room, and took a seat on the window-sill, by the side of Stanley. He was below the medium height, slightly built, with closely-cut hair and beard, and a dark, sunbrowned face. There was nothing about him to attract attention, except his eye, but that seemed a ball of black flame.

"How are you, Phil?"

"Good morning, Sheridan," greeted him from various parts of the room, and Garfield, turning to me, said, "Mr. ——, this is General Sheridan."

It was the youngest corps commander in the army,—the man who, when McCook was routed, stood so like a wall at Stone River; who led the desperate assault on Mission Ridge, and has recently made the brilliant cavalry campaign in Virginia.

"Do you remember Pope's thirty thousand muskets and ten thousand prisoners?" asked a young officer near me.

"Yes, very well," I replied.

"I took the muskets, and Sheridan took the men. How many were there, Sheridan?"

"I don't remember," answered the quiet general.

"Well, I remember the muskets: they counted nine hundred and thirty,—not one more or less."

"I was with Pope at the second battle of Boonevelle," said another general, "when Sheridan rode up and reported sixty-five prisoners."

"Why dont you say five hundred?" said Pope.

"Because there are only sixty-five," said Sheridan.

"There ought to be five hundred,—call them five hundred any way," said Pope; and five hundred they were, but not in Sheridan's report.

A general laugh followed, but the quiet hero said nothing, and in all I saw of him afterward I never heard him speak disparagingly of any one.

"You've got through at last, sir," just then said a voice at my elbow. Turning round, I saw a thin, spare man, with bushy, gray hair, and about the keenest eye I ever saw, looking in at the window. He was dressed in citizen's clothes, and had under his arm a paper box filled with letters.

"Oh, yes," I replied, "I got through. But where have I met you, sir?"

"Probably nowhere, but I know you," he replied, smiling; "you see I have to look after suspicious new-comers."

There was a general laugh at my expense, and Stanley, glancing at the box of letters, said to the civilian,

"Robbing the mails again, eh, Colonel?"

"Yes, bagged two thousand dollars this morning;" and, addressing me, he added. "Some of your New York gift-book and bogus-jewelry concerns tempt our boys to waste money on their worthless trash. I head them off by watching the mails. I've stopped seventeen thousand dollars within a fortnight,—sent it back to the boys with a little good advice, gratis.

"You deserve the thanks of every soldier's wife and mother in the country," I said, warmly. But he has not received even their thanks, and his great services have had the poorest possible recognition from the Government.

It was "Colonel" Truesdail, who organized the admirable spy-system of the Cumberland army, which gave Rosecrans such perfect information of the movements of the enemy.

Just then the inner door opened, and McCook, looking for all the world as if he had the universe on his shoulders, and found it decidedly heavy, passed through the apartment, and soon Rosecrans and Crittenden appeared, and we went in to lunch.

At Stone River, during the second day's fight, a young cavalry officer rode up to Gen. Thomas for orders. "Report to Morton, at the front," said the General, and, shouting to his men, the young man dashed on to where the battle was raging hotly. Morton was not there. So he went again to where Palmer was rolling back the red waves on the left, but—Morton was not there. On again he went, through the thick smoke and the hurtling fire, to where Hazen was reaping a harvest of death on that terrible "half acre"; but—Morton was not there. "Where is Morton?" he cried. "At the front!" came back from out the smoke; and again he rode on—rode on past the "Burnt House," past where Rosecrans sat like a statue amid a hailstorm of fire—past where a reeking funeral pile marked the outer line of intrenchments on to the cannon-ploughed, death-strewn cotton field! "Is he mad?—

"Call him back! Call him back!" shouted the General, but the bugle was drowned in the awful uproar, and still he rode onward.—Amazed the rebel gunners stood at their pieces, but straight at them he rode with his handful of men. "I say, Rebs," he shouted, "where is Morton?" "Gone where you are going!" they answered, and the cannon echoed, "Gone," and he went—back again, not a man wounded.

That young officer—Lieutenant Kelley, 4th U. S. Cavalry—and the man who rode in that terrible ride, escorted us out to Sheridan's.

As we rode through the forest encircling the town, I said to Rosecrans,

"As I came down, I saw the battle-field of Stone River—what were your sensations when under fire so constantly all of that day?"

"I had no sensations. I was absorbed in planning how to beat them."

Just then an opening in the trees showed us several thousand men under review, in a field off at the left.

"It is Negley's division. Let us ride over there, General," said Garfield.

We turned our horses, and galloped off through the forest. The underbrush was cleared away, and a rich sward of "blue grass" covered the ground, but every here and there a great tree felled for the fortifications obstructed our way. One of these trunks eighty feet long, and nearly ten feet thick at the base—lay directly across our path. Garfield and I, who rode on either side of the General, reined our horses around its two ends, and the rest of the party divided and followed us, but Rosecrans spurred "Toby" directly at the trunk, and cleared it at a bound.

"Well done, General," I shouted; "you fire straight at the mark."

"It's the surest way to hit it," he replied, smiling.

Clearing a low fence into a cotton-field, we soon "turned" a small hill, and were abreast of the division. As the well-known "gray" came in sight, the soldiers set up a loud shout, and, uncovering his head, the General rode down the lines. Halting every now and then, he spoke to the men.

"You keep yourself tidy, Patrick; you can fight," he said to one.

"I kin fight for ye, Giniral, be Jabers.

Leave out the hard words, my man. Brave men never swear.

Passing before a company of Tennesseeans, he said,

"You've had mountain air; there's not a pale face among you."

"Ye've guv'n us exercise, Gen'ral. Guv us more on it," was the answer.

"I'll give you enough, never fear."

To a mere boy, he said, "I saw you at Stone River; you fought like a man."

"They've made a man of me, sir," said the soldier, pointing to the stripes on his arm.

"I saw ye thar, Gen'ral," said another.—

"My old 'ooman prayed fur ye, an' that's the how ye 'scaped."

"Tell her for me, God bless her," said Rosecrans, as he rode on.

And so we went down the lines, the General halting every few minutes to say some free word to the soldiers, and greeted, at every step, with cheers and "God bless yous." That ride showed me why his men worship him.

The Devil among the Students.

Since we have erected our household goods in Cambridge, we have become cognizant of some old legends connected with the colleges, which convince us that the ancient "gentleman in black," who was an old-time visitor here, has lately been at his pranks again—vidi the recent disturbance, which have resulted in the expelling of sundry Sophs. who indulged in the luxury of "hazeing" the "Freshys," which affair has got into the papers. Apropos, our story—which, if it ever was in print before, will do to read again.

Once upon a time—in old colony days, early in the history of Harvard—a band of wild-headed students were met in the room of their ringleader (whom we will call wilder) for the purpose of indulging in a game of cards, which, of course, was "contraband" to college discipline, but which was occasionally (?) practiced then, as now.

On this particular occasion, Wilder, having been beaten in every game for several hours, grew exasperated, and brought down his fist on the table, exclaiming, "I'll play till I've won three games, if the devil himself appears!" throwing down his cards on the pack. Hardly had the words passed his lips, before the door opened, and a gentleman in sable attire quietly entered, and slid into the seat Wilder's partner had vacated. Gathering up the pack, he shuffled and delt out the cards.

"Play!" he cried; and, without a word, Wilder took up his hand and commenced.

Two games went by, both of which Wilder won; but, the third time, he lost.

"Try again!" said the stranger, with a sardonic smile. "Only one more game, and you will have redeemed yourself!"

But game after game was played, and still Wilder lost. Hour after hour they played on, the little group of students ranged around the pair, breathlessly watching them. At length, one, more bold than the others, exchanged a look of intelligence with his neighbor, and directed his glance under the table, where they plainly saw the cloven foot, and a long tail coiling under the chair the stranger occupied! Cold sweat started out on their foreheads; but they mustered courage enough to break the spell that had been upon them, and darted from the room. Wilder groaned, and looked after them imploringly; but "Play!" came from his partner's pallid, smiling lips; and he started off on a fresh game, with a look of despair on his face; and so another half hour went by.

Meantime, the students, now too thoroughly frightened to care for exposure, had hastened off to the house of the "Old Prex" and the college clergyman, and informed those dignitaries of the facts. The former, roused from bed, hurried on his wig and small clothes; and the latter, similarly hurrying through his toilet, armed himself with prayer-book and Bible, and presently, accompanied by the knot of students who had been Wilder's fellow-delinquents, appeared on the scene of action.

"In the name of Jesus, I command thee to depart!" exclaimed the divine, holding the Bible aloft.

The player at the table no sooner caught sight of the Holy Book, than he suddenly scattered the cards; and then, with a sound like a thunder-bolt explosion, and 'mid a blue, sulphureous vapor, vanished through the wall of solid brick masonry; leaving evidence of his exit, in a large aperture—which, it was said, could never be afterward effectually closed by mason or bricklayer for, fast as it was repaired, it crumbled away, leaving the hole through which the exorcised Evil One had taken his flight, witness of the truth of the story. The old building was afterward demolished, to make way for another, built on its site,—but, whether the new edifice was haunted by the spirit of the former one, the legend doth not say; though the moral we deduce is, that the ancient "gentleman in black" did not fly so fer, in his hasty exit, nor was he so effectually "laid" by the Cambridge divine, but that his shadow stalks abroad through the shades of old Harvard to-day.—Propeller.

☞ Green, the murderer, is to be hanged on Friday, January 13th, 1865.

THE STATES TO VOTE.—When the list of States to vote in November, was first given in the newspapers, it included but one new State admitted under this administration, Western Virginia, which is put down for five electoral votes. All the others were old States that had not seceded, and 116 was stated to be a majority. Since then Nevada has decided to become a State, which will give three more Electors; and Colorado returns upon the acceptance of a constitution, are so closely balanced that the official return alone will decide whether she is to add three more. The Governor of Louisiana says he can see no reason why that State should be excluded, and it will send its electoral vote, as though rebellion had never tainted it. Tennessee will also vote; and a committee of loyal Tennesseeans have visited the President, asking to have Gov. Johnson's test oaths rescinded, without which no man can vote for McClellan in that State. The President regarded the address to him as a political trick, and gave the delegates no satisfaction. It certainly seems proper that the candidate for Vice President should be a voter for the office he is to hold, which will not be the case unless Tennessee is to vote. If one tenth as many votes are cast as in 1860, we think her electors will be counted. It is possible therefore that it will require about a dozen more votes for an election than was first stated. We do not think, however, that the result will be changed, whether it is 116 for a majority, or 126.

LO! THE POOR NEGRO!—Nobody would actually desire to murder the negroes of this country, though most people feel that the country would be better off without them. But the rebellion has consumed them most rapidly, and if it could continue ten years, they would be no more trouble than the Indian tribes our fathers found here more than two centuries ago. Gen. Banks estimates that one quarter of all the slaves in Louisiana in 1861, or 80,000, have disappeared in three short years. He says, "the mortality of the black population in the commencement of the struggle, until furnished with employment and comfortable homes, was frightful. It is doubtful if any people in any age ever sustained such losses from such causes." The same could be said of half a dozen States. If the census should be taken to-day, we should not probably find so many blacks in this country, by from half to three quarters of a million, as there were in 1860. Nobody tells the story of their sufferings, for they produce no historians Their names, when they die, do not appear in the mortuary columns of the newspapers, and there is no labor lost, or falsehoods told of them in obituary notices. They simply disappear, and as Gen. Banks suggests, with a rapidity unequalled in the history of any other people.
—Newburyport Herald.

SHERIDAN AND DESAIX.—In alluding to the late victory won by Sheridan, the New York Herald says:—"Sheridan's arrival on this field of battle, and the wonderful change he immediately brought about, has induced in some quarters a reference to the battle of Marengo, and to the great victory that was there won by the French army—after that army was certainly beaten. Comparison has thence been drawn between Sheridan and Dessaix; but the comparison is eminently unjust to our valley hero. There is no parallel at all in the two cases. Dessaix came up to Marengo with a reinforcement. He brought a corps d'armee, and that fresh corps won the battle, even while the Austrian commander, far in the rear, was receiving congratulations upon his victory. But Sheridan did not come with a corps d'armes.—He brought only the brains of a general and the heart of a hero. It was his single Brennus sword that turned the scale in our favor. His personal presence won the battle. It was his ride down the lines, that the soldiers might see him, and know he was there, which inspired them once more with the old and invincible ardor that had carried them on to former victories."

THE REBEL FORREST.—A correspondent of the New York Times says Gen. Forrest captured 2200 Federal soldiers, one half of whom were negroes, in his last raid north of the Tennessee river. He escaped from Rousseau by feigning a movement toward the Chattanooga railroad, while he really was retreating. The correspondent adds: Forrest is acknowledged by all to be the most successful cavalry commander on either side. Since the war he has taken nearly twenty thousand prisoners and got away with them, and performed a multiplicity of other military feats. Whatever his losses by battle or disease may have been, his com is always up to its standard numb whom he recruits or conscripts hi a cruel, unfeeling monster, n the least vestige of humanity heart, but he is a brave, successful al, and that is sufficient to raise him timation of those he serves.

THE PERFIDIOUS TRAITOR.—In 1858 Jefferson Davis visited New England, and in hi speeches at Portland and Augusta, and othe Eastern cities he made repeated protestation of his devotion to the Union. At Portland Maine, he wound up an elaborate eulogy of th Union with these words:

"If, at at some future time, when I am mingled with the dust, and the arm of my infan son has been nerved for manhood, the storm o war should burst upon your city, I feel tha relying upon his inheriting the instinct of hi ancestors and mine, I may pledge him in tha perilous hour to stand by your side in defens of your hearthstones, and in maintaining th honor of a flag whose constellation, thoug torn and smoked in many a battle by sea an land, has never been stained with dishono and will, I trust, forever fly as free as th breeze that unfolds it.

☞ The government may tax our matche but we challenge the world to match ou taxes.

The Wizard.

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 2, 1864.

THE BAND OF HOPE will meet in the Town Hall this (Wednesday) afternoon, Nov. 2d, at half past 2 o'clock. All are invited to attend.

REV. MR. SAFFORD will preach next Sunday evening on the "Relation of Religion to Politics." Services commence at 7 o'clock.

THE ELECTION.

Next Tuesday, the 8th instant, the Presidential contest will be decided. There are twenty-four loyal States, having 230 electoral votes. Necessary to a choice, 116. We think it requires no very keen insight into the future to see that there is not one chance to a hundred for Mr. Lincoln to lose his election. Looking at the probable result in the light of the recent State elections, we cannot see how any candid man can fail to believe that the success of the Union ticket is almost certain. Notwithstanding the empty boasting of the Democracy, the fact is undisputed, that upon the 11th ult. Pennsylvania, Ohio and Indiana, all voted the Union ticket. These will give Lincoln sixty electoral votes next Tuesday. Add to these the thirty-nine votes of the New England States, which are of course sure for Lincoln, and the thirty-three votes of New York, and they will give 119 votes—three more than enough to elect him. And all these without counting a single vote from the remaining fifteen States. So, if McClellan should get the unanimous electoral votes of the remaining fifteen States, he would fail of his election. But who believes that McClellan can get a half of them? We don't.

But what if New York should happen to go for McClellan, Lincoln would only need to get from the remaining fifteen States thirty electoral votes—a little more than a quarter of them. If the news should come in Tuesday evening that New York has gone Democratic, we can almost feel certain that Lincoln is elected notwithstanding.

As to New York, we are not free from doubt. Not that we have any reason to suppose it will go for McClellan, but its erratic and vacillating course during the past few years renders uncertain all ordinary political tests. New York can't be judged of by the past. The Republican majority in 1860 was 50,000 in round numbers; in 1861 it was 107,000; but the very next year, 1862, the Democratic majority was 10,000; then on the other hand in 1863, the Union majority was 29,000.

A State that changes its vote 117,000 in one year, can't be called very certain for anybody till after election. Undoubtedly New York city is strong for McClellan, and may roll back upon the rural districts a majority of forty or fifty thousand for them to overcome. But we think they will overcome it.

Were we a betting man, and had anything to bet with, and could find anybody foolish enough to bet with us, we should bet that Lincoln's majority, this year, in New York, would be 20,000. But whether Lincoln gets New York or not, he will be elected by a decided majority; for which God be praised.

THE 39TH REGIMENT.—It will be remembered that Capt. NELSON'S South Danvers Company A is attached to this Regiment, and that they have had active duties to perform. Capt. NELSON is now the senior captain in command of the regiment, the field officers having been incapacitated by casualties in the service.

Orderly Sergeant JOHN H. BLAISDELL was at home on furlough last week. He has had varied and sharp experience while in the service, having been captured at the battle of Spottsylvania, and while a prisoner he had the opportunity few have had, of seeing Gen. Lee, the rebel chief, and other eminent rebel generals. Sergeant Blaisdell was subsequently re-captured by Gen. Custer's cavalry.

We regret to learn that Sergeant WILEY, of Capt. Nelson's company, and who has been missing since August last, is supposed to have been captured, or perhaps killed, by guerillas. He had been detailed as Sergeant of the Provist Guard, and this duty led him beyond our lines to a house, where he was probably captured.

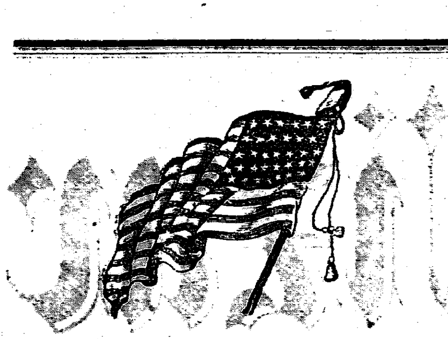
CONVERTED.—Mr. Chas. E. Tucker, of this town, a member of 27th Co. Heavy Artillery, and who, previous to his enlistment, was a fierce Democrat and no friend to the present administration, closes a letter to a gentleman of this town, as follows:—"A word in regard to that political shot you fired at me. I beg to inform you that I will sacrifice my all today to secure peace, but that peace can only be secured through Union and war; and if I am allowed the privilege of casting my vote at the coming election, it will be for upholding the present administration and overthrowing that Democratic traitorous platform."

DANVERS UNION LEAGUE.—Our Danvers Republicans are wide awake. They had a grand rally at their Town Hall last week, when spirited addresses were made by Hon. Darwin E. Ware of Marblehead and James A. Gillis of Salem. The music during the evening by the Danvers Musical Association was remarkably [illegible]e, and contributed much to the interest of the occasion, which was a very successful demonstration in favor of the Union and the flag.

THE MCCLELLAN RALLY IN SALEM.—We notice that the Boston Journal, which is usually correct, gives the number of torches in the procession in Salem last week as 1500. The fact is, there were, by actual count, when they passed Mechanic Hall, but 165 torches, including one that wouldn't burn and one Contraband with a transparency. If their voters don't hold out better than their torches, they will make a slim show at the election next week.

STONING PROCESSIONS.—We failed to mention last week, in our account of the reception of Gen. Dodge, that the firemen, on their return from the hall, were pelted with stones, one of which struck Mr. WM. VERRY, a member of Eagle Engine Co., on the head, cutting a gash so deep that medical attendance was procured. There were also others struck. The offenders have not yet been brought to justice.

HALF MAST.—The flags were at half mast yesterday on account of the death of Mr. PAUL OSBORNE, of this town, a member of Co. A, 39th Mass. Regt., who died in hospital at Washington, from the effects of wounds received in the first battle of the Wilderness.



"Boys, keep your eyes on that Flag."

Such were the dying words of General BIRNEY,—the last tragic gleam of as brave a soul as ever led soldiers into battle.

"Boys, keep your eyes on that Flag."

They have done it. They did it when they sent home to Ohio votes enough to bury the Disunion party so deep that it will never see a resurrection. They did it when, remembering that memorable day on which they stood on Cemetery Hill, at Gettysburg, "a wall of living fire" against the rebellious hordes that were impoverishing their cities and desecrating their firesides, they turned the home vote in Pennsylvania, and rolled up fifteen thousand majority for the Union and Liberty.

"Boys, keep your eyes on that Flag."

They did it in the Shenandoah, when the brave SHERIDAN twice sent the army of Early, routed and disorganized, "up the hill and down the hill" and through the gaps of the Alleghanies. They are doing it in Georgia, where the army of Hood, defeated and discomfited, halts but finds no resting-place before the resistless troops of SHERMAN. They are doing it in Virginia, where the indomitable GRANT is gathering himself for the last great blow, which will shatter to pieces the only remaining pillar of the Confederacy, and dispel its military power as the wind does —— "the swollen columns of ascending smoke."

"Boys, keep your eyes on that Flag."

It is a lyric sentence,—a watchword for the citizen as well as the soldier. May our responses be not unsimilar!

Let us remember it when asked to avert our eyes from the Flag that to-day is waving in triumph over so many victorious fields, or when called to lower it in the face of traitors, and to a dishonorable peace. Let us remember it when demagogues would sacrifice all the glory of the Present and the hopes of the Future to personal ambition and preferment.—Let us remember it on Tuesday next, and by our votes consign to eternal forgetfulness every party and every traitor, open or secret, that has dared to war against the rights and liberties of the people.

"Boys, keep your eyes on that Flag."

THAT STRANGE ANIMAL.—Our readers will recollect that a few weeks ago we gave an account of some curious animals which our neighbor Porter, on Elm Street, had found during the summer in his garden, and which then had become quite domesticated. Since then curiosity has prompted the Librarian at the Institute, whom the public know to be a gentleman of fine taste and versed in the science of Eniwology, to pay them a visit. He found them unusually tame and playful, and was much surprised at the richness of their color,—a thing somewhat remarkable at this season of the year. Being desirous of studying their habits more thoroughly, Mr. Porter very kindly made him a present of one.

The experiments which our friend has tried with it, have developed some curious facts. He has found it to possess the power of removing diseases of the throat,—a power which physicians say is peculiar to the Canine species, as well as that of building up and rejuvenating the human system. Our readers, in their recent visits to the Library, have no doubt observed the improved appearance of the Librarian, as regards health, and vivacity of spirits. We believe that he considers it no tax upon his time to explain the habits and peculiarities of this wonderful animal to those of his friends who may be curious to know further of it. *

THE VOTE OF SOUTH DANVERS in 1860, was:

Lincoln,	592
Bell,	141
Douglas,	81
Breckinridge,	21
Whole number,	835

Lincoln's majority over all, 349.

The vote of Danvers was:

Lincoln,	562
Bell,	95
Douglas,	90
Breckinridge,	18
Whole number,	765

Lincoln over all, 359.

ANNEXATION.—MR. EDITOR,—It is stated in your paper that the citizens of Roxbury are nearly unanimous in favor of the annexation of their city to the city of Boston.

We understand that a move is shortly to be made here in favor of the annexation of South Danvers to Salem. Would it not be well for our citizens to take this subject into careful consideration, as it is believed by many to be one of much importance? B

COL. FRANKLE.—We hear a rumor that Col. Frankle, formerly Major in the 17th Mass., and afterwards appointed Colonel of the 2nd Mass. Heavy Artillery, has lately died at Newbern, a victim of the yellow fever.

We are sorry to hear of this, as he is well known by many of the soldier boys hereabouts as an efficient officer.

COURTS.—The Criminal Term of the Superior Court adjourned without day last Friday.

The fall term of the Supreme Court commenced in Salem yesterday. This court has but little to do, and will not probably occupy many days.

THE ATLANTIC MONTHLY for November is a lively number and keeps up the high position attained by the magazine. It will stand the increase of price better than any of its cotemporaries, because the price now asked is far below its worth.

☞ The Democrats of the Second Essex Senatorial District have nominated as their candidate for State Senator EBEN SUTTON, Esq., of this town.

☞ Rev. I. S. Kalloch, late of Boston, is president of a college in the new town of Ottowa, Kansas.

DEMOCRACY IN NEW HAMPSHIRE.

Happening to be in the little town of Pelham, N. H., last Wednesday, we were permitted to witness the performances of a regular New Hampshire Democratic meeting. The seats of the Town Hall were brought out and set upon the ground on the sunny side of that building. A rude platform was erected, upon which the officers were to be seated. An itinerant brass band, with their wagon, was in attendance. The speakers rendezvoused at a house in the village (we believe they have no hotel in town.) At the appointed hour, Colonel,—somebody, we forget his name,—suffice it to say that he is the principal man in town and is always moderator, and formerly stood high in the old State militia,—ordered the band and assembled citizens to "fall in." A procession was formed and marched to the aforesaid house, where the speakers were assembled; then the speakers came out and "fell in," and were escorted to the platform with appropriate music. Arriving at the platform the aforesaid militia colonel took from his hat a paper and read the names of the officers who were to mann the meeting; consisting of a president, two secretaries, and a platform full of vice-presidents.

The President took the chair and made a speech, which we can find no fault with as it contained but a "glittering generalty" or two, and then he introduced J. K. Tarbox, Esq., of Lawrence, who, we understand, is a young lawyer of that city, who has entered with considerable enthusiasm into this campaign. We hear of his speaking in several directions. Mr. Tarbox spoke nearly an hour and a half and seemed to command the close attention of the audience. Indeed, he brought to his subject a degree of oratorical talent worthy of a better cause. Next came E. A. Alger, Esq., of Lowell, who talked and talked, and kept a talking, and, for aught we know, is talking now, as we were obliged to leave before night and before he closed. And yet, to be just, we ought to admit that he sustained himself very well. He made some points that seemed to take. There was, however, a sort of extravagance in his comparisons and looseness in his statements that rather tended to awaken distrust in his sincerity and a suspicion of his honesty.

We thought we noticed a patronizing kind of an air towards his audience. As much as to say, "now I've come up from the city of Lowell to talk to you, illiterate countrymen, and I will speak in very plain and simple language, so that you will be able to understand me." But we soon saw a pretty broad grin upon the faces of two or three old heads, who knew as much about common things as the speaker did, and a great deal more than he about the mechanism of mill stones. Said the speaker, "now, fellow citizens, I will illustrate this so that everybody present will understand it,—you all know about mill-stones. Now, secession and abolition are like mill-stones. Abolitionism is the upper stone, that sweeps round one way like the upper stone of a grist mill, and secession is the lower stone which sweeps round the other way like the lower stone of a grist mill, and between them both the constitution is ground into powder." Upon this magnificent comparison, drawn from mechanical science, several farmers, who never before heard of a nether stone's turning round, smiled almost audibly. But never mind, if this had been the worst blunder he made we would not have noticed it, but we only mention it as illustrative of his patronizing style and imperfect rhetoric.

We understand that there were two other gentlemen patiently waiting for their turn to speak, but whether Mr. Alger closed in season for them to speak the same day, we know not.

Pelham is a Democratic town. But for the past few years they have not been able to say as we do of Hull—as goes Pelham, so goes the State. Though Pelham may go for McClellan, New Hampshire will go for Lincoln—and that by 4,444 majority, more or less.

GEN. DODGE IN ROWLEY.

Thursday was an eventful day to the inhabitants in that part of the town of Rowley in the vicinity of Dodge's Mills. The occasion was the arrival of Major General Grenville Dodge. Although born in the town of Danvers, this was the birth-place of his parents and grand-parents, and it was here he spent much of his boyhood. His friends having notice of his intended visit, determined to give him a public reception. Accordingly a procession was formed at about 10 o'clock A. M., near the Phillips House, the birth-place of the General's mother, which, preceded by the Rowley Brass Band, fifteen pieces, escorted the General to the mansion of Benjamin Dodge, Esq., which was handsomely decorated for the occasion.

Here, on a platform, erected in front of the house the General was introduced to the assemblage by Capt. J. S. Todd, with a few appropriate remarks. His appearance was the signal for most enthusiastic applause, which having subsided, he proceeded to make some felicitous remarks, saying that although since his arrival East he had everywhere received most kindly attention, yet at no place had he been so pleasant and happy as at this unexpected and cordial greeting of his old friends and acquaintances. He happily alluded to the pleasure he had experienced in again looking at the green hills and pleasant forests over and through which he once roamed, and where in his boyhood he dreamed of one day becoming a soldier. He spoke hopefully of the state of things at the seat of war, and thought if the North would support the army in the future as they have in the past the rebellion would soon be put down. The General is looking well, although not fully recovered from the severe wound he received in the Georgia campaign. At the close of his remark he said he should be happy to take them all by the hand, an invitation which was most cordially accepted by the audience. Remarks were then made by the Rev. Mr. Burt of Georgetown, Mr. Bailey of Western Virginia, and William M. Rogers, Esq., of Newbury. At the close of the exercises the invited guests and Band sat down to a bounteous repast prepared for them, to which ample justice was done. The occasion passed off pleasantly, and was certainly creditable to the friends of the General as it was a just tribute to a brave and gallant soldier—Newburyport Herald.

NATIONAL AND STATE THANKSGIVINGS.—Govenor Andrew has appointed Thursday, the 24th day of November, as a day of Thanksgiving, and President Lincoln has appointed the same day to be observed as a National Thanksgiving through all the loyal Seates.—It is probable that all of the State Thanksgivings will be appointed on the same day.

WEST DANVERS.

WEST DANVERS, Oct. 27th, 1864.

DEAR WIZARD,—Thinking that a few items from this place might prove interesting to some of your readers, I send these, and hope that their object will not be in vain.

Taking the cars on the Salem and Lowell Railroad at South Danvers, you have to ride but three or four miles when the cars stop and the conductor announces West Danvers Junction. The depot at this place is a small but neat-looking building, situated about a quarter of a mile from the Newburyport Turnpike in a westerly direction. Standing back in the woods, as it does, it seems to have been placed there, not for the accommodation of the West Danversites, but merely for a junction, as the name designates. The turnpike was the nearest road to the station until within a few years, a road having been built within that time from Brookdale, passing near the junction and forming a junction itself with the Newburyport Turnpike, near the crossing of the Salem and Lowell Railroad. Three trains meet at the junction twice a day—in the morning, a train from Lowell, a train from Newburyport and a train from Boston; at night a train from Salem connects with a train from Boston, and a train from Newburyport, this being the junction of the Danvers and Georgetown, and Salem and Lowell Railroads, the trains coming from Newburyport by the way of Georgetown and Danvers.

Leaving the junction we go about two miles farther, when the cars stop again, and the conductor announces Phelps' Mills. This is a signal station, no trains stopping unless the board is put up or there is some one on board to leave here. Upon leaving the cars the stranger naturally looks around for the mills, from which the station is supposed to take its name, but the only building near is a small sentry-box-looking affair, being about four feet square, which serves for a station house. The mills are about a half mile from the station, and consist of a saw and grist mill, which are run only in the winter season, and the buildings of which look very ancient and seem fast going to decay.

The fine estate of the late Daniel P. King is situated near here. Most of the citizens of West Danvers are farmers, and much of their produce is carried to South Danvers and Salem, where it always finds a ready market. Among the farmers of this place I must not fail to mention one, whom I think can defy competition in regard to raising hogs. This man—Mr. Bowman Viles—has a hog at the present time which will weigh 600 lbs. dressed, and is still growing fatter every day. Such a hog, at the present high prices of pork, is worth a pile of money.

The village at Lynnfield Centre is about 2½ miles from West Danvers. Many of the people attend church at that place. Speaking of Lynnfield Centre reminds me of a political town meeting held there on Monday evening of last week, at which a rather unusual circumstance took place. The time for the meeting to commence was set at 7½ o'clock, but some fifteen or twenty persons having met some time previous to that hour, the meeting was called to order, the business all transacted, and the meeting dissolved before the hour arrived when the meeting was to have been convened. Considerable stir was made about the affair, and another meeting was held the same evening; but subsequently both meetings were declared illegal, and another meeting called, which was held at the Town Hall.

I must not fail to mention a Silver Wedding, which took place at North Saugus about two weeks since. Mr. and Mrs. Philip Hone having passed twenty-five years of wedded life, were waited on by a large number of their friends and connections, who were received with welcome, and after enjoying a season of pleasant intercourse, were conducted to another apartment, where a splendid collation awaited them, which was done ample justice to. A poem was read by Miss Needham of West Danvers, who also presented Mr. and Mrs. Hone with the silver presents, consisting of several pieces of silver ware and several silver coins. An address was also recited by Miss Munroe of North Saugus. I must also mention the liberality of Mr. Hone in regard to the defraying of the expenses of the band that enlivened the occasion, they having met with an accident to their carriage on the way to the party, the expenses of which Mr. Hone kindly volunteered to take upon himself. May he live and prosper until—God permitting—we may call upon him again, bearing him golden presents.

Yours, etc., F.

SECOND SENATORIAL DISTRICT CONVENTION.—The Republican Convention of this district was held at the Republican Head Quarters in Salem yesterday forenoon. Called to order by R. S. Rantoul, Esq., chairman of the District Committee, John Langley, of Danvers, was chosen President, and Henry M. Brooks, of Salem, Secretary. A motion made to admit the District Committee to seats in the convention, was, after some discussion, voted down by a decided majority.

An informal ballot for candidate for the Senate was taken with the following result:

Whole number of ballots,	21
Necessary to a choice,	11
S. M. Worcester had	12
D. E. Safford,	2
I. W. Andrews,	3
Amos Merrill,	2
Amos H. Johnson,	1
B. C. Perkins,	1

A formal ballot was then taken, with the following result:

Whole number of ballots,	19
Necessary for choice,	10
S. M. Worcester had	14
Daniel E. Safford,	4
B. C. Perkins,	1

And S. M. Worcester was declared nominated.

The following Dist. Committee was chose: R. S. Rantoul of Salem; John A. Putnam of Danvers; A. P. Phillips of South Danvers; Henry Hobbs of Wenham; D. E. Safford of Hamilton; James M. Merriam of Middleton; Jacob Foster of Topsfield.

Messrs. N. J. Holden of Salem, Nathan Tapley of Danvers, and J. P. Lovering of Hamilton, were appointed a Committee to wait on the Rev. Dr. Worcester and inform him of his nomination.

The convention adopted, after a somewhat animated debate, the following basis of representation for the next convention, viz:—one delegate for each city and town, and one for every one hundred Republican votes thrown at the coming Presidential election, and one for every majority fraction.

☞ "Little Mackerel" is the latest name for the supporters of "Little Mac."

THE INVASION OF VERMONT.

The following letter, received by Mr. E. F. OSBORN, of this town, from his son at St. Albans, Vermont, gives an interesting account of the late raid in that place:

ST. ALBANS, OCT. 23d, 1864.

DEAR FATHER:—I suppose you have seen a dozen accounts respecting our raid here this week, in addition to the one I sent you recently. I wrote you that night between twelve and one o'clock, and was some excited as well as anxious, therefore I wrote but little and in a hurry. I will now give you a full account up to this time.

To begin, most of the party have been here more or less for the past five weeks. The leader was here and sat next to me at dinner three weeks ago to-day. They began coming here for good a week ago to-day. Five of them came in on the morning train, and went to the different hotels; on Monday some more came, on Tuesday two more, and took the next room to mine. Wednesday, the leader and three others came on the train, one from Burlington, by team, and two from Essex Junction, by cars. At the appointed time, quarter past three, they started, three to the National Bank, five to the St. Albans Bank, and three to the Franklin County Bank. Five went to stealing horses; three passed up and down the street, took every man they met, walked him into the Park, and put him under a guard of the remaining three. When they met a man in the street, they would present a revolver to his head, and tell him that if he opened his head or showed any resistance, they would blow his brains out. During the time they were in the banks, the guard got eleven men in the Park. They mounted their horses at once on coming out of the banks, and rode up in front of the Tremont House. The proprietor and several other gentlemen were on the sidewalk at the time, and several ladies were on the piazza. They saw these fellows drive up, and saw them firing their pistols in the air, but supposed they were only riding out for pleasure, and firing their pistols to see how the horses would act. Just at this time, one of the livery stable men, from whom they had stolen five horses, came up with a revolver, and began to snap at them, but it would not go off. They then turned, and one of them fired at him; but instead of hitting him, it hit Mr. Morrison, the contractor who was building the new Hotel. He had his hand in his pocket at the time and the ball entered his hand, passed through his intestines, and came out at his back. He died Friday morning. They also shot one other man, who refused to go into the Park when ordered to. The shot struck him on the ribs in front, ran round just under the skin, and came out at his back, inflicting only a flesh wound. They shot at a woman who refused to give them her horse, but the ball went through her dress, doing her no injury. About half their horses they took from teams on the street. They would go up to a team, take a knife and cut off all the harness except the head-stall, jump on, and ride off. When it became known what was going on, every store was closed, and a party of fifty, with pistols, shot-guns, etc., started off on horseback in pursuit. By this time the raiders had got six or eight miles away. Their intention was to go to Sheldon and rob the Sheldon Bank. When they passed over the Massaquoi River bridge, going into Sheldon, they set fire to the bridge, at which time our boys were within about three quarters of a mile from them. A boy who happened to be near the bridge just after they fired it, put out the fire before our boys reached it. They drove up to the Sheldon Bank, but as it was after bank hours and the bank was closed, knowing as they did that our boys were close upon them, they set fire to a barn belonging to the president of the bank, stole one of his best horses, also one of the cashier's best horses, and made for the Canada line. They succeeded in getting over before our boys overtook them; but with the assistance of the Canadians, two of them were captured that night. Darkness came on, and the remainder skedaddled into the woods. The next morning they captured two more of them, and have continued to do so till last night, when they had thirteen of them in the jail at St. John's. They have also recovered about $112,000 of the stolen money. The Canadians have turned out so generally to take them that there is little doubt of their being captured when they come out of their holes. Those who have been taken say they knew what they were about, and are only sorry they did not kill more, and fire the town, as they intended. They say they were from Richmond, that they were commissioned by Jeff. Davis, and that it is not the last one of the kind that will be. The story of "Jeff. Davis" is not believed, however, as it has been ascertained by examination that they planned the raid in Montreal, and held their councils in Montreal and St. John's. Most of them are fellows who have deserted from our army after getting large bounties. It is also found that some of them are New York City roughs, and about three of them "Southern refugees," who have been in Montreal. One of them is a deserter from a Vermont regiment, and belongs only twelve miles from here. They had their counsel all engaged to clear them in case any of them should be taken; and they think now that that they will be cleared on the ground of a commission from Jeff. Davis. But there is so much evidence against this that it will not avail them anything.

The Governor-General of Canada says they will not be given up. They are all expected here this week, and there will be a little risk of their being lynched on their arrival here. They were each armed with from three to six of Colt's best revolvers. They say they intended to burn the Governor's house and then rob the banks, but afterwards made up their minds to rob the banks first and then set fire to the town. On coming out of the banks, however, they found so many of the people in the street that they thought it best to get away as soon as possible.

We have now two companies of the invalid corps here, and twenty-five cases of Springfield rifles have been distributed among the citizens, so that in case of another raid they will have something with which to defend themselves. At the time of the raid, I don't believe there were a dozen guns in the whole town, and what there were were not fit for use. Most of the horses have been recovered. A guard is now stationed at night and day at the Massaquoi Bay Bridge, also one at the Rousse's Point Bridge; so that if they come again they will meet with a warm reception. I think, however, that there is danger of our town being fired by night unless a strict watch is kept; and I also fear that when they are brought here and put in jail, a gang may come and try to release them. O.

[For the Wizard.]

THE CANADA RAID.

DEAR WIZARD:—Knowing your kindness of nature, and how your heart overflows with that charity that "thinketh no evil," I am induced to suggest that you should rebuke in your columns that spirit of fault-finding and uncharitableness which has inspired such feelings of indignation in the American Press, because sone of our chivalric brethren at the South, transiently resident in Canada, have recently made a neighborly call upon the people of St. Albans, Vermont. Perhaps the visit of ceremony was accompanied with some circumstances that many would wish otherwise; yet, as the so-called "raiders" belonged to that class of people for whom our peace men, according to the Chicago platform, have shown strong liking and affinity, it is evident there must be some great mistake. Probably the "raiders" were of the Confederate Army. As such, they understood, of course, all the laws of chivalry, among which is prominent the right of self protection. Now, Mr. Wizard, just consider whether it is not more considerate in these gentlemen to go into a quiet, frontier town and shoot unarmed citizens, and commit acts of appropriation, (I was going to say robbery, but this would not be in harmony with the devout wish of Chicago for the "cessation of hostilities,") than to go to the front of the rebel army, and there undergo the risk of being rendered unfit for further service by some stray shot from Grant's or Sheridan's or Sherman's forces?

Besides, Mr. Wizard, have you considered that possibly the design of these Confederate gentlemen may have been misunderstood? How do you know that it was not their sole object in crossing the frontier, to pay a visit of sympathy, congratulation, and gratitude, to Right Reverend Father in God, John Henry, surnamed Hopkins, Doctor of Divinity, and of Civil and of Common law, Bishop of the Protestant Episcopal Church of the Diocese of Vermont, Upholder of Rebellion, Treason, and Slavery, and Defender of the Faith delivered to John C. Calhoun and to Jefferson Davis? In his chosen sphere, no one in the United States has rendered more efficient service to the gentlemen of Richmond than the Right Reverend Divine mentioned above; and if a few gentlemen of the Southern Army chose to pay him a visit on their way, and, in the exuberant play of their chivalric joy, happened to kill and wound a number of unarmed people, where is the need of making so much fuss about it? Especially where's the need, when it is well known that, in his ardent zeal for truth and justice, the Right Reverend John Henry, surnamed Hopkins, has magnanimously and courageously risen above all the claims of so called patriotism and loyalty, thrown his influence against his own country and its rights, and appeared as the champion of slavery and of slavery's defenders?

Do you not know, Mr. Wizard, that of these gentlemen of the South, whose souls overflow with honor and all that, were really meaning to visit the Bishop of Vermont, how much his paternal, affectionate, and Right Reverend heart must have been grieved to see how they were turned back? I appeal to you, Mr. Wizard;—how can the "cessation of hostilities" be brought about unless we receive with charity and forbearance our Southern friends, even if their visits are informal and attended with loss of life? W. G. D.

☞ "Sunset" Cox, the defeated Copperhead Congressman, was knocked down and beaten by some butcher boys at Richmond, Indiana, the other day, being mistaken for a rebel officer who had lately been with him. The rebel officer was afterward attacked, but escaped without much damage.

☞ Those Democratic gentry who are so opposed to "negro equality" will now have an opportunity to fight it out. The rebels are about employing negro troops on a large scale. Let the Copperheads shoulder their muskets and put them down.

☞ The New Hampshire Republican committee have completed their canvass of the State, and in 68,000 votes find a Lincoln majority of 3,300 in the home vote. They are usually correct. The majority in the army will swell that to six thousand at least.

☞ Among recent victims by the yellow fever at Newbern are Charles H Lawrence, son of Andrew Lawrence of Boston, and Chas. W. Giddings, Esq., of Danvers, of the firm of Blagge, Soper & Co., Boston.

☞ E. C. Bailey, Esq, of the Boston Herald, is on the stump, earnestly advocating the election of Mr. Lincoln. Since the Chicago platform was constructed many Douglas democrats are doing the same.

☞ Brain, the pirate who took the Chesapeake, and more recently burned the Roanoke, was arrested on his arrival at Bermuda, and put to trial, and discharged.

☞ Greenbacks are in great demand because they are worth more than gold. When you put a greenback in your pocket, you double it, and when you take it out, you find it in creases.

☞ The Superintendent of the Public Schools in Boston, John D. Philbrick, Esq., has broken ground against the pressure upon the brains of the school-children. Right!—a needed reform.

☞ The story of a man, who had a nose so large that he couldn't blow it without the use of gunpowder, is said to be a fabrication.

☞ Why is McClellan like Job's horse? Because he "smelt the battle from afar."

Grocers' Notice.

We, the undersigned, GROCERS OF SOUTH DANVERS AND VICINITY, do hereby agree to close our Stores two evenings during the week, Tuesdays and Thursdays, at 6½ o'clock, with the exception of evenings previous to holidays, until further notice:

ARNOLD & HUTCHINSON.
SAMUEL WELCH.
NEWMAN & SYMONDS.
MUTUAL UNION.
B. B. HUMPHREY.
W. O. BATCHELDER.
WM. F. NICHOLS.
R. O. SPILLER.
H. M. OSBORN.
E. F. OSBORN.

South Danvers, Nov. 2d, 1864.

Republican Union Caucu

The Republicans of this town are inv meet at TOWN HALL, THIS Ev November 2d, at 7½ o'clock, to no a candidate for Representative to th General Court.

Per order of Rep. Town Committ
FRANCIS BAKER, Chair
South Danvers, Nov. 2d, 1864.

☞ Our Store will be closed every e Saturday excepted, at six o'clock, unt 1, 1865. JOHN P. PEAB

THE LATEST NOVELTY IN HOOP SKI WATERMAN'S PATENT
INVISIBLE CLASPED SK

Manufactured exclusively by the "Ne Belle Skirt Co., 375 Broadway, New and for sale at BROWNING & LON 177 Essex street, Salem,

This Skirt is made without visible and will not therefore soil or wear out undergarments; the hoops are fastene entirely new and original principle and a manner as to make this Skirt indestr it will outwear any of the ordinary Ski in use.

Ladies will do well to examine this n beautiful Skirt, before purchasing elsew.

BROWNING & LONG'S
SHERIDAN JACKETS

Something entirely new! It is the somest and most comfortable Worste ment ever made for Ladies, and is a gr provement on the old style Sontags.

BROWNING & LONG'S GREAT S

WORSTED DEPARTMENT. The large partment of the kind in this vicinity, greatest variety of colors, with the re during our great sale.

The prices are for
Black and white, 30 cents an ou
Common Class' 35 ,, ,,
Fine Colors, 35 ,, ,,

These Prices are lower than Genui man Worsteds are sold at any other est ment in the country.

Ladies will secure their Worsteds n fore prices advance.

BROWNING & LO

WANTED.—To learn the business, active boy who has had experience in Wages $3.00 per week for the first ye PEABODY'S 220 Essex St.

☞ For Gents' Furnishing Goods, and Drawers, or a garment made to ord at BENNETT & Co.'s One Price House, 15 Dock Square, Boston.

☞ Goods received for LEWANDE'S F DYE HOUSE. M. E. CRA
Jan 20 tf

Warren Five Cents Savings B

The Annual Meeting of the Warren Cents Savings Bank, will be held at the ren Bank Rooms, on WEDNESDAY, N ber 2d, at 7 o'clock P. M., for the ch officers the ensuing year, and for the tr tion of any other business that may come before them. Per order,

F. BAKER, Treasu
So. Danvers, Oct. 19, 1864.

Episcopal Services.

Divine Service, according to the order Protestant Episcopal Church, will be h the Town Hall on the next Sunday ev (6th instant,) commencing at 7 o'clock. service will be held, also, on each succe Sunday evening, at the same hour.

These services are in the charge of th GEORGE D. WILDES, Rector of Church, Salem. As at present cond they are wholly free; and all persons inte are affectionately invited to attend.

If the weather should be stormy or evening appointed, the service will be om

Nov. 2d, 1864.

☞ Ready-made Overcoats, $60, $55, $45, $42, $40, $38, $35, $33, $32, $30 $26, $25, $22, $20, $19, $18, $17, $16 $14, $13, $12, $11, $10. One Price o BENNETT & Co's, 14 & 15 Dock Square, B

☞ For Boys' Clothing call at BENN Co's One Price House, 14 and 15 Dock S Boston.

☞ Ready-made Pants, $17, $16, $15 $13, $12, $11, $10, $9, $8, $7.50, $7, $6, $5.50, $5, $4.50, $4, $3.50, $3, $2. BENNETT & Co.'s One Price House, 14 a Dock Square, Boston.

Renovation of Beds.

If people only knew how injurious to health practice of sleeping on foul feathers, they wou no time in having them renovated and made pe fresh and sweet. It is a good thing to "air" before it is made up, but this does not cure effe the impurities of feathers which have for a lon been slept upon. Any good physician will te that it is deleterious to health to sleep on beds have been made foul by the exhalations of the body. Mr. SUMNER SOUTHWICK does this servi thorough manner by a process perfectly effectua has the exclusive agency of the improvement f and the neighboring towns. If you would hav dom from disease, and quiet and healthful slee upon Mr. SOUTHWICK, on Park Street.

Port of Danvers.

Ar 19th, schs Lizzie, Glover, New York.
20th, Wm H Dennis, Ingleson, Philadelphia.
23d, Nelson Wells, Allen, New York.
24th, Leonora, Spofford, Bangor.
24th, Pearl, Thayer, Rockland.
26th, Augusta, Crowell, Boston.
27th, Star, Keene, Bangor.
28th, Tahmiroo, Gray, Bangor.
28th, James Gowing, Smith, Boston.

Marriages.

In this town, Oct 19, by Rev R. F. Chase, Rec Calvary Church, Danvers, Capt. William W. 17th Mass. Vols., to Miss Caroline A., daughter Joseph E. Goldthwait, of South Danvers.

In Salem, Oct. 23, Mr George P. Phippen of Be to Miss Maria M. Mackentire of Salem.

26th, Mr. Thomas Rock to Miss Anna Burns.

27th, Mr. Nathan P. Cutler to Miss Anna C., ad daughter of Capt. Joseph Winn, all of Salem.

Deaths.

[Deaths are recorded gratuitously; b funeral notices are charged 25 cents. Obi poetry and notices are chargeable at 6¼ c line.]

In Salem, Oct. 25th, Mr William Joplin, 79 yrs 21 days; 26th, John Francis, son of John and M'Ginnis, 8 yrs; Mrs. Sarah H., wife of Mr. Jo Haraden, 82 yrs; 27th, Mary H., daughter of Jo Relinda A Hunt, 1 month; 31st, Emma Chester, d ter of Frederick and Elizabeth Coombs, 9 yrs.

In North Beverly, Oct. 23, Mr. Levi Sheldon, 50 years.

In Marblehead, Oct. 25th, Capt. Thomas Elki yrs 11 days—the oldest man in town; 27th, Mrs. wife of Mr. Daniel Norcross, and daughter of th Capt William Russell of Salem, 45 yrs.

In Bradford, Oct. 28, the venerable Benjamin G leaf, at the ripe old age of 78 years. Mr. G. grad from Dartmouth College in 1811.

-30 LOAN.

he Treasury gives notice that subceived for Coupon Treasury Notes rom Aug. 15th, 1864, with semi-an-rate of seven and three tenths per ncipal and interest both to be paid

e convertible at the option of the to six per cent. gold bearing bonds, five nor more than twenty years e Government may elect. They lenominations of $50, $100, $500, d all subscriptions must be for fif-ultiple of fifty dollars.
transmitted to the owners free of es as soon after the receipt of the of Deposit as they can be pre-interest from August 15, persons bsequent to that date must pay the n date of note to date of deposit.
twenty-five thousand dollars and otes at any one time will be allowed e-quarter of one per cent., which Treasury Department upon the ree amount, certified to by the officer sit was made. No deductions for e made from the deposits.

INTAGES OF THIS LOAN.

L SAVINGS BANK, offering a higher any other, and THE BEST SECURIank which pays its depositors in U.
that it is paying in the best circulat-country, and it CANNOT pay in any own assets are either in government s or bonds payable in government enient as a temporary or permanent otes can always be sold for within ace, and accumulated interest, and y with banks as collaterals for disa Six per cent. 5-20 Gold Bond.

very liberal interest on the notes his privilege of conversion is now per cent. per annum, for the current ds is not less than NINE PER CENT. re the war the premium on six per as over twenty per cent. It will be l profit on this loan, at the present less than ten per cent. per annum.

ROM STATE OR MUNICIPAL TAXATION.
ll the advantages we have enumerat-
Congress EXEMPTS ALL BONDS AND FROM LOCAL TAXATION. On the ption is worth about two per cent.
ing to the rate of taxation in various y.
t no securities offer so great induces those issued by the Government.— of indebtedness, the faith or ability or stock companies, or seperate com-pledged for payment, while the whole untry is held to secure the discharge ons of the United States.
hment offers the most liberal terms ieves that the very strongest appeal lty and patriotism of the people.
cates will be issued for all deposits.—
ing must endorse upon the ORIGINAL enomination of notes required, and o be issued in blank or payable to ordorsed it must be left with the officer sit, to be forwarded to the Treasury

WILL BE RECEIVED by the Treasurer es, at Washington, the several As-and designated Depositaries, and by l Bank of Salem, Mass.

l Bank of Boston, Mass.
al Bank of Boston, Mass.
l Bank of Boston, Mass.
of the Republic, Boston, Mass.
nal Bank, Boston, Mass.
l Bank of Amesbury, Mass.
l Bank of Haverhill, Mass.
l Bank of Newburyport, Mass.
al Banks which are depositaries of
d
TABLE BANKS AND BANKERS
ountry will give further information

Y FACILITY TO SUBSCRIBERS.
,—3m

---

anette R. Andrews,
C TEACHER.
n No. 5 Bowker Building,
ssex Street, Salem.
e Dollars per quarter.
Professors Webb, Wetherbee, B. J.
nov 2—3m

---

tlemen's Gloves.
TIES to select from, at
GEORGE S. WALKER'S,
No. 228 Essex Street, Salem,
Opp. Eastern Railroad Station.

---

ist of Letters unclaimed in the Post Office at South ass., Nov. 1, 1864.
in any of these letters, the applicant
VERTISED LETTERS, give the date of one cent for advertising.
alled for within one month, they will ad Letter Office.
urs from 7½ A. M. to 8 P. M,

Hannah Symonds
J. A. Stockwell
Jeremiah Saunders
vitt George A. Stickney
ll John Regan
E. E. Wheeler

DANIEL WOODBURY, P. M.

MN GOODS.

SHAWLS,
—AND—
DRESS GOODS.

BLANKETS,
QUILTS,
AND
SE-KEEPING GOODS.

CLOTHS,
DOESKINS,
VER-COATINGS,
—AND—
CLOAK CLOTHS,

W. DOWNING & CO.,
179 ESSEX STREET, SALEM.

PENING!
L ASSORTMENT OF
ND WINTER STYLE
S,
TS,
DRESS CAPS and
HEAD-DRESSES.
TOBER 6TH,
AT
. E. CRANE'S,
X STREET, - - SALEM.
1864.

J. F. Almy & Co.

Sale of Dry Goods

AT LOWEST
PRICES.

JAMES F. ALMY & COMPANY have in Stock a great variety of

LONG AND SQUARE SHAWLS,

just received from New York.

Also, from our own Cloak Rooms, a choice variety of

LADIES' OUTSIDE GARMENTS,

suitable for the Autumn.

IN CLOTHS,

For Autumn and Winter Garments,

our stock was bought last June, at much lower rates than prevail to-day.

These we are prepared to make to order from measure in any style.

MOURNING GOODS

— IN —

ALPACCAS,
COBURGS,
THIBETS,
M. DE LAINES,
REPS, &c., &c.

A good stock bought months ago.

We invite special attention to our stock of

DRESS GOODS.

Comprising a greater variety of CHOICE FABRICS, in Novel Effects, than we have ever before offered.

The fall in Gold has not reached the margin at which our stock of Dress Goods was bought.

Rich Black Silks,
Rich Colored Silks,
Rich Plaid Silks,
Rich Figured Silks.

The balance of our old stock closing at low prices.

Please call and look at our stock of PLAID WOOL POPLINS, at $1 75.

Please call and look at our stock of COTTON WARP PLAID POPLINS—magnificent colors—at $1.50.

Please look at our stock of PLAIN WOOL M. DELAINS, at 75c. These goods are the best quality. We have lower grades at lower prices.

We have a good stock of Poie De Chevres, Alpaccas, Coburgs, Repps, Thibets, Poplins, M. DeLaines, Prints, etc., selling low.

Gent's Shirting Flannels.

JAMES F. ALMY & CO., have in stock a good variety of Plaid and Striped Shirting Flannels, at low prices.

Table Coverings.

JAMES F. ALMY & CO. have in stock a great variety of White, Brown and Colored TABLE COVERINGS—old stock—closing at low prices.

Quilts.

Also QUILTS—Lancaster, Bates and Marseilles—all sizes and qualities.

Balmoral Skirts.

Purchasers should look at our stock of Balmoral Skirts. We have them in great variety at wholesale prices.

Bleached and Brown Cottons.

JAMES F. ALMY & CO. have in stock the following grades:—Bleached and Brown Cottons, which they are selling 10 per cent. under the market. Exeter 4-4 Indian Orchard, C. & O.; Laconia, K.; Dwight, I. A. & W.; Beaufort, James, Hill; Imperial, Moncrif; Everett, 9-8; Boot, S; Moncrif.

We can afford to give them to the Trade as above, and will do so until further notide.

Flannels. Flannels.

JAMES F. ALMY & CO. are selling a tip top quality of Domet FLANNEL, over 7-8 wide, at 55 cts.

Also the Damon 7-8 Domet Flannels, at 62½ cts. per yard.

A good quality Gray Twilled Flannel, 62½ cts.

A Heavy Blue Twilled Flannel, 62½ cts.

All grades of Grey, Blue and Red Twilled Flannels at low prices.

Also a splendid line of plain White all wool Flannels from 50 cents up.

Hosiery and Gloves,

Ladies' and Gent's Under Clothing, Kid Gloves, Velvet Ribbons, Our usual stock at our usual low prices.

Designing to make some changes in the character of our Stock the coming Spring, we shall close our present stock very low.

We shall give an opportunity to Cash buyers to buy Goods very low.

JAMES F. ALMY & CO.,
188 Essex Street, opposite Central Street.
Salem, October 19th, 1864.

OUR WORSTEDS.

BEST GERMAN ZEPHYRS!

A VERY LARGE STOCK.

LOWEST PRICES.

25

Black, per ounce,	25 cents;
White, per ounce,	25 cents;
Black, per pound,	$3 75;
White, per pound,	$3 75;

30

Browns, per ounce,	30 cents;
Greens, per ounce,	30 cents;
Blues, per ounce,	30 cents;
Drabs, per ounce,	30 cents;
Scarlets, per ounce,	30 cents;
Crimsons, per ounce,	30 cents;

At PEABODY'S, 220 Essex Street.

35

Chinchillas, per ounce,	35 cents;
Perdrix, per ounce,	35 cents;
Printed, per ounce,	35 cents;
Purples, per ounce,	35 cents;
Orange, per ounce,	35 cents;

At PEABODY'S, 220 Essex Street,

During his Sale at Reduced Prices.

JOHN P. PEABODY,
220 Essex Street, Salem.

PEABODY LIBRARY,
1852,
Peabody, Mass.

GREATEST SALE

—EVER HELD—

IN SALEM.

BROWNING & LONG'S

ENTIRE STOCK

—AT—

A DISCOUNT OF

10

PER CENT.,

NEW GOODS INCLUDED

— AND —

NO EXCEPTIONS MADE.

The greater portion of our Stock having been purchased at a rate of Gold less than 200, and NEVER having marked our Stock above that value, we can assure our customers that in giving them a reduction of

10 PER CENT. ON ALL PURCHASES,

we shall be selling these Goods as low, if not lower, than the present wholesale rate.

SALE COMMENCES
Monday, October 24, 1864.

Having the largest establishment in Salem, we necessarily have the

LARGEST STOCK,

Customers thereby having a more complete and extensive assortment to select from than can be found elsewhere.

10 Per Cent. DEDUCTION

MADE AT OUR DESK

ON EVERY PURCHASE.

OUR NEW FALL GOODS

Having been purchased at the present Low Rate of Gold, it gives our customers an opportunity to obtain from a fresh stock the NEWEST AND LATEST STYLES.

NEW KID GLOVES,
AT THE REDUCTION.

NEW GLOVES,
AT THE REDUCTION.

NEW UNDER-GARMENTS,
AT THE REDUCTION.

NEW HOSIERY,
AT THE REDUCTION.

NEW LACE GOODS,
AT THE REDUCTION.

NEW VEILS,
AT THE REDUCTION.

NEW LINEN HDKFS.,
AT THE REDUCTION.

NEW WORSTEDS,
AT THE REDUCTION.

EVERY THING AT THE REDUCTION.

Our New Worsted Department

Is now in successful operation. Our Worsteds are the best Berlin Zephyrs, and our prices as low as the same quality can be purchased anywhere.

WE INVITE EVERY ONE TO EXAMINE OUR

WORSTED WORK.

We wish every one to call in and see our

NEW AND BEAUTIFUL STOCK,

and convince themselves that Prices are

LOWER THAN THEY HAVE BEEN.

BROWNING & LONG,
LADIES' FURNISHING STORE,
177 Essex Street, 177
SALEM.
Oct. 26th, 1864.

Ladies' Furnishing Goods.

PEABODY'S
LADIES' FURNISHING STORE.

MARKED DOWN!

Stock to be Reduced.

BARGAINS!

LOWER THAN GOLD.

Seasonable Goods
—AT—
REDUCED PRICES,
At J. P. PEABODY'S.

German Worsteds.

Black or White, only	25 cts.;
Common Colors, only	30 cts.;
Purple and Orange, only	35 cts.;
Chinchillas, only	35 cts.;

Hoods—Shawls—Sontags—Hats—Sea Foams, Mittens—Sleeves—Gaiters—Boots Clouds—Scarfs, &c.
At J. P. PEABODY'S.

Woolen Yarns, only	10 cts.;
Blue Mix'd Yarn, only	10 cts.;
White Yarns, only	10 cts.;
Drab Yarns, only	10 cts.;
Slate Yarns, only	10 cts.;
Yarns all marked down to	10 cts.;

At J. P. PEABODY'S.

Best Kid Gloves,	$1 50
White Kid Gloves,	1 25
Hand Knit Shawls,	2 50
The Finest Cloud made,	1 15
Good Breakfast Shawls,	1 75
Good warm Sontags,	1 25
Extra good Sontag,	1 45
Good warm Hood,	1 00
Nice new style Hood,	1 25
Extra pretty Hood.	1 50
Best Hand Knit Zephyr Hood	1 75

Woolen Goods at Reduced Prices.
At JOHN P. PEABODY'S.

Bargains.

Best Worsted Braids,	12 cts.;
Best Spool Cottons,	10 cts.;
Best American Pins,	5 cts.;
Best Linen Thread,	5 cts.;
Nice Elastic Cords,	5 cts.;
Best Gold Eyed Needles,	8 cts.;
Best Sea Island Cottons,	10 cts.;
200 yds Spool Cottons,	10 cts.;

Small Wares at Very Low Prices.
At J. P. PEABODY'S.

Lace Goods.

Black Lace Veils,	New Styles;
Trimming Laces,	New Styles;
Edgings and Inserting,	New Styles;

Malta Collars;
Malta Collars;
Malta Collars;
Malta Collars;

Collars,	Cuffs,
Collars,	Cuffs,
Collars,	Cuffs,
Collars,	Cuffs,

At J. P. PEABODY'S, 220 Essex st.

RIBBONS, FLOWERS
—AND—
BONNET RUCHES.

NETS,

Of all the various Styles,

And all kinds of Ornaments for the Hair.

The Largest Stock of Ladies' Furnishing Goods in Essex County, and the LOWEST PRICES.

ONE PRICE ONLY,

JOHN P. PEABODY,
220 ESSEX ST., SALEM.

George S. Walker.

BARGAINS!

Positively selling at Reduced Prices!

I NOW offer my Winter Stock of Gentlemen's Furnishing Goods, such as
ALL WOOL AND MERINO SHIRTS,
DRAWERS, HOSIERY,
GLOVES, SCARFS,
and other seasonable goods, at less than Importers and Manufacturers prices—or Gold at $1 20.

Purchasers will find it for their interest to call and examine GOODS and PRICES, at

GEORGE S. WALKER'S,
No. 228 Essex Street,
oct 12 Opp. Eastern Railroad Station.

A. J. Archer & Co

REDUCED PRICES!

DRY GOODS.

AUGUSTUS J. ARCHER & CO.,

ARE Prepared to offer their Large Stock of

SHAWLS,
DRESS GOODS,
GARMENTS,
WOOLENS,
House-Keeping Goods,
— At the —
LOWEST MARKET PRICES.

oct 12—tf 181 Essex street.

NEW
DRESS GOODS,
PLAIN AND FIGURED,
— AT —
164 ESSEX ST., SALEM.

CHOICE STYLES AND COLORS.

— ALSO —

PLAIDS for CHILDREN'S SHAWLS,
BALMORALS, WHITE FLANNELS,
CALICOES, HOOP SKIRTS, &c., &c.

These Goods are positively selling at BARGAINS, please call and see for yourselves.

BE SURE AND FIND THE RIGHT STORE,
164 ESSEX STREET, SALEM,
(Opposite Museum Building.)
oct 12 J. E. P. FEARING.

Potter, Bachelder & Co.,
DANVERS-PORT and SOUTH DANVERS,
DEALERS IN
WOOD AND COAL.

Constantly on hand

Franklin, Burnside, Dimond, } RED ASH.

Old Company & Packer's Lehigh, Pliny Fisk, Webster and Locust Mountain, } WHITE ASH.

Also Cumberland, Pictou and Campbell for Steam and Smith's use.

OFFICE---No. 6 Allen's Building.

G. W. POTTER,
J. Q. A. BACHELDER,
C. T. BATCHELDER. mch 30

M. A. PORTER,
236 Essex Street, - - - Salem, Mass.,
(Opposite Horse Railroad Office,)
MAKES TO ORDER BEST QUALITIES OF
WATCH SPRING SKIRTS.

A Good Assortment of Dress and Clock Button, Braids, Spool Cotton, Small Wares, and Thread Store articles generally.

236 Essex Street, - - - Salem, Mass.
M. A. PORTER.

AUTUMN STYLES.

WE are now prepared to show our customers a fine

—— assortment of ——

FALL MILLINERY GOODS.

REITH & CO'S,
No. 2 West Block, 188 Essex St.,
Sept 21 SALEM, MASS.

---

197 REMOVAL. 197

Gentlemen's Clothing.
YOUTH'S AND BOYS' CLOTHING,
— AND THE —
FURNISHING GOODS ESTABLISHMENT,
of the subscriber is removed to
197 Essex Street,
Store lately occupied by Mr. JOHN MCKEY.

☞ A full and fresh assortment of GOODS is now opening and will be kept up as the season advances.

Salem, Sept 21. T. H. LEFAVOUR.

HOUSE OF EQUITY,
—BY—
Arnold & Hutchinson,
(Successors to C. T. Southwick.)

FIRST QUALITY
FAMILY GROCERIES,
Sold at the Lowest Prices.

A large and complete assortment of
CROCKERY AND GLASS WARE,
Constantly on hand.
Also FLOUR and GRAIN.

ASHLAND HALL BUILDING,
NO. 1 LOWELL STREET,
F. T. ARNOLD. B. F. HUTCHINSON.
South Danvers, Feb 3, 1864.

For Sale,

THE TWO-STORY WOODEN HOUSE, belonging to the Estate of the late EMMA DODGE, near the Depot. The House is convenient for two families, and has recently been shingled and painted. Any one wishing to invest, will find this a rare opportunity. Enquire of

J. DODGE, 107 Lowell Street,
South Danvers, Oct. 26, 1864.—tf.

Auction Sales.

WILLIAM ARCHER, Jr.,
Auctioneer, Real Estate and Stock Broker,
34 Front Street.
Real Estate, Bank, Railroad & Manufacturing Stock bought and sold on Commission.

AUTUMN AND WINTER DRY GOODS.

PRINTS, De Laines, Plaids, Poplins, Alpaccas, Coburgs, Thibets, and many other styles for Dresses:

SHAWLS AND HOUSEKEEPING GOODS.

Bleached and Unbleached Cottons, different widths. Cotton Flannels, Wool and Cotton and Wool Flannels, of every variety and color.

Union and all wool Cassimeres and Doeskins, for Mens' and Boys' wear.

Hosiary, Gloves, Yarns, Umbrellas, &c. &c., sold at the lowest prices for the Cash, at

238 Essex Street,
GEO. P. DANIELS.
Satem, Sept. 28, 1864.

NEW GOODS.

ANN R. BRAY,
76 Federal Street, Salem.

WILL open this morning Rich POPLINS, at $1 50 per yard;

All Wool do, rich colors, at reduced prices;

Black Alpaccas, from 75 cts to $1 75;

Housekeeping Goods at Reduced Prices;

Cottons, Brown and Bleached; 5-4 Waltham and Rockville Sheetings; 4-4 Lonsdale, James Mills, Hills and all the best makes Shirting, at the lowest cash prices,

PRINTS, at reduced prices;

BLANKETS, the very best makes—All-wool and Union Blankets, at the lowest market price.

CAMELS' HAIR SCARFS—medium size;

Also—One very large, of the finest quality—at

ANN R. BRAY'S,
oct 19 76 Federal Street, Salem.

Salem & South Danvers R. R. Co.

CARS will leave South Danvers for Salem and Beverly at 6 35, 6 55, 7 15, and 7 35, A. M., and every 20 minutes till 12 55 P. M., and at 1 10, 1 25, 1 40, 1 55, P. M., and every 15 minutes till 10 25 P. M. (The 9 55, 10 10, and 10 25 P. M. cars go only to Salem.)

Cars will leave Beverly for Salem and So. Danvers at 6 35, 6 55, 7 15, 7 35, A. M., and every 20 minutes till 12 55 P. M., and at 1 10, 1 25, 1 40, and 1 55, P. M., and every 15 minutes till 10 40, P. M. (The 9 40, 9 55, 10 10, 10 25 and 10 40 P. M. cars go only to Salem.)

Cars leave Washington Street Station for South Danvers at 6 12, 6 32, 6 52 A. M., and every 20 minutes till 12 32 P. M., and leave Washington St. Station for Beverly at 6 17, 6 37, and 6 57 A. M, and every 20 minutes till 12 37 P. M.; and Cars will leave Washington Street Station for South Danvers and Beverly at 12 45, 1 00, 1 15, and 1 30, P. M., and every 15 minutes till 10 00 P. M.

Special Cars will leave Washington Street immediately after all Public Meetings, Lectures and Exhibitions.

On and after Oct. 20, the fares on the S. & S. D. R. R. will be as follows:

For each passenger between Beverly and Salem and South Danvers and Salem, over twelve years of age, except children going to and from school, the fare will be six cents to passengers making their own change—OTHERWISE, SEVEN CENTS.

TICKETS, to be used only by children going to and from school, 25 for $1 00;

Tickets for adult passengers, 18 for $1 00;

Tickets good for any distance between the corner of Webb and Bridge streets and the corner of Boston and Essex streets, 20 for $1 00, or 5 for 25 cents;

Tickets, especially for employees in the Bridge street Factories, good between the Factories and North St., 25 for $1 00.

All the above Tickets may be purchased at the Office of the Company, corner of Washington and Essex Streets, at the usual places, and on the cars.

M. H. HALE,
Oct. 19 Sup't S. & S. D. R. R. CO.

Horse Railroad Notice.

SUNDAY TIME.

HEREAFTER on Sunday, Horse Cars will leave Washington Street Station for Beverly at 9.12, 9.52, 10.32, 11.12, 11.52 A. M.; 12.32, 1.12, 1.52. 2.32, 3.12, 3.52, 4.32, 5.12, 5.52, 6.32, 7.12, 7.52, and 8.32 P. M.

Will leave Washington street station for South Danvers, at 9.07, 9.27, 9.47 A. M., and every twenty minutes till 9.07 P. M.

Cars leave South Danvers at 9.30, 9.50, and 10.10, A. M., and every 20 minutes till 9.30 P. M.

Leave Beverly at 9,40, 10,20, 11,00, 11.40 A. M.; 12.20, 1.00, 1.40, 2.20, 3.00, 3.40, 4.20, 5.00, 4.40, 6.20, 7.00, 7.40, 8.20, and 9,00 P. M.

Salem, Aug. 31, 1864, M. H. HALE, Supt.

GEO. E. MEACOM,

Dealer in
DRUGS & MEDICINES,
Fancy & Toilet Articles, &c.,
126 · · MAIN ST · · · 126
Nearly opposite Danvers Bank, So. Danvers.

T. A. SWEETSER,
Druggist & Apothecary
37 Main St., So. Danvers,

DEALER IN
Drugs, Medicines, Chemicals, Foreign Leeches, Shakers' Herbs, Dye Stuffs, Gums, Acids, Sponges, Shoulder Braces, Trusses, and Genuine Patent Medicines,

Also, Imported Cigars of choice brands, Perfumery, Toilet Articles and Stationery.

Physicians' Prescriptions carefully prepared by experienced persons.

37 MAIN STREET.

D. P. GROSVENOR, Jr.,

Druggist and Apothecary,
33 MAIN STREET.

Dealer in Drugs, Medicines, Chemicals, Dye Stuffs, and Popular Proprietary Medicines.

Personal attention to Physicians' Prescriptions.

South Danvers, May 29, 1861. 1y

OATS. OATS.

5000 BUSHELS PRIME OATS, received this day, and for sale by
sept 7 GAYLE & CO., Phillips Wharf.

STORE TO LET.

THE Store now occupied by Messrs. Blake & Holman, on the corner of Washington and Main Sts. The best located and most convenient store in town for the Grocery business. Possession given immediately. Apply to

R. S. DANIELS.
South Danvers, Sept. 21.

WANTED TO HIRE,

FOR a year or term of years, a COTTAGE HOUSE and Garden, pleasantly located in Danversport, or Danvers Center. Rent of no consequence, provided all else prove satisfactory.

Address T. H. S. at this office, stating terms, etc.
South Danvers, Sept 28. tf

Two Splendid Engravings.

"CHRIST Blessing Little Children," and "Home on a Furlough."

Subscriptions for these beautiful Engravings received at B. F. STEVENS' Jewelry Store, oct 5 116 Main St., South Danvers.

DERBY & CHILDS,
Fire, Marine and Life Insurance Agents.

ORDERS left at No. 24 Washington st., Salem, or received by mail, promptly attended to.

Losses equitably adjusted and promptly paid, and Insurance effected at reasonable rates.

Salem, August 10,—3m*

The Wizard.

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 2, 1864.

Arraignment of George H. Pendleton, Democratic Candidate for the Vice Presidency.

George H. Pendleton, stand up at the bar of public judgment and answer to a bill found against you for having persistently pursued in the American Congress a course calculated to destroy the Union you were sworn to protect, and the Constitution you were sworn to support:

We arraign you upon your public record, carefully compiled from official documents.

1st. That you consented to a division of the country.

2d. That you opposed the raising of armies to suppress the rebellion.

3d. That you opposed the raising of revenues and loans to support our armies, to pay the interest on the public debt, and maintain the public credit.

4th. That you opposed the punishment of armed traitors, and defended their property and other interests.

5th. That you endeavored to shield the unarmed traitors and spies in the loyal States from the consequences of their crimes, by preventing the suspension of the writ of habeas corpus, which suspension is provided by the Constitution to meet the cases of such criminals.

6th. That you endeavored in all your public acts to prevent any injury to the institution of slavery, which is the cause of all the expense, bloodshed, and suffering that has befallen the country for the last three years.

7th. That you have been crying Peace! when you well knew that peace could only come by compelling the rebels to submit to lawful authority or by a division of the country.

8th. That you have invited the intervention of the monarchs of Europe in our domestic troubles by opposing every declaration of Congress against it.

9th. That you have opposed legislation to maintain the constitutional guarantee of a republican form of government to States whose recognized governments had been overthrown by a powerful and unlawful organization.

10th. That you have in many other ways endeavored to embarras and hinder the constituted authorities in their efforts to vindicate the Unoin and Constitution from the attacks of rebels and traitors.

Betting.—The New York Tribune says: "Bets are poor arguments; yet they are better than lies. And it is a notorious fact that the McClellanites here about do not want to bet. For instance, we stated a week ago—in repelling a false imputation by the Reading Gazette—that we happened to know a man who wanted to bet $100,000, in sums of $1,000 to 5,000 that Abraham Lincoln would be chosen President for the ensuing term. In other times, we should have had fifty inquiries within twenty-four hours for the name of this Lincolnite; but up to this hour, no McClellenite has asked for it. If any should want to know it they can learn it of James B. Taylor, 48 Pine street."

End Of The Chinese Rebellion.—On the 19th of July last, the troops of the Emperor of China succeeded, after several days' hard fighting, in capturing the city of Nankin.—Then Wang, the rebel Emperor, killed himself a few days previously by eating gold leaf, determined by suicide to avoid personal capture. The other leading chiefs were taken, and one of them, Chun Wang, has determined to write his life, if allowed to live long enough for the purpose. The rebellion in China has lasted over fifteen years, and at one time threatened the integrity of the Empire.

☞ The Richmond Examiner moans over tee destruction of rebel property in the Shenandoah Valley, and declares that the Yankees could not have chosen a more effectual means of confirming the hate of the Southern people toward them. The thing is to be remembered the next time the rebel soldiers meet the Yankees in battle; and as to its general effect on the Southern people, the Examiner thanks God that they have in their veins that kind of blood that will not sink, but will rise higher for every blow, and burn hotter for every threat made against them.

Essex County Teachers' Association.—The last Legislature made a change in the law respecting County Teachers' Association, so that no provision is now made by the State for their holding more than one meeting in the course of each year. There will be, therefore, no Semi-annual Meeting of our County Association held this fall. The regular Annual Meeting will be held next spring as usual.

Arrival of Rebel Generals.—Four rebel generals—Jones of Virginia, Beals of Arkansas, Trimble of Maryland, and Frazer—arrived in Boston recently, from Johnson's Island, en route to Fort Warren. Gen. Trimble was the instigator of the riot in Baltimore, at the commencement of the war, when the Massachusetts 6th went through.

☞ A lady had the very bad taste to enter the Castle drawing-room in such ultra full dress, or rather undress, that more bust than barage was visible. "Did you ever see anything so unblushing?" whispered a Custodian of the Great Seal, whose sense of decorum was outraged by the exhibition. "Never since I was weaned," replied Dr. Whately.

☞ The dove was the first newspaper carrier, when one morning it went and fetched a leaf for Noah. It contained a paragraph on the weather, notfying him that the heavy rain storm had subsided.

☞ An old sailor, finding a corked bottle floating on the sea, opened it with the soliloquy, "Rum, I hope; gin, I think; tracts, by jingo!" and then threw it back into the water.

Do You Want Cheap Prices?—The experience of the past month has taught the country a lesson. It is that Union victories, military and political, have cheapened prices, and that there is no way so speedy or certain to bring the country back to a solid basis as by standing by President Lincoln and Lieutenant-General Grant. The slightest Union reverse sends up prices and destroys confidence. The certain prospect that Mr. Lincoln will be re-elected, in connection with the labors of Grant, has given a most hopeful turn to affairs. Stability and prosperity will flow from the re-election of Mr. Lincoln. Disaster, the general destruction of confidence, and high prices, will inevitably be the consequence of his defeat. Is there a man so blind that he cannot see this?

☞ General Hooker has added a golden aphorism to literature. In his late orders to subordinates of his Department he announces that "No one will consider the day as ended until the duties it brings have been discharged.

☞ "Long John Wentworth," of Illinois, is the Union candidate for Congress in the Chicago District against Cyrus McCormick, the reaper monopolist.—John is admiringly nicknamed in the West, McCormick's Reaper.

The Country.—Dedicated to the Boston Post.

"We go for the country, right or wrong,"
Such was "Democracy's" war-cry and song
When the country was wrong; but now it is right
The "Democrats" neither will sing for't nor fight.

Cards.

C. W. HALEY, M. D.,
Physician and Surgeon.
Office—Warren Bank Building,
South Danvers.

N. J. HOLDEN,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
Office, 27 Washington Street, Salem, Mass.

M. B. MANSFIELD,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
214 ESSEX STREET, SALEM, MASS.
 Particular attention paid to procuring Pensions, Bounties, Back Pay, Prize Money, and Army and Navy Claims of all descriptions. March 2.

H. L. HADLEY,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
CORNER MAPLE AND ELM ST.,
Danvers.
Claims against the Government for Bounty, Back Pay, and Pensions, promptly attended to.

THOMAS M. STIMPSON,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
194 ESSEX STREET, SALEM.
Residence Lowell street, South Danvers.

B. C. PERKINS,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
South Danvers—Office in Allen's Building.

ALFRED A. ABBOTT,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
Office, No. 24 Washington Street, Salem.
House, Main St., So. Danvers.

SIDNEY C. BANCROFT,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
27 Washington Street, Salem.

H. O. WILEY,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
Office, Allen's Building, South Danvers.
Claims against the Government for Bounty, Back Pay, and Pensions, promptly attended to.

A. S. CRAWFORD
Dentist,
No. 4 Main Street, So. Danvers Square
Mechanical Dentistry Neatly Executed.

W. L. BOWDOIN,
SURGEON DENTIST,
No, 208 Essex Street, Salem, (Opposite the Marke
Residence—No. 57 Washington street.
jan 11—1y

NEWMAN & SYMONDS,
DEALERS IN
Family Groceries, Flour & Grain,
HARD WARE AND CROCKERY,
Ready Made Clothing, Gents' Furnishing Goods, Hats, Caps, Boots, Shoes, &c.,
South Danvers Square, opp. Congregational Church
SAM'L NEWMAN. NATH'L SYMONDS.

S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS,
DEALERS IN
Crockery, China and Hardware; Paper Hangings; Solar and Entry Lamps; Paints, Oil and Window Glass.
No. 32 Front street, Lawrence Place,
feb13 SALEM, MASS.

HENRY L. WHIDDEN,
HOUSE AND SIGN PAINTER,
Glazier and Paperer,
Central Street, South Danvers.
All orders promptly and faithfully executed.
jan2-1y

JESSE SMITH
No. 262 Essex Street, Salem,
Importer and Dealer in
Gold and Silver Watches,
MARINE CHRONOMETERS,
Aueroid Barometers, Spy Glasses, &c.

WILLIAM BLANEY,
HOUSE & SIGN PAINTER
Grainer, Glazier and Paper Hanger.
164 MAIN STREET, Corner of Grove.
WINDOWS and BLINDS cheap for cash.
mch6-tf

F. POOLE
INSURANCE AGENT,
Allen's Building (up stairs),
Deeds drawn, and other common forms.

AARON T. LOWE,
DEALER IN
BOOTS, SHOES AND RUBBERS,
76 BOSTON STREET, 76.
aug 6 SALEM. tf

STURGIS'
ELECTRIC COMPOUND,
An Effectual External Remedy for NEURALGIA
—AND—
RHEUMATISM.
ALSO, INVALUABLE FOR
Spinal Irritation, Ague in the Face, Toothache, Pain in the Side, Back, and Limbs, Ear, Ague, &c.

Among the Advantagos of this Medicine are the following:

Its effect is very rapid—in most cases instantaneous.
It is external in its application, and the patient runs no risk in using it. It does not strike to the stomach.
It reaches the nerves and muscles, as it is believed no other medicine does.
It has cured some of the most violent and obstinate cases of Neuralgia ever known.
It can be used on a child or an aged person alike.
While it is very powerful, it is perfectly harmless.
The proprietor has been allowed to publish the names of many persons who have used the Compound with the most beneficial results. He inserts a few of them They are among the most respectable citizens of Boston and other places, and their residences and places of business are given.
Rev. N. Munroe, late of Boston Recorder
Joseph H. Allen, 119 Washington St., house 55 Ruthland Street.
N. P Kempt, Tract Society, 40 Cornhill.
Addison Boyden, 408 Washington Street, Boston, firm of Haley, Morse & Boyden.
William H. Brewster, Publisher of Boston Traveller.
The following letter from one of our best citizens will speak for itself:
Rev. Joseph E. Barry, the children's missionary of Boston, was the recipient a few weeks since of a bottle of Sturgis's Electric Compound, for Neuralgia, Rheumatism, &c., and having experienced great benefit from its use, and having known of many severe cases of the above complaints where it produced cures, considers it his duty to make known to his friends and others being so unfortunate as to be troubled with these terrible complaints, the virtue of this preparation
Boston, Sept. 15, 1863. JOSEPH E. BARRY.
Remarkable Cure of Neuralgia.—The following letter, (unsolicited,) was received by the proprietor in May last:
Camp Rogers, Newbern, May 6, 1863.
Dear Sir. I have been for some weeks suffering under a severe attack of Neuralgia, the severity of which has caused me to be in 'perfect agony' both night and day. Having heard of Sturgis's Electric Compound from a "companion in arms." I was induced to give it a trial, which had the happy effect to immediately cure me. I am surprised that surgeons do not have it in the army, as there is a constant demand for such an invaluable relief I make this statement for the public good, and I have no scruples about your using this as a recommendation to other victims of this painful disorder.
Yours, respectfully. JOSEPH HOUGHTON,
Co. D. 43d Reg't Mass. Vols.
For Sale by all Druggists.
☞ Office No. 119 Washington St., Boston.
Sept. 28—6mo.

Vitrified Stone Drain Pipe.
Just received and for sale by the subscribers, 5000 feet of the above Pipe, the usual sizes suitable for drainage; the best in the market.
Apply to
B. R. WHITE, Mason,
St Peter Court.
or F. P. GOSS, Plumber,
No. 7 St. Peter st.
Salem, Aug. 3, 1864.—3m

DR. J. H. BATCHELDER,
DENTAL SURGEON,
No. 20 Washington St., (near Eastern Railroad Depot), Salem, Mass.
Is Licensed to make the New Patent Teeth on HARD RUBBER or VULCANITE.
July 1, 1864.

REAL ESTATE.

The subscriber offers for sale the following Lots of Land, with the buildings thereon, at Private Sale, until October next, when, if not previously sold, they will be put up at auction.
On Lowell street, a two story Dwelling House, fitted for two families. This is the Estate formerly known as the Southwick Tavern.
On Lowe street, leading from Foster St. to Washington St., a two story Tenement for two families with a garden attached to it.
On Washington street, near the residence of Capt. Lowe, a very eligible Building Lot, on the North side of the street.
On Tremont street, a small Cottage House for one or two families.
On Walnut street, a pleasant, elevated Lot of Land, with a large Barn, situated opposite Mr. Caller's Currying Shop.
In the rear of the above Two Tenement Houses.
For particulars apply to
jy 27 WILLIAM SUTTON.

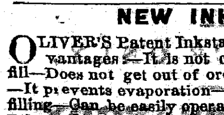
Salem and Danvers Aqueduct Co'y.
All persons using the water of the Salem and South Danvers Aqueduct, are hereby notified that the water rents, for the six months ending Nov'r 1, 1864, are now due: and that they are required to pay the same, at the office of the Company, No. 2 Sewall Street, on the 1st day of October inst. Should the bills remain unpaid for thirty days, the water will be stopped, in conformity to the regulations of the Company.
Office hours from 9 to 1 o'clock, and from 2 to 5.
Per order of the Directors,
Salem, Oct 1, 1864. WM. JELLY, Collector.

SELF-SEALING
AIR-TIGHT CASKET.
Mr. Charles S. Buffum, Furnishing Undertaker of South Danvers, takes this method to announce that he has a new burial case, which combines all the advantages of a wooden receptacle with those of a metal one, and yet avoids the disadvantages of both. They have been used with great success, and bodies placed in them have been delivered in perfect preservation after having been transported over a thousand miles. To persons having deceased friends at the seat of war they are invaluable. They come at reasonable prices, are light and durable, and are perfectly airtight. august 10

EBEN UPTON,
Piano Fortes Tuned and Regulated,
MELODEONS AND PIANOS
BOUGHT, AND EXCHANGED
For New Piano Fortes, at Wholesale Prices.
Orders left at G. Creamer's Bookstore, Salem.
July 27, 1864.—6m

FURNITURE.
Having taken the Store No. 10 Front Street, (formerly occupied by Benjamin Colman,) I shall keep constantly on hand a large stock of
NEW AND SECOND-HAND FURNITURE,
BEDDING, COUNTING-ROOM DESKS, &c., &c.,
which I will sell cheap for Cash.
ALL KINDS OF FURNITURE NEATLY REPAIRED.
☞ All kinds of FURNITURE and BEDDING wanted—for which the highest Cash price will be paid.
P. J. HYNES, 10 Front-St.
Salem, April 6, 1864—1y

CURRIER & MILLETT,
Dealers in



Furniture, Chairs,
MATTRESSES, FEATHERS, &
259 & 261 ESSEX ST.
Salem, dec 14—1y

NEW INKSTAND.
Oliver's Patent Inkstand claims the following advantages:—It is not complicated—No trouble to fill—Does not get out of order—It is very economical—It prevents evaporation—Does not require frequent filling—Can be easily operated—It is easily cleaned—Filters the Ink for use—Keeps the Ink free from exposure and fresh and limpid—it is both ornamental and durable. For sale by
Salem, Sept 23 G M WHIPPLE & A A SMITH.

LIFE INSURANCE.
THE MUTUAL
LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY,
Of New York, with a Capital of $11,000,000,
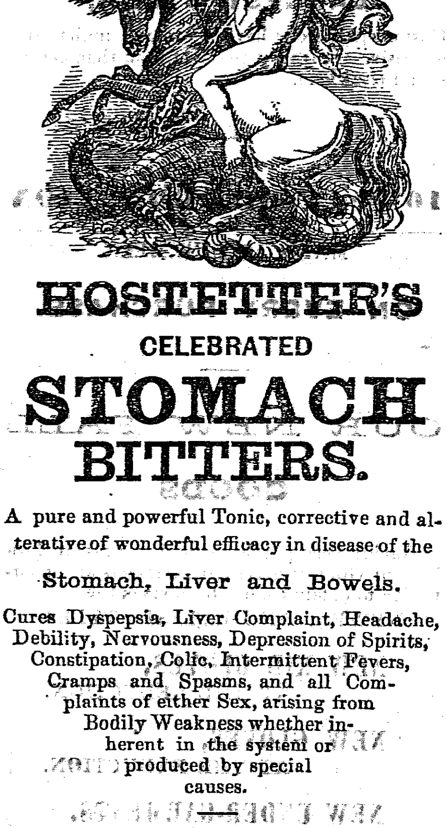
And an Annual Income of over
$2,000,000,
And declaring a LARGER DIVIDEND than any other Company in the United States, is the one in which every man should secure a policy on his life.
The importance of LIFE INSURANCE cannot be too highly estimated. It is the safest and most practicable method of securing to your family, in case of your death, the means of a comfortable and independent support. Thousands of instances might be cited where families have thus been provided with a competency, who would otherwise have been left in penury and want. Husbands and fathers! treat not with indifference a subject of such vital importance, but see to it at once. that your families are provided with the inestimable advantages which this great and benevolent institution affords.
Because a man has wealth, it is no reason why he should not insure, for he knows not how soon his riches may "take to themselves wings and fly away." And let those who complain of the want of means, remember that
Forty-Five Cents a Week,
Will insure $1,000 on the life of a man of THIRTY.
AN ENDOWMENT POLICY,
Secures to the assured party, on attaining to a certain age, say 50, 55 or 60 years, an amount sufficient for his support in advanced age.
Another feature of this subject, deserving of especial attention, is
SURVIVORSHIP ANNUITIES!
By means of which one party may secure to another, an annuity sufficient to maintain them in comfort and independence through life A husband may thus make provision for his wife; a father for his child; or a brother for his sister.
Endowment Policies for Children.
By this means a parent may provide, by the payment of a small annual premium, a sum of money sufficient to enable a son to enter into business, at a proper age, or for any other provision, either for a son or daughter.
Many Gentlemen of So. Danvers and Vicinity!
Have already availed themselves of this opportunity now offered of ensuring their lives, and thus securing an inestimable blessing to themselves and their families Let others be equally wise, and immediately follow their example.
JOHN H. DERBY,
Agent for South Danvers and Vicinity.
Post Office address, Salem, Mass.
September 14, 1864.—tf.

R. C. MANNING & CO,
Successors to JOHN DIKE & CO.,
DEALERS IN
COAL, WOOD, BARK, HAY, &c,
188 DERBY STREET,
SALEM, MASS.
N. C. ROBBINS, R. C. MANNING.
oct17



HOSTETTER'S
CELEBRATED STOMACH
BITTERS.
A pure and powerful Tonic, corrective and alterative of wonderful efficacy in disease of the
Stomach, Liver and Bowels.
Cures Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Headache, Debility, Nervousness, Depression of Spirits, Constipation, Colic, Intermittent Fevers, Cramps and Spasms, and all Complaints of either Sex, arising from Bodily Weakness whether inherent in the system or produced by special causes.
Nothing that is not wholesome, genial and restorative in its nature enters into the composition of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. This popular preparation contains no mineral of any kind, no deadly botanical element; no fiery excitant; but it is a combination of the extracts of rare balsamic herbs and plants with the purest and mildest of all diffusive stimulants.
It is well to be forearmed against disease, and, so far as the human system can be protected by human means against maladies engendered by an unwholesome atmosphere, impure water and other external causes, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS may be relied on as a safeguard.
In districts infested with Fever and Ague, it has been found infallible as a preventive and irresistible as a remedy and thousands who resort to it under apprehension of an attack escape the scourage; and thousands who neglect to avail themselves of its protective qualities in advance, are cured by a very brief course of this marvelous medicine. Fever and Ague patients, after being plied with quinine for months in vain, until fairly saturated with that dangerous alkaloid, are not unfrequently restored to health within a few days by the use of HOSTETTER'S BITTERS.
The weak stomach is rapidly invigorated and the appetite restored by this agreeable Tonic, and hence it works wonders in cases of Dyspepsia and in less confirmed forms of Indigestion. Acting as a gentle and painless apperient, as well as upon the liver, it also invariably relieves the Constipation superinduced by irregular action of the digestive and secretive organs.
Persons of feeble habit, liable to Nervous Attacks, Lowness of Spirits and Fits of Languor, find prompt and permanent relief from the Bitters. The testimony on this point is most conclusive, and from both sexes.
The agony of Bilious Colic is immediately assuaged by a single dose of the stimulant, and by occasionally resorting to it, the return of the complaint may be prevented.
As a General Tonic, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS produce effects which must be experienced or witnessed before they can be fully appreciated. In cases of Constitutional Weakness, Premature Decay and Debility and Decrepitude arising from Old Age, it exercises the electric influence. In the convalescent stages of all diseases it operates as a delightful invigorant. When the powers of nature are relaxed, it operates to re-enforce and re-establish them.
Last, but not least, it is The Only Safe Stimulant, being manufactured from sound and innocuous materials, and entirely free from the acid elements present more or less in all the ordinary tonics and stomachics of the day.
No family medicine has been so universally, and, it may be truly added, deservedly popular with the intelligent portion of the community, as HOSTETTER'S BITTERS.
Prepared by HOSTETTER & SMITH, Pittsburgh, Pa.
Sold by all Druggists, Grocers and Storekeepers everywhere.
December 16, 1863,—1 yr.

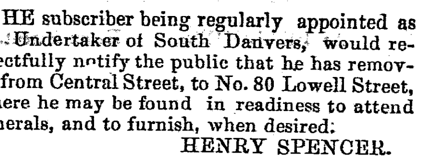
VALUABLE REAL ESTATE.
The Subscriber offers for sale the following Lots of Land, with the Buildings thereon, at private sale, until September next, when such as then remain unsold, will be offered at Public Auction:
A new and well built two-story DWELLING HOUSE, situated on English Street.—This house is well supplied with the modern conveniences, is pleasantly situated on rising ground, and is a very desirable residence.
On Walnut Street is the large BOARDING HOUSE, with the land adjoining, which is excellently well situated for what it is designed
Several front LOTS for building purposes on Walnut Street, will be sold at moderate prices and fair terms.
A STORE HOUSE 70 by 25 feet on Walnut Street, with the land under and the rear of it. It can be easily adapted for a Curriers' Shop, or for other kinds of business.
On Wallis Street, near the mill pond, a well built and painted MOROCCO FACTORY, all ready for occupancy. It is about 80 feet long by 25 wide, and in excellent repair.
Next to the Morocco Factory on the same street, a STORE BUILDING, strongly built, and framed for a Dwelling House, for which it could be easily adapted. Or it would make an excellent Shop for any kind of business.
Near ELM STREET, on a Court south of said street, are two DWELLING HOUSES, planned for two families each. One is two stories high, the other one and a half. Both houses have good tenants and yield a good income; offering a good chance for investment.
Between Harris and English Streets, one One Story DWELLING House, and a One Story and a Half House.
The above is a most excellent opportunity for enterprising young men to secure places for business and dwelling houses, on reasonable terms. Such a chance may not soon again occur.
Persons desiring to purchase any of the above lots may learn the prices and terms on application to ANDREW S. PORTER, Elm Street.
SAMUEL D. PENDAR.
South Danvers, May 11, 1864. tf

Indispensable to Every Soldier and Seaman.

BROOKS PATENT
WRITING AND TOILET CASE.

Easily carried in the coat pocket. Supplied by the manufacturers at the old price—$2.
D. B. BROOKS & BROTHER,
*201 Essex Street, Salem, Mass.
Those who have friends in the Army of the Potomac can have them sent to them free of postage. sept 7

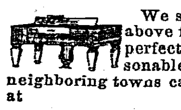
HENRY G. HUBON,
WASHINGTON STREET, SALEM
Manufacturers of
Rose Wood, Mahogany, Black Walnnt and Stained Wood
COFFINS and CASKETS.
Making this our exclusive business, we are ready at all times and at the shortest notice to furnish Grave Clothes of various styles, as well as Coffins and Caskets of the finest finish. Personal attention given, and delivered without extra charge to any of the neighboring towns. All orders by express or otherwise will receive prompt attention.
nov 1—tf



CHARLES S. BUFFUM,
Being an authorized UNDERTAKER of South Danvers, will attend Funerals in said place with his Hearse the same as the Town Undertaker. Will also attend Funerals, when desired, in any of the neighboring towns, with one or a pair of horses.
He also furnishes Coffin Caskets, Robes, etc., lower than city prices.
All branches of the business attended to, such as furnishing Coaches, Flowers, Laying Out, etc.
Ice Preservers Furnished.
All orders promptly attended to, and personal attention given to them. Articles delivered to any of the neighboring towns free of charge. Orders by express or otherwise will receive prompt attention.
Central street, South Danvers,
RESIDENCE 25 ELM STREET.
South Danvers, Feb 17, 1864.

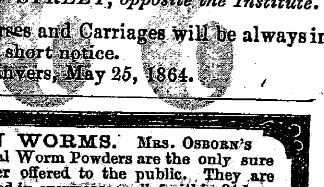
Undertaker's Notice!
The subscriber being regularly appointed as Undertaker of South Danvers, would respectfully notify the public that he has removed from Central Street, to No. 80 Lowell Street, where he may be found in readiness to attend funerals, and to furnish, when desired.
HENRY SPENCER.
February 10, 1864.

Chickering & Sons' Piano-Fortes.
Hallett & Cumston's Piano-Fortes.
Hallett & Davis's Piano-Fortes.



We select our Piano-Fortes from the above firms and warrant them to give perfect satisfaction Our terms are reasonable, and all persons in the city and neighboring towns can be accommodated by calling at 76 Federal street.
FOR SALE—Second-hand Piano-Fortes,—Chickering's and others.
ap 29 ANN R. BRAY.

MOULTON'S
NEW LIVERY STABLE,



Is removed to stable formerly occupied by
SAMUEL HAM,
On MAIN STREET, opposite the Institute.
Good Horses and Carriages will be always in readiness at short notice.
South Danvers, May 25, 1864.

PIN WORMS. Mrs. Osborn's Universal Worm Powders are the only sure cure ever offered to the public. They are warranted in every case; relief within 24 hrs. 25 cts. per box. Sold by all druggists.
For sale by D. P. GROSVENOR, Jr., 33 Main St., South Danvers. jan 27

MORRIS'
RESTAURANT,
18 and 20 Derby Square, Salem.
Oysters, Clams, Steak, Poultry, Game, Fish, &c., &c., COOKED TO ORDER.
Pickled Oysters, Lobsters and Clams.
Salem, July 22, 1863. tf

GAYLE & CO.,
COMMISSION MERCHANTS,
AND DEALERS IN
Flour, Grain and Produce,
PHILLIPS WHARF, - - - - Salem.

WEBSTER'S NEW DICTIONARY,
New edition, illustrated throughout and greatly enlarged—for sale by
oct 12 G. M. WHIPPLE & A. A. SMITH.

PAPER SHADES.
A fine assortment of Paper Shades for Kerosene Lamps, just received from Philadelphia, and for sale at S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS', 32 Front St.
oct 12

JUST ARRIVED,
AT DANVERS MILLS,
500 Bushels Corn, in the minnie cob, and will be sold in South Danvers. Constantly on hand a large stock of meal, which will be sold at the lowest Salem prices.
—ALSO ON HAND—
500 Bushels Feed;
200 Bushels prime Northern Oats;
100 Barrels choicest Family Flour.
A good stock of LIME constantly on hand.
JOHN C. MOULTON,
Central St., South Danvers, Mass.
Aug 25—tf.

THE TRAVELERS INS. CO.,
OF HARTFORD, CONN.
Capital - - - - - - $250,000.
Is now prepared to Insure persons against
ACCIDENTS
OF EVERY DESCRIPTION.
Yearly policies will be issued for a premium of
FIVE DOLLARS,
granting insurance to the amount of
FIVE THOUSAND DOLLARS,
against accidental loss of life while travelling by any public conveyance.
TEN DOLLARS PREMIUM
secures a policy for Five Thousand Dollars, and also twenty-five dollars per week compensation for personal injury incapacitating the assured from his ordinary business.
TWENTY-FIVE DOLLARS PREMIUM
secures a full policy for $5000 and $25 per week compensation for all and EVERY DESCRIPTION OF ACCIDENT, TRAVELLING OR OTHERWISE.
Policies for $5000 with $3 per week compensation, can be had for $3 per annum; or any other sum between $500 and $5000 at proportionate rates.
Directors:
Gustavus F. Davis, W. H. D. Callender,
James L. Howard, George W. Moore,
Marshal Jeweil, Ebenezer Roberts,
Thomas Belknap, Jr., Charles White,
Cornelius B. Irwin, Hugh Harrison,
George S. Gilman, Jonathan B. Bunce.
JAMES G. PATTERSON, President.
RODNEY DENNIS, Secretary.
HENRY A. DYER, General Agent.
PLUMBER & MERCER, Agents,
40 State Street, Boston.
Offices in Salem—JOHN H. DERBY, No. 24 Washington street; SAMUEL MACKINTIRE, No. 218 Essex street. Aug. 3, 1864—1yr*

SKINNER'S PULMONALES S
Skinner's Pulmonales
Immediately Relieve Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, loss of Voice, Bronchitis, Lassitude, Thirst and every symptom of the first stages of Pulmonary Consumption; they are white, in form of a wafer, and as suitable for the infant in the cradle as the patient of three score years and ten. Orators and all who overtax the vocal organs receive instant relief by their use. Sold by all Druggists. Prepared by E. M. SKINNER, Chemist, 27 Tremont St., Boston. sept 7—1y

SPALDING'S ROSE MARY
For fourteen years the Rosemary has held a high rank as pure, uniform and reliable. It is Warranted. 1st, To beautify the hair. 2d, To curl the hair elegantly. 3d, To remove dandruff effectually. 4th, To restore hair to bald heads. 5th, To force the beard and whiskers to grow. 6th, To prevent the hair from falling off. 7th, To cure all diseases of the scalp. 8th, To prevent the hair turning grey. 9th, To cure headache. 10th, To kill hair eaters. Sold everywhere. Prepared by EDW. M SKINNER, Chemist, 27 Tremont St., opposite the Museum, Boston, Mass. sept 7—1y

ALWAYS SUCCESSFUL!
TO ALL THOSE WHO SUFFER FROM
DEBILITY AND SEMINAL WEAKNESS.
Drs. Carswell & Hunter, regularly educated, highly eminent and successful practitioners, after a very extensive practice in Boston, for over twenty years, need hardly speak of their medical qualifications, or remind strangers not to class them with a set of uneducated men, who fill the papers with their boasting advertisements. Drs. C. & H. caution the public against quackery in all its forms, pretending, as some self-styled doctors, to cure all the most difficult and chronic diseases, without knowledge of the human system, or of the modus operandi of the most simple drugs.
Drs. C. & H., since 1840, having confined their whole attention to an office practice for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, they acknowledge no superiors.
CONSTITUTIONAL DEBILITY OR SEMINAL WEAKNESS.
Drs. C. & H. are pre-eminently successful in the treatment of the above most difficult and perplexing of all diseases, this complaint being the result of a secret habit in youth; if neglected or improperly treated, it proves one of the greatest evils that can befall a human being. Dr. H. has given particular attention to the above disease for years, and so thoroughly has he become acquainted with the pathology and treatment, that he will warrant a perfect cure under forfeiture of $500; in fact, he will, in the cure of this complaint, acknowledge no superior in this country, or even in the world. Come, then, all you who are afflicted, come to the Old Stand, where you will in a short time be made to rejoice in perfect health.
Syphilitic and Scrofulous Affections,—such as Ulcers and Caries of the throat and nose, Running Sores on the legs and arms, Hard Scabs and Scaly Eruptions on the head, back, &c., pains in the bones and joints, and all other forms of venereal diseases—are made to yield and entirely disappear under Drs. C. & H.'s improved and thoroughly eradicating course of treatment.
The primary or first symptoms of disease, whether a simple running, or small pistules, cancers, or ulcers, are cured in a very few days, if immediate application is made to Drs. C. & H.
13 ENDICOTT STREET, BOSTON. 13
Strangers should be particular in the selection of a physician, lest they be deceived by false advertisements.
Ladies troubled with irregularity, weakness, whites, and other complaints peculiar to the female system, will find a speedy cure by calling as above. No mercury used, and no charge for advice. The afflicted are invited to give us a call.
Boston April 20, 1864.—1 yr.

BELL'S SPECIFIC PILLS.—Warranted in all Cases.—.—Can be relied on! Never fail to cure! Do not nauseate! Are speedy in action! No change of diet required! Do not interfere with business pursuits! Can be used without detection! Upward of 200 cures the past month—some of them very severe cases. Over one hundred physicians have used them in their practice, and all speak well of their efficacy, and approve of their composition, which is entirely vegetable and harmless on the system. Hundreds of certificates can be shown.
Bell's Specific Pills are the original and only genuine Specific Pill. They are adapted for male and female, old or young, and the only reliable remedy for effecting a permanent and speedy cure in all cases of Spermatorrhea, or Seminal Weakness, with all its train of evils, such as Urethral and Vaginal Discharges, Gleet, the Whites, Nightly or Involuntary Emissions, Incontinence, Genital Debility and Irritability, Impotence, Weakness or Loss of Power, Nervous Debility, &c., &c., all of which arise principally from Sexual Excesses or Self-Abuse, or some constitutional derangement, and incapacitates the sufferer from fulfilling the duties of married life. In all sexual diseases, as Gonorrhea, Gleet, and Strictures, and in Diseases of the Bladder and Kidneys, they act as a charm! Relief is experienced by taking a single box.
Sold by all the principal druggists. Price $1.
They will be sent by mail, securely sealed, and confidentially, on receipt of the money, by
J BRYAN, M. D.,
No. 76 Cedar street, New York,
Consulting Physician for the treatment of Seminal, Urinary, Sexual, and Nervous Diseases, who will send, free to all, the following valuable work, in sealed envelope:
The Fiftieth Thousand.—Dr. Bell's Treatise on Self-Abuse, Premature Decay, Impotence and Loss of Power, Sexual Diseases, Seminal Weakness, Nightly Emissions, Genital Debility, &c., &c., a pamphlet of 64 pages, containing important advice to the afflicted, and which should be read by every sufferer, as the means of cure in the severest stages is plainly set forth. Two stamps required to pay postage. December 9, 1863—1 yr.

Important to Ladies.—Dr. Harvey's Female Pills have never yet failed in removing difficulties arising from obstruction, or stoppage of nature, or in restoring the system to perfect health when suffering from Spinal Affections, Prolapsus, Uteri, the Whites, or other weakness of the Uterine Organs. The Pills are perfectly harmless on the constitution, and may be taken by the most delicate female without causing distress—the same time they act like a charm by strengthening, invigorating and restoring the system to a healthy condition, and by bringing on the monthly period with regularity, no matter from what causes the obstruction may arise. They should, however, NOT be taken during the first three or four months of pregnancy, though safe at any other time, as miscarriage would be the result.
Each box contains 60 Pills. Price $1.
Dr. Harvey's Treatise on Diseases of Females, Pregnancy, Miscarriage, Barrenness, Sterility, Reproduction, and Abuses of Nature, and emphatically the Ladies' Private Medical Adviser, a pamphlet of 64 pages, sent free to any address. Six cents required to pay postage
The Pills and book will be sent by mail when desired, securely sealed, and prepaid, by
J. BRYAN, M. D, General Agent,
No. 76 Cedar street, New York.
☞ Sold by all the principal druggists.
December 9, 1863—1 yr.

SUMMER ARRA
—TO—
LYNN & BO
OMNIBUS & HO
W. F. BURN
Line of Omnibuses will leave t
Omnibus Office, No. 6 Allen's I vers, passing down Main Street,
Street, to Lynn, daily—Sundays
Leave South Danvers at 7 50
and 4 50 P. M
Leave Lynn (Horse Car Depot,
A. M., 2 40 and 6 40 P. M.
Horse Cars leaving the office
at 8 15 A. M., 1 15 and 5 15 P. M., buses at Lynn, at the above n
passengers to South Danvers.
Tickets to Lynn,
Through to Boston,

Gravesend, Woodend
Depot Rou
On and after Monday, Nov 2,
route, an Omnibus will leave
Lynn, to connect with the stea
times daily,—Sundays excepted
Gravesend and Woodend, to the
and Horse Railroad Station, co
Broad Streets; leaving South Dan necting with the 7.55 steam cars
(connecting with the 11.10 train), ing with the 4.50 train); and ret from the Spring Street Station a pot, at 8 A. M, and 1 and 6 P. M.
Fare from S. Danvers to Bosto
" "
Through Tickets to and from B
the Drivers and Conductors.

EXPRESS BUS
Between South Danvers and Ly
ed to, on reasonable terms.
Extra Coaches furnished at sho
W. F.
South Danvers, April 20, 1864.

CROUT & MU
SOUTH DANVERS
RAILROAD E
Express leaves South Danvers a
Freight " "
Express leaves Boston at Freight— " "
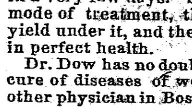
OFFICE at FREIGHT
Danvers Square.
Express Office in Boston, 3 W
Freight Office, 48 K
Particular attention paid t
niture, collecting Bills, Notes
Smallest favors thankfully recei
South Danvers, august 26—tf

LITTLEFI
South Danvers & Salem



goods usually delivered by Express
Leave South Danvers at 7½ and
Leave Salem at 8.45 A M., 2 an This Express connects with the
going East.
Slates—In Salem, 13 Central st.,
Roberts' store, corner of Front and
South Danvers—At the Post Offi
man's store; also at R. O. Spiller's

Important to the
Dr. Dow continues to be cons
Nos. 7 and 9 Endicott street, B
eases of a
PRIVATE OR DELICATE
By a long course of study and of unlimited extent, Dr. D. has no
of presenting the unfortunate w have never, since the first intro
cure the most alarming cases of
GONORRHEA AND SY
Beneath his treatment, all the h
and impure blood, Impotency, Scro
Ulcers, pain and distress in the reg
tion, Inflammation of the Bladder
drocele, Abscesses, Humors, frigh
the long train of horrible sympto
class of disease, are made to becom
the simplest ailings of a child.
SEMINAL WEAKNE
Dr. D. devotes a great part of his
ment of those cases caused by a se
habit, which ruins the body and mi
unfortunate individual for busines
of the sad and melancholy effects habits of youth, are Weakness o
limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimn
pitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, N
rangement of the digestive functio
Consumption, &c. The fearful effe
are much to be dreaded; loss of m
of ideas, depression of spirits,
aversion of society, self-distrust,
among the evils produced. Such pe
fore contemplating matrimony, cons experience, and be at once restor
happiness.
Patients who wish to remain under
ment a few days or weeks, will be pleasant rooms, and charges for b
Medicines sent to all parts of the directions for use, on receiving cases. Dr. Dow has also for sale
warranted the best preventive,
or $1 and a red stamp.

CAUTION
TO FEMALES IN DELICAT
DR. DOW, Physician and Surgeon street, Boston, is consulted daily dent to the female system. Prolapsu
ing of the Womb, Fluor Albus, Sup er menstrual derangements, are all pathological principles, and speedy
in a very few days. So invariably mode of treatment, that most obsti
yield under it, and the afflicted pers
in perfect health.
Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater cure of diseases of women and chil
other physician in Boston.
Boarding accommodations for pa
wish to stay in Boston a few days
ment.
Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confin
tention to an office practice for the
Diseases and Female Complaints, a
superior in the United States.
N. B.—All letters must contain fou
they will not be answered.
Office Hours from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M.

CERTAIN CUR
IN ALL CASES, OR NO CHAR
Dr. Dow is consulted daily, from 8
as above, upon all difficult and chro
every name and nature, having by his tention and extraordinary success gain which calls patients from all parts o
obtain advice.
Among the physicians in Boston, no
in the profession than the celebrated
7 Endicott street, Boston. Those wh vices of an experienced physician and give him a call. P.S.—Dr. Dow impo sale a new article, called the French by mail. Two for $1 and a red stamp
April 20, 1864—1y.

Job Press for Sa
Ruggles' Job Engine Press.
by 19 inches. Can be run by one of 800 per hour. Is in good condition.
very low price, as the owner has no us
big bargain. Apply at this office.

HEYLINGBERG'S
Hair Dressing
24 MAIN ST., SOUTH DA
J. J. HEYLINGBERG would inform rons and the public generally, th
JUNE 1st, 1864, he will abide by the
TARIFF OF PRICES.
Shaving,
Hair Cutting,
Champooing,
Particular attention paid to dyeing kers, in one preparation, without wa
bing.
South Danvers, May 31, 1864.

25 YEARS' EXPERIENCE
CARSWELL & HUNTER
of a private nature in a shorter space a smaller amount of money than any this country, and they also treat all fo with perfect success, and on the terms. Patients furnished with boa
Please give us a call at our office, No.
Boston, Mass.
Boston, April 20, 1864.—1 yr.

South Danvers Wizard.

L. V. SOUTH DANVERS, MASS., WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 9, 1864. NO. 45.

OUTH DANVERS WIZARD
every WEDNESDAY, at Allen's Buildanyers Square.
wo Dollars a year.
EMENTS inserted at reasonable rates.
HARLES D. HOWARD,
OR AND PROPRIETOR.

NILES, Advertising Agent,
ay's Building, Court Street, Boston, is
for that city, and is authorized to re-tisements and subscriptions for us at rates.

dvertisements.

GOLDEN OPPORTUNITY,"
TH A DISCOUNT!

ent fall in GOLD having produced esponding effect on the value of ANDISE,

AVE MARKED DOWN
ur Entire Stock of
LOTHING,
elow the basis of a Gold value,
g to customers the MOST FAVORABLE
OPPORTUNITY
t presented of Selecting their
TER CLOTHING.
ME REDUCTION EXTENDS TO THE
STOM DEPARTMENT.
Please examine our
Stock and Low Prices,
And let your interest decide.

. BOISE & CO.,
ACTURERS & DEALERS IN CLOTHING,
Washington Street,
BOSTON,
Five doors south of Milk St.)
2d, 1864.

NTLEMEN'S HATS.
FALL STYLES.
the best selected assortments of FALL and TER HATS in Boston, may be found at
A. JACKSON'S,
emont and 101 Court Sts.
COMPRISING
Silk Hats,
Fine Felt Hats, and
Cloth Hats and Caps,
latest styles.
ATS AND CAPS FOR BOYS.
A large and well assorted stock of Ladies
lemen's FURS.
JACKSON'S,
ourt St. and 59 Tremont St.,
3—3m. BOSTON.

EW STORE!
lour! Flour!
RECEIVED, a fresh supply of CHOICE
NDS, direct from the Mills, for sale,
ale and retail, at LOWEST PRICES, by
E. F. OSBORN.
Sutton's Building, Main St.
h Danvers, Nov 18, 1863.

VM. C. HENDERSON,
MANUFACTURER OF
PLAIN AND FANCY
PER BOXES,
o. 235 ESSEX STREET,
Sign of "Nest of Boxes,"
SALEM. tf

M. FENOLLOSA,
TEACHER OF MUSIC,
.........PIANO FORTES,
at the lowest rates;
S.........PIANO FORTES,
at the Manufacturers Prices;
ANGES....PIANO FORTES,
on the easiest terms;
At Rooms No. 7 Central street,
SALEM, MASS.

ing Books, Making Bills and
Copying.
above business will be promptly and accurately rformed by the subscriber, who may be found at CLARK & GIDDINGS' Counting Room on Wal-et, near the Essex Depot, or by enquiring at this jy13 tf JOHN D. HOWARD.

PECTACLES!
F. SKERRY wishes to call special attention to his stock of
pectacles and Eye Glasses, d—Silver—Rubber—Steel and Horn frames, of he keeps constantly on hand a very large as-ent, embracing every style and quality.
—ALSO—
pera Glasses, Microscopes, &c.
sses re-set, and Spectacles repaired.
Store, our usual assortment of Silver and Plated
Jewelry, Fancy Goods, and Toys. Also, Can-
Ware,
No. 180 Essex Street, Salem.
H. F. SKERRY.
g. 17—tf

G. H. LANE & CO.

BEING connected with one of the largest Clothing Houses in Franklin Street, and having made extensive preparations for this present season's business, now offer in

Special Departments

(all of which will be found full and complete) the following, at PRICES far below the present cost to manufacture.

OVERCOATS.

The most extensive show of Overcoats ever offered in this market, combining all the popular makes of

Chinchillas, Castors, Tricots, Eskimos, Beavers and Pilots,

In SACKS and SURTOUTS, some of which are particularly adapted to the wants of DRIVERS, being made up with Fur bindings and facings.

BUSINESS COATS,
embracing many new styles.

WALKING COATS,
manufactured from a great variety of PLAIN and MIXED Goods.

ENGLISH HUNTING COATS,
made from heavy FUR BEAVER.

DRESS COATS,
in plain BLACKS and DIAGONAL RIBBED, TRICOT and AMOOR GOODS.

BUSINESS SUITS,
of all grades, from the finest and most expensive qualities down to medium and low priced goods.

PANTALOONS,
A great variety, including some of the most STRIKING, NOVEL and UNIQUE PATTERNS.

VESTS,
a very attractive and thoroughly assorted stock.

Boys' Department.

Under the most capable management, is at all times full in stock and assortment. Our styles for this season being entirely new and strictly our own.

BOYS OVERCOATS,
an unusually large and handsome line, embracing all the leading styles.

BOYS TOGAS,
to be found only at this establishment being original with us.

JACKETS AND PANTS,
to match—perhaps the best assortment that can be offered by any house in the trade.

METROPOLITAN SUITS,
manufactured from a variety of Fabrics, selected with special reference to the requirements of genteel trade.

CARIBALDI SUITS,
new and elegant stocks, unsurpassed for style and finish.

POLKA SUITS,
in the largest quantity and made from the best quality of goods.

The above comprises one of the LARGEST and BEST SELECTED STOCKS of MEN'S and BOYS' CLOTHING ever before offered at RETAIL in NEW ENGLAND.

Special Inducements to Wholesale Buyers for Cash.

G. H. LANE & CO.,
31 and 32 DOCK SQUARE,
Oct. 26th, 1864. BOSTON.

HOUSEKEEPERS, ATTENTION!
JACKSON'S
KITCHEN FURNISHING ROOMS,
Under MECHANIC HALL, Salem.
Parties about commencing House-Keeping will find this the ONLY place in Salem where a COMPLETE ASSORTMENT of House-Keeping articles can be found.
dec 9, 1863.

T. HARDY, JR.,
—Dealer in—
DOORS, SASHES, BLINDS,
Glazed Sash, Painted Blinds,
FENCE PALES, STAIR BALUSTERS, FRAMING PINS, &c.
No. 26 FRONT STREET,
Salem, January 14, 1863—tf.

CAMPAIGN MEDALS,
OF different styles—at
oct 12 G. M. WHIPPLE & A. A. SMITH'S.

Special Notices.

To Consumptives.

Consumptive sufferers will receive a valuable prescription for the cure of Consumption, Asthma, Bronchitis, and all Throat and Lung affections (free of charge) by sending their address to Rev. EDWARD A. WILSON, Williamsburg, Kings Co., New York.
sept 21—3 mos.

HAGAN'S MAGNOLIA BALM.

This is the most delightful and extraordinary article ever discovered. It changes the sun burnt face and hands to a pearly satin tex ure of ravishing beauty, imparting the marble purity of youth, and the distingue appearance so inviting in the city belle of fashion. It removes tan, freckles, pimples and roughness from the skin, leaving the complexion fresh, transparent and smooth. It contains no material injurious to the skin. Patronized by Actresses and Opera Singers. It is what every lady should have. Sold everywhere.
Prepared by W. E. HAGAN, Troy N. Y.
Address all orders to
DEMAS S. BARNES, & CO., New-York.

HEIMSTREET'S
INIMITABLE HAIR RESTORATIVE.
NOT A DYE,

But restores gray hair to its original color, by supplying the capillary tubes with natural sustenance, impaired by age or disease. All instantaneous dyes are composed of lunar caustic, destroying the vitality and beauty of the hair, and afford of themselves no dressing. Heimstreet's Inimitable Coloring not only restores hair to its natural color by an easy process,

Luxuriant Beauty,

promotes its growth, prevents its falling off, eradicates dandruff, and imparts health and pleasantness to the head. It has stood the test of time, being the original Hair Coloring, and is constantly increasing in favor. Used by both gentlemen and ladies. It is sold by all respectable dealers, or can be procured by them of the commercial agents, D. S. BARNES & CO, 202 Broadway, New York. Two sizes, 50 cents and $1.

MEXICAN MUSTANG LINIMENT.

The parties in St. Louis and Cincinnati, who have been Counterfeiting the Mustang Liniment under pretense of proprietorship, have been thoroughly estoped by the Courts. To guard against further imposition, I have procured from the U. States Treasury, a private steel plate revenue stamp, which is placed over the top of each bottle. Each stamp bears the fac simile of my Signature, and without which the article is a Counterfeit, dangerous and worthless imitation. Examine every bottle. This Liniment has been in use and growing in favor for many years. There hardly exists a hamlet on the habitable globe that does not contain evidence of its wonderful effects. It is the best emollient in the world. With its present improved ingredients, its effects upon man and beast are perfectly remarkable. Sores are healed, pains relieved, lives saved. Valuable animals made useful, and untold ills assuaged. For cuts, bruises, sprains, rheumatism, swellings, bites, cuts, caked breasts, strained horses, &c., it is a Sovereign Remedy that should never be dispensed with. It should be in every family. Sold by all Druggists.
D. S. BARNES, New-York.
March 9th, 1864.—1 yr.

LYON'S KATHAIRON.

Kathairon is from the Greek word "Kathro," or "Kathairo," signifying to cleanse, rejuvenate and restore. This article is what its name signifies. For preserving, restoring and beautifying the human hair it is the most remarkable preparation in the world. It is again owned and put up by the original proprietor, and is now made with the same care, skill and attention which gave it a sale of over one million bottles per annum.

It is a most delightful Hair Dressing.
It eradicates scurf and dandruff.
It keeps the head cool and clean.
It makes the hair rich, soft and glossy.
It prevents the hair from falling off and turning [gray.
It restores hair upon bald heads.

Any lady or gentleman who values a beautiful head of hair should use Lyon's Kathairon. It is known and used throughout the civilized world. Sold by all respectable dealers.
DEMAS S. BARNES, & CO., New-York.

THE GREAT ENGLISH REMEDY.
SIR JAMES CLARKE'S
CELEBRATED FEMALE PILLS!
Prepared from a prescription of Sir J. Clarke, M. D., Physician Extraordinary to the Queen.

This well known medicine is no imposition, but a sure cure and safe remedy for Female Difficulties and Obstructions, from any cause whatever; and, although a powerful remedy, they contain nothing hurtful to the constitution.

In all cases of Nervous and Spinal Affections, pain in the Back and Limbs, Fatigue on slight exertion Palpitation of the Heart, Hysterics, and Whites, these pills will effect a cure when all other means have failed; and, although a powerful remedy, do not contain iron, calomel, antimony, or anything hurtful to the constitution.

Full directions in the pamphlet around each package, which should be carefully preserved.

For full particulars, obtain, free, of the agent, a pamphlet. Sold by all Druggists.
Sole United States Agent,
JOB MOSES, 27 Cortlandt St., New York.
N. B.—$1 and 6 postage stamps enclosed to any authorized agent, will insure a bottle, containing over 50 pills, by return mail. March 9, 1864.—1 yr.

DR. E. F. KITTREDGE,
From Lowell, formerly of New Ipswich, N. H.,
Has removed his office and residence to
NO. 42 MAIN STREET,
SOUTH DANVERS, MASS.
Dr. K., from an extensive and successful professional experience of upwards of twenty years, feels justified in saying that he can treat diseases to the satisfaction of his patients, and to the credit of himself.
Office hours from 7 to 9 A. M., and from 6 to 9 P. M.
South Danvers, Nov 13, 1863.

MANUAL FENOLLOSA
TEACHER
OF THE
Violin, Piano and Singing,
Music Rooms, No. 7 Central Street,
SALEM, MASS.

☞ Visit OSBORNE'S Store, and look at the unusual variety of new styles in HATS and CAPS—191 Essex street.

Selected.

ON THE MISSISSIPPI.

"Where's my dorg!" exclaimed Jeremiah, in a voice which Rosa Matilda would have said was tremulous with emotion, but which was in reality just a little scared. "Where's my dorg? Muster! Muster!"

The dog came bounding to his master, who was very glad to see him safe, for a cannon-ball had just gone tearing through the Jacob Swan, clearing the heads of those seated in the saloon, and carrying away a music-box that had been perched on the top of a tall glass jar to increase the sweetness of its tones.

The passengers had been warned that we should probably be beset by vagabond artillery on our passage down the Mississippi; and we had voluntarily taken the risk rather than be detained in the mud, malaria, and miserable camp infection of Cairo. We might as well go to-day as to-morrow, or next month. The guerrillas would not be abated while the war raged. All our passengers were urged by motives sufficiently strong to make us dare this desperate game of hazard, which might end in death. One lady was returning to New Orleans, to her husband and children, and a desolate home, with three daughters whom she had just taken from a Northern school. A delicate and beautiful young wife, in that interesting condition that Americans speak of only in the strictest confidence, was going to her husband, who was in New Orleans, a contractor for the Federal army, and a speculator, or something else as lucrative. The young wife only knew that all the luxury and comfort that money could buy, awaited her if she got through safely. Most of the people huddled together like frightened sheep, on the advent of the cannon-ball. The lady with the three daughters stood apart with her charge. She was very pale, but she held her frightened youngest, a girl of twelve years, firmly, and soothed the eldest, who was nervously weeping. The third was calm and pale, like her mother.

"Let us go on the hurricane deck," said Jeremiah; "we have taken their range."—For my part I want to be above such visitors." He looked as if seeking some one. There was a little heap of black silk in a corner, surmounted by a wet face, tangled curls, and a white pocket-handkerchief in constant use. "Mrs. Seaton," said Jeremiah, with a kind of tender reverence in his voice and manner, "will you go up with us? I will lend you my arm,—and Mr. Hartly, I think you will take a cushion, sir."

This was a sort of respectful command, which I appreciated in America; and I proceeded to obey with cheerful alacrity.

"Mrs. Livingston, you and the girls had better come. I am sure we shall be safer above." He raised his voice, and said to the crowd of scared passengers,—I am going to the hurricane deck. I think it is the safest place, but I don't advise anybody to go. I would not take advice from king or president or anybody else, unless I was mighty sure he knew better than I."

He tenderly passed the small balloon of black silk up the stairs, and I dutifully carried the cushion. This, with a shawl like a railway rug, made a sofa for the frightened little lady. Mrs. Livingston and her daughters grouped near us. "Put up your parasols," said Jeremiah. "There never yet was a Southerner who could shoot at a petticoat or a parasol. I think we shall be safe as a thief in a mill, up here."

"My bird!" gasped the little lady. "He hangs over the center-table in the saloon."

"I'll bring your bird," said Jeremiah, cheerfully. It was only risking his life; that was all.

As he arose to go, a puff of smoke was seen upon the bank opposite, an ominous stillnes brooding over us for a moment, and then another cannon-ball crashed through the boat below. Very soon a black face appeared at the head of the stairs, and the colored cook came to us.

"Any harm done?" asked Jeremiah, collaring his dog with energy.

"O, Massa Grierson! Massa Grierson!"

"What is it, Hannibal? Can't you get it out? Have you swallowed your news?"

"O, Massa Grierson! Ole Pete done dead; top his head gone right clean off wid de ball!"

"Anything else?"

"'Nary bird done gone; cage 'n all done gone! O, Massa Grierson!"

"What are you going to do about it, Hannibal?"

"Cap'n Jones says I'm to stay up here. De rest wont come. Dey say we all done dead nex aime if we stay in sight de guns."

"You'd better stay here, Hannibal, if you don't want to be done dead. Here, you Muster; don't you wander off."

The dog returned, and laid himself at his master's feet.

Our seats were filled with the better class of passengers; the more ignorant stayed below thinking we were in greater danger, because we could be seen from the shore. But Jeremiah remarked,—"We have their range. Besides, they don't want to shoot us, they only want to sink the Jacob Swan. They don't locate on low banks; and on the bluffs they have to point their pieces down, or the elevation would send the shot clean over us. They know their business, and so do I. We have got their range, and we may go on our way rejoicing. There's low banks now for a good stretch; at any rate till we get near enough to Memphis to make them skeery. I'll bet a hat we shall be let alone like as if we was in the State Prison, till we get to Memphis."

The passengers about us seemed to share in Jeremiah's confidence. They were relaxing the tension of fear. The ladies began to speak to each other. Two groups of men were playing cards; a Yankee was whittling, chewing tobacco as if for a wager, and spitting spitefully. Mrs. Livingston and her daughters were sitting with their arms around each other, near Mrs. Seaton with her limp curls and tear-wet pocket-handkerchief. Muster and I kept near Jeremiah, who considered himself somewhat like the father of a family in difficulties.

"I never was in love with the mighty, muddy Mississippi," said he. "I had my small amusements on the river before the war, and Muster had his. He saved a poor fellow from drowning, just above here, three years ago just about now. I believe he remembers it as well as I do. Muster, show us how you held the man above water." He knotted his handkerchief about a cane, and threw it down. The dog siezed the knot in his teeth, and gravely supported the cane. "That's just the way he held the man's head above water by the knot of his cravat. He swam down-stream and met the boat; and when we took the poor fellow aboard, Muster was as glad as a Christian. Poor Greene, he'll remember you, Muster, till he goes to kingdom come, and for aught I know, afterward. I must tell you about it.

"We were going to New Orleans, and at Cairo we took aboard a party that I was not happy to see,—not a bit of it. I don't like snags walking about on two legs. The party consisted of a man about thirty or thirty-five years old, with his wife and a young baby, and his mother. The young man was what I call a hard character. He wore a gray coat and pants, and purple velvet vest, with a massive gold, or it might have been gold-plated, chain across the breast. His long, black hair was curled and shiny, and smelt like a barber's shop. He had a red, fluffy face, and his eyes were black and wicked. He had been what many people call good-looking,—good I do not think he could have been with such a mother. She was a tall and stately woman, quite as tall as her son, and about half a century old. She wore a false front, and her forehead was shaved to make it look more expansive and intellectual. I can't answer for her age very accurately; for she was made up in the most elaborate fashion, and was dressed even on the steamboat, in the richest moire-antique and the costliest lace. There is not a sin of the civilized world that was not written on that woman's face. I have seen a great many women with little enough that was womanly about them, but I never saw one who seemed to me so bad as this gambler's mother.

"The fact is, it was a party of gamblers. The poor little wife was a trained stool-pigeon, and even the pretty little baby was dressed to attract attention and lead to acquaintance.

"The wife was very pretty, but struck me as a strange compound. She seemed loving and gentle, and I dare say she might have been in other circumstances. But she was dressed too well, and wore too much jewelry. This I afterwards found was not her fault; she was made to play her part in attracting her husband's victims. The coquetry of her appearance did not correspond with the expression of her face. There was a sad look in it that made me pity her.

"They had come from Canada, they said, and were going to New Orleans. I kept my eyes on them; and so, I found, did the chambermaid, who had been on the river too long not to know such customers at first sight.

"Among our fellow-passengers was a gentleman who called himself Mr. Browne, who seemed to me to be either an actor travelling incog. or a gentleman who intended to adopt the dramatic profession. We got acquainted over a sherry-cobbler; became intimate with our noses in our two first mint juleps; and when we had a little private party in our corner, he amused us by imitating those on board, or others whom we happened to know, very cleverly. Among the rest he took off the rope-looking gambler,—Rodden, as he called himself,—and the stately mother. He had made up his mind about them pretty much as I had made up mine.

"Among the other occupants of the great cabin, where society gets about as well mingled as you ever find it in this world, was a young man, a Mr. John Greene,—a master carpenter from Chicago,—going to Memphis. He was simple, honest, and as verdant as his name. He got acquainted with everybody, and told of his means, intentions and prospects, as if he thought everybody as honest as himself.

"Rodden made a set at Greene as soon as he heard that he had money, but not by making the first advance. The old lady talked with him in the most motherly way about his home, his prospects and his sweetheart. The young wife, who seemed at times to scorn everything about her, smiled on him sweetly, and gave him the baby to hold. Whoever she may have feared or hated, she loved the baby. It was, I believe, the bond that held her to the gambler and his mother, and made her do their bidding. But for the baby, she might have jumped into the river to escape a tyranny that hour by hour became more apparent to me, as I watched the drama played before me.

"Rodden, of course, had made up his mind to plunder the young carpenter, and it had to be done before we got to Memphis. They had played in a little family party at whist and euchre for candies and sherry cobblers, or champagne. Greene generally won, and was confident in his luck, and a little proud of his skill. He was fascinated, also, with the pretty woman, who could wind him round her fingers. Then he tried his hand with Rodden alone, and won thirty dollars, as he boasted to Browne, at half a dollar a game. He was as conceited as he was honest. Like many green persons, he believed himself an excellent judge of character, and as sharp as a needle.

"The night before we reached Memphis Rodden and Greene were playing, and Greene was flushed with his luck and drinking more than usual. Browne watched them till he was tired, and turned in about eleven o' clock. Then Rodden and Greene drank more, or stronger drinks, than usual, and played for higher stakes. It was the old story—infatuation, madness, and, of course, the loss of the last dollar Greene had in the world. Then came another insanity, worse than that of the drunkard and the gambler—the insanity of despair. Instead of going to his berth, he ascended to the hurricane deck. Then he took off his coat and vest, and wrote on a slip of paper with a pencil this just legible note;—

"'To THE CAPTAIN OF THIS BOAT:—Rodden has robbed me, when I was drunk, of three thousand dollars—all I have in the world. I am going to drown myself. Please thank Mr. Browne for me, and tell him I am sorry I did not hear to him. JOHN GREENE.'

"This paper he pinned to his vest, and then quietly jumped into the river. But he was not born to be drowned—not that time, anyway. There was a cry from the watch on deck, of a man overboard. I sprang out of my stateroom with Muster. 'Save him, Muster!' said I. The dog didn't need a second invitation, and he caught him and held him up, just as he showed you, until the steamer's boat picked them both up and brought them on board again. The captain came down on Rodden, but Rodden drew a large bowie-knife and showed fight. The boat had touched at Memphis, and before anything could be done he broke away and was clear. His mother, elegant and impurtubable as ever, had their baggage taken ashore, and we were soon on our way, like the river, and life, and all that sort of thing, and I forgot all about the adventure; for one can't remember everything, as the man said when he went to the woods to chop, and forgot his axe.

"I got through with my business at New Orleans. It was a city then, full of wealth and beauty, lying, a purple grape, in the sun, full of luscious pulp and sweetness. Well, it is just like a grape-skin now, sucked, and thrown under foot to be trodden on. But we'll adjourn that subject.

"On the fifth of May I left New Orleans to return North. I went on board that palace of a boat, Black Hawk, and almost the first person I saw was Rodden's mother. There she was, with the same stately presence, the same shaven forehead and false front, the same rich lace and moire antique, to which were now added flashing jewels; and there was the pretty little woman, with her baby, (now about a year old,) and both dressed in the same showy manner; and presently I saw the hard-faced gambler, Rodden. The young mother and her baby looked pale and ill—the old mother and her hopeful looked flushed and eager for prey. I paid so much attention to these people, and thought so much of what they had probably been doing all winter in New Orleans that I rather neglected the other passengers; but the day after we started I observed a particularly green-looking individual, with light flaxen hair, an awkward slouched hat, blue homespun pantaloons, and a butter-nut-colored coat, which seemed to me both homespun and home-made; he had old yarn gloves on, which he never removed, except to put on some old leather or kid ones. I watched the gambler; for it had somehow transpired that this gawky, homespun individual had been to New Orleans with a considerable cargo of bacon and cheese. I thought of poor Greene and his three thousand dollars. One day I saw Rodden and the stranger—'Ike,' so he called himself—together.

"'No matter about my name, mister,' said he, 'call me Ike; I'll answer to that till the cows come home. You can't come it over me calling me mister. How do I know but you are one o' them fellows that plays poker, and allus wins?'

"'I never played but three games of poker in my life,' said Rodden, 'but I'll play euchre with you for the drinks.'

"'No you don't. Look o' here, mister,' said he, pulling down the lower eyelash, 'do you see anything green there?'

"'I see that you have cut your eye teeth,' said Rodden. 'I wouldn't undertake to cheat you, if cheating were my trade, which, I am happy to say, is not.'

"'You don't say! Good-looking, but you can't come in. I shan't play for the drinks, nor for nothin' else. I promised Susy, when I come away, that I wouldn't tech a kaird the hull time I was off; an' no more I won't.—You see, five thousand dollars' worth of bacon and cheese wouldn't be no shakes at all to one o' them fellers that plays poker.'

"'That's so,' said Rodden. 'You are wise.'

"'Yes, an' that ain't the hull on't, for my money's in the cap'n's safe, and, what's more, it'll stay there till half an hour afore I land.'

"'At ——?' said Rodden, suggestively.

"'At—yes, at is, you'll have to find out, for I told Susy I'd keep as dark as a wood-chuck's hole, and not talk to nobody more'n was railly necessary. As to you, I wouldn't mind tellin' you, for I took to you at wonst.—You are smart, but you can't keep a hotel, or you wouldn't come at me about kairds. You might have known I wouldn't play by the looks of me.

"Rodden was persevering; the man in homespun was firm. The young wife seemed more ill, terrified and miserable every hour; The old mother more hard, proud and imperious. She would take the baby, keep it from its mother, and I believe pinch it, simply to torture the poor woman. Rodden never interfered to protect her. What a life that poor thing was leading, and what a fate for her poor child! One evening I heard Rodden talking to the gawky man about play.

"'Look o' here, now,' said the latter, 'ef you soy kairds to me agin, I'll pitch into ye. I am a man o' my word, specially when my word's given to my Susy. But I have got my pocket full of dice, and they ain't loaded dice nuther. If you want to play enough to bet somethin' handsome agin my terbacker box, I'll play with you.'

"He drew out a very ancient silver box, of about five dollars' weight, and laid it on the table. Rodden sat down to business, with a gleam in his dark eye that meant mischief.—He won it—then lost it. It was lost and won several times, but rested at last in the pocket of the countryman.

"'Smart fellow, but you can't keep a hotel, nor win my terbacker-box,' said he.

"The next day he played again, and he lost his box and watch and thirty dollars; but next time he won again, and so surprisingly that the gambler lost pretty nearly all he had to lose, and then the countryman refused to play any longer.

"'Not to-night, anyhow,' said he. 'I might be willin' to play to-morrow, but I want to sleep with my pockets full one night. I allus put my own money in the cap'n's safe, but I'll keep this ere that was yourn in my berth to-night to sleep on, just for luck.'

"'That foolish fellow will be robbed, perhaps murdered, to night,' I said to myself. I had such a presentiment of mischief that I could not go to sleep, and at midnight, when I heard him go to bed, I knocked at his stateroom door, and said—'Will you allow me to speak to you?'

"'I know what you're gonter say,' said he, 'but never you lay awake on my account. I haint a baby, and I know what that Rodden is gonter do as well as you do. But he's barkin up the wrong tree. Look o' here, mister,' said he, and he drew out a tremendous bowie-knife from the back of his neck, and showed me under his pillow a six-shooter. 'I reckon these ere will do the business, if he comes arter me and my winnin's.'

"I left the man, reassured, and returned to my berth, but not to sleep. The boat went snorting and roaring on her way up the gloomy river. It was a high flood, and if any accident happened to the boat, there was a poor chance for the passengers. More than once we had steamed past the floating corpses from burnt or explored steamers. As I lay thinking of all this I heard a step. The countryman slept with his door open: he would 'choke to death at wonst,' he said, if he did'n get the air. People brought up in log-houses are apt to feel so. I sprang to my feet, and crept towards his stateroom. The door was shut. There was the sudden explosion of a pistol, followed by a fierce cry. I opened the door. Rodden had fallen on the floor, and he sprang to his feet with a cut across his hand, and one of his ears shot off. He dashed out of the door as the countryman exclaimed—

"'That varmint!'

"'Are you hurt?'

"'Not a bit of it.'

He had a slight cut on his hand, however. Rodden had scarcely left the stateroom when he was grappled by the porter, who, like myself, had been watching him. The porter had seen the brief conflict, which he had not time to prevent. The rascal struggled hard, but was soon disarmed, bound securely, and locked up in a stateroom. His loss of blood helped, perhaps, to conquer him. I asked a lady, who had come from her stateroom in a dressing-gown to indulge her natural curiosity, to go to the poor wife and tell her the sad truth, that her husband was wounded and a felon.

"'Oh, what have I not suffered with him and her!' said she, wringing her little hands. 'Could I but return to my once happy home!'

"'And why can you not?' asked the lady. It was the old, old story. She had run away from home and married a showey scamp without the consent of her parents. The captain, the countryman and I went aside to consult as to what was to be done.

"'Wait a minute,' said the countryman. He went into his stateroom, and the next instant came out in a dressing-gown, another and a natural head of hair, and without the everlasting old gloves. It was my acquaintance Mr. Browne, and a capital actor too.

"'I determined to serve out that fellow if I ever had a chance to do so,' said he, 'when he robbed that poor carpenter, and drove him crazy. He got cured of that by a small dose of water-cure in the Mississippi, and the help of Muster. I shall hunt him up, and give him back his money.'

"Muster wagged his tail, as if he remembered all about it, and approved of returning the cash.

"'The poor little wife decided to return home. The mother, deprived of her son, did not attempt to keep her ill-used daughter-in-law.

"When Rodden found that he was to be taken to the jail at Maysville, he sent for his wife.

"'It's all up with me for the present,' said he. 'They have got me foul. You had better go home, Lib, and stay with the old folks, and behave yourself. Mother is no fit company for you, unless I am about.'

"The little wife answered only with her sobs. She held the baby for his father to kiss him, but she did not offer him her own lips or cheek. He was her tyrant no longer. She would escape. We took her to her paternal home on the Ohio, and saw her kindly received by a worthy father and loving mother. Mr. Browne went with me, and left a thousand dollars of the sum he had won from Rodden, in her father's hands.

"Rodden was tried for a murderous assault with intent to rob, and sent to the penitentiary for twenty-five years. He will be sixty when he has served out his time. The mother tried to save him, and may get him pardoned after a while. The little wife became an exemplary and happy mother.

"'I don't keep up an acquaintance with all the world and his wife, because I can't; but I keep track of Mr. Browne, and when he is acting in England—with another name that I don't mention—and I'm in America, I feel lonesome, that's a fact.'"

As Jeremiah finished his story, we came near to Memphis, and all landed safe and sound, from the Jacob Swan.—All the Year Round.

☞ Why does a cat run after a mouse?—Because the mouse runs away from it.

The Wizard.

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 9, 1864.

GEORGE B. LORING.

We give below the admirable letter of this gentleman on the present position of our national affairs. It speaks for itself, and coming as it does from a prominent and influential Democrat of the school of JEFFERSON and JACKSON, it cannot but have great effect on the members of that party who have not become demoralized by the devious course of its present leaders. The letter is carefully prepared, the position of the writer in regard to the Chicago platform clearly stated, and in his utterances in regard to the duties of loyal men at this hour rise to the dignity of true statesmanship. So strongly identified has he been for many years with the old Democratic party, that it must have been not without pain that he found it to be his imperious duty to separate from those of his associates who have misled and betrayed it. We understand him to be still a Democrat of that old school of nationality which JEFFERSON established and which JACKSON vindicated in the days of Nullification. He stands on those old principles, by the side of HOLT, BUTLER, DIX, and a host of other Democrats, who hold fast to their loyalty to the nation and fling party platforms to the winds. He must have seen the lack of sagacity, as well as of patriotism, which has brought the old party name to such shame and reproach, and that the only way to restore its original lustre is for its members to take the part of the country against its enemies until the Union is firmly established in all its length and breadth:

SALEM, OCT. 31, 1864.

DR. GEORGE B. LORING.

Dear Sir:—Feeling that in the present critical situation of our national affairs, the opinions of a gentleman so conspicuous and influential as you have long been in the former democratic party, must have no small weight in giving direction to public opinion, and highly appreciating the patriotic position which we understand you to take, we take the liberty of inviting an expression of your views, in public address, for which we will take the necessary perliminary measures, if agreeable to you.

Respectfully yours.

CALEB FOOTE,
JOHN BERTRAM,
AUG. STORY,
STEPHEN B. IVES,
PETER SILVER,
WILLIAM SILVER,
W. P. PHILLIPS,
J. A. DALTON,
JOHN BARLOW,
STEPHEN H. PHILLIPS,

SALEM Nov. 1st. 1864.

Gentlemen:—I have received your invitation to address the citizans of Salem upon our national affairs, and I assure you I have a high appreciation of the compliment which it contains. That my opinion should be of any value to so respectable and influential a body of my fellow citizens, is not only gratifying, but it impresses me with a deep sense of the responsibility I assume, in endeavoring to respond to their call. I have abstained from all public political acts for many months; and I hoped to be able to pass quietly through the present canvass. But the urgent appeals which I have received from various parts of the country, on one side and on the other, the somewhat doubtful position in which the public press has placed me, and this last demand from those of my immediate neighborhood whom I respect and esteem, have compelled me to break the silence I had imposed upon myself. I have, at this time, for reasons which my friends here will appreciate, a natural desire to avoid that demonstration which attends a public meeting called for the purpose of a single speech, and I hope I shall meet your wishes, by resorting to the less pretentious mode of presenting my views in a brief manner by letter.

It is not the part of a good citizen to occupy an equivocal position, especially in a crisis in which the humblest ability should be honestly and sincerely exercised in judging what is best for the country. Surrounded as we are by the most momentous and startling military and political events which the history of modern times has yet known, this may not be easy. But it seems to me that one can hardly mistake the significance of the great chapter in the history of free American institutions, which is now being written.

With the errors, and mistakes, and shortcomings, and delinquencies of the times, I do not propose to deal. No age has been without them; no man has escaped them; all our heroes and great men have been charged with them; they confuse and blind in every violent excitement, whether civil or military; and they have left their mark on every great human effort. The true intent and meaning of all that is passing before us, lie above and beyond this dust of the highway, as it was in the days of Washington and Jefferson and Jackson, whose labors form the three great eras in our history.

The past, we all know, is full of glories; and so is the present, if we will but look at it aright, full of glories still brighter. The heroism and devotion and self-sacrifice of our people have hardly yet been equalled. And in the work which they have undertaken, I cannot conceive of the necessity or possibility or honor of taking one step backwards. We have organized great armies; we have built great navies; we have fought great battles; we have achieved great victories; we have arrested the mischievous designs of foreign powers; we have secured unparalled domestic prosperity; we have taken a long stride in the work of relieving our government from the blot which the faith and hope and charity of the fathers left behind them, with the firm belief in their minds that it would be wiped out by advancing civilization, and by the verdict of a high toned and elevated people, living under a free Constitution. Why, then, should we retrace our steps?

Not for our moral elevation surely. For however obedient we may have been to our constitutional obligations, however impatient of attacks on our system of government, however anxious that the rights conferred upon us and reserved by us should be respected, however confident that the liberal and just spirit which formed the Constitution, should guide its application in all cases, we have still felt the one burthen which has pressed upon us all; we have still seen the shadow of the one cloud in our otherwise clear and refulgent sky. Can we then in the face of heaven and the civilized world, return voluntarily to the compromise which an appeal to arms has scattered to the winds?

Not for our material prosperity. For if anything is to give value to our currency, if anything is to enable us to support the burthen of taxation, if anything is to give ultimate value to our bonds in the markets of the world, if anything is to restore our commerce, and secure for our manufactures and products the encouragement of untrammeled trade, it is the entire success of our arms, in a manly and unflinching contest for the supremacy of our government. There is a rapidly increasing debt, I know, growing out of the war; there is inflation of the currency and of the markets.

But when the power of our country shall be established by the sword, and labor shall return to its accustomed channels, the fabulous wealth of India can hardly compare with that which may be drawn from our mines and our soil, and which will be created by the ceaseless ingenuity of our people on the land and and on the sea. At the close of the war, industry may pause for a time. But it will only be for the gathering of new strength to give value to our currency, and to secure the interest on a funded debt,—the investment made by a gallant people in the cause of good government. If we would invalidate our debt, we have but to surrender to foes without, and bad counsels within. If we would bankrupt our people, we have but to pause in the war, for our enemies to take fresh courage, and to destroy the confidence of our citizens in their government. Let us take care of our armies, and our armies will take care of the debt.

Not for our national peace and glory. We have not reached the point of armistice or suspension. There is no treaty which we could offer, acceptable to the South, consistent with our honor and future prosperity. There is no guaranty which would not be open to future political change, and consequent renewal of the strife. That people which has taken up arms for national independence, is not bone of our bone and flesh of our flesh if it would now return to its former condition simply to renew that political controversy which has ended in such a baptism of blood. The terms of peace which they would demand, we cannot submit to; the terms of peace which we could offer, they are not yet ready to accept. When they are ready to accept terms based on the Constitution, they will be ready to accept terms based on Emancipation. For they know perfectly well that re-union now means emancipation, let the process be what it may.

Not for the sake of humanity. The land is indeed red with the blood of slaughtered citizens, the sky is darkened by the smoke of burning villages, fields are wasted, and the angel of death hovers gloomily over our homes. But to pause now in our career, with the manifest result of this war half accomplished, is simply to transmit to our descendants all the seeds of strife, and to bring down upon our heads their curses for their inheritance of blood.

It seems to me, therefore, that the platform adopted by the supporters of Gen. McClellan, does not belong to the order of events through which the country is now passing. If it means anything, it means humiliation and civil war at the North; and I do not believe that either of these calamities is to befall us. I have too much faith in the courage of our poeple to believe them ready for the former,—too much faith in their good sense to believe them ready for the latter. And when I am told that the platform is repudiated, and that all the hopes of our country are hung upon the simple elevation of Gen. McClellan to the Presidency, without any acknowledged principles, it seems to me to be such a fall from the brave old avowal of specific doctrines to which democrats have been accustomed, that I cannot understand how they find place for themselves in such a contest. I see nothing but evil in such a position. McClellan with the platform, brings disgrace; McClellan without the platform brings confusion. For, to say nothing about the uncertainty which would paralyze the country between his election and his inauguration, the doubts which would hang over the army, the new life which would be infused into those opposed to the government, the plots and counter-plots which would arise, we may turn with fear and trembling to the consequences which might arise from an open hostility between the President and Congress in times like these. Gen. McClellan has enjoyed great opportunities for good in his day, but this can in no way be added to the number. His elevation under the circumstances would be simply an additional calamity. Where would be his armistice, where his terms of peace, where his finance, where his supplies? And if, after an attempt to make his views acceptable to an opposing congress, he found nothing before him but war still, what shall we have gained by this feeble interregnum but the contempt of our enemies at home and abroad?

I have not been taught to support any such policy. It was the grand and crushing reception given by Jackson to the first State rebellion, which taught us how supreme the Constitution might and should be over this whole republic. The great men of the past planted and upheld the Flag of the Union for the admiration and obedience of the American people, and with a bold and defiant front against all foreign interference on this continent. Loyalty from the citizen and respect from foreign powers they demanded and would have though the heavens fell about them, and the earth trembled beneath the iron heel of war. And with all this high purpose they never forgot the great duty of directing their conduct according to the emergency of the times, with courage and devotion and large understanding. I cannot believe that they would have supported any policy which would tend to invite foreign interference, or recognize the independence of a revolted State, or weaken the armed power of the government by suspending the action of the armies on the land, and yielding our control of blockaded ports through an armistice. I cannot, as taught by them, fail to support the administration in its efforts to give us a country.

I am confident that our country will come honorably out of this contest, purified as gold tried in the fire. However much I may have deplored the strife, however much I may have regretted any policy which seemed to prolong and embitter it, I can see nothing before us at this hour but a determined march in the course pointed out to us. God knows the sufferings of the war are enough to appal the stoutest heart, and that the sorrows which follow in its train are innumerable and sickening. But never before has such a service been placed in the hands of armies as is now submitted to ours. Never before have the statesmen of any age been charged with a duty so momentous as that which rests so solemnly on ours. I would have this people strengthen the hands of all its public servants,—confident as I am that when the day of peace does dawn, it will bestow its light upon a nation united by common suffering, and engaged in one attempt to preserve unharmed a great, free government. That the prosperity and happiness, the good order and elevation of the nation, absorb all the thought and effort of those who hold our destinies in their hands, I cannot for a moment doubt. That our soil has been watered by the blood of our bravest sons in vain, I cannot for a moment believe. If a greater and nobler and stronger and purer nation does not grow out of this struggle, may God in his mercy blot its record from human memory.

I have the honor to be,
Respectfully, your ob't servant,
GEO. B. LORING.

Hon. Caleb Foote, John Bertram, Esq., Augustus Story, Esq., Stephen B. Ives, Esq., Peter Silver, Esq., William Silver, Esq., W. P. Phillips, Esq., Col. J. A. Dalton, John Barlow, Esq., Hon. Stephen H. Phillips, of Salem.

McCLELLAN MEETING.

There was a McClellan meeting in South Danvers last Thursday night with a torchlight and lantern procession. We had heard large stories of the proposed demonstration, that there was to be an immense procession, with eleven bands of music, and lots of great speakers, including Rev. Dr. Braman, and we anticipated a lively time, especially as the whole town was to be illuminated. Evening came, and with it the famous procession. "O, what a fall was there, my countrymen!" Instead of the eleven bands, came the rub-a-dub of two or three boy drummers, and the host behind them diminished to less than a hundred, mainly Irishmen, and half of these were boys! To tell the truth, the Irish were the best looking of the whole cortege. There were lots of transparencies. The inscriptions on these were various, but they might as well have been all included in one word, "SURRENDER," for that was their evident meaning. One of them had the motto, "THE TWO GEORGES, THEY MUST WIN." This reminded us of the Georges of England, who made such a figure in English history. The Irish of the procession might have been thus reminded of the delusion which caused them to take sides with John Bull in his hopes of division and ruin to our country.

The numbers, small as they were when they entered town, were reduced to a corporal's guard when they went out. There were just 17 lights when they crossed the line to Salem, and these were carried by the tatterdemalions, the tag-rag-and-bob-tail of the procession.

Of the proceedings at the hall we know nothing, except that Rev. Dr. Braman was not there, verifying the adage, that "old birds are not caught with chaff." We hear that the speakers indulged in very hard words against the Republicans and that abominable tyrant, Abraham Lincoln, and promised that Gen. McClellan would certainly be elected if he could get votes enough and was not cheated out of his election by the knavish Republicans.

COL. DAVID UPTON.—Among the pleasant incidents of the election yesterday was the early appearance of that sturdy and influential old Democrat, Col. DAVID UPTON, of West Danvers, to vote for Lincoln and Johnson. He used to be one of the strongest and most reliable of the Democratic party, when it saw its best days, and always voted the straight out ticket, swallowing Polk, Peirce, Buchanan and all. That last dose was too much for him, and he has since stood by his country and her flag. When gentlemen of the intelligence and patriotism of Col. UPTON change their course, it is time for other Democrats to look around them.

PROMOTED.—Col. F. A. OSBORNE, (formerly of this town,) of the 24th Massachusetts, has been promoted to the rank of brevet Brigadier General, for meritorious services in the field, in the present and other campaigns.

Second Lieutenant L. CANN, of Danvers, 1st Lieutenant in 17th Regiment.

Sergeant W. F. WILEY, of South Danvers, 1st Lieutenant in 24th Regiment.

Capt. N. P. FULLER, of Danvers, Major.

SERIOUS COLLISION.—The Washington train leaving Jersey City Saturday night run into a McClellan procession at Trenton, and a serious collision occurred. The locomotive struck a chariot containing 36 young ladies and threw them all into the street. The procession got enraged and attacked the engine, and drove the train back to the depot amidst great excitement. Several persons were seriously injured, but it is hoped none were killed.

RETURN OF THE FIFTH REGIMENT.

We were greeted yesterday morning by the smiling faces of the members of Company C, of the 5th Massachusetts, who came home, looking as if in the best of health and spirits. They have served their time out faithfully and well, mostly in garrison duty at the defenses of Baltimore, where they won golden opinions of the inhabitants.

We are glad to learn that our friend, Lieut. SOUTHWICK, of this corps, has been remembered by a gift as honorable to himself as to those who bestowed it. We are enabled to present to our readers an account of the transactions through the kindness of one of the non-commissioned officers of the company:

Immediately after the "roll call," at "Tattoo," 2d Lieut. Benj. F. Southwick was presented with a splendid gold badge and scroll, manufactured by Hunt & Co., of 110½ West Baltimore Street, Baltimore, Md. On the scroll was engraven, "Lieut. B. F. Southwick," and upon the face of the badge (which was a six pointed star) were the initials "Co. C, 5th Mass. V. M.," and upon the back the battles of "Kinston, Whitehall, Goldsboro'." The badge was suspended from the scroll by two fine golden chains. The presentation took place amid great cheering for Lieut. Southwick, the men giving three times three and three more.

It was presented by Sergt. Henry H. Waugh of Stoughton, (a member of the company) in the following words:

LIEUTENANT,—As the representative of the enlisted men of Co. C, it becomes not only a duty but a pleasure to present you, in their behalf, with this badge; and although its value is insignificant, still we trust you will receive it as a small token of our regard for you.

The men of your command, sir, would present you with this badge, as an offering to those qualities, which go to make up the true gentleman and soldier. Sir, we remember gratefully, your kind and gentlemanly bearing towards us during our term of service soon to close.

We cannot forget that your associations with us have been invariably marked by kind and considerate interest for our welfare. While you have steadfastly adhered to the line of duty you have not only made that path easy for us, but pleasant.

We remember the kind words of cheer, which you have always been ready to impart, and it is from our hearts we thank you, and let me assure you that to these men your name will always be synonymous with a true gentleman. Engraved upon the back of this, you will find the names of those battles, in which you have contributed to the defence of the flag of our country; your name is inscribed upon the pages of the history of this Republic, and down the now dark ages of the future it will be transmitted as one who in the hour of his country's peril, not only did his duty but did it well. In closing, let me again assure you of our regards, coupled with hope that your days may not only be many, but full of happiness.

The lieutenant responded in a brief but appropriate speech.

LARGE MOROCCO FACTORY.—Messrs. W. M. JACOBS & SON have completed their new factory building, which is four stories high, and its ground floor is 160 by 40 feet, making, with the basement, more than three quarters of an acre of flooring. There is a steam engine connected with it, of fifteen horse power, by which the various machines for finishing stock are carried and the water heated. By means of the boilers the whole building is warmed without extra fires and the large dying room is heated. It has an elevator which is also worked by steam power, carrying stock from the basement to each floor and returning it again at the will of the workmen. The salesroom and offices are on the lower floor and are provided with all the conveniences in modern use, and the whole establishment is so constructed and arranged as to facilitate the manufacture of stock by avoiding unnecessary transportation. The engine and boiler room is built of stone, and the large chimney is distinct from the main building. The basement of the main building is also constructed of stone. Everything is compact and handy—all the tanning, coloring and finishing being done under one roof, where, also, the goods are packed and delivered. There is a large fountain of the purest water, and in great quantity, to supply the boilers and tan tubs. In short, everything is contrived so as to facilitate not only the manufacture but the oversight of the whole establishment.

This enterprising firm deserve all the success they have received, and it is undoubtedly the wish of our whole community that their prosperity may be continued in large measure, and thus prove of substantial benefit not only to themselves but to the town.

Messrs. Clark & Giddings are the builders.

EASTERN RAIL ROAD—Fall and Winter Arrangement.—The Fall and Winter Arrangement on this road commenced Monday. Trains leave Salem for Boston, at 6, 7.15, 8, 9, 10, 11 A. M., 12.55, 2.30, 4.40, 6.30, 6.45 P. M.

Leave Boston for Salem, at 7.15, 7.30, 8.30, 10.30 A. M., 12.15, 2.30, 3, 4, 5, 6.10, 6.45, 9.30 P. M.

LOWELL RAILROAD.—Trains leave Lowell for Salem, at 7.25 A. M., 2 P. M. Leave Salem for Lowell, at 9.40 A. M., 5 P. M.

SOUTH READING BRANCH.—Trains leave South Danvers for Boston, at 7.50, 9.55, 2.05, 5. Leave Boston for South Danvers, at 7.45, 11, 2, and 5.

ESSEX RAILROAD.—Leave South Danvers for Lawrence at 7, 11.20, 4.50. Leave Lawrence for South Danvers at 8, 12.40 and 6.15.

☞ The Wenham Lake Branch Railroad is nearly completed from the Eastern Railroad to the Lake.

REPUBLICAN UNION CAUCUS.

A Republican Union Caucus was held in this town last Wednesday evening, to elect a candidate to represent this town in the next General Court. Called to order by S. Blaney, Amos Merrill was chosen Chairman, and Geo. F. Osborne Secretary.

VOTED, To proceed to an informal ballot for Representative:

Whole number of ballots,	147
Necessary to a choice,	74
C. W. Osborne had	70
Henry Poor,	56
Jonathan King,	7
B. C. Perkins,	13
W. H. Little,	1

VOTED, To proceed to formal ballot:

Whole number	155
Necessary to a choice,	78
C. W. Osborne had	96
Henry Poor,	42
B. C. Perkins,	12
Fitch Poole,	1
Daniel Woodbury,	2
W. H. Little,	2

On motion of E. S. Poor, the nomination was made unanimous.

VOTED, To appoint a Committee of fifteen to act as Vote Distributors on election day, and the following were chosen:

Oscar Phillips,
Stephen Blaney,
Charles E. Brown,
Chas. D. Howard,
Moses A. Shackley,
J. E. T. Bartlett,
Eben S. Poor,
John Linnehan,
James P. King,
Andrew Wilkins,
R. S. Daniels,
Timothy Regan,
A. Galucia,
J. S. Needham,
A. P. Blake.

VOTED, That the meeting be dissolved.

DEATH OF REV. J. W. PUTNAM.

Last Thursday, Nov. 3, Rev. J. W. Putnam, of Danvers, breathed his last, at the age of forty-two. Although it has been known for some time that his health was failing, he had not been considered in immediate danger until within a little more than a week before his departure. Suddenly and unexpectedly, therefore, does the sad news that he is no more in the earth come to his numerous friends and acquaintances.

In the death of Mr. Putnam the community has sustained a heavy loss. In a long ministry in Danvers, he had won and retained the respect of all classes. He was truly a good man. He was faithful to every duty. A friend of education, he has long been an efficient member of the School Committee, and much will his services be missed in this department. He represented his town in the Legislature during two terms of the General Court. Always patriotic, he never failed to give word and deed to the welfare of his country. In his pulpit he never shrank from testifying against Slavery and in favor of Liberty. He was eminent as a man of principle. Even those who disagreed with him, were compelled to respect him.

Mr. Putnam was a man of marked ability. As a preacher he stood high in his calling. Yet he was singularly modest. He won success by substantial qualities of character and by faithful work, rather than by such qualities as glitter for the time. The longer and more intimately he was known, the better was he loved.

The funeral obsequies were paid to his memory on Monday last, in the Universalist Church. The services were in the highest degree impressive. Dr. A. A. Miner, of Boston, pronounced a eulogy, and Rev. Mr. Spaulding of Salem offered prayer. The words of Dr. Miner were eloquent, and fitted to the occasion. He seemed to utter the thoughts that were in every mind, and to express the feelings that were in every heart. He had known Mr. Putnam for twenty-five years.—He had for two years in early life sustained the relation of teacher toward him. He never knew him except to love him, and the longer he knew him the more he loved. We are sure that no friend of Mr. Putnam could help a feeling of gratitude to Dr. Miner, for his thorough analysis of the character of the departed, and his touching tribute of respect.

The church was crowded to its utmost capacity. A long procession followed the remains to the grave. The members of the Society and Sunday School, mourned as having met with personal loss. And indeed the death of such a men can be hardly otherwise regarded than as a public calamity. Yet, truly and reverently let us believe that God's will and God's time are best.

PAUL OSBORNE.

We are permitted to copy the following letter, relating to the death of this excellent young man. Mr. OSBORNE was born a member of the Society of Friends, but his patriotism led him to enlist in the army, where he served in the 39th Regiment, about two years. He was a young man of good principles, quiet manners and amiable disposition, and affectionate, as the scene described in the letter will witness. He died in hospital, of wounds received in battle:

SICKLES BARRACKS HOSPITAL,
Alexandria, Va., Oct. 27th, 1864.

MRS. OSBORNE:—I pen these few lines to you at your son's request. At half past two o'clock yesterday, he called me to the side of his bed, saying that he had something to tell me. Calling me by name, he said, "Tice, if you should not go to Boston, pleas to write to my mother and tell her that I am dying; and to my sisters, and tell them that I shall pray for them all." I told him that I would. Then he put his arms around my neck, and kissed me, saying, "Tice, when you go to Boston, you will kiss them for me." Then the tears came into his eyes, and he breathed his last.

I thought a great deal of your son, and Frederick Knight and I did for him all that lay in our power. He died Wednesday afternoon, October 26th, at half past three o'clock.

From a true friend,

THOMAS TICE,
Co. C, 25th New York Cavalry.

THE ELECTION.

The election in this town passed off with very little excitement, the Republicans, as will be seen by the vote cast, having everything their own way. In fact there was not opposition enough to make it "interesting." We did not see but two tickets in the field,—the regular Republican and the regular Democratic. The former was headed "Republican Union Ticket," with picture of a flag, and the words "Stand by the Flag." The McClellan ticket was headed "Democratic Union Ticket," with spread eagle and the words "Union and Constitution."

In Danvers there was a split in the Republican party for Representative to the General Court, contested by Chas. P. Preston, who served the past year, and a young man by the name of Samuel P. Cummings. The result was the election of the former by 19 majority.

Below we give the result in this town and other places, as far as heard from:

For President,
Abraham Lincoln,	669
George B. McClellan,	95
For Governor,
John A. Andrew, of Boston,	664
Henry W. Paine, of Cambridge,	98
For Lieut. Governor,
Joel Hayden, of Williamsburg,	667
Thos. F. Plunkett, of Pittsfield,	97
For Secretary of State,
Oliver Warner, of Northampton,	667
F. O. Prince, of Winchester,	97
For Treasurer and Receiver General,
Henry K. Oliver, of Salem,	666
Nathan Clark, of Lynn,	97
For Attorney General,
Chester I. Reed, of Taunton,	667
S. O. Lamb, of Greenfield,	97
For Auditor of Accounts,
Levi Reed, of Abington,	667
Moses Bates, of Plymouth,	97
For Representative to Congress, 5th District,
John B. Alley, of Lynn,	663
Joseph P. Morss, of Newburyport,	97
For Councillor, District No. 2,
Eben S. Poor, of South Danvers,	642
William Nutting, Jr., of Marblehead,	97
Scattering,	5
For County Commissioner,
Jackson B. Swett, of Haverhill,	667
John I. Ladd, of Groveland,	97
For County Treasurer,
Allen W. Dodge, of Hamilton,	667
Joseph T. Tuck, of Beverly,	97
For Register of Deeds,
Ephraim Brown, of Salem,	762
For Senator, 2d Essex District,
Samuel M. Worcester, of Salem,	659
Eben Sutton, of South Danvers,	99
For Representative to General Court, 25th District,
Caleb Warren Osborne,	661
S. A. Southwick,	97
Scattering,	2

OTHER PLACES.

	Lincoln.	McClellan.
Boston,	12248	7841
Salem,	2086	652
Beverly,	857	101
Middleton,	124	19
Danvers,	596	125
Marblehead,	671	631
Rowley,	152	98
Gloucester,	1162	184
Lynn,	2032	546
Georgetown,	221	115
Topsfield,	153	58
Boxford,	128	39
Nahant,	36	14
Swampscott,	231	42
Brookline,	404	198
Malden,	495	163
Plymouth,	819	158
Reading,	353	54
Hull,	27	20
Hingham,	412	180
Dedham,	569	323
Medway,	414	92
No. Reading,	142	37
Worcester,	2895	968
New Bedford,	2369	346
Canton,	245	219
Newburyport,	1067	509
Taunton,	1514	450
Sandwich,	440	119
Attleboro,	637	247
Weymouth,	916	363
Andover,	591	87
Fairhaven,	345	40
Lawrence,	1179	541
Lowell,	2464	1095
North Andover,	209	160
Wenham,	132	31

The vote in 110 towns is in round numbers 70,000 for Lincoln, to 30,000 for McClellan.

All the Union Congressmen are elected.—Hooper's majority, in the 4th District is 4841, and Rice's 3835.

Massachusetts has gone for Lincoln and Johnson by a majority of over 75,000!!

MAINE.

Kittery,	518	206
York,	312	307
Portland,	2816	1814

NEW HAMPSHIRE.

Dover,	863	569
Portsmouth,	1228	678

RHODE ISLAND.

Rhode Island has gone for Lincoln by over 5000 majority.

NEW JERSEY.

The vote, as far as heard from, indicates that it has gone for McClellan.

NEW YORK.

Five Union Congressmen gained. A Republican is elected in one of the city districts. A A man was shot in Ward Eleven. The Democrats concede the State to the Republicans.

Later!

GOVERNOR SEYMOUR DEFEATED.

VERMONT.

Montpelier,	650	157

PENNSYLVANIA.

Large Republican gains in the cities of Philadelphia and Pittsburg.

MARYLAND.

Baltimore has gone for Lincoln by 12,000 majority.

INDIANA.

In Indianapolis the Republicans have made a gain of 1000 over the vote of the 11th ult.

WIZARD EXT

Midnight

MAINE,
NEW HAMPSH
VERMONT,
MASSACHUSET
RHODE ISLAN
CONNECTICUT
NEW YORK,
PENNSYLVANI
MARYLAND,
INDIANA,

For Lincol

These States cast 118 Electora one more than is necessary for a and he is undoubtedly Re-electe dent by a

TREMENDOUS MAJOR

PERSONAL.—Lieut. William B.
the young naval hero who blew up ram Albemarle, and who has been t in many romantic and brilliant exp born in Fredonia, N. Y., and is a Dr. J. H. Bachelder, of Salem. His a native of Boston. Many of our rea remember Lieut. Cushing, who vi city last year, as a young man of fin and attractive qualities. He is only two years of age, and entered the n
he was about fourteen.—Register.

THE SIXTIETH MASSACHUSETTS REG
Col. Ansel D. Wass, of this regime from Camp Morton, Indianapolis, Ind.
dicting the reports circulated by the lan papers, that the 60th voted in th election in that State. He says, "Ev est and loyal man here denies the cha looks upon this regiment as the mean ing them, their families and their from destruction."—Register.

"THE SUNDAY MORNING LEADER
name of a new paper in Boston, pub its title indicates. It contains a larg and amount of reading, together with egraphic news; and is published by J
Symonds & Co.

☞ A letter from a member of Gener ard's staff represents Sherman's army i lent condition, and that Hood is lo more than he is gaining in his presen ments.

THE OLD SOUTH CHURCH.—W
that this edifice, renewed and bea in its exterior and interior, is to opened for public worship next S
It is so changed as almost to n dedication.

SOLDIER'S DEATH.—Died of fever, at Newbern, OLIVER PAR this town. He was a member 17th Regt. Mess. Vols. He ori enlisted in Company B,—served three years and then re-enlisted fo years. We believe he also went the three month's service at the ning of the war.

NEW OYSTER SALOON.—R. W. W
& Co. have fitted up a room in the Bank Building in elegant style, wh serve they friends and the public with quality of oysters, cooked in a va modes to suit the palate of the most fas
We can attest to the super-excellence stews, which a friend of ours, who ha
the quality of the article all the wa
New Orleans to New York, pronounce the best he has ever had. They have fi their room in a style which makes it a resort for ladies as well as gentlemen, establishment is well worthy of public age. See advertisement.

BROWNING & LONG
Are opening a Rich and Elegant Broad Belt Buckles, in Gilt, of superb p

25 30 3
GERMAN ZEPHYR WORSTE
Black or White 25 ce
Common Colors 30 ce
Chinchillas 35 ce
Crimson or Scarlet 30 ce
J. P. PEABODY'S, 220 Essex

Warren Five Cents Savings

At the annual meeting of this corp held Nov. 2, 1864, the following list of were elected for the ensuing year:

President, George Osborne.

Vice Presidents, Kendall Osborn, He King, Lewis Allen, Henry Cook, Hen
E. W. Upton.

Trustees, Fraklin Osborn, Rufus H.
Alonzo P. Phillips, John I. Baker, J
Lord, Nathan H. Poor, William N.
Alex. B. Merrill, Wm. H. Little, Aa
Warren, Francis Dane, Amos Merrill, S
Blaney, Benj. S. Wheeler.

Francis Baker, Secr
South Danvers, Nov. 9th, 1864.

Port of Danvers.

ov. 1, schs. Ada Herbert, Crowell, New York;
e F, (Br) Ford, St. John, NB; Niger, Thompw York.

Marriages.

n town, Nov. 2, by Rev. Mr. Barbour, Rev. Ly-
Rowland, Pastor-elect of the First Church,
Me., to Tace A. F. Wardwell of South Dan. anversport, Nov. 7th, at the residence of the father, by Rev. John C. Kimball, S. R. Bond,
f Washington, D. C., to Miss Mary Adaline, er of Dr. Eben Hunt of Danversport.
lem, Oct. 27th, by Rev Mr. Spaulding, Mr Sam'l ard of Boston, to Miss Lizzie F Pulsifer of S.
3d, Mr Milton Sargent to Miss Ada L Read.

Deaths.

ths are recorded gratuitously; but all l notices are charged 25 cents. Obituary and notices are chargeable at 6¼ cents a is town, Nov. 6, Mrs. Margaret Lucas, aged 73

nvers, Nov. 3, Rev James Wellington Putnam, 11 mos—Pastor of the Universalist Church.
em, Nov. 4th, Mrs. Hannah Callahan, 50 years;
tsy Jackson, 78 yrs 9 mos; 6th, Mr. Lyman D.
yrs 8 mos—a member of Co C, 59th Mass Regt; id Gardner, 73 yrs; 7th, Mrs. Sarah E, wife of hna Nay, 44 years 9 months.
verly, Nov 3, Mr Caleb Kimball, 62 yrs en, Nov. 5, Mr. Richard Cutts, formerly of Sayrs 9 mos.
oston, Nov. 1, Miss Rebecca P. Hill, of Salem, ltimore, Md, Nov. 3, James Keefe, of Marble-years—a member of Co. C, 8th Mass Regt.
kport, Oct. 26th, at the residence of Dr. O. D.
David P. Pearce, aged 22 years, youngest son rd H. Pearce Esq., of Gloucester.

S. 7-30 LOAN.

ecretary of the Treasury gives notice that subs will be received for Coupon Treasury Notes, hree years from Aug. 15th, 1864, with semi-anrest at the rate of seven and three-tenths per annum, principal and interest both to be paid l money.
notes will be convertible at the option of the maturity, into six per cent. gold bearing bonds, not less than five nor more than twenty years r date, as the Government may elect. They issued in denominations of $50, $100, $500, d $5,000, and all subscriptions must be for fif-
s, or some multiple of fifty dollars.
tes will be transmitted to the owners free of ation charges as soon after the receipt of the Certificates of Deposit as they can be pre-notes draw interest from August 15, persons eposits subsequent to that date must pay the ccrued from date of note to date of deposit.

depositing twenty-five thousand dollars and for these notes at any one time will be allowed sion of one-quarter of one per cent., which id by the Treasury Department upon the re-bill for the amount, certified to by the officer m the deposit was made. No deductions for ons must be made from the deposits.

L ADVANTAGES OF THIS LOAN.

NATIONAL SAVINGS BANK, offering a higher terest than any other, and THE BEST SECURIsavings bank which pays its depositors in U.
considers that it is paying in the best circulatm of the country, and it CANNOT pay in any er, for its own assets are either in government or in notes or bonds payable in government ually convenient as a temporary or permanent

t. The notes can always be sold for within of their face and accumulated interest, and st security with banks as collaterals for dis-ble into a Six per cent. 5-20 Gold Bond.

ion to the very liberal interest on the notes years, this privilege of conversion is now ut three per cent. per annum, for the current 5-20 Bonds is not less than NINE PER CENT. and before the war the premium on six per stocks was over twenty per cent. It will be the actual profit on this loan, at the present te, is not less than ten per cent. per annum.

PTION FROM STATE OR MUNICIPAL TAXATION.

le from all the advantages we have enumerat-ial Act of Congress EXEMPTS ALL BONDS AND NOTES FROM LOCAL TAXATION. On the his exemption is worth about two per cent.
, according to the rate of taxation in various
e country.
ieved that no securities offer so great induceenders as those issued by the Government.—
r forms of indebtedness, the faith or ability parties, or stock companies, or seperate com-only, is pledged for payment, while the whole f the country is held to secure the discharge obligations of the United States.
e government offers the most liberal terms is, it believes that the very strongest appeal the loyalty and patriotism of the people.
e certificates will be issued for all deposits.—
depositing must endorse upon the ORIGINAL the denomination of notes required, and ey are to be issued in blank or payable to or-n so endorsed it must be left with the officer he deposit, to be forwarded to the Treasury
t,
PTIONS WILL BE RECEIVED by the Treasurer ted States, at Washington, the several Asasurers and designated Depositaries, and by

National Bank of Salem, Mass.
National Bank of Boston, Mass.
National Bank of Boston, Mass.
National Bank of Boston, Mass.
al Bank of the Republic, Boston, Mass.
National Bank, Boston, Mass.
National Bank of Amesbury, Mass.
National Bank of Haverhill, Mass.
National Bank of Newburyport, Mass.
National Banks which are depositaries of ey, and
SPECTABLE BANKS AND BANKERS
the country will give further information

EVERY FACILITY TO SUBSCRIBERS.
17, 1864,—3m

Grocers' Notice.

the undersigned, GROCERS OF DANVERS AND VICINITY, do
gree to close our Stores two evenings he week, Tuesdays and Thursdays, at k, with the exception of evenings pre-holidays, until further notice:

ARNOLD & HUTCHINSON.
SAMUEL WELCH.
NEWMAN & SYMONDS.
MUTUAL UNION.
B. B. HUMPHREY.
W. O. BATCHELDER.
WM. F. NICHOLS.
R. O. SPILLER.
H. M. OSBORN.
E. F. OSBORN.

Danvers, Nov. 2d, 1864.

☞ Our Store will be closed every evening, Saturday excepted, at six o'clock, until April 1, 1865.
JOHN P. PEABODY.

WANTED.—To learn the business, a smart active boy who has had experience in a store. Wages $3 00 per week for the first year—at PEABODY'S 220 Essex St.

☞ Goods received for LEWANDO'S FRENCH DYE HOUSE.
M. E. CRANE.
Jan 20 tf

Episcopal Services.

Divine Service, according to the order of the Protestant Episcopal Church, will be held in the Town Hall on the next Sunday evening, (13th instant,) commencing at 7 o'clock. The service will be held, also, on each succeeding Sunday evening, at the same hour.

These services are in the charge of the Rev. GEORGE D. WILDES, Rector of Grace Church, Salem. As at present conducted, they are wholly free; and all persons interested are affectionately invited to attend.

If the weather should be stormy on any evening appointed, the service will be omitted.
Nov. 9th, 1864.

Renovation of Beds.

If people only knew how injurious to health is the practice of sleeping on foul feathers, they would lose no time in having them renovated and made perfectly fresh and sweet. It is a good thing to "air" the bed before it is made up, but this does not cure effectually the impurities of feathers which have for a long time been slept upon. Any good physician will tell you that it is deleterious to health to sleep on beds which have been made foul by the exhalations of the human body. Mr. SUMNER SOUTHWICK does this service in a thorough manner by a process perfectly effectual. He has the exclusive agency of the improvement for this and the neighboring towns. If you would have freedom from disease, and quiet and healthful sleep, call upon Mr. SOUTHWICK, on Park Street.

Advertisements.

MUSICAL NOTICE.

I HAVE on hand, for sale, and will select to order from any manufacturer in Boston or elsewhere,

Melodeons, Cabinet Organs,

and six to seven octave

PIANO FORTES,

full Iron Frames, over-strung Bass, with Pearl or Ivory Keys, at the lowest prices. Will take second-hand Instruments in exchange for new. Have Piano Fortes and Melodeons to let.

Will tune Piano Fortes and Organs in the best manner, to order; and will also give instruction on the Piano Forte at the residence of the pupil, or at my room

No. 218 Essex Street, Salem, (Up stairs.)
SAMUEL MACKINTIRE.
Salem, November 9, 1864.

Horse Railroad Notice.

On and after THURSDAY, Nov. 10, the cars of the Salem and South Danvers Railroad Co.

Will leave Washington St. Station for S. Danvers at 6.37, 7.07, 7.37 A. M. and every 30 minutes till 11.57 A. M.; and every 20 minutes till 9.57 P. M.

Will leave Washington St. station for Beverly at 6.22 6.52, and 7.22 A. M., and every 30 minutes till 12.22 P. M., and at 12.42, 1.02, 1.22, and every 20 minutes till 10.02 P. M.

Cars will leave South Danvers at 7.00, 7.30, and 8.00 A. M., and every half hour till 1 P. M., and will then leave at 1.20, 1.40, 2.00, and every 20 minutes till 10.20 P. M.

Cars will leave Beverly at 7.00, 7.50, 8 00 A. M., and every half hour till 12 M—will then leave at 12.20, 12.40, 1.00 P. M. and every 20 minutes till 10.40 P. M.

☞ On and after Thursday, Nov. 10, the cars on the South Salem Branch Railroad will be discontinued until further notice. All outstanding Tickets for this route will be redeemed at their value, at the Office, corner of Washington and Essex streets.

M. H. HALE,
nov 9 Supt S. & S. D. R. R. Co.

OYSTER AND REFRESHMENT SALOON.

R. W. Wilkinson & Co.,

WOULD respectfully inform the citizens of South Danvers and vicinity, that they have opened in connection with their

Newspaper & Periodical Department

an Oyster and Refreshment Saloon for

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN,

who may favor them with their patronage.

OYSTERS cooked, or for sale by measure.

MEATS of all kinds cooked to order at all hours, and suppers furnished to parties at short notice.

HOT COFFEE at all hours of day and evening.

CAKE of every variety, including Wedding, Citron, and Plain Frosted, furnished to familes and parties—Also a large and well selected assortment of Confectionery, Fancy Goods, Table Articles, etc., etc.

Choice brands of TOBACCO and CIGARS, and Nuts of every variety. Also, FOREIGN and DOMESTIC FRUITS.

South Danvers, Nov. 9, 1864. tf

SPECIAL NOTICE.

We shall for next two months sell from our stock

—OF—

READY-MADE BONNETS,

AT A

DISCOUNT OF 15 TO 20 PER CENT

Less than the present prices.

☞ Those wishing the BEST CHOICE should

COME EARLY.

REITH & CO'S,

No. 2 West Block, 188 Essex St.,

Nov. 9 SALEM, MASS.

THE WAR.

HORACE GREELY'S great Book on the War, Vol 1—illustrated with maps and cuts—The American Conflict, a history of the Great Rebellion of America, 1860—'64.
Nov 9 G. M. WHIPPLE & A. A. SMITH.

CARD ENGRAVING,

IN all styles—and Cards printed with dispatch.
Nov 9 G. M. WHIPPLE & A. A. SMITH.

PAINTS AND OIL.

FOREST River White Lead; New York White Lead; Linseed Oil; Japans; Spirits Turpentine; Bensole Spirits; Varnishes, &c., constantly for sale at
Nov 9 S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS', 32 Front St.

List of Letters

REMAINING unclaimed in the Post Office at South Danvers, Mass., Nov. 8, 1864.

☞ "To obtain any of these letters, the applicant must call for ADVERTISED LETTERS, give the date of this list, and pay one cent for advertising.

☞ "If not called for within one month, they will be sent to the Dead Letter Office.

☞ Office Hours from 7½ A. M. to 8 P. M,

W J Bennet
Elizebeth Dalton
Daniel Davis
Emma Hood
Gilbert Kittredge
J E Mahoney
C. Putnam
S G Reed
John Ryan
Nancy B Shillaber
Eliza A Walton
John Wholey

DANIEL WOODBURY, P. M.

WANTED TO HIRE,

FOR a year or term of years, a COTTAGE HOUSE and Garden, pleasantly located in Danversport, or Danvers Center. Rent of no consequence, provided all else prove satisfactory.

Address T. H. S. at this office, stating terms, etc.
South Danvers, Sept 28. tf

Two Splendid Engravings.

"CHRIST Blessing Little Children," and "Home on a Furlough."

Subscriptions for these beautiful Engravings received at B. F. STEVENS' Jewelry Store, oct 5 116 Main St., South Danvers.

J. F. Almy & Co.

Sale of Dry Goods

AT LOWEST
PRICES.

JAMES F. ALMY & COMPANY have in Stock a great variety of

LONG AND SQUARE SHAWLS,

just received from New York.

Also, from our own Cloak Rooms, a choice variety of

LADIES' OUTSIDE GARMENTS,

suitable for the Autumn.

IN CLOTHS,

For Autumn and Winter Garments, our stock was bought last June, at much lower rates than prevail to-day.

These we are prepared to make to order from measure in any style.

MOURNING GOODS

—IN—

ALPACCAS,
COBURGS,
THIBETS,
M. DE LAINES,
REPS, &c., &c.

A good stock bought months ago.

We invite special attention to our stock of

DRESS GOODS.

Comprising a greater variety of CHOICE FABRICS, in Novel Effects, than we have ever before offered.

The fall in Gold has not reached the margin at which our stock of Dress Goods was bought.

Rich Black Silks,
Rich Colored Silks,
Rich Plaid Silks,
Rich Figured Silks.

The balance of our old stock closing at low prices.

Please call and look at our stock of PLAID WOOL POPLINS, at $1.75.

Please call and look at our stock of COTTON WARP PLAID POPLINS—magnificent colors—at $1.50.

Please look at our stock of PLAIN WOOL M. DELAINS, at 75c. These goods are the best quality. We have lower grades at lower prices.

We have a good stock of Poie De Chevres, Alpaccas, Coburgs, Repps, Thibets, Poplins, M. DeLaines, Prints, etc, selling low.

Gent's Shirting Flannels.

JAMES F. ALMY & CO., have in stock a good variety of Plaid and Striped Shirting Flannels, at low prices.

Table Coverings.

JAMES F. ALMY & CO. have in stock a great variety of White, Brown and Colored TABLE COVERINGS—old stock—closing at low prices.

Quilts.

Also QUILTS—Lancaster, Bates and Marseilles—all sizes and qualities.

Balmoral Skirts.

Purchasers should look at our stock of Balmoral Skirts. We have them in great variety at wholesale prices.

Bleached and Brown Cottons.

JAMES F. ALMY & CO. have in stock the following grades:—Bleached and Brown Cottons, which they are selling 10 per cent. under the market. Exeter 4-4 Indian Orchard, C. & O.; Laconia, K.; Dwight, I. A. & W.; Beaufort, James, Hill; Imperial, Moncrif; Everett, 9-8; Boot, S; Moncrif.

We can afford to give them to the Trade as above, and will do so until further notice.

Flannels. Flannels.

JAMES F. ALMY & CO. are selling a tip top quality of Domet FLANNEL, over 7-8 wide, at 55 cts.

Also the Damon 7-8 Domet Flannels, at 62½ cts. per yard.

A good quality Gray Twilled Flannel, 62½ cts.

A Heavy Blue Twilled Flannel, 62½ cts.

All grades of Grey, Blue and Red Twilled Flannels at low prices.

Also a splendid line of plain White all wool Flannels from 50 cents up.

Hosiery and Gloves,

Ladies' and Gent's Under Clothing, Kid Gloves, Velvet Ribbons, Our usual stock at our usual low prices.

Designing to make some changes in the character of our Stock the coming Spring, we shall close our present stock very low.

We shall give an opportunity to Cash buyers to buy Goods very low.

JAMES F. ALMY & CO.,

188 Essex Street, opposite Central Street.

Salem, October 19th, 1864.

The Great Sale.

BROWNING & LONG'S

10 PER CENT. DISCOUNT PLAN

Makes a Great Saving.

THEIR STOCK OF LADIES' FURNISHING GOODS IS THE LARGEST HERE.

The most Reasonable Prices Charged

AND A DISCOUNT ALSO TAKEN OFF.

EVERY DEPARTMENT FULL.

We sell New Goods, and all at the

LOW PRICES,

DURING OUR GREAT DISCOUNT SALE.

SEASONABLE UNDERGARMENTS,

Hosiery and Gloves,

A SPLENDID STOCK,

AT THE LOW PRICES.

BEST GERMAN WORSTEDS!

Our New and Spacious Department full of Magnificent Shades, the same Make sold by our Establishment for the last 5 years. We have the finest stock in this vicinity.

The Prices Lower

Than a Good Genuine German Worsted is sold anywhere.

THE LARGEST AND RICHEST LOT

OF BEAUTIFUL WORSTED GOODS,

COMPRISING NEARLY EVERY ARTICLE WORN IN WORSTEDS.

—ALSO—

THE FAMOUS

SHERIDAN JACKET.

THE NEW SKIRT.

A Great Improvement,

And in fact the very best Skirt yet made.

CALL AND EXAMINE

This Skirt of Extraordinary Merit.

OUR

ELEGANT WORSTED WORK

The most magnificent ever seen here.

BROWNING & LONG,

177 Essex Street, 177

SALEM.

☞ Our Store closes every Evening, Saturdays excepted, at 6 o'clock.

Ladies' Furnishing Goods.

PEABODY'S LADIES' FURNISHING STORE.

MARKED DOWN!

Stock to be Reduced.

BARGAINS!

LOWER THAN GOLD.

Seasonable Goods

—AT—

REDUCED PRICES,
At J. P. PEABODY'S.

German Worsteds.

Black or White, only	25 cts.;
Common Colors, only	30 cts.;
Purple and Orange, only	35 cts.;
Chinchillas, only	35 cts.;

Hoods—Shawls—Sontags—Hats—Sea Foams,
Mittens—Sleeves—Gaiters—Boots
Clouds—Scarfs, &c.
At J. P. PEABODY'S.

Woolen Yarns, only	10 cts.;
Blue Mix'd Yarn, only	10 cts.;
White Yarns, only	10 cts.;
Drab Yarns, only	10 cts.;
Slate Yarns, only	10 cts.;
Yarns all marked down to	10 cts.;

At J. P. PEABODY'S.

Best Kid Gloves,	$1 50
White Kid Gloves,	1 25
Hand Knit Shawls,	2 50
[illegible]	[illegible]
Good Breakfast Shawls,	1 75
Good warm Sontags,	1 25
Extra good Sontag,	1 45
Good warm Hood,	1 00
Nice new style Hood,	1 25
Extra pretty Hood,	1 50
Best Hand Knit Zephyr Hood	1 75

Woolen Goods at Reduced Prices.
At JOHN P. PEABODY'S.

Bargains.

Best Worsted Braids,	12 cts.;
Best Spool Cottons,	10 cts.;
Best American Pins,	5 cts.;
Best Linen Thread,	5 cts.;
Nice Elastic Cords,	5 cts.;
Best Gold Eyed Needles,	8 cts.;
Best Sea Island Cottons,	10 cts.;
200 yds Spool Cottons,	10 cts.;

Small Wares at Very Low Prices.
At J. P. PEABODY'S.

Lace Goods.

Black Lace Veils,	New Styles;
Trimming Laces,	New Styles;
Edgings and Inserting,	New Styles;

Malta Collars;
Malta Collars;
Malta Collars;
Malta Collars;

Collars,	Cuffs,
Collars,	Cuffs,
Collars,	Cuffs,
Collars,	Cuffs,

At J. P. PEABODY'S, 220 Essex st.

RIBBONS, FLOWERS

—AND—

BONNET RUCHES.

NETS,

Of all the various Styles,

And all kinds of Ornaments for the Hair.

The Largest Stock of Ladies' Furnishing Goods in Essex County, and the LOWEST PRICES.

ONE PRICE ONLY,

JOHN P. PEABODY,

220 ESSEX ST., SALEM.

George S. Walker.

BARGAINS!

Positively selling at Reduced Prices!

I NOW offer my Winter Stock of Gentlemen's Furnishing Goods, such as

ALL WOOL AND MERINO SHIRTS,
DRAWERS, HOSIERY,
GLOVES, SCARFS,

and other seasonable goods, at less than Importers and Manufacturers prices—or Gold at $1 50.

Purchasers will find it for their interest to call and examine GOODS and PRICES, at

GEORGE S. WALKER'S,
No. 228 Essex Street,
oct 12 Opp. Eastern Railroad Station.

Gentlemen's Gloves.

100 VARIETIES to select from, at

GEORGE S. WALKER'S,
No. 228 Essex Street, Salem,
Opp. Eastern Railroad Station.

A. J. Archer & Co

REDUCED PRICES!

DRY GOODS.

AUGUSTUS J. ARCHER & CO.,

ARE Prepared to offer their Large Stock of

SHAWLS,
DRESS GOODS,
GARMENTS,
WOOLENS,

House-Keeping Goods,

—At the—

LOWEST MARKET PRICES.

oct 12—tf 181 Essex street.

NEW DRESS GOODS,

PLAIN AND FIGURED,

—AT—

164 ESSEX ST., SALEM.

CHOICE STYLES AND COLORS.

—ALSO—

PLAIDS for CHILDREN'S SHAWLS,
BALMORALS, WHITE FLANNELS,
CALICOES, HOOP SKIRTS, &c., &c.

These Goods are positively selling at BARGAINS, please call and see for yourselves.

BE SURE AND FIND THE RIGHT STORE,

164 ESSEX STREET, SALEM,

(Opposite Museum Building.)

oct 12 J. E. P. FEARING.

Potter, Bachelder & Co.,

DANVERS-PORT and SOUTH DANVERS,

DEALERS IN

WOOD AND COAL.

Constantly on hand

Franklin, Burnside, Dimond, } RED ASH.
Old Company & Packer's Lehigh, Pliny Fisk, Webster and Locust Mountain, } WHITE ASH.

Also Cumberland, Pictou and Campbell for Steam and Smith's use.

OFFICE—No. 6 Allen's Building.

G. W. POTTER,
J. Q. A. BACHELDER,
C. T. BATCHELDER. mch 30

M. A. PORTER,

236 Essex Street, - - - Salem, Mass.,

(Opposite Horse Railroad Office,)

MAKES TO ORDER BEST QUALITIES OF

WATCH SPRING SKIRTS.

A Good Assortment of Dress and Clock Button, Braids, Spool Cotton, Small Wares, and Thread Store articles generally.

236 Essex Street, - - - Salem, Mass.,

M. A. PORTER.

197 REMOVAL. 197

Gentlemen's Clothing,

YOUTH'S AND BOYS' CLOTHING,

— AND THE —

FURNISHING GOODS ESTABLISHMENT,

of the subscriber is removed to

197 Essex Street,

Store lately occupied by Mr. JOHN MCKEY.

☞ A full and fresh assortment of GOODS is now opening and will be kept up as the season advances.

Salem, Sept 21. T. H. LEFAVOUR.

HOUSE OF EQUITY,

—BY—

Arnold & Hutchinson,

(Successors to C. T. Southwick.)

FIRST QUALITY

FAMILY GROCERIES,

Sold at the Lowest Prices.

A large and complete assortment of

CROCKERY AND GLASS WARE,

Constantly on hand.

Also FLOUR and GRAIN.

ASHLAND HALL BUILDING,
NO. 1 LOWELL STREET,

F. T. ARNOLD. B. F. HUTCHINSON.

South Danvers, Feb 3, 1864.

DERBY & CHILDS,

Fire, Marine and Life Insurance Agents.

ORDERS left at No. 24 Washington st., Salem, or received by mail, promptly attended to.

Losses equitably adjusted and promptly paid, and Insurance effected at reasonable rates.

Salem, August 10,—3m*

Miss Jeanette R. Andrews,

MUSIC TEACHER.

Room No. 5 Bowker Building,

150 Essex Street, Salem.

Terms—Twelve Dollars per quarter.

References—Professors Webb, Wetherbee, B. J. Lang. nov 2—3m

Auction Sales.

WILLIAM ARCHER, Jr.,

Auctioneer, Real Estate and Stock Broker,
34 Front Street.

Real Estate, Bank, Railroad & Manufacturing Stock bought and sold on Commission.

ON SATURDAY NEXT, at 9½ o'clock, will be sold at No. 34 Front street:

THE USUAL QUANTITY of New and Second Hand Furniture:—Sofas, Lounges, Tables, Chairs, 75 new stools, 2 new painted Chamber Sets, about 20 Oil Paintings and Engravings in Frames, 1 superior new solid Chestnut Chamber Set, Carpets, Feather Beds, &c.

BOOTS AND SHOES—Men's, Boys', Women's, Misses' and Children's Boots and Shoes.

DRY GOODS—Cassimeres, Satinetts, Men's Undershirts and Drawers.

CLOTHING—Over-coats, Coats, Pants, Vests, &c.

At 11 o'clock—1 Grover and Baker Sewing Machine, in perfect order.

— At private sale, —
3 new painted Chamber Sets. Nov 9

AUTUMN AND WINTER DRY GOODS.

PRINTS, De Laines, Plaids, Poplins, Alpaccas, Coburgs, Thibets, and many other styles for Dresses:

SHAWLS AND HOUSEKEEPING GOODS.

Bleached and Unbleached Cottons, different widths. Cotton Flannels, Wool and Cotton and Wool Flannels, of every variety and color.

Union and all wool Cassimeres and Doeskins, for Mens' and Boys' wear

Hosiery, Gloves, Yarns, Umbrellas, &c., &c., sold at the lowest prices for the Cash, at

238 Essex Street.

Salem, Sept. 28, 1864. GEO. P. DANIELS.

NEW GOODS.

ANN R. BRAY,

76 Federal Street, Salem.

WILL open this morning Rich POPLINS, at $1 50 per yard;

All Wool do, rich colors, at reduced prices;

Black Alpaccas, from 75 cts to $1 75;

Housekeeping Goods at Reduced Prices;

Cottons, Brown and Bleached; 5-4 Waltham and Rockville Sheetings; 4-4 Lonsdale, James Mills, Hills and all the best makes Shirting, at the lowest cash prices,

PRINTS, at reduced prices;

BLANKETS, the very best makes—All-wool and Union Blankets, at the lowest market price.

CAMELS' HAIR SCARFS—medium size;

Also—One very large, of the finest quality—at

ANN R. BRAY'S,
oct 19 76 Federal Street, Salem.

AUTUMN GOODS.

SHAWLS,
—AND—
DRESS GOODS.

BLANKETS,
QUILTS,
AND
HOUSE-KEEPING GOODS.

CLOTHS,
DOESKINS,
OVER-COATINGS,
—AND—
CLOAK CLOTHS,

For sale by

THOMAS W. DOWNING & CO.,

sept 28 179 ESSEX STREET, SALEM.

OPENING!

A FULL ASSORTMENT OF

FALL AND WINTER STYLE

BONNETS,
HATS,
DRESS CAPS and
HEAD-DRESSES.

OCTOBER 6TH,

AT

M. E. CRANE'S,

168 ESSEX STREET, - - SALEM.

October 5th, 1864.

Horse Railroad Notice.

SUNDAY TIME.

HEREAFTER on Sunday, Horse Cars will leave Washington Street Station for Beverly at 9.12, 9.52, 10.32, 11.12, 11.52 A. M.; 12.32, 1.12, 1.52, 2.32, 3.12, 3.52, 4.32, 5.12, 5.52, 6.32, 7.12, 7.52, and 8.32 P. M.

Will leave Washington street station for South Danvers, at 9.07, 9.27, 9.47 A. M., and every twenty minutes till 9.07 P. M.

Cars leave South Danvers at 9.30, 9.50, and 10.10 A. M., and every 20 minutes till 9.30 P. M.

Leave Beverly at 9.40, 10.20, 11.00, 11.40 A. M.; 12.20, 1.00, 1.40, 2.20, 3.00, 3.40, 4.20, 5.00, 4.40, 6.20, 7.00, 7.40, 8.20, and 9.00 P. M.

Salem, Aug. 31, 1864. M. H. HALE, Supt.

GEO. E. MEACOM,

Dealer in

DRUGS & MEDICINES,

Fancy & Toilet Articles, &c.,

126 · · MAIN ST · · · 126

Nearly opposite Danvers Bank, So. Danvers.

T. A. SWEETSER,

Druggist & Apothecary

37 Main St., So. Danvers,

DEALER IN

Drugs, Medicines, Chemicals, Foreign Leeches, Shakers' Herbs, Dye Stuffs, Gums, Acids, Sponges, Shoulder Braces, Trusses, and Genuine Patent Medicines.

Also, Imported Cigars of choice brands, Perfumery, Toilet Articles and Stationery.

Physicians' Prescriptions carefully prepared by experienced persons.

37 MAIN STREET.

D. P. GROSVENOR, Jr.,

Druggist and Apothecary,

33 MAIN STREET.

Dealer in Drugs, Medicines, Chemicals, Dye Stuffs, and Popular Proprietary Medicines.

Personal attention to Physicians' Prescriptions.

South Danvers, May 20, 1861. 1y

OATS. OATS.

5000 BUSHELS PRIME OATS, received this day, and for sale by
sept 7 GAYLE & CO., Phillips Wharf.

STORE TO LET.

THE Store now occupied by Messrs. Blake & Holman, on the corner of Washington and Main Sts. The best located and most convenient store in town for the Grocery business. Possession given immediately. Apply to

R. S. DANIELS.

South Danvers, Sept. 21.

For Sale,

THE TWO-STORY WOODEN HOUSE, belonging to the Estate of the late EMMA DODGE, near the Depot. The House is convenient for two families, and has recently been shingled and painted. Any one wishing to invest, will find this a rare opportunity. Enquire of

J. DODGE, 107 Lowell Street,
South Danvers, Oct. 26, 1864.—tf.

The Wizard.

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 9, 186

SHOULDER STRAPS.—Just at the tail end of the war a great many are suddenly seized w a fit of patriotism, and "their souls are ea for the fray," but they all want commissio In the Massachusetts regiments there are abo half a dozen vacancies, and for these there a 2,235 applicants. Now if the surplus wou but make up a fighting regiment of their ow they would do mortal execution. If the don't choose to do this, they had better join Artemas Ward's regiment, where there are no privates, and every man holds a commission.— If tney are real patriots, let them shoulder their muskets and go to the field; it wlil be much more honorable than wearing shoulder straps, drawing pay and keeping as far from the field of duty as possible.

☞ Two lawyers in Lowell, returning from court the other day, one said to the other, "I've a notion to join Rev. Mr. ——'s church; been debating the matter some time. What do you think of it?" "Wouldn't think of it," said the other. "Well, why?" "Because it could be no possible good, while it would be a great injury to the church."

☞ Gen. Grant set type sixteen years ago in a printing office in Ohio; Gen. Wardsworth, who was killed in one of the recent battles in Virginia, was a printer; the rebel Gen. Zollicoffer, was a printer; in fact the "art preservative" can boast of thousands of distinguished participants in this rebellion.

☞ A worthy couple in Detroit had a pair of twins baptised the other day, and in order that they might tell one from the other, tied a piece of ribbon around the arm of one, which a stupid servant girl removed after the baptismal ceremony, and now they cannot tell "tother from which.

☞ Mr. Jenkins was dining at a very hospitable table, but a piece of bacon near him was so very small, that the lady of the house remarked to him, "Pray, Mr. Jenkins, help yourself to the bacon! Don't be afraid of it." "No, indeed, madam—I've seen a piece twice as large, and it did not scare me a bit."

☞ Artemas Ward says: "If I am drafted I shall resign. Deeply grateful for the unexpected honor thus conferred upon me, I shall feel compelled to resign the position in favor of some more worthy person. Modesty is what ails me. That's what keeps me under."

☞ A house entirely of paper is going up in London. There are a great many houses, doing extensive business in this country, that entirely are of paper. They do first rate in fair weather, but as soon as the storms beat upon them and the rains descend they will be reduced to pulp.

☞ Lieut. Wm. M. Runkle, formerly a Philadelphian, has in his possession the celebrated black flag carried by Moseby's band.— It has a single star in a black ground, with the word "Winchester" inscribed thereon, and in lead pencil there is written "No quarter."

☞ A thief had a very short enjoyment of the proceeds of crime last Friday. He robbed a Brooklyn grocery at 8 o'clock, was in the hands of an officer at 8.10, before a magistrate at 8.15, and in the penitentiary at 9.

☞ A witness in a Hoosier court being asked how he knew that certain parties were man and wife, replied, "Why, dog gone it, I've heard 'em scolding each other mor'n fifty times." The evidence was held as conclusive.

☞ Cotton being scarce, a Yankee "patriot" has invented and is selling like hot dumplings, India-rubber breast works for ladies, as his advertisement says—"rivalling nature in grace, shape and elasticity!"

☞ Efforts are soon to be made to introduce the culture of coffee bean into the Connecticut valley—a product that is said to be the substitute for coffee yet discovered.

☞ The freemasons in Maine have a missionary in the field engaged in circulating comforts among, and providing for, invalid soldiers in the army. This is a good work.

☞ Since Gen. Sheridan took command in the Valley, he has taken from the enemy seventy-nine pieces of artillery—almost twenty full batteries.

☞ A Massachusetts soldier lately deceased in one of the military hospitals at Washington had twenty-three distinct wounds upon his person.

☞ It has been suggested by a crusty old bachelor, that this talk of cotton famine is sheer nonsense, for if the woman but unbosom themselves, there is no scarcity.

☞ Can't change a bill, eh? Well I'm glad of that. I have had thirty-six drinks on it in three days, and it may stand a good deal of wear and tear yet.

☞ A lady, in speaking of the gathering of lawyers to dedicate a new court-house, said she supposed they had gone "to view the ground where they must shortly lie."

☞ A down east editor says that modesty is a quality that highly adorns a woman but ruins a man.

☞ Shakespeare says that use strengthens habit. Somebody states that he tried it on a coat, but it did not answer at all.

☞ When is a man over head and ears in debt? Ans. When he has a hat on which is not paid for.

☞ When is beer not beer? Ans. When it is a little tart.

☞ The fire should burn the brightest on one's own hearth.

Special Notices.

MATRIMONIAL!

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN,

If you wish to marry, address the undersigned, who will send you without money and without price, valuable information that will enable you to marry happy and speedily, irrespective of age, wealth or beauty. This information will cost you nothing, and if you wish to marry, I will cheerfully assist you. All letters strictly confidential. The desired information sent by return mail, and no questions asked. Address

Sarah B. Lambert, Greenpoint, Kings Co.,
oct. 12, 1864.—2 m. NEW YORK.

☞ Ready-made Overcoats, $60, $55, $50, $45, $42, $40, $38, $35, $33, $32, $30, $28, $26, $25, $22, $20, $19, $18, $17, $16, $15, $14, $13, $12, $11, $10. One Price only at BENNETT & Co's, 14 & 15 Dock Square, Boston.

☞ For Boys' Clothing call at BENNETT & Co's One Price House, 14 and 15 Dock Square, Boston.

☞ Ready-made Pants, $17, $16, $15, $14, $13, $12, $11, $10, $9, $8, $7.50, $7, $6.50, $6, $5.50, $5, $4.50, $4, $3.50, $3, $2.50, at BENNETT & Co.'s One Price House, 14 and 15 Dock Square, Boston.

☞ For Gents' Furnishing Goods, Shirts and Drawers, or a garment made to order, call at BENNETT & Co.'s One Price House, 14 and 15 Dock Square, Boston.

Cards.

C. W. HALEY, M. D.,
Physician and Surgeon.
OFFICE—WARREN BANK BUILDING,
South Danvers.

N. J. HOLDEN,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
Office, 27 Washington Street, Salem, Mass.

M. B. MANSFIELD,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
214 ESSEX STREET, SALEM, MASS.

 Particular attention paid to procuring Pensions, Bounties, Back Pay, Prize Money, and Army and Navy Claims of all descriptions. March 2.

H. L. HADLEY,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
CORNER MAPLE AND ELM ST.,
Danvers.
Claims against the Government for Bounty, Back Pay, and Pensions, promptly attended to.

THOMAS M. STIMPSON,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
194 ESSEX STREET, SALEM.
Residence Lowell street, South Danvers.

B. C. PERKINS,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
South Danvers—Office in Allen's Building.

ALFRED A. ABBOTT,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
Office, No. 24 Washington Street, Salem.
House, Main St., So. Danvers.

SIDNEY C. BANCROFT,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
27 Washington Street, Salem.

H. O. WILEY,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
Office, Allen's Building, South Danvers.
Claims against the Government for Bounty, Back Pay, and Pensions, promptly attended to.

A. S. CRAWFORD
Dentist,
No. 4 MAIN STREET, SO. DANVERS SQUARE
Mechanical Dentistry Neatly Executed.

W. L. BOWDOIN,
SURGEON DENTIST,
No. 208 Essex Street, Salem, (Opposite the Marke
Residence—No. 57 Washington street.
jan 11—1y

NEWMAN & SYMONDS,
DEALERS IN
Family Groceries, Flour & Grain,
HARD WARE AND CROCKERY,
Ready Made Clothing, Gents' Furnishing Goods,
Hats, Caps, Boots, Shoes, &c.,
South Danvers Square, opp. Congregational Church
SAM'L NEWMAN. NATH'L SYMONDS.

S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS,
DEALERS IN
Crockery, China and Hardware; Paper Hangings; Solar and Entry Lamps; Paints, Oil and Window Glass.
No. 32 Front street, Lawrence Place,
feb13 SALEM, MASS.

HENRY L. WHIDDEN,
HOUSE AND SIGN PAINTER,
Glazier and Paperer,
Central Street, South Danvers.
All orders promptly and faithfully executed.
jan2-1y

JESSE SMITH
No. 262 Essex Street, Salem,
Importer and Dealer in
Gold and Silver Watches,
MARINE CHRONOMETERS,
Aueroid Barometers, Spy Glasses, &c.

WILLIAM BLANEY,
HOUSE & SIGN PAINTER
Grainer, Glazier and Paper Hanger.
164 MAIN STREET, Corner of Grove.
WINDOWS and BLINDS cheap for cash.
mch6-tf

F. POOLE
INSURANCE AGENT,
Allen's Building (up stairs),
Deeds drawn and other common forms.

Advertisements.

Are you Insured?

THE subscriber would respectfully call your attention to the fact that he is fully prepared to effect INSURANCE AGAINST FIRE, to any amount, at current rates, on

Dwelling Houses, Barns and their contents, Stores, Stocks of Goods, Furniture, &c. &c., and on buildings in process of erection,

And that he is the authorized Agent for the following responsible Stock and Mutual Companies, viz:

Thames Insurance Co., (Stock,) Norwich, Conn.
Capital—$500,000.
Amos W. Prentice, Pres. Oliver F. Rice, Sec'y
Conway Insurance Company, (Stock) Boston.
Capital and Surplus—$260,000.
James F. Whitney, Pres. David C. Rogers, Sec'y.
City Insurance Company, (Stock) Boston.
Capital—$150,000.
Samuel P. Hayward, Pres. Austin W. Benton, Sec'y

Also, will effect Insurance on the LIVES OF INDIVIDUALS, for one year, seven years, or for the whole term of life, in the

Massachusetts Mutual Life Ins. Co., Springfield, Mass.
Capital and Assets—$375,000.
Caleb Rice, Pres. D. B. Bacon, Sec'y.
William Mack, M. D., Medical Examiner.

WM. ARCHER, Jr.,
18 Washington st. and 34 Front st., Salem.
feb20-1

STURGIS'

ELECTRIC COMPOUND,

An Effectual External Remedy for

NEURALGIA

—AND—

RHEUMATISM.

ALSO, INVALUABLE FOR

Spinal Irritation, Ague in the Face, Toothache, Pain in the Side, Back, and Limbs, Ear, Ague, &c.

Among the Advantages of this Medicine are the following:

ITS effect is very rapid—in most cases instantaneous.

It is external in its application, and the patient runs no risk in using it. It does not strike to the stomach.

It reaches the nerves and muscles, as it is believed no other medicine does.

It has cured some of the most violent and obstinate cases of Neuralgia ever known.

It can be used on a child or an aged person alike.

While it is very powerful, it is perfectly harmless.

The proprietor has been allowed to publish the names of many persons who have used the COMPOUND with the most beneficial results. He inserts a few of them. They are among the most respectable citizens of Boston and other places, and their residences and places of business are given.

Rev. N. Munroe, late of Boston Recorder
Joseph H. Allen, 119 Washington St., house 55 Ruthland Street.
N. P. Kempt, Tract Society, 40 Cornhill.
Addison Boyden, 408 Washington Street, Boston, firm of Haley, Morse & Boyden.
William H. Brewster, Publisher of Boston Traveller.

The following letter from one of our best citizens will speak for itself:

REV. JOSEPH E. BARRY, the children's missionary of Boston, was the recipient a few weeks since of a bottle of STURGIS'S ELECTRIC COMPOUND, for Neuralgia, Rheumatism, &c., and having experienced great benefit from its use, and having known of many severe cases of the above complaints where it produced cures, considers it his duty to make known to his friends and others being so unfortunate as to be troubled with these terrible complaints, the virtue of this preparation.

Boston, Sept. 15, 1863. JOSEPH E. BARRY.

REMARKABLE CURE OF NEURALGIA.—The following letter, (unsolicited,) was received by the proprietor in May last:

CAMP ROGERS, Newbern, May 6, 1863.

Dear Sir. I have been for some weeks suffering under a severe attack of Neuralgia, the severity of which has caused me to be in 'perfect agony" both night and day. Having heard of STURGIS'S ELECTRIC COMPOUND from a "companion in arms." I was induced to give it a trial, which had the happy effect to immediately cure me. I am surprised that surgeons do not have it in the army, as there is a constant demand for such an invaluable relief. I make this statement for the public good, and I have no scruples about your using this as a recommendation to other victims of this painful disorder.

Yours, respectfully. JOSEPH HOUGHTON,
Co. D. 43d Reg't Mass. Vols.

For Sale by all Druggists.
☞ Office No. 119 Washington St., Boston.
Sept. 28—6mo.

DR. J. H. BATCHELDER,
DENTAL SURGEON,
No. 20 Washington St., (near Eastern Railroad Depot),
SALEM, MASS.
Is Licensed to make the New Patent Teeth on HARD RUBBER or VULCANITE.
July 1, 1864.

REAL ESTATE.

The subscriber offers for sale the following Lots of Land, with the buildings thereon, at Private Sale, until October next, when, if not previously sold, they will be put up at auction.

On Lowell street, a two story DWELLING HOUSE, fitted for two families. This is the Estate formerly known as the Southwick Tavern.

On Lowe street, leading from Foster St. to Washington St., a two story TENEMENT for two families with a garden attached to it.

On Washington street, near the residence of Capt. Lowe, a very eligible BUILDING LOT, on the North side of the street.

On Tremont street, a small COTTAGE HOUSE for one or two families.

On Walnut street, a pleasant, elevated Lot of Land, with a large Barn, situated opposite Mr. Caller's Currying Shop.

In the rear of the above TWO TENEMENT HOUSES.

For particulars apply to
jy 27 WILLIAM SUTTON.

Salem and Danvers Aqueduct Co'y.

ALL persons using the water of the Salem and South Danvers Aqueduct, are hereby notified that the water rents, for the six months ending Nov'r 1, 1864, are now due; and that they are required to pay the same, at the office of the Company, No. 2 Sewall Street, on the 1st day of October inst. Should the bills remain unpaid for thirty days, the water will be stopped, in conformity to the regulations of the Company.

Office hours from 9 to 1 o'clock, and from 2 to 5.
Per order of the Directors,
Salem, Oct 1, 1864. WM. JELLY, Collector.

SELF-SEALING
AIR-TIGHT CASKET.

MR. CHARLES S. BUFFUM, Furnishing Undertaker of South Danvers, takes this method to announce that he has a new burial case, which combines all the advantages of a wooden receptacle with those of a metal one, and yet avoids the disadvantages of both. They have been used with great success, and bodies placed in them have been delivered in perfect preservation after having been transported over a thousand miles. To persons having deceased friends at the seat of war they are invaluable. They come at reasonable prices, are light and durable, and are perfectly airtight. august 10

EBEN UPTON,
Piano Fortes Tuned and Regulated,
MELODEONS AND PIANOS
BOUGHT, AND EXCHANGED
For New Piano Fortes, at Wholesale Prices.
Orders left at G. CREAMER'S Bookstore, Salem.
July 27, 1864.—6m

FURNITURE.

HAVING taken the Store No. 10 FRONT STREET, (formerly occupied by BENJAMIN COLMAN,) I shall keep constantly on hand a large stock of

NEW AND SECOND-HAND FURNITURE,
BEDDING, COUNTING-ROOM DESKS, &c., &c.,
which I will sell cheap for CASH.

ALL KINDS OF FURNITURE NEATLY REPAIRED.

☞ All kinds of FURNITURE and BEDDING wanted—for which the highest Cash price will be paid.

P. J. HYNES, 10 FRONT-ST.
Salem, April 6, 1864—1y

CURRIER & MILLETT,
Dealers in

Furniture, Chairs,
MATTRESSES, FEATHERS, &
259 & 261 ESSEX ST.
Salem, dec 14—1y

NEW INKSTAND.

OLIVER'S Patent Inkstand claims the following advantages:—It is not complicated—No trouble to fill—Does not get out of order—It is very economical—It prevents evaporation—Does not require frequent filling—Can be easily operated—It is easily cleaned—Filters the Ink for use—Keeps the Ink free from exposure and fresh and limpid—It is both ornamental and durable. For sale by
Salem, Sept 23 G M WHIPPLE & A A SMITH.

AARON T. LOWE,
DEALER IN
BOOTS, SHOES AND RUBBERS,
76 BOSTON STREET, 76.
aug 6 SALEM. tf

LIFE INSURANCE.

THE MUTUAL
LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY,
Of New York, with a Capital of $11,000,000,
And an Annual Income of over
$2,000,000,

AND declaring a LARGER DIVIDEND than any other Company in the United States, is the one in which every man should secure a policy on his life.

The importance of LIFE INSURANCE cannot be too highly estimated. It is the safest and most practicable method of securing to your family, in case of your death, the means of a comfortable and independent support. Thousands of instances might be cited where families have thus been provided with a competency, who would otherwise have been left in penury and want. Husbands and fathers! treat not with indifference a subject of such vital importance, but see to it at once, that your families are provided with the inestimable advantages which this great and benevolent institution affords.

Because a man has wealth, it is no reason why he should not insure, for he knows not how soon his riches may "take to themselves wings and fly away." And let those who complain of the want of means, remember that

Forty-Five Cents a Week,

Will insure $1,000 on the life of a man of THIRTY.

AN ENDOWMENT POLICY,

Secures to the assured party, on attaining to a certain age, say 50, 55 or 60 years, an amount sufficient for his support in advanced age.

Another feature of this subject, deserving of especial attention, is

SURVIVORSHIP ANNUITIES!

By means of which one party may secure to another, an annuity sufficient to maintain them in comfort and independence through life. A husband may thus make provision for his wife; a father for his child; or a brother for his sister.

Endowment Policies for Children.

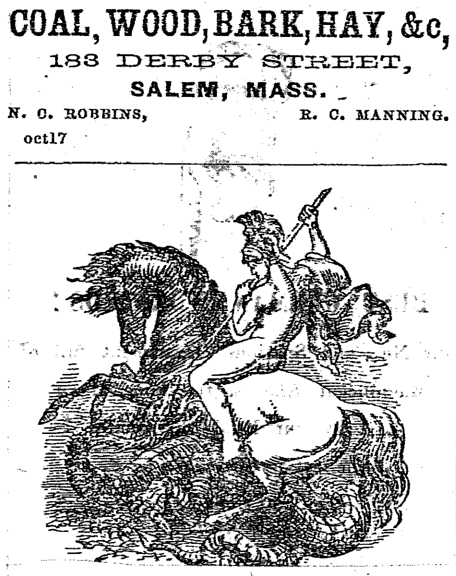
By this means a parent may provide, by the payment of a small annual premium, a sum of money sufficient to enable a son to enter into business, at a proper age, or for any other provision, either for a son or daughter.

Many Gentlemen of So. Danvers and Vicinity!

Have already availed themselves of this opportunity now offered of ensuring their lives, and thus securing an inestimable blessing to themselves and their families. Let others be equally wise, and immediately follow their example.

JOHN H. DERBY,
Agent for South Danvers and Vicinity.
Post Office address, Salem, Mass.
September 14, 1864.—tf.

R. C. MANNING & CO.,
Successors to JOHN DIKE & CO.,
DEALERS IN
COAL, WOOD, BARK, HAY, &c,
183 DERBY STREET,
SALEM, MASS.
N. C. ROBBINS, R. C. MANNING.
oct17



HOSTETTER'S
CELEBRATED
STOMACH BITTERS.

A pure and powerful Tonic, corrective and alterative of wonderful efficacy in disease of the

Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

Cures Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Headache, Debility, Nervousness, Depression of Spirits, Constipation, Colic, Intermittent Fevers, Cramps and Spasms, and all Complaints of either Sex, arising from Bodily Weakness whether inherent in the system or produced by special causes.

Nothing that is not wholesome, genial and restorative in its nature enters into the composition of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. This popular preparation contains no mineral of any kind, no deadly botanical element, no fiery excitant; but it is a combination of the extracts of rare balsamic herbs and plants with the purest and mildest of all diffusive stimulants.

It is well to be forearmed against disease, and, so far as the human system can be protected by human means against maladies engendered by an unwholesome atmosphere, impure water and other external causes, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS may be relied on as a safeguard.

In districts infested with Fever and Ague, it has been found infallible as a preventive and irresistible as a remedy and thousands who resort to it under apprehension of an attack, escape the scourage; and thousands who neglect to avail themselves of its protective qualities in advance, are cured by a very brief course of this marvelous medicine. Fever and Ague patients, after being plied with quinine for months in vain, until fairly saturated with that dangerous alkaloid, are not unfrequently restored to health within a few days by the use of HOSTETTER'S BITTERS.

The weak stomach is rapidly invigorated and the appetite restored by this agreeable Tonic, and hence it works wonders in cases of DISPEPSIA and in less confirmed forms of INDIGESTION. Acting as a gentle and painless appetient, as well as upon the liver, it also invariably relieves the CONSTIPATION superinduced by irregular action of the digestive and secretive organs.

Persons of feeble habit, liable to Nervous Attacks, Lowness of Spirits and Fits of Languor, find prompt and permanent relief from the Bitters. The testimony on this point is most conclusive, and from both sexes.

The agony of BILLIOUS COLIC is immediately assuaged by a single dose of the stimulant, and by occasionally resorting to it, the return of the complaint may be prevented.

As a General Tonic, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS produce effects which must be experienced or witnessed before they can be fully appreciated. In cases of Constitutional Weakness, Premature Decay and Debility and Decrepitude arising from OLD AGE, it exercises the electric influence. In the convalescent stages of all diseases it operates as a delightful invigorant. When the powers of nature are relaxed, it operates to re-enforce and re-establish them.

Last, but not least, it is The Only Safe Stimulant, being manufactured from sound and innocuous materials, and entirely free from the acid elements present more or less in all the ordinary tonics and stomachics of the day.

No family medicine has been so universally, and, it may be truly added, deservedly popular with the intelligent portion of the community, as HOSTETTER'S BITTERS.

Prepared by HOSTETTER & SMITH, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Sold by all Druggists, Grocers and Storekeepers everywhere.

December 16, 1863.—1 yr.

VALUABLE REAL ESTATE.

THE Subscriber offers for sale the following Lots of Land, with the Buildings thereon, at private sale, until September next, when such as then remain unsold, will be offered at Public Auction:

A new and well built two-story DWELLING HOUSE, situated on English Street.— This house is well supplied with the modern conveniences, is pleasantly situated on rising ground, and is a very desirable residence.

On Walnut Street is the large BOARDING HOUSE, with the land adjoining, which is excellently well situated for what it is designed

Several front LOTS for building purposes on Walnut Street, will be sold at moderate prices and fair terms.

A STORE HOUSE 70 by 25 feet on Walnut Street, with the land under and the rear of it. It can be easily adapted for a Curriers' Shop, or for other kinds of business.

On Wallis Street, near the mill pond, a well built and painted MOROCCO FACTORY, all ready for occupancy. It is about 80 feet long by 25 wide, and in excellent repair.

Next to the Morocco Factory on the same street, a STORE BUILDING, strongly built, and framed for a DWELLING HOUSE, for which it could be easily adapted. Or it would make an excellent Shop for any kind of business.

Near ELM STREET, on a Court south of said street, are two DWELLING HOUSES, planned for two families each. One is two stories high, the other one and a half. Both houses have good tenants and yield a good income; offering a good chance for investment.

Between Harris and English Streets, one One Story DWELLING House, and a One Story and a Half House.

The above is a most excellent opportunity for enterprising young men to secure places for business and dwelling houses, on reasonable terms. Such a chance may not soon again occur.

Persons desiring to purchase any of the above lots may learn the prices and terms on application to ANDREW S. PORTER, Elm Street.

SAMUEL D. PENDAR.
South Danvers, May 11, 1864. tf

Indispensable to Every Soldier and Seaman.

BROOKS'S PATENT WRITING AND TOILET CASE.

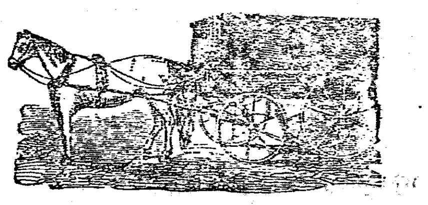
EASILY carried in the coat pocket. Supplied by the manufacturers at the old price—$2.

D. B. BROOKS & BROTHER,
201 Essex Street, Salem, Mass.

Those who have friends in the Army of the Potomac can have them sent to them free of postage. sept 7

HENRY G. HUBON,
WASHINGTON STREET, SALEM.
Manufacturers of
Rose Wood, Mahogany, Black Walnnt and Stained Wood
COFFINS and CASKETS.

MAKING this our exclusive business, we are ready at all times and at the shortest notice to furnish Grave Clothes of various styles, as well as Coffins and Caskets of the finest finish. Personal attention given, and delivered without extra charge to any of the neighboring towns. All orders by express or otherwise will receive prompt attention.
nov 1—tf



CHARLES S. BUFFUM,

BEING an authorized UNDERTAKER of South Danvers, will attend Funerals in said place with his Hearse the same as the Town Undertaker. Will also attend Funerals, when desired, in any of the neighboring towns, with one or a pair of horses.

He also furnishes Coffins, Caskets, Robes, etc., lower than city prices.

All branches of the business attended to, such as furnishing Coaches, Flowers, Laying Out, etc.

Ice Preservers Furnished.

All orders promptly attended to, and personal attention given to them. Articles delivered to any of the neighboring towns free of charge. Orders by express or otherwise will receive prompt attention.

Central street, South Danvers,
RESIDENCE 25 ELM STREET.
South Danvers, Feb 17, 1864.

Undertaker's Notice!

THE subscriber being regularly appointed as Undertaker of South Danvers, would respectfully notify the public that he has removed from Central Street, to No. 80 Lowell Street, where he may be found in readiness to attend funerals, and to furnish, when desired.

HENRY SPENCER.
February 10, 1864.

Chickering & Sons' Piano-Fortes.
Hallett & Cumston's Piano-Fortes.
Hallett & Davis's Piano-Fortes.

We select our Piano-Fortes from the above firms and warrant them to give perfect satisfaction. Our terms are reasonable, and all persons in the city and neighboring towns can be accommodated by calling at 76 Federal street.

FOR SALE—Second-hand Piano-Fortes,—Chickering's and others.
ap 29 ANN R. BRAY.

MOULTON'S
NEW LIVERY STABLE,

Is removed to stable formerly occupied by
SAMUEL HAM,
On MAIN STREET, opposite the Institute.

Good Horses and Carriages will be always in readiness at short notice.
South Danvers, May 25, 1864.

PIN WORMS. MRS. OSBORN'S Universal Worm Powders are the only sure cure ever offered to the public. They are warranted in every case; relief within 24 hrs. 25 cts. per box. Sold by all druggists.

For sale by D. P. GROSVENOR, Jr., 33 Main St., South Danvers. jan 27

MORRIS'
RESTAURANT,
18 and 20 Derby Square, Salem.
Oysters, Clams, Steak, Poultry, Game, Fish, &c., &c., COOKED TO ORDER.
Pickled Oysters, Lobsters and Clams.
Salem, July 22, 1863. tf

GAYLE & CO.,
COMMISSION MERCHANTS,
AND DEALERS IN
Flour, Grain and Produce,
PHILLIPS WHARF, Salem.

WEBSTER'S NEW DICTIONARY,

NEW edition, illustrated throughout and greatly enlarged—for sale by
oct 12 G. M. WHIPPLE & A. A. SMITH.

PAPER SHADES.

A FINE assortment of Paper Shades for Kerosene Lamps, just received from Philadelphia, and for sale at S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS', 32 Front St.
oct 12

JUST ARRIVED,
AT DANVERS MILLS,

500 Bushels Corn, in the minnie cob, and will be sold in South Danvers. Constantly on hand a large stock of meal, which will be sold at the lowest Salem prices.

—ALSO ON HAND—

500 Bushels Feed;
200 Bushels prime Northern Oats;
100 Barrels choicest Family Flour.
A good stock of LIME constantly on hand.

JOHN C. MOULTON,
Central St., South Danvers, Mass.
Aug 25—tf.

THE TRAVELERS INS, CO.,
OF HARTFORD, CONN.
Capital - - - - - - $250,000.

Is now prepared to Insure persons against
ACCIDENTS
OF EVERY DESCRIPTION.

Yearly policies will be issued for a premium of
FIVE DOLLARS,
granting insurance to the amount of
FIVE THOUSAND DOLLARS,
against accidental loss of life while travelling by any public conveyance.

TEN DOLLARS PREMIUM

secures a policy for Five Thousand Dollars, and also twenty-five dollars per week compensation for personal injury incapacitating the assured from his ordinary business.

TWENTY-FIVE DOLLARS PREMIUM

secures a full policy for $5000 and $25 per week compensation for all and EVERY DESCRIPTION OF ACCIDENT, TRAVELLING OR OTHERWISE.

Policies for $5000 with $3 per week compensation, can be had for $3 per annum; or any other sum between $500 and $5000 at proportionate rates.

DIRECTORS:

Gustavus F. Davis,	W. H. D. Callender,
James L. Howard,	George W. Moore,
Marshal Jewell,	Ebenezer Roberts,
Thomas Belknap, Jr.,	Charles White,
Cornelius B. Irwin,	Hugh Harrison,
George S. Gilman,	Jonathan B. Bunce.

JAMES G. PATTERSON, President.
RODNEY DENNIS, Secretary.
HENRY A. DYER, General Agent.

PLUMBER & MERCER, AGENTS,
40 State Street, Boston.

Offices in Salem—JOHN H. DERBY, No. 24 Washington street; SAMUEL MACKINTIRE, No. 218 Essex street. Aug. 3, 1864—1yr*

Skinner's Pulmonales

SKINNER'S PULMONALES S

Immediately Relieve Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, loss of Voice, Bronchitis, Lassitude, Thirst and every symptom of the first stages of Pulmonary Consumption; they are white in form of a wafer, and as suitable for the infant in the cradle as the patient of three score years and ten. Orators and all who overtax the vocal organs receive instant relief by their use. Sold by all Druggists. Prepared by E. M. SKINNER, Chemist, 27 Tremont St., Boston. sept 7—1y

SPALDING'S ROSE MARY

FOR FOURTEEN YEARS the Rosemary has held a high rank as pure, uniform and reliable. It is Warranted. 1st, To beautify the hair. 2d, To curl the hair elegantly. 3d, To remove dandruff effectually. 4th, To restore hair to bald heads. 5th, To force the beard and whiskers to grow. 6th, To prevent the hair from falling off. 7th, To cure all diseases of the scalp. 8th, To prevent the hair turning grey. 9th, To cure headache. 10th, To kill hair eaters. Sold everywhere. Prepared by EDW. M SKINNER, Chemist, 27 Tremont St., opposite the Museum, Boston, Mass. sept 7—1y

ALWAYS SUCCESSFUL!

TO ALL THOSE WHO SUFFER FROM

DEBILITY AND SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

DRS. CARSWELL & HUNTER, regularly educated, highly eminent and successful practitioners, after a very extensive practice in Boston, for over twenty years, need hardly speak of their medical qualifications, or remind strangers not to class them with a set of uneducated men, who fill the papers with their boasting advertisements. Drs. C. & H. caution the public against quackery in all its forms, pretending, as some self-styled doctors, to cure all the most difficult and chronic diseases, without knowledge of the human system, or of the modus operandi of the most simple drugs.

Drs. C. & H., since 1840, having confined their whole attention to an office practice for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, they acknowledge no superiors.

CONSTITUTIONAL DEBILITY OR SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Drs. C. & H. are pre-eminently successful in the treatment of the above most difficult and perplexing of all diseases, this complaint being the result of a secret habit in youth; if neglected or improperly treated, it proves one of the greatest evils that can befall a human being. Dr. H. has given particular attention to the above disease for years, and so thoroughly has he become acquainted with the pathology and treatment, that he will warrant a perfect cure under forfeiture of $500; in fact, he will, in the cure of this complaint, acknowledge no superior in this country, or even in the world. Come, then, all you who are afflicted, come to the Old Stand, where you will in a short time be made to rejoice in perfect health.

SYPHILITIC AND SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS,—such as Ulcers and Caries of the throat and nose, Running Sores on the legs and arms, Hard Scabs and Scaly Eruptions on the head, back, &c., pains in the bones and joints, and all other forms of venereal diseases—are made to yield and entirely disappear under Drs. C. & H.'s improved and thoroughly eradicating course of treatment.

The primary or first symptoms of disease, whether a simple running, or small pistules, cancers, or ulcers, are cured in a very few days, if immediate application is made to Drs. C. & H.

13 ENDICOTT STREET, BOSTON. 13

Strangers should be particular in the selection of a physician, lest they be deceived by false advertisements.

Ladies troubled with irregularity, weakness, whites, and other complaints peculiar to the female system, will find a speedy cure by calling as above. No mercury used, and no charge for advice. The afflicted are invited to give us a call.

Boston April 20, 1864.—1 yr.

BELL'S SPECIFIC PILLS.—WARRANTED IN ALL CASES.—Can be relied on! Never fail to cure! Do not nauseate! Are speedy in action! No change of diet required! Do not interfere with business pursuits! Can be used without detection! Upward of 200 cures the past month—some of them very severe cases. Over one hundred physicians have used them in their practice, and all speak well of their efficacy, and approve of their composition, which is entirely vegetable, and harmless on the system. Hundreds of certificates can be shown.

BELL'S SPECIFIC PILLS are the original and only genuine Specific Pill. They are adapted for male and female, old or young, and the only reliable remedy for effecting a permanent and speedy cure in all cases of Spermatorrhea, or Seminal Weakness, with all its train of evils, such as Urethral and Vaginal Discharges, Gleet, the Whites, Nightly or Involuntary Emissions, Incontinence, Genital Debility and Irritability, Impotence, Weakness or Loss of Power, Nervous Debility, &c., &c., all of which arise principally from Sexual Excesses or Self-Abuse, or some constitutional derangement, and incapacitates the sufferer from fulfilling the duties of married life. In all sexual diseases, as Gonorrhea, Gleet, and Strictures, and in Diseases of the Bladder and Kidneys, they act as a charm! Relief is experienced by taking a single box. Sold by all the principal druggists. Price $1.

They will be sent by mail, securely sealed, and confidentially, on receipt of the money, by

J. BRYAN, M. D,
No. 76 Cedar street, New York,

Consulting Physician for the treatment of Seminal, Urinary, Sexual, and Nervous Diseases, who will send, free to all, the following valuable work, in sealed envelope:

THE FIFTIETH THOUSAND.—DR. BELL'S TREATISE on Self-Abuse, Premature Decay, Impotence and Loss of Power, Sexual Diseases, Seminal Weakness, Nightly Emissions, Genital Debility, &c., &c., a pamphlet of 64 pages, containing important advice to the afflicted, and which should be read by every sufferer, as the means of cure in the severest stages is plainly set forth. Two stamps required to pay postage. December 9, 1863—1 yr.

IMPORTANT TO LADIES.—DR. HARVEY'S FEMALE PILLS have never yet failed in removing difficulties arising from obstruction, or stoppage of nature, or in restoring the system to perfect health when suffering from Spinal Affections, Prolapsus, Uteri, the Whites, or other weakness of the Uterine Organs. The Pills are perfectly harmless on the constitution, and may be taken by the most delicate female without causing distress—the same time they act like a charm by strengthening, invigorating and restoring the system to a healthy condition, and by bringing on the monthly period with regularity, no matter from what causes the obstruction may arise. They should, however, NOT be taken during the first three or four months of pregnancy, though safe at any other time, as miscarriage would be the result.

Each box contains 60 Pills. Price $1.

DR. HARVEY'S TREATISE on Diseases of Females, Pregnancy, Miscarriage, Barrenness, Sterility, Reproduction, and Abuses of Nature, and emphatically the Ladies' Private Medical Adviser, a pamphlet of 64 pages, sent free to any address. Six cents required to pay postage

The Pills and book will be sent by mail when desired, securely sealed, and prepaid, by

J. BRYAN, M. D., General Agent,
No. 76 Cedar street, New York.

☞ Sold by all the principal druggists.
December 9, 1863—1 yr.

SUMMER ARRANG
—TO—LYNN & BOS
—BY—
OMNIBUS & HORS
W. F. BURNHA

Line of Omnibuses will leave the Ly Omnibus Office, No. 6 Allen's Buildi vers, passing down Main Street, throug Street, to Lynn, daily—Sundays incluc
Leave South Danvers at 7 50 o'cloc and 4 50 P. M.
Leave Lynn (Horse Car Depot, West A. M., 2 40 and 6 40 P. M.
Horse Cars leaving the office at 14 at 8 15 A. M., 1 15 and 5 15 P. M., will m buses at Lynn, at the above named passengers to South Danvers.
Tickets to Lynn, - - -
Through to Boston, - - -

Gravesend, Woodend, an Depot Route.

ON and after Monday, Nov 2, in addi route, an Omnibus will leave Sout Lynn, to connect with the steam and times daily,—Sundays excepted,—run Gravesend and Woodend, to the Centr and Horse Railroad Station, corner Broad Streets; leaving South Danvers necting with the 7.25 steam cars for Bo (connecting with the 11.10 train), and 4 ing with the 4.50 train); and returning from the Spring Street Station and Ce pot, at 8 A M, and 1 and 6 P M.
Fare from S. Danvers to Boston by h
" " " " st
Through Tickets to and from Boston the Drivers and Conductors.

EXPRESS BUSINES
Between South Danvers and Lynn pr ed to, on reasonable terms.
Extra Coaches furnished at short noti
W. F. BU
South Danvers, April 20, 1864.

CROUT & MUNR
SOUTH DANVERS &
RAILROAD EXPR
Express leaves South Danvers at
Freight " " " at
Express leaves Boston at
Freight " " at
OFFICE at FREIGHT DEP
Danvers Square.
Express Office in Boston, 3 Washi
Freight Office, 48 Kilby
Particular attention paid to re niture, collecting Bills, Notes, Dra
Smallest favors thankfully received.
South Danvers, august 26—tf

LITTLEFIEL
South Danvers & Salem Ma

B LIT successo ber, wh press tween and Sa deliver and bu goods usually delivered by Express.
Leave South Danvers at 7½ and 11 A
Leave Salem at 8.45 A. M., 2 and 6 P
This Express connects with the first tra going East.
SLATES—In Salem, 13 Central st., and at Roberts' store, corner of Front and Wash
South Danvers—At the Post Office; at man's store; also at R. O. Spiller's store.

Important to the Affl

DR. DOW continues to be consulted Nos. 7 and 9 Endicott street, Boston eases of a

PRIVATE OR DELICATE NAT

By a long course of study and practica of unlimited extent, Dr. D. has now the of presenting the unfortunate with re have never, since he first introduced the cure the most alarming cases of

GONORRHŒA AND SYPHIL

Beneath his treatment, all the horrors and impure blood, Impotency, Scrofula, Ulcers, pain and distress in the regions tion, Inflammation of the Bladder and K drocele, Abcesses, Humors, frightful Sw the long train of horrible symptoms att class of disease, are made to become as the simplest ailings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Dr. D. devotes a great part of his time ment of those cases caused by a secret a habit, which ruins the body and mind, unfortunate individual for business or soci of the sad and melancholy effects produce habits of youth, are Weakness of the limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimness of pitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervou rangement of the digestive functions, Sy Consumption, &c. The fearful effects o are much to be dreaded; loss of memory of ideas, depression of spirits, evil aversion of society, self-distrust, timidi among the evils produced. Such persons fore contemplating matrimony, consult experience, and be at once restored happiness.
Patients who wish to remain under Dr. ment a few days or weeks, will be furn pleasant rooms, and charges for board m
Medicines sent to all parts of the count directions for use, on receiving descript cases. Dr. Dow has also for sale the Frenc warranted the best preventive. Order or $1 and a red stamp.

CAUTION

TO FEMALES IN DELICATE HE

DR. DOW, Physician and Surgeon, 7 and street, Boston, is consulted daily for all d dent to the female system. Prolapsus Ute ing of the Womb, Fluor Albus, Suppressio er menstrual derangements, are all treated pathological principles, and speedy relief in a very few days. So invariably certain mode of treatment, that most obstinate yield under it, and the afflicted person soo in perfect health.
Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater experi cure of diseases of women and children, other physician in Boston.
Boarding accommodations for patients wish to stay in Boston a few days under ment.
Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined his tention to an office practice, for the cure Diseases and Female Complaints, acknow superior in the United States.
N. B.—All letters must contain four red they will not be answered.
Office Hours from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M.

CERTAIN CURE

IN ALL CASES, OR NO CHARGES

Dr. Dow is consulted daily, from 8 a m. as above, upon all difficult and chronic every name and nature, having by his unw tention and extraordinary success gained a which calls patients from all parts of the obtain advice.
Among the physicians in Boston, none sta in the profession than the celebrated DR. 7 Endicott street, Boston. Those who need vices of an experienced physician and surg give him a call. P. S.—Dr. Dow imports a sale a new article, called the French Secr by mail. Two for $1 and a red stamp.
April 20, 1864—1y.

Job Press for Sale.

RUGGLES' JOB ENGINE PRESS. Prints by 19 inches. Can be run by one man of 800 per hour. Is in good condition. It wi very low price, as the owner has no use for i big bargain. Apply at this office.

HEYLINGBERG'S
Hair Dressing Sal
24 MAIN ST., SOUTH DANVE

J. J. HEYLINGBERG would announce to rons and the public generally, that on JUNE 1st, 1864, he will abide by the followi

TARIFF OF PRICES:
Shaving, - - - -
Hair Cutting, - - - -
Champooing, - - - -
Particular attention paid to dying hair kers, in one preparation, without washing bing.
South Danvers, May 11, 1864.

25 YEARS' EXPERIENCE enab CARSWELL & HUNTER to cure any of a private nature in a shorter space of tim a smaller amount of money than any other d this country, and they also treat all female c with perfect success, and on the most mo terms. Patients furnished with board if Please give us a call at our office, No. 13 End Boston, Mass.
Boston, April 20, 1864.—1 yr.

South Danvers Wizard.

V. SOUTH DANVERS, MASS., WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 16, 1864. NO. 46.

H DANVERS WIZARD
WEDNESDAY, at Allen's Builds Square.
llars a year.
s inserted at reasonable rates.

LES D. HOWARD,
AND PROPRIETOR.

S, Advertising Agent,
Building, Court Street, Boston, is
at city, and is authorized to rents and subscriptions for us at ertisements.

LDEN OPPORTUNITY,"
A DISCOUNT!

fall in GOLD having produced nding effect on the value of ISE,
E MARKED DOWN
Entire Stock of
OTHING,
the basis of a Gold value,
customers the MOST FAVORABLE PORTUNITY
sented of Selecting their
ER CLOTHING.
EDUCTION EXTENDS TO THE M DEPARTMENT.
lease examine our
ock and Low Prices,
let your interest decide.

BOISE & CO.,
ERS & DEALERS IN CLOTHING,
Washington Street,
BOSTON,
doors south of Milk St.) 864.

LEMEN'S HATS.
LL STYLES.
est selected assortments of FALL and
HATS in Boston, may be found at
. JACKSON'S,
nt and 101 Court Sts.
COMPRISING
Hats,
ne Felt Hats, and
Cloth Hats and Caps,
t styles.
AND CAPS FOR BOYS.
rge and well assorted stock of Ladies
's FURS.
ACKSON'S,
St. and 59 Tremont St.,
BOSTON.

W STORE!
ur! Flour!
CEIVED, a fresh supply of CHOICE
direct from the Mills, for sale,
d retail, at LOWEST PRICES, by
E. F. OSBORN.
Sutton's Building, Main St.
nvers, Nov 18, 1863.

. C. HENDERSON,
MANUFACTURER OF
LAIN AND FANCY
ER BOXES,
235 ESSEX STREET,
ign of "Nest of Boxes,"
SALEM. tf

M. FENOLLOSA,
TEACHER OF MUSIC,
......PIANO FORTES,
at the lowest rates;
.....PIANO FORTES,
at the Manufacturers Prices;
S ....PIANO FORTES,
on the easiest terms;
Rooms No. 7 Central street,
SALEM, MASS.

Books, Making Bills and
Copying.
e business will be promptly and accurately
d by the subscriber, who may be found at RK & GIDDINGS' Counting Room on Wal-ar the Essex Depot, or by enquiring at this jy13 tf JOHN D. HOWARD.

ECTACLES!
KERRY wishes to call special attention to ock of
acles and Eye Glasses,
lver—Rubber—Steel and Horn frames, of eeps constantly on hand a very large as-mbracing every style and quality.
—ALSO—
Glasses, Microscopes, &c.
s set, and Spectacles repaired.
our usual assortment of Silver and Plated
ery, Fancy Goods, and Toys. Also, Can-
180 Essex Street, Salem.
H. F. SKERRY.

Special Notices.

To Consumptives.

Consumptive sufferers will receive a valuable prescription for the cure of Consumption, Asthma, Bronchitis, and all Throat and Lung affections (free of charge) by sending their address to Rev. EDWARD A. WILSON, Williamsburg, Kings Co.,
sept 21—3 mos. New York.

From the army hospital—the bloody battle-field—the mansion of the rich and humble abode of the poor—from the office and the sacred desk—from the mountain top, distant valleys and far-off islands of the ocean—from every nook and corner of the civilized world—is pouring in the evidence of the astonishing effects of DRAKE'S PLANTATION BITTERS. Thousands upon thousands of letters like the following may be seen at our office.

REEDSBURY, WIS., Sept. 16, 1863.
"* * * * I have been in the army hospitals for fourteen months—speechless and nearly dead. At Alton, Ill. they gave me a bottle of Plantation Bitters. * * * Three bottles restored my speech and cured me. * * * *
C. A. FLAUTE."

SOUTH WARSAW, O. July 23, 1863.
"* * * One young man, who had been sick and not out of the house for two years with Scrofula and Erysipelas, after paying the doctors over $150 without benefit, has been cured by ten bottles of your Bitters.
EDWARD WOUNALL.

The following is from the Manager of the Union Home School for the Children of Volunteers:
HAVEMEYER MANSION, FIFTY-SEVENTH ST.,
New York, August 2, 1863.
"DR. DRAKE: Your wonderful Plantation Bitters have been given to some of our little children suffering from weakness and weak lungs with most happy effect. One little girl, in particular, with pains in her head, loss of appetite, and daily wasting consumption, on whom all medical skill had been exhausted, has been entirely restored. We commenced with but a teaspoonful of Bitters a day. Her appetite and strength rapidly increased, and she is now well * *
Respectfully, MRS. O. M. DEVOE."

"* * * I owe much to you, for I verily believe the Plantation Bitters have saved my life.
REV. W. H. WAGGONER, Madrid, N. Y."

"* * * Thou wilt send me two bottles more of thy Plantation Bitters. My wife has been greatly benefited by their use.
Thy friend, ASA CURRIN, Philadelphia, Pa."

"* * * I have been a great sufferer from Dyspepsia, and had to abandon preaching. * * * The Plantation Bitters have cured me.
REV. J. S. CATHORN, Rochester, N. Y."

"* * * Send us twenty-four dozen more of your Plantation Bitters, the popularity of which are daily increasing with the guests of our house.
SYKES, CHADWICK & CO.,
Proprietors Willard's Hotel, Washington, D. C.

"* * * I have given the Plantation Bitters to hundreds of our disabled soldiers with the most astonishing effect.
G. W. D. ANDREWS,
Superintendent Soldiers' Home, Cincinnati, O.

"* * * The Plantation Bitters have cured me of liver complaint, of which I was laid up prostrate and had to abandon my Business.
H. B. KINGSLEY, Cleveland, O."

"* * * The Plantation Bitters have cured me of a derangement of the kidneys and urinary organs that has distressed me for years. It acts like a charm.
C. C. MOORE, 254 Broadway, N. Y."
&c. &c. &c. &c. &c.

The Plantation Bitters make the weak strong, the languid brilliant, and are exhausted nature's great restorer. They are composed of the celebrated Calisaya Bark, Wintergreen, Sassafras, Roots, Herbs, &c., all preserved in perfectly pure St. Croix Rum.

S.—T.—1860—X.

Persons of sedentary habits troubled with weakness, lassitude, palpitation of the heart, lack of appetite, distress after eating, torpid liver, constipation, &c. deserve to suffer if they will not try them.

They are recommended by the highest medical authorities, and are warranted to produce an immediate beneficial effect. They are exceedingly agreeable, perfectly pure, and harmless.

NOTICE.—Any person pretending to sell Plantation Bitters in bulk or by the gallon is a swindler and impostor. It is put up only in our patent log cabin bottle Beware of bottles refilled with imitation deleterous stuff, for which several persons are already in prison. See that every bottle has our private United States Stamp over the cork unmutilated, and signature on steel plate side label.

Sold by respectable dealers throughout the habitable globe.

P. H. DRAKE & CO.
202 Broadway, N. Y.
Mch 16—1 yr

THE GREAT ENGLISH REMEDY.
SIR JAMES CLARKE'S
CELEBRATED FEMALE PILLS!

Prepared from a prescription of Sir J. Clarke, M. D., Physician Extraordinary to the Queen.

This well known medicine is no imposition, but a sure cure and safe remedy for Female Difficulties and Obstructions, from any cause whatever; and, although a powerful remedy, they contain nothing hurtful to the constitution.

In all cases of Nervous and Spinal Affections, pain in the Back and Limbs, Fatigue on slight exertion Palpitation of the Heart, Hysterics, and Whites, these pills will effect a cure, when all other means have failed: and, although a powerful remedy, do not contain iron, calomel, antimony, or anything hurtful to the constitution.

Full directions in the pamphlet around each package, which should be carefully preserved.

For full particulars, obtain, free, of the agent, a pamphlet. Sold by all Druggists.

Sole United States Agent,
JOB MOSES, 27 Cortlandt St., New York.

N. B.—$1 and 6 postage stamps enclosed to any authorized agent, will insure a bottle, containing over 50 pills, by return mail. March 9, 1864.—1 yr.

DR. E. F. KITTREDGE,
From Lowell, formerly of New Ipswich, N. H.,
Has removed his office and residence to
NO. 42 MAIN STREET,
SOUTH DANVERS, MASS.

Dr. K., from an extensive and successful professional experience of upwards of twenty years, feels justified in saying that he can treat diseases to the satisfaction of his patients, and to the credit of himself.

Office hours from 7 to 9 A. M., and from 6 to 9 P. M.
South Danvers, Nov 13, 1863.

MANUAL FENOLLOSA
TEACHER
OF THE
Violin, Piano and Singing,
MUSIC ROOMS, No. 7 Central Street,
SALEM, MASS.

☞ Visit OSBORNE's Store, and look at the unusual variety of new styles in HATS and CAPS—191 Essex street.

Selected.

Dragoon's Song.

"Clash, clash goes the sabre against my steed's side,
Kling, kling go the rowels as onward I ride;
And all my bright harness is living and speaks,
And under my horse's shoes the frosty ground creaks.
I wave my buff glove to the girl whom I love,
Then join my dark squadron, and forward I move.
The foe, all secure, has lain down by his gun,
I'll open his eyelids before the bright sun.
I burst on his pickets; they scatter, they fly;
Too late they awaken—'tis only to die.
Now the torch to their camp: I'll make it a lamp,
As back to my quarters so slowly I tramp.
"Kiss, kiss me, my darling! your lover is here.
Nay, kiss off the smoke-stains; keep back that bright tear;
Keep back that bright tear till the day when I come
To the low-wailing fife and the deep-rolling drum,
With a bullet half through this bosom so true,
To die, as I ought, for my country and you."

Speech of Hon. Charles Sumner.

Fellow Citizens:—The trumpet of victory is now sounding through the land "Glory, Hallelujah." (Loud cheers.) It is the silver trumpet of an archangel, echoing in valleys, traversing mountains, and filling the whole country with immortal melodies, destined to awaken other echoes throughout the world, (cheers) as it proclaims "Liberty throughout all the land to all the inhabitants thereof." (Great applause.)

Such is the victory which we celebrate, marking an epoch in our history and in the history of the world. But beyond infinite victory there are two things not usually occurring together, which we here commemorate; a funeral and a birth. (Great laughter and applause.) The funeral we celebrate is that of the Democratic party, which we bury to-night with all the dishonors that belong to it. Loathsome and putrid with corruption while it was still above ground, let it be hurried out of sight, where its sickening stench will cease to be a nuisance. (Tremendous cheering.)

The Democratic party had ceased to be patriotic. It was in sympathy with the rebellion, so much so as to be its Northern wing. Such a party could not exist in a country that had determined to exist. It was an outrage and a shame, and hereafter it can never be mentioned except with contumely. (Cries of "that's so," and cheers.)

"Breathes there a man with soul so dead,
Who never to himself has said,
This is my own, my native land?
The wretch, concentred all in self,
Living, shall forfeit fair renown,
And, doubly dying, shall go down
To the vile dust from whence he sprung,
Unwept, unhonored, and unsung."

And this is the condition of that famous party, which forgot country.

The extent of its degradation may be seen in the frauds which it has perpetrated in the hope of influencing the election. Nothing so mean as these in all history. Fraud is always odious; but it becomes more so in proportion to the occasion on which it is employed. It is odious in small things; doubly odious in greater things. To cheat one man is a crime; to cheat a whole class of men is greater far. But if these men be citizen soldiers, now fighting for their country, and it is proposed to cheat them of their votes by bare-faced fraud, I know no language which can depict the loathsome and most intolerable enormity of the offence. And yet this is the fraud that has been attempted—happily the last and dying fraud of the Democratic party. (Applause.) Would you know the origin of these frauds and their special inspiration? I can tell you. It is slavery. Men who make up their minds to sustain slavery stick at nothing. If they are willing to forge chains they will not hesitate to forge votes. If they are willing to enslave their fellow men, they will not hesitate to cheat soldiers. Therefore all these recent frauds are derived naturally out of that baseness and insensibility to right which is bred of slavery. (Applause.) But these frauds testify against that Democratic party which undertook to perpetrate them.

There was an English monarch, whose head, as it dropped from the block, was held up to the people, while a voice cried, "This is the head of a traitor." Thus do I hold up the head of the Democratic party and say, "This is the head of a traitor." Let it be buried out of sight, and let the people dance at its funeral. (Tremendous applause.)

But I have said that we celebrate a birth as well as a funeral. The birth is the new life of our country, which is born to-day into assured freedom with all its attendant glory. The voice of the people at the ballot box has echoed back that great letter of the President, "To all whom it may concern," (laughter and loud cheers) declaring the integrity of the Union and the abandonment of slavery to be the two essential conditions of peace. (Loud applause.) Let the glad tidings go forth "to all whom it may concern," to all the people of the United States, whether bond or free; to foreign countries; to the whole family of man; to posterity; to the martyred band who have fallen in battle for their country; to the angels above; aye! and to the devils below, that this republic shall live, and slavery shall die. This is the great joy that we now announce to the world. (Here there was a perfect torrent of approving cheers.)

From this time forth the rebellion is doomed more than ever. Patriot Unionists in the rebel States, take courage! Slave, be of good cheer! The hour of deliverance is at hand. (Renewed cheering.)

Adventure with a Robber.

It may be four years ago, and it may be five, that I was called by business from my home at Tamworth, to London. It was about a lawsuit that was going on, and as there was plenty of money, and the costs were likely to come out of the estate, we witnesses were pretty well paid by the lawyers, at least they treated me liberally enough, and it was not likely that I was going to grumble when, the case being over, Mr. Lewin, the lawyer, dropped a sovereign over and above the usual fees into my hands, and thanked me for the straightforward, conscientious way in which I had given my evidence. Well, the case being over early in the day, I determined to go and see some sights and enjoy myself, and return by this same train, which then left at 9.15, instead of 9 P. M. I arrived at the station early, for, having enjoyed myself, I was in good humor, and thought how much I should like some jolly companion to join me on the line down. I walked up and down the platform, but there were few passengers that night, and I could not see any one whose appearance I liked, or who would do to be merry with. Well, I got my little friend refilled at the refreshment saloon,—here he tapped the region where the case bottle reposed—and stepped into the compartment of a second class. I found I was alone, and said, "Hillo, Jim, this is not the sort of company you bargained for; however, I'm not the boy to meet sorrow half way." Remarking this, I took my seat. A porter shut the door, and the train was on the point of starting, when there was a hurried stamp on the platform, the door opened, and a man hastily jumped in. The door was shut, and before I had time to see what my companion was like, the train had started and was in full career. He appeared to be a figure of the largest, if I were to judge by the height and size. His head was covered by a slouched hat, the brim of which was turned down in such a way as entirely to conceal his face. Not liking his appearance, I sat quietly in my corner.

"You don't seem to be very sociable, neighbor," he began; "folks ought not to be sulky when good company joins them,—come, be a sociable."

I replied that I had no objection to doing so, if I only knew how.

"Well," he replied, "first take a pull at this," drawing out a huge bottle, "and then we'll have a game of cards."

I answered that I was a teetotaller, and never played cards.

"Now don't tell me any of your lies," he said. "Not drink, eh!" and he accompanied his words with a dig in my side right on my case-bottle. The blow was gigantic; the force of that man's hand you can't imagine; my bottle was broken in bits, and the liquor running out, discolored my white coat.

"A teetotaller, eh!" said he; "smells wonderfully like rum for teetotal drink. Now I tell you what, my cove," says he, putting his hand into his pocket, from which he produced a pistol, "sit down at once,"—for I had started to my feet to resist the outrage—"or I shall leave only one alive in this carriage, and I promise it shan't be you."

He held the weapon close to my head, and I was forced to obey.

"Now I tell you what, I am quiet and peaceable, but you shall be sociable, and play and drink,—come!"

He handed the bottle, and I pretended to drink.

"Now," said he, bringing forward the cards, "what shall we play? You don't know, eh? Well, we will play hooky. I will be banker. I will put four packs down, you shall put your money down on three, I will double it, and if the one comes up uncovered highest, I win, if not, you. Of course you won't stake anything low."

I protested I had no money, but he spoke in such a feeling way of the trouble I should cause him to search me for my purse that I at last pulled it out. It contained about thirty pounds, and taking out a few half crowns, I covered the packs, and of course lost directly. I thought to myself, "Well, we shall stop at Wolvertown soon, and I can give him into custody immediately, for it is evident he will rob me of all. But never mind, here goes, I shall get it again from the police." We played, and in a few minutes all my money was gone.

"Now, let me see," said he, "your watch, chain, and rings are worth twenty pounds,—stake them!" with awful emphasis.

I did so—they were gone.

"Well," he said, "your clothes are good, we will play for them. Of course, as a gentleman, you will redeem them in money, won't you? Say five pounds. You stake, I cover, won again—never was such luck. Well, I don't know, you seem a shabby creature, I'd best have them while I can: and seizing me by the hand, he commenced pulling off my clothes, one by one. I struggled, I screamed, but it was of no use, I was as a baby in his hands. In the struggle his hat fell off, and I saw his face as the face of a grinning skeleton. He stripped me to my very stockings. I begged, prayed for a rag to cover me, for the night was cold.

"You may think yourself well off alive," he said.

"Never mind," I gladly thought, "the train slackens speed, Wolverhampton is here." Alas! as I spoke, the wretch, who had been making my things into a bundle, rushed me into the corner, and opening the door, stepped out into the darkness, and before I, a naked, wretched man, could make the people at the station understand what had happened, he had gone beyond recall. The skeleton face was, of course, a painted mask, to frighten lone passengers, and all I ever recovered was my white great coat, which the villain had dropped in his flight.

The Night Side of New York.

That "half the world does not know how the other half lives," will hold true of that latter half of the inhabitants of New York, who, quite respectable people as they are, go to bed early, and, lost in peaceful slumber, are unconscious of the busy scenes and sleepless activity of large numbers around them.—Newspaper slaves, as we are, and therefore habitual night workers and keepers of most improper hours, and strongly as we would warn our readers especially against falling into the same evil habits, we can yet assure them that, for once, a walk through the streets, between one and two in the morning would afford them some information, and supply material for serious reflection. Should their steps take the direction of the City Hall, they will see the lighted precincts where our police rendezvous, and where the night charges for drunkenness, disorderly conduct, and minor offences are disposed of, while across the Park, in Printing House Square, they will hear the ceaseless clatter of the printing machines, low under ground, of the Tribune and its neighbor, as the flying press throws off the impression of the paper for the coming day, at the rate of twenty thousand per hour. Down toward the Astor House one constantly meets or hears the tinkling horse cars that supply the belated pedestrians of the Third, Sixth, or Eighth avenuer with the means of reaching their homes. There is a Sunday silence along Broadway—that is, all the stages have ceased running—but the heavy teams, the hacks, the market carts, the solemn tramp of the policeman, as he glides in and out trying doors and shutters, the hasty tread of the steady "old party," ashamed of being seen out so late, the stealthy step of the thief, the schuffling, fluttering run of the "unfortunates," the brawl of the drunkard, the roistering merriment of the bacchanalians who have just left their orgies, the sounds of music and dancing from the various saloons and "hells," and the indescribable hum of these varied noises, turn night into day, and mock the silent stars. In the minor and second-class streets, though not those of the lowest class, one of the most striking features is the overflowing abundance and activity, at all hours of the night, of the colored people.—Streets that in the day time might be passed through without the presence of a negro population being suspected, will be found at night to swarm with the, certainly not in this case, "with the children of the sun." What time they sleep or rest is certainly a mystery—at all hours of the night you will find the doors of their houses open, men smoking, talking, loafing, women washing, cleaning or cooking, and the only natural sound that strikes the ear is perhaps the cry of sleepy and fretful child at the turmoil around it, while knots of "darks" dot the pavement, promenading, courting, or quarelling, as the case may be. Toward the North river night is rendered hideous by the cracking of whips, shouting of drivers, and the rumbling and jolting of produce teams, milk wagons, and kindred vehicles, over the ill-paved streets and on the river side. Along by Barcalay street all night long is a busy scene, that would do no discredit to a country market. All the liquor shops are open, and their flaring lights, flashing over the road, illuminating the motley group perspiring at the work which is necessary to prepare for the morning market.

Everybody is working with zeal, but notwithstanding everybody seems somewhat sleepy. There is a German butcher snoring away in his chair, with a fine sirloin serving for a pillow for his shaggy head. All the produce dealers and market gardeners are busy landing fruit and vegetables from the wharves on the river or the wagons which line the streets, with their patient teams munching the hay from the nets, and doubtless dozing and dreaming of the quiet stable away in the country, and wondering why they should be elsewhere an hour after midnight. Whence is that delicious fragrance a thousand times surpassing in its delicate fumes all the efforts of the perfumer's skill. It comes from those hampers of peaches which are being unloaded. Of course, there are many scenes beside these, many in the haunts and dens where the vicious herd, orgies of which one can hardly hear without blushing for our city, our country, and our kind that can find delight in such degradation. We gladly draw a veil of darkness over them.

THINGS WORTH KNOWING.—Windows are kept free from ice by painting the glass with alcohol with a brush or sponge. Odors from boiling cabbage, etc., are prevented by throwing red pepper-pods, or a few pieces of charcoal into the pot. Percussion caps are found to poison children, if swallowed. Pigeons are hatched in eighteen days; chickens in twenty-one; turkeys, twenty-six; ducks and geese, thirty. A cement which is a good protection against weather, water, and fire, to a certain extent, is made by mixing a gallon of water with two gallons of brine, and stirring in three pounds of common salt; put it on with a brush like paint. Put potatoes of equal size into water while boiling; when done, pour off the water, scatter in some salt, cover the pot with a coarse cloth, and return it to the fire for five minutes, when they are ready for the table; even watery potatoes are thus made mealy.

☞ Mrs. Francis Clayton, now in Maine, enlisted in the army at St. Paul's, Minn., with her husband, in 1861, and fought by his side till he was killed in the battle of Stone River. She was in eighteen battles; once a prisoner; three times wounded—in hand, hip, and knee; and at her husband's death made known her sex to her general, and was discharged. After that she walked ninety-three miles, from Lexington to Louisville, bareheaded and barefooted, tracking her way in blood.

What we know of Shakspeare.

With the exception of the dates derived from the parish register, almost all our authentic information comes from the records of the borough of Stratford, and the facts there recorded are of the most prosaic and commonplace kind. The traditions gathered by the gossiping and uncritical Aubrey, or mentioned by Rowe, cannot be depended upon as containing even a germ of fact, being, moreover, for the most part exceedingly unimportant; and it is impossible to derive from his own works any certain inferences as to the circumstances and events of his life. He was, of all poets, the least autobiographical. His very greatness prevented his being so. He threw himself so completely into the dramatic situations which he was imagining and embodying for the time being, that he ceased to be William Shakespeare, and became Hamlet, or Coriolanus, or Prospero. Only in very few passages does there seem to be a faint trace of personal feeling, or a faint record of personal experience; such, for instance, is that passage in Twelfth Night:

Let still the woman talk
An elder than herself: so wears she to him,
So sways the level in her husband's heart;

where we cannot be wrong in supposing that he must have bethought him how he at eighteen had taken a wife, Anne Hathaway, aged twenty-six. But such a case is rare, if not unique. While he was creating, he ceased to be a man, and was poet all over. Such a power of perfect self-abandonment and self-forgetfulness seems to be essential to, and characteristic of, the highest genius.

The fact that so little has been recorded of Shakespeare, tends to show that in his life scandal found nothing to lay hold of. The story of his poaching in Charlecote Park is probably untrue, but, if even true, all that would be proved is this, that his after-life must have been blameless, indeed, since it afforded, to the ill-natured gossip of a country town, nothing worse to dwell upon than a youthful frolic. As far as we can judge, he had not the tastes of a sportsman. With that marvellous facility of his, which we have already mentioned as the chief quality of a poet, especially a dramatic poet, he could sympathize with persons of tastes, tempers, and persuits utterly differing from his own. His rapid apprehension and excellent memory enabled him to use with precision the slang of the idle soldier or dissolute man of pleasure, as well as the technical terms of every profession. Lord Campbell wrote a pamphlet to prove, from the accuracy with which he uses legal phraseology, that he must have been at one time a lawyer's clerk. By parity of reasoning, it might be shown that he must have been a surgeon's apprentice, or a schoolmaster, or a farmer, or a merchant.

If his contemporaries could have foreseen to what a hight his fame was destined to grow, how every scrap of his writing would have been cherished, how his lightest words would have been remembered and recorded! As it is, we have (except the bare signature) not one word of authentic manuscript, nor one authentic saying. Not however, that Shakspeare was depreciated in his own day, as most people believe, on the authority of Wordsworth.—Shakspeare, long before his death, was, without doubt, the most popular man of letters that England had ever seen. People were never weary of going to see his plays, some of which went through four or even five quarto editions during his lifetime alone—an immense success, when the reading public was comparatively so limited a body. No poet before him, or since, down to the days of Scott and Byron, ever realized so large a fortune.

In working for the stage, Shakspeare's first object was to make a living, not to make a name, and still less to expound philosophical truths. Several of the plays, we know, and probably more than we know of, which now go under his name, were old plays touched up by him. Over these he scattered, with a lavish and careless hand, the graces of his unflagging variety and abounding fancy; but he did not dream that these plays would survive him and be linked with his fame. He took, so far as we know, no care about their publication, and let any publisher who pleased print them from any uncorrect manuscript he could lay hold of. In many cases, he evidently worked in hot haste, to be ready against a certain time. Incongruities and errors of all sorts (many due clearly to the writer, not to the printer) abound in his plays, especially the earlier ones. As he went on, he came gradually to see that the theatre was to be his life-calling, and that on his dramas, not on Venus and Adonis, or Lucrece, or any other poem which he might have planned, his fame would rest. When he had time to take pains, how exquisite is the workmanship! What delicacy of touch, marvellous in union with such gigantic strength!—Chambers' Journal.

NAPOLEON'S VIEWS OF TREATING A WIFE. The first Napoleon wrote to his brother Louis: "Your wife is an excellent and virtuous woman, yet you make her unhappy. Allow her to dance as much as she likes, 'tis the fancy of her age. My wife is forty years old; from my camp I tell her to go to balls; yet your wish is that your wife, only just twenty, and in the flush of youth, should shut herself up and spend her days like a nurse dressing her baby. You are too much a master at home, and not enough in your government. Make the mother of your children happy. There is only one way; show her a great deal of esteem and confidence. Unluckily your wife is too virtuous. Were she a coquette, she would lead you by the nose. You should have a wife such as some that I know of. She would put you down, and keep you at her feet. It is not my fault she has not done so already."

☞ A dealer in ready-made linen advertises his shirts and chemises under the mellifluous appellation of "male and female envelopes."

Women of Secessia.

The correspondent of the New York World, who accompanied Gen. Sheridan in his march down the Shenandoah Valley, writes as follows of the women of that war-desolated region:—

The faces that look down from the window of this valley have in many instances a strange and fascinating beauty. Between them and one who glances up, that glamour fatal to Pyrrhus rises to cheat the senses, and inform the heart with the most persuasive lie. There is no tenderness in these faces. The charm is far different from that known to Nothern countries. It is a steel-cold langour, to witness which is chilling to the soul. One who commences speech with these damsels finds himself wondering what sort of beings have arisen on this soil in place of the children of Eve. Here are smiles and courtesy and refinement; but ah, how very like a cymbal is the hollow something in the sound of all! These women have suffered. War is nearer their hearths than to ours. It is a sterner thing by far. Their hearts are in it, buried, some of them, in graves that thicken every day upon the soil. Along this valley, in which, from the Potomac to Staunton, there is no law or safety, the scourge of battle is a monthly episode. All the horror, all the sacrifice of war knocks at the door of every mansion on the way. Property and life are things of chance. People make few plans for the future; to-morrow may shatter them forever. Marriage is but little thought of. All marriageable men are under arms, and marriageable women let them go with little murmur. There is no use in murmuring. War is the one great passion to which both are ready to make any sacrifice.

These women seem to have tacitly accepted the fact that until the war is over courtship is a mockery that had better not be thought of. The maiden who says good-by to her lover, makes up her mind for the worst that can befall. Death is the rival of love; and death, nine times out of ten, is conqueror. Is it strange, then, that we who seek for tenderness in the hearts of these women must seek deep? Wrong as is the cause, it has a more wide-spread, and a bitterer, deeper devotion among the masses in this region than has ours. One of the most beautiful of any women in the valley, who visited the North before the war, and was a belle at several watering-places during the summer months, refused last week to take the hand of an old friend, in Federal uniform, who presented himself at the door. I have heard no less than half a dozen damsels say, in a tone of perfect calmness, that they had rather lose every friend they had, and die themselves, than have the South submit to a restoration with those whom they esteem to be its enemies. I believe they meant what they said, and would abide by it to the letter.

Such women as these are influential enemies; and it will be said by many that they deserve all the insult and harm they have received in return for their enmity. I do not think so; and, far as I am from defending their devotion to a cause wicked in its inception, I cannot refrain from as much wonder as admiration of the few among the many in the valley who preserve a like devotion to the sacred cause of the Union. One incident will always be grateful and thrilling in the memory of this army. While the troops were passing through Winchester, on their return, three young and accomplished ladies, wearing the colors of our flag upon their breasts, and waving the same banner born by the marching regiments, stood in front of a single dwelling, smiling welcome. To the officers who stopped to greet them, they expressed a heartfelt joy at the presence of our soldiers, and to those officers they bade farewell with trembling voices, and eyes swimming in greatful tears.

THE RECRUITING OFFICER—The reader must picture a stout, big-bellied, short-haired recruiting officer, with a blue cap, broad, stiff frontispiece, a short sword, blue uniform a size too small, and a raw customer from "faderland," with wooden shoes and a long-tailed gray coat. The officer was after recruits for a German regiment, and thus went in for his susceptible countrymen:

"Lo! dere, Hans, be dat you?"

"Yaw."

"Come me to be a sojer man."

"Nein!"

"Yaw! come! it be so nice."

"Nein! I gets shoots."

"Nix! Py tam, it is better as good. It been foon all de vile. You enlist mit me you gets nein hundred dollars bountish."

"So?"

"Yaw. And you gets such nice clothes as sever vas. Shust look at me!"

"So?"

"Yaw. And in the morning, ven de trump peets, dat is de gurnel's gompliments to came an' git your schnapps mit him."

"So?"

"Yaw. And purty soon, bime by, trumps peets, dat is de gurnel's gompliments to come eat some sour-krout un sausage mit him by tam."

"So, mynheer?"

"Yaw, dat ish so. Den purty soon, bime by, der trump peets, and dat ish de gurnel's gompliments to ride mit him in der carriage to see your vrou or your Katrina. And den you rides mit him all over de city mit him, and no costs you one tam cent. And bime by de trump peets, and dat ish de gurnel's gompliments to come and schmoke a bipe mit him! And den bime by, purty soon, right away de trump peets de tuyful, and dat is de gurnel's gompliments to come and get you nein hundred tollars bountish, I thinks, but I guess not, py tam!"

"Yaw! So good!"

"Yaw! And den der Gurnel and der Bresident shakes hands mit you, and you eat krout mit de Bresident's vrou and shust live like one fighting rooster, py tam! And den in a little wile you soy der Bresident be one nice man, and you gets another hundred tollars bountish, and der Bresident makes one grand General mit you, purty soon I guess, but I tink not. You go mit me?"

"Yaw!"

The Wizard.

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMB'R 16, 1864.

THE PRESIDENTIAL ELECTION.

The election is over, and the result ~~has been glorious to the country.~~—ABRAHAM LINCOLN has 213 electoral votes, against 21 for his opponent. His popular majority will be nearly 400,000!

Such a preponderance of public sentiment in favor of a Presidential candidate has not been witnessed since the second term of President Munroe, who then had 228 votes against one. It is well that the voice of the people at the ballot boxes has been so decisive and overwhelming. It will put down faction and convince all gainsayers that the American people can always be relied upon for their loyalty to their flag and country.

But the best way to improve the victory we have won, is to do all we can to present a united and solid front to the enemy in the field. It is only for the loyal men of the North to be united in one solid phalanx, and the work is already accomplished. In order to effect this unity of sentiment we should abstain from all exultation over our late political opponents and invite their cooperation in the great work. When the life of the nation is at stake, it is no time for prolonging party controversy among honest men of all parties, who are loyal at heart but who have been momentarily misled by party names. Let us, then, all unite in the sacred duty of quelling the armed treason against our Constitution and Flag, and thus restore the whole country to Union and Peace.

COPPERHEAD PAPER RETURNED.

ARMY OF THE POTOMAC,
Nov. 8th, 1864.

MR. EDITOR,—Having a scrap of information come under my notice, I think it too good to keep; and therefore forward the same to you for your paper. It was this: A private of Co. D, 1st Mass. Cavalry, had received a paper styled the Essex Banner; he did not like its politics, and returned the same with the following laconic reply:

ARMY OF THE POTOMAC,
Nov. 8th, 1864.

Respectfully returned—not being a McClellan man.

I am for the Union, the Constitution and the laws.

How so vile a Copperhead sheet could pass Fortress Monroe, is beyond my comprehension. This being the day of our National election, I return this paper as the best vote I can pass for the next President—Abraham Lincoln.

Wishing no offence, I remain your grandson with respect.

(Signed,) ——— of the U. S. Vol. Army.

OUR REPRESENTATIVE.—It is creditable alike to our candidate, Mr. CALEB WARREN OSBORNE, and his constituents, that he was elected by so large a vote, falling behind the Presidential and Gubernatorial candidates only four or five votes. He is well known as a man of business, of strong, good sense and liberal views, and whose other means of culture have been improved by the opportunities of foreign travel. We have perfect faith in his ability and disposition to represent fairly the business and local interests of the town, as well as to perform the general duties of a legislator.

CHARLES P. PRESTON, ESQ.—The reelection of this gentleman as representative of our neighbor town of Danvers gave great satisfaction to our people as well as to his own constituents, by whom he is held in high respect and regard. After all the opposition which he encountered, it is very gratifying to see that his merits as a man and a legislator are so fully appreciated and frankly acknowledged by a constituency who are bound to have the benefit of his experience in the legislative halls. We congratulate him upon his signal success under circumstances so adverse.

SOCIAL ASSEMBLY.—The members of Co. C, 5th Regt., held a social assembly at Sutton Hall, last Monday evening. Parsons & Upton's band furnished the music, and there was a gay time "all 'round."

EPISCOPAL SERVICES.—In consequence of the absence of the Rector of Grace Church, Salem, from town, the next Sunday, the usual service in the Town Hall, South Danvers, will be postponed to Sunday evening, 27th instant.

☞ We have received the first number of a new journal published in Salem, entitled The American, devoted to progress, Religion, Phrenology, Fine Arts and Literature. It is a good specimen number in its typography, editorials, contributions and selections. We wish it every success.

MR. FRANCIS A. BAKER.

The sad intelligence of the death of this young man, who was so well known among us, was received by his friends last week, and its rapid circulation through our community caused a general feeling of surprise as well as sorrow. Prompted by a spirit of enterprise, honorable to him, Mr. BAKER left his home about two years and half ago for the gold bearing regions of the far west, and established himself at a place called Summit City, in Montana, which is a new territory recently detached from Idaho.

We learn from the letter which brought the painful news, that Mr. BAKER died at Summit City on the morning of Sept. 29th, at the house of a lady of his acquaintance, who had before befriended him, and who, during the time of his sickness, watched over and nursed him with all a mother's care. His disease was a malignant erysipelas, preceded by a typhoid fever. The best medical attendance the place could afford was procured, but without any permanent good effect.

Mr. BAKER was a young man of agreeable manners, prepossessing, and of gentlemanly address. His manliness, together with an amiable and pleasant disposition, rendered him attractive at first acquaintance and enabled him to win and retain the esteem and good will of those with whom he associated. His numerous friends not only deeply lament his untimely death, but their hearts go forth in sympathy for those with whom he was more immediately connected.

There are circumstances which make the shock almost overwhelming. He was making arrangements soon to return to his home, where for the first time he would take to his arms an only child, and his friends were prepared to expect his early arrival. Instead of the letter expected to announce the time of his coming, came the sable clad epistle informing them of his sudden departure. There are other circumstances of a consolatory kind, such as his good fortune in finding a sympathizing friend by whom he was watched over with tender care and who found him a grave in a land of strangers.

HARPER'S MAGAZINE for December has been received from E. B. Waitt, Danvers. It is richly laden with entertaining and instructive reading matter, and fully sustains the high reputation which it has won from the reading public. This number commences a new volume, and now is a favorable time to subscribe of Mr. Waitt, the Danvers agent. Wilkie Collins, Charles Dickens, and John S. C. Abbott are announced as contributors for the coming six months.

THE POPULAR VOTE.—It is believed, from the returns, that the popular vote this year, with the seceded States omited, will be as large nearly as the vote of the entire Union in 1860. Mr. Lincoln will have a majority of about four hundred thousand, equivalent to one ninth of the entire vote. The same States in 1860 gave a majority against him of 138,784.

RECRUITING FUND.—In the list of those who subscribed towards the Recruiting Fund published some weeks ago in this paper, we unintentionally omitted the name of Mr. Sylvester Needham, who subscribed $25 on Mr. Alonzo Raddin's paper, District 4.

MR. EDITOR,—If you wish to know what my opinion of our Chief Magistrate is, I will give it to you. I think Father Abraham is head and shoulders taller in stature than the people of the States will average; head and shoulders taller in honesty, head and shoulders taller in philanthropy, head and shoulders taller in wisdom, and a whole head taller than the wisest man that stands on God's earth. Now, Mr. Editor, if you can find any better or wiser man for his place, I would like to know it. Like thousands of others, since the fall of Fort Sumter, I have at times felt inclined to judge him slow, behind the age, and the requirements of his situation. But, watching the development of events, I have been convinced that he was right and I was wrong; and that his apparent slowness has proved his greatest soundness and wisdom. If any one can present a man more thoroughly noble and worthy, he would be welcomed by a UNION MAN.

☞ A public speaker in a political meeting in New York the other day replied to the English assertions that our military operations have been a failure, and all our movements are slow, by referring his hearers to similar movements in Europe. "I remember," said he, "that the great Wellington took six years to drive Napoleon out of Sprin, a country as great as Virginia, and then he retired because of reverse elsewhere. Four nations of Europe took two years to occupy the Crimea, a country as large as New Jersey. England took twenty-eight months to repress the Sepoy rebellion, about as great an undertaking as to put down a rebellion among the negroes of South Carolina. France has in more than a year succeeded in getting only about 180 miles in Mexico, where she holds a very insecure position. England had better look at home before criticising the movements of our armies."

☞ Admiral Farragut is a temperance man, as was Foote, whose name will live in the memory of the nation as long as we shall have a navy. On the night before the last fight in Mobile Bay, an officer asked him if he would not consent to give the sailors a glass of grog in the morning, not enough to make them drunk, but just enough to make them fight cheerfully. The Admiral replied, "I have been to sea considerable, and have seen a battle or two, but I never found that I wanted rum to enable me to do my duty. I will order two cups of good coffee to each man at two o'clock, and at eight o'clock I will pipe all hands to breakfast in Mobile bay." Would that all our army and navy commanders were like him.

THE ELECTION.

In Massachusetts returns from all the towns but nine foot up 124,833 for Lincoln, and 50,003 for McClellan. Lincoln's majority 74,830. The vote for Governor Andrew and the rest of the State ticket is about the same as the Presidential vote. All the Republican members of Congress are re-elected by large majorities. The State Senate is unanimously Republican, and in the House but seven Democrats are returned out of 240 members. Six of the Democrats are from the three Irish wards of Boston, and one is returned from the Marblehead and 5th ward, Salem district, the Republican candidate losing his election in consequence of the misprinting of his name on a portion of the tickets.

The following is the vote of Essex county for President:

	Lincoln.	McClellan.
Amesbury,	416	170
Andover,	591	89
Beverly,	851	101
Boxford,	128	39
Bradford,	185	76
Danvers,	592	125
Essex,	279	59
Georgetown,	221	115
Gloucester,	1,122	185
Groveland,	176	79
Hamilton,	114	31
Haverhill,	1,141	409
Ipswich,	402	164
Lawrence,	1,179	541
Lynn,	2,032	546
Lynnfield,	00	00
Manchester,	217	43
Marblehead,	671	631
Methuen,	294	158
Middleton,	124	16
Nahant,	36	14
Newburyport,	1,067	509
Newbury,	179	43
North Andover,	209	159
Rockport,	493	159
Rowley,	152	98
Salem,	2,088	659
Salisbury,	421	66
Saugus,	277	75
South Danvers,	669	95
Swampscott,	237	29
Topsfield,	153	58
Wenham,	132	31
West Newbury,	277	74
Total,	17,124	5,649

Town Representatives.

ESSEX COUNTY

ALL REPUBLICANS BUT ONE.

Dist. 1—Amesbury, Salisbury, Newburyport, 6th ward—E. P. Wallis and H. W. Moulton.
2—Andover—H. S. Green.
3—Beverly, Wenham, Topsfield—John I. Baker, Charles H. Odell.
4—Danvers—Charles P. Preston.
5—Essex, Manchester—Wm. H. Hooper.
6—Georgetown, Groveland—Daniel H. Stickney.
7—Gloucester—Joseph L. Andrews, Chs. Fitz.
8—Haverhill—C. G. Burnham, William Foss.
9—Ipswich, Hamilton—George Dane.
10—Lawrence, 3d and 4th Wards—H. Barton.
11—Lawrence, 1st, 2d, and 6th Wards—E. J. Sherman.
12—Lynn, 2d and 5th Wards—S. N. Richardson.
13—Lynn—1st, 6th, and 7th Wards—J.C. Houghton.
14—Marblehead and Ward 5, Salem—Geo. W. Patch; Joseph Hooper, (dem.) [By an error in printing the name of Mr. Wright as Thomas instead of Joseph, in the Republican ballots used in Ward 5, Mr. W. lost his election, and Mr. Hooper was elected.]
15—Methuen, Lawrence 5th Ward—John W. Frederick.
16—Nahant, Lynn 4th Ward—S. J. Roney.
17—Newbury, West Newbury, Rowley—Wm. Rogers.
18—Newburyport, 1st and 2d Wards—Thomas C. Goodwin.
19—Newburyport, 3d 4th and 5th Wards, A. W. Stevens.
20—Bradford, North Andover, Boxford—Elbridge G. Manning.
21—Rockport—Amos Rowe, Jr.
22—Salem—1st and 3d Wards—Thomas H. Prime.
23—Salem, 2d 4th and 6th Wards—Nathaniel J. Holden, George F. Brown.
24—Saugus, Lynnfield, Middletown—George L. Hawkes.
25—South Danvers—Caleb Warren Osborn.
26—Swampscott, Lynn 3d Ward—N. F. Breed.

LYNN.—Serious Accident.—The Bay State says that an Irishman by the name of Bresnahan, now residing at Gravesend, fell, on Sunday evening last, from the top of the South Danvers and Lynn Omnibus, as it was turning the corner of the Central Station and Union street, and was seriously injured by wounds on his head. He was taken into Dr. Blake's apothecary store, and after medical attendance, was conveyed to his home.

BEVERLY.—The Citizen says that Messrs. George Mescom and Edmund Lovett were thrown from a chaise in which they were riding on Tuesday evening, and the former had a rib fractured, and his shoulder dislocated.

THE ELECTION, everywhere passed off quietly,—the absence of any riot or violence affording the strongest proof of the stability of our institutions; moreover, it is not a small compliment to Ben. Butler; no man in the country is held in greater fear by the mobs.

DANVERS.—Mr. Nathaniel Hinds was found dead in a field in Danvers Center, on Tuesday. Coroner Hood was called, but held no inquest. Heart disease is assigned as the cause of his death. Hinds was fifty-five years of age.

CALEB CUSHING.—The Traveller says—We are informed that Hon. Caleb Cushing voted for Mr. Lincoln for President, at Newburyport, on Tuesday.

WAR CORRESPONDENCE.

NEWPORT BARRACKS, N. C.,
Oct. 31st., 1864.

MR. EDITOR:—Thinking a few lines from this isolated region would not be unwelcome to your columns, I thought I would send a few tems of intelligence concerning the epidemic, at present prevailing here, and our own Regiment, (the 17th) many of whom are from Danvers. We have recently met with a great loss in the death of our colonel, Thos. J. C. Amory, of yellow fever. He was a captain in the regular army, and a graduate of West Point, the first in his class. He took command of the regiment in September, 1861, but since their arrival in North Carolina, he has been Acting Brigadier General. At the time of his death he was in command of the Sub-District of Beaufort. He was ever willing to hear the complaints of the men, and to give redress to the injured party. His death is universally regretted.

This terrible epidemic first broke out in Newbern about the first of September. It was said to have been brought inside the lines by a family from Wilmington, N. C., where it then prevailed. The first two or three cases were not said to be the real yellow fever, but some other disease. Since then it has spread to an alarming extent. It was carried to Beaufort and Morehead, and has raged fearfully in both places, and also in Newbern. It has swept away whole families, sparing neither rank nor condition; and the towns mentioned seem entirely deserted. The only class free from this disease is the blacks; those having any white blood are not so exceptionable. We are stationed at Newport Barracks, ten miles from Morehead, and twenty-eight from Newbern, on the railroad between them. It seems very providential that we are not infected. We expect to move on the return of the Veterans, who are now furloughed at home.

MERCATOR

"RUM DID IT."—The Richmond Enquirer gives the following as the cause of Early's defeat. Let it never again be said that apple-brandy is an unmixed evil. We expect soon to hear that the engineers of Grant's army are building distilleries instead of redoubts:—

The work of destruction goes on apace in the unhappy valley. Barns and mills are burned to the ground wherever found, and everything that walks the hoof is slaughtered or driven to Alexandria. But it is a notable fact, that whatever else may be destroyed, the stills that have flooded the valley with apple-brandy are invariably spared. Here, we greatly fear, is the Iliad of all our woes. The enemy is far too smart to apply the torch to these Pandora boxes of all that is evil and mischievous. Apple brandy and not Sheridan's wretched infantry, or his boasted cavalry, has blasted the fairest portion of Virginia, and brought intolerable shame to what was once the very pick and flower of Lee's indomitable army. In God's name let us have done with this accursed fluid, and make quick work of it.

VOTED AS THEY HAVE FOUGHT.—Admiral Davis, of the South Atlantic fleet, an old Democrat, deposited his vote, last Tuesday, in Cambridge, for the Administration and the Union, the spectators giving three rousing cheers; while the gallant Capt. Winslow of the Kearsarge, fresh in port from the sinking of the Alabama, and bearing the news of the capture of the Florida, wended his way at once to Roxbury to vote for the same good cause.

Gen. Underwood, who was severely wounded at the battle of Lookout Mountain, was carried to the polls by his father-in-law, Joseph Walker, of Newton, the Democratic candidate for Senator in the 3d Middlesex District. Gen. Underwood voted the straight Union ticket in opposition to his father-in-law. He was complimented by three rousing cheers by the voters.—Commonwealth.

THE DOGS OF WAR.—The soldiers of Col. Higginson's regiment have had another encounter with their old enemies, the bloodhounds, and have added one more four-legged victim to the five they killed last summer.—The regiment is now stationed on Cole's Island, in the Stono River, South Carolina. On John's Island, near by, the rebels are building a large fort, (under cover of one previously built,) and they have some two thousand negroes of both sexes at work in plain sight. A large detachment of dogs is kept on picket duty to prevent the escape of the slaves; and some of the First South Carolina, crossing to the island recently, drove in the pickets, and brought one away, hide, teeth and all. This specimen of rebel chivalry, or caninery, is to be stuffed for preservation.—Ib.

A GENEROUS OFFER HANDSOMELY BACKED. We heard on election night of a generous offer on the part of Hon. John M. S. Williams, of Cambridge, which was made to the Union men of Chelsea the previous evening. It was that if the friends of Mr. Hooper in that city would make his majority one thousand, he (Mr. W.) would contribute $500 to the Soldiers' Fund, of Chelsea, and give $1 additional for every vote of the majority over one thousand. The Chelsea men made the majority 1223; whereupon Mr. Williams at once drew his check for $723, which sum he was glad to give to attest his interest in the cause of a good government and the soldiers' welfare.—Ib.

TOPSFIELD.—The decease of Dr. R. A. Merriam, on Sunday morning last, was very sudden. He had had severe attacks of heart disease previously, but had not been confined to his house on Saturday, and appeared better than usual at the time he went to bed. About twelve o'clock he had an ill turn, from which he soon recovered; but about an hour afterward he had another attack, which put an immediate end to his life. Dr. Merriam was one of the founders, and for many years an active member, of the Essex Agricultural Society, and was much respected as a man and citizen. His funeral will take place on Wednesday, at two o'clock.

NEGROES.—A copperhead orator, at a late meeting in Washington, is responsible for the following:—

"In the President's grounds they have negro picnics. A lot of pleasant young negro women are there. They have swings, and old Abe goes out and swings them. I am for peace, and I am for the Constitution and the Union. When we get in power, God will take care of the negro, and we will take care of the white man."

UNANIMOUS VOTES.—Marshfield gave 224 for Lincoln; McClellan none. Pembroke 204 for Lincoln; McClellan none.

AFFAIRS IN LYNNFIELD.

LYNNFIELD CENTER, Nov. 14th, 1864.

MR. EDITOR,—The last week was one of unusual activity and excitement in this place on account of the election, and there being two candidates for Representatives, making a split in the Republican Party. Mr. WM. A. WHITTREDGE of Lynnfield Center, and Mr. GEORGE L HAWKES of the south ward, were the candidates. The friends of Mr. Whittredge done their best to obtain his election, using no little craft and diplomacy, but Mr. Hawkes was elected with a fair majority.

Mrs. Hubbell, a lady exponent of phrenology and woman's rights, gave a course of five or six lectures at the Town Hall, week before last. An exhibition of Laughing Gas was also included in the two last lectures which made a vast amount of fun for the citizens of L. C.

A large party composed of the friends of Mr. George L. HAWKES met at his residence at South Lynnfield, on Friday evening of last week. A band was in attendance and a grand jollification took place, much to the gratification of all concerned.

A grand presentation party came off at the Town Hall, on Tuesday evening, Nov. 1st, at which Mr. WM. SPENCER, U. S. N., formerly a resident of Lynnfield Center, was made the recipient of a sword and book (work on navigation) by his friends and old associates in this place. Short addresses were made; music was furnished by Simonds' Harp and Violin Band of South Reading, and with dancing and other amusements the party continued until a late, or I might say an early, hour.

BROOKDALE.

Business was scarcely ever more thriving in this place than at the present time. The mills are now in full operation, and a large amount of woolen goods are manufactured. Some of the cloth woven at this factory is not excelled by any made in New England, being fine in texture and material, and durable. If the readers of the WIZARD would like to see some cloth, as nice as need ever be worn, and the place where it is made, they can take a trip to Brookdale some fine day and visit "Winona Mills," which will well repay them their trouble.

Yours, etc. F.

☞ During his visit to Copenhagen the Prince of Wales went to the opera with his wife and the royal family of Denmark. After the performance the royal cortege moved at a walking pace through a vast crowd of people; "and thus," says an eye-witness, who seems to have deen affected to the verge of snobbishness, "without a single soldier, King Christian moved in the darkness of night slowly through the enormous masses of his subjects, and, without a thought of fear or suspicion, not only confided his own royal person to a body guard of his people, but also trusted amongst over twenty thousand of his citizens the dearer beings who accompanied him, his Queen, his two lovely daughters, the heir of his hopes, the brother of his heart, and the guest son-in-law from the distant island, the heir and the pride of old England."

☞ Plans are being prepared for the erection of a hospital near Annapolis, Md., which will be the largest in the world. It is intended to have it surrounded with extensive grounds for the exercise and amusement of the patients, it having been found by experience that ample opportunities for out door exercise have a more beneficial effect, and contribute more to the speedy recovery of the patients, than any other accessory of a hospital. The farm upon which it is proposed to locate it comprises about a thousand acres, the owner of which is a secessionist and within the rebel lines.

☞ The Albany Argus thinks the total vote in New York State will probably reach to 700,000. The highest majority claimed for Fenton is one per cent. of this. The New York Journal of Commerce says that "if a man puts a smile on his face, an actual physical smile, it will react on his spirits, and drive off the blues." To this the N. Y. World replies: "Several Democrats tell us that they tried this recipe upon learning that Horatio Seymour was defeated in the canvass for Governor, but that it was not of the slightest use."

☞ General Sherman, by making war in deadly earnest upon the rebels, has secured their respect. Gentlemen who were captured by Forrest the other day on the Tennessee River, tell the Cincinnati Gazette that the rebels were almost enthusiastic about Sherman. He has whipped them so well this Summer, and has made so many fiery tracks through Dixie that they believe in him.

☞ The rebel Governor of Georgia says, that the negro caused the war, and he must bear his portion of its burden. This reminds us of a lady in Georgia who, in a fit of temper, threw a carving knife at a negro girl, and so badly cut her arm as to threaten to disable a valuable piece of property. "These negroes have a great deal to answer for," said the amiable lady, "they put one in such a passion."

☞ A rebel scheme to liberate the prisoners at Camp Douglas, Chicago, was nipped in the bud, on Sunday night last, by the arrest of the ringleaders, and some two or three hundred butternuts from the South and Canada. The plan was to set fire to the city, release the prisoners and control the election, but it signally failed.

☞ A Maine paper takes off the potato story mania as follows:

"A friend of ours is digging around one for us, and will bring it down as soon as he is able to remove it. It is in a somewhat damaged condition, as a yoke of oxen had been feeding on it two days before he commenced digging it."

☞ The Journal estimates that the McClellan men spent in Massachusetts, during the recent campaign, in torch-light demonstrations, public meetings, paying tax-bills, printing and other necessary expenses, probably not less than one hundred thousand dollars.

☞ Massachusetts makes a pretty good exhibit for a time of war. We have an increase of polls; of the value of personal and real property; of dwellings; of horses and sheep, and the number of acres of land taxed. There is a decrease of the number of cows of over three thousand.

☞ Two of the trees in Mammoth Grove in California, each measuring thirty feet in diameter, have been named respectively "John Bright" and "Richard Cobden," and tablets with their names have been placed upon them.

HON. SCHUYLER COLFAX, Speaker of the United States House of Representatives, is to deliver the opening lecture of the Young Men's Union course at Mechanic Hall, on Thursday evening next. Mr. Colfax, is a man of marked ability, who, by persevering energy and good capacity, has attained, without those early advantages which have fallen to the lot of many men, a position of just and deserved celebrity among the public men of the country. He is one of the recently elected Congressional delegation of Indiana, and he will be heard with interest by our citizens.—During his brief stay here, he will be the guest of R. S. Rantoul, Esq.

Nearly all the tickets for the Young Men's Union course are disposed of; but there were a few for sale at Whipple & Smith's yesterday morning, which may still be obtained, we presume.—Gaz.

A Grand Union Pyramid!

OHIO, IOWA,
MAINE,
KANSAS, NEVADA,
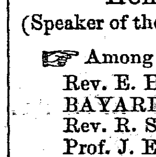
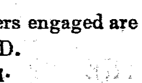
OREGON,
INDIANA,
ILLINOIS,
VERMONT,
MISSOURI,
MICHIGAN,
MARYLAND,
NEW-YORK,
WISCONSIN,
MINNESOTA,
CALIFORNIA,
PENNSYLVANIA,
RHODE-ISLAND,
MASSACHUSETTS,
NEW-HAMPSHIRE,
WESTERN-VIRGINIA.

Little Mac's Pyramid.



DELAWARE,
KENTUCKY,
NEW JERSEY.
SALT RIVER.



GODEY'S LADY'S BOOK, for December, is a star number. The publishers announce great attractions for the coming year, and it will be a most favorable time to subscribe to this popular monthly. It will be furnished at the old price, $3.00 per year.

THE total vote of New York city was:—For President—Lincoln, 36,737; McClellan, 73,734; total vote, 110,471; McClellan's majority, 36,997. For Governor—36,122; Seymour, 73,727; Seymour's majority, 37,605.

☞ The Justices of the Supreme Judicial Court have decided that there is no legal obstacle to the passing of sentence of death upon Edward W. Green, who plead guilty to a charge of murder in the first degree. It was not necessary for a jury to pass upon the question of degree.

☞ Sergeant Daniel Murphy, of the 9th Massachusetts regiment, has presented to the War Department two battle-flags, captured from North Carolina regiments. Secretary Stanton personally thanked the gallant sergeant, and awarded him a medal of honor.

☞ Information has been received that Gen. Canby, while ascending White River on the gunboat Cricket, was shot by a guerilla on shore, on the 6th inst., and severely if not mortally wounded in the groin, the ball passing through his boby.

☞ Isaac Camp, a gay Lothario of Deerfield, Mich., decamped from that place the other day, clad in a suit of tar and feathers, applied by the matrons who did not approve of his conduct.

WOOLEN GOODS.—We would call the attention of the Ladies to JOHN P. PEABODY'S stock of Shawls, Sontags, Hoods, Mittens, Clouds, &c., &c.. As he manufactures these goods he is enabled to show a very large stock and is selling them at very low prices. His stock of Worsteds is full of the best colors—WARRENTED THE BEST GERMAN ZEPHYRS, and at from 5 to 15 cents per ounce less than any other dealer is selling them.

☞ There are about 300 petroleum companies in the States.

The Young Men's Union.

The Board of Government of the YOUNG MEN'S UNION would respectfully announce to the public, that their Ninth Course will be opened at Mechanic Hall, on THURSDAY EVENING, Nov. 17th, with a Lecture by

Hon. Schuyler Colfax,

(Speaker of the U. S, House of Representatives)

☞ Among the other Lecturers engaged are:
Rev. E. H. CHAPIN, D. D.
BAYARD TAYLOR, Esq.
Rev. R. S. STORRS, Jr., D. D.
Prof. J. E. MURDOCH.
J. R. GILMORE, ("Edmund Kirke.")
Miss ANNA E. DICKINSON.

FRENCH FLUTING.

QUILLING, GOFFERING AND CRIMPING.

Flounces from 1 to 20 inches deep, fluted in the very latest style and in every kind of fabric.

This is the newest, most elegant, and cheapest style of Trimming.

Done in every style—at

BROWNING & LONG'S.

Read PEABODY'S new advertisement.

Marriages.

In Salem, Oct, 22d, Mr. Patrick Smith to Mrs. Mary Ann Carlin, both of South Danvers; 29th, Mr. Daniel Rahilley to Miss Johanna Hurly, both of Danvers; Nov. 6th, Mr Malachi Ryan to Miss Elizabeth Hench, both of South Danvers; 9th, Mr Edward Carr to Miss Ellen O'Leary, both of Danvers; 9th, Mr. Frank A. Burrill, Co. I, 1st Mass. H. A., to Miss Lucy A. Hayes, both of Salem.

Deaths.

[Deaths are recorded gratuitously; but all funeral notices are charged 25 cents. Obituary poetry and notices are chargeable at 6¼ cents a line.]

In Salem, Nov. 10, Anna, daughter of John and Mary M'Ginnis, 9 months; 11th, Mrs. Elizabeth Orne Clarke, wife of Mr. Chas. Collins, 36 yrs 3 mos 5 days; Mary Ann Frances, daughter of Patrick and Catharine Moore, 17 yrs 10 mos; 12th, Mrs. Isabella T., wife of Mr Edward A. Smith, of Chelsea, 46 years; 13th, Mr. George W. Fifield, 27 years 8 mos 22 days—only son of Richard and Sally Fifield; Mary Ann, daughter of Patrick and Margaret Quinn, 7 years; Mrs. Elizabeth, wife of Mr. Job Shay, 60 yrs; 14th, Captain Ebenezer Slocum, 71 yrs 10 mos; Mr James Gillispie, 54 years 3 months 14 days.

In Danvers, Nov. 11, Mrs Emma Jones, 91 yrs 5 mos.

In Beverly, Nov. 7, Mrs Polly, widow of the late Mr Daniel Appleton, 83 yrs 5 mos.

In Wenham, Oct 25, of chronic diarrhœa and consumption, Mr William H Beck, 35 yrs 8 mos—formerly a soldier in Gen Butler's department.

In Newbern, N. C., Oct. 11th, at the Foster General Hospital, of yellow fever, Mr Alden K Austin, of Salem Mass., 22 years 3 mos—a member of Co. A, 23d Mass. Reg't, and a clerk in the Commissary Department.

U. S. 7-30 LOA

The Secretary of the Treasury gives notice t
scriptions will be received for Coupon Treasur
payable three years from Aug. 15th, 1864, with s
nual interest at the rate of seven and three-te cent. per annum, principal and interest both to
in lawful money.

These notes will be convertible at the optio holder at maturity, into six per cent. gold bearin payable not less than five nor more than twe
from their date, as the Government may elec
will be issued in denominations of $50, $10
$1,000 and $5,000, and all subscriptions must b
ty dollars, or some multiple of fifty dollars.

The notes will be transmitted to the owner transportation charges as soon after the recei original Certificates of Deposit as they can pared.

As the notes draw interest from August 15, making deposits subsequent to that date mus interest accrued from date of note to date of d

Parties depositing twenty-five thousand do upwards for these notes at anyone time will be a commission of one-quarter of one per cen will be paid by the Treasury Department upo ceipt of a bill for the amount, certified to by t with whom the deposit was made. No deduc commissions must be made from the deposits.

SPECIAL ADVANTAGES OF THIS

IT IS A NATIONAL SAVINGS BANK, offering
rate of interest than any other, and THE BES
TY. Any savings bank which pays its deposit
S. Notes, considers that it is paying in the best ing medium of the country, and it CANNOT pa thing better, for its own assets are either in go securities or in notes or bonds payable in go paper.

It is equally convenient as a temporary or pe investment. The notes can always be sold fo a fraction of their face and accumulated inte are the best security with banks as collateral counts.

Convertible into a Six per cent. 5-20 Gol

In addition to the very liberal interest on for three years, this privilege of conversion worth about three per cent. per annum, for the rate for 5-20 Bonds is not less than NINE PE PREMIUM, and before the war the premium o
cent. U. S. stocks was over twenty per cent.
seen that the actual profit on this loan, at the market rate, is not less than ten per cent. per a

ITS EXEMPTION FROM STATE OR MUNICIPAL TA

But aside from all the advantages we have e ed, a special Act of Congress EXEMPTS ALL BO TREASURY NOTES FROM LOCAL TAXATION.
average, this exemption is worth about two per annum, according to the rate of taxation i
parts of the country.

It is believed that no securities offer so grea
ments to lenders as those issued by the Gover
In all other forms of indebtedness, the faith of private parties, or stock companies, or sepe munities, only, is pledged for payment, while t property of the country is held to secure the d
of all the obligations of the United States.

While the government offers the most libe for its loans, it believes that the very stronge will be to the loyalty and patriotism of the peo

Duplicate certificates will be issued for all de
The party depositing must endorse upon the o certificate the denomination of notes requi whether they are to be issued in blank or payab
der. When so endorsed it must be left with t receiving the deposit, to be forwarded to the Department.

SUBSCRIPTIONS WILL BE RECEIVED by the T of the United States, at Washington, the se sistant Treasurers and designated Depositarie
the

First National Bank of Salem, Mass.
First National Bank of Boston, Mass.
Second National Bank of Boston, Mass.
Third National Bank of Boston, Mass.
National Bank of the Republic, Boston, M
Boston National Bank, Boston, Mass.
First National Bank of Amesbury, Mass.
First National Bank of Haverhill, Mass.
First National Bank of Newburyport, Ma

And by all National Banks which are deposi
public money, and

ALL RESPECTABLE BANKS AND BAN throughout the country will give further in
and

AFFORD EVERY FACILITY TO SUBS
August 17, 1864,—3m

Renovation of Beds.

If people only knew how injurious to hea practice of sleeping on foul feathers, they w no time in having them renovated and made fresh and sweet. It is a good thing to "air" before it is made up, but this does not cure e the impurities of feathers which have for a been slept upon. Any good physician will that it is deleterious to health to sleep on be have been made foul by the exhalations of th body. Mr. SUMNER SOUTHWICK does this se thorough manner by a process perfectly effec has the exclusive agency of the improvemen and the neighboring towns. If you would h dom from disease, and quiet and healthful s upon Mr. SOUTHWICK, on Park Street.

JAMES F. ALMY & Co. advertise t opening of Winter Cloaks—also Broa Beavers, Doeskins, Whitney Coating with buttons and trimmings to match firm make every style of Garment from measure.

Worsteds—for lowest prices, see PE
advt.

Read PEABODY'S new advertisement.

Hair Crimpers—Ball Combs—Side C
Nets &c.,—at PEABODY'S.

Read PEABODY'S new advertisement.

Sea Foam Hoods—only 80 cent
PEABODY'S new advertisement.

Leather Bags—new styles—a larg
just opened at PEABODY'S—220 Essex

Read PEABODY'S new advertisement.

☞ ☞ ☞ ☞ ☞ ☞ ☞ ☞ ☞

BEST GERMAN ZEPHYRS.

We are selling our stock of Worsteds
5 to 15 cents per ounce less than a dealer in the city.

We do not continually advertise prices are the lowest," when we k others are underselling us. Neithe misrepresent the quality of our n goods, because we cannot compete w but advertise our own goods as the sell them as advertised.

JOHN P. PEAB

Read PEABODY'S new advertisement

oods received for LEWANDO'S FRENCH OUSE. M. E. CRANE.
20 tf

Port of Danvers.

th, schs Gen Taylor, Jones, New York; 6th, Thayer. Rockland; 8th, R B Pitts, Mills, Ron-

List of Letters

AINING unclaimed in the Post Office at South anvers, Mass., Nov. 15, 1864.

"To obtain any of these letters, the applicant all for ADVERTISED LETTERS, give the date of , and pay one cent for advertising.

"If not called for within one month, they will to the Dead Letter Office.

Office Hours from 7½ A. M. to 8 P. M, y Barns

S Collins
na Jones
ah Jeffrey
Joll
Larrabee
a Lecraw
les Killer
N A Merrill
Nancy McKenny
Mary E Murphy
Ann Phillips
Sarah A Price
Clara U Roundy
Geo. L Trask
Geo. A Upton

DANIEL WOODBURY, P. M.

TABLE CUTLERY.

ULL stock of Knives and Forks, with Horn' bony, Cocoa and Bone Handles. Also Carvers, Bread and Cook Knives, Mincing Knives, &c, at 16 S C & E A SIMONDS', 32 Front st.

IVORY HANDLED KNIVES

the Dozen, with or without Forks, at S C & E A SIMONDS', 32 Front st.

SILVER PLATED KNIVES.

EL Knives, plated with pure Silver, at S C & E A SIMONDS', 32 Front st.

monwealth of Massachusetts.

, SS.

the Heirs-at-Law and others interested in the e of HANNAH L. WILSON, late of South Dan in said County, widow deceased, intestate,

GREETING:

HEREAS, SAMUEL WELCH, the administrator of the estate of said deceased has presented for ance the first account of his administration upon state of said deceased: You are hereby cited to r at a Probate Court to be holden at Salem, in County, on the first Tuesday of December next, at o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you , why the same should not be allowed. And the administrator is ordered to serve this Citation by shing the same once a week, in the South Danvers ARD, a newspaper printed at South Danvers, three s successively, the first publication to be fourteen at least before said Tuesday: and is also directed end or cause to be sent, a written or printed copy his notice, properly mailed, postage prepaid, to of the heirs, devisees or legatees, or their legal esentatives, known to the petitioner, within two of the date of the first publication of said notice. itness, GEORGE F. CHOATE. Esquire, Judge of said rt, this fifteenth day of November, in the year teen hundred and sixty-four.

A. C. GOODELL, Register.

MUSICAL NOTICE.

AVE on hand, for sale, and will select to order from any manufacturer in Boston or elsewhere,

lelodeons, Cabinet Organs,

six to seven octave

PIANO FORTES,

full Iron Frames, over-strung Bass, with Pearl or Ivory Keys, at the lowest prices. Will take second-hand Instruments in exchange for new. Have Pi- Fortes and Melodeons to let.

Vill tune Piano Fortes and Organs in the best man, to order; and will also give instruction on the Pi Forte at the residence of the pupil, or at my room.

No. 218 Essex Street, Salem, (Up stairs.)

SAMUEL MACKINTIRE.

alem, November 9, 1864.

Horse Railroad Notice.

On and after THURSDAY, Nov. 10, the cars of the Salem and South Danvers Railroad Co.

Vill leave Washington St. Station for S. Danvers 6.37, 7.07, 7.37 A. M. and every 30 minutes till 11.57 M.; and every 20 minutes till 9.57 P. M.

Vill leave Washington St. station for Beverly at 6.22 2, and 7.22 A. M., and every 30 minutes till 12.22 P. and at 12.42, 1.02, 1.22, and every 20 minutes till 02 P. M.

Cars will leave South Danvers at 7.00, 7.30, and 8.00 M., and every half hour till 1 P. M., and will then ve at 1.20, 1.40, 2.00, and every 20 minutes till 10.20 M.

Cars will leave Beverly at 7.00, 7.30, 8 00 A. M., and ery half hour till 12 M—will then leave at 12.20, 12. 1.00 P. M. and every 20 minutes till 10.40 P. M.

☞ On and after Thursday, Nov. 10, the cars on the uth Salem Branch Railroad will be discontinued until further notice. All outstanding Tickets for this ute will be redeemed at their value, at the Office, rner of Washington and Essex streets.

M. H. HALE, Sup't S. & S. D. R. R. Co.

nov 9

YSTER AND REFRESHMENT SALOON.

R. W. Wilkinson & Co.,

WOULD respectfully inform the citizens of South Danvers and vicinity, that they have opened in onnection with their

Newspaper & Periodical Department

n Oyster and Refreshment Saloon for

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN,

ho may favor them with their patronage.

OYSTERS cooked, or for sale by measure.

MEATS of all kinds cooked to order at all hours, nd suppers furnished to parties at short notice.

HOT COFFEE at all hours of day and evening.

CAKE of every variety, including Wedding, Citron, nd Plain Frosted, furnished to families and parties— lso a large and well selected assortment of Confectionery, Fancy Goods, Table Articles, etc., etc.

Choice brands of TOBACCO and CIGARS, and Nuts f every variety. Also, FOREIGN and DOMESTIC RUITS.

South Danvers, Nov. 9, 1864. tf

SPECIAL NOTICE.

We shall for next two months sell from our stock

—OF—

READY-MADE BONNETS,

AT A

DISCOUNT OF 15 TO 20 PER CENT

Less than the present prices.

☞ Those wishing the BEST CHOICE should

COME EARLY.

REITH & CO'S,

No. 2 West Block, 188 Essex St.,

Nov. 9 SALEM, MASS.

OATS. OATS.

5000 BUSHELS PRIME OATS, received this day, and for sale by GAYLE & CO., Phillips Wharf.
sept 7

HOUSEKEEPERS, ATTENTION!

JACKSON'S KITCHEN FURNISHING ROOMS,

Under MECHANIC HALL, Salem.

Parties about commencing House-Keeping will find this the ONLY place in Salem where a COMPLETE ASSORTMENT of House-Keeping articles can be found.

dec 9, 1863.

T. HARDY, JR.,

—Dealer in—

DOORS, SASHES, BLINDS,

Glazed Sash, Painted Blinds,

FENCE PALES, STAIR BALUSTERS, FRAMING PINS, &c.,

No. 26 FRONT STREET,

Salem, January 14, 1863—tf.

CAMPAIGN MEDALS,

OF different styles—at
oct 12 G. M. WHIPPLE & A. A. SMITH'S.

J. F. Almy & Co.

Winter Cloaks.

We have now in Stock a splendid variety of Winter Cloaks in all Styles and Grades o Cloth.

Our Garments are made from our own Cloths, in the most thorough manner, at our Rooms at Salem.

The prices at which we sell our Cloaks are not greatly in advance of last year, as our Cloths were bought either before or since the terrible high prices at which many stocks of Cloths were bought.

We have a very large stock of Cloths, comprising

Chinchillas,
Plush Beavers,
Whitney Coatings,
Frieze Beavers,
Union Beavers,
Tricots,
Doeskins, &c.,

With Trimmings, &c., to match. All of which we are selling at prices that are moving them very fast.

We are prepared to make to order from measure any style of Outside Garment for Ladies and Children.

JAMES F. ALMY & CO.,
188 Essex St., Opp. Central Street.
Salem, Nov. 16, 1864.

HELMBOLD'S GENUINE PREPARATIONS.

COMPOUND FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU, a Positive and Specific Remedy for diseases of the Bladder, Kidneys, Gravel, and Dropsical Swellings.

This Medicine increases the power of Digestion, and excite the Absorbents into healthy action, by which the Wtaery or Calcareous depositions, and all Unnatural Enlargements are reduced, as well as Pain and Inflammation.

—:o:—

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU.

For Weaknesses arising from Excesses, Habits of Dissipation, Early Indiscretion of Abuse, attended with the following symptoms:—

Indisposition to Exertion,	Loss of Power,
Loss of Memory,	Difficulty of Breathing,
Weak Nerves,	Trembling,
Horror of Disease,	Wakefulness,
Dimness of Vision,	Pain in the Back,
Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System,
Hot Hands,	Flushing of the Body,
Dryness of the Skin,	Eruptions on the Face,
Pallid Countenance.

These symptoms, if allowed to go on, which this medicine invariably removes, soon follows

Impotency, Fatuity, Epileptic Fits,

In one of which the patient may expire.

Who can say that they are not frequently followed by those "Direful Diseases,"

"INSANITY AND CONSUMPTION."

Many are aware of the cause of their suffering, BUT NONE WILL CONFESS THE RECORDS OF THE INSANE ASYLUMS.

And Melancholy Deaths by Consumption bear ample witness to the Truth of the assertion.

The Constitution once effected with Organic Weakness requires the aid of Medicine to Strengthen and Invigorate the system,

Which HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU invariably does. A Trial will convince the msst skeptical.

—:o:—

FEMALES—FEMALES—FEMALES.

In many Affections peculiar to Females the EXTRACT BUCHU is unequalled by any other remedy, as in Chlorosis or Retention, Irregularity, Painfulness, or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated Scirrhous state of the Uterus, Leuchorrhœa or Whites, Sterility, and for all complaints incident to the sex, whether arising from indiscretion or Habits of Dissipation, or in the

DECLINE OR CHANGE OF LIFE.

—:o:—

Take no more Balsam, Mercury, or unpleasant Medicines for unpleasant and dangerous diseases.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU AND IMPROVED ROSE WASH CURES

SECRET DISEASES

In all their Stages,	At little Expense.
Little or no change in Diet.	No inconvenience.
And no Exposure.

It causes a frequent desire and gives strength to Urinate, thereby Removing Obsructions, Preventing and Curing Strictures of the Uretbra, allaying Pain and Inflammation, so frequent in this class of diseases, and expelling all Poisonous, Diseased and wornout Matter.

Thousands upon Thousands who have been the Victims of Quacks, and who have paid heavy fees to be cured in a short time, have found they were deceived, and that the "POISON" has, by the use of "Powerful Astringents," been dried up in the system, to break out in an aggravated form, and perhaps after Marriage.

—:o:—

Use HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU for all affections and diseases of the URINARY ORGANS, whether existing in MALE or FEMALE, from whatever cause originating and no matter of HOW LONG STANDING. Diseases of these Organs requires the aid of a DIURETIC. HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU IS THE GREAT DIURETIC, and is certain to have the desired effect in all Diseases for which it is Recommended.

Evidence of the most reliable and responsible character will accompany the medicine.

Price $1.00 per bottle, or six for $5.00.

Delivered to any Address, securely packed from observation.

Describe Symptoms in all Communications.

Cures Guaranteed! Advice Gratis!!

Address letters for information to

H. B. HELMBOLD, Chemist,
104 South Tenth-st., bel. Chestnut, Phila.

HELMBOLD'S Medical Depot.
HELMBOLD'S Drug & Chemical Warehouse.
594 Broadway, New York.

BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS AND UNPRINCIPLED DEALERS who endeavor to dispose "of their own" and "other" articles on the reputation attained by

Helmbold's Genuine Preparations.
" " Extract Buchu.
" " Sarsaparilla.
" " Improved Rose Wash.

SOLD BY

ALL DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE.

ASK FOR HELMBOLD'S. TAKE NO OTHER.

Cut out the Advertisement and send for it.

AND AVOID IMPOSITION AND EXPOSURE.

PEABODY'S LADIES' FURNISHING STORE.

BARGAINS.

WOOLEN YARNS

10 CENTS PER SKEIN,

Blue Mixed Yarn	10 cents.
White Yarns	10 "
Drab Yarns	10 "
Slate Yarns	10 "
Random Yarns	10 "

—ALL—

MARKED DOWN TO 10 CENTS.

STOCK ALL MARKED DOWN,

RIBBONS, FLOWERS

—AND—

RUCHES.

The best bargains in the city—Ribbons at very low prices. Flowers and Ruches to suit everybody, at prices below competition.

Bargains in Ribbons.
Bargains in Flowers.
Bargains in Ruches.

LOWER THAN GOLD.

BEST BLACK WORSTEDS,
only 25 cents.
BEST WHITE WORSTEDS,
only 25 cents.
COMMON COLORS OF WORSTEDS,
only 30 cents.
CHINCHILLAS and PERDRIX,
only 35 cents.
PURPLE and ORANGE WORSTEDS,
only 35 cents.

Worsteds Worsteds Worsteds Worsteds Worsteds Worsteds

☞ READ THESE PRICES. ☜

Best Kid Gloves—Warranted,
only $1.50.
White Kid Gloves—the best,
only $1.25.
Nice New Style Hoods,
only $1.00.
Extra Heavy Hood—New,
only $1.25.
Best Hand Knit Zephyr Hood,
only $1.75.
Good warm Sontag—new,
only $1.25.
Best Knit Zephyr Sontag—heavy,
only $2.50.

HOSIERY AND GLOVES.

Best Kid Gloves—only	$1 50
Nice Lisle Gloves—only	30
Extra Good Glove—only	35
Very Nice Kid-made Gloves,	1 25
Ribbed Cotton and Wool Hose,	35
Ribbed Cotton and Wool Hose,	38
Ribbed Cotton and Wool Hose,	42
Ribbed Wool Hose,	50
Ribbed Wool Hose,	55
Ribbed Wool Hose,	65

Children's Hosiery in Woolen, Merino, and Cotton and Wool—in Plain and Fancy, all sizes.

Extra Bargains.

MARKED DOWN.

Veils,
Veils,
Veils,
Veils,
Veils,

Lace Goods of all kinds,
Edgings of all kinds,
Insertings of all kinds,
Checked Cambrics, Plain Cambrics,
Muslins,
Nainsooks,
India Book,
Swiss Mull,
Webb Laces, &c.

SMALL WARES.

Read the prices and compare them with those you have been paying.

Best Worsted Dress Braids,	12 cts
Best Spool Cotton, 200 yards,	10 cts
Best American Pins, only	5 cts
Best Linen Threads,	5 cts
Best Gold Eyed Needles,	8 cts
Best Sea Island Cotton,	10 cts
200 yards Spool Cottons,	10 cts
Nice Elastic Cords,	6 cts

Bargains for a few Days!

☞ BUY NOW. ☜

THE LOWEST PRICES

The Largest Stock in Essex County,

And the Lowest Prices.

ONE PRICE STRICTLY.

JOHN P. PEABODY,
220 ESSEX ST., SALEM.

Our Store is closed every evening—Saturday excepted—at six o'clock, until April 1st, 1865.

Nov 16 JOHN P. PEABODY.

G. H. LANE & CO.

BEING connected with one of the largest Clothing Houses in Franklin Street, and having made extensive preparations for this present season's business, now offer in

Special Departments

(all of which will be found full and complete) the following, at PRICES far below the present cost to manufacture:

OVERCOATS.

The most extensive show of Overcoats ever offered in this market, combining all the popular makes of

Chinchillas, Castors, Tricots, Eskimos, Beavers and Pilots,

In SACKS and SURTOUTS, some of which are particularly adapted to the wants of DRIVERS, being made up with Fur bindings and facings.

BUSINESS COATS,

embracing many new styles.

WALKING COATS,

manufactured from a great variety of PLAIN and MIXED Goods.

ENGLISH HUNTING COATS,

made from heavy FUR BEAVER.

DRESS COATS,

in plain BLACKS and DIAGONAL RIBBED, TRICOT and AMOOR GOODS.

BUSINESS SUITS,

of all grades, from the finest and most expensive qualities down to medium and low priced goods.

PANTALOONS,

A great variety, including some of the most STRIKING, NOVEL and UNIQUE PATTERNS.

VESTS,

a very attractive and thoroughly assorted stock.

Boys' Department.

Under the most capable management, is at all times full in stock and assortment. Our styles for this season being entirely new and strictly our own.

BOYS OVERCOATS,

an unusually large and handsome line, embracing all the leading styles.

BOYS TOGAS,

to be found only at this establishment being original with us.

JACKETS AND PANTS,

to match—perhaps the best assortment that can be offered by any house in the trade.

METROPOLITAN SUITS,

manufactured from a variety of Fabrics, selected with special reference to the requirements of genteel trade.

CARIBALDI SUITS,

new and elegant stocks, unsurpassed for style and finish.

POLKA SUITS,

in the largest quantity and made from the best quality of goods.

The above comprises one of the LARGEST and BEST SELECTED STOCKS of MEN'S and BOYS' CLOTHING ever before offered at RETAIL in NEW ENGLAND.

Special Inducements to Wholesale Buyers for Cash.

G. H. LANE & CO.,
31 and 32 DOCK SQUARE,
Oct. 26th, 1864. BOSTON.

The Great Sale.

BROWNING & LONG'S

10 PER CENT. DISCOUNT PLAN

Makes a Great Saving.

THEIR STOCK OF LADIES' FURNISHING GOODS IS THE LARGEST HERE.

The most Reasonable Prices Charged

AND A DISCOUNT ALSO TAKEN OFF.

EVERY DEPARTMENT FULL.

We sell New Goods, and all at the

LOW PRICES,

DURING OUR GREAT DISCOUNT SALE.

SEASONABLE UNDERGARMENTS,
Hosiery and Gloves,
A SPLENDID STOCK,
AT THE LOW PRICES.

BEST GERMAN WORSTEDS!

Our New and Spacious Department full of Magnificent Shades, the same Make sold by our Establishment for the last 5 years. We have the finest stock in this vicinity.

The Prices Lower

Than a Good Genuine German Worsted is sold anywhere.

THE LARGEST AND RICHEST LOT OF BEAUTIFUL WORSTED GOODS, COMPRISING NEARLY EVERY ARTICLE WORN IN WORSTEDS.

—ALSO—

THE FAMOUS

SHERIDAN JACKET.

THE NEW SKIRT.

A Great Improvement,

And in fact the very best Skirt yet made.

CALL AND EXAMINE

This Skirt of Extraordinary Merit.

OUR

ELEGANT WORSTED WORK

The most magnificent ever seen here.

BROWNING & LONG,
177 Essex Street, 177
SALEM.

☞ Our Store closes every Evening, Saturdays excepted, at 6 o'clock.

George S. Walker.

BARGAINS!

Positively selling at Reduced Prices!

I NOW offer my Winter Stock of Gentlemen's Furnishing Goods, such as ALL WOOL AND MERINO SHIRTS, DRAWERS, HOSIERY, GLOVES, SCARFS, and other seasonable goods, at less than Importers and Manufacturers prices—or Gold at $1 50.

Purchasers will find it for their interest to call and examine GOODS and PRICES, at

GEORGE S. WALKER'S,
No. 228 Essex Street,
oct 12 Opp. Eastern Railroad Station.

Gentlemen's Gloves.

100 VARIETIES to select from, at
GEORGE S. WALKER'S,
No. 228 Essex Street, Salem,
Opp. Eastern Railroad Station.

A. J. Archer & Co

REDUCED PRICES!

DRY GOODS.

AUGUSTUS J. ARCHER & CO.,

ARE Prepared to offer their Large Stock of

SHAWLS,
DRESS GOODS,
GARMENTS,
WOOLENS,

House-Keeping Goods,

— At the —

LOWEST MARKET PRICES.

oct 12—tf 181 Essex street.

NEW DRESS GOODS,

PLAIN AND FIGURED,

— AT —

164 ESSEX ST., SALEM.

CHOICE STYLES AND COLORS.

— ALSO —

PLAIDS for CHILDREN'S SHAWLS,
BALMORALS, WHITE FLANNELS,
CALICOES, HOOP SKIRTS, &c., &c.

These Goods are positively selling at BARGAINS, please call and see for yourselves.

BE SURE AND FIND THE RIGHT STORE,
164 ESSEX STREET, SALEM,
(Opposite Museum Building.)
oct 12 J. E. P. FEARING.

Potter, Bachelder & Co.,

DANVERS-PORT and SOUTH DANVERS,

DEALERS IN

WOOD AND COAL.

Constantly on hand

Franklin, Burnside, Dimond, } RED ASH.
Old Company & Packer's Lehigh, Pliny Fisk, Webster and Locust Mountain, } WHITE ASH.

Also Cumberland, Pictou and Campbell for Steam and Smith's use.

OFFICE—No. 6 Allen's Building.

G. W. POTTER,
J. Q. A. BACHELDER,
C. T. BATCHELDER. mch 30

M. A. PORTER,

236 Essex Street, - - - Salem, Mass.,
(Opposite Horse Railroad Office.)
MAKES TO ORDER BEST QUALITIES OF

WATCH SPRING SKIRTS.

A Good Assortment of Dress and Clock Button, Braids, Spool Cotton, Small Wares, and Thread Store articles generally.

236 Essex Street, - - - Salem, Mass.,
M. A. PORTER.

197 REMOVAL. 197

Gentlemen's Clothing.

YOUTH'S AND BOYS' CLOTHING,

— AND THE —

FURNISHING GOODS ESTABLISHMENT,

of the subscriber is removed to

197 Essex Street,

Store lately occupied by Mr. JOHN MCKEY.

☞ A full and fresh assortment of GOODS is now opening and will be kept up as the season advances.

Salem, Sept 21. T. H. LEFAVOUR.

HOUSE OF EQUITY,

—BY—

Arnold & Hutchinson,

(Successors to C. T. Southwick.)

FIRST QUALITY

FAMILY GROCERIES,

Sold at the Lowest Prices.

A large and complete assortment of

CROCKERY AND GLASS WARE,

Constantly on hand.

Also FLOUR and GRAIN.

ASHLAND HALL BUILDING,
NO. 1 LOWELL STREET,
F. T. ARNOLD. B. F. HUTCHINSON.

South Danvers, Feb 3, 1864.

DERBY & CHILDS,

Fire, Marine and Life Insurance Agents.

ORDERS left at No. 24 Washington st, Salem, or received by mail, promptly attended to.

Losses equitably adjusted and promptly paid, and Insurance effected at reasonable rates.

Salem, August 10,—3m*

Miss Jeanette R. Andrews,

MUSIC TEACHER.

Room No. 5 Bowker Building,
150 Essex Street, Salem.

Terms—Twelve Dollars per quarter.

References—Professors Webb, Wetherbee, B. J. Lang.

nov 2—3m

Auction Sales.

WILLIAM ARCHER, Jr.,

Auctioneer, Real Estate and Stock Broker,
34 Front Street.

Real Estate, Bank, Railroad & Manufacturing Stock bought and sold on Commission.

AUTUMN AND WINTER DRY GOODS.

PRINTS, De Laines, Plaids, Poplins, Alpaccas, Coburgs, Thibets, and many other styles for Dresses:

SHAWLS AND HOUSEKEEPING GOODS.

Bleached and Unbleached Cottons, different widths.

Cotton Flannels, Wool and Cotton and Wool Flannels, of every variety and color.

Union and all wool Cassimeres and Doeskins, for Mens' and Boys' wear.

Hosiary, Gloves, Yarns, Umbrellas, &c., &c., sold at the lowest prices for the Cash, at

238 Essex Street.

GEO. F. DANIELS.

Salem, Sept. 28, 1864.

NEW GOODS.

ANN R. BRAY,
76 Federal Street, Salem.

WILL open this morning Rich POPLINS, at $1 50 per yard;

All Wool do rich colors, at reduced prices;

Black Alpaccas, from 75 cts to $1 75;

Housekeeping Goods at Reduced Prices;

Cottons, Brown and Bleached; 5-4 Waltham and Rockville Sheetings; 4-4 Lonsdale, James Mills, Hills and all the best makes Shirting, at the lowest cash prices,

PRINTS, at reduced prices;

BLANKETS, the very best makes—All-wool and Union Blankets, at the lowest market price.

CAMELS' HAIR SCARFS—medium size;

Also—One very large, of the finest quality—at

ANN R. BRAY'S,
oct 19 76 Federal Street, Salem.

AUTUMN GOODS.

SHAWLS,
—AND—
DRESS GOODS.
BLANKETS,
QUILTS,
AND
HOUSE-KEEPING GOODS.
CLOTHS,
DOESKINS,
OVER-COATINGS,
—AND—
CLOAK CLOTHS,

For sale by

THOMAS W. DOWNING & CO.,
sept 28 179 ESSEX STREET, SALEM.

OPENING!

A FULL ASSORTMENT OF

FALL AND WINTER STYLE

BONNETS,
HATS,
DRESS CAPS and
HEAD-DRESSES.

OCTOBER 6TH,

AT

M. E. CRANE'S,

168 ESSEX STREET, - - SALEM.

October 5th, 1864.

Horse Railroad Notice.

SUNDAY TIME.

HEREAFTER on Sunday, Horse Cars will leave Washington Street Station for Beverly at 9.12, 9.52, 10.32, 11.12, 11.52 A. M.; 12.32, 1.12, 1.52, 2.32, 3.12, 3.52, 4.32, 5.12, 5.52, 6.32, 7.12, 7.52, and 8.32 P. M.

Will leave Washington street station for South Danvers, at 9.07, 9.27, 9.47 A. M., and every twenty minutes till 9.07 P. M.

Cars leave South Danvers at 9.30, 9.50, and 10.10. A. M., and every 20 minutes till 9.30 P. M.

Leave Beverly at 9.40, 10.20, 11.00, 11.40 A. M.; 12.20, 1.00, 1.40, 2.20, 3.00, 3.40, 4.20, 5.00, 4.40, 6.20, 7.00, 7.40, 8.20, and 9.00 P. M.

Salem, Aug. 31, 1864, M. H. HALE, Supt.

GEO. E. MEACOM,

Dealer in

DRUGS & MEDICINES,

Fancy & Toilet Articles, &c.,

126 MAIN ST. 126

Nearly opposite Danvers Bank, So. Danvers.

T. A. SWEETSER,

Druggist & Apothecary

37 Main St., So. Danvers,

DEALER IN

Drugs, Medicines, Chemicals, Foreign Leeches, Shakers' Herbs, Dye Stuffs, Gums, Acids, Sponges, Shoulder Braces, Trusses, and Genuine Patent Medicines.

Also, Imported Cigars of choice brands, Perfumery, Toilet Articles and Stationery.

Physicians' Prescriptions carefully prepared by experienced persons.

37 MAIN STREET.

D. P. GROSVENOR, Jr.,

Druggist and Apothecary

33 MAIN STREET.

Dealer in Drugs, Medicines, Chemicals, Dy Stuffs, and Popular Proprietary Medicines.

Personal attention to Physicians' Prescrip tions.

South Danvers, May 29, 1861. 1y

STORE TO LET.

THE Store now occupied by Messrs. Blake & Ho man, on the corner of Washington and Main St The best located and most convenient store in tow for the Grocery business. Possession given immed ately. Apply to South Danvers, Sept. 21. E. S. DANIELS.

THE WAR.

HORACE GREELY'S great Book on the War, Vo 1—illustrated with maps and cuts—The Ame can Conflict, a history of the Great Rebellion America, 1860—'64.

Nov 9 G. M. WHIPPLE & A. A. SMITH

CARD ENGRAVING,

IN all styles—and Cards printed with dispatch.

Nov 9 G. M. WHIPPLE & A. A. SMITH

PAINTS AND OIL.

FOREST River White Lead; New York Whi Lead; Linseed Oil; Japans; Spirits Turpentin Bensole Spirits; Varnishes, &c., constantly for sale a

Nov 9 S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS', 32 Front St.

WANTED TO HIRE,

FOR a year or term of years, a COTTAGE HOU and Garden, pleasantly located in Danversp or Danvers Center. Rent of no consequence, prov ed all else prove satisfactory.

Address T. H. S. at this office, stating terms, etc.

South Danvers, Sept 28.

Two Splendid Engravings.

"CHRIST Blessing Little Children," and "H on a Furlough."

Subscriptions for these beautiful Engravings re ed at

B. F. STEVENS' Jewelry Store,
oct 5 116 Main St., South Danver

The Wizard.

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMB'R 16, 1864.

The Young Peddler.

One rainy afternoon, in the earliest part of autumn, I heard a low knock at my back door, and on opening it, I found a peddler. Peddlers are a great vexation to me; they leave the gates open, they never have anything I want, and I don't like the faces that belong to most of them, especially those of the strong men who go about with little packages of coarse goods; and I always close the door upon them, saying to myself, "lazy."

This was a little boy, and he was pale and wet, and looked so cold I forgot he was a peddler, and asked him to come in by the fire. I thought he appeared as if he expected I was going to buy something, for he commenced opening his tin box; but I had no such intention. He looked up in my face earnestly and sadly, when I told him to warm himself by the fire, and that I did not wish to purchase anything. He rose slowly from his seat, and there was something in his air which reproached me, and I detained him to inquire why he was out in the rain. He replied:

"I am out every day, and can't stay in for a little rain; besides, most peddlers stay at home then, and I can sell more on rainy days."

"How much do you earn in a day?"

"Sometimes two shillings, sometimes one; and once in a while I get nothing all day, and then ma'am I am very tired."

"Here he gave a quick, dry cough that startled me.

"How long have you had that cough?"

"I don't know, ma'am."

"Does it hurt you?"

"Yes, ma'am."

"Where does your mother live?"

"In heaven, ma'am," said he, unmoved.

"Have you a father?"

"Yes, ma'am, he is with mother," he replied in the same tone.

"Have you any brothers or sisters?"

"I had a little sister, but she went to mother about a month ago."

"What ailed her?"

"She wanted to see mother, and so do I; and I guess that's why I cough so."

"Where do you live?"

"With Mrs. Brown, on N—— street."

"Does she give you any medicine for your cough?"

"Not doctor's medicine; she is too poor—but she makes something for me to take."

"Will you take something if I give it to you?"

"No, ma'am, thank you; mother took medicine, and it didn't help her, though she wanted to stay, and you see I want to go; it would not stop my cough. Good day, ma'am."

"Wait a minute. I want to see what you carry."

He opened his box, and for once I found what I wanted. Indeed, I don't think it would have mattered what he had. I should have wanted it, for the little peddler had changed in my eyes—he had a father and mother in heaven, and so had I. How strange that peddlers had never seemed people—human-soul-filled, beings before! How thankful he was, and how his great blue eyes looked into mine, when I paid him!

"You don't ask me to take a cent less," said he, after hesitating a moment. "I think you must be very rich."

"O, no," I replied, "I am far distant from that; and these things are worth more to me now than what I gave you for them. Will you come again?"

"Yes, ma'am, if I don't go to mother soon."

"Are you hungry?"

"No, ma'am, I never feel hungry now. I sometimes think mother feeds me when I sleep, though I don't remember it when I am awake. I only know I don't wish to eat now, since my sister died."

"Did you feel very bad?"

"I felt big in my throat, and I thought I was choked; but I didn't cry a bit, though I felt very lonely at night for a while; but I am glad she is up there now."

"Who told you you were going to die?"

"Nobody; but I know I am. Perhaps I'll go before Christmas."

I could not endure this, and tried to make him stay; but he would run and tell Mrs. Brown what luck he had met with. He bade me good day again cheerfully, and went out into the cold rain, while I could only say, "God be with you, my child."

He never came again though I looked for him every day. At length about New Year, I went to the place he called home. Mrs. Brown was there, but the little pilgrim's weary feet were at rest, and never more would his gentle knock be heard at the doors of those who, like myself, forgot the necessary and stern way that often sent about these wanderers from house to house; and their employment might be more unseemly to them than annoying to us.—Ladies' Repository.

☞ Foreign papers say that nothing can be more magnificent than the vintage this year in all parts of France. In the wine districts there is a superabundance of grapes. The proprietors of vineyards are actually puzzled to know what to do, their usual supply of casks having long been filled, and the coopers, although at work day and night, are utterly unable to supply the demand.

☞ A copy of a rebel song, comprising ten or fifteen verses, was picked up in a deserted camp of Forrest's Cavalry, by one of the Federal pursuing party after their late attack on Memphis. The gist of the whole is contained in the chorus:—"Hard times coming, starvation now at hand; officers eat the flour bread, and soldiers eat the bran."

☞ Deacon John Cole, of Boxford, recently hauled to the market at Lynn a regular Essex county load of hay, weighing seventy cwt., and for which he received one hundred and twenty-four dollars and thirty-one cents. If this is not the largest load of hay ever hauled from this ancient town, it probably brought the most money.

☞ A modest clergyman requested accommodations for himself, wife and six children only during the sessions of the American board in Worcester.

Special Notices.

MATRIMONIAL!

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN,

If you wish to marry, address the undersigned, who will send you without money and without price, valuable information that will enable you to marry happy and speedily, irrespective of age, wealth or beauty. This information will cost you nothing, and if you wish to marry, I will cheerfully assist you. All letters strictly confidential. The desired information sent by return mail, and no questions asked. Address

Sarah B. Lambert, Greenpoint, Kings Co., oct. 12, 1864.—2 m. NEW YORK.

☞ Ready-made Overcoats, $60, $55, $50, $45, $42, $40, $38, $35, $33, $32, $30, $28, $26, $25, $22, $20, $19, $18, $17, $16, $15, $14, $13, $12, $11, $10. One Price only at BENNETT & Co's, 14 & 15 Dock Square, Boston.

☞ For Boys' Clothing call at BENNETT & Co's One Price House, 14 and 15 Dock Square, Boston.

☞ Ready-made Pants, $17, $16, $15, $14, $13, $12, $11, $10, $9, $8, $7.50, $7, $6.50, $6, $5.50, $5, $4.50, $4, $3.50, $3, $2.50, at BENNETT & Co.'s One Price House, 14 and 15 Dock Square, Boston.

☞ For Gents' Furnishing Goods, Shirts and Drawers, or a garment made to order, call at BENNETT & Co.'s One Price House, 14 and 15 Dock Square, Boston.

Cards.

C. W. HALEY, M. D.,
Physician and Surgeon.
OFFICE—WARREN BANK BUILDING,
South Danvers.

N. J. HOLDEN,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
Office, 27 Washington Street, Salem, Mass.

M. B. MANSFIELD,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
214 ESSEX STREET, SALEM, MASS.,

 Particular attention paid to procuring Pensions, Bounties, Back Pay, Prize Money, and Army and Navy Claims of all descriptions. March 2.

H. L. HADLEY,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
CORNER MAPLE AND ELM ST.,
Danvers.
Claims against the Government for Bounty, Back Pay, and Pensions, promptly attended to.

THOMAS M. STIMPSON,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
194 ESSEX STREET, SALEM.
Residence Lowell street, South Danvers.

B. C. PERKINS,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
South Danvers—Office in Allen's Building.

ALFRED A. ABBOTT,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
Office, No. 24 Washington Street, Salem.
House, Main St., So. Danvers.

SIDNEY C. BANCROFT,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
27 Washington Street, Salem.

H. O. WILEY,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
Office, Allen's Building, South Danvers.
Claims against the Government for Bounty, Back Pay, and Pensions, promptly attended to.

A. S. CRAWFORD
Dentist,
No. 4 MAIN STREET, So. DANVERS SQUARE
Mechanical Dentistry Neatly Executed.

W. L. BOWDOIN,
SURGEON DENTIST,
No, 208 Essex Street, Salem, (Opposite the Marke
Residence—No. 57 Washington street.
jan 11—1y

NEWMAN & SYMONDS,
DEALERS IN
Family Groceries, Flour & Grain,
HARD WARE AND CROCKERY,
Ready Made Clothing, Gents' Furnishing Goods,
Hats, Caps, Boots, Shoes, &c.,
South Danvers Square, opp. Congregational Church
SAM'L NEWMAN. NATH'L SYMONDS.

S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS,
DEALERS IN
Crockery, China and Hardware; Paper Hangings; Solar and Entry Lamps · Paints, Oil and Window Glass.
No. 32 Front street, Lawrence Place,
feb13 SALEM, MASS.

HENRY L. WHIDDEN,
HOUSE AND SIGN PAINTER,
Glazier and Paperer,
Central Street, South Danvers.
All orders promptly and faithfully executed.
jan2-1y

JESSE SMITH
No. 262 Essex Street, Salem,
Importer and Dealer in
Gold and Silver Watches,
MARINE CHRONOMETERS,
Aueroid Barometers, Spy Glasses, &c.

WILLIAM BLANEY,
HOUSE & SIGN PAINTER
Grainer, Glazier and Paper Hanger,
164 MAIN STREET, Corner of Grove.
WINDOWS and BLINDS cheap for cash.
mch6-tf

F. POOLE
INSURANCE AGENT,
Allen's Building (up stairs),
Deeds drawn, and other common forms.

Advertisements.

Are you Insured?

THE subscriber would respectfully call your attention to the fact that he is fully prepared to effect INSURANCE AGAINST FIRE, to any amount, at current rates, on Dwelling Houses, Barns and their contents, Stores, Stocks of Goods, Furniture, &c. &c., and on buildings in process of erection,

And that he is the authorized Agent for the following responsible Stock and Mutual Companies, viz.:

Thames Insurance Co., (Stock,) Norwich, Conn.
Capital—$500,000.
Amos W. Prentice, Pres. Oliver F. Rice, Sec'y

Conway Insurance Company, (Stock) Boston.
Capital and Surplus—$260,000.
James F. Whitney, Pres. David C. Rogers, Sec'y

City Insurance Company, (Stock) Boston.
Capital—$150,000.
Samuel P. Hayward, Pres. Austin W. Benton, Sec'y

Also, will effect Insurance on the LIVES OF INDIVIDUALS, for one year, seven years, or for the whole term of life, in the
Massachusetts Mutual Life Ins. Co., Springfield, Mass.
Capital and Assets—$375,000.
Caleb Rice, Pres. D. B. Bacon, Sec'y.
William Mack, M. D., Medical Examiner.

WM. ARCHER, Jr.,
18 Washington st. and 34 Front st., Salem.
feb20-1

STURGIS'

ELECTRIC COMPOUND,

An Effectual External Remedy for

NEURALGIA

—AND—

RHEUMATISM.

ALSO, INVALUABLE FOR

Spinal Irritation, Ague in the Face, Toothache, Pain in the Side, Back, and Limbs, Ear, Ague, &c.

Among the Advantages of this Medicine are the following:

ITS effect is very rapid—in most cases instantaneous.

It is external in its application, and the patient runs no risk in using it. It does not strike to the stomach.

It reaches the nerves and muscles, as it is believed no other medicine does.

It has cured some of the most violent and obstinate cases of Neuralgia ever known.

It can be used on a child or an aged person alike.

While it is very powerful, it is perfectly harmless.

The proprietor has been allowed to publish the names of many persons who have used the COMPOUND with the most beneficial results. He inserts a few of them. They are among the most respectable citizens of Boston and other places, and their residences and places of business are given.

Rev. N. Munroe, late of Boston Recorder
Joseph H. Allen, 119 Washington St., house 55 Rutland Street.
N. P. Kempt, Tract Society, 40 Cornhill.
Addison Boyden, 408 Washington Street, Boston, firm of Haley, Morse & Boyden.
William H. Brewster, Publisher of Boston Traveller.

The following letter from one of our best citizens will speak for itself:

REV. JOSEPH E. BARRY, the children's missionary of Boston, was the recipient a few weeks since of a bottle of STURGIS'S ELECTRIC COMPOUND, for Neuralgia, Rheumatism, &c., and having experienced great benefit from its use, and having known of many severe cases of the above complaints where it produced cures, considers it his duty to make known to his friends and others being so unfortunate as to be troubled with these terrible complaints, the virtue of this preparation.

Boston, Sept. 15, 1863. JOSEPH E. BARRY.

REMARKABLE CURE OF NEURALGIA.—The following letter, (unsolicited,) was received by the proprietor in May last:

CAMP ROGERS, Newbern, May 6, 1863.

Dear Sir, I have been for some weeks suffering under a severe attack of Neuralgia, the severity of which has caused me to be in "perfect agony" both night and day. Having heard of STURGIS'S ELECTRIC COMPOUND from a "companion in arms," I was induced to give it a trial, which had the happy effect to immediately cure me. I am surprised that surgeons do not have it in the army, as there is a constant demand for such an invaluable relief. I make this statement for the public good, and I have no scruples about your using this as a recommendation to other victims of this painful disorder.

Yours, respectfully, JOSEPH HOUGHTON,
Co. D. 43d Reg't Mass. Vols.

For Sale by all Druggists.
☞ Office No. 119 Washington St., Boston.
Sept. 28—6mo.

DR. J. H. BATCHELDER,
DENTAL SURGEON,
No. 20 Washington St., (near Eastern Railroad Depot),
SALEM, MASS.

Is Licensed to make the New Patent Teeth on HARD RUBBER or VULCANITE.
July 1, 1864.

REAL ESTATE.

The subscriber offers for sale the following Lots of Land, with the buildings thereon, at Private Sale, until October next, when, if not previously sold, they will be put up at auction.

On Lowell street, a two story DWELLING HOUSE, fitted for two families. This is the Estate formerly known as the Southwick Tavern.

On Lowe street, leading from Foster St. to Washington St., a two story TENEMENT for two families with a garden attached to it.

On Washington street, near the residence of Capt. Lowe, a very eligible BUILDING LOT, on the North side of the street.

On Tremont street, a small COTTAGE HOUSE for one or two families.

On Walnut street, a pleasant, elevated Lot of Land, with a large Barn, situated opposite Mr. Caller's Currying Shop.

In the rear of the above TWO TENEMENT HOUSES.

For particulars apply to
jy 27 WILLIAM SUTTON.

Salem and Danvers Aqueduct Co'y.

ALL persons using the water of the Salem and South Danvers Aqueduct, are hereby notified that the water rents, for the six months ending Nov'r 1, 1864, are now due; and that they are required to pay the same, at the office of the Company, No. 2 Sewall Street, on the 1st day of October inst. Should the bills remain unpaid for thirty days, the water will be stopped, in conformity to the regulations of the Company.

Office hours from 9 to 1 o'clock, and from 2 to 5.
Per order of the Directors,
Salem, Oct 1, 1864. WM. JELLY, Collector.

SELF-SEALING AIR-TIGHT CASKET.

MR. CHARLES S. BUFFUM, Furnishing Undertaker of South Danvers, takes this method to announce that he has a new burial case, which combines all the advantages of a wooden receptacle with those of a metal one, yet avoids the disadvantages of both. They have been used with great success, and bodies placed in them have been delivered in perfect preservation after having been transported over a thousand miles. To persons having deceased friends at the seat of war they are invaluable. They come at reasonable prices, are light and durable, and are perfectly airtight. august 10

EBEN UPTON,
Piano Fortes Tuned and Regulated,
MELODEONS AND PIANOS
BOUGHT, AND EXCHANGED
For New Piano Fortes, at Wholesale Prices.
Orders left at G. CREAMER'S Bookstore, Salem.
July 27, 1864.—6m

FURNITURE.

HAVING taken the Store No. 10 FRONT STREET, (formerly occupied by BENJAMIN COLMAN,) I shall keep constantly on hand a large stock of

NEW AND SECOND-HAND FURNITURE,
BEDDING, COUNTING-ROOM DESKS, &c., &c.,

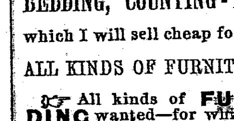
which I will sell cheap for CASH.

ALL KINDS OF FURNITURE NEATLY REPAIRED.

☞ All kinds of FURNITURE and BEDDING wanted—for which the highest Cash price will be paid.

P. J. HYNES, 10 FRONT ST.
Salem, April 6, 1864—1y

CURRIER & MILLETT,
Dealers in



Furniture, Chairs,
MATTRESSES, FEATHERS, &
259 & 261 ESSEX ST.
Salem, dec 14—1y

NEW INKSTAND.

OLIVER'S Patent Inkstand claims the following advantages:—It is not complicated—No trouble to fill—Does not get out of order—It is very economical—It prevents evaporation—Does not require frequent filling—Can be easily operated—It is easily cleaned—Filters the Ink for use—Keeps the Ink free from exposure and fresh and limpid—it is both ornamental and durable. For sale by
Salem, Sept 23 G M WHIPPLE & A A SMITH.

AARON T. LOWE,
DEALER IN
BOOTS, SHOES AND RUBBERS,
76 BOSTON STREET, 76.
aug 6 SALEM. tf

LIFE INSURANCE.

THE MUTUAL

LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY,

Of New York, with a Capital of $11,000,000,

And an Annual Income of over

$2,000,000,

AND declaring a LARGER DIVIDEND than any other Company in the United States, is the one in which every man should secure a policy on his life.

The importance of LIFE INSURANCE cannot be too highly estimated. It is the safest and most practicable method of securing to your family, in case of your death, the means of a comfortable and independent support. Thousands of instances might be cited where families have thus been provided with a competency, who would otherwise have been left in penury and want. Husbands and fathers! treat not with indifference a subject of such vital importance, but see to it at once, that your families are provided with the inestimable advantages which this great and benevolent institution affords.

Because a man has wealth, it is no reason why he should not insure, for he knows not how soon his riches may "take to themselves wings and fly away." And let those who complain of the want of means, remember that

Forty-Five Cents a Week,

Will insure $1,000 on the life of a man of THIRTY.

AN ENDOWMENT POLICY,

Secures to the assured party, on attaining to a certain age, say 50, 55 or 60 years, an amount sufficient for his support in advanced age.

Another feature of this subject, deserving of especial attention, is

SURVIVORSHIP ANNUITIES!

By means of which one party may secure to another, an annuity sufficient to maintain them in comfort and independence through life. A husband may thus make provision for his wife; a father for his child; or a brother for his sister.

Endowment Policies for Children.

By this means a parent may provide, by the payment of a small annual premium, a sum of money sufficient to enable a son to enter into business, at a proper age, or for any other provision, either for a son or daughter.

Many Gentlemen of So. Danvers and Vicinity!

Have already availed themselves of this opportunity now offered of ensuring their lives, and thus securing an inestimable blessing to themselves and their families. Let others be equally wise, and immediately follow their example.

JOHN H. DERBY,
Agent for South Danvers and Vicinity.
Post Office address, Salem, Mass.
September 14, 1864.—tf.

R. C. MANNING & CO,
Successors to JOHN DIKE & CO.,
DEALERS IN
COAL, WOOD, BARK, HAY, &c,
183 DERBY STREET,
SALEM, MASS.
N. C. ROBBINS, R. C. MANNING.
oct17

HOSTETTER'S
CELEBRATED
STOMACH BITTERS.

A pure and powerful Tonic, corrective and alterative of wonderful efficacy in disease of the

Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

Cures Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Headache, Debility, Nervousness, Depression of Spirits, Constipation, Colic, Intermittent Fevers, Cramps and Spasms, and all Complaints of either Sex, arising from Bodily Weakness whether inherent in the system or produced by special causes.

Nothing that is not wholesome, genial and restorative in its nature enters into the composition of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. This popular preparation contains no mineral of any kind, no deadly botanical element; no fiery excitant: but it is a combination of the extracts of rare balsamic herbs and plants with the purest and mildest of all diffusive stimulants.

It is well to be forearmed against disease, and, so far as the human system can be protected by human means against maladies engendered by an unwholesome atmosphere, impure water and other external causes, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS may be relied on as a safeguard.

In districts infested with Fever and Ague, it has been found infallible as a preventive and irresistible as a remedy and thousands who resort to it under apprehension of an attack, escape the scourage; and thousands who neglect to avail themselves of its protective qualities in advance, are cured by a very brief course of this marvelous medicine. Fever and Ague patients, after being plied with quinine for months in vain, until fairly saturated with that dangerous alkaloid, are not unfrequently restored to health within a few days by the use of HOSTETTER'S BITTERS.

The weak stomach is rapidly invigorated and the appetite restored by this agreeable Tonic, and hence it works wonders in cases of DISPEPSIA and, in less confirmed forms of INDIGESTION. Acting as a gentle and painless apperient, as well as upon the liver, it also invariably relieves the CONSTIPATION superinduced by irregular action of the digestive and secretive organs.

Persons of feeble habit, liable to Nervous Attacks, Lowness of Spirits and Fits of Languor, find prompt and permanent relief from the Bitters. The testimony on this point is most conclusive, and from both sexes.

The agony of BILIOUS COLIC is immediately assuaged by a single dose of the stimulant, and by occasionally resorting to it, the return of the complaint may be prevented.

As a General Tonic, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS produce effects which must be experienced or witnessed before they can be fully appreciated. In cases of Constitutional Weakness, Premature Decay and Debility and Decrepitude arising from OLD AGE, it exercises the electric influence. In the convalescent stages of all diseases it operates as a delightful invigorant. When the powers of nature are relaxed, it operates to re-enforce and re-establish them.

Last, but not least, it is The Only Safe Stimulant, being manufactured from sound and innocuous materials, and entirely free from the acid elements present more or less in all the ordinary tonics and stomachics of the day.

No family medicine has been so universally, and, it may be truly added, deservedly popular with the intelligent portion of the community, as HOSTETTER'S BITTERS.

Prepared by HOSTETTER & SMITH, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Sold by all Druggists, Grocers and Storekeepers everywhere.

December 16, 1863.—1 yr.

VALUABLE REAL ESTATE.

THE Subscriber offers for sale the following Lots of Land, with the Buildings thereon, at private sale, until September next, when such as then remain unsold, will be offered at Public Auction:

A new and well built two-story DWELLING HOUSE, situated on English Street.—This house is well supplied with the modern conveniences, is pleasantly situated on rising ground, and is a very desirable residence.

On Walnut Street is the large BOARDING HOUSE, with the land adjoining, which is excellently well situated for what it is designed

Several front LOTS for building purposes on Walnut Street, will be sold at moderate prices and fair terms.

A STORE HOUSE 70 by 25 feet on Walnut Street, with the land under and the rear of it. It can be easily adapted for a Curriers' Shop, or for other kinds of business.

On Wallis Street, near the mill pond, a well built and painted MOROCCO FACTORY, all ready for occupancy. It is about 80 feet long by 25 wide, and in excellent repair.

Next to the Morocco Factory on the same street, a STORE BUILDING, strongly built, and framed for a DWELLING HOUSE, for which it could be easily adapted. Or it would make an excellent Shop for any kind of business.

Near ELM STREET, on a Court south of said street, are two DWELLING HOUSES, planned for two families each. One is two stories high, the other one and a half. Both houses have good tenants and yield a good income; offering a good chance for investment.

Between Harris and English Streets, one One Story DWELLING House, and a One Story and a Half House.

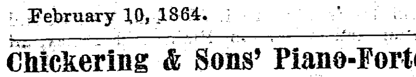
The above is a most excellent opportunity for enterprising young men to secure places for business and dwelling houses, on reasonable terms. Such a chance may not soon again occur.

Persons desiring to purchase any of the above lots may learn the prices and terms on application to ANDREW S. PORTER, Elm Street.

SAMUEL D. PENDAR.

South Danvers, May 11, 1864. tf

Indispensable to Every Soldier and Seaman.



EASILY carried in the coat pocket. Supplied by the manufacturers at the old price—$2.

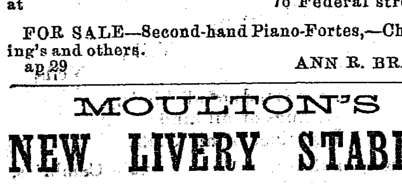
D. B. BROOKS & BROTHER,
201 Essex Street, Salem, Mass.

Those who have friends in the Army of the Potomac can have them sent to them free of postage. sept 7

HENRY G. HUBON,
WASHINGTON STREET, SALEM
Manufacturers of
Rose Wood, Mahogany, Black Walnnt and Stained Wood
COFFINS and CASKETS.

MAKING this our exclusive business, we are ready at all times and at the shortest notice to furnish Grave Clothes of various styles, as well as Coffins and Caskets of the finest finish. Personal attention given, and delivered without extra charge to any of the neighboring towns. All orders by express or otherwise will receive prompt attention.

nov 1—tf



CHARLES S. BUFFUM,

BEING an authorized UNDERTAKER of South Danvers, will attend Funerals in said place with his Hearse the same as the Town Undertaker. Will also attend Funerals, when desired, in any of the neighboring towns, with one or a pair of horses.

He also furnishes Coffin Caskets, Robes, etc., lower than city prices.

All branches of the business attended to, such as furnishing Coaches, Flowers, Laying Out, etc.

Ice Preservers Furnished.

All orders promptly attended to, and personal attention given to them. Articles delivered to any of the neighboring towns free of charge. Orders by express or otherwise will receive prompt attention.

Central street, South Danvers,
RESIDENCE 25 ELM STREET.
South Danvers, Feb 17, 1864.

Undertaker's Notice!

THE subscriber being regularly appointed as Undertaker of South Danvers, would respectfully notify the public that he has removed from Central Street, to No. 80 Lowell Street, where he may be found in readiness to attend funerals, and to furnish, when desired.

HENRY SPENCER.

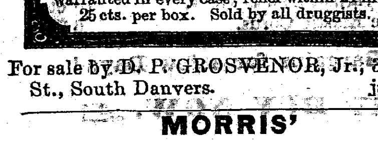
February 10, 1864.

Chickering & Sons' Piano-Fortes.
Hallett & Cumston's Piano-Fortes.
Hallett & Davis's Piano-Fortes.

We select our Piano-Fortes from the above firms and warrant them to give perfect satisfaction. Our terms are reasonable, and all persons in the city and neighboring towns can be accommodated by calling at 76 Federal street.

FOR SALE—Second-hand Piano-Fortes,—Chickering's and others.
ap 29 ANN R. BRAY.

MOULTON'S NEW LIVERY STABLE,



Is removed to stable formerly occupied by
SAMUEL HAM,
On MAIN STREET, opposite the Institute.

Good Horses and Carriages will be always in readiness at short notice.
South Danvers, May 25, 1864.

PIN WORMS. MRS. OSBORN'S Universal Worm Powders are the only sure cure ever offered to the public. They are warranted in every case; relief within 24 hrs. 25 cts. per box. Sold by all druggists.

For sale by D. P. GROSVENOR, Jr., 33 Main St., South Danvers. jan 27

MORRIS' RESTAURANT,
18 and 20 Derby Square, Salem.
Oysters, Clams, Steak, Poultry, Game, Fish, &c., &c., COOKED TO ORDER.
Pickled Oysters, Lobsters and Clams.
Salem, July 22, 1863. tf

GAYLE & CO.,
COMMISSION MERCHANTS,
AND DEALERS IN
Flour, Grain and Produce,
PHILLIPS WHARF, - - - - Salem.

WEBSTER'S NEW DICTIONARY.

NEW edition, illustrated throughout and greatly enlarged—for sale by
oct12 G. M. WHIPPLE & A. A. SMITH.

PAPER SHADES.

A FINE assortment of Paper Shades for Kerosene Lamps, just received from Philadelphia, and for sale at S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS', 32 Front St.
oct 12

JUST ARRIVED,
AT DANVERS MILLS,

500 Bushels Corn, in the minnie cob, and will be sold in South Danvers. Constantly on hand a large stock of meal, which will be sold at the lowest Salem prices.

—ALSO ON HAND—

500 Bushels Feed;
200 Bushels prime Northern Oats;
100 Barrels choicest Family Flour.
A good stock of LIME constantly on hand.

JOHN G. MOULTON,
Central St., South Danvers, Mass.
Aug 25—tf.

THE TRAVELERS INS. CO.,
OF HARTFORD, CONN.

Capital - - - - - - $250,000.

Is now prepared to Insure persons against

ACCIDENTS

OF EVERY DESCRIPTION.

Yearly policies will be issued for a premium of

FIVE DOLLARS,

granting insurance to the amount of

FIVE THOUSAND DOLLARS,

against accidental loss of life while travelling by any public conveyance.

TEN DOLLARS PREMIUM

secures a policy for Five Thousand Dollars, and also twenty-five dollars per week compensation for personal injury incapacitating the assured from his ordinary business.

TWENTY-FIVE DOLLARS PREMIUM

secures a full policy for $5000 and $25 per week compensation for all and EVERY DESCRIPTION OF ACCIDENT, TRAVELLING OR OTHERWISE.

Policies for $5000 with $3 per week compensation, can be had for $3 per annum; or any other sum between $500 and $5000 at proportionate rates.

DIRECTORS:

Gustavus F. Davis,	W. H. D. Callender,
James L. Howard,	George W. Moore,
Marshal Jewell,	Ebenezer Roberts,
Thomas Belknap, Jr.,	Charles White,
Cornelius B. Irwin,	Hugh Harrison,
George S. Gilman,	Jonathan B. Bunce.

JAMES G. PATTERSON, President.
RODNEY DENNIS, Secretary.
HENRY A. DYER, General Agent.

PLUMBER & MERCER, AGENTS,
40 State Street, Boston.

Offices in Salem—JOHN H. DERBY, No. 24 Washington street; SAMUEL MACKINTIRE, No. 218 Essex street. Aug. 3, 1864—1yr*

Skinner's Pulmonales

SKINNER'S PULMONALES S

Immediately Relieve Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, loss of Voice, Bronchitis, Lassitude, Thirst and every symptom of the first stages of Pulmonary Consumption; they are white, in form of a wafer, and as suitable for the infant in the cradle as the patient of three score years and ten. Orators and all who overtax the vocal organs receive instant relief by their use. Sold by all Druggists. Prepared by E. M. SKINNER, Chemist, 27 Tremont St., Boston. sept 7—1y

SPALDING'S ROSE MARY

FOR FOURTEEN YEARS the Rosemary has held a high rank as pure, uniform and reliable. It is Warranted. 1st, To beautify the hair. 2d, To curl the hair elegantly. 3d, To remove dandruff effectually. 4th, To restore hair to bald heads. 5th, To force the beard and whiskers to grow. 6th, To prevent the hair from falling off. 7th, To cure all diseases of the scalp. 8th, To prevent the hair turning grey. 9th, To cure headache. 10th, To kill hair eaters. Sold everywhere. Prepared by EDW. M SKINNER, Chemist, 27 Tremont St., opposite the Museum, Boston, Mass. sept 7—1y

ALWAYS SUCCESSFUL!

TO ALL THOSE WHO SUFFER FROM

DEBILITY AND SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

DRS. CARSWELL & HUNTER, regularly educated, highly eminent and successful practitioners, after a very extensive practice in Boston, for over twenty years, need hardly speak of their medical qualifications, or remind strangers not to class them with a set of uneducated men, who fill the papers with their boasting advertisements. Drs. C. & H. caution the public against quackery in all its forms, pretending, as some self-styled doctors, to cure all the most difficult and chronic diseases, without knowledge of the human system, or of the modus operandi of the most simple drugs.

Drs. C. & H., since 1840, having confined their whole attention to an office practice for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, they acknowledge no superiors.

CONSTITUTIONAL DEBILITY OR SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Drs. C. & H. are pre-eminently successful in the treatment of the above most difficult and perplexing of all diseases, this complaint being the result of a secret habit in youth; if neglected or improperly treated, it proves one of the greatest evils that can befall a human being. Dr. H. has given particular attention to the above disease for years, and so thoroughly has he become acquainted with the pathology and treatment, that he will warrant a perfect cure under forfeiture of $500; in fact, he will, in the cure of this complaint, acknowledge no superior in this country, or even in the world. Come, then, all you who are afflicted, come to the Old Stand, where you will in a short time be made to rejoice in perfect health.

SYPHILITIC AND SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS,—such as Ulcers and Caries of the throat and nose, Running Sores on the legs and arms, Hard Scabs and Scaly Eruptions on the head, back, &c., pains in the bones and joints, and all other forms of venereal diseases—are made to yield and entirely disappear under Drs. C. & H.'s improved and thoroughly eradicating course of treatment.

The primary or first symptoms of disease, whether a simple running, or small pistules, cancers, or ulcers, are cured in a very few days, if immediate application is made to Drs. C. & H.

13 ENDICOTT STREET, BOSTON. 13,

Strangers should be particular in the selection of a physician, lest they be deceived by false advertisements.

Ladies troubled with irregularity, weakness, whites, and other complaints peculiar to the female system, will find a speedy cure by calling as above. No mercury used; and no charge for advice. The afflicted are invited to give us a call.

Boston, April 20, 1864.—1 yr.

BELL'S SPECIFIC PILLS.—WARRANTED IN ALL CASES.—Can be relied on! Never fail to cure! Do not nauseate! Are speedy in action! No change of diet required! Do not interfere with business pursuits! Can be used without detection! Upward of 200 cures the past month—some of them very severe cases. Over one hundred physicians have used them in their practice, and all speak well of their efficacy, and approve of their composition, which is entirely vegetable and harmless on the system. Hundreds of certificates can be shown.

BELL'S SPECIFIC PILLS are the original and only genuine Specific Pill. They are adapted for male and female, old or young, and the only reliable remedy for effecting a permanent and speedy cure in all cases of Spermatorrhea, or Seminal Weakness, with all its train of evils, such as Urethral and Vaginal Discharges, Gleet, the Whites, Nightly or Involuntary Emissions, Incontinence, Genital Debility and Irritability, Impotence, Weakness or Loss of Power, Nervous Debility, &c., &c., all of which arise principally from Sexual Excesses or Self-Abuse, or some constitutional derangement, and incapacitates the sufferer from fulfilling the duties of married life. In all sexual diseases, as Gonorrhea, Gleet, and Strictures, and in Diseases of the Bladder and Kidneys, they act as a charm! Relief is experienced by taking a single box.

Sold by all the principal druggists. Price $1.

They will be sent by mail, securely sealed, and confidentially, on receipt of the money, by

J. BRYAN, M. D.,
No. 76 Cedar street, New York.

Consulting Physician for the treatment of Seminal, Urinary, Sexual, and Nervous Diseases, who will send, free to all, the following valuable work, in sealed envelope:

THE FIFTIETH THOUSAND.—DR. BELL'S TREATISE on Self-Abuse, Premature Decay, Impotence and Loss of Power, Sexual Diseases, Seminal Weakness, Nightly Emissions, Genital Debility, &c., &c., a pamphlet of 64 pages, containing important advice to the afflicted, and which should be read by every sufferer, as the means of cure in the severest stages is plainly set forth. Two stamps required to pay postage. December 9, 1863—1 yr.

IMPORTANT TO LADIES.—DR. HARVEY'S FEMALE PILLS have never yet failed in removing difficulties arising from obstruction, or stoppage of nature, or in restoring the system to perfect health when suffering from Spinal Affections, Prolapsus, Uteri, the Whites, or other weakness of the Uterine Organs. The Pills are perfectly harmless on the constitution, and may be taken by the most delicate female without causing distress—the same time they act like a charm by strengthening, invigorating and restoring the system to a healthy condition, and by bringing on the monthly period with regularity, no matter from what causes the obstruction may arise. They should, however, NOT be taken during the first three or four months of pregnancy, though safe at any other time, as miscarriage would be the result.

Each box contains 60 Pills. Price $1.

DR. HARVEY'S TREATISE on Diseases of Females, Pregnancy, Miscarriage, Barrenness, Sterility, Reproduction, and Abuses of Nature, and emphatically the Ladies' Private Medical Adviser, a pamphlet of 64 pages, sent free to any address. Six cents required to pay postage.

The Pills and book will be sent by mail when desired, securely sealed, and prepaid, by

J. BRYAN, M. D., General Agent,
No. 76 Cedar street, New York.

☞ Sold by all the principal druggists.
December 9, 1863—1 yr.

SUMMER ARRANGEM
TO LYNN & BOSTO
BY
OMNIBUS & HORSE

W. F. BURNHAM'S

Line of Omnibuses will leave the Lynn an Omnibus Office, No. 6 Allen's Building, So vers, passing down Main Street, through Wa Street, to Lynn, daily—Sundays included.

Leave South Danvers at 7 50 o'clock, A. and 4 50 P. M.

Leave Lynn (Horse Car Depot, West Lyn A. M., 2 40 and 6 40 P. M.

Horse Cars leaving the office at 14 Bratt at 8 15 A. M., 1 15 and 5 15 P. M., will meet t buses at Lynn, at the above named hours passengers to South Danvers.

Tickets to Lynn, - - 20
Through to Boston, - - 35

Gravesend, Woodend, and C Depot Route.

ON and after Monday, Nov 2, in addition route, an Omnibus will leave South Da Lynn, to connect with the steam and hor times daily,—Sundays excepted,—running Gravesend and Woodend, to the Central R and Horse Railroad Station, corner of Sp Broad Streets; leaving South Danvers at 6 necting with the 7.25 steam cars for Bosto (connecting with the 11.10 train), and 4 P M ing with the 4.50 train); and returning, le from the Spring Street Station and Centra pot, at 8 A M, and 1 and 6 P M.

Fare from S. Danvers to Boston by horse
" " " " steam

Through Tickets to and from Boston may the Drivers and Conductors.

EXPRESS BUSINESS

Between South Danvers and Lynn promp ed to, on reasonable terms.

Extra Coaches furnished at short notice.

W. F. BURN

South Danvers, April 20, 1864.

CROUT & MUNRO
SOUTH DANVERS & BO
RAILROAD EXPRES

Express leaves South Danvers at 10
Freight " " " at 5
Express leaves Boston at 3
Freight " " at 4

OFFICE at FREIGHT DEPOT
Danvers Square.

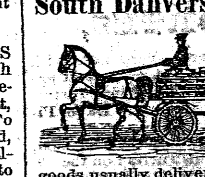
Express Office in Boston, 3 Washingt
Freight Office, 48 Kilby St.

Particular attention paid to remov niture, collecting Bills, Notes, Drafts

Smallest favors thankfully received.

South Danvers, august 26—tf

LITTLEFIEL
South Danvers & Salem Mail



E LITT successor ber, will press re tween S and Sale delivery c and bune goods usually delivered by Express.

Leave South Danvers at 7½ and 11 A M,
Leave Salem at 8.45 A M., 2 and 6 P.

This Express connects with the first train going East.

SLATES—In Salem, 13 Central st., and at Roberts' store, corner of Front and Washin South Danvers—At the Post Office; at B man's store; also at R. O. Spiller's store.

Important to the Affli

DR. DOW continues to be consulted at Nos. 7 and 9 Endicott street, Boston, eases of a

PRIVATE OR DELICATE NATU

By a long course of study and practical of unlimited extent. Dr. D. has now the g of presenting the unfortunate with re have never, since he first introduced them cure the most alarming cases of

GONORRHŒA AND SYPHILI

Beneath his treatment, all the horrors and impure blood, Impotency, Scrofula, C Ulcers, pain and distress in the regions tion, Inflammation of the Bladder and Ki drocele, Abcesses, Humors, frightful Sw the long train of horrible symptoms att class of disease, are made to become as h the simplest ailings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Dr. D. devotes a great part of his time ment of those cases caused by a secret a habit, which ruins the body and mind, u unfortunate individual for business or soc of the sad and melancholy effects produc habits of youth, are Weakness of the limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimness of pitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervou rangement of the digestive functions, S Consumption, &c. The fearful effects o are much to be dreaded; loss of memory of ideas, depression of spirits, evil f aversion of society, self-distrust, timidit among the evils produced. Such persons fore contemplating matrimony, consult a experience, and be at once restored to happiness.

Patients who wish to remain under Dr. ment a few days or weeks, will be furn pleasant rooms, and charges for board mo

Medicines sent to all parts of the count directions for use, on receiving descrip cases. Dr. Dow has also for sale the Fren warranted the best preventive. Order or $1 and a red stamp.

CAUTION

TO FEMALES IN DELICATE H

DR. DOW, Physician and Surgeon, 7 a street, Boston, is consulted daily for all dent to the female system. Prolapsus U ing of the Womb, Fluor Albus, Suppress er menstrual derangements, are all treate pathological principles, and speedy relief in a very few days. So invariably certai mode of treatment, that most obstinate yield under it, and the afflicted person s in perfect health.

Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater expe cure of diseases of women and childre other physician in Boston.

Boarding accommodations for patien wish to stay in Boston a few days und ment.

Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined h tention to an office practice, for the cur Diseases and Female Complaints, ackn superior in the United States.

N. B.—All letters must contain four re they will not be answered.

Office Hours from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M.

CERTAIN CURE

IN ALL CASES, OR NO CHARGE

Dr. Dow is consulted daily, from 8 a as above, upon all difficult and chroni every name and nature, having by his u tention and extraordinary success gained which calls patients from all parts of th obtain advice.

Among the physicians in Boston, none in the profession than the celebrated DI 7 Endicott street, Boston. Those who n vices of an experienced physician and s give him a call. P. S.—Dr. Dow import sale a new article, called the French S by mail. Two for $1 and a red stamp.

April 20, 1864—1y.

Job Press for Sale

RUGGLES' JOB ENGINE PRESS. Pr by 19 inches. Can be run by one m of 800 per hour. Is in good condition. It very low price, as the owner has no use f big bargain. Apply at this office.

HEYLINGBERG'S
Hair Dressing S
24 MAIN ST., SOUTH DAN

J. J. HEYLINGBERG would announ rons and the public generally, tha JUNE 1st, 1864, he will abide by the fol

TARIFF OF PRICES:

Shaving, - - - - -
Hair Cutting, - - - -
Champooing, - - - -

Particular attention paid to dying h kers, in one preparation, without wash bing.

South Danvers, May 11, 1864.

25 YEARS' EXPERIENCE

CARSWELL & HUNTER to cu of a private nature in a shorter space of a smaller amount of money than any oth this country, and they also treat all fema with perfect success, and on the mos terms. Patients furnished with board Please give us a call at our office, No. 13 Boston, Mass.

Boston, April 20, 1864.—1 yr.

South Danvers Wizard.

. V. SOUTH DANVERS, MASS., WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 30, 1864. NO. 48.

UTH DANVERS WIZARD
very WEDNESDAY, at Allen's Build-
nvers Square.
Dollars a year.
NTS inserted at reasonable rates.
ARLES D. HOWARD,
R AND PROPRIETOR.

LES, Advertising Agent,
's Building, Court Street, Boston, is
that city, and is authorized to reements and subscriptions for us at tes.

vertisements.

OLDEN OPPORTUNITY,"
H A DISCOUNT!

t fall in GOLD having produced ponding effect on the value of DISE,
VE MARKED DOWN
Entire Stock of
OTHING,
w the basis of a Gold value,
o customers the MOST FAVORABLE PPORTUNITY
resented of Selecting their
ER CLOTHING.
REDUCTION EXTENDS TO THE OM DEPARTMENT.
Please examine our
Stock and Low Prices,
let your interest decide.
BOISE & CO.,
RERS & DEALERS IN CLOTHING,
Washington Street,
BOSTON,
e doors south of Milk St.,) 1864.

LEMEN'S HATS.
LL STYLES.
best selected assortments of FALL and
HATS in Boston, may be found at
. JACKSON'S,
ont and 101 Court Sts.
COMPRISING
Hats,
ne Felt Hats, and
Cloth Hats and Caps,
t styles.
AND CAPS FOR BOYS.
rge and well assorted stock of Ladies
's FURS.
ACKSON'S,
St. and 59 Tremont St.,
BOSTON.

W STORE!
ur! Flour!
EIVED, a fresh supply of CHOICE
direct from the Mills, for sale,
l retail, at LOWEST PRICES, by
E. F. OSBORN.
Sutton's Building, Main St.
vers, Nov 18, 1864.

C. HENDERSON,
MANUFACTURER OF
LAIN AND FANCY
ER BOXES;
35 ESSEX STREET,
n of "Nest of Boxes,"
SALEM. tf

M. FENOLLOSA,
TEACHER OF MUSIC,
....PIANO FORTES,
at the lowest rates;
.... PIANO FORTES,
at the Manufacturers Prices;
....PIANO FORTES,
on the easiest terms;
ooms No. 7 Central street,
SALEM, MASS.

Books, Making Bills and
Copying.
usiness will be promptly and accurately by the subscriber, who may be found at & GIDDINGS' Counting Room on Wal-
the Essex Depot, or by enquiring at this y13 tf JOHN D. HOWARD.

CTACLES!
RRY wishes to call special attention to t of
les and Eye Glasses,
—Rubber—Steel and Horn frames, of constantly on hand a very large as-cing every style and quality.
—ALSO—
lasses, Microscopes, &c.
and Spectacles repaired.
nual assortment of Silver and Plated
Fancy Goods, and Toys, Also, Can-
0 Essex Street, Salem.
H. F. SKERRY,

Special Notices.

To Consumptives.

Consumptive sufferers will receive a valuable prescription for the cure of Consumption, Asthma, Bronchitis, and all Throat and Lung affections (free of charge) by sending their address to Rev. EDWARD A. WILSON, Williamsburg, Kings Co.,
sept 21—3 mos. New York.

From the army hospital—the bloody battle-field—the mansion of the rich and humble abode of the poor—from the office and the sacred desk—from the mountain top, distant valleys and far-off islands of the ocean—from every nook and corner of the civilized world—is pouring in the evidence of the astonishing effects of DRAKE'S PLANTATION BITTERS. Thousands upon thousands of letters like the following may be seen at our office.

REEDSBURY, Wis., Sept. 16, 1863.

"* * * * I have been in the army hospitals for fourteen months—speechless and nearly dead. At Alton, Ill. they gave me a bottle of Plantation Bitters. * * Three bottles restored my speech and cured me. * * * *

C. A. FLAUTE.',

SOUTH WARSAW, O., July 28, 1863.

"* * * One young man, who had been sick and not out of the house for two years with Scrofula and Erysipelas, after paying the doctors over $150 without benefit, has been cured by ten bottles of your Bitters.

EDWARD WOUNALL.

The following is from the Manager of the Union Home School for the Children of Volunteers:

HAVEMEYER MANSION, FIFTY-SEVENTH ST.,
New York, August 2, 1863.

DR. DRAKE: Your wonderful Plantation Bitters have been given to some of our little children suffering from weakness and weak lungs with most happy effect. One little girl, in particular, with pains in her head, loss of appetite, and daily wasting consumption, on whom all medical skill had been exhausted, has been entirely restored. We commenced with but a teaspoonful of Bitters a day. Her appetite and strength rapidly increased, and she is now well * *

Respectfully, MRS. O. M. DEVOE."

"* * * I owe much to you, for I verily believe the Plantation Bitters have saved my life.
REV. W. H. WAGGONER, Madrid, N. Y."

"* * * Thou wilt send me two bottles more of thy Plantation Bitters. My wife has been greatly benefited by their use.
Thy friend, ASA CURRIN, Philadelphia, PA."

"* * * I have been a great sufferer from Dyspepsia, and had to abandon preaching. * * * The Plantation Bitters have cured me.
REV. J. S. CATHORN, Rochester, N. Y."

"* * * Send us twenty-four dozen more of your Plantation Bitters, the popularity of which are daily increasing with the guests of our house.
SYKES, CHADWICK & CO.,
Proprietors Willard's Hotel, Washington, D. C."

"* * * I have given the Plantation Bitters to hundreds of our disabled soldiers with the most astonishing effect.
G. W. D. ANDREWS,
Superintendent Soldiers' Home, Cincinnati, O.

"* * * The Plantation Bitters have cured me of liver complaint, of which I was laid up prostrate and had to abandon my Business.
H. B. KINGSLEY, Cleveland, O."

"* * * The Plantation Bitters have cured me of a derangement of the kidneys and urinary organs that has distressed me for years. It acts like a charm.
C. C. MOORE, 254 Broadway, N. Y."
&c. &c. &c. &c. &c.

The Plantation Bitters make the weak strong, the languid brilliant, and are exhausted nature's great restorer. They are composed of the celebrated Calisaya Bark, Wintergreen, Sassafras, Roots, Herbs, &c., all preserved in perfectly pure St. Croix Rum.

S—T—1860—X.

Persons of sedentary habits troubled with weakness, lassitude, palpitation of the heart, lack of appetite, distress after eating, torpid liver, constipation, &c. deserve to suffer if they will not try them.

They are recommended by the highest medical authorities, and are warranted to produce an immediate beneficial effect. They are exceedingly agreeable, perfectly pure, and harmless.

NOTICE.—Any person pretending to sell Plantation Bitters in bulk or by the gallon is a swindler and impostor. It is put up only in our patent log cabin bottle Beware of bottles refilled with imitation deleterious stuff for which several persons are already in prison. See that every bottle has our private United States Stamp over the cork unmutilated, and signature on steel plate side label.

Sold by respectable dealers throughout the habitable globe.

P. H. DRAKE & CO.
202 Broadway, N. Y.

Mch 16—1 yr

THE GREAT ENGLISH REMEDY.
SIR JAMES CLARKE'S
CELEBRATED FEMALE PILLS!

Prepared from a prescription of Sir J. Clarke, M. D., Physician Extraordinary to the Queen.

This well known medicine is no imposition, but a sure cure and safe remedy for Female Difficulties and Obstructions, from any cause whatever; and, although a powerful remedy, they contain nothing hurtful to the constitution.

In all cases of Nervous and Spinal Affections, pain in the Back and Limbs, Fatigue on slight exertion Palpitation of the Heart, Hysterics, and Whites, these pills will effect a cure, when all other means have failed: and, although a powerful remedy, do not contain iron, calomel, antimony, or anything hurtful to the constitution.

Full directions in the pamphlet around each package, which should be carefully preserved.

For full particulars, obtain, free, of the agent, a pamphlet. Sold by all Druggists.

Sole United States Agent,
JOB MOSES, 27 Cortlandt St., New York.

N. B.—$1 and 6 postage stamps enclosed to any authorized agent, will insure a bottle, containing over 50 pills, by return mail. March 9, 1864.—1 yr.

DR. E. F. KITTREDGE,
From Lowell, formerly of New Ipswich, N. H.,
Has removed his office and residence to
NO. 42 MAIN STREET,
SOUTH DANVERS, MASS.

Dr. K., from an extensive and successful professional experience of upwards of twenty years, feels justified in saying that he can treat diseases to the satisfaction of his patients, and to the credit of himself.

Office hours from 7 to 9 A. M., and from 6 to 9 P. M.
South Danvers, Nov 13, 1863.

MANUAL FENOLLOSA
TEACHER
OF THE
Violin, Piano and Singing,
MUSIC ROOMS, No. 7 Central Street,
SALEM, MASS.

☞ Visit OSBORNE'S Store, and look at the unusual variety of new styles in HATS and CAPS—191 Essex street.

Selected Poetry.

From the Philadelphia Press.

SHERIDAN.

BY GEORGE H. BOKER.

Sheridan, Sheridan, cavalry Sheridan!
Him of the horses and sabres I sing.
Look, how he drove them!
Look, how he clove them!
Sabred, belabored, confused and confounded,
The whole rebel rout, as they fell back astounded.
At the first stride and swing
Of our men galloping;
Shouting with vengeance, roaring with laughter,
Cheering with victory, as they plunged after,
Sheridan, Sheridan, cavalry Sheridan!

Ah! fair Shenandoah, though nest of the robbers,
How stands the count with thy people to-day?
Where is thy fire now,
Showing thy ire now,
Blazing while gazing with fear and amazement,
As on it crept softly from door-post to casement,
Weeping with pale dismay,
Stood maids and matrons gray.
Has it not spread to thy end of the valley?
Did it not follow thee in thy grand sally
Sheridan, Sheridan, cavalry Sheridan?
Chambersburg, Chambersburg, smouldering Chambersburg,
Sit in thy ruins, content with thy lot!
Lo! thy despoiler,
Shared by the toiler,
Retreated, defeated, torn, pierced, slashed with gashes,
And what thy homes were, now their bodies are—ashes.
Oh! be thy griefs forgot!
Every bright laureled spot
On thy fair hillside wait matron and maiden,
With chaplets of glory, to welcome and laden
Sheridan, Sheridan, cavalry Sheridan!

O, Early, mad Early, thou ruthless invader,
Where are the troopers who followed thy raid?
Look at their corses;
Soldiers and horses
Whiten and brighten with bones, shining grimly
On all the wide plains they rode over so trimly.
What has the raven said?
Where has the red fox preyed?
What is the high-sailing buzzard declaring
In Richmond's white, upturned face, of thy wayfaring,
Sheridan, Sheridan, cavalry Sheridan?

Sheridan, Sheridan, cavalry Sheridan,
When thou shalt come to thy people again,
Crowns we shall twine for thee,
And the ripe wine for thee
Flashing and splashing from goblet and beaker,
Shall whirl round the lips of the eloquent speaker,
As he assays in vain,
Homage to make it plain
How the great heart of the jubilant nation
Swells towards thy own in its full admiration, Sheridan, Sheridan, cavalry Sheridan!

Selected.

THACKERAY ON DEATH.—Thackeray, on hearing of the decease of an individual, writes to a friend: "The ghostly struggle over, who would pity any one that departs? It is the survivors one commiserates in the case of such a good, pious, tender-hearted man as he seemed whom God has just called back to himself. He appeared to me to have all the sweet domestic virtues which make the pang of parting only the more cruel to those who are left behind, but that loss, what a gain to him! A just man summoned by God, for what purpose can he go but to meet the Divine love and goodness? I never think about deploring such; and as you and I send for our children, meaning them only love and kindness, how much more Pater Noster!"

WOULD LOSE FIFTY THOUSAND DOLLARS.—A Maine officer recently applied for a furlough, stating that if it were not granted, he should lose fifty thousand dollars. This attracted attention at headquarters, and the officer was desired to forward a statement of how he would lose it. He did so to the effect that he had been in the army without a leave of absence for two years; that he was engaged to a young lady worth fifty thousand dollars; that there was another fellow after her, and that she had written to him that if he did not come home and marry her right away, she would have the other man. He got his furlough.

☞ Gen. Tom Thumb, who is one of the "littlest" men living, is at the same time one of the greatest Masons. He has taken the thirty-three degrees, and is a member of the Grand Orient of France, over which Prince Napoleon presides. He says he will be the tallest Mason in America. We wonder that the little fellow will spend his money for such a purpose, as he is one of the most penurious men in the country, and nothing gives him so much pleasure as to reckon over the income of his half million of property.

☞ A chaplain in Arkansas says that a man buying furs was conversing with a woman at whose house he called, and asked her "if there were any Presbyterians around there?" She hesitated a moment, and said she 'guessed not; her husband hadn't killed any since they'd lived there.'

DEBBIE.

BY GRACE GARDNER.

Debbie stood at the window of the farm-house knitting, and looking occasionally through the small panes of glass at the pattering rain, and thinking of Sue, and wondering, girl-like, about her own future. She could just see the top of the Squire's white house over the hills. Should she ever go away, as Sue had done, to the home of another? and who would that other be? Would any one ever love her as well as the Squire loved Sue? Sue was prettier and more attractive than she was, though she wasn't ugly; at least so George Field and Ross Tebbetts seemed to think.

'Debbie,' her mother called from the other room, 'it has stopped raining, and David is going to the store. I want you to go with him, and buy me a dark calico—I don't like to trust him to get it. Men don't know much about such things.'

'Well, mother, I'll go. Do you want a small or large figure?'

'I ain't particular, only don't get it too gay. What would do for you, wouldn't do for me. Be sure to examine the cloth to see if it is firm, and get one that won't fade. Tell Mr. Tebbetts that I shall wash a piece, and if it does fade a particle, that I shall send it back.'

'Yes, mother. Don't you think, mother, that I had better get me some aprons? I need some. I want a brown linen for one.'

'Well, you may get you a couple, though I don't know about the linen one—it will cost more than calico.'

'But it will last longer,' hastily urged Debbie, 'and will be so much prettier. I am going to trim it with the red braid cousin Katharine gave me.'

'Well, you may get it. I shouldn't wonder if you got a letter from Katharine or her father to-night.'

'Mother, mayn't Deb get me some aprons, too?' asked Fannie.

'Not now. Your father won't like it if we buy too much without saying anything to him.'

The wagon was driven round to the door. A fine-looking, sun-burnt fellow jumped out. Debbie sprang in without accepting his offered assistance. He looked a little disconcerted, but took his seat beside her and drove off. It was four miles to the village, and as they would wait for the mail to arrive, it would be quite late in the evening before they would get home.

Debbie was more quiet than usual, going, and the young man, after making one or two attempts at conversation, remained silent; but you could read his secret in the furtive, tender glances he cast on the young girl at his side. She seemed indifferent enough; yet he did not seem one unlikely to win love for love—there was something very pleasing in the expression of his frank, handsome face.

'Why don't you drive faster, Dave? We shan't get there before it is too dark to choose mother's dress. Besides, I want to see the young folks, who will be at the Post Office at the opening of the mail.'

For answer, he took up the whip, and struck the horse lightly two or three times, and there was no leisurely driving till they reached the store.

Young Ross Tebbetts hastened to wait on Debbie as she entered, leaving to his father an old lady customer.

'How do you do, Miss Debbie? Pleasant evening. Prints; dark or light? For yourself, I suppose. These are new ones, just received, and the colors perfectly fast. If I might advise, I should say the pink.'

Debbie laughed gayly.

'Mother might say something very different. Think of her in a pink dress! Oh, Mr. Tebbetts! I thought you had better taste.'

He colored a little at her raillery.

'Now, Miss Debbie, why didn't you say it was for your mother? But here are some suitable for her; but I shall not give you any more advice which——'

'Wont you? Oh, do! How can I choose alone? But here is one that I think she will like. Is it firm, and are the colors fast? Tell me honestly.'

'I'll warrant the colors; and just try how firm it is,' leaning over the counter, and taking hold of the print so near to where Debbie's fingers were about to do the same thing, that they touched hers, which were quickly withdrawn.

'Dont you say it is firm, Miss Debbie?'

'Yes, it is; but Mr. Tebbetts, ain't you asking too much? Mother says that I never make good bargains, and that she can buy things a great deal cheaper than I can; so you might let me have it as cheap as you can—say twenty-three cents?' looking up at him.

The young man hesitated.

'Since it is you, Miss Debbie, I suppose I must say yes; but it is just what it cost.'

'Thank you. Eleven yards, then.'

'Nothing more, Miss Debbie?'

'No—yes; I want a lighter print than this for an apron, and also some linen for me.'

There was a good deal of gay laughing and talking during the remainder of Debbie's stay, and it took a good while to select the aprons.

The young man Dave, seemed uneasy. He looked out at the door, then handled some scythes and rakes rather noisily; took up handfuls of beans from a barrel, slowly letting them run through his fingers; but his face clouded more and more as the laughing and flirting at the counter went on. At last he said, rather peremptorily,

'Debbie, you must hurry. I have several errands to do after we leave here.'

'Well, I shall be ready soon.'

But Debbie didn't hurry. The young man heard Mr. Ross Tebbetts's whispered inquiry if she should be at meeting Sunday evening.

Debbie didn't know, but thought she should.

Next they stopped at the Post Office, and Debbie was soon surrounded by a crowd of young people. Dave also was not allowed to remain in silence; for two or three pretty young girls laughingly accosted him, and they kept up a merry conversation.

Debbie was full of fun and laughter all the way home. She teased Dave because he was so silent and sober. Was he composing a sermon or a lecture? What could he be thinking of?

'Do you want to know?'

Debbie was started at his tone and manner, and endeavored to retract her words.

'No; she did not think she cared to know. She didn't know what she was saying.'

He never minded her, but went on:

'I was thinking whether it would do any good to tell you, Debbie, how much and how long I had loved you, or whether to go on loving silently, as I have done. I am not, perhaps, as good a match as Ross Tebbetts, and some of the other fellows; but, Debbie, if you loved me,' and his voice faltered here from deep feeling, 'we could be happy. I have a small farm with a pretty cottage on it, with roses and vines and all those things that you like, set out in the yard. I did it myself, hoping that you would one day live there, and help me to take care and enjoy them. And, Debbie, your father already owes me money for work over and above enough to furnish it, just as you would like it furnished. You should never know care nor want while I lived. O Debbie! is it all in vain?'

His whole frame shook from strong emotion.

Debbie was moved, and she said gently:

'Dave, don't tell me any more; it will not do any good. I like you, but that can never be. I am sorry.'

His face looked ghastly in the dim light; but he did not urge his suit, nor spoke another word during the way home.

Sunday night came and Debbie went to meeting, and Ross Tebbetts came home with her. Dave was on the steps as they neared the house, but rose and went in, as if he did not wish to interrupt them.

Mr. Tebbetts seemed disposed to linger on the steps, but for some reason, perhaps because she did not wish to pain Dave, Debbie was in a hurry to go in, for she bade him good-night somewhat abruptly; but when she entered the sitting room Dave had gone to his own room.

From wondering at Dave's strange conduct Debbie began to think of him quite often. She began to devise excuses for speaking to him and being in his way; but to her chagrin he betrayed no pleasure, and left her as quickly as possible. From the pain this continued conduct gave her, Debbie began to wonder if she had not been mistaken when she had told David Sefton she did not love him. She began to think of the cottage, the roses and vines with very pleasurable emotions, but how could she let him know this change of feeling?

Debbie was pondering this matter very gravely one afternoon, about three weeks after her drive with him to the village.—He had been gone all day, and his absence only made her better aware of the true state of her heart.

When he came if she only could, if she only dared, she would tell him how glad she was to see him—how long the day had seemed!

She stood at the door leaning on the frame work. She thought she would have courage if he would only come then. She heard footsteps. Her heart beat rapidly. There was more than one, for voices were heard in conversation, and some one inquired for her father.—She listened, humiliated, stupefied, while they explained that David Sefton had enlisted, and had engaged one of them to take his place at Mr. Gould's till the time of his engagement was out. She only heard after that the words that he was not to return then, but was to be off immediately; then Debbie crept to her room.

It was the night before a great battle. Soldiers were resting in tents on the ground, squads here and there, after a hurried march. Too tired all to be as much excited as usual when it was known that the mail had come and was being distributed, yet all started up and crowded for their letters.

Only Dave Sefton did not stir. Who would write to him? It was over three months since he had left home, and not one letter had he received. Fellows with sweethearts, or wives and children, parents or friends, might expect letters. As for him, he had neither the one or the other. What matter? All the better if he should be lying stiff and cold on the battle-field by the next evening, as he hoped he should be. It was his first battle—pray God the bullets might not spare him.

'We have all got letters, Sefton,' said a fellow soldier. 'Where is yours?'

'Not written yet, I guess.'

'But I thought I heard your name called.'

'No you didn't,' was the moody answer, 'I am not expecting letters.'

'A letter for David Sefton!' called some one.

'It must be a mistake. There must be some other David Sefton: I am not expecting letters, and I don't know the handwriting.'

'But it is Company A.'

Dave took the letter reluctantly, opened it and read:

DEAR DAVIE: I can't help writing to you. I am so very miserable since you went away, though perhaps you will think it strange that I should, and not think so well of me for doing so.

O Dave! I can't write for crying! If I could only see you, I could tell you so much better how sorry I am for what I said to you the other night, and how different I should answer you now, if you wanted me to—should you? How could it have been that I did not know my own heart better! But I know now that I love you dearly and truly; better than anybody in the world, and always shall. I knew it before you went away, Dave, and kept hoping that you would mention the subject again; but you never did.—I was standing at the door trying to get up my courage to tell you.

O, Dave, that dreadful night the men came and told father you had enlisted.—I thought then that my heart would break!

I cannot bear to see everything going on just the same, and you away! The work goes on, the meals follow each other regularly, the folks come in and talk over the news just as usual (though I cannot tell you how much everybody misses you, and regrets your going,) but nothing will seem the same to me till you come home again.

O, Dave! perhaps you don't love me any more. What shall I do if you don't? O, Dave! take care of yourself, and come home safe. It will kill me if anything happens to you.

Oh, if I could only hear you say that you don't despise me for writing this, and that you forgive me and still love me, it would make me so glad! God protect and bless you. From yours always,

DEBBIE GOULD.

It was dated three months back, and had been all this time finding him.

The young man sprang from the ground, his face radiant. Where now were his selfishness and hopelessness? He straightened himself up. He poor and helpless! Why, he was richer, prouder, happier than a king—Debbie loved him! Debbie Gould, the prettiest, dearest girl in the country! Could it be true?—Yes, she herself had written it.

'Was it your letter after all? Why, what has come over you? Your letter must have contained good news, hey?'

'Why, yes, tolerably so,' he answered quietly, but with the light scintillating from his deep-blue eyes.

He wanted to shout, to do something extravagant in his great joy, poor fellow.

After the battle. The noise of the artillery and musketry had ceased. It had been a terrible battle. Heaps of dead and wounded lay on the battle-field.

The Federal soldiers sought their comrades and friends, aided by the moonlight. In a further corner, with the light streaming on his upturned face, lay one mortally wounded. A townsman and friend, seeking him, found him at last, and bent over him sadly.

'Dave, old fellow, I'm sorry to find you so. Let me raise you and carry you to the hospital? we'll soon have you better.'

'No, I shall never be better, Fred; I am dying now, Fred, tell—tell Debbie Gould that I loved her; and that—that I died—with—her—letter—on—my—heart. Tell her—cottage—Debbie—'

These were his last words. And to the waiting, anxious, expectant Debbie, in her far-off Northern home, came this message from the dead.

OUR COUNTRY.

BY GEORGE LUNT.

Our country right or wrong,
What manly heart can doubt
That thus should swell the patriot's song,
Thus ring the patriot's shout?
Be but the foe arrayed,
And war's wild trumpet blown,
Cold were his heart who has not made
His Country's cause his own!
Though faction rule the halls,
Where nobler thoughts have swayed,
One sacred voice forever calls
The patriot's heart and blade;
He, at his country's name,
Feels every pulse beat high,
Wreathes round her glory all his fame,
And loves for her to die!
Where'r her flag unrolled
Wooes the saluting breeze,
Flings o'er the plain its starry fold,
Or floats on stormy seas,
All dearest things are there,
All that makes life divine—
Home, faith, the brave, the true, the fair,
Cling to the flaming sign.

Oh! is this thought a dream?
No! by the gallant dead
Who sleep by hill and plain, and stream,
Or deep in ocean's bed;
By every sacred name,
By every glorious song,
By all who know and love of fame,
Our Country, right or wrong!

☞ A loyal woman has written an able paper on the crisis, in which she protests against killing off all the men.—She says: "I do not believe in fighting for the country and the flag to the last man, and it seems to me anybody is an idiot who talks such nonsense. What would the country be to me or any other woman, if 'the last man' was gone?"

☞ The ladies are now adopting a new fashion for buttons. Buttons on ladies have lately increased by degrees from the size of a pea to the dimensions of a four pound dumb bell, and the area of a soup plate; now they are to be square. Yes, square. Next month they will be triangular, and in the spring they will exhibit the shape of a rhomboid.

☞ The Oxford Democrat tells of an old lady in Lovell—widow of Hannibal Andrews—who has reared thirteen children, and has two hundred and thirty-five descendants. Verily, she has done what she could.

☞ The Provost Marshal General decides that Catholic clergymen are exempt from draft, or rather those drafted are released on parole, to report when called upon by the Secretary of War.

☞ The milk combination at Boston has broken down, and there is plenty of it, to be had at eight cents a quart, instead of ten, which the milkmen tried to charge.

☞ It is decided that drafted men who are detailed in navy yards, arsenals, etc., shall not be credited on the quotas of towns or wards in which they reside.

☞ A young gentleman says he thinks that young ladies who refuse good offers of marriage are too "No-ing by half."

☞ Sheridan's motto — Fight often and Early.

The Wizard.

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMB'R 30, 1864.

Plymouth, N. C.—We publish in another column a very interesting letter from this place.

B. F. Stevens still continues to sell Horse Railroad Tickets, either by the package or single. See special notice.

FUTURE PRESIDENTIAL ELECTIONS.

Some of the facts of the late Presidential Election show that an amendment of the Constitution is desirable to make the election of President more indicative of the will of the people than it is by the present mode. It is ascertained that by a change of some 40,000 votes in some of the more evenly balanced States, the election would have gone in favor of the opposition, while the clear majority of the people proves to be more than 400,000 for the Republican nominee. The obvious remedy for this evil is an amendment of the Constitution, so that the people may vote directly for the candidate of their choice without the intervention of Electors. As it now is, Massachusetts loses the preponderance of her 75,000 majority, and effects no more than if she had a majority of one. By such an amendment it will be in the power of the people to vote for a Vice President whose name is not on the nominated ticket. It is undoubtedly true that many of the Democratic party would have voted wilingly for McClellan who could not possibly swallow Pendleton, and so they refused to vote at all. This may happen with any other party, and the only remedy is the one we suggest.

When the Constitution was framed, the theory was, that the people should choose as Electors discreet men who were better informed than themselves, and who should be unpledged, and who would select independently the most suitable candidate to be voted for. This is all changed in practice, and the Electors chosen are understood to be under an implied pledge to vote for such candidates as are named by some political Convention. The choice of Electors has become a mere farce. However high in position, eminent for talent or discreet in judgment, they may as well be nobodies as to any choice they may make or influence they have in the election, aside from their instructions.

Caleb Cushing.—The question as to how this eminent personage voted at the last election, is more widely discussed than definitely answered. Some aver that he voted for McClellan, and others that he voted for Lincoln. The Commonwealth stated that he certainly voted for the McClellan candidate for the Legislature. Of course, as Mr. Cushing has voluntarily abstained from politics the past campaign, the public have not much claim to know how he voted; but he cannot complain of the natural curiosity on the part of the people to know the position of a gentleman who, for the past thirty years, has been almost constantly engaged in political matters.

Mr. Spofford gave a Newburyport audience very plainly to understand that Mr. Cushing was for McClellan. Other prominent Democrats, including some of his personal friends, made the same statement. On the other hand, Dr. Loring stated unequivocally that Mr. Cushing was with him. Now we think it a little singular, to speak mildly, that the position of this distinguished gentleman, who is really one of the foremost statesmen of the country, should be a subject of dispute in times like these.

Raising Fares.—We see that the Horse Railroad Company has raised their fares to seven cents, or eight cents if change is not made. We think they made a mistake in not putting the single fares up to a fair living profit to the company, and retaining the package price at about its present rate. Those who ride but seldom would care little for a ten cent fare, and this figure would do away with all the trouble about making change. The package price would, if not too high, say fifteen or sixteen for a dollar, enable all who travel often to go as cheaply as they do now. This discrimination is often made on horse railroads and to the satisfaction of the public and the benefit of the corporations. It cannot be expected that passengers can be carried at the former prices, when the expenses of the road are doubled.

The Fractional Currency.—It is very evident that the government made a great mistake when it changed the form of the fractional currency. By making the different denominations all of one size and color, facilities were afforded to change the lower to a higher denomination. After the paper is much worn it is difficult to distinguish the amount of the bill, and mistakes in this respect are frequent and common. This currency should be immediately called in and the first issue of postal currency or something better, should be substituted. At any rate there should be some more distinguishable marks between the different amounts than now exist.

ANNEXATION.

By the agitation of new annexation projects, which are "vernal diseases" of some in our midst, one would think South Danvers was some wee bit of a corner of creation, accidentally left out in the cold, as difficult to find as an infant needle in a hay stack.

I think they must lay cold "o' nights." If they are tired of brousing, let them annex some fair lady, or else migrate to some mighty metropolis, where 'os railroads are the prevalent distempers.

Annexation to Salem or Lynn! Fie! If we must be a tadpole to some city, let it be a "big thing." Just let us be annexed to Chestnut street, Philadelphia; Fifth Avenue, New York, and Beacon street, Boston—then we can be homogeneous—won't feel so sectional—and, for the sake of the odd change, we might consent to take in Wall and State streets.

We can just give those outer wards a branch of the Institute library. We can afford to do so; it gives us control of the money market. We will be the "Bulls and Bears," not "Snobs." Whoever heard of snobs in Fifth Avenue!

Some may object to my project, because the territory is not contiguous. What does that matter? Can't a farmer buy land unless it joins his farm?—Great Britain travels over others territory in passing from one part of her possessions to another. Can't we do the same? Some will say it is a novel idea. Supposing it is—don't new ideas go? Certainly.

I might go on enumerating thousands of advantages that would acrue to the people of such an incorporation, but do not wish to take the space required in your paper at this time; but when it ripens and becomes the question of the day will be the time to lay them before the public.

I hope, in the meantime, the people will give this weighty subject the thought and consideration which it demands, so they may be able to vote understandingly, for great will be the "weal or woe" of such a momentous combination.

Rural.

THE PIRATE FLORIDA.

This piratical craft has at last come to her appropriate end. She is sunk nine fathoms deep in the waters of the Chesapeake. She happened to be run into by a collision with an army transport. The pirate came very near meeting with such an accident in the harbor of Bahia. The loss of the ship will not be grievously lamented by the American people, while it will remove some of the obstacles to the settlement of the international question between our government and Brazil.

We expect to hear loud denunciations from the British press on account of the destruction of their favorite freebooter. It would be extreme gratification to them to see the pirate preying upon our commerce and sweeping our ships from the ocean.

Stand aside Mr. Bull, we will wait upon you after we have finished the little job now on our hands.

A new way to Raise the Wind.—Somebody in Biddeford, Maine, advertises in the Manchester Mirror, that he will issue tickets at $1.00 each, entitling the holder to draw him for a husband,—the lot to be drawn on next Saint Valentine's Day. Now this may strike our readers as a very absurd Yankee scheme, yet we have no doubt that fools enough will invest in this raffle to make it a paying concern to the inventor.

Accidents.—On Monday forenoon, a young lad by the name of Wm. M'Carthy, had one of his legs broken by the falling of a horse which he was riding.

On Wednesday of last week, Mrs. Williams, of the village of Rockville, on the Lynnfield road, dislocated her thigh bone by falling down a flight of stairs. Dr. E. F. Kittredge was called to both of these cases.

Fred Douglass.—As an illustration of the great social change being made, or rather already made, in Maryland, mention is made in the public prints of the hospitable, and, indeed, the cordial and flattering reception of Frederick Douglass as a lecturer in Baltimore. He was to visit his old master, Captain Auld, who still resides in that State, though 87 years old.

Preparing for the Draft.—Newburyport is taking time by the forelock in the matter of providing for the next draft. The city government has appropriated $125.00 each for 125 recruits, and the citizens are going to make up enough to allow to each recruit a bounty of $200.00.

Dr. George B. Loring is favorably mentioned as a candidate for the Presidency of the Agricultural College. We cannot now think of a man combining so many of the requisite qualifications for this high position as he does, and we hope his services will be secured.

Husking Corn.—The Boston Cultivator states that Mr. D. Scott, Jr., of Seneca county, New York, husked 97 bushels of corn a day, working but nine hours. We wonder how many farmers, who read this statement, will believe it. Not many, we opine.

THE SALEM WATER QUESTION.

We congratulate our citizens, especially our tanners and large manufacturers, that the discussion of this question, which has been protracted and thorough, is, without doubt, approaching the consummation we all desire. On Saturday evening next a final meeting of the friends of the City Water Works will be held at Mechanic Hall and will be addressed by distinguished speakers and leading citizens of our neighbor city. Nobody seems to doubt the result of the vote on the ensuing Monday, so that we may enjoy, without trepidation, the refreshing coolness of the proposal of the Aqueduct Company to take from us and convey to Salem all the water of their basin near Tapley's Brook. No such fate as that awaits us; and, even if the city of Salem should vote to attempt anything of the kind, it was clear, from the action of the House of Representatives last winter, that no Legislature would ever permit it.

We can afford to await, complacently, the result of Monday's ballot. Meantime our citizens will doubtless hear some speeches of great interest to them, at Mechanic Hall, on Saturday evening.

The Lectures.—Now that the regular course of lectures has commenced, we trust that there will be a good attendance of attentive and appreciative hearers. There are some people whom we do not desire to see there and we hope they will be good enough to keep themselves out of the way. Among these are:

The man who wears the creaking boots.

The lady who faints.

The man who refuses to move along in his seat, but obliges others to crowd by him.

The boy who brings pea-nuts.

The other boy who brings chestnuts.

The man who spits tobacco juice on the floor.

The girl who giggles.

The person who always comes after the lecturer has begun.

The woman with a bad cough.

The man who takes his seat in the aisle before the regular seats are filled.

The girl who tosses confectionery about the hall.

The one who whispers very audibly.

The young man who goes out before the lecture is ended.

The lady who accepts an offered seat from a gentleman and makes no acknowledgment of it.

The boy and girl under fifteen years of age.

The man who always applauds in the wrong place.

The Catholic Fair, held at Mechanic Hall, Salem, since last Wednesday, closed on Monday night. Among those who drew prizes, we notice the following:—Mrs. Green, Summer street, one pair of lamps; Mr. Ducey, Foster street, a silver set; Thos. Carrol, Mt. Vernon street, a silver tea-bell; Timothy Collins, Mason street, a watch, valued at $25; William Fitz, Central street, a splendid doll; Mrs. Alfred A. Abbott, Main street, a clock, valued at $12,—all of this town.

Frank Palmer, of Roxbury, drew the house and land, prized at $1000. Mary A. Dinsmore, of Melrose, a gold watch, valued at $250. Cornelius O'Shea, of Salem, a splendid mirror.

Peabody Lyceum.—The Introductory Lecture of the present Course was delivered last evening by Rev. Augustus Woodbury, of Providence, R. I. There has been some change in the regulations since the last course, which it is well to have known more extensively. The time for the commencement of each lecture will be a half hour later than formerly—namely, 7 1-2 o'clock, the doors to be opened at 7. The seats in the galleries which have been made, by the action of the Trustees, more roomy and comfortable, are to be reserved exclusively for ladies. The ventilation of the hall has also been greatly improved.

The most luminous Paradox of the Times—Jeff. Davis calling on the slaves to be armed for his support, offering the "boon of freedom" for such good service. An advocate of the beneficence of slavery to the negro race out of his own mouth condemned, and offering the most potent proof of the exhaustion of his resources for the war he is carrying on. Quem deus vult perdere, prius dementat.

Bogus Lotteries.—Look out for bogus lottery schemes. There is but about one chance in 67, of a person drawing as much as he invests in a real lottery, and there is no chance at all in the bogus affairs with agents all over the country soliciting investments by circulars through the post office.

Firemen's Ball.—The Wm. Penn Hose Co., of Salem, gave a grand ball at Hamilton Hall on Thanksgiving night. It was attended by over two hundred couples, and the gay uniforms of the Fire Laddies, as they mingled with their fair partners in the mazes of the dance, made a gay picture in the life of the fireman, in striking contrast with them, when duty calls from their slumbers at midnight in a driving storm, to fight our common enemy—Fire. We hope they may not be called to that duty very soon, but if in danger we know that they will be "prompt to the rescue." Firemen were present from Portsmouth, N. H., Boston, Danvers, So. Danvers and other places, and all enjoyed themselves finely.

H.

WAR CORRESPONDENCE.

Plymouth, N. C., Nov. 12, 1864
Camp 2d Mass. Artillery,

Dear Wizard.—As considerable interest has very recently centred in and about this place, owing to the daring and successful exploit of the gallant Cushing, in utterly destroying the formidable ram Albemarle, and the consequent occupation of the town by the Federal troops, some account of the taking of the place, and of the existing state of things, may be interesting to your readers.

It will be remembered that Lieut. Cushing, after having accomplished his capital object on the night of the 27th, though with considerable loss of life, made his escape alone, by swimming the river, all uncertain of his success, and of the fame that was about to attach to his name. It was not until nearly forty-eight hours had elapsed, that the reported demolition of the ram was fully credited. As soon as the fact was established, the gunboats lying down the river steamed up, and opened fire upon the town with shot, shell, and grape. The rebels responded from their two forts, Williams and Campher, and their rifle-pits; but after firing a few rounds, found our fire too hot for them, and hastily abandoned the town. Fort Williams they left in such haste that nothing there was injured or carried away. The land force of the enemy at the time is supposed to have been some six hundred, the darling ram being relied on to repel all hostile approaches by the river, and indeed relied on as a mighty protector under all circumstances. Soon after the abandonment of the town by the rebs, detachments of the 85th N. Y., 101st Pa., and 16th Conn. regiments, that had been ordered up, arrived, and took possession. As well to satisfy himself of the truth of reports as for other purposes, General Palmer made a personal visit to the town, and on his return to Newbern three companies, A, D, and E, of the 2nd Mass. Artillery, were ordered to move here with ten days' rations,—Co. A, Capt. Kimball, with 150 men, Co. D., Capt. Pulcifer, with 139 men, and Co. E, Lieut. Putnam commanding, with 150 men. We left Newbern Monday morning, on board the transports "John Faron" and "Massasoit," under command of Col. Frankle, and arrived here Tuesday evening, our boats hauling right along side of the shattered, half submerged ram. Disembarking at once, Co. A took quarters in some of the houses, and Co's. D and B marched to the rear of the town, and occupied a deserted camp of the rebels—quite comfortable barracks, which they had failed to destroy. That night the men slept on their arms, and all hands turned out at three in the morning, and manned the breastworks till sunrise—the order for which pastime is still in force. At eight o'clock we relieved the detachments of the above named regiments, who embarked on board the transports that brought us, and returned to their former camps, so that the above three companies of the 2nd Mass. are the only land force now here. Col. Frankle is in command of the place, and has entered upon his duties with the energy and fidelity which are so truly his characteristics. Immediately upon assuming command, the following order was issued:

Hd. Quarters, Plymouth, N. C. Nov. 8, 1864.

Gen'l Order No. 1—Until further orders, the men comprising the garrison, and stationed in town, will sleep on their arms. Officers commanding companies and detachments will take due care for the preservation of such property as remains, and they are particularly requested to guard against fires. The destruction of any buildings by the men quartered therein, will be promptly investigated, and the incendiaries punished.

Citizens who remained behind and evince loyalty, have been protected in their property. The immense and indescribable rubbish of the town is being gathered up and burnt, and all nuisances abated, among the first of which were a few houses of prostitution—very vile ones—the inmates of which, to their great disgust, were constrained to take safe quarters in in a house adjoining the Provost Marshal's office.

As senior officer of the garrison, Capt. Kimball is in command of the line of defences. These consist of two forts, several redoubts, and a line of breastworks, extending circularly around the town, the right and left resting on the river. When those that were dismantled are mounted and unspiked, there will be for service, including five field-pieces, sixteen guns. Our pickets are thrown out some three quarters of a mile. The rebel force, whatever it is, reported to be at Jamesville, about nine miles distant. Lying down the river, are six saucy-looking gunboats, four of them "double enders," the whole under the command of Capt. McCook, of the navy.

It is in vain to attempt to describe the scene of destruction and desolation now presented by this once very pleasant and quite flourishing town of Plymouth. Situated eight miles from the mouth of the Roanoke, on an elevated spot of ground, regularly laid out in wide and parallel streets, margined with fine ornamental trees, with two large churches, a good hotel, numerous elegant private residences, and stores and shops of various kinds, ere the war had disfigured it, the town was probably one of the pleasantest and most attractive in the State. What is left of it now is what might be supposed to be left after changing hands three times through the fortune of war. Three or four families are about all that remain, and indeed about all the population, except the negroes, who also for the first time in a Southern town that I have seen, are very few.

At least one third of the buildings are burnt, fired mostly by shell, while of those yet standing, hardly one but is perforated with shot, or torn and shattered by shell. Most of the fruit and ornamental trees, have been destroyed by fire, or by a not less effective destroyer—cannon ball. Families in the haste of their leave-taking left behind many valuable articles of furniture, and a considerable quantity of stores; but nearly all of these had been pillaged before we arrived by the gentlemen of the gunboats, and the troops whom we relieved. So the scene that awaited us and is still presented, except as improved by four or five days of "clearing up," is a town of deserted houses, rent by missiles and stripped by vandals—of standing chimneys—of death-scorched or broken trees—of streets, gardens, front and back yards, strown with nearly all things conceivable relating to war—cannon and musket ball, fragments of shell, bayonets, parts of equipments and uniforms, remnants of harnesses, broken pots, kettles, mess-pans and stoves, ending with a few fresh graves of the rebel dead, scarcely covered, in one instance not covered at all.

What can be the object in holding such a place, is more than your correspondent can divine, and in fact the question whether or not it is worth while to hold it, is still under advisement. Gen. Palmer, who is expected here shortly, will doubtless bring with him the decision of the question, and the troops now here will know whether they are to remain.

The weather has been warm, and in a few gardens not altogether vandalized, have been found a few roses in bud or bloom, and as fresh and fragrant as in summer.

A. A.

LETTER FROM BOSTON.

Propeller's Office,
15 Washington St., Nov. 28, '64.

GEN. PERHAM.

Gen. Perham is one of the most enterprising men of the day. His two shows—"The War Scenes," and the "Thousand Island Panorama," are scouring the country in aid of "The Home for Disabled Soldiers," and promise, ere long, to lay the accumulated funds before the different committees or trustees, to be disposed of as per previous agreement.

Meanwhile, Mr. Perham has given constant attention to a most gigantic enterprise, viz: that of the Pacific Railroad, and has succeeded in obtaining from Congress a charter for the road, with far greater priveleges than he anticipated. He is President of the monster Railroad Company to the Pacific, and will devote his energies mostly to the completion of that stupendous work—a work, it would seem, only equalled in magnitude by that of putting down the rebellion, and floating the Old Flag o'er every valley and hill-top throughout the whole of the States and Territories where it waved ere "this cruel war began." When these works are fully accomplished by Generals Grant and Perham, the nation's gratitude will be theirs, tendered in every glad form. It will well up from the hearts of the people in the East and North, sound in hosannas of joy for deliverance and union from the South, and in peans of gladness shall it be borne by the iron horse from the Pacific Coast, awaking the rejoicings of those in the distant valleys and mountain-tops, till it reaches the grand East, and salutes us with the kiss of union, freedom, and peace.

Gen. Perham moves his exhibitions with the practiced hand of a master, and will accomplish the patriotic work intended through their drawings, and yet will labor Westward, unitl he shall run his engine from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

COUNTRY PAPERS.

Our city merchants that have heretofore been most successful have invariably advertised in the country papers, knowing as they did that those papers were read through once a week by all the people in their immediate vicinity, at their own firesides. Since the hard times have caused high prices for the daily city papers, the country people, determined, as in duty bound, to support their local papers, have fallen back on them, and given up the city papers in all the regions round about. Hence the necessity of city merchants and traders advertising in the country papers, if they would let the people know their whereabouts, and the goods and qualities thereof, with which they would favor the public. It is the case generally that the local paper is read entirely through weekly by every adult member of hundreds of families, and by Michael and Bridget too, who don't read a city paper once a quarter. These people are all to learn from their own papers where to trade, and they are the most sure to sell to them, who visit them through the local paper, and point them to their stores and their goods. The holidays are approaching, and merchants anxious to supply their goods, wares and merchandise, the useful and beautiful, should make haste to advertise in the country papers. Especially should the book publishers, and all preparing for the season of presents, appear with a certified statement of said presentation articles in the columns of country papers. That's the way to obtain purchasers, and no time should be lost, as the holidays are close at hand.

THE NEW CITY HALL.

Boston has every reason to be satisfied with the new City Hall, which now approaches completion. It will be one of the finest buildings in the country, and a lasting monument to the architectural genius of Mr. Bryant. The building is not only beautiful in its design, presenting a magnificent front, but will be complete and remarkably convenient as to its internal arrangements. Its halls will be commodious, easy of access, well ventilated, and well lighted. The decorations will be chaste and appropriate. The structure will be of the most substantial character, the material being nearly as durable as time itself. It is believed that the finishing strokes will be put to the work on the building early next spring, when it will be dedicated with appropriate exercises, and occupied thenceforth by the different departments of the city government.

Phil Sheridan.—Sheridan's appearance on the field is electrical. His every movement, like the flash of his eye and the quickness of his mind, is like the lightning. He is a live man all over, and every one, officer or man, feels the influence of his magnetism whenever he comes in contact with him. He will do a good thing while most men are calculating how to do it. His very horse partakes of the spirit of his master, and seems almost inspired by his enthusiasm.

The Atlantic Monthly for December well maintains the character of its predecessors. This is the last number of the fourteenth volume, and it offers a fine bill of fare for the fifteenth. Now is a good time to subscribe and secure gems from such writers as Stowe, Mitchell, Goldwin Smith, Higginson, Longfellow, Whittier, Emerson, and other luminaries of the literary world.

Continental Monthly.—We have before us this excellent magazine for December. This number closes the volume. The work is now an established fact in our periodical literature and ranks with the highest. This number has the appeal of Hon. Robert J. Walker in favor of President Lincoln, which is well worthy of preservation. The Continental may be had of Wilkinson & Co.

Boston—Amusements.—At the Boston Theatre, Mrs. D. P. Bowers continues to draw full houses nightly.

At the Howard, Miss Helen Western appears as the French Spy, a character in which she excels. Go and see her.

☞ The Boston Medical Journal urges people to eat horseflesh.

Gen. Sherman's war path is fifty miles in width, leading through a country heretofore deemed the most secure of the whole confederacy. Here are located its powder mills and armories. Here are also multitudes of slaves from States more exposed. Here are prisoners, as being farthest out of the reach of any liberating force. If he gets through, without disaster, his campaign cannot fail to make a profound impression on the public mind of the South and of the world.

Dutch Gap Canal. A letter from the Army of the James says the work on the Dutch Gap Canal is going steadily on, the rebels keeping up their usual practice. Soon will come "the tug of war," when all will be in readiness to blow out the bulkhead and dredge out the debris of the canal.

Fashionable Dress-Making.

Mrs. W. J. Bennett would respectfully inform the ladies of South Danvers and vicinity that she has taken rooms in Mr. Henry M. Merrill's house, on Lowell Street, and will do dress-making in the latest styles. No pay received unless satisfaction is given.

South Danvers, Nov. 30, 1864.* tf

Special Notice.

Horse Railroad Tickets at B. F. STEVENS' Jewelry Store.

On and after Dec. 1st, a package of tickets of 16 for $1.00. Single tickets 7 cents, or 5 when paid in specie.

South Danvers, Nov. 30, 1864.

Notice.

Subscribers to the "Boatswain's Whistle" can obtain their copies at the store of D. P. GROSVENOR, Jr.

KID GLOVES, $1.25.
KID GLOVES, $1.25.
KID GLOVES, $1.25.
KID GLOVES, $1.25.
KID GLOVES, $1.25.
KID GLOVES, $1.25.
KID GLOVES, $1.25.
KID GLOVES, $1.25.
KID GLOVES, $1.25.
KID GLOVES, $1.25.
KID GLOVES, $1.25.
KID GLOVES, $1.25.

James F. Almy & Co. have a line of French Kid Gloves, regular makes, fine and elastic, at $1.25 a pair. They are a bargain.

nov 30 JAMES F. ALMY & CO.

MOURNING HANDKERCHIEFS.

We have 1000 Black Bordered and Figured Linen Hem-Stitched Handkerchiefs, at 50 cts. each, as good as are sold at $ 1.00 to $ 1.25.

Bargains in all kinds of Handkerchiefs for Gents., Ladies and Misses.

J. P. PEABODY,
220 Essex St.

The Young Men's Union.

2. The Second Lecture of the Young Men's Union Course will be delivered by REV. J. M. MANNING, of Boston.,

on Thursday Evening, Dec. 1.

THOMAS B. NICHOLS, Rec. Sec.

Peabody Institute Lectures.

The Eleventh Course of Lectures will be opened on Tuesday Evening. Nov. 29th, with a Lecture by Rev. Augustus Woodbury, of Providence, R. I.

Among the other Lecturers engaged, are Geo. W. Curtis, Judge Thos. Russell, Rollin H. Neale, D. D., Ralph Waldo Emerson, Rev. J. M. Manning, Rev. A. P. Putnam, Prof. P. A. Chadbourne, Rev. A. L. Stone.

☞ Lectures will commence at 7½ P. M.—Doors open at 7.

The Gallery is reserved exclusively for Ladies.

Per order of Committee,
J. WARREN UPTON, Sec'y.

South Danvers, Nov. 23, 1864.

Collector's Notice.

There will be one year's interest at the rate of 12 per cent per annum, in State, County and Town taxes of 1863 remaining unpaid, payable at the Collector's Office, the first Saturday in December next.

Interest will commence on State, County, Town and School Districts (Nos. 1 and 3) taxes of 1864, remaining unpaid, the second day of December next.

WM. WOLCOTT, Collector.

South Danvers, Nov. 23, 1864.

Episcopal Services.

Divine Service, according to the order of the Protestant Episcopal Church, will be held in the Town Hall on the next Sunday evening, (Decem'r 4th,) commencing at 7 o'clock. The service will be held, also, on each succeeding Sunday evening, at the same hour.

These services are in the charge of the Rev. GEORGE D. WILDES, Rector of Grace Church, Salem. As at present conducted, they are wholly free; and all persons interested are affectionately invited to attend.

If the weather should be stormy on any evening appointed, the service will be omitted.

Nov. 30th, 1864.

THE GREATEST BARGAIN

We have offered this Season!

We have received this day, one Case

CASHMERE PLAIDS,

All-Wool, full one yard wide—magnificent styles and colors—at $1 45 per yard, former price $2 25.

JAMES F. ALMY & CO.,
188 Essex Street.

FRENCH FLUTING.

QUILLING, GOFFERING AND CRIMPING.

Flounces from 1 to 20 inches deep, fluted in the very latest style and in every kind of fabric.

This is the newest, most elegant, and cheapest style of Trimming.

Done in every style—at

BROWNING & LONG'S.

☞ Goods received for Lewando's French Dye House. M. E. CRANE.

Jan 20 tf

☞ Hon. Samuel W. Moulton, elected Representative at Large in Ill merly resided in Hamilton, in this His father was a sea captain, sailing ly, and also from Salem and Boston

Dr. S. O. Richardson

BLOOD ROOT ELI

An effectual cure for Costiveness, an remedy for Diseases of the Liver, and ties of the Blood.

☞ Sold by Dealers in medicine gene the Doctor's Office,

52 Hanover St., Bo

Call for a pamphlet containing its history, nov 30

Marriages.

In this town, Nov 22d by Rev. Mr. Ba Joseph E. Felton to Miss Hettie A. Dod Danvers

In Salem, Nov 20, Mr Albion I Clark to M. Davis; 24th, Mr James Morris to Miss Louisa, daughter of Mr. Joshua P. Estes; Conway to Miss Celestine Gros; 25th, Mr Leavitt of Effingham, N. H., to Miss Narcis rill of Wenham; 27th. Mr F H Duncan of D C, to Miss Mary E., daughter of the late P Newhall of Salem.

In Marblehead, Oct. 11, Mr James Balentin Danvers, to Miss Sarah Niles of Sebattisvill

In Bradford, Nov 21, Mr D Freeman Town field, to Miss Ellen M Chadwick of B.

Deaths.

In this town, Oct. 26th, Sallie W., only d Dr Joseph and Maria W Osgood, 27 years 6

Nov. 23d, Emma, daughter of William a Sutton, 20 yrs 7 mos.

In the sudden death of this young pers family and a wide circle of friends have deep and irreparable loss. The youngest of hold flock, the comfort and joy of her paren declining years, the object of the fond love a ation of brothers and sisters, gifted with ma beautiful in person, winning in manners, an accomplished, her untimely death has br deepest anguish, and left an aching void words of consolation can fill. The memory tues will live in sweet remembrance, and blessed immortality teaches that what is lo she has left, is to her unspeakable gain.

"But, oh! for the touch of the vanished
And the sound of the voice that is still

In Salem, Nov. 22d, Mrs. Sally, widow o Ephraim Glover, 80 yrs; 24th, Mr Michael R 27th, Mrs. Mary wife of Mr. Thomas D years.

In Wenham, Nov. 25, Mr Stephen Bartlett,

In Essex, Nov 18, Miss Precilla Cogswell, 25th, Miss Mary A Andrews, 14 yrs 8 mos.

In Woburn, Nov 23d, Hon Bowen Buckn 77th year—a well-known leader of the Midd mocracy.

In Boston, Nov. 22d, at the great age o Mrs Sarah Putnam, formerly of Salem, wi late Judge Putnam, and the beloved and vene tre of a large circle of family and friends.

Advertisements.

Commonwealth of Massachu

To the Honorable Senate and the House of tatives in General Court Assembled:—

WE, the undersigned, Corporators of the DANVERS AND LYNN STREET RAI respectfully petition your honorable body f tension of time to construct said Railroad, duty bound will ever pray.

WM. H. LITT
STEPHEN BL
C. W. OSBORN
LEWIS ALLEN
HENRY POOR.

Commonwealth of Massachuse

SECRETARY'S DEPARTM

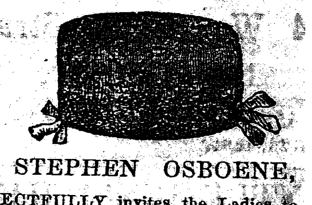
BOSTON, November 26, 18

I approve the publication of the above p the South Danvers WIZARD newspaper.

OLIVER WARNER

South Danvers Nov. 30, 1863.—3 w. Sec

RICH FURS.



STEPHEN OSBOENE,

RESPECTFULLY invites the Ladies to look at his new stock of splendid Furs, a

Nov. 30. 6 w. 191 Essex, cor. of Cent

ANN R. BRAY, 76 Federal

OFFERS to her customers bargains in C Plaids—$1.25, for what were sold a sh since for $1 75.

$1.45 for yard wide Plaids that have been $2.00

Black Alpaccas.—We have just received a ne Plain and Figured Alpaccas and Baratheas.

nov 30 ANN R. BRAY, 76 Federal

A FULL STOCK of Domestic Goods, Plain and Checked Cambrics.

nov 30 ANN R. BRAY, 76 Federal

List of Letters

REMAINING unclaimed in the Post Office a Danvers, Mass., Nov. 29, 1864.

☞ "To obtain any of these letters, the ap must call for ADVERTISED LETTERS, give the this list, and pay one cent for advertising.

☞ "If not called for within one month, th be sent to the Dead Letter Office.

☞ Office Hours from 7½ A. M. to 8 P. M.

Annie Brown	Ellen M Stone
Wm Cutler	Mary C Rowe
James Farrell	Chas H Richardso
Asa T Hamilton	Jane Statt
A F Hall	Hannah P Taylor
Patrick Smith	Horace Welch

DANIEL WOODBURY,

Salem & So. Danvers Horse road Notice.

IN consequence of the continued extraordina price of Hay, Grain, and all other materials ed for the operation of a Horse Railroad, this co are reluctantly compelled to increase their fares. confidently rely upon the acquiescence of the of South Danvers, Salem and Beverly, more larly as it bears no proportion to the increased every item in the operation of the Road, the ex having almost trebled.

On and after Dec. 1st, 1864, the fares will be lows, viz:

Single Fares, 8 cents; but if passengers mak own change, 7 cents.

Package tickets, 16 for one dollar.

School tickets, Factory, and Essex Street will remain the same as heretofore.

Salem, Nov. 30, 1864. M. H. HALE, S

Horse Railroad Notice.

On and after THURS Nov. 10, the cars of the and South Danvers R Co.

Will leave Washington St. Station for S. D at 6.37, 7.07, 7.37 A. M. and every 30 minutes til A. M.; and every 20 minutes till 9.57 P. M.

Will leave Washington St. station for Beverly 6.52, and 7.22 A. M., and every 30 minutes till M., and at 12.42, 1.02, 1.22, and every 20 minu 10.02 P. M.

Cars will leave South Danvers at 7.00, 7.30, an A. M., and every half hour till 1 P. M., and wil leave at 1.20, 1.40, 2.00, and every 20 minutes til P. M.

Cars will leave Beverly at 7.00, 7.30, 8 00 A. M every half hour till 12 M—will then leave at 12 40, 1.00 P. M. and every 20 minutes till 10.40 P. M

☞ On and after Thursday, Nov. 10, the cars South Salem Branch Railroad will be discontinu til further notice. All outstanding Tickets fo route will be redeemed at their value, at the corner of Washington and Essex streets.

M. H. HALE,
Supt S. & S. D. R. R.

nov 9

Horse Railroad Notice

SUNDAY TIME.

HEREAFTER on Sunday, Horse Cars will Washington Street Station for Beverly at 9.52, 10.32, 11.12, 11.52 A. M., 12.32, 1.12, 1.52 3.12, 3.52, 4.32, 5.12, 5.52, 6.32, 7.12, 7.52, and 8.32

Will leave Washington street station for South vers, at 9.07, 9.27, 9.47 A. M., and every twenty mi till 9.07 P. M.

Cars leave South Danvers at 9.30, 9.50, and 10. M., and every 20 minutes till 9.30 P. M.

Leave Beverly at 9.40, 10.20, 11.00, 11.40 A. M., 1.00, 1.40, 2.20, 3.00, 3.40, 4.20, 5.00, 5.40, 6.20, 7.40, 8.20, and 9.00 P. M.

Salem, Aug. 31, 1864. M. H. HALE, S

WHITE LEAD IN PAILS.

NEW YORK White Lead in Tin Pails, of each, at

nov 30 S C & E A SIMONDS', 32 Front

BRUSHES.

PAINT Brushes of all kinds; Camels' Hair Br and Pencils—at

nov 30 S C & E A SIMONDS', 32 Front

FEATHER DUSTERS.

A full assortment of Dusters—at

S C & E A SIMONDS', 32 Front

Ladies' Furnishing Goods.

OLD PRICES.

A FAILED JOBBER'S Stock of Hem Stitched Linen Handkerchiefs.

Over 100 Qualities.

All Prices, from 34 cts. to $1.50 each.

FROM $3.75 to $15.00 PER DOZEN.

Cheaper than Plain Linen Handkerchiefs are sold now.

We have been in New York during the past week, and have opened THIS WEEK, some splendid bargains in many kinds of Goods.—We bought a job lot of LINEN HEM STITCHED HDKFS., at about half their cost, and shall sell them at a very small advance.

UNDRESSED KID GLOVES,

BEST FRENCH KID GLOVES,

In all sizes, at less than regular rates.

WE SHALL CONTINUE OUR SALE AT OUR LOW PRICES FOR A FEW DAYS LONGER.

A fresh Invoice of the Best KID GLOVES, in Stitched backs—long wrist, and undressed—all sizes and colors.

J. P. PEABODY,
220 Essex Street.

GREAT BARGAINS THE PRESENT WEEK.

OLD PRICES.

A FAILED JOBBER'S Stock of Hem Stitched Linen Handkerchiefs.

Over 100 Qualities.

All Prices, from 34 cts. to $1.50 each.

FROM $3.75 to $15.00 PER DOZEN.

Cheaper than Plain Linen Handkerchiefs are sold now.

We have been in New York during the past week, and have opened THIS WEEK, some splendid bargains in many kinds of Goods.—We bought a job lot of LINEN HEM STITCHED HDKFS., at about half their cost, and shall sell them at a very small advance.

UNDRESSED KID GLOVES,

BEST FRENCH KID GLOVES,

In all sizes, at less than regular rates.

WE SHALL CONTINUE OUR SALE AT OUR LOW PRICES FOR A FEW DAYS LONGER.

A fresh Invoice of the Best KID GLOVES, in Stitched backs—long wrist, and undressed—all sizes and colors.

J. P. PEABODY,
220 Essex Street.

GREAT BARGAINS THE PRESENT WEEK.

OLD PRICES.

A FAILED JOBBER'S Stock of Hem Stitched Linen Handkerchiefs.

Over 100 Qualities.

All Prices, from 34 cts. to $1.50 each.

FROM $3.75 TO $15.00 PER DOZEN.

Cheaper than Plain Linen Handkerchiefs are sold now.

We have been in New York during the past week, and have opened THIS WEEK some splendid bargains in many kinds of Goods.—We bought a job lot of LINEN HEM STITCHED HDKFS., at about half their cost, and shall sell them at a very small advance.

UNDRESSED KID GLOVES,

BEST FRENCH KID GLOVES.

In all Sizes, at less than regular rates.

WE SHALL CONTINUE OUR SALE AT OUR LOW PRICE FOR A FEW DAYS LONGER.

A fresh Invoice of the Best KID GLOVES, in Stitched backs—long wrist, and undressed—all sizes and colors.

J. P. PEABODY,
220 Essex Street.

J. F. Almy & Co.

Winter Cloaks.

We have now in Stock a splendid variety of Winter Cloaks in all Styles and Grades o Cloth.

Our Garments are made from our own Cloths, in the most thorough manner, at our Rooms at Salem.

The prices at which we sell our Cloaks are not greatly in advance of last year, as our Cloths were bought either before or since the terrible high prices at which many stocks of Cloths were bought.

We have a very large stock of Cloths, comprising

Chinchillas,
Plush Beavers,
Whitney Coatings,
Frieze Beavers,
Union Beavers,
Tricots,
Doeskins, &c.,

With Trimmings, &c., to match. All of which we are selling at prices that are moving them very fast.

We are prepared to make to order from measure any style of Outside Garment for Ladies and Children.

JAMES F. ALMY & CO.,
188 Essex St., Opp. Central Street.
Salem, Nov. 16, 1864.

DRESS GOODS
—AND—
SMALL WARES.

DeLaines,	All the new and choice styles of Dress Buttons.	Head Nets,
Poplins,		Lace Veils,
Alpaccas,		Ladies' Clouds,
Plaids,		Lace Edging,
Calicoes,		Head Dresses,
Balmorals,		Braids, Trimmings,
Shawls, &c., &c.,		Hosiery, Gloves, &c.,

OPENED THIS MORNING
—AT—
164 Essex Street, Salem.

The prices are marked down so low that all in want of DRESS GOODS and SMALL WARES will really find a Bargain at 164.

Nov. 23 J. E. P. FEARING.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

ESSEX, ss.

To the Heirs-at-Law and others interested in the Estate of HANNAH L. WILSON, late of South Danvers, in said County, widow deceased, intestate,

GREETING:

WHEREAS, SAMUEL WELCH, the administrator of the estate of said deceased has presented for allowance the first account of his administration upon the estate of said deceased: You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be holden at Salem, in said County, on the first Tuesday of December next, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be allowed. And the said administrator is ordered to serve this Citation by publishing the same once a week, in the South Danvers WIZARD, a newspaper printed at South Danvers, three weeks successively, the first publication to be fourteen days at least before said Tuesday: and is also directed to send or cause to be sent, a written or printed copy of this notice, properly mailed, postage prepaid, to each of the heirs, devisees or legatess, or their legal representatives, known to the petitioner, within two days of the date of the first publication of said notice.

Witness, GEORGE F. CHOATE, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this fifteenth day of November, in the year eighteen hundred and sixty-four.

A. C. GOODELL, Register.

OYSTER AND REFRESHMENT SALOON.

R. W. Wilkinson & Co.,

WOULD respectfully inform the citizens of South Danvers and vicinity, that they have opened in connection with their

Newspaper & Periodical Department

an Oyster and Refreshment Saloon for

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN,

who may favor them with their patronage.

OYSTERS cooked, or for sale by measure.

MEATS of all kinds cooked to order at all hours, and suppers furnished to parties at short notice.

HOT COFFEE at all hours of day and evening.

CAKE of every variety, including Wedding, Citron, and Plain Frosted, furnished to families and parties—Also a large and well selected assortment of Confectionery, Fancy Goods, Table Articles, etc., etc.

Choice brands of TOBACCO and CIGARS, and Nuts of every variety. Also, FOREIGN and DOMESTIC FRUITS.

South Danvers, Nov. 9, 1864. tf

SPECIAL NOTICE.

We shall for next two months sell from our stock

—OF—

READY-MADE BONNETS,

AT A

DISCOUNT OF 15 TO 20 PER CENT

Less than the present prices.

☞ Those wishing the BEST CHOICE should

COME EARLY.

REITH & CO'S,

No. 2 West Block, 188 Essex St.,

Nov. 9 SALEM, MASS.

The Great Sale.

BROWNING & LONG'S

10 PER CENT. DISCOUNT PLAN

Makes a Great Saving.

THEIR STOCK OF LADIES' FURNISHING GOODS IS THE LARGEST HERE.

The most Reasonable Prices Charged

AND A DISCOUNT ALSO TAKEN OFF.

EVERY DEPARTMENT FULL.

We sell New Goods, and all at the

LOW PRICES,

DURING OUR GREAT DISCOUNT SALE.

SEASONABLE UNDERGARMENTS,

Hosiery and Gloves,

A SPLENDID STOCK,

AT THE LOW PRICES.

BEST GERMAN WORSTEDS!

Our New and Spacious Department full of Magnificent Shades, the same Make sold by our Establishment for the last 5 years. We have the finest stock in this vicinity.

The Prices Lower

Than a Good Genuine German Worsted is sold anywhere.

THE LARGEST AND RICHEST LOT OF BEAUTIFUL WORSTED GOODS, COMPRISING NEARLY EVERY ARTICLE WORN IN WORSTEDS.

—ALSO—

THE FAMOUS

SHERIDAN JACKET.

THE NEW SKIRT.

A Great Improvement,

And in fact the very best Skirt yet made.

CALL AND EXAMINE

This Skirt of Extraordinary Merit.

OUR

ELEGANT WORSTED WORK.

The most magnificent ever seen here.

BROWNING & LONG,

177 Essex Street, 177

SALEM.

☞ Our Store closes every Evening, Saturdays excepted, at 6 o'clock.

PEABODY'S LADIES' FURNISHING STORE.

BARGAINS.

WOOLEN YARNS

10 CENTS PER SKEIN,

Blue Mixed Yarn	10 cents.
White Yarns	10 "
Drab Yarns	10 "
Slate Yarns	10 "
Random Yarns	10 "

—ALL—

MARKED DOWN TO 10 CENTS.

STOCK ALL MARKED DOWN,

RIBBONS, FLOWERS

—AND—

RUCHES.

The best bargains in the city—Ribbons at very low prices. Flowers and Ruches to suit everybody, at prices below competition.

Bargains in Ribbons.
Bargains in Flowers.
Bargains in Ruches.

LOWER THAN GOLD.

BEST BLACK WORSTEDS,
only 25 cents.
BEST WHITE WORSTEDS,
only 25 cents.
COMMON COLORS OF WORSTEDS,
only 30 cents.
CHINCHILLAS and PERDRIX,
only 35 cents.
PURPLE and ORANGE WORSTEDS,
only 35 cents.

Worsteds Worsteds Worsteds Worsteds Worsteds Worsteds

☞ READ THESE PRICES. ☜

Best Kid Gloves—Warranted,
only $1.50.
White Kid Gloves—the best,
only $1.25.
Nice New Style Hoods,
only $1.00.
Extra Heavy Hood—New,
only $1.25.
Best Hand Knit Zephyr Hood,
only $1.75.
Good warm Sontag—new,
only $1.25.
Best Knit Zephyr Sontag—heavy,
only $2.50.

HOSIERY AND GLOVES.

Best Kid Gloves—only	$1 50
Nice Lisle Gloves—only	30
Extra Good Glove—only	35
Very Nice Kid-made Gloves,	1 25
Ribbed Cotton and Wool Hose,	35
Ribbed Cotton and Wool Hose,	38
Ribbed Cotton and Wool Hose,	42
Ribbed Wool Hose,	50
Ribbed Wool Hose,	55
Ribbed Wool Hose,	65

Children's Hosiery in Woolen, Merino, and Cotton and Wool—in Plain and Fancy, all sizes. Extra Bargains.

MARKED DOWN.

Veils,
Veils,
Veils,
Veils,
Veils,
Lace Goods of all kinds,
Edgings of all kinds,
Insertings of all kinds,
Checked Cambrics, Plain Cambrics,
Muslins,
Nainsooks,
India Book,
Swiss Mull,
Webb Laces, &c.

SMALL WARES.

Read the prices and compare them with those you have been paying.

Best Worsted Dress Braids,	12 cts
Best Spool Cotton, 200 yards,	10 cts
Best American Pins, only	5 cts
Best Linen Threads,	5 cts
Best Gold Eyed Needles,	8 cts
Best Sea Island Cotton,	10 cts
200 yards Spool Cottons,	10 cts
Nice Elastic Cords,	6 cts

Bargains for a few Days!

☞ BUY NOW. ☜

THE LOWEST PRICES.

The Largest Stock in Essex County,

And the Lowest Prices.

ONE PRICE STRICTLY.

JOHN P. PEABODY,

220 ESSEX ST., SALEM.

Our Store is closed every evening—Saturday excepted—at six o'clock, until April 1st, 1865.

Nov 16 JOHN P. PEABODY.

G. H. LANE & CO.

BEING connected with one of the largest Clothing Houses in Franklin Street, and having made extensive preparations for this present season's business, now offer in

Special Departments

(all of which will be found full and complete) the following, at PRICES far below the present cost to manufacture:

OVERCOATS.

The most extensive show of Overcoats ever offered in this market, combining all the popular makes of

Chinchillas, Castors, Tricots, Eskimos, Beavers and Pilots,

In SACKS and SURTOUTS, some of which are particularly adapted to the wants of DRIVERS, being made up with Fur bindings and facings.

BUSINESS COATS,

embracing many new styles.

WALKING COATS,

manufactured from a great variety of PLAIN and MIXED Goods.

ENGLISH HUNTING COATS,

made from heavy FUR BEAVER.

DRESS COATS,

in plain BLACKS and DIAGONAL RIBBED, TRICOT and AMOOR GOODS.

BUSINESS SUITS,

of all grades, from the finest and most expensive qualities down to medium and low priced goods.

PANTALOONS,

A great variety, including some of the most STRIKING, NOVEL and UNIQUE PATTERNS.

VESTS,

a very attractive and thoroughly assorted stock.

Boys' Department.

Under the most capable management, is at all times full in stock and assortment. Our styles for this season being entirely new and strictly our own.

BOYS OVERCOATS,

an unusually large and handsome line, embracing all the leading styles.

BOYS TOGAS,

to be found only at this establishment being original with us.

JACKETS AND PANTS,

to match—perhaps the best assortment that can be offered by any house in the trade.

METROPOLITAN SUITS,

manufactured from a variety of Fabrics, selected with special reference to the requirements of genteel trade.

CARIBALDI SUITS,

new and elegant stocks, unsurpassed for style and finish.

POLKA SUITS,

in the largest quantity and made from the best quality of goods.

The above comprises one of the LARGEST and BEST SELECTED STOCKS of MEN'S and BOYS' CLOTHING ever before offered at RETAIL in NEW ENGLAND.

Special Inducements to Wholesale Buyers for Cash.

G. H. LANE & CO.,

31 and 32 DOCK SQUARE,

Oct. 26th, 1864. BOSTON.

George S. Walker.

BARGAINS!

Positively selling at Reduced Prices!

I NOW offer my Winter Stock of Gentlemen's Furnishing Goods, such as
ALL WOOL AND MERINO SHIRTS,
DRAWERS, HOSIERY,
GLOVES, SCARFS,
and other seasonable goods, at less than Importers and Manufacturers prices—or Gold at $1 50.

Purchasers will find it for their interest to call and examine GOODS and PRICES, at

GEORGE S. WALKER'S,
No. 228 Essex Street,
oct 12 Opp. Eastern Railroad Station.

Gentlemen's Gloves.

100 VARIETIES to select from, at
GEORGE S. WALKER'S,
No. 228 Essex Street, Salem,
Opp. Eastern Railroad Station.

A. J. Archer & Co

REDUCED PRICES!

DRY GOODS.

AUGUSTUS J. ARCHER & CO.,

ARE Prepared to offer their Large Stock of

SHAWLS,
DRESS GOODS,
GARMENTS,
WOOLENS,

House-Keeping Goods,

—At the—

LOWEST MARKET PRICES.

oct 12—tf 181 Essex street.

Potter, Bachelder & Co.,

DANVERS-PORT and SOUTH DANVERS,

DEALERS IN

WOOD AND COAL.

Constantly on hand

Franklin, Burnside, Dimond, } RED ASH.
Old Company & Packer's Lehigh, Pliny Fisk, Webster and Locust Mountain, } WHITE ASH.

Also Cumberland, Pictou and Campbell for Steam and Smith's use.

OFFICE—No. 6 Allen's Building.

G. W. POTTER,
J. Q. A. BACHELDER,
C. T. BATCHELDER. mch 30

M. A. PORTER,

236 Essex Street, - - - Salem, Mass.,

(Opposite Horse Railroad Office,)

MAKES TO ORDER BEST QUALITIES OF

WATCH SPRING SKIRTS.

A Good Assortment of Dress and Clock Button, Braids, Spool Cotton, Small Wares, and Thread Store articles generally.

236 Essex Street, - - - Salem, Mass.,

M. A. PORTER.

---

197 REMOVAL. 197

Gentlemen's Clothing.

YOUTH'S AND BOYS' CLOTHING,

—AND THE—

FURNISHING GOODS ESTABLISHMENT,

of the subscriber is removed to

197 Essex Street,

Store lately occupied by Mr. JOHN MCKEY.

☞ A full and fresh assortment of GOODS is now opening and will be kept up as the season advances.

Salem, Sept 21. T. H. LEFAVOUR.

HOUSE OF EQUITY,

—BY—

Arnold & Hutchinson,

(Successors to C. T. Southwick.)

FIRST QUALITY

FAMILY GROCERIES,

Sold at the Lowest Prices.

A large and complete assortment of

CROCKERY AND GLASS WARE,

Constantly on hand.

Also FLOUR and GRAIN.

ASHLAND HALL BUILDING,

NO. 1 LOWELL STREET,

F. T. ARNOLD. B. F. HUTCHINSON.

South Danvers, Feb 3, 1864.

Miss Jeanette R. Andrews,

MUSIC TEACHER.

Room No. 5 Bowker Building,

150 Essex Street, Salem.

Terms—Twelve Dollars per quarter.

References — Professors Webb, Wetherbee, B. J. Lang. nov 2—3m

---

WANTED TO HIRE,

FOR a year or term of years, a COTTAGE HOUSE and Garden, pleasantly located in Danversport, or Danvers Center. Rent of no consequence, provided all else prove satisfactory.

Address T. H. S. at this office, stating terms, etc.

South Danvers, Sept 28. tf

MUSICAL NOTICE.

I HAVE on hand, for sale, and will select to order from any manufacturer in Boston or elsewhere,

Melodeons, Cabinet Organs,

and six to seven octave

PIANO FORTES,

full Iron Frames, over-strung Bass, with Pearl or Ivory Keys, at the lowest prices. Will take second hand Instruments in exchange for new. Have Piano Fortes and Melodeons to let.

Will tune Piano Fortes and Organs in the best manner, to order; and will also give instruction on the Piano Forte at the residence of the pupil, or at my room.

No. 218 Essex Street, Salem, (Up stairs.)

SAMUEL MACKINTIRE,

Salem, November 9, 1864.

SILVER PLATED KNIVES.

STEEL Knives, plated with pure Silver, at
S C & E A SIMONDS, 32 Front st.

CAMPAIGN MEDALS,

OF different styles—at
oct 12 G. M. WHIPPLE & A. A. SMITH'S.

Auction Sales.

WILLIAM ARCHER, J

Auctioneer, Real Estate and Stock Broke

34 Front Street.

Real Estate, Bank, Railroad & Manufactu
Stock bought and sold on Commission

AUTUMN AND WINTE

DRY GOODS.

PRINTS, De Laines, Plaids, Poplins, Alpaccas, burgs, Thibets, and many other styles for Dre

SHAWLS AND HOUSEKEEPING GOODS,

Bleached and Unbleached Cottons, different wi—Cotton Flannels, Wool and Cotton and Wool nels, of every variety and color.

Union and all wool Cassimeres and Doeskins, Mens' and Boys' wear.

Hosiery, Gloves, Yarns, Umbrellas, &c., &c., so the lowest prices for the Cash, at

238 Essex Street.

GEO. P. DANIEL

Salem, Sept. 28, 1864.

NEW GOODS.

ANN R. BRAY,

76 Federal Street, Sale

WILL open this morning Rich POPLINS, at per yard;

All Wool do. rich colors, at reduced prices;

Black Alpaccas, from 75 cts to $1 75;

Housekeeping Goods at Reduced Prices;

Cottons, Brown and Bleached; 5-4 Waltham Rockville Sheetings; 4-4 Lonsdale, James Mills, and all the best makes Shirting, at the lowest prices.

PRINTS, at reduced prices;

BLANKETS, the very best makes—All-wool Union Blankets, at the lowest market price.

CAMELS' HAIR SCARFS—medium size;

Also—One very large, of the finest quality—at

ANN R. BRAY'S,

oct 19 76 Federal Street, Sale

AUTUMN GOODS

SHAWLS,
—AND—
DRESS GOODS.

BLANKETS,
QUILTS,
AND
HOUSE-KEEPING GOODS.

CLOTHS,
DOESKINS,
OVER-COATINGS,
—AND—
CLOAK CLOTHS,

For sale by

THOMAS W. DOWNING & C

sept 28 179 ESSEX STREET, SALE

OPENING!

A FULL ASSORTMENT OF

FALL AND WINTER STYL

BONNETS,
HATS,
DRESS CAPS and HEAD-DRESS

OCTOBER 6TH,

AT

M. E. CRANE'S,

168 ESSEX STREET, - - SALE

October 5th, 1864.

HOUSEKEEPERS, ATTENTION!

JACKSON'S

KITCHEN FURNISHING ROOM

Under MECHANIC HALL, Salem

Parties about commencing House-Keeping will this the ONLY place in Salem where a COMPLETE SORTMENT of House-Keeping articles can be found.

dec 9, 1863.

T. HARDY, JR.,

—Dealer in—

DOORS, SASHES, BLIN

Glazed Sash, Painted Blinds

FENCE PALES, STAIR BALUSTERS, FRAM PINS, &c.,

No. 26 FRONT STREET,

Salem, January 14, 1863—tf.

GEO. E. MEACOM

Dealer in

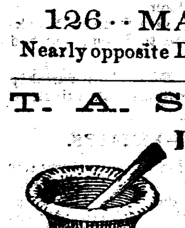
DRUGS & MEDICINES,

Fancy & Toilet Articles, &

126 MAIN ST. 126

Nearly opposite Danvers Bank, So. Danve

T. A. SWEETSE



Druggist & Apotheca

37 Main St., So. Danve

DEALER IN

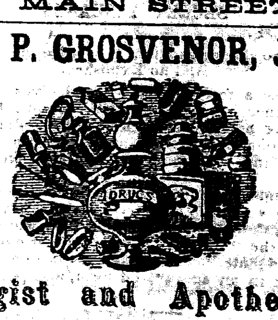
Drugs, Medicines, Chemi Foreign Leeches, Shake Herbs, Dye Stuffs, Gum Acids, Sponges, Shoulder Braces, Trusses, and Genuine Patent Medici

Also, Imported Cigars of choice brands, Perfum Toilet Articles and Stationery.

Physicians' Prescriptions carefully prepared by perienced persons.

37 MAIN STREET.

D. P. GROSVENOR, Jr,



Druggist and Apothecar

33 MAIN STREET.

Dealer in Drugs, Medicines, Chemicals, Stuffs, and Popular Proprietary Medicines.

Personal attention to Physicians' Presc tions.

South Danvers, May 29, 1861.

STORE TO LET.

THE Store now occupied by Messrs. Blake & man, on the corner of Washington and Main The best located and most convenient store in for the Grocery business. Possession given imm ately. Apply to

South Danvers, Sept. 21. E. S. DANIEL

PARLOR CROQUET.

THE subscribers having at large outlay of time expense adapted the popular Field Sport of quet for a parlor amusement, and having secured copyright, are manufacturing them of different and prices, and are as rapidly as possible introduc it to the lovers of quiet, sociable and pleasant games throughout the country This has all the est and fascination of the original game, and will found to be one of the most entertaining amuseme yet produced for the family circle.

Samples at our Bookstore.

nov 23—2w G. M. WHIPPLE & A. A. SMIT

CARD ENGRAVING,

IN all styles—and Cards printed with dispatch.

Nov 9 G. M. WHIPPLE & A. A. SMIT

PAINTS AND OIL.

FOREST River White Lead; New York W Lead; Linseed Oil; Japans; Spirits Turpenti Benzole Spirits; Varnishes, &c., constantly for sale

Nov 9 S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS, 32 Front S

The Wizard.

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMB'R 30, 1864.

☞ The Newburyport Herald says that Ben Perley Poore, the Washington correspondent of the Boston Journal and who has an estate in Newburyport, has purchased a sufficient quantity of lumber from the Tracy house to finish an entire room, and also the front stairs over which walked the noble Washington, the illustrious Lafayette, that brave Girondist, Brissot, the subtle Talleyrand, and the learned John Quincy Adams. Already he has on his Indian Hill estate material from the old Province house in Boston for another room, and he designs at no distant day to build a house on the hill, overlooking Newburyport and all the country about, and having a charming view of the sea, the inside finish of which shall be taken from such sources, with not a board that shall not be older than the government of the United States.

Money.—Money is a queer institution. It buys provender, satisfies justice and heals wounded honor. Everything resolves itself into cash, from stock-jobbing to building churches. Childhood craves pennies, youth aspires to dimes, manhood is swayed by the mighty dollar. The blacksmith swings the sledge, the lawyer pleads for his clients, the judge decides the case of life and death, for a salary. Money makes the man, therefore man must make money if he would be respected by fools—for the eye of the world looks through golden spectacles. It buys Brussels carpets, lace curtains, gilded cornices, rich furniture, and builds marble mansions. It drives us to church in splendid equipages, and pays the rent of the pews. It buys silk and jewelry for my lady, and commands obsequious attention. It enables us to be charitable, and to send Bibles to the heathen.

A new Punishment.—Any man so base as to strike a woman, should be placed on the back of a hard trotting horse and made to collect newspaper accounts for the remainder of his life.—Ex.

We don't object to the punishment of so vile a wretch, but this last is too much. Better be merciful to the man and hang him.—Boston Leader.

HELMBOLD'S
GENUINE PREPARATIONS.

COMPOUND FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU, a Positive and Specific Remedy for diseases of the Bladder, Kidneys, Gravel and Dropsical Swellings.

This Medicine increases the power of Digestion, and excite the Absorbents into healthy action, by which the Wtaery or Calcareous depositions, and all Unnatural Enlargements are reduced, as well as Pain and Inflammation.

—:o:—

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU

For Weaknesses arising from Excesses, Habits of Dissipation, Early Indiscretion of Abuse, attended with the following symptoms:—

Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power,
Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing,
Weak Nerves, Trembling,
Horror of Disease, Wakefulness,
Dimness of Vision, Pain in the Back,
Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System,
Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body,
Dryness of the Skin, Eruptions on the Face,
Pallid Countenance.

These symptoms, if allowed to go on, which this medicine invariably removes, soon follows

Impotency, Fatuity, Epileptic Fits,

In one of which the patient may expire.

Who can say that they are not frequently followed by those "Direful Diseases,"

"INSANITY AND CONSUMPTION."

Many are aware of the cause of their suffering, BUT NONE WILL CONFESS THE RECORDS OF THE INSANE ASYLUMS.

And Melancholy Deaths by Consumption bear ample witness to the Truth of the assertion.

The Constitution once effected with Organic Weakness requires the aid of Medicine to Strengthen and Invigorate the system,

Which HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU invariably does. A Trial will convince the most skeptical.

—:o:—

FEMALES—FEMALES—FEMALES.

In many Affections peculiar to Females the EXTRACT BUCHU is unequalled by any other remedy, as in Chlorosis or Retention, Irregularity, Painfulness or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated Scirrhous state of the Uterus, Leuchorrhœa or Whites, Sterility, and for all complaints incident to the sex, whether arising from indiscretion or Habits of Dissipation, or in the

DECLINE OR CHANGE OF LIFE.

Take no more Balsam, Mercury, or unpleasant Medicines for unpleasant and dangerous diseases.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU AND IMPROVED ROSE WASH CURES

SECRET DISEASES

In all their Stages, At little Expense.
Little or no change in Diet, No inconvenience.
And no Exposure.

It causes a frequent desire and gives strength to Urinate, thereby Removing Obstructions, Preventing and Curing Strictures of the Urethra, allaying Pain and Inflammation, so frequent in this class of diseases, and expelling all Poisonous, Diseased and wornout Matter.

Thousands upon Thousands who have been the Victims of Quacks, and who have paid heavy fees to be cured in a short time, have found they were deceived, and that the "POISON" has, by the use of "Powerful Astringents," been dried up in the system, to break out in an aggravated form, and perhaps after Marriage.

—:o:—

Use HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU for all affections and diseases of the URINARY ORGANS, whether existing in MALE or FEMALE, from whatever cause originating and no matter of HOW LONG STANDING. Diseases of these Organs requires the aid of a DIURETIC. HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU IS THE GREAT DIURETIC, and is certain to have the desired effect in all Diseases for which it is Recommended.

Evidence of the most reliable and responsible character will accompany the medicine.

Price $1.00 per bottle, or six for $5.00. Delivered to any Address, securely packed from observation.

Describe Symptoms in all Communications.

Cures Guaranteed! Advice Gratis!!

Address letters for information to
H. B. HELMBOLD, Chemist,
104 South Tenth-st., bel. Chestnut, Phila.

HELMBOLD'S Medical Depot.
HELMBOLD'S Drug & Chemical Warehouse.
594 Broadway, New York.

BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS AND UNPRINCIPLED DEALERS who endeavor to dispose "of their own" and "other" articles on the reputation attained by
Helmbold's Genuine Preparations.
" " Extract Buchu.
" " Sarsaparilla.
" " Improved Rose Wash.

SOLD BY

ALL DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE.

ASK FOR HELMBOLD'S. TAKE NO OTHER.

Cut out the Advertisement and send for it,
AND AVOID IMPOSITION AND EXPOSURE.

Special Notices.

MATRIMONIAL!

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN,

If you wish to marry, address the undersigned, who will send you without money and without price, valuable information that will enable you to marry happy and speedily, irrespective of age, wealth or beauty. This information will cost you nothing, and if you wish to marry, I will cheerfully assist you. All letters strictly confidential. The desired information sent by return mail, and no questions asked. Address

Sarah B. Lambert, Greenpoint, Kings Co.,
oct 12, 1864.—2m* NEW-YORK.

☞ Ready-made Overcoats, $60, $55, $50, $45, $42, $40, $38, $35, $33, $32, $30, $28, $26, $25, $22, $20, $19, $18, $17, $16, $15, $14, $13, $12, $11, $10. One Price only at BENNETT & Co's, 14 & 15 Dock Square, Boston.

☞ For Boys' Clothing call at BENNETT & Co's One Price House, 14 and 15 Dock Square, Boston.

☞ Ready-made Pants, $17, $16, $15, $14, $13, $12, $11, $10, $9, $8, $7.50, $7, $6.50, $6, $5.50, $5, $4.50, $4, $3.50, $3, $2.50, at BENNETT & Co's One Price House, 14 and 15 Dock Square, Boston.

☞ For Gents' Furnishing Goods, Shirts and Drawers, or a garment made to order, call at BENNETT & Co's One Price House, 14 and 15 Dock Square, Boston.

Cards.

G. W. HALEY, M. D.,
Physician and Surgeon.
OFFICE—WARREN BANK BUILDING,
South Danvers.

N. W HOLDEN,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
Office, 27 Washington Street, Salem, Mass.

M. B. MANSFIELD,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
214 ESSEX STREET, SALEM, MASS.

 Particular attention paid to procuring Pensions, Bounties, Back Pay, Prize Money, and Army and Navy Claims of all descriptions. March 2.

H. L. HADLEY,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
CORNER MAPLE AND ELM ST.,
Danvers.
Claims against the Government for Bounty, Back Pay, and Pensions, promptly attended to.

THOMAS M. STIMPSON,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
194 ESSEX STREET, SALEM.
Residence Lowell street, South Danvers.

B. C. PERKINS,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
South Danvers—Office in Allen's Building.

ALFRED A. ABBOTT,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
Office, No. 24 Washington Street, Salem.
House, Main St., So. Danvers.

SIDNEY C. BANCROFT,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
27 Washington Street, Salem.

H. O. WILEY,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
Office, Allen's Building, South Danvers.
Claims against the Government for Bounty, Back Pay, and Pensions, promptly attended to.

A. S. CRAWFORD
Dentist,
No. 4 MAIN STREET, SO. DANVERS, SQUARE
Mechanical Dentistry Neatly Executed.

W. L. BOWDOIN,
SURGEON DENTIST,
No, 208 Essex Street, Salem, (Opposite the Marke
Residence—No 57 Washington street.
jan 11—ly

NEWMAN & SYMONDS,
DEALERS IN
Family Groceries, Flour & Grain,
HARD WARE AND CROCKERY,
Ready Made Clothing, Gents' Furnishing Goods, Hats, Caps, Boots, Shoes, &c.,
South Danvers Square, opp. Congregational Church
SAM'L NEWMAN. NATH'L SYMONDS.

S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS,
DEALERS IN
Crockery, China and Hardware; Paper Hangings, Solar and Entry Lamps, Paints, Oil and Window Glass.
No. 32 Front street, Lawrence Place,
feb13 SALEM, MASS.

HENRY L. WHIDDEN,
HOUSE AND SIGN PAINTER,
Glazier and Paperer,
Central Street, South Danvers.
All orders promptly and faithfully executed
jan2-ly

JESSE SMITH
No. 262 Essex Street, Salem,
Importer and Dealer in
Gold and Silver Watches,
MARINE CHRONOMETERS,
Aneroid Barometers, Spy Glasses, &c.

WILLIAM BLANEY,
HOUSE & SIGN PAINTER
Grainer, Glazier and Paper Hanger.
164 MAIN STREET, Corner of Grove.
WINDOWS and BLINDS cheap for cash.
mch6-tf

F. POOLE
INSURANCE AGENT,
Allen's Building, (up stairs),
Deeds drawn and other common forms.

Advertisements.

Are you Insured?

THE subscriber would respectfully call your attention to the fact that he is fully prepared to effect INSURANCE AGAINST FIRE, to any amount, at current rates, on Dwelling Houses, Barns and their contents, Stores, Stocks of Goods, Furniture, &c., &c., and on buildings in process of erection.

And that he is the authorized Agent for the following responsible Stock and Mutual Companies, viz:

Thames Insurance Co., (Stock,) Norwich, Conn.
Capital—$500,000.
Amos W. Prentice, Pres. Oliver F. Rice, Sec'y
Conway Insurance Company, (Stock) Boston.
Capital and Surplus—$260,000.
James F. Whitney, Pres. David C. Rogers, Sec'y.
City Insurance Company, (Stock) Boston.
Capital—$150,000.
Samuel P. Hayward, Pres. Austin W. Benton, Sec'y

Also, will effect Insurance on the LIVES OF INDIVIDUALS, for one year, seven years, or for the whole term of life, in the

Massachusetts Mutual Life Ins. Co., Springfield, Mass.
Capital and Assets—$375,000.
Caleb Rice, Pres. D. B. Bacon, Sec'y.
William Mack, M. D., Medical Examiner.

WM. ARCHER, Jr.,
18 Washington st. and 34 Front st., Salem.
feb20-1

STURGIS'
ELECTRIC COMPOUND,
An Effectual External Remedy for NEURALGIA
—AND—
RHEUMATISM.

ALSO, INVALUABLE FOR
Spinal Irritation, Ague in the Face,
Toothache, Pain in the Side, Back,
and Limbs, Ear, Ague, &c.

Among the Advantages of this Medicine are the following:

ITS effect is very rapid—in most cases instantaneous.

It is external in its application, and the patient runs no risk in using it. It does not strike to the stomach.

It reaches the nerves and muscles, as it is believed no other medicine does.

It has cured some of the most violent and obstinate cases of Neuralgia ever known.

It can be used on a child or an aged person alike.

While it is very powerful, it is perfectly harmless.

The proprietor has been allowed to publish the names of many persons who have used the COMPOUND with the most beneficial results. He inserts a few of them They are among the most respectable citizens of Boston and other places, and their residences and places of business are given.

Rev. N. Munroe, late of Boston Recorder
Joseph H. Allen, 119 Washington St., house 55 Ruthland Street.
N. P Kempt, Tract Society, 40 Cornhill.
Addison Boyden, 408 Washington Street, Boston, firm of Haley, Morse & Boyden.
William H. Brewster, Publisher of Boston Traveller.

The following letter from one of our best citizens will speak for itself:

Rev. JOSEPH E. BARRY, the children's missionary of Boston, was the recipient a few weeks since of a bottle of STURGIS'S ELECTRIC COMPOUND, for Neuralgia, Rheumatism, &c., and having experienced great benefit from its use, and having known of many severe cases of the above complaints where it produced cures, considers it his duty to make known to his friends and others being so unfortunate as to be troubled with these terrible complaints, the virtue of this preparation.

Boston, Sept. 15, 1863. JOSEPH E. BARRY.

REMARKABLE CURE OF NEURALGIA.—The following letter, (unsolicited,) was received by the proprietor in May last:

CAMP ROGERS, Newbern, May 6, 1863.

Dear Sir. I have been for some weeks suffering under a severe attack of Neuralgia, the severity of which has caused me to be in 'perfect agony' both night and day. Having heard of STURGIS'S ELECTRIC COMPOUND from my companion in arms" I was induced to give it a trial, which had the happy effect to immediately cure me. I am surprised that surgeons do not have it in the army, as there is a constant demand for such an invaluable relief I make this statement for the public good, and I have no scruples about your using this as a recommendation to other victims of this painful disorder.

Yours respectfully, JOSEPH HOUGHTON,
Co. D. 43d Reg't Mass. Vols.

For Sale by all Druggists.
☞ Office No. 119 Washington St., Boston.
Sept. 28—6m

DR. J. H. BATCHELDER,
DENTAL SURGEON,
No. 20 Washington St., (near Eastern Railroad Depot),
SALEM, MASS.
Is Licensed to make the New Patent Teeth on HARD RUBBER or VULCANITE.
July 1, 1864.

REAL ESTATE.

The subscriber offers for sale the following Lots of Land, with the buildings thereon, at Private Sale, until October next, when, if not previously sold, they will be put up at auction.

On Lowell street, a two story DWELLING HOUSE, fitted for two families. This is the Estate formerly known as the Southwick Tavern.

On Lowe street, leading from Foster St. to Washington St., a two story TENEMENT for two families with a garden attached to it.

On Washington street, near the residence of Capt. Lowe, a very eligible BUILDING LOT, on the North side of the street.

On Tremont street, a small COTTAGE HOUSE for one or two families.

On Walnut street, a pleasant, elevated Lot of Land, with a large Barn, situated opposite Mr. Caller's Currying Shop.

In the rear of the above TWO TENEMENT HOUSES.
For particulars apply to
jy 27 WILLIAM SUTTON.

Salem and Danvers Aqueduct Co'y.

ALL persons using the water of the Salem and South Danvers Aqueduct, are hereby notified that the water rents, for the six months ending Nov'r 1, 1864, are now due: and that they are required to pay the same, at the office of the Company, No. 2 Sewall Street, on the 1st day of October inst. Should the bills remain unpaid for thirty days, the water will be stopped, in conformity to the regulations of the Company.

Office hours from 9 to 1 o'clock, and from 2 to 5.
Per order of the Directors,
Salem, Oct 1, 1864. WM. JELLY, Collector.

SELF-SEALING
AIR-TIGHT CASKET.

MR. CHARLES S. BUFFUM, Furnishing Undertaker of South Danvers, takes this method to announce that he has a new burial case, which combines all the advantages of a wooden case with those of a metal one, and yet avoids the disadvantages of both. They have been used with great success, and bodies placed in them have been delivered in perfect preservation after having been transported over a thousand miles. To persons having deceased friends at the seat of war they are invaluable. They come at reasonable prices, are light and durable, and are perfectly airtight. august 10

FURNITURE

HAVING taken the Store No. 10 FRONT STREET, (formerly occupied by BENJAMIN COLMAN,) I shall keep constantly on hand a large stock of

NEW AND SECOND-HAND FURNITURE,
BEDDING, COUNTING-ROOM DESKS, &c., &c.,
which I will sell cheap for CASH.

ALL KINDS OF FURNITURE NEATLY REPAIRED.

☞ All kinds of FURNITURE and BEDDING wanted—for which the highest Cash price will be paid.

P. J. HYNES, 10 FRONT-ST.
Salem, April 6, 1864—1y

CURRIER & MILLETT,
Dealers in
Furniture, Chairs,
MATTRESSES, FEATHERS, &
259 & 261 ESSEX ST.
Salem, dec 14—1y

NEW INKSTAND.

OLIVER'S Patent Inkstand claims the following advantages:—It is not complicated—No trouble to fill—Does not get out of order—It is very economical—It prevents evaporation—Does not require frequent filling—Can be easily operated—It is easily cleaned—Filters the Ink for use—Keeps the Ink free from exposure and fresh and limpid—it is both ornamental and durable. For sale by
Salem, Sept 23 G M WHIPPLE & A A SMITH.

AARON T. LOWE,
DEALER IN
BOOTS, SHOES AND RUBBERS,
76 BOSTON STREET, 76.
aug 6 SALEM. tf

TABLE CUTLERY.

A FULL stock of Knives and Forks, with Horn Ebony, Cocoa and Bone Handles. Also Carvers, Steels, Bread and Cook Knives, Mincing Knives, &c, at
nov 16 S C & E A SIMONDS', 32 Front st.

IVORY HANDLED KNIVES

BY the Dozen, with or without Forks, at
S C & E A SIMONDS', 32 Front st.

LIFE INSURANCE
THE MUTUAL
LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY,
Of New York, with a Capital of $11,000,000,
And an Annual Income of over
$2,000,000,

AND declaring a LARGER DIVIDEND than any other Company in the United States, is the one in which every man should secure a policy on his life.

The importance of LIFE INSURANCE cannot be too highly estimated. It is the safest and most practicable method of securing to your family, in case of your death, the means of a comfortable and independent support. Thousands of instances might be cited where families have thus been provided with a competency, who would otherwise have been left in penury and want. Husbands and fathers! treat not with indifference a subject of such vital importance, but see to it at once that your families are provided with the inestimable advantages which this great and benevolent institution affords.

Because a man has wealth, it is no reason why he should not insure, for he knows not how soon his riches may take to themselves wings and fly away. And let those who complain of the want of means, remember that

Forty-Five Cents a Week,

Will insure $1,000 on the life of a man of THIRTY.

AN ENDOWMENT POLICY,

Secures to the assured party, on attaining to a certain age, say 50, 55 or 60 years, an amount sufficient for his support in advanced age.

Another feature of this subject, deserving of especial attention, is

SURVIVORSHIP ANNUITIES!

By means of which one party may secure to another, an annuity sufficient to maintain them in comfort and independence through life. A husband may thus make provision for his wife; a father for his child; or a brother for his sister.

Endowment Policies for Children.

By this means a parent may provide, by the payment of a small annual premium, a sum of money sufficient to enable a son to enter into business, at a proper age, or for any other provision, either for a son or daughter.

Many Gentlemen of So. Danvers and Vicinity!

Have already availed themselves of this opportunity now offered for ensuring their lives, and thus securing an inestimable blessing to themselves and their families. Let others be equally wise, and immediately follow their example.

JOHN H. DERBY,
Agent for South Danvers and Vicinity.
Post Office address, Salem, Mass.
September 14, 1864—tf.

R. C. MANNING & CO.
Successors to JOHN DIKE & CO.,
DEALERS IN
COAL, WOOD, BARK, HAY, &c,
183 DERBY STREET,
SALEM, MASS.
N. C. ROBBINS, R. C. MANNING.
oct17

HOSTETTER'S
CELEBRATED STOMACH
BITTERS.

A pure and powerful Tonic, corrective and alterative of wonderful efficacy in disease of the

Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

Cures Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Headache, Debility, Nervousness, Depression of Spirits, Constipation, Colic, Intermittent Fevers, Cramps and Spasms, and all Complaints of either Sex, arising from Bodily Weakness whether inherent in the system or produced by special causes.

Nothing that is not wholesome, genial and restorative in its nature enters into the composition of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. This popular preparation contains no mineral of any kind, no deadly botanical element; no fiery excitant: but it is a combination of the extracts of rare balsamic herbs and plants with the purest and mildest of all diffusive stimulants.

It is well to be forearmed against disease, and, so far as the human system can be protected by human means against maladies engendered by an unwholesome atmosphere, impure water and other external causes, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS may be relied on as a safeguard.

In districts infested with Fever and Ague, it has been found infallible as a preventive and irresistible as a remedy and thousands who resort to it under apprehension of an attack, escape the scourage; and thousands who neglect to avail themselves of its protective qualities in advance, are cured by a very brief course of this marvelous medicine. Fever and Ague patients, after being plied with quinine for months in vain, until fairly saturated with that dangerous alkaloid, are not unfrequently restored to health within a few days by the use of HOSTETTER'S BITTERS.

The weak stomach is rapidly invigorated and the appetite restored by this agreeable Tonic, and hence it works wonders in cases of DISPEPSIA and in less confirmed forms of INDIGESTION. Acting as a gentle and painless apperient, as well as upon the liver, it also invariably relieves the CONSTIPATION superinduced by irregular action of the digestive and secretive organs.

Persons of feeble habit, liable to Nervous Attacks, Lowness of Spirits and Fits of Languor, find prompt and permanent relief from the Bitters. The testimony on this point is most conclusive, and from both sexes.

The agony of BILIOUS COLIC is immediately assuaged by a single dose of the stimulant, and by occasionally resorting to it, the return of the complaint may be prevented.

As a General Tonic, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS produce effects which must be experienced or witnessed before they can be fully appreciated. In cases of Constitutional Weakness, Premature Decay and Debility and Decrepitude arising from OLD AGE, it exercises the electric influence. In the convalescent stages of all diseases it operates as a delightful invigorant. When the powers of nature are relaxed, it operates to re-enforce and re-establish them.

Last, but not least, it is The Only Safe Stimulant, being manufactured from sound and innocuous materials, and entirely free from the acid elements present more or less in all the ordinary tonics and stomachics of the day.

No family medicine has been so universally, and, it may be truly added, deservedly popular with the intelligent portion of the community, as HOSTETTER'S BITTERS.

Prepared by HOSTETTER & SMITH, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Sold by all Druggists, Grocers and Storekeepers everywhere.

December 16, 1863.—1 yr

VALUABLE REAL ESTATE.

THE Subscriber offers for sale the following Lots of Land, with the Buildings thereon, at private sale, until September next, when such as then remain unsold, will be offered at Public Auction:

A new and well built two-story DWELLING HOUSE, situated on English Street.—This house is well supplied with the modern conveniences, is pleasantly situated on rising ground, and is a very desirable residence.

On Walnut Street is the large BOARDING HOUSE, with the land adjoining, which is excellently well situated for what it is designed

Several front LOTS for building purposes on Walnut Street, will be sold at moderate prices and fair terms.

A STORE HOUSE 70 by 25 feet on Walnut Street, with the land under and the rear of it. It can be easily adapted for a Curriers' Shop, or for other kinds of business.

On Wallis Street, near the mill pond, a well built and painted MOROCCO FACTORY, all ready for occupancy. It is about 80 feet long by 25 wide, and in excellent repair.

Next to the Morocco Factory on the same street, a STORE BUILDING, strongly built, and framed for a DWELLING HOUSE, for which it could be easily adapted. Or it would make an excellent Shop for any kind of business.

Near ELM STREET, on a Court south of said street, are two DWELLING HOUSES, planned for two families each. One is two stories high, the other one and a half. Both houses have good tenants and yield a good income; offering a good chance for investment.

Between Harris and English Streets, one One Story DWELLING House, and a One Story and a Half House.

The above is a most excellent opportunity for enterprising young men to secure places for business and dwelling houses, on reasonable terms. Such a chance may not soon again occur.

Persons desiring to purchase any of the above lots may learn the prices and terms on application to ANDREW S. PORTER, Elm Street.

SAMUEL D. PENDAR.
South Danvers, May 11, 1864. tf

Indispensable to Every Soldier and Seaman.

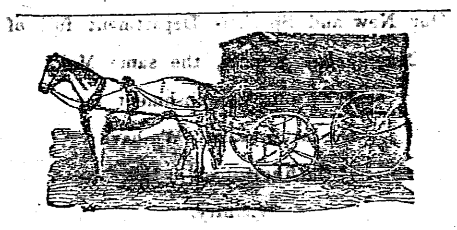
BROOK'S PATENT
WRITING AND TOILET CASE.

EASILY carried in the coat pocket. Supplied by the manufacturers at the old price—$2
D. B. BROOKS & BROTHER,
201 Essex Street, Salem, Mass.

Those who have friends in the Army of the Potomac can have them sent to them free of postage. sept 7

HENRY G. HUBON,
WASHINGTON STREET, SALEM
Manufacturers of
Rose Wood, Mahogany, Black Walnnt and Stained Wood
COFFINS and CASKETS.

MAKING this our exclusive business, we are ready at all times and at the shortest notice to furnish Grave Clothes of various styles, as well as Coffins and Caskets of the finest finish. Personal attention given, and delivered without extra charge to any of the neighboring towns. All orders by express or otherwise will receive prompt attention.
nov 1—tf



CHARLES S. BUFFUM,

BEING an authorized UNDERTAKER of South Danvers, will attend Funerals in said place with his Hearse the same as the Town Undertaker. Will also attend Funerals. when desired, in any of the neighboring towns, with one or a pair of horses

He also furnishes Coffin Caskets, Robes, etc., lower than city prices.

All branches of the business attended to, such as furnishing Coaches, Flowers, Laying Out, etc.

Ice Preservers Furnished.

All orders promptly attended to, and personal attention given to them. Articles delivered to any of the neighboring towns free of charge. Orders by express or otherwise will receive prompt attention.

Central street, South Danvers,
RESIDENCE 25 ELM STREET.
South Danvers, Feb 17, 1864.

Undertaker's Notice!

THE subscriber being regularly appointed as Undertaker of South Danvers, would respectfully notify the public that he has removed from Central Street, to No. 80 Lowell Street, where he may be found, in readiness to attend funerals, and to furnish, when desired.

HENRY SPENCER.
February 10, 1864.

Chickering & Sons' Piano-Fortes.
Hallett & Cumston's Piano-Fortes.
Hallett & Davis's Piano-Fortes.

We select our Piano-Fortes from the above firms and warrant them to give perfect satisfaction. Our terms are reasonable, and all persons in the city and neighboring towns can be accommodated by calling at 76 Federal street.

FOR SALE—Second-hand Piano-Fortes,—Chickering's and others.
ap 29 ANN R. BRAY.

MOULTON'S
NEW LIVERY STABLE,

Is removed to stable formerly occupied by
SAMUEL HAM,
On MAIN STREET, opposite the Institute.

Good Horses and Carriages will be always in readiness at short notice.
South Danvers, May 25, 1864.

PIN WORMS. MRS. OSBORN'S Universal Worm Powders are the only sure cure ever offered to the public. They are warranted in every case; relief within 24 hrs. 25cts. per box. Sold by all druggists.

For sale by D. P. GROSVENOR, Jr., 33 Main St., South Danvers. jan 27

MORRIS'
RESTAURANT,
18 and 20 Derby Square, Salem.
Oysters, Clams, Steak, Poultry, Game, Fish, &c., &c., COOKED TO ORDER.
Pickled Oysters, Lobsters and Clams.
Salem, July 22, 1863. tf

GAYLE & CO.
COMMISSION MERCHANTS,
AND DEALERS IN
Flour, Grain and Produce,
PHILLIPS WHARF, - - - - Salem.

WEBSTER'S NEW DICTIONARY,

NEW edition, illustrated throughout and greatly enlarged—for sale by
oct 12 G. M. WHIPPLE & A. A. SMITH.

PAPER SHADES.

A FINE assortment of Paper Shades for Kerosene Lamps, just received from Philadelphia, and for sale at S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS', 32 Front St.
oct 12

JUST ARRIVED,
AT DANVERS MILLS,

500 Bushels Corn, in the minnie cob, and will be sold in South Danvers. Constantly on hand a large stock of meal, which will be sold at the lowest Salem prices.

—ALSO ON HAND—

500 Bushels Feed;
200 Bushels prime Northern Oats;
100 Barrels choicest Family Flour.
A good stock of LIME constantly on hand.

JOHN C. MOULTON,
Central St., South Danvers, Mass.
Aug 25—tf.

THE TRAVELERS INS. CO.,
OF HARTFORD, CONN.
Capital - - - - - - $250,000.

Is now prepared to Insure persons against
ACCIDENTS
OF EVERY DESCRIPTION.

Yearly policies will be issued for a premium of
FIVE DOLLARS,
granting insurance to the amount of
FIVE THOUSAND DOLLARS,
against accidental loss of life while travelling by any public conveyance.

TEN DOLLARS PREMIUM

secures a policy for Five Thousand Dollars, and also twenty-five dollars per week compensation for personal injury incapacitating the assured from his ordinary business.

TWENTY-FIVE DOLLARS PREMIUM

secures a full policy for $5000 and $25 per week compensation for all and EVERY DESCRIPTION OF ACCIDENT, TRAVELLING OR OTHERWISE.

Policies for $5000 with $3 per week compensation, can be had for $3 per annum; or any other sum between $500 and $5000 at proportionate rates.

DIRECTORS:

Gustavus F. Davis, W. H. D. Callender,
James L. Howard, George W. Moore,
Marshal Jewell, Ebenezer Roberts,
Thomas Belknap, Jr., Charles White,
Cornelius B. Erwin, Hugh Harrison,
George S. Gilman, Jonathan B. Bunce.

JAMES G. PATTERSON, President.
RODNEY DENNIS, Secretary.
HENRY A. DYER, General Agent.

PLUMBER & MERCER, AGENTS,
40 State Street, Boston.

Offices in Salem—JOHN H. DERBY, No. 24 Washington street; SAMUEL MACKINTIRE, No. 218 Essex street. Aug. 3, 1864—1yr*

SKINNER'S PULMONALES S

Skinner's Pulmonales

Immediately Relieve Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, loss of Voice, Bronchitis, Lassitude, Thirst and every symptom of the first stages of Pulmonary Consumption; they are white. in form of a wafer, and as suitable for the infant in the cradle as the patient of three score years and ten. Orators, and all who overtax the vocal organs receive instant relief by their use. Sold by all Druggists. Prepared by E. M. SKINNER, Chemist, 27 Tremont St., Boston. sept 7—1y

SPALDING'S ROSE MARY

FOR FOURTEEN YEARS the Rosemary has held a high rank as pure, uniform and reliable. It is Warranted. 1st, To beautify the hair. 2d, To curl the hair elegantly. 3d, To remove dandruff effectually. 4th, To restore hair to bald heads. 5th, To force the beard and whiskers to grow. 6th, To prevent the hair from falling off. 7th, To cure all diseases of the scalp. 8th, To prevent the hair turning grey. 9th, To cure headache. 10th, To kill hair eaters. Sold everywhere. Prepared by EDW. M SKINNER, Chemist, 27 Tremont St., opposite the Museum, Boston, Mass. sept 7—1y

ALWAYS SUCCESSFUL!

TO ALL THOSE WHO SUFFER FROM

DEBILITY AND SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

DRS. CARSWELL & HUNTER, regularly educated, highly eminent and successful practitioners, after a very extensive practice in Boston, for over twenty years, need hardly speak of their medical qualifications, or remind strangers not to class them with a set of uneducated men, who fill the papers with their boasting advertisements. Drs. C. & H. caution the public against quackery in all its forms, pretending, as some self-styled doctors, to cure all the most difficult and chronic diseases, without knowledge of the human system, or of the modus operandi of the most simple drugs.

Drs. C. & H. since 1840, having confined their whole attention to an office practice for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, they acknowledge no superiors.

CONSTITUTIONAL DEBILITY OR SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Drs. C. & H. are pre-eminently successful in the treatment of the above most difficult and perplexing of all diseases, this complaint being the result of a secret habit in youth; if neglected or improperly treated, it proves one of the greatest evils that can befall a human being. Dr. H. has given particular attention to the above disease for years, and so thoroughly has he become acquainted with the pathology and treatment, that he will warrant a perfect cure under forfeiture of $500; in fact, he will, in the cure of this complaint, acknowledge no superior in this country, or even in the world. Come, then, all you who are afflicted, come to the Old Stand, where you will in a short time be made to rejoice in perfect health.

SYPHILITIC AND SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS,—such as Ulcers and Caries of the throat and nose, Running Sores on the legs and arms, Hard Scabs and Scaly Eruptions on the head, back, &c., pains in the bones and joints, and all other forms of venereal diseases—are made to yield and entirely disappear under Drs. C. & H.'s improved and thoroughly eradicating course of treatment.

The primary or first symptoms of disease, whether a simple running, or small pistules, cancers, or ulcers, are cured in a very few days, if immediate application is made to Drs. C. & H.

13 ENDICOTT STREET, BOSTON. 13

Strangers should be particular in the selection of a physician, lest they be deceived by false advertisements.

Ladies troubled with irregularity, weakness, whites, and other complaints, peculiar to the female system, will find a speedy cure by calling as above. No mercury used, and no charge for advice. The afflicted are invited to give us a call.

Boston April 20, 1864.—1 yr.

BELL'S SPECIFIC PILLS.—WARRANTED IN ALL CASES.—Can be relied on! Never fail to cure! Do not nauseate! Are speedy in action! No change of diet required! Do not interfere with business pursuits! Can be used without detection! Upward of 200 cures the past month—some of them very severe cases. Over one hundred physicians have used them in their practice, and all speak well of their efficacy, and approve of their composition, which is entirely vegetable and harmless on the system. Hundreds of certificates can be shown.

BELL'S SPECIFIC PILLS are the original and only genuine Specific Pill. They are adapted for male and female, old or young, and the only reliable remedy for effecting a permanent and speedy cure in all cases of Spermatorrhea, or Seminal Weakness, with all its train of evils, such as Uretbral and Vaginal Discharges, Gleet, the Whites, Nightly or Involuntary Emissions, Incontinence, Genital Debility and Irritability, Impotence, Weakness or Loss of Power, Nervous Debility, &c., &c., all of which arise principally from Sexual Excesses or Self-Abuse, or some constitutional derangement, and incapacitates the sufferer from fulfilling the duties of married life. In all sexual diseases, as Gonorrhea, Gleet, and Strictures, and in Diseases of the Bladder and Kidneys, they act as a charm! Relief is experienced by taking a single box. Sold by all the principal druggists. Price $1.

They will be sent by mail, securely sealed, and confidentially, on receipt of the money, by

J BRYAN, M. D,
No. 76 Cedar street, New York,
Consulting Physician for the treatment of Seminal, Urinary, Sexual, and Nervous Diseases, who will send, free to all, the following valuable work, in sealed envelope:

THE FIFTIETH THOUSAND.—DR. BELL'S TREATISE on Self-Abuse, Premature Decay, Impotence and Loss of Power, Sexual Diseases, Seminal Weakness, Nightly Emissions, Genital Debility, &c., &c., a pamphlet of 64 pages, containing important advice to the afflicted, and which should be read by every sufferer, as the means of cure in the severest stages is plainly set forth. Two stamps required to pay postage. December 9, 1863—1 yr.

IMPORTANT TO LADIES.—DR. HARVEY'S FEMALE PILLS have never yet failed in removing difficulties arising from obstruction, or stoppage of nature, or in restoring the system to perfect health when suffering from Spinal Affections, Prolapsus, Uteri, the Whites, or other weakness of the Uterine Organs. The Pills are perfectly harmless on the constitution, and may be taken by the most delicate female without causing distress—the same time they act like a charm by strengthening, invigorating and restoring the system to a healthy condition, and by bringing on the monthly period with regularity, no matter from what causes the obstruction may arise. They should, however, NOT be taken during the first three or four months of pregnancy, though safe at any other time, as miscarriage would be the result.

Each box contains 60 Pills. Price $1.

DR. HARVEY'S TREATISE on Diseases of Females, Pregnancy, Miscarriage, Barrenness, Sterility, Reproduction, and Abuses of Nature, and emphatically the Ladies' Private Medical Adviser, a pamphlet of 64 pages, sent free to any address. Six cents required to pay postage

The Pills and book will be sent by mail when desired, securely sealed, and prepaid, by

J. BRYAN, M. D., General Agent,
No. 76 Cedar street, New York.
☞ Sold by all the principal druggists.
December 9, 1863—1 yr.

SUMMER ARRANGEMENT
—TO—
LYNN & BOSTON
—BY—
OMNIBUS & HORSE CAR
W. F. BURNHAM'S

Line of Omnibuses will leave the Lynn and Bost Omnibus Office, No. 6 Allen's Building, South Da vers. passing down Main Street, through Washingt Street, to Lynn daily—Sundays included.

Leave South Danvers at 7.50 o'clock, A. M., 12 and 4 50 P. M.

Leave Lynn (Horse Car Depot, West Lynn) at 9 A. M., 2 40 and 6 40 P. M.

Horse Cars leaving the office at 14 Brattle Stre at 8 15 A M., 1 15 and 5 15 P. M., will meet the Om buses at Lynn, at the above named hours, to ta passengers to South Danvers.

Tickets to Lynn, - - 20 cent
Through to Boston, - - 35 cent

Gravesend, Woodend, and Centr
Depot Route.

ON and after Monday, Nov 2, in addition to the route, an Omnibus will leave South Danvers Lynn, to connect with the steam and horse car times daily,—Sundays excepted—running thre Gravesend and Woodend, to the Central R R Dep and Horse Railroad Station, corner of Spring a Broad Streets; leaving South Danvers at 6 A M (c necting with the 7.25 steam cars for Boston), 10 A (connecting with the 11.10 train), and 4 P M (conne ing with the 4.50 train); and returning, leave Ly from the Spring Street Station and Central R R pot, at 8 A M, and 1 and 6 P M.

Fare from S. Danvers to Boston by horse cars, 3
" " " steam cars. 4

Through Tickets to and from Boston may be ha the Drivers and Conductors.

EXPRESS BUSINESS

Between South Danvers and Lynn promptly atte ed to, on reasonable terms.

Extra Coaches furnished at short notice.

W. F. BURNHAM
South Danvers, April 26, 1864.

CROUT & MUNROE'S
SOUTH DANVERS & BOSTO
RAILROAD EXPRESS.

Express leaves South Danvers at 10 1-2 a. m
Freight " " at 5 p. m.
Express leaves Boston at 3 1-2 p. m
Freight " " at 4 p. m.

OFFICE at FREIGHT DEPOT, Sou Danvers Square.

Express Office in Boston, 3 Washington Str
Freight Office, 48 Kilby St.

Particular attention paid to removing F niture, collecting Bills, Notes, Drafts, &c.

Smallest favors thankfully received.
South Danvers, august 26—tf

LITTLEFIELD'S
South Danvers & Salem Mail Expre

E LITTLEFIE successor to P. W ber, will run an press regularly tween So. Dan and Salem for delivery of pack and bundles, and goods usually delivered by Express.

Leave South Danvers at 7½ and 11 A M, and 5 I
Leave Salem at 8.45 A M., 2 and 6 P M.

This Express connects with the first train from Sa going East.

SLATES—In Salem, 43 Central st, and at the Mes Roberts' store, corner of Front and Washington st South Danvers—At the Post Office; at Blake & man's store; also at R. O. Spiller's store.

Important to the Afflicted

DR. DOW continues to be consulted at his of Nos. 7 and 9 Endicott street, Boston, on all eases of a

PRIVATE OR DELICATE NATURE.

By a long course of study and practical experi of unlimited extent. Dr. D. has now the gratifica of presenting the unfortunate with remedies have never, since he first introduced them, faile cure the most alarming cases of

GONORRHŒA AND SYPHILIS.

Beneath his treatment, all the horrors of ven and impure blood, Impotency, Scrofula, Gonorr Ulcers, pain and distress in the regions of pro tion, Inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, drocele, Abcesses, Humors, frightful Swellings, the long train of horrible symptoms attending class of disease, are made to become as harmles the simplest ailings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Dr. D. devotes a great part of his time to the t ment of those cases caused by a secret and sol habit, which ruins the body and mind, unfitting unfortunate individual for business or society. S of the sad and melancholy effects produced by e habits of youth, are Weakness of the Back limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimness of sight, pitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervousness, rangement of the digestive functions, Sympton Consumption, &c. The fearful effects on the are much to be dreaded; loss of memory, confu of ideas, depression of spirits, evil forebod aversion of society, self-distrust, timidity, &c., among the evils produced. Such persons should fore contemplating matrimony, consult a physicia experience, and be at once restored to health happiness.

Patients who wish to remain under Dr. Dow's t ment a few days or weeks, will be furnished pleasant rooms, and charges for board moderate.

Medicines sent to all parts of the country, with directions for use, on receiving description of cases. Dr. Dow has also for sale the French Capo warranted the best preventive. Order by ma or $1 and a red stamp.

CAUTION

TO FEMALES IN DELICATE HEALTH

DR. DOW, Physician and Surgeon, 7 and 9 En street, Boston, is consulted daily for all diseases dent to the female system. Prolapsus Uteri, or ing of the Womb, Fluor Albus, Suppression, and er menstrual derangements, are all treated upon pathological principles, and speedy relief guara in a very few days. So invariably certain is the mode of treatment, that most obstinate compl yield under it, and the afflicted person soon rej in perfect health.

Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater experience i cure of diseases of women and children, than other physician in Boston.

Boarding accommodations for patients who wish to stay in Boston a few days under his t ment.

Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined his whol tention to an office practice, for the cure of Pr Diseases and Female Complaints, acknowledge superior in the United States.

N. B.—All letters must contain four red stamp they will not be answered.

Office Hours from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M.

CERTAIN CURE

IN ALL CASES, OR NO CHARGES MAD

Dr. Dow is consulted daily, from 8 a. m. to 8 as above, upon all difficult and chronic diseas every name and nature, having by his unwearie tention and extraordinary success gained a reput which calls patients from all parts of the count obtain advice.

Among the physicians in Boston, none stand h in the profession than the celebrated DR. DOW, 7 Endicott street, Boston. Those who need the vices of an experienced physician and surgeon s give him a call. P. S.—Dr. Dow imports and ha sale a new article, called the French Secret. by mail. Two for $1 and a red stamp.

April 20, 1864- 1y.

Job Press for Sale.

RUGGLES' JOB ENGINE PRESS. Prints a bl by 19 inches. Can be run by one man at the of 800 per hour. Is in good condition. It will sol very low price, as the owner has no use for it. It big bargain. Apply at this office. jy 2

HEYLINGBERG'S
Hair Dressing Saloo
24 MAIN ST., SOUTH DANVERS.

J. J. HEYLINGBERG would announce to his rons and the public generally, that on and JUNE 1st, 1864, he will abide by the following

TARIFF OF PRICES:

Shaving, 10
Hair Cutting, 15
Champooing, 15

Particular attention paid to dying hair and kers, in one preparation, without washing or bing.

South Danvers, May 11, 1864.

25 YEARS' EXPERIENCE enables CARSWELL & HUNTER to cure any dis of a private nature in a shorter space of time an a smaller amount of money than any other docto this country, and they also treat all female compl with perfect success, and on the most satisfa terms. Patients furnished with board, if des Please give us a call at our office, No. 13 Endico Boston, Mass.

Boston, April 20, 1864.—1 yr.

South Danvers Wizard.

OL. V. | SOUTH DANVERS, MASS., WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 7, 1864. | NO. 49.

SOUTH DANVERS WIZARD
ed every WEDNESDAY, at Allen's Build
Danvers Square.
–Two Dollars a year.
ISEMENTS inserted at reasonable rates.

CHARLES D. HOWARD,
ITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

. NILES, Advertising Agent,
ollay's Building, Court Street, Boston, is t for that city, and is authorized to re vertisements and subscriptions for us at st rates.

Advertisements.

GOLDEN OPPORTUNITY,"
ITH A DISCOUNT!

recent fall in GOLD having produced orresponding effect on the value of HANDISE,

HAVE MARKED DOWN
Our Entire Stock of
LOTHING,
below the basis of a Gold value,
ling to customers the MOST FAVORABLE
OPPORTUNITY
Yet presented of Selecting their
NTER CLOTHING.
SAME REDUCTION EXTENDS TO THE ISTOM DEPARTMENT.
Please examine our
b Stock and Low Prices,
And let your interest decide.

. BOISE & CO.,
FACTURERS & DEALERS IN CLOTHING,
Washington Street,
BOSTON,
(Five doors south of Milk St.)
2d, 1864.

NTLEMEN'S HATS.
FALL STYLES.
of the best selected assortments of FALL and
NTER HATS in Boston, may be found at
. A. JACKSON'S,
remont and 101 Court Sts.
COMPRISING
Silk Hats,
Fine Felt Hats, and
Cloth Hats and Caps,
e latest styles.
HATS AND CAPS FOR BOYS.
—A large and well assorted stock of Ladies
ntlemen's FURS.
JACKSON'S,
Court St. and 59 Tremont St.,
28—3m. BOSTON.

EW STORE!
Flour! Flour!

RECEIVED, a fresh supply of CHOICE
ANDS, direct from the Mills, for sale,
ale and retail, at LOWEST PRICES, by
E. F. OSBORN.
Sutton's Building, Main St.
th Danvers, Nov 18, 1864.

VM. C. HENDERSON,
MANUFACTURER OF
PLAIN AND FANCY
PER BOXES;
No. 235 ESSEX STREET,
Sign of "Nest of Boxes,"
3 SALEM. tf

M. FENOLLOSA,
TEACHER OF MUSIC,
........PIANO FORTES,
at the lowest rates;
........PIANO FORTES,
at the Manufacturers Prices;
ANGES....PIANO FORTES,
on the easiest terms;
At Rooms No. 7 Central street,
SALEM, MASS.

ing Books, Making Bills and
Copying.
above business will be promptly and accurately formed by the subscriber, who may be found at
CLARK & GIDDINGS' Counting Room, on Wal t, near the Essex Depot, or by enquiring at this
jy13 tf JOHN D. HOWARD.

PECTACLES!
F. SKERRY wishes to call special attention to his stock of
pectacles and Eye Glasses,
Silver—Rubber—Steel and Horn frames, of
he keeps constantly on hand a very large as nt, embracing every style and quality.
—ALSO—
era Glasses, Microscopes, &c.
ses re-set, and Spectacles repaired.
tore, our usual assortment of Silver and Plated Jewelry, Fancy Goods, and Toys, Also, Can
are,
No. 180 Essex Street, Salem.
H. F. SKERRY.

Special Notices.

To Consumptives.

Consumptive sufferers will receive a valuable prescription for the cure of Consumption, Asthma, Bronchitis, and all Throat and Lung affections (free of charge) by sending their address to Rev. EDWARD A. WILSON, Williamsburg, Kings Co.,
sept 21—3 mos. New York.

HAGAN'S MAGNOLIA BALM.

This is the most delightful and extraordinary article ever discovered. It changes the sun burnt face and hands to a pearly satin texture of ravishing beauty, imparting the marble purity of youth, and the distingue appearance so inviting in the city belle of fashion. It removes tan, freckles, pimples and roughness from the skin, leaving the complexion fresh, transparent and smooth. It contains no material injurious to the skin. Patronized by Actresses and Opera Singers It is what every lady should have. Sold everywhere.
Prepared by W. E. HAGAN, Troy N. Y.
Address all orders to
DEMAS S. BARNES, & CO., New-York.

HEIMSTREET'S
INIMITABLE HAIR RESTORATIVE.
NOT A DYE,

But restores gray hair to its original color, by supplying the capillary tubes with natural sustenance, impaired by age or disease. All instantaneous dyes are composed of lunar caustic, destroying the vitality and beauty of the hair, and afford of themselves no dressing. Heimstreet's Inimitable Coloring not only restores hair to its natural color by an easy process,

Luxuriant Beauty,

promotes its growth, prevents its falling off, eradicates dandruff, and imparts health and pleasantness to the head. It has stood the test of time, being the original Hair Coloring, and is constantly increasing in favor. Used by both gentlemen and ladies. It is sold by all respectable dealers, or can be procured by them of the commercial agents, D. S. BARNES & CO, 202 Broadway, New York. Two sizes, 50 cents and $1.

MEXICAN MUSTANG LINIMENT.

The parties in St. Louis and Cincinnati, who have been Counterfeiting the Mustang Liniment under pretense of proprietorship, have been thoroughly estoped by the Courts. To guard against further imposition, I have procured from the U. States Treasury, a private steel plate revenue stamp, which is placed over the top of each bottle. Each stamp bears the fac simile of my Signature, and without which the article is a Counterfeit, dangerous and worthless imitation. Examine every bottle. This Liniment has been in use and growing in favor for many years. There hardly exists a hamlet on the habitable Globe that does not contain evidence of its wonderful effects. It is the best emolient in the world. With its present improved ingredients, its effects upon man and beast are perfectly remarkable. Sores are healed, pains relieved, lives saved, valuable animals made useful, and untold ills assuaged. For cuts, bruises, sprains, rheumatism, swellings, bites, cuts, caked breasts, strained horses, &c., it is a Sovereign Remedy that should never be dispensed with. It should be in every family. Sold by all Druggists.
D. S. BARNES, New-York.
March 9th, 1864.—1 yr.

LYON'S KATHAIRON.

Kathairon is from the Greek word "Kathro," or "Kathairo," signifying to cleanse, rejuvenate and restore. This article is what its name signifies. For preserving, restoring and beautifying the human hair it is the most remarkable preparation in the world. It is again owned and put up by the original proprietor, and is now made with the same care, skill and attention which gave it a sale of over one million bottles per annum.
It is a most delightful Hair Dressing.
It eradicates scurf and dandruff.
It keeps the head cool and clean.
It makes the hair rich, soft and glossy.
It prevents the hair from falling off and turning [gray.
It restores hair upon bald heads.
Any lady or gentleman who values a beautiful head of hair should use Lyon's Kathairon. It is known and used throughout the civilized world. Sold by all respectable dealers.
DEMAS S. BARNES, & CO., New-York.

THE GREAT ENGLISH REMEDY.
SIR JAMES CLARKE'S
CELEBRATED FEMALE PILLS!

Prepared from a prescription of Sir J. Clarke, M. D., Physician Extraordinary to the Queen.

This well known medicine is no imposition, but a sure cure and safe remedy for Female Difficulties and Obstructions, from any cause whatever; and, although a powerful remedy, they contain nothing hurtful to the constitution.

In all cases of Nervous and Spinal Affections, pain in the Back and Limbs, Fatigue on slight exertion Palpitation of the Heart, Hysterics, and Whites, these pills will effect a cure, when all other means have failed: and, although a powerful remedy, do not contain iron, calomel, antimony, or anything hurtful to the constitution.

Full directions in the pamphlet around each package, which should be carefully preserved.

For full particulars, obtain, free, of the agent, a pamphlet. Sold by all Druggists.

Sole United States Agent,
JOB MOSES, 27 Cortlandt St., New York.
N. B.—$1 and 6 postage stamps enclosed to any authorized agent, will insure a bottle, containing over 50 pills, by return mail. March 9, 1864.—1 yr.

DR. E. F. KITTREDGE,
From Lowell, formerly of New Ipswich, N. H.,
Has removed his office and residence to
NO. 42 MAIN STREET,
SOUTH DANVERS, MASS.

Dr. K., from an extensive and successful professional experience of upwards of twenty years, feels justified in saying that he can treat diseases to the satisfaction of his patients, and to the credit of himself.
Office hours from 7 to 9 A. M., and from 6 to 9 P. M.
South Danvers, Nov 13, 1863.

MANUAL FENOLLOSA
TEACHER
OF THE
Violin, Piano and Singing,
MUSIC ROOMS, No. 7 Central Street,
SALEM, MASS.

☞ Visit OSBORNE's Store, and look at the unusual variety of new styles in HATS and CAPS—191 Essex street.

Selected Poetry.

[From the Salem Observer.]

REV. JAMES W. PUTNAM.

Died Nov. 3d, 1864.

Our much lov'd Pastor's gone, and we
No more his voice shall hear
Salvation's heavenly notes proclaim,
In accents plain and clear.

With rapt attention have we sat,
Within the sacred dome,
To hear him tell God's glorious plan,
With solemn earnest tone.

Alas I fear, his people dear,
Cannot his loss replace,
But the blest precepts from their minds
Time never can erase.

A wife, two orphan children left,
To stem life's tide alone,
While he is done with earthly things
And reached his heavenly home.

Father of mercies wilt thou take,
Into thy special care,
These dear ones, guide them thro' life's maze,
Is our most ardent prayer;

And though their hearts are now o'erwhelm'd
With sad and sorrowing grief,
Almighty Father wilt thou bring
Unto their minds relief.

We've lost a Christian patriot tried
To God and country true,
A loss that's irreparable
And grief our hearts subdue.

But then our faith bids us to look
Unto the heavenly shore,
And where we trust to meet again
Where parting is no more.

Danvers, Nov. 5th, 1864. M. E.

Selected.

ADVENTURE WITH A SERPENT.

Capt. Speake, the celebrated African traveler, recently deceased, relates the following among other exciting incidents of his life in the jungle;—

At the earliest possible moment after our camp had been pitched, a hunt was set afoot, and Capt. Grant, myself, and some attendants, were soon making our way to 'the path.' There were no animals there when we arrived, except a few hippopotami, and we were therefore obliged to wait the coming of some more palatable game. Our patience, however, was severely taxed; and after a long delay we were about to 'bag' a hippopotamus, when one of our attendants, perched in a tree about half a mile distant, began waving his blanket. This was a signal that game was approaching. We immediately drew into cover, and awaited the coming up of the latter.

We were not delayed long, for presently a long column of animals, from the elephant to the hoo-doo, appeared in view, trotting at a good pace to the river. Their flanks were soon presented to us, and each, selecting his object, fired. McColl shot a fine young buffalo cow, while Capt. Grant was equally successful with a hoo-doo, and stopped the career of one or two different animals of the herd.

At this juncture, however, occurred an unexpected adventure, that finished our sport for that day. I had sprung forward immediately after firing, in order to obtain a fair shot at a huge elephant that I wanted to bring down on account of his immense tusks. I got the desired aim, and pulled the trigger of my second barrel. At the moment of my doing so, a wild cry of alarm, uttered by one of the blacks, called my attention. Glancing round, my eye chanced to range up into the foliage of the tree beneath which Capt. Grant and myself had lain for several hours previous.

My feelings may possibly be imagined, as I beheld an enormous boa constrictor, whose hideous head and neck, projected some distance into view, showed that he was about to make the fatal spring. His direction was certainly towards me; and as he flashed from his position like a thunderbolt, I gave myself up, for ere aid could have reached me, fold after fold of the monster would have crushed my strong frame into a quivering pulp. I fell, seemingly caught in a whirlwind of dust, and a strange, indescribable scuffle ensued. In the midst of this terrible strife, I suddenly became conscious of the presence of a second victim, and, even after the time that has elapsed since then, I still recollect with what vividness the thought shot across my mind that this second victim was Capt. Grant, my noble companion. At last, after being thus whirled about for several seconds, each second seeming to be interminable, there ensued a lull, a stillness as of death, and I opened my eyes, expecting to look upon those unexplored landscapes which are seen only in the country beyond the tomb. Instead of that, I saw Capt. Grant leveling his rifle toward me, while standing beside and behind him were the blacks, in every conceivable attitude of the most intense suspense.

In a moment, I comprehended all. The huge serpent had struck a young buffalo cow, between which and him I had unluckily placed myself at the moment of firing upon the elephant. A most singular good fortune had attended me, however, for instead of being crushed into a mangled mass with the unfortunate cow, my left forearm only had been caught in between the buffalo's body and a single fold of the constrictor. The limb lay just in front of the shoulder, at the root of the neck, and thus had a soft bed of flesh, into which it was jammed, as it were, by the immense pressure of the serpent's body, that was iron-like in hardness.

As I saw Grant about to shoot, a terror took possession of me; for if he refrained, I might possibly escape, after the boa released his folds from the dead cow; but should he fire, and strike the reptile, it would in its convulsions crush or drag me to pieces. Even as the idea came to me, I beheld Grant pause. He appeared fully to comprehend all. He could see how I was situated—that I was still living, and that my delivery depended upon the will of the constrictor. We could see every line on each other's face, so close were we; and I would have shouted or spoken, or even whispered to him, had I dared. But the boa's head was raised within a few inches of mine, and the wink of an eye would perhaps settle my doom; so I stared, stared like a dead man, at Grant and the blacks.

Presently the serpent began gradually to relax his folds, and after re-tightening them several times as the crushed buffalo quivered, he unwound one fold entirely. Then he paused. The next iron-like band was the one that held me prisoner; and as I felt it little by little unclasping, my heart stood still with hope and fear. Perhaps, upon being freed, the benumbed arm uncontrolled by my will might fall from the cushion-like bed in which it lay. And such a mishap might bring the spare fold around my neck or chest, and then farewell to the sources of the Nile. Oh, how hardly, how anxiously I struggled to command myself! I glanced at Grant and saw him handling his rifle anxiously. I glanced at the negroes and saw them still gazing as though petrified with astonishment. I glanced at the serpent's loathsome head, and saw its bright, deadly eyes watching for the least sign of life in its prey.

Now the reptile loosened its fold on my arm a hair's breadth, and now a little more, until half an inch of space separated my arm and its mottled skin. I could have whipped out my hand, but dared not take the risk. Atoms of time dragged themselves into ages, and a minute seemed eternity itself! The second fold was removed entirely, and the next one was easing. Should I dash away now, or wait a more favorable moment? I decided upon the former; and with lightning speed I bounded away toward Grant, the crack of whose piece I heard at the same instant. For the first time in my life, I was thoroughly overcome; and sinking down, I remained in a semi-conscious state for several minutes.

When I had fully recovered, Grant and the overjoyed negroes held me up, and pointed out the boa, who was still writhing in his death-agonies. I shuddered as I looked upon the effects of his tremendous, dying strength. For yards around where he lay, grass and bushes and saplings, and in fact everything except the more fully grown trees, were cut clean off, as though they had been trimmed with an immense scythe. This monster, when measured, was fifty-one feet two inches in extreme length, while round the thickest portion of its body the girth was nearly three feet, thus proving, I believe, to be the largest serpent that was ever authentically heard of.

A wife in San Francisco lately put a petition for divorce in a court on the ground that her husband was a "confounded fool." The court wouldn't admit the plea, because almost every married man would be liable to the same imputation. Did you ever!

GEN. BUTLER, in an order dismissing Second Lieutenant John Clancy, of the Colored Light Artillery, from the service, says: "He was in a state of intoxication, which is reported as beastly, but that is evidently a mistake, as beasts do not get drunk."

Romance of an Early Engagement.

The following romantic story is told of Lord March (grandson of Charles II) who afterwards became the second Duke of Richmond, and who while yet young was engaged, without being consulted as to the choice, to a lady still younger. The bride was Lady Sarah, the daughter of the Earl of Cadegan, Marlborough's favorite general. Their union (according to Napier's account) was a bargain to cancel a gambling debt between the parents, and the young Lord March was brought from college, the lady from the nursery, for the ceremony. The bride was amazed and silent, but the bridegroom exclaimed 'Surely you are not going to marry me to that dowdy!' Married he was, however, and his tutor instantly carried him off to the Continent.

Three years after this event, Lord March returned home from his travels, a most accomplished gentleman; but having such a very disagreeable recollection of his wife that he avoided home, and repaired, on the first night of his arrival, to the theatre. There he saw a lady of so fine an appearance that he asked who she was, and on being answered that she was the reigning boast, 'the beautiful Lady March,' he hastened to claim her, and they lived together so affectionately that only one year after his decease, 1750, she died of grief. One of the numerous children of this loving pair, Lady Sarah, grew up an extraordinary beauty, and attracted the attention of George III., who had then ascended the throne at the age of twenty-two, and her charms made such a deep impression on the heart of the young king that he no doubt would have married her had not influence been exerted to prevent it, and he was compelled by state policy to marry the Princess Charlotte, of Mecklenburg Strelitz, who bare him fifteen children, (of whom the Duchess of Gloucester, who died in 1857, was the last surviving.) The subsequent marriage of Lady Sarah Lennox in 1764 to Sir Thomas Charles Bunbury, Bart., who was the son of a clergyman, proved that with her, ambition was not the ruling passion. But her married life was an unhappy one, and the marriage was dissolved by an act of parliament, in 1776. She was afterwards married to the Hon. Major-General George Napier, and became the mother of a set of most remarkable men, among whom were the late Sir Charles James Napier, the conqueror of Scinde, and Lieut.-General Sir William Napier, the historian of the Peninsular War, who are thus line descendants—great great great grandsons—of Charles II. Her Ladyship died in 1826 at the advanced age of eighty-two.

A PIOUS, but illiterate deacon, in a certain town in Massachusetts, gave a stage driver a slip of paper, upon which he said was written the names of a couple of books which he wished him to call for at a bookstore. The driver called at the store and handing the memorandum to the clerk he said:

"There is a couple of books which Deacon B——wished you to send him."

The clerk, after a careful examination of the paper was unable to make "head or tail" of it, and passed it to the head book-keeper, who was supposed to know something of letters; but to him it was all Greek. The proprietor was called, and he also gave up in despair; and it was finally concluded best to send the memorandum back to the deacon, as it was supposed he must have sent the wrong paper. As the coach arrived at the village inn, the driver saw the deacon waiting on the steps.

"Well, driver," said he, "did you get my books to-day?"

"Books! no; and a good reason why, for there couldn't a man in Worcester read your hen tracks."

"Couldn't read ritin'? Let me see the paper."

The driver drew the paper from his pocket, and passed it to the deacon, who, taking out and carefully adjusting his glasses, held the memorandum at arms length, and exclaimed as he did so, in a very satisfied tone:

"Why, it's as plain as the nose on your face! "T-o S-a-m B-u-x'—(two psalm books!) "I guess his clerks had better go to school a quarter."

And here the deacon made some reflections upon the "ignorance of the times" and want of attention to books by the rising generation, which would have all been very well if said by somebody else.

IT ISN'T ALL IN BRINGING UP.

It isn't all in "bringing up,"
Let folks say what they will;
To silver scour a pewter cup—
It will be pewter still.
E'en of old wise Solomon,
Who said "train up a child,"
If I mistake not, had a son
Proved rattle-brained and wild.

A man of mark, who fain would pass
For lord of sea and land,
May have the training of a son,
And bring him up full grand;
May give him all the wealth of lore,
Of college and of school,
But after all may make no more
Than just a decent fool.

Another, raised by penury
Upon her bitter bread,
Whose road to knowledge is like that
The good to heaven may tread.
He's got a spark of nature's light,
He'll fan it to a flame,
Till in its burning letters bright,
The world may read his name.

If it were all in "bringing up,"
In counsel and restraint,
Such rascals had been honest men—
I'd been myself a saint.
O! it isn't all in "bringing up,"
Let folks say what they will!
Neglect may dim a silver cup—
It will be silver still.

The Tarring of Skipper Ireson.

The author of 'A Summer's Cruise on the Coast of New England,' says:

'We witnessed a most glorious sunset, which set off to great advantage the picturesque old town (of Marblehead,) with its quaint houses and ragged heights. As I sat on deck, gazing at it, I repeated the lines which Whittier's ballad in the Atlantic Monthly have made familiar to the public.

"Skipper Flood Ireson, for his hard heart,
Was tarred and feathered and carried in a cart."

'I was in that scrape,' said the old pilot, who overheard me.

'The deuce you were! Why, it happened long before you were born,' said I, with an indistinct impression that the 'scrape,' as he called it, was a pre-Revolutionary affair.

'It happened fifty years ago, when I was eighteen years old, and I was one of them that dragged Ireson in his dory over to Salem after he was tarred and feathered.'

'The old man proceeded to relate what he remembered of the transaction. Skipper Ireson, it will be recollected, basely passed a wreck on which were four or five men appealing to him to rescue them. He left them to perish, people of Marblehead thought because he begrudged the cost of keeping them on on board his vessel for even the short passage from Cape Cod to Cape Ann. The circumstances becoming known, the indignant Marbleheaders tarred and feathered him, put him in a boat of his own vessel, and dragged him as far as the entrance of Salem. They were stopped by the selectmen of that town, who informed them that an enraged mob was waiting for them, with the intention of hanging Ireson. According to our pilot, upon hearing this the Marblehead mob turned back, and took their victim home, because they had been strictly charged by the selectmen of Marblehead to take care that he sustained no serious injury—a circumstance which indicates a strange mixture of order and lawlessness in the proceeding.

The traditional story used by Whittier, that Ireson, as he was carried along, repeated the verses,

"I, Flood Ireson, for my hard heart, Am tarred and feathered and carried in a cart"

the pilot pronounced untrue. The verses were made afterward by the boys.

Ireson endured his punishment with fortitude, sitting like a statue, and uttering not a word, except once, the weather being extremely cold, he asked for some grog to keep him warm, when about half way on the road to Salem. His request was granted, and he made the rest of his unpleasant expedition in silence. He lived till within a few years, and was a commander of ships almost to the time of his death, the merchants favoring him because he was noted for successful voyages.

☞ Bill Anderson, the notorious guerrilla, who was recently killed in Missouri, was accustomed to put those who wished to join his band to a severe test. On one occasion he spat in the applicant's face, when the fellow knocked him down. Anderson arose and rubbing his temple, said: "swear him in, boys; any man that will knock Bill Anderson down, surrounded by his men, will do for a member of our band."

ADVICE TO A YOUNG LAWYER.—The following is the 'professional' advice of an examining judge to a lawyer on admission:—

'Sir, it would be idle to trouble you further. You are perfect; and I will dismiss you with a few words of advice, which you will do well to follow. You will find it laid down as a maxim of civil law, never to kiss the maid when you can kiss the mistress. Carry out this principle, sir, and you are safe. Never say 'boo' to a goose when she has the power to lay golden eggs. Let your face be long, your bills longer. Never put your hand into your pocket when anybody's else is handy. Keep your conscience for your own private use, and don't trouble it with other men's matters. Plaster the judge, and butter the jury. Look as wise as an owl, and be as oracular as a town clock. But above all, get money; honestly, if you can, my dear sir, but get money. I welcome you to the bar.'

☞ An immigrant family from Iowa are on the Mormon Slough. The father and his three sons are malformed, their foot being cloven in the center terminations in toes, thus giving but two toes to each foot. The fingers are nearly stumps, one of the boys having no fingers on one hand. The father has but two fingers, they having the appearance of being chopped off. The mother is dead. The malformations of this family are singular. The youngest child is dumb but can hear. The children are aged respectively sixteen, twelve, and eight years. The second child is unable to walk upright. The family crossed the plains in a spring-wagon with a single horse alone, not being in any train.

SHERIDAN AND EARLY.

Said Jubal to Philip: "You're a pretty nice man,
And I'd like a taste of your best Sherry, Dan;"
"I will furnish the treat," said Phil., "so it be,
That you in your turn will re-treat, Jubal E."

"'Tis a bargain," said Jubal; (he thought Phil.
was punning,
But the re-treat he gave all ended in running.)
"For wine that is good, Phil., I am a great sticker,
But I think of the two, you have proved the best licker;
When of Yankees I next find that I am in need,
I'll avoid Sherry, Dan, and try and take Meade."
—Boston Post.

☞ A short time ago a carpenter, at work on a building in San Francisco, sawed a beam, and in doing so, cut a knot asunder which contained a perfect miniature picture of a dog's head. The curiosity was noticed by a person who obtained one of the pieces containing the picture; and afterward the other piece was secured by the carpenter. Canine eye, face, nose and ears, in dark color, were as accurately represented as it is possible for an artist to do with a brush.

☞ A Mr. Rhinehart, of South Coventry township, Chester county, purchased a condemned Government horse recently, and discovering a wound or sore on its thigh, which showed no signs of healing, made an examination of the wound, and finding some hard substance in it, extracted it, and found it to be a lady's pocket knife, with the blade shut. How it got there is a mystery.

☞ Another bakehouse has been disinterred among the ruins of Pompeii. Nor do the bakehouses show that the people of that day lived by bread alone, for among the relics in the house adjoining a young pig was found, which was just being baked for the family dinner when they were surprised by the stroke of doom.

☞ A firm of biscuit manufacturers in Carlisle, England, by way of showing what rapid work they could do, recently reaped a field of wheat, thrashed it, ground it, and made hot biscuit out of the flour in four hours.

☞ On the post mortem examination of the body of a man who died suddenly in Waterbury, Conn., it was discovered that he had but one kidney, a fact which it is believed has no parallel on record.

☞ A little girl residing in Whitewater, Wisconsin, was strangled to death a few days ago, in endeavoring to swallow a raw oyster.

☞ A farmer in Putnam has a mile of children. His name is Furlong and he has eight sons.

he Wizard.

NESDAY, DECEMB'R 7, 1864.

WATER.

e see that our Salem friends are se- y exercised on the subject of cold . They complain loudly that they mentably deficient in this essential e of living. Yet they have a whole r full and two rivers on the borders city. Their newspapers too are f it. It pours out from them in col- and is sprinkled in paragraphs, but like Coleridge's Ancient Mariner, continually exclaim:

"Water, water, everywhere,
But not a drop to drink."

say they want good and pure water enough of it, such as is fit to boil in ea kettle and make good coffee and nd chocolate, and such also as is good ix with other liquids. We commis- the sad condition of our thirsty hbors, who must sorely lament the of that historical Town Pump which been made memorable by the genius eir own Hawthorne. For many long s we have given them all the water had to spare, and still they cry for re." We give them, too, the milk of cows, in small measure, and the milk uman kindness in large measure, but they are not satisfied. They get up eat meeting at Mechanic Hall, with allery full of ladies to ask for water, while they ask, it pours down upon n from the clouds, and yet they are not tent.

Poor mother Salem! she is fidgety and vous; she is sick and dropsical; and has water on the brain. She can be ed only by the hydropathic treatment. her by all means have a douche bath. her at least have enough to fill her hing and washing tubs — enough to ble her to make the pot boil and keep face clean. We hope for the sake of Temperance reform, that she will have ood supply for beverage as well as for anliness, and that she will drink freely hat excellent Ale called Adam's.

THE TOWN FARM.

f any one doubts as to the value of town farm when under the cultiva- n by a good farmer, let him call the provision store of Mr. Patterson, o will show him some of the prod- ts raised the present year. There he ll see golden ears of Indian corn, at st thirteen inches long,—a bunch onions weighing almost a pound ch, and a monster cabbage, closely mmed of all its outer leaves, whose re head weighs about forty pounds! will take a big pot to boil it as it beyond the capacity of a half-bushel easure to hold it.

This is but a specimen of the farm roducts this year, proving that there ill be no danger of starvation in the lms House at present. We hope his announcement will not cause a ush of applicants for board.

Our Side Walks.—It is only within few years that our road surveyors have aid much regard to the side walks and hey do not now receive too much atten- on. The best way is for house holders o take the matter into their own hands nd lay good brick side walks in front of heir premises. Every one must have no- iced the luxury of the good side walks ll the way from Trask's building to Mr. saac Elliot's, on Main Street, except hort intervals, which we hope soon to ee supplied. Those who provide these ublic conveniences deserve to be consid- red public benefactors.

Water Works.—The citizens of Sa- em voted yesterday upon the proposi- ion for constructing the new Water Works. The vote resulted about 11 to in (1,623 yeas, 151 nays) favor of the enterprise. This result is much more decisive than the most sanguine friends of the measure expected it to be. What will be done with the old works of the Aqueduct Company when the new ones are built, is not yet settled. The most probable disposition will be that they will be sold to the town of South Dan- vers.

The Freedmen.—A large meeting was held at the Peabody Institute last Wednesday evening in behalf of the suf- fering Freedmen of the South. The meet- ing was addressed by Mr. D. S. King, Rev. Mr. Safford and others, and the white slave children were there and excit- ed much interest by their songs and reci- tations. A handsome sum was collected besides a good cartload of clothing for the comfort of the poor sufferers.

The Weather.—Among the curios- ities of the present season, we learn that Mr. W. Wolcott plucked from the side of the Essex Rail Road, a bright, yellow Dandelion flower, which was growing in the open air. Pretty well for December.

Strike.—The printers of Boston made another strike last week, and—ex- hausted their entire strength.

Plantation Bitters.—Jeff. Davis's proposal to arm and free the slaves.

Peabody Lyceum.—The Introductory lecture before the Institute was well at- tended last week to hear Rev. Augustus Woodbury of Providence R. I. His sub- ject, which was Unwritten History, was treated in a manner at once pleasing and masterly, and it was delivered with such grace and eloquence as is not too common with public speakers. He has a clear and ringing voice and distinct enunciation, making every word audible in every part of the hall. The committee will do well if they can sustain, throughout the course, this auspicious beginning.

Roger A. Pryor, whose capture has already been reported, is now at Fort Lafayette. He appears quite cheerful, though he is by no means pleased with his situation and prospects. His man- ner is confident, with a dash of his usual swagger; but he converses freely about his capture. In stature he is tall, he wears long, black hair, combed toward the back of his head and falling behind his ears; his countenance has a boyish expression, and his age is thirty-five years. He is attired in a plain though good suit of Confederate gray, including a blouse; he also wears a shawl which was given him in Washington; a black felt hat, and a pair of ordinary cavalry boots.

Jute Factory.—The Salem Observ- er says that a jute factory is being built in that city, near the bridge, by Col. Francis Peabody; and the same gentle- man is establishing a machine shop on Derby Street, the second story to be used for the manufacture of melodeons. This is promising for Salem, as the es- tablishment of such branches of industry is the only hope of growth. Jute is a substance resembling hemp, being the fibre of an Eastern tree, used for making gunny cloth.

Union Club.—We understand that a Union Club has been organized in town and that they are to hold their meetings one evening a week at Union Store Hall, and are to keep that room open and furnished, every other evening, ex- cept Sunday, as a news room.

The first meeting will be held next Monday evening, at which the following question will be debated by the society, disputants having been already appoint- ed, viz:—"Was the course of Capt. Collins in capturing the Florida at Bahia justifiable?"

Provisions.—Any one who will look into the Provision Store lately occupied by Mr. Wilkins, will see a great altera- tion for the better in the appearance and fixtures of the establishment. Every- thing is as neat and pleasant as it can be made, and there is a full supply of everything needed for satisfying the wants of the inner man. There you will see the pleasant countenance of Mr. Charles D. Tilton, the new propri- etor, who is always ready and wiilling to wait upon the hungry customer.

Rare Coin.—A man supposed to be insane, paid in Cleveland, Ohio, the oth- er day, a strangely modelled piece of white metal, and departed. The man who received it gives this description of it: "On one side a woman, sitting on a wheel, holding in one hand a stick, on the top of which is a nightcap. The other side has a large chicken on it. Antiquarians who have examined the piece say it is the ancient quarter dollar which passed for currency in an earlier period of the country.

Supplying Lynn with Pure Wa- ter.—The citizens of Lynn are moving in the matter of securing a supply of pure water. It is proposed to take wa- ter from Cedar and Sluice ponds, and pump it into a reservoir to be situated near "High Rock." The water of these ponds is represented as remarkably pure. The cost of the work is estimated at $252,843.

Fiendish.—Last Wednesday evening an attempt was made to throw off the train on the Saugus Branch Railroad, in Malden, by putting a number of sleepers on the rails. The engine was slightly damaged, with no other injury. Similar attempts have previously been made.

"The Old Farmer's Almanac."— We have received a copy of this welcome annual for 1865, from the publishers, Brewer & Tileston, 131 Washington St., Boston.

New Depot.—It is said that the new depot of the Essex Railroad will not be erected for the present, as a suitable site cannot be had upon satisfactory terms.

☞ There will be a meeting of the "Band of Hope" in the Town Hall this (Wednesday) afternoon, at 2 1-2 o'clock. All are invited to attend.

Spiritualism.—It is said that there are now in Paris 60,000 believers in Spiritualism. Hume converted a great number.

The Last Draft to fill our armies: The draft on the turkey roosts.

[From the Philadelphia Press.]

General Hancock's New Corps.

General Hancock, who has received authori- ty from the War Department to raise another army corps, does not permit impaired health to remove him from practical interest in the war in which he has borne so brave a part. When restored to vigor, he will re-enter the field with a new column of veterans, having performed only less service in his absence than by his skill and daring in the campaign. The new corps, it is intended, will be composed principally of veterans, and number 20,000 infantry, to be enlisted between this time and the new year, for a term of service not less than twelve months. An extra bounty of three hundred dollars will be paid on the muster of the recruit into service, and the officers of the command will be soldiers of at least two years' experi- enced service. Those who enlist will be cred- ited to their home districts, and all who retain their arms to the close of their service will be permitted to keep them as perpetual heirlooms. We presume that the new veteran corps will be recruited from all parts of the country, and it is not too much to expect that, with the great inducements held out both to the honor and profit of the soldier, the whole force will be raised by the first of the New Year. Gen- eral Hancock is the most popular corps com- mander in the army, and veterans out of ser- vice will be satisfied to take the field with him once more. The personal course of this young and noble leader is that of true gallantry and soldierly devotion; and the flower of our fight- ing population should gather to his standard.

The Condition of our Prisoners recently received by exchange from Georgia is horrible. They have suffered to the extent of human en- durance; and thousands and thousands have perished from exposure and want of nourish- ment and medicines. The condition of the prisons of Europe, when Howard appealed to the great heart of humanity for reform, was not worse than that at Andersonville, where 30,000 prisoners were confined inside of a stockade of only eighteen acres, destitute of shelter and blankets, and not half supplied with food and water. Three thousand died in August, and a larger number in September; and those who are exchanged are little better than dead; probably one half of them will never be in good health again. The dungeons of Naples under Bomba could not tell half so sad a story as the prisons in rebeldom. Other prisons are like that at Andersonville, to which we have referred. The Yorkville Enquirer's correspondent at Florence, South Carolina, states that there are over ten thousand prison- ers in the stockade there, and that one thousand have died from scurvy. They exchange rings, pipes, inkstands and straw hats for potatoes, which are the only vegetables to be had.

Steam Plowing in England.—The farmers in England are forming societies for the pur- pose of profitably employing the steam plow to cultivate their land. It is said to be vastly superior to the old system of plowing by horse draught. The time required in turning over the soil is so much reduced that every advan- tage can be taken of the weather, and even wet days present no such obstacles to work with the steam plow as with the old one. The earth is more effectually turned over, and more thoroughly and exactly prepared for the recep- tion of the seed; and, above all, money is saved not only in the cost of tilling, but in the enhanced value of the crops, resulting from the improved method of cultivation. Com- panies are formed for plowing and threshing by steam, who rent to the farmers the use of their apparatus, and they are said to earn a very large dividend, so that the new system must be profitable to both the farmer and the plowing company.

The Electoral Vote of Massachusetts.— By the official count of the Electoral Votes, as made by the Governor and Council, the result in Massachusetts was as follows, for Electors at Large:

Lincoln.
Edward Everett,	126,742
Whiting Griswold,	126,626
McClellan.
Robert C. Winthrop,	48,745
Erasmus D. Beach,	48,586

The majority for Lincoln lacks only three votes of being 78,000!

For the other Electors there were errors in the votes, causing some discrepancies; but the test vote is shown by the respective numbers for Messrs. Everett and Winthrop. Of the Electoral candidates for this District, John G. Whittier (Lincoln) had 121,211; S. Endicott Peabody (McClellan) had 48,879.

In Berlin an association has been formed by the Jews for the colonization of Palestine by Jewish laborers. If the tide of emigration that is now coming west could be turned east- ward, they would soon have Israelites enough in Palestine to re-establish their nation, and restore the country to all the grandeur, glory, learning and power of Solomon's time. This can easily be seen by the number of Jews com- ing to this country. In New York city alone they are estimated at seventy thousand, and they have thirty-two congregations, each hav- ing its own synagogue and school. There must be half a million in this country, though many of them are not Orthodox Jews. They are very intelligent, industrious and sober, and have far above the average of wealth. The modern Jews, running back to the days of the Patriarchs, have sprung from the worst stock the world ever saw; but they are to-day in mind and morals and business capacity among the foremost people of the world.

A Woman in Man's Costume.—Miss Sallie M. Munroe, of New Berlin, Chenango County, New York, a practising physician of the hy- dropathic school, has permanently adopted the masculine attire—not merely Bloomers—but the veritable dress of a gentleman, from hat to boots. Miss Munroe, who makes a fine looking cavalier on horseback or on foot, usu- ally wears a black coat and buff waistcoat, with plain, gilt buttons, blue trousers, boots, and hat, all good cut. She wears the mascu- line in preference to the feminine dress, be- cause she conceives the former to be better adapted to the active duties of her profession.

Maize Paper.—The sale of maize paper in the government printing office at Vienna, has increased so largely that paper made of oth- er substances is liable to a very dangerous competition. Many private establishments have already made heavy purchases of this paper, manufactured in the Imperial mill. It is also used for printing the new paper curren- cy.

Degeneracy of the Times.—The degen- eracy of the times and the deterioration of the race have been fruitful themes for all ages. There are, no doubt, periods when the stand- ard is lowered and humanity dwarfed, but as a whole there is no question that men are constantly becoming better and happier; stronger, bigger and longer-lived. There is nothing that shows how we are deceived in the prevailing opinions more than the estab- lished facts relating to human stature. Pliny in his day said that the race was daily becom- ing smaller; and if that had been true, there would before this have been a striking dim- inution. Homer also spoke disparagingly of his generation in comparison with the heroes of the Trojan war. And so it has been for thousands of years, the opinion constantly prevailing, that the human form is degenerat- ing. We hear the old men speak the same way; their fathers and their grandfathers were giants. But this is all fiction. The oldest human remains show us that it is no such thing. The Egyptian coffins that are four thousand years old, are of the same size as ordinary coffins—seldom more than six and a half feet. So the mummies that have been preserved since the days of Moses are positive proof that the inhabitants of that country were not superior in size to the present inhab- itants. So in all lands—the ancient statues, armors, helmets and breastplates give evidence of the same fact, as do the houses of antiquity. Man physically improves by civilization, as we see by savages everywhere. Intellectually and morally, the evidence is not, of course, of so positive a character; but it is conclusive that men, taken as a whole, are wiser and bet- ter to-day than on any other day since the world was created.—Newburyport Herald.

☞ The Detroit Advertiser says the low stage of water in the western lakes is something remarkable. A fall of about two feet has recently taken place, and the water is now four feet lower than in 1861. At some of the ports on Lake Huron it is now difficult to make landings, where formerly there was wa- ter to spare.

Another Free State to be.—The recent election in Missouri, carried by the radical Republicans, settles the slavery question for that great State.— The State Constitutional Convention will assemble early in January, and then the work will be done quickly.

☞ A brother and sister met in Low- ell, on Thanksgiving Day, who had not seen each other before for more than for- ty years. The sister is 76 years of age, resides in Lowell with a son. The brother who is 71 years of age resides in Maine.

Where's Sherman?—The only news we have from Sherman is from the Rich- mond papers, one of which says that "he is rushing like a steam engine along the railroad of Georgia, penetrating the very heart of the Confederacy."

☞ To those interested in sustaining a permanent military organization in this town, we would state that there will be a meeting in Town Hall to-morrow even- ing, to make arrangements for that pur- pose.

☞ The dresses of the Southern la- dies, new at the beginning of the rebel- lion, have now been so often turned and re-turned, and altered, and mysteriously manipulated, as to make it impossible to repair them again.

The Slave Children.—We would remind the readers of the Wizard that they can obtain photographs of the three slave children from New Orleans at the Jewelry Store of B. F. Stevens.

Fires.—The losses by fires this year, counting only those where the loss ex- ceeded $20,000, and not including those by the Union and rebel armies, exceeds twenty-six million dollars.

Mrs. Cora L. V. Hatch, the elo- quent and accomplished extemporaneous speaker, will lecture in Lyceum Hall, Salem, next Friday evening.

Gen. Cushing's position is defined by the following paragraph from the Washington Chronicle (semi-official) of Tuesday: "We are gratified to hear, as we do upon the best authority, that the Hon. Caleb Cushing of Massachusetts has for more than two years past heartily co-operating with the friends of the Union. The experience of Gen. Cushing as a statesman, jurist and public speaker, will render him a most valuable supporter of Mr. Lincoln's administration in this important crisis."

Lydia Maria Child writes that when Ma- ryland had become a free State it took ten years off her age at once. She adds:

"If I had acted out my impulses, I would have swung my bonnet and given three hur- rahs; but it is not proper for women to obey their impulses, you know. I hope, some time or other, to get to a world where spontaneity is not always improper. That must be the reason why they never grow old in the other world."

Civilized Warfare.—We have been shown a bullet of the most modern invention, and now in use by one side or the other in our war, that is in two parts; one designed to go through the body it strikes, while the second, or hinder part, coming in contact with the body, will be detached and remain in it; and that has a cav- ity filled with poison. This is an improvement upon the Indian mode of fighting with poison- ed arrows.—Newburyport Herald.

M. Brice, "the giant of the Vosges Moun- tains," is visiting Edinburgh. He is eight feet high, four feet six around the waist, wears a ring presented to him by the Emperor which is three times as long as ordinary rings, and sleeps on a bed nine feet six inches long.

QUI BONO.

BY H. Q., ESQ.

The people, O the people,
Not those up in the steeple,
Of whom Poe—one Edgar A—
Has such horrid things to say
In his poem of the Bells,—
How the music of it swells
Through my brain,
Till it almost gives me pain,—
But the common human creatures,
With their common hum-drum features,
Of these people, laughing, crying,
Eating, drinking, and then—dying,—
Much I wonder,
Much I ponder,
How this shifting, drifting throng,
Manages to get along;
How they keep themselves together,
In this shaky, eastern weather;
How they bear life's jar and bother,
What they think of one another,
What they think about themselves—
Poor, unhappy, aimless elves—
Walking in a sort of maze,
Days and nights, and nights and days,
Filled with joy, depressed with sorrow,
Hoping, dreading, some to-morrow,
So I wonder
Still, and ponder,
On this thing that seems to be,
But a walking, talking tree;
On this witless, worthless elf,
This so widely different self;
On this boy, this man, this woman,
On this being known as human;
On this life that walks about,
This embodiment of doubt;
On this doubt that questions still,
Can All Good bring forth such ill?
Much I wonder
Still, and ponder,
For the all that I can know
Is, that, here is a joy and woe;
Little pleasure, much of pain,
Much of chaff, and little grain;
Much that's planned, and little wrought,
Many words and little thought,—
For everything that I see here
Is now a smile and then a tear,—
Something more may be, up yonder,—
So I wonder,
Doubt and ponder,
Ponder in a deeper maze,
Through the ever-darkening days,
As the doubt grows darker still,
Whether there be good or ill?
Yet I neither sigh nor moan,
For, too many years have flown
Since the first man bowed his head,
With a shrinking, nameless dread,
In the face of the cold heaven,
Which no answer yet has given
To his cry, so wild and deep,
"Is there aught but dreamless sleep?"
And betwixt his day and mine,
Men have doubted at each shrine
By, or unto whom, 'twas reared.
Some have hoped, but all have feared,
So tis 'not fit that in the rime—
This sere and yellow leaf of time—
That I should vex the listening air
With vain complaint or anxious prayer
For better guides, for light more pure,
For deeper trust, for faith more sure,
Than that which led far weaker souls
By harder paths to higher goals.

So the cup of life I quaff—
Sometimes cry and sometimes laugh.
Enough for me that I am here,
"What shall be doth not yet appear,"
Otherwise, it may be yonder;
So I wonder,
Trust and ponder.

The Victory of Thomas over Hood at Franklin was more decided than at first stated. The rebels numbered two to one of the Union army, but the latter had an advantage in their fortifications, which the rebels have so often availed themselves of, and the consequence was a rebel loss in killed, of three to our one, and in wounded, of six to our one. The falling back of Thomas, after the battle, was strategical, as he took up a stronger position before Nashville, close to gunboats and iron-clads on the river, and hopes to be able to swing around one wing of his army upon Hood's flank and rear, if he presses forward.

Soldiers' Fairs.—The New York Herald says that some persons who were in straightened circumstances before they got their fingers into matters connected with "Soldiers' Fairs," now keep their carriages, and live in style! It is also said that some of the philanthropic man- agers of Sanitary Fairs, the Christian Commission, and other charitable insti- tutions developed by the war, are "mak- ing a good thing" out of their devoted labors. It is believed that the larger portion of the money collected to aid these objects, is absorbed in "expenses."

Danvers Farmers' Club.—This or- ganization will hold its first meeting for the season at Town Hall this (Wednes- day) evening, at 7 o'clock.

☞ The vote of Philadelphia city footed up 99,800, which is supposed to indicate a population of about 700,000.

Eve.—The learned Buxtorf informs us in his Hebrew Lexicon, that the primeval name, Eve, is derived from a root signifying talk; that it was, perhaps, from a dim idea of this kind that the Rabins owed their tradition that twelve baskets of chit-chat—it could not be gossip, for there were no neighbors to gossip about—were rained down into Paradise for Adam and Eve to amuse themselves with, of which Adam picked up three, and Eve picked up the other nine.

☞ One of Sherman's latest and best orders is the one authorizing soldiers to dispose of guerrillas as they "see fit." How the boys "see fit" may be judged from the capture and hanging of Captain Henderson and fourteen of his men on Saturday. Henderson was the leader of the gang that has been pouncing on the Atlanta road for the past three months.— The soldiers "saw fit" to hang him, and they hung him.

[The following communication comes from an esteemed correspondent, and we give it insertion, as we fully accord with most of its statements—but we cannot give our endorsement to the whole. We approve of his suggestion to lay aside all special organizations, whose end is accomplished by the result of the elec- tion, and we would do nothing to pre- vent a full and cordial union of all loyal men to sustain the present administra- tion of the State and National govern- ments.—Ed.]

THE LATE ELECTION.

The election is over and the result has proved that the American people are not disposed to yield to a rebellion, or to give up their govern- ment framed by the wisdom, and secured by the sacrifices of the fathers. We have been in a position of extreme peril, but a kind Provi- dence has watched our steps and aided us in escaping the terrible evils which surrounded us. This great result has been accomplished by the hearty co-operation of the Union men throughout the country.

In the early part of the campaign there were many elements of discord in the Union party, but every one has felt that it was necessary to bury past differences and unite together for the salvation of the country. The success of the Union party in the last election was due more to the exertions of the National Union League of America, than to any other kind of organ- ization. This great organization extended throughout every section of the country, and, by its effective discipline and extensive pub- lications, secured the united action of the loyal men of the country. Having been es- tablished first in the border States, it was necessary, for security, to make it a secret organization, which character it maintained throughout the whole country and during the whole campaign. This very element increased its efficiency, for many were thereby attracted towards the organization and became prompt and ardent workers in the cause of the Union, who otherwise would have been indifferent. Multitudes, also, who had formerly worked with the Democratic party, joined its ranks, who would have hesitated from joining openly a party against which they had always fought, and towards which they had many bitter prejudices.

This organization was very extensive in the Western States, and to it may be ascribed the great Union majorities there obtained. It also could be easily demonstrated that, but for the Union League in New York, that great State would have cast its electoral vote for McClellan. In Massachusetts its organization was not very extensive, there being but very little need of its services. An exception must be made, however, in the 3d and 4th Congressional Dis- tricts, which were the only districts in the State seriously contested by the Democrats. In these districts the League was very active and powerful, and, by its constant labor and a daily succession of brilliant gatherings, ac- complished its glorious work and secured the re-election of Messrs. Rice and Hooper.

The Union League has always worked harmoniously with the Union party, and every member able to go to the polls, voted for the nominees of that party.

The leading men of the Union Republican party have carefully nurtured the League as an important auxiliary in the great contest, and the results produced have shown their wisdom.

In our own town the League has hardly received the consideration due to its merits. Those who assumed to lead the Union party in town became jealous of the League in its earliest existence, fearing, probably, lest it might interfere with some of their darling plans. These self-constituted leaders, by un- scrupulous misrepresentations, have endeavor- ed to bring the League into disrepute; and their heaviest blows, during the whole cam- paign, have been aimed against the members of the League, rather than against our com- mon opponents.

The citizens of this town are too intelligent to be much longer deceived by men whose sole political efforts are expended in defaming as good Union men as themselves, and in haunt- ing conventions and members of Congress for the purpose of bargaining and wriggling their favorites into office and place.

Now that the elections are over, and the result is assured, it will probably not be neces- sary to maintain longer the organization of the Union League. It has accomplished its work and may be laid aside, and forgotten like the cape and lantern of the Wide-Awakes of the campaign of 1860.

The Union party, however, must not sink away into the repose of security. We have an active enemy ready at any moment to take advantage of any misstep we may make. Le us beware of any undue depression of spirit in case reverses should happen to our arms; and greatest of all, let us beware, lest with too much desire for the precious blessing of peace, we do not yield to the re-establishment in our nation of slavery, which has been the primal cause of all our troubles.

Union.

"Christ Blessing Little Children" is the name of a beautiful line and stipple en- graving shown us this morning by the agent, Mr. G. L. Blackmer, from Western Massachu- setts. Mr. B. has procured a fine list of sub- scribers in Salem, including many of the first families. He is now stopping in town a few days and will give the people of South Dan- vers, Danvers and vicinity an opportunity to see this beautiful work of art. The plate is now new and gives very fine impressions. It was engraved by Geo. E. Perine, of New York, one of the best artists in America. It is a dif- ferent thing altogether from the one that was circulated here a year ago. It represents one of the most touching scenes in the Saviour's life. Open your doors to Mr. B., for he con- fers a favor on those whom he urges to pur- chase this rare engraving.

Warren National Bank.

The annual meeting of the Stockholders of the Warren National Bank for the choice of Di- rectors for the year ensuing, and for the trans- action of any other business that may legally come before them, will be held at their Bank Rooms on TUESDAY, January 10, 1865, at 9 o'clock, A. M. Per order,

FRANCIS BAKER, Cashier.

South Danvers, Dec. 7. 1m

☞ The Florida coral reefs are now esti- mated to be 5,400,000 years old. We think it is time those reefs were shaken out.

☞ Dr. Dio Lewis's "Normal Institute for Physical Education," located in Boston, Mass., incorporated in 1861, and employing several eminent Professors, will open its Winter Term for 1865 on the 2d of January next. Already nearly two hundred graduates of this institu- tion are at work in the cities and towns of the northern States. Of these, about two-thirds are ladies.

Ladies and gentlemen who would enter the New Profession, and become teachers of the popular system of Gymnastics, can send to Dr. Dio Lewis for a circular.

The old Knickerbocker says: "Success to Dr. Lewis. Gentlemen or ladies who would do real good in this world, and would learn a calling whose practitioners are every day in- more request, should qualify themselves to be- come teachers at the Normal Institute."

Shopping.—Boys will be boys, and will "wear out," about as fast as parents can sup- ply, the needed garments. The only method that can be adopted to check the rapid accu- mulation of tailors bills, is, to be careful in purchasing. See that you get good cloth, and that it is well made up. Among the foremost who pay particular attention in this branch of the clothing business, is Lane & Co., whose Clothing Palace is almost as famous as Faneuil Hall, that keeps it company, and not only boys but men can find here the very best of ready- made clothing, well put together, and at rea- sonably low prices. Give this well known enterprising firm a call the next time you visit Boston.

Furnishing Goods. — Among the many branches of trade that have increased from small beginnings to a large, important and growing business, perhaps there is none more marked than in the Ladies' Furnishing De- partment. A day or two since we chanced to look in at the storage room of Mr. John P. Peabody, and were surprised at the extent, variety and amount of stock in such an estab- lishment. Among other articles we noticed. (many of them in the original packages) was a stock of handkerchiefs, sufficient we thought to supply a city, and yet upon Mr. Peabody's principle of "good articles, quick sales and small profits," we presume will soon be dispos- ed of. The public seem to appreciate this prin- ciple in trade.—Obs.

To Let.

A tenement on Walnut Street, near Har- mony Grove. Enquire of

Dec. 7—4w W. P. CLARK.

KID GLOVES, $1.25.
KID GLOVES, $1.25.
KID GLOVES, $1.25.
KID GLOVES, $1.25.
KID GLOVES, $1.25.
KID GLOVES, $1.25.
KID GLOVES, $1.25.
KID GLOVES, $1.25.
KID GLOVES, $1.25.
KID GLOVES, $1.25.
KID GLOVES, $1.25.
KID GLOVES, $1.25.

James F. Almy & Co. have a line of French Kid Gloves, regular makes, fine and elastic, at $1.25 a pair. They are a bargain.

nov 30 JAMES F. ALMY & CO.

Railroad Arrangement.

South Reading Branch.

Trains leave South Danvers for Salem, at 8.30 A. M., 12.45, 2.45 and 5 45.

Leave Salem for South Danvers, at 7.50, 9.55 A. M., 2.05 and 5 P. M.

Essex Railroad.

Trains leave South Danvers for Salem, at 7.08, 7.50, 8.48, A. M., 1.28, 6.18, 7.03, P. M.

Leave Salem for South Danvers, at 6.55, 11.15, A. M., 4.45, 5.45, P. M.

J. PRESCOTT, Sup't.

So. Danvers, Dec. 7, 1864.

Attention, Co. C!

Members of Co. C, 5th Regiment, M. V. M., and all others interested in the formation of a good military organization in South Danvers, are requested to meet at the TOWN HALL, on Thursday Evening, Dec. 8th, 1864.

Per Order.

So. Danvers, Dec. 7, 1864.

Fashionable Dress-Making.

Mrs. W. J. Bennett would respectfully in- form the ladies of South Danvers and vicinity that she has taken rooms in Mr. Henry M. Merrill's house, on Lowell Street, and will do dress-making in the latest styles. No pay received unless satisfaction is given.

South Danvers, Nov. 30, 1864.* tf

Episcopal Services.

Divine Service, according to the order of the Protestant Episcopal Church, will be held in the Town Hall on the next Sunday evening, Decem'r 11th,) commencing at 7 o'clk. These service will be held, also, on each succeeding Sunday evening, at the same hour.

These services are in the charge of the Rev. GEORGE D. WILDES, Rector of Grace Church, Salem. As at present conducted, they are wholly free; and all persons interested are affectionately invited to attend.

If the weather should be stormy on any evening appointed, the service will be omitted.

Dec'r 7, 1864.

THE GREATEST BARGAIN

We have offered this Season!

We have received this day, one Case

CASHMERE PLAIDS,

All-Wool, full one yard wide—magnificen styles and colors—at $1.45 per yard, forme price $2 25.

JAMES F. ALMY & CO.,
188 Essex Street.

Port of Danvers.

Ar 26th schs Ada Herbert, Crowell, New York Doris, Monsey, Bangor.

Marriages.

In this town, Dec. 2d, by Rev. Mr. Barbour, Mr. Joh H. Moser to Miss Emma I. Shaw, both of Danvers.

In Salem, Dec. 1st, by Rev Mr Wilson, Hall Curtis Boston, to Alice Dodge Silsbee, daughter of John Silsbee Esq., of Salem.

Nov. 22d, by Rev Mr Carleton, Mr Garrett Fitzgera to Miss Mary Ann Ragen

In Gloucester, Nov 26th, by Rev Mr Skinner, Mr Je emiah Goodhue of Essex, to Miss Sarah E. Burding Salem.

In Newburyport, Nov 28th, by Rev Mr Borden, M Calvin R. Titcomb of Rowley, to Miss Mary F. Pip of Newburyport.

In Newbury, N. H., Mr. Albert Henry Perkins South Danvers, Mass., to Sarah Jane Perkins of Ne bury, N. H.

Deaths.

[Deaths are recorded gratuitously; but funeral notices are charged 25 cents. Obitu poetry and notices are chargeable at 6¼ cent line.]

In Salem, Nov. 28th, Mr. James Flinn, 45 year Thomas, son of Thomas and Mary Collins, 20 year Dec. 2d, Mr Charles Richardson, 86 years 3 mos; 4 Mrs. Lydia Mackdermott, 62 yrs 10 mos; Mr. Brya Newcomb, 83 yrs 4 mos 25 days.

In Beverly, Nov 25, Mrs Edesta P, widow of the l Thomas Pousland, 60 yrs 6 mos; 28th, Miss Mehita Chadwick, 77 years.

In Hamilton, Nov 30, Mr Benjamin Dodge, 75 yrs.

In Charlestown, Nov 30th, Benjamin Crowninshi Esq., formerly of Salem, 82 yrs.

In Boston, Nov 16, Mrs Mary R Motley, formerl Marblehead, 62 years.

ffice.

" Beatswain's Whistle"
ies at the store of D. P.

for LEWANDO'S FRENCH
M. E. CRANE.
tf

Overcoats, $60, $55, $50,
$35, $33, $32, $30, $28,
$19, $18, $17, $16, $15,
$10. One Price only at
15 Dock Square, Boston.

thing call at BENNETT &
, 14 and 15 Dock Square,

Pants, $17, $16, $15, $14,
$9, $8, $7.50, $7, $6.50,
0, $4, $3.50, $3, $2.50, at ne Price House, 14 and 15

Furnishing Goods, Shirts
rment made to order, call
One Price House, 14 and ton.

on of Beds.

now injurious to health is the foul feathers, they would lose renovated and made perfectly a good thing to "air" the bed it this does not cure effectually ers which have for a long time good physician will tell you health to sleep on beds which the exhalations of the human THWICK does this service in a process perfectly effectual. He cy of the improvement for this owns. If you would have free-quiet and healthful sleep, call n Park Street.

Richardson's
OOT ELIXIR!
r COSTIVENESS, and the best OF THE LIVER, and all IMPURI-

s in medicine generally and a anover St., Boston.

ontaining its history, &c.
3m

tisements.

REAL ESTATE.

rs or sale the following Lots of ildings thereon, at private sale,
n such as then remain unsold,
c Auction :
two-story DWELLING HOUSE
Street. This house is well sup-conveniences, is plea antly situand is a very desirable residence.
for building purposes on Wald at moderate prices and fair

, on a Court south of said street,
HOUSES, planned for two fam-stories high, the other one and a e good tenants and yield a good d chance for investment.
English Streets, one one-story and one-story-and-a-half House.
excellent opportunity for enter-secure places for business and easonable terms. Such a chance cur.
purchase any of the above lots and terms on application to AN-m Street.

SAMUEL D. PENDAR.
ember 7, 1864. tf

) LET.

nement of eight rooms, near the Station at Danversport to let.—
MES D. BLACK, Danversport.

38 PER TON.

N'S PATENT
Weather Stripes,
NDOW BANDS,
1-3 of your Coal Bills,
Tops, Bottoms, Sides and Centres
ows and Sky Lights, of every de-
, snow and dust proof, without free use of the same for ventilat-mes.

E. H. STATEN,
. 147 Essex Street, Salem.
lem, South Danvers, Marblehead
dec 7—2m

t of Letters

laimed in the Post Office at South
, Dec. 6, 1864.
any of these letters, the applicant
RTISED LETTERS, give the date of e cent for advertising.
d for within one month, they will Letter Office.
from 7½ A. M. to 8 P. M,

John Baxter
D. F Leavitt
Edwin McKage
Terence McSweeny
James Torseny
William Ward

DANIEL WOODBURY, P. M.

YOUNG FOLKS.
zine for Boys and Girls, will be is-10th of December, and will be a ook.
HIPPLE & A. A. SMITH
specimen copies, and will receive es $2 00 a year, or cents a number.

VANTED.
N to learn the Dry Goods Business,
s had some experience. To a youth ood abilities, an excellent opportuni-
JAMES F. ALMY & CO.

EPERS, ATTENTION!

CKSON'S FURNISHING ROOMS,
CHANIC HALL, Salem.

ommencing House-Keeping will find ce in Salem where a COMPLETE AS-se-Keeping articles can be found.

SS GOODS
—AND—
LL WARES.

All the new and choice styles of Dress Buttons.

Head Nets,
Lace Veils,
Ladies' Clouds,
Lace Edging,
Head Dresses,
Braids, Trimmings,
Hosiery, Gloves, &c.,

D THIS MORNING
—AT—
sex Street, Salem.
marked down so low that all in want
DS and SMALL WARES will really 164.

J. E. P. FEARING.

Ladies' Furnishing Goods.

OLD PRICES.

A FAILED JOBBER'S Stock of Hem Stitched Linen Handkerchiefs.

Over 100 Qualities.

All Prices, from 34 cts. to $1.50 each.

FROM $3.75 to $15.00 PER DOZEN.

Cheaper than Plain Linen Handkerchiefs are sold now.

We have been in New York during the past week, and have opened THIS WEEK, some splendid bargains in many kinds of Goods.—We bought a job lot of LINEN HEM STITCHED HDKFS., at about half their cost, and shall sell them at a very small advance.

UNDRESSED KID GLOVES,
BEST FRENCH KID GLOVES,

In all sizes, at less than regular rates.

WE SHALL CONTINUE OUR SALE AT OUR LOW PRICES FOR A FEW DAYS LONGER.

A fresh Invoice of the Best KID GLOVES, in Stitched backs—long wrist, and undressed—all sizes and colors.

J. P. PEABODY,
220 Essex Street.

GREAT BARGAINS THE PRESENT WEEK.

50 CENTS.

$1 00 MOURNING HEM STITCHED HDKFS. for 50 cents, at PEABODY'S.

35 CENTS.

75 cent HEM STITCHED LINEN HDKFS for 35 cents, or three for $1 00, at PEABODY'S.

GREAT BARGAINS THE PRESENT WEEK.

OLD PRICES.

A FAILED JOBBER'S Stock of Hem Stitched Linen Handkerchiefs.

Over 100 Qualities.

All Prices, from 34 cts. to $1.50 each.

FROM $3.75 TO $15.00 PER DOZEN.

Cheaper than Plain Linen Handkerchiefs are sold now.

We have been in New York during the past week, and have opened THIS WEEK some splendid bargains in many kinds of Goods.—We bought a job lot of LINEN HEM STITCHED HDKFS., at about half their cost, and shall sell them at a very small advance.

UNDRESSED KID GLOVES,
BEST FRENCH KID GLOVES.

In all Sizes, at less than regular rates.

WE SHALL CONTINUE OUR SALE AT OUR LOW PRICE FOR A FEW DAYS LONGER.

A fresh Invoice of the Best KID GLOVES, in Stitched backs—long wrist, and undressed—all sizes and colors.

J. P. PEABODY,
220 Essex Street.

J. F. Almy & Co.

Winter Cloaks.

We have now in Stock a splendid variety of Winter Cloaks in all Styles and Grades of Cloth.

Our Garments are made from our own Cloths, in the most thorough manner, at our Rooms at Salem.

The prices at which we sell our Cloaks are not greatly in advance of last year, as our Cloths were bought either before or since the terrible high prices at which many stocks of Cloths were bought.

We have a very large stock of Cloths, comprising

Chinchillas,
Plush Beavers,
Whitney Coatings,
Frieze Beavers,
Union Beavers,
Tricots,
Doeskins, &c.,

With Trimmings, &c., to match. All of which we are selling at prices that are moving them very fast.

We are prepared to make to order from measure any style of Outside Garment for Ladies and Children.

JAMES F. ALMY & CO.,
188 Essex St., Opp. Central Street.

Salem, Nov. 16, 1864.

Browning & Long.

Remember
THE GREAT DISCOUNT SALE!
—AT—
BROWNING & LONG'S.

EVERY THING
—IN OUR—LARGE STOCK
—AT A—REDUCTION!

OUR
GERMAN WORSTEDS!
SELLING RAPIDLY
At the Low Prices.

THE LARGEST VARIETY OF COLORS EVER SEEN HERE.

MOST ELEGANT WORSTED GOODS

SPLENDID NEW STYLES
IMPORTED HOODS.

OUR FAMOUS
SHERIDAN JACKET.

GLOVES,
HOSIERY,
UNDERGARMENTS,
ALL AT THE REDUCTION!

"THE NEW SKIRT,"
CONCEDED BY EVERY ONE TO BE THE MOST SENSIBLE SKIRT EVER INVENTED.

FRENCH FLUTING.
QUILLING, GOFFERING AND CRIMPING.

Flounces, from 1 to 20 inches deep, fluted in the very latest style and in every kind of fabric.

This is the newest, most elegant, and cheapest style of Trimming.

BROWNING & LONG,
LADIES' FURNISHING STORE,
177 Essex Street, 177
SALEM.

☞ Our Store closes every Evening, Saturdays excepted, at 6 o'clock.

Dec. 7, 1864.

THE WAR.

HORACE GREELEY'S great Book on the War, Vol 1—illustrated with maps and cuts—The American Conflict, a history of the Great Rebellion of America, 1860—'64.
Nov 9 G. M. WHIPPLE & A. A. SMITH.

PEABODY'S LADIES' FURNISHING STORE.

BARGAINS.

WOOLEN YARNS

10 CENTS PER SKEIN,

Blue Mixed Yarn	10 cents.
White Yarns	10 "
Drab Yarns	10 "
Slate Yarns	10 "
Random Yarns	10 "

—ALL—

MARKED DOWN TO 10 CENTS.

STOCK ALL MARKED DOWN,
RIBBONS, FLOWERS
—AND—
RUCHES.

The best bargains in the city—Ribbons at very low prices. Flowers and Ruches to suit everybody, at prices below competition.

Bargains in Ribbons.
Bargains in Flowers.
Bargains in Ruches.

LOWER THAN GOLD.

BEST BLACK WORSTEDS,
only 25 cents.
BEST WHITE WORSTEDS,
only 25 cents.
COMMON COLORS OF WORSTEDS,
only 30 cents.
CHINCHILLAS and PERDRIX,
only 35 cents.
PURPLE and ORANGE WORSTEDS,
only 35 cents.

Worsteds Worsteds Worsteds Worsteds Worsteds Worsteds

☞ READ THESE PRICES. ☜

Best Kid Gloves—Warranted,
only $1.50.
White Kid Gloves—the best,
only $1.25.
Nice New Style Hoods,
only $1.00.
Extra Heavy Hood—New,
only $1.25.
Best Hand Knit Zephyr Hood,
only $1.75.
Good warm Sontag—new,
only $1.25.
Best Knit Zephyr Sontag—heavy,
only $2.50.

HOSIERY AND GLOVES.

Best Kid Gloves—only	$1 50
Nice Lisle Gloves—only	30
Extra Good Glove—only	35
Very Nice Kid-made Gloves,	1 25
Ribbed Cotton and Wool Hose,	35
Ribbed Cotton and Wool Hose,	38
Ribbed Cotton and Wool Hose,	42
Ribbed Wool Hose,	50
Ribbed Wool Hose,	55
Ribbed Wool Hose,	65

Children's Hosiery in Woolen, Merino, and Cotton and Wool—in Plain and Fancy, all sizes.

Extra Bargains.

MARKED DOWN.

Veils,
Veils,
Veils,
Veils,
Veils,
Lace Goods of all kinds,
Edgings of all kinds,
Insertings of all kinds,
Checked Cambrics, Plain Cambrics,
Muslins,
Nainsooks,
India Book,
Swiss Mull,
Webb Laces, &c.

SMALL WARES.

Read the prices and compare them with those you have been paying.

Best Worsted Dress Braids,	12 cts
Best Spool Cotton, 200 yards,	10 cts
Best American Pins, only	5 cts
Best Linen Threads,	5 cts
Best Gold Eyed Needles,	8 cts
Best Sea Island Cotton,	10 cts
200 yards Spool Cottons,	10 cts
Nice Elastic Cords,	6 cts

Bargains for a few Days!

☞ BUY NOW. ☜

THE LOWEST PRICES.

The Largest Stock in Essex County,
And the Lowest Prices.

ONE PRICE STRICTLY.

JOHN P. PEABODY,
220 ESSEX ST., SALEM.

☟

Our Store is closed every evening—Saturday excepted—at six o'clock, until April 1st, 1865.
Nov 16 JOHN P. PEABODY.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

We shall for next two months sell from our stock
—OF—
READY-MADE BONNETS,
AT A
DISCOUNT OF 15 TO 20 PER CENT
Less than the present prices.

☞ Those wishing the BEST CHOICE should
COME EARLY.

REITH & CO'S,
No. 2 West Block, 188 Essex St.,
Nov. 9 SALEM, MASS.

OYSTER AND REFRESHMENT SALOON.

R. W. Wilkinson & Co.,

WOULD respectfully inform the citizens of South Danvers and vicinity, that they have opened in connection with their

Newspaper & Periodical Department

an Oyster and Refreshment Saloon for

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN,

who may favor them with their patronage.

OYSTERS cooked, or for sale by measure.

MEATS of all kinds cooked to order at all hours, and suppers furnished to parties at short notice.

HOT COFFEE at all hours of day and evening.

CAKE of every variety, including Wedding, Citron, and Plain Frosted, furnished to familes and parties.—Also a large and well selected assortment of Confectionery, Fancy Goods, Table Articles, etc., etc.

Choice brands of TOBACCO and CIGARS, and Nuts of every variety. Also, FOREIGN and DOMESTIC FRUITS.

South Danvers, Nov. 9, 1864. tf

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

ESSEX, SS.

To the Heirs-at-Law and others interested in the Estate of HANNAH L. WILSON, late of South Danvers, in said County, widow deceased, intestate,
GREETING:

WHEREAS, SAMUEL WELCH, the administrator of the estate of said deceased has presented for allowance the first account of his administration upon the estate of said deceased: You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be holden at Salem, in said County, on the first Tuesday of December next, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be allowed. And the said administrator is ordered to serve this Citation by publishing the same once a week, in the South Danvers WIZARD, a newspaper printed at South Danvers, three weeks successively, the first publication to be fourteen days at least before said Tuesday: and is also directed to send or cause to be sent, a written or printed copy of this notice, properly mailed, postage prepaid, to each of the heirs, devisees or legatees, or their legal representatives, known to the petitioner, within two days of the date of the first publication of said notice.

Witness, GEORGE F. CHOATE, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this fifteenth day of November, in the year eighteen hundred and sixty-four.

A. C. GOODELL, Register.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

To the Honorable Senate and the House of Representatives in General Court Assembled:—

WE, the undersigned, Corporators of the SOUTH DANVERS AND LYNN STREET RAILROAD, respectfully petition your honorable body for an extension of time to construct said Railroad, and as in duty bound will ever pray.

WM. H. LITTLE,
STEPHEN BLANEY,
C. W. OSBORN,
LEWIS ALLEN,
HENRY POOR,

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
SECRETARY'S DEPARTMENT,
BOSTON, November 26, 1864.

I approve the publication of the above petition in the South Danvers WIZARD newspaper.
OLIVER WARNER,
South Danvers Nov. 30, 1863.—3 w. Secretary.

ANN R. BRAY, 76 Federal St.,

OFFERS to her customers bargains in Cashmere Plaids—$1 25, for what were sold a short time since for $1 75.

$1.45 for yard wide Plaids that have been sold for $2.00.

Black Alpaccas.—We have just received a new stock Plain and Figured Alpaccas and Baratheas.
nov 30 ANN R. BRAY, 76 Federal Street.

A FULL STOCK of Domestic Goods, Plain, White and Checked Cambrics.
nov 30 ANN R. BRAY, 76 Federal Street.

Salem & So. Danvers Horse Railroad Notice.

IN consequence of the continued extraordinary high price of Hay, Grain, and all other materials required for the operation of a Horse Railroad, this company are reluctantly compelled to increase their fares. They confidently rely upon the acquiescence of the citizens of South Danvers, Salem and Beverly, more particularly as it bears no proportion to the increased cost of every item in the operation of the Road, the expenses having almost trebled.

On and after Dec. 1st, 1864, the fares will be as follows, viz:

Single Fares, 8 cents; but if passengers make their own change, 7 cents.

Package tickets, 16 for one dollar.

School tickets, Factory, and Essex Street Tickets, will remain the same as heretofore.

Salem, Nov. 30, 1864. M. H. HALE, Sup t.

Horse Railroad Notice.

On and after THURSDAY Nov. 10, the cars of the Salem and South Danvers Railroad Co.

Will leave Washington St. Station for S. Danvers at 6.37, 7.07, 7.37 A. M. and every 30 minutes till 11.57 A. M.; and every 20 minutes till 9.57 P. M.

Will leave Washington St. station for Beverly at 6.22 6.52, and 7.22 A. M., and every 30 minutes till 12.22 P. M., and at 12.42, 1.02, 1.22, and every 20 minutes till 10.02 P. M.

Cars will leave South Danvers at 7.00, 7.30, and 8.00 A. M., and every half hour till 1 P. M., and will then leave at 1.20, 1.40, 2.00, and every 20 minutes till 10.20 P. M.

Cars will leave Beverly at 7.00, 7.30, 8 00 A. M., and every half hour till 12 M—will then leave at 12.20, 12.40, 1.00 P. M. and every 20 minutes till 10.40 P. M.

☞ On and after Thursday, Nov. 10, the cars on the South Salem Branch Railroad will be discontinued until further notice. All outstanding Tickets for this route will be redeemed at their value, at the Office, corner of Washington and Essex streets.

M. H. HALE,
nov 9 Sup't S. & S. D. R. R. Co.

Horse Railroad Notice.
SUNDAY TIME.

HEREAFTER on Sunday, Horse Cars will leave Washington Street Station for Beverly at 9.12, 9.52, 10.32, 11.12, 11.52 A. M.; 12.32, 1.12, 1.52, 2.32, 3.12, 3.52, 4.32, 5.12, 5.52, 6.32, 7.12, 7.52, and 8.32 P. M.

Will leave Washington street station for South Danvers, at 9.07, 9.27, 9.47 A. M., and every twenty minutes till 9.07 P. M.

Cars leave South Danvers at 9.30, 9.50, and 10.10 A. M., and every 20 minutes till 9.30 P. M.

Leave Beverly at 9.40, 10.20, 11.00, 11.40 A. M.; 12.20, 1.00, 1.40, 2.20, 3.00, 3.40, 4.20, 5.00, 4.40, 6.20, 7.00, 7.40, 8.20, and 9.00 P. M.

Salem, Aug. 31, 1864, M. H. HALE, Supt.

RICH FURS.

STEPHEN OSBORNE,

RESPECTFULLY invites the Ladies to call and look at his new stock of splendid Furs, at
Nov. 30. 6 w. 191 Essex, cor. of Central St.

OATS. OATS.

5000 BUSHELS PRIME OATS, received this day, and for sale by sept 7 GAYLE & CO., Phillips Wharf.

MORRIS'
RESTAURANT,
18 and 20 Derby Square, Salem.

Oysters, Clams, Steak, Poultry, Game, Fish, &c., &c., COOKED TO ORDER.
Pickled Oysters, Lobsters and Clams.
Salem, July 22, 1863. tf

GAYLE & CO.,
COMMISSION MERCHANTS,
AND DEALERS IN
Flour, Grain and Produce,
PHILLIPS WHARF, ... Salem.

George S. Walker.

BARGAINS!

Positively selling at Reduced Prices!

I NOW offer my Winter Stock of Gentlemen's Furnishing Goods, such as
ALL WOOL AND MERINO SHIRTS,
DRAWERS, HOSIERY,
GLOVES, SCARFS,
and other seasonable goods, at less than Importers and Manufacturers prices—or Gold at $1 50.

Purchasers will find it for their interest to call and examine GOODS and PRICES, at

GEORGE S. WALKER'S,
No. 228 Essex Street,
oct 12 Opp. Eastern Railroad Station.

Gentlemen's Gloves.

100 VARIETIES to select from, at
GEORGE S. WALKER'S,
No. 228 Essex Street, Salem,
Opp. Eastern Railroad Station.

A. J. Archer & Co

REDUCED PRICES!

DRY GOODS.

AUGUSTUS J. ARCHER & CO.,

ARE Prepared to offer their Large Stock of

SHAWLS,
DRESS GOODS,
GARMENTS,
WOOLENS,
House-Keeping Goods,
At the
LOWEST MARKET PRICES.

oct 12—tf 181 Essex street.

Potter, Bachelder & Co.,
DANVERS-PORT and SOUTH DANVERS,
DEALERS IN
WOOD AND COAL.
Constantly on hand

Franklin, Burnside, Dimond, } RED ASH.
Old Company & Packer's Lehigh, Pliny Fisk, Webster and Locust Mountain, } WHITE ASH.

Also Cumberland, Pictou and Campbell for Steam and Smith's use.

OFFICE—No. 6 Allen's Building.

G. W. POTTER,
J. Q. A. BACHELDER,
C. T. BATCHELDER. mch 30

M. A. PORTER,
236 Essex Street, - - - Salem, Mass.,
(Opposite Horse Railroad Office.)
MAKES TO ORDER BEST QUALITIES OF

WATCH SPRING SKIRTS.

A Good Assortment of Dress and Clock Button, Braids, Spool Cotton, Small Wares, and Thread Store articles generally.

236 Essex Street, - - - Salem, Mass.,
M. A. PORTER.

197 REMOVAL. 197

Gentlemen's Clothing.
YOUTH'S AND BOYS' CLOTHING,
—AND THE—
FURNISHING GOODS ESTABLISHMENT,
of the subscriber is removed to
197 Essex Street,
Store lately occupied by Mr. JOHN MCKEE.

☞ A full and fresh assortment of GOODS is now opening and will be kept up as the season advances.
Salem, Sept 21. T. H. LEFAVOUR.

HOUSE OF EQUITY,
—BY—
Arnold & Hutchinson,
(Successors to C. T. Southwick.)

FIRST QUALITY
FAMILY GROCERIES,
Sold at the Lowest Prices.

A large and complete assortment of
CROCKERY AND GLASS WARE,
Constantly on hand.
Also FLOUR and GRAIN.

ASHLAND HALL BUILDING,
NO. 1 LOWELL STREET,
F. T. ARNOLD. B. F. HUTCHINSON.
South Danvers, Feb 3, 1864.

Miss Jeanette R. Andrews,
MUSIC TEACHER.
Room No. 5 Bowker Building,
150 Essex Street, Salem.
Terms—Twelve Dollars per quarter.
References — Professors Webb, Wetherbee, B. J. Lang. nov 2—3m

WANTED TO HIRE,

FOR a year or term of years, a COTTAGE HOUSE and Garden, p easantly located in Danversport, or Danvers Center. Rent of no consequence, provided all else prove satisfactory.

Address T. H. S. at this office, stating terms etc.
South Danvers, Sept 28. tf

MUSICAL NOTICE.

I HAVE on hand, for sale, and will select to order from any manufacturer in Boston or elsewhere,

Melodeons, Cabinet Organs,

and six to seven octave

PIANO FORTES,

full Iron Frames, over-strung Bass, with Pearl or Ivory Keys, at the lowest prices. Will take second-hand Instruments in exchange for new. Have Piano Fortes and Melodeons to let.

Will tune Piano Fortes and Organs in the best manner, to order; and will also give instruction on the Piano Forte at the residence of the pupil, or at my room—

No. 218 Essex Street, Salem, (Up stairs.)
SAMUEL MACKINTIRE.
Salem, November 9, 1864.

SILVER PLATED KNIVES.

STEEL Knives, plated with pure Silver, at
S C & E A SIMONDS', 32 Front st.

CAMPAIGN MEDALS,

OF different styles—at
oct 12 G. M. WHIPPLE & A. A. SMITH'S.

Auction Sales.

WILLIAM ARCHER, Jr.,
Auctioneer, Real Estate and Stock Broker,
34 Front Street.

Real Estate, Bank, Railroad & Manufacturing Stock bought and sold on Commission.

ON SATURDAY NEXT, at 9½ o'clock, at No. 34 Front Street,

THE USUAL QUANTITY of New and Second Hand Furniture; Sofas; Lounges; Chairs; Tables; 1 solid Chestnut Chamber Set, with Black Walnut Trimmings; 1 Painted Chamber Set; Carpets; Feather Beds; Stoves, &c.

Also—8 Cases Men's Boots; Youths' and Boys' do; Women's and Misses' do;

CLOTHING—Coats, Pants, Vests, Under-shirts and Drawers, Hose, &c.

AUTUMN AND WINTER DRY GOODS.

PRINTS, De Laines, Plaids, Poplins, Alpaccas, Coburgs, Thibets, and many other styles for Dresses;

SHAWLS AND HOUSEKEEPING GOODS.

Bleached and Unbleached Cottons, different widths. Cotton Flannels, Wool and Cotton and Wool Flannels, of every variety and color.

Union and all wool Cassimeres and Doeskins, for Mens' and Boys' wear

Hosiery, Gloves, Yarns, Umbrellas, &c., &c., sold at the lowest prices for the Cash, at

238 Essex Street.
GEO. P. DANIELS.
Salem, Sept. 28, 1864.

NEW GOODS!

ANN R. BRAY,
76 Federal Street, Salem.

WILL open this morning Rich POPLINS, at $1 30 per yard;

All Wool do, rich colors, at reduced prices;

Black Alpaccas, from 75 cts to $1 75;

Housekeeping Goods at Reduced Prices;

Cottons, Brown and Bleached; 5-4 Waltham and Rockville Sheetings; 4-4 Lonsdale, James Mills, Hills and all the best makes Shirting, at the lowest cash prices,

PRINTS, at reduced prices;

BLANKETS, the very best makes—All-wool and Union Blankets, at the lowest market price.

CAMELS' HAIR SCARFS—medium size;

Also—One very large, of the finest quality—at
ANN R. BRAY'S,
oct 19 76 Federal Street, Salem.

AUTUMN GOODS.

SHAWLS,
—AND—
DRESS GOODS.

BLANKETS,
QUILTS,
AND
HOUSE-KEEPING GOODS.

CLOTHS,
DOESKINS,
OVER-COATINGS,
—AND—
CLOAK CLOTHS,

For sale by
THOMAS W. DOWNING & CO.,
sept 28 179 ESSEX STREET, SALEM.

OPENING!

A FULL ASSORTMENT OF
FALL AND WINTER STYLE
BONNETS,
HATS,
DRESS CAPS and
HEAD-DRESSES.
OCTOBER 6TH,
AT
M. E. CRANE'S,
168 ESSEX STREET, - - SALEM.
October 5th, 1864.

T. HARDY, JR.,
—Dealer in—
DOORS, SASHES, BLINDS,
Glazed Sash, Painted Blinds,
FENCE PALES, STAIR BALUSTERS, FRAMING PINS, &c.
No. 26 FRONT STREET,
Salem, January 14, 1863—tf.

GEO. E. MEACOM,

Dealer in
DRUGS & MEDICINES,
Fancy & Toilet Articles, &c.,
126 · · MAIN ST · · 126
Nearly opposite Danvers Bank, So. Danvers.

T. A. SWEETSER,
Druggist & Apothecary
37 Main St., So. Danvers,

DEALER IN
Drugs, Medicines, Chemicals, Foreign Leeches, Shakers' Herbs, Dye Stuffs, Gums, Acids, Sponges, Shoulder Braces, Trusses, and Genuine Patent Medicines,

Also, Imported Cigars of choice brands, Perfumery, Toilet Articles and Stationery.

Physicians' Prescriptions carefully prepared by experienced persons.

37 MAIN STREET.

D. P. GROSVENOR, Jr.,

Druggist and Apothecary,
33 MAIN STREET.

Dealer in Drugs, Medicines, Chemicals, Dye Stuffs, and Popular Proprietary Medicines.

Personal attention to Physicians' Prescriptions.

South Danvers, May 29, 1861. tf

STORE TO LET.

THE Store now occupied by Messrs. Blake & Holman, on the corner of Washington and Main Sts. The best located and most convenient store in town for the Grocery business. Possession given immediately. Apply to
R. S. DANIELS.
South Danvers, Sept. 21.

PARLOR CROQUET.

THE subscribers having at large outlay of time and expense adapted the popular Field Sport of Croquet for a parlor amusement, and having secured it by copyright, are manufacturing them of different styles and prices, and are as rapidly as possible introducing it to the lovers of quiet, sociable and pleasant parlor games throughout the country. This has all the interest and fascination of the original game, and will be found to be one of the most entertaining amusements yet produced for the family circle.

Samples at our Bookstore.
nov 23—2w G. M. WHIPPLE & A. A. SMITH.

CARD ENGRAVING,

IN all styles—and Cards printed with dispatch.
Nov 9 G. M. WHIPPLE & A. A. SMITH.

PAINTS AND OIL.

FOREST River White Lead; New York White Lead; Linseed Oil: Japans; Spirits Turpentine; Benzole Spirits; Varnishes, &c., constantly for sale at
Nov 9 S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS', 32 Front St.

☞ A pamphlet lately published broaches the theory that a man is what a woman makes him. According to the author's dictum it is when the wife makes her husband a pudding, he is a pudding.

☞ What is that which, supposing its greatest breadth to be four inches, length nine inches, and depth three inches, contains a solid foot? Ans.—A shoe.

☞ A young man married a girl rather than be shot by her brother,—fancying that a miss was better than a hit.

☞ "The grand essentials to happiness in this life are, something to do, something to love, and something to hope for."

☞ If you visit a sweet girl, and if you are won, and she is won, you shall both be one.

Special Notices.

INFORMATION FREE.
TO NERVOUS SUFFERERS.

A GENTLEMAN cured of Nervous Debility, Incompetency, Premature Decay, and Youthful Error, actuated by a desire to benefit others, will be happy to furnish to all who need it (free of charge,) the recipe and directions for making the simple remedy used in this case. Sufferers wishing to profit by the advertiser's bad experience, and possess a sure and valuable remedy, can do so by addressing him at once at his place of business. The recipe and full information—of vital importance — will be cheerfully sent by return mail. Address, JOHN B. OGDEN,
No. 60 Nassau Street, New York.

P. S.—Nervous Sufferers of both sexes will find this information invaluable. nov 30

MATRIMONIAL!
LADIES AND GENTLEMEN.

If you wish to marry, address the undersigned, who will send you without money and without price, valuable information that will enable you to marry happy and speedily, irrespective of age, wealth or beauty. This information will cost you nothing, and if you wish to marry, I will cheerfully assist you. All letters strictly confidential. The desired information sent by return mail, and no questions asked. Address
Sarah B. Lambert, Greenpoint, Kings Co.,
oct. 12, 1864.—2 m. NEW YORK.

Cards.

C. W. HALEY, M. D.,
Physician and Surgeon.
OFFICE—WARREN BANK BUILDING,
South Danvers.

N. J. HOLDEN,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
Office, 27 Washington Street, Salem, Mass.

M. B. MANSFIELD,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
214 ESSEX STREET, SALEM, MASS..
 Particular attention paid to procuring Pensions, Bounties, Back Pay, Prize Money, and Army and Navy Claims of all descriptions. March 2.

H. L. HADLEY,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
CORNER MAPLE AND ELM ST.,
Danvers.
Claims against the Government for Bounty, Back Pay and Pensions, promptly attended to.

THOMAS M. STIMPSON,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
194 ESSEX STREET, SALEM.
Residence Lowell street, South Danvers.

B. C. PERKINS,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
South Danvers—Office in Allen's Building.

ALFRED A. ABBOTT,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
Office, No. 24 Washington Street, Salem.
House, Main St., So. Danvers.

SIDNEY C. BANCROFT,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
27 Washington Street, Salem.

H. O. WILEY,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
Office, Allen's Building, South Danvers.
Claims against the Government for Bounty, Back Pay and Pensions, promptly attended to.

A. S. CRAWFORD
Dentist,
No. 4 MAIN STREET, So. DANVERS SQUARE
Mechanical Dentistry Neatly Executed.

W. L. BOWDOIN,
SURGEON DENTIST,
No. 208 Essex Street, Salem, (Opposite the Marke
Residence—No. 57 Washington street.
jan 11—1y

NEWMAN & SYMONDS,
DEALERS IN
Family Groceries, Flour & Grain,
HARD WARE AND CROCKERY,
Ready Made Clothing, Gents' Furnishing Goods,
Hats, Caps, Boots, Shoes, &c.,
South Danvers Square, opp. Congregational Church
SAM'L NEWMAN. NATH'L SYMONDS.

S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS,
DEALERS IN
Crockery, China and Hardware; Paper Hangings; Solar and Entry Lamps · Paints, Oil and Window Glass.
No. 32 Front street, Lawrence Place,
feb13 SALEM, MASS.

HENRY L. WHIDDEN,
HOUSE AND SIGN PAINTER,
Glazier and Paperer,
Central Street, South Danvers.
All orders promptly and faithfully executed.
jan2 1y

JESSE SMITH
No. 262 Essex Street, Salem,
Importer and Dealer in
Gold and Silver Watches,
MARINE CHRONOMETERS,
Aneroid Barometers, Spy Glasses, &c.

WILLIAM BLANEY,
HOUSE & SIGN PAINTER
Grainer, Glazier and Paper Hanger.
164 MAIN STREET, Corner of Grove.
WINDOWS and BLINDS cheap for cash.
mch6-tf

F. POOLE
INSURANCE AGENT,
Allen's Building (up stairs),
Deeds drawn, and other common forms.

G. H. LANE & CO.

BEING connected with one of the largest Clothing Houses in Franklin Street, and having made extensive preparations for this present season's business, now offer in

Special Departments

(all of which will be found full and complete) the following, at PRICES far below the present cost to manufacture:

OVERCOATS.

The most extensive show of Overcoats ever offered in this market, combining all the popular makes of

Chinchillas, Castors, Tricots, Eskimos, Beavers and Pilots,

In SACKS and SURTOUTS, some of which are particularly adapted to the wants of DRIVERS, being made up with Fur bindings and facings.

BUSINESS COATS,

embracing many new styles.

WALKING COATS,

manufactured from a great variety of PLAIN and MIXED Goods.

ENGLISH HUNTING COATS,

made from heavy FUR BEAVER.

DRESS COATS,

in plain BLACKS and DIAGONAL RIBBED, TRICOT and AMOOR GOODS.

BUSINESS SUITS,

of all grades, from the finest and most expensive qualities down to medium and low priced goods.

PANTALOONS,

A great variety, including some of the most STRIKING, NOVEL and UNIQUE PATTERNS.

VESTS,

a very attractive and thoroughly assorted stock.

Boys' Department.

Under the most capable management, is at all times full in stock and assortment. Our styles for this season being entirely new and strictly our own.

BOYS OVERCOATS,

an unusually large and handsome line, embracing all the leading styles.

BOYS TOGAS,

to be found only at this establishment being original with us.

JACKETS AND PANTS,

to match—perhaps the best assortment that can be offered by any house in the trade.

METROPOLITAN SUITS,

manufactured from a variety of Fabrics, selected with special reference to the requirements of genteel trade.

GARIBALDI SUITS,

new and elegant stocks, unsurpassed for style and finish.

POLKA SUITS,

in the largest quantity and made from the best quality of goods.

The above comprises one of the LARGEST and BEST SELECTED STOCKS of MEN'S and BOYS' CLOTHING ever before offered at RETAIL in NEW ENGLAND.

Special Inducements to Wholesale Buyers for Cash.

G. H. LANE & CO.,

31 and 32 DOCK SQUARE,
Oct. 26th, 1864. BOSTON.

STURGIS'
ELECTRIC COMPOUND,
An Effectual External Remedy for NEURALGIA
—AND—
RHEUMATISM.

ALSO, INVALUABLE FOR
Spinal Irritation, Ague in the Face,
Toothache, Pain in the Side, Back,
and Limbs, Ear, Ague, &c.

Among the Advantages of this Medicine are the following:

ITS effect is very rapid—in most cases instantaneous.

It is external in its application, and the patient runs no risk in using it. It does not strike to the stomach.

It reaches the nerves and muscles, as it is believed no other medicine does.

It has cured some of the most violent and obstinate cases of Neuralgia ever known.

It can be used on a child or an aged person alike.

While it is very powerful, it is perfectly harmless.

The proprietor has been allowed to publish the names of many persons who have used the COMPOUND with the most beneficial results. He inserts a few of them. They are among the most respectable citizens of Boston and other places, and their residences and places of business are given.

Rev. N. Munroe, late of Boston Recorder
Joseph H. Allen, 119 Washington St., house 55 Rutland Street.
N. P Kempt, Tract Society, 40 Cornhill.
Addison Boyden, 408 Washington Street, Boston, firm of Haley, Morse & Boyden.
William H. Brewster, Publisher of Boston Traveller.

The following letter from one of our best citizens will speak for itself:

REV. JOSEPH E. BARRY, the children's missionary of Boston, was the recipient a few weeks since of a bottle of STURGIS'S ELECTRIC COMPOUND, for Neuralgia, Rheumatism, &c., and having experienced great benefit from its use, and having known of many severe cases of the above complaints whereat it produced cures, considers it his duty to make known to his friends and others being so unfortunate as to be troubled with these terrible complaints, the virtue of this preparation.
Boston, Sept. 15, 1863. JOSEPH E. BARRY.

REMARKABLE CURE OF NEURALGIA.—The following letter, (unsolicited,) was received by the proprietor in May last:

CAMP ROGERS, Newbern, May 6, 1863.

Dear Sir. I have been for some weeks suffering under a severe attack of Neuralgia, the severity of which has caused me to be in "perfect agony" both night and day. Having heard of STURGIS'S ELECTRIC COMPOUND from a "companion in arms." I was induced to give it a trial, which had the happy effect to immediately cure me. I am surprised that surgeons do not have it in the army, as there is a constant demand for such an invaluable relief. I make this statement for the public good, and I have no scruples about your using this as a recommendation to other victims of this painful disorder.

Yours, respectfully. JOSEPH HOUGHTON,
Co. D. 43d Reg't Mass. Vols.

For Sale by all Druggists.
☞ Office No. 119 Washington St., Boston.
Sept. 28—6mo.

DR. J. H. BATCHELDER,
DENTAL SURGEON,
No. 20 Washington St., (near Eastern Railroad Depot),
SALEM, MASS.
Is Licensed to make the New Patent Teeth on HARD RUBBER or VULCANITE.
July 1, 1864.

REAL ESTATE.

The subscriber offers for sale the following Lots of Land, with the buildings thereon, at Private Sale, until October next, when, if not previously sold, they will be put up at auction.

On Lowell street, a two story DWELLING HOUSE, fitted for two families. This is the Estate formerly known as the Southwick Tavern.

On Lowe street, leading from Foster St. to Washington St., a two story TENEMENT for two families with a garden attached to it.

On Washington street, near the residence of Capt. Lowe, a very eligible BUILDING LOT, on the North side of the street.

On Tremont street, a small COTTAGE HOUSE for one or two families.

On Walnut street, a pleasant, elevated Lot of Land, with a large Barn, situated opposite Mr. Caller's Currying Shop.

In the rear of the above TWO TENEMENT HOUSES.
For particulars apply to
jy 27 WILLIAM SUTTON.

Salem and Danvers Aqueduct Co'y.

ALL persons using the water of the Salem and South Danvers Aqueduct, are hereby notified that the water rents, for the six months ending Nov'r 1, 1864, are now due; and that they are required to pay the same, at the office of the Company, No. 2 Sewall Street, on the 1st day of October inst. Should the bills remain unpaid for thirty days, the water will be stopped, in conformity to the regulations of the Company.

Office hours from 9 to 1 o'clock, and from 2 to 5.
Per order of the Directors,
Salem, Oct 1, 1864. WM. JELLY, Collector.

SELF-SEALING
AIR-TIGHT CASKET.

MR. CHARLES S. BUFFUM, Furnishing Undertaker of South Danvers, takes this method to annouce that he has a new burial case, which combines all the advantages of a wooden receptacle with those of a metal one, and yet avoids the disadvantages of both. They have been used with great success, and bodies placed in them have been delivered in perfect preservation after having been transported over a thousand miles. To persons having deceased friends at the seat of war they are invaluable. They come at reasonable prices, are light and durable, and are perfectly airtight. august 10

FURNITURE

HAVING taken the Store No. 10 FRONT STREET, (formerly occupied by BENJAMIN COLMAN,) I shall keep constantly on hand a large stock of

NEW AND SECOND-HAND FURNITURE,
BEDDING, COUNTING-ROOM DESKS, &c., &c.,
which I will sell cheap for CASH.
ALL KINDS OF FURNITURE NEATLY REPAIRED.

☞ All kinds of FURNITURE and BEDDING wanted—for which the highest Cash price will be paid.

P. J. HYNES, 10 FRONT-ST.
Salem, April 6, 1864—1y

CURRIER & MILLETT,
Dealers in
Furniture, Chairs,
MATTRESSES, FEATHERS, &
259 & 261 ESSEX ST.
Salem, dec 14—1y.

NEW INKSTAND.

OLIVER'S Patent Inkstand claims the following advantages:—It is not complicated—No trouble to fill—Does not get out of order—It is very economical—It prevents evaporation—Does not require frequent filling—Can be easily operated—It is easily cleaned—Filters the Ink for use—Keeps the Ink free from exposure and fresh and limpid—it is both ornamental and durable. For sale by
Salem, Sept 23 G M WHIPPLE & A A SMITH.

AARON T. LOWE,
DEALER IN
BOOTS, SHOES AND RUBBERS,
76 BOSTON STREET, 76.
aug 6 SALEM. tf

TABLE CUTLERY.

A FULL stock of Knives and Forks, with Horn Ebony, Cocoa and Bone Handles. Also Carvers, Steels, Bread and Cook Knives, Mincing Knives, &c, at
nov 16 S C & E A SIMONDS', 32 Front st.

IVORY HANDLED KNIVES

BY the Dozen, with or without Forks, at
S C & E A SIMONDS', 32 Front st.

LIFE INSURANCE
THE MUTUAL
LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY,
Of New York, with a Capital of $11,000,000,
And an Annual Income of over
$2,000,000,

AND declaring a LARGER DIVIDEND than any other Company in the United States, is the one in which every man should secure a policy on his life.

The importance of LIFE INSURANCE cannot be too highly estimated. It is the safest and most practicable method of securing to your family, in case of your death, the means of a comfortable and independent support. Thousands of instances might be cited where families have thus been provided with a competency, who would otherwise have been left in penury and want. Husbands and fathers! treat not with indifference a subject of such vital importance, but see to it at once. that your families are provided with the inestimable advantages which this great and benevolent institution affords.

Because a man has wealth, it is no reason why he should not insure, for he knows not how soon his riches may "take to themselves wings and fly away." And let those who complain of the want of means, remember that

Forty-Five Cents a Week,

Will insure $1,000 on the life of a man of THIRTY.

AN ENDOWMENT POLICY,

Secures to the assured party, on attaining to a certain age, say 50, 55 or 60 years, an amount sufficient for his support in advanced age.

Another feature of this subject, deserving of especial attention, is

SURVIVORSHIP ANNUITIES!

By means of which one party may secure to another, an annuity sufficient to maintain them in comfort and independence through life. A husband may thus make provision for his wife; a father for his child; or a brother for his sister.

Endowment Policies for Children.

By this means a parent may provide, by the payment of a small annual premium, a sum of money sufficient to enable a son to enter into business, at a proper age, or for any other provision, either for a son or daughter.

Many Gentlemen of So. Danvers and Vicinity!

Have already availed themselves of this opportunity now offered, of ensuring their lives, and thus securing an inestimable blessing to themselves and their families. Let others be equally wise, and immediately follow their example.

JOHN H. DERBY,
Agent for South Danvers and Vicinity.
Post Office address, Salem, Mass.
September 14, 1864.—tf.

R. C. MANNING & CO,
Successors to JOHN DIKE & CO.,
DEALERS IN
COAL, WOOD, BARK, HAY, &c,
183 DERBY STREET,
SALEM, MASS.
N. C. ROBBINS, R. C. MANNING.
oct17

HOSTETTER'S
CELEBRATED
STOMACH BITTERS.

A pure and powerful Tonic, corrective and alterative of wonderful efficacy in disease of the

Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

Cures Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Headache, Debility, Nervousness, Depression of Spirits, Constipation, Colic, Intermittent Fevers, Cramps and Spasms, and all Complaints of either Sex, arising from Bodily Weakness whether inherent in the system or produced by special causes.

Nothing that is not wholesome, genial and restorative in its nature enters into the composition of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. This popular preparation contains no mineral of any kind, no deadly botanical element; no fiery excitant: but it is a combination of the extracts of rare balsamic herbs and plants with the purest and mildest of all diffusive stimulants.

It is well to be forearmed against disease, and, so far as the human system can be protected by human means against maladies engendered by an unwholesome atmosphere, impure water and other external causes, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS may be relied on as a safeguard.

In districts infested with Fever and Ague, it has been found infallible as a preventive and irresistible as a remedy and thousands who resort to it under apprehension of an attack, escape the scourage; and thousands who neglect to avail themselves of its protective qualities in advance, are cured by a very brief course of this marvelous medicine. Fever and Ague patients, after being plied with quinine for months in vain, until fairly saturated with that dangerous alkaloid, are not unfrequently restored to health within a few days by the use of HOSTETTER'S BITTERS.

The weak stomach is rapidly invigorated and the appetite restored by this agreeable Tonic, and hence it works wonders in cases of DISPEPSIA and in less confirmed forms of INDIGESTION. Acting as a gentle and painless aperient, as well as upon the liver, it also invariably relieves the CONSTIPATION superinduced by irregular action of the digestive and secretive organs.

Persons of feeble habit, liable to Nervous Attacks, Lowness of Spirits and Fits of Languor, find prompt and permanent relief from the Bitters. The testimony on this point is most conclusive, and from both sexes.

The agony of BILIOUS COLIC is immediately assuaged by a single dose of the stimulant, and by occasionally resorting to it, the return of the complaint may be prevented.

As a General Tonic, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS produce effects which must be experienced or witnessed before they can be fully appreciated. In cases of Constitutional Weakness, Premature Decay and Debility and Decrepitude arising from OLD AGE, it exercises the electric influence. In the convalescent stages of all diseases it operates as a delightful invigorant. When the powers of nature are relaxed, it operates to re-enforce and re-establish them.

Last, but not least, it is The Only Safe Stimulant, being manufactured from sound and innocuous materials, and entirely free from the acid elements present more or less in all the ordinary tonics and stomachics of the day.

No family medicine has been so universally, and, it may be truly added, deservedly popular with the intelligent portion of the community, as HOSTETTER'S BITTERS.

Prepared by HOSTETTER & SMITH, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Sold by all Druggists, Grocers and Storekeepers everywhere.

December 16, 1863.—1 yr

Skinner's Pulmonales

Immediately Relieve Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, loss of Voice, Bronchitis, Lassitude, Thirst and every symptom of the first stages of Pulmonary Consumption; they are white, in form of a wafer, and as suitable for the infant in the cradle as the patient of three score years and ten. Orators and all who overtax the vocal organs receive instant relief by their use. Sold by all Druggists. Prepared by E. M. SKINNER, Chemist, 27 Tremont St., Boston. sept 7—1y

SPALDING'S ROSE MARY

FOR FOURTEEN YEARS the Rosemary has held a high rank as pure, uniform and reliable. It is Warranted. 1st, To beautify the hair. 2d, To curl the hair elegantly. 3d, To remove dandruff effectually. 4th, To restore hair to bald heads. 5th, To force the beard and whiskers to grow. 6th, To prevent the hair from falling off. 7th, To cure all diseases of the scalp. 8th, To prevent the hair turning grey. 9th, To cure headache. 10th, To kill hair eaters. Sold everywhere. Prepared by EDW. M SKINNER, Chemist, 27 Tremont St., opposite the Museum, Boston, Mass. sept 7—1y

JUST ARRIVED,
AT DANVERS MILLS,

500 Bushels Corn, in the minnie cob, and will be sold in South Danvers.

Constantly on hand a large stock of meal, which will be sold at the lowest Salem prices.

—ALSO ON HAND—
500 Bushels Feed;
200 Bushels prime Northern Oats;
100 Barrels choicest Family Flour.
A good stock of LIME constantly on hand.

JOHN C. MOULTON,
Central St., South Danvers, Mass.

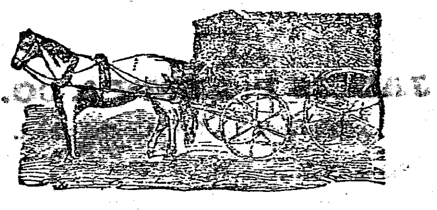
Indispensable to Every Soldier and Seaman.

BROOKS'S PATENT WRITING AND TOILET CASE.

EASILY carried in the coat pocket. Supplied by the manufacturers at the old price—$2.
D. B. BROOKS & BROTHER,
201 Essex Street, Salem, Mass.
Those who have friends in the Army of the Potomac can have them sent to them free of postage. sept 7

HENRY G. [illegible]UBON,
WASHINGTON STREET, SALEM
Manufacturers of
Rose Wood, Mahogany, Black Walnnt and Stained Wood
COFFINS and CASKETS.

MAKING this our exclusive business, we are ready at all times and at the shortest notice to furnish Grave Clothes of various styles, as well as Coffins and Caskets of the finest finish. Personal attention given, and delivered without extra charge to any of the neighboring towns. All orders by express or otherwise will receive prompt attention.
nov 1—tf



CHARLES S. BUFFUM,

BEING an authorized UNDERTAKER of South Danvers, will attend Funerals in said place with his Hearse the same as the Town Undertaker. Will also attend Funerals, when desired, to any of the neighboring towns, with one or a pair of horses.

He also furnishes Coffins, Caskets, Robes, etc., lower than city prices.

All branches of the business attended to, such as furnishing Coaches, Flowers, Laying Out, etc.

Ice Preservers Furnished.

All orders promptly attended to, and personal attention given to them. Articles delivered to any of the neighboring towns free of charge. Orders by express or otherwise will receive prompt attention.

Central street, South Danvers,
RESIDENCE 25 ELM STREET.
South Danvers, Feb 17, 1864.

Undertaker's Notice!

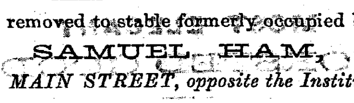
THE subscriber being regularly appointed as Undertaker of South Danvers, would respectfully notify the public that he has removed from Central Street, to No. 80 Lowell Street, where he may be found in readiness to attend funerals, and to furnish, when desired.
HENRY SPENCER.
February 10, 1864.

Chickering & Sons' Piano-Fortes.
Hallett & Cumston's Piano-Fortes.
Hallett & Davis's Piano-Fortes.

We select our Piano-Fortes from the above firms and warrant them to give perfect satisfaction. Our terms are reasonable, and all persons in the city and neighboring towns can be accommodated by calling at 76 Federal street.

FOR SALE—Second-hand Piano-Fortes,—Chickering's and others.
ap 29 ANN R. BRAY.

MOULTON'S
NEW LIVERY STABLE,



Is removed to stable formerly occupied by
SAMUEL HAM,
On MAIN STREET, opposite the Institute.

Good Horses and Carriages will be always in readiness at short notice.
South Danvers, May 25, 1864.

PIN WORMS. MRS. OSBORN'S Universal Worm Powders are the only sure cure ever offered to the public. They are warranted in every case; relief within 24 hrs. 25cts. per box. Sold by all druggists.

For sale by D. P. GROSVENOR, Jr., 33 Main St., South Danvers. jan 27

Are you Insured?

THE subscriber would respectfully call your attention to the fact that he is fully prepared to effect INSURANCE AGAINST FIRE, to any amount, at current rates, on

Dwelling Houses, Barns and their contents, Stores, Stocks of Goods, Furniture, &c. &c., and on buildings in process of erection,

And that he is the authorized Agent for the followin responsible Stock and Mutual Companies, viz:

Thames Insurance Co., (Stock) Norwich, Conn.
Capital—$500,000.
Amos W. Prentice, Pres. Oliver F. Rice, Sec'y
Conway Insurance Company, (Stock) Boston.
Capital and Surplus—$260,000.
James F. Whitney, Pres. David C. Rogers, Sec'y.
City Insurance Company, (Stock) Boston.
Capital—$150,000.
Samuel P. Hayward, Pres. Austin W. Benton, Sec'y

Also, will effect Insurance on the LIVES OF INDIVIDUALS, for one year, seven years, or for the whole term of life, in the

Massachusetts Mutual Life Ins. Co., Springfield, Mass.
Capital and Assets—$375,000.
Caleb Rice, Pres. D. B. Bacon, Sec'y.
William Mack, M D., Medical Examiner.

WM. ARCHER, Jr.,
18 Washington st. and 34 Front st., Salem
feb20-1

WHITE LEAD IN PAILS.

NEW YORK White Lead in Tin Pails, of 25 lbs. each, at
nov 30 S C & E A SIMONDS', 32 Front st.

BRUSHES.

PAINT Brushes of all kinds; Camels' Hair Brushes and Pencils—at
nov 30 S C & E A SIMONDS', 32 Front st.

FEATHER DUSTERS.

A full assortment of Dusters—at
S C & E A SIMONDS', 32 Front st.

THE TRAVELERS INS. CO.,
OF HARTFORD, CONN.
Capital - - - - $250,000.

Is now prepared to insure persons against
ACCIDENTS
OF EVERY DESCRIPTION.

Yearly policies will be issued for a premium of
FIVE DOLLARS,
granting insurance to the amount of
FIVE THOUSAND DOLLARS,
against accidental loss of life while travelling by any public conveyance.

TEN DOLLARS PREMIUM
secures a policy for Five Thousand Dollars, and also twenty-five dollars per week compensation for personal injury incapacitating the assured from his ordinary business.

TWENTY-FIVE DOLLARS PREMIUM
secures a full policy for $5000 and $25 per week compensation for all and EVERY DESCRIPTION OF ACCIDENT, TRAVELLING OR OTHERWISE.

Policies for $5000 with $3 per week compensation, can be had for $3 per annum; or any other sum between $500 and $5000 at proportionate rates.

DIRECTORS:

Gustavus F. Davis,	W. H. D. Callender,
James L. Howard,	George W. Moore,
Marshal Jewell,	Ebenezer Roberts,
Thomas Belknap, Jr.,	Charles White,
Cornelius B. Irwin,	Hugh Harrison,
George S. Gilman,	Jonathan B. Bunce.

JAMES G. PATTERSON, President.
RODNEY DENNIS, Secretary.
HENRY A. DYER, General Agent.
PLUMBER & MERCER, AGENTS,
40 State Street, Boston.

Offices in Salem—JOHN H. DERBY, No. 24 Washington street; SAMUEL MACKINTIRE, No. 218 Essex street. Aug. 3, 1864—1yr*

HELMBOLD'S
GENUINE PREPARATIONS.

COMPOUND FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU, a Positive and Specific Remedy for Diseases of the Bladder, Kidneys, Gravel, and Dropsical Swellings.

This Medicine increases the power of Digestion, and excite the Absorbents into healthy action, by which the Wtaery or Calcareous depositions, and all Unnatural Enlargements are reduced, as well as Pain and Inflammation.

:o:

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU.

For Weaknesses arising from Excesses, Habits of Dissipation, Early Indiscretion of Abuse, attended with the following symptoms:—

Indisposition to Exertion,	Loss of Power,
Loss of Memory,	Difficulty of Breathing,
Weak Nerves,	Trembling,
Horror of Disease,	Wakefulness,
Dimness of Vision,	Pain in the Back,
Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System,
Hot Hands,	Flushing of the Body,
Dryness of the Skin,	Eruptions on the Face,
Pallid Countenance.

These symptoms, if allowed to go on, which this medicine invariably removes, soon follows

Impotency, Fatuity, Epileptic Fits,

In one of which the patient may expire.

Who can say that they are not frequently followed by those "Direful Diseases,"

"INSANITY AND CONSUMPTION."

Many are aware of the cause of their suffering, BUT NONE WILL CONFESS THE RECORDS OF THE INSANE ASYLUMS.

And Melancholy Deaths by Consumption bear ample witness to the Truth of the assertion.

The Constitution once effected with Organic Weakness requires the aid of Medicine to Strengthen and Invigorate the system,

Which HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU invariably does. A Trial will convince the msst skeptical.

:o:

FEMALES—FEMALES—FEMALES.

In many Affections peculiar to Females the EXTRACT BUCHU is unequalled by any other remedy, as in Chlorosis or Retention, Irregularity, Painfulness, or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated Scirrhous state of the Uterus, Leuchorrhœa or Whites, Sterility, and for all complaints incident to the sex, whether arising from indiscretion or Habits of Dissipation, or in the

DECLINE OR CHANGE OF LIFE.

:o:

Take no more Balsam, Mercury, or unpleasant Medicines for unpleasant and dangerous diseases.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU AND IMPROVED ROSE WASH CURES

SECRET DISEASES

In all their Stages, At little Expense.
Little or no change in Diet. No inconvenience.
And no Exposure.

It causes a frequent desire and gives strength to Urinate, thereby Removing Obsructions, Preventing and Curing Strictures of the Urethra, allaying Pain and Inflammation, so frequent in this class of diseases, and expelling all Poisonous, Diseased and wornout Matter.

Thousands upon Thousands who have been the Victims of Quacks, and who have paid heavy fees to be cured in a short time, have found they were deceived, and that the "POISON" has, by the use of "Powerful Astringents," been dried up in the system, to break out in an aggravated form, and perhaps after Marriage.

:o:

Use HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU for all affections and diseases of the URINARY ORGANS, whether existing in MALE or FEMALE, from whatever cause originating and no matter of HOW LONG STANDING.

Diseases of these Organs requires the aid of a DIURETIC. HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU IS THE GREAT DIURETIC, and is certain to have the desired effect in all Diseases for which it is Recommended.

Evidence of the most reliable and responsible character will accompany the medicine.

Price $1.00 per bottle, or six for $5.00.

Delivered to any Address, securely packed from observation.

Describe Symptoms in all Communications.

Cures Guaranteed! Advice Gratis!!

Address letters for information to
H. B. HELMBOLD, Chemist,
104 South Tenth st., bel. Chestnut, Phila.

HELMBOLD'S Medical Depot.
HELMBOLD'S Drug & Chemical Warehouse.
594 Broadway, New York.

BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS AND UNPRINCIPLED DEALERS who endeavor to dispose "of their own" and "other" articles on the reputation attained by

Helmbold's Genuine Preparations.
" " Extract Buchu.
" " " Sarsaparilla.
" " Improved Rose Wash.

SOLD BY
ALL DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE.
ASK FOR HELMBOLD'S. TAKE NO OTHER.
Cut out the Advertisement and send for it.
AND AVOID IMPOSITION AND EXPOSURE.

ALWAYS SUCCESSFUL!
TO ALL THOSE WHO SUFFER FROM
DEBILITY AND SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

DRS. CARSWELL & HUNTER, regularly educated, highly eminent and successful practitioners, after a very extensive practice in Boston, for over twenty years, need hardly speak of their medical qualifications, or remind strangers not to class them with a set of uneducated men, who fill the papers with their boasting advertisements. Drs. C. & H. caution the public against quackery in all its forms, pretending, as some self-styled doctors, to cure all the most difficult and chronic diseases, without knowledge of the human system, or of the modus operandi of the most simple drugs.

Drs. C. & H., since 1840, having confined their whole attention to an office practice for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, they acknowledge no superiors.

CONSTITUTIONAL DEBILITY OR SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Drs. C. & H. are pre-eminently successful in the treatment of the above most difficult and perplexing of all diseases, this complaint being the result of a secret habit in youth; if neglected or improperly treated, it proves one of the greatest evils that can befall a human being. Dr. H. has given particular attention to the above disease for years, and so thoroughly has he become acquainted with the pathology and treatment, that he will warrant a perfect cure under forfeiture of $500; in fact, he will, in the cure of this complaint, acknowledge no superior in this country, or even in the world. Come, then, all you who are afflicted, come to the Old Stand, where you will in a short time be made to rejoice in perfect health.

SYPHILITIC AND SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS,—such as Ulcers and Caries of the throat and nose, Running Sores on the legs and arms, Hard Scabs and Scaly Eruptions on the head, back, &c., pains in the bones and joints, and all other forms of venereal diseases—are made to yield and entirely disappear under Drs. C. & H.'s improved and thoroughly eradicating course of treatment.

The primary or first symptoms of disease, whether a simple running, or small pistules, cancers, or ulcers, are cured in a very few days, if immediate application is made to Drs. C. & H.

13 ENDICOTT STREET, BOSTON, 13

Strangers should be particular in the selection of a physician, lest they be deceived by false advertisements.

Ladies troubled with irregularity, weakness, whites, and other complaints peculiar to the female system, will find a speedy cure by calling as above. No mercury used, and no charge for advice. The afflicted are invited to give us a call.

Boston, April 20, 1864.—1 yr.

SUMMER ARRANGEM
TO LYNN & BOSTO
BY
OMNIBUS & HORSE
W. F. BURNHAM'S

Line of Omnibuses will leave the Lynn an Omnibus Office, No. 6 Allen's Building, Sou vers, passing down Main Street, through Was Street, to Lynn, daily—Sundays included.

Leave South Danvers at 7 50 o'clock, A. M and 4 50 P. M.

Leave Lynn (Horse Car Depot, West Lynn A. M., 2 40 and 6 40 P. M.

Horse Cars leaving the office at 14 Brattle at 8 15 A. M., 1 15 and 5 15 P. M., will meet th buses at Lynn, at the above named hours, passengers to South Danvers.

Tickets to Lynn, - - 20
Through to Boston, - - 35

Gravesend, Woodend, and Ce Depot Route.

ON and after Monday, Nov 2, in addition to route, an Omnibus will leave South Da Lynn, to connect with the steam and horse times daily,—Sundays excepted,—running Gravesend and Woodend, to the Central R. R and Horse Railroad Station, corner of Spr Broad Streets; leaving South Danvers at 6 A necting with the 7.25 steam cars for Boston) (connecting with the 11.10 train), and 4 P M (ing with the 4.50 train); and returning, lea from the Spring Street Station and Central pot, at 8 A M, and 1 and 6 P M.

Fare from S. Danvers to Boston by horse c
" " " " steam c

Through Tickets to and from Boston may b the Drivers and Conductors.

EXPRESS BUSINESS

Between South Danvers and Lynn promptl ed to, on reasonable terms.

Extra Coaches furnished at short notice.

W. F. BURNH

South Danvers, April 20, 1864.

GROUT & MUNROE
SOUTH DANVERS & BOS
RAILROAD EXPRES

Express leaves South Danvers at	10 1-
Freight " " at	5 p.
Express leaves Boston at	3 1-2
Freight " " at	4 p.

OFFICE at FREIGHT DEPOT,
Danvers Square.

Express Office in Boston, 3 Washingto
Freight Office, 48 Kilby St.

Particular attention paid to removi niture, collecting Bills, Notes, Drafts,

Smallest favors thankfully received.

South Danvers, august 26—tf

LITTLEFIEL
South Danvers & Salem Mail Ex

E. LITTLE successor to her, will ru press, regul tween So. and Salem delivery of and bundles goods usually delivered by Express.

Leave South Danvers at 7½ and 11 A M, a

Leave Salem at 8.45 A M, 2 and 6 P M.

This Express connects with the first train fr going East.

SLATES—In Salem, 13 Central st., and at the Roberts' store, corner of Front and Washingt South Danvers—At the Post Office, at Blak man's store; also at R. O. Spiller's store.

Important to the Afflict

DR. DOW continues to be consulted at hi Nos. 7 and 9 Endicott street, Boston, on eases of a

PRIVATE OR DELICATE NATUR

By a long course of study and practical ex of unlimited extent, Dr. D. has now the grat of presenting the unfortunate with remed have never, since he first introduced them, cure the most alarming cases of

GONORRHŒA AND SYPHILIS.

Beneath his treatment, all the horrors of and impure blood, Impotency, Scrofula, Gon Ulcers, pain and distress in the regions of tion, Inflammation of the Bladder and Kidne drocele, Abcesses, Humors, frightful Swelli the long train of horrible symptoms attend class of disease, are made to become as har the simplest ailings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Dr. D. devotes a great part of his time to ment of those cases caused by a secret and habit, which ruins the body and mind, unfit unfortunate individual for business or society of the sad and melancholy effects produced habits of youth, are Weakness of the B limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimness of sig pitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervousn rangement of the digestive functions, Symp Consumption, &c. The fearful effects on t are much to be dreaded; loss of memory, c of ideas, depression of spirits, evil fore aversion of society, self-distrust, timidity, among the evils produced. Such persons sh fore contemplating matrimony, consult a phy experience, and be at once restored to he happiness.

Patients who wish to remain under Dr. Dow ment a few days or weeks, will be furnish pleasant rooms, and charges for board modera Medicines sent to all parts of the country, directions for use, on receiving description cases. Dr. Dow has also for sale the French C warranted the best preventive. Order by or $1 and a red stamp.

CAUTION
TO FEMALES IN DELICATE HEAL

DR. DOW, Physician and Surgeon, 7 and 9 street, Boston, is consulted daily for all dise dent to the female system. Prolapsus Uteri, ing of the Womb, Fluor Albus, Suppression, er menstrual derangements, are all treated u pathological principles, and speedy relief gu in a very few days. So invariably certain is mode of treatment, that most obstinate co yield under it, and the afflicted person soon in perfect health.

Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater experien cure of diseases of women and children, t other physician in Boston.

Boarding accommodations for patients w wish to stay in Boston a few days under h ment.

Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined his v tention to an office practice, for the cure of Diseases and Female Complaints, acknowle superior in the United States.

N. B.—All letters must contain four red st they will not be answered.

Office Hours from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M.

CERTAIN CURE
IN ALL CASES, OR NO CHARGES M

Dr. Dow is consulted daily, from 8 a m. t as above, upon all difficult and chronic di every name and nature, having by his unwe tention and extraordinary success gained a re which calls patients from all parts of the co obtain advice.

Among the physicians in Boston, none stan in the profession than the celebrated DR. D 7 Endicott street, Boston. Those who need vices of an experienced physician and surge give him a call. P. S.—Dr. Dow imports an sale a new article, called the French Secre by mail. Two for $1 and a red stamp.

April 20, 1864—1y.

Job Press for Sale.

RUGGLES' JOB ENGINE PRESS. Prints by 19 inches. Can be run by one man a of 800 per hour. Is in good condition. It will very low price, as the owner has no use for it. big bargain. Apply at this office.

HEYLINGBERG'S
Hair Dressing Salo
24 MAIN ST., SOUTH DANVE

J. J. HEYLINGBERG would announce to rons and the public generally, that on a JUNE 1st, 1864, he will abide by the followin

TARIFF OF PRICES:

Shaving, - - - - - -
Hair Cutting, - - - - -
Champooing, - - - - -

Particular attention paid to dying hair a kers, in one preparation, without washing o bing.

South Danvers, May 11, 1864.

25 YEARS' EXPERIENCE enab CARSWELL & HUNTER to cure any of a private nature in a shorter space of time a smaller amount of money than any other do this country, and they also treat all female co with perfect success, and on the most sati terms. Patients furnished with board if Please give us a call at our office, No. 13 Endi Boston, Mass.

Boston, April 20, 1864.—1 yr.

South Danvers Wizard.

L. V. SOUTH DANVERS, MASS., WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 14, 1864. NO. 50.

OUTH DANVERS WIZARD
every WEDNESDAY, at Allen's Build-
Danvers Square,
wo Dollars a year.
EMENTS inserted at reasonable rates.

HARLES D. HOWARD,
TOR AND PROPRIETOR.

NILES, Advertising Agent,
ay's Building, Court Street, Boston, is
for that city, and is authorized to re-tisements and subscriptions for us at rates.

dvertisments.

GOLDEN OPPORTUNITY,"
TH A DISCOUNT!

ent fall in GOLD having produced
esponding effect on the value of NDISE,
AVE MARKED DOWN
ur Entire Stock of
LOTHING,
elow the basis of a Gold value,
g to customers the MOST FAVORABLE
OPPORTUNITY
t presented of Selecting their
ITER CLOTHING.
ME REDUCTION EXTENDS TO THE
STOM DEPARTMENT.
Please examine our
Stock and Low Prices,
And let your interest decide.

. BOISE & CO.,
CTURERS & DEALERS IN CLOTHING,
Washington Street,
BOSTON,
Five doors south of Milk St.)
2d, 1864.

TLEMEN'S HATS.
ALL STYLES.
the best selected assortments of FALL and
ER HATS in Boston, may be found at
A. JACKSON'S,
emont and 101 Court Sts.
COMPRISING
Silk Hats,
Fine Felt Hats, and
Cloth Hats and Caps,
latest styles.
ATS AND CAPS FOR BOYS.
A large and well assorted stock of Ladies
lemen's FURS.
JACKSON'S,
ourt St. and 59 Tremont St.,
3—3m. BOSTON.

EW STORE!
lour! Flour!
RECEIVED, a fresh supply of CHOICE
NDS, direct from the Mills, for sale,
le and retail, at LOWEST PRICES, by
E. F. OSBORN.
Sutton's Building, Main St.
Danvers, Nov 18, 1864.

M. C. HENDERSON,
MANUFACTURER OF
PLAIN AND FANCY
PER BOXES;
. 235 ESSEX STREET,
Sign of "Nest of Boxes,"
SALEM. tf

M. FENOLLOSA,
TEACHER OF MUSIC,
......PIANO FORTES,
at the lowest rates;
......PIANO FORTES,
at the Manufacturers Prices;
NGES....PIANO FORTES,
on the easiest terms;
At Rooms No. 7 Central street,
SALEM, MASS.

ng Books, Making Bills and
Copying.
bove business will be promptly and accurately ormed by the subscriber, who may be found at CLARK & GIDDINGS' Counting Room on Wal-
near the Essex Depot, or by enquiring at this
jy13 tf JOHN D. HOWARD.

PECTACLES!
SKERRY wishes to call special attention to is stock of
ectacles and Eye Glasses,
Silver, Rubber, Steel and Horn frames, of e keeps constantly on hand a very large ast, embracing every style and quality.
—ALSO—
ra Glasses, Microscopes, &c.
inserted, and Spectacles repaired.
our usual assortment of Silver and Plated welry, Fancy Goods, and Toys. Also, Can-
o. 180 Essex Street, Salem.
H. F. SKERRY.
17—6

LIFE INSURANCE

THE MUTUAL
LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY,
Of New York, with a Capital of $11,000,000,
And an Annual Income of over
$2,000,000,

AND declaring a LARGER DIVIDEND than any other Company in the United States, is the one in which every man should secure a policy on his life.

The importance of LIFE INSURANCE cannot be too highly estimated. It is the safest and most practicable method of securing to your family, in case of your death, the means of a comfortable and independent support. Thousands of instances might be cited where families have thus been provided with a competency, who would otherwise have been left in penury and want. Husbands and fathers! treat not with indifference a subject of such vital importance, but see to it at once, that your families are provided with the inestimable advantages which this great and benevolent institution affords.

Because a man has wealth, it is no reason why he should not insure, for he knows not how soon his riches may, "take to themselves wings and fly away." And let those who complain of the want of means, remember that

Forty-Five Cents a Week,
Will insure $1,000 on the life of a man of THIRTY.

AN ENDOWMENT POLICY,
Secures to the assured party, on attaining to a certain age, say 50, 55 or 60 years, an amount sufficient for his support in advanced age.

Another feature of this subject, deserving of especial attention, is

SURVIVORSHIP ANNUITIES!
By means of which one party may secure to another an annuity sufficient to maintain them in comfort and independence through life. A husband may thus make provision for his wife; a father for his child; or a brother for his sister.

Endowment Policies for Children.
By this means a parent may provide, by the payment of a small annual premium, a sum of money sufficient to enable a son to enter into business, at a proper age, or for any other provision, either for a son or daughter.

Many Gentlemen of So. Danvers and Vicinity!
Have already availed themselves of this opportunity now offered of ensuring their lives, and thus securing an inestimable blessing to themselves and their families. Let others be equally wise, and immediately follow their example.

JOHN H. DERBY,
Agent for South Danvers and Vicinity.
Post Office address, Salem, Mass.
September 14, 1864.—tf.

Special Notices.

To Consumptives.

Consumptive sufferers will receive a valuable prescription for the cure of Consumption, Asthma, Bronchitis, and all Throat and Lung affections (free of charge) by sending their address to Rev. EDWARD A. WILSON, Williamsburg, Kings Co.,
sept 21—3 mos. New York.

From the army hospital—the bloody battle-field—the mansion of the rich and humble abode of the poor—from the office and the sacred desk—from the mountain top, distant valleys and far-off islands of the ocean—from every nook and corner of the civilized world—is pouring in the evidence of the astonishing effects of DRAKE'S PLANTATION BITTERS. Thousands upon thousands of letters like the following may be seen at our office.

REEDSBURY, Wis., Sept. 16, 1863.
" * * * I have been in the army hospitals for fourteen months—speechless and nearly dead. At Alton, Ill. they gave me a bottle of Plantation Bitters. * * Three bottles restored my speech and cured me. * * * C. A. FLAUTE."

SOUTH WARSAW, O, July 23, 1863.
" * * * One young man, who had been sick and not out of the house for two years with Scrofula and Erysipelas, after paying the doctors over $150 without benefit, has been cured by ten bottles of your Bitters. — EDWARD WOUNALL.

The following is from the Manager of the Union Home School for the Children of Volunteers:
HAVEMEYER MANSION, FIFTY-SEVENTH ST.,
New York, August 2, 1863.
"DR. DRAKE: Your wonderful Plantation Bitters have been given to some of our little children suffering from weakness and weak lungs with most happy effect. One little girl, in particular, with pains in her head, loss of appetite, and daily wasting consumption, on whom all medical skill had been exhausted, has been entirely restored. We commenced with but a teaspoonful of Bitters a day. Her appetite and strength rapidly increased, and she is now well * *
Respectfully, MRS. O. M. DEVOE."

" * * I owe much to you, for I verily believe the Plantation Bitters have saved my life.
REV. W. H. WAGGONER, Madrid, N. Y."

" * * Thou wilt send me two bottles more of thy Plantation Bitters. My wife has been greatly benefited by their use.
Thy friend, ASA CURRIN, Philadelphia, Pa."

" * * I have been a great sufferer from Dyspepsia, and had to abandon preaching. * * * The Plantation Bitters have cured me.
REV. J. S. CATHORN, Rochester, N. Y."

" * * Send us twenty-four dozen more of your Plantation Bitters, the popularity of which are daily increasing with the guests of our house.
SYKES, CHADWICK & CO.,
Proprietors Willard's Hotel, Washington, D. C.

" * * I have given the Plantation Bitters to hundreds of our disabled soldiers with the most astonishing effect.
G. W. D. ANDREWS,
Superintendent Soldiers' Home, Cincinnati, O.

" * * The Plantation Bitters have cured me of liver complaint, of which I was laid up prostrate and had to abandon my Business.
H. B. KINGSLEY, Cleveland, O."

" * * The Plantation Bitters have cured me of a derangement of the kidneys and urinary organs that has distressed me for years. It acts like a charm.
C. C. MOORE, 254 Broadway, N. Y."
&c. &c. &c. &c. &c.

The Plantation Bitters make the weak strong, the languid brilliant, and are exhausted nature's great restorer. They are composed of the celebrated Calisaya Bark, Wintergreen, Sassafras, Roots, Herbs, &c., all preserved in perfectly pure St. Croix Rum.

S.—T.—1860—X.

Persons of sedentary habits troubled with weakness, lassitude, palpitation of the heart, lack of appetite, distress after eating, torpid liver, constipation, &c, deserve to suffer if they will not try them.

They are recommended by the highest medical authorities, and are warranted to produce an immediate beneficial effect. They are exceedingly agreeable, perfectly pure, and harmless.

NOTICE.—Any person pretending to sell Plantation Bitters in bulk or by the gallon is a swindler and impostor. It is put up only in our patent log cabin bottle. Beware of bottles refilled with imitation deleterious stuff for which several persons are already in prison. See that every bottle has our private United States Stamp over the cork unmutilated, and signature on steel plate side label.

Sold by respectable dealers throughout the habitable globe.
P. H. DRAKE & CO.
202 Broadway, N. Y.
Mch 16—1 yr

Selected Poetry.

BATTLE OF CEDAR RUN.

BY RICHARD COE

Beaten, and in sad disorder,
Not a soldier heeds the order,
"Rally, rally for the right!"
All he cares for is for flight.
Down the valley of disaster,
Hurrying fast, and following faster,
Plunged each horse and urged each master,
Oh! but 'twas a piteous sight—
Custer, Merritt, vainly shout,
"Rally, men, and face about!
Stop this most disgraceful rout!"
All along the line they ran,
"Where, oh! where is Sheridan?"

Twenty miles away is he;
God! that such a thing should be!
Seated on his charger black,
Hastening to his army back,
Like the lightning in its course,
With a mighty torrent's force,
Onward sped his noble horse;
Clouds of men were in his track,
Met by men bewailing flight,
"Pshaw!" he said, "I'll fix it right—Forward! forward to the fight!"
All along the line there ran
Words of cheer from Sheridan.

Ill befell to them that day,
That the rebels sought the fray.
Broke their shattered ranks and fled,
Leaving heaps of dying, dead!
Now, with shouts of joy and laughter,
Echoed back from heaven's own rafter,
Dashed our gallant troopers after
Till the field with blood was red.
Soldiers hugged each other then—
Cried and laughed by turns again,
More like girls than stalwart men;
While along the line there ran
Cheer on cheer for Sheridan!

Who shall claim for him alone
All the victory as his own?
True, a man of stubborn will,
Joined with great chivalric skill,
After that his troops retreated
Wounded, baffled, and defeated,
Had, upon his charger seated,
By his presence sent a thrill
Into every soldier's heart.
But the nation gave a start,
Moved as by electric dart;
While from lip to lip there ran,
"God and Philip Sheridan!"

Selected.

PROFESSOR HALSTEAD'S GIRL.

A crotchety and contrary old chap was Joel Shellenbarger, a rich old farmer, as mulish as the donkeys in the barn. He had made his way in the world by the doggedest obstinacy—siezing hold of whatever came in his way, and retaining that hold as though life depended upon it. Joel's mulishness had literally been the making of him, although you mightn't have considered the little, pot-bellied, thick-skulled old man much of a make after all.

Joel had one son, a handsome, clear-headed, active young man, tall, straight as a young larch, and as set in his way, when he chose to have one, as old Joel himself. This son, as he grew up, had proved a great assistance to his father in working the farm, and his services had been made the most of, the old man managing to keep him at home with him some time after he ought to have been doing for himself. Not an acre of the father's possessions was ever called the son's; he owned nothing in the world save a horse which some neighbor had given him when a sickly colt, and some sheep obtained in much the same manner, and the old man grudged him the keeping of these.

Joel Shellenbarger and his son Anson differed often, but there were two points on which the difference amounted to something serious. The first point concerned education, for which the old man had a profound contempt, and the son had not. There was a college some dozen miles from the Shellenbarger farm, and thither—having thoroughly prepared himself in spite of a fatherly thwarting and opposition—Anson betook himself, in spite of the same opposition, and by one contrivance and another, and helped on by his mother's small marketing, kept himself there until he graduated. Joel Shellenbarger contested the ground inch by inch, but afraid in his selfishness to do anything more than be obstinate, lest his son should leave him. That was the first point of difference, and that was how Anson settled it. The second was not likely to be of so easy an arrangement.

At college Anson had found something beside graduating honors; he had chanced upon a very charming combination of brown curls and azure eyes—a red-lipped, dimpled-cheeked fairy, the daughter of one of the professors, who, instead of curling her dainty lips at the homespun suit which his poverty and his father's niggardliness compelled him to wear, never seemed to be conscious of anything or anybody else when he was by. In short, Anson had found somebody to love, somebody he wanted to marry, as he gravely informed his father. You should have seen the old man's eyes; it was a mercy they were fast in their sockets. Here was gratitude! This Anson, having already defrauded his father of so much of his time, was going now to set the seal upon his absurdities and disobedience by marrying a 'town girl!' Bad enough to marry any one, seeing his father wasn't through with him—but a town girl! He would never consent, and every Shellenbarger acre should go to strangers before Anson should have one if he persisted in an idea so ridiculous!

'And pray what harm is there in being a town girl?' questioned Barbie Halstead, when Anson told her, half laughing, half vexed, and altogether rueful—for without assistance from his father he could not marry Barbie for a long time yet.

Anson laughed again, but with some embarrassment, saying, 'My father is afraid a daughter of Professor Halstead would not make a very good farmer's wife.'

'Does he think—' Barbie hesitated, looking with smiling perplexity at her little white hands,

'That these pretty hands don't know much about brewing and baking, etc.?'

'Exactly: I believe he thinks just that.'

'Then he thinks wrong,' said Barbie, reddening, and looking up at her lover with a comical little pout. 'Didn't I hear you say you needed a servant at home? I have a mind to go down and offer myself for the place.'

Anson laughed again, enjoyingly.

'We need one bad enough, but father will not suffer one inside the house.'

'Why, how do you live then? Who cooks for you now that your mother is ill?'

'We do our own cooking,' Anson said, with a return of the half smiling, half embarrassed expression. 'We cook for ourselves, or do without.'

The very day succeeding the one that witnessed this conversation, Anson was at home, busying himself about some culinary operation, when the door, which stood ajar, was noiselessly pushed wide open, and a singularly attired form presented itself on the threshold. It wore a red and green plaid dress, the checks very large, a yellow shawl, and a very frowsy and fumbled-looking bonnet. A red feather, nearly as long as Anson's arm, streamed from one side, and within the brim flopped the immense frill of a cap which hung close around the face of the stranger. The face, what could be seen of it, was a very curious one to be inside such a bonnet and cap. Just now, as she surveyed the kitchen and Anson, herself still unseen, the muscles about her mouth twitched nervously, and her eyes twinkled with a roguish brightness.

Presently Anson looked that way.

Instantly the face took a lugubrious length, and coming into the room, the girl said, insinuatingly, but without looking at him, 'An would you be afther hiring a servant the day?' and stood fidgeting with the fringe of her shawl.

'I believe not,' said Anson, coloring with some annoyance, perhaps at the nature of his employment.

'Sure, sir, an' the lady that sint me—God bless her swate eyes!—said ye'd be sure to take me on her ricommendation, which I has in me pocket—an' here 'tis now.'

She gave him a little note, which proved to be from Barbie Halstead. Anson read it with very lover-like carefulness, but shook his head.

'I am very sorry, good girl, but we do not wish to hire a servant.'

'Belike your father mayn't object, when he sees me,' persisted the girl.

Anson looked at the soiled white bonnet and the red feather, and repressed a smile, wondering what his father would say. But he was of too kindly a nature to expose even this servant to his father's rough manners. He repeated what he had said, assuring her that it would be of no use to see his father.

The girl stood a moment.

'If ye plaze, sir, I'll just see him a moment. Belike he may take a likin' to the look o' me.'

Before he could reply she had crossed the room, and stood upon the threshold of the next.

Anson followed presently, curious to see what sort of a reception she would get.

'Shure, an' I'll do plinty more'n I'm worth to yees,' she was saying with innocent emphasis, as Anson entered.

She talked rapidly, pouring out such a torrent of words that the old man could not by any possibility slip one in among them, and sat regarding her with an expression of the most ludicrous astonishment.

This remarkable volubility completely baffled the old man's slowness. He could not say a word if he wished to, and when she concluded at last with 'I kin make flap-jacks and corn bread that would bring the very eyes out iv yer head, and make ye swally yer tongue with delightsomeness,' (if he had any weakness it was for flap-jacks and corn bread) he could only twirl his thumbs in a sort of delicious awe, and asked her with a cunning smile how much she expected 'to git for doin' all them things?'

'Seventy-five cents a week,' was the prompt reply.

With a still more cunning laugh, Joel offered her half the money.

Greatly to his amazement, she agreed at once, and he found himself, to use his own expression, 'in for it.' To add to his chagrin, Anson stood by, laughing with intense enjoyment.

But the girl, without more ado, proceeded to disencumber herself of bonnet and shawl, and vanished in the direction of the kitchen before anything more could be said.

As she shut the door she stole a glance at Anson that made him start and bite his lips, and presently he strolled kitchenward also. She was already at work, handling the broom like an adept, and grumbling in her rich brogue at the dust which had accumulated in the corners; for the extent of Anson's and his father's sweeping had been to brush the centre of the room, somewhat to the disadvantage of the rest.

She did not look up as Anson entered, but he sat down, and deliberately but furtively watched her. For some time she seemed unconscious of his scrutiny; but presently she turned, and clasping both little hands upon the top of the broom-handle, said, with a mixture of bravado and archness too natural to be mistaken,—

'Well, Anson, what do you think'

The young man laughed and looked annoyed in the same breath.

'Then it is you, Barbie,' he said. 'I was suspecting something of this sort.'

'Do you think this is just the thing, Barbie?'

'Shure, an' why ain't it the thing for a poor girl to be gettin' her livin' dacently and honestly?'

And that was all he could get out of her. Having acknowledged her identity with Barbie for an instant, she was a most unapproachable 'Biddy' the next, and would have nothing to say to him except in that character.

'Does your father know of this, Barbie?—What would he say?' persevered Anson, anxiously.

'Shure, an' it's not my own fader would be interfering wid me, would he?' said Biddy.

In vain were all remonstrances with the roguish and wilful girl. She persisted in being Biddy even to him, and maintained a distance between them very different from that between him and Barbie in her own proper self.

Annoyed, provoked, chagrined, almost angry, the advent of his father forced him to retire from the kitchen, for fear of betraying Barbie's secret, which he would not have done for a great deal.

It was several hours before he could return to the house, his father having joined him, and upon one pretext and another detained him. When at last they entered together, kitchen and sitting-room—both of which had been in a most untidy state when they left them—had undergone such a remarkable renovating process, that old Joel drew back at first, thinking he had set foot in some other house than his own. Supper was smoking on the table—such a supper as old Joel, at least, had not seen for several months. To crown all, Mrs. Shellenbarger was sitting, propped with pillows, in a great easy chair, and looking wondrously contented, and with reason—the poor woman had not had a woman's hand about her before since her illness. They lived in such an isolated, inhospitable manner, that few of their neighbors even knew that Mrs. Shellenbarger was not as well as usual. Biddy, as she called herself, had tidied the poor lady up wonderfully.

I haven't time to give you all the particulars, but having made so good a beginning, with true Irish facility Biddy established herself in a very short time completely in the good graces of the old gentleman.

He had a secret liking for neatness and good order, and Mrs. Shellenbarger—poor lady!—was not a very tidy housekeeper. Under the new reign, order grew out of chaos; the house seemed in holiday garb all the time, and an atmosphere of social cheerfulness pervaded everything.

One morning—Biddy had said something about leaving the day before—the old man ended a grumbling complaint of Anson with, 'I never see no good come of eddication yet. If it hadn't been for that college business, you might have taken a likin' to a sensible girl, and she to you.'

He glanced at Biddy as he spoke. She turned scarlet, and came near dropping the dish she was holding. It was not the first time Anson had heard such insinuations, and he rather enjoyed Biddy's trepidation.

'See here, father,' he said roguishly, 'just you pick me out a wife, and see what will come of it.'

'The only girl I know of worth having, wouldn't have you, I dare say, would you, Biddy?' Joel said grumblingly, but suddenly turning to the girl.

Anson was smiling mischievously.—Bridget O'Flynn had kept Barbie's lover at a most tantalizing distance all this time. He was taking his revenge now.

Making a desperate effort, Biddy rallied her confused senses enough to say, with considerable self-posession—

'Shure, sir, and it isn't meself that'll be afther havin' ony man till I'm asked.'

'Biddy, will you marry me?' said Anson, gravely extending his hand.

'I will that now,' said Biddy, promptly putting her hand in his, while old Joel came near choking with amazement.

It was too late to recede, however, whether he had really wished such a thing or not, as they soon made him understand. He went out doors presently, and privately pinched himself to ascertain whether he were in his senses or not. Seeing the two standing by the window in close conversation, soon after, he crept with the same laudable intention toward them under cover of the bushes that grew by the house.

'Now, Barbie,' Anson was saying laughingly, 'what is to be done next? I must say you have managed wonderfully so far, but what do you suppose he'll say when he knows you're not Biddy at all?'

'Not Biddy at all!' screamed Joel Shellenbarger, struck with a sudden suspicion of he knew not what, as he started from his covert.

There stood Biddy, the white frill of her close cap as immense as ever. She laughed, though, when she saw him, and deliberatly taking off her cap, shook her bright curls all about her face, and reaching her little hand toward him, said, archly,—

'Shure, sir, an' ye won't be afther hatin' a poor girl because her name's Barbie Halstead instead of Bridget O'Flynn?'

'You—you Professor Halstead's girl?'

'Professor Halstead is my father, sir,' said Barbie, in her natural tones.

'What's that?'

Barbie repeated it.

'And you're not Irish?'

'Niver a bit.'

The old man stood a moment, clouds gathering on his face.

'Well, Anson,' said he surlily, 'you've outwitted me again—much good may it do you. You'd better get out the horses now, and take Halstead's girl home. He must want to see her by this time.'

'Yes, sir.' And Anson colored with mingled anger and amusement.

Barbie did not change countenance, however. Extending that pretty hand of hers again, she said, sweetly—

'You'll shake hands with me, sir?'

Joel turned back, and gave his hand awkwardly. The girl took it in both hers, bending her bright, arch face toward him, and saying—

'I shall come back some time, sir.—Will you be glad to see me?'

Joel hemmed and hawed, and stammered out at last—

'Yes, yes; come back, Biddy—I mean Miss O'Flynn—I mean Miss—'

'Barbie,' suggested the girl quietly.

'Yes, come back; and the sooner the better. There, Anson, make the most on't.'

Barbie did come back, in a few weeks, too, and nobody was gladder than old Joel, though at first he was a little shy of Professor Halstead's girl. She soon made him forget, however, everything save that she was Anson's wife and the way he humored the sly puss to sundry grants of money for repairs, re-furnishing, etc., I couldn't begin to tell you. But I'd like you to see the Shellenbarger place since Barbie has gone there to live.

ORIENTAL STORY TELLERS.

Travellers in Persia, China, and Japan, tell us of professional story-tellers and tradition-reciters, who, standing in the streets and market-places, tell marvellous tales to all who may choose to listen. The following is one of their Chinese parables:

'Fohi, in the course of his wanderings coming to a village, knocked at the door of a rich woman, and begged permission to enter. 'What!' said she, 'do you think I receive into my house every wandering vagabond? No indeed, it would be unbefitting a respectable woman—go your way!' Then he went to the cottage of a poor woman, who at once kindly begged him to enter. She set before him the only food she had—a little goat's milk—broke a piece of bread into it, and said, 'May Fohi bless it that we may both have enough!' She then prepared for him a couch of straw; and when he fell asleep, perceiving that he had no shirt, she sat up all night and made him one out of some linen she had made by her own hard labor; in the early morning, having completed it, she brought it to him, begging he would not despise her poor gift. After breakfast she accompanied him a little way, and at parting Fohi said, 'May the first work you undertake last until evening!'

When she got home she began to measure her linen to see how much was left; and she went on measuring, and did not come to the end until evening, when her house and yard were full of linen; in short, she did not know what to do with her wealth. Her rich neighbor, seeing this, was sorely vexed, and resolved that such good fortune should not escape her again. After some time the traveller came again to the village; she went to meet him, pressed him to go to her house, treated him to the best food she had, and in the morning she brought him a shirt of fine linen, which she had made some time before; but all night she kept a candle burning in her room, that the stranger, if he awoke, might suppose she was making his shirt.

After breakfast she accompanied him out of the village, and when they parted he said, 'May the first work you undertake last until evening!' She went her way home, thinking the whole time of her linen, and anticipating its wonderful increase; but just then her cows began to low. 'Before I measure my linen,' said she, 'I will quickly fetch the cows some water.' But when she poured the water into the trough, her pail never emptied; she went on pouring, the stream increased, and soon her house and yard were filled with water, the neighbors complained that everything was ruined; the cattle were drowned, and with difficulty she saved her life, for the water never ceased flowing until the setting of the sun.

FOOLISH PRIDE.—We have often heard a half grown-up boy say pettishly to his mother, "I don't like to be seen carrying a big bundle through the streets." But true pride is ashamed of such littleness of mind. Mr. Astor, the wealthy millionaire of New York, was reluctant to sell some goods to a young man, except for cash. The young man paid for them and took them on his back to carry them off. Mr. Astor looked in surprise; but before the young man, who was merchant, had gone many steps, he called him back, saying, "You may buy on credit to any amount. I can trust you, sir. A man who is not ashamed to do his own work is sure to succeed." Here is a good lesson for false pride.

LOBSTERS, if left on a rock, never go back to the water of their own accord; they wait till it comes to them. If thrown by some accidental circumstance on the beach within two feet of the sea, they remain and perish, unless the tide happens to reach them. They have not sense enough to crawl to the water and save their lives.

☞ It is reported, though it may not be true, that a number of the most experienced and expert rebel sharpshooters are constantly on the watch to pick off Gen. Butler. He has one advantage of them—he can see them whichever side they come.

MR. EVANS, an engineer, testified the other day to the disaster on the New Haven Railroad, that on the Harlem track 'sleepers were put down so green that they grew after they were put down.'

EFFECT OF REBELLION.—A St. Louis paper says there are not less than 200,000 persons in Missouri this day, who are little better than paupers, not knowing where to get food to maintain them through the winter.

THE INDIANOLA, which was sunk in the Mississippi during the siege of Vicksburg, has been raised. The hull and machinery are almost uninjured, only the upper works being burned off, and with a very little additional expense she will be as good as new.

THE PRINTERS' STRIKE in Boston has ended in the dissolution of the Printers' Union. All the offices are now supplied with hands—many of them females—while the printers who struck are out of employ. In the end it will reduce the wages, which have been higher than the business would bear.

DAVID J. GOLGER, Company M., Second Massachusetts Cavalry, formerly a resident of Fall River, writes from Annapolis, 'I have just returned from the South, having been a prisoner of war for the last nine months; and out of twenty-two of my company captured with me, I am the only one living.'

MAJOR-GENERAL RAMSEUR was buried at Lincolnton, N. C., lately. His last words are reported—'Tell my darling wife that I die with a firm faith in Christ, and trust to meet her hereafter.' His last words to the ambulance-driver who took him from the field were—'Tell General Hoke I die a Christian, and have done my duty.'

A MONSTER CHORAL FESTIVAL is to be held in Dresden, in July of next year. It is to last four days and a half, and to gather together ten thousand singers.—They are to be conducted by means of electric apparatus. The expense will, it is expected, reach some £14,000, it being necessary to build a large hall, calculated to hold 80,000 persons.

TELEGRAPH PROJECT.—The Mexican Estefette gives a glowing account of a project for connecting Mexico, Havana, San Francisco and New York by telegraph. The contemplated links in this chain are a line through Texas, connecting Mexico with the North American lines; one from Mexico to Yucatan; and the third by means of a submarine cable from Yucatan to Cuba.

A BURIED TOWN DISCOVERED.—A photographic artist, employed by the Government of Holland to take views from all the principal points in the Island of Java, recently discovered, near the crater of an extinct volcano, a town buried beneath the lava. The Governor of Batavia has ordered researches to be made, which will, doubtless, bring to light some curious antiquities of a country yet little known, and whose primitive inhabitants have long ago disappeared.

A CUTE REPLY.—A pro-slavery clergyman was recently travelling from New York to Boston. Being told that one of his fellow passengers was Wendell Phillips, the noted abolitionist, he determined to enter into conversation with him. After a few moments' argument he said, 'But if you so oppose slavery, Mr. Phillips, why don't you go down and preach to the Rebels?' 'For the same reason, Sir,' was the reply, 'that you do not go to hell to preach religion to sinners.'

WARNING TO OLD SOAKERS.—A death from spontaneous combustion has not unfrequently occurred, the victims being in most cases fat and aged women of intemperate habits. A case is now going the rounds, of a man who had been an habitual drinker for years, who was found standing in an out-building, completely enveloped in a silver-colored flame, like the wick of a candle in its blaze. The man being shaken by the shoulder, the fire was immediately extinguished, and though nearly all the flesh sloughed from the bones, as the veins remained, and the viscera were uninjured, he lingered thirteen days, without being conscious of much bodily pain, though he declared he was suffering the torments of hell. Two cases of this kind have occurred in the same town, in this vicinity, within thirty years, both of them women given to constant indulgence in liquor. One of them was found still alive, enveloped in flames, which proceeded from her mouth and nostrils; and the other was burned to a mass of greasy ashes, while the furniture and the walls of the room were covered with a thick coat of lampblack, the whole house being pervaded by a stench that was almost intolerable.—Newburyport Herald.

☞ Voltaire says: 'A physician is an unfortunate gentleman, who is every day called upon to perform a miracle—to reconcile health with intemperance.'

The Wizard.

WEDNESDAY, DECEMB'R 14, 1864.

TO CORRESPONDENTS.—We have received a communication from "Jennie May" on the Peabody Institute lectures, which contains statements so widely at variance with the facts in the case that we are sure the writer will thank us for not putting the article in print. We cannot conceive how she could be so misled as to matters of fact which might easily have been obtained on application to any member of the Committee. She has probably got hold of a wild rumor and accepted it as truth without proper enquiry.

We do not object to any fair criticism of lectures at the Institute, but in the article we are considering the strictures are so mixed up with extravagantly false statements that they cannot well be separated.

CHIEF JUSTICE CHASE.

For the fifth time in the history of the Republic, a Chief Justice has been appointed. Of the previous four, two were appointed by Washington, one by John Adams, and one by Jackson. All of them were men of eminent ability, with personal characters above reproach. All died, too, at a green old age. Jay went down to his grave at 93, Ellsworth at 72, Marshall at 80, and Taney at 87.

In the present military and political condition of affairs, when another year will probably bring to a close the war, evolving from its completion momentous questions of State, it seems a blessed omen that the appointment of a new Chief Justice has fallen to Mr. Lincoln. The country feels confident that now there will be no turning back in its rapid march towards Liberty and perfect Justice. Five years ago, the Supreme Court stamped the legislation of Congress in the interests of Slavery, with the seal of its authority, and the President executed every law with unscrupulous fidelity. To-day, how changed! Every department of Government—legislative, judicial and executive—is purified, and working in the interests of Freedom. No more Fugitive Slave Laws will disgrace the statute books of our legislation, no more Dred Scott Decisions will stain the white ermine of our Judiciary, no more Executive Manifestoes will rivet shackles upon innocent men and women. God be thanked!

The selection of Mr. Lincoln's is eminently wise. Indeed, in the appointment of Mr. Chase, he has only obeyed the unanimous desire of the people. Possessed of a great heart, for more than twenty years Mr. Chase has stood squarely upon the great principles of Liberty. Gifted with a rare firmness, he has clung to them, through good report and through evil report, with unflinching fidelity. We think there is no statesman in the Republic whose intellectual view takes in so wide a range as that of Mr. Chase. Certainly, there is no one more worthy to wear the judicial ermine, or who would be more faithful to the rights of humanity and the best interests of the Republic.

AN OUTRAGE.—On Sunday morning last, just before the bells began to ring for church, a raid was made on the orchards on Central street by a party of sable crows, and ravaged in the most open and insulting manner. They stationed their lookouts on the tops of the highest trees, and then sent out their raiding parties far and near, who stripped the orchards of what was left of the harvest in the coolest manner possible. Let our neighbors on Central street have their guns ready for their hungry visitants next time. For remember,

"Seeing one crow is lucky; 'tis true,
But sure misfortune attends on two,
And meeting with three is the devil."

UNION CLUB.—We are requested to state that the Union Club, recently organized at Union Store Hall, have voted to have their debates open to the public, and to invite any persons who are disposed, to participate in their discussions. We hear that the Florida case was debated last Monday evening, at considerable length. Both sides were well sustained in the argument, but, when it came to a vote, Capt. Collins' course was voted down as having been unjustifiable.

The question for discussion next Monday evening is the following:—Would the arming of their slaves, by the Southern Confederacy, tend to promote the success of their cause?

THAT DANDELION.—We understand that the same day on which Mr. Wolcott found his yellow majesty, spoken of in our previous issue, Mr. Miles Osborn, on Central street, was luxuriating on a dinner of these succulent herbs, which had been previously dug from his garden.

SUPERIOR COURT.—The December term of the Superior Court, for civil business, commenced in Salem, on Tuesday of last week, Judge Lord presiding.—About 70 cases were put upon the trial list.

EBEN SUTTON.

Monday morning last, our whole community was shocked by the announcement of the sudden death of Mr. S. the evening previous. He had been in his usual apparent vigor of health, and had been calling upon some of his neighbors and friends, when, soon after returning to his residence, he was seized with sharp pain, and although this appeared to yield to medical treatment, the sleep into which he fell was the sleep of death, for he died almost instantly with scarcely a struggle or a groan.

MR. SUTTON was a man of strongly marked character. He was extensively engaged in business, to which he devoted all his energies, and amassed a large fortune. His business relations were more immediately at North Andover, where he was engaged extensively in manufacturing, but they extended to most of the large commercial cities, where his name was known in all the centres of trade. In that town his death must be deeply felt by a large population, who have long been dependent on him as an employer, and in whom he always felt a strong interest. His departure will also cause a wide breach, not only in the family circle who now mourn his loss, but in our whole community.

At the time of his death he had been thirteen years the President of the Danvers Bank, to whose interests he was so much devoted that he would oftentimes give them his attention in preference to his own pressing private business. He was a member of the first board of Trustees of the Peabody Institute, and for six years served as its Treasurer. He was also, for many years, Director and President of the Essex Railroad.

In his politics, he was always a firm and decided Democrat, and, although averse to public life, he once allowed his name to be used as a candidate for Presidential Elector, and at another time for State Senator.

In his social relations he was pleasant and playful, and had a ready word and smile for all whom he met. Like most men of strong points of character, and who have devoted their lives to accumulation, he had his peculiarities. He had his liberal moods, his likes and dislikes, and when he bestowed of his abundant wealth, which he often did largely, but privily, he would do it in his own mode, and not at the suggestion of others. He was a man of strong attachments, and where he gave his confidence he gave it fully and unhesitatingly and did not withdraw it without sufficient cause. And this confidence, so liberally bestowed on the deserving, was freely reciprocated by the mercantile community, by whom he was regarded as a man of the strictest integrity in all commercial dealings.

The loss of such a man, whose farsightedness and sagacity had done so much for North Andover, and other places, is greater to his native town than its people may now imagine, as it is believed that, in some of the later years of his life, he was contemplating such manufacturing enterprises here as could not but do much to add to our prosperity as a community.

MASONIC.—The annual installation of the officers of Jordan Lodge occurred on Wednesday evening last. There was a large attendance, including a good delegation from Amity Lodge in Danvers, and Essex and Starr King Lodges in Salem. The new officers were invested with their jewels by Hon. A. A. Abbott, Past Master of the Lodge, who accompanied each presentation with appropriate remarks. He took occasion to remark on the presence of the venerable and respected Brother LEVI PRESTON, Esq., one of the few survivors of the original members of the Lodge and its first Junior Warden; and who now had the gratification of seeing his only son invested with the same jewel.

After the ceremony the chair was taken by the new Master, A. L. Pearson, Esq. The members of the Lodge and their guests then partook of refreshments prepared for them by Messrs. R. W. WILKINSON & Co., which was most bountiful and excellently well served, eliciting great praise from all.

On Saturday last, at a special Lodge, Capt. Robert S. Daniels, Jr., the late Master, was presented with a Past Master's Jewel, accompanied with suitable remarks and a feeling and excellent response from the Past Master.

The following are the officers installed:

W. M.—Abiel L. Peirson.
S. W.—Daniel P. Grosvenor, Jr.
J. W.—Levi Preston, Jr.
Treasurer—N. P. C. Patterson.
Secretary—Albert B. Woodbury.
Chaplain—Rev. O. S. Butler.
S. D.—Joseph Osborne.
J. D.—Cyrus S. Nutter.
S. S.—Joseph Moore.
J. S.—Charles B. Porter.
Marshal—John W. Stevens.
Tyler—David Porter.

☞ New York papers notice the invention of a new "confidence game." A fellow recently called at a house during the absence of its master, and represented to the mistress that her husband had just met with a serious accident, and had sent him for a change of clothing that he might be brought home.—The lady, in great distress, furnished the garments, which disappeared, and were seen no more.

SHIPWRECK!

One of our citizens visited the scene of the wreck at Lynn last Sunday afternoon, and we gather from him the following facts:

The vessel lost was the Sea Lion, of Rockland, Maine, bound for New Bedford, Capt. Furbush, laden with plaster. She was first seen in distress Saturday afternoon. Some time in the night she stranded and broke completely up. The crew, when last seen, were up in the rigging. Sunday morning the fragments of the vessel were found scattered upon the shore at the further end of Long Beach. The masts, spars, planks, sails, ropes, etc., were ranged along for the distance of about a fourth of a mile.—People who had seen many wrecks all concurred in the opinion that the different portions of the vessel were separated to a most extraordinary extent; hardly two pieces could be found together.—This circumstance, together with the great appearance of decay in the timber, very clearly indicated that the craft, although a large schooner of some 200 tons, was a rotten concern that ought not to have been afloat.

Hundreds of people were waiting and watching all day Sunday on the shore for the appearance of dead bodies, as it was taken for granted, without any positive knowledge, that the crew were lost.

In the forenoon the captain's coat was thrown ashore, and in its pocket were found the papers of the vessel; but no human body appeared till about four o'clock in the afternoon, when an object was seen to occasionally show itself above the breakers, and gradually nearing the shore. The report of a dead body seen soon circulated among the spectators, who immediately concentrated near the spot, and after gazing for nearly a half hour they were enabled to see the form of a human body. Five of the most venturesome men then walked out into the breakers, and succeeded in rescuing the body from the furious waves that had been tossing it about for twelve hours.

Upon bringing it ashore, it proved to be the corpse of a man apparently about sixty years old, dressed in warm, though cheap, woolen clothes. Upon one foot was a rubber boot, the other was bare. He seemed to have been a hardy, rugged old salt, who had weathered many a storm more severe than the last. We understand that since then three other bodies have washed ashore.

MAJOR GENERAL DODGE.

We see it announced that our former fellow-townsman, Gen. DODGE, around whom cluster so many pleasant recollections of his late visit, has been appointed to the command of the Department of Missouri, his Head-Quarters to be at St. Louis. He succeeds Gen. Rosecrans, who has been ordered to report at Cincinnati. We learn further that the young General goes by the name of the "Hancock of the West," and that this news of his appointment was received with great enthusiasm.

The rapidity of Gen. DODGE's advancement is remarkable, even as compared with other changes in this eventful war. Beginning with a colonel's commission, he has steadily arisen through all the intervening grades to a Major General, and, after being a Brigadier, Division and Corps commander, he has been assigned to the very responsible post of commander of a Department. In such a position the very best of executive talent, combined with military skill and courage, are demanded, and, we doubt not, Gen. DODGE will be found fully equal to all its requirements.

RAILROAD ACCIDENT.—Mr. Peter Derrivan, of this town, was killed on Monday last while at work repairing the road (in the employment of the Company) near the Alms House, on the South Reading Branch Railroad. When the locomotive approached to within about forty rods of him, the bell was rung; he looked up, but supposing there was time to do a little more, resumed his work. When within about ten rods, the engineer sounded the whistle, at which Mr. Derrivan stepped aside; but seeing a shovel on the other side of the track, in danger of being broken, he instantly sprang across to save it, but was hit in the left side, and thrown some forty feet, causing immediate death. It is said that the agents of the Company have repeatedly cautioned him against working till the too near approach of trains.

An inquest was held on the body by Coroner Walton, the following gentlemen being on the jury: Joseph Poor, A. P. Phillips, Geo. W. Potter, John A. Lord, Frank T. Arnold, and Reuben Nelson.

Dr. Batchelder examined the body, and found the left leg and arm, one rib, and the jaw bone broken, and other wounds sufficient to cause death. The verdict of the jury was in accordance with the above facts, exonerating the engineer from all blame.

☞ No man can be mentally comfortable, much less happy, who does not succeed, at least in his own view, in adding something to the general stock of goodness or usefulness in the world.

A Scene in the University of Edinburgh.

The following, which we take from the Liverpool Journal, proves that all the rowdyism is not committed by Americans, but that our good friends of Great Britain have a share in their own household. Such an occurrence here, if witnessed by one of their travellers in this country, would prove an apt text for remark on the lack of civilization in America:

On Monday Sir David Brewster, principal of the University of Edinburgh, delivered his opening address on the "better endowment of the Universities of Scotland, and the claims of science, literature, and the arts to national recognition and support." The occasion was rendered remarkable by very unseemly conduct on the part of the students.

Prof. Stevenson rose, under a perfect shower of peas from the back galleries, and proceeded, amid some interruptions, to open the proceedings with prayer.

Sir David Brewster then rose to deliver his address, but another volley of peas and renewed interruptions appeared for a time to render it impossible for him to make himself heard by his unruly audience. After a patient waiting, there was a lull, when he was able to speak audibly for about a quarter of an hour. The pelting of peas at a subsequent stage was recommenced, when Professor Dyglas Maclagan rose on the platform, and, asking Sir David to stop for a little, said:—I observe in the gallery a student (to whom he pointed) throwing peas at this moment (cries of "Pick him out," with great applause and loud hissing.) I have to ask that student to stand up and give his name (cries of "Give it;" "Don't give it;" and loud cheers).

Professor Christison—I beg to propose that student's name be demanded (loud hisses). This is a nuisance to which we have been subjected year after year, and it must be stopped (renewed hissing, and cries of "Don't give your name!")

Dr. Robert Lee (pointing to the offending student)—You had better stand up at once and give your name (A Voice—"Is that a bit from the prayer-book?" with laughter, hisses, and cheers).

Professor Bennett—If that student does not give his name, I shall move his expulsion (cries of "No, no," hisses, and renewed uproar).

Prof. Christison (addressing the student)—We ask your name, sir, and if you are a gentleman you will at once send in your card (cries of "No, no," hisses, and cheers).

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE.—As this document was communicated to Congress, nearly a week ago, and has since been published all over the country, we have thought it not necessary to reproduce it in our columns. All who have read it, so far as we know, concur in the opinion that it is exceedingly well written, and in all respects creditable to the head and heart as well as the pen of our respected Chief Magistrate.

SEVERE ACCIDENT.—Mr. Andrew S. Porter, of this town, badly shattered his right arm last Monday, while at work on a leather splitting machine in his premises. The surgeon who dressed the wound states that it is one of those compound fractures, where the bones are thrust through the flesh. This makes the fifth case of this kind in our town, by the use of one style of leather splitting machines.

SPECIAL INCOME DUTY.—The Salem Observer publishes the names of persons in the Fifth Collection District of Massachusetts, who have returned their Incomes for the "Special Income Duty" at $2,000 and upwards, per annum, and for the information of our citizens we copy the Danvers and South Danvers list:

DANVERS.
Kimball, Edward D.,	$66,000
Tapley, Gilbert A.,	8,000
Learoyd, John A.,	2,000
Mudge, Edwin,	2,000
Peabody, Francis, Jr.,	3,500
Putnam, Wm. E.,	4,000
Rice, Joseph H.,	2,000
Warren, Jonas,	2,600
SOUTH DANVERS.
Blaney, Stephen,	$20,066
Brown, Rufus H.,	9,150
Farley, Charles B.,	5,853
Osborn, Caleb W.,	5,356
Proctor, Thomas E.,	12,829
Proctor, Abel,	14,850
Poor, Eben S.,	8,550
Pinder, John,	8,700
Poor, Henry,	12,914
Sutton, Eben,	24,000
Saltonstall, Henry,	7,281
Saltonstall, Henry, trustee,	8,411
Saltonstall, Henry, guardian,	12,782
Clement, John B.,	2,797
Elliott, Lewis W.,	2,252
Jacobs, Warren M.,	3,642
Jacobs, Edw. W.,	2,400
King, Jonathan,	2,987
Lowe, Charles P.,	2,109
Merrill, Alexander B.,	4,119
Nelson, Reuben G.,	4,114
Nutter, Cyrus S.,	2,851
Osborn, Franklin,	4,265
Osgood, Joseph, guardian,	2,758
Osborn, George P.,	2,000
Osborn, Miles,	2,000
Osborn, Miles, Jr.,	2,000
Phillips, Alonzo P.,	2,000
Smith, Richard,	4,500
Sweetser, Thomas A., trustee,	4,728
Sanger, George F.,	3,400
Upton, Elijah W.,	4,250
Upton, Mary,	2,703

DANVERS.—Mr. SETH BUTLER, died in this town last Sunday, aged 82 years and 9 months. On the night before he died, he ate his supper and appeared as well as usual. Mr. B. was a captain in the war of 1812, and was a very worthy and estimable citizen. His complaint is supposed to have been disease of the heart.

SOUTH DANVERS.—We paid a flying visit to our sister town of South Danvers one day last week, and made a call upon our friend HOWARD, of the WIZARD, whom we found busy with the types, as usual, and from whom we received a cordial greeting. With him we made a short visit to the library room of the Peabody Institute, where we found the librarian, whose genial countenance and pleasant words are like sunshine at any time. He showed us the magnificent gold box presented to George Peabody by the city of London, with the freedom of the city therein, as a partial acknowledgment of the handsome gift of two hundred and fifty thousand pounds, which Mr. Peabody donated for the benefit of the poor of London. This box, together with the beautiful illuminated manuscript letters of Mr. Peabody and the authorities of London, is deposited in the Institute for safe keeping. A glance at the spacious, convenient and well arranged lecture hall of the Institute, with its neatly cushioned seats, clean walls, and splendid portraits of Edward Everett and Rufus Choate, suspended on either side of a full-length painting of Mr. Peabody, made us sigh when we contrasted the scene with that which we are compelled to witness in our own Lyceum Hall. Would that the liberal heart of some long-pursed citizen might be moved to erect for us such a lecture hall. It is among the necessities of the times. South Danvers may well be proud of such a hall, as she also may of the many neat and tasteful residences that adorn her streets. There is an air of neatness and thrift about South Danvers that pleases all who visit it; and we hope the day is not far distant when the horse railroad will bring it into a little closer connection with Lynn, so that our acquaintance with it may become more intimate, as we are sure it will be more agreeable.—Lynn Reporter.

OUR PATRIOT DEAD.—The following touching remarks occur in the recent speech of Hon. S. P. Chase, of Cincinnati: "And there is many a young man sleeping now calmly beneath a Southern sod, wept over by a Northern mother. Whenever did you see a Northern mother who was sorry that she had given her son to the republic? I have seen many childless mothers. It was only a few days since I was in Massachusetts, when I was at the place where old Israel Putnam, the wolf hunter was born. They showed me the room in which the old man was born, and it was interesting to think that I stood there upon the spot where such a man came into life. But I heard something that was far more interesting than that.

"A young man of the same blood some sixteen years of age, heard of the firing on Fort Sumter. His youthful ardor was kindled.—He had been sleeping in the room of the old General, and had caught the spirit of his ancestor, and in the moonlight night he would sit outside and carve with his penknife a sword of wood. They showed it to me. On one side he had engraved, 'Not to be drawn without justice; not to be sheathed with dishonor.' On the other side he had engraved 'Death to traitors.' And his youthful heart so burned within him, that when the second call was made for troops, in May, 1861, his ardor could not be restrained; he enlisted, and went forth, to fight the battles of his country, and passed through almost every battle field from Ball's Bluff to the seven day's fight before Richmond, and there, mortally wounded, fell down to die. I saw his aged parents—his young sister. There was not one of them who did not rejoice that if he was to die, he was to die in defence of the Union and his country."

GODEY'S LADY'S BOOK—THE FASHION MAGAZINE OF THE WORLD.—This magazine contains the most magnificent steel engravings and double fashion-plates; wood engravings on every subject that can interest ladies. Crochet knitting, netting, embroidery, articles for the toilet, for the parlor, the boudour, and the kitchen. Everything, in fact, to make a complete Lady's Book. The following are the terms of Lady's Book for 1865, for which there can be no deviation:

One copy, one year,	$3 00
Two copies, one year,	5 50
Three copies, one year,	7 50
Four copies, one year,	10 00
Five copies, one year, and an extra copy to the person sending the club,	14 00
Eight copies, one year, and an extra copy to the person sending the club,	21 00
Eleven copies, one year, and an extra copy to the person sending the club,	27 50
Additions to any of the above clubs, each subscriber.	2 50

L. A. Godey, Publisher,
Philadelphia, Pa.

STEAM BOILER EXPLOSION.—Another one of these accidents, from which our own town has so recently suffered, occurred at Danversport last Monday morning, by the explosion of a boiler in a small shop connected with the Iron Works. There were but two men injured,—Mr. John C. Copp, who has been foreman there for a number of years, and Mr. Russell, a young man in the employ of the company. They are both badly scalt and otherwise hurt, but not dangerously. No blame can be attached to any one, for the accident was caused by a deficiency in the strength of the boiler, it having been used only four days. It is thought the boiler was not properly tested before setting. One-half of the building is a complete wreck, and the other half badly shattered. It was a miracle that any of the four men in the building, at the time of the explosion, escaped with their lives.

Young Men's Union.

3. The Third Lecture of the Young Men's Union Course will be delivered by REV. R. S. STORRS, JR., D. D., of Brooklyn, N. Y., on THURSDAY EVENING, Dec. 15.
THOMAS B. NICHOLS, Rec. Sec.

Commonwealth of Massachuse

HEAD-QUARTERS, BOSTON, December 2, 18
GENERAL ORDER, No. 42.

Whereas the Commander-in-Chief, by G eral Order, No. 32, of August 20th, last, in ecution of the power conferred upon him by act entitled, An Act concerning the Mil approved May 14, 1864, and being chapter of the Acts of 1864, specified certain compa
and regiments of the Massachusetts Volun Militia which it was expedient to maintain continue in being: And there were at that certain companies and regiments of said M tia, not included in said General Order,
32, they being then in the service of the Un
States, under the call of the President troops for 100 days' service, some of w were expressly recruited for that special vice throughout the State at large, while ers were existing local organizations which unteered for that duty:

And these companies and regiments ha
now returned and been mustered out of Un States service, it is necessary to detern which of them retain such a state of efficie as will warrant the Commander-in-Chie maintaining their organizations, and whic them cannot, by reason of the manner in wh they were formed, or other causes, be expe to hold together:—

The commanding officers of the regim and companies recently in the service of United States for 100 days are therefore her required to make return to the Adjutant-G eral of the State, within thirty days from date of this order, complete rolls of the offi and men of their respective commands have re-enlisted or expressed their willing to re-enlist, under the provisions of said Ac 1864 concerning the Volunteer Militia, statements of all facts bearing upon the abi of their several organizations to maintain t existence and efficiency in conformity with Act.

The Commander-in-Chief tenders his tha to the officers and men of these troops wh gallantly and patriotically responded to the
of their country in an emergency of great p and who have now—their duty nobly do been welcomed with pride to the homes stood forth to defend.

He is sensible how valuable is the experie of active service which they have acquired hopes that wherever it is possible they stand by the organizations, now hallowed so glorious a reputation, and exert themse at once to so recruit them as to conform to requirements of the law.

By order of his Excellency, JOHN A. ANDREW,
ernor and Commander-in-Chief.
WILLIAM SCHOULER, Adjutant Gener
Dec. 14—1w.

Lost,

Last Friday afternoon, a FITCH FUR M
TEN, lined with drab flannel. The finder, leaving it at Mr. B. F. Stevens' Jewelry St or at Mr. Wm. N. Lord's, Washington St will be suitably rewarded.
E. G. TILTON
South Danvers, Dec. 14, 1864.

Notice.

We, the undersigned, Provision Dealers
South Danvers, do hereby agree to close Stores three evenings a week: Tuesdays, W nesdays and Thursdays, at 6 o'clock.
FAIRFIELD & RAYNER
C. D. TILTON.
South Danvers, Dec. 14, 1864.

Warren National Bank.

The annual meeting of the Stockholders of Warren National Bank for the choice of rectors for the year ensuing, and for the tra action of any other business that may leg come before them, will be held at their B Rooms on TUESDAY, January 10, 1865, a o'clock, A. M. Per order,
FRANCIS BAKER, Cashier
South Danvers, Dec. 7.

Fashionable Dress-Making.

MRS. W. J. BENNETT would respectfully form the ladies of South Danvers and vicin that she has taken rooms in Mr. Henry Merrill's house, on Lowell Street, and do dress-making in the latest styles. No p received unless satisfaction is given.
South Danvers, Nov. 30, 1864.

Episcopal Services.

Divine Service, according to the order of Protestant Episcopal Church, will be held the Town Hall on the next Sunday eveni Decem'r 18th,) commencing at 7 o'clk. Th service will be held, also, on each succeedi
Sunday evening, at the same hour.

These services are in the charge of the R
GEORGE D. WILDES, Rector of Gr
Church, Salem. As at present conduct they are wholly free; and all persons intere
are affectionately invited to attend.

If the weather should be stormy on a evening appointed, the service will be omitt
Dec'r 14, 1864.

Railroad Arrangement.

SOUTH READING BRANCH.
Trains leave South Danvers for Salem,
8.30 A. M., 12.45, 2.45 and 5.45.
Leave Salem for South Danvers, at 7.50, 9
A. M., 2.05 and 5 P. M.

ESSEX RAILROAD.
Trains leave South Danvers for Salem,
7.08, 7.50, 8.48, A. M., 1.28, 6.18, 7.03, P.
Leave Salem for South Danvers, at 6.
11.15, A. M., 4.45, 5.45, P. M.
J. PRESCOTT, Sup't.
So. Danvers, Dec. 7, 1864.

☞ Goods received for LEWANDO'S FREN DYE HOUSE. M. E. CRANE.
Jan 20. tf

Port of Danvers.

Ar 2d, schs Mary Eliza, Bangor; Pearl, Rocklan
6th, Rose Skeritt, New York; Aurora, Bangor.

Marriages.

In Salem, Dec. 7th, by Rev. Mr. Palmer, Mr. Ira Bigelow to Miss J. Augusta, youngest daughter Thorp Fisher, Esq.
8th, by Rev. Dr. Mills, Mr. Joseph B. Teague to Mi
Elizabeth A. Gray.

Deaths.

In this town, Nov. 25th, Mr. Asa Galeucia, about
years.
11th, Mr. Eben Sutton, 61 years. Funeral this (We nesday) forenoon at 11 o'clock.
11th, Amos Verry, 56 years 9 months.
In Salem, Dec. 6th, Mr. Thomas O'Roarke, 57 yr 8th, Mrs. Hannah, wife of Mr. Thomas Connors, years.
In Danvers, Dec. 11, Seth Butler, 82 yrs 9 mos.
In Beverly, Dec. 7, Mr. Israel Bessey, 68 yrs 9 mo
In Lynnfield Centre, Dec. 6, Willie B., youngest so of the late William Brown.

J. F. Almy & Co.

BALMORAL SKIRTS To Close.
Balmoral Skirts TO CLOSE.
BALMORAL SKIRTS To Close.
Balmoral Skirts TO CLOSE.
BALMORAL SKIRTS To Close.

We are Closing our Stock of Balmoral Skirts at very Low Prices.

JAMES F. ALMY & CO.,
188 Essex St., Opp. Central Street.
Salem, Dec. 14, 1864.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

HEADQUARTERS, Boston, November 21, 1864.
GENERAL ORDER No. 45.

His Excellency the Governor has received from Brigadier-General James B. Fry, United States Provost-Marshal General, a communication, enclosing instructions to the Officers of his Bureau, relative to the correction and revision of the enrollments, together with a copy of a letter of instructions to Major F. N. Clarke, Acting Assistant Provost-Marshal General of the State. General Fry requests the co-operation of the Governor in the efforts that are now making to perfect the Enrollment Lists in order that correct quotas may be determined in the event of future calls, and to require all men liable under the law to render their share of military service, and that no locality shall be compelled to furnish more than its equitable proportion of troops.

He also requests His Excellency to take such steps as will induce State, Municipal, and other local authorities, as well as prominent and influential citizens, to co-operate with the Officers of the Bureau, in securing an accurate enumeration of the persons liable to military duty in the several Districts in the State.

In the Circular of Instructions, above referred to, the Boards of Enrollment are notified that their duties in regard to the correction of the Enrollment do not cease with its revision as recently completed or now in progress. On the contrary, the revision and correction of these Lists is a continuous duty, to which the labors of all Boards must be directed. The names of all persons liable to military duty, taking up their residence in a Sub-District, as well as all in the Sub-District who from time to time become liable, are to be added to the Enrollment Lists; and the names of persons who enlist into the military and naval service, or remove, permanently, from a District, or whose liability terminates while in it, will be stricken off; and in case of removal, whenever it is practicable, the Board of Enrollment of the District to which the person removes will be notified, and he will be enrolled by that Board.

The Board of Enrollment are to have copies of the Enrollment Lists open to the examination of the public at all proper times, and are to give public notice that any person may appear before the Board, and have any name stricken off the list, if he can show to the satisfaction of the Board that the person named is not properly enrolled, on account of—

1st. Alienage.
2d. Non-residence.
3d. Over Age.
4th. Permanent physical disability, of such a degree as to render the person not a proper subject for enrollment under the law and regulations.
5th. Having served in the military or naval service two years during the present war, and been honorably discharged.

Civil officers, Clergymen, and all other prominent citizens, are invited to appear before the Board, to point out errors in the lists, and to give such information in their possession as may aid in the correction and revision thereof.

In the letter of Instruction to Major Clarke, he is directed to secure, as far as possible, the assistance and co-operation of the people in every sub-district, and to let them understand that it is plainly for the interest of each sub-district to have stricken from the lists all names improperly enrolled, because an excess of names increases the quota called for from such sub-districts; and that it is equally for the interest of each person enrolled in a given sub-district to place upon the lists all persons in the sub-district liable to do military duty, because the greater the number to be drawn from, the less chance that any particular individual will be drawn. It is the personal interest of every enrolled man, that the quota in which he is concerned shall not be made too large, and that his own chances for draft shall not be unjustly increased. Both these objects will be attained, if all parties will aid in striking out the wrong names and putting in the right ones. Especially is this the interest of those drafted men, who, by putting in substitutes themselves liable to draft, have secured exemption, which, by the terms of the law, holds good only until the present enrollment is exhausted in their sub-districts. Men who are over forty five years of age, and, in consequence, excused by law from the performance of duty in the field, owe it to the cause, and to the country, to take a zealous and active part in the correction of the enrollment lists;—a military service of the first importance.

The law requires that quotas shall be assigned in proportion to the enrollment, and the fairness and justice of this mode of determining the amount of military service due from each and every section of the country cannot be doubted, if the enrollment is made as nearly perfect as it is practicable to make it.

His Excellency the Governor calls the particular attention of all Municipal Officers, as well as of Committees and other persons, interested or influential in the matter of recruitment in the several sub-districts, to the importance of co-operating effectually and promptly with the enrolling officers in correcting the lists.—Every error upon the lists, and every change by death, removal, disability, arrival at the age of forty five, or other cause, should be immediately reported to the enrolling officer. Any inaccuracy which now exists can be corrected, by giving the necessary information to the Board of Enrollment, and will thus prevent any occasion for complaints, when it is too late to apply the remedy.

By order of his Excellency JOHN A. ANDREW
Governor and Commander-in-Chief.

WM. SCHOULER,
Dec 14—1w Adjutant-General.

THE GREAT ENGLISH REMEDY.

SIR JAMES CLARKE'S CELEBRATED FEMALE PILLS!

Prepared from a prescription of Sir J. Clarke, M. D., Physician Extraordinary to the Queen.

This well known medicine is no imposition, but a sure cure and safe remedy for Female Difficulties and Obstructions, from any cause whatever; and, although a powerful remedy, they contain nothing hurtful to the constitution.

In all cases of Nervous and Spinal Affections, pain in the Back and Limbs, Fatigue on slight exertion Palpitation of the Heart, Hysterics, and Whites, these pills will effect a cure, when all other means have failed: and, although a powerful remedy, do not contain iron, calomel, antimony, or anything hurtful to the constitution.

Full directions in the pamphlet around each package, which should be carefully preserved.

For full particulars, obtain, free, of the agent, a pamphlet. Sold by all Druggists.

Sole United States Agent,
JOB MOSES, 27 Cortlandt St., New York.

N. B.—$1 and 6 postage stamps enclosed to any authorized agent, will insure a bottle, containing over 50 pills, by return mail. March 9, 1864.—1 yr.

TABLE CUTLERY.

A FULL stock of Knives and Forks, with Horn Ebony, Cocoa and Bone Handles. Also Carvers, Steels, Bread and Cook Knives, Mincing Knives, &c., at
nov 16 S C & E A SIMONDS', 32 Front st.

PEABODY'S LADIES' FURNISHING STORE.

220 Essex Street, Salem.

MARKED DOWN.

$1 75	Ribbons down to	$1 25 cents.
$1 50	Ribbons down to	95 cents.
$1 25	Ribbons down to	75 cents.
$1 00	Ribbons down to	65 cents.
75	Ribbons down to	50 cents.

RIBBONS ALL DOWN TO CLOSE.

Flowers at Low Prices!
Flowers at Low Prices!
Flowers at Low Prices!

Ruches at Low Brices!
Ruches at Low Prices!
Ruches at Low Prices!

FLOWERS MARKED DOWN. RIBBONS.

TO REDUCE OUR STOCK.

J. P. PEABODY,
220 Essex Street.

Advertisements.

Misses' and Children's OUTSIDE GARMENTS.

MISSES' AND CHILDREN'S SACKS.
—FOR SALE BY—
AUGUSTUS J. ARCHER & CO.,
Dec 14. 181 Essex Street.

Spool Cotton.

"The Hadley Company's Six Cord Spool Cotton."

FOR years past the best quality of spool cotton used in this country has been of foreign manufacture; and it has been heretofore generally admitted that Yankee manufactures in this particular line could not successfully compete with the imported article. The Hadley Company, of Holyoke, Mass., have been for some time engaged in manufacturing an article of six cord spool cotton, which is pronounced by the best of judges to be the equal of the imported article. Indeed, many pronounce it superior. The thread is six corded, and has a soft and beautiful finish, and for durability it has no equal in the market. Here is an excellent chance for the ladies to patronize a purely American manufacture, as the article needs only an introduction to secure for it a general use.

It is numbered like Taylor's Persian Thread, and is quite equal in quality. For sale in Salem, by
AUGUSTUS J. ARCHER & CO.

Arrears of Pay,

FOR the wives of Officers and Soldiers, who are now prisoners of war, collected by
PORTER & HADLEY,
Government Claims Agents

JOHN W. PORTER, 243½ Essex St., Salem. } H. L. HADLEY, Danvers, cor. of Maple & Elm sts.
Danvers, Dec. 14—6w

List of Letters

REMAINING unclaimed in the Post Office at South Danvers, Mass., Dec. 14, 1864.

☞ To obtain any of these letters, the applicant must call for ADVERTISED LETTERS, give the date of this list, and pay one cent for advertising.

☞ If not called for within one month, they will be sent to the Dead Letter Office.

☞ Office Hours from 7½ A. M. to 8 P. M.

Helen M. Bright	Joseph M. Putman
Ruth Clarridge	Jane Babcock
Mary Collins	M. M. Colburne
Sarah Gove	Annie Glover
Charles Hiller	Stein & Sadell
J. W. Moody	M. E. Plummer
P. P. Tapley & Co.	Hannah Tyler
	Sarah M. Wylcott

DANIEL WOODBURY, P. M.

CHRISTMAS AND NEW YEAR PRESENTS—AT

Ann R. Bray's, 76 Federal St.

We have bought a very large Stock of Ladies' and Gentlemen's Linen Hdkfs—Plain Borders, Hem-Stitched and Tucked.

Gentlemen's Col'd Bordered do—very neat patterns. Our Stock was bought at very low prices, and we shall sell them at the same LOW PRICES.

THE TWO BEST GAMES

OF the season are "Parlor Croquet," and "The Garrison Game." Both are adapted to any age and will be found to be the very pleasantest entertainment for the family circle
G. M. WHIPPLE & A. A. SMITH.

WHITE WARE.

DINNER Ware, Tea Ware and Toilet Ware of the best quality, just opened at
S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS', 32 Front st.

GLASS WARE.

A full stock of Glass Ware of all kinds at
S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS.

CHINA WARE.

WHITE China Ware, and Gold Band China Ware, at dec 14 S C & E A SIMONDS', 32 Front st.

TO LET.

A Convenient Tenement of eight rooms near the Essex Railroad Station at Danversport to let. Enquire of JAMES D. BLACK, Danversport.
Dec. 11, 1864—tf

DR. E. F. KITTREDGE,

From Lowell, formerly of New Ipswich, N. H.,
Has removed his office and residence to

NO. 42 MAIN STREET,
SOUTH DANVERS, MASS.

Dr. K., from an extensive and successful professional experience of upwards of twenty years, feels justified in saying that he can treat diseases to the satisfaction of his patients, and to the credit of himself.

Office hours from 7 to 9 A. M., and from 6 to 9 P. M.
South Danvers, Nov 13, 1863.

MANUAL FENOLLOSA

TEACHER OF THE

Violin, Piano and Singing,

Music Rooms, No. 7 Central Street,
SALEM, MASS.

Renovation of Beds.

If people only knew how injurious to health is the practice of sleeping on foul feathers, they would lose no time in having them renovated and made perfectly fresh and sweet. It is a good thing to "air" the bed before it is made up, but this does not cure effectually the impurities of feathers which have for a long time been slept upon. Any good physician will tell you that it is deleterious to health to sleep on beds which have been made foul by the exhalations of the human body. Mr. SUMNER SOUTHWICK does this service in a thorough manner by a process perfectly effectual. He has the exclusive agency of the improvement for this and the neighboring towns. If you would have freedom from disease, and quiet and healthful sleep, call upon Mr. SOUTHWICK, on Park Street.

To Let.

A tenement on Walnut Street, near Harmony Grove. Enquire of
Dec. 7—4w W. P. CLARK.

Browning & Long.

Great Display,

OF

RICH GOODS,

FOR THE

HOLIDAYS!

HOLIDAY PRESENTS.

MANY NOVELTIES!
JUST IMPORTED.
SURPASSING ALL PREVIOUS SEASONS

NEW GOODS,
IN EVERY DEPARTMENT

CALL AND SEE THE

ELEGANT ASSORTMENT
OF
BEAUTIFUL ARTICLES,
JUST OPENED FOR INSPECTION,
AT

BROWNING & LONG'S

177 Essex Street, 177
SALEM.

☞ Our Store closes every Evening, Saturdays excepted, at 6 o'clock.
Salem, Dec. 14, 1864.

DRESS GOODS AND SMALL WARES.

DeLaines,	All the new and choice styles of Dress Buttons	Head Nets,
Poplins,		Lace Veils,
Alpaccas,		Ladies' Clouds,
Plaids,		Lace Edging,
Callcoes,		Head Dresses,
Balmorals,		Braids, Trimmings,
Shawls, &c., &c.,		Hosiery, Gloves, &c.,

OPENED THIS MORNING
AT
164 Essex Street, Salem.

The prices are marked down so low that all in want of DRESS GOODS and SMALL WARES will really find a Bargain at 164.

Nov 23 J. E. P. FEARING.

OUR YOUNG FOLKS.

THE New Magazine for Boys and Girls, will be issued about the 10th of December, and will be a most entertaining Book.

G. M. WHIPPLE & A. A. SMITH will have early specimen copies and will receive subscriptions. Prices $2 00 a year, or cents a number.
dec 7—3w

WANTED.

A YOUNG MAN to learn the Dry Goods Business, or one who has had some experience. To a youth of correct habits, good abilities, an excellent opportunity is offered. JAMES F. ALMY & CO.

HOUSEKEEPERS, ATTENTION!

JACKSON'S KITCHEN FURNISHING ROOMS,

Under MECHANIC HALL, Salem.

Parties about commencing House-Keeping will find this the ONLY place in Salem where a COMPLETE ASSORTMENT of House-Keeping articles can be found.
dec 2, 1863.

VALUABLE REAL ESTATE.

THE Subscriber offers for sale the following Lots of Land, with the Buildings thereon, at private sale, until next Spring, when such as then remain unsold, will be offered at Public Auction:

A new and well-built two-story DWELLING HOUSE situated on English Street. This house is well supplied with the modern conveniences, is pleasantly situated on rising ground, and is a very desirable residence.

Several front LOTS for building purposes on Walnut Street, will be sold at moderate prices and fair terms.

Near ELM STREET, on a Court south of said street, are two DWELLING HOUSES, planned for two families each. One is two stories high, the other one and a half. Both houses have good tenants and yield a good income, offering a good chance for investment.

Between Harris and English Streets, one one story DWELLING HOUSE, and one story and a half House.

The above is a most excellent opportunity for enterprising young men to secure places for business and dwelling houses, on reasonable terms. Such a chance may not soon again occur.

Persons desiring to purchase any of the above lots may learn the prices and terms on application to ANDREW S. PORTER, Elm Street.

SAMUEL D. PENDAR.
South Danvers, December 1, 1864.

COAL $8 PER TON.

BROWN'S PATENT

Metallic Weather Strips,

And WINDOW BANDS,

Will Save 1-3 of your Coal Bills.

BY rendering the Tops, Bottoms, Sides and Centres of Doors, Windows and Sky Lights, of every description, wind, rain, snow and dust proof, without interfering with the free use of the same for ventilating purposes at all times.

E. H. STATEN,
No. 147 Essex Street, Salem.
Sole Agent for Salem, South Danvers, Marblehead and Beverly. dec 7—2m

---

Ladies' Furnishing Goods.

35 CENTS.

We have a few dozen of 75 cent Hem Stitched Linen Cambric Hdkfs. at 35 cents each, or 3 for $1.00. The best bargains of the season.

50 CENTS.

We have Black Printed bordered Hdkfs.—Hem Stitched Linen Cambric, for 50 cents each—to close—worth $1.00. Examine them and see for yourselves.

JOHN P. PEABODY.

$1.00.

Gent's Linen Cambric Hem Stitched Hdkfs. $1.50 quality, only $1.00 each. Gent's Hdkfs. of all kinds, at very low prices.

$1.15.

Nice Plaid Ribbons, as good as is usually sold for $1.50, only $1.15—to Reduce Stock. Ribbons, Flowers and Ruches all at the lowest prices.

J. P. PEABODY.

50 CENTS.

Black Lace Veils from 50 cents up to $8.00 each. All the choice new patterns just opened and offered at our usual low prices.

80 CENTS.

Best Sea Foam Hoods—ready trimmed—only 80 cents.

J. P. PEABODY.

25 CENTS.

Black or White Worsteds,	25 cts;
Common Colors,	30 cts;
Chinchillas or Purples.	35 cts;
Blue Mixed Yarns,	10 cts;
White Wool Yarns,	10 cts;
Drab Wool Yarns,	10 cts;
Random Yarns,	10 cts;

J. P. PEABODY.

$1.15.

The finest Cloud made, $1.15;
Hoods in all the best styles;
Sontags in all the best styles;
Sheridan Jackets—Hand-made;
Sea Foams—trimmed—only 80 cts;
Scarfs in all the best Styles.

J. P. PEABODY.

LADIES' FURNISHING AND THREAD STORE. GOODS OF ALL KINDS—AT

JOHN P. PEABODY'S
220 ESSEX ST., SALEM.

Our Store is closed every evening—Saturday excepted—at six o'clock, until April 1st, 1865.
Dec. 14. JOHN P. PEABODY.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

We shall for next two months sell from our stock
—OF—
READY-MADE BONNETS,
AT A
DISCOUNT OF 15 TO 20 PER CENT
Less than the present prices.

☞ Those wishing the BEST CHOICE should
COME EARLY.

REITH & CO'S,
No. 2 West Block, 188 Essex St.,
Nov 9 SALEM, MASS.

OYSTER AND REFRESHMENT SALOON.

R. W. Wilkinson & Co.,

WOULD respectfully inform the citizens of South Danvers and vicinity, that they have opened in connection with their

Newspaper & Periodical Department

an Oyster and Refreshment Saloon for

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN,

who may favor them with their patronage.

OYSTERS cooked, or for sale by measure.

MEATS of all kinds cooked to order at all hours, and suppers furnished to parties at short notice.

HOT COFFEE at all hours of day and evening.

CAKE of every variety, including Wedding, Citron, and Plain Frosted, furnished to families and parties.—Also a large and well selected assortment of Confectionery, Fancy Goods, Table Articles, etc., etc.

Choice brands of TOBACCO and CIGARS, and Nuts of every variety. Also, FOREIGN and DOMESTIC FRUITS.

South Danvers, Nov. 9, 1864. tf

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

To the Honorable Senate and the House of Representatives in General Court Assembled:

WE, the undersigned, Corporators of the SOUTH DANVERS AND LYNN STREET RAILROAD, respectfully petition your honorable body for an extension of time to construct said Railroad, and as in duty bound will ever pray.

WM H. LITTLE,
STEPHEN BLANEY,
C. W. OSBORN,
LEWIS ALLEN,
HENRY POOR,

Commonwealth of Massachusetts,
SECRETARY'S DEPARTMENT,
Boston, November 26, 1864.

I approve the publication of the above petition in the South Danvers WIZARD newspaper.

OLIVER WARNER,
South Danvers, Nov. 30, 1864. Secretary.

ANN R. BRAY, 76 Federal St.,

OFFERS to her customers bargains in Cashmere Plaids—$1 25, for what were sold a short time since for $1 75.

$1 45 for yard wide Plaids that have been sold for $2.00.

Black Alpaccas.—We have just received a new stock Plain and Figured Alpaccas and Biratheas.
nov 30 ANN R. BRAY, 76 Federal Street.

A FULL STOCK of Domestic Goods, Plain, White and Checked Cambrics.
nov 30 ANN R. BRAY, 76 Federal Street.

Salem & So. Danvers Horse Railroad Notice.

IN consequence of the continued extraordinary high price of Hay, Grain, and all other materials required for the operation of a Horse Railroad, this company are reluctantly compelled to increase their fares. They confidently rely upon the acquiescence of the citizens of South Danvers, Salem and Beverly, more particularly as it bears no proportion to the increased cost of every item in the operation of the Road, the expenses having almost trebled.

On and after Dec. 1st, 1864, the fares will be as follows, viz:

Single Fares, 6 cents, but if passengers make their own change, 7 cents.

Package tickets, 16 for one dollar.

School tickets, Factory, and Essex Street Tickets, will remain the same as heretofore.

Salem, Nov. 30, 1864. M. H. HALE, Supt.

Horse Railroad Notice.

On and after THURSDAY Nov. 10, the cars of the Salem and South Danvers Railroad Co. will leave Washington St. Station for S. Danvers at 6.37, 7.07, 7.37 A. M. and every 30 minutes till 11.57 A. M.; and every 20 minutes till 9.57 P. M.

Will leave Washington St. station for Beverly at 6.22 6.52, and 7.22 A. M., and every 30 minutes till 12.22 P. M., and at 12.42, 1.02, 1.22 and every 20 minutes till 10.02 P. M.

Cars will leave South Danvers at 7.00, 7.30, and 8.00 A. M., and every half hour till 1 P. M., and will then leave at 1.20, 1.40, 2.00, and every 20 minutes till 10.20 P. M.

Cars will leave Beverly at 7.00, 7.30, 8.00 A. M., and every half hour till 12 M.—will then leave at 12.20, 12.40, 1.00 P. M. and every 20 minutes till 10.40 P. M.

☞ On and after Thursday, Nov. 10, the cars on the South Salem Branch Railroad will be discontinued until further notice. All outstanding Tickets for this route will be redeemed at their value, at the Office, corner of Washington and Essex streets.

M. H. HALE,
nov 9 Supt. S. & S. D. R. R. Co.

Horse Railroad Notice.

SUNDAY TIME.

HEREAFTER on Sunday, Horse Cars will leave Washington Street Station for Beverly at 9.12, 9.52, 10.32, 11.12, 11.52 A. M.; 12.32, 1.12, 1.52, 2.32, 3.12, 3.52, 4.32, 5.12, 5.52, 6.32, 7.12, 7.52, and 8.32 P. M.

Will leave Washington street station for South Danvers, at 9.07, 9.27, 9.47 A. M., and every twenty minutes till 9.07 P. M.

Cars leave South Danvers at 9.30, 9.50, and 10.10. A. M., and every 20 minutes till 9.30 P. M.

Leave Beverly at 9.40, 10.20, 11.00, 11.40 A. M., 12.20, 1.00, 1.40, 2.20, 3.00, 3.40, 4.20, 5.00, 4.40, 6.20, 7.00, 7.40, 8.20, and 9.00 P. M.

Salem, Aug. 31, 1864. M. H. HALE, Supt.

RICH FURS.

STEPHEN OSBORNE,

RESPECTFULLY invites the Ladies to call and look at his new stock of splendid Furs, at
Nov. 30. 6w 191 Essex, cor. of Central St.

OATS. OATS.

5000 BUSHELS PRIME OATS, received this day and for sale by
sept 7 GAYLE & CO., Phillips Wharf.

MORRIS RESTAURANT,

18 and 20 Derby Square, Salem.

Oysters, Clams, Steak, Poultry, Game, Fish, Eggs, &c., COOKED TO ORDER.

Pickled Oysters, Lobsters and Clams.
Salem, July 22, 1863. tf

GAYLE & CO.,

COMMISSION MERCHANTS,
AND DEALERS IN

Flour, Grain and Produce,

PHILLIPS WHARF, Salem

R. C. MANNING & CO.

Successors to JOHN DIKE & CO.,
DEALERS IN

COAL, WOOD, BARK, HAY, &c,

183 DERBY STREET,
SALEM, MASS.

N. C. ROBBINS, R. C. MANNING.
oct17

THE WAR.

HORACE GREELEY'S great Book on the War, Vol 1—illustrated with maps and cuts—The American Conflict, a history of the Great Rebellion of America, 1860—'64.
Nov 9 G. M. WHIPPLE & A. A. SMITH.

PAINTS AND OIL.

FOREST River White Lead; New York White Lead; Linseed Oil; Japans; Spirits Turpentine; Benzole Spirits; Varnishes, &c., constantly for sale at
Nov 9 S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS', 32 Front St.

George S. Walker.

BARGAINS!

Positively selling at Reduced Prices!

I NOW offer my Winter Stock of Gentlemen's Furnishing Goods, such as
ALL WOOL AND MERINO SHIRTS,
DRAWERS, HOSIERY,
GLOVES, SCARFS,
and other seasonable goods, at less than Importers and Manufacturers prices—or Gold at $1 50.

Purchasers will find it for their interest to call and examine GOODS and PRICES, at

GEORGE S. WALKER'S,
No. 228 Essex Street, at
oct 12 Opp. Eastern Railroad Station.

Gentlemen's Gloves.

100 VARIETIES to select from, at
GEORGE S. WALKER'S,
No. 228 Essex Street, Salem,
Opp. Eastern Railroad Station.

A. J. Archer & Co

REDUCED PRICES!

DRY GOODS.

AUGUSTUS J. ARCHER & CO.,

ARE Prepared to offer their Large Stock of

SHAWLS,
DRESS GOODS,
GARMENTS,
WOOLENS,
House-Keeping Goods,
—At the—
LOWEST MARKET PRICES.

oct 12—tf 181 Essex street.

Potter, Bachelder & Co.,

DANVERS-PORT and SOUTH DANVERS,
DEALERS IN

WOOD AND COAL.

Constantly on hand
Franklin, Burnside, Dimond, } RED ASH.
Old Company & Packer's Lehigh, Pliny Fisk, Webster and Locust Mountain, } WHITE ASH.

Also Cumberland, Pictou and Campbell for Steam and Smith's use.

OFFICE—No. 6 Allen's Building.

G. W. POTTER,
J. Q. A. BACHELDER,
C. T. BATCHELDER. mch 30

M. A. PORTER,

236 Essex Street, - - Salem, Mass.,
(Opposite Horse Railroad Office,)

MAKES TO ORDER BEST QUALITIES OF

WATCH SPRING SKIRTS.

A Good Assortment of Dress and Cloak Button, Braids, Spool Cotton, Small Wares, and Thread Store articles generally.

236 Essex Street, - - Salem, Mass.,
M. A. PORTER.

---

197 REMOVAL. 197

Gentlemen's Clothing,

YOUTH'S AND BOYS' CLOTHING,
AND THE
FURNISHING GOODS ESTABLISHMENT,
of the subscriber is removed to

197 Essex Street,
Store lately occupied by Mr. JOHN McKEY.

☞ A full and fresh assortment of GOODS is now opening and will be kept up as the season advances.
Salem, Sept 21 EDWARD A. GRANDFAVOUR.

HOUSE OF EQUITY,

BY

Arnold & Hutchinson,

(Successors to C. T. Southwick.)

FIRST QUALITY

FAMILY GROCERIES,

Sold at the Lowest Prices.

A large and complete assortment of

CROCKERY AND GLASS WARE,

Constantly on hand.

Also FLOUR and GRAIN.

ASHLAND HALL BUILDING,
NO. 1 LOWELL STREET,

F. T. ARNOLD. B. F. HUTCHINSON.
South Danvers, Feb 9, 1864.

Miss Jeanette R. Andrews,

MUSIC TEACHER.

Room No. 5 Bowker Building,
150 Essex Street, Salem.

Terms—Twelve Dollars per quarter.
References—Professors Webb, Wetherbee, B. J. Lang. nov 2—3m

WANTED TO HIRE,

FOR a year or term of years, a COTTAGE HOUSE and Garden, pleasantly located in Danversport, or Danvers Center. Rent of no consequence, provided all are satisfactory.
Address T. H. S. at this office, stating terms, etc.
South Danvers, Sept 28. tf

MUSICAL NOTICE.

I HAVE on hand, for sale, and will select to order from any manufacturer in Boston or elsewhere,

Melodeons, Cabinet Organs,

and six to seven octaves

PIANO FORTES,

(with or without) over-strung Bass, with Pearl or Ivory Keys, at the lowest prices. Will take second hand Instruments in exchange for new. Have Piano Fortes and Melodeons to let.

Will tune Piano Fortes and Organs in the best manner, (to order) and will also give instruction on the Piano Forte at the residence of the pupil, or at my room No. 218 Essex Street, Salem, (Up stairs.)

SAMUEL MACINTIRE.
Salem, November 9, 1864.

SILVER PLATED KNIVES.

STEEL Knives, plated with pure Silver, at
S C & E A SIMONDS', 32 Front st.

CAMPAIGN MEDALS,

OF different styles—at
oct 12 G. M. WHIPPLE & A. A. SMITH'S.

Auction Sa

WILLIAM AR
Auctioneer, Real Estate and Sto
34 Front Street

Real Estate, Bank, Railroad & Manufacturin Stock bought and sold on Commission.

ON SATURDAY NEXT, at 9½ o'clock, a No. 34 Front Street,

CROCKERY WARE:—8 crates Crocker Ware, in variety.

BOOTS:—6 cases of Men's and Boys' Boots 2 cases Women's and Misses' Boots.

DRY GOODS:—Shawls, Woolen Undershirt and Drawers, Ladies' All Wool Hose, Men Shaker Hose.

FURNITURE:—1 Plympton's Secretary Bed stead; 2 Painted Chamber Sets; 1 Sol Chestnut do; Lounges; Feather Beds; Parlo Stove and Cooking Stoves, &c.

Also, at 12 o'clock, by order of the Sheriff—1 Horse; 74 bushels Round Turnips; 50 bush els of Beets; 10 bushels Ruta Bagas.

AUTUMN AND WINTE

DRY GOODS.

PRINTS, De Laines, Plaids, Poplins, Alpacas, burgs, Thibets, and many other styles for Dresse

SHAWLS AND HOUSEKEEPING GOODS.

Bleached and Unbleached Cottons, different width Cotton Flannels, Wool and Cotton and Wool Fla nels, of every variety and color.

Union and all wool Cassimeres and Doeskins, fo Mens' and Boys' wear

Hosiery, Gloves, Yarns, Umbrellas, &c., &c., sold the lowest prices for the Cash, at 238 Essex Street. GEO. P. DANIELS.
Salem, Sept. 28, 1864.

NEW GOODS.

ANN R. BRAY,
76 Federal Street, Salem

WILL open this morning Rich POPLINS, at $1 per yard;

All Wool to rich colors, at reduced prices;

Black Alpaccas, from 75 cts to $1 75;

Housekeeping Goods at Reduced Prices;

Cottons, Brown and Bleached 5-4 Waltham an Rockville Sheetings, [illegible], James Mills, Hil and all the best makes Shirting, at the lowest ca prices.

PRINTS, at reduced prices;

BLANKETS, the very best makes—All-wool an Union Blanket, at the lowest market price.

CAMELS' HAIR SCARFS—medium size;

Also—One very large, of the finest quality—at ANN R. BRAY'S,
oct 19 76 Federal Street, Salem

AUTUMN GOODS

SHAWLS,
—AND—
DRESS GOODS,
BLANKETS,
QUILTS,
AND
HOUSE-KEEPING GOODS.
CLOTHS,
DOESKINS,
OVER-COATINGS,
—AND—
CLOAK CLOTHS,

For sale by
THOMAS W. DOWNING & CO
Sept 28 179 ESSEX STREET, SALEM

OPENING!

A FULL ASSORTMENT OF
FALL AND WINTER STYLE
BONNETS,
HATS,
DRESS CAPS and
HEAD-DRESSE
OCTOBER 6TH,
AT
M. E. CRANE'S,
168 ESSEX STREET, SALEM
October 5th, 1864.

T. HARDY, JR.,

Dealer in

DOORS, SASHES, BLIND

Glazed Sash, Painted Blinds,
FENCE PALES, STAIR BALUSTERS, FRAMI PINS, &c.

No. 26 FRONT STREET.
Salem, January 14, 1863—tf

GEO. E. MEACC

Dealer in

DRUGS & MEDICINES,

Fancy & Toilet Articles, &

126 MAIN ST 126
Nearly opposite Danvers Bank, So. Danver

T. A. SWEETSE

Druggist & Apotheca
37 Main St, So. Danver

DEALER IN
Drugs, Medicines, Chemic
Foreign Leeches, Shake
Herbs, Dye Stuffs, Gum
Acids, Sponges, Shoul der Braces, Trusses, and Genuine Patent Medici

Also, Imported Cigars of choice brands, Perfum Toilet Articles and Stationery.

Physicians' Prescriptions carefully prepared by experienced persons.

37 MAIN STREET.

D. P. GROSVENOR, JR.,

Druggist and Apothecar

38 MAIN STREET.

Dealer in Drugs, Medicines, Chemicals, Stuffs, and Popular Proprietary Medicine

Personal attention to Physicians' Presc tions.

South Danvers, May 29, 1861.

STORE TO LET.

THE Store now occupied by Messrs. Blake & man, on the corner of Washington and Main The best located and most commodious store in for the Grocery business. Possession given imm Apply to R. S. DANIEL
South Danvers, Sept 21.

PARLOR CROQUET.

THE subscribers having at large outlay of time expense adapted the popular Field Game quet for a parlor amusement, and having secured i copyright, are manufacturing them of different st and prices, and are as rapidly as possible introdu it to the lovers of quiet, intellectual and amusin games throughout the country. This has all the in and fascination of the original game, and will be found to be one of the most entertaining amusemen ever produced for the family circle.

Samples at our Bookstore.
nov 23 G. M. WHIPPLE & A. A. SMIT

CARD ENGRAVING,

IN all styles and Cards printed with dispatch.
Nov 9 G. M. WHIPPLE & A. A. SMIT

Miscellaneous.

A FEMALE RIOT IN BEVERLY.—It ay not be generaly known that a riot curred in Beverly during the revolu- on, in which the gentler sex were the rincipal actors. The affair took place 1777, when paper money was constant- depreciating. The particulas are giv- n in "Stone's History of Beverly":

"The merchants having determined not sell West India commodities at the ated prices, gave great offence, and uring the excitement, a number of wo- en resolved on the Higher Law. One old winter's morning, sixty of them, earing lambskin cloaks, with riding oods, under three or four leaders; one earing a musket, marched in regular rder, down Main and Bartlett streets, to he wharves, attended by two oxcarts, to he distil house, where a quantity of su- ar, belonging to the estate of Stephen Cabot, deceased, was stored. The fore- nan, seeing their approach, locked the ates, and stood sentry within, to keep hem out. The women called to their id a reinforcement of men, who with ax- s soon demolished the gates. The foreman opposed them, till several of the women seized him by the hair, to execute summary vengeance, when he, thinking discretion the better part of valor, shook them off by a dodge, leaving his wig in their hands. With the aid of the men, these gentle expounders of "women's Rights" forced the doors, rolled out two hogsheads of sugar, and loaded the carts. On seeing this, several other merchants came to terms with them, and agreed to sell a barrel of sugar at the stipulated price and money. The sugar was carted off in triumph to the principal leader's house, who kept a shop, and the crowd then dispersed. She dealt it out in convenient parcels according to treaty, acting as agent between both parties, and to their satisfaction, having paid for the two hogsheads also."

CIGARS AND PIPES.—Within our recollection, as good cigars as can now be bought at any price, have been retailed at three cents each. Twenty-five cents a piece is the present figure for fumigants not a whit better than the four-for-a-shilling Havanas of thirty years ago; and at some of the tip-top cigar stores they have the assurance to ask half a dollar for a 'choice regalia.' Of course, under these circumstances, thousands of smokers have abandoned the use of the twisted weed, and betake themselves to pipes and meerschaums. But kilikanick and clay constitute but a sorry substitute for a good cigar. There is inspiration in the rolled leaf, but none in the short-cut. With the aid of a good concha or two, we have known men of dull brain to indite sprightly, readable articles; but when did a smoker of discolored pipes ever write anything light, sparkling or graceful? Pipes may be well enough for mathematicians, moral philosophers, and the other 'heavy men' of the author world; but they won't do for the light infantry of literature, who skirmish with the public through the columns of newspapers and the pages of magazines. There is another objection to pipes; they impart an odor to the clothes, the hair, the skin, that is simply abominable. The ladies tolerate cigars; nay, there are some who profess to enjoy their aroma, and will even condescend to sweeten their tips by lighting them for their husbands or lovers. But we have yet to see the woman of refinement and taste who does not regard fumigation with tube and bowl as a vile nuisance. Let us, then, if we are compelled to abandon our cigars from motives of economy, make a virtue of necessity, and give up smoking altogether. —Propeller.

HOW MILTON SPENT THE DAY.—At his meals he never took much wine or other fermented liquor. Although not fastidious in his food, yet his taste seems to have been delicate and refined, like his other senses, and he had a preference for such viands as were of an agreeable flavor. In his early years he used to sit up late at his studies, but in his later years he retired every night at nine o'clock, and lay till four in the summer and five in the winter. If not then disposed to rise he had some one to sit at his bedside and read to him. When he rose he had a chapter of the Hebrew Bible read for him, and then, after breakfast, studied till twelve. He then dined, took some exercise for an hour, generally in a chair in which he used to swing himself, and afterwards played on the organ or bass viol, and either sung himself or requested his wife to sing, who, as he said, had a good voice, but no ear. He then resumed his studies until six, from which hour until eight he conversed with all who came to visit him. He finally took a light supper, smoked a pipe of tobacco, and drank a glass of water; and afterwards he retired to rest. Like many other poets Milton found the stillness, warmth, and recumbency of bed favorable to composition; and his wife said, before rising of a morning, he often dictated to her twenty or thirty verses. A favorite position of his when dictating his verses, we are told, was that of sitting with one of his legs over the arm of his chair. His wife related that he used to compose chiefly in the winter.

☞ Europe has a population of 326,000,000 inhabitants, and though the whole continent is in profound peace, so that not a gun is heard from the White Sea to the Mediterranean, still so war-mad have the nations become that 4,694,000 men are under arms, or more than one in twenty of all the male adults are drawn from useful occupations to the worse than useless position of a soldier. It is found too that one fourth of all the revenues of the nations goes to maintain the millions in their standing armies.

☞ Women require more sleep than men, and farmers less than those engaged in any other occupation. Editors, reporters, printers, post office clerks, telegraph operators, need not sleep at all. Lawyers can sleep as much as they choose, and thus keep out of mischief.

Special Notices.

INFORMATION FREE.
TO NERVOUS SUFFERERS.

A GENTLEMAN, cured of Nervous Debility, Incompetency, Premature Decay, and Youthful Error, actuated by a desire to benefit others, will be happy to furnish to all who need it, (free of charge,) the recipe and directions for making the simple remedy used in this case. Sufferers wishing to profit by the advertiser's bad experience, and possess a sure and valuable remedy, can do so by addressing him at once at his place of business. The recipe and full information—of vital importance — will be cheerfully sent by return mail. Address, JOHN B. OGDEN.
No. 60 Nassau Street, New York.

P. S.—Nervous Sufferers of both sexes will find this information invaluable. nov 30

MATRIMONIAL!
LADIES AND GENTLEMEN,

If you wish to marry, address the undersigned, who will send you without money and without price, valuable information that will enable you to marry happy and speedily, irrespective of age, wealth or beauty. This information will cost you nothing, and if you wish to marry, I will cheerfully assist you. All letters strictly confidential. The desired information sent by return mail, and no questions asked. Address
Sarah B. Lambert, Greenpoint, Kings Co.,
oct 12, 1864.—2 m. NEW YORK.

Cards.

C. W. HALEY, M. D.,
Physician and Surgeon.
OFFICE—WARREN BANK BUILDING,
South Danvers.

N. J. HOLDEN,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
Office, 27 Washington Street, Salem, Mass.

M. B. MANSFIELD,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
214 ESSEX STREET, SALEM, MASS.
 Particular attention paid to procuring Pensions, Bounties, Back Pay, Prize Money, and Army and Navy Claims of all descriptions. March 2.

H. L. HADLEY,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
CORNER MAPLE AND ELM ST.,
Danvers.
Claims against the Government for Bounty, Back Pay, and Pensions, promptly attended to.

THOMAS M. STIMPSON,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
194 ESSEX STREET, SALEM.
Residence Lowell street, South Danvers.

B. C. PERKINS,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
South Danvers—Office in Allen's Building.

ALFRED A. ABBOTT,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
Office, No. 24 Washington Street, Salem.
House, Main St., So. Danvers.

SIDNEY C. BANCROFT,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
27 Washington Street, Salem.

H. O. WILEY,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
Office, Allen's Building, South Danvers.
Claims against the Government for Bounty, Back Pay, and Pensions, promptly attended to.

A. S. CRAWFORD
Dentist,
No. 4 MAIN STREET, SO. DANVERS SQUARE
Mechanical Dentistry Neatly Executed.

W. L. BOWDOIN,
SURGEON DENTIST,
No. 208 Essex Street, Salem, (Opposite the Marke
Residence—No. 57 Washington street.
jan 11—1y

NEWMAN & SYMONDS,
DEALERS IN
Family Groceries, Flour & Grain,
HARD WARE AND CROCKERY,
Ready Made Clothing, Gents' Furnishing Goods,
Hats, Caps, Boots, Shoes, &c.,
South Danvers Square, opp. Congregational Church
SAM'L NEWMAN. NATH'L SYMONDS.

S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS,
DEALERS IN
Crockery, China and Hardware; Paper Hangings; Solar and Entry Lamps · Paints, Oil and Window Glass.
No. 32 Front street, Lawrence Place,
feb13 SALEM, MASS.

HENRY L. WHIDDEN,
HOUSE AND SIGN PAINTER,
Glazier and Paperer,
Central Street, South Danvers.
All orders promptly and faithfully executed.
jan2-1y

JESSE SMITH,
No. 262 Essex Street, Salem,
Importer and Dealer in
Gold and Silver Watches,
MARINE CHRONOMETERS,
Aueroid Barometers, Spy Glasses, &c.

WILLIAM BLANEY,
HOUSE & SIGN PAINTER
Grainer, Glazier and Paper Hanger.
164 MAIN STREET, Corner of Grove.
WINDOWS and BLINDS cheap for cash.
mch6-tf.

F. POOLE
INSURANCE AGENT,
Allen's Building (up stairs),
Deeds drawn, and other common forms.

G. H. LANE & CO.

BEING connected with one of the largest Clothing Houses in Franklin Street, and having made extensive preparations for this present season's business, now offer in

Special Departments

(all of which will be found full and complete) the following, at PRICES far below the present cost to manufacture:

OVERCOATS.

The most extensive show of Overcoats ever offered in this market, combining all the popular makes of

Chinchillas, Castors, Tricots, Eskimos, Beavers and Pilots,

In SACKS and SURTOUTS, some of which are particularly adapted to the wants of DRIVERS, being made up with Fur bindings and facings.

BUSINESS COATS,

embracing many new styles.

WALKING COATS,

manufactured from a great variety of PLAIN and MIXED Goods.

ENGLISH HUNTING COATS,

made from heavy FUR BEAVER.

DRESS COATS,

in plain BLACKS and DIAGONAL RIBBED, TRICOT and AMOOR GOODS.

BUSINESS SUITS,

of all grades, from the finest and most expensive qualities down to medium and low priced goods.

PANTALOONS,

A great variety, including some of the most STRIKING, NOVEL and UNIQUE PATTERNS.

VESTS,

a very attractive and thoroughly assorted stock.

Boys' Department.

Under the most capable management, is at all times full in stock and assortment. Our styles for this season being entirely new and strictly our own.

BOYS OVERCOATS,

an unusually large and handsome line, embracing all the leading styles.

BOYS TOGAS,

to be found only at this establishment being original with us.

JACKETS AND PANTS,

to match—perhaps the best assortment that can be offered by any house in the trade.

METROPOLITAN SUITS,

manufactured from a variety of Fabrics, selected with special reference to the requirements of genteel trade.

CARIBALDI SUITS,

new and elegant stocks, unsurpassed for style and finish.

POLKA SUITS,

in the largest quantity and made from the best quality of goods.

The above comprises one of the LARGEST and BEST SELECTED STOCKS of MEN'S and BOYS' CLOTHING ever before offered at RETAIL in NEW ENGLAND.

Special Inducements to Wholesale Buyers for Cash.

G. H. LANE & CO.,
31 and 32 DOCK SQUARE,
Oct. 26th, 1864. BOSTON,

STURGIS'
ELECTRIC COMPOUND,
An Effectual External Remedy for NEURALGIA
—AND—
RHEUMATISM.

ALSO, INVALUABLE FOR
Spinal Irritation, Ague in the Face, Toothache, Pain in the Side, Back, and Limbs, Ear, Ague, &c.

Among the Advantages of this Medicine are the following:

ITS effect is very rapid—in most cases instantaneous.
It is external in its application, and the patient runs no risk in using it. It does not strike to the stomach.
It reaches the nerves and muscles, as it is believed no other medicine does.
It has cured some of the most violent and obstinate cases of Neuralgia ever known.
It can be used on a child or an aged person alike.
While it is very powerful, it is perfectly harmless.
The proprietor has been allowed to publish the names of many persons who have used the COMPOUND with the most beneficial results. He inserts a few of them. They are among the most respectable citizens of Boston and other places, and their residences and places of business are given.
Rev. N. Munroe, late of Boston Recorder
Joseph H. Allen, 119 Washington St., house 55 Ruthland Street.
N. P. Kempt, Tract Society, 40 Cornhill:
Addison Boyden, 408 Washington Street, Boston, firm of Haley, Morse & Boyden.
William H. Brewster, Publisher of Boston Traveller.

The following letter from one of our best citizens will speak for itself:
REV. JOSEPH E. BARRY, the children's missionary of Boston, was the recipient a few weeks since of a bottle of STURGIS'S ELECTRIC COMPOUND, for Neuralgia, Rheumatism, &c., and having experienced great benefit from its use, and having known of many severe cases of the above complaints where it produced cures, considers it his duty to make known to his friends and others being so unfortunate as to be troubled with these terrible complaints, the virtue of this preparation.
Boston, Sept. 15, 1863. JOSEPH E. BARRY.

REMARKABLE CURE OF NEURALGIA.—The following letter, (unsolicited,) was received by the proprietor in May last:
CAMP ROGERS, Newbern, May 6, 1863.
Dear Sir: I have been for some weeks suffering under a severe attack of Neuralgia, the severity of which has caused me to be in 'perfect agony" both night and day. Having heard of STURGIS'S ELECTRIC COMPOUND from a "companion in arms." I was induced to give it a trial, which had the happy effect to immediately cure me. I am surprised that surgeons do not have it in the army, as there is a constant demand for such an invaluable relief I make this statement for the public good, and I have no scruples about your using this as a recommendation to other victims of this painful disorder.
Yours, respectfully. JOSEPH HOUGHTON,
Co. D. 43d Reg't Mass. Vols.

For Sale by all Druggists.
☞ Office No. 119 Washington St., Boston.
Sept. 28—6mo.

DR. J. H. BATCHELDER,
DENTAL SURGEON,
No. 20 Washington St., (near Eastern Railroad Depot),
SALEM, MASS.
Is Licensed to make the New Patent Teeth on HARD RUBBER or VULCANITE.
July 1, 1864.

REAL ESTATE.

The subscriber offers for sale the following Lots of Land, with the buildings thereon, at Private Sale, until October next, when, if not previously sold, they will be put up at auction.
On Lowell street, a two story DWELLING HOUSE, fitted for two families. This is the Estate formerly known as the Southwick Tavern.
On Lowe street, leading from Foster St. to Washington St., a two story TENEMENT for two families with a garden attached to it.
On Washington street, near the residence of Capt. Lowe, a very eligible BUILDING LOT, on the North side of the street.
On Tremont street, a small COTTAGE HOUSE for one or two families.
On Walnut street, a pleasant, elevated Lot of Land, with a large Barn, situated opposite Mr. Caller's Currying Shop.
In the rear of the above TWO TENEMENT HOUSES.
For particulars apply to
jy 27 WILLIAM SUTTON.

Salem and Danvers Aqueduct Co'y.

ALL persons using the water of the Salem and South Danvers Aqueduct, are hereby notified that the water rents, for the six months ending Nov'r 1, 1864, are now due; and that they are required to pay the same, at the office of the Company, No. 2 Sewall Street, on the 1st day of October inst. Should the bills remain unpaid for thirty days, the water will be stopped, in conformity to the regulations of the Company.
Office hours from 9 to 1 o'clock, and from 2 to 5.
Per order of the Directors.
Salem, Oct 1, 1864. WM. JELLY, Collector.

SELF-SEALING AIR-TIGHT CASKET.

MR. CHARLES S. BUFFUM, Furnishing Undertaker of South Danvers, takes this method to announce that he has a new burial case, which combines all the advantages of a wooden receptacle with those of a metal one, and yet avoids the disadvantages of both. They have been used with great success, and bodies placed in them have been delivered in perfect preservation after having been transported over a thousand miles. To persons having deceased friends at the seat of war they are invaluable. They come at reasonable prices, are light and durable, and are perfectly air-tight. august 10

FURNITURE

HAVING taken the Store No. 10 FRONT STREET, (formerly occupied by BENJAMIN COLMAN,) I shall keep constantly on hand a large stock of
NEW AND SECOND-HAND FURNITURE,
BEDDING, COUNTING-ROOM DESKS, &c., &c.,
which I will sell cheap for CASH.
ALL KINDS OF FURNITURE NEATLY REPAIRED.
☞ All kinds of FURNITURE and BEDDING wanted for which the highest Cash price will be paid.
P. J. HYNES, 10 FRONT-ST.
Salem, April 6, 1864—1y

CURRIER & MILLETT,
Dealers in
Furniture, Chairs,
MATTRESSES, FEATHERS, &
259 & 261 ESSEX ST.
Salem, dec 14—1y

NEW INKSTAND.

OLIVER'S Patent Inkstand claims the following advantages:—It is not complicated—No trouble to fill—Does not get out of order—It is very economical—It prevents evaporation—Does not require frequent filling—Can be easily operated—It is easily cleaned—Filters the Ink for use—Keeps the Ink free from exposure and fresh and limpid—it is both ornamental and durable. For sale by
Salem, Sept 23 G M WHIPPLE & A A SMITH.

AARON T. LOWE,
DEALER IN
BOOTS, SHOES AND RUBBERS,
76 BOSTON STREET, 76.
aug 6 SALEM. tf

TABLE CUTLERY.

A FULL stock of Knives and Forks, with Horn Ebony, Cocoa and Bone Handles; Also Carvers, Steels, Bread and Cook Knives, Mincing Knives, &c, at nov 16 S C & E A SIMONDS', 32 Front st.

IVORY HANDLED KNIVES

BY the Dozen, with or without Forks, at
S C & E A SIMONDS', 32 Front st.

Skinner's Pulmonales
Immediately Relieve Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, loss of Voice, Bronchitis, Lassitude, Thirst and every symptom of the first stages of Pulmonary Consumption; they are white, in form of a wafer, and as suitable for the infant in the cradle as the patient of three score years and ten. Orators and all who overtax the vocal organs receive instant relief by their use. Sold by all Druggists. Prepared by E. M. SKINNER, Chemist, 27 Tremont St., Boston. sept 7—1y

SPALDING'S ROSE MARY FOR FOURTEEN YEARS the Rosemary has held a high rank as pure, uniform and reliable. It is Warranted. 1st, To beautify the hair. 2d, To curl the hair elegantly. 3d, To remove dandruff effectually. 4th, To restore hair to bald heads. 5th, To force the beard and whiskers to grow. 6th, To prevent the hair from falling off. 7th, To cure all diseases of the scalp. 8th, To prevent the hair turning grey. 9th, To cure headache. 10th, To kill hair eaters. Sold everywhere. Prepared by EDW. M SKINNER, Chemist, 27 Tremont St., opposite the Museum, Boston, Mass. sept 7—1y

JUST ARRIVED,
AT DANVERS MILLS,

500 Bushels Corn, in the minnie cob, and will be sold in South Danvers. Constantly on hand a large stock of meal, which will be sold at the lowest Salem prices.

— ALSO ON HAND —

500 Bushels Feed;
200 Bushels prime Northern Oats;
100 Barrels choicest Family Flour.
A good stock of LIME constantly on hand.

JOHN C. MOULTON,
Central St., South Danvers, Mass.

Indispensable to Every Soldier and Seaman.

BROOK'S PATENT WRITING AND TOILET CASE.

EASILY carried in the coat pocket. Supplied by the manufacturers at the old price—$2.
D. B. BROOKS & BROTHER,
201 Essex Street, Salem, Mass.
Those who have friends in the Army of the Potomac can have them sent to them free of postage. sept 7

HENRY G. HUBON,
WASHINGTON STREET, SALEM
Manufacturers of
Rose Wood, Mahogany, Black Walnnt and Stained Wood
COFFINS and CASKETS.

MAKING this our exclusive business, we are ready at all times and at the shortest notice to furnish Grave Clothes of various styles, as well as Coffins and Caskets of the finest finish. Personal attention given, and delivered without extra charge to any of the neighboring towns. All orders by express or otherwise will receive prompt attention.
nov 1—tf

CHARLES S. BUFFUM,

BEING an authorized UNDERTAKER of South Danvers, will attend Funerals in said place with his Hearse the same as the Town Undertaker. Will also attend Funerals, when desired, in any of the neighboring towns, with one or a pair of horses.
He also furnishes Coffin Caskets, Robes, etc., lower than city prices.
All branches of the business attended to, such as furnishing Coaches, Flowers, Laying Out, etc.
Ice Preservers Furnished.
All orders promptly attended to, and personal attention given to them. Articles delivered to any of the neighboring towns free of charge. Orders by express or otherwise will receive prompt attention.
Central Street, South Danvers,
RESIDENCE 25 ELM STREET.
South Danvers, Feb 17, 1864.

Undertaker's Notice!

THE subscriber being regularly appointed as Undertaker of South Danvers, would respectfully notify the public that he has removed from Central Street, to No. 80 Lowell Street, where he may be found in readiness to attend funerals, and to furnish, when desired.
HENRY SPENCER.
February 10, 1864.

Chickering & Sons' Piano-Fortes.
Hallett & Cumston's Piano-Fortes.
Hallett & Davis's Piano-Fortes.

We select our Piano-Fortes from the above firms and warrant them to give perfect satisfaction. Our terms are reasonable, and all persons in the city and neighboring towns can be accommodated by calling at 76 Federal street.
FOR SALE—Second-hand Piano-Fortes,—Chickering's and others.
ap 29 ANN R. BRAY.

MOULTON'S
NEW LIVERY STABLE,
Is removed to stable formerly occupied by SAMUEL HAM,
On MAIN STREET, opposite the Institute.
Good Horses and Carriages will be always in readiness at short notice.
South Danvers, May 25, 1864.

PIN WORMS. MRS. OSBORN'S Universal Worm Powders are the only sure cure ever offered to the public. They are warranted in every case; relief within 24 hrs. 25 cts. per box. Sold by all druggists.
For sale by D. P. GROSVENOR, Jr., 33 Main St., South Danvers. jan 27

Are you Insured?

THE subscriber would respectfully call your attention to the fact that he is fully prepared to effect INSURANCE AGAINST FIRE, to any amount, at current rates, on
Dwelling Houses, Barns and their contents, Stores, Stocks of Goods, Furniture, &c. &c., and on buildings in process of erection,
And that he is the authorized Agent for the following responsible Stock and Mutual Companies, viz:
Thames Insurance Co., (Stock,) Norwich, Conn.
Capital—$500,000.
Amos W. Prentice, Pres. Oliver F. Rice, Sec'y
Conway Insurance Company, (Stock) Boston.
Capital and Surplus—$260,000.
James E. Whitney, Pres. David C. Rogers, Sec'y.
City Insurance Company, (Stock) Boston.
Capital—$150,000.
Samuel P. Hayward, Pres. Austin W. Benton, Sec'y
Also, will effect Insurance on the LIVES OF INDIVIDUALS, for one year, seven years, or for the whole term of life, in the
Massachusetts Mutual Life Ins. Co., Springfield, Mass.
Capital and Assetts—$375,000.
Caleb Rice, Pres. D. B. Bacon, Sec'y.
William Mack, M. D., Medical Examiner.
WM. ARCHER, Jr.,
18 Washington st. and 34 Front st., Salem
feb20-1

WHITE LEAD IN PAILS.

NEW YORK White Lead in Tin Pails, of 25 lbs each, at
nov 30 S C & E A SIMONDS', 32 Front st.

BRUSHES.

PAINT Brushes of all kinds; Camels' Hair Brushes and Pencils—at
nov 30 S C & E A SIMONDS', 32 Front st.

FEATHER DUSTERS.

A full assortment of Dusters—at
S C & E A SIMONDS', 32 Front st.

THE TRAVELERS INS. CO.,
OF HARTFORD, CONN.
Capital - - - - - - $250,000.
Is now prepared to Insure persons against
ACCIDENTS
OF EVERY DESCRIPTION.

Yearly policies will be issued for a premium of
FIVE DOLLARS,
granting insurance to the amount of
FIVE THOUSAND DOLLARS,
against accidental loss of life while travelling by any public conveyance.

TEN DOLLARS PREMIUM
secures a policy for Five Thousand Dollars, and also twenty-five dollars per week compensation for personal injury incapacitating the assured from his ordinary business.

TWENTY-FIVE DOLLARS PREMIUM
secures a full policy for $5000 and $25 per week compensation for all and EVERY DESCRIPTION OF ACCIDENT, TRAVELLING OR OTHERWISE.
Policies for $5000 with $3 per week compensation, can be had for $3 per annum; or any other sum between $500 and $5000 at proportionate rates.

DIRECTORS:

Gustavus F. Davis,	W. H. D. Callender,
James L. Howard,	George W. Moore,
Marshal Jewell,	Ebenezer Roberts,
Thomas Belknap, Jr.,	Charles White,
Cornelius B. Irwin,	Hugh Harrison,
George S. Gilman,	Jonathan B. Bunce.

JAMES G. PATTERSON, President.
RODNEY DENNIS, Secretary.
HENRY A. DYER, General Agent.
PLUMBER & MERCER, AGENTS,
40 State Street, Boston.
Offices in Salem—JOHN H. DERBY, No. 24 Washington street; SAMUEL MACKINTIRE, No. 218 Essex street.
Aug. 3, 1864—1yr*

HELMBOLD'S
GENUINE PREPARATIONS.

COMPOUND FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU, a Positive and Specific Remedy for diseases of the Bladder, Kidneys, Gravel and Dropsical Swellings.
This Medicine increases the power of Digestion, and excite the Absorbents into healthy action, by which the Wtaery or Calcareous depositions, and all Unnatural Enlargements are reduced, as well as Pain and Inflammation.

—:o:—

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU.

For Weaknesses arising from Excesses, Habits of Dissipation, Early Indiscretion of Abuse, attended with the following symptoms:—

Indisposition to Exertion,	Loss of Power,
Loss of Memory,	Difficulty of Breathing,
Weak Nerves,	Trembling,
Horror of Disease,	wakefulness,
Dimness of Vision,	Pain in the Back,
Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System,
Hot Hands.	Flushing of the Body,
Dryness of the Skin,	Eruptions on the Face,
Pallid Countenance.

These symptoms, if allowed to go on, which this medicine invariably removes, soon follows
Impotency, Fatuity, Epileptic Fits,
In one of which the patient may expire.
Who can say that they are not frequently followed by those "Direful Diseases,"
"INSANITY AND CONSUMPTION."
Many are aware of the cause of their suffering, BUT NONE WILL CONFESS THE RECORDS OF THE INSANE ASYLUMS.
And Melancholy Deaths by Consumption bear ample witness to the Truth of the assertion.
The Constitution once effected with Organic Weakness requires the aid of Medicine to Strengthen and Invigorate the system,
Which HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU invariably does. A Trial will convince the most skeptical.

—:o:—

FEMALES—FEMALES—FEMALES.

In many Affections peculiar to Females the EXTRACT BUCHU is unequalled by any other remedy, as in Chlorosis or Retention, Irregularity, Painfulness, or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated, Scirrhous state of the Uterus, Leuchorrhœa or Whites, Sterility, and for all complaints incident to the sex, whether arising from indiscretion or Habits of Dissipation, or in the

DECLINE OR CHANGE OF LIFE.

—:o:—

Take no more Balsam, Mercury, or unpleasant Medicines for unpleasant and dangerous diseases.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU AND IMPROVED ROSE WASH CURES
SECRET DISEASES
In all their Stages, At little Expense.
Little or no change in Diet. No inconvenience.
And no Exposure.

It causes a frequent desire and gives strength to Urinate, thereby Removing Obstructions, Preventing and Curing Strictures of the Urethra, allaying Pain and Inflammation, so frequent in this class of diseases, and expelling all Poisonous, Diseased and wornout Matter.

Thousands upon Thousands who have been the Victims of Quacks, and who have paid heavy fees to be cured in a short time, have found they were deceived, and that the "POISON" has, by the use of "Powerful Astringents," been dried up in the system, to breakout in an aggravated form, and perhaps after Marriage.

—:o:—

Use HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU for all affections and diseases of the URINARY ORGANS, whether existing in MALE or FEMALE, from whatever cause originating and no matter of HOW LONG STANDING.
Diseases of these Organs requires the aid of a DIURETIC. HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU IS THE GREAT DIURETIC, and is certain to have the desired effect in all Diseases for which it is Recommended.
Evidence of the most reliable and responsible character will accompany the medicine.
Price $1.00 per bottle, or six for $5.00.
Delivered to any Address, securely packed from observation.
Describe Symptoms in all Communications.
Cures Guaranteed! Advice Gratis!!
Address letters for information to
H. B. HELMBOLD, Chemist,
104 South Tenth-st., bel. Chestnut, Phila.
HELMBOLD'S Medical Depot.
HELMBOLD'S Drug & Chemical Warehouse.
594 Broadway, New York.
BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS AND UNPRINCIPLED DEALERS who endeavor to dispose "of their own" and "other" articles on the reputation attained by
Helmbold's Genuine Preparations.
" " Extract Buchu.
" " Sarsaparilla.
" " Improved Rose Wash.
SOLD BY
ALL DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE.
ASK FOR HELMBOLD'S. TAKE NO OTHER.
Cut out the Advertisement and send for it.
AND AVOID IMPOSITION AND EXPOSURE.

ALWAYS SUCCESSFUL!
TO ALL THOSE WHO SUFFER FROM
DEBILITY AND SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

DRS. CARSWELL & HUNTER, regularly educated, highly eminent and successful practitioners, after a very extensive practice in Boston, for over twenty years, need hardly speak of their medical qualifications, or remind strangers not to class them with a set of uneducated men, who fill the papers with their boasting advertisements. Drs. C. & H. caution the public against quackery in all its forms, pretending, as some self-styled doctors, to cure all the most difficult and chronic diseases, without knowledge of the human system, or of the modus operandi of the most simple drugs.

Drs. C. & H., since 1840, having confined their whole attention to an office practice for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, they acknowledge no superiors.

CONSTITUTIONAL DEBILITY OR SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Drs. C. & H. are pre-eminently successful in the treatment of the above most difficult and perplexing of all diseases, this complaint being the result of a secret habit in youth; if neglected or improperly treated, it proves one of the greatest evils that can befall a human being. Dr. H. has given particular attention to the above disease for years, and so thoroughly has he become acquainted with the pathology and treatment, that he will warrant a perfect cure under forfeiture of $500; in fact, he will, in the cure of this complaint, acknowledge no superior in this country, or even in the world. Come, then, all you who are afflicted, come to the Old Stand, where you will in a short time be made to rejoice in perfect health.

SYPHILITIC AND SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS,—such as Ulcers and Caries of the throat and nose, Running Sores on the legs and arms, Hard Scabs and Scaly Eruptions on the head, back, &c., pains in the bones and joints, and all other forms of venereal diseases—are made to yield and entirely disappear under Drs. C. & H.'s improved and thoroughly eradicating course of treatment.

The primary or first symptoms of disease, whether a simple running, or small pistules, cancers, or ulcers, are cured in a very few days, if immediate application is made to Drs. C. & H.

13 ENDICOTT STREET, BOSTON. 13

Strangers should be particular in the selection of a physician, lest they be deceived by false advertisements.

Ladies troubled with irregularity, weakness, whites, and other complaints peculiar to the female system, will find a speedy cure by calling as above. No mercury used, and no charge for advice. The afflicted are invited to give us a call.

Boston, April 20, 1864.—1 yr.

SUMMER ARRANGEMENT
TO LYNN & BOSTON
BY
OMNIBUS & HORSE CAR.

W. F. BURNHAM'S

Line of Omnibuses will leave the Lynn and Bosto Omnibus Office, No. 6 Allen's Building, South Dan vers, passing down Main Street, through Washington Street, to Lynn, daily—Sundays included.
Leave South Danvers at 7 50 o'clock, A. M., 12 50 and 4 50 P. M.
Leave Lynn (Horse Car Depot, West Lynn) at 9 40 A. M., 2 40 and 6 40 P. M.
Horse Cars leaving the office at 14 Brattle Street, at 8 15 A. M., 1 15 and 5 15 P. M., will meet the Omnibuses at Lynn, at the above named hours, to take passengers to South Danvers.
Tickets to Lynn, - - 20 cents.
Through to Boston, - - 35 cents.

Gravesend, Woodend, and Central Depot Route.

ON and after Monday, Nov. 2, in addition to the ol route, an Omnibus will leave South Danvers fo Lynn, to connect with the steam and horse cars, times daily,—Sundays excepted,—running throug Gravesend and Woodend, to the Central R R Depo and Horse Railroad Station, corner of Spring an Broad Streets; leaving South Danvers at 6 A M (co necting with the 7.25 steam cars for Boston), 10 A (connecting with the 11.10 train), and 4 P M (connec ing with the 4.50 train); and returning, leave Lyn from the Spring Street Station and Central R R D pot, at 8 A M, and 1 and 6 P M.
Fare from S. Danvers to Boston by horse cars, 35 " " " " steam cars, 40
Through Tickets to and from Boston may be had the Drivers and Conductors.

EXPRESS BUSINESS

Between South Danvers and Lynn promptly atte ed to, on reasonable terms.
Extra Coaches furnished at short notice.
W. F. BURNHAM.
South Danvers, April 20, 1864.

GROUT & MUNROE'S
SOUTH DANVERS & BOSTO
RAILROAD EXPRESS.
Express leaves South Danvers at 10 1-2 a. m
Freight " " " at 5 p. m.
Express leaves Boston at 3 1-2 p. m.
Freight " " at 4 p. m
OFFICE at FREIGHT DEPOT, So Danvers Square.
Express Office in Boston, 3 Washington Str Freight Office, 48 Kilby St.
Particular attention paid to removing F niture, collecting Bills, Notes, Drafts, &c.
Smallest favors thankfully received.
South Danvers, august 26—tf

LITTLEFIELD'S
South Danvers & Salem Mail Expre
E. LITTLEFIE successor to P. W ber, will run an press regularly tween So. Dan and Salem for delivery of pack and bundles, an goods usually delivered by Express.
Leave South Danvers at 7½ and 11 A M, and 5
Leave Salem at 8.45 A M, 2 and 6 P M.
This Express connects with the first train from S going East.
SLATES—In Salem, 13 Central st., and at the Me Roberts' store, corner of Front and Washington st
South Danvers—At the Post Office; at Blake & man's store; also at R. O. Spiller's store.

Important to the Afflicted

DR. DOW continues to be consulted at his o Nos. 7 and 9 Endicott street, Boston, on al cases of a PRIVATE OR DELICATE NATURE.
By a long course of study and practical experi of unlimited extent, Dr. D. has now the gratific of presenting the unfortunate with remedies have never, since he first introduced them, faile cure the most alarming cases of
GONORRHŒA AND SYPHILIS.
Beneath his treatment, all the horrors of vene and impure blood, Impotency, Scrofula, Gonorr Ulcers, pain and distress in the regions of pro tion, Inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, drocele, Abscesses, Humors, frightful Swellings, the long train of horrible symptoms attending class of disease, are made to become as harmle the simplest ailings of a child.
SEMINAL WEAKNESS.
Dr. D. devotes a great part of his time to the ment of those cases caused by a secret and sol habit, which ruins the body and mind, unfittin unfortunate individual for business or society. of the sad and melancholy effects produced by habits of youth, are Weakness of the Back limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimness of sight pitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervousness rangement of the digestive functions, Sympto Consumption, &c. The fearful effects on the are much to be dreaded; loss of memory, con of ideas, depression of spirits, evil forebo aversion of society, self-distrust, timidity, &c among the evils produced. Such persons shoul fore contemplating matrimony, consult a physic experience, and be at once restored to heal happiness.
Patients who wish to remain under Dr. Dow's ment a few days or weeks, will be furnished pleasant rooms, and charges for board moderat
Medicines sent to all parts of the country, w directions for use, on receiving description cases. Dr. Dow has also for sale the French Ca warranted the best preventive. Order by m or $1 and a red stamp.

CAUTION
TO FEMALES IN DELICATE HEALT
DR. DOW, Physician and Surgeon, 7 and 9 E street, Boston, is consulted daily for all diseas dent to the female system. Prolapsus Uteri, ing of the Womb, Fluor Albus, Suppression, a er menstrual derangements, are all treated up pathological principles, and speedy relief gua in a very few days. So invariably certain is mode of treatment, that most obstinate com yield under it, and the afflicted person soon in perfect health.
Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater experienc cure of diseases of women and children, th other physician in Boston.
Boarding accommodations for patients w wish to stay in Boston a few days under hi ment.
Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined his w tention to an office practice, for the cure of Diseases and Female Complaints, acknowle superior in the United States.
N. B.—All letters must contain four red sta they will not be answered.
Office Hours from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M.

CERTAIN CURE
IN ALL CASES, OR NO CHARGES MA
Dr. Dow is consulted daily, from 8 a. m. to as above, upon all difficult and chronic dis every name and nature, having by his unwe tention and extraordinary success gained a re which calls patients from all parts of the co obtain advice.
Among the physicians in Boston, none stan in the profession than the celebrated DR. D 7 Endicott street, Boston. Those who need vices of an experienced physician and surge give him a call. P. S.—Dr. Dow imports an sale a new article, called the French Secre by mail. Two for $1 and a red stamp.
April 20, 1864—1y.

Job Press for Sale.

RUGGLES' JOB ENGINE PRESS. Prints by 19 inches. Can be run by one man at of 800 per hour. Is in good condition. It wil very low price, as the owner has no use for it big bargain. Apply at this office.

HEYLINGBERG'S
Hair Dressing Salo
24 MAIN ST., SOUTH DANVE
J. J. HEYLINGBERG would announce to rons and the public generally, that on JUNE 1st, 1864, he will abide by the followi
TARIFF OF PRICES:
Shaving, - - - -
Hair Cutting, - - - -
Champooing, - - - -
Particular attention paid to dying hair kers, in one preparation, without washing bing.
South Danvers, May 11, 1864.

25 YEARS' EXPERIENCE ena CARSWELL & HUNTER to cure a of a private nature in a shorter space of ti a smaller amount of money than any other this country, and they also treat all female c with perfect success, and on the most terms. Patients furnished with board Please give us a call at our office, No. 13 En Boston, Mass.
Boston, April 20, 1864.—1 yr.

South Danvers Wizard.

OL. V. SOUTH DANVERS, MASS., WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 21, 1864. NO. 51.

SOUTH DANVERS WIZARD shed every WEDNESDAY, at Allen's Build-th Danvers Square.
— Two Dollars a year.
TISEMENTS inserted at reasonable rates.

CHARLES D. HOWARD,
DITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

R. NILES, Advertising Agent, ccollay's Building, Court Street, Boston, is nt for that city, and is authorized to redvertisements and subscriptions for us at est rates.

Advertisements.

E GOLDEN OPPORTUNITY,"
WITH A DISCOUNT!

recent fall in GOLD having produced corresponding effect on the value of HANDISE,

HAVE MARKED DOWN
Our Entire Stock of
LOTHING,
below the basis of a Gold value,
ding to customers the MOST FAVORABLE
OPPORTUNITY
Yet presented of Selecting their
NTER CLOTHING.
SAME REDUCTION EXTENDS TO THE USTOM DEPARTMENT.
Please examine our
rb Stock and Low Prices,
And let your interest decide.

D. BOISE & CO.,
UFACTURERS & DEALERS IN CLOTHING,
4 Washington Street,
BOSTON,
(Five doors south of Milk St.)
v. 2d, 1864.

NTLEMEN'S HATS.
FALL STYLES.
of the best selected assortments of FALL and NTER HATS in Boston, may be found at
J. A. JACKSON'S,
Tremont and 101 Court Sts.
COMPRISING
s Silk Hats,
Fine Felt Hats, and
Cloth Hats and Caps,
the latest styles.
HATS AND CAPS FOR BOYS.
B.—A large and well assorted stock of Ladies
entlemen's FURS.
JACKSON'S,
Court St. and 59 Tremont St.,
t. 28—3m. BOSTON.

EW STORE!
Flour! Flour!
ST RECEIVED, a fresh supply of CHOICE
BRANDS, direct from the Mills, for sale,
esale and retail, at LOWEST PRICES, by
E. F. OSBORN,
Sutton's Building, Main St.
uth Danvers, Nov 18, 1864.

WM. C. HENDERSON,
MANUFACTURER OF
PLAIN AND FANCY
APER BOXES,
No. 235 ESSEX STREET,
Sign of "Nest of Boxes,"
23 SALEM. tf

M. FENOLLOSA,
TEACHER OF MUSIC,
S..............PIANO FORTES,
at the lowest rates;
LS ....PIANO FORTES,
at the Manufacturers Prices;
HANGES....PIANO FORTES,
on the easiest terms;
At Rooms No. 7 Central street,
11 SALEM, MASS.

ting Books, Making Bills and
Copying.
E above business will be promptly and accurately erformed by the subscriber, who may be found at
ers. CLARK & GIDDINGS' Counting Room on Wal-reet, near the Essex Depot, or by enquiring at this
jy13 tf JOHN D. HOWARD.

PECTACLES!
F. SKERRY wishes to call special attention to his stock of
pectacles and Eye Glasses, old—Silver—Rubber—Steel and Horn frames, of h he keeps constantly on hand a very large as-nent, embracing every style and quality.
—ALSO—
pera Glasses, Microscopes, &c.
asses re-set, and Spectacles repaired.
Store, our usual assortment of Silver and Plated
e, Jewelry, Fancy Goods, and Toys. Also, Can-
Ware,
No. 180 Essex Street, Salem.
H. F. SKERRY.
g. 17.—tf

LIFE INSURANCE
THE MUTUAL
LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY,
Of New York, with a Capital of $11,000,000,
And an Annual Income of over
$2,000,000,

AND declaring a LARGER DIVIDEND than any other Company in the United States, is the one in which every man should secure a policy on his life.

The importance of LIFE INSURANCE cannot be too highly estimated. It is the safest and most practicable method of securing to your family, in case of your death, the means of a comfortable and independent support. Thousands of instances might be cited where families have thus been provided with a competency, who would otherwise have been left in penury and want. Husbands and fathers! treat not with indifference a subject of such vital importance, but see to it at once, that your families are provided with the inestimable advantages which this great and benevolent institution affords.

Because a man has wealth, it is no reason why he should not insure, for he knows not how soon his riches may "take to themselves wings and fly away." And let those who complain of the want of means, remember that

Forty-Five Cents a Week,
Will insure $1,000 on the life of a man of THIRTY.

AN ENDOWMENT POLICY,
Secures to the assured party, on attaining to a certain age, say 50, 55 or 60 years, an amount sufficient for his support in advanced age.

Another feature of this subject, deserving of especial attention, is

SURVIVORSHIP ANNUITIES!
By means of which one party may secure to another an annuity sufficient to maintain them in comfort and independence through life. A husband may thus make provision for his wife; a father for his child; or a brother for his sister.

Endowment Policies for Children.
By this means a parent may provide, by the payment of a small annual premium, a sum of money sufficient to enable a son to enter into business, at a proper age, or for any other provision, either for a son or daughter.

Many Gentlemen of So. Danvers and Vicinity!
Have already availed themselves of this opportunity now offered of ensuring their lives, and thus securing an inestimable blessing to themselves and their families. Let others be equally wise, and immediately follow their example.

JOHN H. DERBY,
Agent for South Danvers and Vicinity.
Post Office address, Salem, Mass.
September 14, 1864.—tf.

Special Notices.

To Consumptives.
Consumptive sufferers will receive a valuable prescription for the cure of Consumption, Asthma, Bronchitis, and all Throat and Lung affections (free of charge) by sending their address to Rev. EDWARD A. WILSON, Williamsburg, Kings Co.,
sept 21—3 mos. New York.

HAGAN'S MAGNOLIA BALM.
This is the most delightful and extraordinary article ever discovered. It changes the sun burnt face and hands to a pearly satin texture of ravishing beauty, imparting the marble purity of youth, and the distingue appearance so inviting in the city belle of fashion. It removes tan, freckles, pimples and roughness from the skin, leaving the complexion fresh, transparent and smooth. It contains no material injurious to the skin. Patronized by Actresses and Opera Singers. It is what every lady should have. Sold everywhere.
Prepared by W. E. HAGAN, Troy N. Y.
Address all orders to
DEMAS S. BARNES, & CO., New-York.

HEIMSTREET'S
INIMITABLE HAIR RESTORATIVE.
NOT A DYE,
But restores gray hair to its original color, by supplying the capillary tubes with natural sustenance, impaired by age or disease. All instantaneous dyes are composed of lunar caustic, destroying the vitality and beauty of the hair, and afford of themselves no dressing. Heimstreet's Inimitable Coloring not only restores hair to its natural color by an easy process,
Luxuriant Beauty,
promotes its growth, prevents its falling off, eradicates dandruff, and imparts health and pleasantness to the head. It has stood the test of time, being the original Hair Coloring, and is constantly increasing in favor. Used by both gentlemen and ladies. It is sold by all respectable dealers, or can be procured by them of the commercial agents, D. S. BARNES & CO., 202 Broadway, New York. Two sizes, 50 cents and $1.

MEXICAN MUSTANG LINIMENT.
The parties in St. Louis and Cincinnati, who have been Counterfeiting the Mustang Liniment under pretense of proprietorship, have been thoroughly estoped by the Courts. To guard against further imposition, I have procured from the U. States Treasury, a private steel plate revenue stamp, which is placed over the top of each bottle. Each stamp bears the fac simile of my Signature, and without which the article is a Counterfeit, dangerous and worthless imitation. Examine every bottle. This Liniment has been in use and growing in favor for many years. There hardly exists a hamlet on the habitable Globe that does not contain evidence of its wonderful effects. It is the best emolient in the world. With its present improved ingredients, its effects upon man and beast are perfectly remarkable. Sores are healed, pains relieved, lives saved, valuable animals made useful, and untold ills assuaged. For cuts, bruises, sprains, rheumatism, swellings, bites, cuts, caked breasts, strained horses, &c., it is a Sovereign Remedy that should never be dispensed with. It should be in every family. Sold by all Druggists.
D. S. BARNES, New-York.
March 9th, 1864.—1 yr.

LYON'S KATHAIRON.
Kathairon is from the Greek word "Kathro," or "Kathairo," signifying to cleanse, rejuvenate, and restore. This article is what its name signifies. For preserving, restoring and beautifying the human hair it is the most remarkable preparation in the world. It is again owned and put up by the original proprietor, and is now made with the same care, skill and attention which gave it a sale of over one million bottles per annum.
It is a most delightful Hair Dressing.
It eradicates scurf and dandruff.
It keeps the head cool and clean.
It makes the hair rich, soft and glossy.
It prevents the hair from falling off and turning gray.
It restores hair upon bald heads.
Any lady or gentleman who values a beautiful head of hair should use Lyon's Kathairon. It is known and used throughout the civilized world. Sold by all respectable dealers.
DEMAS S. BARNES, & CO., New-York.

Selected.

LIBBY PRISON.

ITS APPEARANCE — EXTERIOR AND INTERIOR — DESCRIPTION OF MAJOR TURNER, ITS KEEPER — DAMP, DARK AND DESOLATION.

'Edmund Kirke,' who, it will be remembered, visited Richmond early last summer, gives in the December Atlantic an account of his visit to the far-famed Libby Prison. It is so well written, and gives so clear an idea of this living tomb to so many of our brave soldiers, that we should do our readers an injustice if we did not present them with its leading features. 'Kirke' has visited the State Department, talked with the magnates there, supped, slept and breakfasted at the Spottswood, and early in the morning he strolled out into the deserted streets in the direction of the prison, accompanied by Judge Ould. 'At last,' he goes on to say, 'we reached a dingy brick building, from one corner of which protruded a small sign, bearing, in black letters on a white ground, the words:

LIBBY & SON,
SHIP CHANDLERS AND GROCERS.

It was three stories high, and I was told eighty feet in width, and a hundred and ten in depth. In front, the first story was on a level with the street, allowing space for a tier of dungeons under the sidewalk; but in the rear the land sloped away till the basement floor rose above ground. Its unpainted walls were scorched to a rusty brown, and its sunken doors and low windows filled here and there with a dusky pane, were cobwebbed and weather-stained, giving the whole building a most uninviting and desolate appearance. A flaxen-haired boy in ragged butternuts and a Union cap, and an old man, in gray regimentals, with a bent body and a limping gait, were pacing to and fro before it, with muskets on their shoulders, but no other soldiers were in sight.

Opening a door at the right, we went into a large, high-studded apartment, with a bare floor and greasy brown walls, hung round with battle scenes, and cheap lithographs of the rebel leaders. Several officers in 'secession gray' were lounging about this room, and one of them, a short, slightly-built, youthful-looking man, rose as we entered, and in a half pompous, half obsequious way said to Judge Ould:

'Ah! Colonel Ould, I am very glad to see you.'

The Judge returned the greeting with a stateliness that was in striking contrast with his usual frank and cordial manner, and then introduced the officer to us as Major Turner, keeper of the Libby. I had heard of him, and it was with some reluctance that I took his proffered hand. However, I did take it, and at the same time inquired:

'Are you related to Dr. Turner, of Fayetteville?'

'No, sir. I am of the old Virginia family.' (I never met a negro-whipper or a negro-trader who did not belong to that family.) 'Are you a North Carolinian?'

'No, sir.'

Before I could add another word the Judge said:

'No, Major; these gentlemen hail from Georgia. They are strangers here, and I'll thank you to show them over the prison.'

'Certainly, Colonel, most certainly.—I'll do it with great pleasure.'

And the little man bustled about, put on his cap, gave a few orders to his subordinates, and then led us through another outside door into the prison. We entered a room about forty feet wide and a hundred feet deep, with bare, brick walls, a rough plank floor, and narrow, dingy windows, to whose sashes only a few broken panes were clinging. A row of tin wash-basins, and a wooden trough which served as a bathing-tub, were at one end of it, and half a dozen cheap stools and hard-bottomed chairs were littered about the floor, but it had no other furniture. And this room, with five others of smaller size and appointments and two basements floored with earth and filled with debris, compose the famous Libby prison, in which, for months together, thousands of the best and bravest men that ever went to battle have been allowed to rot and to starve. At the date of our visit not more than a hundred prisoners were in the Libby, its contents having recently been emptied into a worse sink in Georgia: but almost constantly since the war began, twelve and sometimes thirteen hundred of our officers have been hived within those half dozen desolate rooms and filthy cellars, with a space of only ten feet by two allotted to each for all the purposes of living. Overrun with vermin, perishing with cold, breathing a stifled, tainted atmosphere, no space allowed them for rest by day, and lying down at night 'wormed and dovetailed together like fish in a basket;' their daily rations being only two ounces of stale beef and a small lump of hard, corn bread, and their lives the forfeit if they caught but one streak of God's blue sky, through those filthy windows—they have endured there all the horrors of a middle passage. My soul sickened as I looked on the scene of their wretchedness. And while these thoughts were in my mind, the cringing, foul-mouthed, brutal, contemptible ruffian, who had caused all this misery, stood within two paces of me! I could have reached out my hand, and with half an effort have crushed him. I did not do it. Some invisible power held my arm, for murder was in my heart.

'This is where the Yankee devil, Streight, that raised hell so among you down in Georgia, got out,' said Turner, pausing before a jut in the wall of the room. 'A flue was here, you see, but we've bricked it up. They took up the hearth, let themselves down into the basement, and then dug through the wall, and eighty feet underground, into the yard of a deserted building over the way. If you'd like to see the place, step down with me.'

We descended a rough plank stairway, and entered the basement. It was a damp, mouldy, dismal place, and even then—in hot, July weather—as cold as an ice-house. What must it have been in midwinter?

The keeper led us along the wall where Streight and his party had broken out, and then said:

'It is three feet thick, but they went through it and all the way under the street with only a few case-knives and a dust-pan.'

'What's the keeps?' I asked, adopting the Georgian dialect, in consequence of a hint from Judge Ould. 'Ye's got lots o' em, haint ye?'

'No, only six. Step this way, and I'll show you.'

The dungeons were low, close, dismal apartments, about twelve feet square, boarded off from the remainder of the cellar, and lighted by a narrow grating under the sidewalk. The floors were encrusted with filth, and the walls stained and damp with the rain, which in the wet weather had dropped down from the street.

'And how many does ye commonly lodge here, when your hotel's full?'

'I have had twenty in each, but fifteen is about as many as they can comfortably hold.'

'I reckon! And then the comfut moughtn't be much ter brag on.'

The keeper soon invited us to walk into the adjoining basement. I was a few steps in advance, taking a straight course to the entrance, when a sentinel, pacing to and fro in the middle of the apartment, levelled his musket so as to bar my way, saying, as he did so:

'Ye carn't pass yere, sir. Ye must gwo round by the wall.'

This drew my attention to the spot, and I noticed that a space about fifteen feet square, in the center of the room, and directly in front of the sentinel, had been dug up recently with a spade.—While in all other places the ground was trodden to the hardness and color of granite, this spot seemed to be soft, and had the reddish-yellow hue of the 'sacred soil.' Another sentry was pacing to and fro on its other side, so that the place was completely surrounded.—Why were they guarding it so closely? The reason flashed upon me, and I said to Turner:

'I say, how many barr'ls has ye in thar?'

'Enough to blow this shanty to—,' he answered, curtly.

He said no more, but that was enough to reveal the black, seething hell the rebellion has brewed. Can there be any peace with miscreants who thus deliberately plan the murder, at one swoop, of hundreds of unarmed and innocent men? In this room, seated on the ground or leaning against the walls, were about a dozen poor fellows, who, the Judge told me were hostages, held for a similar number under sentence of death by our Government. Their dejected, homesick look, and weary, listless manner, disclosed some of the horrors of imprisonment.

'Let us go,' I said to the Colonel; 'I have had enough of this.'

'No, you must see the up stairs,' said Turner. 'It ain't so gloomy up there.'

It was not so gloomy, for some little sunlight did come through the dingy windows; but the few prisoners in the upper rooms wore the same sad, disconsolate look as those in the lower story.

'It is not hard fare or close quarters that kills men,' said Judge Ould to me, 'it is homesickness, and the strongest and bravest succumb to it first.'

In the sill of the attic window I found a minnie ball. Prying it up with my knife, and holding it up to Turner, I said:

'So ye keeps this room for a shootin' gallery, does ye?'

'Yes,' he replied, laughing. 'The boys practice once in a while on the Yankees. You see the rules forbid their coming within three feet of the windows. Sometimes they do, and then the boys take a pop at them.'

'And sometimes hit 'em? Hit many on 'em?'

'Yes, a heap.'

Our visit of an hour here ended, and I went away sick at heart to view more enormities at Castle Thunder and other prisons for our men.

CHARGES UPON ARTILLERY.—Much praise has been bestowed upon the rebel soldiery because of the dashing manner in which, on various occasions, they have rushed upon the federal artillery, sometimes seizing it though unsupported by guns of their own. Undoubtedly they are brave men, but in thus acting they have done nothing new in war, nothing that has not been done by men situated far less favorably than themselves. In the terrible war of La Vendee, the Vendeans, who were mere peasants, with leaders of little experience and skill, actually charged Republican batteries and took them, though the only weapons they had were staves. The blacks in Hayti charged the batteries of the French, and took the guns, against all the efforts of the veteran soldiers whose duty it was to support them, a duty that was well performed. In the terrible civil war of 1798, Irish peasants rushed upon the guns of the English as recklessly as we have seen secession troops rush upon federal guns. At the Battle of Bennington, American militia charged the works of the veteran Hessian troops, which were defended by cannon, and with success. The Highlanders, under Montrose and Dundee, poured down upon regular troops, and destroyed them, in spite of musketry and sometimes cannon, and they did so later at Gladsmuir. At Culloden a small portion of the Highland army charged the English regulars, and though subjected to a heavy fire of artillery and musketry in front, and to a flank fire from an infantry regiment, they actually destroyed the first line (three deep) of the enemy, and were only repulsed by the profuse fire of the second line, many of them actually dying near the bayonets of that line. Had their charge been supported, Culloden would have been as complete a Highland victory as Killiecrankie. Exhibitions of daring are by no means uncommon in all wars, and the charges of the Southern troops, although testifying to their bravery, which no one doubted, do not place them ahead of other soldiers.—Boston Traveller.

THE ALPS.—At first, I believe, the Alps disappoint travellers. They expect something up in the skies, and are surprised to find that they can look at the highest summits without sticking their chins up into the air. That the range crossed by the Simplon and St. Gothard roads! Pheugh! and they sneeze at it with great disdain. But they approach, and the great features grow; they lose sight of the summits; they mount; at last they begin to descend, but still the hills shut them in, and at last, when they issue in the plains of Italy, and look back at the jagged ridge which shows itself against the sky, and remember the hours of wind and snow they spent in passing them, though by the easiest, simplest road, they pay a late tribute of complimentary retrospect to the loftiest mountain range in Europe.

☞ An Irish paper publishes the following item:—"A deaf man named Taff, was run down by a passenger train, and killed, on Wednesday morning. He was injured in a similar way about a year ago."

THE MURDER AT THE INN.

Jonathan Bradford kept an inn on the London road to Oxford, in the year 1736. Mr. Hayes, a gentleman of fortune, being on his way to Oxford, put up at Bradford's, and there joined company with two gentlemen, with whom he supped. In conversation he unguardedly mentioned that he had then about him a large sum of money. In due time they retired to their respective chambers; the two gentlemen to a double-bedded room, leaving a candle burning in the chimney corner.

Some hours after they were in bed, one of the gentlemen, being awake, thought he heard a deep groan in the adjoining chamber, and this being repeated he softly awakened his friend. They listened together, and the groans increasing, as of some one dying, they both instantly arose and proceeded silently to the door of the next chamber, from whence they heard the groans. The door being ajar, they saw a light in the room; they entered, but it was impossible to paint their consternation on perceiving a person weltering in his blood in the bed, and a man standing over him with a dark lantern in one hand, and a knife in the other. The man seemed as petrified as themselves; but his terror carried with it all the terror of guilt. The gentlemen soon discovered the murdered person was the stranger with whom they had that night supped, and that the man who was standing over him was their landlord. They seized Bradford directly, disarmed him of his knife, and charged him with being the murderer; he assumed by this time the air of innocence, postively denied the crime, and asserted that he came there with the same humane intentions as themselves; for, that hearing a noise, which was succeeded by a groaning, he got out of bed, struck a light, armed himself with a knife for his defence, and had but that minute entered the room before them.

These assertions were of little avail; he was kept in close custody till morning, and then taken before a neighboring justice of the peace. Bradford still denied the murder, but nevertheless, with such apparent indication of guilt, that the magistrate hesitated not to make use of this expression, on writing out his committal: "Mr. Bradford, either you or myself committed this murder."

This extraordinary affair was the conversation of the whole country. Bradford was tried and condemned, over and over again, in every company. In the midst of all this predetermination came on the assizes at Oxford. Bradford was brought to trial, and pleaded "Not guilty." Nothing could be more strong than the evidence of the two gentlemen; they testified to the finding of Mr. Hayes murdered in his bed; Bradford at the side of the body, with a light and a knife; that knife, and the hand which held it bloody; that on entering the room he betrayed all the signs of a guilty man, and that a few moments preceding they had heard the groans of the deceased.

Bradford's defence on the trial was the same as before the gentlemen; he had heard a noise; he suspected some villainy transacting; he struck a light; he snatched a knife (the only weapon near him) to defend himself; and the terrors he discovered were merely the terrors of humanity, the natural effects of innocence as well of guilt, on beholding such a horrid scene.

This defence, however, could be considered but as weak, contrasting with several powerful circumstances against him. Never was circumstantial evidence more strong. There was but little need of comment from the Judge in summing up the evidence. No room appeared for extenuation—the jury brought in the prisoner "Guilty," even without going out of the box. Bradford was executed shortly after, still declaring he was not the murderer, nor privy to the murder of Mr. Hayes; but he died misbelieved by all.

Yet were those assertions true! The murder was actually committed by Mr. Hayes' footman, who, immediatly on stabbing his master, rifled his breeches of his money, gold watch and snuff-box and escaped to his own room, which could have been, from after circumstances, scarcely two seconds before Bradford's entering the apartment of the unfortunate man. The world owes this knowledge to the footman (eighteen months after the execution of Bradford) on a bed of sickness; it was a deathbed repentance, and by that death the law lost its victim.

It is much to be wished that this account could close here, but it cannot. Bradford, though innocent, and not privy to the murder, was, nevertheless, the murderer in design. He had heard, as well as the footman, what Mr. Hayes had declared at supper, as to his having a sum of money about him, and he went to the chamber with the same diabolic intention as the servant. He was struck with amazement!—and in turning back the bed-clothes, to assure himself of the fact, he, in his agitation, dropped his knife on the bleeding body, by which both his hands and the knife became bloody. These circumstances Bradford acknowledged no the clergyman who attended him after his sentence.

The wayside inn where the tragedy took place was long afterwards declared to be haunted, not only by the ghost of the murdered gentleman, but likewise by that of Jonathan Bradford, who was frequently seen, it was said, with the halter round his neck, stalking at midnight through the silent halls and rooms, a hideous and restless spectre.

TO 'BEE' OR NOT TO BE.—A small privateer, with forty or fifty men, having on board some hives full of bees, was pursued by a Turkish galley, manned by five hundred seamen and soldiers. As soon as the latter came alongside, the crew of the privateer mounted the rigging with their hives, and hurled them down on the deck of the galley. The Turks, astonished at this novel mode of warfare, and unable to defend themselves from the stings of the enraged bees, became so terrified that they thought of nothing but how to escape their fury, while the crew of the small vessel, defended by masks and gloves, flew upon their enemies, sword in hand, and captured the vessel almost without resistance.

During the confusion occasioned in a time of war, a mob of peasants, assembled in Hohnstein, in Thuringia, attempted to pillage the house of the parish minister, who, having in vain employed all his eloquence to dissuade them from their design, ordered his domestics to fetch his bee-hives, and throw them in the middle of the furious mob. The effect was what might be expected—they were immediately put to flight, and happy to escape unstung.

WASHINGTON CITY.—A Chelsean, just arrived in Washington, writes:—'Washington is a city of mules and niggers; and it is not uncommon to see fifty or a hundred carts drawn by mules, with a negro straddling one of the shaft animals. Droves of mules are seen making across Long Bridge for the army of the Potomac. Herds of cattle are seen, hovering on the Monument Grounds, intended also for the army. Strange sights are to be seen, among which is a bear, which they call 'Dutch,' from his love for lager beer, which he guggles down with great delight. To test his capacity for lager, I invested ten cents in bear scrip, and had the satisfaction of seeing his bearship take a bottle of lager which was thrown into his cage, draw the stopper, pour out a portion and lap it from off the boards where he had spilt it, with a knowing look of approval, as much as to say, 'Thar's good, brewin'!' He displayed great judgment for a bear: pouring out little by little till it was all gone: when he retired to his corner, and lay down.

Washington is a wassail city; and if no one in it partook of stronger potations than this bear, it would be as temperate a city as one migh find in travelling 'from Dan to Beer-she-bear.'

WESLEY.—No one man has written so many hymns, and so well, as Charles Wesley. To no one man has been given the high honor of leading the devotions of so many millions for so long a period. Everywhere, throughout the world, where the English language is spoken, and Wesleyans are found, his hymns are sung,—in the house of God, in the family, in the closet, on ships and on shore,—and will be, by increasing millions, with intense delight, to the end of the world. He and Watts, in the service of song, have almost monopolized our religious world. Watts abounds most in the objective, Wesley in the subjective; Watts excels in 'sublime adoration and praise,' Wesley in the thousand varying phases of Christian experience. No Hymn Book can dispense with either. God be praised for them both. They can never be superceded. They will be remembered through eternity with devout gratitude by unnumbered millions.—Rev. Dr. Hatfield.

The Wizard.

WEDNESDAY, DECEMB'R 21, 1864.

INTERNAL REVENUE TAXATION.

The publication of the table of income taxation of individuals under the United States Revenue Laws, suggests to any common observer the inequality of their operation. At first thought the impression is very strong that such great inequality could not exist without fraudulent evasion of the law. It is hard to believe that men of respectable standing in society and in the business community, would make a false statement merely to evade taxation. Such action would not only be immoral but criminal, involving the crime of perjury. When we look over these lists it is easy to point to one and another of the names, and say that his return is an honest one. Of others there may, and will, exist some grains of doubt, and of still others we shake our heads with incredulity and say that some mistake has been made.

After all, much of this feeling comes of mere impression and conjecture. Yet something may be known from common report, from the opinions of others in the same profession and occupation, and from the admissions of the parties themselves. We think that much of the discrepancy will disappear on the second year of taxation, as the law will be better understood and enforced. The best corrective is the publication of names and amounts. By this publicity every man is made an assistant assessor and scans well the return of his neighbor.

The Newburyport Herald speaks thus on this topic, after copying the list of special tax-payers:

"We are glad that it is made public, however, as it will be of great interest, not more on account of the figures set against the names given, than the absence of names that many will look for. Still, we must suppose that this list gives the facts in the case—the real incomes of the persons named, and that no other persons have incomes of two thousand dollars. It is not like a town tax, where few invoices are given the assessors. These incomes are handed in by the persons themselves, who certainly know whether they have made anything or not; and then they are sworn to, so that there can be no mistake about it. If, therefore, some names are not on the list it is because they did not have an income of two thousand dollars above their taxes, interest money, and the six hundred dollars allowed for support of family."

Aid for Union Refugees. — Rev. E. Folsom, Hospital Chaplain at Cairo, Illinois, made an appeal in the Old South Church last Sunday afternoon, for aid for the thousands of homeless Union refugees now coming into our lines from all parts of the South. A collection was taken and $100.60 raised. Large amounts are needed to locate the thousands of these sufferers in such localities as they have friends to care for them, or can find homes and employment to support themselves. The sufferings of these poor, persecuted people, as shown by Rev. Mr. F's statements, are heart-rending—the loss of all things, lands, homes, friends, for liberty's sake. O, the barbarity of slavery! It makes fiends of white men and chattels of black. Whose blood does not boil at the recital of such cruelties? and whose heart and purse are not open to the poor innocent victims of them? Any further contribution in money may be handed to Rev. Mr. Barbour; clothing can be placed in care of the Ladies' Aid Society. Clothing for women and children, and bed coverings, chiefly wanted. About 3000 refugees per month have been brought to Cairo by military authority, which will give some idea of the extent that help is needed. Let the citizens of our town be liberal while they are exempt from the horrors of civil war, enjoying in quiet and safety their homes—in the possession of every necessary of life, and many luxuries.

Gymnastics.—The Exhibition of Light Gymnastics at Peabody Institute, on Monday evening, by Mrs. Churchill and Miss Hubbard, was an occasion of much interest. We regret that the audience was so small, which was doubtless attributable to the bad condition of the walking. These ladies propose to establish a class here, and we advise all interested to attend the preliminary meeting at the hall over Mutual Union store, on Friday evening, and join in the marches and other exercises, which could not be illustrated on Monday evening. Our clerks, students, and all who follow sedentary pursuits especially need these exercises, which combine so gracefully profit and pleasure. These ladies have the best testimonials from Dr. Dio Lewis and others.

Thomas has completely Hood-winked the rebel army lately besieging him at Nashville, driving them from their defences in disordered flight, and killing and wounding them by scores. The trophics of the victory count up 6000 prisoners and 49 cannon so far. Our cavalry are pursuing the flying fugitives, and the result of this glorious achievement will probably be the utter demoralization of the once powerful rebel army of the West.

PROVIDE FOR THE FUTURE.

We see that the large towns are making provision to enlist more men in anticipation of a possible future draft. It is understood that through the exertions of our citizens, our town is about forty five in advance of all calls to the present time. This number should be increased, as now is the favorable time. If we do not act at once, other towns will obtain the recruits which, by exertion, we might have. Just as soon as a call is made the cost of raising men will be increased, and it will continue to increase up to the day of the draft.

In this posture of affairs is it not well to agitate for future enlistments? Let the citizens be called together, and, in their corporate capacity, offer such bounties and inducements as are legal and proper, or, if this cannot be done, let them associate voluntarily, and make their contributions to carry forward the patriotic work. Let us raise as many men as we can, if it is several hundred, but we should not stop short of a surplus of at least a hundred.

DIED,

At the rebel prison, Andersonville, Sept. 9th, Mr. Thomas Barbour, Louisville, Ky., of the 4th Kentucky Cavalry, aged 34 years, 2 months. The deceased, (brother to the Rev. Mr. Barbour, of this town), was a young man of warm impulses and magnanimous spirit, from his boyhood filled with the love of adventure. He promptly enlisted at the outbreak of the war. His friends heard that his youthful daring was characterizing him in his engagements with the enemy; especially was his bravery noted at the battle of Lebanon Springs. After being constantly in the field during the Kentucky campaign, he with a great part of his regiment, was captured at the battle of Chickamauga. Since his removal to Andersonville his friends have been unable to communicate with him. His sufferings and death in that forbidding locality are a source of great grief to his relatives and his numerous friends, for

He was the loved of all,
Yet none o'er his low grave may weep.

Temperance Meeting.—Quite a gathering of ladies and gentlemen took place in the vestry of the Methodist church, on Monday evening last, to consider the matter of forming a secret organization of the Good Templars,—an important and much needed movement. After speeches had been made by gentlemen belonging to the Order, explaining its principles and objects, and a few remarks from gentlemen in town, some thirty ladies and gentlemen agreed to organize and apply for a charter. The subscription list of names was left in the hands of Mr. Nutter, on Central st., who will be glad to receive the names of those who will lend a helping hand to the new movement.

We trust our citizens will not allow this new movement for the promotion of Temperance to fail from the want of their cordial sympathy and support.

Sherman has reached the coast, taken Fort McAllister, established communication with Gen. Foster's forces, and is now closely besieging Savannah, which has a garrison of 15,000 men under Gen. Hardee. Our army is in splendid order, and equal to anything, having, while on their late triumphal march, lived on the fat of the land. In the official despatch, Sherman says that the march was most agreeable, being not at all molested by guerrillas. Over 200 miles of railroad have been utterly destroyed, and stores and provisions that were essential to the rebel armies have been consumed. Our boys regard Savannah as already gained, so, also, do the Richmond papers.

Enlistments.—The following have recently enlisted from this town, and are now doing garrison duty at Fort Pickering, Salem:—Augustus Tucker, Benj. F. Rhodes, John H. Tibbetts, Warren Twist, George F. P. Stevens, George W. Johnson, David Goldthwait, Allen B. Brown, Theodore S. Murray, Eben W. Ferrin, Joseph C. Twist, Jr.

David Taggard has enlisted in the Massachusetts 61st Regiment.

Putnam Guards, Co. I, 1st H. A. Michael Macavoy, of this company, has been released from the Millen prison.—Five of his company died there, or at Andersonville, viz: Daniel H. Smith, James H. Ham, Albert G. Norris, Edw. E. Monnis, Nelson C. Young. Sixteen others are not heard from.

Gen. Breckinridge is sadly in want of lead, and has issued an order to glean all battlefields in search of it. If he doesn't quickly leave Eastern Tennessee, it is our opinion he will soon get all the lead he wants, with some cold steel thrown in.

Danvers Bank.—At a meeting of the Directors of the Danvers Bank, held December 19th, Warren M. Jacobs, Esq., was unanimously chosen President, in place of Eben Sutton, Esq., deceased.

☞ Rev. Mr. Murray, of Cambridgeport, (formerly of South Danvers) has received a call from Rev. Dr. Spring's Church, in New York, as Colleague Pastor.

LETTER FROM WASHINGTON.

Opening of Congress—The Work Before it—Work and not Speeches—Good Tidings from Our Armies—The New Chief Justice, etc., etc.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 16, 1864.

Dear Wizard:—Not being given to manufacturing news or to picking up sensation items and giving them an undeserved currency, I have been quietly waiting for something to turn up in this metropolis which might legitimately furnish materials for a letter.

But there is a limit to patience, and having waited so long without the aforesaid materials coming to hand, I conclude to write you a short letter at any rate, though the attempt be as unpromising as was enjoined upon some of our remote ancestors, of making bricks without straw.

The opening of Congress was attended with but little more excitement than is the opening of one of our churches on Sunday, as the officers were all elected at the last session to serve until the termination of the present Congress on the fourth of March next. Therefore the machinery at the capitol was soon in running order, and there bids fair to be little friction in the same, as the copperhead element, which has endeavored to impede the wheels of government since the rebellion broke out, is growing "small by degrees and beautifully less." The committes are now hard at work maturing the many important measures that demand the most candid and enlightened consideration of Congress, and both branches have already given us reason to hope that the present session will be characterized by the amount of business transacted rather than the number of speeches made. Speeches in Congress are both legitimate and necessary when they are made for the purpose of enlightening and convincing the members of that body in regard to the questions before it, but such is not generally their object. They are too often directed to the dear constituents at home, and made to secure their own re-election rather than for the more immediate purpose which should be kept before them. I presume this is an evil inseparable from any system of government wherein the rulers are so directly dependent upon the masses of the people, and where each vote is a full unit of power, whether it be the result of ignorance or the highest intelligence. But as education becomes diffused, and finds its way like leaven through the whole lump of society, we may be sure of improvement in this respect.

An event took place at the capitol yesterday in the presence of the bar and a large audience of ladies and gentlemen, which impressed every one in attendance with a solemnity and simple grandeur comporting well with the importance of the occasion and with the true spirit of our republican institutions.

It was the induction into office of the newly appointed Chief Justice, Salmon P. Chase, who then and there assumed the robes of office as the head of that august tribunal whose business it is to construe the constitution and pronounces the ultimate law for a free people and co-equal States. Almost a generation has passed since his predecessor took the same oath, and therefore the scene of yesterday was impressive as well from its rarity as its importance. The judges all wear black silk robes, and the towering, well rounded form of the new Chief Justice contrasts strongly with the light and stooping figure of the venerable Taney, which I have often seen sitting in the centre of his associates on the bench. The ceremony which made Salmon P. Chase Chief Justice of the United States is simply this. A few minutes after eleven o'clock, the door which connects the Consultation room with the Court room opened, and the officer of the court in an ordinary tone of voice announced "The Supreme Court." The audience and the members of the bar rose to their feet, the latter bowing as the procession of judges filed in in their robes of office, preceded by the senior associate Justice Wayne. The Chief Justice elect followed, and proceeded to read aloud the oath of office amid profound silence, Justice Wayne adding the words, "So help you God." This done, the members of the Court took their seats, the audience fell back into their places, and the crier announced the opening of the Court for business.

The country, I believe, is as well satisfied to entrust to the hands of Mr. Chase the administration of this highest office as to those of any man whose name could be mentioned, and the mantle of a marshal is of itself enough to inspire him on whom it has fallen with a most solemn appreciation of the grave responsibilities which it carries in its folds.

We are elated with the good tidings from Sherman's noble army, and are on the qui vive for still better news soon, while Thomas's attack upon the ill-starred Hood, although the result has not been officially received, gives us hope of a victory in that quarter. How will the campaign of the last summer and fall contrast with the inactivity of our armies under the leadership of McClellan in the more gloomy period of the rebellion! We should be thankful that our schooling, though expensive, has been to some purpose, and that we are now making commendable progress.

Yours, etc.,

DELTA.

Agricultural Science.—A few weeks ago, a leading agricultural journal of this city, (in the absence of its editor, we ought in fairness to suppose) in reply to a correspondent, announced that the best time to cut elder-bushes, in order to kill them most effectually, was at a particular phase of the moon! Last week a correspondent of the same paper proclaims:—"For all kinds of wood and brush, the best time, I think, is in the old of the moon and the sign in the heart"! The same correspondent informs the readers of the paper that the time to wean calves to prevent their "mourning," and the time to wean pigs to prevent their squealing, is when "the sign is in the heart"!

Sure, star-eyed science, thou hast wandered far hence,
And left behind the reign of arrant nonsense.

—Boston Commonwealth.

The New Militia Law.—By the official notice in another column it will be seen that the military districts are duly arranged and the number of companies designated. Orders will be immediately issued for the election of Captains, who will proceed, according to law, to make the requisite enrolments of all liable to military duty. Young men of the age for active service must join the volunteer companies without delay if they prefer service in them rather than in the district companies. South Danvers has two companies to raise, and Danvers one.

LETTER FROM MISSOURI.

Oak Point, Missouri, Sept 25, 1864.

Dear Friend,—I will give you the particulars of my place here. I have 640 acres of good land in a healthy situation, with excellent water, and plenty of it; better land than any you have in that neighborhood. I have about 50 acres in corn this year, and raise plenty of wheat to do for me. In Virginia I have a good farm of two hundred acres, with a good mill on it, and eight negroes and 15,000 dollars in money at interest. The land I may get and some of the money; the negroes are not worth any thing, and I hope they never will be. I hope slavery will never exist in the United States. I would be willing to lose my negroes and all my property, and beg my bread, rather than to see slavery come back in the Union again, for I am willing to give up my life and property for my government without a murmur. You know nothing about war where you are; if you did you would have no copperheads about you, for they are worse than the rebels; for if it were not for them the war would have been ended two years ago. If the copperheads at the North could only see the destitution there is at the South, and more particularly in the border states; women and children thrown on the cold world without a shelter, being burned out of house, and after seeing their husbands and fathers killed before their eyes—it is awful to think of, and much worse to see. We had seven of our neighbors murdered a few days ago. I went myself to help bring them home. They were shot down in cold blood. I never saw such a sight before; I never wish to again. The only fault found against them was that they were Union men. After they had disarmed the poor fellows they told them they were going to shoot them. They played the fiddle and danced around them, then shot them, then played the fiddle again, then shot them five or six times, then beat their brains out with the breech of their own guns. There were three or four copperheads captured at the same time, and they were spared to tell the news, and so you see copperheads and rebels are all one; and has it come to that, that the Northern copperheads class themselves with the Southern murderers? The copperheads want peace; so do the Union men, but a lasting, honorable peace. Let the rebels lay down their arms and come to terms, but never let the United States stoop so low as to make terms with traitors. There is hardly a week but what some of our neighbors are shot or hung, and every few days some one's house is burned and store robbed. For cruelty it surpasses all Indian warfare I ever read of. I sleep every night with four guns loaded, at my head, for I do not know at what moment I may be attacked. Our neighbors go to church on Sunday with their guns in their hand, and their revolvers buckled around them. Even our minister has his revolver buckled around him, for they are liable to an attack at any moment. The alarm is given sometimes at twelve o'clock at night—men and women running every way, giving the alarm that the bushwhackers and rebels are coming. If that is what you copperheads and Northern traitors want, let them come out South and fight like men, and not stay at home and encourage it. If you want peace elect Lincoln, and the South will lay down their arms at once, for nothing but your copperheads at the North keeps up the war now; and his election will do more to end the war than a hundred thousand men.

Yours, truly,

L B.

BOOK NOTICES.

The Ladies Almanac for 1865 is before us. It is a neat little gem, published by George Coolidge, Esq., under whose care the work was originated. It contains a great variety of matter suited to the tastes of ladies, and is well worth the price. E. B. Waitt has it for sale at his Periodical Office, Danvers.

Our Young Folks.—Here we have an Illustrated Periodical for Boys and Girls, brimfull of attractions of the right sort. Gail Hamilton and Lucy Larcom are its editors, and in this first number they have presented a bill of fare for their young readers which will make their mouths water. Peter Parley has gone, and left a gap which has not been filled until the advent of this magazine. All its articles are fresh, bright and genial, and the successive numbers will be sought for with avidity by adult as well as young readers. Every boy and girl who likes to read Robinson Crusoe or Pilgrim's Progress will like "Our Young Folks."

With such writers as Capt. Mayne Reid, Mrs. Stowe, Mrs. Child, Miss Rose Terry, Miss Cummins, Grace Greenwood, Father Brighthopes and the rest, this new enterprise must succeed. It will be filled with captivating stories, written with a purpose, and that purpose the combination of instruction with the highest kind of rational amusement.

Harper's Magazine for January is even better than the December number, and maintains its old ground as the most popular monthly magazine in the country. Mr Waitt has it and all the current periodicals.

The Northern Monthly.—The December number of this magazine is an excellent one, having an attractive and varied table of contents. All the articles are readable, some of them of great literary merit, and they are generally characterized by vigor, raciness and brevity. This last quality is a very important one to the commercial success of a magazine, as most readers are tired and sick of very long articles. As a rule, long articles are more generally neglected than short ones. The local department, pertaining to matters and things in Maine, contains much which is of interest to outsiders. This number finishes the first volume.

The Lady's Friend.—The January number of the Lady's Friend is already upon our table, and fully bears out the high reputation of this new monthly, which is now entering upon the second year of its existence. The leading steel engraving, "Hush! it is asleep," is a beautiful picture, and will doubtless go right to the hearts of the ladies. The Fashion Plate—a double one, as usual—is very handsome indeed, admirably engraved on steel, and richly colored. Then there is a colored design of a Work Table Companion, a very useful lady, as she seems, in red and yellow and blue; and numerous other engravings of the Fashions, Work Table Department, &c. The Music of this number is a piece entitled, "I stood within our Cottage Hall." Among the literary contents, which are even unusually excellent, we may specify, "A Great Match," by Emma B. Ripley; "Little Mat;" "A Story of a Household," by Mrs. Hosmer; "False," by P. H. Case; "Cupid at the Cape," by Miss Donnelly; "Through the Paper-Mill," by Virginia F. Townsend; "James Smith's Story," by Julia Gill; "Castle Linloch," by Aunt Alice; "Mrs. Gordon's Prescription," by C. M. Trowbridge; "Sister Lil," by Mrs. Tucker; "Loved and Hated," by Ida Mason; Editorials, &c. Price $2.50; 2 copies $4.00; 9 copies $16.00; 21 copies $35.00. Specimen numbers will be sent to those desirous of making up clubs for 15 cts. Wheeler & Wilson's celebrated Sewing Machines are furnished as premiums. Address Deacon & Peterson, 319 Walnut st, Phila.

Now is the time to send on subscriptions for 1865.

EBEN SUTTON.

At a meeting of the Directors of the Danvers Bank, held at the Bank, on Monday, December 19th, the following votes, expressive of the loss sustained by the death of their late President, Eben Sutton, Esq., were unanimously passed:

Voted, That in the death of Mr. Sutton, this Board and the Corporation under its direction, have sustained a deep and irreparable loss.

Mr. Sutton's connection with the Danvers Bank was co-existent with the greater portion of his business life, and hardly less so with the duration of the Bank itself. He became a Director in 1835, (ten years after the first charter) and so remained until 1851, when, upon the decease of Mr. Shillaber, he was chosen President, which office he continued to fill up to the time of his sudden and lamented decease.

During these thirty years his labors have been uninterrupted, untiring and zealous. More especially has this been the case since he has been at the head of the Bank. He had a strong feeling of personal pride in its success, arising from the fact of his father having been one of its founders, and its first President, and then, all the principles, habits and views which went to make up his character as a business man, combined to give him a deep interest in its welfare, and to lead him to exert all his energies to secure its prosperity.

He was disinterested and unselfish, for he never at the Bank received the smallest amount of what is commonly known as accommodation. But no effort, no expenditure of time or labor did he spare. He seemed to give to its concerns a preference over even his own private affairs, and would, if need were, sacrifice matters of personal interest, might he thus preserve it from loss or risk. Sagacious, judicious, cautious and firm, there have been times when these qualities, exercised to a degree which may have seemed almost stern and severe, were the means of rescuing the Bank from imminent peril, and placing it upon foundations of solid and enduring strength. That eminent success attended Mr. Sutton's efforts, this Board and all the Stockholders of the Bank well know, and its present prosperous condition fully attests.

While our official connection with the deceased naturally leads us to dwell upon those services and qualities which were thus peculiarly known to us, we cannot refrain from alluding to the traits of character which he manifested to all, and in every sphere of his busy life. He had thorough integrity, and no man held higher views of what was honest and honorable in business transactions, or felt deeper scorn for what he believed to be dishonest or mean. He had great forethought, and wide comprehension, and yet was singularly prudent and of almost extreme caution. His energy was without limit, his will indomitable, and he knew no such word as fail. He was ever ready to encourage public and private enterprise, but the cost must first be counted, and the groundwork made sure. He would lend aid liberally and bestow charity bountifully, but his calm judgment must commend the cause, and the object be one which he knew to be worthy. Apparently impulsive, because the expressions of his judgment were so quick and decided that they seemed to be the promptings of the moment, he was governed by reasoned convictions and settled principles.

In his manners and speech, while abrupt and free, he was at the same time kindly and genial, without ostentation or pride, and of marked plainness and simplicity. In his intercourse with this Board, and all the officers of the Bank, nothing can be recalled which is not the subject of most pleasing recollection.

But in the midst of his usefulness, in the seeming vigor of health, although with three score years upon his head yet with the buoyant activity of full manhood, with the largest interests dependent upon him and multitudes looking to him for counsel and guidance, he has been taken away.

While his departure will leave a wide gap in the larger walks of business life, and while in the domestic circle his loss will be wept over by a sorrow upon whose sacredness no stranger may intrude, the members of this Board with whom his relations were so familiar, so intimate, and so cherished, desire to place upon enduring record their earnest recognition of his eminent services, their hearty appreciation of his sterling virtues, and this feeble but unfeigned tribute of respect to his memory.

Voted, That the Cashier of the Bank be instructed to make the foregoing resolution a matter of record upon the books of the institution, and to present to the widow of the deceased a copy of the same, and tender to her the respectful sympathy of the members of this Board in her great bereavement.

The Richmond Whig.—A friend has loaned us a copy of this treasonable sheet, dated the 29th ult. It is printed on dirty-looking paper, and the type is badly worn, and fit only for the "pi" box. Its contents are a hifalutin leader about "Grant's Movements," a communication on "Double Tax on Farmers," another on desertion in the rebel army, in which the writer has a great many suggestions to make, and, by the tone of the article, it is evident that desertion is getting to be quite a serious business with them. It also contains a communication entitled, "To the Public," proclaiming that they shall refrain from publishiug any news of Sherman's movements. The balance of the pa is filled with extracts from Northern newspapers, and local advertisements, one of the latter of which is headed "Richmond Soup Association," giving notice to the public that soup will be given out upon the presentation of a ticket, at a quarter of a dollar per quart, which we should think was quite reasonable, if paid in rebel currency.

Anti-Superstition Society.—A society was formed in Bordeaux a year ago to put down the superstitions of evil omens. As everybody knows, it is accounted bad luck to begin anything on Friday, or to sit at table with thirteen, or to balance a chair on one leg, or to spill salt between yourself and a friend. The new society proposed to have regular dinners on Friday, to have thirteen guests, to turn chairs on one leg, and spill salt around before commencing.—In the whole year during which bad luck has been thus defied, not a single fatality has as yet occurred to any member.

☞ A pious old gentleman, one of the salt of the earth sort, went out into the field to catch his mare. He shook a measure of corn at her to delude her into the belief that she should get it, but she was not to be deceived by any specious act. She would come nigh and then dash off again, until the good man was fretted. At last he got her in a corner among some briars, and made a dash at her, when she bounded over a wall, and left him sprawlng among the bushes. His Christian fortitude gave way at this, and gathering himself up, he cried, "Oh hell!" The ejaculation had passed his lips before he thought, but immediately conscious of its wickedness, he cried, "lelujah!" and translated the profane word into a note of triumph.

Light Gymnastics.

A Class in Light Gymnastics for Ladies and Gentlemen will be opened at the Hall over the Mutual Union Store, on FRIDAY Evening, Dec. 23d, at 7½ o'clock, provided thirty pupils are obtained. All interested to join such a class are invited to be present on Friday Eve'g, as it will be a preliminary meeting, and no part of the course.

Terms for Adults, $4.00 for 12 lessons.
Children under 15 years $2 for 12 lessons.
South Danvers, Dec. 21.

Christmas Week.

The Ladies of the Lafayette Street M. E. Church, having a large quantity of desirable articles left from the FAIR last year, will hold a "CLOSING SALE" at MECHANIC HALL, on Monday and Tuesday, (Afternoon and Evenings,) of CHRISTMAS WEEK.

Admission—for Children under 12,	10 cents;
Adults,	15 cents;
Season Tickets,	25 cents;

☞ The Sale will comprise a splendid variety of useful and Fancy Articles, Books, Photograph Albums, etc., suitable for Christmas and New Year's Presents.

Salem, December 21, 1864.

Christmas.

MR. B. F. STEVENS has a nice lot of articles, suitable for Christmas and New Year's presents, which he will sell very low for cash.

35 cents—75 cent handkerchiefs for 35 cents. See Peabody's advertisement.

Worsteds—See Peabody's adv't for prices.

Ribbons—See Peabody's advertisement.

Veils—See Peabody's advertisement.

10 Cents—Yarns 10 cents. See Peabody's advertisement.

50 Cents—$1.00 handkerchiefs for 50 cents. See Peabody's advertisement.

☞ Kid Gloves, $1.25—Good Quality, fine and elastic—by

James F. Almy & Co.

☞ Purchasers of Holiday Presents should call at the store of C. A. Beckford, No 9 Central street, Salem. 2 w

The Star Family Paper.—We print elsewhere The New York Mercury's novel and telling Prospectus for 1865, which gives a fair idea of the tact and enterprise of the oldest, ablest, and most reliable literary weekly in America.

Its attractions for the coming year are unusually clever and numerous, and its serial stories always fresh, racy, and exciting. The miscellaneous features announced seem to us, who speak of the paper from long personal conversance with it, to constitute of themselves splendid inducements to subscribers. Its unrivalled circulation enables the publishers to supply it at lower rates, than any of its less pleasing and successful contemporaries.

Warren National Bank.

The annual meeting of the Stockholders of the Warren National Bank for the choice of Directors for the year ensuing, and for the transaction of any other business that may legally come before them, will be held at their Bank Rooms on TUESDAY, January 10, 1865, at 9 o'clock, A. M. Per order,

FRANCIS BAKER, Cashier.

South Danvers, Dec. 7. 1m

Fashionable Dress-Making.

Mrs. W. J. Bennett would respectfully inform the ladies of South Danvers and vicinity that she has taken rooms in Mr. Henry M. Merrill's house, on Lowell Street, and will do dress-making in the latest styles. No pay received unless satisfaction is given.

South Danvers, Nov. 30, 1864.* tf

Episcopal Services.

Divine Service, according to the order of the Protestant Episcopal Church, will be held in the Town Hall on the next Sunday evening, Decem'r 25th,) commencing at 7 o'clk. These service will be held, also, on each succeeding Sunday evening, at the same hour.

These services are in the charge of the Rev. GEORGE D. WILDES, Rector of Grace Church, Salem. As at present conducted, they are wholly free; and all persons interested are affectionately invited to attend.

If the weather should be stormy on any evening appointed, the service will be omitted.

Dec'r 21, 1864.

Railroad Arrangement.

South Reading Branch.

Trains leave South Danvers for Salem, at 8.30 A. M., 12.45, 2.45 and 5 45.

Leave Salem for South Danvers, at 7.50, 9.55 A. M., 2.05 and 5 P. M.

Essex Railroad.

Trains leave South Danvers for Salem, at 7.08, 7.50, 8.48, A. M., 1.28, 6.18, 7.03, P. M.

Leave Salem for South Danvers, at 6.55, 11.15, A. M., 4.45, 5.45, P. M.

J. PRESCOTT, Sup't.

So. Danvers, Dec. 7, 1864.

Dr. S. O. Richardson's

BLOOD ROOT ELIXIR!

An effectual cure for Costiveness, and the best remedy for Diseases of the Liver, and all Impurities of the Blood.

☞ Sold by Dealers in medicine generally and a the Doctor's Office,

52 Hanover St., Boston.

Call for a pamphlet containing its history, &c.
nov 30 3m

Port of Danvers.

Ar 10th, sch J K Dunton, Jameson, New York.

Marriages.

In Salem, Dec. 16, by S. P. Webb Esq., Capt. John C. Eldridge of Etna, Me., to Miss Anna E. Connell of Salem; 18th, by Rev. Mr Winn, Mr. Henry B. Fullmer of Wilmington, Del., to Miss Caroline A., daughter of Mr. Andrew J. Rice of Salem.

Deaths.

In this town, Dec. 14th, Alice Josephine, daughter of the late Joseph Shaw. aged 11 yrs 4 months.

"I'm coming, I'm coming," said this sweet little child
To the bright angel ones who were here;
While her beautiful eyes were fixed on their home,
And she knew that the crossing was near.
O! tell us dear one of all thou canst see,
And WHO is the angel that is nearest to thee.

ARABELLE.

18th, Henry B, youngest son of Elijah W. and Lucy E. Upton, 10 years.

18th, Charles Herbert, only child of B. B. and Ada Humphrey, aged 3 years 4 months 15 days.

20th, Mrs. Sarah W., wife of Hon. John W. Proctor, aged 73 yrs 5 mos.

In Salem, Dec. 15th, Mr. John D. Porter, 55 years; 17th, Mrs Catharine, wife of Mr Thomas Quirk, 28 yrs; 18th, Mr Thomas Farnum, 69 yrs; Mrs. Ellen, widow of the late Daniel M'Carty, 53 yrs.

Advertisements

CHRISTMAS
—AND—
NEW YEAR'S GIF

Presents conducive to health and comfort, ly awaken pleasant reminiscences of the give

JAMES F. ALMY & CO. offer a splendi of

CLOAKS,
SHAWLS,
DRESS
GLOVES of all kinds, for Ladies' Wear.
Ladies' MANTLES, HOSIERY, et

We are selling from all departments of our very Low Prices.

JAMES F. ALMY & CO
dec 21 188 Essex, opp. Central

1865. Holidays. Holidays.

THE subscriber would call the attention o lic to his large and Complete assortment GOODS FOR THE HOLIDAYS, consisting of all the newest and best public Standard, Juvenile, Miscellan

TOY BOOKS,

in rich and common bindings.

A fine assortment of GAMES, consisting of 50 PHOTOGRAPH ALBUMS, in great variety.

Fine Bibles and Prayer Books, in Leather an Writing Desks; Portfolios; Gammon Boar Leather Bags; Wallets; Bill Books, &c.; stands, in glass and bronze; Scissors cases; Scotch Wood Goods; Gold Pens and Cases; Rubber and Gold Goods.

These Goods have been bought expressl coming Holidays, and will be sold at a smal from cost.

HENRY P. IVES,
232 Essex, and 36 Washington Stre dec 13—3w Opposite Eastern Railroad

Christmas and New Ye
PRESENTS, FOR AL
AT THE OLD STAND OF
F. SKERRY & SO

WE are now ready to exhibit of New

SPLENDID AND PLATED WARE;
JEWELRY; FANCY GOODS;
DESKS; WORK BOXES; BAGS;
FOLIOS; PORTE MONNAIES;
BRONZE, PARIAN, & CHINA W
BASKETS; GAMES; TOYS, &c., &

Our Assortment of Games and Toys is larg usual.

Do not fail to see this Stock before m your purchases!

180, Essex Street. 18
H. F. SKER
dec 21

FOR THE HOLIDAY
—A Large Assortment of—
BASKETS, BASKET TABLES & FANCY CHA
NO. 180 ESSEX STREET.
H. F. SKERR
Salem, Dec. 16, 1864.

C. A. BECKFORD,
NO. 9 CENTRAL STREET, SAL
DEALER IN BOOKS,
Stationery, Periodicals, Newspap
AND MANUFACTURER OF
PICTURE FRAMES

All styles of Frames on hand, or made to ord the Lowest Prices. Also a

CIRCULATING LIBRAR
—OF—
RECENT PUBLICATIONS.

Purchasers of goods in this line will find a stock at low prices, at the store of

C. A. BECKFORD, NO. 9 CENTRAL ST., SAL
(A few doors from Essex Street.)
dec 21—3m

Premier Long Shaw
French Interwoven Long Shawls.
MIDDLESEX LONG SHAWLS!!!
Crown Long Shawls.
VICTORIA LONG SHAWLS.

WE have a full stock of Long Shawls in the a Makes, which we are closing at reduced pr

JAMES F. ALMY & CO.
dec 21 188 Essex St., opposite Central S

KEROSENE LAMPS.

A full assortment of Kerosene Lamps and Lant Hanging and Side Lamps—Just opened at dec 21 S C & E A SIMONDS', 32 Front

TABLE MATS.

SHAKER and Palm Leaf Table Mats, at
S C & E A SIMONDS', 32 Front

FLOWING WARE.

MULBERRY and Flowing Blue Ware at
S C & E A SIMONDS', 32 Front

List of Letters

REMAINING unclaimed in the Post Office at So Danvers, Mass., Dec. 20, 1864.

☞ "To obtain any of these letters, the applic must call for ADVERTISED LETTERS, give the dat this list, and pay one cent for advertising.

☞ "If not called for within one month, they be sent to the Dead Letter Office.

☞ Office Hours from 7½ A. M. to 8 P. M.

Julia A. Barker
Hanington Hyde
Maria Kelly
Joseph Moody
E. Meader
Dennis Shehan
John Upton
Emily C. Hyde
Mary Jones
Olive C. Jenness
Elvira S. Moody
Nellie A. Rice
Georgia F. Stone
Mrs. Clara Wood.

DANIEL WOODBURY, P. M

CHRISTMAS AND NEW YEAR PRE ENTS—AT
Ann R. Bray's, 76 Federal St.

We have bought a very large Stock of Ladies' Gentlemen's Linen Hdkfs—Plain Borders, He Stitched and Tucked.

Gentlemen's Col'd Bordered do—very neat patt Our Stock was bought at very low prices, and shall sell them at the same Low Prices.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

We shall for next two months sell from our stock
—OF—
READY-MADE BONNETS
AT A
DISCOUNT OF 15 TO 20 PER CENT
Less than the present prices.

☞ Those wishing the BEST CHOICE shoul
COME EARLY.
REITH & CO'S,
No. 2 West Block, 188 Essex St.,
Nov. 9 SALEM, MASS.

ommonwealth of Massachusetts.

HEAD-QUARTERS, BOSTON, December 7, 1864.
ENERAL ORDER, No. 49.

By the 4th Section of the Act concerning e Militia, approved on the 14th day of May st, it was provided that the Commander-in-hief should forthwith proceed to divide the mmonwealth into Military Districts of Companies, which shall be numbered, and a record ereof made in the office of the Adjutant-eneral.

In accordance with the above provision of e law, it is hereby ordered by the Commander-in-Chief, that the Commonwealth shall be vided into Two Hundred and Forty-nine ilitary Districts, which are established and mbered, as follows:—

itary Com- ay District No.		Companies.
1—38.	Boston	38
39—42.	Chelsea, N. Chelsea, Winthrop	4
43.	Chilmark, Tisbury, Edgartown	1
44.	Nantucket	1
45.	Sandwich	1
46.	Barnstable, Falmouth, Gosnold	1
47.	Yarmouth	1
48.	Harwich	1
49.	Brewster, Chatham, Dennis	1
50.	Eastham, Orleans	1
51.	Truro, Wellfleet	1
52.	Provincetown	1
53.	Scituate, Cohasset, Hull	1
54.	Hingham	1
55.	South Scituate, Marshfield	1
56—57.	Abington	2
58.	East Bridgewater, Hanson	1
59.	Bridgewater, Raynham	1
60—61.	N. Bridgewater, W. Bridgewater	2
62.	Pembroke, Hanover	1
63.	Duxbury	1
64.	Kingston, Plympton, Halifax	1
65.	Middleborough	1
67.	Plymouth, Carver	2
68.	Mattapoisett, Marion, Rochester, Wareham	1
69.	Norton, Easton	1
70—72.	Taunton	3
73.	Attleborough	1
74.	Rehoboth, Dighton	1
75.	Somerset, Swansea, Seekonk	1
76.	Freetown, Berkely, Lakeville	1
77—81.	Fall River	5
82.	Fairhaven, Acushnet	1
83—86.	New Bedford	4
87.	Westport, Dartmouth	1
88.	Bellingham, Franklin, Wrentham	1
89.	Medfield, Medway	1
90.	Sharon, Foxborough, Mansfield	1
91—92.	Stoughton	2
94.	Randolph	1
95—96.	Weymouth	2
97.	Braintree	1
98.	Quincy	1
9—100.	Dorchester, Milton	2
101.	West Roxbury	1
2—105.	Roxbury	4
106.	Lynnfield, Middleton, North Reading	1
7—110.	Lynn, Swampscott, Nahant	4
—112.	Marblehead	2
3—115.	Salem	3
6—117.	South Danvers	2
118.	Danvers	1
—120.	Beverly, Wenham	2
121.	Rockport	1
2—124.	Gloucester	3
125.	Hamilton, Essex, Manchester	1
126.	Ipswich	1
127.	Boxford, Topsfield, Rowley	1
128.	North Andover	1
129.	Andover, Tewksbury	1
—131.	Lawrence	2
132.	Methuen, Bradford	1
—134.	Haverhill	2
135.	Groveland, Georgetown	1
136.	West Newbury, Newbury	1
—138.	Newburyport	2
139.	Amesbury	1
140.	Salisbury	1
141.	Natick, Needham, Dover	1
—143.	Ashland, Holliston, Sherborn	2
144.	Framingham	1
—146.	Wayland, Sudbury, Marlboro'	2
—148.	Newton, Waston	2
149.	Watertown	1
150.	Waltham	1
151.	Belmont, West Cambridge, Lexington	1
152.	Brighton, Brookline	1
—156.	Cambridge	4
—161.	Somerville, Charlestown	5
162.	Malden	1
163.	Melrose, Saugus	1
—165.	Stoneham, Medford	2
166.	Woburn, Winchester	1
167.	Wilmington, Reading, South Reading	1
168.	Carlisle, Concord, Lincoln, Bedford, Burlington	1
169.	Littleton, Boxborough, Stow, Acton	1
—172.	Lowell	3
173.	Dracut, Chelmsford, Billerica	1
174.	Dunstable, Tyngsborough, Groton, Westford	1
175.	Ashby, Townsend, Pepperel	1
176.	Sturbridge, Southbridge, Dudley	1
177.	Oxford, Webster	1
178.	Mendon, Blackstone	1
179.	Northbridge, Uxbridge, Douglas	1
180.	Milbury, Sutton	1
—182.	Milford	2
183.	Grafton, Upton	1
184.	Southborough, Westborough, Hopkinton	1
185.	Boylston, Shrewsbury, Northborough	1
—192.	Worcester	7
193.	Paxton, Leicester, Auburn	1
194.	Spencer, Charlton	1
195.	Oakham, North Brookfield	1
196.	Warren, Brookfield	1
197.	Hardwick, New Braintree, West Brookfield	1
198.	Petersham, Dana	1
199.	Barre	1
200.	Princeton, Holden, Rutland	1
201.	Sterling, West Boylston	1
202.	Bolton, Berlin, Clinton	1
203.	Leominster	1
204.	Lunenburg, Lancaster, Harvard, Shirley	1
—206.	Fitchburg	2
207.	Westminster, Hubbardston	1
208.	Gardner	1
209.	Phillipston, Templeton	1
210.	Winchendon, Ashburnham	1
211.	Royalston, Athol	1
212.	Palmer, Brimfield, Wales, Holland	1
213.	Longmeadow, Wilbraham, Monson	1
—216.	Springfield	3
217.	Chicopee	1
218.	Holyoke, South Hadley	1
219.	Southwick, Agawam, West Springfield	1
220.	Westfield	1
221.	Tolland, Granville	1
222.	Chester, Blandford, Russell, Montgomery	1
223.	Pelham, Prescott, Greenwich, Enfield, Ware	1
224.	Granby, Belchertown, Ludlow	1
225.	Hadley, Amherst	1
226.	Huntington, Westhampton, Southampton, Easthampton	1
—228.	Hatfield, Northampton	2
229.	Williamsburg, Whately	1
230.	Plainfield, Cummington, Worthington, Chesterfield, Goshen	1
231.	Erving, Wendell, New Salem, Shutesbury, Leverett, Sunderland	1
232.	Northfield, Warwick, Orange	1
233.	Deerfield, Montague	1
234.	Ashfield, Conway	1
235.	Bernardston, Greenfield, Gill	1
236.	Colrain, Leyden	1
237.	Buckland, Shelburne	1
238.	Monroe, Rowe, Heath, Florida, Charlemont, Hawley	1
239.	Tyringham, Otis, Monterey, Sandisfield	1
240.	Mount Washington, Sheffield, New Marlborough	1
241.	Alford, Great Barrington, Egremont	1
242.	Lenox, Lee	1
243.	Richmond, Stockbridge, West Stockbridge	1
244.	Hinsdale, Peru, Washington, Beckett, Middlefield	1
245.	Pittsfield	1
246.	Cheshire, Savoy, Windsor, Lanesborough, Dalton	1
247—248.	Adams	2
249.	Williamstown, Clarksburg, New Ashford, Hancock	1

This division could not be undertaken until the lists of persons liable to enrollment, to be made by the assessors of the several cities and towns, as provided for by the 3d section of said Act, had been received. These returns, required by the terms of the Act to be filed with the Adjutant-General, on or before the 10th day of July last, were not, in point of fact, all received until more than two months later; rnd this delay, with the great imperfections of the returns, and the necessary labor involved in their examination and classification, have rendered it impossible to establish and promulgate the division of the Commonwealth into Miitary-Company Districts at an earlier moment.

It is to be remembered that, while since the year 1840 the annual lists made by the assessors have hitherto been the only attempt at an enrollment of the militia made in the State, it is, under the present law, merely a basis for the formation of Company Districts, and the election of Captains of Companies, by whom the real and binding enrollment, in conformity with the laws of the United States, is to be made. The whole machinery by which the constitutional militia of the State could be called into service having been suffered, first, to fall into disuse, and then, having been destroyed, it could not be revived or re-established and made efficient without many preliminary steps, of which these returns by the assessors were the first; and as great accuracy was not expected in these returns, and the first division of the Commonwealth into Military Districts would, under any circumstances, and however perfect the returns on which it was based, undoubtedly require remodeling, from the numbers who will claim exemption for physical disabilities which could not be known to the assessors; from the number who will enlist in volunteer companies when they find themselves forced to do duty: from the numbers lately released from the United States service in 100 dry regiments, and other causes, which must, with a correct enrollment, greatly modify the numbers ultimately found liable to duty in the active militia in the different cities and towns; this sub-division of the State into Districts is not intended to be final and permanent. Such alteration in the bounds of the several companies, as circumstances may hereafter require, will be made by the Commander-in-Chief, from time to time, in accordance with Section 11 of 238th Chapter of the Acts of 1864.

In the cases of cities and towns to which more than one company is allotted, the limits of the several districts into which they are to be subdivided will be estabiished by the Adjutant-General, upon consultation with the mayors and selectmen of these places, no data being furnished by the returns upon which such division can be made, at present. The authorities of such cities and towns are requested to give their prompt attention to this important matter.

By order of his Excellency, JOHN A. ANDREW, Governor and Commander-in-Chief.

WILLIAM SCHOULER, Adjutant-General.

BY THIS SIGN WE CONQUER.

> "Whenever the way seems long,
> Or the heart begins to fail,
> We sing a more wonderful song,
> And tell a more marvelous tale."

JANUARY 1, 1865.

TWENTY-SEVENTH ANNIVERSARY
OF
THE NEW YORK MERCURY.
The Pride of the Fireside.

IN the prime of a vigorous intellectual manhood, the Phenix of the weeklies begins its flight for the new year, over the wrecks of its flagging and lifeless contemporaries, with its eye fixed upon the sun, beneath which it owns no rivalry.

The war, which has toppled down whatever is shallow and baseless, has written no wrinkle on the bright ægis of our success. Our features for the issue of 1865 shake the pillars of whatever has heretofore been deemed imperial in serial literature. Both sides of the Atlantic render us tribute. We shall continue the thrilling romances of Miss M. E. BRADDON, necromancer of the strong dark passions, to whom we pay more money annually than the entire capital of our imitators, and add to our American staff the champion jester of the cap and bells, JOSH BILLINGS, who will commence with the first of January a series of his well-known inimitable comic papers, written expressly for us, in his irresistably convulsive vein. HARRIET E. PRESCOTT, the most polished and imaginative sketch-writer living; P. T. BARNUM, the world-famed show-man and autobiographer; Miss M. A. EARLE, FAIRFAX BALFOUR, Dr. J. H. ROBINSON, and "NED BUNTLINE," renowned and versatile novelette-writers, will eke out the sparkling contributions of such facile poets, fuilletonists, humorists, critics, travelers, paragraphists, etc., as GEORGE ARNOLD, W. O. EATON, MILLIE W. CARPENTER, GEO. ALFRED TOWNSEND, JULIA S. INGRAHAM, EDWARD WILLETT, GEORGE MARTIAL, JOSEPH BARBER, J. A. PEITEN, and others, numerous enough and clever enough to run all the newspapers on the Continent.

The vivid pencils of DARLEY, MCLENAN, and WHITE, the first draughtsmen of the age, will make the new volume pictorial, and whatever of fugitive or meteoric note may appear during the year, will at once be engaged and made available.

In addition to its crisp and telling editorials; its delectable Gossipers' Club, in which the aptest and wittiest poems, caricatures, and burlesques, of the time first appear; and its coquetish Ladies' Promenade, to which all the mothers, sweethearts, daughters, wives, and widows of the land subscribe their experiences, THE NEW YORK MERCURY will continue the faithful and cogent

PHOTOGRAPHS OF POPULAR PEOPLE, highly illustrative of the oldest, ablest, artfulest folk of the era; the GREAT FASHION ARTICLE, by JENNIE JUNE, whose sprightly notes upon the latest and most perfect New York modes are suggestive to leaders of society everywhere, and universally consulted both in the metropolis and throughout the country; and commence a series of illustrated SKETCHES OF GROTESQUE ADVENTURE IN FOREIGN CLIMES DURING THE WAR, by ALFRED TEMPLE; as well as HINTS UPON COOKERY, by HENRY GOSLING, the metropolitan cuisinier.

The first of the year will inaugurate the thrilling original novelette by Doctor J. H. ROBINSON, entitled:

ALETHE;
OR,
THE CHILD OF THE CORD,

which will be followed by a splendid new story by Miss M. E. BRADDON, written expressly for the NEW YORK MERCURY.

Notwithstanding the upward march of every article of luxury and consumption, and our enormously increased outlay for the year 1865, the Star Paper of the Republic, with its forty columns of sterling original matter, will continue to be issued at six cents a copy, and sold by all newsmen and periodical-dealers in America. Its long and honorable history insures its subscribers against the casualties and fatalities which have swept so many mushroom journals off the board, and left their patrons disconsolate at the loss of their money.

To mail-subscribers our terms are:

Cash in advance: Single copies, $2 50 a year; three copies, $7.00; six copies, $13.00; nine copies, $20.00. The party who sends us $20.00 for a club of nine copies will receive an additional copy free. Six months' subscriptions received. Canada subscribers must send twenty cents extra for each subscription, to pay the American postage.

Subscribers should be careful to write plainly the name of their post-office, county and State. Specimen copies sent free to all applicants. Address,

CAULDWELL & WHITNEY,
Proprietors of the New York Mercury,
Nos. 48 Ann street and 113 Fulton street.
New York City.

☞ Proprietors of newspapers giving the above Prospectus five or more insertions, with an editorial notice, will be entitled to have two copies of THE NEW YORK MERCURY sent for one year, to any address they may indicate.

December 21, 1864.

TO LET.

A Convenient Tenement of eight rooms, near the Essex Railroad Station at Danversport to let. Enquire of JAMES D. BLACK, Danversport.
Dec. 11, 1864—tf

ANN R. BRAY, 76 Federal St.,

OFFERS to her customers bargains in Cashmere Plaids—$1 25, for what were sold a short time since for $1 75.

$1.45 for yard wide Plaids that have been sold for $2.00

Black Alpaccas.—We have just received a new stock, Plain and Figured Alpaccas and Baratheas.
nov 30 ANN R. BRAY, 76 Federal Street.

A FULL STOCK of Domestic Goods, Plain, White and Checked Cambrics.
nov 30 ANN R. BRAY, 76 Federal Street.

Salem & So. Danvers Horse Railroad Notice.

IN consequence of the continued extraordinary high price of Hay, Grain, and all other materials required for the operation of a Horse Railroad, this company are reluctantly compelled to increase their fares. They confidently rely upon the acquiescence of the citizens of South Danvers, Salem and Beverly, more particularly as it bears no proportion to the increased cost of every item in the operation of the Road, the expenses having almost trebled.

On and after Dec. 1st, 1864, the fares will be as follows, viz:

Single Fares, 8 cents; but if passengers make their own change, 7 cents.

Package tickets, 16 for one dollar.

School tickets, Factory, and Essex Street Tickets, will remain the same as heretofore.

Salem, Nov. 30, 1864. M. H. HALE, Sup't.

Horse Railroad Notice.

On and after THURSDAY, Nov. 10, the cars of the Salem and South Danvers Railroad Co.

Will leave Washington St. Station for S. Danvers at 6.37, 7.07, 7.37 A. M. and every 30 minutes till 11.57 A. M.; and every 20 minutes till 9.57 P. M.

Will leave Washington St. station for Beverly at 6.22 6.52, and 7.22 A. M., and every 30 minutes till 12.22 P. M., and at 12.42, 1.02, 1.22, and every 20 minutes till 10.02 P. M.

Cars will leave South Danvers at 7.00, 7.30, and 8.00 A. M., and every half hour till 1 P. M., and will then leave at 1.20, 1.40, 2.00, and every 20 minutes till 10.20 P. M.

Cars will leave Beverly at 7.00, 7.30, 8.00 A. M., and every half hour till 12 M—will then leave at 12.20, 12.40, 1.00 P. M. and every 20 minutes till 10.40 P. M.

☞ On and after Thursday, Nov. 10, the cars on the South Salem Branch Railroad will be discontinued until further notice. All outstanding Tickets for this route will be redeemed at their value, at the Office, corner of Washington and Essex streets.

M. H. HALE,
nov 9 —Sup't S. & S. D. R. R. Co.

Horse Railroad Notice.
SUNDAY TIME.

HEREAFTER on Sunday, Horse Cars will leave Washington Street Station for Beverly at 9.12, 9.52, 10.32, 11.12, 11.52 A. M.; 12.32, 1.12, 1.52, 2.32, 3.12, 3.52, 4.32, 5.12, 5.52, 6.32, 7.12, 7.52, and 8.32 P. M.

Will leave Washington street station for South Danvers, at 9.07, 9.27, 9.47 A. M., and every twenty minutes till 9.07 P. M.

Cars leave South Danvers at 9.30, 9.50, and 10.10, A. M., and every 20 minutes till 9.30 P. M.

Leave Beverly at 9.40, 10.20, 11.00, 11.40 A. M., 12.20, 1.00, 1.40, 2.20, 3.00, 3.40, 4.20, 5.00, 4.40, 6.20, 7.00, 7.40, 8.20, and 9.00 P. M.

Salem, Aug. 31, 1864. M. H. HALE, Supt.

RICH FURS.

STEPHEN OSBORNE,

RESPECTFULLY invites the Ladies to call and look at his new stock of splendid Furs, at
Nov. 30. 6 w. 191 Essex, cor. of Central St.

OATS. OATS.

5000 BUSHELS PRIME OATS, received this day, and for sale by
sept 7 GAYLE & CO., Phillips' Wharf.

MUSICAL NOTICE.

I HAVE on hand, for sale, and will select to order from any manufacturer in Boston or elsewhere,

Melodeons, Cabinet Organs,

and six to seven octave

PIANO FORTES,

full Iron Frames, over-strung Bass, with Pearl or Ivory Keys, at the lowest prices. Will take second-hand Instruments in exchange for new. Have Piano Fortes and Melodeons to let.

Will tune Piano Fortes and Organs in the best manner, to order; and will also give instruction on the Piano Forte at the residence of the pupil, or at my room

No. 218 Essex Street, Salem, (Up stairs,)
SAMUEL MACKINTIRE.
Salem, November 9, 1864.

SILVER PLATED KNIVES.

STEEL Knives, plated with pure Silver, at
S C & E A SIMONDS', 32 Front st.

R. C. MANNING & CO.,
Successors to JOHN DIKE & CO.,
DEALERS IN
COAL, WOOD, BARK, HAY, &c,
183 DERBY STREET,
SALEM, MASS.

N. C. ROBBINS, R. C. MANNING.
oct17

Miss Jeanette R. Andrews,
MUSIC TEACHER.
Room No. 5 Bowker Building,
150 Essex Street, Salem.

Terms—Twelve Dollars per quarter.
References—Professors Webb, Wetherbee, B. J. Lang.
nov 2—3m

Arrears of Pay,

FOR the wives of Officers and Soldiers, who are now prisoners of war, collected by

PORTER & HADLEY,
Government Claims Agents

JOHN W. PORTER, 243½ Essex St., Salem. } { H. L. HADLEY, Danvers, cor. of Maple & Elm sts.

Danvers, Dec. 14—6w

THE TWO BEST GAMES

OF the season are "Parlor Croquet," and "The Garrison Game." Both are adapted to any age and will be found to be the very pleasantest entertainment for the family circle.
G. M. WHIPPLE & A. A. SMITH.

PEABODY'S
LADIES' FURNISHING STORE.
220 Essex Street, Salem.

MARKED DOWN.

$1 75	Ribbons down to	$1 25	cents.
$1 50	Ribbons down to	95	cents.
$1 25	Ribbons down to	75	cents.
$1 00	Ribbons down to	65	cents.
75	Ribbons down to	50	cents.

RIBBONS ALL DOWN TO CLOSE.

Flowers at Low Prices!
Flowers at Low Prices!
Flowers at Low Prices!

Ruches at Low Brices!
Ruches at Low Prices!
Ruches at Low Prices!

FLOWERS
MARKED DOWN.
RIBBONS

TO REDUCE OUR STOCK.

Worsteds and Worsted Goods,
TO CLOSE.

HOODS, SONTAGS,
SHAWLS,
CLOUDS, &c.

The Hem Stitched Hdkfs,

are still selling at the same Low Prices.

75 cent ones for 35 cents, or three for $1.00. $1.00 ones for 50 cents, and so on. We invite customers to look around and compare prices, and see if they are not cheaper even than we say.

Gent's Linen Hdkfs;
Gent's Cotton Hdkfs?
Gent's Hem'd Hdkfs;
Gent's Silk Hdkfs;
Gent's Hem Stitched Hdkfs;

AT VERY LOW PRICES.

Gilt Buckles—Jet Buckles—Pins—Brooches—Clasps—&c., &c., &c.
Leather Shopping Bags—Wallets—&c., &c.
Toilet Soaps—Perfumes—Colognes—&c., &c.
Lace Veils—Hdkfs—Edgings—Insertings—&c.
Cambric Bands—Edgings—Insertings—Waists &c., &c., &c.

Hosiery and Gloves.

HOSIERY & GLOVES.

Plain Paris Kid Gloves;
Stitched Paris Kid Gloves;
Undressed Kid Gloves;
Long Wrist Kid Gloves;
Silk Gloves;
Lisle Gloves;
Cotton Gloves;

Ladies' Woolen Hosiery;
Misses' Woolen Hosiery;
Children's Woolen Hosiery;
Merino Hosiery—all sizes;
Infant's Socks—merino;
Children's Fancy Hosiery.
Hosiery & Gloves of all kinds;

HOSIERY & GLOVES.

BUTTONS.

Square Buttons,	Rubber Buttons,
Round Buttons,	Ball Buttons,
Silk Buttons,	White Buttons,
Gilt Buttons,	Black Buttons,
Jet Buttons,	Bone Buttons,
Pearl Buttons,	Glass Buttons,
Agate Buttons,	Cloak Buttons,

All the New Styles Buttons.

Corsets—a superior make.
Corsets—a superior make.

Trimmings.

Bugle Gimps—Buttons—Quill'd Ribbons—Velvet Ribbons—Braids—Bindings—Cords—Wide Beltings—Buckles—&c., &c.

Blue Mixed Yarns,	10 cts;
Drab Woolen Yarns,	10 cts;
White Woolen Yarns,	10 cts;
Scarlet Random Yarns,	10 cts;
Blue Random Yarns,	10 cts;

Black or White Worsteds, per oz., 25 cts;
Scarlet—Crimson—Brown or Blue, 30 cts;
Chinchillas, Purple or Orange, 35 cts;

EVERYTHING at VERY LOW PRICES.

We have a very large stock, much of which we own at prices that enable us to sell lower than any one can who has not a supply on hand. We wish to reduce our stock, and in order to do so, have marked prices upon it that will cause it to sell rapidly.

ONE PRICE ONLY!

JOHN P. PEABODY,
220 ESSEX ST., SALEM.

Our Store is closed every evening—Saturday excepted—at six o'clock, until April 1st, 1865.
Dec. 21. JOHN P. PEABODY.

Browning & Long.

Great Display,
OF RICH GOODS,
FOR THE HOLIDAYS!

HOLIDAY PRESENTS.

MANY NOVELTIES!
JUST IMPORTED.
SURPASSING ALL PREVIOUS SEASONS

NEW GOODS,
IN EVERY DEPARTMENT

CALL AND SEE THE
ELEGANT ASSORTMENT
OF
BEAUTIFUL ARTICLES,
JUST OPENED FOR INSPECTION,
AT
BROWNING & LONG'S
177 Essex Street, 177
SALEM.

☞ Our Store closes every Evening, Saturdays excepted, at 6 o'clock.
Salem, Dec. 14, 1864.

DRESS GOODS
—AND—
SMALL WARES.

DeLaines,	All the new and choice styles of Dress Buttons.	Head Nets,
Poplins,		Lace Veils,
Alpaccas,		Ladies' Clouds,
Plaids,		Lace Edging,
Calicoes,		Head Dresses,
Balmorals,		Braids, Trimmings,
Shawls, &c., &c.,		Hosiery, Gloves, &c.,

OPENED THIS MORNING
—AT—
164 Essex Street, Salem.

The prices are marked down so low that all in want of DRESS GOODS and SMALL WARES will really find a Bargain at 164.

Nov. 23 J. E. P. FEARING.

OUR YOUNG FOLKS.

THE New Magazine for Boys and Girls, will be issued about the 10th of December, and will be a most entertaining Book.

G. M. WHIPPLE & A. A. SMITH
Will have early specimen copies, and will receive subscriptions. Prices $2 00 a year, or cents a number.
dec 7—3w

WANTED.

A YOUNG MAN to learn the Dry Goods Business, or one who has had some experience. To a youth of correct habits, good abilities, an excellent opportunity is offered JAMES F. ALMY & CO.

HOUSEKEEPERS, ATTENTION!
JACKSON'S
KITCHEN FURNISHING ROOMS,
Under MECHANIC HALL, Salem.

Parties about commencing House-Keeping will find this the ONLY place in Salem where a COMPLETE ASSORTMENT of House-Keeping articles can be found.
dec 9, 1863.

VALUABLE REAL ESTATE.

THE Subscriber offers for sale the following Lots of Land, with the Buildings thereon, at private sale, until next Spring, when such as then remain unsold, will be offered at Public Auction:

A new and well-built two-story DWELLING HOUSE situated on English Street. This house is well supplied with the modern conveniences, is pleasantly situated on rising ground, and is a very desirable residence.

Several front LOTS for building purposes on Walnut Street, will be sold at moderate prices and fair terms.

Near ELM STREET, on a Court south of said street, are two DWELLING HOUSES, planned for two families each. One is two stories high, the other one and a half. Both houses have good tenants and yield a good income; offering a good chance for investment.

Between Harris and English Streets, one one-story DWELLING HOUSE, and one-story-and-a-half House.

The above is a most excellent opportunity for enterprising young men to secure places for business and dwelling houses, on reasonable terms. Such a chance may not soon again occur.

Persons desiring to purchase any of the above lots may learn the prices and terms on application to ANDREW S. PORTER, Elm Street.

SAMUEL D. PENDAR.
South Danvers, December 7, 1864. tf

COAL $8 PER TON.

BROWN'S PATENT
Metallic Weather Stripes,
And WINDOW BANDS,
Will Save 1-3 of your Coal Bills,

BY rendering the Tops, Bottoms, Sides and Centres of Doors, Windows and Sky Lights, of every description, wind, rain, snow and dust proof, without interfering with the free use of the same for ventilating purposes at all times.

E. H. STATEN,
No. 147 Essex Street, Salem.
Sole Agent for Salem, South Danvers, Marblehead and Beverly. dec 7—2m

---

George S. Walker.

USEFUL GIFTS,
FOR THE COMING HOLIDAYS,

CAN be selected from my assortment of

Gent's Furnishing Goods,

Comprising the most desirable styles of

Scarfs, Ties and Socks;
All-Wool Traveling and Army Shirts;
Warm Under-Garments;
Hosiery, all kinds;
Shirts and Collars;
Umbrellas and Canes;
Linen and Silk Hdkfs;
Calf Mitts—Lamb Lined.

Also, every style of WINTER GLOVES—lined and unlined—in Buck, Calf, Kid, Cloth, Silk, &c., together with a great variety of useful articles for Gentlemen, such as

Purses, Pocket Books,
Razors, Straps,
Hair and Cloth Brushes,
Perfumery, &c.,

AT
GEORGE S. WALKER'S,
No. 228 Essex Street,
dec 21 Opp. Eastern Railroad Station.

A. J. Archer & Co

REDUCED PRICES!

DRY GOODS.

AUGUSTUS J. ARCHER & CO.,

ARE Prepared to offer their Large Stock of

SHAWLS,
DRESS GOODS,
GARMENTS,
WOOLENS,
House-Keeping Goods,
At the
LOWEST MARKET PRICES.

oct 12—tf 181 Essex street.

Misses' and Children's
OUTSIDE GARMENTS.

MISSES' AND CHILDREN'S SACKS.

—FOR SALE BY—
AUGUSTUS J. ARCHER & CO.,
Dec 14 181 Essex Street.

Spool Cotton.

"The Hadley Company's Six Cord Spool Cotton."

FOR years past the best quality of spool cotton used in this country has been of foreign manufacture; and it has been heretofore generally admitted that Yankee manufactures in this particular line could not successfully compete with the imported article. The Hadley Company, of Holyoke, Mass., have been for some time engaged in manufacturing an article of six cord spool cotton, which is pronounced by the best of judges to be the equal of the imported article. Indeed, many pronounce it superior. The thread is six corded, and has a soft and beautiful finish, and for durability it has no equal in the market. Here is an excellent chance for the ladies to patronize a purely American manufacture, as the article needs only an introduction to secure for it a general use."

It is numbered like Taylor's Persian Thread, and is quite equal in quality. For sale in Salem, by
AUGUSTUS J. ARCHER & CO.

Potter, Bachelder & Co.,
DANVERS-PORT and SOUTH DANVERS,
DEALERS IN
WOOD AND COAL.
Constantly on hand

Franklin, Burnside, Dimond, } RED ASH.
Old Company & Packer's Lehigh, Pliny Fisk, Webster and Locust Mountain, } WHITE ASH.

Also Cumberland, Pictou and Campbell for Steam and Smith's use.

OFFICE—No. 6 Allen's Building.
G. W. POTTER,
J. Q. A. BACHELDER,
C. T. BATCHELDER. mch 30

M. A. PORTER,
236 Essex Street, - - - Salem, Mass.,
(Opposite Horse Railroad Office,)
MAKES TO ORDER BEST QUALITIES OF
WATCH SPRING SKIRTS.

A Good Assortment of Dress and Clock Button, Braids, Spool Cotton, Small Wares, and Thread Store articles generally.

236 Essex Street, - - - Salem, Mass.,
M. A. PORTER.

---

197 REMOVAL. 197
Gentlemen's Clothing,
YOUTH'S AND BOYS' CLOTHING,
AND THE
FURNISHING GOODS ESTABLISHMENT,
of the subscriber is removed to
197 Essex Street,
Store lately occupied by Mr. JOHN McKEY.

☞ A full and fresh assortment of GOODS is now opening and will be kept up as the season advances.
Salem, Sept 21. T. H. LEFAVOUR.

HOUSE OF EQUITY,
—BY—
Arnold & Hutchinson,
(Successors to C. T. Southwick.)

FIRST QUALITY
FAMILY GROCERIES,
Sold at the Lowest Prices.

A large and complete assortment of
CROCKERY AND GLASS WARE,
Constantly on hand.
Also FLOUR and GRAIN.

ASHLAND HALL BUILDING,
NO. 1 LOWELL STREET,
F. T. ARNOLD, B. F. HUTCHINSON.
South Danvers, Feb 3, 1864.

THE WAR.

HORACE GREELY'S great Book on the War, Vol 1—illustrated with maps and cuts—The American Conflict, a history of the Great Rebellion of America, 1860—'64.
Nov 9 G. M. WHIPPLE & A. A. SMITH.

Auction Sales.

WILLIAM ARCHER, Jr.,
Auctioneer, Real Estate and Stock Broker,
34 Front Street.

Real Estate, Bank, Railroad & Manufacturing Stock bought and sold on Commission.

ON SATURDAY NEXT, at 9½ o'clock, at No. 34 Front Street,

BOOTS:—3 cases of Men's and Boys' Boots.

CROCKERY:—1 crate Crockery Ware, consisting of Bowels and Pitchers, Coffee and Tea Cups and Saucers, Tea Pots, Bowls, etc.

DRY GOODS:—Cassimeres, Satinets, Undershirts and Drawers, Men's Socks, Ladies Hose.

FURNITURE: — Sofas, Lounges, Bedsteads, Tables, Chairs, Feather Beds, Stoves, &c.

At 12 o'clock,—1 superior two seated Sleigh in good order; 1 Carryall.

AUTUMN AND WINTER
DRY GOODS.

PRINTS, De Laines, Plaids, Poplins, Alpaccas, Coburgs, thibets, and many other styles for Dresses:

SHAWLS AND HOUSEKEEPING GOODS.

Bleached and Unbleached Cottons, different widths. Cotton Flannels, Wool and Cotton and Wool Flannels, of every variety and color.

Union and all wool assimeres and Doeskins, for Mens' and Boys' wear

Hosiery, Gloves, Yarns, Umbrellas, &c., &c., sold at the lowest prices for the Cash, at

238 Essex Street.
GEO. P. DANIELS.
Salem, Sept. 28, 1864.

NEW GOODS.
ANN R. BRAY,
76 Federal Street, Salem.

WILL open this morning Rich POPLINS, at $1 50 per yard;

All Wool do. rich colors, at reduced prices;

Black Alpaccas, from 75 cts to $1.75;

Housekeeping Goods at Reduced Prices;

Cottons, Brown and Bleached; 5-4 Waltham and Rockville Sheetings, 4-4 Lonsdrle, James Mills, Hills and all the best makes Shirting, at the lowest cash prices.

PRINTS, at reduced prices;

BLANKETS, the very best makes—All-wool and Union Blankets, at the lowest market price.

CAMEL'S HAIR SCARFS—medium size;

Also—One very large, of the finest quality—at

ANN R. BRAY'S,
oct 19 76 Federal Street, Salem.

AUTUMN GOODS.

SHAWLS,
—AND—
DRESS GOODS.
BLANKETS,
QUILTS,
AND
HOUSE-KEEPING GOODS.
CLOTHS,
DOESKINS,
OVER-COATINGS,
—AND—
CLOAK CLOTHS,

For sale by
THOMAS W. DOWNING & CO.,
sept 28 179 ESSEX STREET, SALEM.

OPENING!
A FULL ASSORTMENT OF
FALL AND WINTER STYLE
BONNETS,
HATS,
DRESS CAPS and
HEAD-DRESSES.
OCTOBER 6TH,
AT
M. E. CRANE'S,
168 ESSEX STREET, - - SALEM.
October 5th, 1864.

T. HARDY, JR.,
—Dealer in—
DOORS, SASHES, BLINDS,
Glazed Sash, Painted Blinds,
FENCE PALES, STAIR BALUSTERS, FRAMING PINS, &c.,
No. 26 FRONT STREET,
Salem, January 14, 1863—tf.

GEO. E. MEACOM,
Dealer in
DRUGS & MEDICINES,
Fancy & Toilet Articles, &c.,
126 MAIN ST., 126
Nearly opposite Danvers Bank, So. Danvers.

T. A. SWEETSER,
Druggist & Apothecary
37 Main St., So. Danvers,
DEALER IN

Drugs, Medicines, Chemicals, Foreign Leeches, Shakers' Herbs, Dye Stuffs, Gums, Acids, Sponges, Shoulder Braces, Trusses, and Genuine Patent Medicines.

Also, Imported Cigars of choice brands, Perfumery, Toilet Articles and Stationery.

Physicians' Prescriptions carefully prepared by experienced persons.

37 MAIN STREET.

D. P. GROSVENOR, Jr.,

Druggist and Apothecary,
33 MAIN STREET.

Dealer in Drugs, Medicines, Chemicals, Dye Stuffs, and Popular Proprietary Medicines.

Personal attention to Physicians' Prescriptions.

South Danvers, May 29, 1861. 1y

STORE TO LET.

THE Store now occupied by Messrs. Blake & Holman, on the corner of Washington and Main Sts. The best located and most convenient store in town for the Grocery business. Possession given immediately. Apply to South Danvers, Sept. 21. R. S. DANIELS.

MORRIS'
RESTAURANT,
18 and 20 Derby Square, Salem.

Oysters, Clams, Steak, Poultry, Game, Fish, &c., &c., COOKED TO ORDER.
Pickled Oysters, Lobsters and Clams.
Salem, July 22, 1863. tf

GAYLE & CO.,
COMMISSION MERCHANTS,
AND DEALERS IN
Flour, Grain and Produce,
PHILLIPS WHARF, Salem.

Miscellaneous.

MODERN DANCING.

t is almost universally admitted that oing-time, dancing, according to the acceptation of the term—is fast be- ing one of the things of the past. be sure, it is still in vogue, and its ries may be counted by thousands; the people of the present day regard knowledge of certain "steps" and gures" by no means necessary to be e to go through a dance. The n and women of to-day who have not earned" to dance join a party with le fear or dread of making themselves k ridiculous, for they are assured by owledge that, according to the present ode, dancing is an easy thing to do. e have just perused an article on the bject in an English work, and presume will be equally interesting to our aders. The writer goes on to say:—

It is impossible to frequent balls at the esent day without being painfully con- ious that, as regards men—we make allusion to the ladies—dancing is a rgotten art; at least so far as a thing ay be described as forgotten which has ever been learned. If it were not mel- ncholy it would be ludicrous. No mat- r what the dance is, there is equal norance of all. A quadrille is walked rough generally like an awkward fu- eral, but it is in waltzing that the young an of the present day particularly dis- nguishes himself. Where he obtained e idea of that performance, it is diffi- ult to imagine. What does it consist f? He first selects a partner, and hav- ng, as usual, examined the buttons of is gloves, and pulled them on tight, as man fixes his hat on his head when he oes at a stiff fence, he encircles the ovely waist; and then—well, what hen? He certainly does not dance, ecause he does not know how. But ften working his arm like a pump andle, and assuming the appearance of dislocated windmill, he begins, with a ind of uneven, jerky motion, to pull he young lady round in what he con- eives to be time to the music. Utterly egardless of what obstacles are in the way, he spins on, at one time knocking a weaker and lighter couple altogether out of the arena; at another, dashing his partner or himself with the utmost determination against the surrounding crowd, pushes his elbow into some one else's face or ribs, catches his toe in some one's dress, and very often, having done as much damage as he can during his progress, winds up by stopping dead short in the circle, and thereby makes himself as inconvenient in this last moment as he has been ridiculous during his career."

THE MATE'S YARN.—One evening, when the clouds looked wild and whirling, I asked X. if it was coming on a blow. "No, I guess not," said he, 'bumby the moon'll be up, and scoff away that 'ere loose stuff.' His intonation set the phrase 'scoff away' in quotation-marks as plain as print. So I put a query in each eye, and he went on.—'Ther was a Dutch cappen onct, an' his mate come to him in the cabin, where he sot takin' his schnapps, an' says,—'Cappen, it's a gittin' thick, an' looks kin' o' squally, hadn't we's good's shorten sail?' 'Gimmy my alminick,' says the Cappen.' So he looks at it a spell, an' says he, 'The moon's due in less'n half an hour, an' she'll scoff away ev'rythin' clare agin.' So the mate he goes, an' bumby down he comes agin, an' says, 'Cappen, this 'ere's the allfiredest, powerfullest moon't ever you did see. She scoffed away the main-top-gallants'l, an' she's to work on the fore-tops'l now.—Guess you'd better look in the alminick agin, an' fin' out when the moon sets.' So the cappen thought 'twas 'bout time to go on deck. Dredful slow them Dutch cappens be.' And he walked away, rumbling inwardly, like the roar of the sea heard afar.—Lowell's Fireside Travels.

☞ The terror of the Desert of Sahara is being removed by the application of science. In 1860 five wells had been opened, bringing fishes to the surface from a depth of 500 feet. Vegetation is springing up around the wells, and the "desert will blossom like the rose."

☞ One of "our girls" who is earnestly striving to obtain light, asks the meaning of the "G" in Masonic emblems, and asks if it doesn't mean "girls," "for," says she, "you can't get along without them somewhere in your institution." She is right.

☞ Gen. Sheridan, in early life, was a news-boy. An Exchange says he circulated news then but makes it now.—Columbia (Pa.) Spy.

He is now somewhat like the publisher of a morning paper—he goes to press Early.

☞ An editor asks, in talking of poetry and matrimony, "Who would indite sonnets to a woman whom he saw every morning in her night-cap, and every day at dinner, swallowing meat and mustard?"

A GROCER SILENCED.—Perhaps some one, not a thousand miles from our office, will recognize the following joke, which occurred a few days since in a grocery store. It seems a shopkeeper, who had purchased a quantity of butter from an Irish woman, demurred, upon weighing it, to find it wanting. 'Sure, it's your own fault if it is light,' said the woman in reply to the complaints of the buyer, 'for wasn't it with a pound of your own soap I weighed the butter?' The shopkeeper had nothing further to say on the subject.—Old Dominion.

☞ A foreigner who had mixed among many nations, was asked if he had observed any particular quality in our species that might be considered universal. He replied, 'Me tink dat all men love lazy.'

☞ When you see a man, on a moonlight night, trying to convince his shadow that it is improper to follow a gentleman, you may be sure it is high time for him to join a temperance society.

Special Notices.

INFORMATION FREE!

TO NERVOUS SUFFERERS.

A GENTLEMAN, cured of Nervous Debility, Incompetency, Premature Decay, and Youthful Error, actuated by a desire to benefit others, will be happy to furnish to all who need it, (free of charge,) the recipe and directions for making the simple remedy used in this case. Sufferers wishing to profit by the advertiser's bad experience, and possess a sure and valuable remedy, can do so by addressing him at once at his place of business. The recipe and full information—of vital importance—will be cheerfully sent by return mail. Address, JOHN B. OGDEN.

No. 60 Nassau Street, New York.

P. S.—Nervous Sufferers of both sexes will find this information invaluable. nov30

MATRIMONIAL!

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN,

If you wish to marry, address the undersigned, who will send you without money and without price, valuable information that will enable you to marry happy and speedily, irrespective of age, wealth or beauty. This information will cost you nothing, and if you wish to marry, I will cheerfully assist you. All letters strictly confidential. The desired information sent by return mail, and no questions asked. Address

Sarah B. Lambert, Greenpoint, Kings Co.,
oct. 12, 1864.—2 m. NEW YORK.

Cards.

C. W. HALEY, M. D.,
Physician and Surgeon.
OFFICE—WARREN BANK BUILDING,
South Danvers.

N. J. HOLDEN,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
Office, 27 Washington Street, Salem, Mass.

M. B. MANSFIELD,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
214 ESSEX STREET, SALEM, MASS.
 Particular attention paid to procuring Pensions, Bounties, Back Pay, Prize Money, and Army and Navy Claims of all descriptions. March 2.

H. L. HADLEY,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
CORNER MAPLE AND ELM ST.,
Danvers.
Claims against the Government for Bounty, Back Pay, and Pensions, promptly attended to.

THOMAS M. STIMPSON,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
194 ESSEX STREET, SALEM.
Residence Lowell street, South Danvers.

B. C. PERKINS,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
South Danvers—Office in Allen's Building.

ALFRED A. ABBOTT,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
Office, No. 24 Washington Street, Salem.
House, Main St., So. Danvers.

SIDNEY C. BANCROFT,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
27 Washington Street, Salem.

H. O. WILEY,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
Office, Allen's Building, South Danvers.
Claims against the Government for Bounty, Back Pay, and Pensions, promptly attended to.

A. S. CRAWFORD
Dentist,
No. 4 MAIN STREET, SO. DANVERS SQUARE.
Mechanical Dentistry Neatly Executed.

W. L. BOWDOIN,
SURGEON DENTIST,
No. 208 Essex Street, Salem, (Opposite the Marke
Residence—No. 57 Washington street.
jan 12—1y

NEWMAN & SYMONDS,
DEALERS IN
Family Groceries, Flour & Grain,
HARD WARE AND CROCKERY,
Ready Made Clothing, Gents' Furnishing Goods, Hats, Caps, Boots, Shoes, &c.,
South Danvers Square, opp. Congregational Church
SAM'L NEWMAN. NATH'L SYMONDS.

S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS,
DEALERS IN
Crockery, China and Hardware; Paper Hangings; Solar and Entry Lamps; Paints, Oil and Window Glass.
No. 32 Front street, Lawrence Place,
feb13 SALEM, MASS.

HENRY L. WHIDDEN,
HOUSE AND SIGN PAINTER,
Glazier and Paperer,
Central Street, South Danvers.
All orders promptly and faithfully executed.
jan2-1y

JESSE SMITH
No. 262 Essex Street, Salem,
Importer and Dealer in
Gold and Silver Watches,
MARINE CHRONOMETERS,
Aneroid Barometers, Spy Glasses, &c.

WILLIAM BLANEY,
HOUSE & SIGN PAINTER
Grainer, Glazier and Paper Hanger,
164 MAIN STREET, Corner of Grove.
WINDOWS and BLINDS cheap for cash,
mch6-tf

F. POOLE
INSURANCE AGENT,
Allen's Building (up stairs),
Deeds drawn, and other common forms.

G. H. LANE & CO.

BEING connected with one of the largest Clothing Houses in Franklin Street, and having made extensive preparations for this present season's business, now offer in

Special Departments

(all of which will be found full and complete) the following, at PRICES far below the present cost to manufacture:

OVERCOATS.

The most extensive show of Overcoats ever offered in this market, combining all the popular makes of

Chinchillas, Castors, Tricots, Eskimos, Beavers and Pilots,

In SACKS and SURTOUTS, some of which are particularly adapted to the wants of DRIVERS, being made up with Fur bindings and facings.

BUSINESS COATS,

embracing many new styles.

WALKING COATS,

manufactured from a great variety of PLAIN and MIXED Goods.

ENGLISH HUNTING COATS,

made from heavy FUR BEAVER.

DRESS COATS,

in plain BLACKS and DIAGONAL RIBBED, TRICOT and AMOOR GOODS.

BUSINESS SUITS,

of all grades, from the finest and most expensive qualities down to medium and low priced goods.

PANTALOONS,

A great variety, including some of the most STRIKING, NOVEL and UNIQUE PATTERNS.

VESTS,

a very attractive and thoroughly assorted stock.

Boys' Department.

Under the most capable management, is at all times full in stock and assortment. Our styles for this season being entirely new and strictly our own.

BOYS OVERCOATS,

an unusually large and handsome line, embracing all the leading styles.

BOYS TOGAS,

to be found only at this establishment being original with us.

JACKETS AND PANTS,

to match—perhaps the best assortment that can be offered by any house in the trade.

METROPOLITAN SUITS,

manufactured from a variety of Fabrics, selected with special reference to the requirements of genteel trade.

CARIBALDI SUITS,

new and elegant stocks, unsurpassed for style and finish.

POLKA SUITS,

in the largest quantity and made from the best quality of goods.

The above comprises one of the LARGEST and BEST SELECTED STOCKS of MEN'S and BOYS' CLOTHING ever before offered at RETAIL in NEW ENGLAND.

Special Inducements to Wholesale Buyers for Cash.

G. H. LANE & CO.,
31 and 32 DOCK SQUARE,
Oct. 26th, 1864. BOSTON.

STURGIS' ELECTRIC COMPOUND,

An Effectual External Remedy for

NEURALGIA

—AND—

RHEUMATISM.

ALSO, INVALUABLE FOR

Spinal Irritation, Ague in the Face, Toothache, Pain in the Side, Back, and Limbs, Ear, Ague, &c.

Among the Advantages of this Medicine are the following:

ITS effect is very rapid—in most cases instantaneous.

It is external in its application, and the patient runs no risk in using it. It does not strike to the stomach.

It reaches the nerves and muscles, as it is believed no other medicine does.

It has cured some of the most violent and obstinate cases of Neuralgia ever known.

It can be used on a child or an aged person alike.

While it is very powerful, it is perfectly harmless.

The proprietor has been allowed to publish the names of many persons who have used the COMPOUND with the most beneficial results. He inserts a few of them. They are among the most respectable citizens of Boston and other places, and their residences and places of business are given:

Rev. N. Munroe, late of Boston Recorder
Joseph H. Allen, 119 Washington St., house 55 Rutland Street.
N. P Kemp, Tract Society, 40 Cornhill.
Addison Boyden, 408 Washington Street, Boston, firm of Haley, Morse & Boyden.
William H. Brewster, Publisher of Boston Traveller.

The following letter from one of our best citizens will speak for itself:

REV. JOSEPH E. BARRY, the children's missionary of Boston, was the recipient a few weeks since of a bottle of STURGIS'S ELECTRIC COMPOUND, for Neuralgia, Rheumatism, &c., and having experienced great benefit from its use, and having known of many severe cases of the above complaints where it produced cures, considers it his duty to make known to his friends and others being so unfortunate as to be troubled with these terrible complaints, the virtue of this preparation.

Boston, Sept. 15, 1863. JOSEPH E. BARRY.

REMARKABLE CURE OF NEURALGIA.—The following letter, (unsolicited,) was received by the proprietor in May last:

CAMP ROGERS, Newbern, May 6, 1863.

DEAR SIR: I have been for some weeks suffering under a severe attack of Neuralgia, the severity of which has caused me to be in "perfect agony" both night and day. Having heard of STURGIS'S ELECTRIC COMPOUND from a "companion in arms," I was induced to give it a trial, which had the happy effect to immediately cure me. I am surprised that surgeons do not have it in the army, as there is a constant demand for such an invaluable relief. I make this statement for the public good, and I have no scruples about your using this as a recommendation to other victims of this painful disorder.

Yours, respectfully, JOSEPH HOUGHTON,
Co. D, 43d Reg't Mass. Vols.

For Sale by all Druggists.

☞ Office No. 119 Washington St., Boston.
Sept. 28—6mo.

DR. J. H. BATCHELDER,
DENTAL SURGEON,
No. 20 Washington St., (near Eastern Railroad Depot), SALEM, MASS.
Is Licensed to make the New Patent Teeth on HARD RUBBER OR VULCANITE.
July 1, 1864.

REAL ESTATE.

The subscriber offers for sale the following Lots of Land, with the buildings thereon, at Private Sale, until October next, when, if not previously sold, they will be put up at auction.

On Lowell street, a two story DWELLING HOUSE, fitted for two families. This is the Estate formerly known as the Southwick Tavern.

On Lowe street, leading from Foster St. to Washington St., a two story TENEMENT for two families with a garden attached to it.

On Washington street, near the residence of Capt. Lowe, a very eligible BUILDING LOT, on the North side of the street.

On Tremont street, a small COTTAGE HOUSE for one or two families.

On Walnut street, a pleasant, elevated Lot of Land, with a large Barn, situated opposite Mr. Caller's Currying Shop.

In the rear of the above TWO TENEMENT HOUSES.

For particulars apply to
jy 27 WILLIAM SUTTON.

Salem and Danvers Aqueduct Co'y.

ALL persons using the water of the Salem and South Danvers Aqueduct, are hereby notified that the water rents, for the six months ending Nov'r 1, 1864, are now due: and that they are required to pay the same, at the office of the Company, No. 2 Sewall Street, on the 1st day of October inst. Should the bills remain unpaid for thirty days, the water will be stopped, in conformity to the regulations of the Company.

Office hours from 9 to 1 o'clock, and from 2 to 5.
Per order of the Directors,
Salem, Oct 1, 1864. WM. JELLY, Collector.

SELF-SEALING AIR-TIGHT CASKET.

MR. CHARLES S. BUFFUM, Furnishing Undertaker of South Danvers, takes this method to announce that he has a new burial case, which combines all the advantages of a wooden receptacle, with those of a metal one, and yet avoids the disadvantages of both. They have been used with great success, and bodies placed in them have been delivered in perfect preservation after having been transported over a thousand miles. To persons having deceased friends at the seat of war they are invaluable. They come at reasonable prices, are light and durable, and are perfectly air-tight. august 10

FURNITURE

HAVING taken the Store No. 10 FRONT STREET, (formerly occupied by BENJAMIN COLMAN,) I shall keep constantly on hand a large stock of

NEW AND SECOND-HAND FURNITURE,
BEDDING, COUNTING-ROOM DESKS, &c., &c.,

which I will sell cheap for CASH.

ALL KINDS OF FURNITURE NEATLY REPAIRED.

☞ All kinds of FURNITURE and BEDDING wanted—for which the highest Cash price will be paid.

P. J. HYNES, 10 FRONT-ST.
Salem, April 6, 1864—1y

CURRIER & MILLETT,
Dealers in
Furniture, Chairs,
MATTRESSES, FEATHERS, &
259 & 261 ESSEX ST.
Salem, dec 14—1y

NEW INKSTAND.

OLIVER'S Patent Inkstand claims the following advantages:—It is not complicated—No trouble to fill—Does not get out of order—It is very economical—It prevents evaporation—Does not require frequent filling—Can be easily operated—It is easily cleaned—Filters the Ink for use—Keeps the Ink free from exposure and fresh and limpid—it is both ornamental and durable. For sale by
Salem, Sept 23 G M WHIPPLE & A A SMITH.

AARON T. LOWE,
DEALER IN
BOOTS, SHOES AND RUBBERS,
76 BOSTON STREET, 76.
aug 6 SALEM. tf

PAINTS AND OIL.

FOREST River White Lead; New York White Lead; Linseed Oil; Japans; Spirits Turpentine; Bensole Spirits; Varnishes, &c., constantly for sale at
Nov 9 S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS', 32 Front St.

IVORY HANDLED KNIVES

BY the Dozen, with or without Forks, at
S C & E A SIMONDS', 32 Front st.

Skinner's Pulmonales

Immediately Relieve Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, loss of Voice, Bronchitis, Lassitude, Thirst and every symptom of the first stages of Pulmonary Consumption; they are white, in form of a wafer, and as suitable for the infant in the cradle as the patient of three score years and ten. Orators and all who overtax the vocal organs receive instant relief by their use. Sold by all Druggists. Prepared by E. M. SKINNER, Chemist, 27 Tremont St., Boston. sept 7—1y

SPALDING'S ROSE MARY

FOR FOURTEEN YEARS the Rosemary has held a high rank as pure, uniform and reliable. It is Warranted. 1st, To beautify the hair. 2d, To curl the hair elegantly. 3d, To remove dandruff effectually. 4th, To restore hair to bald heads. 5th, To force the beard and whiskers to grow. 6th, To prevent the hair from falling off. 7th, To cure all diseases of the scalp. 8th, To prevent the hair turning grey. 9th, To cure headache. 10th, To kill hair eaters. Sold everywhere. Prepared by EDW. M SKINNER, Chemist, 27 Tremont St., opposite the Museum, Boston, Mass. sept 7—1y

JUST ARRIVED,

AT DANVERS MILLS,

500 Bushels Corn, in the minnie cob, and will be sold in South Danvers. Constantly on hand a large stock of meal, which will be sold at the lowest Salem prices.

—ALSO ON HAND—

500 Bushels Feed;
200 Bushels prime Northern Oats;
100 Barrels choicest Family Flour.
A good stock of LIME constantly on hand.

JOHN C. MOULTON,
Central St., South Danvers, Mass.

Indispensable to Every Soldier and Seaman.

BROOK'S PATENT WRITING AND TOILET CASE.

EASILY carried in the coat pocket. Supplied by the manufacturers at the old price—$2.

D. B. BROOKS & BROTHER,
201 Essex Street, Salem, Mass.

Those who have friends in the Army of the Potomac can have them sent to them free of postage. sept 7

HENRY G. HUBON,
WASHINGTON STREET, SALEM
Manufacturers of
Rose Wood, Mahogany, Black Walnut and Stained Wood
COFFINS and CASKETS.

MAKING this our exclusive business, we are ready at all times and at the shortest notice to furnish Grave Clothes of various styles, as well as Coffins and Caskets of the finest finish. Personal attention given, and delivered without extra charge to any of the neighboring towns. All orders by express or otherwise will receive prompt attention.
nov 1—tf

CHARLES S. BUFFUM,

BEING an authorized UNDERTAKER of South Danvers, will attend Funerals in said place with his Hearse the same as the Town Undertaker Will also attend Funerals, when desired, in any of the neighboring towns, with one or a pair of horses.

He also furnishes Coffin Caskets, Robes, etc., lower than city prices.

All branches of the business attended to, such as furnishing Coaches, Flowers, Laying Out, etc.

Ice Preservers Furnished.

All orders promptly attended to, and personal attention given to them. Articles delivered to any of the neighboring towns free of charge. Orders by express or otherwise will receive prompt attention.

Central street, South Danvers,
RESIDENCE 25 ELM STREET.
South Danvers, Feb 17, 1864.

Undertaker's Notice!

THE subscriber being regularly appointed as Undertaker of South Danvers, would respectfully notify the public that he has removed from Central Street, to No. 80 Lowell Street, where he may be found in readiness to attend funerals, and to furnish, when desired.
HENRY SPENCER.
February 10, 1864.

Chickering & Sons' Piano-Fortes.
Hallett & Cumston's Piano-Fortes.
Hallett & Davis's Piano-Fortes.

We select our Piano-Fortes from the above firms and warrant them to give perfect satisfaction. Our terms are reasonable, and all persons in the city and neighboring towns can be accommodated by calling at 76 Federal street.

FOR SALE—Second-hand Piano-Fortes,—Chickering's and others.
ap 29 ANN R. BRAY.

MOULTON'S NEW LIVERY STABLE,

Is removed to stable formerly occupied by
SAMUEL HAM,
On MAIN STREET, opposite the Institute.
Good Horses and Carriages will be always in readiness at short notice.
South Danvers, May 25, 1864.

PIN WORMS. MRS. OSBORN'S Universal Worm Powders are the only sure cure ever offered to the public. They are warranted in every case; relief within 24 hrs. 25 cts. per box. Sold by all druggists.

For sale by D. P. GROSVENOR, Jr., 33 Main St., South Danvers. jan 27

Are you Insured?

THE subscriber would respectfully call your attention to the fact that he is fully prepared to effect INSURANCE AGAINST FIRE, to any amount, at current rates, on

Dwelling Houses, Barns and their contents, Stores, Stocks of Goods, Furniture, &c. &c., and on buildings in process of erection,

And that he is the authorized Agent for the followin responsible Stock and Mutual Companies, viz:

Thames Insurance Co., (Stock), Norwich, Conn.
Capital—$500,000.
Amos W. Prentice, Pres. Oliver F. Rice, Sec'y
Conway Insurance Company, (Stock) Boston.
Capital and Surplus—$260,000.
James F. Whitney, Pres. David C. Rogers, Sec'y.
City Insurance Company, (Stock) Boston.
Capital—$150,000.
Samuel P. Hayward, Pres. Austin W. Benton, Sec'y

Also, will effect Insurance on the LIVES OF INDIVIDUALS, for one year, seven years, or for the whole term of life, in the

Massachusetts Mutual Life Ins. Co., Springfield, Mass.
Capital and Assets—$375,000.
Caleb Rice, Pres. D. B. Bacon, Sec'y.
William Mack, M D., Medical Examiner.

WM. ARCHER, Jr.,
18 Washington st. and 34 Front st., Salem
feb20-1

WHITE LEAD IN PAILS.

NEW YORK White Lead in Tin Pails, of 25 lb each, at
nov 30 S C & E A SIMONDS', 32 Front st.

BRUSHES.

PAINT Brushes of all kinds; Camels' Hair Brushe and Pencils—at
nov 30 S C & E A SIMONDS', 32 Front st.

FEATHER DUSTERS.

A full assortment of Dusters—at
S C & E A SIMONDS', 32 Front st.

THE TRAVELERS INS. CO.,

OF HARTFORD, CONN.

Capital - - - - - - $250,000.

Is now prepared to insure persons against

ACCIDENTS

OF EVERY DESCRIPTION.

Yearly policies will be issued for a premium of

FIVE DOLLARS,

granting insurance to the amount of

FIVE THOUSAND DOLLARS,

against accidental loss of life while travelling by any public conveyance.

TEN DOLLARS PREMIUM

secures a policy for Five Thousand Dollars, and also twenty-five dollars per week compensation for personal injury incapacitating the assured from his ordinary business.

TWENTY-FIVE DOLLARS PREMIUM

secures a full policy for $5000 and $25 per week compensation for all and EVERY DESCRIPTION OF ACCIDENT, TRAVELLING OR OTHERWISE.

Policies for $5000 with $3 per week compensation, can be had for $3 per annum, or any other sum between $500 and $5000 at proportionate rates.

DIRECTORS:

Gustavus F. Davis,	W. H. D. Callender,
James L. Howard,	George W. Moore,
Marshal Jewell,	Ebenezer Roberts,
Thomas Belknap, Jr.,	Charles White,
Cornelius B. Irwin,	Hugh Harrison,
George S. Gilman,	Jonathan B. Bunce.

JAMES G. PATTERSON, President.
RODNEY DENNIS, Secretary.
HENRY A. DYER, General Agent.

PLUMBER & MERCER, AGENTS,
40 State Street, Boston.

Offices in Salem—JOHN H. DERBY, No. 24 Washington street; SAMUEL MACKINTIRE, No. 218 Essex street. Aug. 3, 1864—1yr*

HELMBOLD'S GENUINE PREPARATIONS.

COMPOUND FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU, a Positive and Specific Remedy for diseases of the Bladder, Kidneys, Gravel, and Dropsical Swellings.

This Medicine increases the power of Digestion, and excite the Absorbents into healthy action, by which the Wtaery or Calcareous depositions, and all Unnatural Enlargements are reduced, as well as Pain and Inflammation.

—:0:—

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU.

For Weaknesses arising from Excesses, Habits of Dissipation, Early Indiscretion of Abuse, attended with the following symptoms:—

Indisposition to Exertion,	Loss of Power,
Loss of Memory,	Difficulty of Breathing,
Weak Nerves,	Trembling,
Horror of Disease,	Wakefulness,
Dimness of Vision,	Pain in the Back,
Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System,
Hot Hands,	Flushing of the Body,
Dryness of the Skin,	Eruptions on the Face,
Pallid Countenance.

These symptoms, if allowed to go on, which this medicine invariably removes, soon follows

Impotency, Fatuity, Epileptic Fits,

In one of which the patient may expire.

Who can say that they are not frequently followed by those "Direful Diseases,"

"INSANITY AND CONSUMPTION."

Many are aware of the cause of their suffering, BUT NONE WILL CONFESS THE RECORDS OF THE INSANE ASYLUMS.

And Melancholy Deaths by Consumption bear ample witness to the Truth of the assertion.

The Constitution once effected with Organic Weakness requires the aid of Medicine to Strengthen and Invigorate the system,

Which HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU invariably does. A Trial will convince the most skeptical.

—:0:—

FEMALES—FEMALES—FEMALES.

In many Affections peculiar to Females the EXTRACT BUCHU is unequaled by any other remedy, as in Chlorosis or Retention, Irregularity, Painfulness, or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated Scirrhous state of the Uterus, Leuchorrhœa or Whites, Sterility, and for all complaints incident to the sex, whether arising from indiscretion or Habits of Dissipation, or in the

DECLINE OR CHANGE OF LIFE.

—:0:—

Take no more Balsam, Mercury, or unpleasant Medicines for unpleasant and dangerous diseases.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU AND IMPROVED ROSE WASH CURES

SECRET DISEASES

In all their Stages,	At little Expense.
Little or no change in Diet.	No inconvenience.
And no Exposure.

It causes a frequent desire and gives strength to Urinate, thereby Removing Obstructions, Preventing and Curing Strictures of the Urethra, allaying Pain and Inflammation, so frequent in this class of diseases, and expelling all Poisonous, Diseased and wornout Matter.

Thousands upon Thousands who have been the Victims of Quacks, and who have paid heavy fees to be cured in a short time, have found they were deceived, and that the "POISON" has, by the use of "Powerful Astringents," been dried up in the system, to break out in an aggravated form, and perhaps after Marriage.

—:0:—

Use HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU for all affections and diseases of the URINARY ORGANS; whether existing in MALE or FEMALE, from whatever cause originating and no matter of HOW LONG STANDING.

Diseases of these Organs requires the aid of a DIURETIC. HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU IS THE GREAT DIURETIC, and is certain to have the desired effect in all Diseases for which it is Recommended.

Evidence of the most reliable and responsible character will accompany the medicine.

Price $1.00 per bottle, or six for $5.00.

Delivered to any Address, securely packed from observation.

Describe Symptoms in all Communications.

Cures Guaranteed! Advice Gratis!!

Address letters for informationto

H. B. HELMBOLD, Chemist,
104 South Tenth-st., bel. Chestnut, Phila.

HELMBOLD'S Medical Depot.
HELMBOLD'S Drug & Chemical Warehouse.
594 Broadway, New York.

BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS AND UNPRINCIPLED DEALERS who endeavor to dispose "of their own" and "other" articles on the reputation attained by

Helmbold's Genuine Preparations.
" " Extract Buchu.
" " Sarsaparilla.
" " Improved Rose Wash.

SOLD BY
ALL DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE.
ASK FOR HELMBOLD'S. TAKE NO OTHER.
Cut out the Advertisement and send for it.
AND AVOID IMPOSITION AND EXPOSURE.

ALWAYS SUCCESSFUL!

TO ALL THOSE WHO SUFFER FROM

DEBILITY AND SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

DRS. CARSWELL & HUNTER, regularly educated, highly eminent and successful practitioners, after a very extensive practice in Boston, for over twenty years, need hardly speak of their medical qualifications, or remind strangers not to class them with a set of uneducated men, who fill the papers with their boasting advertisements. Drs. C. & H. caution the public against quackery in all its forms, pretending, as some self-styled doctors, to cure all the most difficult and chronic diseases, without knowledge of the human system, or of the modus operandi of the most simple drugs.

Drs. C. & H., since 1840, having confined their whole attention to an office practice for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, they acknowledge no superiors.

CONSTITUTIONAL DEBILITY OR SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Drs. C. & H. are pre-eminently successful in the treatment of the above most difficult and perplexing of all diseases, this complaint being the result of a secret habit in youth; if neglected or improperly treated, it proves one of the greatest evils that can befall a human being. Dr. H. has given particular attention to the above disease for years, and so thoroughly has he become acquainted with the pathology and treatment, that he will warrant a perfect cure under forfeiture of $500; in fact, he will, in the cure of this complaint, acknowledge no superior in this country, or even in the world. Come, then, all you who are afflicted, come to the Old Stand, where you will in a short time be made to rejoice in perfect health.

SYPHILITIC AND SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS,—such as Ulcers and Caries of the throat and nose, Running Sores on the legs and arms, Hard Scabs and Scaly Eruptions on the head, back, &c., pains in the bones and joints, and all other forms of venereal diseases disappear under Drs. C. & H.'s improved and thoroughly eradicating course of treatment.

The primary or first symptoms of disease, whether a simple running, or small pistules, cancers, or ulcers, are cured in a very few days, if immediate application is made to Drs. C. & H.

13 ENDICOTT STREET, BOSTON. 13

Strangers should be particular in the selection of a physician, lest they be deceived by false advertisements.

Ladies troubled with irregularity, weakness, whites, and other complaints peculiar to the female system, will find a speedy cure by calling as above. No mercury used, and no charge for advice. The afflicted are invited to give us a call.

Boston, April 20, 1864.—1 yr.

SUMMER ARRANGEMENT

—TO—

LYNN & BOSTON

—BY—

OMNIBUS & HORSE CAR.

W. F. BURNHAM'S

Line of Omnibuses will leave the Lynn and Boston Omnibus Office, No. 6 Allen's Building, South Danvers passing down Main Street, through Washington Street, to Lynn, daily—Sundays included.

Leave South Danvers at 7 50 o'clock, A. M., 12 50 and 4 50 P. M

Leave Lynn (Horse Car Depot, West Lynn) at 9 40 A. M., 2 40 and 6 40 P. M.

Horse Cars leaving the office at 16 Brattle Street at 8 15 A. M., 1 15 and 5 15 P. M., will meet the Omnibuses at Lynn, at the above named hours, to take passengers to South Danvers.

Tickets to Lynn,	20 cents.
Through to Boston,	35 cents.

Gravesend, Woodend, and Central Depot Route.

ON and after Monday, Nov 2, in addition to the old route, an Omnibus will leave South Danvers for Lynn, to connect with the steam and horse cars, 3 times daily,—Sundays excepted,—running through Gravesend and Woodend, to the Central R R Depot and Horse Railroad Station, corner of Spring and Broad Streets; leaving South Danvers at 6 A M (connecting with the 7.25 steam cars for Boston), 10 A M (connecting with the 11.10 train), and 4 P M (connecting with the 4.50 train); and returning, leave Lynn from the Spring Street Station and Central R R Depot at 8 A M, and 1 and 6 P M.

Fare from S. Danvers to Boston by horse cars, 35c.
" " " " steam cars, 40c.

Through Tickets to and from Boston may be had of the Drivers and Conductors.

EXPRESS BUSINESS

Between South Danvers and Lynn promptly attended to, on reasonable terms.

Extra Coaches furnished at short notice.

W. F. BURNHAM.

South Danvers, April 20, 1864.

CROUT & MUNROE'S
SOUTH DANVERS & BOSTON
RAILROAD EXPRESS.

Express leaves South Danvers at		10 1-2 a. m.
Freight " " "	at	5 p. m.
Express leaves Boston at		3 1-2 p. m.
Freight "	at	4 p. m.

OFFICE at FREIGHT DEPOT, South Danvers Square.

Express Office in Boston, 3 Washington Street
Freight Office, 48 Kilby St.

Particular attention paid to removing Furniture, collecting Bills, Notes, Drafts, &c.

Smallest favors thankfully received.

South Danvers, august 26—tf.

LITTLEFIELD'S
South Danvers & Salem Mail Express

B. LITTLEFIELD successor to P. Webber, will run an Express regularly between So. Danvers and Salem for the delivery of packages and bundles, and goods usually delivered by Express.

Leave South Danvers at 7½ and 11 A M, and 5 P M
Leave Salem at 8.45 A M., 2 and 6 P M.

This Express connects with the first train from Salem going East.

SLATES—In Salem, 13 Central st, and at the Messrs. Roberts' store, corner of Front and Washington sts.

South Danvers—At the Post Office, at Blake & H man's store; also at R. O. Spiller's store.

Important to the Afflicted.

DR. DOW continues to be consulted at his offic Nos. 7 and 9 Endicott street, Boston, on all d eases of a

PRIVATE OR DELICATE NATURE.

By a long course of study and practical experien of unlimited extent Dr. D. has now the gratificat of presenting the unfortunate with remedies t have never, since he first introduced them, failed cure the most alarming cases of

GONORRHEA AND SYPHILIS.

Beneath his treatment, all the horrors of vene and impure blood, Impotency, Scrofula, Gonorrh Ulcers, pain and distress in the regions of proc tion, Inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, drocele, Abcesses, Humors, frightful Swellings, the long train of horrible symptoms attending class of disease, are made to become as harmless the simplest ailings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Dr. D. devotes a great part of his time to the tr ment of those cases caused by a secret and soli habit, which ruins the body and mind, unfitting unfortunate individual for business or society. S of the sad and melancholy effects produced by e habits of youth, are Weakness of the Back limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimness of sight, pitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervousness, rangement of the digestive functions, Symptom Consumption, &c. The fearful effects on the are much to be dreaded; loss of memory, conf of ideas, depression of spirits, evil forebod aversion of society, self-distrust, timidity, &c., among the evils produced. Such persons should fore contemplating matrimony, consult a physici experience, and be at once restored to health happiness.

Patients who wish to remain under Dr. Dow's t ment a few days or weeks, will be furnished pleasant rooms, and charges for board moderate.

Medicines sent to all parts of the country, wit directions for use, on receiving description of cases. Dr. Dow has also for sale the French Cap warranted the best preventive. Order by ma or $1 and a red stamp.

CAUTION

TO FEMALES IN DELICATE HEALTH

DR. DOW, Physician and Surgeon, 7 and 9 En street, Boston, is consulted daily for all disease dent to the female system. Prolapsus Uteri, o ing of the Womb, Fluor Albus, Suppression, an er menstrual derangements, are all treated upon pathological principles, and speedy relief guara in a very few days. So invariably certain is th mode of treatment, that most obstinate com yield under it, and the afflicted person soon r in perfect health.

Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater experience cure of diseases of women and children, tha other physician in Boston.

Boarding accommodations for patients wh wish to stay in Boston a few days under his ment.

Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined his wh tention to an office practice, for the cure of P Diseases and Female Complaints, acknowledg superior in the United States.

N. B.—All letters must contain four red stam they will not be answered.

Office Hours from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M.

CERTAIN CURE

IN ALL CASES, OR NO CHARGES MA

Dr. Dow is consulted daily, from 8 a. m. to as above, upon all difficult and chronic dise every name and nature, having by his unwea tention and extraordinary success gained a rep which calls patients from all parts of the cou obtain advice.

Among the physicians in Boston, none stand in the profession than the celebrated DR. DO 7 Endicott street, Boston. Those who need t vices of an experienced physician and surgeon give him a call. P. S.—Dr. Dow imports and sale a new article, called the French Secret. by mail. Two for $1 and a red stamp.

April 20, 1864—1y.

Job Press for Sale.

RUGGLES' JOB ENGINE PRESS. Prints by 19 inches. Can be run by one man of 800 per hour. Is in good condition. It wil very low price, as the owner has no use for it big bargain. Apply at this office.

HEYLINGBERG'S
Hair Dressing Sal
24 MAIN ST., SOUTH DAN

J. J. HEYLINGBERG would rons and the public generally, JUNE 1st, 1864, he will abide by

TARIFF OF PRICES.

Shaving, - - - - -
Hair Cutting, - - - -
Champooing, - - - -

Particular attention paid to dying kers, in one preparation, without bing.

South Danvers, May 11, 1864.

25 YEARS' EXPERIENCE CARSWELL & HUNTER of a private nature in a shorter a smaller amount of money than this country, and they also with perfect success, and terms. Patients furnished Please give us a call at our Boston, Mass.

Boston, April 20, 1864—1yr.

South Danvers Wizard.

VOL. V. SOUTH DANVERS, MASS., WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 28, 1864. NO. 52.

PEABODY LIBRARY 1852. Peabody, Mass.

THE SOUTH DANVERS WIZARD
Is published every WEDNESDAY, at Allen's Building, South Danvers Square.
TERMS—Two Dollars a year.
ADVERTISEMENTS inserted at reasonable rates.
CHARLES D. HOWARD,
EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

S. R. NILES, Advertising Agent,
No. 1 Scollay's Building, Court Street, Boston, is our Agent for that city, and is authorized to receive advertisements and subscriptions for us at our lowest rates.

Advertisements.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

HEAD-QUARTERS, BOSTON, December 7, 1864.
GENERAL ORDER, No. 49.

By the 4th Section of the Act concerning the Militia, approved on the 14th day of May last, it was provided that the Commender-in-Chief should forthwith proceed to divide the Commonwealth into Military Districts of Companies, which shall be numbered, and a record thereof made in the office of the Adjutant-General.

In accordance with the above provision of the law, it is hereby ordered by the Commander-in-Chief, that the Commonwealth shall be divided into Two Hundred and Forty-nine Military Districts, which are established and numbered, as follows:—

Military-Company District. No.		Companies.
1—38.	Boston	38
39—42.	Chelsea, N. Chelsea, Winthrop	4
43.	Chilmark, Tisbury, Edgartown	1
44.	Nantucket	1
45.	Sandwich	1
46.	Barnstable, Falmouth, Gosnold	1
47.	Yarmouth	1
48.	Harwich	1
49.	Brewster, Chatham, Dennis	1
50.	Eastham, Orleans	1
51.	Truro, Wellfleet	1
52.	Provincetown	1
53.	Scituate, Cohasset, Hull	1
54.	Hingham	1
55.	South Scituate, Marshfield	1
56—57.	Abington	2
58.	East Bridgewater, Hanson	1
59.	Bridgewater, Raynham	1
60—61.	N. Bridgewater, W. Bridgewater	2
62.	Pembroke, Hanover	1
63.	Duxbury	1
64.	Kingston, Plympton, Halifax	1
65.	Middleborough	1
66—67.	Plymouth, Carver	2
68.	Mattapoisett, Marion, Rochester, Wareham	1
69.	Norton, Easton	1
70—72.	Taunton	3
73.	Attleborough	1
74.	Rehoboth, Dighton	1
75.	Somerset, Swansea, Seekonk	1
76.	Freetown, Berkely, Lakeville	1
77—81.	Fall River	5
82.	Fairhaven, Acushnet	1
83—86.	New Bedford	4
87.	Westport, Dartmouth	1
88.	Bellingham, Franklin, Wrentham	1
89.	Medfield, Medway	1
90.	Sharon, Foxborough, Mansfield	1
91—92.	Stoughton	2
94.	Randolph	1
95—96.	Weymouth	2
97.	Braintree	1
98.	Quincy	1
99—100.	Dorchester, Milton	2
101.	West Roxbury	1
102—105.	Roxbury	4
106.	Lynnfield, Middleton, North Reading	1
107—110.	Lynn, Swampscott, Nahant	4
111—112.	Marblehead	2
113—115.	Salem	3
116—117.	South Danvers	2
118.	Danvers	1
119—120.	Beverly, Wenham	2
121.	Rockport	1
122—124.	Gloucester	3
125.	Hamilton, Essex, Manchester	1
126.	Ipswich	1
127.	Boxford, Topsfield, Rowley	1
128.	North Andover	1
129.	Andover, Tewksbury	1
130—131.	Lawrence	2
132.	Methuen, Bradford	1
133—134.	Haverhill	2
135.	Groveland Georgetown	1
136.	West Newbury, Newbury	1
137—138.	Newburyport	2
139.	Amesbury	1
140.	Salisbury	1
141.	Natick, Needham, Dover	1
142—143.	Ashland, Holliston, Sherborn	2
144.	Framingham	1
145—146.	Wayland, Sudbury, Marlboro'	2
147—148.	Newton, Waston	2
149.	Watertown	1
150.	Waltham	1
151.	Belmont, West Cambridge, Lexington	1
152.	Brighton, Brookline	1
153—156.	Cambridge	4
157—161.	Somerville, Charlestown	5
162.	Malden	1
163.	Melrose, Saugus	1
164—165.	Stoneham, Medford	2
166.	Woburn, Winchester	1
167.	Wilmington, Reading, South Reading	1
168.	Carlisle, Concord, Lincoln, Bedford, Burlington	1
169.	Littleton, Boxborough, Stow, Acton	1
170—172.	Lowell	3
173.	Dracut, Chelmsford, Billerica	1
174.	Dunstable, Tyngsborough, Groton, Westford	1
175.	Ashby, Townsend, Pepperel	1
176.	Sturbridge, Southbridge, Dudley	1
177.	Oxford, Webster	1
178.	Mendon, Blackstone	1
179.	Northbridge, Uxbridge, Douglas	1
180.	Milbury, Sutton	1
181—182.	Milford	2
183.	Grafton, Upton	1
184.	Southborough, Westborough, Hopkinton	1
185.	Boylston, Shrewsbury, Northborough	1
186—192.	Worcester	7
193.	Paxton, Leicester, Auburn	1
194.	Spencer, Charlton	1
195.	Oakham, North Brookfield	1
196.	Warren, Brookfield	1
197.	Hardwick, New Braintree, West Brookfield	1
198.	Petersham, Dana	1
199.	Barre	1
200.	Princeton, Holden, Rutland	1
201.	Sterling, West Boylston	1
202.	Bolton, Berlin, Clinton	1
203.	Leominster	1
204.	Lunenburg, Lancaster, Harvard, Shirley	1
205—206.	Fitchburg	2
207.	Westminster, Hubbardston	1
208.	Gardner	1
209.	Phillipston, Templeton	1
210.	Winchendon, Ashburnham	1
211.	Royalston, Athol	1
212.	Palmer, Brimfield, Wales, Holland	1
213.	Longmeadow, Wilbraham, Monson	1
214—216.	Springfield	3
217.	Chicopee	1
218.	Holyoke, South Hadley	1
219.	Southwick, Agawam, West Springfield	1
220.	Westfield	1
221.	Tolland, Granville	1
222.	Chester, Blandford, Russell, Montgomery	1
223.	Pelham, Prescott, Greenwich, Enfield, Ware	1
224.	Granby, Belchertown, Ludlow	1
225.	Hadley, Amherst	1
226.	Huntington, Westhampton, Southampton, Easthampton	1
227—228.	Hatfield, Northampton	2
229.	Williamsburg, Whately	1
230.	Plainfield, Cummington, Worthington, Chesterfield, Goshen	1
231.	Erving, Wendell, New Salem, Shutesbury, Leverett, Sunderland	1
232.	Northfield, Warwick, Orange	1
233.	Deerfield, Montague	1
234.	Ashfield, Conway	1
235.	Bernardston, Greenfield, Gill	1
236.	Colrain, Leyden	1
237.	Buckland, Shelburne	1
238.	Munroe, Rowe, Heath, Florida, Charlemont, Hawley	1
239.	Tyringham, Otis, Monterey, Sandisfield	1
240.	Mount Washington, Sheffield, New Marlborough	1
241.	Alford, Great Barrington, Egremont	1
242.	Lenox, Lee	1
243.	Richmond, Stockbridge, West Stockbridge	1
244.	Hinsdale, Peru, Washington, Beckett, Middlefield	1
245.	Pittsfield	1
246.	Cheshire, Savoy, Windsor, Lanesborough, Dalton	1
247—248.	Adams	2
249.	Williamstown, Clarksburg, New Ashford, Hancock	1

This division could not be undertaken until the lists of persons liable to enrollment, to be made by the assessors of the several cities and towns, as provided for by the 3d section of said Act, had been received. These returns, required by the terms of the Act to be filed with the Adjutant-General, on or before the 10th day of July last, were not, in point of fact, all received until more than two months later; rnd this delay, with the great imperfections of the returns, and the necessary labor involved in their examination and classification, have rendered it impossible to establish and promulgate the division of the Commonwealth into Military-Company Districts at an earlier moment.

It is to be remembered that, while since the year 1840 the annual lists made by the assessors have hitherto been the only attempt at an enrollment of the militia made in the State, it is, under the present law, merely a basis for the formation of Company Districts, and the election of Captains of Companies, by whom the real and binding enrollment, in conformity with the laws of the United States, is to be made. The whole machinery by which the constitutional militia of the State could be called into service having been suffered, first, to fall into disuse, and then, having been destroyed, it could not be revived or re-established and made efficient without many preliminary steps, of which these returns by the assessors were the first; and as great accuracy was not expected in these returns, and the first division of the Commonwealth into Military Districts would, under any circumstances, and however perfect the returns on which it was based, undoubtedly require remodeling, from the numbers who will claim exemption for physical disabilities which could not be known to the assessors; from the number who will enlist in volunteer companies when they find themselves forced to do duty; from the numbers lately released from the United States service in 100-day regiments, and other causes, which must, with a correct enrollmant, greatly modify the numbers ultimately found liable to duty in the active militia in the different cities and towns; this sub-division of the State into Districts is not intended to be final and permanent. Such alteration in the bounds of the several companies, as circumstances may hereafter require, will be made by the Commander-in-Chief, from time to time, in accordance with Section 11 of 238th Chapter of the Acts of 1864.

In the cases of cities and towns to which more than one company is allotted, the limits of the several districts into which they are to be subdivided will be established by the Adjutant-General, upon consultation with the mayors and selectmen of these places, no data being furnished by the returns upon which such division can be made, at present. The authorities of such cities and towns are requested to give their prompt attention to this important matter.

By order of his Excellency, JOHN A. ANDREW, Governor and Commander-in-Chief.

WILLIAM SCHOULER, Adjutant General.

Renovation of Beds.

If people only knew how injurious to health is the practice of sleeping on foul feathers, they would lose no time in having them renovated and made perfectly fresh and sweet. It is a good thing to "air" the bed before it is made up, but this does not cure effectually the impurities of feathers which have for a long time been slept upon. Any good physician will tell you that it is deleterious to health to sleep on beds which have been made foul by the exhalations of the human body. Mr. SUMNER SOUTHWICK does this service in a thorough manner by a process perfectly effectual. He has the exclusive agency of the improvement for this and the neighboring towns. If you would have freedom from disease, and quiet and healthful sleep, call upon Mr. SOUTHWICK, on Park Street.

A FULL STOCK of Domestic Goods, Plain, White and Checked Cambrics.
nov 30 ANN E. BRAY, 76 Federal Street.

Original.

COLD AND DREARY WINTER.

"Use every man after his desert, and who shall 'scape whipping!
Use them after your own honor and dignity:
The less they deserve the more merit is in your bounty."
—Hamlet.

The sentiment of this text is self-evident to all who read and consider the course of human events with any degree of truthfulness or candor. Every human being is subject to error and crime, and the current of human life runs frequently, if not usually, through sin and shame and trial. There is scarcely any person who has lived twenty years, who has not to look back upon sins of omission and commission, the remembrance of which wrings the heart with anguish. "Use every man after his desert and who shall 'scape whipping." Some men sin in one way—some in another. That man who looks on his suffering fellow-creatures and shuts up his heart and refuses aid, when possessed of power to relieve, stands accountant before high Heaven and before posterity for a henious crime. The man who can save his fellow from death and does not, is a murderer by God's great law.

But the sufferer may not always have done right. Who of all God's creatures has always done right? Has this very objector always done right?—and had his own rule been applied to himself, might not he still have been walking amid the brambles and briars of adversity, calling in vain for aid and for rescue from just such a condition as that from which he now abstains from lifting his fellow-creature. "Use them after your own honor and dignity!"

The foregoing remarks are drawn forth in view of the many adversities and privations to which a community is exposed, especially during the inclement season which is now upon us. The cold chilling blasts of a Northern winter are heard,—the stripped and naked forest moans out the shaking agony "of dark December." The lashing fury of the relentless storm speaks exultingly of the vanity of all human power, and sends death-like chills "to looped and windowed raggedness." "Tremble thou wretch that hast within thee undivulged crimes unwhipped of justice!"

Ye men of wealth, go with us to some lonely, wretched cabin, and there behold the shivering forms of almost naked infancy—decriped old age—fainting and sinking female virtue—trembling in chills and in hunger during "the pelting of the pittiless storm!" Relieve them, kind friends, for God has given you of his great bounty so that you should also give of your bounty to relieve the suffering sons and daughters of humanity.

'Tis true these suffering creatures, or those on whom they depend, may not always have done right; but remember, that "to err is human, to forgive, divine." The less they deserve, the more merit is in your bounty. "Hearken to the cry of distress, and relieve it!"

This is a changing world, and, though clothed in riches and honors to-day, to-morrow may find destitution and want where now is luxuriance, plenty, health and comfort. You would not wish to plead in vain for yourself and little ones, and as you would not, so do not turn a deaf ear or a blind eye to the common suffering of our common humanity during the inclemency of this season. Little do men of affluence realize the scenes of suffering which surround them. Go and find out which of your fellow-creatures is destitute, and relieve him. Hunt out the wretched and share with them a morsel at least of the great bounty which God has bestowed on yourself. "He that giveth to the poor lendeth to the Lord." So practice on this great matter as to earn the approval of Heaven and the favor of all good men and holy angels.

Neglect not so solemn a duty, that you may not, in your agony—should your day of adversity ever come—be so deeply sunk in regret and mental horror as to have cause to cry out, in the language of Old Lear:

"Thou think'st 'tis much, that this contentious storm,
Invades us to the skin: so 'tis to thee;
But where the greater malady is fix'd,
The lesser is scarce felt. * * * When the mind's free,
The body's delicate: the tempest in my mind
Doth from my senses take all feeling else,
Save what beats there."

H. D. J.

☞ Loyal Kentuckians are asking the President to send Gen. Butler to that State.

Selected Poetry.

[From the Baltimore American.]

MARYLAND IS FREE.

BY S—.

Raise me a little higher, boys,
Cap., read it o'er for me:—
"We helped to wash away the stain,
And Maryland is free!"
Yes, that was it; say, was it not?
Pray, comrades, tell to me,
Just once again before I die,
That Maryland is free!

We helped to knock her shackles off,
We helped regenerate,
And wash away the awful sin
Of our dear native State.
Thank God, he let me live so long
This happy day to see;
I care not, boys, how soon I die,
For Maryland is free!

She is my only mother, boys—
My own is in the grave;
I'm glad she said before I died
She'd no more hold a slave:
The air around seems purer, boys—
The sky seems bright to me;
A heavy weight seems off my heart,
For Maryland is free!

I will not last much longer, boys:
So listen, if you can—
Please tell the folks at home how I Fought with Phil. Sheridan;
Just say I was no coward, boys,
That I loved liberty,
And that I died upon the day
That Maryland was free!

I hoped to see this fight fought out,
And treason get its due;
But if He had not taken me,
He might have taken you.
No, I am satisfied to die—
He has been kind to me;
And let me fall upon the day
That Maryland was free!

The air seems growing darker, boys,
My life is ebbing fast,
And every breath I draw now, boys,
Feels as if it were my last.
Dear Captain, read it o'er again;—
Our Father! pity me—
Forgive my sins—yes, that was it;
My Maryland—I'm free!

Selected.

THE FENIAN BROTHERHOOD.

An applicatiou is pending before the Mayor and Aldermen of Boston for the use of Faneuil Hall for a meeting of the "Fenian" Brotherhood. Tnis organization has been brought into notice quite conspicuously, within the last two or three years, and yet there are many to whom it is still a mystery. The fact that a National Convention of the order has been called to assemble in Cincinnati, on the 17th of next month, indicates that there is organization and power in the Brotherhood.

We understand the "Fenians" to be generally sympathizers with an attempt to restore Ireland to its position of independence in local government, as it existed before its union with England and Scotland in parliamentary representation. To realize this desire, the members, chiefly Irishmen, are bound by solemn obligations to use every effort, peaceful or otherwise, that may be necessary to secure the result. The order has an existence wherever Irishmen are to be found, in Canada, in Australia, and other colonies, as well as in the United States, England and Ireland. The membership is said at the present time to be 500,000, and the funds held by them to amount to $1,500,000. Each member is believed to own a musket, and regular military drill is enjoined.

The call for the Convention at Cincinnati, to be composed of a thousand delegates, announce that this will be the last general convention to be held in this country—that before the necessity exists for another convention the fires of liberty will be rekindled upon the altars of Ireland, and Irishmen, from all parts of the world, returning to right their centuries of wrong. In this statement, there is much significance, and more in the fact that each circle in the United States has been strongly urged to send with their delegates as much money as possible in order to increase the fund to $2,000,000.

We have been told that a member, whose conscience troubled him in view of the oaths and obligations he had taken, not long since made revelations as to the design and spirit of the organization to a well known Episcopal clergyman of this city, and a night or two after he was waylaid and beaten nearly to death. He is now endeavoring to find a place of refuge in Nova Scotia. His statements, it is said, have been communicated to the authorities both of the United States and Great Britain.

The large number of Irishmen who voted the Lincoln ticket at the recent national election in this city, has been remarked. It is supposed that these voters were generally Fenians, and that they regarded the maintenance of the administration as the most effectual blow that could be given to their arch-enemy, the governing aristocracy of England, who would gladly see democratic institutions overthrown everywhere.

What we here record is a matter of casual information, and not of opinion, for of the sentiments and workings of the order we have of course no authentic knowledge. Doubtless every member has the strongest reasons in his own mind why his efforts for the liberation of Ireland should be made through the "Brotherhood."—Boston Commonwealth.

☞ A silent wag—the wag of a dog's tail.

THE DIAMOND BRACELETS.

The evening of the fifteenth of February, 1831, was a gala night in Paris.—'Don Giovanni' was to be performed at the opera by an assemblage of talent rarely announced for one night, even at the opera-house of Paris or the great opera of 'Don Giovanni.' Yet it was not the names of the artistes that most attracted the attention as one read the bills—nobler and more celebrated names caught the eye. They were those of the reigning king and queen—Louis Phillipe and Marie Amelie. The affiches announced that they would honor the opera with their presence on that evening. They had been but a short time restored to their native land, and this was their first appearance at the opera since the 'three days' of July had placed them on the throne: for this reason as many Orleanists as could procure tickets had secured them for the opera of the fifteenth of February, to hear 'Don Giovanni,' and to see their king and queen. About six o'clock (for, be it remembered, the Paris opera did not begin at the present London hours) carriages were to be seen conveying their gaily dressed occupants to the classic building. An unusually handsome equipage stood at the door of a large house in the Rue des Champs Elysees, evidently also for the purpose of taking some fashionables to the opera.

This carriage and house belonged to the Baron de V——, who was just then standing at the bottom of the noble staircase inside the mansion, calling playfully to his wife, telling her that the carriage was waiting.

'I'm coming, I'm coming,' was the answer to his appeal; 'don't be in such a hurry!'

As the last piece of advice was proffered, the speaker appeared at the top of the stairs. She was a dark beauty of about one and twenty, and dressed purely in white. She came fluttering down stairs, chattering meantime to her handsome husband, who stood looking admiringly at her.

'Now I'm quite ready, so please don't scold. I've only got my bracelets to put on, and those I want you to clasp for me. Here's the case, if you'll take them out, and here's my wrist. Now, suppose I were to lose them in the crowd, what would our good mother say?'

A smile was the only answer the baron vouchsafed, as he took the bracelets out of their case, and clasped them on the fair white arms of his bride.

They were very costly; being each composed of three rows of valuable table diamonds, whilst in the centre of either glittered a spray of heartsease, artistically formed of smaller diamonds.

The bracelets were rendered more precious to their possessors by the fact of their having been in the De V—— family for three generations. They now by right belonged to the dowager baronne, but she insisted on giving them to her son for his bride, who, therefore, wore them on such occasions as the one we have been describing.

The Baron and Baronne de V—— stepped into their carriage, and in a few minutes were entering their box at the opera. The house was already full, although it yet wanted fifteen minutes to the time announced for the overture to begin. At length the members of the orchestra took their places, and the peculiar, subdued sound of tuning stringed instruments was heard. Still the royal box was empty, and all eyes were turned towards it in eager expectation. In another moment applause burst from the pit and gallery and the entire house, as Louis Phillipe and Queen Marie Amelie appeared, attended by a large suite of officers and ladies and gentlemen of the court. The king and queen bowed graciously in return for the homage paid to them, and then took their seats, at which the rest of the company did the same, and the overture commenced.

The queen looked unusually happy, and seemed to take a lively interest in all around her. She not only gazed at the stage, but the boxes also came in for a share of her penetrating observation.

Suddenly she bent slightly forward and looked in the direction of the box that contained the lovely young Baronne de V——. The latter was leaning forward, her right hand raised, a finger of which touched one of her dimpled cheeks, deeply interested in the fate of 'Don Giovanni,' and quite absorbed in the beautiful music. Her husband had noticed the queen's gesture, and was aware that she had observed his wife, and when the queen turned away, he laughingly told her of it.

'Nonsense!' cried the bride; 'don't fancy such absurdities.'

The truth of what her husband had said, however, soon forced itself upon her mind, for at that moment an officer, dressed in the same uniform as those attending the royal family, drew back the curtain behind their box, and stepping forward, said—

'Pardon, madame, but her majesty,s admiration and curiosity have been so roused by the sight of the beautiful bracelets you wear that she has commissioned me to come and request you to spare her one for a few moments for a closer inspection.'

The pretty baronne blushed, looked up to her husband for his approval, then unclasped one of the bracelets, and handed it to the officer, feeling not a little flattered at the attention and distinction the queen had bestowed upon her.

The last act of the opera began, and the last scene finally ended, yet the bracelet was not returned. Its owners thought the officer had doubtless forgotten it, and the baron said he would go and make inquiries concerning it. He did so, and in a few moments, returned, though without the bracelet.

'Adele,' he said to his wife, 'it is very strange, but not seeing the officer who took your bracelet, I asked one of the others, who was in the royal box the whole evening, and he says your bracelet was neither sent for nor fetched.'

The baronne looked aghast.

'Francois,' she said, 'that man must have been an imposter. He was no officer, but a thief.'

The baron smiled as his little wife jumped so speedily at such a conclusion, and persisted that the bracelet was safe, that it had really been sent for by the queen, and that the officer whom he had consulted had been misinformed.

But woman's penetration had guessed rightly, as the morrow proved.

As the bracelet was not forthcoming the next morning, M. de—— spoke to the Chief Inspector of Police on the subject, who quite coincided with madame's opinion as to the valuable ornament having been artfully stolen. The baron was greatly annoyed, and ordered the Inspector to advertise for it in every direction, offering a reward of three thousand francs to the person who would restore it. The Inspector promised to do all he could towards the recovery of the bracelet, as well for the sake of society at large as the satisfaction of his employyers.

Three months passed away, three hundred and fifty francs had been spent in advertising, and still the missing bracelet was not found.

It was growing dusk one evening in May, when a servant informed Madame de V—— that monsieur the Inspector wished to speak to her or monsieur the baron. As the latter was out, Madame de V—— went down stairs to speak to the Inspector, with whom she had had many previous interviews on the subject of the diamond bracelet. As she entered the room he bowed in the respectful manner peculiar to him.

'I believe I have some good news for Madame this evening,' he said. His voice was somewhat singular, resembling a boy's when changing. Madame de V—— had remarked this peculiarity before, so it did not strike her that evening. 'The detectives,' he continued, 'engaged in the business, have met with a bracelet in a Jew's second-hand shop in Lyons so exactly the same as madame's that it only remains for it to be identified before we can claim it as madame's property. My object in coming this evening is to ask madame to let me look at the other, that I may be able to swear to the one at Lyons by its fellow.'

The baronne, overjoyed at the idea of recovering her lost property, tripped out of the room, and soon returned with the remaining bracelet. The Inspector took it carefully in his hand and proceeded to examine it minutely. "The bracelets are exactly alike?" he inquired of Madame de V——.

"Exactly," repeated the baronne.

"I believe I have learned the pattern thoroughly," said the Inspector, musingly, "yet there may be some difficulty in not having both bracelets together to compare one with another."

"Why not take this to Lyons, then?" suggested the baronne.

"Ah, madame, it would scarcely do to trust even an Inspector of Police after being deceived by an officer in disguise."

"Oh!" laughed Madame de V——, "do you not think I would trust you monsieur Inspecteur, after all the interes and trouble you have taken in the matter? Take the bracelet, and I hope you will bring me both back ere many day have passed."

The Inspector still hesitated, but a length consented to do as the baronn had wished him, and went away, bearing the sparkling ornament with him.

On her husband's return, the baronne of course, told him of the joyful discovery A week, however, passed away withou the Inspector arriving with the stolen property. One morning, therefore, the baron called on the Inspector to make inquiries respecting it. The latter seemed very much surprised on being asked if the bracelet had been brought from Lyons.

"What does the monsieur mean? I never heard anything about the bracelet being found at Lyons—it is surely a mistake. Monsieur has misunderstood madame la baronne."

"You had better come yourself, and have this stranger mystery cleared up M. Inspecteur," answered the baron sternly. Madame is at home, and will be happy to assure you herself that it is no mistake that you called and informed her of the diamonds having been traced to Lyons."

The baron and Inspector repared to the Rue des Champs Elysees, where they found Madame de V—— at home, a her husband had said. She confirmed what he had already said about the Inspector having called one night at dusk and having informed her that the bracelet was supposed to be at a Jew's second hand shop at Lyons.

The Inspector smiled incredulously a he said—"Does madame really think that I called at dusk, after business hours, when all the world is out, or enjoying itself with company at home Bah! I do my business in business hours. The disguised officer most probably thought he could do another strok of business in an official uniform o another cut—the villain! Mais—I am afraid madame will never see either o her bracelets again after this!"

The Inspector's words came but too true From that day to this Madame la Baronne de V——'s diamond bracelets hav never been heard of.

ABSENCE OF MIND.—We have hear the story of Dr. P,'s absence of mind to illustrate which, it is related that whil located in Portsmouth, N. H. he returne home late one rainy night from an unusually protracted minister's meeting and so absorbed was he in the subject o the meeting, that he put his wet umbrell into the bed with his wife, and stoo himself behind the door. The next bes thing to this is told of our friend Deaco H. at the Pool. He worked like a beave in the September election, riding all da in the rain to hunt up voters and brin them to the polls, and after all were obtained he went home, stabled his horse and sat down before the fire, calculatin that a good day's work had been accomplished. By and by a messenger cam after the deacon in post hast to go bac and vote, for in his eagerness to secur others he had forgotten to vote himsel —Exchange.

THE JEWS of this country, often denounced as disloyal, have shown a fu share of patriotism since the war begun No less than forty thousand of them hav enlisted in the federal army. From Ohi 12,000 have gone to fight for the Unio flag; from New York 10,000; from Ill nois 5000; from Michigan and Wisconsin 3000; and from other States enoug to make the above named total. The have also given of their wealth for th soldier. They have established five asylums for disabled soldiers, their widow and orphans, the benefits of which ar limited to no faith or creed—one a New York, one at Philadelphia, one a Cincinnati, one at Chicago, and one a St. Louis. They have a good record.

☞ The reason women so seldom stammer is because they talk so fast—stammer has no chance to get in. People stammer because they hesitate. Bu whoever knew a woman to hesitate abou anything.

A THRIFTY FARMER.—A Vermon paper mentions the case of a farme who, last fall, drove up to his barn 37 sheep to winter. He sold 84 lambs an fat sheep for market, for $556; he sol his clip of wool for $754; and then had flock of 70 more than he had in the fal

The Wizard.

WEDNESDAY, DECEMB'R 28, 1864.

THE PRISONERS AT ANDERSONVILLE.

Our readers have had their feelings shocked by accounts of the treatment our brave soldiers have had to endure while prisoners in the hands of the rebels. These accounts show such a horrible record of barbarity that it seems too startling for belief, and we involuntarily say it is too horrid for recital, if true. These accounts are true in all their terrible particulars. By the arrival home of two of our own young soldiers, we can no longer disbelieve the dreadful accounts published in the newspapers.

Mr. JAMES KELLEY and Mr. PATRICK BRESLOW, two of the inmates of that horrible pen at Andersonville, are now at home, and we have the particulars from the latter, who is a young man of intelligence and veracity. He was in the Massachusetts 19th, and was captured near Petersburg last June. Before he reached Georgia he sold his cap for a loaf of bread, which circumstance only foreshadowed his wants at Andersonville. There he was put into the great open pen, surrounded by a high stockade, with a guard all around it, and loaded cannon pointed towards it, to keep the prisoners in awe and prevent escape. Here he remained, without cap or shoes, five months and four days, living upon a half pint of corn meal per day, with, occasionally, a bit of raw bacon. The prisoners had no covering from the sun and rain, except such shelter as they could themselves provide, he and his companions having an old skirt and part of a blanket, supported on four sticks. On rainy nights, sick, feeble, and half-starved, they had to stand out and bear the pelting of the storm and rain. To cook their meal they were allowed only, occasionally, a small stick of wood—except when a dead body was carried outside the stockade to be thrown into the trench with other dead bodies, when they brought back such sticks as they could find. Such was considered this privilege, that Mr. Breslow says they would almost fight over a dead body to be allowed to carry it out. The body was carried by four men on two sticks, and thrown into the trench. When the mortality was great, wagons were loaded with the dead and driven to the trench and the contents dumped into the hole, each body being previously stripped of the few rags of clothing it had on. If the prisoners could not obtain wood, their ration was to be eaten raw. A single tin dipper had to answer for several men, who waited for their turns to use it. They were robbed of everything of value, except the buttons on their blouses, if they had such a garment, and these buttons were exchanged with the guard for sweet potatoes, which were a luxury indeed. So weak and faint were they from starvation, that they had no heart for amusement of any kind to divert their thoughts, and they led a life of perfect misery, seeing their comrades dying about them, and constantly expecting, even desiring, the same fate. There was a line within the pen, called the dead-line, which they were not allowed to pass, under pain of death, the guard being instructed to shoot down any one who should pass over it. One of Mr. Breslow's friends reached over it to dip a little water, and was shot dead through the brain. Every one thus killed, assured to the guard who shot him, 30 days' furlough for his faithfulness to orders.

Exposed as they were to the elements and starvation, it required a strong constitution to keep off disease, and they suffered racking pains from inflammatory rheumatism—and diarrhœ and typhoid fever made fearful havoc among them, as they had no proper medicine or diet to save them. It was terrible to see the thin, emaciated forms of men crawling about, looking like skeletons, and tortured with the pangs of hunger and waiting anxiously for the time to pass for the next day's ration. Some of the details of their suffering—the filth, the stench in hot weather, and the exposure in cold storms, the sight of suffering and death—are too horrible for recital. The heart sickens and the eye turns away in disgust.

One reason for this barbarity doubtless is, the fear that if the prisoners were not thus disabled and tortured, they would use their strength to capture their guard and escape. This could easily be done if the prisoners were in common health. It takes fewer soldiers, and those mere boys, to hold them in captivity.

Mr. Breslow describes glowingly his feelings and those of his comrades when they first saw the good old flag, which they greeted with hearty cheers.

Since the above was written, we have seen Mr. GEORGE B. SYMONDS, another paroled veteran soldier, who was also taken prisoner at the same time. He has been attached to the 19th Regiment for more than four years, having re-enlisted a year ago. His story is the same in substance as all the rest of them, which is bad enough. While at Florence, S. C., he could distinctly hear the explosion of the bombs fired into Charleston, that doomed city, which was the only real soul-stirring music he heard while a prisoner.

MORE REBEL CRUELTY. — Paroled Union prisoners state that Mr. CHAS. P. PEIRCE, son of Mr. David Peirce, of this town, a member of the Mass. 18th Regiment, and taken prisoner in one of the battles of the Wilderness, is now in one of the Rebel prison-pens waiting to be exchanged. When taken prisoner, he was lodged in the Libby, and was immediately stripped of all his clothing, even to his shirt,—in fact, all he had to cover his nakedness was a piece of cloth bound round his loins! Mr. Peirce was one of the three, who when drafted a year ago last summer, did not avail themselves of the 300 dollar commutation, although in Mr. P's case a friend stood ready to let him have the money in case he needed it; but young Peirce declined this kind offer, saying that he was undoubtedly fairly drafted, that the government wanted all the men it could get, and that he should go and do his duty. We think this is a case of pure, unadulterated patriotism. He had no big bounty to tempt him, but if any one is deserving of it, it is him.

A Splendid Christmas Present.

Gen. Sherman presented Father Abraham on Christmas morning the city of Savannah, containing 20,000 quiet and well disposed inhabitants, 33,000 bales of cotton, worth nearly $20,000,000, 800 rebel prisoners, 150 heavy guns, 13 locomotives and 190 cars, in good order, 3 steamers, and a large supply of ammunition and material of war. Gen. Hardee, with his force of 13,000 butternuts, fearing he should be gobbled up entire, left on the afternoon and night of the 20th, by crossing the river to the Union Causeway opposite the city, and is now probably in Charleston.

RESIGNATION OF OFFICE.—We see by the published list of Representatives elect to the Legislature of Massachusetts that Henry W. Moulton, of Newburyport is among them. As Mr. Moulton is the Commissioner under the Board of Enrolment of the Conscription Law, and these two offices are incompatible with each other, he has resigned his position as Commissioner. For this vacancy several candidates are already in the field, the most prominent of whom are James D. Black, of Danvers, and Amos Merrill, of South Danvers. The northern part of the county presents its candidates, but we have not heard their names.

PROPHETIC.—The retreat of the rebel Gen. Hood, with his demoralized army, calls to mind the speech of Gen. DODGE at his reception at the Peabody Institute, and his words seem almost prophetic. Gen. Dodge, on that occasion, said—"You must remember that Hood has that great and brilliant soldier, Gen. Sherman, to deal with, and an army that will cheerfully carry out his plans. Hood, with his army, which has so often been foiled when in our front, cannot certainly throw Sherman off his balance when he tries his own tactics, and I look soon to see Hood very soon retreating, defeated and demoralized."

IMPORTANT TOWN MEETING. — A warrant has been issued by the Selectmen of South Danvers for a meeting of the voters next Monday evening, at 7 o'clock, to act on the following article; "To see if the town will raise, by tax or otherwise, and appropriate the sum of one hundred and twenty-five dollars per man to such number of volunteers as shall be considered necessary to fill the town's quota under the last call of the President, or take any action thereon."

☞ From a Sergeant in the 17th Regiment, who is now at home in Danvers on a thirty days furlough, and who has recently been paroled, we learn that Henry Taylor, Co. C, and John Smeadberg, Co. D, are in the rebel prison at Andersonville, Ga. All the rest of the men who were captured with Lieut. Col. Fellows in February last, have died while prisoners.

TEMPERANCE UNION.—The regular quarterly meeting of the Essex South District Temperance Union, will be held in Danvers, on Thursday, the 5th day of January next, at Granite Hall. An address will be delivered by Rev. J. L. Sewall, of Wenham. The cause requires a full attendance of the friends of Temperance in the district.

FIRE IN DANVERS.—We learn by Gould's Express that at about 4 o'clock, yesterday morning, a barn belonging to Peter Waitt on Ash St., was burnt, but through the exertions of the neighbors and the fire department, who were on hand promptly, his house was saved.—Loss about $300. Insurance $100.

SOLDIER'S DEATH.—Mr. Oliver Parker, who enlisted from this town a year ago, in Co. B, 17th Mass. Regiment, was one of the many victims of yellow fever at Newbern, N. C. He died Oct. 3d.

THE PEABODY DONATION.

We have received from a friend in London a copy of the London News, which contains an interesting account of the doings of the Trustees of the Peabody Trust Fund for the poor of London. One stately edifice is already completed, a photograph picture of which may be seen at the Peabody Institute. It is occupied by 57 tenants at rents differing according to the value of the situation and accommodation of the several tenements. Many more applications are made than can be accepted, and the rents are promptly paid every week. There is an open court as a play ground for the children, and it has a common laundry and a wash-room. The whole stairway is lighted with gas, and many other conveniences not common to dwellings of the poor.

There are four similar buildings now going up, and it is expected that there will be ten in all. The rooms average 10 by 13 feet, and the uniform height is 8 feet.

We give below an extract from the article in the News:

"THE PEABODY TRUST.—About a third of the $750,000 munificently given by Mr. George Peabody to the poor of London has already been invested in buildings and land. The trustees of this fund are Mr. Adams, the American Minister, Lord Stanley, Sir Emerson Tennent, Mr. C. M. Lampson, and Mr. J. S. Morgan, and in addition to eligible sites purchased at Shadwell and Bermondsey, they now possess a plot of ground near the upper steamboat pier at Chelsea—which will probably be re-sold as not sufficiently spacious for their purposes—four blocks of buildings, rapidly approaching completion, in Green Man's-lane, Islington, and a stately edifice, containing fifty-seven tenements, all occupied, and nine shops in Commercial-street, Spitalfields. The last-named building is thus subdivided:

Seven tenements, of three rooms, at 5s. 0d. a week.
Forty-two " of two rooms, at 4s. 0d. a week.
Six " of two rooms, at 3s. 6d. a week.
Two " of one room, at 2s. 6d. a week.

"From first to last this Peabody building is replete with comfort, and the only objection possible, even to the most hypercritical, would be that many of the present tenants cannot be classed with the very poor, and that the urgent needs of these last claim the attention of the trustees. But as the obtaining a certain rate of interest—say three or four per cent,—for the sums invested is one of the principles on which the money is laid out, this may have had its influence on the rents fixed. At Islington each of the four blocks, forming a complete square, will contain forty-eight tenements, and, though their rental is not yet settled, it is not improbable that thirty-five of these will contain two rooms at 4s. a week, and that the remaining twelve will be single rooms at half-a-crown a week. The original sum of $750,000 will, it has been estimated, build ten large houses, the income from which will amount to $30,000 per annum; and it is not the least interesting fact connected with Mr. Peabody's noble gift, that from this source alone the trustees will probably be able to build a new house every two years, and by investing its rental in a like way, make the charity a constantly increasing one.

ELOCUTIONARY READINGS.

It is so long a time since we have had public Readings and Recitations, that we think there will be a good crowd at Peabody Institute next Monday evening, to hear Miss ELLERY. She comes with testimonials of the best kind, and devotes the net proceeds of the entertainment for the benefit of the distressed Union refugees. This will commend her efforts to the public favor. It will be a real luxury to be able to hear such Readings at the Institute without the penalty of being almost pressed to death in trying to gain admission. The Gloucester Advertiser speaks of her readings in that place as follows:

"The readings given by Miss Ellery at the Town Hall, on Tuesday evening, for the benefit of the Sabbath School of the Independent Christian Church, were a complete success, and we have seldom attended a more enjoyable entertainment. The programme embraced many fine selections, which were read in a manner that would have done credit to a professional reader. The 'Lost Heir,' by Tom Hood, was rendered in a capital manner and brought down the house. 'Sheridan's Ride' was the gem of the evening, and received an encore, the audience demanding a repetition. The dialogue between Cassius and Brutus, and an extract from a speech of Judge Russell, were read in a most effective manner,—indeed the whole programme was a success, and Miss Ellery has a good reason to feel highly flattered at her successful debut as a reader.

"The whole affair passed off very pleasantly, and we hope Miss Ellery will be induced to favor us with another reading during the season. About ninety dollars were realized from the entertainment."

The Gloucester Telegraph speaks of the same performance in the following terms:

"The readings by Miss Ellery gave eminent satisfaction. Sheridan's Ride, by T. Buchanan Read, and Tom Hood's 'Lost Heir' were both exceedingly well rendered, showing that the reader was not confined to any one style of composition. The other pieces were well rendered."

It will be seen by her advertisement that she is to have the assistance of that fine pianist and music teacher, JEANETTE B. ANDREWS, who has been blind since the sixth year of her age.

ANOTHER CALL FOR MEN. — The President has issued a proclamation ordering another draft of 300,000 men.—This is two hundred thousand less than the number expected.

LIGHT GYMNASTICS. — The class in Light Gymnastics will meet at the hall over the Mutual Union Store, Main St., this (Wednesday) evening, at 7 o'clock.

[For the Wizard.]

SHODDY'S SOLILOQUY.

BY SHAKESPURSE.

To swear or not to swear? That is the question:
Whether 'tis better in the taxed to suffer
The screwing queries of these curs'd Assessors,
Or to take solemn oath that we are poor,
And by a "round one" cheat them. To swear—to lie.
No more? And by a lie to say we shirk
The duns, the beggars, and the mute appeals
The rich are heirs to? 'Tis a speculation
Most boldly to be risked. To swear—to lie:
To lie! perhaps be jailed! Aye, there's the rub,
For in that dreary cell what we might feel
When we've been huddled off to Prison Point, Must give us pause. That one grim thought's enough,
And crams these Income Tax bills full of care.
For who would bear to change this jolly life,
For Uncle Samuel's dull routine in jail,—
The keys loud click, the jailer's sulky air,
The pint of soup, the parti-colored garb,—
And think of work,—O! horror worse than all—
When he can mingle still in the Upper Ten
By rightly swearing? Yet who would pay
For thousands cleared by Shoddy, Son & Co.,
But that the dread of jail and future loss
Of Greenbacks, crisp and new, those verdant shades
Of Abe and Chase, doth shock us quite,
And make us rather take the oath and pay,
Than run the risk of losing caste and cash.

These Greenbacks make us patriots after all;
They brace us in our noble resolutions,
And draw us strongly out on virtue's side:
Our country thus grows worth the sums we pay—
With this regard,—we do conclude to swear—
And swear with satisfaction.

[Exit—To the Assessors' office and swears, about right.]

PERSONAL INCOME TAX.

By request of a number of citizens we publish the entire list of personal income taxes for this town. These sums are what is left after deducting the amount the law allows for a person to live upon, also amount paid for house rent, insurance, taxes, interest on property incumbrances, and repairs on property:

INCOME TAXES OF $2000 AND UPWARDS.

Blaney, Stephen,	$20,066
Brown, Rufus H.,	9,150
Farley, Charles B.,	5,853
Osborn, Caleb W.,	5,356
Proctor, Thomas E.,	12,829
Proctor, Abel,	14,850
Poor, Eben S.,	8,550
Pinder, John,	8,700
Poor, Henry,	12,914
Sutton, Eben,	24,000
Saltonstall, Henry,	7,281
Saltonstall, Henry, trustee,	8,411
Saltonstall, Henry, guardian,	12,782
Clement, John B.,	2,707
Elliott, Lewis W.,	2,252
Jacobs, Warren M.,	3,642
Jacobs, Edw. W.,	2,400
King, Jonathan,	2,987
Lowe, Charles P.,	2,109
Merrill, Alexander B.,	4,119
Nelson, Reuben G.,	4,114
Nutter, Cyrus S.,	2,851
Osborn, Franklin,	4,265
Osgood, Joseph, guardian,	2,758
Osborn, George P.,	2,000
Osborn, Miles,	2,000
Osborn, Miles, Jr.,	2,000
Phillips, Alonzo P.,	2,000
Smith, Richard,	4,500
Sweetser, Thomas A., trustee,	4,728
Sanger, George F.,	3,400
Upton, Elijah W.,	4,250
Upton, Mary,	2,703

INCOME TAXES BELOW $2000.

Abbott, Alfred A.,	$835
Allen, Lewis,	1773
Brown, Wm. H.,	600
Bartlett, J. E. T.,	100
Baker, Francis,	827
Berry, John M.,	100
Barbour, Rev. Wm. M.,	710
Bancroft, Geo. W.,	150
Brooks, Charles,	900
Brown, Charles E.,	400
Cook, Merritt,	800
Cook, Henry,	1530
Clark, W. P.,	750
Coolidge, Oliver B., Jr.,	348
Cobb, Seward P.,	914
Dole, William T.,	400
Dustin, Jonathan, estate of,	510
Davis, John L.,	150
Dame, Henry,	247
Elliot, Isaac B.,	1070
Floyd, Isaac,	277
Fernald, Stephen,	782
Farwell, Chandler C.,	150
Forness, Edward,	800
Galloupe, David R.,	525
Hardy, Isaac,	500
Hutchinson, Benj.,	146
Howard, Charles D.,	167
Kimball, Obadiah,	1200
King, James P.,	386
King, Phebe,	989
King, Perley,	1680
King, Eben,	1960
King, D. Webster,	1062
King, Samuel P. C.,	304
King, Henry A.,	449
King, Eben U.,	926
Lord, John A.,	1000
Lord, William N.,	997
Lowe, Francis A.,	504
Munroe, Isaac,	1000
M'Kenzie, Alfred,	800
Mahoney, William,	237
Messer, Albert A.,	900
Osborne, Dr. George,	1897
Osgood, Joseph,	805
Osborne, George A.,	975
Osborne, George F.,	1510
Osborne, Kendall,	98
Osborne, Jacob,	1545
Osborne, James W.,	150
Osborne, Sylvester,	568
Osborne, Caleb,	328
Osborne, Amos,	431
Poor, Joseph,	1000
Poor, Henry C.,	500
Poole, Joshua H.,	200
Peirce, George C.,	400
Potter, John H.,	270
Potter, George W.,	500
Peirson, Abel H.,	800
Perkins, James,	200
Peabody, Stephen,	165
Phillips, O	400
Poor, Nathan H.,	419
Reed, Jonas,	1525
Richardson, Wyman B.,	221
Symonds, Robert S. D.,	500
Sanger, Augustus H.,	500
Sutton, William, Jr.,	1000
Sutton, William,	400
Stanley, Miles O.,	600
Southwick, James M.,	1800
Stimpson, Thomas,	470
Sanger, Abner,	870
Torr, Andrew,	300
Upton, George,	1400
Upton, James W.,	70
Woodbury, Daniel,	409
Wheeler, Benj. S.,	1738
Wheeler, Benj.,	1539

GEN. DODGE.—We publish elsewhere an article from the St Louis Democrat, being a resume of the military life of Gen. DODGE. The rumor that we gave yesterday of the General being appointed to the command of the Dep't of the Missouri, turns out to be correct.

This Missouri Department has generally proved a sepulcher for its commanding officers, but our knowledge of the nerve and backbone of Gen. DODGE, leads us to believe that he will be able to bear the pressure incident to his position. We can assure our Missouri neighbors of one fact, in advance, that is, their new commander will command the Department himself. No Radical Party, no Conservative Party, no clique, no faction, will shape the military policy of the Department under DODGE. He will consider right, and nothing else.

Politically, Gen. DODGE is a Republican of the "Radical" school, without a drop of "Conservative" blood in his veins. Believes in putting down the rebellion by putting down rebels. Considers a rebel's nigger no more sacred than his horse, and believes in doing anything and everything that will weaken the rebellion and give strength to the Government; he recognizes but two parties in this struggle—the Government's friends and its enemies; among the latter he reckons all who sympathize by word or deed with the rebellion, and all such may hope for very few favors at his hands.

We regret to see Gen. DODGE removed from the field of active duty, where his stearling qualities as a soldier are so much required, but in sending him to his new command the Government has given to Missouri the man she has always needed, and who will restore order in the Department, if it should cost the neck of every rebel and sympathizer in the State.—Nonpareil, Council Bluffs, Iowa.

THE ESTATE OF THE LATE EBEN SUTTON.—The estate of the late Eben Sutton of South Danvers proves te be larger than was at first supposed, amounting to about four millions. The personal property is two and a half millions; and the real estate, much of it in Andover and Lawrence, is estimated at one and a half millions. Leaving no children, and having made no will, this large estate descends to the widow, and to his brother, Gen. William Sutton. E. Tucker Osborne, Warren M. Jacobs, Wm. Sutton and Alfred A. Abbott have been selected as administrators.—Boston Journal.

If the above statement is no more correct in all its parts than in its appointment of administrators, it is not much more than half right. The administrators are Messrs. A. A. ABBOTT of this town, EBEN SUTTON of New York, and EBEN T. OSBORNE of Boston.

SHERMAN'S GRAND MARCH.—The New York Herald has voluminous dispatches from its correspondents, covering the entire details of Sherman's march through Georgia, which was most triumphant, and the successful investment of Savannah. The fruits of the campsign may be summed up in the following estimate, which is very nearly correct:—

The army passed over forty-two of the finest grain-growing counties in the State, captured and occupied over two hundred county-seats and villages, brought out about fifteen thousand negroes, ten or fifteen thousand head of horses and mules, some of them fine-blooded stock; burned two hundred and forty miles of railroad, all the bridges, every cotton-gin, all public buildings of service to the enemy; burned or bonded $40,000,000 worth of cotton; captured over a million of rebel currency buried in the earth, and considerable gold and silver in small sums, about thirty pieces of artillery, several railroad trains and stores, a large amount of ammunition, sufficient cattle to furnish fresh meat, and about four thousand prisoners, some of whom were paroled.

THE NATIONAL BANKRUPT BILL passed the House of Representatives on Monday, in concurrence, and only wants the signature of the President to become a law. It was proposed by Mr Jenks, representative from Rhode Island; and the Providence Journal says:—

"It will be a great relief to a large class of merchants, who in all our cities are now precluded from engaging in active business, because of the unadjusted claims which here and there a persistent creditor may urge against them. This class is said to be far more numerous than has been supposed, and to embrace an immense amount of talent and enterprise now lying wholly inactive for want of a bankrupt law."

BEAUREGARD is the strangest of all the rebel generals. There is so much of romance and fiction about him that in olden times he might have been deemed supernatural. Killed half a dozen times and actually buried, as many witnesses were willing to swear, he not only lives, but he seems to have a ubiquitous life. Last week he was in Macon, Ga., as the papers there published say: and at the same time the Memphis papers had him leading a force on Fort Pillow.

SOUTH CAROLINA complains of the burden of the war. Her white male population when she seceded was only about 89,000 over twenty years old, and 14,000 of those were above fifty. They had therefore but 75,000 men of military age, and not more than 50,000 of these could have been suitable for war; still in four years she has furnished 65,000 soldiers, some of them of course counting on more than one enlistment; and one more draft will use her up for whites, when she must resort to negroes. She still says no peace without independence.

☞ How to kill time—sleigh it.

NEW COLLECTOR. — 'Perley' telegraphs to the Journal that the President has sent to the Senate the nomination of Robert S. Rantoul, Esq., of Salem, son of the late Hon. Robert Rantoul, Jr., as Collector of the Port of Salem, in place of Willard P. Phillips, Esq., resigned.

The city government of Salem have made an appropriation of $25,000, for the purpose of procuring volunteers.

THE TOMB OF WASHINGTON IN THE HANDS OF GUERILLAS.—In one respect three years of war have made no difference in this vicinity, so far as guerillas are concerned. In 1861, it was deemed unsafe to go from Alexandria to Mount Vernon, and there is the same danger now. The guerillas are very bold around here, frequently coming to within five miles of the city limits; and if a courier is met by them on any of the high roads, he is unceremoniously robbed, though seldom receiving bodily harm unless resistance be made. The farmers in the vicinity have lost heavily in their stock, these rebel robbers having a great predilection for seizing all the horses they can lay their hands upon. From the suburbs of Alexandria you can see a range of hills, on which can be discerned the tower of Fairfax Seminary; and beyond that tower it is very unsafe to travel, for the region in the vicinity is infested with guerillas, some of whom, as you look towards those very hills, may be gazing therefrom with a covetous eye upon the city, and only kept from entering it by the Union troops stationed there. And as to Mount Vernon, it is now very rarely visited. There are no longer tourists from all parts of the country, gathering to do homage at the shrine of Washington. The negro hack-drivers in the streets of Alexandria prudently decline to drive anybody out there, no matter how large is the proffered pay. It is fortunate that the Prince of Wales visited Washington's tomb before the war, for it would have been rather humiliating to have been obliged to send with him a large military escort to Mount Vernon, to save him from the rebels prowling around in sight of the national capital.

A FAMISHED TURTLE.—A few days since, complaint was made to the Selectmen of Belchertown, that a sluiceway about half a mile east of the Center was stopped up, and that after a rain the water overflowed the road. Accordingly a surveyor was sent to clean out the channel and repair the bridge. A large flat stone was removed and the workmen put their bar under what they supposed to be another stone, but it clung to the earth. Another man standing by took hold of the bar, and by the utmost exertions of both it gave way, when to their surprise they found it was a mud-turtle, measuring three feet in length, fourteen inches in width and weighing thirty-one pounds. He was taken to the poor-house and as he gave evidence of long abstinence, a pail of swill was given him, which was eagerly devoured. He has since been fed regularly and abundantly and gains rapidly in flesh. His shell had grown in around hollow and rough places of the stone, and it is conjectured that his turtleship must have been there under that stone from five to ten years, all the time without food. Perhaps some of the naturalists in this vicinity can solve the question—how long can a turtle live without food?—Springfield Union SCHOOL COMMITTEES.—We observe in the daily papers a very reasonable complaint of the difficulty of getting good men to serve on school committees, and give the attention necessary to this important part of city business. Yet the reason is obvious. A man really fit for a school committee is fit for a great deal beside; and in these busy days he is crowded with work. It seems evident that the true remedy is to place women on school committees. Many able, highly-educated women can command time. They give it to charitable purposes and conduct enterprises such as the Sanitary Commission, Freedmen's Aid Societies, and Discharged Soldiers' Homes, with good method, and success. Why should they be excluded from all control of their children's schools? City fathers! call to your aid the city mothers and our word for it, your work will be both lighter and better done.—Commonwealth.

☞ A petition is being numerousy signed by soldiers in our hospitals partially deprived of limbs by wounds in battle, asking that the General Government should allow them the amount—$75 we believe it is— in money, which is set aside for furnishing artificial limbs for the soldiers. At present the government contracts for these artificial limbs with the makers, and the soldiers must apply to the contractor. Some of them complain that the limbs are not as serviceable as they could procure for themselves, and in such places as are convenient to their own homes, where they can have the advantage of attention until the artificial limb is adapted to their wants.

BOSTON—Amusements.—At the Howard, a new piece, called the Dream of Destiny, that has had a great run in London, was performed for the first time on Monday last. It is cast to the whole strength of the company. Go and see it.

On the ruins of the Old National Theatre, S. O. Wheeler has built an amphitheatre, capable of seating 3000 persons, and opened this week for the season with his unrivalled Circus Troupe. He has all the stars of the profession with him.

At the Melodeon, we have announced, for this week only, Artemas Ward, who will give his humorous description of a trip to Salt Lake, illustrated by paintings from the best artists. He has lectured in New York for 87 consecutive nights to crowded houses. Matinee Wednesday and Saturday afternoons.

Elocutionary Readings.

An entertainment will be given in aid of the Union Refugees, in PEABODY INSTITUTE, on MONDAY EVENING, January 2d, 1865, consisting of Readings, by Miss Josephine A. Ellery, and on the Piano by Miss Jeanette B. Andrews, the blind pianoist.

Admittance, 25 cents. Packages of five tickets for one dollar. Tickets can be obtained at Mr. B. F. Stevens, D. P. Grosvenor, and at the door. Doors open at 6½. Exercises to commence at 7½.

☞ Purchasers of Holiday Presents should call at the store of C. A. BECKFORD, No 9 Central street, Salem. 2 w

Episcopal Serv
The Services at the Town
next Sunday Evening, (Janu will be appropriate to the Chr
Sermon by the Rector of Grace
All interested are affectionate tend. Divine service will com at 7 o'clock.
If the weather should be service will be postponed to evening.

Tonsorial No
On and after Jan. 1, 1865, customers will be taken at my
JOHN J. HE
South Danvers, Dec. 28, 18

E. H. STA
DEALER IN
STEAM AND GA
AND GAS FIXTU
RUBBER HOSE AND FOR STEAM AND
No. 147 ESSEX STREET
SALEM, M
Pipes put up in the most workm warranted.
All orders sent by E. DITTLE
South Danvers U. S. Mail Express attended to.
E. H. S
dec 28—3m 147 Essex Str

GIFTS
FOR THE HO
USEFUL AND EL PRESENTS FOR T
—CAN BE FOUN
AT PEABO
220 Essex St
Leather Shopping Bags; W
Wide Belt Buckles;
Jet and Steel Pins; Brooch
Hand-made Worsted Good
Linen Hem Stitched
Wrought and Plain Hdkfs;
Collars; Laces; Sleeves,
Comprising a very large a Useful Pres
☞ AT OUR USUAL
J. P. PEABODY, 220

JOHN MAGUIRE requests a Ale Casks from his establi them immediately to his st
Square, Salem. Expressmen
please circulate this notice.

Warren Nation
The annual meeting of the Warren National Bank for rectors for the year ensuing action of any other busines come before them, will be h Rooms on TUESDAY, Jan o'clock, A. M. Per or FRANCIS
South Danvers, Dec. 7.

Railroad Arra
SOUTH READING
Trains leave South Da
8.30 A. M., 12.45, 2.45 and
Leave Salem for South D
A. M., 2.05 and 5 P. M.
ESSEX RAIL
Trains leave South Da
7.08, 7.50, 8.48, A. M., 1.2
Leave Salem for South
11.15, A. M., 4.45, 5.45, P.
J. PR
So. Danvers, Dec. 7, 186

Dr. S. O. Rich
BLOOD ROOT
An effectual cure for COSTI remedy for DISEASES OF THE TIES OF THE BLOOD.
☞ Sold by Dealers in m
the Doctor's Office,
52 Hanove
Call for a pamphlet containing nov 30

☞ Goods received for DYE HOUSE.
Jan 20 tf

Christma
MR. B. F. STEVENS
ticles, suitable for Christm presents, which he will sell

Marria

In this town, Dec. 25, by Re
Trescott to Miss Jane Merrow
In Salem, Dec. 21st, by Rev M
B. Lakeman, late of Co C, 2
Miss Annie S., daughter of S
of Salem.

Death

In this town, Dec. [illegible], Alle of the late Joseph S[illegible], aged 4 correct in our last.]
"I'm coming, I'm coming"
To the bright angel ones who While her beautiful eyes were
And she knew that the crossin
Oh tell me, dear one, of all the
And who is the angel that in 18th, Charles Herbert, only c
Humphrey, age 3 years 4 month
Our little Bertie's left
Gone now from all hi
Safe in his Saviour's
There always to remai
'Tis very hard for us
With one we hold so
But still we would no
To suffer with us her
With little baby hand
Our precious, darling
Will be the first to w
In those bright realm
He'll never say
"Papa, Mamma,
Knowing all th
Our loss is his He'll never los
Again, our ea
May we prove
Our final h
In Danvers, Dec. [illegible]
blehead, 55 years
Mass. Regiment.
14th, Wallace H., only
Perley, 9 years
In Salem, Dec. 20th years—daughter of the late 21st, William H.
11 yrs; 23d, Mrs. Austine
Barstow Esq. 85 yrs
ter of John and Isabella Winfred Irving
6 days.
In Lynnfield
92 years 6 months
In Somerville
Braglen of
In
W. Wiley of Lynnfield

nable Dress-Making.

I. Bennett would respectfully indies of South Danvers and vicinity
s taken rooms in Mr. Henry M. use, on Lowell Street, and will king in the latest styles. No pay ess satisfaction is given.
nvers, Nov. 30, 1864.* tf

m hospital—the bloody battle-field—of the rich and humble abode of the office and the sacred desk—from the distant valleys and far-off islands of m every nook and corner of the civi-pouring in the evidence of the aston-of DRAKE'S PLANTATION BITands upon thousands of letters like the he seen at our office.

REEDSBURY, WIS., Sept. 16, 1863.
I have been in the army hospitals for s—speechless and nearly dead. At gave me a bottle of Plantation Bit
Three bottles restored my speech and
* * *
C. A. FLAUTE."

SOUTH WARSAW, O. July 22, 1863.
ne young man, who had been sick and house for two years with Scrofula and r paying the doctors over $150 with-s been cured by ten bottles of your
EDWARD WOUNALL.

g is from the Manager of the Union
r the Children of Volunteers:
ER MANSION, FIFTY-SEVENTH ST., }
New York, August 2, 1863. }
" Your wonderful Plantation Bitters n to some of our little children suffer-ness and weak lungs with most happy le girl in particular, with pains in her petite, and daily wasting consumption, edical skill had been exhausted, has restored. We commenced with but a Bitters a day. Her appetite and y increased, and she is now well * *
Respectfully, MRS. O. M. DEVOE."

owe much to you, for I verily believe Bitters have saved my life.
V. H. WAGGONER, Madrid, N. Y." ou will send me two bottles more of Bitters. My wife has been greatly eir use.

, ASA CURRIN, Philadelphia, Pa."

have been a great sufferer from Dysto abandon preaching. * * * The ers have cured me.
J. S. CATHORN, Rochester, N. Y."

nd us twenty-four dozen more of your ers, the popularity of which are daily
the guests of our house.
SYKES, CHADWICK & CO.,
Willard's Hotel, Washington, D. C.

ave given the Plantation Bitters to r disabled soldiers with the most as-
G. W. D. ANDREWS,
Sent Soldiers' Home, Cincinnati, O.

e Plantation Bitters have cured me of
of which I was laid up prostrate and my Business.
H. B. KINGSLEY, Cleveland, O."

e Plantation Bitters have cured me of
of the kidneys and urinary organs ed me for years. It acts like a charm.
C. MOORE, 254 Broadway, N. Y."
&c. &c. &c. &c.

on Bitters make the weak strong, the t, and are exhausted nature's great are composed of the celebrated Cal
Wintergreen, Sassafras, Roots, Herbs,
ed in perfectly pure St. Croix Rum.

S.—T.—1860—X.

edentary habits troubled with weak palpitation of the heart, lack of appe-ter eating, torpid liver, constipation, uffer if they will not try them.
commended by the highest medical au-re warranted to produce an immediate
t. They are exceedingly agreeable, and harmless.
y person pretending to sell Plantation
t or by the gallon is a swindler and im.
out up only in our patent log cabin e of bottles refilled with imitation deor which several persons are already that every bottle has our private Stamp over the cork unmutilated, and el plate side label.
ectable dealers throughout the habita-

P. H. DRAKE & CO.
202 Broadway, N. Y.

AT ENGLISH REMEDY
JAMES CLARKE'S
TED FEMALE PILLS!

n a prescription of Sir J. Clarke, M.
ian Extraordinary to the Queen.
own medicine is no imposition, but a fe remedy for Female Difficulties and om any cause whatever; and, although edy, they contain nothing hurtful to

Nervous and Spinal Affections, pain
d Limbs, Fatigue on slight exertion e Heart, Hysterics, and Whites, these a cure, when all other means have though a powerful remedy, do not lomel, antimony, or anything hurtful on.
ns in the pamphlet around each should be carefully preserved.
iculars, obtain, free, of the agent, a by all Druggists.
ates Agent,
OSES, 27 Cortlandt St., New York.
1 6 postage stamps enclosed to any , will insure a bottle, containing over n mail. March 9, 1864.—1 yr.

ertisements.

S! PRESENTS!
PRESENTS!
—FOR—
as and New Year's,
—AT THE—
AP STORE,
Street, Salem, Mass.

ess Goods of All Kinds.
orsted Goods of All Kinds.
ncy Goods of All Kinds,
—Consisting of—
ines, Plaids, Sontags, Hoods, Clouds lts and Buckles, Combs, Bracelets, ad Dresses, Braids, Black Lace Buttons, Hosiery, Gloves, many other Fancy Articles too numerous to mention.
at the very lowest Cash Price, at YS CHEAP STORE,
ssex St., Salem,
Opposite Museum Building.

KED DOWN
OSE OUT OUR STOCK OF
-Made Bonnets,
BEFORE TAKING
UNT OF STOCK.
Reith & Co.,
T BLOCK, 183 ESSEX STREET.

close our Store at 6 o'clock, P. M., ee—Saturday evenings excepted.
1864.

Browning & Long.

GIFTS

—FOR THE—

HOLIDAYS!

NEW YEAR.
HAPPY
1865.

BROWNING & LONG'S

RICH, RARE AND RECHERCHE ASSORTMENT
—OF—
HOLIDAY
PRESENTS!

For Gentlemen:

CIGAR CASES;
SMOKERS' SETS;
ASH STANDS;
EMB'D SLIPPERS; SCARF PINS;
PORTEMONNAIES;
WATCH STANDS;
NICE HDKFS;
SCARFS;
POCKET MATCH SAFES;
SLEEVE BUTTONS;

For Ladies:

PARIS TIES;
SCOTCH PEBBLE PINS;
HAIR FOILS;
COQUE COMBS;
PARTY FANS;
MASQUE VEILS,
NEW STYLE;
MUSLIN SETS;
BUTTERFLY HDKFS;
LACE TRIMMED HDKFS;
REAL POINT COLLARS;
ELEGANT
KNIT SHAWLS;
SHERIDAN JACKETS;
KID GLOVES;
SLIPPERS;
CHAIR SEATS;
CARVED BRACKETS;
ELEGANT SCARFS;
FRENCH BUCKLES;
PARIS HEAD DRESSES;
SHOPPING BAGS;
GILT FEATHER PINS;
THREAD BARBES.

SWISS SWISS
SWISS SWISS
SWISS SWISS

Carvings in Designs.
NEW THIS SEASON.

ELEGANT WORSTED WORK,
OUR OWN IMPORTATION.

A LARGE STOCK OF
PARIS NOVELTIES!
ESPECIALLY ADAPTED FOR PRESENTS!
—AT—
BROWNING & LONG'S
LADIES' FURNISHING STORE,
177 Essex Street, 177
SALEM.

Notice to Gas Consumers.

OWING to the increased cost of materials, and the additional government tax, the Directors of the SALEM GAS LIGHT CO. are obliged to increase the price of Gas to consumers; therefore, on and after January 1st, 1865, the price will be Four 4-100 Dollars per thousand feet, with ten per cent. discount if paid within ten days from presentation of the bill.

Per order,
dec 28—3w R. GARDNER, Clerk.

OATS. OATS.

10,000 BUSHELS OATS,
For sale by
dec 28 GAYLE & CO., Phillips Wharf,

TURKEY RED.

TURKEY Red just received and for sale by
THOS. W. DOWNING & CO.

AMERICAN SPOOL COTTON.

THE celebrated Portsmouth Spool Thread, for sale by THOS. W. DOWNING & CO.

FLEECED HOSE.

A full line of Fleeced Cotton Hose, bleached and unbleached, for sale by dec 28 THOS. DOWNING & CO.

GLOVES.

KID and other Gloves in great variety, for sale by THOS. W. DOWNING & CO.

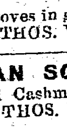
ROMAN SCARFS.

ROMAN Scarfs and Cashmere Mantles, for sale by
THOS. W. DOWNING & CO.



CHRISTMAS & NEW YEAR'S GIFTS For 1865,

At the Store of C. A. BECKFORD, 9 Central St.

WE have a fine Stock of Goods for the HOLIDAYS, consisting of Books, Bibles, Photograph Albums, Wallest, Port Folios, Games, Checker Boards Thermometers, Chess-men and Diaries:

All of which will be sold at Low Prices at the Store of
C. A. BECKFORD,
dec 23 2w No. 9 Central Street, Salem.

Administrator's Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given that the subscribers have been duly appointed administrators of the estate of EBEN SUTTON, late of South Danvers, in the county of Essex, manufacturer, deceased, and have taken upon themselves that trust by giving bonds as the law directs: All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased are required to exhibit the same; and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to

EBEN SUTTON of New York, }
EBEN T. OSBORN, of Boston, } Admr's.
ALFRED A. ABBOTT, of So. Danvers, }
South Danvers, Dec 28th, 1864.

BALMORAL SKIRTS

Bolmoral Skirts To Close.
BALMORAL SKIRTS TO CLOSE.
Balmoral Skirts To Close.
BALMORAL SKIRTS TO CLOSE.
To Close.

We are Closing our Stock of Balmora Skirts at very Low Prices.

JAMES F. ALMY & CO.,
188 Essex St., Opp. Central Street.
Salem, Dec. 14, 1864.

Premier Long Shawls.

French Interwoven Long Shawls.
MIDDLESEX LONG SHAWLS!!!
Crown Long Shawls.
VICTORIA LONG SHAWLS.

WE have a full stock of Long Shawls in the above Makes, which we are closing at reduced prices.

JAMES F. ALMY & CO.
dec 21 188 Essex St., opposite Central St.

CHRISTMAS
—AND—
NEW YEAR'S GIFTS.

Presents conducive to health and comfort, constantly awaken pleasant reminiscences of the giver.

JAMES F. ALMY & CO. offer a splendid variety of CLOAKS,
SHAWLS,
DRESS GOODS,
GLOVES of all kinds, for Ladies' Wear.
Ladies' MANTLES, HOSIERY, etc.

We are selling from all departments of our stock at very Low Prices.

JAMES F. ALMY & CO.,
dec 21 188 Essex, opp. Central Street.

Miss Jeanette R. Andrews,
MUSIC TEACHER.

Room No. 5 Bowker Building,
150 Essex Street, Salem.
Terms—Twelve Dollars per quarter.
References — Professors Webb, Wetherbee, B. J. Lang. nov 2—3m

Arrears of Pay,

FOR the wives of Officers and Soldiers, who are now prisoners of war, collected by
PORTER & HADLEY,
Government Claims Agents
JOHN W. PORTER, } { H. L. HADLEY, Danvers, 243½ Essex St., Salem. } { cor. of Maple & Elm sts.
Danvers, Dec. 14—6w

CHRISTMAS AND NEW YEAR PRESENTS—AT
Ann R. Bray's, 76 Federal St.

We have bought a very large Stock of Ladies' and Gentlemen's Linen Hdkfs— Plain Borders, Hem-Stitched and Tucked.

"Gentlemen's Col'd Bordered do—very neat patterns.

Our Stock was bought at very low prices, and we shall sell them at the same LOW PRICES.

Salem & So. Danvers Horse Railroad Notice.

IN consequence of the continued extraordinary high price of Hay, Grain, and all other materials required for the operation of a Horse Railroad, this company are reluctantly compelled to increase their fares. They confidently rely upon the acquiescence of the citizens of South Danvers, Salem and Beverly, more particularly as it bears no proportion to the increased cost of every item in the operation of the Road, the expenses having almost trebled.

On and after Dec. 1st, 1864, the fares will be as follows, viz:

Single Fares, 8 cents; but if passengers make their own change, 7 cents.

Package tickets, 16 for one dollar.

School tickets, Factory, and Essex Street Tickets, will remain the same as heretofore.

Salem, Nov. 30, 1864. M. H. HALE, Sup't.

Horse Railroad Notice.

On and after THURSDAY Nov. 10, the cars of the Salem and South Danvers Railroad Co.

Will leave Washington St. Station for S. Danvers at 6.37, 7.07, 7.37 A. M. and every 30 minutes till 11.57 A. M.; and every 20 minutes till 9.57 P. M.

Will leave Washington St. station for Beverly at 6.22 6.52, and 7.22 A. M., and every 30 minutes till 12.22 P. M., and at 12.42, 1.02, 1.22, and every 20 minutes till 10.02 P. M.

Cars will leave South Danvers at 7.00, 7.30, and 8.00 A. M., and every half hour till 1 P. M., and will then leave at 1.20, 1.40, 2.00, and every 20 minutes till 10.20 P. M.

Cars will leave Beverly at 7.00, 7.30, 8.00 A. M., and every half hour till 12 M—will then leave at 12.20, 12.40, 1.00 P. M. and every 20 minutes till 10.40 P. M.

☞ On and after Thursday, Nov. 10, the cars on the South Salem Branch Railroad will be discontinued until further notice. All outstanding Tickets for this route will be redeemed at their value, at the Office, corner of Washington and Essex streets.

M. H. HALE,
nov 9 Sup't S. & S. D. R. R. Co.

Horse Railroad Notice.

SUNDAY TIME.

HEREAFTER on Sunday, Horse Cars will leave Washington Street Station for Beverly at 9.12, 9.52, 10.32, 11.12, 11.52 A. M.; 12.32, 1.12, 1.52, 2.32, 3.12, 3.52, 4.32, 5.12, 5.52, 6.32, 7.12, 7.52, and 8.32 P. M.

Will leave Washington street station for South Danvers, at 9.07, 9.27, 9.47 A. M., and every twenty minutes till 9.07 P. M.

Cars leave South Danvers at 9.30, 9.50, and 10.10, A M., and every 20 minutes till 9.30 P. M.

Leave Beverly at 9.40, 10.20, 11.00, 11.40 A. M., 12.20, 1.00, 1.40, 2.20, 3.00, 3.40, 4.20, 5.00, 4.40, 6.20, 7.00, 7.40, 8.20, and 9.00 P. M.

Salem, Aug. 31, 1864, M. H. HALE, Supt.

RICH FURS.

STEPHEN OSBORNE,

RESPECTFULLY invites the Ladies to call and look at his new stock of splendid Furs, at
Nov. 30. 6 w. 191 Essex, cor. of Central St.

SABBATH SCHOOL SINGING.

BRADBURY'S
GOLDEN CENSER

IS the most popular new Music Book ever issued for Sabbath Schools. One Superintendent says "We thank you a thousand times for the GOLDEN CENSER." Another, "I have used the CHAIN and SHOWER, but the CENSER surpasses either" Another, "We consider the CENSER the very best book of the kind we have ever seen," and so on ad infinitum.

THE GOLDEN TRIO,

Consisting of the CHAIN, SHOWER, and CENSER, bound in one substantial volume, is the most perfect LARGE COLLECTION of S. S. Hymns and Music ever published. It is having a large sale, and rapidly becoming a STANDARD BOOK for Sabbath Schools. Price $1.00, or $75.00 per hundred, net Price of CHAIN, SHOWER, or CENSER, separately, in paper covers, 30c., or $25.00 per hundred; in board covers, 35c., or $30.00 per hundred. CHAIN and SHOWER, or CHAIN and CENSER, in one volume, 65c., or $55.00 per hundred. For sale by Booksellers generally; and at 425 and 427 Broome Street, New York.

☞ IF YOU DO NOT FIND the above named books at your Bookstore, inclose your money directly to me at 425 & 427 BROOME STREET, NEW YORK, and your orders will be promptly filled.

WM. B. BRADBURY.

PILGRIM'S SONGS for Social Meetings. In flexible cloth covers, 50c., or $40.00 per hundred.

For WM. B BRADBURY'S Celebrated NEW SCALE PIANO-FORTES, address 427 Broome Street, New York, or send for a circular.
Dec. 28, 1864.—1 m.

HAMLIN & MASON'S AND AUSTIN'S MELODEONS.

ANN R. BRAY, No. 76 Federal Street, has for sale or to rent, at about half price. Any one wishing to purchase a good instrument, will find the opportunity of buying cheap for cash or monthly instalments. 76 Federal Street.

PEABODY'S LADIES' FURNISHING STORE.

220 Essex Street, Salem.

MARKED DOWN.

$1 75	Ribbons down to	$1 25 cents.
$1 50	Ribbons down to	95 cents.
$1 25	Ribbons down to	75 cents.
$1 00	Ribbons down to	65 cents.
75	Ribbons down to	50 cents.

RIBBONS ALL DOWN TO CLOSE.

Flowers at Low Prices!
Flowers at Low Prices!
Flowers at Low Prices!

Ruches at Low Prices!
Ruches at Low Prices!
Ruches at Low Prices!

FLOWERS MARKED DOWN. RIBBONS

TO REDUCE OUR STOCK.

Worsteds and Worsted Goods,

TO CLOSE.
HOODS, SONTAGS,
SHAWLS,
CLOUDS, &c.

The Hem Stitched Hdkfs,

are still selling at the same Low Prices.

75 cent ones for 35 cents, or three for $1.00. $1.00 ones for 50 cents, and so on. We invite customers to look around and compare prices, and see if they are not cheaper even than we say.

Gent's Linen Hdkfs;
Gent's Cotton Hdkfs;
Gent's Hem'd Hdkfs;
Gent's Silk Hdkfs;
Gent's Hem Stitched Hdkfs;
AT VERY LOW PRICES.

Gilt Buckles—Jet Buckles—Pins—Brooches—Clasps—&c., &c., &c.
Leather Shopping Bags—Wallets—&c., &c.
Toilet Soaps—Perfumes—Colognes—&c., &c.
Lace Veils—Hdkfs—Edgings—Insertings—&c.
Cambric Bands—Edgings—Insertings—Waists &c., &c., &c.

Hosiery and Gloves.

HOSIERY & CLOVES. HOSIERY & CLOVES.

Plain Paris Kid Gloves;
Stitched Paris Kid Gloves;
Undressed Kid Gloves;
Long Wrist Kid Gloves;
Silk Gloves;
Lisle Gloves;
Cotton Gloves;
Ladies' Woolen Hosiery;
Misses' Woolen Hosiery;
Children's Woolen Hosiery;
Merino Hosiery—all sizes;
Infant's Socks—merino;
Children's Fancy Hosiery;
Hosiery & Gloves of all kinds;

BUTTONS.

Square Buttons,	Rubber Buttons,
Round Buttons,	Ball Buttons,
Silk Buttons,	White Buttons,
Gilt Buttons,	Black Buttons,
Jet Buttons,	Bone Buttons,
Pearl Buttons,	Glass Buttons,
Agate Buttons,	Cloak Buttons,

All the New Styles Buttons.

Corsets—a superior make.
Corsets—a superior make.

Trimmings.

Bugle Gimps—Buttons—Quill'd Ribbons—Velvet Ribbons—Braids—Bindings—Cords—Wide Beltings—Buckles—&c. &c.

Blue Mixed Yarns,	10 cts;
Drab Woolen Yarns,	10 cts;
White Woolen Yarns,	10 cts;
Scarlet Random Yarns,	10 cts;
Blue Random Yarns,	10 cts;
Black or White Worsteds, per oz.,	25 cts;
Scarlet—Crimson—Brown or Blue,	30 cts;
Chinchillas, Purple or Orange,	35 cts;

EVERYTHING at VERY LOW PRICES.

We have a very large stock, much of which we own at prices that enable us to sell lower than any one can who has not a supply on hand. We wish to reduce our stock, and in order to do so, have marked prices upon it that will cause it to sell rapidly.

ONE PRICE ONLY!

JOHN P. PEABODY,
220 ESSEX ST., SALEM.

Our Store is closed every evening—Saturday excepted—at six o'clock, until April 1st, 1865.
Dec. 21. JOHN P. PEABODY.

Christmas and New Year's PRESENTS, FOR ALL.

AT THE OLD STAND OF
F. SKERRY & SON.

WE are now ready to exhibit our splendid stock of New SPLENDID AND PLATED WARE;
JEWELRY; FANCY GOODS;
DESKS; WORK BOXES; BAGS;
FOLIOS; PORTE MONNAIES;
BRONZE, PARIAN, & CHINA WARE;
BASKETS; GAMES; TOYS, &c., &c.

Our Assortment of Games and Toys is larger than usual.

Do not fail to see this Stock before making your purchases!

180. Essex Street. 180.
H. F. SKERRY.
dec 21

FOR THE HOLIDAYS!

—A Large Assortment of—
BASKETS, BASKET TABLES & FANCY CHAIRS.
NO. 180 ESSEX STREET.
H. F. SKERRY.
Salem, Dec. 16, 1864.

C. A. BECKFORD,

NO. 9 CENTRAL STREET, SALEM,
DEALER IN
BOOKS,
Stationery, Periodicals, Newspapers,
AND MANUFACTURER OF
PICTURE FRAMES.

All styles of Frames on hand, or made to order at the Lowest Prices. Also a CIRCULATING LIBRARY
—OF—
RECENT PUBLICATIONS.

Purchasers of goods in this line will find a good stock at low prices, at the store of
C. A. BECKFORD, NO. 9 CENTRAL ST., SALEM,
(A few doors from Essex Street.)
dec 21—3m

1865. Holidays. Holidays, 1865.

THE subscriber would call the attention of the public to his large and Complete assortment of GOODS FOR THE HOLIDAYS, consisting of all the newest and best publications of Standard, Juvenile, Miscellaneous,
TOY BOOKS,
in rich and common bindings.

A fine assortment of GAMES, consisting of 50 varieties.
PHOTOGRAPH ALBUMS,
in great variety.

Fine Bibles and Prayer Books, in Leather and Velvet; Writing Desks; Portfolios; Gammon Boards, &c; Leather Bags; Wallets; Bill Books, &c.; Inkstands, in glass and bronze; Scissors in cases; Scotch Wood Goods; Gold Pens and Cases; Rubber and Gold Goods.

These Goods have been bought expressly for the coming Holidays, and will be sold at a small advance from cost.

HENRY P. IVES,
232, Essex, and 36 Washington Street, dec 13—3w Opposite Eastern Railroad Station.

HOUSEKEEPERS, ATTENTION!
JACKSON'S
KITCHEN FURNISHING ROOMS,

Under MECHANIC HALL, Salem.

Parties about commencing House-Keeping will find this the ONLY place in Salem where a COMPLETE ASSORTMENT of House-Keeping articles can be found.
dec 9, 1863.

VALUABLE REAL ESTATE.

THE Subscriber offers for sale the following Lots of Land, with the Buildings thereon, at private sale, until next Spring, when such as then remain unsold, will be offered at Public Auction.

A new and well-built two-story DWELLING HOUSE situated on English Street. This house is well supplied with the modern conveniences, is pleasantly situated on rising ground, and is a very desirable residence.

Several front LOTS for building purposes on Walnut Street, will be sold at moderate prices and fair terms.

Near ELM STREET, on a Court south of said street, are two DWELLING HOUSES, planned for two families each. One is two stories high, the other one and a half. Both houses have good tenants and yield a good income; offering a good chance for investment.

Between Harris and English Streets, one one-story DWELLING HOUSE, and one-story-and-a-half House.

The above is a most excellent opportunity for enterprising young men to secure places for business and dwelling houses, on reasonable terms. Such a chance may not soon again occur.

Persons desiring to purchase any of the above lots may learn the prices and terms on application to ANDREW S. PORTER, Elm Street.

SAMUEL D. PENDAR.
South Danvers, December 7, 1864. tf

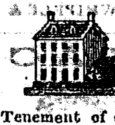
COAL $8 PER TON.

BROWN'S PATENT
Metallic Weather Stripes,
And WINDOW BANDS,
Will Save 1-8 of your Coal Bills,

BY rendering the Tops, Bottoms, Sides and Centres of Doors, Windows and Sky Lights, of every description, wind, rain, snow and dust proof, without interfering with the free use of the same for ventilating purposes at all times.

E. H. STATEN,
No. 147 Essex Street, Salem.
Sole Agent for Salem, South Danvers, Marblehead and Beverly. dec 7—2m

TO LET.



A Convenient Tenement of eight rooms, near the Essex Railroad station at Danversport to let. Enquire of JAMES D. BLACK, Danversport
Dec. 11, 1861—tf

ANN R. BRAY, 76 Federal St.,

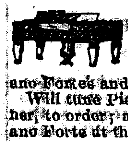
OFFERS to her customers, bargains in Cashmere Plaids—$1 25, for what were sold a short time since for $1 75.

$1.45 for yard wide Plaids that have been sold for $2.00.

Black Alpaccas.—We have just received a new stock Plain and Figured Alpaccas and Barathea.
nov 30 ANN R. BRAY, 76 Federal Street.

MUSICAL NOTICE.

I HAVE on hand for sale, and will select to order from any manufacturer in Boston or elsewhere,
Melodeons, Cabinet Organs,
and six to seven octave
PIANO FORTES,



full Iron Frames, over-strung Base, with Pearl or Ivory Keys, at the lowest prices. Will take second-hand Instruments in exchange for new. Have Piano Fortes and Melodeons to let.

Will tune Piano Fortes and Organs in the best manner, to order, and will also give instruction on the Piano Forte at the residence of the pupil, or at my room

No. 218 Essex Street, Salem, (Up stairs.)
SAMUEL MACKINTIRE.
Salem, November 9, 1864.

George S. Walker.

USEFUL GIFTS,

FOR THE COMING HOLIDAYS,

CAN be selected from my assortment of
Gent's Furnishing Goods,
Comprising the most desirable styles of
Scarfs, Ties and Socks;
All-Wool Traveling and Army Shirts;
Warm Under-Garments;
Hosiery, all kinds;
Shirts and Collars;
Umbrellas and Canes;
Linen and Silk Hdkfs.;
Calf Mitts—Lamb Lined.

Also, every style of WINTER GLOVES—lined and unlined—in Buck, Calf, Kid, Cloth, Silk, &c., &c., together with a great variety of useful articles for Gentlemen, such as

Purses,	Pocket Books,
Razors,	Straps,
Hair and Cloth Brushes,	Perfumery, &c.

—AT—
GEORGE S. WALKER'S,
No. 228 Essex Street,
dec 21 Opp. Eastern Railroad Station.

A. J. Archer & Co

REDUCED PRICES!

DRY GOODS.

AUGUSTUS J. ARCHER & CO.,

ARE Prepared to offer their Large Stock of
SHAWLS,
DRESS GOODS,
GARMENTS,
WOOLENS,
House-Keeping Goods,
—At the—
LOWEST MARKET PRICES.
oct 12—tf 181 Essex street.

Misses' and Children's
OUTSIDE GARMENTS.

MISSES' AND CHILDREN'S SACKS.
—FOR SALE BY—
AUGUSTUS J. ARCHER & CO.,
Dec 14 181 Essex Street.

Spool Cotton.

"The Hadley Company's Six Cord Spool Cotton."

FOR years past the best quality of spool cotton used in this country has been of foreign manufacture; and it has been heretofore generally admitted that Yankee manufactures in this particular line could not successfully compete with the imported article. The Hadley Company, of Holyoke, Mass., have been for some time engaged in manufacturing an article of six cord spool cotton, which is pronounced by the best of judges to be the equal of the imported article. Indeed, many pronounce it superior. The thread is six corded, and has a soft and beautiful finish, and for durability it has no equal in the market. Here is an excellent chance for the ladies to patronize a purely American manufacture, as the article needs only an introduction to secure for it a general use."

It is numbered like Taylor's Persian Thread. and is quite equal in quality. For sale in Salem, by
AUGUSTUS J. ARCHER & CO.

Potter, Bachelder & Co.,

DANVERS-PORT and SOUTH DANVERS,
DEALERS IN
WOOD AND COAL.
Constantly on hand

Franklin, Burnside, Dimond, } RED ASH,
Old Company & Packer's Lehigh, } WHITE
Pliny Fisk, Webster and Locust Mountain, } ASH.

Also Cumberland, Pictou and Campbell for Steam and Smith's use.

OFFICE—No. 6 Allen's Building.
G. W. POTTER,
J. Q. A. BACHELDER,
C. T. BATCHELDER. mch 30

M. A. PORTER,

236 Essex Street, - - - Salem, Mass.,
(Opposite Horse Railroad Office,)
MAKES TO ORDER BEST QUALITIES OF
WATCH SPRING SKIRTS.

A Good Assortment of Dress and Clock Button, Braids, Spool Cotton, Small Wares, and Thread Store articles generally.

236 Essex Street, - - - Salem, Mass.,
M. A. PORTER.

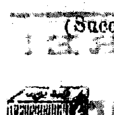
197 REMOVAL. 197

Gentlemen's Clothing.
YOUTH'S AND BOYS' CLOTHING,
—AND THE—
FURNISHING GOODS ESTABLISHMENT,
of the subscriber is removed to
197 Essex Street,
Store lately occupied by Mr. JOHN McKEY.

☞ A full and fresh assortment of GOODS is now opening and will be kept up as the season advances.
Salem, Sept 21. T. H. LEFAVOUR.

HOUSE OF EQUITY,

—BY—
Arnold & Hutchinson,
(Successors to C. T. Southwick.)



FIRST QUALITY
FAMILY GROCERIES,
Sold at the Lowest Prices.

A large and complete assortment of
CROCKERY AND GLASS WARE,
Constantly on hand.
Also FLOUR and GRAIN.

ASHLAND HALL BUILDING,
NO. 1 LOWELL STREET,
F. T. ARNOLD, B. F. HUTCHINSON.
South Danvers, Feb 3, 1864.

THE WAR.

HORACE GREELEY'S great Book on the War, Vol. 1, illustrated with maps and cuts—The American Conflict, a history of the Great Rebellion of America, 1860—'64.
Nov 9 G. M. WHIPPLE & A. A. SMITH.

Auction Sales.

WILLIAM ARCHER, Jr.,
Auctioneer, Real Estate and Stock Broker,
34 Front Street.

Real Estate, Bank, Railroad & Manufacturing Stock bought and sold on Commission.

AUTUMN AND WINTER
DRY GOODS.

PRINTS, De Laines, Plaids, Poplins, Alpaccas, Coburgs, Thibets, and many other styles for Dresses;
SHAWLS AND HOUSEKEEPING GOODS.

Bleached and Unbleached Cottons, different widths. Cotton Flannels, Wool and Cotton and Wool Flannels, of every variety and color.

Union and all wool Cassimeres and Doeskins, for Mens' and Boys' wear.

Hosiery, Gloves, Yarns, Umbrellas, &c., &c., sold at the lowest prices for the Cash, at
238 Essex Street.
GEO. P. DANIELS.
Salem, Sept. 28, 1864.

NEW GOODS.

ANN R. BRAY,
76 Federal Street, Salem.

WILL open this morning Rich POPLINS, at $1 50 per yard;
All Wool do. rich colors, at reduced prices;
Black Alpaccas, from 75 cts to $1 75;
House-keeping Goods at Reduced Prices;
Cottons, Brown and Bleached; 5-4 Waltham and Rockville Sheetings; 4-4 Lonsdale, James Mills, Hills and all the best makes Shirting, at the lowest cash prices.
PRINTS, at reduced prices;
BLANKETS, the very best makes—All-wool and Union Blankets, at the lowest market price.
CAMELS' HAIR SCARFS—medium size;
Also—One very large, of the finest quality—at
ANN R. BRAY'S,
oct 19 76 Federal Street, Salem.

AUTUMN GOODS.

SHAWLS,
—AND—
DRESS GOODS.
BLANKETS,
QUILTS,
AND
HOUSE-KEEPING GOODS.
CLOTHS,
DOESKINS,
OVER-COATINGS,
—AND—
CLOAK CLOTHS,
For sale by
THOMAS W. DOWNING & CO.,
sept 28 179 ESSEX STREET, SALEM.

OPENING!

A FULL ASSORTMENT OF
FALL AND WINTER STYLE
BONNETS,
HATS,
DRESS CAPS and
HEAD-DRESSES.
OCTOBER 6TH,
AT
M. E. CRANE'S,
168 ESSEX STREET, - - SALEM.
October 5th, 1864.

T. HARDY, JR.,

—Dealer in—
DOORS, SASHES, BLINDS,
Glazed Sash, Painted Blinds,
FENCE PALES, STAIR BALUSTERS, FRAMING PINS, &c.,
No. 26 FRONT STREET,
Salem, January 14, 1863—tf.

GEO. E. MEACOM,

Dealer in
DRUGS & MEDICINES,
Fancy & Toilet Articles, &c.,
126 - - MAIN ST. - - 126
Nearly opposite Danvers Bank, So. Danvers.

T. A. SWEETSER,

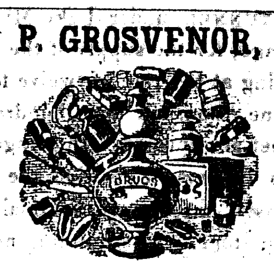
Druggist & Apothecary
37 Main St., So. Danvers,
DEALER IN
Drugs, Medicines, Chemicals, Foreign Leeches, Shakers' Herbs, Dye Stuffs, Gums, Acids, Sponges, Shoulder Braces, Trusses, and Genuine Patent Medicines.

Also, Imported Cigars of choice brands, Perfumery, Toilet Articles and Stationery.

Physicians' Prescriptions carefully prepared by experienced persons.

37 MAIN STREET.

D. P. GROSVENOR, Jr.,



Druggist and Apothecary,
83 MAIN STREET.

Dealer in Drugs, Medicines, Chemicals, Dye Stuffs, and Popular Proprietary Medicines.

Personal attention to Physicians' Prescriptions.

South Danvers, May 29, 1861. Jy

STORE TO LET.

THE Store now occupied by Messrs. Blake & Holman, on the corner of Washington and Main Sts. The best located and most convenient store in town for the Grocery business. Possession given immediately. Apply to
R. S. DANIELS.
South Danvers, Sept. 21.

GAYLE & CO.,

COMMISSION MERCHANTS,
AND DEALERS IN
Flour, Grain and Produce,
PHILLIPS WHARF, Salem.

M. FENOLLOSA,

TEACHER OF MUSIC,
LETS..............PIANO FORTES,
at the lowest rates;
SELLS ....PIANO FORTES,
at the Manufacturers Prices;
EXCHANGES....PIANO FORTES,
on the easiest terms;
At Rooms No. 7 Central street,
feb 11 SALEM, MASS.

R. C. MANNING & CO.,

Successors to JOHN DIKE & CO.,
DEALERS IN
COAL, WOOD, BARK, HAY, &c,
183 DERBY STREET,
SALEM, MASS.
N. C. ROBBINS, R. C. MANNING.
oct17

A NOVEL MARRIAGE IN PENNSYLVANIA.—The Lancaster (Pa.) Express says that a large crowd of persons assembled in the Reformed Mennonnite Church, in that city, on Sunday morning, to witness a marriage between two members of the new Mennonnite persuasion. The ceremony was performed by Rev. John Kohr, assisted by Rev. Christian Witmer. To those of the audience who were never present at a wedding of members of this denomination, the affair was novel and interesting. The sermon was appropriate to the occasion. The preacher read from the 3d to the 10th verse of the 19th chapter of Matthew, and from the 22d verse to the end of the 5th chapter of Ephesians, basing his remarks on these passages of scripture. The whole discourse was devoted to the duties of the candidates for matrimony to each other, and the spiritual relations to Christ, the Head of the Church. At the conclusion of the regular exercises, the marriage rite was performed in front of the pulpit. The bridegroom was asked if he believed this sister of his faith was allotted by Christ to be his wife, and whether he were free from all other women persons. Affirmative answers being given, similar questions were put to the bride and answered. The usual questions were then put and answered, when the twain were pronounced man and wife. The manner of bringing about marriages between the members of this denomination differs from that of other Christians What is called 'courting' is done by their preachers, the candidates for matrimonial honors not being allowed to visit the object of their affections. When a brother wishes to take to himself one of the sisters as a wife, the fact is communicated to the preacher, who makes known to the sister the feelings of this brother, and if no objections be made on her part, the banns are published in church, and the wedding takes place in due time.

THE EFFECT OF MARRIAGE.—Doubtless you have remarked, with satisfaction, how the little oddities of men who marry rather late in life are pruned away speedily after their marriage. You have found a man who used to be shabbily and carelessly dressed, with a huge shirt collar frayed at the edges, and a glaring yellow silk pocket-handkerchief, broken of these things, and become a pattern of neatness. You have seen a man whose hair and whiskers were ridiculously cut speedily become like other human beings. You have seen a man who used to sing ridiculous sentimental songs leave them off. You have seen a man who took snuff copiously, and who generally had his breast covered with snuff, abandon the vile habit. A wife is the grand wielder of the moral pruning knife. If Johnson's wife had lived there would have been no hoarding up of bits of orange peel; no touching all the posts in walking along the street; no eating and drinking with a disgusting voracity. If Oliver Goldsmith had been married he would never have worn that memorable and ridiculous coat. Whenever you find a man whom you know little about oddly dressed, or talking ridiculously, or exhibiting any eccentricity of manner, you may be sure that he is not a married man. For the little corners are rounded off, the little shoots are pruned away, in married men. Wives generally have much more sense than their husbands, especially when the husbands are clever men. The wife's advices are like the ballast that keeps the ship steady. They are like the wholesome, though painful, shears snipping off little growths of self-conceit and folly.—Fraser's Magazine.

THE TUNNEL under Lake Michigan, at Chicago, for the supply of the city, is progressing at the rate of twelve feet per day. One thousand one hundred and thirty feet are finished. In bringing the work to its present position, the miners have passed through many qualities of earth and stone. In a building near the water works the contractors have prepared a cabinet in which are displayed geological specimens, affording quite a study for the curious. Petroleum has been found in large quantities, and several stones from which the oil issued freely, exhibited to the visitors. Sulphate of iron has also been discovered in many places. At present there is nothing taken out but a sort of blue clay that is very much of the consistency of beeswax. It becomes very hard as soon as exposed to the air, and has proved to be a most excellent substance for grading.

ADVERTISING OBITUARY.—Died, on the 11th instant, at his shop, No. 20 Greenwich street, Mr. Edward Jones, much respected by all who knew and dealt with him. As a man, he was amiable; as a hatter, upright and moderate. His virtues were beyond all price, and his beaver hats were only three dollars each. He has left a widow to deplore his loss, and a large stock to be sold cheap for the benefit of his family. He was snatched to the other world in the prime of life, just as he had concluded an extensive purchase of felt, which he got so cheap that his widow can supply hats at a more reasonable rate than any other house in the city.

His disconsolate family will carry on the business with punctuality.

Special Notices.

INFORMATION FREE.
TO NERVOUS SUFFERERS.

A GENTLEMAN, cured of Nervous Debility, Incompetency, Premature Decay, and Youthful Error, actuated by a desire to benefit others, will be happy to furnish to all who need it, (free of charge,) the recipe and directions for making the simple remedy used in this case. Sufferers wishing to profit by the advertiser's bad experience, and possess a sure and valuable remedy, can do so by addressing him at once at his place of business. The recipe and full information—of vital importance—will be cheerfully sent by return mail. Address, JOHN B. OGDEN.
No. 60 Nassau Street, New York.

P. S.—Nervous Sufferers of both sexes will find this information invaluable. nov 30

To Consumptives.

Consumptive sufferers will receive a valuable prescription for the cure of Consumption, Asthma, Bronchitis, and all Throat and Lung affections (free of charge) by sending their address to Rev. EDWARD A. WILSON, Williamsburg, Kings Co., New York.
sept 21—3 mos.

Cards.

C. W. HALEY, M. D.,
Physician and Surgeon.
OFFICE—WARREN BANK BUILDING,
South Danvers.

N. J. HOLDEN,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
Office, 27 Washington Street, Salem, Mass.

M. B. MANSFIELD,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
214 ESSEX STREET, SALEM, MASS.
 Particular attention paid to procuring Pensions, Bounties, Back Pay, Prize Money, and Army and Navy Claims of all descriptions. March 2.

H. L. HADLEY,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
CORNER MAPLE AND ELM ST.,
Danvers.
Claims against the Government for Bounty, Back Pay, and Pensions, promptly attended to.

THOMAS M. STIMPSON,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
194 ESSEX STREET, SALEM.
Residence Lowell street, South Danvers.

B. C. PERKINS,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
South Danvers—Office in Allen's Building.

ALFRED A. ABBOTT,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
Office, No. 24 Washington Street, Salem.
House, Main St., So. Danvers.

SIDNEY C. BANCROFT,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
27 Washington Street, Salem.

H. O. WILEY,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
Office, Allen's Building, South Danvers.
Claims against the Government for Bounty, Back Pay, and Pensions, promptly attended to.

A. S. CRAWFORD
Dentist,
No. 4 MAIN STREET, SO. DANVERS SQUARE
Mechanical Dentistry Neatly Executed.

W. L. BOWDOIN,
SURGEON DENTIST,
No. 208 Essex Street, Salem, (Opposite the Marke
Residence—No. 57 Washington street.
jan 11—1y

NEWMAN & SYMONDS,
DEALERS IN
Family Groceries, Flour & Grain,
HARD WARE AND CROCKERY,
Ready Made Clothing, Gents' Furnishing Goods,
Hats, Caps, Boots, Shoes, &c.,
South Danvers Square, opp. Congregational Church
SAM'L NEWMAN. NATH'L SYMONDS.

S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS,
DEALERS IN
Crockery, China and Hardware; Paper Hangings; Solar and Entry Lamps · Paints, Oil and Window Glass.
No. 32 Front street, Lawrence Place,
feb13 SALEM, MASS.

HENRY L. WHIDDEN,
HOUSE AND SIGN PAINTER,
Glazier and Paperer,
Central Street, South Danvers.
All orders promptly and faithfully executed.
jan2-1y

JESSE SMITH
No. 262 Essex Street, Salem,
Importer and Dealer in
Gold and Silver Watches,
MARINE CHRONOMETERS,
Aueroid Barometers, Spy Glasses, &c.

WILLIAM BLANEY,
HOUSE & SIGN PAINTER
Grainer, Glazier and Paper Hanger.
164 MAIN STREET, Corner of Grove.
WINDOWS and BLINDS cheap for cash.
mch6-tf

F. POOLE
INSURANCE AGENT,
Allen's Building (up stairs),
Deeds drawn, and other common forms.

WM. C. HENDERSON,
MANUFACTURER OF
PLAIN AND FANCY
PAPER BOXES;
No. 235 ESSEX STREET,
Sign of "Nest of Boxes,"
july 23 SALEM. tf

NEW STORE!

Flour! Flour!

JUST RECEIVED, a fresh supply of CHOICE BRANDS, direct from the Mills, for sale, wholesale and retail, at LOWEST PRICES, by
E. F. OSBORN.
Sutton's Building, Main St.
South Danvers, Nov 18, 1864.

Posting Books, Making Bills and Copying.

THE above business will be promptly and accurately performed by the subscriber, who may be found at Messers. CLARK & GIDDINGS' Counting Room on Wallis Street, near the Essex Depot, or by enquiring at this office. jy13 tf JOHN D. HOWARD.

OATS. OATS.

5000 BUSHELS PRIME OATS, received this day, and for sale by
sept 7 GAYLE & CO., Phillips Wharf.

BY THIS SIGN WE CONQUER,

"Whenever the way seems long,
Or the heart begins to fail,
We sing a more wonderful song,
And tell a more marvelous tale."

JANUARY 1, 1865.

TWENTY-SEVENTH ANNIVERSARY
OF
THE NEW YORK MERCURY.
The Pride of the Fireside.

IN the prime of a vigorous intellectual manhood, the Phenix of the weeklies begins its flight for the new year, over the wrecks of its flagging and lifeless contemporaries, with its eye fixed upon the sun, beneath which it owns no rivalry.

The war, which has toppled down whatever is shallow and baseless, has written no wrinkle on the bright ægis of our success. Our features for the issue of 1865 shake the pillars of whatever has heretofore been deemed imperial in serial literature. Both sides of the Atlantic render us tribute. We shall continue the thrilling romances of Miss M. E. BRADDON, necromancer of the strong dark passions, to whom we pay more money annually than the entire capital of our imitators, and add to our American staff the champion jester of the cap and bells, JOSH BILLINGS, who will commence with the first of January a series of his well-known inimitable comic papers, written expressly for us, in his irresistably convulsive vein. HARRIET E. PRESCOTT, the most polished and imaginative sketch-writer living; P. T. BARNUM, the world-famed show-man and autobiographer; Miss M. A. EARLE, FAIRFAX BALFOUR, DR. J. H. ROBINSON, and "NED BUNTLINE," renowned and versatile novelette-writers, will eke out the sparkling contributions of such facile poets, fuilletonists, humorists, critics, travelers, paragraphists, etc., as GEORGE ARNOLD, W. O. EATON, MILLIE W. CARPENTER, GEO. ALFRED TOWNSEND, JULIA S. INGRAHAM, EDWARD WILLETT, GEORGE MARTIAL, JOSEPH BARBER, J. A. PEITEN, and others, numerous enough and clever enough to run all the newspapers on the Continent.

The vivid pencils of DARLEY, MCLENAN, and WHITE, the first draughtsmen of the age, will make the new volume pictorial, and whatever of fugitive or meteoric note may appear during the year, will at once be engaged and made available.

In addition to its crisp and telling editorials; its delectable 'Gossipers' Club, in which the aptest and wittiest poems, caricatures, and burlesques, of the time first appear; and its coquetish Ladies' Promenade, to which all the mothers, sweethearts, daughters, wives, and widows of the land subscribe their experiences, THE NEW YORK MERCURY will continue the faithful and cogent PHOTOGRAPHS OF POPULAR PEOPLE, highly illustrative of the oldest, ablest, artfulest folk of the era; the GREAT FASHION ARTICLE, by JENNIE JUNE, whose sprightly notes upon the latest and most perfect New York modes are suggestive to leaders of society everywhere, and universally consulted both in the metropolis and throughout the country; and commence a series of illustrated SKETCHES OF GROTESQUE ADVENTURE IN FOREIGN CLIMES DURING THE WAR, by ALFRED TEMPLE; as well as HINTS UPON COOKERY, by HENRY GOSLING, the metropolitan cuisinier.

The first of the year will inaugurate the thrilling original novelette by Doctor J. H. ROBINSON, entitled:

ALETHE;
OR,
THE CHILD OF THE CORD,

which will be followed by a splendid new story by Miss M. E. BRADDON, written expressly for the NEW YORK MERCURY.

Notwithstanding the upward march of every article of luxury and consumption, and our enormously increased outlay for the year 1865, the Star Paper of the Republic, with its forty columns of sterling original matter, will continue to be issued at six cents a copy, and sold by all newsmen and periodical-dealers in America. Its long and honorable history insures its subscribers against the casualties and fatalities which have swept so many mushroom journals off the board, and left their patrons disconsolate at the loss of their money.

To mail-subscribers our terms are:

Cash in advance: Single copies, $2 50 a year; three copies, $7.00; six copies, $13.00; nine copies, $20.00. The party who sends us $20.00 for a club of nine copies will receive an additional copy free. Six months' subscriptions received. Canada subscribers must send twenty cents extra for each subscription, to pay the American postage.

Subscribers should be careful to write plainly the name of their post-office, county and State. Specimen copies sent free to all applicants. Address,

CAULDWELL & WHITNEY,
Proprietors of the New York Mercury,
Nos. 48 Ann street and 113 Fulton street,
New York City.

☞ Proprietors of newspapers giving the above Prospectus five or more insertions, with an editorial notice, will be entitled to have two copies of THE NEW YORK MERCURY sent for one year, to any address they may indicate.
December 21, 1864.

CHINA WARE.

WHITE China Ware, and Gold Band China Ware, at dec 14 S C & E A SIMONDS', 32 Front st.

WHITE WARE.

DINNER Ware; Tea Ware and Toilet Ware of the best quality, just opened at
S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS', 32 Front st.

KEROSENE LAMPS.

A full assortment of Kerosene Lamps and Lanterns Hanging and Side Lamps—Just opened at dec 21 S C & E A SIMONDS', 32 Front st.

TABLE MATS.

SHAKER and Palm Leaf Table Mats, at
S C & E A SIMONDS', 32 Front st.

FLOWING WARE.

MULBERRY and Flowing Blue Ware at
S C & E A SIMONDS', 32 Front st.

SILVER PLATED KNIVES.

STEEL Knives, plated with pure Silver, at
S C & E A SIMONDS', 32 Front st.

THE TWO BEST GAMES

OF the season are "Parlor Croquet," and "The Garrison Game." Both are adapted to any age and will be found to be the very pleasantest entertainment for the family circle.
G. M. WHIPPLE & A. A. SMITH.

SPECTACLES!

H. F. SKERRY wishes to call special attention to his stock of

Spectacles and Eye Glasses,

in Gold—Silver—Rubber—Steel and Horn frames, of which he keeps constantly on hand a very large assortment, embracing every style and quality.

—ALSO—

Opera Glasses, Microscopes, &c.

Glasses re-set, and Spectacles repaired.
In Store, our usual assortment of Silver and Plated Ware, Jewelry, Fancy Goods, and Toys, Also, Canton Ware,

No. 180 Essex Street, Salem.
H. F. SKERRY.
Aug. 17.—tf

DR. E. F. KITTREDGE,

From Lowell, formerly of New Ipswich, N. H.,
Has removed his office and residence to

NO. 42 MAIN STREET,
SOUTH DANVERS, MASS.

Dr. K., from an extensive and successful professional experience of upwards of twenty years, feels justified in saying that he can treat diseases to the satisfaction of his patients, and to the credit of himself.

Office hours from 7 to 9 A. M., and from 6 to 9 P. M.
South Danvers, Nov 13, 1863.

STURGIS'
ELECTRIC COMPOUND,
An Effectual External Remedy for NEURALGIA
—AND—
RHEUMATISM.

ALSO, INVALUABLE FOR

Spinal Irritation, Ague in the Face,
Toothache, Pain in the Side, Back,
and Limbs, Ear, Ague, &c.

Among the Advantages of this Medicine are the following:

ITS effect is very rapid—in most cases instantaneous.

It is external in its application, and the patient runs no risk in using it. It does not strike to the stomach.

It reaches the nerves and muscles, as it is believed no other medicine does.

It has cured some of the most violent and obstinate cases of Neuralgia ever known.

It can be used on a child or an aged person alike.

While it is very powerful, it is perfectly harmless.

The proprietor has been allowed to publish the names of many persons who have used the COMPOUND with the most beneficial results. He inserts a few of them They are among the most respectable citizens of Boston and other places, and their residences and places of business are given.

Rev. N. Munroe, late of Boston Recorder
Joseph H. Allen, 119 Washington St., house 55 Ruthland Street.
N. P Kempt, Tract Society, 40 Cornhill.
Addison Boyden, 408 Washington Street, Boston, firm of Haley, Morse & Boyden.
William H. Brewster, Publisher of Boston Traveller.

The following letter from one of our best citizens will speak for itself:

REV. JOSEPH E. BARRY, the children's missionary of Boston, was the recipient a few weeks since of a bottle of STURGIS'S ELECTRIC COMPOUND, for Neuralgia, Rheumatism, &c., and having experienced great benefit from its use, and having known of many severe cases of the above complaints where it produced cures, considers it his duty to make known to his friends and others being so unfortunate as to be troubled with these terrible complaints, the virtue of this preparation.

Boston, Sept. 15, 1863. JOSEPH E. BARRY.

REMARKABLE CURE OF NEURALGIA.—The following letter, (unsolicited,) was received by the proprietor in May last:

CAMP ROGERS, Newbern, May 6, 1863.

Dear Sir. I have been for some weeks suffering under a severe attack of Neuralgia, the severity of which has caused me to be in "perfect agony" both night and day. Having heard of STURGIS'S ELECTRIC COMPOUND from a "companion in arms," I was induced to give it a trial, which had the happy effect to immediately cure me. I am surprised that surgeons do not have it in the army, as there is a constant demand for such an invaluable relief I make this statement for the public good, and I have no scruples about your using this as a recommendation to other victims of this painful disorder.

Yours, respectfully, JOSEPH HOUGHTON,
Co. D, 43d Reg't Mass. Vols.

For Sale by all Druggists.
☞ Office No. 119 Washington St., Boston.
Sept. 28—6mo.

DR. J. H. BATCHELDER,
DENTAL SURGEON,

No. 20 Washington St., (near Eastern Railroad Depot), SALEM, MASS.

Is Licensed to make the New Patent Teeth on HARD RUBBER or VULCANITE.

REAL ESTATE.

The subscriber offers for sale the following Lots of Land, with the buildings thereon, at Private Sale, until October next, when, if not previously sold, they will be put up at auction.

On Lowell street, a two story DWELLING HOUSE, fitted for two families. This is the Estate formerly known as the Southwick Tavern.

On Lowe street, leading from Foster St. to Washington St., a two story TENEMENT for two families with a garden attached to it.

On Washington street, near the residence of Capt. Lowe, a very eligible BUILDING LOT, on the North side of the street.

On Tremont street, a small COTTAGE HOUSE for one or two families.

On Walnut street, a pleasant, elevated Lot of Land, with a large Barn, situated opposite Mr. Caller's Currying Shop.

In the rear of the above TWO TENEMENT HOUSES.
For particulars apply to
jy 27 WILLIAM SUTTON.

Salem and Danvers Aqueduct Co'y.

ALL persons using the water of the Salem and South Danvers Aqueduct, are hereby notified that the water rents, for the six months ending Nov'r 1, 1864, are now due: and that they are required to pay the same, at the office of the Company, No. 2 Sewall Street, on the 1st day of October inst. Should the bills remain unpaid for thirty days, the water will be stopped, in conformity to the regulations of the Company.

Office hours from 9 to 1 o'clock, and from 2 to 5.
Per order of the Directors,
Salem, Oct 1, 1864. WM. JELLY, Collector.

SELF-SEALING
AIR-TIGHT CASKET.

MR. CHARLES S. BUFFUM, Furnishing Undertaker of South Danvers, takes this method to announce that he has a new burial case, which combines all the advantages of a wooden receptacle with those of a metal one, and yet avoids the disadvantages of both. They have been used with great success, and bodies placed in them have been delivered in perfect preservation after having been transported over a thousand miles. To persons having deceased friends at the seat of war they are invaluable. They come at reasonable prices, are light and durable, and are perfectly air-tight. august 10

FURNITURE

HAVING taken the Store No. 10 FRONT STREET, (formerly occupied by BENJAMIN COLMAN,) I shall keep constantly on hand a large stock of

NEW AND SECOND-HAND FURNITURE,
BEDDING, COUNTING-ROOM DESKS, &c., &c.,
which I will sell cheap for CASH.
ALL KINDS OF FURNITURE NEATLY REPAIRED.

☞ All kinds of FURNITURE and BEDDING wanted—for which the highest Cash price will be paid.

P. J. HYNES, 10 FRONT-ST.
Salem, April 6, 1864—1y

CURRIER & MILLETT,
Dealers in
Furniture, Chairs,
MATTRESSES, FEATHERS, &
259 & 261 ESSEX ST.
Salem, dec 14—1y

NEW INKSTAND.

OLIVER'S Patent Inkstand claims the following advantages:—It is not complicated—No trouble to fill—Does not get out of order—It is very economical—It prevents evaporation—Does not require frequent filling—Can be easily operated—It is easily cleaned—Filters the Ink for use—Keeps the Ink free from exposure and fresh and limpid—it is both ornamental and durable. For sale by
Salem, Sept 23 G M WHIPPLE & A A SMITH.

AARON T. LOWE,
DEALER IN
BOOTS, SHOES AND RUBBERS,
76 BOSTON STREET, 76.
aug 6 SALEM. tf

PAINTS AND OIL.

FOREST River White Lead; New York White Lead; Linseed Oil; Japans; Spirits Turpentine; Bensole Spirits; Varnishes, &c., constantly for sale at
Nov 9 S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS', 32 Front St.

IVORY HANDLED KNIVES

BY the Dozen, with or without Forks, at
S C & E A SIMONDS', 32 Front st.

Skinner's Pulmonales

Immediately Relieve Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, loss of Voice, Bronchitis, Lassitude, Thirst and every symptom of the first stages of Pulmonary Consumption: they are white, in form of a wafer, and as suitable for the infant in the cradle as the patient of three score years and ten. Orators and all who overtax the vocal organs receive instant relief by their use. Sold by all Druggists. Prepared by E. M. SKINNER, Chemist, 27 Tremont St., Boston. sept 7—1y

SPALDING'S ROSE MARY

FOR FOURTEEN YEARS the Rosemary has held a high rank as pure, uniform and reliable. It is Warranted. 1st, To beautify the hair. 2d, To curl the hair elegantly. 3d, To remove dandruff effectually. 4th, To restore hair to bald heads. 5th, To force the beard and whiskers to grow. 6th, To prevent the hair from falling off. 7th, To cure all diseases of the scalp. 8th, To prevent the hair turning grey. 9th, To cure headache. 10th, To kill hair eaters. Sold everywhere. Prepared by EDW. M SKINNER, Chemist, 27 Tremont St., opposite the Museum, Boston, Mass. sept 7—1y

JUST ARRIVED,
AT DANVERS MILLS,

500 Bushels Corn, in the minnie cob, and will be sold in South Danvers. Constantly on hand a large stock of meal, which will be sold at the lowest Salem prices.

—ALSO ON HAND—

500 Bushels Feed;
200 Bushels prime Northern Oats;
100 Barrels choicest Family Flour.
A good stock of LIME constantly on hand.

JOHN C. MOULTON,
Central St., South Danvers, Mass.

Indispensable to Every Soldier and Seaman.

BROOKS'S PATENT WRITING AND TOILET CASE.

EASILY carried in the coat pocket. Supplied by the manufacturers at the old price—$2.
D. B. BROOKS & BROTHER,
201 Essex Street, Salem, Mass.

Those who have friends in the Army of the Potomac can have them sent to them free of postage. sept 7

HENRY G. HUBON.

WASHINGTON STREET, SALEM
Manufacturers of
Rose Wood, Mahogany, Black Walnut and Stained Wood

COFFINS and CASKETS.

MAKING this our exclusive business, we are ready at all times and at the shortest notice to furnish Grave Clothes of various styles, as well as Coffins and Caskets of the finest finish Personal attention given, and delivered without extra charge to any of the neighboring towns. All orders by express or otherwise will receive prompt attention.
nov 1—tf

CHARLES S. BUFFUM,

BEING an authorized UNDERTAKER of South Danvers, will attend Funerals in said place with his Hearse the same as the Town Undertaker. Will also attend Funerals, when desired, in any of the neighboring towns, with one or a pair of horses.

He also furnishes Coffins, Caskets, Robes, etc., lower than city prices.

All branches of the business attended to, such as furnishing Coaches, Flowers, Laying Out, etc.

Ice Preservers Furnished.

All orders promptly attended to, and personal attention given to them. Articles delivered to any of the neighboring towns free of charge. Orders by express or otherwise will receive prompt attention.

Central street, South Danvers,
RESIDENCE 25 ELM STREET.
South Danvers, Feb 17, 1864.

Undertaker's Notice!

THE subscriber being regularly appointed as Undertaker of South Danvers, would respectfully notify the public that he has removed from Central Street, to No. 80 Lowell Street, where he may be found in readiness to attend funerals, and to furnish, when desired.
HENRY SPENCER.
February 10, 1864.

Chickering & Sons' Piano-Fortes.
Hallett & Cumston's Piano-Fortes.
Hallett & Davis's Piano-Fortes.

We select our Piano-Fortes from the above firms and warrant them to give perfect satisfaction Our terms are reasonable, and all persons in the city and neighboring towns can be accommodated by calling at 76 Federal street.

FOR SALE—Second-hand Piano-Fortes,—Chickering's and others.
ap 29 ANN R. BRAY.

MOULTON'S
NEW LIVERY STABLE,

Is removed to stable formerly occupied by
SAMUEL HAM,
On MAIN STREET, opposite the Institute.

Good Horses and Carriages will be always in readiness at short notice.
South Danvers, May 25, 1864.

PIN WORMS. MRS. OSBORN'S Universal Worm Powders are the only sure cure ever offered to the public. They are warranted in every case; relief within 24 hrs. 25 cts. per box. Sold by all druggists.

For sale by D. P. GROSVENOR, Jr., 33 Main St., South Danvers. jan 27

Are you Insured?

THE subscriber would respectfully call your attention to the fact that he is fully prepared to effect INSURANCE AGAINST FIRE, to any amount, at current rates, on

Dwelling Houses, Barns and their contents, Stores, Stocks of Goods, Furniture, &c. &c., and on buildings in process of erection,

And that he is the authorized Agent for the following responsible Stock and Mutual Companies, viz:

Thames Insurance Co., (Stock,) Norwich, Conn.
Capital—$500,000.
Amos W. Prentice, Pres. Oliver F. Rice, Sec'y
Conway Insurance Company, (Stock) Boston.
Capital and Surplus—$260,000.
James F. Whitney, Pres. David C. Rogers, Sec'y.
City Insurance Company, (Stock) Boston.
Capital—$150,000.
Samuel P. Hayward, Pres. Austin W. Benton, Sec'y

Also, will effect Insurance on the LIVES OF INDIVIDUALS, for one year, seven years, or for the whole term of life, in the

Massachusetts Mutual Life Ins. Co., Springfield, Mass.
Capital and Assetts—$375,000.
Caleb Rice, Pres. D. B. Bacon, Sec'y.
William Mack, M D., Medical Examiner.

WM. ARCHER, Jr.,
18 Washington st. and 34 Front st., Salem
feb20-1

MANUAL FENOLLOSA
TEACHER
OF THE
Violin, Piano and Singing,
MUSIC ROOMS, No. 7 Central Street,
SALEM, MASS.

GLASS WARE.

A full stock of Glass Ware of all kinds at
S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS.

THE TRAVELERS INS. CO.,
OF HARTFORD, CONN.

Capital - - - - - $250,000.

Is now prepared to insure persons against

ACCIDENTS
OF EVERY DESCRIPTION.

Yearly policies will be issued for a premium of
FIVE DOLLARS,
granting insurance to the amount of
FIVE THOUSAND DOLLARS,
against accidental loss of life while travelling by any public conveyance.

TEN DOLLARS PREMIUM

secures a policy for Five Thousand Dollars, and also twenty-five dollars per week compensation for personal injury incapacitating the assured from his ordinary business.

TWENTY-FIVE DOLLARS PREMIUM

secures a full policy for $5000 and $25 per week compensation for all and EVERY DESCRIPTION OF ACCIDENT, TRAVELLING OR OTHERWISE

Policies for $5000 with $3 per week compensation, can be had for $3 per annum; or any other sum between $500 and $5000 at proportionate rates.

DIRECTORS:

Gustavus F. Davis,	W. H. D. Callender,
James L. Howard,	George W. Moore,
Marshal Jewell,	Ebenezer Roberts,
Thomas Belknap, Jr.,	Charles White,
Cornelius B. Irwin,	Hugh Harrison,
George S. Gilman,	Jonathan B. Bunce.

JAMES G. PATTERSON, President.
RODNEY DENNIS, Secretary.
HENRY A. DYER, General Agent.

PLUMBER & MERCER, AGENTS,
40 State Street, Boston.

Offices in Salem—JOHN H. DERBY, No. 24 Washington street; SAMUEL MACKINTIRE, No. 218 Essex street. Aug. 3, 1864—1yr*

ALWAYS SUCCESSFUL!
TO ALL THOSE WHO SUFFER FROM
DEBILITY AND SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

DRS. CARSWELL & HUNTER, regularly educated, highly eminent and successful practitioners, after a very extensive practice in Boston, for over twenty years, need hardly speak of their medical qualifications, or remind strangers not to class them with a set of uneducated men, who fill the papers with their boasting advertisements. Drs. C. & H. caution the public against quackery in all its forms, pretending, as some self-styled doctors, to cure all the most difficult and chronic diseases, without knowledge of the human system, or of the modus operandi of the most simple drugs.

Drs. C. & H., since 1840, having confined their whole attention to an office practice for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, they acknowledge no superiors.

CONSTITUTIONAL DEBILITY OR SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Drs. C. & H. are pre-eminently successful in the treatment of the above most difficult and perplexing of all diseases, this complaint being the result of a secret habit in youth; if neglected or improperly treated, it proves one of the greatest evils that can befall a human being. Dr. H. has given particular attention to the above disease for years, and so thoroughly has he become acquainted with the pathology and treatment, that he will warrant a perfect cure under forfeiture of $500; in fact, he will, in the cure of this complaint, acknowledge no superior in this country, or even in the world. Come, then, all you who are afflicted, come to the Old Stand, where you will in a short time be made to rejoice in perfect health.

SYPHILITIC AND SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS,—such as Ulcers and Caries of the throat and nose, Running Sores on the legs and arms, Hard Scabs and Scaly Eruptions on the head, back, &c., pains in the bones and joints, and all other forms of venereal diseases—are made to yield and entirely disappear under Drs. C. & H.'s improved and thoroughly eradicating course of treatment.

The primary or first symptoms of disease, whether a simple running, or small pistules, cancers, or ulcers, are cured in a very few days, if immediate application is made to Drs. C. & H.

13 ENDICOTT STREET, BOSTON. 13

Strangers should be particular in the selection of a physician, lest they be deceived by false advertisements.

Ladies troubled with irregularity, weakness, whites, and other complaints peculiar to the female system, will find a speedy cure by calling as above. No mercury used, and no charge for advice. The afflicted are invited to give us a call.
Boston April 20, 1864.—1 yr.

Putnam Clothes Wringer.
IT IS THE ONLY RELIABLE
SELF-ADJUSTING WRINGER
NO WOOD TO SWELL OR SPLIT.
NO THUMB SCREWS TO GET OUT OF ORDER.
Warranted with or without Cog-Wheels.

IT took the FIRST PREMIUM at fifty-seven State and County Fairs in 1863, and is, without an exception, the best Wringer ever made.

Patented in the United States, England, Canada and Australia. Agents wanted in every town, and in all parts of the world.

Sample Wringer sent, express paid, on receipt of price.

Energetic agents can make from 3 to 10 dollars per day.

No. 2, $6.50; No. 1, $7.50; No. F, $8.50; No. A, $9.50.

Manufactured and sold, wholesale and retail, by THE PUTNAM MANUFACTURING CO.,
No. 13 Platt Street, New York, and Cleveland, Ohio.
S. C. NORTHROP, Agent.

WHAT EVERYBODY KNOWS, VIZ:

That Iron well galvanized will not rust;

That a simple machine is better than a complicated one;

That a Wringer should be self-adjusting, durable, and efficient;

That Thumb-Screws and Fastenings cause delay and trouble to regulate and keep in order;

That wood soaked in hot water will swell, shrink and split;

That wood bearings for the shaft to run in will wear out;

That the Putnam Wringer, with or without cog-wheels, will not tear the clothes;

That cog-wheel regulators are not essential;

That the Putnam Wringer has all the advantages, and not one of the disadvantages above named;

That all who have tested it, pronounce it the best Wringer ever made;

That it will wring a Thread or a Bed-Quilt WITHOUT ALTERATION.

We might fill the paper with testimonials, but insert only a few to convince the skeptical, if such there be; and we say to all, test Putnam's Wringer. Test it THOROUGHLY with ANY and ALL others, and if not entirely satisfactory, return it.

Putnam Manufacturing Co:—GENTLEMEN; I know from practical experience that iron well galvanized with zinc will not oxidize or rust one particle. The Putnam Wringer is as near perfect as possible, and I can cheerfully recommend it to be the best in use. Respectfully yours,
JNO. W. WHEELER, Cleveland, Ohio.

Many years' experience in the galvanizing business enable me to indorse the above statement in all particulars.
JNO. C. LEFFERTS, No. 100 Beckman St.
New York, January, 1864.

We have tested Putnam's Clothes Wringer by practical working, and know that it will do. It is cheap; it is simple; it requires no room, whether at work or at rest; a child can operate it; it does its duty thoroughly; it saves time and it saves wear and tear. We earnestly advise all who have much washing to do, with all intelligent persons who have any, to buy this Wringer. It will pay for itself in a year at most. HON. HORACE GREELEY.
July 27, 1864.—3m

Abbott's South Danvers & Salem
EXPRESS.

LeaveSouth Danvers, - - - - - 7½ a m, 1 p m
LeaveSalem, - - - - - - - 10 a m, 4 p m

Orders left at Teel & Moulton's, and principal stores on Main street, South Danvers; and at 7 Washington street, and at Beed's in the Market, Salem.

MORRIS'
RESTAURANT,
18 and 20 Derby Square, Salem.

Oysters, Clams, Steak, Poultry, Game, Fish, &c., &c., COOKED TO ORDER.
Pickled Oysters, Lobsters and Clams.
Salem, July 22, 1863. tf

TABLE CUTLERY.

A FULL stock of Knives and Forks, with Horn Ebony, Cocoa and Bone Handles. Also Carvers Steels, Bread and Cook Knives, Mincing Knives, &c., at
nov 16 S C & E A SIMONDS', 32 Front st.

SUMMER ARRA
LYNN & BO
— BY —
OMNIBUS & HOR
W. F. BURNHA

Line of Omnibuses will leave the Omnibus Office, No. 6 Allen's Buildi vers passing down Main Street, Street, to Lynn, daily—Sundays
Leave South Danvers at 7 and 4 30 P. M.
Leave Lynn (Horse Car Depot, A. M., 2 40 and 5 40 P. M.
Horse Cars leaving the office at 8 15 A. M., 1 15 and 5 15 P. M., buses at Lynn, at the above named passengers to South Danvers.

Tickets to Lynn,
Through to Boston,

Gravesend, Woodend, and Depot Route.

ON and after Monday, Nov 2, in addition route, an Omnibus will leave South Lynn, to connect with the steam and times daily,—Sundays excepted,— Gravesend and Woodend, to the Central and Horse Railroad Station, corner of Broad Streets; leaving South Danvers at necting with the 7.55 steam cars for (connecting with the 11.10 train), and ing with the 4.50 train); and returning, from the Spring Street Station and pot, at 8 A. M., and 1 and 6 P. M.

Fare from S. Danvers to Boston by

Through Tickets to and from Boston, the Drivers and Conductors.

EXPRESS BUSINESS

Between South Danvers and Lynn ed to, on reasonable terms.
Extra Coaches furnished at short notice.
W. F. BURN
South Danvers, April 20, 1864.

CROUT & MUNROE'
SOUTH DANVERS & BOS
RAILROAD EXPRESS

Express leaves South Danvers at Freight " " "
Express leaves Boston at
Freight " " "

OFFICE at FREIGHT DEPOT, Danvers Square.

Express Office in Boston, 3 Washington Freight Office, 48 Kilby St.

Particular attention paid to removing niture, collecting Bills, Notes, Drafts,

Smallest favors thankfully received.
South Danvers, august 26—tf

LITTLEFIELD'
South Danvers & Salem Mail Exp

E LITTLEF successor to ber, will run press regula tween So. D and Salem delivery of pa and bundles, goods usually delivered by Express.
Leave South Danvers at 7½ and 11 A M, and
Leave Salem at 8.45 A M., 2 and 6 P M.
This Express connects with the first train from going East.

SLATES—In Salem, 13 Central st., and at the Roberts' store, corner of Front and Washington South Danvers—At the Post Office; at Blake man's store; also at R. O. Spiller's store.

Important to the Afflicte

DR. DOW continues to be consulted at his Nos. 7 and 9 Endicott street, Boston, on cases of a

PRIVATE OR DELICATE NATURE.

By a long course of study and practical expe of unlimited extent. Dr. D. has now the gratif of presenting the unfortunate with remedie have never, since he first introduced them, fai cure the most alarming cases of

GONORRHŒA AND SYPHILIS.

Beneath his treatment, all the horrors of and impure blood, Impotency, Scrofula, Gono Ulcers, pain and distress in the regions of tion, Inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys drocele, Abcesses, Humors, frightful Swellings the long train of horrible symptoms attend class of disease, are made to become as harml the simplest ailings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Dr. D. devotes a great part of his time to the ment of those cases caused by a secret and habit, which ruins the body and mind, unfortunate individual for business or society. of the sad and melancholy effects produced habits of youth, are Weakness of the Back limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimness of sight pitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervousness rangement of the digestive functions, Sympto Consumption, &c The fearful effects on the are much to be dreaded; loss of memory, con of ideas, depression of spirits, evil forebo aversion of society, self-distrust, timidity, among the evils produced. Such persons shoul fore contemplating matrimony, consult a physic experience, and be at once restored to healt happiness.

Patients who wish to remain under Dr. Dow's ment a few days or weeks, will be furnished pleasant rooms, and charges for board moderate

Medicines sent to all parts of the country, directions for use, on receiving description cases. Dr. Dow has also for sale the French Ca warranted the best preventive. Order by m or $1 and a red stamp.

CAUTION
TO FEMALES IN DELICATE HEALTH

DR. DOW, Physician and Surgeon, 7 and 9 En street, Boston, is consulted daily for all diseases dent to the female system. Prolapsus Uteri, or ing of the Womb, Fluor Albus, Suppression, and er menstrual derangements, are all treated upon pathological principles, and speedy relief guara in a very few days. So invariably certain is th mode of treatment, that most obstinate compl yield under it, and the afflicted person soon re in perfect health.

Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater experience cure of diseases of women and children, than other physician in Boston.

Boarding accommodations for patients who wish to stay in Boston a few days under his ment.

Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined his whol tention to an office practice, for the cure of Pr Diseases and Female Complaints, acknowled superior in the United States.

N. B.—All letters must contain four red stamp they will not be answered.

Office Hours from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M.

CERTAIN CURE
IN ALL CASES, OR NO CHARGES MADE

Dr. Dow is consulted daily, from 8 a. m. to 8 p as above, upon all difficult and chronic disease every name and nature, having by his unremitt tention and extraordinary success gained a reputa which calls patients from all parts of the count obtain advice.

Among the physicians in Boston, none stand hi in the profession than the celebrated DR. DOW, 7 Endicott street, Boston. Those who need the vices of an experienced physician and surgeon sh give him a call. P. S.—Dr. Dow imports and ha sale a new article, called the French Secret. by mail. Two for $1 and a red stamp.
April 20, 1864—1y.

Job Press for Sale.

RUGGLES' JOB ENGINE PRESS. Prints a bi by 19 inches. Can be run by one man at the of 800 per hour. Is in good condition. It will very low price, as the owner has no use for it. big bargain. Apply at this office.

HEYLINGBERG'S
Hair Dressing Saloon
24 MAIN ST., SOUTH DANVERS.

J. J. HEYLINGBERG would announce to his rons and the public generally, that on and JUNE 1st, 1864, he will abide by the following

TARIFF OF PRICES:

Shaving,
Hair Cutting,
Champooing,

Particular attention paid to dying hair and kers, in one preparation, without washing bing.

South Danvers, May 11, 1864.

25 YEARS' EXPERIENCE enables DRS. CARSWELL & HUNTER to cure any disease of a private nature in a shorter space of time and a smaller amount of money than any other doctor in this country, and they also treat all female compla with perfect success, and on the most satisfact terms. Patients furnished with board if desire Please give us a call at our office, No. 13 Endicott Boston, Mass.
Boston, April 20, 1864—1 yr.